The Lamplighter

By Ken Towery

Where have all the liberals gone? That is the question posed in a recent issue of the magazine Public Opinion, a publication that tracks the attitudes of Americans as reflected in various public opinion polls and surveys over the years.

Looking at survey data from 1937 to 1985, the magazine reports a rather substantial shift of public opinion from the days of 1937 when 39 percent of Americans identified themselves as either "liberal" or "radical," to the point, in 1984, where only 17 percent of Americans would admit to pollsters for the New York Times and CBS (in exit polls following the 1984 General Election) that they would call themselves "liberal." These figures, to us, are rather startling, particularly considering the fact that among the blacks, Jews, and those who profess no religion at all, liberals still outnumber conservatives.

Obviously one can prove just about anything with statistics, properly presented and argued. But all the polls, from liberal pollsters like Lou Harris to conservative pollsters like Lance Tarrance to "middle roaders" like George Gallup agree that the general trend of American political thought is away from the liberalism of former years. In fact, it has gotten so bad that even perverid liberals will no longer call themselves liberal if they have political aspirations. They are now "progressives." They have not changed their stripes, necessarily, just their label. They recognize that the appellation "liberal" is now anathema to voters, so they merely avoid the term, preferring to be known as "progressives", which, of course, can mean just about anything one wants it to mean.

All of which brings up the question. If so many Americans now consider themselves conservative, and so few consider themselves liberal, why is it so difficult for conservative positions to be adopted by the Congress of the United States, which, after all, is supposed to represent popular thinking?

The long answer would require reams of paper and columns of type. The short answer is simply that a politician, to be elected, must appeal to the broad spectrum of voters, but once in office must respond to the clamoring of special interests and to the interests of his party. It requires a very special kind of elected official to keep his bearings in that kind of atmosphere. Fortunately, we do have some of those around. Unfortunately, we do not have enough.

All of which brings up the matter of Senator Ted Kennedy.

Mr. Kennedy was in Austin recently for a meeting with people who were to pay $500 each to stand in awe and hear the word. The word has changed. Mr. Kennedy told his contributors he is in favor of Senator Gramm's bill to mandate a reduction in the federal deficit and balance the federal budget. As if that was not enough to stun his contributors, Mr. Kennedy also had praise for the way President Reagan handled the hijackers who took over the Italian cruise liner. And he had kind words for the nation's defense buildup, although he cautioned that this ought to be done without spending the nation into bankruptcy. And, would you believe it, he indicated he might now listen to the plaints of this country's oil and gas producers. (Some of those people were in attendance.)

Then the Senator went down to Houston for another gathering. This was a gathering of the faithful, as it were. The price was $5,000 per couple, and we don't know exactly what he said to them. We would doubt that the message was the same.

Mr. Kennedy let slip the fact that he might be interested in running for the Presidency sometime in the future.

Mr. Kennedy has evidently been reading the polls. But is there anyone out there who truly believes he has undergone a fundamental change?

2 plead guilty to burglary

Antonio Garza Garcia, age 20, who was on parole for burglary of a vehicle pled guilty to burglary of a habitation on October 30th in the 110th District Court. He was sentenced to six years in the Texas Department of Corrections.

Mr. Garcia was on parole for a previous sentence he received on March 1st, 1985, for revocation of probation.

Adopt-A-Decoration campaign underway

The Floydada Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring an ADOPT-A-DECORATION campaign to promote the Christmas Spirit in Floydada. The funds raised will be used to purchase light bulbs for the current decorations, which will first be placed along the highways through town, then in the downtown area. These decorations will be visible to those traveling through Floydada, as well as those living in Floydada.

Floydada has been a dark city at Christmas time in the past. Wouldn't you like to show Floydada's Christmas Spirit by having these decorations visible? We are asking for a $15.00 adoption fee, which will provide the light bulbs for one decoration. Those who adopt a decoration will be recognized in the local newspaper. Please send your adoption fee to The Floydada Chamber of Commerce, P.O. Box 147, Floydada, Texas 79235 or bring it by the Chamber Office located at 105 W. California. Let's all help bring the Christmas Spirit back to Floydada! Excess contributions will be placed in a fund towards the purchase of new decorations to brighten future Christmas Holidays.

Dr. Keith Patzer, Script Printing, First National Bank of Floydada, Kirk & Sons, and R Photography are the first in town to Adopt-a-Decoration. They invite any interested citizens and businesses to join the project with a $15.00 donation.

Cross country runners qualify for state meet

Floydada High School's Varsity Cross Country Track Team finished 3rd in a regional meet in Lubbock on Saturday, November 2. The third place finish qualifies them to compete at a state meet in Austin on November 9.

Individuals and their names and places at the Lubbock Regional Meet were: Jimmy Espinoza, 6th, 16:42; Manual Suarez, 11th, 17:06; Alfred Medrano, 26th, 17:54; Pedro Segura, 28th, 17:59; Bradley Saens, 29th, 17:59; Hector Cervera, 35th, 18:52; and Rene Soliz, 40th, 19:08. Danny Degollado was injured and did not run. Danny Espinoza and Alvin Cooper will be alternates.

There will be a send off for the team at 6:00 a.m. on Friday, November 8 in front of the high school. Everyone is invited to come out in the early morning dew and get the team off to a good start.

Vandals keep police busy

Halloween night kept the Floydada Police busy with more than just harmless practical jokes. According to James Hale, Acting Police Chief of Floydada, "There were numerous reports of kids throwing eggs against houses, motor homes and cars. There will be criminal mischief charges filed against some of these kids. The estimate of damages is being assessed at this time before we can know what court to file the charges in."

Besides egg throwing there were also three tires cut on vehicles. Two of the tires were on a post office vehicle and one was on a private vehicle.

People's homes were also vandalized. A rock was thrown through a residents window, and another residence had a window shot out with a B-B gun.

The vandalism continued through the week. On the night of November 1st or the early hours of the 2nd, a pickup truck had its windshield knocked out and four tires slashed. Also that same morning, another vehicle had two tires cut, a windshield knocked out, and a back glass and passenger window knocked out.

Anyone seeing someone suspicious in their neighborhood or hearing anything unusual should contact the police department immediately. If anyone has any knowledge of who vandalized the homes or vehicles during the week, they are urged to contact the police department or Crime Call, 983-5200.

Housing Authority awarded grant

Floydada Housing Authority has been awarded a $384,000.00 grant to upgrade 40 low income housing units. The units were originally constructed in 1962 and, although well maintained, are encountering problems due to obsolescence.

