Lost 'love note' helps solve burglary

Hale's Department Store merchandise recovered

Love letters can be incriminating...literally.

Such a note found in Hale's Department Store led to the quick apprehension of two juveniles involved in last Wednesday night's theft of the firm and the return of "most of the stolen merchandise."

When the Hales and their employees reported to work Thursday morning, they discovered that burglars had pulled plywood from a back window, forced open a screen, broken the window glass and knocked a hole in sheetrock inside the glass to gain entry into the clothing store.

Bill Hale pointed out to The Hesperian that the burglars "still had to crawl over some shelving" before jumping or stepping down on the floor. It was apparently while crawling over the shelving that the note fell from the juvenile's pocket and dropped behind boxes.

After Police Chief James Hale and the owners and employees had checked out the burglary, Bill Hale found the note and again contacted the police chief.

While one of the suspects was being questioned, Chief Hale noted that "his whole attire was stolen items...down to his tennis shoes."

Additional merchandise was recovered from a cellar about a mile east of town.

"About twice as much merchandise" was found as the Hales had initially noticed as being missing from the store.

Since no other openings were discovered — "Front or back" — the burglars apparently entered and exited the store through the broken window.

Clothing taken was all in smaller sizes.

Stolen, all from the men's department except for tennis shoes, were jeans, sweaters, boots, coats, billfolds, travel bags, tennis shoes, warmup suits and other garments. The juveniles had tried on jeans and coats inside the store and had dropped some garments after "obviously trying them on."

"We've gone quite a few years without a burglary," Bill Hale stated

Thursday morning. A major burglary "in the early 60s" was the last at the department store prior to Wednesday night.

SECOND BURGLARY IN AS MANY NIGHTS

The Hale's burglary was the second in as many nights. Higginbotham-Bartlett, located across the alley from the department store, was burglarized Tuesday night of last week.

The police department is "working on leads" in this case, although no arrests had been made at press time.

Curtis Clewenger, manager of Higginbotham-Bartlett at 214 South Wall, reported the burglary after arriving at work on the 17th. Several hundred dollars worth of merchandise and equipment were taken.

Entry was gained by breaking out a large window between a concrete

I believe it was Clausewitz, or some such figure, who wrote that war was essentially politics pursued by other means. He was also an advocate of "total war", in which the entire resources of an enemy nation, including its civilians, should be regarded as potential military targets. His ideas caught on in some quarters and greatly influenced how wars were subsequently fought, and caused a lot of other people to equate both endeavors in every respect.

But those of us who have participated in both arenas know that there is at least one fundamental difference. Wars are run by people who rely heavily on actual fact. Generals make decisions on how many tanks they have as opposed to

Over 17,000 Floyd acres placed in reserve program

Over 17,000 acres of Floyd County land have been contracted into the Conservation Reserve Program.

Bob Lotspeich, executive director of the county ASCS office, places the actual number of acres at 17,718.7 after three sign-up periods. This includes all or part of 77 farms.

The land must be seeded for grass cover and maintained for a 10-year period.

Bulk of the Floyd County acreage accepted into the program came following the most recent of the trio of bidding periods. Actually, 17,624.1 acres from 75 farms went into the program this year. The price was "$40 and under" per acre.

No county land was accepted by the United States Department of Agriculture following the initial sign-up period, and only 94.6 acres — parts of two farms — were accepted the second time around.

Land accepted in the second session was $35 and under.

Lotspeich said that acreage registered for the Conservation Reserve Program lies in scattered areas across the county.

Although the next bidding period has not been announced, some producers anticipate that it will be later this year or early in 1987.

Wind-Horn shootout Friday

County football championship on line in game on Floydada field

Both Floydada and Lockney enter the traditional Floyd County football shootout Friday night with 2-1 records.

But forget about the records, because previous performances are immaterial when the longtime rivals clash on the gridiron.

The '86 clash for the county football championship is scheduled for 8 p.m. Friday at Wester Field in Floydada.

LOCKNEY AGAIN TOUGH

The Whirlwinds will be striving to break a two-year drought at the hands of Lockney.

"They are a well-coached team and they're tough, like Olton," says Whirlwind head mentor Joe Paty. Lockney is very aggressive and they have some good size."

He believes that Coach Bob Purser and his staff "have done an excellent job through the years. They always seem to come up with a good team."

The Longhorns employ their own version of the quarterback shuffle, alternating senior Steven Cates and junior Jimmy Ballejo at the signal-calling post. "Ballejo's speed adds another dimension to their offense," Coach Paty says. He quickly adds, however, that Cates is "a solid, hard-nosed quarterback."

"Cates hurt us last year, and Ballejo's speed scares me," the Wind coach observes.

Behind "a solid line," the Longhorns have strong runners in Javier Bernal and Matt Mitchell. Mitchell, a senior, has been injured but is expected back for the Whirlwinds. "They are more of a power team," running out of the wishbone, Paty says.

Although they have no outstanding player, Lockney is "a good, balanced team. Their defense is probably their long suit."

Floydada also operates from a wishbone offensive set.

TWO-GAME STREAK

The Red and White from Lockney manhandled Ralls, 34-0, and Petersburg, 27-0, before dropping a 20-14 decision to a good Seagraves eleven last Friday. A 26-7 setback at the hands of undefeated Roosevelt — sandwiched between a 29-8 victory over Crosbyton and a 7-0 triumph over Olton last week — is the only blot on Floydada's record.

Lockney's two-game skein over the Whirlwinds includes a 26-6 verdict in '84 and a 6-0 victory last fall. Floydada was on the long end of a 7-0 score in 1983.

Prior to that time, the Green and White had claimed the county championship each year back to 1974, when Lockney won 14-6 and forced the district race into a three-way tie between the two Floyd County squads and Tulia. The Longhorns won a coin flip and advanced to the playoffs. That was the one loss on Floydada's 9-1 record.

STRONG CROWD EXPECTED

Stadiums of Wester Field are expected to be totally filled Friday night when the Warriors wearing green and red uniforms clash. "We've had a pretty good crowd all year and we expect an excellent crowd for Lockney," Coach Paty says.

The Whirlwind coaching staff is encouraged by the probable return to action of center-linebacker David (Tater) Pyle, the team co-captain, after missing two outings due to an injury. Clay Lowrance, who has a bruised knee, also is "probable" for Friday night.

However, quarterback Ty Stovall was rated early this week as no better than "possible" for the important county shootout due to a bruised shoulder and a sprained ankle. Wide receiver-defensive back David Medrano is "questionable" due to injury. Several other Winds are still battling nagging injuries but are expected to be in the lineup.

WHIRLWIND LINEUPS

Expected Whirlwind lineups for Friday night include:

Offense--Center, David Pyle or Jeff Smith; guards, Greg Lawson and Joe Gonzales; tackles, Roel Cisneros and Smith or Clay Lowrance; tight end, Randy Enriquez or Pat Hazlett; split receiver, Chad Parnell; fullback, Joe Collins; right halfback, Julio Flores; LHS, Hector Flores; quarterback, Stovall.

