ELUSIVE PORKER-Four younsters are hot on the trail of an elusive porker during a greased pig chase, part of the Floydada Frontier Days on Saturday. Stagecoach

a view from

The Lamplighter

By Ken Towery

Where to begin? This column writing business is about like any other line of work. It's nice to have a job, but we tend to goof off when we think we can get by with it. Nevertheless, the editor is on our back to produce, so produce we Actually, we left Floyd County just ahead of the snow to attend to some business downstate, as it were, and got sidetracked with a slight case of the flu and a big case of that allergic reaction called "cedar fever" by fellow sufferers. It is the bane of those who must, for one reason or another, spend winter months in the central part of our state.

None of this is made any easier by being in close proximity to those state-house politicians who inhabit the environs

All of which brings us to the subject of politics, which is not an unusual situation, as our readers may have more or less. We will in fact begin electing our councilmen from "single-member" districts, rather than the current system of "at-large" representation. The Mayor will still be elected by all the citizens, as we understand the settlement, as will two councilmen. The four other councilmen will ultimately be elected from designated districts, or

This appears to be a compromise between the demands of the plaintiffs,

who wanted single-member districts, and the city, which sought to keep the present system in place. Now we will Still to be settled is the cost to the city, or rather, the cost to the citizens of the city. Obviously the suing lawyers will try to get all they can, which no doubt they had in mind when this whole thing started. They will ask for outrageous fees, knowing the court will probably cut them back somewhat. Still, the cost of saying "no" to those who brought this suit will be a signal to other small cities in Texas operating under "general" state laws governing the way they elect their councils. And no matter how much it costs the city, it is a cost exercised about this subject, we took the position that the city should receive help from the Attorney General's office in defending itself against legal attack.

Our position was that the laws under which Floydada elected its councilmen were passed by the state legislature, that the Attorney General was constitutionally bound to defend the laws of the state against attack, and that therefore he should provide assistance to the city in that regard. After much backing and forthing, and some help from State

Representative Foster Whaley, we were able to get a letter from the Attorney's office, signed by his First Assistant at that time, admitting that it was their duty and responsibility to help, but that they were not going to do so, in this instance. They might enter a case like this sometime, the letter said, but not

now. It must be remembered that Mr.

Mattox was then defending himself from charges that could have landed him in prison. He was successful in that that it might inject a note into the legal proceedings here that would not be helpful, and we mention it here only to illustrate the kind of man we now have

Fire damages rural home occupied by family of 10

A house fire of undetermined origin damaged the dwelling of the Jose Bueno family east of Floydada on Wednesday, February 26.

The blaze, which occurred around noon, caused moderate fire damage to a closet and at least two rooms of the house, according to Carroll Sims of the Floydada Volunteer Fire Department. Sims stated that smoke damage was pretty heavy in his opinion.

Larry Jones, who turned in the fire alarm, managed to contain the blaze until the arrival of the volunteer firefighters. Sims credits his actions with minimizing the fire damage to the house. Bueno is employed by the Jones' and the house is located on the Watson Jones property.

The family, which includes eight children ranging in age from 17 years to 2 years, is now living at the labor camp. The Spirit of Sharing organization has assisted the family in obtaining clothing and other necessities destroyed or damaged by the fire.

breed the calf. Its owner is the daughter of Linda and Michael Hinsley of Floydada.

Chad Edwards also had memorable moments during the Houston stock show. His lightweight Simmental won its class. A member of both the 4-H and FFA, the 16-year-old lad is the son of Craig and Betty Edwards. But the lightweight steer's showing was not Edwards' lone success. He also exhibited the second place Simmental heifer, and his pen of three feeder steers was placed in the top 10. In addition, the Floydada lad took a test over feeding, weight gain and record book and was involved in an oral interview.

Another Floyd County 4-Her who enjoyed success in the Houston stock exhibition was Matt Williams, a Lockney High sophomore who was at the halter as his lightweight other breeds steer won its class.

A Lockney High School student and a member of a family which has been successful for several years in livestock breeding, Williams is a son of Jerry and Kay Williams.