According to Ina McDowell, Floydada Housing Authority director, "Many of the things we need to replace or repair are no longer manufactured." She cited nine inch tiles and over-the-stove vents as two examples the project has recently encountered. "No one makes nine inch tiles anymore and you can't replace a nine inch tile with a 12 inch tile. We can't find the type of vents used over the stoves in the kitchens. All anyone has are the newer vent hoods."

The grant will allow the renovation of low income housing in five locations around the city. McDowell stressed, "The project will finally be able to meet insulation standards. This will make utility bills easier on our tenants." McDowell says the units maintain a 98% occupancy rate and have had no major modernization since they were built with the exception of some heaters installed five years ago under a Phase I grant.

"You are not allotted enough money to keep up with a lot of things that need to be done on a regular basis," said McDowell. "But with this grant, we can really make some needed improvements."

The grant comes from the Department of Housing and Urban Development under the government's Comprehensive Improvement Assistance Program according to Roman Palomares, director of public housing management at HUD's Fort Worth office. "The grant is to be used to physically improve housing and units already in existence," says Palomares.

The Floydada project was competing with 242 other projects for grant money totaling $24 million. Requests for the money totaled more than $80 million. Four other panhandle housing projects received grants along with Floydada.

Wellington in Collingsworth County received the largest grant, $477,710.00 to be used in the renovation of 30 units constructed 28 years ago.

Hale Center in Hale County will receive $185,000.00 and Paducah in Cottle County is scheduled to have $130,000.00 available for their renovation. Borger in Hutchinson County will receive $46,000.00. Borger's housing authority had originally requested $200,000.00.

The Floydada renovations are scheduled to be completed by September of 1986 according to McDowell. "We are in the process of preparing the specifications to advertise for bids on the work at this time," said McDowell.

Annual banquet bestows awards

Several members of the Floyd County 4-H were honored with special awards at the 1985 Achievement Banquet on Sunday, November 3. The banquet was held at Massie Activity Center in Floydada and followed a buffet style meal provided by members and parents.

Lisa Terrill walked away with the top honors, including first place recognition from the National 4-H Congress in Chicago for her work on her record book. Terrill also received the award for Outstanding Senior Record Book in Floyd County. Joel Mitchell won the award for the Junior Division and Allan Martin was recognized for his Outstanding First Year Record Book.

The prestigious Danforth "I Dare You" Awards this year went to Matt Mitchell and Lisa Terrill. These awards are presented to young people exhibiting excellence of character, well balanced personal development, and leadership potential.

Dr. Paul Glasson was awarded a special meritorious service award as a "Friend of 4-H" for his special dedication to county 4-H work. Sandy Adriana and Michael Hinsley received Silver Spur Awards for their unselfish service to the 4-H program.

4-H Record Book Awards were presented to several local members in various categories, including: Achievement - Lisa Terrill (Senior Division) and Jennifer Crow (Junior Division); Clothing - Christie Rowan; Foods and Nutrition - Allan Martin; Shooting Sports - Joel Mitchell; and Swine - Kip Holt.

Local members receiving recognition for participating in state and national competition were: Loretta Turner, Mindi Matsler, Shannon Paty, Tiffany Gentry, Matt Mitchell, Kelli LaBaume, Kim Zimmerman, Wyman Rexrode, Dean Smith, Joel Mitchell, Stephanie Zimmerman, Grant Cage, and Jason Brown.

Four Floyd County 4-H Council officers were given special awards: Heather Holt, Shannon Edwards, Lisa Terrill, and Gwen Lane. Kelli LaBaume and Sherre Kinnard received Sweetheart Awards and District Council Awards went to Matt Mitchell and Heather Holt.

Teen Leader Awards were presented to Lisa Terrill, Kelli LaBaume, Sharon Smith, Zach Nutt, and Joel Mitchell. These teens helped supervise other 4-H members as they worked on various projects.

Adult leader awards were made to parents and others who have unselfishly given their time and energy to 4-H activities. These awards are made for each year of service. 44 people received awards for being active from one to 12 years. Earl and Juanita Broesch were awarded a certificate for more than 16 years service.

160 year pins were given to 4-H members ranging from one year to 10 years. Earl Broesch and Libby Williams received the only 10 year awards.

Honored as PeeWee 4-H'ers were Tali Cage, Josh Gregory, Mark Todd Terrill, Matt Whittle, and Tyson Whittle.

County Extension Agents Richie Crow and Mary True organized and supervised the event which was attended by almost two hundred people.

Some homeowners may postpone payment of their property taxes

By simply filing a sworn affidavit with the Floyd County Appraisal District, homeowners age 65 and over in Floyd County can defer payment of property taxes on their homesteads.

If an elderly taxpayer has already been sued to collect delinquent taxes on his homestead, he can still take advantage of the "over-65 tax deferral" by filing an affidavit with the court in which the suit is pending.

Shiela Faulkenberry, chief appraiser of the Floyd County Appraisal District, explained that once an over-65 taxpayer properly files the tax deferral affidavit, state law prevents taxing units from initiating or pursuing delinquent tax suits on the homestead for as long as the applicant owns and lives at that property.

Faulkenberry said that elderly homeowners can obtain forms for the deferral affidavit at the Floyd County Appraisal District office. The homeowner should fill out the form and have his signature witnessed by a notary public or other official authorized to take oaths, she added.

Faulkenberry stressed that the tax deferral only postpones tax payments, it does not dismiss them. "Elderly homeowners should understand that the taxes, penalties and interest will continue to add up," she explained. "Once the homeowner no longer qualifies for the deferral—that is, if he no longer owns or resides at that homestead—all those deferred amounts must be paid. At that time taxing units may sue to collect the delinquent taxes, penalties and interest, and foreclose on the property."

More information is available by contacting the Floyd County Appraisal District at 983-5256.

Commodity distribution postponed in Floydada

There will be no commodity distribution in Floydada at this time according to Arnold Schwertner of the American Agriculture movement. The group has no building to use as a point of distribution. The City of Floydada has withdrawn the use of the fire station.

City secretary Jimmie Lou Stewart said, "The use of the fire hall has been withdrawn because of the continued disregard of people picking up commodities for proper parking. If we were to have a fire during the time of distribution, there are always cars parked in the doorways and we would be unable to get the trucks out as rapidly as necessary."

Schwertner says the ag group is looking for a new distribution point. He added, "If anyone has a suggestion, I'd appreciate hearing it." Schwertner has checked into several places in Floydada, but has not found a suitable site whose owners are willing to allow the distribution to be held there.

Until such time as a location is found, Floydada families wishing to pick up commodities may do so in Lockney. The date this month is Wednesday November 20 from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. of the Baccus Ford House.

