Train derails in South Plains Community

BACK ON TRACK—Hulcher Emergency Services of Amarillo used a variety of special equipment, including 2 cranes, to get 9 empty grain cars upright and back on the tracks after their derailment near South Plains. The clean-up operation took most of the day last Saturday.

STAFF PHOTO

Residents of South Plains community were jarred awake early Saturday morning by the sounds of a train derailment. Several cars of a Fort Worth and Denver train traveling east left the track unexpectedly at about 2:00 a.m. the morning of November 16.

The derailment started six cars behind the engine, causing the fourth and fifth cars to run off the track for several yards. Nine cars were derailed. The cars were all traveling empty, consequently there was no additional problem due to cargo spillage.

Hulcher Emergency Services of Amarillo was called in to clear up the wreck. The work took most of the day, coming to an end late Saturday afternoon. Two cranes were used to lift the wheel assembly of each derailed car back onto the tracks. The car bodies were then returned to the wheels by the cranes.

A company spokesman at the Plainview office of the railroad was unable to comment as to the cause of the derailment or the estimated damages.

Emergency airbags purchased

A Lion's Club project begun several months ago has come to a satisfying end. During the November 14 meeting of the Floydada Lion's Club, Tommy Ogden presented Fire Chief Bobby Welborn with a check for $3200. This represents the efforts of many donors in raising the money to finance the purchase of emergency airbags for the volunteer organization.

The airbags are now in Floydada and are ready for use in the event that an emergency occurs. Although emergency airbags are not very impressive in size or appearance, they are extremely effective when put to use. The set includes four sizes which will lift up to 59 tons of weight.

The bags are constructed of the same material used in the manufacture of steel belted radial tires. Each bag is only an inch or so thick and they require minimal air pressure to inflate. These features make the airbags especially suitable for use in industrial and automotive accidents. They will slip into a small space and, when properly inflated, will relieve pressure or separate pieces of equipment or debris to allow injured or trapped persons to be freed.

Lion's Club member Jimmy Willson indicated "raising money for such a beneficial project is in keeping with Lion concepts of helping people all across the world." Willson also stated, "I am proud of Floydada. We have a great place to live with fine churches, good medical facilities, a cooperative government and good, caring people. The addition of emergency airbags, along with the Jaws of Life we already have, will help our volunteer fire and rescue workers save lives."

Equipment sale approved

A special session of the Floyd County Commissioners Court on Monday, November 18, approved Olin Watson as a temporary deputy to replace Doug Brewer who will be off work because of surgery on his knee.

One farm work contract was approved. The county will rebuild turnrows for Eddie Smith seven miles south of Floydada. The installation of wiring and a surge protector to facilitate connection of a personal computer was also authorized for the district court reporter's office. The reporter will furnish the computer.

Isidro Sanchez was employed to repair the sidewalk on the east side of the courthouse. Two handicapped parking spaces will be designated south of the sidewalk.

The county general liability insurance coverage is due to expire after next month. Insurance agent Sam Baker was asked by the court to check with several insurance carriers to obtain bids for general liability coverage in the future.

County Attorney Kenneth Bain reported on the status of the county cannery in Lockney. Bain stated, "The building can be sold if it is not permanent, but the land is another matter." Eain went on to explain that a preliminary search of title records showed the land as being part of a tax foreclosure in 1945. He said, "The land was then held in trust for the taxing entities by the Lockney ISD. The school district signed a quit claim deed to the property and turned it over to the county which built the cannery on the lots. Since the county is only one of many involved in the property, it is doubtful that the county can legally sell the lots."

The court agreed to hold an auction to dispose of the cannery equipment. The disposition of the land and the building will be taken under consideration after more information is obtained regarding the status of the land and the building.

49% of ISD taxes collected

Jimmy Collins, administrative assistant for the Floydada ISD, reported that ad valorem taxes for this year are 49% complete with a total of $433,117.00 collected as of October 31. This compares to 41.91%, or $376,887.05 collected at the same time in 1984.