A trio of swine prepped and exhibited by Floyd County youth showmen qualified for the sale. Shannon Barbee's lightweight Chester was placed fifth in its class. A 17-year-old Floydada High FFA member, the lad is the son of Larry and Valdonna Garnering seventh place laurels in the heavyweight Hampshire class was an animal shown by David Pyle, another Floydada FFAer. He is the son of Louis and Virginia Pyle.

Exhibiting the eleventh place heavyweight Berkshire was Kelli LaBaume, a 15-year-old whose parents are Jon and Elaine La Baume is a Floydada student who is a member of both 4-H and FFA.

Of eight head of swine entered by Floydada showmen, seven successfully passed through the sift process at Brenham. Three placed high enough to qualifty for the sale.

Champion finewool lamb in the recent Floyd County show, a wether shown by Hunter Smith of Floydada was placed twentyfourth in the mediumweight finewool class. This animal also qualified for the sale.

A FFA member, the 16-yearold Smith is a son of Choise and Kay Dean Smith.

Assisting the exhibitors with their project animals and accompanying them to Houston were Clay Bloodworth, assistant Floyd County Extension agent, and Allen Akers, a vocational agriculture instructor who is advisor to the Floydada FFA chapter, and Randall Robbins, gracing the office of Texas Attorney General

For the moment however, we must get on with making the new system work. And work it will, no doubt about that. It will not be as good a system, in our view, as the "at large" system of electing councilmen. But people of good will can make it work and meet the needs of the city. It is now imperative that we elect those persons of good will who will make it work.

Before we leave this subject, we probably ought to spell out just why we think the "at large" system is preferrable to the "single-member" system. In a town this size we feel that every councilman should seek to represent the entire city, not merely certain portions of it. Since the vote of each councilman has a bearing on the amount of taxes each citizen pays, and the quality of life that citizen enjoys, then each citizen ought to have the right to vote on each councilman. It's just that simple.

We are extremely happy to welcome Jim Reynolds back into the family of Floyd County Newspapers. Jim needs no introduction to the folks around here, since he grew up in this community, and at one time ran these newspapers. Then he went over to Crosbyton and bought the Crosbyton Review, which he published for a number of years.

In January the paper was sold and we managed to talk Jim into helping us for awhile. He is presently standing for election as County Judge of Crosby County, along with four others. Until that decision is made by the good people of our neighboring county, he will be helping out here at the Hesperian. We count ourselves very lucky. Jim has earned a reputation among West Texas newsmen as being one of the best, and we believe these papers, and our readers and advertisers, will gain much by his presence.

Shades of county history

Editor's Note: The following letter written by Thomas B. Floyd to his nephew John W. Floyd and mother is being reprinted exactly as originally written without any spelling changes. The letter is submitted by the Floyd County Historical Museum. Georgia Troup County June 15, 1855 Dear Nephew & Sister, for such I shall call you. Sister Sarah received a letter from North Carolina bearing some intelligence of our deceased Brother Floyd. How they got the information of you and your whereabouts I cannot tell unless through the politeness of Mr. Davis Bunting. If it be the Bunting I knew in No. Car. he is a man of 40 or 45 years of age. If it be the man I think he is well acquainted with me and all the rest of the family. I have written two letters since 1830 to my brother. One addressed to Orleans that was before the annexation of Texas to the states. Some time in '35 I wrote one and address it of Nachadoces but never received no answer and give up hope of ever hearing from him again but always inquiring. I have given the name of my brother to many travelers but never could get any information. I saw in some gazet of the United States but do not recollect what one the names of those that were massacred in Texas, and my brother was one. The date of the seedure (?) that contained the names of the slaynd do not recollect. I very well recollect the name of my brother and David Crocket. My mother received one letter after he went to Texas, stating to her he was married and one child 18 months old and that he married a widow Jones. He also wrote that he used to tell us while joking and talking about marrying that he intended marrying some old rich widow that she might die directly and then he would be independent. Though he married as he always had said a widow and that she was not very old nor very rich. So we have never heard anything about him until now. There fore I take this privilege of writing to you both. Requesting you to write to me as soon as these lines of my best love and respect reaches you and particular on the account of my poor old mother for since she has heard about him since, she is very desirous to hear more. She is now 86 years and lives within 1/4 of me, with my Brother and Sister Sarah both single. So far as Respects the comforts of this life in fact, we that are here in Georgia are all getting along well. Brother John is very rich. I have a plenty myself and for my children to do well on. Now there is one brother. Thirdly, what his condition was when he married you. Fourthly, what was his reputation whether good or bad. I wish to know whether he stood fair in the world as respects truth and veracity and what was his general deportment? You may think I am too serupous and wish to know too much my dear nephew and sister. This is a great request too much you may think to be revealed but nothing less than the revelation will satisfy me. Now for my reasons to know them is this to see if a person once pure by leaving his courtyard family circle. When he left N. Car. Nov. 22nd. 1825 and took the last shake of the head from his poor old mother and his brothers and sisters with the exception of the sin stain was not to be found on him. He indulged in no bad practice save that of the folly of youth. He drank no ardent spirits, chewed no tobacco, nor used signs when he left us. He made no pretensions to religion of any sort. He was always lively and very good fond of company and had the good will of all who knew and was muched beliked, he was very industrious though subject to waist as we all thought.