Vehicle registrations handled by tax office

Jonelle Fawver, working with one deputy clerk, is the elected official in charge of the Floyd County Tax Assessor-Collector's Office. This office has undergone a dramatic change during the past few years. Once responsible for assessing and collecting all taxes in Floyd County, the office employed three deputy clerks and a high school part time worker.

The establishment of the Floyd County Central Appraisal District to handle the appraisal and collection of taxes on real and personal property has shifted these duties away from the Tax Assessor-Collector. The office is now primarily responsible for taxes related to vehicles. The taxes generated by the registration and licensing of vehicles are collected in this office, as are sales taxes on the purchase of vehicles.

Restructuring of the vehicle licensing procedures in Texas have made the Tax Assessor-Collector responsible for keeping records and collecting fees on nearly 20 classifications of vehicles. Changes in record keeping dictate that records be filed by classification and license identification number. The state no longer requires the keeping of alphabetical files. This system of filing makes storage and retrieval of information more convenient and efficient through the use of a statewide computer network maintained by the Texas Department of Motor Vehicles.

Fawver maintains all financial records for her office and sees to the proper disposition of the funds traveling through her office. Based on the total number of miles of county maintained roads and the population, Floyd County retains all receipts for vehicle registration up to a total of $225,000. The next $125,000 is evenly divided, with the state receiving half and Floyd County receiving half. Collections totaling over $350,000 are turned over to the state.

The county also receives 5% of the sales taxes collected when vehicle ownership changes. The extra road and bridge fee of $5.00 also remains in the county coffers.

Among the duties of the Tax Assessor-Collector are the compilation of a number of reports which must be prepared and audited weekly. The state requires the submission of weekly reports to the Department of Motor Vehicles and the preparation of weekly inventories of license plates and registration stickers on hand in the local office. A weekly title report documents changes in ownership of vehicles. Various other reports account for state, county, and road and bridge fees collected by the office.

In addition to vehicle registration, the Tax Assessor-Collector is responsible for all voter registration activities within the county. Registered voters receive new cards every two years and lists must be updated to record voters who have moved or are deceased as well as newly registered voters. Fawver must supply current lists to all taxing entities and precinct judges prior to any election they schedule. Voter registration lists are compiled alphabetically by precinct and are used not only for elections, but for the jury pool from which the District Clerk selects jury participants.

Collections made by the Tax Assessor-Collector contribute heavily to the monetary funds needed to operate Floyd County. At this time in 1985, Fawver has collected over $609,000. $258,082 of this is registration fees the county receives. Another $33,765 helps finance county road operation from the $5.00 road and bridge fee added on at the time of vehicle registration. $12,531 comes to the county through sales tax collected on vehicle sales. More efficient money management also nets the county about $180 per month in interest on funds passing through the Tax Assessor-Collector's office.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:
Yes, to Wayne Poteet and all other farmers, there is an answer. One possible answer involves work, dedication, and plenty of personal involvement in our political affairs just as Mr. Poteet mentioned in his letter.

Our government was formed of the people, by the people and for the people, and is a REPUBLIC, not a Democracy. We need people elected to public office (from County Judge to President) who will use their influence to get us back to the government our forefathers had in mind when they drafted the Constitution. Many of them were Populists and truly believed in America first.

Our country has been in the grips of a powerful group of men who have for a couple of centuries been working toward a goal -- their elite group controlling the world with only two classes of people -- the elite and the peasants.

In order to do this, the independent middle-class must be eliminated. Who are the most fiercely independent people of the middle-class? Right!! The AMERICAN FAMILY FARMER.

Tools and methods of these corrupt people are: control Presidential office and Congress, move center of power from states to Federal, vote scams to control elections at both State and Federal levels when necessary, (you may have read or heard of the video-tape available showing the League of Women Voters actually punching holes in computer voting cards to change the vote on election night last November.

They have complete control of national media, oil industry, banking industry, and are working very hard on food industry. The IRS is working hard to control us at the tax level. Proof has now been found that the 16th Amendment to the Constitution was never legally ratified by 3/4 of the States (the count was short by eleven (11); therefore the Income Tax is NULL and VOID. This, next to the gas chamber hoax of World War II, is the second greatest hoax of the century pulled on the American citizenry.

We all must learn what really is going on in our country if we are going to remain free. We must know who our enemy is, his strengths, weaknesses, and plans before we can effectively retaliate.

We, the individuals of the United States, are in a War, folks, and if WE do not fight for our country, who will?

For more information either call me at 652-3180 or write: The Populist Party of Texas, Organizational Committee, Box 4900, Suite 296, Tyler, Texas 75712.

SPHP offers many health care services

South Plains Health Providers, Inc., which began in 1973 as a means of providing health care services to migrant and indigent persons in the South Plains area, has expanded the scope of their operation over the years. The non-profit organization now offers care to anyone wishing to avail themselves of the service.

Services are paid for, at least partially, by the patient. Fees are based on a sliding scale according to income and family size. Payment may also be made by assignment of insurance benefits, medicare and medicaid.

Preventative care, patient education and self care is stressed as a major method of maintaining good health and obtaining help early in case of illness. The family nurse practitioner is fully utilized in this capacity, resulting in the delivery of more cost-effective health care without sacrificing quality. The FNP is backed up by SPHP physicians who provide immediate assistance via telephone and review medical records on a weekly basis. This helps establish protocols for treatment of specific patients and for diagnosis and treatment of more complicated or serious medical problems.

Working with specialists and institutions throughout the area, SPHP provides diagnosis and treatment of any medical problem. Major areas of services available are: Obstetrics and Gynecology, with special attention to prenatal care and family planning; Internal Medicine; Pediatrics, concentrating on preventative care and nutrition; Dentistry, both emergency and preventative care; Urology; Optometry; Orthopedics; X-ray; Cardiology; Nutrition Counseling; Podiatry; and laboratory procedures. Prescriptions are available through the clinic and local pharmacies.

Clinics operating in eight counties, Floyd, Hale, Lamb, Crosby, Castro, Deaf Smith, Bailey and Motley, serve as primary care sites offering all services. Swisher and Parmer counties have only the WIC program for child nutrition.

The physicians, family nurse practitioners, and support staff of SPHP served over 35,000 patients in more than 90,000 visits during 1984. Many of the staffers are bilingual to meet the special needs of this area.

Coordinating links are maintained with Texas Tech University School of Medicine, the Texas Department of Health, the Texas Department of Human Resources, Mental Health/Mental Retardation Centers, planned parenthood, Texas Rehabilitation, local schools, several hospitals, and the Plainview/Hale County Health Department.

Among the hospitals cooperating with SPHP to provide services are Health Sciences Center Hospital in Lubbock, Deaf Smith County Hospital in Hereford, Lockney General Hospital in Lockney, Caprock Hospital in Floydada, Central Plains Regional Hospital in Plainview, Littlefield Medical Center in Littlefield, West Plains Memorial in Muleshoe, Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo, and the Crosbyton Clinic in Crosbyton.