Board members at the November 12 regular monthly session were presented with a proposal for the construction of a new band hall at Floydada High School. Band Booster Club members asked that the board consider building a new $73,000 band facility adjacent to the present band hall. The group offered to share in the cost by contributing $8,000 to the project. No action was taken by the board.

The installation of 88 storm windows on the north and west sides of the high school was approved. The annual textbook committee was also approved.

Collins presented the first annual performance report for the board's consideration. The all-inclusive report details all areas of school operation for the 1984-85 school year. The board approved the report as presented. Copies of the report are available for public inspection at each school in the district and the administrative office. A summary of this report will appear in a later edition of the Hesperian.

An executive session for the purpose of discussing personnel was held following the regular meeting. No action was taken as a result of that session.

A second executive session was called for 7:00 p.m. on Monday, November 18. Following a due process hearing request by Joe Paty, the decision was made to reassign him. The board approved Joe Paty as Biology teacher and Assistant Principal at the High School.

No decision was forth coming on the assignment of an Athletic Director/Head Coach to replace Paty.

Two Love Funds started

A love fund has been set up for Maria Garza. Maria, a Floydada resident, is the wife of Alfonso Garza. The family has four children living at home and one son in the army, stationed in Germany. The family depends on Garza's income as a farm laborer for their livelihood.

Maria Garza suffers from a severe pancreas ailment. She requires almost continuous medical treatment for her condition and is home bound at this time.

Members of the Calvary Baptist Church, which the family attends, have joined together to begin a Love Fund in an effort to assist the family through this difficult time. Contributions may be made at the First National Bank of Floydada during regular business hours.

A second Love Fund has been established for another family needing assistance. Wick Robertson, who was injured in a traffic accident on November 17, is hospitalized in Lubbock following surgery on his back. His recovery is likely to be a lengthy process and the family has two small children to care for. Friends have begun a Love Fund and contributions may be made at the First National Bank of Floydada for the Robertsons.

Cities receive

sales tax rebates

The monthly sales tax rebates for November are now in the hands of the 1,010 Texas cities which levy the one percent city tax. Floydada received $12,698.61 to bring the 1985 total to $95,947.37. This represents a 13.68% increase over 1984 totals to date. Lockney's November rebate totaled $5,521.40, raising the 1985 total for that city to $42,003.13, an increase of 11.52%.

Checks mailed by State Comptroller Bob Bullock on November 8 totaled $115.2 million. These checks represent taxes collected on sales made in September and reported to Bullock by October 20. The rebates also include taxes reported for the third quarter of 1985.

Houston's check for $17.7 million was the largest, bringing that city's total payments this year to $141.1 million, up 4% over last year. Dallas' payment was $13.4 million for a 1985 total of $104.7 million, a 13% increase.

San Antonio received $7.4 million, pushing the 1985 payments up to $52.7 million, 14% more than last year. Austin's check for $5.5 million brought total payments this year to $41.3 million, a 20% increase.

Fort Worth received a payment of $4.3 million, bringing this year's total to $31.8 million, up 11%. El Paso's November check for $2.6 million made total payments for that city $19.6 million, 16% over 1984 payments.

Cardinal oversees county law enforcement

By Juanita Stepp

Fred Cardinal is the chief law enforcement official for Floyd County. As County Sheriff, he is charged with the responsibility for the operation of the county jail and the control of all prisoners in custody at the jail. Most people are aware of these duties. In actuality, the duties of the Sheriff encompass far more than just the jail.

The Sheriff or one of his deputies must serve as security personnel for court activities in both the District and County courts. This involves the presence of an officer to act as bailiff at court proceedings and providing an officer to handle prisoners if necessary.

The holder of this elected office is also responsible for delivering legal summons and other legal notices on many occasions. The office serves, or attempts to serve, citations, warrants, executions, writs of attachment, and jury notices. These services are provided for Floyd County documents as well as out-of-county documents whenever properly processed and authorized.

