Pilot injured in crash

Keith and Audrey Thomas got a little more than they bargained for when the crop dusting plane, belonging to Jackson Flying Service, that they had hired to spray their cotton crashed into their field around 3:00 p.m. on Friday, August 16.

"My 14 year old son, Bryan, saw the plane come down," said Audrey, "he started running toward it to help the pilot but the pilot who was afraid of fire got out on his own real fast and came running toward Bryan."

The pilot, Kenny Jackson, from Hollis, Oklahoma had been hired by Davis Farm Supply to spray the Thomas field. Jackson was flying low and hit a standpipe shearing off the top of the standpipe and causing the plane to nose dive into the field and flip over. Miraculously Jackson sustained only a cracked knee cap and a skinned elbow. "His head hurt the worst at the time," said Audrey, "he told me that he was hanging upside down by his seatbelt and that when he released it he fell on his head."

Jackson has returned to Oklahoma for awhile to follow doctors orders and stay off his knee for two weeks.

County abandons pay increase

A concerned Floyd County Commissioners Court Monday considered adopting a budget for the next fiscal year that calls for maintaining the current tax rate of 31 cents per $100 valuation and abandons a proposed five percent pay raise for county employees.

The decision to forego the proposed salary increase came Friday, after Commissioners heard a gloomy forecast from the Floyd County Tax Appraisal District Office concerning anticipated future tax revenues.

The tax office told commissioners they expect to see a decrease of some $150,000 to $200,000 in tax revenue following the next appraisal tentatively scheduled in 1986. That, combined with an anticipated drop of at least $40,000 in federal revenue sharing funds was likely, the commissioners feared, to place the county's finances in a precarious position.

Dropping the five percent raise would save the budget some $37,000, according to County Judge Choise Smith.

"I just feel it would be wise," said Smith, "to end up the year with a little surplus in order to get ready for the lean years we all know are coming if the farm economy does not improve."

"We have a declining water table, with many people ready to pull their pumps and go to straight dry land farming," he told the court. "And we have businesses that are struggling to stay afloat."

Smith's sentiments were echoed by Precinct 2 Commissioner Bob Jarrett, who said "If we see problems ahead, now is the time to take care of them, not down the line when they are upon us."

Smith indicated this unhappiness with having to forego the salary hike, saying "We have a good group of County employees, they work hard and deserve a raise," but prudence dictated the move.

The Commissioners cut other areas of the proposed budget as well. A total of $2,028,731.81 in funds is expected to be available to meet expenses for Floyd County in 1986. During the August 16 budget workshop, commissioners made cuts bringing the total estimated expenditures down to $1,830,811.12 from the originally proposed $1,861,198.62, a savings of $30,387.50 overall.

The exclusion of a 5% salary increase lowers the outlay for salaries and wages from $654,070.90 to $635,283.05 and the cost of benefits drops from $145,129.00 to $141,378.00. Adjustments to the budget resulted in an increase in capital outlay from $459,293.72 to $461,445.07. The unrestricted fund balance at the end of 1986 should be approximately $197,920.69.

Two salary increases were allowed to remain in the proposed budget. A 10% raise for the District court reporter at the direction of District Judge George Miller had to be included. Floyd County pays 55% of the reporters salary with the remaining 45% paid by the other counties utilizing the services of the 110th District Court. This increase means that Floyd County will pay $13,480.05 plus benefits towards the court reporters salary in 1986 as opposed to $12,277.00 plus benefits paid in 1985.

The second increase brings the District Attorney's secretary up to 55% of the salary paid to the County Attorney. This adjustment at the request of D.A. Randy Hollums, will raise the county's portion of the salary to $5,313.00 plus benefits from the currently paid $4,080.00 plus benefits.

The court also approved two farm work contracts for cleaning out drainage ditches during the morning session on August 19. Those making the requests were Connie Bearden and Kelton Shaw.

A public hearing at 2:00 p.m. on the same day addressed the issue of utilizing Revenue Sharing Funds for the fiscal year of 1986. Anticipating at least a 25% cut in funding, $115,315.00 should be received in 1986. Including the beginning balance of $394.81 and the interest expected in 1986, a total of $117,709.81 should be available for use in 1986.

Based on these figures, the court proposes setting aside $111,193.81 for use on permanent improvements to public facilities. Other allotments include $1,000.00 for the Senior Citizen's van, $300.00 for the Child Welfare Board, $3,616.00 for Central Plains Mental Health and Mental Retardation, $1,000.00 for the Floyd County Historical Museum, and $600.00 for the SWDC #104 Soil Conservation.

The revised versions of both the 1986 County budget and the 1986 Revenue Sharing budget are expected to be adopted at the September 9 regular court session.

Water undergoing change

Meeting in emergency session on August 20, the Floydada City Council unanimously voted to cut off the water supply from Lake Mackenzie and return to the city wells for water services.

Mayor Parnell Powell reported to the council that he had spoken with both health department personnel and Lake Mackenzie personnel and that the present water quality will probably not clear to any significant degree until cold weather sets in.

"The problem is being caused by algae growing in the water," according to Powell. "The lady from the health department told me that she had informed lake authorities that they need to install an activated charcoal filtering system to purify the water."

Floydada water superintendent Bobby Welborn assured the council that the water in the reservoirs and the well water can be made safe within a few days. "We can pump into the tanks and chlorinate pretty heavily then let it set for a day or two until the chlorine level falls to one part per million. The water can then be turned into the city system," stated Welborn.

Councilmen Wayne Russell and Don Green told those present that they had been out to look at the reservoir and had tasted the water. "It looks good and clear and tastes good, too," said Russell.

Welborn cautioned the council that there may still be pockets of lake water coming through until the city water gets through the entire system. "Even at that," he said, "the water will be a big improvement."

The switch over process will begin immediately and barring any unforeseen complications, Floydada residents can look forward to an improved water supply by Friday or Saturday of this week.

The council also took action to set the tax rate for the coming year. No change will be made and the rate will remain 40 cents per $100 in valuation.

Commodity reporting methods questioned

Distributor answers allegations

Answering queries regarding alleged violations in the commodity distribution program in Floydada, Arnold Schwertner, representing the American Agricultural Movement, stated, "Everything is documented according to the terms and guidelines of my contract with the Texas Department of Human Resources." Schwertner maintains "The only thing questionable about the claims I have submitted is the forms on which the claims were submitted. I have been audited several times and have never had any problems until the United States Department of Agriculture audited me and said I did not use the proper forms."

Schwertner's comments were in response to an August 8 column by Jack Anderson which appeared in the Austin American-Statesman daily newspaper. Anderson's column came down hard on alleged abusers of the federal surplus food distribution programs. Anderson cited investigations revealing $75,537.99 worth of invalid or exaggerated claims for reimbursement in Floydada. The questionable claims are said to include $39,367 in salaries and $29,057 for repairs and insurance. USDA auditors say the claims are not properly documented, according to Anderson.