Defense--Ends, Anthony Brocato and Collins; tackles, Lowrance and Gonzales; inside linebackers, Noe Soliz and Julio Flores, Hector Flores or Pyle; corners, Ray Morales and Rupert Jimenez; halfbacks,

Commodities available — volunteers needed

Floydada area residents have in the past expressed the desire to see the distribution of commodities resumed. The opportunity has presented itself for this to become a reality, but local assistance is a MUST if this is to be.

City Manager Bill Feuerbacher has made arrangements with Caprock Community Action Association, Inc., of Crosbyton for the distribution in Floydada. The arrangement is conditional on two factors. Floydada must provide a distribution location and 15 to 20 volunteers to handle the paperwork and distribution under the supervision of the Crosbyton organization.

According to Feuerbacher, "We have to provide volunteer workers to assist in the distribution and certification or there is no way we will get commodities in our community."

The revamped federal program which is now responsible for commodity distribution has established new guidelines and each person wishing to receive commodities must be recertified before he/she will receive any food products under the program.

The new program is being conducted on a local basis only. Recipients in Floydada must have a Floydada address and must present positive identification and proof of residence before being approved to receive commodities. A driver's license or a paid utility bill receipt showing both name and current address will be acceptable.

Income guidelines have also been adjusted. Persons age 60 or over may receive commodities if their income does not exceed $722.00 per month for one or $964.00 per month for two. Each applicant will have to state his/her gross income, including farmers and other self-employed persons who have not been asked for this information in the past. Other guidelines will be announced early in October.

Floydada is now in a virtual "put up or shut up" situation. Commodities are available and can be distributed in our area. But there will be no distribution unless the necessary volunteers are found to devote a day a month to the distribution after the initial training session and certification process is complete.

ANYONE interested in working as a volunteer in the program is asked to contact City Hall. A training session on filling out the certification applications will be held at 3:00 p.m. on October 2 in the council meeting room at City Hall for these volunteers, Jimmy Karr, representing the Caprock Community Action Association, Inc., will be present with members of his organization to explain the program and demonstrate the certification process.

It is hoped that all recipients will be able to come in and complete an application for certification before the first distribution so they can be certified in advance, saving both time and paperwork on distribution day.

REMEMBER!! Floydada needs volunteers in order to bring back the commodity distribution!

Deadline nears for voter registration

Texans who are not registered to vote but desire to cast ballots in the Nov. 4 general election have just over a week to become qualified.

Mail registrations which are post-marked by Oct. 5 will be accepted. Individuals who wish to register by personal appearance must do so by Friday, Oct. 3. Registration may be taken care of in the county tax assessor-collector's office in the courthouse.

Texans will chose a governor and several other state officials in the general election.

Adults urged to hear drug dog program at school

"We want a drug-free school," Superintendent Jerry Cannon explains as Floydada schools prepare for a drug-sniffing dog program.

Supt. Cannon "encourages" parents and other interested adults to hear Carl F. Rickert Jr. of Gainesville explain the procedure during four assembly programs on Tuesday, Oct. 7. In addition to the program involving his drug-sniffing dogs, Rickert is to explain the dangers of drugs.

"The orientation is well worthwhile," officials of other schools have told Cannon.

Rickert is scheduled to present a 45 minute program at 8:30 on the 7th at Floydada High School. He plans a 30 minute program at 9:30 in the junior high auditorium, a 20 minute introduction at 10:30 at Duncan Elementary, and at 11:15, he will speak at Andrews Elementary.

Although the public is invited to hear Rickert at any of the schools, the high school auditorium has more seating available and a more in-depth program is scheduled there. Time is expected to be available for a question-and-answer period.

Throughout the school year, Rickert and his dogs will visit Floydada schools "four times a month unannounced." Officials point out that "The dogs will work the different schools at unknown intervals."

The handler and his "drug dogs" are to examine lockers, cars and classrooms. "If drugs are detected, only the handler will know." Rickert is to report his findings to the principal of that respective school.

"Classes will not be disrupted," Cannon notes.

He reiterates that "We're interested in keeping drugs out of our school, not in catching anybody."

Rickert has been engaged by schools throughout the state, including many in the South Plains area.

storage and the other portion of the building. Molding was removed from the screen and then a sack of concrete was "thrown through the window."

Officers, who noted that broken glass was removed from the bottom of the window, believe "at least two subjects entered the building."

The yeggs apparently were shielded from view from the street while they burglarized the store.

A sign found on the desk bore a picture of a "happy face" and bore the following wording: "Thanks for everything. Signed, Mad."

SENTENCE UPSETS OFFICERS

A sentence involving a $50 fine handed down Monday by County Judge Choise Smith on an assault charge, a Class A misdemeanor, angered city officers. The assault involved bodily injury to a victim, who was cut on the backs of his hands and required medical attention. The victim reportedly was being held by other persons when he was cut.

Gilbert Garza was assessed the $50 fine during the Monday trial.

Chief Hale told this newspaper that he and fellow officers were "upset" about the sentence. "We don't mind working overtime, even without pay, to investigate a crime. But this crime involved a slow, deliberate act of cutting a person, while he was being held and the suspect was not even required to make restitution for the victim's medical bills or placed on probation. He was only fined $50, plus court costs."

The attack occurred about 11:30 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 6, following an earlier altercation between the suspect, victim and other persons. Additional charges have been filed against two other men, including Johnny Garza (assault), whose case has not yet been heard.

TRAILER WHEELS TAKEN

Wheels "and even lug nuts" were reported stolen from a trailer belonging to Producers Co-op Elevator last week. The theft was reported Sept. 15, although it could have occurred before that time since the trailer was parked on the northwest side of the firm's property and "wheels had grown around it."

Police reports that the white wheels with eight lugs "would fit a three-quarter ton or a one-ton pickup." The trailer was left on blocks placed on either side.

A jack, believed to have been used to remove the wheels, was found in weeds near a nearby utility pole.

Belinda Rodriguez of 428 W. Virginia reported to lawmen a case of criminal mischief which involved some one breaking a hatchback window from her 1982 Chevrolet car, which had been parked for a short time at a car wash in the 500 block of South Second Street.

The window was knocked out "with unknown method of attack."

FORGERY CHARGES FILED

A 19-year-old Floydada man, Ray Hernandez, is free on bond in connection with forgery at the Pay-n-Save food store. A juvenile also was apprehended and turned over to juvenile authorities.

Passing of forged instruments reportedly occurred on both Aug. 29 and Sept. 9, with the two checks totaling $1,050.

Two bicycles were reportedly stolen from the 200 block of East Jemie on Sept. 15.

Two brothers informed the police department that the bicycles were on the front porch of their home while they were home for lunch but were missing when they returned after school.