Several other departments and offices receive and relay information through the facilities of the Sheriff's Office. Four dispatchers man the radio on a twenty-four hour basis. This radio system serves all area stations. It is the link for taking calls and dispatching officers for the Sheriff, Lockney Police Department, Floydada Police Department, The Texas Department of Public Safety, and the Texas Department of Highways and Transportation.

The teletype unit in the office is utilized by these departments as well as district court officials, county court officials, and county taxing offices. This communications system provides vital information on drivers license status, vehicle identification and registration records, criminal records, and outstanding warrants.

The office must maintain written records of calls taken and all incidents investigated, along with dispatch records and a record of radio communications. Records are also maintained for all legal documents served and for all money collected by the office. Fines and bonds can be paid in the Sheriff's Office if the appropriate business office is closed. All money collected is documented by receipt and is transferred to the proper office as soon as possible.

Floyd County operates with four field deputies. One is based in Lockney and three are based in Floydada. The chief dispatcher is also a certified deputy. Sheriff Cardinal and his deputies patrol the county in an effort to avert potential crimes such as vandalism and burglaries. The officers respond to and investigate complaints as well as working to solve crimes already committed.

The Sheriff or a deputy is usually the arresting officer when an arrest is made. The actual arrest is only the beginning of the process. An arrest report must be completed by the arresting officer. A teletype inquiry is made to ascertain the existence of a previous criminal record or obtain the driving record of the individual. The prisoner is entered in the jail record book, the prisoner card file, and the meal list. A property inventory must be made and recorded for the personal effects removed from an individual in custody before assignment to a cell. Each item must be accounted for and returned when the prisoner is released.

During the time an individual is in the custody of the county jail, the Sheriff is responsible for his care and reasonable needs. Inmates are served three meals a day, breakfast, lunch and dinner. Meals are prepared by dispatchers. Prisoners are allowed to make two phone calls per week and may have visitors on Fridays. Medical care must be provided if it becomes necessary during incarceration.

When an inmate is sentenced to prison or must be transported to another facility, the Sheriff is responsible for seeing that the transfer is made as speedily as possible. The safety of the public must be preserved and the rights of the prisoner must be observed at all times.

The Floyd County Jail is utilized at times by other law enforcement agencies for holding prisoners. Arrests made by Floydada police, Lockney police, and local DPS officers are routinely booked into the Floyd County Jail. Prisoners being transported from one facility to another may be lodged in the jail overnight if necessary. Prisoners may also be held for adjacent counties which have inadequate jail facilities.

The Sheriff must sometimes tread a fine line in the performance of his duties. The safety of the public must be his main concern, but he must also see that the rights of a prisoner are not violated. The administration of his office also falls on his shoulders. As an elected official, the Sheriff's concern must be not only for the general public, but he must also make the most effective use of taxpayers dollars which fund the operation of the office.

Next week: The County Attorney.

FIRST TIME DEMONSTRATORS—Jeff Gilbreath, Elaine Gibbs, and Travis Bailey made their first demonstration speeches on October 24 in the fourth grade class of Mrs. Paty. Gilbreath demonstrated the eruption of a volcano with a working model to illustrate his speech. Gibbs told the class how to make a meat loaf in an apron and chef's hat made by her mother, and Bailey showed the class the proper way to assemble a model airplane. All three did very well according to their teacher.

Letters to the Editor ...

Dear Editor:

I am writing in response to the letter you got from Mrs. Betty Goen. I agree with a bit of what she says, but not all. I don't think that joining a new political party will help. The law of history has shown that the only way tyrants can be toppled is a show of might and force of arms.

What has happened to the Brave American Farmer who has fought for freedom in a dozen wars and shed his blood on a thousand battle fields. I believe that if the American Farmer doesn't stand up NOW and lift up his firearm in defense of, The Torch of Freedom, it will flicker and die and be lit no more! The farmers should start their own defense groups. They should help each other defeat the system that is against them. This country was founded by farmers so lets put it back into the hands of farmers. In the old days when a forcing power or invading army came to take your home, you left them scorched earth, where your house and barns had stood, and you left him salted crop land where crops wouldn't grow for a dozen years. Why should it be different to do it now to keep the banks and government from getting it. If you can't keep it, why should they get it. As it was once said if they want a war let it begin here.

