Floyd County voters endorse Boulter, Clements in general election

Marking their general election ballots Tuesday, Floyd County voters gave Republicans Beau Boulter, the incumbent candidate for U.S. representative from the 13th District, and former Governor Bill Clements pluralities for four-year terms.

Ironically, county voters then did an about-face and voted Democratic down the remainder of the ballot.

A total of 2,247 ballots were counted. This was a heavier turnout than had generally been anticipated.

Floyd County has a potential voting strength of approximately 4,850.

Boulter, who is completing his initial term as the area's congressman, counted 1,141 votes in this county. His challenger, Democrat Doug Seal, received 926.

It was a rematch for the gubernatorial seat which Democrat Mark White wrestled from Clements four years ago in what was at that time regarded as an upset. Clements was named on 1,357 votes in this county, compared with 880 for White. Libertarian Party candidate Theresa Doyle polled 10.

Veteran Lieutenant Governor Bill Hobby had little trouble breezing to his fourth term. He garnered 1,357 votes to 722 for Republican David Davidson and 8 for Libertarian standard-bearer Bill Howell.

Jim Mattox, who personally faced criminal charge during his first term as attorney general, nevertheless received the nod for a repeat term. The Democratic incumbent received 1,268 votes to 860 for Republican challenger Roy R. Barrera Jr. and 15 for Libertarian Mike Stephens.

Bob Bullock, like Hobby a long-term Democratic officeholder, received a vote of confidence in his bid for a fresh four-year term. In this county, Bullock polled 1,493 to 105 for Libertarian George Meeks.

For state treasurer, Democrat Ann W. Richards was named on 1,490 ballots to 101 for Libertarian Robert F. Reid. Neither Bullock nor Richards faced Republican opposition.

NAME IDENTIFICATION

M.D. Anderson Jr., latest in a string of Texas candidates who have attempted through the years to ride name identification into public office, was soundly trounced in this county by Democratic incumbent Garry Mauro for commissioner of the General Land Office. Mauro received 1,399 votes to 635 for Anderson and 6 for Libertarian Honey Sue Lanham. Anderson, who apparently hoped his name would be linked with the famous cancer hospital in Houston, actually is a dance hall operator and reportedly had not been involved in politics prior to this year's primary.

Another incumbent returned to office was Jim Hightower, the Democratic commissioner of agriculture. He was favored on 1,327 ballots, Republican Bill Powers collected 774 and Libertarian Rebecca Reed had 8.

Other Floyd County results in statewide contests were:

'5-2' single-member school voting plan

A "5-2" single-member voting plan was adopted Saturday morning during a joint meeting of the task force appointed to recommend a proposal and the school board. This is the proposed new system for selecting Floydada school trustees.

Meeting briefly at 8:30 p.m. before the joint session, the task force then unanimously recommended the "5-2" plan. It was unanimously accepted by trustees.

The "5-2" plan stipulates that five trustees will be elected from single-member districts and the remaining two trustees are to be named on an at-large basis.

Also considered by the task force was a "7-0" proposal, whereby all seven trustees would have been chosen by districts. Both proposals, along with maps, were presented during Oct. 13 and Oct. 18 public hearings.

Stipulations called for not fewer than 70 percent of the members of the school board to be elected from single-member districts. Either of the plans would have virtually guaranteed two minority representatives on the school board.

The school board did not determine a trustee rotation plan during the Saturday session. This action is to be discussed during the regular board meeting next Tuesday, Nov. 11.

NO SIGNIFICANT WRITE-INS

According to election officials, there were "no significant write-ins" Tuesday. One official reported "There were about 10 scattered over the ballot."

According to state election laws, a write-in vote is not valid unless the individual whose name was written in declared as a write-in candidate at least 55 days prior to the election.

Judge Smith withdraws resignation

Recovering after a called recess on Monday, November 3, the commissioners went back into session at 8:30 a.m. on November 5.

County Judge Choise Smith at that time indicated his desire to withdraw his resignation previously tendered.

Smith stated that he had "reconsidered" the resignation and felt that "We have a good court now and I think we can all work together to do things properly for our county."

The four commissioners present expressed their agreement and congratulated Smith for making "the right decision."

Present at the morning meeting were Sam Spence, Floyd Jackson, Thomas Warren and Jack Lackey.

Other discussion concerned items to be placed on the agenda for the next regular session of the court scheduled for November 10 at 8:30 a.m. These items include the rural fire protection issue, joining Commissioner Jack Lackey in his lawsuit against George Miller, and requesting a meeting with a Hereford attorney from Texas Rural Legal Aid who has contacted the court concerning Floyd County's handling of indigent farm worker requests for assistance. Also discussed for placement on the agenda was the situation which exists concerning the need to hire jailers for the county jail.

County to retain law books for which it has invoices

A hushed silence fell over the packed 110th District courtroom at approximately 6:30 p.m. Monday — located on the second floor of Floyd County Courthouse — as Judge Bill McCoy stated, "I am ready to rule at this time."

His ruling was about to be handed down following almost seven hours of witnesses' testimony and maneuvering by the two attorneys in the suit styled "Jack Lackey, as an individual taxpayer and citizen of Floyd County, Texas, a county commissioner, Precinct Four, Floyd County, Texas, and as representative of the taxpayers and citizens of Floyd County, Texas, vs. George Miller, Plaintiff's original petition for declaration and determination of ownership, reimbursement of funds, and injunctive relief" in the matter of law books which the plaintiff alleged were moved from the Floyd County Courthouse by the defendant at the time of his resignation as judge of the 110th District.

Monday's proceedings were an injunctive hearing ordering Miller to return all books previously removed to the courthouse. The suit has yet to be heard, and no date has been established.

As the standing-room-only gathering listened in total silence, Judge McCoy issued his order that the county should match invoices with books and that George Miller must make a strict accounting of all books he had previously removed from the courthouse. A time limit of "14 Days" was set on the task.

McCoy also ruled "any expenditure of public funds must remain with the public trust. All books paid for by the county must remain in the custody of the county."

Books in evidence
Volumes of the books in question, which had been returned to the courthouse on Nov. 1 by Miller — in accordance with the injunction — covered a table and were stacked across the front of the courtroom. Due to the occupancy of one of the tables by the books, the two attorneys shared the remaining table.

Lackey's suit contended that "During Miller's term in office, Floyd County purchased certain law books and provided upkeep and supplementation thereof. These law books and publications were purchased at the request of Miller presumably for use in a county law library; however, these law books were housed in the Floyd County Courthouse in the judge's chambers under the executive control of then Judge Miller."

By contrast, the defendant claimed that following an agreement with the county governing body in February or early March 1976 that he would provide the original law library and that the county would purchase supplements and additions after that time. He contended that the agreement should have been expressed in minutes of the commissioners court meeting at that time.

Miller, who served as district attorney prior to being named district judge, told the court that he was succeeded as district attorney by Randy Hollums, who presently serves in that capacity.

He added that he sold his private practice to Hollums when he became judge.

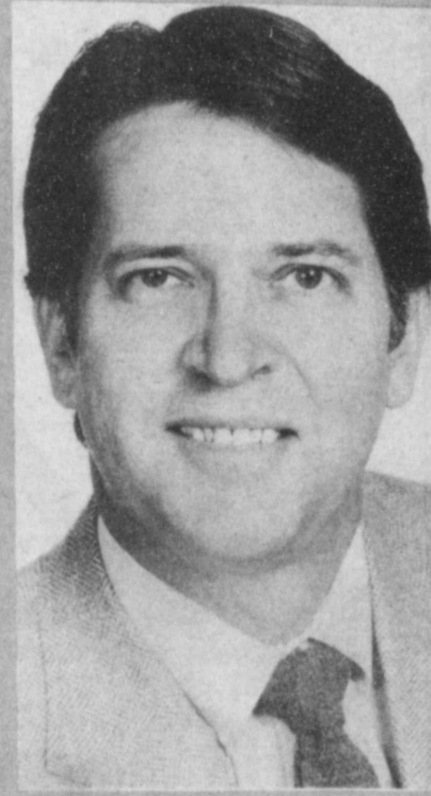

The two men entered into an agreement, Miller said, whereby they exchanged comparable sets of law books to eliminate moving one set. At that time, Hollums' former library — now Miller property following the exchange — was moved to the district judge's chambers and were owned by Miller.

