

The Lamplighter Morning blaze claims home

Over in East Texas our least favorite federal judge is at it again. Continuing his efforts to see that we are ruled by the least common denominator, the learned judge has issued another "preliminary injunction."

But first, some background:

Years ago, the teaching profession in Texas began an effort to upgrade itself by insisting that those who came out of colleges of education would not only know what to teach, they would know how to teach. Well and good. But like many good ideas this one got subverted along the way. The "how to" courses began to occupy more and more of the potential teacher's time during college. It got to the point where almost half the student's time was taken up by "how to" courses, at the expense of the "what to" courses. This began to trouble conscientious teachers, and lawmakers who saw the dangers inherant in the system. Obviously we were turning out many teachers who knew a lot about how to teach, but were not all that expert in what to teach.

So the pendulum began to swing the other way. The legislature concerned itself with the matter, and in 1981 approved a "pre-professional skills test" that said students could take no more than six hours in education courses until they had passed the reading, writing, and mathematics portion of the test.

The first test was given last summer, and by July the Associated Press reported that more than 18,000 students had taken the exams.

But then the trouble started. While 73 percent of the potential white teachers passed the exams (which somehow doesn't seem all that good) only 23

A house fire about 9:30 a.m. on Friday, November 8 claimed the home and possessions of a local family as well as putting the local radio station off the air for the past week. The house, owned by B.A. Robertson, was completely gutted by the blaze. A separate rear room was saved from the fire, but suffered extensive damage from smoke and water. This section of the house was the site of the transmitting equipment of local AM-FM radio station KKAP.

The George Eickenhorst family was residing in the house at the time of the fire. They are presently staying with the Alex Eickenhorst family. The mother, Virgie, was treated for a cut on her arm which she sustained when she exited the house through a window when the fire broke out.

"The fire was so far advanced when we arrived, that we could not get inside to fight it," said Carroll Sims of the Floydada Volunteer Fire Department. "We were forced to try to contain the flames by working through windows for a long time before we could enter the structure to get at the flames. The fire emitted a lot of smoke and fumes due to the acoustical tile lining the walls and ceilings of the house. These were present because it used to be the radio station.'

The acoustical tiles are blamed for a flare up of the flames which occured around 11:30 p.m. Friday night. "They don't burn, they just kind of smolder and when the wind got up late in the evening, it just fanned them to life," stated Sims.

The actual cause of the fire has not been determined, but was "probably due to a faulty electric heater in the front room of the house." said Sims.

was seriously hurt. KKAP will be back bigger and better than ever as soon as possible," stated Alldredge.

Carroll Sims of the Floydada Volunteer Fire Department expressed his gratitude to the EMS personnel who responded to the fire with the department. "We really appreciate their coming with us. Having them on hand is very good for us whenever we go to a fire. We know that treatment is close by if there are any injuries."

8th Breezers win District championship

On Thursday, November 7, Tulia came to Floydada to play the Breezers in the final game of this season. The game started out with neither team posting any points in the first quarter. The Breezers were able to move the ball, but turnovers kept them out of the endzone. In the second quarter, the team managed to put six points on the board on a run around the left side by Frank Suarez. The two point attempt by Jesse Suarez came up short.

During the third quarter, the only score was a safety by Tulia which came when Tulia returned a punt deep in their own territory. The ball was mishandled by Frank Suarez, but he was able to recover the ball, giving Tulia the two point safety instead of a possible touchdown. The Breezers moved the ball well in the third quarter. but were unable to score. Some good runs were made by Frank Suarez, Jesse Suarez, and Harvey Soliz, but to no avail. The fourth quarter found the Breezers putting eight points on the board. The tough Floydada defense didn't allow any points by Tulia. The Floydada score was set up when Grant Stovall hit Shay Hearon on a 25 yard pass. Hearon went out of bounds on about the eight yard line and Frank Suarez carried the ball over the goal line on the next play. Suarez took a pitch from Stovall and found Hearon in the end zone for the two point conversion. Tulia had the ball one more time, but was unable to advance. The Breezers won 14-2. Continued On Page 3 percent of the black students passed. That was enough to send the usual band of civil libertarians into Judge William Wayne Justice's court over in Tyler, and of course it was enough for Justice to issue another of his injunctions, ordering that the students be admitted to college education departments "regardless of race" who "would have been qualified to enroll in those courses, but for their failing the pre-professional skills test."

The judge didn't exactly invalidate the tests, as we understand the ruling. He merely ordered the colleges and universities to ignore the results of the tests, which of course has the same effect. And as usual, the judge blamed everybody except the people who failed the tests.

We will just have to wait to see what happens next. Hopefully it won't stop there.

Elsewhere in today's paper (we hope) our readers will find another piece by Will Martin, this one harking back to the days of North Side School and Miss Roxy Ivy, his first grade teacher.

We're happy to receive Will's contributions about early life in the county, when settlers were pouring in and roads and schools were being built. But there is something else that makes his contributions worthwhile.

As is evident from reading his firsthand accounts, Will is no spring chicken. In fact, he is fast approaching his 80th birthday. Yet his handwriting is much more legible, and his thoughts more organized than much of the material we receive in this office that is written by younger, college-educated professionals.

Sometime back we had a nice visit with Will. He told us then that he had a stroke some seven years ago, and that the illness left him without the ability to write at all.

He had to start from scratch, as it were. "I practiced, and practiced, and practiced," he said. He kept at it, His determination paid off, and is, or ought to be, an inspiration for young and old alike.

The Floyd County Commissioners Court approved the purchase of two new patrol cars for use by the Sheriff's Department at the November 11 regular monthly meeting. Bids for the sale of the vehicles to the county were received from three automobile dealers. Gene Messer Ford of Lubbock submitted bids of $11,092.95 and $11,142.95 with the trade in of both a 1978 Mercury and a 1979 Chrysler for two 1986 Ford Sedans. Reed Ford of Floydada bid a total of $21,336.00 for two 1986 Ford sedans with trade ins. Both bids were awarded to Oden Chevrolet on a bid of $20,128.22 for two Chevrolet sedans with trade-ins. The patrol cars will be equipped with a special police package of accessories and should be delivered Routine matters such as the payment of monthly bills, the County Treasurer's report by Glenna Orman, and reports by auditor Bobbie Hamilton were considered and approved by the court. Commissioners also approved a $250.00 contribution to a legal fund used by the Texas Association of counties to represent county interests in a legal battle regarding jail standards.

Several letters were submitted for consideration during the session. Caprock Emergency Medical Services requested an increase in the county contribution to the ambulance service currently maintained in this area. Floyd County assists in keeping the service operating by paying $350.00 per month to the service. The increase would call for a payment of $500.00. The request was tabled for consideration after an itemized breakdown of the manner which the money is used has been received. The service reported a loss of $11,543.00 during the last year of operation.

The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation notified the commissioners that the number of miles of county maintained road in Floyd County now total 1094 miles. 500 miles of county maintained road will be used in the computation of the percentage of auto license registration funds to be received by the county next year.

Guilty plea receives five years

Juan Segura, age 22, of Floydada, pled guilty November 11 in the 110th District Court, to indecency with a child. He received a five year sentence in TDC probated for five years.

Under the terms of this sentence if Segura fails to abide by the terms of probation anytime in five years, he will be sent to TDC for five years. Segura also has to pay restitution in the amount of $159.20 to the county, and like all probationers has to pay $40.00 a month probation fees.

