Floyd marker dedication set June 21 at courthouse

A public ceremony dedicating an official Texas State Historical Marker in honor of Dolphin Ward Floyd is planned for Saturday, June 21, at 3:00 p.m. at the Floyd County Courthouse in Floydada. The commemorative marker recognizes the role Floyd played in Texas History as a defender at the Alamo. The marker is being placed in Floyd County because of the county, one of many named for heroes of the Alamo, bears his name.

180 invitations have been sent to members of the Floyd family requesting their presence for the dedication and offering them the opportunity to participate in a Floyd Family Reunion planned for June 21 and 22. 70 invitations went to Texas Floyd families, 62 to families in Georgia, and 48 to Floyd families in 28 other states. The dedication and the reunion are being sponsored by the Floyd County Historical Commission and Floyd County Historical Museum.

Dolphin Ward Floyd is also being honored on the Sesquicentennial Coins available for purchase at the museum. The face of the coin features a depiction of Floyd centered between the Alamo and the Texas flag. The coin bears the Sesquicentennial logo on the reverse side. Floyd County native Larry Smitherman designed the coins, the second in the Floyd County Series. The coins have been minted in gold, silver, antique bronze and antique silver.

Farmers irked by road conditions

Members of the Floyd County Commissioners Court were confronted by a group of farmers who expressed grave concern over the deteriorating condition of roads in southwest Floyd County during the regular monthly session held June 9. Voicing complaints were eight farmers from Precinct 1.

According to the group, "recent heavy rains have made poorly maintained roads nearly impassable". Spokesman for the group, Steve Trowbridge, stated, "We know times are hard and your budget is tight, but the roads in Precinct 1 have not been properly maintained for a long time."

"We elected you (Sam Spence) to handle the business of Precinct 1 and you have done a poor job of maintaining the roads. This reflects on you as commissioner for not supervising your roadhands and pushing them to give the taxpayers a fair day's work for their pay."

Other complaints voiced by the farmers included allegations that roadhands have been unnecessarily rude to area residents as well as "sleeping on the job" and "just sitting and doing nothing".

Spence answered the allegations, saying, "I have talked to my hands and I just don't know what else to do. I see them each morning and they know what has to be done."

Among suggestions made by the farmers for improving the situation were "closer supervision on the job" and replacing employees unwilling to work with some who will.

Trowbridge said, "I know that the rain makes it hard to work the roads now. All we are asking is that our roads be worked and worked right as soon as possible. We are having some tough times now, too, and it makes it harder on us to have to see that our roads are usable when we are paying taxes to have the county do it."

Reports by County Treasurer Glenna Orman and County Auditor Bobbie Hamilton indicate the county has $1,009,000.00 in certificates of deposit which have earned $43,907.62 in interest this year.

The county began the month with $281,651.58 in operating funds and collected receipts totaling $972,888.77. Disbursements totaled $1,101,986.54, leaving a balance of $151,553.81 to begin the month of June, according to Orman. Part of the collections for May included a $6,689.22 rebate for the state bank franchise taxes collected.

Expenditures approved included the purchase of three new typewriters. One will be placed in the District Clerk's office, one in the District Attorney's office, and the third in the office of the County Judge's secretary.

The court also approved a request by the County Librarian, Sandra Crawford, for carpet to be installed in the east room of the library. Crawford made the

Lackey wins fresh term by nine run-off votes

In one of the closest races in county annals, Jack Lackey was re-elected as Precinct Four commissioner by a nine-vote margin over challenger Don Green during Saturday's Democratic Primary run-off.

The incumbent was named on 266 ballots to 257 votes for Green.

Baker voting box favored Lackey by a 38-19 plurality and Dougherty gave him a 41-19 margin. Green polled 177 votes in the Southeast Floydada box to 112 for his opponent. Lackey led 75-42 in absentees.

Exact number of votes in the Democratic Primary was not available, but the greatest vote total was 551 ballots cast in the Gonzalez-Gibson race for judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals, Place One. Five hundred and 23 ballots were cast in the Precinct Four commissioners contest, which means that the vast majority of Floyd County Democratic voters Saturday turned out for the local race.

This county had a voting strength for the June 7 run-off of 5,210, according to Jonelle Fawver, county tax assessor-collector. This means that only 9.46 percent went to the polls Saturday.

The number of eligible voters in Precinct Four for the latest election was 1,305. The run-off figures in this precinct represented 40.07 percent of the potential voting strength.

Floyd voters differed from statewide returns on two of the five Texas races: justice of the Supreme Court, Place One, and justice of the Supreme Court, Place Four.

County Democratic returns on the statewide races:

Railroad commissioner — John Sharp 409, P.S. Ervin 98

Justice, Supreme Court, Place One — Shirley Butts 256, Oscar H. Mauzy 255

Justice, Supreme Court, Place Two — Robert M. Campbell 300, Jim Brady 217

Justice, Supreme Court, Place Four — Jay Gibson 344, Raul A. Gonzalez 207

Judge, Court of Criminal Appeals, Place One — Rusty Duncan 370, George "Jorge" Martinez 154

Different probations explained

By Allee Gilroy

"If I had known probation was going to be this hard I would have rather gone to the pen," said one surprised probationer to District Attorney Randy Hollums.

There are basically three types of probation," according to Hollums. "There is deferred adjudication probation, regular probation, and shock probation."

When a person is given deferred adjudication probation by the courts it means that there is not a finding of guilt by the court. "The court finds," says Hollums, "that there is sufficient evidence to find the person guilty but instead they defer further proceedings and place the person on probation."

This type of probation is used often with youthful first time offenders. If the probationer finishes out his probation term without incident than there will be no felony conviction on his record.

"If the probationer violates his probation during a time period not to exceed 10 years," says Hollums, "the probationer will be called before the judge for a hearing. If the judge decides the terms have been violated he will then find the probationer guilty and will then sentence him to either prison time or place him on regular probation."

"The down side for the probationer on deferred adjudication probation is that if he violates his terms of probation the judge can impose a sentence up to the maximum time allowed for the offense. On regular probation, a probationer can only receive 10 years in the penitentiary if probation is revoked."

According to Hollums, "This type of probation is not available to people convicted of DWI, or involuntary manslaughter involving DWI."

Another type of probation is commonly referred to as regular probation. If a person is found guilty of a crime and is placed on regular probation it constitutes a felony conviction on his record, which is different from deferred adjudication.

"Under regular probation," says Hollums, "a person can be placed on probation for any period of time from two to ten years. It is possible for a person to receive a three year sentence but still be placed on probation for the maximum of ten years. If regular probation is revoked, prison time cannot exceed ten years, but with deferred adjudication it can exceed ten years."

The third type of probation is shock probation. This is generally used on more serious types of offenses or when

James Hale appointed Floydada police chief

Council members for the city of Floydada took action on a matter which has been pending for sometime during their June 10 regular meeting. James Hale, acting police chief for the Floydada City Police Department was formally appointed Chief.

Hale has served in an acting capacity since February of 1985 following the resignation of then Police Chief Dough Brewer. He has been involved in law enforcement in Floyd County since 1977, working in Lockney and for the Sheriff's Department prior to coming to Floydada over three years ago.

Said Mayor Parnell Powell, "He has done a good job for us and I think it is time we made his position official."

The council concurred, voting to approve the appointment on a motion by Wayne Russell, seconded by Don Green.

A public hearing concerning the proposed demolition of the Dean Drummond property at 625 W. Grover brought several residents to the session. Neighbors living in the vicinity again voiced complaints, calling the property "a health hazard, unsightly, dirty, and dangerous and has been for years." They asked that the city have the health officer, Dr. Andy Hale, inspect the premises.

Ann Thomason came before the council to request additional time to clear up the problems. She stated that she was unable to contact her son-in-law (Drummond) to get him to deed the property back to her as he had never paid her for it.

Probation office in courthouse

To clarify a point that was inadvertently overlooked in last week's article on probation, as required by the Code of Criminal Procedures, the county in which a probation office is located provides office space and equipment. Accordingly, the central probation office is provided office space and equipment by Floyd County and the satellite office and equipment is provided by Dickens County.

The adult probation officers "will be happy to answer any further questions about probation." They may be contacted at 983-2947.