The county has paid for maintenance and updating of law books from March 6, 1976, through September 1986.

Asked by Lackey's attorney, Frank E. Murchison of Lubbock, whether he was

Actor Johnson 'coming home'

WES JOHNSON

Houston actor Wes Johnson will have an eerie—yet familiar—feeling when he steps onto the Floydada High School stage on Friday, Nov. 14.

A 1964 graduate of FHS, Johnson participated in a number of plays, read poetry and was seen on the stage regularly during his prep days in Floydada. But the situation will be different when the Houstonian, now a professional actor, steps onto the stage in less than two weeks.

The Lakeview native will be literally "coming home" when he and Billie Duncan, also of Houston, co-star in the 7:00 production of "The Housekeeper," written by James Prideaux. The Nov. 14 comedy is a fundraiser for Floyd County Arts Association.

Johnson, who formed his own company, labels his Floydada appearance cast as the "Two-Bit Players."

After a career in radio newscasting, Johnson felt the appeal of forming "a small company of my own" after launching his acting career "a couple of years ago." He points out that "being able to play on the road is a classic for any actor." The former Lakeview "farm boy" and members of his company have appeared frequently in the Houston area.

Johnson also has been involved in "a couple of 'B' movies," but he found the work "boring." Recalling two work days spanning 13 and 16 hours on the movie set, his appearance in the movie was quite brief. His compensation was a "daily rate" fee, which in reality was "peanuts."

After making the decision to become an actor, Johnson's goal was "to appear on TV or a full-length movie."

He has altered his goals, now realizing that "the feedback from live audiences is great."

FLOYDADA APPEARANCE CHANCE HAPPENING

Actually, Johnson's impending return to Floydada for "The Housekeeper" happened by chance.

He was visiting with a fellow FHS graduate, Nancy Holmes Willson, when she suggested that Johnson

"bring a play here" (from Houston). The cost to have brought his entire cast would have been prohibitive.

But the art association would really like to sponsor a production, Mrs. Willson insisted.

Discussing the matter further, Johnson decided that perhaps a return to his hometown would be feasible with a smaller cast. Thus, arrangements were formulated for the two-person cast to appear here in "The Housekeeper."

"I chose 'The Housekeeper' because it is funny," Johnson says. It also bears a message — an "it's never too late" message, depicting the lives of "a couple of middle-age people."

Manley Carstairs, portrayed by Johnson, decides to remain at home with his invalid mother. Following his mother's death, he is now in his "early '40s."

It is at this point that he decides on a housekeeper, and Annie Dankworth (Billie Duncan) enters his life. The middle-age housekeeper — a common, no-nonsense

Whirlwinds retain playoff hopes

Final game (maybe) on local field against Friona

Friday night could be the Whirlwinds' 1986 season finale. And then again it might not.

The Mean Green enters its last regular season encounter on the home field against Friona with a mathematical chance of reaching the playoffs.

It is a longshot, but the Whirlwinds are not yet finished.

A Floydada victory, coupled with a Littlefield win over Tulia the same night, would hand the district title to Littlefield. Floydada, Friona and Tulia would then be deadlocked — with 3-2 league records — for the runner-up spot. If such a scenario develops, a coin flip or a draw would be necessary to determine which of the trio would advance as District 2-AAA's second playoff representative.

The crippled band of Whirlwinds engage Friona at 7:30 p.m. on Western Field.

'CRIPPLED' TEAM

"Crippled" is the correct description of the Floydada squad following a "physical game" at Littlefield last Friday. "It doesn't look real good," says Coach Joe Paty.

Leading rusher Julio Flores has a hyperextended knee, but Coach Paty said early this week that "We still don't know for sure how bad it is. There is a slim, slim chance he'll play, but he is doubtful at this time."

Sophomore defensive tackle Ruben DeLeon, who like Flores sustained a knee injury at Littlefield, was still hospitalized Monday. He is out for Friday.

Also injured in the "hard-hitting" contest were Clay Lowrance, David Pyle, Ty Stovall, Darin Martinez and Joe Gonzales. Lowrance, who aggravated a previous ankle injury, is "doubtful."

Listed by coaches as "probable" for the crucial Friona outing are Pyle (re-injured shoulder), Stovall (pulled leg muscle), Martinez (still nursing ankle injury) and Gonzales (who remains slowed by an earlier knee injury). Gonzales and Pyle are co-captains.

Raymond Gutierrez has a knee injury from the Dimmitt contest.

UNDERDOGS AGAIN

The visiting Chieftains will be heavily favored, a situation not new for the feisty Whirlwinds. The Mean Green owns a 4-4-1 record and a new-found confidence after going 1-18 the previous two campaigns.

A winning season rides on Friday's outcome.

Each of the Whirlwinds' defeats has come at the hands of teams which have been rated in the state's top 20 during the season.

"They've got a real good football team," Coach Paty says of Friona, which owns a 7-2 record. Due to injuries, the Chieftains "did not play as well early" in the year but have claiming ownership interest in 88 volumes of a blue series of books, which were among those in the courtroom, Miller answered in the affirmative. He stated that by virtue of the original agreement between himself and the commissioners court and county judge for upkeep of the books, he was indeed claiming ownership.

"As a matter of course," he stated, the books revert to the owner and not the person (or entity) responsible for their upkeep.

He was asked by Murchison, "Did you look at the written statute governing a law library?" His answer was "no."

In answer to the plaintiff's attorney that he had "ordered" the supplements and updates, Miller responded that a subscription with the publisher means that volumes automatically are shipped upon their publication.

Invoices are received by either the county treasurer or auditor after they have been initiated by the individual receiving the volumes. The commissioners court then receives this billing with other current billings during regular monthly meetings and can, if it desires, refuse the expense.

CLAIMS OWNERSHIP

"I consider that I own the books and took them with me when I left," Miller stated.

David Teel, the defense attorney — who also is Miller's partner in the Plainview firm of Miller and Teel Professional Services — objected to Murchison's question about ownership of the books, stating it was "outside of the scope of this hearing" and thereby irrelevant because return of all books rather than determination of their ownership was the purpose of the injunctive hearing.

The judge responded that "There's been so little here today that was relevant to the matter" and allowed Murchison to continue his questioning.

Proceedings began at 10:30 a.m. Monday and continued until the lunch break was ordered at 12:10. The hearing resumed one hour later and continued until almost 6:30 p.m., when Judge McCoy's order was heard.

The courtroom was filled throughout the day, but a greater number of spectators appeared shortly after 5 o'clock.

Eleven witnesses were sworn in — although they were not all called to the witness stand — before opening statements and testimony began.

Taking the oath as witnesses were: the commissioners court at the time the defendant allegedly removed the books from the courthouse, Judge Choise Smith and Commissioners Lackey, Bob Jarrett (who resigned last Thursday), Thomas Warren and Sam Spence; other county elected officials, Hollums, district attorney; Bobbie Hamilton, county auditor; Glenna Orman, treasurer; and Kenneth Bain, county attorney; as well as Miller and D.M. Cogdell.

Jarrett, Warren, Spence and Cogdell were not called to testify.

In his opening statement, Murchison stated reasons for the injunction.

Attention then focused on the tall Teel — a former college basketball player — who asked the judge to enter an order of desolution, which would have, in effect, dissolved the injunctive order.