According to District Attorney Randy Hollums' office, additional terms of probation were added to the normal terms of probation for Segura. They are as follows: (1) the defendant has got to avoid going about (name of victim) or about the place of residence or school of the victim or any other place the victim may be unless authorized by the court upon the recommendation by the probation officer or the counselor. (2) he must avoid communicating with the victim by writing, telephone, telegraph, oral conversation, in person or in any oral manner unless authorized by the court

A letter from the State Purchasing and General Services Commission gave approval to the recently completed elevator installation and building of an access ramp for use by the physically impaired. The Floyd County Courthouse now meets the standards and specifications required to meet the needs of the handicapped as stated in the communication.

Election returns for the November 5 Constitutional Amendment Election were canvassed and approved by the court. The matter of a new teletype system for the Sheriff's Department was also discussed. More information on the capabilities of the proposed purchase is needed before a decision can be made. Outstanding performances for the season were turned in by: defense; Rupert Jiminez, who led the team in tackles with 136 for the season; Joe Collins, who was second with 72 tackles; Darin Martinez and Roel Cisneros, who had 63 and 65 tackles, respectively; Manual Suarez and Shannon Vinson, who combined for 116 tackles to shut out the opponents outside threat. Offensive standouts were: Julio Flores who led all rushers with 1237 yards on 109 carries for an 11.3 average per carry and who led the team in scoring with 116 points (19 touchdowns and one conversion); Ray Morales was second with 560 yards rushing; Ty Stovall had 540 yards rushing and 309 yards passing for 52 points (eight touchdowns and two conversions); Sylvester Mendoza led all receivers with seven catches for 168 yards, scoring two touchdowns and two conversions. The offensive line consisted of Jeff Smith, Raymond Gutierrez, Roel Cisneros, Greg Lawson, Darin Martinez and Richie Porter. The offensive line graded out at 82% blocking efficiency for the season.

"Both Coach Hurt and myself would like to thank the parents of these young men and the community for the support that was shown toward these young men throughout the season," said Coach Vickers.

Bob Alldredge, owner of KKAP says, 'We are still assessing and checking for damage to the equipment. We have cleaned it up as best we can, and several of the components have been sent to Lubbock for testing. When we know what needs to be replaced, we can get it fixed and get back on the air."

Alldredge estimates damages to his equipment to range from $3,000 to $10,000. "The engineer says that with a little luck, one or both stations will be back on the air by Saturday," according to Alldredge. "The fire department did a tremendous job of keeping the fire from reaching the equipment. They really deserve a lot of credit."

Understanding your local government

Duties of Appraisal District reviewed

Among the responsibilities of the County Tax Assessor-Collector is the assessment and collection of real and personal property tax. The Interlocal Cooperation Act allows the County Commissioner's Court to contract with an appraisal district for the performance of these duties. This may be done only with the approval of the elected tax assessor-collector. Other taxing entities can enter into the same type of contractual agreement at their discretion.

Local voters can have a voice in these decisions. The laws of this state allow qualified voters residing in an appraisal district to petition for an election to determine whether or not to require the appraisal district, the tax assessor collector, or a specified taxing unit within the appraisal district to assess and/or collect property taxes on property appraised by the district for all taxing units.

Real and personal property taxes in Floyd County are assessed and collected by the Floyd County Central Appraisal District. These taxes represent sources of income for taxing entities such as school districts, cities, counties, water districts, and hospital districts. Floyd County Central Appraisal District encompasses eleven such entities. They are Floyd County, Dougherty I.S.D., Floydada I.S.D., Lockney I.S.D., South Plains I.S.D., the city of Floydada, the city of Lockney, Caprock Hospital District, Lockney Hospital District, Hi Plains Water District, and Mackenize Water District.

The use of a central appraisal office allows taxpayers to file exemption applications and property renditions in a single location. Paying taxes is also simpler, as all taxes are collected in the same office.

A tax appraisal district is a unique form of county government as it is administered by a board of directors. The current board members are Tom Duvall, chairman, Adrian Helms, secretary, Jack Lackey, Eddie Teeter, and Fred Zimmerman III. All members have served seven years except Zimmerman, who has served for two years. Board members serve without compensation.

Directors in Floyd County are nominated and selected by the governing bodies of the voting tax entities. These include the cities of Floydada and Lockney, the county, and the school districts. Meetings are posted in advance and are open to the public. The Floyd County Central Tax Appraisal District board of directors meet regularly at 9:00 a.m. on the first Wednesday of each month in the appraisal office. Records of the board and the district are open to public inspection during normal business hours.

The Chief Appraiser, who directs the daily operation of the office, is Shelia Faulkenberry. She has nine and a half years experience in appraisal assessment, collections, and drafting. She also possesses the four certifications required by law for her position, Registered Professional Appraiser, Registered Texas Assessor/Collector, Registed Texas Collector, and chief appraiser reports to the board of directors and follows their recommendations for the operation of her office.

In operation since April of 1980, this appraisal office is one of the few in Texas that is completely centralized in the appraisal, assessment, billing, and collection of taxes for all entities. The office is fully staffed and does all field work on new improvements, utilities, oil, gas, personal property, etc. The district maintains maylar maps which are updated on a monthly basis. A complete set of the newest aerial maps, taken in 1984, is also maintained.

The recent purchase of an IBM 36 computer has helped the district function more efficiently with a smaller budget each year since the purchase. Floyd County is among the few Texas counties which currently comply with all state requirements. Most counties are still in the planning stages for centralized collections.

A majority of the voting tax entities can veto any action of the appraisal district board of directors by adopting resolutions disapproving the action. At least 4 out of 7 entities must veto the action to make the veto effective.

An appraisal review board consisting of at least three members must be available to hear tax payer protests and challenges from taxing entities. The ARB in Floyd County consists of Jimmy Willson, L.N. Johnson, and Lewis Reddy.

Operation of the Floyd County central Appraisal District is funded by payments from the represented entities based on the total dollar amount of taxes collected. Each entity pays as the taxes it imposes are collected.

November 20

Students at Floydada High School will have an opportunity to learn about Army aviation on November 20. An Army Cobra attack helicopter and its two-man crew will be on display at the school from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The Cobra, on loan from Fort Hood. Texas, is part of the swiftest and deadliest Army maneuver units on the modern battlefield, the attack helicopter company.

The 10,000-pound combat helicopter with an average cruising speed of 130 knots saw extensive service in Vietnam. In recent years the TOW wire-guided missile has been added to the Cobra to enable the helicopter to destroy enemy tanks and armored personnel carriers.

Two Cobra pilots, Chief Warrant Officer 3 Pete Lautzenheiser and Warrant Officer 1 Todd Miller, will explain how a high school graduate can become an Army aviator.

Sergeant First Class Kenny White, Army recruiter for Floydada High School, will also be present at the display to discuss the $100,000 of flight training the Army can provide as well as other enlisted jobs available in aviation maintenance and air traffic control.

Jury orders Dallas hospital to pay $4.5 million lawsuit

A state district court jury has ordered a Dallas hospital to pay $4.5 million in damages to the family of Rex Rose of Floydada, who died August 3, 1983 after he was given a dose of morphine intended for another patient.

Mr. Rose was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Rose, of Floydada. Alton Rose is a partner in the Moore-Rose Funeral Home here. Rex Rose was also the husband of Lisa Powell Rose, of Floydada.

The jury ruled Monday in a suit against the hospital filed by the widow and parents of Rex Rose. Rose died after he was given a dose of painkiller that the family's attorney contended was intended for a terminally ill cancer patient across the hall.

