SPS tenders offer to purchase city system

For the second time in approximately 18 months, Southwestern Public Service Co. (SPS) submitted a proposal Tuesday night to Floydada City Council to purchase the Floydada municipal electric system.

Gary Gipson, SPS vice president (marketing) presented the firm's offer, which he termed "significantly higher" than the proposal submitted "a year ago in February." He told the city governing body that the current offer was 59 percent greater.

The SPS offer was in the amount of $1.75 million. He termed the "book value" of the system as "a little over a million dollars."

The SPS official stated that approximately $100,000, in addition to the electric system's reserve, would be necessary to defuse or retire indebtedness on the system. This would leave approximately $1.65 million for the city.

If the money were invested at an annual rate of 7 1/4 percent interest, the 10-year return

ADDITIONAL PAYMENTS

Gibson estimated an increase in annual franchise tax payments from SPS to the city — should the proposal be consummated — at $20,000. This would be in addition to an estimated $4,000 increase in ad valorem taxes to the city and an estimated $14,000 in annual ad valorem taxes to other agencies such as the school, county, water district and hospital district.

Pointing to his company's reliability in customer service, Gibson also noted that one set of utility poles would be moved from alleys. City and SPS have individual distribution systems at present.

Present full-time employees of the Floydada electric system would, in the event the offer is accepted, be offered employment with SPS, "provided they can pass a standard physical (examination)."

Gibson asked that a city negotiating team be appointed to further discuss the proposal with SPS officials.

"Why do you want the system?" Mayor Parnell Powell asked. Gibson replied that securing of the Floydada facility would broaden the SPS customer base and "be beneficial to all customers throughout our system." He added that the venture "obviously would be profitable to SPS."

Another council question was whether SPS would honor the city's cable TV franchise agreement which allows use of utility poles. The answer was in the affirmative.

Councilman Leroy Burns inquired why the present offer is significantly higher than the 1984 proposal. He received the answer that the state rate base, a broadened SPS base and other factors were considered.

NEGOTIATING TEAM

Who would serve on the negotiating team, Councilman Don Green asked. He was told that normally the city manager and "two or three council members" are appointed.

Later, officials decided that city manager Bill Feuerbacher and the entire council would be involved in study and further negotiations.

Should the council and SPS agree to terms, the matter would then be presented to local voters.

"I would not object to the council, with their approval, meeting with you again," Mayor Powell told the SPS representatives.

Council member Wayne Russell offered a motion, seconded by council member Ginger Warren and adopted, that the city governing body further study the matter and report back to SPS.

Lewis McDaniel, local SPS manager, introduced four other SPS officials before Gibson submitted the proposal.

In later discussion, council members pointed out that should the sale be enacted the city would be obligated for street lights and electricity for municipal purposes. The city would become an SPS customer.

Study will be necessary to secure figures on these expenditures.

One council member mentioned that, according to the present schedule, the city will be debt free by 1990 and is in healthy financial condition.

NON-BINDING DECISION

Another said that although the present council, should the sale occur, could invest the estimated $1.65 million. But it could not bind any future council, and the principal (from the proposal electric system sale) could be spent by an ensuing city governing body.

Monday public hearing conducted by task force

The nine member task force appointed by the Floydada Independent School District board of directors is nearing the end of their task. Public hearings are being held to obtain local input concerning the redistricting of the local school voting district and the number of trustees to be elected. Also up for discussion is the method in which the trustees are elected.

Dr. Mark Turnbow, a demographics expert from El Paso, Texas, has been working with the committee and attorney Paul Lyle of Plainview in formulating an acceptable plan for the conversion to single member districts.

Since the first meeting of the task force on August 19, great strides forward have been made in achieving the goals set by the school board at the onset.

The major question the committee has attacked is deciding on a workable voting district plan, with the two preferred plans being either a five single member, two at large board or a seven single member board. The implementation of the plan and the rotation needed to insure continuity on the board are also being addressed. Other items entering into the decision making process have been the determination of minority voting patterns in Floydada and population concentrations in Floydada.

"Early in the process, the committee," stated by Adrain Helms, president, determined that whatever plan is adopted should virtually guarantee the election to the board of two minority representatives. While learning toward a 5-2 plan, the committee has maintained an open mind and a seven member plan is still under consideration."

"Among the chief difficulties the task force faces at this time," according to Turnbow, "are the drawing of boundary lines in a manner which will result in two precincts which are predominately minority areas while meeting the standards and criterion required by the United States Justice Department which will ultimately rule on the plan."

The voting rights act dictates that certain specifics be met in arriving at a voting district plan. Districts must be roughly equal in size, with population totals within 10% in all districts. Districts must be contiguous, meaning each district must be one area which does not fragment the minority community and does not dilute the voting strength of minorities. These safeguards are designed to ensure the one person, one vote concept.

According to Dr. Turnbow, "The dedicated people serving on this committee have done an absolutely wonderful job considering the fact that the data they are working from is six years old and a lot of time has had to be spent in attempting to update this and arrive at current population levels and voting trends."

Turnbow pointed out that "You will have to live with the consequences of the work we do here. This is your plan and you need to let the committee members know how you feel about it."

The two plans presented and explained at the Monday night public hearing are quite diverse. The first plan is for five trustees to be elected from five districts and two trustees to be elected at large to represent the entire district.