His request, he contended, was that the injunction and lawsuit were illegally filed because the plaintiff filed as an individual, a taxpayer and a commissioner, as well as in behalf of Floyd County residents. The defense attorney said that in order to file as an individual or a taxpayer, Lackey would have had to have shown a greater or special interest beyond that of an average individual or taxpayer. He added that the plaintiff could only have filed as a commissioner with consent of the full court.

Teel also contended that the injunctive order referred to "all books" Miller allegedly removed from the courthouse and that by filing the injunctive order the plaintiff must prove the likelihood of recovering possession of all books by the lawsuit. Since a portion of the books were originally purchased by Miller, he stated, the likelihood of recovering all books did not exist.

Judge McCoy overruled the defense attorney and the first witness, Glenna Orman, was called.

The commissioners court did not join Lackey in the suit.

WITNESSES CALLED

When called to the stand, Glenna Orman — county treasurer for 12 years — brought with her paid invoices from 1976 (the year Miller became district judge) to 1983 for law books purchased by Floyd County.

Mrs. Orman revealed during questioning that she was unable to provide invoices from 1984, 1985 and 1986 because "the county auditor has them and refused to release them to me."

Her testimony, under Murchison's questioning, revealed that $10,197.76 in county funds were expended for legal publications by Floyd County, according to invoices initiated by then-District Judge Miller in a period spanning 1976 through 1986.

Additional book purchases were noted in the amounts of $389.58 for District Attorney Randy Hollums, $241.06 for County Attorney Kenneth Bain and $2,087.50 for County Judge Choise Smith.

During cross-examination of Mrs. Orman, defense attorney Teel asked, "Do you have reason to believe that any of the books in the courtroom are included on the invoices?"

"Some of them must be," she responded. "They aren't in the law library at this time."

Mrs. Orman also presented a 14-page inventory listing the volumes "in the law library on the morning after George Miller removed books from the law library."

The county treasurer told the court that some of a random sampling of the books on the inventory match the invoices.

Murchison at this time matched some invoices in the 1982 file with supplements called pocket parts, in volumes on the courtroom floor.

The second witness to be called was County Judge Choise Smith. Murchison asked Smith if he was familiar with statutes governing law libraries, and Smith replied, "I know that a law library must be in a place convenient and accessible to the judges, attorneys and litigants within the county."

Asked when he became aware of the alleged agreement between Miller and a previous commissioners court, Smith replied, "When Miller, a Spanish boy and Carl Young were loading books around noon on Sept. 30 and we asked him to stop. He brought up the agreement then."

Smith testified that Miller told him to "expect a lawsuit" if he tried to stop him from taking the books.

Murchison next asked the county judge about the quantity of books originally taken away. Smith's reply was "a pickup and a trailer load."

"Miller agreed to return the books the next day," said Smith, "but he returned only a portion of the books."

Defense attorney Teel asked Smith during cross-examination, "Did Miller not actually say 'It may take a lawsuit to figure out who owns these books?'"

"Yes, sir," answered Smith.

AUDITOR CALLED

Testimony by County Auditor Bobbie Hamilton confirmed that efforts had been made to stop Miller from taking the books in question, including "telephoning the attorney general's office for an opinion."

Hamilton also stated that she had "gone with Judge Smith to talk with Judge Miller when he was loading the books."

Mrs. Hamilton also produced invoices for 1985 and 1986 as requested by Murchison.

Murchison asked, "Did you ever tell the commissioners that they had no choice except to pay the law library expenditures?"

Hamilton replied, "No, the commissioners always have the option of refusing bills presented for payment."

Both County Attorney Bain and District Attorney Hollums were questioned concerning their interest of ownership in any books in the county law library. Each quickly established that he had no interest in any of the books.

Bain testified that he did not see Miller remove the books but was present during a "general discussion at which many statements were made, none directly to me."

Bain also stated, "I assisted in placing the call to the attorney general's office to the County Affairs Division."

Under cross-examination, Bain told Teel that to his knowledge, "Miller was willing to do whatever was necessary to settle the dispute," but that he was not called upon to assist as "the commissioners indicated at the beginning that they did not want me involved in any way."

Jack Lackey, the plaintiff, in being questioned by Murchison, stated that he knew of "no ownership or upkeep" agreement between Miller and a previous commissioners court.

He also stated that he first became aware of Miller's removal of the books when he called Smith on an unrelated matter.

"I protested him moving the books to Judge Smith, Mrs. Hamilton and Kenneth Bain," said Lackey.

Testifying in regard to setting up a formal law library and the accompanying fund, Lackey stated that the law library was "just created by Judge Miller and Mrs. Hamilton." Lackey also stated, "Hamilton told me that we either paid the law library expenditures or face contempt of court charges."

Under questioning by Murchison, Lackey revealed that he "filed the injunction and lawsuit" after receiving calls from "taxpayers asking me what we were going to do about it, what I was going to do."

The plaintiff continued that he "took it upon myself to do what the commissioners had already voted to do, hire a lawyer."

Teel asked Lackey during cross-examination, "Why did you take it upon yourself to file a lawsuit on Oct. 24 when you knew that commissioners court had called a special meeting for Oct. 27 to discuss this very action and, in fact, interview Murchison?"

Lackey answered, "They didn't need to meet, the decision had already been made to act."

In his closing statement, Teel emphasized that at no time had any representative of the county contacted Miller or any of his associates and asked that specific books be returned.

Murchison, in his closing summation, stated that he felt the judge should rule in his client's favor because he felt the plaintiff's case had adequately demonstrated that county property — books paid for by county funds — had improperly been removed from the courthouse.

Citizens asked to 'adopt a Christmas decoration'

How about adopting a Christmas decoration?

This is exactly what Floydada Chamber of Commerce is asking local residents to do during its Adopt-A-Christmas Decoration campaign.

The Chamber of Commerce, with the assistance of City of Floydada, is in the process of restoring existing yule decorations and also of constructing new decor.

Connie Galloway, David Rodriguez and Jesse Morales of the city staff have erected 20 lighted decorations in the form of Christmas trees. The school's vocational-agriculture department welded frames, and the city employees covered them with tinsel and interspersed lighting.

"The chamber's goal is to decorate the downtown square as well as the highway," explains Nettie Ruth Whittle, CofC secretary. She says the 20 decorated trees will be installed "after the 15th, starting with the downtown area, then moving to the highway with older decorations."

Mrs. Whittle advises the public that "You may help with this campaign by adopting-a-decoration. A business, individual or organization may adopt a decoration by contributing only $15 to the project. Each adoption will be listed in the Christmas issue of The Hesperian.

"You may make the adoption in your name or the name of a friend or loved one. Please help the Chamber of Commerce and the City of Floydada beautify our town for Christmas by sending your $15 adoption fee to Floydada Chamber of Commerce, Box 147, Floydada, TX. Help make this Christmas the most beautiful ever."

The CofC official says the yule tree outlines which will adorn city streets "cost approximately $250 in Christmas catalogues." They are being constructed locally for an approximate cost of $75.

"Ours are much more sturdy to combat West Texas weather," Mrs. Whittle adds. Galloway believes they are also more attractive.

The tree outlines are in colors of red, green, gold, silver-gold and white-gold.

He estimates that "probably six hours" has been spent adorning each tree. This work was undertaken when the city employees were confined indoors due to rains.

Tinsel and lighting were added to the frames inside a city shop.

Blackmon FNB November artist

Ruth Blackmon, an Abernathy artist who works in a variety of media, will be displaying her works at the First National Bank of Floydada during the month of November.

The bank is delighted to welcome this talented artist who specializes in working from either a live model, still life displays or on site painting.

"I never use a photo or picture," says the artist. "I always work from the real thing."

Blackmon, originally a teacher, received a bachelor of science degree in Home Economics from Carnegie Mellon University in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. She also possesses elementary and kindergarten certificates from Texas Tech University. She has studied art under Albert Handell, Ben Konis, William Henry Earl, Charles Movalli, Ted Seth Jacobs, Toni Arnett and George Kountoupis.