Ramon Guerrero of Route One, Lockney, reported a burglary at the former pool hall at Main and Missouri. Damage was placed at $113.

He found that the building's back door glass had been broken out and the door shut. A juke box had been moved, along with all records having been removed. Four new pool cues were taken from the rear of the building.

Upstairs, someone had been sleeping on a mattress in the south room. A sheet was hung over windows. Also, a child's footprint was found in dust on the floor.

TRAFFIC MISHAP

The city's latest traffic mishap occurred about 8:46 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 14, at a traffic light in the 100 block of Second Street.

A 1974 Chevrolet auto was traveling west on Missouri Street and was attempting to make a left turn south onto Second Street at the traffic light when it was in collision with a 1975 Oldsmobile driven by Rubio Bardomino Martinez of 215 W. Virginia.

Richard Castaneda, 19, of Floydada, driver of the Chevrolet, was charged with DWI (driving while intoxicated), having no driver's license and having no liability insurance. He required medical attention but was not seriously injured. Both vehicles sustained damage.

Master Sgt. Bailey decorated

Air Force Senior Master Sgt. Warren D. Bailey, son of Gilbert L. and Joan Bailey of Paradise, California, has been decorated with the fourth award of the Meritorious Service Medal at Travis Air Force Base, Calif.

The Meritorious Service Medal is awarded specifically for outstanding non-combat meritorious achievement or service to the United States.

Bailey is a superintendent of the Repair and Reclamation Shop with the 60th Field Maintenance Squadron.

His wife, Joyce, is the daughter of Willis A. and Ruby Bunch of Floydada, Texas.

how many the enemy has, among other things. Political generals, on the other hand, know that in their own world it is perceptions, not facts, that count. Sometimes fact and perceptions coincide, sometimes they don't. But in the final analysis people will vote their perceptions, so politicians pay particular attention to what they understand the people's perception to be.

In earlier times they arrived at that understanding by frequent forays among the people. Some of them still do. But even they have come to pay attention to the work of trained pollsters who can provide almost overnight reports on what the people are thinking on public issues. Nor are office holders and would-be office holders the only ones playing the game. A whole host of special interest groups are continually polling. They want to be on the right side when it comes to political support, or financial support. They don't want to be caught giving financial support to someone who is going to lose and thereby earn the enmity of the winner.

Generally those reports are closely held. After all, they are expensive and the information is valuable. Most, but not all, of the reports that come to the public's attention are "leaked" in an effort to sway public opinion, which in turn is supposed to sway the opinion and action of those in office. This does not mean that the "leaked" information is untrue. The leakers know that others are in the field also and could quickly counter blatantly untrue reports. But it does mean that many times the "leakers" will present only that part of the report they consider beneficial to their position, or their industry, or their group.

By virtue of certain connection we have acquired the complete version of one such report that we find interesting and which we believe our readers may find interesting.

Since some of the information from the report may not be in the best interest of those who paid for the survey we have agreed that we will not reveal the identity of the sponsoring agent. We will merely say it is an organization that has an interest in the farm economy and as such has an interest in the opinions of those associated with agriculture. They would like to know, among other things, if the 1985 farm bill is likely to remain in place for its projected five-year life span. We will say also that they did not father the farm bill. If they had it would have been written differently. And we will note that the survey results track very closely the results we have seen from other reports dealing with the same subject. This one is much more extensive, however, and takes in a larger territory than any we have previously seen on the subject.

The survey was done of practically every congressional district outside the big cities of the mid-west farm belt states. This is the area generally associated in the public mind as being the most critical in terms of agricultural problems, and the area where public attitudes on farm-related issues are most likely to affect sitting office holders or their potential successors. Many of the questions, in fact most, had no direct bearing on the bill itself, but political analysts will pore over the answers nevertheless, knowing that voters' views on one issue may well affect actions on another.

We found some of the results surprising, and some not. For instance it was not surprising that 64 percent of those polled considered themselves either "very conservative" or "somewhat conservative" as compared to 27% being very or somewhat liberal. The survey was, after all, in traditionally conservative farm belt states. We did find it somewhat surprising that more people rated "protecting the moral values of the country" as their first priority for government (30%) even ahead of "promoting the expansion of personal freedom" (13%) and ahead of the need for a strong military (18%).

The survey found that a large majority of people in the farm area felt that farmers who did not use credit "wisely" should not be rescued, but should be made to suffer the consequences of their actions. Farmers themselves were the most emphatic on this. And a majority, although a small majority, rejected the notion that assistance should be provided farmers and ranchers to reduce their interest payments if that cost the government a great deal of money and increased the deficit.

Sixty percent said they thought the country would be better off if the government stayed out of agriculture. About 40 percent said the country would be better off if the government stayed involved.

The vast majority of those polled said they had never heard of the 1985 Farm Bill, despite the fact that arguments over the bill convulsed the farm community for months before it was finally passed. And among those who had heard it, a bare majority approved.

But another section of the survey was perhaps of more long range significance. As would be expected, the respondents rated problems within the agricultural community among their top economic concerns. But from that point on the opinions were all over the lot, reflecting perceptions that were evidently formed by widespread media coverage of the recent credit crunch within agriculture.

Most people polled felt the government should do "whatever is necessary" to keep farmers and ranchers on the land, no matter who was to blame for the current situation.

Twenty six percent of all those polled "guessed" that up to 30 percent of all farmers will go bankrupt during the next year. Nearly 30 percent of all people polled "guessed" that up to 20 percent of all farmers will go bankrupt next year. Fourteen percent "guessed" that up to 40 percent of all farmers will go bankrupt next year.

But when the farmers and ranchers were directly asked the question, a completely different story emerged. Those in the poll who identified themselves as ranchers and farmers were asked how their operation was being affected by present credit difficulties involving agriculture. Forty percent said they were feeling "some pressure" but were in no "real danger". Seventeen percent said they were "not being hurt" at all. Another 32 percent said they were feeling pressure and concern that "unless something is done soon" they might not be able to continue operations beyond another five years. Only five percent of the farmers and ranchers polled said "without immediate help, I will be forced out of business within a year."

Thus we see that at least some of the time the "perceptions" held by the general public is a variance with the facts. But politicians must pay attention to the perceptions.

Turning to "who is to blame" for current conditions on farms and ranches, some more surprises appear. Farmers and ranchers tend to be harder on farmers and ranchers than does the population as a whole. While younger people on the farm, those between 18 and 34 years old, tend to place 31 percent of the blame on "the federal government," farmers over that age place most of the blame on "the farmers themselves" in over-extending their operations etc. Among farmers over 55 years of age 33 percent of the blame is placed on farmers and only 21 percent on "the federal government." Among those 35 to 54 years old the figures are: farmers 31 percent, federal government 29 percent. Ronald Reagan is blamed by only 7 percent of the farmers in both categories, and by 12 percent among those 18 to 34 years old. The rest of the blame is apportioned out to a variety of factors, including the Carter grain embargo, low prices, Congress, the economy, bank loan policies, the federal deficit (one percent) etc.