Now, I wish to know some more things. I want to know whether he was a good husband and kind father, a good master and neighbor, whether he was charitable, benevolent--so far as in power. Now I wish to know something relative to your birth, where you were born and of what nation. We understand you have married since my brother got killed to a Mr. Clark. We do not blame you for that as it is reasonable supposed that every body tries to do the best they can. I want to know how John is getting along. It would do no good to hear he was doing good or well.

(be so)? We understand you had a daughter by my brother and she married and since died, and her name was Elizabeth. We have two samples of hair said to be John's and Elizabeth's. Now, Dear Sister and Nephew these requests you may think to be exaggerated and speculative. But they are the pure desires of my heart and no speculation design in them no further than to know the truth. Now, if you want to know my brother's age, he was born 1804, March 6th A.D. The times in Georgia are hard money. Provisions of all kind are scarce. Corn $5.00 pr. Bacon 12 1/2 cent per lb. Wheat has been $2.00 per bush. Wheat crops are good. Other growing crops look promising.

I am older than Dolphin. I was born Feb. 27th 1802. When he left N.C. we were both about one weight 125 lbs. though at this time I way 190 pounds. I am corpulent and clumsy and feel my age much. The rest of our family is all Believing that persons need something to grin about, we're asking that readers share with us light-hearted situations about Floyd County happenings. Occasionally, more serious matters will be presented in this space. Please give me a call at 983-3737 or contact me with personal experiences.

One example of what type events we're searching for to share with readers is a stranger-than-truth situation which supposedly occurred - the fellow told it for the truth - a few years ago in eastern Crosby County:

Parking his pickup alongside his house about dusk one afternoon, the fellow spotted a rattlesnake crawling out toward his barn. He destroyed the rattler before going on to the house for

Following the meal he wondered why he hadn't removed the reptile's rattlers. Pulling his razor-sharp knife from a pocket on his Levi's, the fellow walked slowly in the dark to the spot where he had remembered killing the snake. With that sharp knife, he used little time in parting the rattlers from their owner and returning to his house.

The next morning before stepping into his pickup and departing for the day's chores, he walked again to the dead snake.

What he discovered startled the rancher. That reptile was completely intact, rattlers and all! Did the rattlers he had cut off the previous night come from a live snake? The fellow will never know for sure..but he sure does

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor.

Tracing family ancestors has proved a part of my family has "vanished" due to long forgotten stories, destroyed public records and death of family who knew the names of those now "lost". I am desperately seeking any family of one Robert Allen, Jr. (known to us as "Little Bob"). He was a movie producer or director (so the story goes) in California during the '40s, '50s and possibly '60s. Robert Allen, Jr. was born December 30, 1913 and often as a small child visited relatives in East Texas. He died March 12, 1967 and is buried in Los Angeles, California. My request is that anyone with knowledge of family please write to me, Mrs. Betsy Lawrence Lanclos, at P.O. Box 130513, Tyler, TX 75713-0513.