GREEN SEEKS RECOUNT

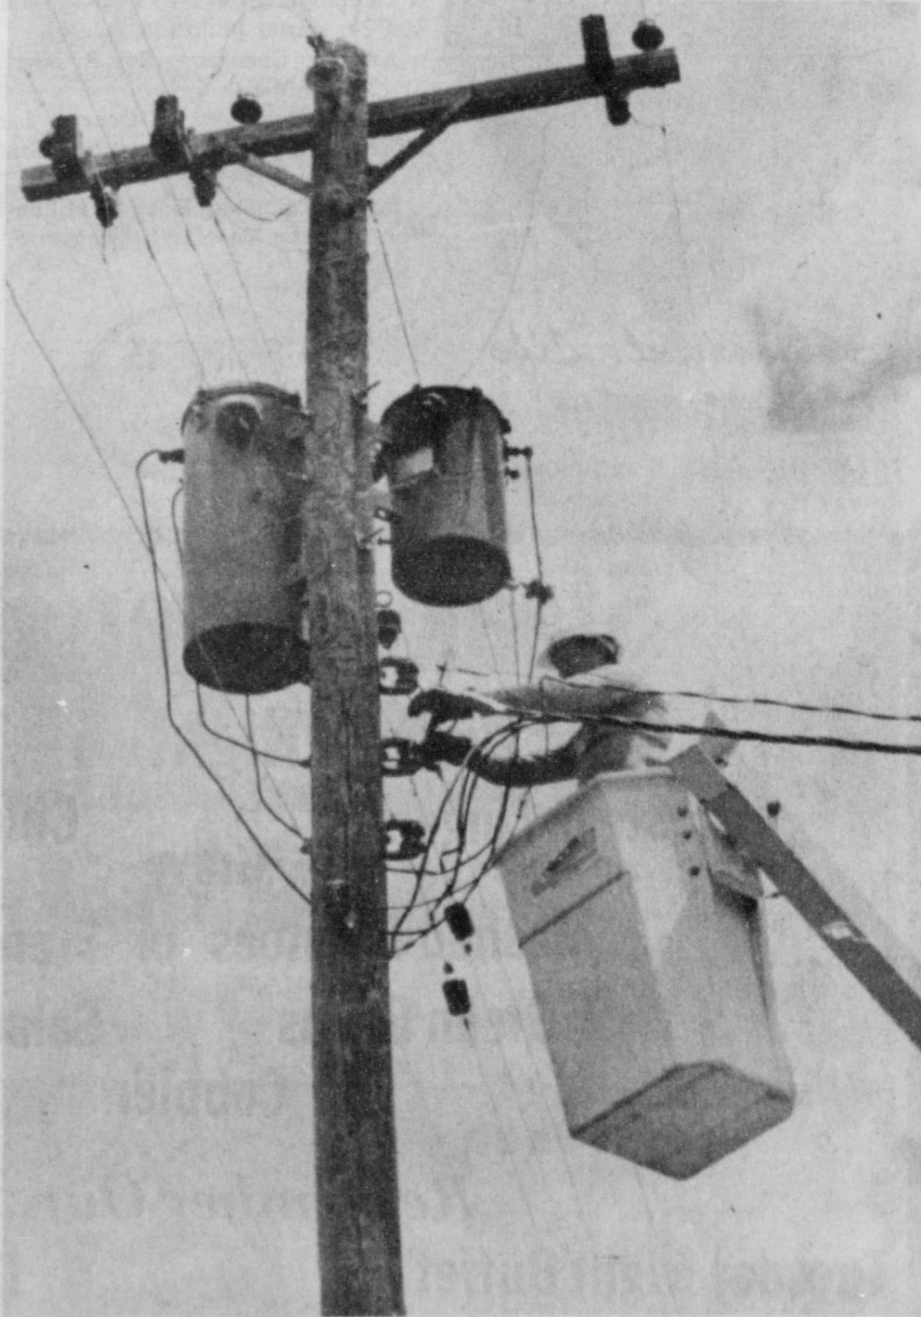

The Hesperian has learned that Don Green is seeking a recount in the Precinct Four commissioners race. The recount petition must be filed within two days after ballots are canvassed.

No vote change during canvass

"No change" was made in the Democratic Primary run-off results when they were canvassed Tuesday morning by the Floyd County Democratic Executive Committee.

Vote count in the Precinct Four commissioner's race remained 266 for Jack Lackey and 257 for Don Green.

The group met at 10 a.m. in the grand jury room of the Floyd County Courthouse district courtroom.

Probations explained

 a person is in violation of the first two types of probation.
 Shock probation is not available to people convicted of murder, aggravated kidnapping, aggravated sexual assault, deadly assault on law enforcement or corrections officer or a court participant.
 It is also not available to a person who causes serious bodily injury to a person 13 or under, or 65 or older, one guilty of aggravated robbery, or bribery, one who provides a deadly weapon for the purpose of escaping, or to anyone who engages in organized criminal activity.
 "Under shock probation a person receives a penitentiary sentence, but anytime after the expiration of 60 days in the pen, but before the expiration of 180 days, a hearing can be requested to place the person on probation," said Hollums. "The judge, after reviewing the prison record can then suspend further execution of the sentence imposed.

 "The person who receives probation after spending at least 60 days in prison, will then be put on probation for the remainder of his prison sentence."
 Shock probation will not be granted to someone who has ever before served time for a felony, and there is no guarantee when sent to the penitentiary that he will be brought back to serve on regular probation.
 "Sometimes," said Hollums, "the length of time a person serves in shock probation will be almost as long as the person would serve in the pen on regular time."
 "The terms and conditions for felony probationers (see separate chart) can be very difficult and sometimes can be more worthwhile than sending someone to the pen and letting them go largely unsupervised after a short period of time."

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:
 I would appreciate you putting my new address in a column, so I won't miss hearing from my friends after so many years in Floyd Co. I've moved and I will miss all of these people. I was going to send more news so I can help out a few people. Since Mrs. Green doesn't write Center News, I feel like we are missing something.
 Can you find someone to take Mrs. Green's job?
 Thank-you.

SQUARE DANCE NEWS

Whirlers had four squares dancing Friday night, June 6. James Pettus from Portales called an exceptionally good dance for us, and everyone left for home feeling good.
 We had two visitors—one from Roaring Springs and one from Alamogordo, New Mexico. Refreshments were served to all by Elbert and Sharron Sammann and Charles and Katherine Ball. Floyd Bradford won both of the door prizes.
 Workshops continue each Thursday at 8:00 p.m. Our next dance will be June 21, and we will dance at the pavilion south of the courthouse.

Capital improvements concern school board

A disappointing return on recent advertisements for bids on planned capital improvement projects for Floydada Independent School District resulted in the tabling of one project at the Monday, June 9, meeting of the board of trustees.

The only bid received for the renovation and sealing of the exterior of the Junior High came in about $5,000.00 higher than expected when bids were opened by trustees Freddie Morren, Bill Orman, Harvey Allen, Weldon Pruitt, Charlene Brown, Don Hardy, and John Dunlap. An estimate obtained in May after an on-site inspection by the bidding company, Karr Tuckpointing, Inc., of Texarkana, Texas, totaled less than $20,000 for the project. The bid opened Monday night came to almost $24,000.

Administrative assistant Jimmie Collins was instructed to contact the bidding company and attempt to ascertain the reason for the wide margin of variance in the estimate and the bid. Action on the matter was tabled until a later date pending receipt of that information.

One bid was received for the necessary materials to complete installation of aluminum bleachers on the visitors stands at the football stadium. Southern Bleachers of Graham, Texas, was awarded the bid for $14,585.00.

The proposed installation of 12 new steel doors at the Junior High was revised after the opening of bids and the bid was split between the two bidders on the project. Walter Davis Construction of Floydada will install 4 extra width steel doors instead of 8 single width steel doors and Plainview Plate Glass of Plainview will install a set of glass doors with a decorative panel on either side at the main entrance to the Junior High building. PPG will be paid $2,840 and Davis will be paid $6,190.

Collins reported that tax collections are 94 percent complete as of May 31 with $826,282.51 collected. This compares with collections at this time in 1985 of $852,857.88 or 93 percent.

The board accepted resignations from Dana Jones, special education teacher at R. C. Andrews, Rhonda Lyles, 4th grade teacher at R. C. Andrews, and Julie Ratheal, Junior High math teacher.