People who do not live on farms, according to nationwide polls, tend to put less blame on farmers (only 19 percent) and much more on the "federal government" (31 percent). This, to us, indicates a vast reservoir of sympathy among the general public for conditions on our farms and ranches. Too, the nation's farm organizations generally find favor within our society, or at least within the vast heartland of the American farm community and the small towns and cities in that area. The American Farm Bureau is far and away the most popular, with 63 percent of the populace saying they would be more likely than not to vote for any position or candidate endorsed by that organization. Only 26 percent of the people say they would be less likely to vote for a position or candidate favored by the Bureau. Trailing the Farm Bureau by about 10 points is the National Farmer's Union, and another 11 points behind is the American Agricultural Movement.

But 30 percent of all voters say they would be less likely to vote for a position or candidate actively pushed by A.A.M., and 33 percent say they would be less likely to vote for a position or candidate endorsed by N.F.U.

Overall the survey indicates that the American farmer and rancher is not an endangered species. It indicates also that most people, including farmers and ranchers, want the federal government ultimately "phased out" of agriculture, although they don't know exactly how or when. It indicates that most people don't want rigid "mandatory" limits on how much farmers can produce (25 percent would favor this but 74 percent oppose.) And 66 percent want government money that now goes to farm aid channeled into providing new jobs and industries in rural communities.

The political people of both parties no doubt have many other polls, as do many other groups and associations. But you have now gotten the highlights of a poll that cost somebody about $30,000. And you got it for only 25 cents.

FHS organizations get underway

By Andrea Reed
 "Busy as a bee" is an accurate description of most FHS students. As the school year gets off to a promising start, so do the students as they involve themselves with various activities. It seems that this year more and more students are showing their school spirit by enthusiastically becoming active in various organizations. Great!

On Sept. 15, the FFA (Future Farmers of America) held their first meeting. As they talked about future events such as annual stock shows, fruit sales, and monthly dues, the members "pigged-out" on delicious watermelon. The purpose of the watermelon feast was to acquaint the new members with the officers and older members. Most of these young people are really excited about the year ahead—many are filled with fresh enthusiasm and are ready to put forth their best effort at making this the best year so far.

As proof of this statement, some of the FFA members were involved in the swine show, which was held at the South Plains Fair on Saturday. Coming home with 10th and 15th places was Shannon Barbee, a senior at FHS and president of the organization. In addition, Kelli LaBaume, a junior, took home 4th place. Everyone should be extremely proud of these students for the competition was very tough. The pigs were judged on how well they walked, their body length and width, the size of their shoulders, and their amount of body fat. Congratulations Shannon and Kelli!

Another instance in which Floydada High School was represented at the South Plains Fair was by the mighty Whirlwind band. Although these students were required to be up at the high school by 7:00 a.m., they gave an outstanding performance as they marched in the opening parade for the fair.

Once they were finished, the members were given two choices: either to leave the fair and go to the Texas Tech game, or stay at the fair only if transportation was provided for them. Some chose to remain at the fair, while others chose to attend the Tech game. Regardless of what they did or where they went, both groups of students felt the same way as Ludustria Leatherman: "I wish we could do it again because it was a blast. Everyone had a lot of fun."

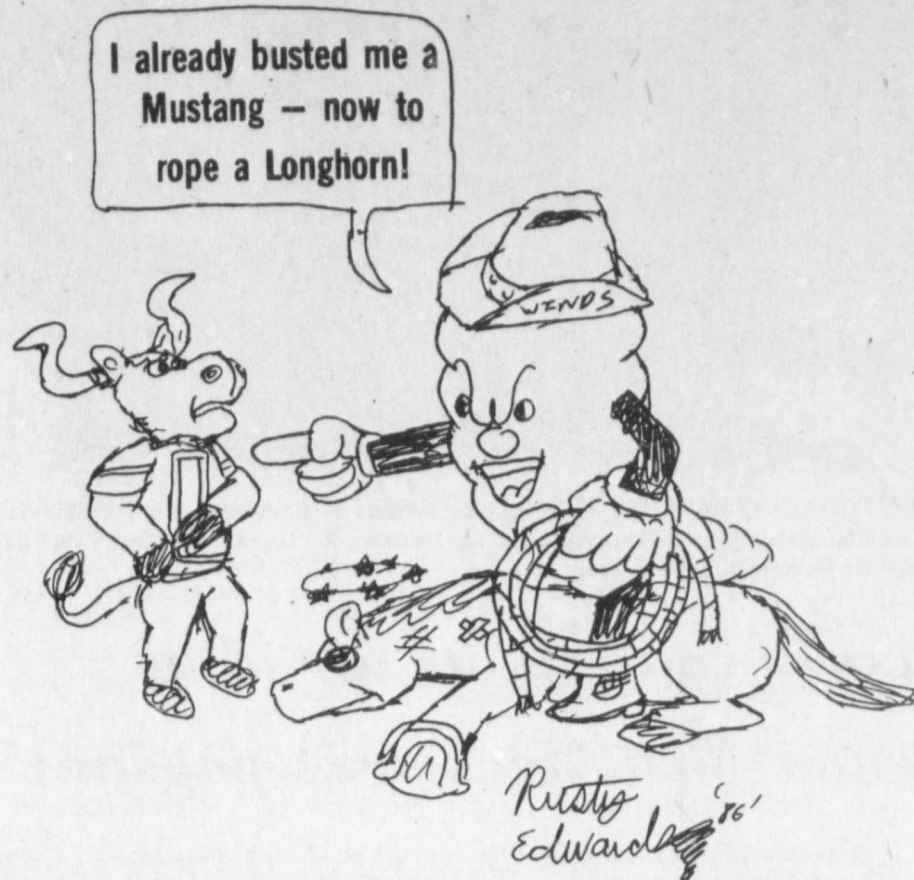

Busy, busy, busy also describes the Student Council. Every Monday morning, before school starts, the many dedicated members trudge up to the school to attend their weekly meeting. At these meetings, many issues and ideas are discussed. One idea which has already proved to be a success was a salad supper, which was held Tuesday night in honor of the faculty of FHS. All who attended truly had an enjoyable time, as they were given a chance to relax and visit with the students and other faculty members.

The Student Council is only one of many organizations which have taken their first step of the year. Many of the available clubs are represented in many different places at many different times. Of course they are number one always after all, they consist of students from FHS.

Band Boosters concluding 1987 calendar project

The Band Boosters met Monday night to wind up the 1987 calendar sales and to prepare for the Lockney game concessions. Monday night, Sept. 29, at 5:30 was set as the time to meet and type the final layout for next year's calendars.

