

Area students and teachers attend science symposium

The latest developments in energy were studied June 4-7 by outstanding area high school science students and teachers at the Texas Energy Science Symposium in Austin.

Attending with top students and teachers from throughout the state was Brad Rainer, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Rainer.

He was among 39 participants from the Panhandle and South Plains sponsored by Southwestern Public Service Company (SPS).

Participants heard experts in electric power, fusion research, chemistry, super computers and the environment.

This was the 25th annual symposium held at the University of Texas. It is sponsored by the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation.

SPS is one of 10 electric utilities that compose the research foundation. SPS doesn't own or operate nuclear power plants, but through the foundation supports fusion research at the University of Texas.

Today's nuclear power plants generate electricity using fission, the splitting of atoms. Fusion is the joining of atoms. It is a potential form of nuclear energy that gets its fuel from water. If developed, fusion power could provide the world with safe, clean, almost limitless energy.

Fieldhouse addition voted down by board

The board of Floydada Independent School District voted expenditures totaling $118,917 for capital improvements to local schools at their June 10 regular meeting. Although there were two bids on the fieldhouse addition requested by Coach Joe Paty, the bid went unawarded. Strong opposition by Hulon Carthel apparently swayed the outcome of the vote. When board president Don Hardy called for a vote on the issue, only Freddie Morren and Harvey Allen voted for the addition. Weldon Pruitt did not vote while Fred Zimmerman, Bill Orman, and Carthel voted against the proposed building. Quality Construction of Idalou bid $16,490, and Walter Davis of Floydada bid $16,133.50.

Vibra Whirl of Panhandle submitted the only bid of $11,000.00 on the renovation of the tennis courts. Southern Bleachers from Graham submitted the only bid for the aluminum bleachers on the home stands at the stadium. Their $27,000.00 bid calls for delivery of the necessary materials to Floydada. The district will be responsible for installation of the bleachers.

Walter Davis of Floydada was awarded the bid for a physical education facility at Duncan Elementary. His $34,100.00 bid was well under the $44,487.00 bid by Quality Construction of Idalou.

Three bids were received on the clock and bell system for R.C. Andrews. KMH Company Incorporated of Amarillo bid $6,700.00, Balco Sound of Lubbock bid $8,496.00, and Audio Video Corporation of Amarillo bid $7,743.00. KMH Company Incorporated was awarded the bid.

Andrews Elementary will receive other improvements in the form of classroom chairs, cafeteria chairs, and music chairs as well as teachers' desks and chairs totaling $6,100.00. This is part of a three year plan to replace all such equipment at Andrews.

Junior high will receive chalkboards, student desks, cafeteria tables and chairs, and a natural gas line to the science lab. These items will cost $8,580.00. A $2,500.00 renovation of the basketball dressing rooms along with covering the windows on the north and south sides of the gym is also being carried out.

The local high school will be receiving $6,409.00 in science equipment. $5,200.00 will be funded by a block grant with the school paying the remainder. A Return to Reading software program costing $600.00 has also been purchased for use at the high school. New overhead doors for the ag shop are being installed at a cost of $695.00.

The installation of new curb and gutter at the high school cost $2,173.00 and was done by High Plains Pavers of Plainview. Plans also include the installation of new sidewalks costing $2,316.00 and done by Harold Wayne Bennett of Floydada.

Superintendent Jerry Cannon reported that the ad valorem tax collections are 93% complete with $852,857.88 already collected. He also reported that leaks in the flat roofs at high school and Andrews had been repaired.

A request that Dougherty Independent School District enroll the fifth and sixth graders from their system to Andrews in FISD was granted. DISD will pay tuition of $84.00 per student per month for the service.

Board members agreed to co-op with the Education Service Center to provide training in math and science for Floydada teachers. The arrangement is designed to provide better instruction at less cost. Also approved was a summer school session for bilingual students to be held the eight weeks preceding the opening of school in September.

One resignation and four applications for employment were acted upon before the meeting adjourned. The board accepted Stacy Hancock's resignation from her position as special education aide at Duncan. She will not be replaced.