Rose, then 29, had moved to Dallas to attend the Dallas Institute of Funeral Services and was being treated for flu symptons at the time of this death. The trial started November 4 in the 44th State District Court of Judge H. Dee Johnson. The case went to the jury Friday afternoon. After six hours of deliberation, the jury ruled the hospital negligent because its employees administered the morphine that killed Rose. According to the Amarillo Daily News publication of November 13, the plaintiff's attorney said, "In light of the grievous loss suffered by the widow and his family, the jury's damages are most reasonable.

Attorneys for Doctors Hospital will await the ruling by Johnson on the jury award. All financial awards in such lawsuits are reviewed by the presiding judge.

No date has been scheduled for Johnson's review of the case and a ruling may not be handed down until January of 1986.

Attorneys for the hospital said Tuesday an appeal will be filed if the presiding judge upholds the multimillion dollar award, according to the Amarillo Daily News.

The $4.5 million award will draw 10 percent interest for each day dating from six months after Rose's death. The total amount of the award will equal about $5.4 million.

Floydada City Council meets November 12th

City Council handled a number of mostly routine matters at the November 12 monthly meeting. Bids for the demolition of the structure belonging to Juan E. and Anita Rodriguez at 208 East Marivena were opened. The bid was awarded to Kevin Nelson of Floydada for $650.00. Other bids submitted were $850.00 from Vernon Wickware of Floydada and $775.00 from Zavala Brothers of Lockney.

Jim McAllister, general manager of Mackenzie Municipal Water Authority, presented the proposed budget from that facilities board of directors for the next fiscal year. The city council will have 10 days to review the proposed budget and forward any recommendations or comments to the water authority directors. Edd Henderson, one of the Floydada representatives serving on the board was also present. McAllister reported that the water quality has improved since cooler weather has arrived. He stated that the water is now safe and potable for use.

A request by Caprock Ambulance Service for a $150.00 increase in the service fee the city pays for ambulance service was unanimously denied. The city will continue to pay $350.00 as budgeted. The council acted to table a request from the county commissioners

Mayor Parnell Powell was authorized to sign a contract with Bill McMorries of Plainview to prepare the plans and specifications for a MIRL (Medium Intensity Runway Lighting) system. The system will be installed at the Floydada Municipal Airport under a grant from the Texas Aeronautical Commission.

A concrete apron will be installed at the doors of the fire hall on the Northwest corner of the building. The apron is necessary to solve a standing water problem. The cost will be $900.00 and the work will be done by Isidro Sanchez. The council agreed to purchase two new conference tables for the council meeting room at a cost of $180.00 from Script Printing. The old tables will be moved to the fire hall for use in the emergency operating center. Glenn Reddick was hired to convert the utility billing program from the

A former resident of Floydada and the daughter-in-law of Will and Bea Martin of this town, Marsha Martin now resides in Lubbock. Her media preference is oils; however, she has works displayed in watercolor and pastels, too. Her paintings show a certain flair for dramatic and colorful skies, and she enjoys painting landscapes. On display are three "Blue Lady" paintings that attract immediate attention. Martin has studied under Paul Milosovich, Mac Carow, Ray Vinella. She began her art study with Beth Cain in 1979 in Lubbock.

Two oil paintings on exhibit, Canada #1, and Forrest Ranch, have received several awards, and Marsha has been successful in area art shows. Both Edna Jacobs and Marsha Martin are members of the Lubbock Art Association; and, through their store, they are making plans to offer art classes to students throughout the year.

"I am very proud of these young men," stated Coach Tim James. "They have worked very hard the past two years and I have really enjoyed coaching them. This year, even though they lost the first district game, they never gave up. They knew they had a chance to win or tie for the district championship by winning the rest of their games. They made every effort to achieve their goal and they succeeded. Not many teams win district recognition in both the 7th and 8th grade. They are all outstanding players.'

In Praise of Small Towns

In case any of you aren't sure whether or not your hometown qualifies, we've printed the following definition of a small town, brought into us by June Patzer. The verse, which originally appeared in the North Dakota Union Farmer with no credit to its author, salutes an American institution; we hope you enjoy it.

You know you are in a small town when:

The runway of the airport is terraced.

The polka is more popular than disco on Saturday night.

Third Street is on the edge of town.

Every sport is played on dirt.

The editor and publisher of the newspaper carries a camera at all times.

You don't use your turn signal because everyone knows which direction you are going

You are born on June 13 and your family receives gifts from the local merchants because you are the first baby of the year.

You speak to each dog you pass by name, and he wags at you by name. You dial a wrong number and talk for 15 minutes anyway. You are run off Main Street by a combine.

You can't walk for exercise because every car that passes offers you a ride. You get married and the local paper devotes a quarter page to the story.

You drive into the ditch five miles out of town and the word gets back before you

The biggest business in town sells farm machinery. You write a check on the wrong bank and it covers for you. Pickup trucks on Main Street outnumber cars three to one.

Alpha Sigma Upsilon discusses state meeting

Alpha Sigma Upsilon met at 7:00 p.m. November 5 at the First National Bank. President Vikki Yeary called the meeting to order and everyone repeated opening ritual and answered roll call. Minutes from the previous meeting were read and approved.

Communications discussed included the state convention to be held June 28-30 in Irving, Texas.

The treasurer's report was given, followed by discussion of a new ways and means project.

Rhonda Guthrie had the raffle and Sheryl Derryberry gave away door prizes.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned. Everyone stood for closing rituals and mizpah.

Janice Poteet, Ginger Warren, Rhonda Guthrie, and Sheryl Derryberry then presented a skit on "Sorority Behavior." Hostess Sheryl Derryberry served sandwiches, chips, dip, cake and tea.

Members attending were: Sheryl Derryberry, Barbara Edwards, Karen Elliott, Rhonda Guthrie, Janice Poteet, Sheri Turnbow, Ginger Warren, Neva West, Vikki Yeary, Debra Bailey and Mary Ann Kelly.

The South Plains School Halloween Carnival will be held Friday, November 1, from 6:30 to 9:00 p.m. The costume contest and program will begin at 6:30 and afterwards frito pies, nachos, pies cakes and drinks will be sold in the cafeteria. Games and prizes will be held in the gym. Everyone come and enjoy a night of fun and fellowship.

The South Plains Junior American Citizens Club held its first meeting on October 26. The newly elected officers are Troy Johnson, president; Ken Cummings, vice-president; Ruben Charverrea, secretary; Yadera Martines, color bearer, and Tony Salazar, song leader. This year the poster contest will be about our American Customs with the program being given by Nancy Young. We will have a flag burning ceremony to show how we respectfully do away with old flags. This will be directed by Nathan Johnson and the scouts. For our field trips Nancy Marble will have a program on the Founding of South Plains, Texas.

Time changed this Sunday morning and the main grumbling I heard was that it made meetings get out so late at night. Everyone noticed the darkness. In the absence of Rev. Cecil Osborne and Mrs. Osborne, Dr. Fred Howard from Plainview preached Sunday's morning and evening services. It was so nice to get to see Dr. and Mrs. Howard. We do not get a chance to have them here very often, as he carries such a heavy schedule.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat and Jean Huff and children, Duane and Marlena of Amarillo, came to visit their folks, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hamm on Sunday.

There will be a bridal shower in the home of Mrs. Mamie Wood on Novemhere. New shingles on the Baptist church and on the parsonage brighten up everything.