Betsy Lawrence Lanclos

Letter to the Editor,

I am writing in regard to a stated proposal that concerns the Farm Bill of 1986. It states that farmers would have to irrigate unplanted acres in order to receive deficiency payments.

I agree with Senator Lloyd Bentsen that the rule is "unneeded and discriminatory." I believe that it is also economically infeasible. If the proposed rule is to go into effect, it would drive financial strickened farmers farther into debt and would increase the rate of farmers leaving the land.

I feel that 50 percent lay out of acres would be more beneficial than the proposed percent of set aside. 30 percent set aside is not sufficient enough to get rid of our current inventory of agriculture commodities.

The only way to cure farmers problems as well as the economies is not through being competitive with foreign markets, but through a profit at the market place. There is no way the U.S. farmers can compete with Japan's $.37 per pound cotton when it costs us over $.60 per pound to raise it here.

I hope that people in and out of Congress will strive to help the U.S. farmers and not let such infeasible proposals go into effect into the Farm Bill, either this year of 1986 or in any year to come in the future.

> Sincerely, Barbara Schwertner

Unclaimed money owners due 'treasure hunt' by state

An historic Sesquicentennial treasure hunt awaits 150,000 Texans March 9, the date the state treasury distributes the largest list of "lost" property ever published in the United States.

The list will contain the names of 150,000 persons with abandoned or "lost" accounts worth at least $50, said State Treasurer Ann Richards. The entire list represents a total of $117 million in lost property.

"For Texas history buffs, this list contains the names of three to four times as many Texans as were in the entire state 150 years ago," she said, "and te $117 million in accounts is about 230 times larger than the cost of running the Republic in 1836."

About 87,000 of the names on the list come from abandoned savings and checking accounts, Ms. Richards said. Another 43,000 represent abandoned stocks, dividends, royalties, and upaid wages. About 13,000 are abandoned life insurance policies and about 7,000 are abandoned safe deposit boxes.

Under state law, such accounts become abandoned if they are allowed to remain idle a certain length of time, usually three or five years, depending on the type of account.

If the company holding the account is is reported to the state treasury and later turned over to the state.

The state may use the funds for general state services and for education, but the owners or their heirs may file a claim at any time in the future for the money held by the state. The total amount of money turned over to the state since the law passed in 1961 is now approaching $90 million

The list this year is about five times larger than the previous list, published in 1984. The reason for this growth is that the Legislature revised the Unclaimed Propery Law last year, shortening the dormancy period from seven years and closing loopholes that allowed some businesses not to report unclaimed property.

Persons who believe they have money in the Unclaimed Money Fund should either write the Texas Treasury at P.O. Box 12608 Capitol Station, Austin, Texas, 78711 or call the Texas Treasury's toll-free number, 1-800-321-2274.

Names listed under the City of Floydada are: Doyle L. Brown, Buddy's #2, Mrs. Byble Bullock, Roger D. Burns, Lane A. Decker, Lane A. and Loven Decker, J.A. and May Ja Dunlap, Butler M. Dr. Hale welcomes student

One of the most frequently made statements about medicine is, "We need more good family doctors." To meet this need the Texas Legislature has instituted programs to train family doctors. Currently there are 21 community-base Family Practice Residency Programs throughout the state training family doctors. But how do doctors become interested in family medicine in this so-called age of super-specializa-

One of the best ways has been the development of another statewide program, the preceptorship program, according to Dr. Jack Haley, Statewide Preceptorship Coordinator from Houston. Volunteer members of the Texas Academy from across the state are carefully selected to take part in this program. It gives third- and fourth-year medical students the opportunity to see what the specialty of family practice is really like by actually working in a family practice setting under the guidance and supervision of a member of the Texas Chapter of the American Academy of Family Physicians.

One such preceptor is Dr. Samuel Andrew Hale, a local family doctor. Dr. Hale welcomed Mr. Philip Deffer, 4th year medical student from Texas Tech Medical School in Lubbock. Mr. Deffer spent a month in Doctor Hale's practice learning and observing what it was like to be a family doctor.