Signed
Cecil Pope

Dear Editor:

I would like to thank Wayne Poteet for his letter.

I am a farmer's wife. What Wayne said is true, yet I keep hearing about these people who say, they got what they deserved. What crime have we committed? What crime is there in working hard from sunup or before the sundown or after and sometimes until the wee hours in the morning. What crime is it to try and teach your children to work hard, have good morals, go to church, and try to help your fellowman. I know you don't have to be a farm family to do this, but most farm families are close families and stick together.

Is it a crime to pick a job you love and you feel you were born to do, and to even feel that God had a hand in putting you there and making you feel good for a job well done.

God made farmers for a purpose. Somebody has to raise the food and fiber.

The way life is today, not everybody can raise their own food and make their clothes from fiber they have grown. But if somebody wasn't doing it you would not be eating beef, pork, lamb, vegetables, and all other food products plus the cotton for clothes.

You hear everyday how many farmers have gone out of business in the state and nation. When all the farmers tractor wheels stop turning and you get hungry, it will be a little late to help. If there is any food left people will hoard it, and even kill for it. That's a pretty strong statement, but I've heard of it happening and you have too! Are you going to be like the woman we've all heard of who does not give a care what happens to the farmer. She will simply go to the grocery store and buy her food. How naive can people be.

I'm like Wayne, I certainly don't know the answers, except everybody will be affected and I mean EVERYBODY. The people that are out there making the biggest part of their living from the farmers better wake up. Most people in this community know and understand. But there are a few that don't understand and don't care.

True the Government subsidized the farmers. That made other people mad. Do you know how many businesses are subsidized by the Government? Do you remember when the Government subsidized a huge car company, to keep them from going broke?

Most farmers want the Government out of farming. They DO NOT want hand-outs. They want a fair price at the market place for their product. Is that asking too much? When you sell a product, of course you have to make a profit to stay in business.

I hope the day never comes that this country is a waste land full of ghost towns. But there is already people who can not rent their land out because nobody can farm it and make a profit.

I thank God, that we were about to raise our four children on a farm. Farming is a lot of work but it has a lot of rewards. Now it has a lot of heart-aches.

My husband was born in the old house where ours is now. He has lived on this one spot of ground all of his life except the first year we were married. His father moved here to live in 1914. We do not want to leave. We do not want our kids coming back 50 years from now and saying "look, there's where the old house used to be but it's fallen down in ruins now. Wouldn't it have been great if some of us could have lived there and carried on where our great grandad, grandad and father lived and were so proud."

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all the business people and others who don't farm that have stood behind the farmer and supported them in their efforts. I know the businesses are having hard times also.

If anybody out there cares just a little, please start writing letters and doing everything you can to help save the American Farm.

Thank you,
Mrs. J. R. (Sandra) Noland

Be cautious with meat "bargains"

Well-advertised "bargains" on freezer meats may not save you any money, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service Specialist.

When buying meat in quantity for a freezer, price alone doesn't tell the story, says nutritionist Marilyn Haggard.

A 300-pound carcass at 49 cents a pound will cost $147. But you can lose one-third or more in cutting and trimming. So the 200 pounds of meat actually cost 73½ cents per pound, she says.

"Many low-priced carcasses will give meat suited only for hamburger, stews and similar dishes," notes the specialist. "Steaks and roasts from them would be tough and disappointing."

Haggard explains that even in high-quality carcasses, one-fourth of the meat can be expected to be steaks. Another fourth will be roasts (most of them chuck), another fourth stew meat and hamburger. The remainder is loss in bone and fat.

The specialist encourages shoppers to look for a stamp shaped like a shield rolled in a long line down the length of the carcass. The stamp will say "USDA Choice" and indicate very good table quality.

