ODDS AND ENDS FROM HERE AND THERE

We are fast approaching that time of the season when those who intend to run for public office must declare themselves. They still have a couple of months in which to jockey for position, but a great deal of that is already going on. We see by the papers, for instance, that former Representative Jack Hightower has given up on the idea of tackling Beau Boulter in a rematch, and has gone to work for Jim Mattox, of all

Jack was a good Congressman, by and large, but the people of this District thought he was not as good as Boulter would be, so Boulter won. Jack said a lot of people throughout the District urged him to run again for his old seat, but he evidently looked at some of the same polls we have looked at, and decided it wouldn't be a successful venture. That threw the leadership of his Party in a dither, or at least a quandry. The Amarillo paper quoted Larry Lambert, Wichita County Democratic Party chairman, as saying they were caught flat-footed by Hightower's decision, and that they didn't know who they were going to settle on. At any rate, he told the paper, their candidate would have to be from the "northern end" of the District, since the Southern end always voted heavily Democratic

That business of taking people for granted is one of the many reasons the Democrats lost the last election so thoroughly, and it is one of the reasons Beau Boulter is now our Congressman and Jack is working for Jim Mattox. Beau never made that mistake, and judging from the way he works this District, he is not about to make it.

At any rate, we wish Jack well in his new job. The Attorney General's office has been sorely lacking in both integrity and brain power. Jack ought to be able to improve the situation on both counts. Whether that will be enough to save Mattox in 1986 remains to be seen.

And in passing we might note the confusing situation down in Austin, where confusion seems to be the norm. Carol McClellon Rylander, who was appointed by Gov. Mark White to a position on the State Insurance Board, has announced that henceforth she will consider herself a Republican. Carol was Mayor of Austin for a number of years, and is considered by many to be the last good mayor that town has had. She was a reasonably conservative Mayor, presiding over a fractious bunch of liberal Councilmen. The Governor made a big deal of it when he appointed her to the Insurance Board, and there were those who thought he was doing it to get Carol out of the political pipeline, so she would not be a problem in the future. When reporters asked the Governor for comments following Carol's switch, he was speechless. Which in itself is a switch for Mark.

And in further passing: For years we have been treated to cries of outrage by the environmentalists about how all those evil companies and corporations are polluting our nation's water supply. We don't mean to make light of the matter, for it truly is serious. But the mail brings some interesting informa-

The Texas Water Commission informs us that they have compiled a list of the worst water polluters in Texas. The list, according to the Commission, identifies those who "have poor operating records which have caused adverse environmental impact or whose operations are such that a great potential for environmental harm exists.'

Here is the list of the worst polluters: City of Brownwood, City of Garland, City of Texarkana, Worldwide Refining and Tank Company in Amarillo, City of San Antonio, Cameron County Water Control and Improvement District, City of Corpus Christi, City of Austin, Memorial Village Water Authority in Houston, City of Houston Wrightwood Plant, Amfac Foods Monterey Inc., of Madison County, The El Paso Utilities Public Service Board Socorro Plant and the Phoenix Frozen Foods in Hidalgo

As pogo would say, we have finally seen the emeny, and he is us.

One more item. We hate to mention this, but the staff insists that I say something about it. But first, some background.

We ran our traps recently on what it costs us to produce this newspaper. It is one of those things a business has to undergo occasionally, just to see where we stand on the matter of income and Continued On Page 3

The Lamplighter Rewards offered

A $200.00 reward is being offered by Crime Call for information which will lead authorities to the person or persons responsible for any of three vehicle burglaries. One of the vehicles burglarized was parked at 906 W. Tennessee and another was parked at 905 W. Tennessee. C.B.'s were stolen out of both cars. The burglaries occurred on either the night of November 23 or the morning of November 24. On Friday night. November 29, another vehicle, parked at Producers Coop was burglarized. A Motorola high band radio and gasoline was stolen from this vehicle.

A reward is also being offered for any information which will lead authorities to the arrest of whoever is responsible for the burglary of the Floydada

Annual yule lighting contest is announced

The Floydada Chamber of Commerce is again sponsoring a yule lighting contest for Floydada businesses and residents. Prizes will be swarded in both categories for first, second, and third place. The contest is easy to enter. Just have the lighted decorations in place and lighted in time for the judging on the evening of December 16.

Out of town judges will tour the city after dusk to view the displays and make the decisions awarding the prizes for both business and residential scenes. Cash prizes of $25.00 for first, $15.00 for second, and $10.00 for third place will be awarded in each category.

Chamber manager Nettie Ruth Whittle stated "We are excited about this year's contest. The response to our Adopt a Decoration campaign was good and we hope this is an indication that more businesses and residents will be decorating for the holidays."