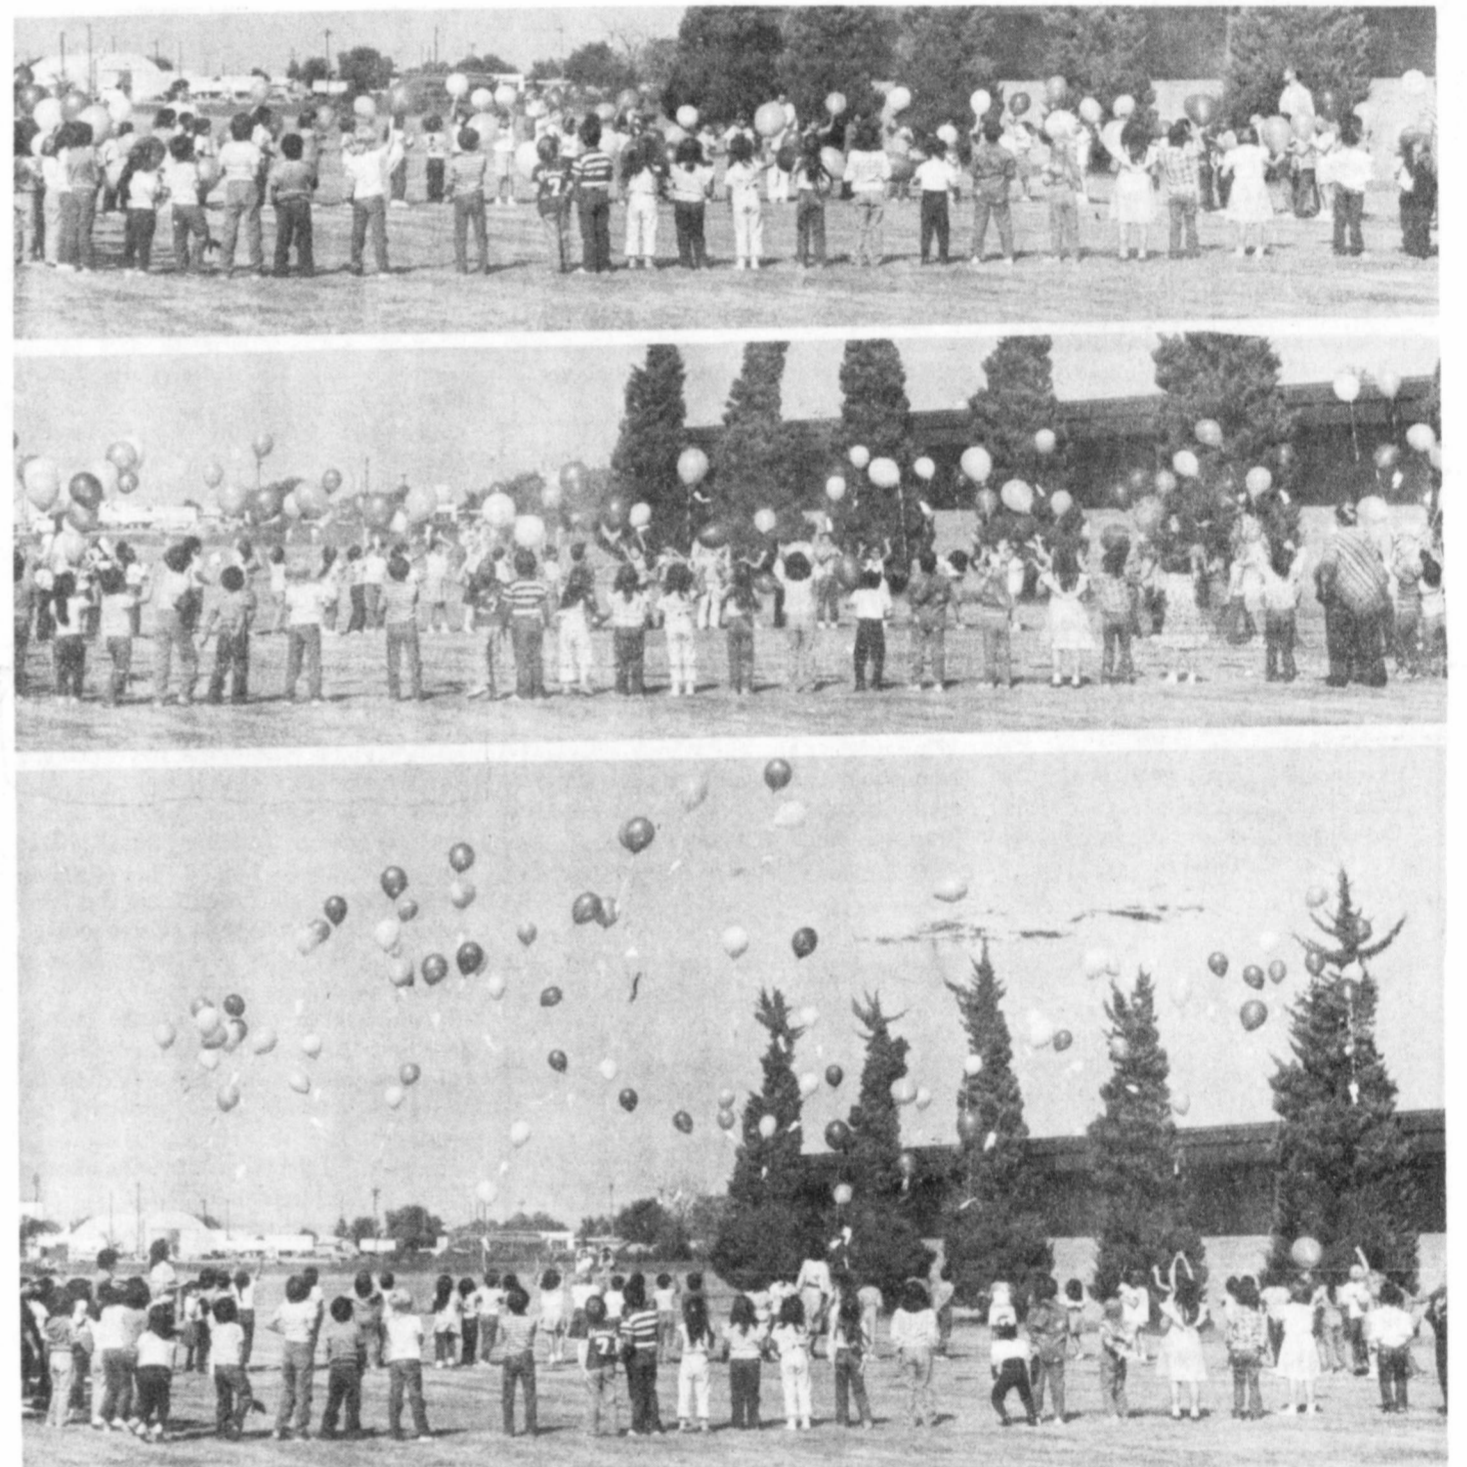

The current lines being studied for separating the district into five voting precincts would make each district's population about 1176 people and would give Precinct 1 a minority population of 19%, Precinct 2 a minority population of 22%, Precinct 3 a minority population of 65%, Precinct 4 a minority population of 62% and Precinct 5 a minority population of 18%.

"This would assure a strong probability of two minority candidates being elected if voter registration is strong and election turnout is good," said Turnbow.

"The second proposal, a seven single member distribution, would make the population of each precinct approximately 840, according to Turnbow. "Minority population in this plan would be even more concentrated in one area with Precinct 5 having an 85.6% minority representation and Precinct 4 having 60.3% minority residents. The next highest concentration of minorities would be Precinct 6 with 35.1% minority population. The other four precincts would have only marginal minority populations."

Turnbow told the more than one hundred attending the hearing, "Each plan has pros and cons. The 5-2 plan offers more safeguards for minorities, meets the balance preferred by the Justice Department and meets the state statutes regulating the membership of school boards in

DPS Trooper Tony Arnold assigned to Floyd County

Trooper Tony Arnold, 20, has recently graduated from the Department of Public Safety Training Academy and assigned to the Highway Patrol Service in Floydada.

Trooper Arnold was one of 83 cadets recently commissioned as state troopers in graduation ceremonies in Austin. Trooper Arnold is a native of Smyer and assumes his new duties immediately.

Colonel Jim Adams, DPS director, said he is especially pleased at the quality of people who are entering the law enforcement profession.

"These men and women were carefully selected from a large group of applicants to undergo an intensive 18-week course," Adams said. "They have been trained to uphold the laws of this state in routine as well as difficult law enforcement situations."

"Today's Texas trooper is required to handle many varied tasks in addition to traffic enforcement. The trooper may assist in narcotics arrests, recovery of stolen vehicles and investigation of theft cases. A broad range of law enforcement responsibilities will face the trooper who has chosen to serve his fellow Texans," Adams said.

The DPS training course included instruction in traffic law, criminal law, arrest procedures, accident investigation, and numerous other law enforcement related topics.

Whirlwinds strive to saddle Mules

Important district encounter unreels Friday night in Muleshoe

"We need a big game this week," Coach Joe Paty says as his Whirlwinds prep for the long trek to Muleshoe this Friday.

The improving Floydada gridders have dropped decisions to two state-ranked teams in their latest two outings and need to get back on victory road.

They own a 2-3-1 record for the season, but their district standard is 0-1 following the loop opener against Tulia last week.

Kickoff in Muleshoe is scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

"They're (Muleshoe) playing at their place and they'll be ready," Coach Paty predicts, particularly in view of the fact that the Mules figured to knock off Floydada last fall but dropped a 13-6 decision.

After going 0-10 last fall, the Mules jumped off to a 4-0 start in '86 with victories over Olton (22-14), Boys Ranch (34-13), highly-regarded Hart (20-18) and Springlake-Earth (40-16).

Their streak was broken by Lockney, 21-6, and the Mules opened district warfare last Friday with a 39-6 setback at the hands of Friona.

MUCH IMPROVED

"They are so much improved over last year; we've got to play hard to win," Coach Paty says. Muleshoe now owns a 4-2 record.

The Whirlwinds and the Mules have faced two common opponents this year: Lockney and Olton. Floydada and Lockney played to a 7-7 tie and the Winds outlasted Olton 7-0.

Slotback Todd Bessire represents good speed at wingback for Muleshoe. He is joined in the backfield by strong tailback Michael Dunham, a 195 pounder, and quick fullback Armondo Del Toro. Blending passing and running into their attack, the Mules have been successful in moving the ball well in most games.

Their line is "average size," with a pair of 200 pounders.

SECOND QUARTER LAPSE

"I'm proud of the kids for the way they battled and scrapped" against Tulia, the Whirlwind mentor says, but he was disappointed by the second quarter lapse which saw the Hornets score 21 points in slightly over five minutes. The Winds "self destructed" during this period when Tulia recovered a kick and blocked a punt to set up two touchdowns. "You just can't have mental lapses against a state-ranked team," Coach Paty adds.

"We played a good game, but these two mistakes were key factors," he comments. "I felt like, going into the game, that we could stay with them if we got the breaks." Statistics were close despite the 28-7 score.

Coach Paty points with pride to Mean Green's early defensive stand. Following a turnover, Tulia advanced to the Floydada 3. However, the Whirlwind defense drove them back to the 33. From that point Floydada marched 67 yards to score the game's initial touchdown.

"We have momentum" at that time, the Floydada mentor says. But Tulia scored three times by driving a total of "about 75 yards." On each of their scoring drives, the Hornets gained possession in the Floydada end of the field.

Despite breakdowns in the kicking game the past two weeks, Paty emphasizes, "We've worked hard on our kicking game and we will continue to work on the kicking game."

Two Whirlwinds are listed as "Questionable" for the Muleshoe contest.

punter-tackle Clay Lowrance suffered a "badly sprained ankle" when he was hit during a blocked punt effort in the second quarter of the Tulia match.

Joe Gonzales is "still hobbling" on a knee injured against Lockney.

They add that, "You may register at the Massie Activity Center on distribution day. Bring a current utility bill for identification."

Persons who have filled out an application form this month should bring their commodity identification card with them on distribution day.

During the past fiscal year, the city realized a profit of "between $150,000 and $200,000" from its electric system.

A workshop for the council to further investigate this and other matters was called for 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday, Oct. 22.