Anne Carthel requested reassignment from her position as English teacher at High School to physical education teacher at A. B. Duncan Elementary. This was approved.

New employees hired on the recommendation of Superintendent Jerry Cannon were: Sharon Redden, 4th grade at R. C. Andrews; Robert Redden, physical education at R. C. Andrews; Connie Bertrand, computer aide at R. C. Andrews; and Delores Collins, pre-kindergarten at Della Plains.

The board approved a library policy submitted by high school librarian Carol Reece.

Cannon distributed copies of the proposed budget for the 1986-87 school year to board members and asked that they review it in preparation for upcoming budget sessions.

The board went into an executive session to discuss personnel before adjourning. No action was taken following the closed meeting.

HOLLIS [COY] AND MARY JO PAYNE

Hollis Paynes amass 56 years as Floydada school system educators

When Hollis (Coy) and Mary Jo Payne retired from the Floydada school system at the conclusion of the 1985-86 year, they had compiled over a half century — 56 years — of educating youngsters in this community.

In addition to teaching students the basic fundamentals, Hollis Payne points to helping children learn various sports as the highlight of his teaching career. "It has been a great thrill to see students grow up to do an outstanding job in athletics," he says.

It has been with keen interest that Payne has followed former students "to higher achievement in various fields of study."

He has taught 34 years in the Floydada school system.

Reared at Crowell, Texas, where he was graduated from high school in 1944, he served from 1944-46 in the U.S. Army with the 24th Infantry Division. He was graduated from Baylor University in 1950 and from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in 1966.

In the fall of 1951, he began teaching fifth grade in R. C. Andrews School in Floydada. He taught sixth grade at junior high school and Duncan Elementary School for a number of years before returning to R. C. Andrews to teach sixth grade for one year, after which he took P.E. and bilingual classes and taught these subjects for some time.

"For the past few years," he has been engaged in teaching health-P.E. in fourth-sixth grades.

He is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Coy (C. L.) Payne of Crowell and comes from a family which includes two other brothers and three sisters. Both of Payne's brothers started their careers as coaches and later teachers. One, Kenneth Payne, was a school superintendent, primarily at Keller, for many years prior to his retirement.

22-YEAR CAREER

Mary Jo Payne has taught 22 years in the Floydada school system. She retires now only to go with her husband into full-time ministry, she explains.

Born in Jackson, Tennessee, Mrs. Payne is the daughter of Mattie Wester of Floydada. In 1951, her family moved to Los Angeles, California, where she attended Los Angeles School of Vocational Nursing. Later, they moved to Plainview and she decided to further her education by enrolling in Wayland Baptist University.

At Wayland, she received a B.A. degree, majoring in Elementary and Secondary Education and minoring in English. She was a member of the International Choir.

In the fall of 1959, Mrs. Payne launched her teaching career as a first grade instructor at R. C. Andrews. She has also taught second and fifth grades. Later, she received her bilingual certification and taught bilingual classes.

Mrs. Payne says "mastery in education is MOST important, but you need some TENDER, LOVING CARE to go with it."

She believes one should be positive in attitude. The longtime educator has frequently been heard to remark that "Children are beautiful. We must mold them to become the BEST for our future." The challenge she gives to her students is always "reach for the HIGHEST STAR."

Mr. and Mrs. Payne are parents of two children, Tammy Payne Aten of Seminole and Hollis Joe Payne of South Plains College.

"We will appreciate your prayers as we seek the Lord's leadership in full-time service," the couple says.

They plan to maintain their home in Floydada "among family and friends."

Local highway department plants wild flowers

By Donnell D. Gowens

Throughout the year, the Floyd County Maintenance Section of the Texas Highway Department tries to spread and encourage the growth of wild flowers on the right of way along roadways in Floyd County. This is done through the practice of mowing and spreading seeds to other areas that might be enjoyed by the traveling public and residents of the county.

Two especially adapted areas for this exist in Floyd County. They are FM 97 and FM 1065 in the northeastern part of the county and the area along U.S. 62 south of Floydada. The department delays mowing in these areas until all of the wild flowers have had time to mature and go to seed.

A new mowing practice has been adopted for the entire county. The right of way is mowed to a height of not lower than 7 inches. This encourages the growth of low profile plants and grasses, allowing them to flourish. The practice also helps in preventing erosion during high winds and heavy rains.

Landscaping on the local office grounds has been devoted to the development of bedded areas for growing wild flower species. This work is being coordinated by W. H. Finley Jr. Finley is especially interested in the spreading of wild flowers in this area.

The maintenance section in Floyd County has been selected as a nominee for the Lady Bird Johnson Award for District Five. This award is given in recognition for highway beautification efforts using wild flowers.

District Five covers a 17 county area on the South Plains. The local section will be competing with 24 other districts in the state.

Local beautification projects are a combined effort of all the employees in the section. These projects are carried out along with regular maintenance work that the county roadways require.

Local highway beautification projects are a combined effort of all the

The primary purpose of the department is to maintain the roadways in Floyd County in a manner which will make them as safe as possible while making them as enjoyable as possible for the traveling public

Ruth Evans, speaking on behalf of Thomson asked that the council do the "christian thing" and allow her the time she needs to get the property back in her name and then to fix it up. Evans also stated, "She (Thomson) is going to take it to court if the city tries to tear it down." She added, "I was not aware that the communists had moved in and could just take a person's property or tear their house down if they don't do just like the neighbors say."

Discussion centered on the fact that Drummond is the legal owner of record and that the action pursuant to the property is being taken against him. Don Green ended the discussion, making a motion that the city proceed with legal steps to get the property cleaned up. Ginger Warren seconded the motion and the vote was in favor, authorizing demolition proceedings to continue.

A motion to proceed with the demolition process was approved regarding a second property, the house at 508 W. Grover belonging to Floydada Pepper. W. H. Simpson, Jr. is the owner of record.

Glen Tullis property at 812 S. Main was removed from legal proceedings. Roy Tullis submitted photos showing that the house has been renovated and is in good condition.

An additional 30 days to show progress was given to Norberto Hernandez (314 W. Marivena), Sylvester Mitchell (East Gorver and North 11th), and S.L. Makerg (610 E. Ross). All have shown some progress in the past 30 days.

Vernon Wickware was the only bidder on the demolition of the H.B. Peek property at 1008 S. 4th. He was awarded the job for a fee of $650.00.

Representatives of the Floydada Senior Citizens Center appeared before the council to request financial assistance in meeting their utility bills. According to L.D. Brittain, "Our funds from the government have been cut 21%. We are asking the city and the county to split the cost of the utility bills so that we can remain open." The bills presented to the council estimate a yearly tab of $2800 for utilities at the center. Council members approved $125 per month ($1500 per year) for the senior citizens. Said Mayor Powell, "We hope the county will see fit to match this funding for such a good cause."

All bids submitted for the purchase of a new dump truck were rejected. Council elected to consider purchasing a used truck or rebidding at a later date.

A.O. Smith of 131 E. Ollie requested that the council consider allowing him to connect on to the city sewer service. He was told that he must bear the cost of running the lines to obtain service since he is outside the city limits. He would also be responsible for the regular monthly bill if he elects to connect to city sewer.

Bill Stephens, SMC, Inc. reported to the council on his findings and recommendations concerning the city insurance status. He will draw up bid specifications for coverage as authorized by the council.

City Secretary Jimmie Lou Stewart told council members that the Blue Cross, Blue Shield coverage for city employees will cost more as of July 1. Coverage for each employee will raise from $42.60 per month to $50.66. Dependent coverage will raise from $82.76 per month to $104.67. The council approved the increase.

Final payment on the new lighting system at the airport was approved following the May 29th inspection by TAC authorities. TAC paid $21,819.60 and the city will pay $7,273.20 from excess funds set aside on the recent paving project at the airport.

The city has been spraying the lakes around town with larvicide to control mosquitos according to Mayor Powell. Mowing around town has also begun.

Council members entered an executive session for the purpose of discussing possible litigation prior to adjourning. No action was taken on the subjects under discussion.

Julie Morton feted with gift coffee

Miss Julie Morton, bride-elect of Craig Ellison, was honored recently in the Floydada home of Mrs. L.T. Hickerson with a miscellaneous gift coffee. Guests called between 10:30 and 11:30 a.m.