The primary care clinic in Floydada has a doctor in attendance each Monday and Wednesday from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. The resident FNP, Martha Jo Anderson is available everyday to patients. She is usually responsible for initial assessment and preliminary diagnosis as well as preventative care and continuing education programs.

"SPHP wishes to remind residents of this area that good health care is available to everyone, regardless of race, creed, or income," said Clinical Director Sue Terry. "We want everyone to know that our services offer health care to everyone and that we are happy to work with them to see that all their medical records are adequately met."

51% of taxes collected

Chief appraiser Shiela Faulkenberry reported that "51% of the current tax role has already been collected." Faulkenberry told board members at the November 6 meeting, "we took in a million dollars last week alone."
$1,697,128.88 had been collected as of the close of business on October 31. The total tax levy for 1985 is

$3,344,027.08. Collections in 1984 were only 46% complete by October 31. Other items considered during the session were the payment of dues totaling $300 to the Texas Association of Appraisal Districts and the appointment of Jimmy Willson Jr. to a two year term on the Board of Review. Both were approved.

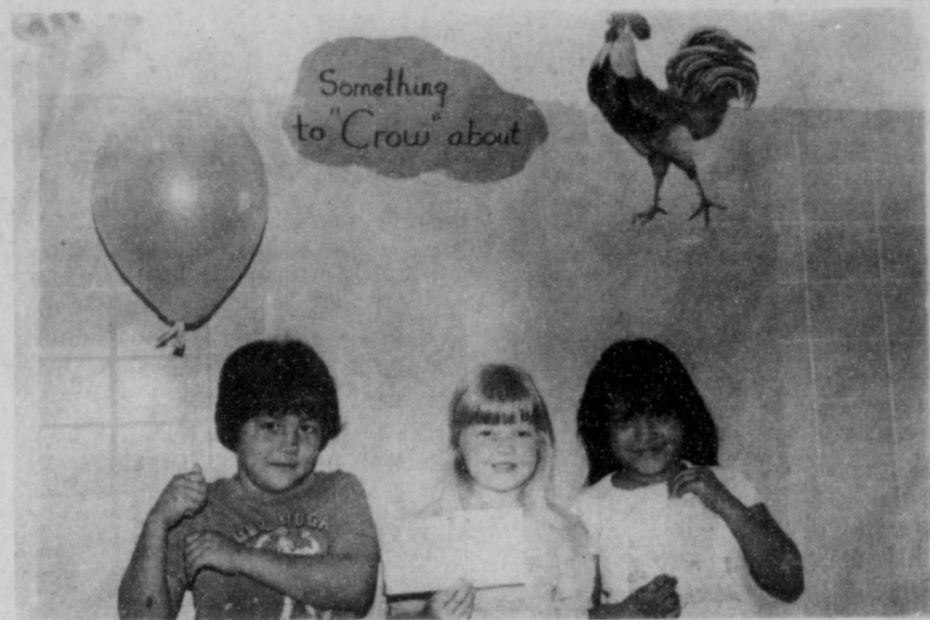

FLOYDADA CUB SCOUTS participating in the Scout-a-rama in Lubbock.

Floydada scouts display skills

The Floydada Tiger Cubs, Cub Scouts, and Webelos of Floydada, Pack 357 of the Boy Scouts of America participated in the annual Scout-a-rama, held in the Lubbock Memorial Civic Center, Saturday, November 2nd. Boy Scouts from all over the South Plains participated in the event. Scouts demonstrated skills in first aid, repelling, mountain camping, law enforcement, drug enforcement, firefighting, and various activities relating to the Scouting program. Our Scouts demonstrated skills in the art of Indian sand painting, which was well received by area Scouts. The Scouts were busy for the entire show helping with and instructing how to paint with sand. Scouts participating from Floydada were D.G. Hollums, Tyson Edwards, Eric Smith, Wyatt Padgett, Micheal Padgett, Micheal Jones, Daniel Cortinas, Keith Guzman, Dewayne Guzman, Joe Hernandez, Micheal Gilliland, Scott Grader, Jonathan Simpson, Josh Thayer, Brandon Gilliland, Robert Eckert, and Aaron Noland. Scout Leaders attending were Beth Eckert, Barbara Gilliland, Barbara Hernandez, Dinks Eckert, and Bob Gilliland.

SOMETHING TO CROW ABOUT—Three Duncan students really do have something to crow about. Julian Hernandez, left, holds a balloon similar to those used in the recent balloon release. Alycia Porter holds a card like those which were attached to the balloons and Ivana Irlas, right, holds the letter she received in response to her balloon. It was found by Donald Williams of Whitewright, Texas.

Balloon letters answered

Earlier this year, the first grade classes at A.B. Duncan Elementary studied air transportation. As part of their activities, the students released helium balloons with return message cards attached. Each child contributed 50 cents to the project and Sharon Vickers provided the balloons. She also explained to the students all about helium and why it causes balloons to rise.

Three students have received replies to their balloon messages. Julian Hernandez, 1E, was contacted by the recipient of his balloon, Adrian Helms. Julian's balloon traveled about four miles in an easterly direction from Floydada. Alycia Porter's balloon went a little farther. It was found by a sixth grader in Matador named Paul Barton. He telephoned Alycia to let her know it had arrived.

The third student to receive a response was Ivana Irlas. Ivana's balloon was found by a man in Whitewright, Texas. The letter she received is reprinted below:

Dear Ivana,
My name is Donald Williams. I found your balloon and card on a rural road about two miles south of Whitewright, Texas, October 16, approximately 6:30 p.m. Whitewright is a small farming town, population about 1,700, located about 65 miles north of Dallas in Grayson County. According to my calculations your balloon traveled between 300-350 miles.

I hope you are making good grades at school at hope this helps you on this project.

Sincerely,
Donald Williams

Sue Crow, Ivana's first grade teacher, expressed her delight at the responses, saying, "All too often, no one replies to things like this. We are very appreciative of these people for taking the time and trouble to answer our balloon mail. It has been a great assistance to us in our classroom activities."

Breezers defeat Dimmitt, 38-8

The 7th grade Breezers went to Dimmitt on October 31 to play the Dimmitt Bobcats. The Breezers were successful during their outing, defeating the Bobcats 38-8.

Kenneth Collins scored Floydada's first touchdown on a long run during the first quarter. He also scored two more times before the half ended. The Breezers led 18 to 0 at halftime.