Another consideration is the present local electric rates as compared with the SPS system-wide rates. This will be investigated. Under the present city-SPS contract, rates established by the city are utilized by both utilities.

Crosbyton, Canadian and Tucumcari, N.M., are the last municipal electric systems which have been purchased by SPS, Gibson told the group.

AIRPORT CONTRACT

Airport Manager Grigsby (Doodle) Milton met with the council to discuss a new airport contract since the existing pact expires at the end of the year. Milton expressed an interest in renewing the agreement, although he would desire the right to transfer the contract should he decide in the future to sell to another individual.

The present agreement stipulates that the city has the right to approve a new owner.

Russell said that the city should no longer be responsible for purchase of liability insurance for the airport. Despite personal objections and the cost, Milton said he would assume this obligation.

The city governing body expressed a desire to receive more than the present two cents per gallon for all fuel sold at the airport.

Burns suggested that the city study the matter and have a new contract drafted for Milton's consideration. He termed several features of the present contract as being "outdated."

COUNTY'S RURAL FIRE CALL OFFER REJECTED

A letter from Judge Choise Smith revealing the Floyd County Commissioners Court proposal concerning rural fire protection was read. The offer called for the county to provide Floydada Volunteer Fire Department with a truck with which to combat rural fires, $100 per call and $3,000 annually.

Fire Chief Bobby Welborn, speaking in behalf of the volunteer fire department, said the department does not believe the $100 per fire allotment is sufficient. He also discussed the type of truck being considered by the county.

After hearing the four volunteer firemen present express their views, the council voted to refuse the county offer and is asking that the city's original offer to Floyd County for rural fire protection be enacted, with a Dec. 8 deadline for signing of such a contract being established.

Green offered the motion, which was unanimously adopted.

The city's proposal calls for $200 per call beyond the city limits, a truck furnished by the county to meet the Floydada fire department's specifications and $3,000 annually.

The city governing body was informed that Dinks Eckert, a member of the Floydada Volunteer Fire Department, is a candidate for fourth vice president of the state fireman's association. The election is scheduled next June during the state group's annual convention in Amarillo.

The campaign requires extensive travel and expense, the council was told, due to travel, lodging, food and other costs. A candidate is expected to visit conventions of all 16 districts in Texas.

During a six-year span, the individual elected as fourth vice president normally passes through the chain of command — various vice president posts, the presidency and past president. This procedure is routine, with the "real campaign" always involving the fourth vice president.

Firemen said that Bill Barrett of Spur, who served as state president about six years ago, was possibly the only Panhandle-South Plains to become state president of the firemen's organization.

parts of the state. He believes that "three or four months of hard campaigning" would be necessary in addition to travels and contacts he has already made.

Prior to opening of bids on demolition of six structures, cellars and other buildings, the present owners asked for a time extension. This request was refused, although fears harbored by three individuals present were apparently erased after talking with the city governing body.

In answers to their questions, they were told that the demolition would be financed by the city at no cost to them, that no lien would be placed on this land, that they would be allowed to rebuild — if they desired — on the lots after securing a city permit, that the land "probably will be more valuable" after structures are cleared and that taxes would be reduced sans the structures.

Mayor Powell stated that the city "has probably had 300 (substandard) structures removed and the land cleared in the last 10 years."

DEMOLITION BIDS RECEIVED

Sealed bids were received from eight individuals and one firm for demolition of "six structures, cellars and other buildings."

The following bids were awarded:

- * 623 and 625 W. Grover Street, lots 8 and 10, Block H, Andrews Addition, two houses, two cellars and other buildings: Richard Zavala, $2,150.

- * Lots 4-5-6, Block 52, Original Addition, one house and other buildings: Vernon Wickware, $650.

- * 700 E. Virginia, northwest Part One, Huckaby Addition, two buildings, 20x100 and 30x100 feet: Wickware.

In addition, the $200 offer from Bill Womack was accepted for a 20x100 foot metal covered, wooden frame structure at E. Virginia and 12th Street. One higher bid was received, but it was not accompanied by a check for "earnest money" as required in specifications.

RESIGNATION ACCEPTED

The resignation of Louis Anderson as a member of the Planning and Zoning Commission and Board of Adjustments was accepted. Anderson will be moving from Floydada.

J. Royce Bradshaw was appointed to succeed Anderson in these posts.

Three sealed bids were opened on requests for land to be used as a future city landfill. These sites, which included varying acreages, came from: Keith Reeves, C.N. Walding and Thomas and JoNell Favver.

Bids were tabled "at present" for study until the regular November council meeting.

The bid of Plainview Plate Glass & Mirror — the lowest of two proposals — was accepted for the replacement of six city hall windows where air conditioners are to be removed. Insulated glass is to be installed.

The Plainview firm's bid was $2,244. A total bid of $2,584 came from Lubbock Sash & Door.

Contained in the motion was a stipulation that 10 percent of the bid be retained until "all city hall entrances are recaulked" from a previous project.

Voting in the affirmative to award the bid to Plainview Plate Glass & Mirror were council members Wayne Russell, Don Green, Ginger Warren and Frank Breed. Leroy Burns voted "no."

A public hearing was set for Nov. 11 concerning demolition of structures at 120 W. Ollie Ave., Lot 13, Block 24, Bartley Heights Addition, which includes one house and cellar. Noah Crowley is the owner.

A resolution was passed as requested by John E. Simpson, general manager of Mackenzie Municipal Water Authority concerning retirement of "latter end" or 2012 and 2013 year bonds on the water project. According to bond ordinance of the 1982 series bonds, the date for redemption — "buy-back time" — is Nov. 14 of this year.

The Mackenzie official's correspondence, the water district will save $12,600 per year on general obligation (tax) bonds. Texas Water Development Board was the lender.

The bond retirement is in the amount of $225,000 on bonds and $4,340 in interest, for a total of $229,340.

HEARING ON REZONING

A resolution from Richard Hale, chairman of the Planning and Zoning Commission, was discussed. This proposal seeks a zoning change on West Houston Street from R-2 to B-2 status.

The public hearing was called by the council for Nov. 11. Feuerbacher said that all property owners within 200 feet must be notified.

The city manager informed the council that, "due to the ceremony, an influx of substandard trailers and mobile homes" for living quarters are being located in Floydada. City officials are investigating an ordinance to curtail the "substandard" housing.

Payment of September city bills was approved.

The session opened at 7:30 p.m. in the council chambers with invocation and approval of minutes of the last regular and special meetings.

Present, in addition to the entire council, were Feuerbacher, City Secretary Jimmie Lou Stewart, City Attorney Steven Hale and approximately 15 guests.

CANDIDACY FAVORED

The council favored Eckert's candidacy but questioned whether tax dollars could be used to help defray his campaign expenses. They will further investigate and hope to arrive at a plan whereby individual contributions could be received for this purpose.

Eckert said that he has received encouragement to seek the post from firemen in various

PUBLIC NOTICE

Brooks Oil Co. is still owned and operated by myself, Ray Brooks, I am not leaving Floydada nor do I plan to leave.

Apparently I have offended someone in our courthouse or who has friends in the courthouse who is not man enough to come face to face with me to air their grievances. Instead this person or persons has chosen to harm my son in order to do harm to me.

I have relocated that son and feel it is necessary to relocate my wife and younger son in order to prevent any further action by this person or persons. They no longer live in Floydada.

To my friends and customers, I want to thank you for your friendship and continued support.

Ray Brooks

To the folks back home,

As I sit here in my swing gazing at an old tree I am reminded of my 99th birthday coming in a few days. The old tree like myself has gone through many good seasons as well as bad. Its gnarled and crooked branches still reach out in an inviting way. I have been told it was a historical marker and I am close by.

I usually have some birds of different kinds fluttering around, but today I had a new visitor. A little deer came close and stood there looking at me as if to say happy birthday granny.

I was sorry I had to give up my home and leave Floydada it has been my home so long. We came to Floyd Co. in 1913. My husband (J.C. Newsom), myself and our two year old son (Winfred) settled on the farm in the Campbell community, and two little girls came into our family (Bonita and Lois.)

We then moved to Floydada and my husband continued until ill health forced him to retire. The children grew up and finished high school on through Tech and Baylor. All were members of the First Baptist.

I like my new home (Bulverde) it is about 15 miles north of San Antonio. It is a small community center. Woods store is the main place and the only store in Bulverde. Friends and neighbors meet there and do their visiting with donuts and coffee.

This is a rough, rugged country, rocky and hilly, covered with trees and the crookedest roads. There are lots of nice homes and beautiful lawns and gardens. At night when the lights come on it looks like lightning bugs scattered all through the woods. Most all the people work in San Antonio.

No, I am not homesick (or maybe a little bit) but I want you all to know how much you and the First Baptist Church have meant to me in my reclining years. So I say thanks.