Discussion of bus drivers turned up the fact that not a single band parent is licensed to drive the buses on band trips. In the past the boosters have always provided the drivers for all trips. A plea was made for volunteers who could get emergency driving certificates until the next time that the bus driving school is held.

Persons who have not yet purchased a calendar or who have not yet listed their birthdays and anniversaries on next year's calendar are urged to contact Jim McLaugh or Charlene Brown or any of the boosters. A family pack of all listings for a family plus a calendar costs $4.00, while a single calendar sells for $2.50 and single listings on the calendar cost 50 cents each.

Residents celebrate birthdays

By Lorilla Bradley

September brings us cooler days
With fall not far behind...
So let us push "ole summer" out
And with some fun unwind!

Mr. Lyles we want to greet
...His years are 93...
May all his days be happy ones
With many more to be!

To Mrs. Addie Lindley
...Who always looks so neat...
To this let's add another
And that would be...she's sweet!

To Mrs. Lucille Duncan
...Her years are 69...
We give a special greeting
At this her special time!

We greet Our Mr. Calloway
...Who counts from 1904...
May all his years in passing
Be better than before.

Let's serenade these people
With the same old birthday song...
So everybody join us
And come out good and strong.

Thursday, September 18, was party time at the Rest Home with ladies of the City Park Church of Christ hosting the occasion. The Hesperian photographer came for the "picture taking" after which everyone was ushered into the dining room.

The honorees were seated at the "honor" table which was laid with a white cloth and centered with a silk flower arrangement in a brass urn.
Special cards marked places for the honorees and each wore a fresh corsage or boutonniere, compliments of Williams Flower and Card Shop. The poem was read and all joined in singing the Happy Birthday song. A delicious refreshment plate of ice birthday cake, white angel food and a pink and white angel cake brought by Letha Lightfoot, all complimented with a delightful fruit punch.

Visiting with Mrs. Lindley were Letha
Lightfoot, Opal Kratzer, Laura Turner,
Jessie Stewart and Pearl Emert. Mrs.
Duncan's guest was her daughter, Rilla
Sue Woody and Jo Bryant was seated with her mother, Mrs. Della Halcnak.
Seated with Mr. Lyles were his wife and John and Christine Lyles of Hale Center.

We really appreciate all of you who take time out from your busy days to come and be with your loved ones and friends at their special time.

The next party will be Thursday,
October 16, 2:30 p.m. You are invited.

New homeowners assisted

The Texas Housing Agency announced Friday it will begin accepting applications for a new homeownership assistance program beginning September 29, 1986.

The new program will provide qualified families with a tax credit that will reduce their federal income taxes.

"The Mortgage Credit Certificate Program increases a family's disposable income by reducing its federal tax obligations. This tax savings provides a family with more available income to qualify for a mortgage," said Dan A. McNeil, Acting Executive Administrator of the Texas Housing Agency.

McNeil said the program offers first-time homebuyers an annual tax credit of up to $2,000, based upon 20 percent of the annual interest paid on their mortgage loan.

"For example, a family that plans to purchase a home for $56,000, and receive a loan of $53,000, at 9.5 percent interest for 30 years will pay the lending institution $5,020 in interest during the first year. Under the MCC Program, the family will be eligible for a tax credit of $1,004 in the first year of that loan.

"In each succeeding year for the life of the mortgage loan, the family can claim an income tax credit for 20 percent of the mortgage interest paid to the lender, up to $2,000," McNeil said.

The Agency has established a ceiling on homeowner incomes and home purchase price limits to direct the program to families of low and moderate income. In order to participate in the program, an individual may not earn more than $33,000 a year; a family is limited to $42,000 a year. The purchase price limits vary from area to area. For the first 30 days of the program, $80,000 is the maximum purchase price limit.

The Texas Housing Agency will issue the certificates to eligible families through a network of participating lending institutions. Approval to participate in the program must be obtained prior to purchasing a home. Families may obtain a list of lenders and additional program information by contacting the Agency at (512) 472-7500.

MARLER RECEIVES AWARD—Lynn Marler, local resident and active campaigner for better schools, received a certificate of appreciation from the High School Coaches Association. The award was presented "for her outstanding contributions to the youth and education in the state of Texas." Past president of the association, Greg Sherwood, gave Marler the award at a gathering in Plainview on September 17. Says Marler, "I am very honored. The recognition is definitely nice, but I realize that many others have worked as hard as I have for better education for our children."

SPISD board raises taxes

South Plains Independent School District was forced to increase the local school tax rate by seven cents this year in order to fund the operation of the district for another year, according to school board president Ira Henderson.

"We have lost almost $2 million in funding due to re-evaluation of our taxable base," said Henderson. "This, along with state funding cuts we experienced last year, has forced the trustees to increase the tax rate to make up the difference."

Henderson says the district expects to spend approximately $177,635.00 for operations this year. This is an increase of $7,000 over the budget for last year, necessitating an increase in taxes from 62.5 cents to 69.5 cents per $100 valuation.

Student population in the district has risen from 28 last year to 34 this year, but Henderson indicated that this should not be interpreted as a trend. "With the economy like it is, when a farmer lets a hand go, the community loses more than just a hand," says

Henderson. "We lose several students as well."

The faculty of four teachers and a bi-lingual aide will attempt to carry out their responsibilities this year with funds which are raised by local taxes and "about $9,000.00" in state funds. Other employees of the district include a cook, a janitor and two bus drivers.

Henderson stated that "about 40 students in grades 7 to 12 will be sent to Floydada schools since we can only provide classes up to the 6th grade. The tuition for these students is included in our budget."

"We have had to raise taxes both last year and this year," said Henderson. "so all we can do is just try to make it from year to year and hope we do not have to ask the taxpayers to pay an even larger tax next year."

Other members of the South Plains Independent School District board of trustees are Regene Bethel, Kelvin Cummings, Sue Givens and Howard Staples.

Social Security News

By Terry J. Clements

One of the interesting aspects of the fact that most people can look forward to a longer life in retirement is a tendency of many to continue working and even to start a career. For some, it's a matter of filling the empty hours; for many others, however, it becomes a matter of need.

People who contemplate working after retirement should be sure to understand how earnings will affect their Social Security benefits. To insure that benefits are paid to those who are actually retired, there is a limit on how much a person can make and still receive full benefits.

Under the annual earnings test, the earnings limit increases each year with increases in general wage levels. For 1986, it is $5,760 for people under 65; and $7,800 for people 65 to 70. The limit does not apply to people 70 and over.

Earnings over the limit cause benefits to be reduced $1 for each $2 of earnings above the limit. Generally, this means that a person is always better off working than not working, since it is possible to increase one's income substantially.

For example, a person retiring at 65 in 1986 receiving the maximum benefit of $760 a month or $9,120 a year could have a total income of $16,920, including earnings and full benefits. He or she could earn up to $26,040 before all benefits are withheld.