Dollie Cantrell celebrates 80th

An 80th birthday honoring Dollie Cantrell was celebrated in her home on November 12. Those helping her celebrate her special day were her son, Bobby, her daughters, Aline Dobbins and Mike, Estelle Warren, Genell Blanton of Idalou; her granddaughters, Rhonda Ware, Lana Copp of Lazbuddie, Julie Duke of Plainview and greatgrandchildren Kayla Copp and Dustin and Randi Duke. Special guest was Lillie Jester of Lubbock.

Those calling to wish her happy 80th were Gary Cantrell of Waco, Michelle Dick of Waco, Edna Allen of Odessa and Delton Cantrell.

Everyone brought a covered dish and enjoyed a luncheon. Cake and punch were served later in the afternoon. She received many lovely remembrances on her special day.

Luminarias and lanterns will light pathways at the Ranching Heritage Center (RHC) 6-8 p.m. December 12 and 13 when volunteers decked in period costumes will take part in holiday activities typical for the era represented by the RHC's historical buildings.

The Ranching Heritage Center will also be open 1-4:30 p.m. Sunday, December 15, for individuals unable to attend the evening events. However, the volunteers will not be featured.

Among the activities, a choir will sing carols from the steps of the Barton House and school children will create holiday crafts in the RHC schoolhouse. A cowboy Santa Claus will greet children at a chuckwagon and cowboys will offer songs around a campfire.

The historic buildings will be decorated with bows and greenery and The Museum atrium will be graced by a 20-foot fir treet. Entertainment in The Museum will include choirs, dancers and a puppet show.

CEDAR HILL NEWS

By Grace Lemons November 4:

Farmers are back in fields sowing wheat, stripping cotton, harvesting maize and sunflowers. The weather has been cold and we had a freeze Friday night.

Several little Halloween spooks came to our doors Halloween night and gladly showed off their costumes. It was a beautiful night to be out.

Clara Mize returned home Friday night after visiting her son, Steve and Emily Mize in Sacramento, California. She reports a very good trip and the weather was warm while there.

Dinner guests in the home of Jim Conner and Margaret and Millard Fourt Sunday were Jim's son and family, Robert and Guen Conner and Holly and Robin of Amarillo. Clara Mize visited with them in the afternoon.

Clara Mize had lunch Sunday with her nephew, Walton and Veda Wilson in Floydada.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. VanHoose of Kingsland have returned to Floydada to make their home after being away for about two years. Welcome home!

Twyla Lemons spent Sunday in Floydada with a friend, Jenifer Thrasher.

Peat Kelley visited Mr. and Ms. Carl F. Lemons Friday afternoon.

Patrick Vick spent Friday night with his great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Fortenberry. They took him back to Lubbock Saturday and visited their daughter and husband, Patsy and Lafayette Boone. Azalee Beachamp of Rankin also visited with them.

It is reported that Esley Yeary left the hospital in Lubbock and went to recuperate at his son, Peanut's home in Garland. He became ill and is in a hospital in Garland. We trust that he will gain his strength quickly.

Jackie Wayne and Kandy Thompson of Lubbock and Glenda Kay and Gary Chadwick of Hereford visited with their parents, Jackie and Glenda Thompson Saturday. Imogene Fortenberry, Phyllis Harris and children, Mychelle and Terry attended the band competition at Lubbock Saturday where their grandson and son, Todd Hodges participated. Todd played with the Iraan High School Band and they received some honors.

Jackie and Glenda Thompson attended the funeral of a long time friend in Hereford Monday.

A truly rich man is one whose children run into his arms when his hands are empty. November 11:

We are having below freezing temperature at night without any moisture. Farmers are sowing wheat and harvesting cotton.

Clara Mize visited Nell Yeary Saturday.

Ruthie Clark of Plainview visited her daughter, Edna Gilly Thursday.

Funeral services for Esley Yeary were held in the First Baptist Church in Floydada Sunday afternoon at 2:00 p.m. with the Rev. Cecil Osborne, pastor of the South Plains Baptist Church, officiating. Burial was in the Floydada Cemetery. Yeary is remembered for keeping our country roads in shape for about 50 years. He was active until a recent surgery and died in Jacksonville Friday morning. Several from Cedar

Hill attended the services. Grace Lemons visited Maxine Harper and Bonnie Julian in the Lockney

General Hospital Monday. Jackie and Glenda Thompson were in Lubbock on business Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Thompson went to Hereford and took his parents, the Les Thompsons, to the airport in Amarillo, where they flew to California to visit his brother. They accompanied them to parts in Old Mexico where they are vacationing before returning home.

Glenda and Jackie Thompson attended the Fall Convention at the First Assembly of God Church in Floydada Wednesday.

Jackie Wayne Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. Royce Hess of Lubbock visited with Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Thompson Friday.

Edna Gilly visited Cobb and Lois Gilly Sunday evening. Gertrude Hammit of Plainview was also present.

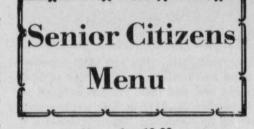

Grace Lemons visited Sylvia Yeary in Lockney Thursday afternoon.

Twyla Lemons and her cousin, Jessica Lemons were among those from the First Baptist Church in Floydada that attended the football game at Texas Tech Friday evening.

Clara Mize had Thanksgiving dinner Sunday with Winnie and Bill Beedy and family in Floydada.

Word was received that Pratt Gilbert of Jason died early Sunday morning. Norma Welch and her mother, Peat Kelley left Monday to attend the funeral services.

Defeat is never bitter if you refuse to swallow it.

United Methodist Conference set in Tulia

United Methodists from 33 churches in 32 communities will meet from 4 to 7 p.m. November 10 at Tulia United Methodist Church for worship, fellowship and inspiration. This conference is sponsored by the Plainview District of the Northwest Texas Conference of the United Methodist Church.

The purpose of the conference is to provide participants with information and worship ideas that they can share with their own churches. Pastors are encouraged to assign local Council on Ministries members to the various workshops appropriate to areas of responsibility. The event is open to all United Methodists and other interested persons.

The conference will open with celebration and worship followed by a short business session. Worship leaders will be ministers from the Plainview District.

United Methodist Churches in the Plainview District are in Abernathy, Amherst, Bula, Carr's Chapel, Cotton Center, Crosbyton, Dimmitt, Earth, Floydada, Flomot, Hale Center, Hart, Kress, Lakeview, Littlefield, Lockney, Lorenzo, Matador, McAdoo, Muleshoe, Olton, Petersburg, Plainview, Quitaque, Ralls, Roaring Springs, Silverton, Spade, Sudan, Tulia, Turkey and Vigo Park.

There will not be a meal served, but refreshments will be provided. Also, a nursery will be provided. For more information contact Dr. E. Bruce Parks at the Plainview District Office, (806) 296-2841.

Floydada to observe the Great American Smokeout

The Floydada Chapter of the American Cancer Society met November 11 to make final plans for the Great American Smokeout and the annual Christmas brunch. The Great American Smokeout is a nationwide emphasis on quitting smoking for just one day November 21. Locally posters and announcements will be placed around town. Adoption certificates are available for ones who wish to adopt a smoker for the day to help him not light up for the day. Dale Tyer's health classes are also helping with this activity in Floydada, as are the home ec classes at Lockney.

Janice Lloyd reported on a program she brought to the Lockney home ec classes in October on the smokeless tobacco problem that the American Cancer Society is addressing. The same programs were brought to the Floydada schools the following week.