Bill Clements has a solid record in education and is the best man to continue the progress made in this area.

While Mark White tries to grab the headlines with his glowing rhetoric on education, Bill Clements is the man who pushed through the first comprehensive education reforms in more than 30 years.

The Clements "back-to-basics" education reforms helped move the Texas education system forward. The progress that is now being made can be directly attributed to Clements.

The controversy surrounding teacher competency tests in House Bill 72 is perfect illustration of the different approach of Clements and White. Bill Clements passed a competency test rule that had graduating college students majoring in education take uniform exams to insure they mastered their area.

The tests, which were first given last May without any criticism or controversy, were based much like an exam taken before an individual enters a profession. A law student must pass a bar exam. A medical student must pass a series of medical exams. And, so education majors must pass a standard test before certification. That's the Clements method.

The Mark White method was to force teachers with 10 or 15 years of experience to take a test on threat of being forced out of their profession.

THE HEART TREASURE CHEST is presented to Superintendent Jerry Cannon (left) by Sherry Hale (center). The chest is being given to all school districts by the American Heart Association and the Houston Endowment. Principal Bobbie Weir, of Duncan Elementary, whose students will most benefit from this chest looks on. See related story on treasure chest.

Heart Treasure Chests donated

Sherry Hale, representing the American Heart Association, presented The Heart Treasure Chest, a comprehensive teaching tool to the Floydada Independent School District Tuesday night.

Thirty-three hundred Heart Treasure Chests are being given as a public service to every accredited public and private elementary school in Texas, courtesy of the American Heart Association and the Houston Endowment, Inc.

The Heart Treasure Chest helps children gain an awareness of the importance of caring for their hearts. It also helps them develop positive heart-health habits and understand the role of diet, physical activity and rest.

The tested and award-winning instructional program is designed to teach heart-health concepts and practices to preschool and kindergarten children. It contains color, games and excitement. The chest contains all the items needed to teach heart health. Filmstrips, cassette tapes with heart songs, colorful wall charts, a stethoscope, recipe cards, a Heart Healthy Home game, parent newsletters and Heart Healthy Learning Certificates are all part of the Heart Treasure Chest.

For teachers, a complete curriculum guide is included in the chest. The heart-health curriculum consists of three teaching/learning programs that are presented over a three week period: 1) The Work of the Heart and Ways to Tell If It's Healthy; 2) Physical Activity and Rest; 3) Heart Healthy Foods.

"We are really excited about having this chest for the kids," said Mrs. Hale. "They really enjoy the games and all the things in the chest that they participate in. Every school district in Floyd County will get one, and now we don't have to check it out from Lubbock all the time for the kids to enjoy."

FHA-HERO organizes at Floydada Junior High

By Noella Huerta

The Floydada Jr. High Future Homemakers of America-Home Economics Related Occupation Club met Oct. 1, 1986 in the homemaking room. Officers were elected for the 1986-87 school year. To vote, run for office, or nominate a candidate you had to be a member and have paid your $5 dues.

Drivers (SADD); the Student Body (teen-age nutrition); Families and Futures; Feeding Hungry Americans (helping the commodity food distribution program as volunteers); and Adopt-a-Highway.

The class is sewing clothing and will give a style show next month. Some students have decorated birthday cakes for their parents. They also helped move out the babies in the day care during the tornado and fire drills. Some members helped lead the pre-school 4 year old class to their places of safety. When the alarm sounded, they rushed to their stations to help the teachers with the little children.

High school has not paid their dues yet for enough members to elect officers. They are sewing too. The club voted to sell stuffed animals as a project to pay for trips.

Students who were elected were: Gracie Cervera, president; Mary Garza, vice-president; Maria De La Fuente, treasurer; Jennifer Shaut, secretary; Noella Huerta, reporter; Alice Machado, historian; Samantha Salazar, song leader; and Mary Garza, sgt.-at-arms. Mrs. Joyce Williams is advisor. Officers were elected by secret ballot.

The yearbook committee has started working on the programs. Club projects will include: Students Against Drunk

Fellowships to the college are awarded for significant scientific or clinical research in the field of radiology, or significant contributions to its literature. Criteria for selection also include performance of outstanding service as a teacher of radiology, service to organized medicine and an outstanding reputation among colleagues and the local community.

Dr. Chapman is the son of Judge and Mrs. Alton Chapman of Gatesville, Texas, formerly of Floydada.

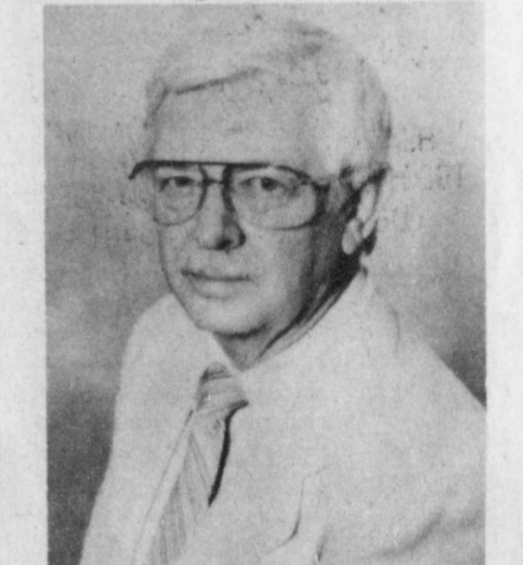

Dr. Chapman's wife, Barbara, is the daughter of Everett Perry of Floydada. Both Barbara and Brooks are graduates of Floydada High School.

Gowens honored as finalist for award

Donnell Gowens, highway department maintenance supervisor for Floyd County, was honored Wednesday (October 8) as one of six finalists for the 1986 Lady Bird Johnson Award for highway beautification.

As a finalist, Gowens was a guest of Lady Bird Johnson at ceremonies and a luncheon at the Lyndon B. Johnson State Park at Stonewall.

Each year, the former first lady recognizes the six State Department of Highways and Public Transportation maintenance supervisors who have been judged to have done the best job of beautifying the roadsides under his care.

This year's winner was Billy Rushing of Van Zandt County in East Texas. Rushing invented a special machine for harvesting wild flower seed.

Even though he was not the winner, Gowens said he was pleased to have been a finalist in the competition.

Mel Pope, highway district engineer for the 17 counties around Lubbock, said Gowens works hard to beautify the roadsides in Floyd County. Pope said Gowens uses care in mowing along highways to promote the development of vegetation and prevent loss of soil by wind and water.

Gowens also seeds native buffalo grass to fill in sparse vegetation areas and transplants native shrubs and cedars to picnic areas to make them more attractive for motorists.

This year, wildflower seed Gowens spread in 1984 bloomed to provide a more colorful drive for motorists, especially in northeast Floyd County.

LOCKNEY COOPERATIVES

From sunrise to sunset all across the nation...

40,000 cooperatives work hard for their member-owners and their communities.

In big cities, small towns and rural areas, cooperatives owned and operated by 60,000,000 people provide a tremendous variety of goods and services—electric and telephone service, farm credit, credit unions, farm marketing and farm supply, food, health and day care, and insurance.

Cooperatives work because they meet people's needs efficiently and economically. That's why co-ops have scored high marks for quality goods and services for more than half a century all across America.

Co-op people point with pride at what their cooperatives have achieved for their friends, neighbors and communities. Co-ops are true American success stories.

When cooperatives work, all America benefits.

Rusty Galloway advances to state

Floydada High senior Rusty Galloway qualified for the Texas Farm Bureau Free Enterprise Speech Contest by claiming first place in District II competition on Monday night. The district event was held in Lubbock.

Galloway, who presented a talk at the recent county Farm Bureau convention, will vie in the state event Nov. 30 in McAllen. His prepared speech must be from four to six minutes in length.

Galloway is a son of Doug and Elaine Galloway.

Contestants are judged on the following criteria:

1. 20 points — Organization: Did there seem to be logical order to the speech?
2. 10 points — Language: Desirable sentence structure, clear enunciation.
3. 10 points — Voice: Expression, tone, rate, enthusiasm, etc.
4. 10 points — Use of notes: Was the material read? Were the notes more of a crutch than an aid?

5. 10 points — Eye contact: Were all parts of the room given equal time?

6. 10 points — Overall persuasiveness

7. 30 points — Was the speech germane to the Free Enterprise topic.

The 13 district winners are to compete in the semi-finals of the state contest at the TFB state convention. Six of the semi-finalists will be chosen to advance to compete in the contest finals. A state winner and one runner-up will be selected.

Each district winner is awarded a $750 college scholarship by Texas Farm Bureau. The state winner earns a $2,000 scholarship, the runner-up receives a $1,500 scholarship and each of the other four finalists are recipients of $1,000 scholarships.

Individuals who qualify for more than one scholarship will be awarded the largest of the scholarships. Instead of recipients receiving cash, the scholarship is payable directly to the college or university in two equal payments.