The objectives and purposes of the Academy are: (1) to promote and maintain high standards of family practice in medicine and surgery; (2) to encourage and assist young men and women in preparing, qualifying, and establishing themselves in family practice; (3) to advance medical science, private and public health, and to preserve the patient's right to free choice of physician; (4) to assure that family physicians can engage in medical and surgical procedures for which they are qualified by training and experience; (5) to assist in providing continuing education for family physicians; and (6) to acknowledge and assume responsible public advocacy in all health-related matters.

Widener gives program to Homebuilders Club

Homebuilders Club met February 18 in the Senior Citizens building. The scheduled meeting for February 11 was postponed due to bad weather. The meeting was on "Women and Estates Planning" with Lela Mae Burns acting as hostess. The usual business meeting was conducted by the President Ruth Trapp. A very informative program was given by Gladys Widener. She reminded the club to make themselves aware of their rights as a woman. Farm Journals survey of 400 male farmers showed that 1 in 5 had done no planning, not even oral instructions. Texas is 1 of 8 community property states in the United States. The nature of property ownership determine who owns the property, who has the right to manage, and what can happen upon death when there is no will. Texas land recognizes that husband and wife own equally what they work to acquire during marriage.

State property laws in 42 non-community property states deprive women of ownership rights. Even most married women do not really own property jointly acquired during marriage until they are widowed or divorced. This can

A model state law patterned after the best features of the law in states like Texas, the Uniform Marital Property Act, has been proposed by the Uniform Law Commission. Eventually this law should appear on the agenda's of state legislature. Some of the steps in estate planning

Whirlwind Relays Unreel Saturday

Green, maroon, purple, gold, black, champion. red, blue and a variety of other colors will dot the Floydada track field Saturday as 11 boys teams and 13 girls squads vie for honors in the 11th annual Whirlwind Relays.

"Mostly AA and AAA schools" will be competing in the traditional event. Competing in the male division are to be athletes from the following schools: Floydada, Tulia, Childress, Lorenzo, Paducah, Crosbyton, Memphis, Petersburg, Lockney, Clarendon and Lubbock Christian. Female athletes from these same 11 schools, plus Lubbock Cooper and Slaton, are entered.

Coach Mike Vickers, head of the Whirlwind track program, says that field events are scheduled to get underway at 9:00 a.m., with preliminary running events set to begin at 9:30. Finals of running events unreel about 2 p.m. and "hopefully we'll be finished before dark," Vickers says.

Adult fans are invited to watch the meet at the local track, located near high school. There is no admission charge.

"We've got some good teams coming in," Coach Vickers believes. The same is true in the fem division.

The 'Wind mentor offered these observations Monday concerning several of the visiting teams:

Tulia - Excellent speed; strong sprint relay and also individual sprinters; good miler and long jumper

Paducah — Good depth Crosbyton — Strong tradition Memphis — Excellent speed

Lockney - Good distance people, particularly strong in mile and two-mile runs. Castro is state cross-country Clarendon - Good speed. Coach Sharp's son good distance man. Floydada's squad for its host meet is expected to number "about 25."

This was the season opener for the Floydada girls.

Coach Tommy Baxter points out that Miss Turner "broke her own school record for the 100 meter dash in the preliminaries," which also was her debut of the '86 campaign. Her seasonbest last year as a freshman was 12.96, compared with the 12.85 clocking

Coach Baxter notes that "in the sprints, hurdles and short relays the girls are already running at near last year's best times. This is very pleasing and makes the rest of the year look promising. In the case of the 100, 200 and 100 meter hurdles, we ran faster than we did at the finish of last year. When some of our injured runners are healthy again, we should even do better, especially in the 800 run and mile relay.'

"Quite a few of these girls are freshmen and sophomores," Baxter explains. He has only two seniors -Althea Campbell and Margaret Vargas — and four juniors on the varsity squad, which numbered 22 as of Monday.