Greeting guests were Mrs. Hickerson, Miss Morton, her sister, Mrs. Melinda Turner, and Mrs. Barbara Ellison, mother of the prospective groom. Guests were registered by Mrs. Sue Higginbotham.

The refreshment table was covered with a beautiful pink and ecru hand crocheted tablecloth from Istanbul, Turkey, a gift to Mrs. Hickerson from a former A.F.S. student. The bride's chosen colors of shades of pink were carried out in the ceramic basket of pink silk flowers on the serving table. Mr.

Hickerson made the ceramic basket as a gift to the bride-elect. Appointments of silver and crystal complimented the table, where Miss Kelly Higginbotham served tea and coffee. Fruit kabobs, pumpkin cream roll and assorted breads were also served.

The hostess gift was a set of Visions cookware, a ceramic canister set and several pieces of the bride-elect's chosen casual china.

Hostesses for the occasion were: Mrs. Hickerson, Charlotte Campbell, Peggy Probasco, Sherre West, Anne Reddy, Elaine LaBaume, Janet Milam, Sherre Cannon, Barbara Willis, Sue Higginbotham, Carolyn Marble, Loretta Leatherman, Pauline McCormick, Vel Simpson, Janice Lloyd, Fern Anderson and Willie Marricle.

60th ANNIVERSARY—Robert and Amy Flsher of Greenwood, Arkansas celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary on May 1. The couple taught school in Floyd County for 19 years. They would like to have a letter from all their former pupils and friends telling all about where they are and where their children and grands are. The couple's address is: Route 3 Box 541, Greenwood, Arkansas 72936.

Hambricht and Chambers exchange vows

A 7 p.m. double ring ceremony June 6 united in marriage Miss Treva Hambricht and Dewayne Chambers of Waco. The First Baptist Church of Floydada was the site for the recitation of vows.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Hambricht of Floydada and Mr. and Mrs. S.L. Chambers of Waco. The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. J.O. Warren and Mrs. W.M. Hambricht of Floydada.

The ceremony, officiated by Dr. Floyd C. Bradley of Plainview, was performed before two seven-branch brass candelabras and two brass heart-shaped candelabras each holding 17 votive candles. Each arrangement was adorned with greenery, baby's breath and pink bows. Brass plant stands with large Boston fern flanked the steps leading to the altar. Six brass pew markers with hurricane globes and candles were decorated with baby's breath and pink bows. Brass urns with artificial wisteria enhanced the bridal area. Two brass candelabra holding shades of pink silk flowers were placed at the entrance of the sanctuary.

Musical selections were presented by Mrs. Dell Gray, organist. "Sunrise, Sunset" was played as parents of the couple were ushered in. The bride's brothers escorted their mother. Each of the parents lit a candle on either side of the unity candle. After the organist struck the hour with chimes, Dr. Bradley and the groom entered.

As the song, "What A Difference You Made In My Life" was being played, the groomsmen escorted the maid of honor and the bridesmaid to the altar. The flower girl dropped rose petals down the bridal aisle.

Purcell's Marital Air was played as the father of the bride escorted her to the steps at the bridal area. Jack Gregory sang, "Wedding Song," after which the couple repeated their vows. Before the ring ceremony, Jack Gregory sang, "With This Ring I Thee Wed."

Following the exchange of rings, Mrs. Grant Hambricht, sister-in-law of the bride, vocalized "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied on the piano by Grant Hambricht, brother of the bride. Following the benediction, the bride and groom descended the steps and lit the unity candle.

An eighteen white silk rose bridal arch was formed for the couple. As the couple walked through the arch, the roses were dropped simultaneously on the bridal train.

For her wedding, the bride chose a gown of satin and lace. Her sheer schiffli-embroidered neckline and yoke were trimmed with simulated pearls and sequins. The close-fitting bodice was of a soft lustrous acetate satin with nylon lace lined in acetate taffeta. The bodice with a chantilly-type lace overlay featured a sheer back yoke. Her gown was complimented with tapered sleeves and a bell-shaped skirt, which fell to a detachable chapel-length train.

Her headpiece, designed and made by the groom's mother, featured a bandeau-style crown with simulated pearls and fingertip-length veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of white silk roses, stephanotis, baby's breath, mauve wisteria and greenery. An heirloom pendant watch belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. J.O. Warren, was tied with ribbons in the bouquet. A mother-of-pearl Bible, carried by the bride's mother in her wedding, was also used as part of her bouquet arrangement. Inside the Bible were two crosses, hand tatted by Frances Mitchell and aunt of the bride, Alene McAdams.

In following tradition, the bride had as something old, the pendant watch entwined in her bouquet; something new was her attire; something borrowed was her mother's Bible, and something blue was a garter made by the groom's mother. She also wore a penny bearing the birth dates of she and the groom.

Maid of honor, Lisa Anderson of Floydada and bridesmaid, Susan Whitel of Abilene were attired in ankle-length gowns of scallop-edged crocheted suede rose lace, over its own acetate taffeta slip. The bodice was slightly blousoned, with a satin ribbon sash encircling the waist. They each carried a polyester lace fan trimmed with satin ribbon, mauve silk alstromeria lilies, rubem lilies and baby's breath.

Tami Tanner, niece of the groom of Waco, was the flower girl.

Mother of the bride wore a pink lace over pink linen two-piece dress with white silk gardenia corsage. The mother of the groom wore a mauve dress with white silk gardenia corsage. The grandmothers also complimented their dresses with white silk gardenia corsages.

Danny Whitel, cousin of the groom of Abilene, acted as best man. Groomsman was Ronnie Turner, brother-in-law of the groom of Waco. They, the groom and both fathers, were attired in grey tuxedos, white shirts with ascot collars, grey bow ties and grey cummerbunds. Ushers were Craig Hambricht of Littlefield and Grant Hambricht of Klondike, both brothers of the bride. They wore black tuxedos, white shirts and black bow ties. All male attendants, the groom and fathers of the couple wore pale pink silk rosebuds accentuated with baby's breath.

A reception was held in the Wall Street Parlor following the ceremony. Charlotte Tanner, sister of the groom, secured names of guests in the bridal book. The register table held a silver compote with candles and silk flowers. She presented each guest with a pink satin book marker.

Reception assistants were Mmes. Juan Mendoza, Y.E. McAdams Jr., Odell Breed, Jerry Towler, Bob Hambricht, Craig Hambricht, Grant Hambricht, Jerry Cannon, and Paul Stapp. Miss Alissa Hambricht handed out rice bags which were thrown as the couple departed the reception.

A receiving line was formed with the bridal attendants, parents of the couple and bride and groom.

The bride's table was laid with a lace cloth over ecru liner. The mother of the bride baked a three-tiered wedding cake, which was decorated with silk flowers and topped with a bride and groom. A pink water fountain under the bottom layer served as the focal point. Pink bell-shaped mints, made by the mother, were served along with mixed nuts. Punch was served from silver and crystal appointments. A silver candleholder, the bride's bouquet and the attendants fans highlighted the setting.

The groom's table featured a chocolate cake, cheese ball and crackers. Coffee was served from silver and crystal appointments. A silver compote dish holding candles and silk flowers decorated this lace covered table.