Purpose of the TFB Free Enterprise Speech Contest is to "provide selected young people an opportunity to organize and present their knowledge of constitutional government and the free enterprise system. They will also improve their ability to orally communicate the advantages of these systems and develop their abilities of leadership."

Contestants must have completed the 1986 TFB High School Citizenship Seminar. Each must have presented at least five speeches concerning free enterprise during the period of June 23-Sept. 12 of this year.

Contestants must be a Farm Bureau member or a member of a Farm Bureau family. The membership and contestant's residence must be within the district of competition.

RUSTY GALLOWAY

Bringing food to the table

Almost a quarter of all farm crops are marketed through cooperatives. Agricultural marketing cooperatives protect farmers against the harsh effects of the speculative market and add an important competitive element to their marketing environment. They have improved and stabilized farm prices, without increasing costs to consumers.

Marketing cooperatives have also helped to improve the quality of food products reaching consumers, by emphasizing grading and labeling and insisting on high standards for the food distribution system.

More than 4,200 cooperatives in the United States market farm commodities.

Increasingly, marketing cooperatives are getting into the farm supply business. Conversely, supply co-ops are adding marketing to their services.

But the primary function of marketing cooperatives is to bring to market raw foodstuffs ranging from dairy products, livestock and grain to fruits, vegetables and poultry. A hundred trade names of cooperatively marketed farm products — such as Sunkist, Land O' Lakes, Sunmaid, Ocean Spray, Farmland, Blue Diamond, Welch's, and Farmbest — today stand for dependable quality wherever American consumers find them.

Floydada school board meets

The board of trustees for the Floydada Independent School District had several visitors during the October 14 regular monthly session.

Among those meeting with the board was Sherry Hale, program chairman for the Floydada Chapter of the American Heart Association. Mrs. Hale presented school superintendent Jerry Cannon with a Heart Treasure Chest to be placed at Duncan Elementary.

The treasure chest offers instructors a variety of ways in which to teach "Heart Healthy Living" to young students and will be available to teachers for classroom use.

Vocational agriculture teacher Allan Akers and three of his FFA club members came to the meeting to present each board member with an FFA cap in thanks for the support the program and the club receives from the board and the administration of the school.

Presenting the hats were Shannon Barbee, Clay Lowrance and Troy Don Faulkenberry.

The final visitor to the Tuesday evening meeting was Sheree Cannon, counselor for the local schools. Mrs. Cannon reported to the board on the results of the Texas Educational Assessment of Minimum Skills examination taken by local students last year and informed the board that the first testing dates for this school year are set for October 28 and 29. On these days, members of the junior class will be tested.

Passing this test is mandatory if a student is to graduate. Students will be offered the opportunity for taking the test four times before graduation in May of 1988.

Board members authorized the hiring of an additional pre-kindergarten teacher at A.B. Duncan Elementary. Cynthia Bellah will hold that position for the current school year.

An updated version of the Texas Association of School Board policy manual was reviewed and approved during the meeting. This manual covers all aspects of the operation of a school district and is used as a guide in handling any situation which could arise in the course of daily operation, both in regard to students, faculty and the general public.

A proposal from Leroy Burns to purchase several lots which are being held by the taxing entities in lieu of delinquent taxes was approved upon payment of $1200, net.

Administrative assistant Jimmy Collins reported to the board on the resolution of five failures to comply violations on an environmental control report recently received.

The report stemmed from an inspection of R.C. Andrews Elementary in October of 1985. The five violations concern the asbestos insulation used on the boiler ducting in the basement and a small section of ducting in the cafeteria.

The cited violations have been corrected and the necessary notices of asbestos hazard have been posted in the proper areas. Notifications have been given to persons who might come in contact with the asbestos materials and all precautions have been taken to assure that no one can be harmed in any way by the insulation material.

Collins also asked the board to approve having the bus turn around area at Duncan renovated. The pavement in the area is crumbling and needs to be redone from the roadbase up. The estimated cost of the project is around $3300 and should be completed before winter weather sets in.

Board members approved the expenditure with the condition that more than one estimate be secured before making a decision concerning the company to do the job.

Superintendent Cannon asked the board to consider investing in the tie-in-network for use in the district in future years. The closed circuit/satellite network provides classroom instruction with on line communication during class periods. This allows a smaller district to provide instruction in areas of interest to advanced students or in areas where no local instructor is available. It could also be used for college level classes for the public in the evenings and for courses teachers are required to have as well as in service training and advance degree work.

Cannon stated that "the initial cost of the equipment would be under $20,000 and that the yearly cost would run around $11,000" after installation. The board members requested additional information for further consideration.

Attending the session were Weldon Pruitt, Bill Orman, Harvey Allen, Freddie Morren, Charlene Brown, John Dunlap and Don Hardy.

Women's C of C hosts coffee

The Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce met on October 6 and made final plans for the businessmen and merchants appreciation coffee. Plans were also made to distribute apples to the teachers in the near future.

The coffee was held on Friday, October 10 at the First National Bank building with cookies being furnished by various members. Over 40 people attended with several businessmen attending for the first time.

Next meeting will be held Monday, November 3, at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Southwestern Bell lauded for minority support

Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. (SWBT) has received the federal government's top award for private sector support to minority business development in 1986.

The U.S. Commerce Department presented Southwestern Bell Telephone with the Minority Enterprise Corporate Award at special ceremonies held in Washington, D.C. on Wednesday, Oct. 9. Nine other major U.S. companies also received the award.

The Commerce Department each year selects the 10 most outstanding minority business development programs in the private sector as part of a week-long observance of minority enterprise in the country.

"We're very appreciative that the Commerce Department has recognized the company's efforts in behalf of minority business development," said Jim Adams, Texas Division president of Southwestern Bell Telephone.

Adams said the company has a tradition of community involvement and supporting business development throughout its five-state operating territory.

"Southwestern Bell Telephone and its employees have a superlative record of supporting the communities in which we live and work — from our minority enterprise programs to our involvement in the state's Adopt-A-School and other volunteer efforts," Adams said.

Adams also expressed appreciation to the Texas Association Mexican-American Chambers of Commerce (TAMACC). TAMACC, a business development trade association representing 5,000 Hispanic-owned businesses and professionals in the state, nominated Southwestern Bell Telephone for the corporate award.

In its nominating letter to the Commerce Department, TAMACC said the company is a model corporate citizen in the minority community. "Southwestern Bell Telephone has demonstrated that its interest and involvement in minority economic development is a long term proposition. The company has established a solid track record of support both financially and through voluntary efforts."

Southwestern Bell Telephone purchases an annual average $38 million in goods and services from minority-owned businesses. The company is involved in numerous educational and job training programs in partnership with various community-based minority organizations.

For more than a year, Adams has served as chairman of TAMACC's Texas Corporate Partnership Program, a bridge-building effort between Texas-based corporations and the state's minority business community.

Podiatry is something that a lot of people are not familiar with. For example, did you know that the foot is a biological masterpiece with 26 bones, ligaments, muscles and blood vessels withstanding several tons of pressure everytime you walk?

A Podiatrist can help you with warts, ingrown toenails, corns, calluses, sports injuries, athletes foot, arthritis and many other foot disorders including manifestations of diabetes or kidney problems, i.e., loss of feeling and ulcers can be found in the feet. Remember preventative care of all foot problems can be the most helpful deterrent to major problems.

VINCENT T. DIPAOLO - a licensed podiatrist - at 701 Broadway Suite 215 (in Skaggs Bldg), located in Plainview, phone 293-2525, wants you to take care of this vital part of your body.

A licensed podiatrist can diagnose your problems, by means of X-ray (if necessary) and treat it in the most productive method of which modern medical science has to offer.

In composing this 1986 Fall Review we, the editors, want you to "step up to foot health care" and heed the advice of this podiatrist.

Hornets utilize second quarter surge for win

Take out the second quarter Friday night and the Whirlwinds played powerhouse Tulia to a 7-7 standoff.

But, unfortunately for the Mean Green, that second stanza counted and so did the 21 points hung up on the scoreboard by the visitors, who posted a 28-7 victory in the district opener for both squads.

Tulia's talented gridgers utilized the speed — the Hornets have an abundance of that speed — and a few miles from Lady Luck to rack up these 21 points in only five minutes and two seconds. This proved their explosive-ness, which Whirlwind mentors had feared entering the contest.

The white-clad visitors scored an insurance touchdown on their initial possession of the third quarter in an otherwise scoreless second half.

But it was the Whirlwinds who stole the show in the first period. The Mean Green played fantastic defense and then put the first "7" on the scoreboard to momentarily stun the Hornets.

WINDS DODGE BULLET

Three plays after the opening kickoff, Tulia was handed a golden opportunity via a fumble recovery at the Floydada 16. Steven Powell, who owns blazing speed, circled right end for 13 yards to the 3.