Ella Enriquez was hired for early childhood development at Della Plains and Sharon Johns will be the special education diagnostician at the same school. Jeannie Ford was approved as migrant aide at Duncan and James Conger was hired to be a line coach at the high school.

took exception to our vote denying him an expense paid trip to the Soviet Union, along with a lot of other people in public broadcasting. So he quit his $81,000 per year job, plus a lot of extra perks. He took the position that when we refused to fund the trip, we were injecting "politics" into the Board's deliberations.

Well, so be it. If looking after tax dollars is playing politics, so be it. If looking askance at tax-subsidized junketing in "politics", then so be it.

All those changes are important. Some of them are even interesting. But in terms of importance, none of them surpass the benefits derived from widespread, soaking, life-giving rains throughout the South Plains. We got back just in time to savor the blessing.

Williams completes school

Monte Williams, vice president of the First National Bank of Floydada, has successfully completed the advanced program of the twelfth annual Texas Tech School of Banking according to Timothy Koch, school director. Seminars held on the Tech campus from May 19 to May 24 were designed to allow those attending to evaluate the performance of their banking institutions and to learn and apply new problem solving techniques to improve that performance.

Some of the subjects covered in the week long program included bank marketing, investments, physical security, and loan documentation procedures. "By far the most challenging and interesting portion of the school was the bank simulation computer game," stated Williams. "This allowed us to actually experience running a bank and to see the outcome of our decision. It was very enlightening."

The intensive program of seminars began at 8 a.m. and ended at 8 p.m. All of the students in the advanced program had from three to fifteen years of banking experience. Banking officials attended the school in an attempt to increase their professional development and to reinforce old skills as well as to learn a few new ones.

Alcohol and abuse council uses idea of old Burma signs

Floyd County Judge, Hon. Choise Smith, has received a set of "Roadside Jingle" signs from the Nine County Council on Alcoholism and Substance Abuse.

The signs are reminiscent of the old Burma Shave signs that once populated the highways of the nation. They carry information about alcohol and drug abuse in a humorous, but sincere and attention-getting way.

Woodwork on the signs was done by workers at the Vocational Service Center in Plainview, a sheltered workshop directed by Central Plains MH/MR. The jingles themselves, were the result of the experiences of alcoholics and drug addicts in residential treatment at the W.W. Allen Recovery Center in Plainview.

The project was paid for, in part, by the Texas Commission on Alcoholism, in an effort to increase awareness of life problems with alcohol and possible resources for their solution.

County judges in Hale, Floyd, Swisher, Castro, Bailey, Farmer, Briscoe, Motley, and Lamb have received the signs. Besides the jingles, the signs give the name and telephone number for regional assistance.

The nine jingles sent to the counties may startle some young motorists but revive nostalgia for simpler times in others. The jingles include—"Drugs and drink/Will sure impede/the kind of life/You want to lead." "Of all the folks/That drink on Sunday/Some may call/For help on Monday." "The music in/Family harmony/May begin/With sobriety." "Call us if/You'd like to try/A drug-free life/Or one that's dry." "If you can't/Quit altogether/And sobriety/Is what/You'd rather..." "Dependence/On booze/Everything/To loose." "It's best for one/Who hits/The bottle/To find a place/Where folks/Do nottle." "Sorrow/And loss/Family affliction/Alcoholism/And drug addiction." "A family life/that wins for you/Is what a/Drug habit/Takes from you."

The confidential hotline number in Plainview, 293-7976, is answered twenty-four hours a day. For straight answers to straight questions, for information about alcoholism or drug abuse services, contact the Nine County Council on Alcoholism and Substance Abuse or your county judge, Choise Smith at 983-2244.

Renee Sanders and Mills recite marriage vows

South Plains Baptist Church was the site for the exchange of wedding promises between Renee Sanders and Joel A. Mills at 5:30 p.m. Saturday, June 8. Cecil Osborn, pastor, read the recitation of vows.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. D.R. Sanders of Floydada and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mills of Midland.

Escorted and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white satin dress accented with a high victorian neckline and puffed sleeves. A ruffle of chantilly lace highlighted the bodice, which was also sprinkled with tiny seed pearls. The bottom of the dress was tucked with satin roses. The bridal bouquet was of pale pink and dark pink roses.

Attending as maid of honor was Alva Enriquez of Plainview and bridesmaid was Regina Craddock, sister of the bride of Sundown. They were attired in rose colored tea-length taffeta dresses, complimented with a ruffle around the top and shoulders. Attendants bouquets consisted of roses and baby's breath. Baby's breath also adorned their hair.