The annual Christmas brunch will be held Saturday, December 7 from 9:30 to 11:30 at the home of Mrs. Kay Zimmerman. Tickets will be on sale November 20 for $5.00. Various com-

Present were Linda Matsler, Margie Fowler, Ruth McIntosh, Kay Zimmerman, Penny Ogden, Ella Reue, Ruth Hammonds, Janice Lloyd, Shirley Coleman, Sherry Hale, Myra Poteet, Wanda Hickerson, and Judy Allen. The next meeting will be held January 13, skipping the December meeting.

market manager

The Floydada Shop Rite recently announced the employment of Bob Marler, a native Floydadian, as the new market manager for the local store. Marler comes to the job with 14 years experience. He worked for Ponderosa Meat Company here in Floydada until it closed. He then accepted employment with Albertson's in Lubbock. He has worked there for the past year and half, commuting daily from Floydada.

"It is good to be working in Floydada again," said Marler. "I will do my best to provide my customers, old and new, with the best possible service on their meat orders."

November 3, 1985:

Today I was and am at home, went to Calvary and am grateful for a way to go. It was a beautiful day but cold and there are signs of heavy rains - full lakes.

Sue and Vic came Saturday but Don Clark and Betty Lou did not show up. I hope they are not sick, I am glad we have phones. Sorry I did not see them on my rounds.

Evelyn Latta came with some materials to can. I have not canned a thing yet but hope to soon. How we miss our cannery.

It was good to see Mrs. Plumlee in Sunday school and church again. I saw Mrs. McPeak after church.

Mrs. Frizzell is home doing OK. Mrs. Roe Jones is home and so are the Mayfields.

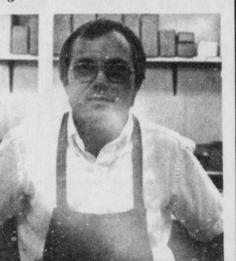

Several people are not home, but I heard of no sickness, which is good.

Tuesday, the wind blows, but the sun shines.

and the second second

Saturday Sue and Vic of Plainview came before noon and we decided to "dine out" at the cafe. Later we had a nice visit.

Then Sunday, soon after I got home from church, my Big Spring younger son, Don Clark, drove up. Another nice surprise. I did not have to wash dishes as we dined out at a cafe.

Monday is another dreary day. I got my chow chow done last week.

Mrs. Evelyn Pierce, driver of our bus, has just come by going home. How grateful we are for that bus! Mrs. Evelyn Latta also came.

Mrs. Hartline is inside on a day like this, and most people are.

Mrs. Fred Battey and the Thomas Warrens are okay, but Mrs. Ola Warren is in the Lockney Hospital. Let us remember Mrs. Ola Warren and all the sick in our prayers.

Mrs. Doc Bennett of Itasca, Texas visited Anthony and Evelyn Latta from Wednesday to Saturday. Evelyn and Mrs. Bennett, her sister, shopped in Lubbock Thursday and on Friday afternoon, they visited Mrs. Ruby Ratjen in the Blanco Community.

Saturday afternoon Evelyn and Lorene visited their sister, Myrta Belle James in Plainview and her daughter's family, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Rainer of DeQueen, Arkansas. Later, Evelyn took Mrs. Bennett to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vinson Bennett, also in Plainview, where she stayed until Monday when she returned to Itasca with a daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell

Sheppard Air Force Base

Airman Bobby G. Tinsley, son of Clifford J. and Doris F. Tinsley of Floydada has been assigned to Sheppard Air Force Base, Texas, after completing Air Force basic training.

During the six weeks at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

The airman will now receive specialized instruction in the aircraft maintenance field.

His wife, Jane, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred N. Warren of Plainview.

To be sure your car is ready for winter we

With Halloween gone, we find ourselves facing the holiday season before we can say "Bah, Humbug!" As usual, there are a lot of things to do this time of year. Let's not get so busy that we overlook something that we really want to do or something that will be meaningful to us and our families. Here is a sampling of events you may want to consider before you get your time too filled:

Floyd County Arts Association's Fall dinner-theatre production ("Opal's Million Dollar Duck") will be presented at the Elementary Cafetorium in Lockney on Saturday, November 16, and at the Massie Activity Center in Floydada on Saturday, November 23. Dinner will be served at 7:00 p.m., with the play beginning at 8:00. Tickets are available at First National Bank in Lockney, First National Bank in Floydada, or from cast members, Arts Association board members and a number of Association members, or by calling 983-3834. Dinner reservations are required by Tuesday evening before each Saturday's performance. Tickets for the play ONLY may be purchased at the door at 7:45 each Saturday evening.

The annual Floydada Lions' Club Arts & Crafts Bazaar will be held at the Massie Activity Center on Saturday, November 16. This will be a wonderful opportunity to do some early Christmas gift shopping for those who like the special beauty of handmade gifts. Anyone who wishes to rent booth space may contact Lion Wally Padgett, manager of Perry's in Floydada, for information (if there are any booths still available).

There will be a meeting of the Floyd County Sesquicentennial Committee at Floydada City Hall, 7:00 p.m., Tuesday, November 19. If your club or organization does not have a delegate on this committee, now is the time to appoint one to represent you in planning events in Floyd County for 1986.

A master list of Official Sesquicentennial products and prices (those sanctioned by the state commission) is available for businesses, schools, organizations, etc. who would like to order such products to sell as fund-raisers, or to give as promotional items now and throughout 1986. These master lists may be seen at Lockney city hall (D. Copeland's office), Floydada Chamber of Commerce office, and at the offices of the two Superintendents of Schools. These items are not available to individuals, except for re-sale and promotional use. Many have asked if the Floyd County Arts Association will bring to Floyd County more children's drama like the recent production of "Hansel and Gretel". This is something the Arts Association is hoping to be able to do on a repeat basis. It is through membership support (that is, payment of annual membership dues) that such events are made financially possible. Anyone who is interested in having more such performances can help provide for them by joining the Association. For membership information, contact Pat Franklin at Goen & Goen Insurance Co. Laura Wilson of Lockney is gathering directions for hand-made craft items to compile a book (similar to a cook book, but with handicraft directions and diagrams). This book will be sold at a bazaar to raise funds for Lockney's nursing home residents. If you would be willing to donate directions for making some craft project, please contact Laura as soon as possible. I'm sure there are a lot more things going on in Floyd County during November, but that's all I've been notified about. If your organization has something planned for December, be sure to get information to me before November 25, and I will be glad to include it in next month's column.

takes up to three hours of make-up application, transforms Richters from a man in his late twenties to one in his seventies. "As the old man rambles across the stage, reminiscing with his characteristic wit about the events of his life, the audience travels back to the days of the California Gold Rush, the Civil War and the simple life on the Mississippi River." Mark Twain's life was ushered in and out with the appearance of Halley's Comet. How fitting that we should have the opportunity to get a glimpse of this extraordinary man at this time, when Halley's Comet once more approaches our planet. This outstanding event will take place on November 14 at the Allen Theatre (University Center) at 8:15 p.m. Admission is $4.00, all seats reserved. For information, call 742-3601.

Junior League of Lubbock will hold their "Holiday Happening" at the Civic Center on November 13-16, call 795-5215.

There will be an exhibit of Racing Photos, sponsored by Lubbock Camera Club at the Garden and Arts Center on November 14, 7:30 p.m., call 792-0150.