Whittle also expressed the gratitude of the chamber for all the hard work put in by Connie Galloway and his crew in assembling and installing the Christmas decorations around the city.

'Everyone at the Chamber of Commerce would like to urge all the Floydada businesses and residents to demonstrate their Christmas Spirit and decorate for the holidays," said Whit-

Acting Police Chief James Hale reminds everyone that, "With the Christmas season upon us, house and car burglaries occur more frequently. Be sure to secure your cars when leaving, and lock up your homes. The Christmas gifts are very tempting, and a purse left on your car seat can be stolen in just a few moments."

Four juveniles arrested for vandalism acts

The arrest of four juveniles on November 25, ended a vandalism spree dating as far back as January 1985.

According to Floydada's Acting Police Chief James Hale, "The juveniles have been charged with criminal mischief. One of the juveniles is still in custody, and three have been released to their parents. With these arrests we expect to recover approximately $630.00 in stolen goods.'

The vandals were responsible for slashed tires on numerous vehicles, slashed screens at Andrews Ward Elementary and also for burglaries of a residence, school and vehicle.

"All total," said Hale, "they were responsible for approximately $2400.00 in damage and property stolen."

ANNUAL CHRISTMAS BRUNCH-Ruth McIntosh, Margie Fowler, and Nell Swinson, members of the Floydada Chapter of the American Cancer Society, discuss plans for the group's annual Christmas brunch. The event will be held Saturday,

December 7, in the home of Kay Zimmerman at 522 West Kentucky. Tickets may be obtained for a $5.00 donation from any board member or at the door. The brunch is scheduled for 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. STAFF PHOTO

Chemical hearing slated

The agricultural producer started dealing with rules and regulations on agriculture chemicals when application standards and label changes were introduced. These regulations were initiated for the safety of those applying the chemicals and the general public. Pesticide regulations affect everyone that is involved in agriculture.

During the past two years Floyd County have been involved with damage to our crops because of pesticides that have covered large acreages. This damage has created public awareness toward regulating hormone type herbicides in Floyd County. Because it is the producer that will be affected by these regulations, the County Judge and Commissioners Court of Floyd County have scheduled two public hearings to allow the producer a chance to voice his or her opinion and be a part of the regulatory

City prepares for Sesquicentennial

In preparation for the Texas Sesquicentennial in 1986, the Board of Directors of the Floydada Chamber of Commerce has approved a community wide clean up, fix up, and modernization project for the coming year.

"We want to be ready for the 150th Birthday Party of our state," Chamber of Commerce president Jerry Thompson said. "We are asking every business firm, each church, school, civic club, and all other organizations to adopt at least one improvement project for the new year."

More than one hundred and sixty Floydada business firms and organizations will receive a letter from the Chamber of Commerce this week. The letter will offer a few improvement suggestions for each Floydada organization or business firm to consider or the business may have suggestions of their own concerning a project that will contribute to the campaign as well as their own progress. A copy of the letter will be enclosed for return to the Chamber as soon as a project is selected by the firm or organization.

Some of the suggestions made in the letter include repairing broken sidewalks and curbs, keeping weeds cut in alleys and along sidewalks, installing carpet at the business, and general modernizing, painting, and repairing of store fronts. Civic clubs and organizations for their consideration in 1986. All out of town property owners will also be sent letters. Local residents are urged to plan a progress project as well.

"This project could mean a new day for Floydada," said Thompson. "We hope that every Floydada resident will become actively involved in these community improvement plans."

BEAUTY AND THE BEARD-Miss Floydada, Kelli LaBaume, posed with Santa Claus after performing her duty of lighting the Christmas tree on the courthouse square last Monday evening.

Americans will spend 30.2 billion on Christmas items

Americans are no Scrooges when it comes to Christmas. This year we will spend an extra $30.2 billion on gifts, decorations and other expenses to celebrate the holiday, nearly $2 billion more than last year. This comes to an average of $126.88 for every man, woman and child in the country. It also means an after-Christmas financial hangover of $507.52 for a "traditional" family of four or $351 for the average household that now has about 2.7 persons. We will buy 32 million live Christmas trees for $640 million, according to the National Christmas Tree Association, and will spend $150 million on artificial trees and $500 million on lights and decorations, according to The National Ornament and Electric Light Association (NOEL) — a total of nearly $1.3 billion. About one-third of American households will have fresh cut trees, another one-third will have artificial trees and one-third will be dark.

And once we have our trees up, we'll spend another $30 billion or so on things to put under them.

The largest part of that money, 49.7 percent, will be spent in general merchandise and department stores, and accessory stores, 6.2 percent will be spent in food stores on the Christmas turkey and fixings and 3.7 percent will go to the local purveyor of spirits for that eggnog that we'll be making.