Brian Teeple and Aric Hendricks each scored for the Breezers during the third quarter and Harvey Espinoza added a two point conversion. Collins scored the final Floydada touchdown on a 12 yard run in the fourth quarter, making the score 38-0. Dimmitt's only score came on a 40 yard run in the fourth quarter.

"The offensive line did a fine job throughout the game," said Coach Rex Holcombe. "The Breezer defense also did a fine job, holding the Bobcats to only one score. Bryan Henderson and Kenneth Collins each had good pass interception plays and Michael Alemar played a fine defensive game."

The 7th grade Breezers will play their final game of the season in Floydada on Thursday, November 7. Their opponent will be Tuila and the game is scheduled for 5:00 p.m.

Whirlwinds lose to Dimmitt, 10 - 0

"If we could leave out the first five minutes and the last five minutes of the game, we had a great night," said Coach Joe Paty. "Our boys played very well defensively, but we had the same old problems we have had all year. We were unable to consistently move the ball and didn't take advantage of opportunities to score when they came."

Dimmitt scored their only touchdown on their first defensive series of the game. The score came on a 21 yard run following a penalty against Floydada for being offsidies in the first play of the series. The kick for the extra point succeeded, making the score 7-0. The game was scoreless following the first quarter until late in the fourth quarter. Dimmitt then scored a field goal for the three points bringing the final score to 10-0.

"I felt like our blocking in spots was better," said Paty. "We have made some changes and they seem to have helped."

Leif Younger was honored with the Hit of the Week award by the Floydada coaches. "Younger played very well defensively and had ten or twelve tackles to his credit during the course of the game," stated Paty.

"We are going to hit the field hard this week against Tuila," avowed Paty.

"We can play a good defensive game and have been working on our offense. This game is important to us. We need to do well and end the season on a positive note with a good outlook for next year."

Senior Citizens Menu

November 7-15

Thursday — Chicken spaghetti or turkey tetrazzini, buttered broccoli, lettuce salad with dressing, Texas toast and butter, peanut butter cookie, milk

Friday — Oven fried fish, tartar sauce and catsup, new potatoes in cheese sauce, turnips and greens, cornbread and butter, fruit jello, milk

Monday — Liver and onions, hash brown potatoes or toasted baked potato, green beans, roll and butter, canned pears, milk

Tuesday — Chicken fried steak, cream gravy, mashed potatoes, mustard greens, cornbread and butter, cheese cake pudding, milk

Wednesday — Hamburger steak with mushroom gravy, whipped potatoes, squash casserole, roll and butter, canned apricots, milk

Thursday — Sunshine chicken, buttered rice, buttered peas, roll and butter, fruit cobbler, milk

Friday — Turkey and dressing, giblet gravy, cranberry sauce, mashed potatoes, peas, pimento and celery, roll, pumpkin pie with topping, milk

Due to new guidelines for "take out" meals set up by the Texas Department on Aging several changes have been made.

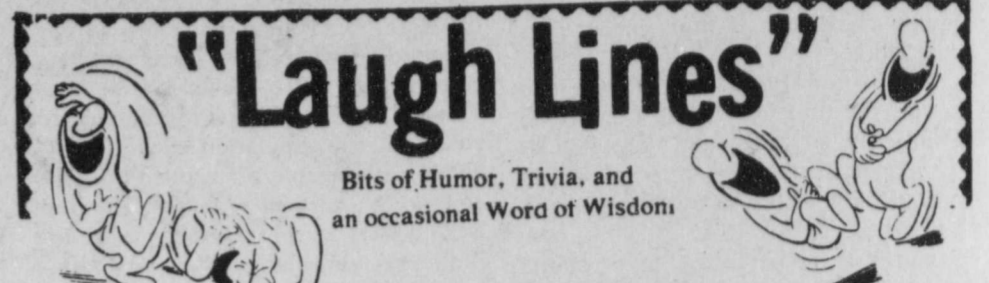

You may only take out a meal for a home-bound person if they are unable to prepare the meal for themselves and unable to come to the Senior Center. If the person cannot be left unattended for a long length of time, the spouse may also get himself a meal.

Due to new rules, meals may not be taken out for any other reasons. A need assessment will be done on the take-out and home-delivered meals periodically.

Cancer Society sponsors Great American Smokeout

Circle November 21st on your calendar. That's the day of the Great American Smokeout, sponsored by the American Cancer Society. All smokers are invited to kick the habit for at least 24 hours. Show yourself you can do it for the day!

What a difference a day can make! It's only 24 hours, but if you give up cigarettes for the day of the American Cancer Society's Great American Smokeout November 21st, you just might give them up for good, and live a longer, healthier life. It's worth a try.

Miss Hill and Kinard exchange wedding vows

Main Street Church of Christ in Lockney was the site of a 2 p.m. wedding ceremony uniting Terri Rene Hill and Edwin Roy Kinard on November 2. George Schuster, pastor, officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hill of Lockney and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kinard of Lockney.

The church was adorned with baskets consisting of wine carnations, asters and iris, accented with pink rosebuds, baby's breath and wine and pink satin ribbons.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a lovely Victorian gown of coin dotted English net featuring a high beaded Venise lace neckline and lace and satin ribbon ruffled yoke. A wide ruffle over the yoke, accented with a silk rose and ribbon completed the bodice.

Her full skirt flowed to a cathedral length train, trimmed with rows of lace ruffles, satin ribbon, organza and silk flowers. Her fingertip veil was attached to a floral contour wreath of silk flowers and pearls.

She carried an elegant cascade bouquet of wine and pink rosebuds made of imported silk. Accentuating her bouquet were wisps of chantilly lace and satin ribbons.

The bride also wore a gold bracelet as something new and her garter was something blue. Used as something borrowed was a gold knife server.

Attending as maid of honor was Christine Kendzioriski of Lubbock. Bridesmaid was Linda McCarty of Amarillo. They wore off the shoulder pink dresses of polyester taffeta. Their mock surplice bodices were lavished with wine colored ruffles and spaghetti straps.

They carried bouquets consisting of wine carnations, asters and pink rosebuds and accented with imported crystal pinwheel beads and wine and pink satin ribbons.

Flower girl Kendra Hill, of Lockney, sister of the bride, was attired identical to the bridesmaids. She carried a white parasol with pink roses and carnations, wine carnations and attached pink and wine ribbons.

Gary Cawley of Lubbock acted as best man and Jason Hill, of Lubbock, brother of the bride, was groomsman. They were attired in wine tuxedos with white shirts. The groom wore a white tux with wine bow tie and vest. Ring bearer Jeremy Frazier, nephew of the groom of Lubbock was attired similar to the groomsman.

Seating guests were Lee Fraizer, of Lubbock, brother-in-law of the groom, and Aaron Kidd of Lockney.