Monday morning devotions were by Trinity Church. The singers were Rev. G.A. Van Hoose, Lilly Cranford, Deanna and Amy Westbrook, Shirley Varner, and Dartha Westbrook. Rev. Van Hoose spoke about the Christians everyday life. After devotions Myra Hall and I played rummy. She won! The afternoon was spent playing "42" Myra Hall and Estelle Eubanks beat Ruth Benson and I two games.

Tuesday morning devotions were by Brother Neeley Richardson. In the afternoon we had a good time of Bible study, sharing, and prayer.

Wednesday morning devotions were by City Park Church of Christ. The singers were Lorilla Bradley, Eunice Hardy, Beulah Baker, Elva Blum, Vernola Hanna, Eva Tackett, and Ruby Hartsell. After exercise Charlie Spence

Low interest mortgage loans to become available Nov. 25

Approximately $111 million in low interest mortgage loans will become available to homebuyers in Texas beginning November 25, 1985, a Texas Housing Agency official announced Wednesday. The money will be offered to eligible low and moderate income borrowers at a fixed rate of 9.70 percent for 30 years, with a five to ten percent minimum downpayment, said Earline Jewett, Executive Administrator of the Texas Housing Agency.

To qualify for the program, an individual applicant must have an adjusted gross income for the preceding tax year of $33,000 or less; the combined income limit for a family is $42,000. In addition, for homes in most areas of the state, borrowers must be first-time homebuyers or not have owned their principal residence in the past three years.

Lenders will begin accepting applications on November 25, 1985 for mortgage loans on homes costing $80,000 or less. Applications on homes priced higher than $80,000 will be accepted beginning January 2, 1986. The maximum home acquisition costs vary from area to area.

Prospective homebuyers may call (512) 475-4065 to obtain application information, a program brochure, and a list of participating lenders.

The Texas Housing Agency was created by the state legislature in 1979 to provide affordable home financing to low and moderate income families. Its loans are financed through the sale of tax-exempt bonds. The Agency is self-supporting and receives no state or federal funds. Nearly 11,500 families have purchased homes since the program began in 1980. Current program funds are expected to finance approximately 2,000 homes.

The economic cost of cardiovascular disease will amount to an estimated $72.1 billion in 1985, including physician and nursing charges, hospital and nursing home costs, medications and the lost occupational output as a result of disability, according to American Heart Association estimates.

Great American Smokeout underway today

Smokers who want to give up the cigarette habit may find the task easier on Thursday, November 21. That's the date of the American Cancer Society's ninth annual Great American Smokeout—a day when the nation's 54 million smokers are encouraged to kick the habit for at least 24 hours, just to prove to themselves that quitting is possible.

Smokeout Day is celebrated throughout the country as an upbeat, lively event. Parades, "Run Your Butts Off" races, rallies, cigarette "matches" and other activities keep the mood light, and keep smokers' minds off cigarettes. American Cancer Society volunteers organize Smokeout events in shopping malls, parks, corporations, schools, hospitals, and other areas. The aim: to offer support and assistance to smokers trying to quit for the day.

Dale Tyer's health classes in Floydada and the home economics classes at Lockney have taken the responsibility of sponsoring this event in Floydada and Lockney.

A special program, "Adopt-A-Smoker" has become a popular feature of the Smokeout. "Nonsmokers can be a part of the Smokeout by 'adopting' smokers they'd like to have quit for the day. Adopters can offer 'survival kits,' snacks, and encouragement throughout the day. The support really helps.

Although the Great American Smokeout may seem all festivities and celebration, it has a very serious purpose, since more than 340,000 Americans die each year of diseases linked to smoking, representing one out of every seven deaths in the United States.