These estimates are based on last year's extra spending that occurred during the holiday season plus what the U.S. Chamber of Commerce sees as an increase of about 6.3 percent this year.

Of course, this is not the total amount that people will spend this season, but just the extra amount spent because of the holiday. For example, people buy food all the time, but a family of four will probably spend an extra $31.47 of such holiday treats as fruitcake and plum pudding.

There is a flip side to this holiday spending, and that is the extra workers stores will need to help you spend your money. By the time the Christmas buying season is over, some 600,000 workers will have been hired by American retailers. The average seasonal worker will take home about $1,059 this Christmas to help with his shopping, in addition to any discounts he may get from his employer. This will add more than $635 million to this 13.4 percent will be spent in clothing holiday season's spending power.

Monday morning Dolores Cannon and Leona Neff were busy in the beauty shop making a lot of ladies beautiful. Monday morning devotions were by Trinity Church. The singers were Rev. G.A. Van Hoose, Dartha Westbrook, Eula Mae wilson, Shirley and Sabrina Varner, Deanna and Amy Westbrook, and Mildred Thrasher. Rev. Van Hoose spoke about praising the Lord. In the afternoon Sabrina Varner came and played Bingo with us. Myra Hail bingo'ed the most times. The prizes were bananas, and cheese crackers. We want to thank the G.A.'s for making Thanksgiving cards and bringing fruit and singing to the residents.

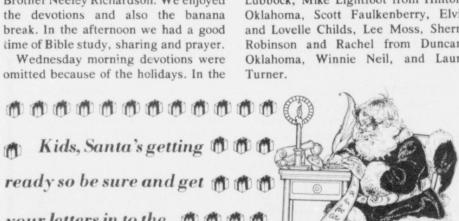

Tuesday morning devotions were by Brother Neeley Richardson. We enjoyed the devotions and also the banana break. In the afternoon we had a good time of Bible study, sharing and prayer. Wednesday morning devotions were

County treasurer handles finances

County in the capacity of county treasurer for the past 11 years. As holder of this elected office, she is the chief custodian of all county financial matters. Orman is responsible for receiving all money belonging to the county from whatever source it is derived. She maintains the financial records and must account for all financial activities as directed by the commissioners court.

Texas county government is structured in a manner which makes county financial matters open to the public. The division of public fiscal duties among several officials assures an orderly and honest administration. The county treasurer occupies an important role in the fiscal operation of the county government.

All county offices receiving money are required to deposit these funds into the properly designated account of the county treasury. Any money owed to the county and not collected by other officials may be paid to the county treasurer. The treasurer is the custodian of county funds and as such must document all deposits in triplicate. Receipts are prepared for the deposit, the county auditor, and the treasurer's records. This extensive documentation provides a system of checks and balances to safeguard all incoming Disbursements of county funds are also very carefully controlled. When a bill is received, the commissioners court must approve payment before a check or warrant can be issued. These instruments of payment must be countersigned by the county auditor. The exception to the rule is jury checks which are prepared by a county or district clerk and countersigned by the treasurer. The treasurer is the authorized agent for distributing checks to the proper payee.

The treasurer is responsible for maintaining records of all county deposits, withdrawals, and investments. Reconciling the bank statements also falls under the duties of the treasurer.

A substantial extra revenue source can be developed with proper management of excess funds. All deposits and investments must be handled according to the provisions of the county depository contract and applicable state laws.

> Careful record keeping and accurate accounting ensures the safety of county funds. Regular reports keep all departments aware of the financial status of the county and are a matter of public record for county residents' information. The treasurer is required to make a monthly report to the commissioners court. She also prepares a quarterly statement and an annual report. Each of these reports is reviewed by the commissioners court and must be

Article 16, Section 44 of the Texas Constitution provides for the election of a county treasurer by the qualified voters in each county. Treasurers serve a four year term and must post a surety bond set by the commissioners court. This bond is a pledge to faithfully perform the lawful duties of the office. Treasurers must be certified as being competent and knowledgeable in their field. Certification must be obtained at least once in every 24 month period as mandated by Article 1705a of Vernon's Annotated Civil Statutes.

Working with the officers of the Texas County Treasurers Association, Texas A&M University has contracted to provide a continuing educational program. The program comes to the University through the V.G. Young Institute of County Government and addresses the duties and responsibilities of the treasurers office along with other related subjects. One full 20 hour course must be attended during each 24 month period in order to remain certified. The program is designed to reinforce the committment these officials make to their job as they serve the voters of their county.

December 1-7, 1985 has been declared National Home Care Week by the President and Congress. In proclaiming the official celebration the country's elected officials called on all citizens to honor the professionals and volunteers who provide home health services to the ill, elderly, disabled and infirm in their own homes.