A person getting benefits who expects to earn more than the limit must report this to the Social Security Administration so the benefits may be adjusted accordingly. Failure to report the earnings could result in overpayments—receiving benefits to which a person is not entitled. The law requires overpayments to be repaid to the Social Security trust funds. Generally, this is done by withholding portions of future checks, but repayments may be made in a lump sum.

People who earn over the earnings limit are required to make a report by April 15 of the following year. The report also requires them to estimate how much they plan to earn in the future. Benefits are adjusted based on the information in the annual earnings report.

Any change in expected earnings after the report is made should be reported to the Social Security Administration immediately to avoid the risk of an overpayment. If it is determined that a person willfully and fraudulently concealed earnings, penalties are possible, ranging from a fine to a jail term.

Wind defense earns gold stars, repeatedly

Stan Stroebel was a pain to the Whirlwinds for over two hours Friday night. But on the biggest — and next to last — play of the night, the big Olton senior truly saw a sea of green.

With 0:43 remaining and the Whirlwinds owning a shaky 7-0 lead, Stroebel and Company from Olton faced fourth-and-four for a first down and 11 steps for a touchdown. Everyone on the field and in the stands knew that the Mustang halfback-quarterback would get the ball. He lined up at halfback on this crucial snap, and it was obvious that he would accept a handoff, pitch or pass from quarterback Reyes Garza.

The bullish runner plowed for a 2½ of the yards necessary, but he went under the sea of green shirts before he reached the end of the stick for a first down.

It was at that very instant that the Whirlwinds realized they had their second victory of the young season tucked away in their hip pockets. It was a sweet win in their home debut.

Quarterback Ty Stovall kept on one snap before the Winds let the clock tick off its final seconds.

DEFENSIVE HEROICS

Despite a couple of second half drives, the Whirlwind defense earned the game ball. Three times the Mean Green "D" shut down the Mustangs inside the Floydada 15 during the initial half.

But never were their efforts more important than in the final minute.

The hard-knocking visitors from Olton had started their final offensive attempt from inches outside their own goal line after shutting down the Whirlwinds inside their 2 for four consecutive snaps.

Julio Flores was nailed on about the three-inch line with 6:35 left. Had the Winds crossed into the end zone at this point for their second touchdown, they could have virtually sacked the victory.

But that wouldn't have allowed for the final excitement!

The clock showed 6:35 to play when Stroebel and his teammates gained possession. After an incomplete pass off the arm of Garza, Stroebel almost broke free before being arrested at the end of a 33 yard gallop. He made 3 more before Carlos Perez scooted for 16 steps to the Floydada 48. Big number 40 made 1 and 2, but a personal foul — late hit — cost the Whirlwinds 15 final yards to their 30. Eric Lee got 1, Garcia made 2 and Perez went for 6 before the Ponies went back to a straight diet of Stroebel.

He picked up a new series at the 17 and bulled for 7 on first down but was dropped for losses of ½ and 1 yard to set up the crucial fourth down.

WHIRLWIND OFFENSE FINALLY COMES ALIVE

After a totally dormant first half in which it reached midfield only once — squarely at the 50 on fourth-and-two — the Whirlwind offensive unit came alive on its initial possession following intermission to drive 85 yards on 13 snaps to score the contest's lone touchdown. Hector Flores scampered around right end for the final yard with 0:55 left in quarter number three.

The drive, in fact, consumed much of the third stanza.

The white-clad visitors accepted the second half kick, gained one first — an 11 yard run by Stroebel, naturally 8 — and punted to the Floydada 15.

The Whirlwinds got themselves in a deeper hole after the punt on a motion penalty and a 4 yard setback by Hector Flores. At this point however, the determined Wind offensive 11 totally took command.

Stovall kept for 9 and Julio Flores rode a tremendous block by Greg Lawson for 18 yards and a first down at the Floydada 38. Chad Pernel made a picturesque, diving catch of a Stovall aerial for 8, Hector Flores lost 1 and Julio duplicated his earlier feat with another 18 yard romp around left end with a pitch from Stovall. This set the Winds up with a fresh series at the enemy 37.

Hector was dropped for a 3 yard setback by an aggressive defense before Pernel made an 11 yard reception. Julio lost 1 to set up fourth-and-three. Stovall called his own number and raced 8 steps for another first at the 22.

The green shirts were rolling as Hector dashed around eight end for 6, Julio plowed 15 yards to the 1 and Hector carried the pighide around right end for six points. Jeff Smith's PAT kick was perfect as the scoreboard came off blanks and now showed "7" on the home side.

Three plays later — as the fourth quarter opened — Pernel handed the Winds an opportunity to ice the contest as he intercepted a Garza pass and returned to near the 20. However, a clip on the return pushed the ball back to the Mustang 46.

GOALLINE STAND

With first downs coming on a 20 yard spurt by Julio and an 18 yard effort by fullback Anthony Brocato, the Winds had a first-and-goal at the 2. Three drives into the line by Julio, fullback Joe Collins and Brocato netted exactly nothing. Julio bulled his way near the double stripe on fourth down, but the Ponies held inches away from the touchdown.

Olton launched its final drive from this point.

Except for that drive by the Ponies, the Green and White pretty much held the upper hand the final 24 minutes after Olton had stolen the first half show.

Taking the opening kick, the Mustangs picked up two first downs — one on a penalty — and advanced to the Floydada 43, where Stroebel was dumped for a 3 yard loss on fourth-and-one. This was the first hint that the Whirlwind defense would be rugged in the clutches.

But they continued dodging the bullet.

A punt attempt was voided as a low snap resulted in a 22 yard loss on fourth down, handing the pighide right back to Olton at the Wind 28.

A green shirt returned the favor on the next snap by recovering a fumble at the 22.

Lady Luck kept presenting the Mustangs with opportunities as a Stovall fumble at the end of a nifty run was covered by Olton at the Floydada 29.

A Garza-to-Judd Gaddy pass clicked for 15 steps to the 15. After an incompletion, Noe Soliz swiped his third pass of the season at the 3 to stave off yet another Olton threat.

Badly rushed on first down, Stovall just managed to dive out of the end zone and avoid a safety. One official actually signaled a safety but the call was overruled by another man in a striped shirt with a better vantage point.

Three downs later Clay Lowrance punted to the Floydada 47.

Still, the Mustangs weren't convinced. They advanced for new series on pass completions of 20 and 15 yards to the 11. Stroebel gained 6 tough yards on three attempts.

FIELD GOAL SHORT

Garza's 22 yard field goal attempt was short midway through the second period.

Following a Floydada punt, Rupert Jimenez decked Perez for a 4 yard loss on a completed screen pass. This was among the night's defensive gems.

Following an exchange of punts, the Ponies had one final first half scoring opportunity, thanks to a pass interference call at the Floydada 19 with 0:18 left. Dependable Joe Gonzales sacked Garza for an 8 yard loss as the half ended.

Repeated defensive gems in the first 24 minutes by the Whirlwinds turned the tide, until the final minute when they did it again!