Music for the ceremony was provided through a tape recording by Harding University's A Cappell Chorus.

A reception followed the ceremony. Serving attendants were Dianne Owens, Carol Dillinger and Terri Frazier.

Following a wedding trip to New Mexico the couple is residing in Floydada.

The bride is employed at Dairy Queen in Lockney and the groom is engaged in farming in the Lockney area.

Gift showers honoring the couple included a miscellaneous shower in the home of Mrs. Hamilton Gammage in Lockney; a family shower in the home of Mrs. Shirley Hughes in Lubbock, and a lingerie shower.

MRS. EDWIN ROY KINARD

Ashel McDaniels celebrate 50th

Mr. and Mrs. Ashel McDaniel will be observing their 50th wedding anniversary Saturday, November 16, with a family gathering at the Golden Corral Family Steakhouse in Plainview. Hosting the occasion will be their children, Mr. and Mrs. Jon (Elaine) LaBaume, Floydada, and Mr. and Mrs. Gary (Nena) Hunt of Clarendon. They have four grandchildren: Coy and Kelli LaBaume and Clint and Kayla Hunt.

Friends and relatives are invited to honor the couple by giving them an "Anniversary Card Shower" and including any special memories you might have of them that can be placed in a scrapbook. Address: HCR 3, Box 13, Silvertown, Texas 79257.

Shower given for Clark

Miss Tammy Clark, bride-elect of Dwight Wilson, was honored with a bridal shower Tuesday night week in the garden room of First Baptist Church of Lockney.

The Clark-Wilson wedding is scheduled for November 15 in the home of the groom's parents.

Miss Clark, her mother, Nancy Murtaugh; and Wilson's mother, Alice Wilson, greeted guests. They wore corsages of yellow daisies and bronze leaves.

The serving table was laid with a beige eyelet cloth. Pewter appointments and a natural wicker basket with harvest arrangement complemented the table. Refreshments were served by Latona

Davis.

The hostesses gave Miss Clark a vacuum cleaner and a baking dish. On the hostess list were Mmes. Sheryl Bybee, Violet Cooper, Pat Frizzell, Sherry Race, Betonia Belt, Viola Mangum, Clara McCain, Ruth Noland, Karen Cooper, Janice Davis, Pat Adams, Jontha Mercer, Jeanette Marr, Rubye Terrell of Plainview, Jo Ann Duvall, Dovie Davis, Bobbie Sue, Cleona Taylor, Cindy Cotham and Wanda Smith.

Study club meets

El Progreso Study Club held its regular meeting on October 23, 1985.

Members met in the home of Hazel Johnson. After a business meeting was conducted by Dimon Schacht, president, the members went to Floydada for a tour of the Floyd County Museum. This was a continuation of the theme of the year's study which is Texas Our Texas.

Refreshments of Texas shaped cookies and coffee were served by the hostess, Hazel Johnson. Members present were Katherine Ball, Mary Blanchard, Arla Copeland, Faye Ferguson, Cornelia Johnson, Alice Mitchell, Merle Mooney, Dimon Schacht, Dorothy Smith and the hostess.

MR. AND MRS. CARL MOOSBERG

Moosbergs to be honored

Carl and Pearlle Moosberg of Floydada will be honored with a reception marking their fortieth wedding anniversary on Sunday, November 10th. The reception will be held from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. at the Wall Street Parlor of the First Baptist Church in Floydada.

Hosting the occasion are the couple's daughters and their families: Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Sherman and Rolf of Lockney; Mr. and Mrs. Ken Steele of Perryton; and Mr. and Mrs. Donny Winslow, Zade and Robbie of Duncan, Oklahoma.

Friends of the couple are cordially invited to attend the celebration, and the couple has requested no gifts, please.

Carl Moosberg and Pearlle Hagler were married on Thanksgiving Day, November 22, 1945 at her parent's home in Center, Texas. The couple lived in Greenville, Texas, until 1948, when they moved to Marianna, Arkansas. They remained in Marianna until 1972 when they moved to Floydada.

Sorority gives party

On October 31, Alpha Mu Delta members and their children attended the Halloween party at the Floydada Nursing Home. Members not present baked cakes for the cake walk.

The children visited with the residents of the home and "spooked" them with their costumes. Afterwards the children and their mothers trick-or-treated the grandparents of the children and then went to Donna Anderson's for supper.

Those attending were: Mitzi and Scott Nixon; Barbara, Dusty and Monty Anderson; Donna, Todd and Brady Anderson; Abby, Tyler and Tanner Battey; Duffy, Pepper and Chad Hinkle; Penny and Mandy Ogden; Holly and Joni Hendrix; Kelli and Lindsey Reddy; Wendy, Kelsy and Kyle Pierce; Jeanine and Tyler Helms; and Laura Turner.

Bill promotes farm policy

Blasting Administration policies that lend taxpayer dollars to foreign agricultural producers while squeezing U.S. farmers out of international markets, 13th District Congressman Beau Boulter (R, TX) introduced legislation which he said will "end this blatantly unfair, and unwise, expenditure of U.S. taxpayer dollars."

Boulter's legislation, the Foreign Agriculture Investment Reform Act

(FAIR), requires the Secretary of the Treasury to instruct U.S. Executive Directors of international financial institutions to oppose loans for investments in agriculture production of commodities that are already in surplus on world markets.

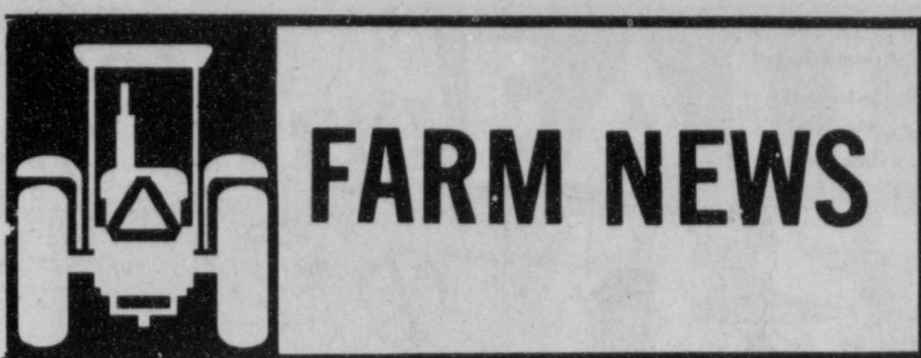

At a press conference held with Senator Steve Symms (R, ID), the author of similar legislation in the Senate, Boulter noted that "right now the U.S. is a member of several international financial institutions, like the World Bank, which provide generous credit terms to countries like China for them to subsidize their agriculture industries. And while we are using our taxpayer dollars to support these credit terms," he continued, "we are literally squeezing our own farmers out of international markets."