Using public contributions as their major source of income, the American Heart Association supports projects attempting to identify the causes of heart ailments as well as programs working to find new methods of diagnosis and treatment. Continuing education programs supported by the association are aimed at increasing public awareness of potential risk factors and warning signs. Many of these programs encourage participation in training programs for use of CPR and advanced life support techniques.

The volunteer and financial resources of the American Heart Association are committed to the prevention of premature death and disability caused by cardiovascular disease. The association has a strong network, not only nationally, but on a state to state basis, working towards this goal.

Trees can be kept fresh

This year you don't have to watch your Christmas tree droop and turn brown before the holiday even arrives. With proper selection and care, you can keep your tree fresh throughout the season, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service forestry

"Start with the freshest tree you can find," says Alan Dreesen. "A Texasgrown tree you cut yourself at a tree farm or buy off a lot will be fresher than trees shipped from distant states." The forestry specialist recommends the following steps to keep a fresh-cut tree at its peak: * Place the tree trunk in a container of water, since a fresh-cut tree will still be growing when it's harvested, and will initially absorb from one-half to one gallon of water a day.

decorating, remove the loose interior needles by tapping the tree on the patio or driveway a few times. The interior needles turn brown when they no longer get direct sunlight, and this is not a sign of dryness.

* Cut an inch off the base before placing the tree in a water-holding stand. Then check the water daily for the first week to keep the stand full. Don't let the water level fall below the tree's cut base.

* To prevent premature drying of the needles, place the tree away from heat sources such as warm air ducts, plate glass windows with a southern exposure and space heaters. "Keeping your tree well-watered and away from heat sources will help the tree keep its needles, shape and fragrance throughout the holiday season," says Dreesen. "A tree which retains some moisture is also less of a fire hazard in your home."

It costs us $1.18 to produce a copy of the newspaper that we sell for 25 cents. We could go through a long and somewhat convoluted explanation of how we exist under those circumstances, but that's not the purpose of this item. The purpose is to complain, ever go slightly, about those few people who are not satisfied with paying 25 cents for something that costs $1.18 to produce. They insist on getting it free, by robbing the newsstand. It is not unusual for us to lose more than 100 copies of this newspaper through pilferage within a day of publication.

I suppose one should be pleased that people think so much of the paper that they will steal to get a copy, but we could use the money too. So please.

By Mrs. J.E. Green November 25:

It is now a month until Christmas. Except for the wind, today is a nice day. Thursday will be Thanksgiving. I hope we will all have a good time and realize how well off we are.

Alma is at home. Mrs. Ola Warren is better.

Mrs. Henry Brewer reports that she and Mrs. Brewer have recently visited her brother, Buren in a Littlefield Rest Home. He is doing very poorly having had a leg amputated.

Sunday, December 1, 1985-This is a very cold day.

I had a very nice day Thanksgiving at my grandson's, Jim, and his wife, of Plainview. Vic and Sue were also there, and their son, Steve, whose headquarters are in Nashville. Glad to see all.

Saturday, I had a nice surprise. Donna and Richard Bird drove up from Abilene for a short visit. He is a doctor. Busy people. But a short visit is better than none.

We miss the Paynes today. The one who filled the pulpit is a Warren boy.

We are proud of him. The brewers are at home, no com-

Lakeview News

By Joyce Williams

November 25, 1985

Mr. Holt Bishop was buried in the Lakeview Cemetery Sunday afternoon, November 24, beside his late wife. Lena. His son, Howard Bishop had gone to his father's house about 3:00 Friday afternoon. He found his father, dead of an apparent heart attact. Services were held in the First Baptist Church in Floydada. Many friends and neighbors attended from Lakeview, Mt. Blanco, Crosbyton and Floydada. His granddaughter was able to fly here from South America, where her husband is a missionary. There were many relatives present from the Bishop, Davis, Teague and other families kin to Mr. Bishop. He is survived by two children, Howard of Lakeview and Mrs. Shirley Peggram of Nazareth, as well as sisters and brothers.

The last of the house guests here for the Mooseberg anniversary party departed Tuesday. Friends from out of town included Mrs. Clarice Jemeyson of Oregon state and Mrs. Ed Winifred Lee of Austin and Matador. Others of the family included June, Tommy and Roy Sherman of Lockney; and Alice and Ken Steele. Carla, Donny, Zade and Robbie Winslow were here from Oklahoma for the ladies parents 40th wedding anniversary reception held November 10 in the Wall Street Parlour.