Cigarette smoking is responsible for 83 percent of all the lung cancer deaths in the nation, and, in 1985, lung cancer will surpass breast cancer as the leading cancer killer of women. This statistic is attributed to the large number of women who started smoking during and after World War II. Cigarette smoking is a significant factor in other cancers as well: cancer of the mouth, esophagus, larynx, pharynx, bladder, pancreas, and it has been linked to some cases of cervical cancer. Last year, a record number of smokers—an estimated 20.4 million, according to a Gallup survey—participated in the Great American Smokeout. Of the participants, 5.4

million smokers—about 10 percent of the nation's smokers—succeeded in quitting for the day. Approximately 3.1 million still were not smoking one to five days later. "These are impressive statistics," says Smokeout Chairman Larry Hagman, star of the television series "Dallas." "They represent a growing number of Americans who have a strong desire to stop smoking."

"Opal's Million Dollar Duck" is full of fun

by Alice Gilroy

Considering "Opal's Million Dollar Duck" had to compete against the Longhorn's Bi-District game for an audience, the Floyd County Arts Association production was well attended by an enthusiastic crowd. Saturday, November 16, was the opening night of the dinner-theatre production, and it came off without a hitch.

Judging from the spotless performances, the appreciative crowd applause and continuous laughter, the actors enjoyed themselves as much as the spectators did. As the jubilant Virginia Stringer, who played Rose, commented after the play, "I wasn't even scared!"

The play consisted of only four actors who brought the stage alive with personality. Opal, played by Bernice Walters of Floydada, had an endearing way of talking to the audience when she was alone on the stage, thereby making them active participants. Her story tellings and kind heart made her a real "genuine person" that everyone loved.

Rosie, played by Virginia Stringer, reminds us of a great aunt or best friend that we all have somewhere. Rosie is a fortune teller and Opal's best friend, who predicts that Opal should have died many times already. Rosie's birthday is coming up and the present that Opal finds to give her sets the plot for the play. The interaction between down-to-earth Opal and scatter-brained Rosie keeps the action moving and the laughter flowing.

Queenie, played by Vero Jo Bybee, and her husband Desmond; played by Dewane Franklin, are the two likeable villains in the play. The conniving Queenie tries to make Desmond knock Opal out with a baseball bat while she is reading The Lord's Prayer off the head of a pin. Desmond proves himself to have a small conscience because he can't commit the dastardly deed. Since the villains are trying to be dishonest in a non-violent sort of way the antics that follow as they try to talk Opal out of the valuable birthday present, keep you guessing and laughing.

If you missed the first performance you can still see "Opal's Million Dollar Duck" at the Massie Activity Center in Floydada on Saturday, November 23. Tickets are available at the door for the play only, also at the First National Bank in Lockney, the First National Bank in Floydada, from cast members, Arts Association members or by calling 983-3834.

Il Penseroso has meeting

Il Penseroso Study Club met in the home of Robin King Thursday, November 7. Serving as co-hostesses for the meeting were Lisa Mosley and Sandra Cummings.

The program was given by Beverly Alvis from the Flower Nook in Plainview. She gave a very informative presentation on floral arrangements, concluding her program by allowing each member to try their hand at making satin ribbon bows.

Roll call for the evening was answered by telling what flower grows best in your flower garden. In old business the booth at the Cub Scouts carnival was declared a success and seemed to be a very popular booth.

Everyone was encouraged to enter the Holiday Cook-off to be held at the Agriculture Extension Service Center in Floydada, Monday, November 8. Recipes must be turned in by Wednesday, November 13. A tasting tea will be held after the contest judging from 12:00 until 2:00.

Kim Lambert is still checking on prices for laying indoor/outdoor carpet at the swimming pool this summer.

Quilt squares are due the first of January. Plans are to make a quilt for the special activities to take place in Lockney in August of 1986.

A motion was made to take to the next meeting Christmas items for the Lubbock State School. The club also voted to give $200.00 to the school for their staff to use in purchasing Christmas gifts for the residents.