"What Early Americans Ate" will be the subject of a lecture by Dr. Clara McPherson, sponsored by South Plains Genealogical Society, also at the Garden and Arts Center, November 14 at 7:30 p.m., call 762-6411. (Both of the above are free to the public.)

On November 19 the Garden and Arts Center will host a lecture by Georgann Kattner on "Writing Children's Stories", sponsored by South Plains Writers Association at 7:30 p.m., call 797-8153.

Baker Gallery's Holiday Exhibit will open on November 24, 1:00-4:00 p.m. at 1301 13th Street, call 747-8663.

"Why is an aptitude for things academic singled out as being a sort of personal burden?" asks Elizabeth Carter in Psychology Today, June 1984 issue. Ms. Carter's article on the gifted and talented child goes on to question the fact that far too many parents and teachers alike take the attitude that "having high academic potantial is enough, and that such lucky students should be thankful and let it go at that." Despite the fact that no one tells the athlete, the glee club singer, the band member, or the thespian that they should do nothing else, acceptional students are systematically deprived of the chance to make a choice of direction in their lives in many cases. Many "gifties" as they sometimes laughingly call themselves, enter the classroom feeling that they know a lot, and many of them are right. But all too few come without having any idea what it is to work hard at learning. They have not learned that mistakes are merely indicators of opportunities to learn more and that a mistake should be viewed as a challenge, and not as a failure.

any imagination". What they'd been rewarded for in school, according to McKim, was to manipulate words and numbers and pick single answers on multiple-choice quizzes. They were, McKim decided, visual illiterates. He set about to change this situation.

An inventor's flash of insight is believed to actually be a connection drawn between two mental images. The basic purpose of this whole idea of expanded visual thinking is to teach the student to study and practice the art of mental creativity, learning to control it, rather than leaving it up to chance.

For more information on this fascinating subject, you may want to read "Teachers Aim at Turning Loose the Mind's Eye" by Doug Stewart, Smithsonian (magazine), August, 1985; "Experiences in Visual Thinking" by Robert H. MIT Press, 1985; "New Think: The use of Lateral Thinking in the Generation of New Ideas'' by Edward de Bono, Basic Books, 1968.

Drama club presents play

The Floydada High School Drama Club will present the play "Close Ties" by Elizabeth Diggs on November 18th at 7:30 p.m. The play is published by Dramatists Play Service, Inc. and will be performed in the high school auditorium.

The play concerns a family facing the approaching senility of it's matriarch, Josephine. Josephine is surrounded by her daughter, son-in-law, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren. During the course of the play, each expresses their own opinion of how Josephine should be handled.

The cast includes Sandy Carr as Josephine and Andrea Reed as her daughter Bess. Rusty Galloway plays Bess' husband Watson. The grandchildren are played by Jana Lawson (Anna), Ange Shurbert (Evelyn), Crystal Rowley (Connie), and Marti Stepp (Thayer). Evelyn's boyfriend, Ira is played by Ricky Cavazos. The great grandchildren are Carla and Leigh played by Geneva Huerta and Andra Smith.

The play is being directed by Sonya Gore. Assisting backstage are Jon Garrett and Geneva Huerta.

Police applicants sought

The City of Lubbock is accepting applications for police officer. The applicants must be of good moral character and be 21 to 35 years old. They must have a school diploma or GED and be in good physical condition.

Apparently, a great number of our schools are so regementing the students in their studies, teaching them merely what to learn, rather than how to learn. that it is becoming important to many educators to teach young people imagination. According to an article by Doug Stewart in the August 1985 issue of "Smithsonian", Stanford University, MIT and U of Illinois are but a few of the colleges and universities now offering courses in "Visual Thinking", (and a number of high schools across the country have picked up on this as well) challenging students to "reason with images instead of words, to think sideways and upside down", in other words, to use their imaginations. "We'd rather see a spectacular, innovative failure than a tightly developed success." says David Haygood, one of Stanford's instructors and an ardent believer in the value of the unexpected.

Where did this concept begin? According to Robert McKim, author of the basic textbook for these courses, he noticed (back in the sixties) that students in courses of product design had trouble generating new ideas. They would tell him, literally, "I don't have

Miss Ivy and the North Side School

By Will Martin

In my memory Miss Roxy Ivy and North Side School go hand in hand. Miss Ivy was my first grade teacher and she was also principal of North Side School.

I attended North Side for about five years, starting in 1916. It was located about one block northwest of the present City Hall block. I started school when I was almost 8 years old. In those days we started when we were 7 years old before the 5th of September. But my birthday was November 2nd and I had to wait a year.

I never knew how many years Miss Ivy had taught here before my first year, or if this was her first year.

As was the custom in those days, Mama and some of my kin went with me on the first day. The pupils took all the seats. Miss Ivy nicely told the ladies that she was sorry for the fact they all had to stand up around the edge of the room, and that she would make her remarks short as possible.

Then she addressed the pupils. I have forgotten her exact words. But I do know she welcomed us kindly and told us she knew we would get along fine. She told us the school had rules that she would explain as time went on. I will never forget that she called us "little folks," and not pupils, which was the way she always spoke to her class as a group. Of course as she began to know us as individuals she would call us by name.

My memory of Miss Ivy was that she was plain-spoken, kind, strict, and did not allow anyone to run over her. But she loved all people and was fair with everyone. I shall try to give examples of those traits as I go along.

If she ever had any trouble with any of the teachers under her supervision, they sure did keep it quiet. All of these women were very fine people. I know, because I went to three of them myself in classes.

My first day of school was seemingly like being in another world. I had never been with that many people before, unless it was when we went to church meetings. But I did not feel so noticed at church, or feel so self-conscience.

After she had made her introduction we were told we would learn reading, writing and arithmetic. Then Miss Ivy took a piece of chalk and wrote "1's" and "e's", explaining what each was. We were told to tell the parents that were not there to buy a Playmates Primer, as this was a year or two before the state furnished free text books for required subjects. After the state did this, if I remember right, in higher grades we still had to buy our own books in selective subjects.

At this time the country was settling fast and many new pupils were starting to school. The school board did not have the rooms and teachers necessary to reduce class size, so Miss Ivy divided her class into having all of us country children come to school in the mornings, and town kids come to class in the afternoons.

Owing to reasons I shall not discuss, I was not able to keep up with the others in class. Miss Ivy was so busy she did not have time to give me special attention, so I failed the first grade. But I began to catch up the second year and easily passed to the second grade. I then went through the 4th grade, and in the 5th grade we were moved over to East Ward with High School students. I tell some of these things to show how the schools and certainly Miss Ivy had to deal with things as they were.

At old North Side we played marbles, baseball, and after our class was in the 4th grade we took a football and went across the street to Dr. Andrews cow pasture and chose sides and played shinney. If you don't play it now I will explain it. Each side started from the side opposite their goal, like football is now. I don't remember if someone held the ball on end or if it was just laid on the ground in the center of the field. Anyway each side made a run at the ball to kick to their goal. No one was allowed to carry the ball, just kick it till one side or the other reached their goal. You can see why it was called shinney.

As I said before, Miss Ivy was plain spoken and also plain acting. She carried out her duties as she saw them. The boys' outhouse was on the north side of the school house, a little to the west, with about a three foot gin cinders walk running from the school door to the outhouse, so we could keep out of the mud. Miss Ivy took it on herself to inspect the outhouse personally for order and cleanliness. She would go to the door, tell anyone who happened inside to hurry up and get ready as she was coming in. She would wait a couple of minutes and then go in. It if looked alright she would give us a good word. And if anything was amiss, she would let us know what to do to correct it in a reasonable manner. Also she would say that "little folks" would be apt to make things better.