Mrs. O.D. Williams attended a gathering of Texas Women's Universities alumni in Lubbock Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Mary Beth Foshee Scull. Guest of honor was Dr. Mary Evelyn Huey, president of the college. Dr. Huey discussed a possible effort to merge T.W.U. with North Texas University. Former students were urged to contact the women's university to help prevent the merger of the world's largest women's college with the other schools. T.W.U. is co-educational but remains predominantly a women's university with a nursing school as well as international recognition in all departments. The hostess, Mrs. Scull, is on the T.W.U. board of

The Crosbyton Garden Club met this month at Casa del Sol. Georgia Mae Erickson prepared the members a noon meal on the wood cook stove in her kitchen. She was assisted by co-hostesses Dorothy Moor and Jean Appling. They served red beans and cornbread, homemade noodles, green beans, cole slaw and butter cake with lemon sauce. Sounds good, doesn't it?

Lakeview fields are rimmed with module stacks of cotton waiting to be hauled to the gins. Roads are thick with cotton trailers and farm vehicles going to and fro. Sunny days and dry weather continue to help the harvest along.

In spite of low farm prices there is much to be thankful for this Thanksgiving. Our country is not at war and families can all be together.

Hance requests new PUC commissioner

Republican gubernatorial candidate Kent Hance recently called on Governor Mark White to replace Public Utilities Commissioner Dennis Thomas with a commissioner who will devote "full time" to protecting Texas ratepayers.

Last week, it was disclosed that Thomas had used state funds, state time, state employees, and state equipment to complete his doctoral degree. The project cost the state $2,800 in computer time alone.

"When the PUC meets, the hardearned dollars of the working people of Texas are at stake," Hance said. "No other agency has as much effect on the daily lives of Texans. That's why anything short of full-time, fully-dedicated commissioners is unacceptable. That's why Thomas should be replaced."

Hance said he felt that Thomas, by tying up staff and his own time with a doctoral dissertation, has done great disservice to the PUC, even though he understands the whole process is technically legal. "State agency leaders have a special responsibility to be an example to their employees," Hance said. "Dennis Thomas simply used his office to further his own education, and that's not right."

Thomas, a special assistant in Governor White's office before his PUC appointment, was forced last month to reimburse the state for travel expenses after the media disclosed that Thomas had stayed at a luxury hotel in New York. Thomas paid $229 per night in state funds to stay at the elegant Sherry Netherlands Hotel.

"When Governor White was running for office, he ran ads implying that he would do something about utility rates," Hance said. "I don't think that appointing a commissioner who spends his time on furthering his personal education helps in any way to keep our utility rates down."

Hance said that when elected Governor he would ask the State Legislature to immediately review the State Employees Training Act of 1969 which allows state employees to further their education at state expense.

Last summer, Governor White signed a bill tripling tuition. "Parents strugglling to send their children to college may object to paying tax dollars for the doctoral degree of a state employee who makes more than $60,000 a year," Hance said.

"I doubt that legislators had agency heads in mind when they passed this bill," Hance said. "I think Dennis Thomas has taken advantage of the spirit of the law both in his travel expenses and his use of taxpayers' money."

Hance also said that Governor White should appoint people who are more sensitive to the needs of Texans trying to pay for their children's education.

CARDOFTHANKS

We would like to express our thanks to everyone for the prayers, visits, cards, calls and plants during my stay in the hospital.

Dirk King Randell and Doris King

The community-wide Thanksgiving service Sunday evening, November 24, was a wonderful example of the spirit of sharing that exists in the hearts of the people of Floydada. And since the organization known as the Floydada Spirit of Sharing was the recipient of the $2,222 given that evening, the whole expression takes on added meaning.

All the volunteers are very grateful for every donation that was made. The past two years, written acknowledgements have been sent to the donors of gifts over a certain amount. However, we have decided that seems contrary to Christ's parable of the "widow's mite," since many of the smaller gifts may well have been as sacrificial as the larger ones.

This year we simply say, "Thank you sincerely" to every one of you who contributed as a part of your expression of thankfulness. You have given us a boost, both financially and spiritually, to look forward to another year of sharing what you have entrusted to us with persons in need in our community.

He was born in Grandview and moved to Floyd County in 1918 from Mangum, Oklahoma. He married Ethel Alexander on June 4, 1927, in Floydada. He was a retired farmer and a member of First Baptist Chruch.

Survivors include his wife; three sons, B.J., Gordon and Bob, all of Floydada; a daughter, Genelle Breed of Floydada; three brothers, Frank of McLean, John of Marble Falls, Homer of Alvin; nine grandchildren; and four great-grandchildren.

ETHYLE HINSON

Services for Ethyle Hinson, 81, were at 2:00 p.m. December 1 at First United Methodist Church with the Rev. Earl Blair, pastor, officiating.

Burial was in Floyd County Memorial Park under the direction of Moore-Rose Funeral Home.

She died Thursday at her home. Justice of the Peace Lowell Bilbrey of Floydada ruled natural causes.