Another key provision of the legislation would reduce the U.S. contribution to international financial institutions by an amount equal to the share of U.S. funds that went either to countries which subsidize their exports, or to the production of commodities for export into surplus markets.

FAIR, Boulter said, will stop the flow of U.S. dollars to programs that subsidize foreign agriculture production when that production is harmful to U.S. exporters and producers. "Our farmers are struggling today largely because of the past mistakes of our government. And we still have policies that in effect cripple our farmers", Boulter said. "There can be no justification made for the current system of foreign subsidization."

Explaining that as heavily subsidized foreign commodities enter international markets, U.S. farmers are less able to compete, Boulter concluded that current U.S. policies "are only serving to help the competition. Our farmers need us to help them, not their competition", he concluded.

Boulter's legislation has eleven original co-sponsors, and is expected to be assigned to the Banking and Finance Committee.

Update: 1985 Farm Bill

Senate Farm Bill Budget Cost

According to the United States Department of Agriculture, the U.S. Senate soon will debate the 1985 farm bill. One of the most important decisions will be how to match the high cost of the bill with Congressional spending targets. The latest estimates are that the farm bill reported by the Senate Agriculture Committee exceeds the $34.8-billion Congressional budget target by more than $20-billion.

Administration Position

The administration believes that the most costly budget recommendation among Committee proposals is a 4-year freeze on commodity target prices. The administration supports an amendment to freeze 1986 target prices at 1985 levels, with up to a 5 percent annual reduction in subsequent years.

The second budget priority is enactment of a 50-cents-per-hundred-pound (cwt.) reduction in dairy price supports, effective January 1, 1986. The Senate Agriculture Committee's dairy provision maintains the current milk support price at $11.60 per cwt. through the 1986 milk marketing year.

Background on budget costs

*The Congressional Budget Resolution that Congress passed earlier this year allocated $34.8 billion for commodity programs in fiscal 1986-88.

*Excellent crop conditions in 1985 have resulted in record production for many commodities. Export demand deteriorated this year and farm prices are down. Consequently, USDA estimates that the cost of the Senate Agriculture Committee bill would be $54 to $60 billion—exceeding the Budget Resolution by more than $20 billion.

*Based on last January's farm commodity supply-use data, the Congressional Budget Office estimates that farm price support provisions of the Senate farm bill would cost $42 billion; that exceeds the Budget Resolution targets by more than $7 billion.

Background on target price freeze

*The most costly provision in the Senate Agriculture Committee's farm bill is a proposal to maintain commodity prices at their 1985 levels through crop year 1989. A 4-year freeze is estimated to cost $13 billion more than a 1-year freeze, with a 5-percent decline in subsequent years.

*To boost crop prices and control budget outlays, the 4-year target freeze would have to be accompanied by large annual acreage reduction programs.

Administration recommendations

The costs of farm price and income supports covered by the 1981 farm bill have averaged about $12 billion per year. These provisions, if extended, would average an estimated $16 billion yearly over fiscal 1986-90. The Senate Agriculture Committee farm bill would cost an estimated $17-18 billion per year. The House-passed farm bill would cost nearly as much as the Senate Committee bill.

The administration recommends that the Senate take effective action, particularly on the target price freeze and the dairy price support program, to bring spending in line with the $34.8 billion spending limit for commodity programs over the next three years, as approved in Congress' own fiscal 1986 Budget Resolution.

Views wanted on crop insurance

Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FCIC) Deputy Manager Edward Hews from Washington, D.C., FCIC Board of Directors member Ed Askew and other crop insurance officials will be in Nazareth, Texas to hear farmer views on the crop insurance program on Thursday, November 14. Any farmer who wishes to share his comments on crop insurance is invited to attend.

"These sessions will be conducted in an 'open mike' manner," noted FCIC Deputy Manager Hews, "and we hope that everyone who has some thoughts about the program will take the time to share their views."

The session in Nazareth is part of a nationwide effort by two teams of FCIC officials to tap producer feelings and experiences with the crop insurance program. Meetings are being held in a dozen rural communities and are aimed at obtaining crop insurance customers views on the proven production method of guaranteed yield protection, proposals to adjust insurance unit definitions, and the performance of the delivery system.

"A number of proposals have been presented to the Board and we have moved forward in a few areas," FCIC Board member, Askew, said, "we want to know how these things are working out and what remains to be done to make crop insurance the best protection the farmer can buy."

FCIC Deputy Manager Hews noted that "the crop insurance program is the primary form of disaster protection available to the American agricultural producer. We want to be sure that we are selling the best product in the most effective way at a price today's farmer can afford."

The session will begin promptly at 1:30 p.m. in Nazareth at the Community Center on Thursday, November 14, and will continue for two hours. Participants should direct their remarks to experiences with crop insurance or why they do not use the crop insurance program.

Smith to attend Waco meeting

The Texas Farm Bureau Resolutions Committee, consisting of 41 farmers and ranchers, will meet in Waco November 11-13 to compile state and national policy recommendations which voting delegates will consider December 1-4 at the 52nd TFB state annual meeting in Fort Worth.

Resolutions pertaining to state matters approved by voting farmers and ranchers in Fort Worth will become state policy for the general farm organization during 1986.

Adopted resolutions pertaining to national policy will be forwarded to the American Farm Bureau Federation annual meeting January 12-16 in Atlanta.

The Resolutions Committee is composed of three leaders from each of TFB's 13 districts; the chairman of the TFB Young Farmer and Rancher Advisory Committee, Dan Smith of Lockney; and the TFB vice president, Wayne Cranfill, Hooks.

Cranfill is the committee chairman. TFB Secretary-Treasurer Roy Johnson, Desdemona, is vice chairman and TFB State Director James R. Adams, Odem, is secretary.

Breezers beat Dimmitt

On Thursday, October 31, the 8th grade Breezers traveled to Dimmitt to face the Bobcats. The Breezers started the game moving the ball very well. On their second possession, they managed to put up six points. The score came on a 30 yard touchdown run by Frank Suarez. The PAT was not successful, leaving the score 6-0 at the end of the first quarter.

During the second quarter, both teams were able to score. The Floydada score came on a 35 yard run around the left end by Jesse Suarez. The two point conversion again failed making the score 12-0 with 4 minutes left in the half. Dimmitt received the ball and began marching down the field. Their only score came on a 25 yard pass play. The attempt for two points failed, making the score 12-6 at the half.