MARKED MAN — Olton's Stan Stroebel [40] was a thorn in the Whirlwinds' side Friday night, but he was also a marked man. Whirlwind defenders Sylvester Mendoza [87], Rupert Jimenez [6] and a teammate converge on the strong Mustang runner. — Photo by Dale Lawson

Calculations and miscalculations of

Whirly and Windy

WHIRLY'S OPINIONS

Thank you Whirlwinds! If the Winds had lost, I would have gone 0 for 4. Can't believe Windy actually edged me last week. I was going to suggest that Windy abandon the calculator and go back to fingers and toes, but I guess it won't be necessary since he (or she) beat me. Well this means war! As of this writing I have ordered the famous "Kitchen Magic Crystal Ball." This may seem unfair to Windy but it was only $19.95 and they threw in a set of Ginsu steak knives.

Now for this week's picks:

Floydada vs. Lockney — I believe this one will be close, but the Winds will dig in and take the county championship.

Tech vs. Baylor — The Raiders fooled me last week but the Bears will be too much for them. Baylor by several.

Oklahoma vs. Miami — Should be one of the great games of the season. The Sooners' defense will slow down Testaverde. O.U. by a nose.

Cowboys vs. Cardinals — This one is a tiger. The Cardinals always play the Cowboys tough, and this will be no exception. Look for H. Walker to play more and earlier this week. Cowboys by a hair.

WINDY'S OPINIONS

Three weeks gone and the ol' average continues to amaze me. Few upsets over the week-end or I would be doing better than I am. Hey Whirly, guess the squirrels on the courthouse lawn kind of misled you last week (maybe it was J.R. doing the misleading).

This week's guesses are going to be tough and some indecision appears in my computer, but here goes:

Floydada-Lockney — Lots of bumps, bruises and soreness by the time this one is over. Could be one fine defensive struggle and if the weather stays good will be decided by kickers. Home field advantage will be very slight, therefore I predict the Winds by a slight amount. (Don't cry Doc, Mitchell and you other nice Lockney people.)

Tech-Baylor — What can you say. Without a decent quarterback, they still managed to get the job done. Not this week. Bears hungry before going into hibernation and will be upset with the way they lost last week. Brother Grant will give us Baptists something to feel good about.

OU-Miami — Why this game? Barry is on my most despised coaches list. Don't like him, his school, his conference or his coaching, except he is generally able to win. I get to watch this one, but will probably not have a TV on the job. Maybe the humidity and sand will slow down the O.U. defense and Miami's Testa — well, quarterback — can do what he does best: throw. Enough points in this game for a season — Miami having the most at the end.

Dallas-St. Louis — Well one bird got through the rope. Cowboys shoved hard to pull the slack quick enough to make noose settle. Miracle finishes are not always favorable. Ex-Cowboy coach will have Cardinals high, but unfortunately for us Cowboy non-fans, not high enough. This will be the Cowboys big Monday, not fiasco.

J. R. Maybe you better just guess at women's weight or age and leave the "experts" alone.

(Note to Windy: I hit 3 of 4 last week, and if memory serves you were only 2 of 4! Don't be proud; feel free to call for advice any time. I do hope, however, that you are correct on Barry's bunch. Incidentally, Whirly, that fourth grader called and offered to take your place. J.R.)

Marricles clip field in football contest

Who is the best football forecaster, Deneen or Keith Marricle.

The answer will have to be postponed a week because the pair deadheaded for first place in this week's Hesperian football contest. Deneen and Keith missed seven games and each guessed 28 points in the tie-breaker between Floydada and Olton.

Although rules stipulate that only one winner may come from a household during a week, the Marricles will have the first place check all to themselves.

Bob Alldredge and Chad Williams also missed seven games.

On the tie-breaker, Alldredge was two points better. He guessed 34 points, and Williams predicted 36 points. Alldredge receives the second place check and Williams the third place money.

The Whirlwinds and Olton put only 7 points on the scoreboard, so this is the tie-breaker score.

Thanks to a number of upsets at all three levels — high school, college and pro — contestants suffered a hard week end.

Receiving honorable mention with 14 correct winners (eight misses) were Brent Sanders, Sherry Hale, Laura Hale, Paige Cannon, Mike Anderson, Dwayne Wilson and Dorothy Holland.

A bevy of contestants missed nine games.

CLOSE RACE FOR TICKETS

Jim Curtsinger and Weldon Emert continue to lead the chase for the Dallas Cowboys tickets, which go to the season winner. Curtsinger has amassed 51 points, and Emert has 50.

Their nearest rivals at this point and the number of points include:

- 49 — Sherry Hale, Brent Sanders, Paige Cannon
- 48 — Bill Gray, Lisa Mosley
- 47 — Jean Hale, Darin Martinez, Andy Hale, Dell Gray, Tiffany Gentry, Deneen Marricle
- 46 — Laura Hale, Bob Alldredge, Dwayne Wilson, Glenda Wilson
- 45 — Trudy Hazlett, Steve Brooks, Mary Emert, Sherese Covington, W.O. Newberry.

Whirlwind JV still unbeaten

Whirlwind junior varsity ran its record to 2-0 Thursday night with a 46-0 decision over Olton.

After building a 16-0 halftime advantage, the Whirlwinds broke the contest open in the second half.

Dana Cooper scored in the first quarter on a 4 yard run. Extra point run failed.

Heath Robertson threw a 50 yard halftime pass to Rod Davis in the second stanza. Danny Caballero caught a Chad Quisenberry pass for the two-point conversion.

Robertson scored on a 9 yard run in the third period and Cooper was on the receiving end of a pass from Quisenberry for the two bonus points and a 24-0 score. Caballero tallied on a 3 yard run in the third quarter. Robertson ran over the conversion.

Quisenberry accounted for the fifth TD, which came in the fourth period, on a 1 yard run and the quarterback then passed to Cooper for the two-point PAT. The final TD came on a 2 yard run by Adolpho Chavarria. The PAT attempt failed.

Rushing leaders for Whirlwind JV were (number of carries and yards gained): Cooper, 10/62; Caballero, 13/56; Quisenberry, 9/42; Robertson, 11/56; Cory Mulder, 2/12; Chavarria, 1/2; Abel Sanchez, 1/1. The team had a net of 211 yards rushing on 47 attempts.

Quisenberry completed 5 of 10 aerials for 42 yards. Robertson completed his only pass for 50 steps.

Cooper caught 3 passes for 36 yards, Davis caught 1 for 50 yards and Caballero made 2 receptions for 6 yards. The team completed 6 of 11 passes for 92 yards.

Floydada netted 15 first downs while holding Olton to 1.

Coach Mike Vicks says offensive standouts were guard Shane Orman and tackles Wade Brooks and Rolando Cisneros and back Heath Robertson. Regarded as defensive standouts were Jacob Galvan, Dana Cooper, Leonard King and Danny Caballero.