"I submit my claims to the TDHR. Claims cannot exceed 5% of the value of the commodities handled and no payment is made for handling limited commodities such as flour, cornmeal, and honey. TDHR then submits the claims to state accounting agencies for payment from federal funds received for that purpose," explained Schwertner. "I have gone by the figures and charts I have been provided with and used the forms required by the TDHR. I think that the USDA and the TDHR should work out their differences concerning forms and documentation before they make the private contractors handling the commodities appear to be dishonest."

The American Agricultural Movement has contracted to distribute commodities in eight counties, including Floyd, Hale, Lubbock, Dickens, Garza, King, Crosby, and Motley. Schwertner says, "salaries as such are not paid, but workers are compensated by the hour worked. Claims for this are based on a $7.00 per hour rate."

"We have gone from one or two forms three years ago to several forms which keep track not only of commodities distributed but of ethnic groups and other information required by the USDA," says Schwertner. "It is all well documented and a contractor cannot just rip off the program as Anderson implies."

"I do not know where this is all going at this time," stated Schwertner. "As I understand it, auditors from both the USDA and the TDHR are to meet with me and review my records. No date has been set for this audit, but I feel sure it will not find any fault on our part."

Anderson cited other violations in Texas such as infestations by rats and weevil and careless workers driving front loaders through honey dripping from broken jars. Labor unions in El Paso are said to have distributed food only to union members and some church groups have allegedly screened food applicants, a violation of regulations.

People At Work...

STAN SELF and new found friend, Sounder, have become a familiar sight for 500 mall patrons along an 11 mile route in Floydada. Sounder found Stan on the route about 4 months ago and has helped him on his mall route ever since. "He knows the route real well," said Stan, "quite often he runs ahead and waits under a shade tree of a home where he knows I'll be shortly." Stan's friendly smile and cheery greetings have been a part of Floydada for the past two years. Nobody knows how long Sounder has been here.

exam. He was employed as a government investigator prior to entering military service before World War II. Biscoe served as a special agent in the Counter Intelligence Corps of Military Intelligence in both the Army and the Air Force Base at various locations.

Following the war, Biscoe and his bride, Maxine, elected to make their home in Texas where he became involved in the oil and gas industry. Biscoe became vice president of a company specializing in abstracts for oil companies. This eventually led to opening his own firm making reproductions of materials and information for use by oil companies. He has operated a real estate firm for twenty-five years, dealing in commercial property and land.

Biscoe is active in community and civic affairs and has worked with the Midland Junior Baseball Program for eleven years as well as working with the Eastern Sophomore League for seven years. He is a member of the Midland Board of Realtors, the Texas Association of Realtors, and the National Association of Realtors. He has also served on the professional standards committee, the education committee, and has taught real estate at Midland College.

A member of the Midland West Rotary since 1972, Biscoe has served as Director of Club Services, Vice President, and President. He and his wife were chairmen of the Registration Committee for PDG John Seay at the 1982 District Conference. Biscoe served as District Representative for Governor John H. Selby Jr. in 1983-84.

The Biscoes are affiliated with the First Presbyterian Church in Midland.

Schools announce registration dates

Floydada school officials have announced the dates and times for registration of students who will be attending any of the four local schools.

A.B. Duncan Elementary

All new students in grades kindergarten through third grade will register at A.B. Duncan Elementary School on Friday, August 30, beginning at 9:00 a.m. Parents are asked to bring their child's birth certificate and immunization records.

Students who were in school at Duncan last year, or kindergarten students who were pre-registered last May do not need to come to school until Tuesday, September 3. Kindergarten room assignments will be placed on the doors of the kindergarten teachers. All other students go to the room you were assigned to on your report card.

Tuesday, September 3, is the first day of school. School hours will be the same as last year, 8:30 a.m. until 3:45 p.m.

All shots and immunizations required before September 1, 1985, are as follows:

1. DPT - 3 or more doses - one must have received since 4th birthday.
2. POLIO - 3 or more doses - one must have been received since 4th birthday.
3. MEASLES - 1 dose.
4. RUBELLA - 1 dose.
5. MUMPS - 1 dose.

If you have any questions regarding registration at Duncan Elementary, please call 983-5341 or 983-5332.

R.C. Andrews Elementary

R.C. Andrews Elementary will be registering new students who have moved into the school district during the summer months in the office on August 29 and 30, beginning at 8:30 each morning.

Students who attended school here last May and will be attending school this fall will report to their assigned homerooms by 8:30 a.m. on Tuesday, September 3, for registration and classes.

There is no specific supply list at this time.

Junior High School

Registration for 7th and 8th grade students will take place Thursday, August 29, at Floydada Junior High School.

Students enrolling in the eighth grade should report for registration to the main entrance of the junior high from 10 a.m. until 12 noon.

Registration for seventh grade students will take place from 1-3:00 p.m. The first day of classes will begin on September 3 at 8:30 a.m.

Floydada High School

Registration for all students who will be attending Floydada High School for the 1985-86 school year will be held on Wednesday, August 28, at the High School Media Center.

Annual pictures for Juniors, Sophomores, and Freshmen will be made beginning at 9:00 a.m. on the 28th, in the high school auditorium. Juniors, Sophomores, and Freshmen will not be allowed to pick up their schedules until their pictures have been made. There is no requirement to purchase the pictures but for those wishing to do so the cost will be $5.00 for the packet and will be payable at the time the picture is taken. For the best pictures, students should wear medium colored clothing. Black, white and pastels do not make good pictures. No t-shirts or sweatshirts will be allowed.

Seniors will be registering from 8:30-10:00 a.m.; Juniors from 10:15-12 noon; Sophomores from 1-2:15 p.m.; and Freshmen from 2:30-3:45 p.m.

Student insurance is available

Individual Voluntary Student Insurance may be purchased by completing enrollment forms that will be furnished by the schools at registration or after school starts. The cost of the Individual Voluntary Student plan will be $43.00 for full time accident protection and $16.00 for school-time accident protection.

The Floydada ISD will provide insurance coverage for those students who are involved in U.I.L. activities, grades 7-12. The policy covers accidents that occur during practice for U.I.L. activities, travel to and from U.I.L. activities, and participation in U.I.L. contests.

It is important to know that this policy pays only that part not paid for by any health plans the individuals family might have. All injuries covered by this policy must be treated by a doctor within 21 days of the injury and the claim form furnished to the company within 90 days for payment to be considered.

If there are any questions contact the Principal of the school your child will attend.

RAPPELLING TECHNIQUES was taught to all interested daredevils at the Agro-Rescue day in Floydada Saturday.

Rescuers undergo hands on training

Over 90 representatives from 46 fire departments in 38 counties attended the second Annual Floydada Agro-Rescue school held in Floydada on August 17. The school was sponsored by the Floydada Fire Department and Texas A&M University Extension Service. Students came from as far away as Brookshire in South Texas, many at their own expense.

41 instructors conducted classroom sessions and hands on training at the Floydada fire station and the extension service center in Floydada. Instructors came from as far away as Mesquite, Plano, and Liberty Hill. Evaluators from Alvin and Del Rio monitored the progress of the students and the technique of the instructors.