She was born in Mt. Calm. She married Emmett Hinson December 24, 1921, in Mineral Wells. He died in 1965. She moved to Floyd County in 1927. She owned a gift shop in Floydada. She was a Methodist.

Survivors include two sons, Emmett Jr. of McKinney and Herschell of Dallas; a daughter, Beth Harper of Burley, Idaho; six grandchildren; and three great-grandchildren.

JOHN [BUSTER] HOLT

John (Buster) Holt, 73, of Clifton died Saturday at a local hospital.

Services were at 4:00 p.m. December 2 at First Baptist Church, the Rev. Dean Evans and the Rev. Robert Owens officiating. Burial was at Smith Bend-Coon Creek Cemetery.

Mr. Holt was born September 29, 1912, in Bosque County. He was a farmer and rancher.

Survivors include his wife, Ruby Lee Holt of Clifton; three sons, John D. Holt of Terrell, Garry D. Holt of Clifton and Keith Holt of Aquilla; three brothers, Raymond Holt of Hereford, Burl Holt of Floydada and Wilton Holt of California; four sisters, Opal Morrison of Floydada, Faye Hulme of Clifton and Bernice Sutton and Jo Marie Maugham, both of Waco; and eight grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Holt of Hereford, Mr. and Mrs. Burl Holt of Floydada, Opal Morrison of Floydada, Kenneth Holt of Lockney, Virginia Cage of Dougherty attended funeral service in Clifton, Texas.

of the survivors should inquire to see if social security benefits may be payable on that person's record.

It is important to apply promptly because, in some cases, benefits cannot be paid for months before the month of application. This pertains to widows and widowers who wish to start benefits before they reach 65.

If the worker has enough credit for work covered by social security, benefits can be paid to:

* Unmarried children under 18; 18-19 if full-time secondary students; over 18 if disabled before 22.

* A mother or father caring for a child under 16 or disabled.

* A widow or widower 60 or older. * A disabled widow or widower 50-60.

* A dependent parent 62 or older. A surviving divorced spouse can also receive benefits as an aged or disabled survivor if the marriage lasted 10 years or more. This time limit does not apply

Whenever a family member dies, one to a divorced spouse caring for an eligible child under 16 or who is disabled.

In addition, there is a $255 lump-sum death payment that can be made to an eligible widow or widower, or if none, to an entitled surviving child. When applying, it is helpful for the person to have certain proofs available including the worker's social security card or a record of the number, proof of age for applicants, proof of marriage for widows and widowers, children's birth certificates; proof of the worker's death; Forms W-2 for the previous two years or self-employment tax returns; and proof of support for dependent parents.

Do not delay applying if all these proofs are not available. People at the Social Security office may be able to suggest substitutes. For more information about social security survivor benefits you may contact us at 1401-B West 5th street or call us a 293-9623.

FmHA alternatives set

The Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) has issued new regulations which spell out, in detail, the various loan servicing alternatives which may be available to farmers who are having economic difficulty, according to Texas FmHA state director J. Lynn Futch.

"All borrowers are expected to pay back their loans according to a planned repayment schedule," F u t c h said. "However, when that is impossible, we want borrowers to be aware of what kind of assistance may be available and under what conditions."

The servicing alternatives available to eligible borrowers include a deferral of a portion of payments for five years, reamortizing payments over a longer period of time, restructuring the debt, or subordinating FmHA's lien position on security to another lender.

The regulations spell out how FmHA determines eligibility for various loan servicing alternatives and under what circumstances FmHA would propose to take steps to resolve delinquency or other problems.

Borrower's appeal rights are detailed as well as FmHA's agreement to continue the release of sales proceeds until final loan servicing has been determined.

The new procedures were developed to give FmHA borrowers with delinquent and problem loans clear, consistent and predictable guidelines on how their accounts will be serviced by the agency', Futch said.

Bill Powers announces for Agriculture Commissioner

Bill Powers announced that he will run as a Republican for Texas Commis-

Powers cited his lifelong experience in agriculture, from the dirt and sweat level to the policy making level. As Texas Poultry Executive Vice President for the past 16 years, he said much of his work has benefited all of Texas agriculture. He cited the Texas Right-to-Farm Act as well as his work in developing fair taxation of agricultural trucking fair and competitive.

, Powers promised to bring professionalism and creditability to the Texas Department of Agriculture.

Before heading the Texas Poultry staff, Powers edited Texas Agriculture, the monthly publication of the Texas Farm Bureau. He received a BS degree in Ag Journalism from Texas A&M in 1965. Powers and his wife, Evelyn, who teaches first grade in the Austin schools, have two sons; Clay, 17 and Trey, 13. The family owns a cow-calf operation in Brazos County.