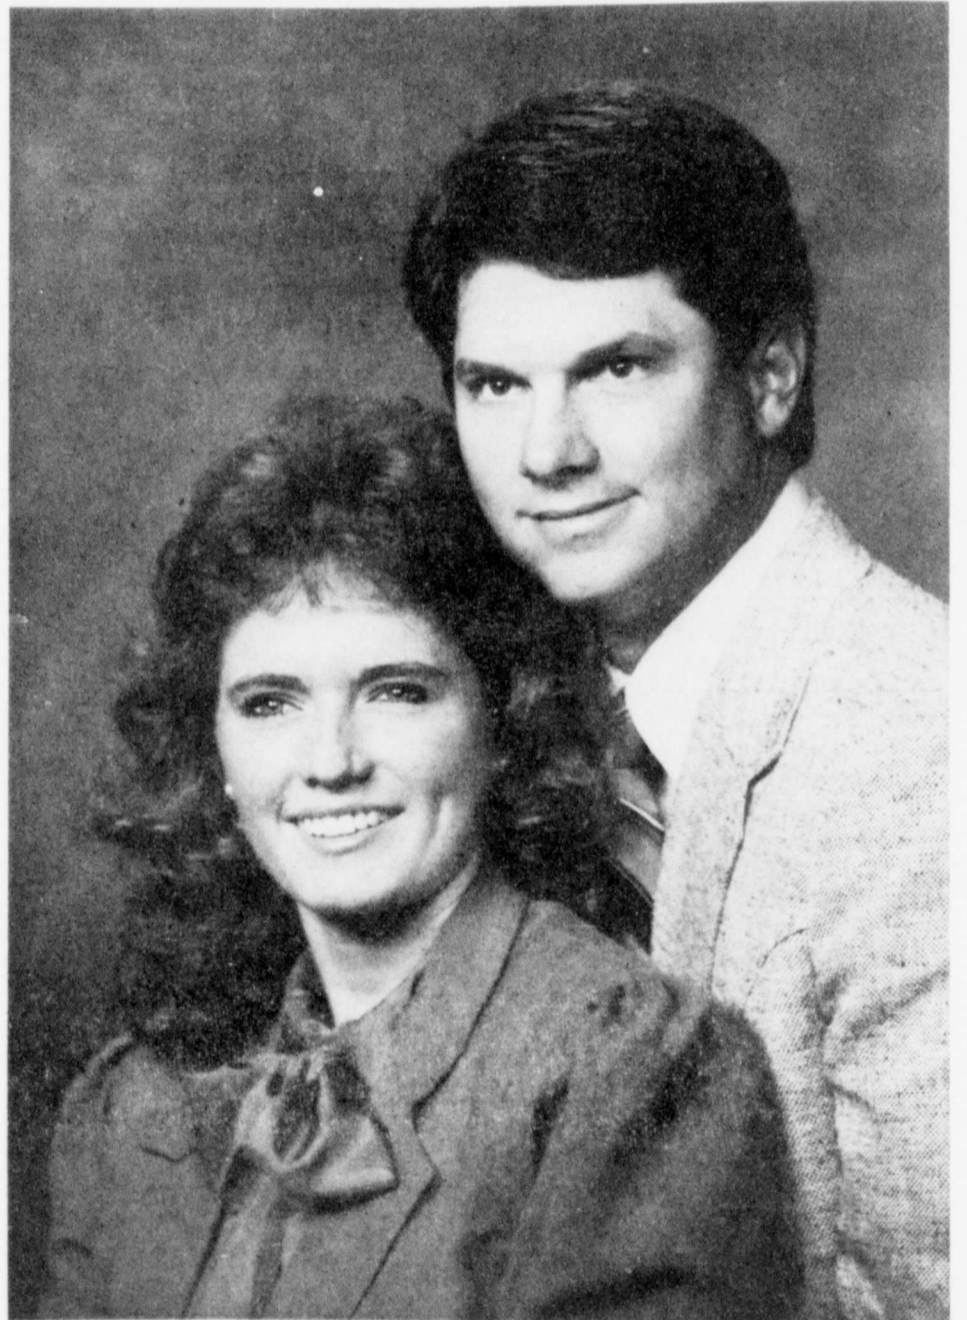

For traveling, the bride wore a white linen two-piece suit, blue shell, and corsage of white silk roses and baby's breath, taken from her bridal bouquet.

Following a wedding trip to Ruidoso, New Mexico, the couple will reside in Waco.

The bride is a graduate of Floydada High School. Both she and the groom are graduates of Baylor University. The bride received a degree in elementary education. The groom is employed with McClellan Community College in Waco.

A rehearsal dinner, catered by Bobby Rainer was hosted by the groom's parents in the fellowship hall of First Baptist Church.

Other pre-nuptial courtesies included a bridal luncheon, given in the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Y.E. McAdams Jr. of Lubbock; and a bridal luncheon in the Lakeview community home of Mrs. Odell Breed. This courtesy was co-hosted by Mrs. Bob Hambricht and Alissa Hambricht. Mrs. Breed and Mrs. Hambricht are also aunts of the bride. The home of Mrs. Aaron Carthel of Floydada was the site for a miscellaneous shower.

COUPLE ANNOUNCES ENGAGEMENT—Byron and Charlotte Brock of Lockney wish to announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Shawnda Ann to Edward Josiah Foster III (Jody), son of Eddie and Ann Foster of Lockney. The bride-elect, a 1984 graduate of Lockney High School, is currently attending Texas Tech University majoring in accounting. There she is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority and is a student assistant in the Dean of Agriculture's office. Foster is a 1979 graduate of Lockney High School. He is also enrolled at Tech, where he is majoring in agriculture. He is a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity. He is currently in a partnership with his brother in farming and ginning in the Lockney area. The couple plan a 7 p.m. wedding ceremony on August 16 at the First United Methodist Church in Lockney.

Refinishing process shown to Harmony homemakers

The Harmony Extension Club met June 9 in the home of Horace and Bess Carr in Floydada with Bess as hostess.

The meeting was called to order by Bess in the absence of the president and vice president.

Roll call was answered by "a piece of furniture I would like to change."

Secretary, Anna Maude Hopper read minutes of last meeting and the finance report.

Imelda Murry directed a hilarious game for recreation.

Horace gave a program on refinishing furniture. He explained the different steps needed and showed material to use. He also showed different pieces of furniture he had refinshed.

Hostesses served sandwiches, chips, cookies, tea and coffee to Vivian Curtis, Blanch Williams, Anna Maude Hopper, Juanita Pool, Maye Williams and Imelda Murry.

Jones and Ferguson wed June 7th in Lubbock

Amy Beth Jones and Johnny L. Ferguson were united in marriage on Saturday, June 7, at 7:30 in the evening at the First Baptist Church in Floydada, with the Rev. J.R. Williams of Rule, who performed her parents wedding ceremony in 1956, officiating.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Jones of Floydada and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ferguson of De Queen, Arkansas.

Guests were registered by Julianne Cornelius of Floydada.

The church was decorated with a brass arch flanked by two candelabras, each holding seven white tapers. The candelabras and unity stand were enhanced with primrose bows. The center aisle was decorated with pew markers and matching bows.

Parents of the couple each lit a single taper on either side of the unity candle while Kristi Stephens of Plains sang "The Wedding Song." "There is Love," accompanied on the piano and organ by Penny Giesecke and Roberta Hardin.

The bride was presented in marriage by her father. After the vows were repeated Greg Jones and Kristi Stephens sang "My Only Love." At the conclusion of the benedictory prayer, Greg sang, "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride wore a magnificent gown styled of white silk organza and lavishly trimmed with Venise and Chantilly laces. The Queen Anne neckline was edged in a stand-up ruffle of organza. The long flowing skirt had a wide flounce of the organza at the bottom. The back of the dress was designed with a low cut basque waist overlaid with chantilly lace, and the skirt flowed into a full cathedral train. Her veil was of imported illusion, and was styled in two tiers, each of which had widely scalloped edges. The veil was gathered onto a cap covered in chantilly lace, and embroidered in seed pearls. An applique of the chantilly lace was at each point of the scallops.

The bride carried a cascading bouquet of white and primrose pink roses accented with baby's breath, ribbons and greenery. The bouquet was atop the Bible her mother carried at her wedding.

Keeping with tradition the bride had something old, a ruby ring belonging to her paternal grandmother and a single string of pearls belonging to her maternal grandmother. Something borrowed was a pair of pearl earrings belonging to her mother. Something blue was the garter worn by her mother on her wedding day. She had pennies in her shoe bearing the birth years of the couple.

Julie Hancock, of Lockney, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Lavelle Bradford of Big Lake and Janie Devin of San Angelo. Candlelighters were Rhonda Hickerson of Lockney, niece of the bride and Lee Ann Ferguson of Guthrie, niece of the groom. Flower girls were Leslieanne Hickerson of Lockney, niece of the bride, and Staci Ferguson of Guthrie, niece of the groom. They all wore identical floor length gowns of rose organza.

The groom and his attendants wore silver grey western tux. Best man was Charles Ferguson, brother of the groom. Groomsmen were Gary Ferguson, of Guthrie, brother of the groom, and Bill Ferguson of De Queen, Arkansas, father of the groom. Ring bearer was William Ferguson of De Queen, Arkansas, nephew of the groom.