Mrs. Blackmon has won many awards during her career. She placed first in easel work at the 1983 Lubbock Art Association Classic Show and was cited for pastel work in the 1984 show. She won the purchase award at the 1985 show and received a citation for pastels as well as taking first place in oils at the 1986 classic show. Blackmon also won awards at the 1986 Post, Texas, Algerita Art Center exhibition, the New Mexico State Fair Professional Fine Arts Competition and the Lubbock Art Association Invitational.

Her work is currently on display at Smith's Ltd. Gallery in Ruidosa, New Mexico, Horton's Gallery in Shallowater, Texas and John's Jewelry Store in Lubbock. Her studio is located in County Line and the address is Rt. 2, Box 32, Abernathy, Texas, 79311.

Blackmon is a member of the Lubbock Art Association, The Texas State Art Association and the National Museum of Women in the Arts. She is an associate member of the Pastel Society of America and the Pastel Society of the West Coast.

"I enjoyed a teaching career before embarking on the fascinating and exhilarating process of becoming an artist, says Mrs. Blackmon. "It is my desire that the people who view my paintings will experience a sense of beauty and joy."

Mrs. Blackmon and her husband Donald have three children. She also has two step children and five step grandchildren. The family farms and cultivates a vineyard.

Floydada residents are urged to avail themselves of the opportunity to drop by the bank during November and see the splendid work of this area artist. The bank is open to the public during regular business hours.

A Sears color TV-remote monitor was taken during a burglary last week of the Cable TV of Floydada office. Estimated value of the TV was $270.

No sign of forced entry was found, although scratch marks on the back of the door bolt indicated that an object could have been utilized to pry open the

DAR's 100th year discussed at meeting

Buffalo Grass Chapter, NSDAR met Tuesday, Oct. 28, at Lighthouse Electric. Susan Dunavant, Regent, called the meeting to order and led in the opening of the chapter. Nancy Marble, National Defense Chairman, gave the report from the DAR magazine. Loretta Denning read the message from Mrs. Ann D. Fleck, president general.

Gladys Jones presented the information on the Centennial Call, observance of the society's 100th anniversary. The Chapter's name is to be inscribed on the Permanent List of Chapters in a book to be placed in the NSDAR Library in Washington, D.C., for the Chapter's participation in this project.

Eugenia Bethard gave the program on the DAR museum in Washington, having visited there twice. The different states have rooms decorated in motif depicting the history of the settlement of their state. She reported there are approximately 30 state rooms completed.

Gene Reed reported on her recent trip to the State Fair in Dallas and her visit to the DAR home on the fairgrounds. This building is open each year during the State Fair and has exhibits of various historical interests concerning the early days of Texas, some even before statehood.

After reports from the committee chairmen, concerning the chapter's aims for the year, the meeting was adjourned.

Hostesses, Mary Lou Bollman and Nancy Marble, served refreshments.

Those present were: Eugenia Bethard, Sherry Colston, Loretta Denning, Susan Dunavant, Nova Evans, Gladys Jones, Janis Julian, Ona Ruth Neff, Ozena Norris, Venoy Sanders, Margaret Wheeler, Gene Reed, June Sherman and Bettie Counts.

The next meeting will be November 15.

Tax reform strategies should be in planning

With the 1986 tax reform bill now signed into law, individuals need to start doing some serious thinking and planning regarding tax strategies before the year draws to a close.

"Since many provisions of the new tax bill become effective on Jan. 1, 1987, individuals need to become familiar with the tax consequences of the legislation and consider certain actions before Dec. 31," points out Dr. Wayne Hayenga, an economist and attorney with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Individuals need to take advantage of the new tax code and to capitalize on existing as well as future tax breaks," says Hayenga. He recommends visiting a broker or accountant as soon as possible to look at tax strategies.

According to Hayenga, certain steps should be taken in conjunction with the new tax situation:

- Defer income: Since tax rates will be dropping to either 15 or 28 percent, try to defer as much income as possible until next year so you will be taxed at lower rates. But don't defer income if you plan to use income averaging since this is the last year that method will be available.
- Establish a 401(k): This is a salary reduction plan to which you can contribute up to $30,000 during 1986.

That amount drops to only $7,000 a year starting in 1987.

- Review your portfolio: Sell stocks now to take advantage of the favorable long-term capital gains rate, particularly if you feel they won't move up much in price.
- Seek high dividend investments: Select securities that offer high dividends since dividends and capital gains will be taxed the same under the new law. Many investors believe there will be more corporate pressure to increase dividends because long-term appreciation will become less important than immediate income.
- Stay clear of investments with immediately reportable income: Think about investments that should offer a sizeable payoff next year—U.S. Treasuries, Savings Bonds and annuities. Again, income next year will be taxed at a lower rate.
- Increase deductions for this year: Increasing your deductions in 1986 will offer a greater tax benefit. The cost of items still deductible in 1987 will increase from a tax-savings standpoint. Currently a $1 deduction at the maximum tax rate of 50 percent provides a 50-cent tax savings. That same deduction will provide only a 28-cent savings in the future. However, be cautious about prepaying on your home mortgage. Once paid, the money can't be borrowed back for other uses.
- Buy big-ticket items now: Buy items such as cars and boats before Jan. 1 when the sales tax deduction disappears. Also, pay for investment advice and tax preparations before the end of the year so that those costs can still be deducted from your 1986 taxable income.
- Take a close look at tax shelters: Tax shelters, set up to generate big losses in their early years, have been hard hit by tax reform. Under the old law, these losses could be used to offset income from salary, stocks and bonds. Beginning in 1987, tax shelters will be considered passive investments and any losses they generate can be applied only to offset losses from other passive investments. Look for reliable shelters that make economic sense and dispose of investments that do not generate passive income.
- Consider municipal bonds: Municipal bonds and bond funds offer tax exempt earnings and good yields; they are one of the few legitimate tax shelters left.
- Take another look at children's accounts: When transferring assets to children, select those that will mature either when the child is more than 14 years of age or when the money is needed for college or some other specific reasons.
- Don't toss out the IRA: Keep your IRA, even if it doesn't qualify for the tax deduction. An IRA is still a tax-free investment; furthermore, a penalty must be paid on early withdrawals.
- Remember the alternative minimum tax: This tax is computed in high income returns when the initial computation indicates there is no tax liability. If this tax exceeds the regular tax, then it may pay to delay deductions until next year since the alternative minimum tax rate will increase from 20 percent in 1986 to 28 percent next year.

November 6, 1986:

Over two inches more of rain fell on saturated roads and fields on Monday. The three children of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Taylor, formerly of Mt. Blanco, were injured last week when the pickup driven by Michael Taylor overturned. They were leaving the Caprock to go to their home down below the Cap. The Taylors let the children drive an old pickup over the dirt ranch road to the highway where they meet the school bus into Crosbyton each school day. It was on the evening return trip that the accident occurred. James and Barbara were thrown out. Barbara received a broken collar bone. All were treated at Crosbyton Hospital and are back in school this week.

Little trick or treaters who visited Mr. and Mrs. Dee Adams, the Howard Bishops and Q.D. Williams Friday evening included David and Warren Bishop, Tara and Amanda Williams, and Ashleigh and Austin Williams. Roll call was answered by eight members and one guest relating stories from "A Halloween I Remember."

The president announced the year-book meeting was changed from October 29 to October 30.

The Christmas party and arrangements were discussed and tabled until the next meeting.

The program was given by guest artist, Dianna Glover, as a continuation of an earlier meeting in her home. She brought her dried flowers and assisted everyone in arranging and completing a picture with the dried flowers and etc., gold frames and velvet background. These arrangements were as varied and colorful as the different individuals.