Paige Cannon captured the lone first

Does participation in 4-H make a difference in the lives of individuals? A nationwide poll last fall of 1,761 individuals showed that 4-H does. indeed, have a positive effect on the lives of individuals who were involved in 4-H is an informal educational program for youth between the ages of 9 and 19 that is conducted by the Extension Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, and State Extension Service. Its objective is to provide help in the development of knowledge and leadership as well as in problem-solving and personal skills.

the program as youths.

"Major purpose of the poll was to determine the impact of the 4-H experience on the lives of former 4-H members," said Dr. Howard Ladewig. program evaluation specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and leader of the study. Working with Ladewig was Dr. John Thomas, rural sociologist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. The study was funded by a grant from ES, USDA.

The randomly selected sample of individuals in the study included 710 former 4-H members and 743 members of other youth organizations. The remainder had not been involved in organized groups during their youth.

A key finding of the survey, Ladewig said, is that former 4-H members today are more active in community activities, particularly in leadership roles, than nonmembers.

When comparing both former 4-H members and those participating in other youth organizations with nonparticipants in youth groups, the community involvement aspect is particularly significant. "Those who did not take part in organizations as youth are currently much less involved in adult community activities," Ladewig noted.

4-H also tends to have family ties, Ladewig pointed out. Former 4-H members indicated that their children are participating in 4-H to a large degree (by 50 percent more than children of non 4-H members). They themselves also take part in Extension educational programs and activities to a significantly greater degree than former members of other youth groups as well as former nonparticipants in youth

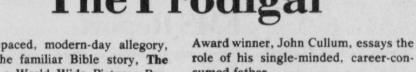

"One reason for the greater involvement by former 4-H'ers relates to the types of experiences they had as youths. Without question, the study showed that former 4-H members have higher rankings to personal development, knowledge, leadership and coping skills experiences than did former members of other organizations," Ladewig noted.

"4-H participants also felt that their overall experiences were more valuable to them than did participants of other youth organizations," he said.

The study also found that characteristics of 4-H members, as youths, are no different from other youths across the nation who are involved in such gruops as Scouts, Boys and Girls Clubs, YMCA and YWCA, church organiza-

Further study of the survey data will focus on reasons why particular activities have led to greater involvement of former youth group members in community affairs. A fast-paced, modern-day allegory, akin to the familiar Bible story, The Prodigal, a World Wide Pictures Presentation, will be shown from 6:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. Sunday, March 9 at First Baptist Church of Floydada.

Set in contemporary urban framework

Heading the outstanding cast are John Hammond, Hope Lange and John Cullum. Hammond, who portrays the title role of the wayward son caught up in the netherworld web of drugs and sex, was recently starred in the hit mini-series "The Blue and the Gray." Award-winning actress Hope Lange stars as his confused and bewildered role of his single-minded, career-consumed father.

World Wide Pictures, producers of such award-winning films as The Hiding Place and Joni, is the film organization of the Billy Graham Association, and the internationally-known evangelist has a cameo role in the picture.

In commenting on the feature-length The Prodigal, producer Ken Wales stated, "This is both an entertainment and a message piece. Some people will be uncomfortable when they see this film, as it strikes so close to home, paralleling so many of today's family situations. But we believe that the current trend of the public's willingness to examine its own conscience will place it on the 'must see' list of family entertainment."

Pastor Howell Farnsworth and the members of First Baptist Church extend an invitation to all to attend this special

Noted for its historical flag raising on Iwo Jima in February 1945, the Division was deactivated following WWII, and then became a part of The Marine Corps Reserve Forces. During the Vietnam conflict many Marines served with activated elements of the 5th Marine Division. Any veteran who served attached to or with the 5th Marine Division at any time, is eligible for membership with the Association. All who attend will have many memories of old friendships renewed, new friendships made, and neighborly memories of Texas hospitality. DAR selects 1986 Good Citizens

Jamie Thayer of Floydada and Rob Wilson of Ralls received recognition from the Buffalo Grass Chapter of the DAR as Good Citizens for 1986 in ceremonies held at Lighthouse Electric on February 25. Each was presented with a plaque commemorating their achievements.

Wilson, a senior at Ralls High School, also received a $100 scholarship. His winning essay will be submitted to state competition in the annual DAR contest. He is the son of George and Jeanette Wilson of Ralls.