Representatives of the Texas A&M University Extension Service Fire Protection Training Division and from the Rescue Committee of the International Fire Service Training Association also attended. IFSTA of Stillwater, Oklahoma writes the training manuals used in the fire service nationwide.

The school was developed to familiarize rescue personnel with agricultural related accidents and the procedures necessary to assist victims of this type of accident.

Items covered in the sessions included grain hazards, electrical hazards, rappelling, and machinery accidents. Among the machinery hazards covered were those involving combines, corn headers, cotton strippers, hay balers, tractors, and heavy equipment.

The third annual Agro-Rescue School is scheduled for Saturday, August 16, 1986.

Sales tax checks

mailed out

State Comptroller Bob Bullock announced this week that he has mailed checks of $12,613.74 to Floydada and $5,186.56 to Lockney as their share of local sales taxes collected during the month of June.

In the case of Floydada this represents a gain over the $11,635 payment in June of last year, and a 12.92 percent increase for the year to date, compared to last year.

Last year's payment to Lockney, for June, was $5,223.70, but in total the payments to Lockney for the first six months of this year have gained 9.08 percent.

The increased tax revenue could be a reflection of increased business activity in Floydada during the month of June, compared to the same period last year, or it could have been reflective of increased taxes levied by the Legislature, or a combination of the two factors.

Simpson and Cole wed in evening ceremony

A 7 p.m. double ring ceremony August 17 united in marriage Cindy Jo Simpson and William Floyd Cole. The First Baptist Church in Floydada was the site of the wedding, which was performed by Bro. Hal Farnsworth, pastor.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. W.H. Simpson Jr. of Floydada and Mrs. Floyd Cole and the late Floyd Cole of Hereford.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose an elegant gown designed by Mori Lee. An exquisite high neckline made of alencon lace lead to an illusioned yoke that was uniquely patterned with schiffli lace and hand beaded. The fitted bodice was also covered with hand beaded alencon lace. The sleeves, gently puffed at the shoulders and coming down in a point on the hand, were accented with matching lace and pearls. A full chiffon ballroom skirt was adorned with appliques of alencon lace and flowed to make a chapel length train.

Her veil of bridal illusion was seeded with pearls and attached to a halo of white silk flowers and pearls. Her modified cascade bouquet was of bridal white roses, stephanotis, rosario alstromeria lilies and baby's breath enhanced with english ivy. This was carried atop a small white Bible, given to her by her mother at the age of six.

Following tradition, for something old, the bride had tucked in her bouquet a white silk handkerchief, belonging to her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Tom Hall of Hereford, this was carried by her in her own wedding; something new was her attire; something borrowed was a heart shaped diamond necklace, belonging to her mother; and something blue was her garter. For good luck, she wore a penny in her shoe, placed there by her father.

Debby Johnson served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Robert (Kim) Swanson of Amarillo and Mrs. Mike (Patsy) Simpson, sister-in-law of the bride of Lubbock. Bridal attendants wore floor length dresses of soft fuchsia taffeta, designed with fitted bodices and heart shaped necklines. Their puffed sleeves were studded with pearls. The back was accented with a large bow, which complimented the full A-line skirts. Each wore a strand of pearls that were a gift from the bride. They carried colonial nosegays of light fuchsia carnations and statice, rosario alstromeria lilies and baby's breath.

Mothers of the couple wore corsages of white cymbidium orchids and the grandmothers corsages were of rosario alstromeria lilies.

Best man was Johnny Trotter of Hereford. Groomsmen were David Engle of Corpus Christi and Terry Moore of Dallas. They were attired in classic black tuxes with white, tucked wing-tipped shirts.

The altar was decorated with a 15-branch arch brass candelabra flanked by a pair of 15-branch spiral candelabra. They were decorated with plumosa fern and baby's breath nestled with arrangements of rosario alstromeria lilies and carnations and statice in natural light fushia. Large fan baskets of white gladioli and agapanthus lilies, rosario alstromeria lilies, light fushia carnations, statice and liatris were on either side. Floor palms and kneeling benches completed the front. Pews were decorated with trailing plumosa fern, baby's breath and light fushia statice tied with matching bows.

Penny Giesecke, pianist, and Roberta Hardin, organist, played "Twelfth of Never" as the mothers were being seated and "Joyful, Joyful" as the groom and attendants entered. Vocalist Lee Battey sang "Longer" and "The Wedding Song." The chimes on the organ struck the hour of 7 p.m. and the "Wedding March" was played as the bride entered.

Securing guests names in the register book were Mrs. Doug Simpson, sister-in-law of the bride, and Glenda Baker of San Antonio. The registration table was centered with an arrangement of light fushia mixed flowers.

Special guests attending the wedding included grandparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hall of Hereford, and grandmother of the groom, Mrs. Gladys Mobley of Hereford.

A reception following the ceremony was held in the Wall Street Parlor. Members of the houseparty were Mrs. N.E. Tyler, Mrs. G.V. Hall and Mrs. Elmo Hall, all of Hereford; Mrs. Lewis Womble and Mrs. Bob Matthews, both of Amarillo; and Mrs. L.D. Simpson of Floydada, all aunts of the bride; along with Mrs. Watson Jones of Floydada.

The bride's table was highlighted with a three tiered wedding cake decorated with white roses and forget-me-nots. Fresh flowers and fern adorned the top and the bottom edge. The bridal bouquet centered the table in a crystal pedestal bowl, that was a gift from a friend. Also featured on the table were silver candelabras with white candles. Silver and crystal appointments were used to serve the cake and punch. Serving were D'Lisa Stanley of Lubbock, Laura Black of Lubbock and Lindeae Graham of Houston.

The hors d'oeuvre table was centered with antique crystal candelabras, white candles and the bridesmaids' bouquets. Silver and crystal appointments were used.

Handing out rice from lace trimmed baskets were Kelly Vinson of Pampa and Kaci D'Amato of Oklahoma City, nieces of the groom.

The bride is a graduate of Floydada High School and Texas Tech with a BS and MS degree in Homemaking Education. She has been teaching in the Lubbock Public School District.

The groom is a graduate of Hereford High School and attended SMU. He is engaged in farming and ranching in Deaf Smith County.