Acting as best man for his brother was Jon Mills of Fort Worth. Michael Hildreath of Uvalde was groomsmen. Guests were seated by Jim Mills, brother of the groom of Midland, and Stanley Sanders, brother of the bride of Floydada. Freezing procedures given

Many people have discovered that freezing is a quick and simple way to save the surplus from their home gardens and help stretch the family food budget.

"When you have a freezer, there is no out-of-season period for fruits and vegetables," says Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service nutritionist Marilyn Haggard.

Home frozen foods can have a color, flavor, texture and nutritive values much like the fresh product, if you follow recommended practices for freezing foods, she points out.

Whether you're freezing produce for the first time or simply need to brush-up on old techniques and learn what's new, Haggard offers the following pointers:

- Get your freezer ready. To maintain high quality frozen foods for any time, the temperature of the freezer must be 0 degrees F or below.
- Select high quality products to freeze. Freezing can only maintain the quality of the product. It will not improve it.

• Use proper packaging materials designed especially for freezer use. Materials should be airtight, moisture and vapor-resistant, clean and durable, and not add flavor or odor to the food.

Suitable containers include standard freezing or canning jars, polyethylene freezing bags, rigid plastic containers designed especially for freezing, and heavily-waxed cardboard freezing containers. Heavy duty aluminum foil, freezer paper, or plastic freezer films with overwraps are sometimes used for corn-on-the-cob.

"For best results freezing garden produce, follow recommended practices," advises Haggard. If you have questions about those practices, you can get detailed information on freezing fruits and vegetables from your county Extension office, she adds.

Social Security News

By Terry J. Clements

The retirement test—the limit on the amount of earnings people can have without affecting their social security benefits—is different for self-employed persons. People who continue to do some work after retirement or receive income as farmers, insurance agents, and sales persons, and other types of self-employment should note the differences so as to avoid any disruption of their monthly benefits due to overpayments.

Like regular wage earners, the self-employed person is subject to the annual earnings limit, which was $6,960 in 1984 and is $7,320 in 1985 for people 65 and over. For people under 65 the 1984 limit was $5,160 and is $5,400 in 1985. There is no limit on earnings for those age 70 and over. Earnings over the annual limit cause the monthly benefits to be reduced $1 for each $2 of earnings over the limit.

The first year of retirement is where self-employment income is treated differently. A monthly test is usually applied during the first year a person starts receiving benefits. This permits a person to retire any time during the year and have his or her earnings count against the retirement test only for the months after retirement. For regular wage earners, the monthly test is one-twelfth of the annual test. This means that a person may earn any amount during the year as long as he or she does not earn over the monthly limit beginning with the month in which he or she starts receiving benefits.

However, because the income of the self-employed tends to be irregular—it may be received months or years after it is earned—a test of "substantial services" in the business or trade is used. During the first year of retirement, a person who receives earnings from self-employment can get a full benefit for any month he or she doesn't perform substantial services in self-employment.

Whether or not services are substantial depends on a number of factors. They include the amount of time devoted to the business or profession, including time spent planning and managing, the kind of work done, and how the work compares with what the person previously did.

In general, more than 45 hours of work devoted to a business during a month constitutes substantial services. Less than 15 hours a month is never considered substantial.

Another provision unique to the self-employed holds that certain self-employment income received after the first year of retirement from work performed before retirement is not subject to the annual limit. This rule was designed to help insurance agents who receive renewal commissions after they retire, retired farmers whose leftover crops are sold in a year after they stop farming, sales people who receive deferred commissions, and persons who continue to receive income from their investment in a business or partnership.

People who need additional information about the special rules affecting earnings for retired self-employed people may contact us at 1401-B W. 5th Street or call us at 293-9623.

scratching. Rinse and dry.

- Chrome bumpers and trim: Remove salt deposits and grime with a baking soda solution—four tablespoons in a quart of water. For extra tough spots, use dry baking soda on a damp sponge. Rinse, then polish to shine.

- Upholstery: Perk up vinyl seats by wiping with a baking soda solution, rinse and dry. For fabric, sprinkle dry baking soda on spots and stains while the spill is fresh, and brush it off after all moisture is picked up. Works the same way on carpeting, and gets rid of dog, baby and smoke smells, too.