Seating guests were Steve Jones of Midland and Greg Jones of Raymondville, brothers of the bride, and Randy Hancock, of Lockney, brother-in-law of the bride.

The reception was held in the Wall

Street Parlor under the direction of Connie Allen of Crosbyton, great aunt of the bride. The bride's table was covered in a beautiful white cloth. The three tiered white cake featured primrose roses. It was topped with the traditional bride and groom. Pink punch and handmade pink and white mints were served with the cake.

The groom's table was covered in a matching cloth and carried out the western motif. The groom's cake, a devil's food chocolate cake, was in the shape of a pair of boots. Coffee was served from a silver coffee service.

Serving at the bride's table was Melanie Foster of Lubbock and Debbie Fallas of Big Lake. Serving at the groom's table was Marilyn Ferguson of Guthrie and Lora Ferguson of De Queen Arkansas.

Following a honeymoon trip to Ruidoso, New Mexico, the couple will be at home in Barnhart.

The bride was honored with a display shower in Big Lake on April 29, a shower in the home of Sally Galloway of Floydada on May 17, a lingerie shower in the home of Julianne Cornelius of Floydada on May 18, and a bridal luncheon in the Gold Room of Hemphill Wells in Lubbock on June 6.

Bursitis common but not serious disorder

An aching, swollen knee, elbow, or shoulder may be a symptom of bursitis. A common complaint, bursitis is not a serious disorder according to the Texas Medical Association.

The name comes from "bursa," a soft sac filled with a lubricating liquid that minimizes friction between body tissues that must constantly move by each other. Bursas are usually found near joints, either between the skin and underlying bones or between tendons and bones.

If a bursa is irritated by pressure over it or by injury to the nearby joint, the little sac may become inflamed and fill with fluid. This is called bursitis, a condition that causes pain and swelling in the area around the bursa.

The condition generally known as housemaid's knee is a familiar type of bursitis that occurs around the patella, or kneecap. Other joints that are particularly susceptible to bursitis are the elbows, the heels, the base of the big toe, and the shoulders.

Bursitis usually clears up of its own accord in a week or two, especially if you are careful to keep pressure off the tender spot while it remains swollen. If bursitis persists, consult your physician, who will examine the joint to make the diagnosis.

To bring down any swelling, the physician may draw off fluid with a needle and syringe, and then bandage the joint firmly. Anti-inflammatory drugs may be prescribed for the condition as well.

Bursitis has a tendency to recur in the same place. If it keeps coming back, it may be wise to have the affected bursa removed. This type of surgery can be done with either local or a general anesthetic, and seldom requires more than 24 hours in the hospital.

Cogdell and Farris recite nuptial vows

MRS. THOMAS KINDER FARRIS JR.

Connie Delle Cogdell and Thomas Kinder Farris Jr. were united in marriage Saturday, June 7th at 8:00 p.m. at Saint Paul's On The Plains Episcopal Church in Lubbock. The Reverend Mark David Meyer officiated at the double ring ceremony. Nuptial music was presented by Dr. Roy Wilson, organist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Martin Cogdell Jr. of Lockney and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kinder Farris of Floydada.

Miss Cogdell, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin and reembroidered French lace beaded with seed pearls. Complimenting the gown was a cathedral length mantilla framed in Alencon lace and seed pearls that matched the dress.

Matron of honor was Mrs. John Patrick Courtney of Houston, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Miss Anne Elizabeth Farris of Dallas, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Patrick Thomas Perot of Dallas. They wore identical, long dresses of satin in sapphire blue with flowers in their hair to complement the dresses.

Best man was Mr. John Charles Farris of New Orleans, Louisiana, brother of the bridegroom. Groomsmen were Mr. George Russell Farris of Houston, brother of the bridegroom, and Mr. Fred Zimmerman III of Floydada. Ushers were Mr. John Patrick Courtney of Houston and Mr. Cecil Junior Payne of Floydada.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Lubbock Country Club. Music for the reception was provided by the Old Masters of Swing. Mrs. Charles Hutchinson of Abilene presided at the guest register. Baskets of rose petals and potpourri were passed by Miss Tamala Jo Farris of Gunnison, Colorado and Mr. John Vincent Farris of Floydada.

The rehearsal dinner given in the couples honor was hosted by the bridegroom's parents on Friday evening at the University City Club in Lubbock.

The bride attended Texas Christian University and was graduated from Texas Tech University. She received a paralegal degree from Southwest Texas State University. She was employed by the First National Bank in Lubbock.

The groom attended Texas Christian University and was graduated from Texas Tech University. He is president of the First National Bank of Floydada.

After a wedding trip, the couple will live in Floydada.

National security stressed to DAR

The Buffalo Grass Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution met May 27 at Lighthouse Electric.

Mr. Jack Flint, Past National Commander of the American Legion, was the speaker. He spoke on National Defense, stressing the importance of national security. He stated that our national security is of utmost importance to every American, and that complacency and apathy have become a way of life for so many of our citizens. One of the objects of the DAR is to make citizens keenly aware of their heritage and of their privilege and responsibility to their country.

Susan Dunavant, Regent, presided over the business meeting. She had received a certificate of honorable mention on the honor roll for our chapter from national headquarters in Washington, D.C.

Eugenia Bethard gave her report on her recent trip to Washington to attend Continental Congress. She explained that new rulings that were passed at this meeting. She reported a very interesting meeting and had attended all the sessions except one.

The hostesses, Mmes. Bethard, Bowden and Colston, served refreshments to those present: Mmes. Mary Lou Bollman, Loretta Denning, Susan Dunavant, Nancy Marble, Ona Ruth Neff, Ozena Norris, Venoy Sanders and Gene Reed.

The chapter will not meet during the summer months. The next meeting will be September 23.

Two involved in collision

Both drivers involved in an accident on Wednesday, June 4, cited "a blue Pinto" as being a contributing factor in a two vehicle accident which occurred just after 3:00 p.m. according to investigating officer, James Hale. The scene of the collision was the intersection at Texas Street and North Second in Floydada.

Floydada Police Department, said, "The driver of a 1984 Renault, Arvindbhai Patel, was traveling south on North Second behind the Pinto when it slowed almost to a stop and swerved into the left lane to avoid standing water at the intersection.

the city swimming pool (Texas Street) behind the Pinto when it changed lanes. He then swerved to avoid hitting the Pinto and was struck on the passenger side by the Renault."

Hale added that the Pinto has not been located after, "reportedly leaving the scene of the accident at a high rate of speed."

Boulter opposes waste repository site

Congressman Beau Boulter (R-13) said the nuclear waste repository will never be located in the Panhandle of Texas because of the threat it would pose to the Ogallala Aquifer, the largest underground water supply in the nation.

Boulter made this statement following an announcement by the Department of Energy stating that Deaf Smith County is one of three sites being recommended to President Reagan for further study as a potential site for the nation's first high-level nuclear waste repository.

"Unless I can be convinced that the Ogallala and the rich farm land of our area will be 100 percent safe from contamination," Boulter said, "I will remain opposed to placing the nuclear waste repository in Deaf Smith County. There are, without a doubt, more remote, less productive areas of the country for the storage of high-level nuclear waste, and I am convinced that the DOE will eventually reach the same conclusion."

The site characterization process is mandated by the 1982 Nuclear Waste Policy Act. Boulter, elected in 1984, noted that the site location, while outside of his district, is actually closer to Amarillo than any other major city. "Because of its potential impact on the 13th District," Boulter said, "the process is a major concern of mine."

Boulter expects numerous delays in the start up of any significant characterization process due to legal action being taken by the state.

Tax collections 94 percent complete, appraiser explains

The Floyd County Central Tax Appraisal District board of trustees met in regular session on June 4. The short session handled routing matters including the payment of monthly bills and a report of current collections.

Chief appraiser Shelia Faulkenberry reported that collections on the current levy of $3,344,027.08 are 94% complete with $3,139,869.06 collected. Collections at this time in 1985 were also 94% complete with $3,258,344.75 collected on a levy of $3,470,423.05.

Attending board members Adrian Helms, Eddie Teeter, Jack Lackey and Fred Zimmerman III agreed to delay election of a new chairman to fill the office left vacant by the death of Tom Duvall until a later date. A new representative to the board will have to be appointed by Lockney Independent School District to serve the remainder of Duvall's term as trustee.