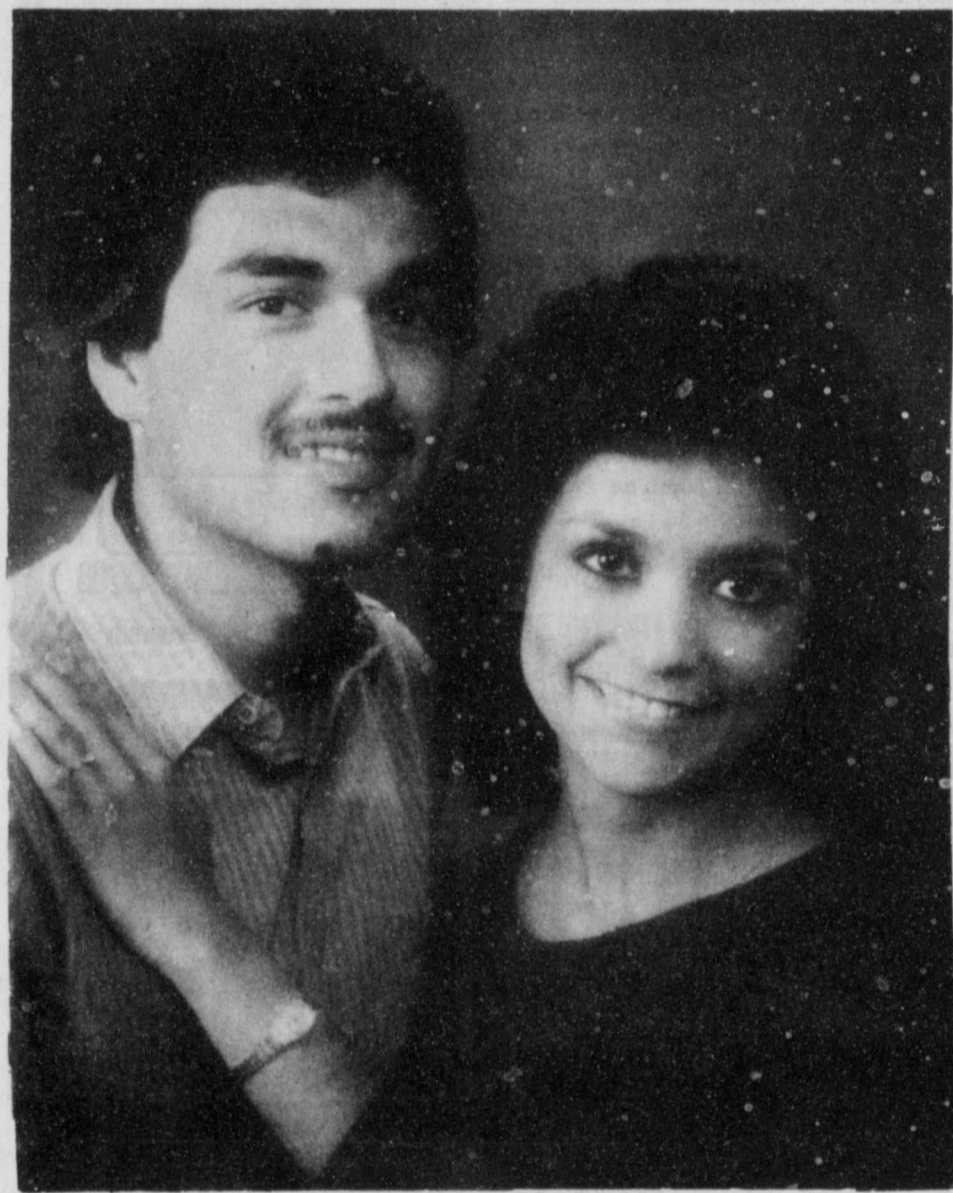

A bridesmaid luncheon was hosted by Mrs. L.D. Smith in her home on Saturday. The rehearsal dinner, hosted by the groom's mother, was held Friday night at the Plainview Club.

Following a honeymoon trip to Jamaica, the couple will be at home in Hereford.

SEPTEMBER WEDDING SET—Mario and Celia Torres of Lockney wish to announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Maribel to Richard Rios, son of Raymundo and Odilla Rios of Plainview. The bride-elect is a 1983 graduate of Lockney High School and received her Associate in Applied Science from Amarillo College, School of Radiologic Technology. She is currently a secretary in the Continuing Education Department of Amarillo College. Rios, a 1984 graduate of Plainview High School, is employed at Lillie-Hoffman Cooling Towers in Plainview. The couple plan a September 28 wedding in the Sacred Heart Catholic Church, Plainview.

Hong participates in gifted and talented program

Gifted and talented youth from throughout the nation participated in the fifth annual "Shake Hands With Your Future" at Texas Tech University this summer.

"Shake Hands With Your Future," a summer enrichment program, exposes participants to advanced learning opportunities and to living in a university setting. The three 1985 session involved 450 students in the fifth through 12th grades.

Participants from the Floydada area included: Sue Hong, 13, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. S.K. Hong of Floydada.

Participants select courses such as biochemistry, leadership, physics, math, engineering, fine arts, agriculture, law, musical comedy performance, time and money management and experimental music.

Classes are taught primarily by faculty of the University and the Texas Tech Health Sciences Center. Supplementary activities include field trips, lectures, counseling-communication sessions, mentor sessions, recreation and social activities suited to each age group.

"Shake Hands With Your Future" is an integral part of the Division of Continuing Education's Institute for the Gifted. To participate in the program, students must be nominated by a parent, teacher, school administrator, counselor or themselves. If accepted by the selection committee, they are invited to attend. Selection is based on high achievement test scores, high IQ and creative or exceptional skills.

For more information about the Institute for the Gifted and its programs, contact Dr. Mary Tallent, Division of Continuing Education's Institute for the Gifted, Box 4110, Texas Tech University, Lubbock, TX 79409-4110, 806-742-2353.

Microwaves are unsafe for bottles

Microwave ovens are one of today's biggest time-savers, but Baylor College of Medicine doctors warn that using one to heat a baby's bottle can result in serious injuries and less nutritious milk.

"Milk heated in a microwave oven can reach temperatures high enough to actually burn a baby's mouth, throat or stomach," said Peter Andrus, M.D., assistant professor of pediatrics at Baylor. "Since microwaves heat liquids, but not containers, parents and baby sitters are often unaware of how hot the milk becomes."

Enough heat can be generated by a microwave to build up steam and cause the milk container to explode, which could result in mother and baby suffering cuts or serious burns from the milk.

The uneven heat distribution of microwaves creates small pockets of intense heat in different parts of the bottle, said Judy Hopkinson, Ph.D., a researcher at Baylor's Children's Nutrition Research Center. The high temperatures destroy the vitamins in formulas and break down the disease-fighting antibodies in human milk.

"If a mother is providing breast milk with the intention of giving her baby these substances that assist in preserving health and promoting wellness, then it is pointless to defeat that purpose by using a microwave," Hopkinson said.

The best way to heat formula or human milk is to place the bottle in a bowl of warm water or shake it gently under warm running water. Test the temperature of the milk by sprinkling a few drops on the back of the hand. If the milk feels too warm on the back of the hand, it will be too warm for the baby.

"Babies are not nearly as worried about the temperature of milk as parents are," Andrus said. "Once it reaches room temperature, the baby's main concern is eating."

Clothing and shoes at 25-year high

In spite of the heat wave outside, shoppers will be flocking into air-conditioned stores this month to buy back-to-school wardrobes, dress-for-success suits, and other fall clothing, according to Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service clothing specialist Becky Saunders.

"Clothing prices increased at a lower rate than prices for other items over the last few years," she says. "But when the effect of inflation is removed, U.S. Department of Agriculture figures show the percentage of personal expenditures for clothing and shoes is at a 25-year high."

Annual spending for clothing and shoes is now estimated at $588 per person.