Attending the meeting were the following: Treena Aston, Marilyn Biggs, Charlanne Burson, Sandra Cummings, Lesca Durham, Katy Durham, Cindy Ford, Kelly Fortenberry, Jessie Johnson, Kathy Kellison, Robin King, Kim Lambert, Peggy Lambert, Linda Marr, Kay Martin, Ginger Mathis, Rhonda McCain, Sherry McDonald, Lisa Mosley, Patti Purser, Karen Quebe, Robin Stoerner and Jami Kemp.

Grants offered to museum

Texas museums interested in improving their history collections have until January 8, 1986, to apply for grant funds available from the Texas Historical Commission.

The grant awards, which must be matched dollar for dollar with local funds, will not exceed $1,000 per institution. They are designed to assist museums in the preservation, conservation, and interpretation of collections. Funds can also be used for various other special projects, including obtaining technical assistance, training staff, and developing educational programs.

The appropriated monies, approved by the state legislature for the 1986-87 biennium, total $24,500. Of that amount, $14,000 will be distributed in 1986 and $10,500 in 1987.

Study Club enjoys buffet

El Progreso Study Club enjoyed a taste of Texas buffet featuring early pioneer recipes in the home of Bobbie Kellison on November 13.

After a business meeting conducted by president, Dimon Schacht, roll call was answered by members who told the background and origin of the traditional food she prepared for the meeting.

The recipes consisted of Apple Upside Down Cake prepared by Dimon Schacht, Cornbread Salad by Faye Ferguson, Texas Star Mold by Mary Blanchard, Pea Pear Pound Cake by Hazel Johnson, Texas Chews by Alice Mitchell, Roasted Pecans by Katherine Ball, Ambrosia by Pauline Sams, Texas Pepper Crackers by Bobbie Kellison, Pickled Blackeyed Peas by Merle Mooney, Okra Salad by LaVerna Sams, Hello Dollies by Cornelia Johnson and Potato Cake by Dorothy Smith.

Birdie Lee's undergoing changes

Birdie Lee's Hairstyling salon is bringing some new and unique services to Floydada. These new services are in addition to their already established services of men and women hairstyling, perms, and coloring.

Birdie Lee's which is owned and operated by Birdie Lee Ward and her daughter, Cindy Ogden, is a full service salon located at 112 S. First in Floydada.

The salon is now providing a complete line of uni-life all natural products. Mrs. Ward said, "If uni-life is used properly it guarantees a healthy weight loss quickly. We follow the weight loss program with a maintenance program to keep the weight off."

Cindy Ogden's complete manicure will now include sculptured overlay tips (nail extension). "This adds tips to the original nails," said Cindy, "and then they are sculptured over to make them strong and natural."

"Besides the complete line of skin care products," said Birdie Lee, "I now provide a non-surgical face lift. I put a special treatment on the face that actually tightens and firms."

Austin's Humiliation

By Fred and Eleanor Pass

[The following, written in journalistic style, is an account of events 150 years ago this week in Texas' fight for independence from Mexico. Dates are according to the calendar of 1835-36.]

With The Texas Army, Nov. 23, 1835—Stephen F. Austin suffered a commanding general's ultimate humiliation this week. He ordered his men to prepare for attack. They refused the order.

San Antonio was to have been the objective of Austin's proposed attack. At least 1,100 Mexican soldiers are stationed there.

In written orders to his two division commanders, Colonel Edward Burleson and Lieutenant-Colonel Philip Sublett, Austin said the army "will be organized into divisions this day for the purpose of storming Bexar to-morrow morning."

In almost identical notes each officer replied in part:

"I have ascertained the disposition of the officers and men of my division, and believe it to be my duty to report that a majority of them are opposed to the measure, and are unwilling to attempt it."

Two questions are being asked by Texans today:

Why did Austin, who on earlier occasions refused to attack when Colonel James Bowie and others urged it, now order one?

Why does the army, which marched from Gonzales six weeks ago expressly to take San Antonio, now refuse an order to accomplish that goal?

Austin, who admits to having neither military training nor talents, regularly is advised by a "war board" and often submits matters to votes of all volunteers and abides by their decisions. Apparently by such a vote the attack order was overruled.