If the Hornets were expecting an easy six-pointer they were mistaken.

Powell was stopped at the line and was then jarred by Chad Pernel as he gained 1 1/2, but the play was rubbed out by an offside infraction. Powell and Merwyn Parker were swarmed for losses of 3 and 8 — the latter on a Ray Morales defensive jewel — to bring up fourth-and-goal from the 20. Blue chip quarterback Todd Lacy was sacked by two green shirts for a 13 yard setback on a fourth down attempted pass.

The Whirlwind offense put on an equally impressive exhibition as Julio Flores exploded around left end for 42 steps to the Tulia 25 before being shoved out of bounds. Running behind strong blocking from the men in the trenches, Julio's number continued to be called by Coach Joe Paty as he muscled for 10, 4 and 1 1/2 to just inside the 10. Signal-caller Ty Stovall kept for 4 steps before Julio gained 2 and a new series at the 4. Hector Flores gained a hard yard before Stovall went 2 1/2 and then the final six inches to break the scoring ice.

WINDS STRIKE FIRST

Jeff Smith kicked true and the upset-minded Winds owned a 7-0 lead with 3:50 remaining in quarter number one.

Following an exchange of punts, Tulia mounted its second threat with a 25-yard aerial from Lacy to Parker to the Whirlwind 21 as the quarter ended.

Utilizing their speed to the utmost, the visitors gained 6, 7, 2 and 2 via Powell and Parker. Lacy flipped a short pass to Powell just inside the end zone for the first Hornet TD. The successful PAT attempt by Billy Williams knotted the count at 7-all with a minute and 41 seconds gone from the second period.

Tragedy struck the Winds as Tulia raced downfield to cover a short kickoff at the Floydada 24. The ball was never touched by a green shirt.

Lacy and Company went right back to work as the talented quarterback kept for 7, Parker gained 6, Powell gained 8 and Parker raced around left end untouched from 3 yards out to hand Tulia its first lead. The PAT attempt was blocked, but a dead ball motion penalty (ruled before the ball was snapped) backed the visitors up 5 yards but gave them a second opportunity for the extra point. Williams was successful on the second try as the score went to 14-7 with 8:37 remaining before intermission.

STRIKE RAPIDLY

Coach L.G. Wilson's explosive crew had put 14 points on the board in one minute and 42 seconds.

Despite a 12 yard run by Julio Flores, a holding penalty kept the Winds from a first down following the kickoff. Punter Clay Lowrance's punt was blocked as he was rushed by three white shirts and covered by Tulia at the Floydada 25. Lowrance was injured on the play and sidelined for the remainder of the contest.

Lacy carried for 7 and then it was again a matter of sheer speed as Parker turned the corner around right end, veered to his left and found clear sailing on an 18 yard touchdown run. The PAT was true and the visitors went up 21-7 with 5:17 left before the bands entertained.

Late in the quarter, the Hornets accepted a punt squarely at midfield and advanced in six snaps to the 15.

Pernel stepped up to intercept a Lacy pass and kill the threat. He returned to the Wind 20.

DEFENSIVE HALF

Floydada took the second half kickoff, ran three plays and punted to midfield. Parker broke a tackle and sprinted to the Floydada 31 on the return.

It was all Parker as he gained 1, sped 23 steps around left end to the 7 and went another 7 steps to paydirt on the next snap, again around left end. Williams' PAT conversion again was good and the scoreboard showed 28-7 with 8:49 to play in the third period.

That was it for the night from the scoring standpoint.

But the Whirlwinds gave it a valiant try while flirting with the goalline after Lacy's quickkick rolled out at the Floydada 1.

Stovall kept for 6, Julio Flores' number was called five consecutive times and he responded with gains of 3, 5, 1, 4 and 9 yards. Hector Flores went for 3, Julio used sheer power to gain 7 and a first at the Whirlwind 39. Stovall kept for gains of 2 and 6 to the 47 as the third stanza became history.

But the Whirlwind offense wasn't through. Fullback Joe Collins made 1, Julio's 4 yard gainer was good for another first, 2 yards inside enemy territory. Stovall gained to within inches of another new series on three snaps and Julio picked it up with a 4 yard advance to the Tulia 34. He went 11 steps to the 23 on the next play. The moist turf and corresponding wet football then proved detrimental as Stovall was sacked for 10 and 3 yard losses from the shotgun formation. A third down pass fell incomplete and Julio punted 36 yards into the end zone for a touchback.

Late in the quarter, the maroon and white Hornets put together three first downs before being halted by the Mean Green defense, led by linebacker and co-captain David (Tater) Pyle and Tulia punted and Julio gained 14 and 8 on the final two snaps.

Except for Tulia's 21-point outburst during five minutes and two seconds of the second quarter, the Whirlwinds — who improve with each outing — had played head-to-head with a state powerhouse for the second consecutive week. Although their record now stands 2-3-1, the Mean Green is rapidly becoming of age!

Calculations and miscalculations of

Whirly and Windy

WINDY'S COMMENTS

Terrible! Terrible! I feel like the local guesstamators pulled a little Trick or Treat on me early. What a bad week-end of guessing. Maybe I need the fourth grader to help me out. This week-end should be better.

The Winds came up against a good solid ball team and even though the score had a fair separation of points, the game was better than the score showed. This week the Mules get their manes and tails roached, Winds back on winning road.

The Horns started district play in a fine way and should continue to keep the pressure on for a district title. Hart will not be able to stop the ground game, while being unable to move the ball. Lockney's Horns rattle again.

Tech! Oh Tech! What a turn around. Bookmakers lost plenty on this one. Maybe this will be the confidence builder that is needed. See the Raiders winning 2 in a row with a win over Rice. Thoughts of the Cotton Bowl are gone, but maybe a winning season will occur.

Cowboys -- just like in the movies, seem to play big against the Redskins. Look for some let-down plus a tough Eagle team that will cause Cowboy diehards some concern, but the Cowboys will win in typical Cowboy fashion (late and excitingly).

Hope the day's work (??) at Amarillo will convince you, J.R., that you should consult with me instead of Squirely Whirly, who still seems to have trouble deciding what football really is.

WHIRLY'S OPINIONS

Did Windy pick a single game right last week? Yeah, I think maybe he was correct on Lockney.

No wonder his percentage was a weak .250 with such thoughts last week as "How humble the Raiders must feel. Haven't been able to find anything resembling a team for the past couple of weeks." Also, "Feel Landry and the club don't have the guns to contain Washington's offense. Cowboys score too few again this week." Is 30 too few? And they did a fairly good job of containing Washington's offense...only 6 points worth!

Hopefully Windy will show enough improvement to get up to .500.

But on to more important things, such as:

Whirlwinds over Muleshoe--The Mean Green are getting stronger and meaner every week. A few less mistakes and they'll be some kinda good.

Lockney over Hart -- One of the chain gang over in Abernathy said it's Abernathy and Hart all the way in District 3-2A. We're not convinced.

Texas Tech over Rice--Anybody, except maybe the collegiate "pros" like Miami and Oklahoma, who can beat a fine Arkansas team deserves the nod the next week.

Cowboys over Eagles--This could be another close road match for Tom's boys, but Herschel is rapidly becoming the best back in football.

By Andrea Reed

Although the weather has "calmed down," the on-going activities at FHS haven't. Now that most are formed, many students have readily involved themselves and are striving to keep up their grades so that they will not be ineligible for extra curricular participation.

One particular group of students that constantly strives toward excellence in all areas is the Future Farmers of America (FFA). Under the guidance of Mr. Allen Akers, this organization participates in many activities throughout the year. For example, last Monday night the members got together and held a chili cook-off. The officers were the actual competitors, for each was supposed to concoct his secret chili recipe. The other members, the ones who are not officers, performed the judging. This was done by sampling each chili dish and voting on the best one. The winner was Bryan Thomas, who is a sophomore at FHS.

"Practice makes perfect" is not an uncommon motto for students at FHS. It can be easily sensed, for students who live by this slogan spend many long, exhausting hours striving towards perfection. Two examples of such groups are the girls' junior varsity and varsity tennis teams in addition to the boys' varsity team. For those of you who haven't noticed, the high school tennis courts have been re-done in order that the tennis players might have a better playing surface. All of the tennis players are extremely proud of and thankful for this "gift," as it has already begun to pay off. It may seem a little early, but the tennis players have already begun preparing for various meets, which will be held in the Spring.

Each day, the tennis players can be seen working out. After warming up, every player begins the on-going task of perfecting his skill and technique. We must all realize that tennis is a very demanding sport. It takes a great deal of speed, coordination, strength, and endurance. Above all, it takes determination, for this sport is not easily mastered.