CAR CARE CORNER

Baking Soda: Key To A Clean Car

Is your car clean, safe and ready to roll for 1985? Car care can cost you less this year, and go easier too, if you switch gears from your usual car cleaning products to inexpensive Arm & Hammer® Pure Baking Soda. Here are some ways that simple baking soda can be used to keep your car looking like it just rolled off the assembly line:

Baking soda can help keep your car looking great, inside and out.

- Battery: Use a baking soda paste—three parts baking soda, one part water—to clean away corrosion build-up from battery terminals without having to use a wire brush.

- Car ashtray: Put a layer of Arm & Hammer® Pure Baking Soda in the bottom of the ashtray to eliminate stale tobacco odors and to aid in extinguishing cigarettes and eliminating flying sparks.

- Headlights / taillights / mirrors, windshields: Make them sparkle by wiping with a damp cloth or sponge sprinkled with dry baking soda to remove stubborn road dirt, tar and grease without

More rain and hail last week, and again Monday night. Lakeview farms received about 6 inches of rain last week, stopping wheat harvest. Some roof damage resulted from the marble to golfball size hail last week.

Joe Thurston is home from Caprock Hospital. Sandy and Rob Core and daughters, also Jonney and Jack Ward and children were here from Lubbock, both while the ladies father was in the hospital and after he came home.

Lula Teague spent 10 days visiting her children in the Dallas area. She attended Trinity University graduation services for Rodney and Sara's son. Then she visited with son Roy and family. A trip to Lake Brownwood was next, traveling down with grandson, Bodie Teague, of Lubbock. Now she is home, tending her garden, eating fresh vegetables from the rows.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. James Williams were in Lubbock recently for a Saturday dinner. Tom has undergone extensive allergy tests recently and is required to eat a great deal of seafood. On their evening in Lubbock he dined on shark meat.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Hambright have bought the Lakeview school building and are gradually tearing it down. They plan to use the lumber and bricks to add on to their home.

Little Miss Shelly Bertrand visited her grandparents, the William Bertrands last week. Shelly and her father, Ronald, came from Vernon, Texas to cut wheat here. Shelly stayed for a longer visit. Faye and William took her home over the week-end. The rain prevented Ronald from finishing his cutting.

A party of Petersburg men walked up to the T-Bar ranch house Saturday evening about sundown. They had rafted inner tubes down Blanco River, on a rise from all the rains, and fearing to be caught on the river in darkness, walked to the house. Q.D. Williams left off watching his Saturday night western

Floyd County students named to honor roll

The spring 1985 Dean's Honor Roll at Wayland Baptist University includes John Clark Leatherman of Floydada, Quita Jill Golden of Aiken, and Russell H. Ford of Lockney.

Leatherman, a junior, posted a 3.80 grade point average for the recently-completed term. He is the son of Jerry and Martha Leatherman.

Golden, a sophomore, posted a 3.50 grade point average for the term. She is the wife of Larry Golden and the daughter of Leonard and LaHoma Matzler of Floydada.

Ford, a sophomore, posted a 3.60 grade point average for the term. He is the son of Ray and Ann Ford.

The Dean's Honor Roll is announced at the end of each semester by Dr. Fred A. Teague, academic vice president and dean of the university, and lists the names of students who posted a 3.50 GPA or above on a 4.00 scale while carrying at least 12 semester hours.

A total of 112 students from 13 states and one foreign country were named to the Dean's Honor Roll at Wayland for the spring semester.

movie with Sunset Carson, in order to take the group to their cars on the highway. They had parked near Norman Muncy's ranch gate. The rafters were followed by another group paddling an aluminum boat. Both groups had embarked from the Baptist enampment.

Mrs. Robert Louis Pyle and Amber have been going with Jason to his baseball games. He plays on the Adams Well Service team.

Ashleigh, Amanda and Austin Williams and Travis Baily came home after church Sunday with the Q.D. Williams.

After dinner they went to Roaring Springs for swimming. Mrs. Williams took her father, Edgar Jones of Truscott, to Nashville, Arkansas, and to Idabel, Oklahoma to visit Nancy and Andy Goodwin, Hillary and Courtney, the week after school was out.