Texas Farm Credit Bank outlook remains strong

Officials of the Farm Credit Banks of Texas remain confident of the Texas District's ability to withstand the adverse economic trends, even though Congress wrestles with a proposal for federal support for the Farm Credit System.

James A. Rogers, president of the Farm Credit Banks of Texas, reports that adverse national publicity has brought about some borrower loss of confidence even in the Texas District, but both loan volume and number of borrowers have remained relatively Rogers says that the Federal Land Bank of Texas countered the national trend by increasing loan volume from $2.63 billion at the end of the third quarter in 1984 to $2.75 billion on September 30 of this year. Reviews of 32 Texas Federal Land Bank Associations showed acceptable business remained at 95.7 percent, 8.1 percent above the national average.

Reviews of 22 of the state's 28 Production Credit Associations' loan portfolios showed an improvement of 2 percent in business classified acceptable. PCAs also showed improved credit quality in problem and loss business.

quality in problem and loss business.

Acceptable business in the Texas
Bank for Cooperatives increased to 93.2 percent, an improvement of almost 3 percent over the same time last year, compared with a 92.9 percent national average.

Rogers said that nationwide the Farm Credit System has experienced greater losses than ever before in its 69-year history due to the downward spiral of commodity and land prices. Congress now is considering legislation which would stabilize the financial condition of the Farm Credit System.

"We believe that the Farm Credit System nationwide does need government financial assistance," Rogers stated. "We, however, are asking Congress to not require so much capital of us that it would cause us to have to increase interest rates to Texas farmers and ranchers."

Interest rates in the Farm Credit Banks of Texas currently are among the lowest in the nation's 37 Farm Credit Banks.

The Farm Credit System in Texas consists of the Federal Land Bank of Texas and its 44 Federal Land Bank Associations, the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of texas, 28 Production Credit Associations and the Texas Bank for Cooperatives. The Texas banks and associations have approximately $4 billion in loans outstanding to 50,000 of the state's farmers, ranchers and their cooperatives.

Livestock market is up

Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus—and yes, cattlemen, the market finally seems to be turning around.

In the coming weeks, cattlemen may have another reason to feel a bit joyous other than the approaching holiday season.

Based on a variety of reports, cattle numbers are down and that trend should last into next year. The price recovery that began a few weeks ago should continue at least until the spring, says a Texas Agricultural Extension Service livestock marketing economist.

October 1 figures show cattle and calves on feed down 12 percent, fed cattle marketings for July-September up 5 percent, cattle and calves placed on feed during July-September down 13 percent, other disappearance of animals during that same period down 25 percent, and expected fed cattle marketings for October-December down 4 percent.

"These figures suggest that the oversupply problems of the beef industry caused by larger marketings of overweight feedlot cattle are about over," Uvacek points out. "Even though slaughter weights are still running a little above a year ago, some feedlots are already selling some cattle that are not quite ready."

Uvacek feels that the reduction in feedlot placements during the July-September period is the best news for cattlemen. "This 13 percent reduction should assure light supplies of fed beef for the last quarter of this year and

Zaire offered wheat flour

Deputy Secretary of Agriculture John R. Norton announced that a wheat flour offer to Zaire will be the tenth initiative under the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Export Enhancement Program. As with previous announcements under this program, sales will be made at competitive world prices.

Norton said this program will give U.S. exporters the opportunity to sell up to 64,000 metric tons of wheat, flour, including a Commodity Credit Corporation bonus in the form of wheat to be provided to U.S. exporters from CCC stocks. The CCC bonus will enable U.S. exporters to compete at commercial prices in the Zaire market in response to future tenders for wheat flour.

The announcement and invitation for offers from exporters has been issued. For further information call William R. Randolph, (202) 382-9254 or Larry T. McElvain (202) 447-6225.

All in all, the future is starting to look a little brighter for the beef industry, and it couldn't have come at a better time with the Christmas season approaching

Dr. Ed Uvacek feels the latest cattle-on-feed report (covering 13 states) gives another "shot in the arm" to the cattle industry. "The number of cattle on feed has declined steadily in recent months and finally appears to be having an impact on market prices,"

Your Co-op Gin. A Good Place to Do Business.

It makes sense to stay involved with your cotton after it leaves the farm. That's why taking your cotton to your co-op gin is a good idea—for a couple of reasons:

First, when you take your cotton to a co-op gin, that gin becomes a part of your business. You have a voice in how it's run and you share in the profits. The more cotton you bring, the more it pays.

But, even more importantly, when you bring your cotton to your co-op gin you become part of a system that takes your cotton all the way to the market. A system that joins your local co-op gin with other co-op gins to give you a voice in the market. Being a part of that system is important to you now and it's even more important to the future of cotton farming.

Take your cotton to your co-op gin. After all, it's just good business to do business with yourself.