Thayer, the daughter of Fred and Jan Thayer of Floydada, is a senior at Floydada High School. She was the recipient of a cash award as well as a plaque.

Good Citizens awards are made annually on the basis of three criteria. Personal activities, knowledge of the American system of government, and an essay written by the student are considered in choosing the Good Citizens each year. Winners should display "a high degree of dependability, service to the community, leadership, and patriotism."

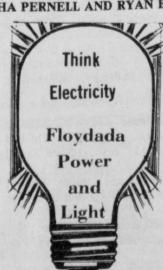

They must correctly answer questions

The two winning essays are reprinted in the Hesperian with the kind permission of the DAR, Buffalo Grass Chapter.

Our American Heritage and My Responsibility

to Preserve It

By Rob Wilson

Since the founding of the United States over two hundred years ago, extreme measures have been taken to preserve its heritage. Most Americans would assume that our heritage has been preserved by keeping historical documents in museums, behind guarded cases, or by the restoration of buildings where events that shaped the United States government took place. However, our true American heritage has been kept alive by the citizens hemselves, with their genuine spirit of freedom, and faith in God.

As an American citizen, it is my duty to help preserve our fascinating history and freedom. Although everyone cannot visit our nations' great historical sites, such as Mount Vernon, Independence Hall, or the Statue of Liberty, or see the Constitution, Declaration of Independence or their Bill of Rights, they can take steps to preserve the American heritage in each person. This can be accomplished in an infinite amount of methods. One of the simplest ways is by voting. Although teenagers, such as I, cannot vote as of yet, we view it as a privilege of adult life. Besides our responsibility of voting, we can take part in various school and community activities that promote patriotism. Young people today have difficulty in realizing how fortunate they are to live in a free country as we do. They take our democratic government and our symbols of freedom for granted. Therefore, they must be informed of our nations' great history to be able to carry on the true American spirit for generations. Youth programs like the Boy Scouts of America or Girl Scouts are excellent in this line. One is taught his or her American responsibilities and ways to live up to those duties as a good citizen. Here, as in some school classes one learns about our national flag and national anthem, and how to treat each respectfully. Also we learn not only the words of our pledge, but its meaning.

By learning these basics of our heritage, we can build upon them with more knowledge of our nation. In school, participation in student government helps one see the problems that faced our founding fathers as well as our leaders today. Study of the American government also contributes to our knowledge of our country, tracing its progression from a small band of revolutionaries to a major world power. We can support the United States' history by simply observing national holidays, like the Fourth of July and Veteran's Day, and learning about their significance.

Thus, to maintain our country's heritage, it is every citizens duty and right to provide themselves, as well as others with information of our nations' history and its influence on our lives today. We must realize that our heritage doesn't come from pages of

By Jamie Thayer As a teenager of the eighties, I have probably not realized to what extent my acceptance of the responsibility of being an American will have on my life. I do know, however, that the responsibility of keeping the American spirit alive Being a part of this generation, I must worth. always support this country and keep a tions, and FFA and FHA, the specialist firm belief in its values. The youth of today will have to begin at an early stage to take on its responsibilities and step proudly and fearlessly into com-

It is my opinion that my generation is also going to have to do a lot of repair work in the area of morals and family life. As a female who has grown up during a time when women have quickly changed from an almost completely domestic way of life to a career-minded group, I have seen the abrupt disintegration of what was once a strong family foundation in this country. I feel that we must begin to rebuild our families and our moral values, not necessarily by having women stop working, but by emphasizing a strong need for guidance and a family's strength in our children. We must also instill in our children the pride and courage to be strong Americans through teaching and example.

Each and every one of us, as Americans, has the responsibility to keep this country at its best. We are all responsible for the protection of our rights and our freedoms. The future depends on all of us doing what is best for all, being very generous with our time and effort, and sacrificing what may be valuable to us. Although I have not yet decided what I am going to do with my life, I know that whatever I become, whether it be a politician, businesswoman, or housewife, I must use my talents to the greatest extent for the one purpose of preserving the American heritage and insuring a better tomorrow for my fellow Americans.