Ranking high on defense were (number of unassisted tackles, assisted tackles, recovered fumbles and interceptions): Galvan, 3-2-1-0; Caballero, 1-3-0-0; Davis, 2-4-0-0; Robertson, 0-2-2-0; Chavarria, 1-3-1-0; Cooper, 1-1-0-1.

Whirlwind JV defense held Olton JV to 3 net yards rushing, 23 yards passing and only one first down.

Floydada's JV, which owns a 2-0 record, plays today (Thursday) in Hale Center. The game is tentatively scheduled for 5:30 p.m.

Freshmen defeat Plainview Red by 18-12

Whirlwind freshmen ran their record to 2-0 Thursday with an 18-12 victory over Plainview Red. This was a road game. Frank Suarez opened scoring in the first quarter for Floydada on a 12 yard run. Shay Hearon added two bonus points on a reverse for an 8-0 lead.

Plainview registered a touchdown in the second stanza on a 2 yard run, but the PAT failed. Harvey Soliz punted from the Floydada 25 and Hearon raced down to tackle the Plainview return man in the end zone for a safety and a 10-6 halftime score.

Hearon increased the locals' edge with a 20 yard TD romp in the third period. The bonus points were added when Grant Stovall passed to Hearon.

Plainview narrowed the gap in the fourth quarter on an 11 yard run for a touchdown. PAT attempt again failed to leave the final count at 18-12.

Eighth Breezers down Olton, 24-6, Thursday

Eighth grade Breezers opened their home season Thursday, Sept. 18, with a 24-6 victory over visiting Olton.

Breezers started the game in impressive fashion. Olton returned the opening kickoff and advanced to the Floydada 48 yard line before stalling on a fourth-and-5 situation.

The Breezers took over and on the first play Kenneth Collins went 58 yards to paydirt around right end. The two-point attempt failed to leave the score 6-0 with five minutes remaining in the first quarter.

On the next series, the junior Mustangs fumbled the ball back to Breezers. Four plays later, behind good blocking from the offensive line, Collins ran around left end 35 yards to score. Score remained 12-0 after the conversion attempt, a pass, was incomplete.

The ensuing kickoff was covered by Floydada at midfield. Runs by Harvey Espinoza and Michael Aleman pushed the ball downfield, and Collins went up the middle on an impressive run from the 16 for the touchdown. The PAT attempt failed and the Breezers led 18-0 after one quarter.

Neither team was able to put points on the board during the second and third quarters.

The Mustangs opened the fourth quarter with a drive which culminated when their quarterback scored from the 15 on a bootleg around the left side. Pass for PATs was intercepted by Harvey Garza, leaving the score 18-6.

Final score of the game came when Collins went around right end on a fourth-and-9 situation. He went 65 yards, breaking four tackles along the way. PAT attempt failed.

The Breezers' record is now 2-0. They will play Lockney here Thursday following the seventh grade game which begins at 5 p.m.

Coach James named Kenneth Collins, Larry Galvan, Vince Farris, Lalo Delgado, Mike Poffinbarger and Kenneth Reed as outstanding offensive players. Outstanding defensive players were Chad Williams, Pete Billegas, Garry Dawson, Collins and Galvan.

"I was really pleased by the way we moved the ball during the first quarter," Coach James says. "However, the rest of the game we didn't execute as well as we could have. Our defense is playing real well right now and this has really helped us throughout the game."

VA News

According to Margaret A. Herrera, Veterans Service Officer for Floyd County, some disabled wartime veterans may be due some monetary benefits they are not aware of.

Wartime veterans who had 90 days or more of honorable military service, and who are disabled and unable to work, may be eligible for Veterans Administration pension benefits. In order to qualify, the veteran must either be 65 years of age or older, or must provide medical evidence showing he is permanently and totally disabled. A veteran who is age 65 or older is presumed by law to be disabled for this purpose.

In addition to the disability provision, the veterans must meet certain annual income limitations. Under the current pension law administered by the Veterans Administration, a disabled veteran can be paid a maximum monthly amount of $490 if he has no income from any other source. If he has a wife or minor child, the maximum pension is $642. In both instances, the maximum pension is reduced by the amount of any other income which a veteran and his dependents have from any source. For example, an otherwise eligible veteran with Social Security of $300 per month would be entitled to $190 from the VA. If he had a wife who had no income, the VA payment would be $342 per month.

Some of the older veterans are not aware of the possibility of financial help, and should visit their local Veterans Service Officer for counseling and assistance in filing any appropriate claims of applications.

Emergency personnel vital in rural areas

A farmer involved in a tractor accident miles from a hospital depends on trained emergency personnel to give immediate care in a situation that could be life-threatening.

With advanced training and more elaborate radio communications available on the South Plains, that care is being provided where little previously existed.

Between 225 and 250 rural volunteers are trained in emergency care each year by Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center (TTUHSC). Bonnie Jackson, training coordinator who works in the Department of Surgery, says a 15-county area is covered by the service, which has allowed rural areas to upgrade the care they provide before patients arrive at a hospital.

Persons participating in the TTUHSC program can achieve up to four levels of certification recognized by the Texas Department of Health.

The first level, emergency care attendant, provides the participant skills in basic first aid and in at-the-scene care for life-threatening illnesses and injuries.

The second certification level, for basic emergency medical technician, allows students to gain experience in caring for ill or injured patients through clinical rotations with major hospitals and emergency medical services.

A specially skilled emergency medical technician receives training in advanced life support at hospitals and on emergency vehicles. The major emphasis is on care of the trauma patient.

The final category, paramedic emergency medical technician, allows the student to learn skills in the most advanced life support and requires the most classroom and clinical hours. Advanced cardiac life support is part of that program.

When someone is injured or ill in an area far away from a hospital or even a physician's office, Jackson said the burden falls on emergency personnel to provide on-site care.

Before training was available, the goal in emergency situations was to get the patient to a hospital as quickly as possible.

"Now, persons training in emergency care may make the difference in reducing the length of a patient's hospital stay later, and in some instances, may mean the difference between life and death," she says.

An early state law required persons giving emergency care to have only eight hours of first-aid training. A later law passed in 1983 requires certification as an emergency care attendant, but Jackson would like to see the minimal level in the future at emergency medical technician status.

"With training and communication with the hospital, emergency personnel can give appropriate care at the scene and also prepare the hospital for the type of patient being brought in," Jackson says.

She adds that with a physician's order over the radio, advanced level personnel can provide care similar to what a doctor could provide in the first few minutes upon arrival at the scene. Those few minutes are critical until the patient can be brought to a place where more equipment and expertise are available.

Application for admission to the training program may be made by calling (806) 743-3218 or writing Emergency Medical Programs, Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center, 3601 Fourth Street, Lubbock, Texas 79430.

Counties served by the program include Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Motley, Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Dickens, King, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn and Garza.