Faulkenberry reported on the Appraisal Review Board meeting held May 27. The board met to hear protests by property owners concerning the new valuation place on their property.

"Only three protest were presented," said Faulkenberry, "and they were handled by the board with no problems and only slight adjustments to the valuations."

Thirteen of the fifteen properties scheduled to be sold in a Sheriff's sale on June 3 went on the sale block as planned. One of the fifteen settled the delinquent taxes due on the property prior to the sale date to avoid losing the property. The fifteenth was pulled from the sale pending verification of ownership according to Faulkenberry.

The thirteen properties offered at auction reverted to the taxing entities after no acceptable bids were received.

Courtroom Activities

In the 110th Judicial District Court, June 9th, Joe Delgado, 25, of Floydada, pled guilty to aggravated assault with a deadly weapon. He received a three year probated sentence and restitution will be determined later.

On June 10th in district court three men entered guilty pleas to various charges.

Antonio Aguilar, 19, of Lockney, was sent to TDC for failure to comply with his probation regulations. Aguilar was on probation for burglary of a habitation and failed to pay fees and court costs. He also left the county without permission from his probation officer.

Robert Fargas, 17, of Floydada, pled guilty to burglary of habitation and received seven years deferred adjudication probation. He was also ordered to make restitution of $5,566.72.

Jesse Garza, 25, a recent arrival to Floydada, pled guilty to two burglaries of a building and one burglary of a habitation. Garza received two 10 year probated sentences for the burglaries of a building and 10 years deferred adjudication probation for the burglary of the habitation. He was also ordered to make restitution of $8,893.24.

In county court June 3rd, Cierico DeLeon, of Plainview, waived arraignment on a D.W.I. charge.

June 5th, in county court Cari Andrew McLain pled not guilty to DWI. Bond was set at $500.00 McLain, 46, is from Plainview.

June 9th, in county court, Wilmer Gene Archer Jr.'s DWI case was dismissed because of failure to comply with the speedy trial act. Archer had pled not guilty to a DWI charge on October 24, 1983.

Alamar Galvan was charged June 9th with theft but there was no disposition on this case.

The following cases were disposed on June 10th in county court:

Vella Mae Acy, pled guilty June 10th, to possession of marijuana. Acy was fined $100.00 plus court costs, plus 30 days in jail probated for 180 days.

Lonzelle Brown, pled guilty to possessing alcoholic beverages with intent to sell and was fined $300.00 plus court costs to be paid by September 10. Brown also pled guilty to a June 6th charge of possession of marijuana. He was fined $200.00 plus court costs. The fine and court costs must be paid by October 10, 1986.

Francis Collier, who had originally pled not guilty on May 23 to possessing alcoholic beverages with intent to sell changed the plea to guilty on June 10. Collier was fined $300.00 plus court costs plus 60 days in jail probated for 12 months. Collier also pled guilty to a June 6 charge of possession of marijuana and was fined $100.00 plus court costs.

Also, June 10, Ella Weise Davis changed her May 23 not guilty plea, to guilty of possessing alcoholic beverages with intent to sell. Davis was fined $300.00 plus court costs. Davis also pled guilty to a June 6th charge of possession of marijuana and was fined $200.00 plus court costs to be paid by September 10.

'You are nearly home...'

(The following article was submitted by Bud Warren, a Floyd County resident since his family moved here in November 1914 from Wolfe City in Hunt County. His father was the late R.E. Warren.)

When I was a little lad
I worked around the farm with Dad.
I was so worried out when evenin' time would come
That I got sorta anxious about the journey home.
Dad would always lead the way.
Once in a while he would turn around and say
Come on Son we are nearly home.
That always helped me some so I followed Dad home.
I am old and gray and bent at the knees
But life seems today the same as it used to be.
I am so worried out when evenin' time comes
That I get sorta anxious about the journey home.
Seems like I can heard Dad say
Come on Son you are nearly home.
I am following Dad home.

Safe canning methods

If you're counting on canning some of the extra produce from your garden this summer, plan now to do it the safe way.

Some canning methods, equipment and procedures are not safe and can result in food spoilage and even serious illness or death, says Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service nutritionist Marilyn Haggard.

She says that canning in a microwave oven, for example, is dangerous. Microwave ovens do not allow even heat penetration in the closed canning jar and the metal lids interfere with heat distribution. The use of metals in a microwave can also damage the oven's magnetron tube, requiring costly repairs.

Canning in a conventional oven is not advisable, because oven temperatures vary as the heat goes off and comes on again. The dry heat may not penetrate the food thoroughly either.

"Trying to can in a conventional oven is also a safety hazard," Haggard explains. "Pressure can build up in jars causing them to explode, or jars may break as drafts of cooler air hit them when the oven door is open."

Haggard, a specialist in food safety and preservation, says the "open kettle" canning method which was popular years ago, may not kill spoilage organisms.

In the open kettle method, foods are simply heated and put into sterile jars. Spoilage organisms can enter the jar when the food is transferred from kettle to jar. Also, the initial heat treatment may not be sufficient to destroy spoilage organisms and even if the jar seals, it may be only temporary.

Steam canners are also not foolproof for canning. Haggard says the U.S. Department of Agriculture does not recommend the use of steam canners when the process time is based on boiling water bath times.

Research shows that the ability to kill bacteria in a steam canner is considerably less than in a boiling water bath canner when using the same process times, says Haggard.

For that reason a steam canner should never be used for low-acid vegetables and meats, warns the specialist.

If you are planning on doing some home canning, Haggard recommends setting aside old cookbooks, grandma's recipe or advice from friends so you won't be taking chances

To the Voters of Precinct 4...

I would like to thank the voters of Precinct 4 for their support and confidence in me. I shall continue to do my very best for all Floyd County and to be conservative with your money. Thanks to the Spanish voters for their support. I shall always be grateful to all of you.

Thank you so very much.
Sincerely,
Jack Lackey

Some low-income households eligible for energy funding

Some low-income Texas households may be eligible for help in paying their cooling bills this summer through the Home Energy Assistance Program, according to Texas Department of Human Services Commissioner Marlin Johnston.

Commissioner Johnston said the one-time payment is available to many low-income households. Households which this month receive food stamps, Aid to Families with Dependent Children, or Supplemental Security Income will be mailed applications automatically. Other low-income households may request an application from DHS during the enrollment period of June 16 through July 18.

Eligibility is limited by gross income. For instance, aid is available for a one-person household having less than a $547.49 gross income per month. The gross income limit is $733.49 for a two-person household, $919.49 for three, $1,105.49 for four, $1,291.49 for five, and $1,477.49 for six.

Eligible households must be subject to energy cost increases — because of bills or rent being higher due to rising energy costs.

Households in privately owned or rented housing are eligible if the cost for cooling is included in the rent payment or if the household pays a portion of its home energy costs.

Energy assistance checks are sent directly to the people who are eligible for assistance. However, the checks are made payable to the energy company for the benefit of the eligible person.

Households receiving one of these energy assistance checks should mail it or take it in person to the energy company business office with the regular energy bill. The check can be cashed only by the energy company. If the HEAP check is more than the energy bill, the additional amount will be credited to the person's account for the next month's bill. If the energy bill is higher than the check, the person is responsible for paying the difference.

Cotton exports expected to climb

U.S. cotton exports are expected to increase to 6 million bales or more and domestic mill use to climb to 6.8 million bales during the 1986-87 marketing year, National Cotton Council economist Dean Ethridge told that organization's board of directors.

Those figures are much brighter than the current marketing year in which domestic mill consumption may reach 6.4 million bales but exports only 2 million or less, a 43-year low, the economist noted.

He said if the cotton program is continuously administered as intended, production adjustments may occur in enough countries to move the world price up.

Council President Lloyd Cline said seeing that the new farm law is administered in a way that protects farm income and returns the cotton industry to competitiveness is a major concern.

The Lamesa grower said the industry working through the Council in the past few months has succeeded in gaining full inventory protection, reaching an agreement on the world price formula, and achieving a guarantee that marketing of the old crop will not be disrupted by making PIK cotton available before August 1.