Check chimney before first fireplace lighting

Preventative measures can help reduce dangerous creosote and tar buildup in your fireplace chimney and flue, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service housing specialist.

"Both flue and chimney units should be cleaned before the first fireplace fire of the season," says Dr. Susan Quiring. "It also may require cleaning again during the winter, especially if you burn wood that has not been air-dried or seasoned."

The specialist says a fourth-inch accumulation of creosote indicates the flue needs cleaning.

She suggests checking the fireplace by hanging a flashlight from the top of the flue to a third of the way down the flue. Then, look up the lighted flue from the fireplace with a mirror to get an estimate of the buildup.

Wood stove distributors and some home improvement stores sell wire and plastic cleaning brushes that fit square, rectangular or round chimneys, for do-it-yourself cleaning. Or you can hire a professional chimney sweep to perform this service, Quiring remarks.

Then, every time you start a fire, allow a small quantity of dry wood to burn hot for at least 20 minutes before adding more fuel, she advises. This small, hot fire will burn off some of the creosote, reducing buildup.

Also check the chimney regularly for heat damage and deterioration. Repair any cracks in the mortar and places where the mortar has broken loose and fallen out, says the specialist.

"Adequate maintenance may not make much difference in how it looks on the outside, but a clean chimney and flue will make your fireplace less of a home fire hazard," Quiring says.

Ag assistance requested

County judge submits proposal to governor

With a federal crop disaster assistance program likely to be implemented, Floyd County has taken "the first step" in bringing the aid to producers.

County Judge Choise Smith has submitted a request to Governor Mark White, asking that this county be designated for disaster relief, according to Bob Lotspeich, executive director of the Floyd County ASCS office.

The request was made "after the heavy rains," hail and early freeze which ravaged county crops. If approved by the governor, the proposal would then be forwarded to the state ASCS office.

In response to a question by a Hesperian reporter, Lotspeich says he believes crops in the entire county could qualify for disaster designation.

Congressman Larry Combest of Lubbock, a member of the House Agriculture Committee, estimates that 85 to 90 percent of the area's cotton crop has been affected by one or the other weather condition to some degree.

Combest says authorization for the $400 million disaster payment program was included in the continuing resolution measure signed Oct. 18 by President Reagan.

During meetings last week with agricultural leaders and on-site inspections of crops, Combest says he gathered input that can be presented to the U.S. Department of Agriculture, which has less than a month to formulate regulations.

Payments probably will be made, according to the Lubbock congressman, in negotiable generic certificates redeemable from government-held Commodity Credit Corp. stocks. A $100,000 maximum per producer would apply. This would be separate from other government farm program benefits.

Combest explains that the payment formula will be contingent upon the percent of crop loss at 50 percent of the program payment yield times planted acres times the loan price (payment rate).

For example, if a farmer can harvest only 40 percent of his crop, he would be eligible for a 10 percent payment, according to the proposed formula.

Combest predicts that some of the payments could become available within 60 days. He stressed that a county first must be declared a disaster area, which must be requested of the USDA by the state's government. Floyd County already has taken this step, as mentioned above.

Competition for the federal funding is expected to be fierce. Counties in 15 to 20 states likely will apply for the disaster program, which was originally targeted for the southeastern states that suffered an extended drought, and for the north central regions inundated by floods.

In the words of one individual, the federal agricultural aid "might help hold them (farmers) together."

Johnson 'coming home'

 individual — "shows him some things about his life" that the "stuffy, arrogant" Carstairs doesn't like, including the fact that he is a "terrible writer." This initially leads to a "bitter struggle."

Miss Duncan is described as "quite a good character actor." She is "quite busy," being a writer and advertising salesperson as well as being involved in acting. A fourth generation actress and Houstonian, she has "probably appeared as 50 different characters in the Houston area."

Johnson admits that he is "not really comfortable playing this role" of Manley Carstairs because his personality is different from the stuffy character. However, the Lakeview native has learned that "without an appreciation of many things" one can't be a successful character actor. "If you're afraid to show your emotions, you can't be an actor," he remembers one director saying.

DELIVERS BULL TO CHINA
 Johnson's career has led him into unusual situations since his graduation from Floydada High School as a "shy, country boy."

One of the highlights came in 1980 when he received an opportunity to personally deliver a registered bull to the People's Republic of China.

This opportunity unrecalled after a representative of the ROC visited in the United States and was given the bull by a Houston area rancher. Johnson phoned the rancher seeking permission to do broadcasts of the unusual jaunt to China. As a result, he was chosen as the individual to accompany the bull.

For six weeks, the bull, his companion and members of the cargo ship's crew sailed the rough ocean enroute to China. Johnson suffered an acute case of sea-sickness. So did the bull.

When the sea was at its roughest and Johnson was the sickest, he remembers that the bull was suffering a similar experience. "He would be lying down and I knew how sick he was, because I was too." When the waters calmed, the Houston broadcaster would feel better and the bull would again be on his feet.

The 6'4" Texan wearing a Stetson hat "drew a crowd" wherever he traveled in China. In appreciation for delivering the bull, he was honored with a nine-day tour of the Republic of China. That, too, was a treat.

He was the lone Houston news-caster sent to personally cover Evil Kneivel's highly-publicized jump over the Snake River Canyon near Twin Falls, Idaho.

The Floyd County native was associated with the City of Houston Communications Department when Hurricane Alicia ravaged that port city. "There were enough fallen trees in the City of Houston to fill the Astrodome three times" following the hurricane's passage, Johnson recalls.

CHANGE-OF-PACE

Following his experiences, coming home to rural Floydada presents a happy change-of-pace for Johnson, who looks forward to appearing before a live audience here.

In that crowd will be his parents, Warner and Evelyn Johnson, who moved in 1964 to Brownwood, following the high school graduation of their youngest offspring. They were longtime residents of Lakeview, where Johnson farmed.

Wes Johnson remembers studying in a class of six at Lakeview — where "we knew everybody" — before attending high school in Floydada.

He was the youngest of four Johnson siblings. Wes' brother, Lourie, is now a Fort Worth pharmacist. Their two sisters are Novis Brown of Brownwood and Patsy Brock of Piedmont, Okla. All are Floydada High graduates.

Wes admits that his brother was "a better character actor" as a youngster, but he chose pharmacy as his vocation.

Although Mrs. Johnson continues to recover from a stroke, she and her husband wouldn't miss seeing their son return to the Floydada High auditorium.

Remembering his years attending the local school Johnson says he will seek FHS volunteers to assist with the stage production in "The Housekeeper." He believes that will allow them an unusual opportunity to be associated with such a production.

In addition to the Warner Johnsons, members of Floyd County Arts Association anticipate other guests from out-of-county.

Tickets are being offered in several outlying areas. Marisue Burleson Potts has tickets at Mador and Sue Givens has them at South Plains.

In Floydada, the duets — priced at $5 each — may be secured from Sue's Gifts, Hale's Department Store, Builder's Mart, Goen & Goen and the Chamber of Commerce office. They also will be available at the door.

Ethelyn Vernon and Peggy Roberts have tickets in Lockney, as well as Sterling Gin.

Following the Nov. 14 presentation, the arts association will host a "coffee and desserts" time in the high school cafeteria. This will allow the audience an opportunity to meet Johnson and his co-star, Miss Duncan, and to renew acquaintances with his parents.

Wes Johnson's career has taken many turns in the 22 years since his graduation from Floydada High. He is happy that the latest turn is allowing him an opportunity to perform in his hometown.

Band plans Sesquicentennial halftime performance Friday

The last halftime show of the 1986 marching season will be presented Friday night by the Floydada High School Marching Band. This dedicated group of young musicians and performers will be joined on the field by students from other schools in Floydada.

Traditionally, the band honors its graduating seniors during the final halftime performance. An extra added attraction this year will be a joint salute to the 150th birthday of the state of Texas.