Part of the increased spending for clothes is due to higher prices, and part is because we're buying more clothes than in the past, she explains.

Clothing industry figures also show that the number of small children who are outfitted for school is growing at a fast pace, Saunders says. This is probably due to the increasing numbers of working mothers who enroll their children in nursery schools and more money available for clothing in smaller families with two incomes.

The specialist points out that while many shoppers are interested in cutting their clothing costs, they also want quality, and are willing to pay for it.

MRS. RUBEN RUBIO

Afternoon wedding unites Salinas and Rubio

Sally Eve Salinas became the bride of Ruben Rubio during a 2 p.m. wedding ceremony Saturday, August 17, in the Primera Iglesia Bautista Mexicana of Plainview. The Rev. Gilbert Cantu, pastor, officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. A.Z. Salinas and the late Mr. Ted Salinas of Lockney and Mr. and Mrs. Eloy Rubio of Lubbock. The bride is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Rodrigues of Plainview.

Nuptial vows were said before a brass fan arch holding votive cups and greenery and accented with a rainbow bow. This was flanked with two brass hearts decorated with greenery and rainbow bows. Completing the altar scene was a white basket filled with rainbow colored carnations and baby's breath.

Escorted and given in marriage by her brother, Teddy Salinas, Jr., the bride wore a gown that had also been worn by her mother and sister in their weddings. Imported from Mexico, the gown featured a fitted lace bodice that flowed into a cascade of chantilly lace ruffles. Schiffl embroidered lace sleeves extended to her wrists. Her Victorian collar was decorated with green leaves and baby's breath. The skirt extended to a cathedral length train. Her headpiece was a chance veil trimmed with embroidered lace. The bridal bouquet, also imported from Mexico, consisted of lillies and was decorated with teardrops and satin rainbow colored streamers. She also carried a white Bible given to her by the Baptist Young Women and the Baptist Women during a white Bible ceremony.

For something old, the bride wore her mother's wedding gown; something blue was her garter, made by her grandmother; and something borrowed was a pair of pearl earrings and a pearl necklace, belonging to the groom's mother.

Linda Amador of Lubbock was maid of honor. She wore a flounced taffeta gown of wedgewood lace ruffles and carried a bouquet of silk flowers interspersed with crystals and secured with rainbow streamers.

Serving as bridesmaids was Sulema Salinas, sister of the bride of Lockney, Barbara Roberts, Ana Landeros, Beverly Wideman, Oralia Deanda, all of Plainview, Lenora Ramirez of Levelland, Norma Perez of Providence, Diana Champion of Plainview and Anita Duran of Raymondville. They wore teal-length dresses in rainbow colors. The loose fitting lace bodices were designed with a back neck slit and low armholes and long sleeves. The fitted straight skirts fell down slightly below the waist and had a side hemline slit. Each attendant carried a long stemmed mum in the respective color of their dresses.

Flower girls were Laurie Ann Hirschach and Jennifer Gayton, nieces of the groom of Lubbock, and Clarissa Cox of Levelland and Gracie Smith of Big Spring, both nieces of the bride. They wore satin dresses draped with lace ruffles and featuring hooped skirts. Matching wreaths adorned their hair.

Acting as best man for his brother was Hector Rubio of Lubbock. Grooms-men were Mario Landeros, Morris Riddle, Roy Cisneros, Joe Quiroz, Manuel Ramirez, Bill Long and Wallie Ramirez, all of Plainview, Hugo Araujo of Lockney and Sammy Silva of Lockney.

They were attired in Lord West tuxedos with formal waistcoats and Victorian stripe trousers. Each groomsman carried a cane.

Seating guests were Danny Castillo of Hale Center, Richard Delcampo, Robert Riojas and Gonzalo Reyna, all of Plainview. Castillo and Delcampo also served as candlelighters.

Padrinos for the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Cox of Levelland and Mr. and Mrs. John Gayton of Lubbock for cake; Mr. and Mrs. Mike Gonzales of Plainview, flowers; Mr. and Mrs. Pete Dias of Levelland, lasso; Mr. and Mrs. Ruben Rodriguez Sr. of Plainview, arras; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cooper of Dumas, cushions; Jerry Reyna of Lubbock, Mary Landeros of Plainview and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Landeros of Plainview, flowers.

Musical selections included the traditional "Wedding March", presented by Cynthia Perez of Houston; "With This Ring I Thee Wed," sung by Feve Cantu of Plainview; "The Rose" and "I Must Tell You", both sung by Yolanda Rodriguez of Plainview; "Always and Forever" vocalized by Gonzalo Reyna of Plainview; and "Security", by Ray Garcia of Plainview. Special music was played by the sister of the bride, Samantha Salinas, who presented "To Me."

The fellowship hall of the church was the site of a reception following the ceremony.

The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth and held a four tiered wedding cake topped with a bride and groom. Stairways connected to two smaller cakes on either side. Standing on the stairs were four miniature bridesmaids and groomsmen, attired in rainbow colors. The center of the cake was highlighted with an arrangement of fresh rainbow colored flowers. Also served at the bride's table were shurbet punch, mints, peanuts and rainbow cookies. Presiding at the bride's table were Lola Aleman, Brenda Martinez and Fale Soto.

The groom's table served a German chocolate cake and coffee from a silver service. Assisting here were Virginia Landeros, Anita Franco and Mrs. Cornio Gallardo.

Registering guests were Jerry Reyna of Lubbock and Maria Landeros of Plainview. Rice baskets and veil bags, decorated with rainbow colored ribbons, were made by Mrs. Efrin Robles, aunt of the bride of Raymondville, and the grandmother of the bride of Plainview.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the couple's parents and the bride's grandparents. Assistants at the dinner were Rachel Gonzales, Adela Franco and Mrs. Cornio Gallardo.

The bride is a graduate of Lockney High School and attended South Plains College ROC in Plainview. The groom is a graduate of Lubbock High School and is currently employed with Layne and Bowllee, Inc., Lubbock.

Following a wedding trip to Lake Tahoe, the couple will be residing in Lubbock.

GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY—Ray and Alma Ogden will be celebrating their golden wedding August 25 from 2-4:00 p.m. at the City Park Church of Christ. Ray Ogden and the former Alma Cox were married August 27, 1935 in Rotan, Texas. The reception is being hosted by their children: Mr. and Mrs. Cranston Ogden of Garland; Charles Ogden of Garland; Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Ogden of Floydada; Loy Ogden of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Larry Ogden of Floydada; and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Warren of Floydada. They also have 13 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

The results of an economic study that almost qualifies as a horror story reached the office of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. this week...

The study is titled 'Breakeven and Shutdown Prices for Major Crops in the High and Rolling Plains...' compiled by Don Ethridge...

'While the authors make clear they are not attempting to predict events of the future...' says PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson...

Consider the following: Even with current deficiency payment levels, the study concludes, 'Comparison of unit costs to market prices shows that there are relatively few enterprises in which producers on the average can continue to produce in the long term unless market prices increase...'.

That quote alone is bad enough, Johnson says, 'but there's more, and it doesn't get any better.'