The Council and other members of the Fiber, Fabric, and Apparel Coalition on Trade, Cline noted, were able to obtain 372 signatures from House and Senate members on a letter urging President Reagan to implement the Multi-Fiber Arrangement more aggressively and renegotiate bilateral agreements to establish over-all limits on textile imports.

Plans call for enabling legislation extending the cotton research and promotion assessment to textile imports to be offered to Congress either late in the current session or early next year. Cline said 21 producer organizations already have endorsed a non-refundable assessment that would necessarily apply to both the U.S. crop and textile imports to meet general agreement on Tariffs and Trade rules.

H.L. Hodges, Cotton Council International president, Greenwood, Miss., told the board that even though the new cotton program creates the competitive environment needed, effective promotion and salesmanship are necessary to regain U.S. cotton's share of the world market.

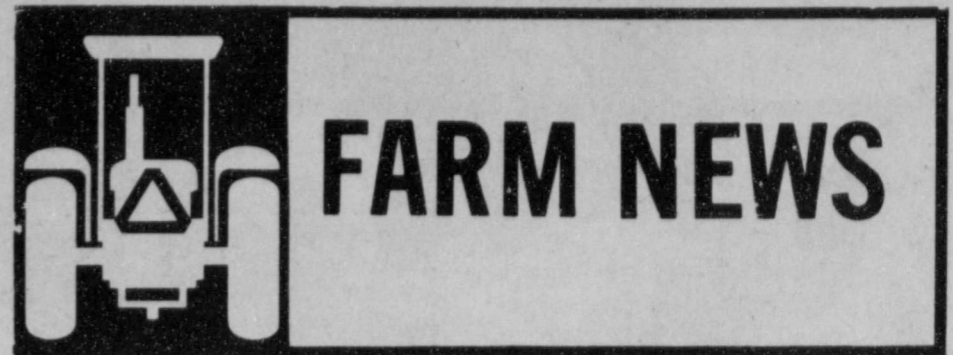

"By bringing special trade missions to the U.S. and sending more U.S. cotton trade teams abroad, we are working hard to convince our established markets that U.S. cotton prices will be competitive August 1 and thereafter," said Hodges.

Two of these missions have already resulted in large 1986-87 purchase commitments from South Korea, where sales could eventually reach 1.2 million bales next season, he said.

CCI trade teams will travel this year to Western Europe and Asia to rebuild markets. Hodges said special efforts will be made to recapture markets in Japan, Taiwan, Italy, and West Germany, expand the Egyptian market, and open new ones for U.S. cotton in Ghana, Nigeria, and Zaire.

In another report, John Maguire, the Council's Washington operations director, said the Council has been encouraging USDA and the Administration to focus every available resource and creative effort to solve the farm credit issue.

FIELD SCOUTS—Mark Brown, Floyd-Crosby county Extension entomologist, announces two new staff workers, hired by the Texas Pest Management Association for this summer. Monty Seymour of Floydada is at left and right is Bryan Witt of Crosbyton. The new field scouts for the two counties will be monitoring pest and beneficial insects for producers through early September. Brown says that anyone with questions may contact him through his office, 675-2426.

ASCS sets ACP signing

The 1986 ACP Program has been announced by the Floyd County ASCS office. Sign-up has been scheduled for June 16-20.

A number of conservation practices can be cost-shared, including parallel terraces, standard terraces, diversion terraces, waterway, irrigation tailwater, recovery pits systems, irrigation pipelines, irrigation lake recovery systems and land leveling.

This is a combination of ACP Funds and Target Funds for 1986 sign-up. The Target Fund is a special fund for irrigation conservation programs.

Anyone who would like more information about the cost-share program should contact the Floyd County ASCS office or the Soil Conservation Service in Floydada. The phone number is 983-2352. All programs and services provided by USDA and SCS are available to everyone with regards to race, color, creed, sex, or national origin.

Pioneer introduces wheat

Yield tests have shown it also has excellent resistance to leaf rust, a problem which has hit wheat hard in the regions where 2172 is adapted.

"Severe leaf rust is on the minds of all wheat growers in the tri-state area," says Jim Schrib, manager of Agronomy Services for Pioneer in Plainview.

"Pioneer variety 2172 is a very high yielding wheat anyway, but we were especially pleased with the high comparative yields during the severe leaf rust problems the area experienced in 1985," Schrib points out.

A new hard red winter wheat variety particularly adapted for the high yielding areas of North Central Oklahoma and the irrigated areas of the High Plains of Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico has been introduced by Pioneer Hi-Bred International, Inc.

"Pioneer (R) wheat variety 2172 is a classy short wheat which has the potential to produce exceptionally high yields under optimum moisture and fertility conditions," says Clarence Kerns, sales manager for the Southwest Sales Area of Pioneer.

Motorists beware of slow moving vehicles

Motorists throughout Texas should be on the lookout for slow moving farm vehicles and equipment.

With the hustle and bustle of spring farming operations, drivers need to be particularly alert for slow moving tractors and other types of farm equipment on state highways and other public roads.

"The usual slow speed and road-blocking width of these necessary machines may be dangerous to vehicles coming up from the rear as well as those passing in the opposite lane," points out Dr. Gary Nelson, safety engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"A driver recognizing a farm machine should instantly brake and reduce speed until he can successfully judge the machine's size and speed," notes Nelson.

A tractor may be pulling a wide tillage tool or a tool bar and could have axles extending into the oncoming lane, says the engineer. The tractor may be seen easily, but protruding steel beams are difficult to see because of their small appearance and often dusty covering.

"Dusk and dawn hours are the most dangerous because of poor visibility," Nelson points out. "Drivers should look for flashing tractor lights; reflectors; the red-orange, triangular shaped Slow Moving Vehicle emblem on the rear of a machine; a lead car or truck with flashing lights; or flagging tied to protruding parts of equipment.

Drivers who pass or meet farm vehicles and still maintain highway speeds are risking a serious accident, cautions the safety specialist.

At night, flashing lights may be on an oncoming farm vehicle with parts that extend into an opposite lane or the passing lane. The driver should immediately slow down and make certain there is no obstruction.

"Unfortunately, sometimes deadly obstructions that do not comply with safety measures are present on our public roads, whether they be farm, forestry, construction or personal vehicles or loads," says Nelson. "Drivers should always be on the lookout for these and should report them to law enforcement authorities. This can help avoid accidents and perhaps save a life."

Colstons to exhibit Angus

Billy Zane Colston and Ross Colston of Floydada will exhibit Angus cattle at the 1986 South Central Regional Preview Junior Angus Show at the state fairgrounds in Dallas, Texas, June 27 and 28, reports Richard Spader, executive vice president of the American Angus Association.

Billy and Ross are junior members of the American Angus Association with headquarters in St. Joseph, Missouri. They are part of 71 young Angus breeders who have entered 149 head to compete for the championship honors being awarded.

How to avoid barky cotton grades

The first salvo of an all-out assault on barky cotton by the Barky Cotton Research Task Force has been fired in the form of a pamphlet entitled "You Can Reduce the Chances of Barky Grades—Here's How."

The task force, organized last February on the initiative of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, and Cotton Incorporated, set for its immediate goal the compiling of practices known to increase the incidence of barky grades and ways they can be avoided.

Task force chairman and PCG Vice President Don Bell of Wolfforth is quoted in the pamphlet as saying the cost of bark in West Texas cotton averages about $3 per bale for every bale produced. In years when bark problems are severe, he adds, the total cost to West Texas producers can be over $20 million.

PCG and CI has brought together an impressive list of farmers, scientists, educators, administrators, machinery manufacturers and government entities to work on the problem. "Together we are going to reduce the annual cost of barky grades," Bell declares.

The pamphlet, available to producers from PCG, county extension agents, gins and other convenient sources, outlines a total of 25 "do's and don'ts" that producers can follow to reduce the number of class cards from any given crop that will bear the dreaded "BARK" stamp.

Advice on cultural procedures in the pamphlet is divided into early-season, mid-season, harvest preparation and harvesting practices, covering everything from seed selection and plant population to harvesting and storage of cotton in modules.

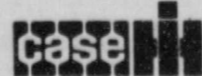

In addition to push for increased producer awareness of pre-ginning practices that are known contributors to the bark problem, the task force is encouraging new and more intensive research of ginning and manufacturing technology that will assist spinning mills to produce more satisfactory end products from cotton in years and in areas where total absence of bark proves impossible.