Participating in this salute, performed to "Texas, Our Texas," will be select students from all the Floydada schools. Junior High band students will be marching on the field with the High School band and other students will be vocalizing to the music.

Director Paul Stapp says an outline of America will be formed by the band. "Miss Liberty March" is to be played.

Then the combined high school-junior high bands will form a Texas outline. Non-band students will enter the formation for the vocal selection. Various classes will be spotting different locations, for example the 6B class will go to the San Angelo location on the Texas map.

Stapp said the Friday night show will be staged, "weather permitting." A Tuesday night practice was planned.

Everyone is urged to come out and see the band in its last home performance on the marching arena this year and to help them in their celebration of the 1986 Sesquicentennial of Texas.

More FHS students show interest in activities

By Andrea Reed

Like always, FHS students have managed to keep themselves busy this past week by remaining involved in the on-going activities of FHS. In addition, it seems that the fever of involvement has hit many students—students who never before have actually been a part of any certain activity.

Many examples of this "epidemic" were discovered. One such instance was try-outs for the Drama Club's fall production. Approximately 20-25 students participated in the try-outs. This number is a definite improvement compared to past years, for in the past, try-outs were limited only to Drama Club members. However, this was perhaps the first year in which any interested student (if not ineligible as far as grades go) had a fair opportunity to try-out.

The name of the fall production is "Blazing Guns at Roaring Gulch." It is a western-type melodrama, which will be directed by Mrs. Lou Burleson, the Drama teacher of FHS. The exact date for the production of this play has not yet been established, but it will be performed "sometime before the Christmas holidays."

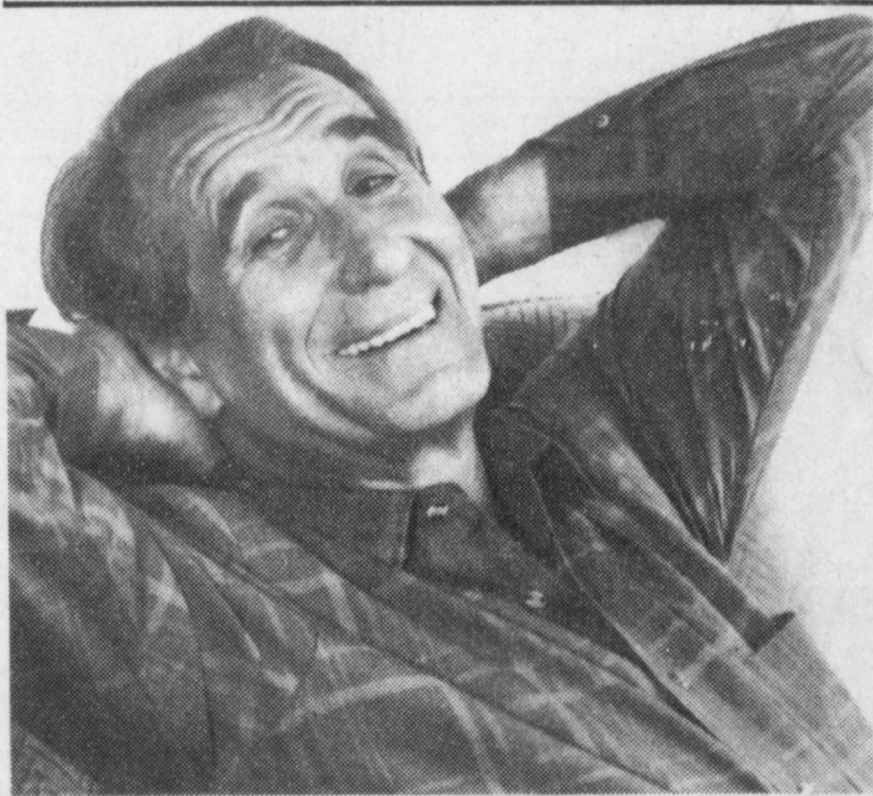

While many students are busy with extracurricular activities, others, especially juniors, are busy academically.

It is always fantastic for any student to maintain a high grade-point average, but it is necessary for the juniors, especially at this time of the year. The reason why? Initiations for the National Honor Society are approaching.

To become a member of the National Honor Society is a true honor for any junior. However, not every junior is fortunate enough to become such a lucky person—only a select few are eligible. Eligibility is determined mainly by the teachers of FHS, who carefully examine each junior's grade average, which includes grades from the beginning of high school, his leadership abilities, and his overall character. It is difficult for a student to "pass inspection," but once he has succeeded, he is looked upon by others with admiration and respect.

Hopefully, before too long, each and every student will excel in some particular area of FHS. Whether it be in sports, drama, or academically, the goal of a 100% recognition of students will be reached. Of course it will take a large amount of determination on the students' parts, but we will manage because after all, we are the best.

Whirlwinds play 'super' against ranked Wildcats

Ask Littlefield after the season ends who was their most rugged District 2-AAA opponent, and the answer might be surprising. It might not be Tullia or Friona. It just could be Floydada!

Unfortunately for the Whirlwinds, the Friday game in Littlefield contained four quarters rather than three.

The Mean Green tricked the state's eighth ranked Wildcats with a 14-14 tie after three quarters, but in the final stanza Littlefield treated itself to 14 more Halloween night points and a 28-14 victory. The 30-point underdog (according to the Harris rating system) Whirlwinds pulled their three-quarter miracle with three stalwarts — sterling runner Julio Flores, defensive tackle Ruben DeLeon and lineman Raymond Gutierrez — sidelined by injuries all or most of the contest.

Held at bay much of the night by the aroused Mean Green defense, Littlefield's talented offensive machine put its final 14 points on the board in a two minute and 17 second span of the fourth period to ice its ninth consecutive victory of the '86 campaign.

The first final quarter TD came on a three-play, 49 yard drive. Tommy King garnered 26 of the steps after taking a pitch from quarterback Mark Ellis around right end. Tommy King ran for 8 before sailing around left end for 15 yards and the go-ahead touchdown after only 43 seconds had lapsed from the final stanza. The PAT kick made it 21-14.

But the Whirlwinds had come back once before and they might again.

That hope of the Floydada fans faded as the white shirts were stopped for minus 8 yards and the gremlins seemed to put a hex on a punt which took a backward bounce and netted only 5 yards to the Whirlwind 21.

From that point, Ellis started around right end to about the 18 and pitched to a trailing back, Brent Heffington, who had clear sailing to the end zone. It was 28-14 with 8:50 remaining after the PAT kick.

DEFENSIVE SURGE

On their next possession, the maroon shirts advanced from their 38 to the Wind 14 before being backed to the 33 by the Mean Green defense. Two motion penalties plus sacks by Anthony Brocato and Ray Morales halted the Wildcats.

In fact, the Wildcats had trouble navigating against the rugged, white shirted defensive unit much of the game.

Littlefield's potent offense mounted short marches on its two first quarter possessions but couldn't garner a penetration. Chad Pernell's mid-air fumble recovery stalled one drive. Booming punts of 49, 37 and 53 yards by Julio Flores prior to his injury allowed the Winds to gain ground on each possession.

Early in the second stanza, the Whirlwinds decided to trick the unsuspecting Wildcats with a few goodies from their Halloween bag. Taking a punt at their 36, Floydada sent Julio for a 2 yard gainer on a play in which he was injured. With one of the area's elite rushers on the sideline, the Whirlwind offense would have seemed to be up that proverbial river.

That was not the case as fullback Joe Collins gained 6, quarterback Ty Stovall kept for 1 and Collins bulled his way for just enough yardage on fourth-and-one to the Floydada 46. Hector Flores squirted through a hole for 13 steps, Ralph Casillas — filling in for Julio Flores — broke free on a 27 yard jaunt to the Wildcat 14.