'If commodity programs were changed so as to eliminate deficiency payments, the immediate situation for farmers would become substantially worse...' the report continues, saying, 'None of the crop alternatives in any of the sub-areas would be viable in the long run at current market prices.'

The study divides the PCG counties it covers into four sub-regions, High Plains II, III, and IV, and Rolling Plains

II. For High Plains II (Deaf Smith, Farmer, Castro, Swisher, Briscoe, Hale, Floyd and Crosby Counties) and High Plains III (Bailey, Lamb, Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Lynn, Garza, Dawson and Borden) the accompanying figures show that with current farm programs and market prices producers can cover all costs only on corn, dryland sorghum and dryland wheat.

They can cover all costs only on dryland wheat in High Plains IV (Yoakum, Terry and Gaines), and only on dryland cotton and wheat in Rolling Plains II, which covers Motley and Dickens Counties.

These are the enterprises in which, with current farm programs, market prices are at 'breakeven' levels, meaning prices that farmers must receive to stay in business in the long run. 'Shutdown' prices are those that are calculated to cover only variable out-of-pocket costs, thus allowing farmers to stay in business only for the short term.

None of the 'budgets' used to reach these conclusions provide for a return to management.

'In the short run (over the next year),' the report states, 'the only viable enterprises for tenants of those examined are corn, sorghum and dryland wheat in High Plains II; corn and dryland wheat in High Plains III; irrigated sorghum and dryland wheat in High Plains IV, and dryland cotton in Rolling Plains II.'

The cost and price calculations and the comparisons made in the analysis, the authors point out, represent average or typical situations, adding that 'as averages they do not represent the situations faced by individual farmers' because different farmers have different costs and different yields.

'Still,' says Johnson, 'the costs and prices presented should vividly illustrate to the public, to Congress and to the Administration the severity of the economic conditions faced by farmers in this area and the pressing need for programs to alleviate these conditions.'

Three popular books from days gone by

Editor's Note: Talk about timely. After Will submitted his recollections on growing up with catalogues in the country, and before it was set in type, Montgomery Ward & Co. announced it is quitting the catalogue business altogether. A company spokesman was quoted by the Associated Press as saying after the current year the operation would be phased out, and "we have no plans to absorb these operations into our Signature Group despite recent speculations to the contrary."

By Will Martin

In early days of Floyd County and other parts of the country, I suppose the Bible was in most homes.

But there were two other books that were popular, especially on the farm. These were "catalogues" for Sears, Roebuck and Company, and Montgomery Ward and Company. I am sure people had other books, such as story books and school books, but these three were the most popular.

Of course the Bible was depended on for the word of God, and the other two were depended on to order home supplies, and other uses I will try to bring out further.

In these thinly settled communities, the stores did not have as full a line of goods as we have now, and the catalogues had nearly every thing available and often cheaper than the local goods. The mail order companies sent two copies each year one in the Spring and one in the Fall. Each company had a policy that if you ordered something and it was not satisfactory, you could just send it back and they would refund your money. I'm not sure, but I think they would pay for postage both ways.

None of the families could hardly wait to see the new catalogues when the mailman brought them. But we would soon get over our mad spell and pass it around. Both catalogues had a list of practically every thing anyone would want or need in that time. So I will try to pick out a few things possibly interesting and some that are out of style and out of use now.

I shall start on ladies clothing which I as a boy thought they were very pretty, dressed in long frilly dresses and trimmed in lace and beautiful collars. And women mostly wore high heeled buttoned shoes that were high topped. Also they had large brimmed hats with ostrich plumes for decorations. Women wore petticoats and other lighter underwear in Summer, and men and women wore long legged and long sleeved knit underwear in winter time.

As far as men, the catalogues showed them in suits similar to now, with stiff starched shirts with celeoid collars fastened to the shirt with buttons.

The men's dress shoes were button shoes just above the ankles, and more flat heels than women wore. Men's work clothes were similar as today, overall, with gray shirts and overalls. But we had for work shoes old solid leather brogans that our feet hurt for two weeks before we could wear them in comfort.

You could find lots of toys and bicycles, tricycles, wind-up toys, trains, fire engines and many other metal toys. The catalogues showed all kinds of household goods. They had beds, dressers and about anything you will find today. Pianos, organs, all kinds of musical instruments, guitars, violins, etc.

All kinds of kitchenware and table ware, cook ware, coffee mills, sausage mills and other things we won't mention.

There were general use things, such as wagons, buggies, wagon sheets and bows, horse drawn planters and cultivators.

There were carpenter hand tools and saws, drawing knives, and fishing gear, as now. I forgot to mention about button shoes having a flap on one side, with the other side having holes to match the buttons. They furnished a button hook with a hook on one end and ring on the other, to put the hook in the hole opposite the button and pull them through.

Men, women and children all had the greatest time looking over all these interesting things and "wishing" they could afford to buy them. They would go over the pictures of things we would never see in reality. When we got a new catalogue the old ones would go to the old outside toilet. Bye, and thanks. Will Martin.

by Mrs. Murray Julian

August 19:

South Plains Baptist Church will be undergoing restoration work during the next few weeks. Painting and other work is to be done.

Rev. Ron Somers presided in the pulpit at the South Plains Baptist Church Sunday morning, August 18th, with a wonderful sermon given from Hebrews 11, and from Judges VI. He is the son-in-law of Rev. Cecil Osborne. He and his family have been spending some of their vacation here. They are from Lewisville, near Dallas.

Glynn Earle Cummings attended Celebration '85, the annual Beauti Control Convention at the Regency Hotel in Dallas. She was recognized as the #2 person in her unit. The convention was August 7-10. On Thursday she received notice of the death of her aunt, Mrs. Will I. Stephens of Vernon. Sterling met her at Vernon Saturday so they could attend the funeral services.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat and Dean Stewart left Thursday night for Lake Texoma, up near Ardmore, Oklahoma to fish over the past week-end. They report it was up over the 100 degree mark in temperatures.

On August 8th, Connie, Tracey and Troy Johnson went to Canyon to visit Connie's brother and family, Rudi and Brooke Botkin. While there they went to see "Texas" and enjoyed it fully on Thursday night. They came home on Saturday, August 10th, and brought Brooke, Connie's niece, to spend the week with them.

Coming for the Irick reunion were Mr. and Mrs. Leon Whitsell of DePort, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Selman, McKinney, and Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Young from Burleson. They spent the week-end here with Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Cummings. Joining them for dinner were

V. A. celebrates 55 years

The U.S. Veterans Administration turned 55 on July 21, and in the words of current Administrator Harry N. Walters, "is more than ever dedicated to serving America's finest."

The VA was created in 1930 to centralize the federal government's responsibility for providing benefits to veterans and their dependents. Paralleling the vast increase in the number of veterans over the last 55 years, the VA has grown dramatically and is now the nation's largest independent federal agency.

TSTA meets at Galloway's

The Floydada chapter of Texas State Teachers Association met Thursday evening, August 15, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Al Galloway. Building representatives from each school were present, except Mrs. Carol Reese from high school. Mrs. Reese is visiting her daughter in Africa.