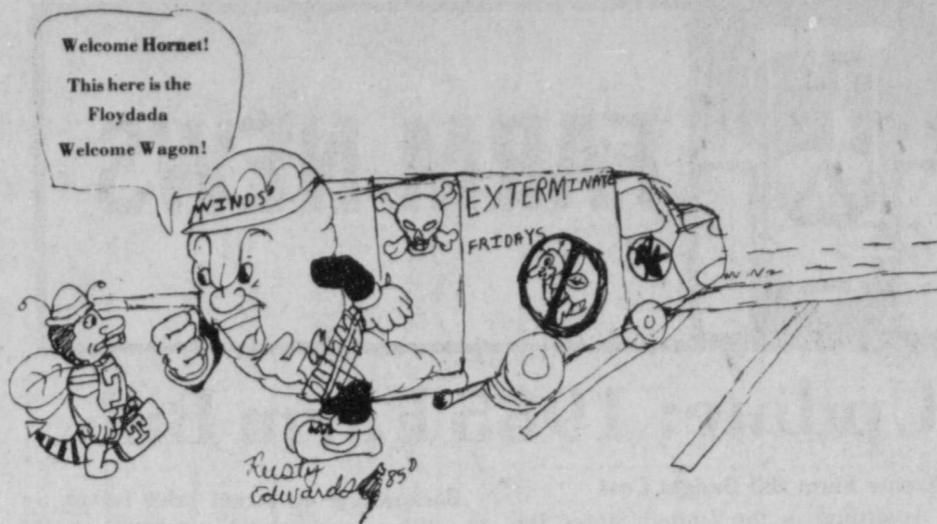

The second half found the Breezer defense unyielding as they did not allow the Bobcats to make a first down. The Breezers were able to shut down both the running and passing game of the Bobcats. Dimmitt tried to pass from a shotgun formation but didn't have any success. The Breezers, however, did manage to put 14 points on the board. The first of these points came on a 60 yard run around the right end by Frank Suarez. Suarez broke four or five tackles on his way to paydirt. The PAT was made by Harvey Soliz on a run around the left end. The Breezers led at the end of the third quarter 20-6.

The Breezers added another 6 points to the score in the fourth quarter. The touchdown was made by Frank Suarez on a run around the left end. Grant Stovall's attempt for two points came up short, leaving the final score at 26-6.

Outstanding offensive players were Frank Suarez, Jesse Suarez, Grant Stovall, Adam Cates, and Randell Simms. Outstanding defensive players were Frank Suarez, Jesse Suarez, Ray Garcia, Joe Cisneros, and Shay Hearon.

The Breezers will face Tulia in Floydada on Thursday, November 7, for the final game of the season. They have a chance to win or tie for the district championship if they can defeat Tulia. The game is scheduled to begin at 6:30 p.m. The team coach is Tim James.

Hale wins football contest

Jean Hale garnered the $10.00 first prize in the Floydada Football Contest this week. She missed two games and chose Dimmitt to win the tie breaker game with a total score of 21.

Sherry Hale took the second place spot and the $6.00 prize. Her entry had two incorrect choices on it and a tie breaker score of 28 with Dimmitt to win. Third prize and $4.00 goes to Juanda

Washburn, who missed three games and picked Dimmitt to win with a score of 7 on the tie breaker. Honorable mentions go to Paige Cannon, Joy Allen, Irene Morales, and Joe Zavala, who each missed 3 games. Cannon had a tie breaker score of 14, Allen chose 18, Morales chose 21, and Zavala chose 27.

Winners may pick up their checks at the Hesperian office on Friday, November 8.

Flores leads J.V. to victory

Floydada's Junior Varsity continues to perform at top level as they rolled over the Dimmitt J.V. last Thursday, October 31. The 'Winds really spooked the Bobcats, racking up 327 yards and 14 first downs on their way to a 43-0 win.

The first quarter was the high point quarter for Floydada. Julio Flores ran 24 yards for the first touchdown, followed by a Jeff Smith kick to make the score 7-0. Ty Stovall passed to Sylvester Mendoza for 34 yards and another touchdown. Smith again kicked for the extra point. Flores ran the ball in from 1 yard out for the third score and Ty Stovall ran the two point conversion in. Stovall ran the last touchdown of the quarter from 30 yards out with Smith kicking the extra point to make the score 29-0. Neither team was able to post any points in the second quarter.

Flores got the third quarter off to a good start with a touchdown run of 23 yards and Smith made the kick good for an extra point. The Smith and Flores duo clicked again for the last touchdown and extra point. Flores ran 45 yards for the T.D. and Smith made his fifth attempt successfully to end the quarter 43-0 in Floydada's favor. A scoreless fourth quarter cinched the win for the triumphant J.V.

Offensive standouts were Sylvester Mendoza, Julio Flores, Ty Stovall, Jeff Smith, Darin Martinez, Rupert Jimenez, and Freddie Toney. Defensive standouts were Julio Flores, Joe Collins, Roel Cisneros, Rupert Jimenez, Ty Stovall, Joe Barrientos, and Leonard King.

The team faces Tulia's J.V. in Tulia on November 7 at 6:30 p.m. for their final game of the season. The J.V. record now stands at 8 wins and no losses. Team coach is Mike Vickers.

CEDAR HILL NEWS

Co-exhibitors for the month of November in the lobby of the First National Bank, Floydada, are artists Marsha Martin and Edna Jacobs of Lubbock. In addition to being friends and artists, the two women are business partners, owning and operating the Artist Studio and Supply in Lubbock.

Having painted for "as long as I can remember", according to Edna Jacobs, "I work in oils, pastels, and watercolors."

Jacobs began her study of art under Bertha Levine in New Mexico primarily for the purpose of developing technique of perspective and teaching children. Upon retirement later she took up the art seriously under Beth Cain of Lubbock. She has also studied with Ray Ninella. She prefers to work with oils; and, her paintings show a definite influence of the Mexican culture. Her works have been displayed in numerous shows and exhibits.

A former resident of Floydada and the daughter-in-law of Will and Bea Martin of this town, Marsha Martin now resides in Lubbock. Her media preference is oils; however, she has works displayed in watercolor and pastels, too. Her paintings show a certain flair for dramatic and colorful skies, and she enjoys painting landscapes. On display are three "Blue Lady" paintings that attract immediate attention. Martin has studied under Paul Milosovich, Mac Carow, Ray Vinella. She began her art study with Beth Cain in 1979 in Lubbock.

Two oil paintings on exhibit, Canada #1, and Forrest Ranch, have received several awards, and Marsha has been successful in area art shows. Both Edna Jacobs and Marsha Martin are members of the Lubbock Art Association; and, through their store, they are making plans to offer art classes to students throughout the year.

The First National Bank encourages area residents to see this current exhibit during regular banking hours, November 3rd through December 7th.