Not only are the tennis teams determined to achieve perfection, but so are the football teams, even more so now because district competition has arrived. Last Friday night was the first district game, which was against Tulia. Although the Winds lost, the undying support from the fans was not. The FHS students showed their spirit by decorating the main hall of the high school.

Many students took part as the hallway became the "sacred grounds of the Winds." Various streamers, balloons, posters, and locker tags were put up, each depicting loyalty to the Whirlwinds.

Last Tuesday, drug-dog assemblies were held at a few of the schools. The speaker told the students at FHS that the dogs would be brought in during irregular intervals at any time. Well, on Monday, one of the dogs was brought in to check for drugs. Many of the students seemed excited for the dog caught their interest as she was brought into each classroom by her trainer.

The activities at FHS seem almost endless. Over half of the students are dedicated to one activity or another. They know that they cannot fail, for they possess a strong desire to excel in all aspects of life.

Perfection goal of FHS students

Frosh stop Tulia, 6-0

In a Thursday defensive struggle in Tulia, Whirlwind freshmen scored the contest's only touchdown in the third quarter to earn a 6-0 victory over the Tulia frosh. The TD came on a Grant Stovall to Steve Caballero pass.

Floydada's ninth graders own a 3-1 record.

"Our kids really got after it on defense," according to Coach Mike Cocanougher.

He named Adam Cates, Ray Garcia and Frank Suarez as defense stalwarts, and Shay Hearon and Harvey Soliz as offensive standouts.

Seventh grade defensive battle

Seventh grade Breezers played Tulia on Thursday in a defensive battle which ended with Tulia on the long end of an 8-6 score.

Both Floydada junior high squads tangle with Muleshoe today (Thursday).

Against Tulia, the Breezers gained possession of the ball early in the first quarter by recovering a fumble caused by the rain slick turf. Floydada moved the ball easily down the field for an opening score by Ruben Chavarria. The point-after attempted by Billy Villarreal failed when he fell on the slippery surface.

Tulia's only score came on a long run around the right side just before halftime.

The second half was a defensive battle with neither team scoring. The Breezers had the ball near the end zone at the last of the fourth quarter, but time ran out leaving the Breezers scoreless in the second half.

Athletes from 21 schools expected here Saturday for White River Run

Athletes from 21 schools are expected here Saturday for the White River Run, a cross country event scheduled at Plains Baptist Encampment. The camp is south of Floydada in Blanco Canyon. Floydada High School is hosting White River Run.

Competition begins at 10 a.m. with junior varsity girls. Varsity girls are scheduled to start their run at 10:30, following by junior varsity boys at 11 a.m. and varsity boys at 11:30 a.m. Girls run two miles. The boys course will be three miles.

Schools expressing intentions of participating are: Floydada, Tulia, Muleshoe, Dimmitt, Childress, Slaton, Cooper, Idalou, Paducah, Crosbyton, Lockney, Hart, Abernathy, Sundown, Spur, Spade, Motley County, Brownfield, Levelland, Nazareth and Sudan.

Floydada first graders exceed state average on TEAMS exam

The Floydada Independent School District trustees received the results of last year's first grade Texas Assessment of Minimum Skills (TEAMS) at their October meeting. The TEAMS was given to first grade students throughout Texas for the first time in April 1986.

This test is a part of HB 72 mandated by the 64th legislature to measure minimum basic skills in the areas of mathematics, reading, and writing. The test is also given in grades 3, 5, 7, 9, and 11.

Floydada first graders scored above the state average of students mastering the TEAMS in every area, and administrators and teachers were extremely pleased with the results. The state average for the mathematics section of the test was 83 per cent mastery as compared to 91 per cent mastery by Floydada first graders. Reading objectives were mastered by the 73 per cent level in Texas, while 83 per cent of Floydada's students mastered reading.

Texas first graders mastered the writing objectives at the 80 per cent level. Floydada first graders mastered the writing objectives at the 91 per cent level.

Statewide averages show that 65 per cent of all first graders mastered all three areas, math, reading, and writing, as compared to Floydada's 82 per cent.

Results of these scores were recently mailed to parents of the students. These results will be used by the school to determine areas where students need to improve and to assess curriculum needs.

EXIT LEVELS TEAMS TO BE GIVEN

On October 28 and 29, 1986, all eleventh grade students at Floydada High School will be taking the Exit Level Texas Assessment of Minimum Skills (TEAMS). This is the second year for the test and all students must pass before graduating from high school. The TEAMS was mandated by the Texas legislature in July 1984 and was designed to measure minimum basic skills in mathematics, reading, and writing.

Students are given opportunities to take the test both their 11th and 12th grade years. They must retake any section that they did not pass. These tests are extremely critical for graduation requirements.

Parents are encouraged to discuss the upcoming TEAMS with their children and assure their attendance at school on these test days. If there are questions concerning the TEAMS, the school coordinator Sheree Cannon will be glad to help with these concerns.

Emert, Cannon top contest

In a week penetrated by a number of upsets, including the Texas Tech University over Arkansas, Bryan Emert and Sheree Cannon submitted excellent entries in The Hesperian football contest. Both correctly picked 19 of 22 winners.

Emert's 30 points in the tie-breaker earns him the first place check and Mrs. Cannon, with a guess of 29, receives second. Floydada and Tulia put 35 points on the scoreboard in the tie-breaker.

Four contestants who missed only four games and their tie-breaker scores were: Jim Curtsinger, 34; Paige Cannon, 30; Duncan Woody, 42; and Jean Hale, 28. This gives Curtsinger third place.

Receiving honorable mention with five incorrect winners -- or 17 correct -- were: Lisa Mosley, Don Warren, Sherry Hale, Amy McCormick and Sheree Covington.

FEM CONTESTANTS STRONG

After Curtsinger, who is alone in first place, the next six contestants for "champion of the season" honors are females. Women have scored well in the contest all season.

Individuals with scores of 90 or above include:

- 99 -- Jim Curtsinger
- 96 -- Jean Hale, Sherry Hale
- 94 -- Lisa Mosley
- 92 -- Trudy Hazlett, Dell Gray, Paige Cannon
- 91 -- Weldon Emert
- 90 -- Brent Sanders, Sheree Cannon, Bill Gray, Amy McCormick

Breezers win initial district game

Eighth grade Breezers opened district play Thursday on the right foot by defeating the Tulia Hornets, 24-6. This extended the unbeaten Floydada lads' record to 5-0 for the season and 1-0 in district.

Thursday (today) the Breezers will travel to Muleshoe to battle the Mules. Seventh grade game begins at 5 p.m. and the eighth grade game will follow.

Against Tulia, the Breezers won the coin flip and decided to take the ball. Kenneth Collins received the opening kickoff and went down the left side for an 85 yard touchdown return. The extra point attempt failed, leaving the score 6-0.

Tulia then received the ball but was unable to move on the tough Breezer defense.

Floydada regained possession and started moving the ball down the field. Runs by Collins, Harvey Espinoza and Michael Aleman advanced the ball. Collins capped the drive by scoring from two yards out. This brought the score to 12-0 after one quarter.

During the second quarter the Breezers managed to put 6 more points on the board. Collins took the pitch from Brian Teeple and passed to Chad Williams down the right side for a 25 yard touchdown. At the end of the half the Breezers led 18-0.

In the third quarter the Breezers managed to add 6 more points to their total. The touchdown came on a "very impressive 67 yard run by Kenneth Collins around the left side." The extra point attempt failed, leaving the score 24-0.

Tulia managed to score late in the fourth period. The TD came on a 15 yard pass play. Extra point attempt failed and the final score was 24-6.

Wind JV suffers first setback

Whirlwind junior varsity suffered its initial setback of the '86 campaign, after three victories, Thursday against Tulia. Final score was 20-0.

The Green and White JV tackles Muleshoe at 6:30 p.m. today (Thursday).

Danny Caballero and Jacob Galvan were termed as offensive standouts. Shining on defense were Leonard King and Joe Barrientos.

Careful vehicle maintenance is one of the many ways we save money and keep electric costs down. We also use by-products like coal ash as a gravel substitute and treated sewage water in our cooling towers.

Former migrant girl carves her niche in life

By Chris Gallegos
Roswell Daily Record Staff

"There has to be something better," Mary Lou Gonzalez used to think as she toiled under the hot West Texas sun plucking soft white cotton from its prickly pods in the 1950s.

The heat could be intense and the rows of cotton could seem to go on for miles, especially for the 8-year-old girl, daughter of a migrant farmer who, with his family, traveled all over Texas picking cotton and other ripe produce.

"I never enjoyed working out in the hot sun. That just wasn't for me. I always thought there had to be something better," said Mary Lou, now Escobar, who was born in Corpus Christi.

She and her brothers were fortunate their father knew the value of an education and impressed that upon them. Ms. Escobar listened and found her something better.

Today, at 39, the Floydada High School graduate is the finance director for Chaves County (Roswell, N.M.) government.