TSTA president, La Vada Garrett, reviewed action voted upon and reported at the leadership development meeting held in Austin in July. New teachers were given a special invitation to join the local organization. Mrs. Garrett and other teachers discussed the many benefits they have observed for their profession, brought about by the oldest and largest teachers organization in the state. Plans were made for September meetings and activities.

Building representatives present included: Mrs. Noma Lou Rainer, Andrews Ward; Mrs. Roberta Hardin, Duncan School; Mrs. Norma Feuerbacher, Junior High; Mrs. Al Galloway, and Al Galloway, Della Plains.

U. S. Coast Guard seeks applications for 1990

The United States Coast Guard Academy has announced that it is now accepting and processing applications for appointment as Cadet, U.S. Coast Guard, Class of 1990. Applications are being accepted for both men and women. Appointments as Coast Guard Cadets are tendered solely on the basis of an annual nationwide competition with no congressional appointments or geographical quotas.

Applications for appointment must be submitted to the Director of Admissions, U.S. Coast Guard Academy, prior to December 15, 1985. Candidates must arrange to participate in either the College Board Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) or American College Testing Assessment (ACT) prior to or including the December 14, 1985 administration for the ACT, and the December 7, 1985 administration for the SAT.

The competition for appointment as Cadet is based on the candidates high school rank, performance on either the SAT or ACT, and leadership potential as demonstrated by participation in high school extracurricular activities, community affairs and/or part-time employment. Most successful candidates rank in the top quarter of their high school class and demonstrate proficiency in both the mathematical and applied science fields.

To qualify for the competition, an applicant must be unmarried at the time of appointment, have no legal obligations resulting from a prior marriage, and must have reached the age of 17 but not 22 by July 1, 1986. All applicants must be assured of high school graduation by June 30, 1985. Regulations stipulate that all applicants must have completed three units in English, and three in mathematics to include algebra and plane or coordinate geometry or their equivalents, and must fulfill basic physical requirements.

Coast Guard Cadets obtain an excellent undergraduate education at no personal expense. In addition, they receive pay and allowances fully adequate to fulfill their ordinary living expenses. The constantly updated Academy curriculum leads to a Bachelor of Science degree with a strong academic emphasis on engineering and science. The selected major studies, when combined with varied elective courses, establish a solid foundation for a challenging career. Graduates of the Academy are awarded a Bachelor of Science degree and are commissioned as Ensigns in the United States Coast Guard. Selected officers may pursue further postgraduate education and specialized training at many leading civilian and military graduate or professional schools, in such fields as aviation, business administration, electronics, engineering, law and oceanography.

The young Academy graduate can look forward to a varied, exciting, and demanding career as a regular Coast Guard Officer. The Coast Guard performs essential humanitarian missions vital to the safety and saving of lives at sea. Under the Department of Transportation, the Coast Guard establishes and coordinates search and rescue operations by ship and plane, maintains advanced electronic and other aids to navigation scattered around the globe, operates the icebreakers which clear the way for all polar expeditions, and enforces marine law and all aspects of merchant marine safety. In addition, the Coast Guard has responsibility for boating safety and marine environmental protection.

For further information write: Director of Admissions, U.S. Coast Guard Academy, New London, CT 06320 or call: (203) 444-8501.

AUGUST BIRTHDAY CELEBRANTS at the Floydada Nursing Home are [l-r]: Susie Mooney, Ona Jameson, Sue Thompson, and Harold Gray.

Residents celebrate birthdays

By Lorilla Bradley
August is a sultry month
And skies are sometimes hazy
But birthday "digs" will pep us up
Before we get too lazy!

Our Mrs. Ona Jameson
...She counts from '99...
Is a very lovely lady
And always nice and kind.

We greet our Mrs. Thompson
...The lady with a smile...
She always looks so pretty
And likes the latest style!

For Mrs. Susie Mooney
...Her years are 98...
We give the best of wishes
And do congratulate!

We give a special welcome
To Mr. Harold Gray...
May all be as he likes it
On this his special day!

To serenade these people
Let's do the BIRTHDAY SONG...
So everybody ready
And sing out good and strong.

Thursday, August 15, was party time at the Rest Home with ladies of the City Park Church of Christ hosting the occasion. The Hesperian photographer came for the "picture taking" after which everyone was ushered into the dining room with the honorees being seated at the "honor" table. Their places were marked with special birthday cards and each wore a fresh carnation corsage compliments of Williams Flower and Card Shop. The table was laid with a white cloth and centered with an arrangement of silk flowers in shades of yellow. The poem was read and all joined in singing the Happy Birthday song. A beautifully decorated birthday cake, along with angel food cake and a tangy fruit punch was served to the honorees, guests, residents and employees.
Mrs. Mooney had as her special guest Mary Adams and Mrs. Thompson welcomed her niece Dolores Cannon and two great nephews, Jeff and Bryan Cannon.
The next party will be Thursday, September 19, 2:30 p.m. You are especially invited to celebrate with your friends and loved ones who will be honored that day.

Bids sought by post office

The U.S. Postal Service is asking for construction bids to build and lease a new main post office building in Dickens, Postmaster Mary Jo Brown said.
Bids are to be submitted to: Pat Musgrave, real estate representative, Field Real Estate and Buildings Office, U.S. Postal Service, P.O. Box 667180, Dallas, Tex. 75266-7180.
Bids will be opened at 3:00 p.m., September 12, 1985 in Suite 400, Stemmons Center, 7800 N. Stemmons Freeway, in Dallas.
The proposed new building will have 1,400 sq. ft. of interior floor space and will be built with private funds and leased to the Postal Service for a basic period of 10 years with renewal options for 20 additional years.
The Postal Service has acquired an option to buy a site for the new post office which will be assigned to the successful bidder.
The site containing 17,500 sq. ft. of land is located on the northeast corner of the intersection of Montgomery and Fifth Streets (U.S. Hwy. 82).

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

by Florence Van Hoose

Monday morning devotions were by Trinity Church. The singers were Rev. G.A. Van Hoose, Dartha Westbrook, Jason Westbrook, Eula Mae Wilson, Marie Strickland, and Shirley Varner. Rev. Van Hoose spoke about making a joyful noise unto the Lord. We appreciate the beautiful flowers that were brought to the home from Mr. and Mrs. Keith Marricle's wedding. Monday afternoon Jo Bryant, Rilla Sue, Pam, and Zora Woody and Angie Garcia came and played Bingo with us. Jo called the numbers while the others were kept busy handing out the prizes of bananas, cheese crackers, and candy. Fifteen residents played Bingo this time. We want to welcome Oran and Myrtle Self to the Nursing Home. We hope that they will be happy with us.

Tuesday morning devotions were by Brother Neeley Richardson. Neeley spoke from Romans 8:28. The residents enjoyed the devotions and also the banana break. In the afternoon we had a good time of Bible study, sharing, and prayer.