WINDS SCORE FIRST

Casillas was tripped up for a 3 yard setback but Stovall broke up the middle for 12 valuable steps to the 5. Julio — pain and all — entered the contest and took a Stovall pitch around left end to break the scoring ice. Jeff Smith's golden toe drilled the extra point through and the upset minded Whirlwinds held a 7-0 advantage with 6:42 left in the first half.

But the Wildcats were having none of that upset thought. After bringing Smith's ensuing kickoff out to the 29, they hooked up on a six-play, 71-yard march — thanks in part to a personal foul infraction against the Winds — which culminated with a 20 yard touchdown run through the left side of the line by King. The holder bobbed a low snap on the PAT attempt and David Medrano rushed in to tackle the holder after he decided to run.

The Winds' Halloween night miracle continued as they maintained a 7-6 edge with 3:44 remaining before the bands played.

Littlefield's touchdowns came in rapid pairs, however. Just as they would do again in the fourth quarter, the Wildcats held Floydada and took a punt at their 43.

Ellis, one of the top quarterbacks faced by the Whirlwinds, connected with David McGehee on a 14 yard pass and then hit Jody Nelson on a 10 yard aerial, which carried to the Floydada 19. DeLeon was injured on a play which netted no gain, but Nelson again was on the receiving end of a 7 yard Ellis strike. With the clock into its final minute before the bands performed, King raced 12 steps to paydirt on a draw play. Ellis circled right end for two bonus points and a 14-7 Littlefield advantage.

This came with 0:43 remaining before intermission and just three minutes and one second after the initial Littlefield touchdown.

WINDS COME BACK

Although several white shirts limped to the dressing room at half, the Whirlwinds weren't about to say "calf rope." They were still very much in the contest.

Littlefield accepted the second half kick and went for a single first down before the goblins jinxed one of their punts. The ball was shanked and carried only 13 yards, to the Floydada 37.

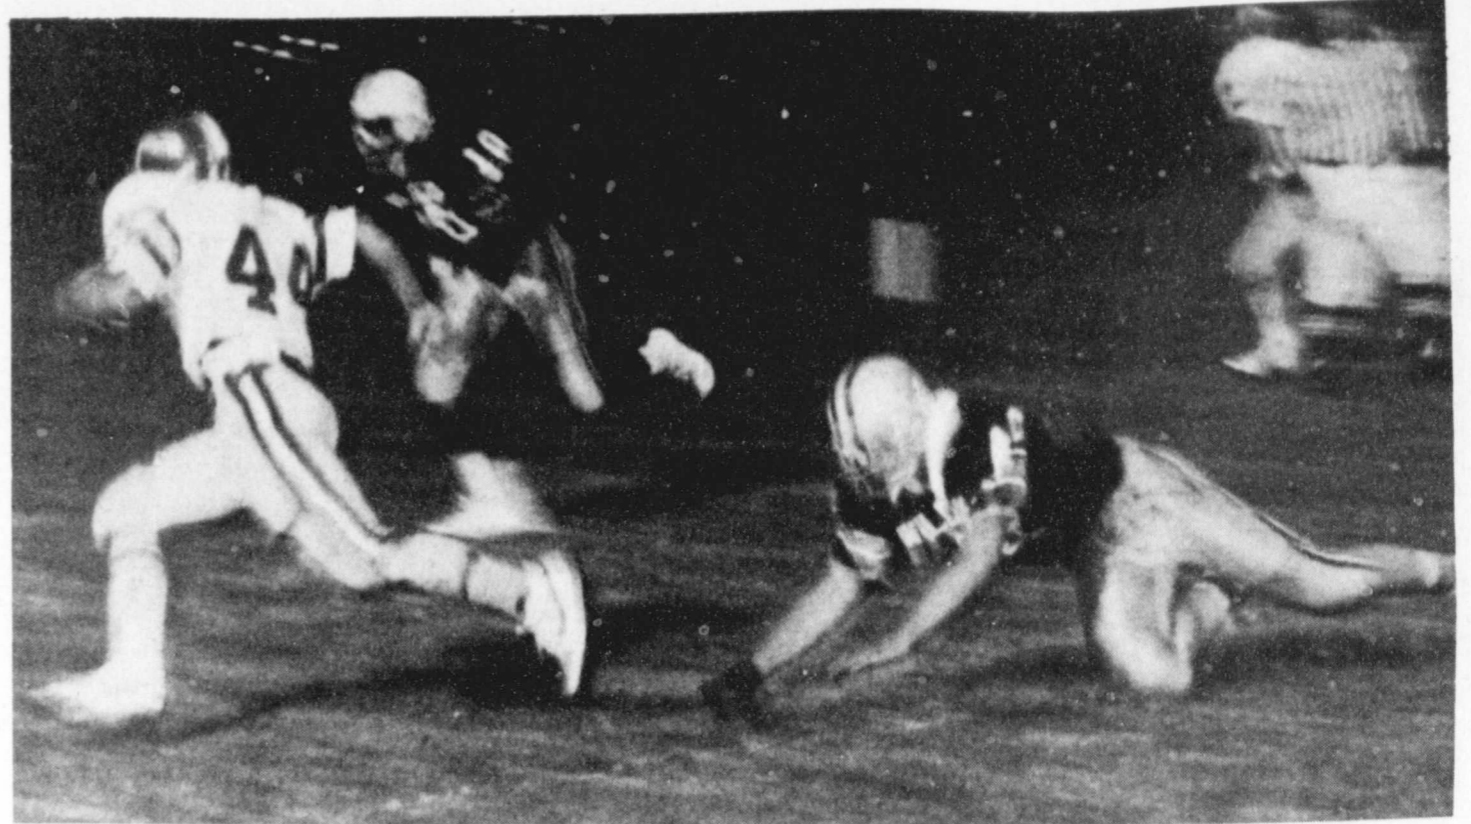

With their star runner on the sidelines, the Whirlwinds had fire in their eyes. Hector Flores made 1, a pass was dropped and Morales scampered 12 yards for a new series at midfield. It went the same way as Collins plowed for 1, a pass fell incomplete and another long gainer emerged on third down — a 37 yard romp by the gritty Stovall, who was pulled down at the 12½. Hector Flores went for 3 and Stovall again kept for a first down inches from the double stripe. Collins strength allowed him to score on the next snap from center

David Pyle. Smith's PAT kick split the uprights and the count was again knotted, 14-14, with 5:39 left in quarter number three.

The maroon shirts picked up four first downs and missed a touchdown when Chad Pernell made a saving tackle on Williams. Owing a first at the 19, Littlefield gained 1 before Williams' fumble was gobbled up by DeLeon at the 14. The 250 pound sophomore Whirlwind tackle was injured for the second time on the play and was helped from the field. Floydada picked up 7 yards prior to Sylvester Mendoza's 38 yard punt to the Littlefield 41. King returned 10 steps to the Wind 49.

The Green and White then were tricked for 14 points during the first three minutes and 10 seconds of the final stanza, which enabled Littlefield to sidestep the upset attempt and retain its district lead.

However, the Wildcats will not soon forget this Halloween night onslaught by the visiting Whirlwinds, playing what has to be their best performance of the campaign.

Floydada JV drops game

Littlefield's strong JV handed Whirlwind JV a 34-6 setback Thursday on the local field.

Chad Quisenberry scored the Floydada touchdown on a 2 yard run. Extra point attempt failed.

The team's record is three wins and four losses.

Whirlwind JV and freshmen join forces today (Thursday) for a 6 p.m. contest in Friona against the Chieftain combined JV-fresh squad. The JV game has been cancelled.

Whirlwind JV owns a 3-4 record.

Named by coaches as standouts for the locals were: offense — Chad Quisenberry, Dana Cooper and Jason Brown; defense — Jacob Galvan, Danny Caballero and Rolando Cisneros.

Whirlwinds retain playoff hopes

emerged in recent games. Their highlight was a 28-21 upset of Tulia.