"My father was the type of person that knew the only way we would get out of the field was to get an education. He used to say to me, 'The money you make out in the fields will buy you things and someone can steal them. But what you learn, no one can take away from you. You can always put it to use and make a better life.'"

Her family finally settled in the West Texas agricultural town of Floydada in 1967, two years after she graduated from high school there. An average student, she said she had to work hard to graduate because she attended seven or eight different schools a year.

"I would go to one school and they would be way ahead of me so I had to play catchup. At other schools, they were studying stuff I had already learned so that was easy," Ms. Escobar said, adding that she had a happy childhood even if she was not fond of field labor.

She learned secretarial skills in school and after graduation began working for an electric cooperative (Lighthouse Electric Cooperative, Inc.) as a general clerk and assistant cashier in Floydada. Her 1965 marriage failed and now she chooses not to be married.

In 1970, she moved to Roswell. "I had a friend that moved here (Roswell) and she told me about the job opportunities. So I just came looking for a better life," she said.

The Community Action Program hired her as a secretary. When she left that government-funded organization four years later, she was a full-charge bookkeeper.

From 1974 to 1981, Ms. Escobar was the comptroller for the Southeastern New Mexico Economic Development District. In addition, she took care of federal grants and pensions.

The Chaves County Commission hired her in 1981 as a comptroller. With added responsibilities, the title was changed to finance director. Simply said, she oversees the county's $8 million annual budget.

"I insure that all the records are kept for accounting which includes purchasing, payroll, accounts payable and accounts receivable, bidding procedures and fixed assets," she said, adding that she works with more than 4,000 accounts and conducts monthly audits of the county budget.

"I'm happy to say we are reconciling each month to the penny. I make sure the budget is always checked and if any over-expenditures in line items occur, we bring those to the county commissioners to adjust," she said, pleased with the organization she has brought to the county's Finance Department.

She oversees five employees. Ms. Escobar works with numbers, which she "loves." But she said she is always aware that behind the numbers are real people whose livelihood depends on the line items she watchdogs.

"I just try to monitor the integrity of the budget," she said. "The department heads are really the ones who have to take the cuts and still maintain the operations of their offices."

It is a challenge to keep up with laws that change how the county functions and how its finances are managed, Ms. Escobar said. Throughout her work history, she has cultivated her accounting skills on the job.

Although she attended Hartnell College at Salinas, Calif., and Eastern New Mexico University-Roswell, she does not hold a collegiate degree.

"I have practical experience, not academic," she said. "I would like the piece of paper to show my credentials. I think it is hard, as someone who doesn't have the formal education, to always have to prove my credentials. It can be very frustrating, but I have been able to prove what I can do. I work hard and I believe that has paid off."

Even if she does not get her post-secondary academic degree, Ms. Escobar said she will do what it takes to put her children through college if they want to go. Her children mean everything to her, she said.

She has four children and two grandchildren. Her daughter Cassandra, 20, a 1984 graduate of Roswell High School, is married to Bill Gurrola of Roswell. They have two children, Josue, 18 months, and brand-new Erika Marissa.

Ms. Escobar's sons include Efraim Rodriguez, 14, a freshman at Roswell High; Ezequiel Rodriguez, 9, in fourth grade at Parkview Elementary School; and Elias Rodriguez, 7, in second grade at Parkview.

As a single parent she tries to instill in her children her own work ethic. Efraim, an honor student, spent the summer with his grandparents working in some of the same fields his mother picked years ago.

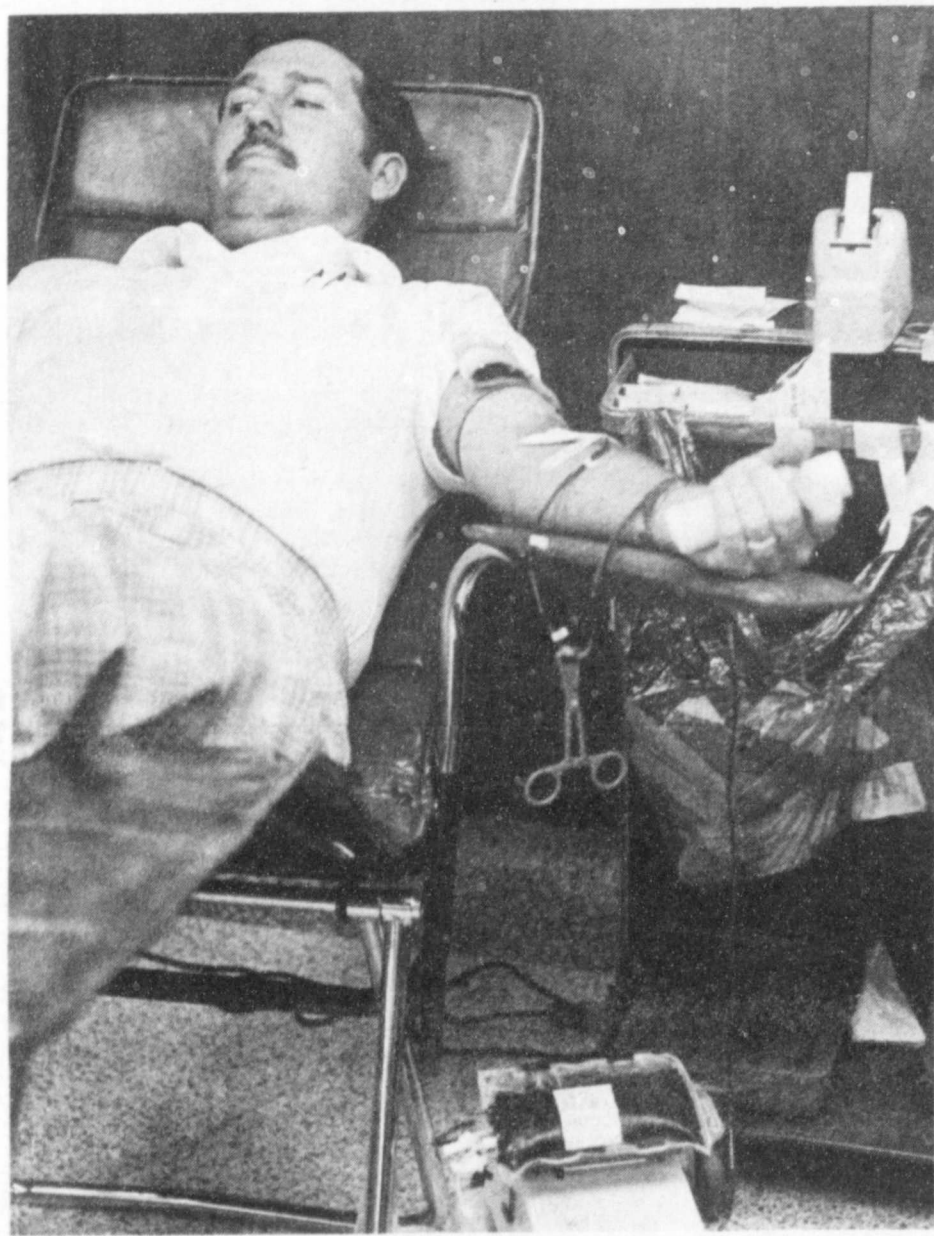

"He has his day in the fields. He does it, not because he has to, but because he needs to know things on the other side. It is very honorable and honest work, and it shows them they have a choice in how their life can be," she said. "When my younger kids get older, they will go, too. Hard work never hurt anybody."

Roswell is an ideal place to raise children, she said, adding that she spends most of her leisure time with her kids. She also makes frequent trips to Floydada to visit her aging parents, Alonzo and Frances Gonzalez.

She is on the board of directors for the Roswell Refugee for Battered Adults, because "domestic violence should concern all of us," she said.

Ms. Escobar does not believe she is a rarity by being a woman and a Hispanic in a high-level county government job.

"I'm proud of my accomplishments. My Hispanic origins are an accident as far as that goes," she said. "I'm proud of what I have done as a person. Hopefully for someone with my same background, I can serve as an example and show that they can succeed if they really want to do it."

Crime scene 'very, very quiet' recently

Crime reports have been "very, very quiet" in recent days, according to Police Chief James Hale.

Two vehicles were broken into at a repair shop in the northeast part of town. Doors on both had been left unlocked.

Stolen from one of the vehicles were a Delco AM-FM 8-track, a Motorola AM-FM cassette, speakers, a cassette box and tapes.

Rain and poor vision were blamed for a minor accident last Friday near R.C. Andrews School. The mishap, in the 600 block of West Jackson, occurred at 4:12 p.m. A 1976 Ford driven by Maximo Casillas of Floydada reportedly backed into an '85 Plymouth Colt. The latter vehicle was driven by Gloria Gonzalez Flores, also of Floydada.

No injuries resulted from the accident. Damage was placed at "probably $200-$250."