Miss Ivy was very much depended on by the PTA. One year they bought two or three record players, sometimes called Victorolas. One or two rooms would get together and one of the teachers would play some of that long-haired music by such as Caruso, Beethoven or Chopin. They played the record and told us the author. Then a few days afterward we would hear them over and were expected to remember the piece and who wrote it. We boys sure did hate music memory.

I will never forget my first ride down the new slicky slide. After the workmen finished it, Miss Ivy had us to line up and wait our turns. There were two slides with a platform on top divided by boards between the boys and girls. It seemed like that platform was as tall as a windmill. When it came my turn to go down, I looked down and became scared and tried to turn back, but the boys behind me had other plans. One of them shoved me and down I went feet first. Of course I liked it after that.

When it was Miss Ivy's turn for playground patrol there was always several children following her and all trying to talk to her at once. They were telling her about their dogs, cats, little brothers, sisters and anything else of interest to them. She would answer all of them. She would talk to them as if she were just as interested as she would have been talking to someone her own age.

The last time I saw Miss Ivy was in my freshman year. She had moved from the barracks that were built after North Side was struck by lightning and burned in the early 1920's. High School was finished in 1924, and we moved from East Ward to High School and the lower grades were moved in our stead. I went back to East Ward to accompany my sister home. I happened to meet Miss Ivy and had one last talk with her. She seemed so pleased to see me.

By reading this you can probably tell my opinion of what a good teacher should be. That would be one who loves children, all people, and loves their work.

Miss Ivy left Floydada and moved to Denver, Colorado. I hate to end this in tragedy, but I heard from a friend that she went up in the mountains with friends, became lost, and was never heard from again.

Sad. But that is the way life is.

Lloyd named to Who's Who

Karen S. Lloyd, Floydada, is in the 1986 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges. Lloyd is one of the 53 students from Amarillo College who have been selected as national outstanding campus leaders.

Campus nominating committees and editors of the annual directory have included the names of these students based on their academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and potential for continued success.

They join an elite group of students selected from more than 1,400 institutions of higher learning in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and several foreign nations.

Outstanding students have been named in the annual directory since it was published in 1934.

Hornets sting Whirlwinds 35 to 0

The Floydada Whirlwinds closed out. Steven Powell and the scrambling of QB the 1985 football season on November 8, losing to the playoff-bound Tulia Hornets by the score of 35-0. The score would tend to indicate a Tulia "blow away," but that was not the case, at least in the first half.

The Whirlwind defense kept the powerful offensive machine of Tulia out of the end zone in the initial stanza. Early in the second quarter, Hornet quarterback Todd Lacey scored on a four yard dive. Billy Williams' conversion was good and Tulia lead 7-0. Most of the second quarter was a tough defensive struggle. A Richard Rendon interception, which stopped one Hornet drive, was made possible by a good pass rush by the Floydada defense.

The work horse of the Tulia backfield, Steven Powell, led a determined drive late in the second quarter. QB Lacey kept the drive alive with a timely pass for a first down at the 'Wind 13 yard line. When it appeared the 'Winds would hold, Powell broke through for his first TD of the game with only five seconds remaining in the half. Again, He is my son you see. the kick was good and Tulia took a 14-0 lead into halftime.

7th grade boys defeat Tulia

The 7th grade Breezers played their final game of the 1985 season last Thursday, November 7. They defeated the Tulia Hornets with a final score of 26-12 bringing their season record to 4-4.

Kenneth Collins played an excellent offensive game, reaching the goal line four times to score a total of 24 points. Mike Aleman scored a two point conversion to make Floydada's total 26 points.

The defense played very well during the game. They allowed Tulia to score only twice. Harvey Espinoza interceptLacey slowly wore down the Whirlwind defense, scoring two more times in the third quarter.

By Bill Gray

With five minutes left in the game, Powell scored once again for the Hornets and, after the PAT, the score board read Tulia 35 Floydada 0.

At this point, this writer must add that I was very surprised to see the Tulia starters still in the ball game. With an important play off game coming up, I would have thought the Tulia coaching staff would pull the starters. The game, for all practical purposes, was over by now. But, perhaps that's why they are in the coaching business and I'm just an interested fan.

He was born November 6, 1908, in Estelline and moved to Crosby County in 1919. He married Mary James in 1932 in Crosbyton. He was a retired civil service employee, working at Reese Air Force Base for 13 years and at Dyess Air Force Base for 14 years. He was a member of the National Letter Carriers of America, Local 8019 in Abilene, and the First Baptist Church in Ralls.

Other survivors include his wife; two sons, Jim Poteet of Lubbock and Don Poteet of Sulphur, La.; three other brothers. Horace Poteet of South Bend, Ind., Odell Poteet of Lubbock and J.N. Poteet of Levelland; a sister, Inda Bownds of Ralls; six grandchildren; and three great-grandchildren.

Trash cost $20 million

Recent research conducted on behalf of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation (DHT) indicated an estimated half billion pieces of trash along Texas roadsides in late August.

Four different studies were commissioned by DHT in advance of a major effort to reduce roadside litter which cost taxpayers a whopping $20 million last year.

The Institute for Applied Research, headquartered in Sacramento, California, performed a visible litter count in key locations throughout the state. The Institute, who has performed more than 40 studies on litter throughout the United States, is considered the premiere firm in the nation on litter research. This study indicated that roadside trash is approaching an esti-with the Rev. Tony Watkins of Plainview officiating.

Burial was in Floydada Cemetery under the direction of Moore-Rose Funeral Home of Floydada. She died Friday in Stilwell after a brief illness. She was born in Wartrace, Tenn. She moved to Floyd County in 1952. She married Fred Robertson July 18, 1936, in McKinney. He died in 1980. Survivors include two daughters. Mrs. Jack Latta of Stilwell and Mrs. Mike Carter of Midland; two sisters, Ollie Mae Howard and Connie Samford, both of Dallas; two brothers, Clarence Wiser and Shorty Wiser, both of McKinney; two granchildren; and a great-grandchild.

ESLEY YEARY

Services for Esley S. Yeary, 83, were at 2:00 p.m. November 10 at Floydada First Baptist Church with the Rev. Cecil Osborne of South Plains officiating.

Burial was in Floydada Cemetery under the direction of Moore-Rose Funeral Home.

He died Friday at a Jacksonville hospital after a brief illness.

He was born in Floyd County. He was a farmer. He was a Baptist.

Survivors include his wife, Nell of Floydada; a son, Pete of Jacksonville; a brother, Frank of Silverton; a sister, Bessie Sauls of Quitaque; three grandchildren; and six great-grandchildren.

*Other vehicles contributed the remainder.

As to who litters, "habitual" litterers in Texas were defined in a separated study by the Institute as primarily males, between the ages of 10 and 44. The largest category was young men, between the ages of 18 and 34. The study indicated that 71.4 percent of ali deliberate littering is done by males, with females representing only 28.7 percent.

Decision Analysts, Inc., of Arlington, Texas performed two studies to probe why Texans litter and their awareness of litter as a statewide problem.

As to why Texans litter; convenience is the primary reason.