Three days before issuing the order, Austin learned that the consultation in San Felipe named him a commissioner to the United States to seek money and support for the Texas cause.

This means he will be leaving soon.

Half of his volunteers already have gone home for the winter. Many others will follow.

Austin knows that if he is to lead an attack on San Antonio, it must be made now. That probably accounts for his order.

And while he has not told his troops of his change in jobs, he has known about it for three days. That's a long time for a secret to remain one, especially in an army. It is possible they heard about it and chose to wait for a new commander, one with experience, to lead them on such a hazardous mission.

But change in troop attitude probably played a part in the vote not to fight. Six weeks ago fewer than 100 Texans had defeated a battalion of Mexican soldiers at Gonzales, and their spirits soared. For them, San Antonio had to be next.

But more than half of those original marchers have gone home. Most of today's volunteers, including a recent arrival of men called the New Orleans Grays, are from the United States. They are in no hurry to taste the glory of battle. So they wait.

As for Austin, such glory days are over.

MuseBriefs

The Sesquicentennial Coin which is the second coin in the Floyd County series has been ordered and delivery is expected in late December. The museum will furnish gift certificates for anyone wishing to purchase the coins for Christmas presents. The coin, designed by Austin artist, Larry Smitherman, depicts the artist's conception of Dolphin Ward Floyd, Alamo hero, for whom Floyd County is named. The design also features the Alamo and the Lone Star flag in the background. The reverse side of the coin bears the Texas Sesquicentennial logo. Those who purchased the numbered collector coins in gold and silver in 1976 will have first option on the 1986 coin of the same number. Included in the order will be coins minted in antique bronze that will be attractive mementos of the Sesquicentennial.

Orders should be placed soon for copies of the Floyd County History Books to be mailed by the museum in time for Christmas delivery.

Several new items have been added to the crafts which are offered for sale by the museum. Of special interest are the colorful covers for hot sauce bottles which have proved to be a very popular gift item.

A new roof has recently been completed on the museum buildings. Other work scheduled is the installation of a back door in the east building and the opening of a hallway between the two buildings to allow inside passage. A bronze plaque, in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Carr Surginer, has been received and will be mounted on the east building.

Recent acquisitions in the records department of the museum include: three volumes of Goodspeed's History of Arkansas, given by Tommy and

Elaine Baxter; Lewis Ring, a Tennessee Patriarch, given by Helen Ring Womack; Volume II (red cover) of the Lighthouse Electric Cookbook, given by Mrs. Laura Manning; four volumes of U.S. Department of Agriculture Yearbooks, 1922, 1925, 1927 and 1928 from Bill Terry, and the 1984 and 1985 issues of the DAR Magazine, given by Nancy Marble. Books placed in the collection by the Buffalo Grass Chapter DAR include "The Alamo Heroes and Their Revolutionary Ancestors", "Black Courage" and "The Arts of Independence."

The 1900 census of Motley County has been added to the microfilm collection. Interviews with Mr. Clifton Oliver of Amarillo and Mrs. Bettie Counts of Lockney are the most recent additions to the oral tape collection.

Recent genealogical queries from out of state concern early Floyd County families of Henson and Keeley. Please contact the museum if you can provide help with these lines.

Early photos and stories about South Plains, Texas are needed for a special program. Please contact the museum if you will loan photos of families, businesses, farms and special events for copying.

Bits of Humor, Trivia, and an occasional Word of Wisdom

BY DON & SARA PROBASCO

Heard about the latest dance craze? It's called "The Politician"...two steps forward, one step back, then a sidestep.

Imagination was given to man to compensate him for what he is not, and a sense of humor to console him for what he is.

Puzzled as to the cause of death in a murder trial, a jury finally gave its findings in these words: "An act of God under very suspicious circumstances."

Sign of the times: A jury recently reported back to the judge, "We don't want to get involved."

Can you remember back when a juvenile delinquent was a kid with an overdue library book?

Knowing without doing is like plowing without sowing.