Wednesday morning devotions were by City Park Church of Christ. The singers were Beulah Baker, Lula Teague, Lorilla Bradley, and Mary Spears. In the afternoon we went on the bus ride to Plainview and were treated to ice cream at McDonald's. The residents who went on the bus ride were Opal Morrison, Della Halencak, Faye McMahan, Addie Lindley, Una Clark, Charlie Spence. Jo Byrant also went with us. While we were gone on the bus ride several of the residents played "42".

Thursday morning devotions were by Rev. Earl Blair. He spoke about faith. In the afternoon we had the monthly birthday party hosted by ladies from the City Park Church of Christ. The honorees this month were Harold Gray, Sue Thompson, Ona Jameson and Susie Mooney. Susie is our oldest resident she is 98 this month. The birthday cake was decorated by Mazie Becker and the birthday corsages were donated by William's Florist. To all of these people we say "Thank You."

Friday morning devotions were by Mary Coreley. In the afternoon the residents had self-directed activity.

This week's visitors included: Hazel Bradley, Justin Marble, Max Green, Maxine Jarboe, Carlene Johnson, Willie Merle Sandefur, Lois Jones, Margarita Vasquez, Norma Carpenter of Chamblee, Georgia, Wayne Carpenter, May Sue, Irene Rushing, Sartie Webb, Sue Sewell, Elayne Ferguson of Lubbock, Lucille Daniel, Mary Adams, Debbie Martinez, Grady and Esther Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Ferguson of Lubbock, Ethel Warren, Mary Wilson, Luis Durham, Winnie Neil and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Whitworth of Yantis, Texas.

BRAD REDD of Weatherford won grand champion over all the crops at the Parker County Livestock Show with his prize winning peaches. The 26 peaches, averaging 1 1/4 lbs. each brought $1500 at the auction. Brad is the son of Dale and Carol Redd and grandson of Floyd and Queen Annie Lawson and Lucille Daniel of Floydada.

Tech expert says

sheep are a good bet

Texas may be thought of as a cattle state, but sheep have become a major source of revenue for many livestock producers, according to Texas Tech University Animal Science Professor Frank Craddock.

Craddock said Texas is the largest sheep producing state in the country.

"Sheep are profitable animals because they yield two money products," Craddock said. "Not only can the lambs be slaughtered, but the wool is highly sought after by the clothing industry."

Craddock said slaughter animals account for about 75 percent of most Texas sheep ranchers' income with wool sales providing the rest.

"Texas primarily raises Rambouillet sheep which produce a fine wool that normally pays about $1 per pound," Craddock said. "That means that one ewe will produce one or two lambs, their wool and about 10 pounds of wool herself a year, so she is a profitable animal."

Craddock said Texas remains the leading sheep producing state despite lower than possible lamb crops.

"Because we are a range state, where sheep and their lambs run loose, there is a problem with predators and weather reducing our lamb crops," he said.

Because Texas is a leader in sheep production, Texas Tech's annual Livestock Day September 20 will focus on sheep and sheep dogs.

Sponsored by the Colleges of Agricultural Science, Home Economics and the Ranching Heritage Association, Livestock Day will feature demonstrations and lectures by Arthur Allen who some call, the foremost sheep dog trainer in the U.S.

Livestock Day is held in conjunction with the National Golden Spur Award and Prairie Party. The Golden Spur Award recognizes life-long contributions to the ranching and livestock industries.

NOTICE OF RATE CHANGE REQUEST AND STATEMENT OF INTENT

Notice is hereby given that LIGHTHOUSE ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE, INC., ("The Cooperative") intends to change the design of its Cotton Gin Rate. The proposed change will increase the Cooperative's revenue from the Cotton Gin class by $180, or less than 0.1%. The filing primarily is to change the method of collecting the annual revenue amounts presently approved by the Public Utility Commission.

The proposed changes are applicable to all cotton gin customers of the Cooperative.

The new rates will be placed into effect on October 1, 1985 or as soon thereafter as permitted by law.

The classes and number of Cooperative customers affected are as follows:
COTTON GIN 15

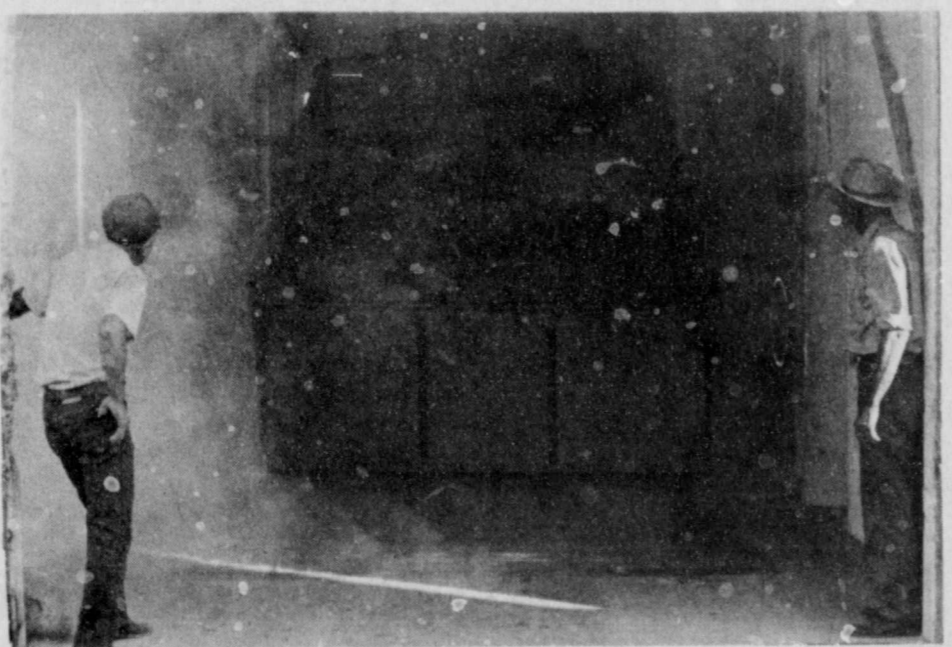

Implementation of the proposed changes is subject to approval by the appropriate regulatory authority. A statement of intent including the proposed revisions of tariff and schedules and a statement specifying in detail each proposed change is available at the general office of the Utility located on Highway 70 East in Floydada, Texas.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400 N. Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission, Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0223, or (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.

"Laugh Lines"
Bits of Humor, Trivia, and an occasional Word of Wisdom
BY DON & SARA PROBASCO

If you find it painful to criticize someone, you're safe in doing it. It's when you take pleasure in it that you should hold your tongue.

A person who can't lead and won't follow makes a dandy roadblock.

In the final analysis, it is what we are that comes across, rather than what we teach.

Sunshine is delicious, rain is refreshing, wind braces us, snow is exhilarating...there is no such thing as BAD weather, merely different kinds of good weather.

The shortest answer to a thing is to DO it.

We judge ourselves by what we think we are capable of doing, then we judge others by what we do.

Our responsibilities, rather than ourselves are what we should take seriously.

Don't take lightly your responsibility for keeping your home and business safe from intruders. Be SURE that you have good locks and that you use them.