Registrations increase Special interest rates offered by three New truck registrations in August COTTON TALKS domestic manufacturers boosted August new car and truck registrations 21 percent over August 1984 and new import registrations continued to climb.

According to figures released by the Texas Automobile Dealers Association, Texas car and truck buyers took advantage of the cut-rate financing by domestic automakers trying to move inventory before the 1986 models were delivered. The General Motors Corp. sparked the battle for customers when if offered a fixed 7.7 percent interest rate on leftover 1985 models. The Ford Motor Co. matched the lowered rate and also offered rebates. The Chrysler Corp. also offered rebates and cut its interest rate to 7.5 percent.

"The incentives the domestic manufacturers offered obviously boosted car and truck buying," said Gene Fondren, president of TADA. "But the import manufacturers also experienced a boost in sales. The imports continued to take a good share of the Texas new vehicle market."

New car and truck registrations during the eighth month of this year totaled 116,383, which was 21.9 percent greater than the 95,434 registered during August 1984. New car and truck registrations year-to-date total 736,999 as compared to the 690,797 registered during the first eight months of last

The last of nine applicator planes used in the 1985 boll weevil control program settled to the runway at McAdoo airstrip November 8, winding up the 22nd consecutive "successful

Aerial applications of ultra-low volume malathion to weevil-infested cotton along the eastern rim of the High Plains began September 24 this year and continued at 10 to 12 day intervals until an aggregate total of 233,737 acres had been treated. Most fields were sprayed three times, but some needed only one treatment and others as many as four.

Only about 50,000 acres required spraying the previous year, thanks in a large part to the 1984 drought which all but eliminated the problem of weevil inmigration from cotton outside the control zone.

Average acreage treated in the program since 1963 comes to about 660,000 per year. The largest operation was recorded in 1977 when heavy infestation and extensive migration forced the spraying of 1,250,000 acres.

According to Ed Dean, Field Service Director for Plains Cotton Growers. Inc., Lubbock, variations in program size results primarily from the effects of weather on weevil reproduction, winter survival rates and migration, plus the many factors that affect total planted acreage in the control area.

The program is conducted under the guidance of PCG's Boll Weevil Steering Committee, chaired by Frank Jones of Complete figures on 1985 program cost are not yet available, Dean says, but the total will fall in the neighborhood of $800,000, or $3.42 per acre, including trapping, surveying and other expenses. The program is funded jointly by High Plains cotton producers, the U.S. and State Departments of Agriculture. USDA matches the expenditures of producers and TDA.

Twelve ounces of insecticide per acre was applied by McAdoo Flying Service, which won the bid over seven other commercial applicators at an average application cost of $6.95 per gallon. Malathion was acquired for the program this year at $14.45 per gallon.

Early spraying was done below the Caprock in Motley, Dickens, Kent, Crosby, Floyd and Garza Counties. Later, in-migration made it necessary to expand the control zone to include parts of Lynn, Borden, Scurry and Dawson Counties.

Despite erratic weather during the seven-week spray period, Dean reports, "we were able to stay surprisingly close to schedule on all applications and we believe we were successful in keeping to a minimum the number of weevils going into hibernation, which is our goal every

Rates effective Jan. 1

Southwestern Public Service Company (SPS) and the Steering Committee representing SPS-served Texas communities have settled upon a rate-restructuring plan that leaves electricity prices for most retail customers stable.

The settlement recommends SPSserved communities in Texas allow the electric utility a base rate increase of $28 million. However, utility spokesmen point out, the base rate increase will be more than offset by decreased fuel charges. SPS has decreased its boilerfuel costs primarily by building coalfueled power plants.

Sam Hunter, SPS vice president of Rates and Economic Research, said the utility now is "designing" rates to fit the settlement the Steering Committe is recommending to Southwestern's Texas retail customers.

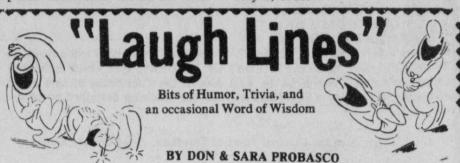

Residential rates, he said, are not expected to change noticably under the proposed settlement. Rates for most other customer classifications also will continue stable, or decrease somewhat, Hunter said.

SPS last sought, and was granted a retail rate increase in Texas in 1982. Each of the 65 Texas communities in which SPS has filed for rate restructuring must approve the proposed settlement before it can become effective in that community. Additionally, SPS is asking the Public Utility Commission of Texas (PUCT) to approve the settlement so that the rates will apply to SPS retail customers both inside and outside boundaries of the SPS-served commun-

The PUCT already has agreed on an interim basis to let SPS lower its fuel charges and on the proposed base rate settlement is expected this week.