Most Texans interviewed do not approve of littering, but 43 percent admitted to littering from time to time. Less than 21 percent were able to correctly estimate the tax dollars required to clean up Texas roadways. "The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation will use the research statistics to implement a three-pronged program aimed at significantly reducing litter," said J. Don Clark, director of the Highway Department's Information Services Section.

CARD OF THANKS

A special thanks to the many lovely people in Floydada and surrounding areas for the support you gave us, and for just being our friends during our 20 years at King's Restaurant. We will miss you and we do love you all.

Jon and Tami Nielson bought the restaurant and will continue the friendly service. Come in and get acquainted.

Rene, Jimmie Jo, Joy and families 11-14p

We are so happy to be back home in Floydada and are so grateful to everyone for the flowers, cards, calls and especially for your prayers while Grady was in the hospital in Dallas. Also, we appreciate those who brought food and had our meal prepared when we arrived home.

May God bless each of you, Grady and Ruth Walker 11-14p

Alpha Mu Delta would like to thank everyone who helped make the taco supper November 8 such a success. The proceeds made will go to several of our charities. A special thanks goes to Mrs. Joy Allen and Mrs. Mary Lee Warren. Again thanks for your support.

Sincere thanks to all our friends and neighbors for all the kindness shown to us during the loss of our loved one. We appreciate and love you all.

Bond rates change

The market-based interest rate for Series EE Savings Bonds issued between November 1, 1985 and April 30, 1986 is 8.36 percent for their first semiannual interest period, Lewis Mc-Daniel, manager, SPS, Floyd County Savings Bonds Chairman, announced this week. This is the seventh semiannual rate to take effect since marketbased, variable rates were introduced on November 1, 1982 and represents a decline from the May-October rate of 9.49 percent. The rates are adjusted semiannually, each November and May.

or November 1, 1982, whichever is later, to receive the market-based rate. New Bonds are guaranteed to earn a minimum rate of 7.5 percent per annum, compounded semiannually, when held at least five years.

New Savings Bonds held less than five years earn interest on a fixed, graduated scale-ranging from 5.5 percent after one year to 7.25 percent after 4-1/2 years.

More than $78 billion worth of Savings Bonds are now held by the ublic. Bond holdings represent debt that does not have to be financed in the open market at higher cost to taxpayers.

Josh married Jo Troutman of Floydada, December 31, 1941. They lived in Perryton since 1952. He had been in the insurance business for the past 26 years and taught agriculture in Perryton schools prior to that time.

He was born in Canadian, Texas, October 12, 1921. He attended West Texas University and held a degree in Agriculture at Texas Tech. He was an active member of the First United Methodist Church serving as an adult Sunday school teacher and was a member of the administrative board at the time of his death.

He was a member of the Perryton Rotary Club, Wheatheart Shrine Club, Ochiltree Masonic Lodge and other organizations.

Survivors are his wife, Jo; two daughters, Pam Neas of Albuquerque and Pat Stall of Gallup, New Mexico;

FANNIE McCLURE

Services for Fannie Bell McClure, 80, were at 1:30 p.m. November 13 at the South Plains Baptist Church with the Rev. Cecil M. Osborne, pastor, officiating, assisted by the Rev. Jeff Messer. Burial was in Floydada Cemetery under the direction of Moore-Rose Funeral Home of Lockney.

Mrs. McClure, a native of Alba in Rains County, died at 5:00 p.m. Sunday in the Care Inn in Plainview. She married Frank McClure on May 22, 1926, in Crosbyton and he died in 1982. She came to Floyd County from Crosbyton in 1953. She was a Baptist. Survivors include a son, Donald of

Houston; a daughter, Jean Lee of Plainview; a brother, A.C. Newman of Snyder; two sisters, Opel Woodson of Snyder and Billie Younts of Greensboro, mated half billion pieces. Their other findings included:

*Fifty-three percent of highway litter is caused by deliberate acts, while 47 percent involves loss of truck loads that were unsecured or uncovered, as well as miscellaneous itmes blowing out of trucks.

*Sixty-one percent of roadside litter can be found in urban areas. The remaining 39 percent lies on rural freeways and roads.

*Litter from automobiles account for 30 percent of all roadside litter.

*Pickup trucks are the source of a disproportionate amount of roadside litter, amounting to 27 percent. However, pickups represented only 11 percent of all vehicles observed.

*Stake, flatbed, dump trucks and trailers account for 21 percent of roadside litter in Texas.

This war against trash will include an aggressive, targeted media campaign directed at habitual litterers, a statewide community-by-community cleanup and beautification program and incentives for increased law enforcement.

The $20 million spent by the State last year on litter collection does not include tax dollars spent by city and county governments on local clean up efforts.

"This new rate is consistent with other rates available in the market and should continue the strong sales of Savings Bonds that we have seen in the past year," said McDaniel. "Approximately 70 percent of all Bonds are sold through the payroll savings plan. As more people learn the features and benefits of Bonds, we anticipate excellent results from our volunteers conducting payroll savings campaigns at 38,000 companies nationwide."

When combined with the previous market-based rates -- 11.09 percent from November 1982 to April 1983, 8.64 percent from May to October 1983, 9.38 percent from November 1983 to April 1984, 9.95 percent May to October 1984, 10.94 percent from November 1984 to April 1985, and 9.49 from May through October 1985 -- the average yield for the seven periods is 9.69 percent. This average is part of the market-based formula only for eligible Bonds issued in or before April 1983.

The market-based rate is 85 percent of the average return on Treasury five-year securities during the previous six months. All Bonds must be held at least five years from their date of issue

Jump rope event promotes fitness and fun

Physical fitness performance levels among Texas youth appear to be on the decline, according to the Texas Youth Fitness Study conducted by the Texas Associate for Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance (TAH-PERD). The sample of nearly 7,000 students throughout Texas showed that physical fitness performance was poorer than or equivalent to previous norms established five years ago.

These students may well be the beneficiaries of a fitness-related event sponsored by the American Heart Association. It is called Jump Rope For Heart. The event is educational, stressing the importance of physical fitness to functional health. And, it is fun--over 100,000 students in 1,500 schools formed teams and put on exhibitions throughout the state last year.

The most far-reaching benefit of teh event is that the dollars raised through the event support the research, education and community service programs of the American Heart Association. Teams of jumpers enlist sponsors who pledge donations for each minute their team jumps rope.

Jump Rope For Heart events are generally coordinated by a physical fitness teacher in the school. The event can take place during school hours or as an after-school activity. Jump Rope For Heart fits virtually every Physical Fitness Education essential element for elementary school curriculum and is, therefore, an attractive event for ools to sponsor.

According to William L. Winters, Jr., I.D., President of the American Heart Association in Texas, "Jumping rope has become one of the most popular cardiovascular fitness activities. It can be performed indoors or outdoors, physical education programs and achievements to the community.

requires a minimum amount of space, is inexpensive and very simple to do." The American Heart Association says that regular, dynamic physical activity can increase cardiovascular functional capacity.

This physical activity has physical as well as mental and educational benefits. According to a recent survey of over 1.300 educational coordinators who participated in the Jump Rope For Heart program, students improved their self-concept and social skills. It taught them to appreciate teamwork and achievement of a common goal. Many students who have participated in the event have made jumping rope a year 'round activity.

Jump Rope For Heart gives teachers an opportunity to demonstrate leadership, and they serve as role models for their students. It also helps create a strong community image for participating schools. At the same time, Jump Rope For Heart provides a low investment/high return extracurricular activity. And it allows schools to show their