"Like Littlefield, they (Friona) have a good offensive line," the Whirlwind mentor says of his squad's Friday opponent. The Chieftains are "a power team."

QUICK QUARTERBACK

In a league filled with standout quarterbacks, signal-caller Daniel Echols is a dandy. He "doesn't throw that much but he runs the ball very well." Runningback Lonnie Phillips is "comparable to the Littlefield backs. He's a hard runner with good speed."

Friona has "pretty uniform size in the line" with the exception of 247 pound senior Jeff Chaney, a returning starter who anchors the forward wall both ways. Tight end Rusty Rainey, 190 pound junior, is a former Floydada student. Chaney is "the only real large lineman."

"Friona is deceptive; they operate a ball-control type offense." And they operate "a swarming defense" from a 2-7 formation. "This is the first time in a while we won't play against a nose guard," Coach Paty adds, "It'll be a different look."

"Friona is impressive. We've got to play hard and play well to beat them," he continues.

The Chieftains' lone setbacks have been over River Road (21-12), Portales, N.M. (41-0), Olton (27-15), Pampa (19-13), Muleshoe (39-6), Tulia (28-21) and Dimmitt (45-0).

Against common opponents, the Whirlwinds have beaten Olton (7-0), Muleshoe (28-7) and Dimmitt (16-3). Floydada has dropped decisions to Tulia (28-7) and Littlefield (28-14).

FOURTEEN SENIORS

Fourteen Whirlwind seniors will be playing their final game on Wester Field.

Listed numerically by jerseys, they are: Clay Lowrance, Anthony Brocato, Shannon Vinson, Noe Soliz, Ray Morales, Hector Flores, David Pyle, Ricky Cavazos, Johnny Nichols, Raymond Gutierrez, Joe Gonzales, Darin Martinez, Ricky Benjamin and Sylvester Mendoza.

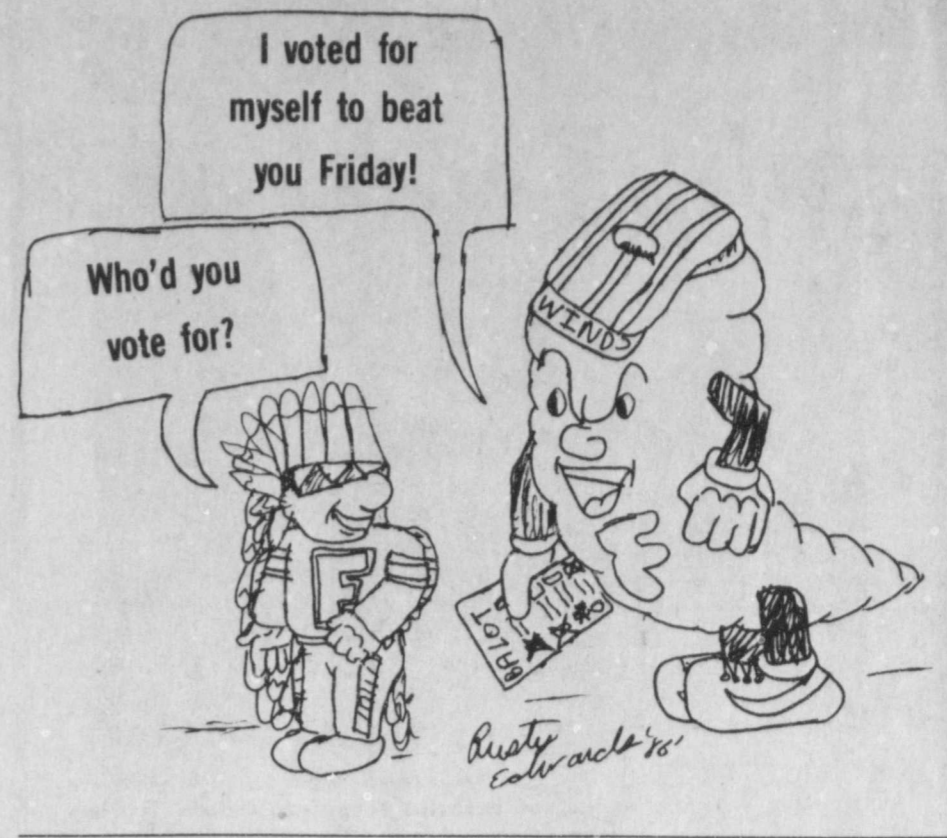

"We (coaches) were well pleased with the Whirlwinds' effort and with intensity going into the game," Coach Paty says in reviewing the Littlefield contest. "It was maybe our best game."

He commended the team's heart for coming back with a third quarter touchdown after trailing 14-7 at intermission. "We came back and tied it and stayed in the game. We made some mistakes, but not as many." Coach Paty also mentions that the Whirlwinds had no turnovers and Littlefield lost only one fumble.

Chosen by coaches for standout performances last Friday were:

- Big hit block — Hector Flores
- Big hit tackle — Leonard King
- Most valuable play offense — Joe Collins
- MVP defense — Ray Morales
- Special teams MVP — Sylvester Mendoza and Jeff Smith
- Game breaker — Ty Stovall.

Eighth Breezers defeat Littlefield, 30-6

In a game played Thursday, the eighth grade Breezers remained undefeated with a 30-6 victory in Littlefield. Coach Tim James' crew owns an 8-0 season record and is 4-0 in district play.

"Our next game will be here next Thursday against Friona," says Coach James. "We will be playing for the district championship." The game will begin after the seventh grade.

Floydada opened scoring in the first quarter on a 3 yard run by Kenneth Collins. The extra point was good when Collins took the pitch from Brian Teeple and passed to Pete Billegas for the score.

In the second quarter, Collins went around the right and raced 55 yards for the touchdown. Collins also ran in the extra point. The tough Breezer defense held the Littlefield offense scoreless in the first half. The score at half was 16-0 in favor of the Breezers.

In the second half the Breezers managed to put 14 more points on the board. All of the Breezer scoring came in the third quarter. The first touchdown resulted from a run around left end by Billegas from 16 yards out. The extra point was good when Brian Teeple passed to Collins.

The second touchdown came on a double reverse. Collins took the pitch, handed the ball to Billegas, who handed the ball to Donelee Cooper, who raced 15 yards into the end zone. The extra point attempt failed, leaving the score 30-0 entering the fourth quarter.

Littlefield's touchdown came late in the fourth period. It was set up when the Wildcats blocked a Breezer punt and recovered it on the 2 yard line. However, the Breezer defense made it tough for them to score. Littlefield needed four plays to score from 2 yards out. The extra point attempt fell short, leaving the final score 30-6.

"I was real pleased by the way the entire team played," says Coach James. "This was by far our best played game of the year. The offense moved the ball very well the entire night and the defense stuffed their running game all night long. It was an excellent team effort."

Chosen by Coach James as outstanding players were: offense — Kenneth Collins, Pete Billegas, Donelee Cooper "and the offensive line"; defense — Freddie Martinez, Larry Galvan, Johnny DeOchoa, Troy Peel and Nufu Morales.

Seventh Breezers top Littlefield, 14-0

The seventh grade gridders traveled to Littlefield last Thursday to play the Wildcats in their next-to-last football game. Floydada claimed a 14-0 victory to even their season record at 4-4.

Breezers won the coin flip and received the ball on the opening kick-off. Their first offensive drive started on the 35 yard line and ended in the end zone with 1:22 left in the first quarter. Ruben Chavarria scored the touchdown with Quincy Johnson adding the two-point conversion.

Next touchdown came after a fumble recovery by Refugio Barrientos in the second half. Chavarria scored on a play up the middle. The two-point conversion by Jamie Suarez failed.

According to Coach Rex Holcombe, offensive players were Henry Hernandez, Ruben Chavarria and Billy Villarreal.

Outstanding defensive players were Keith Teeple, Kenneth Davis and Steve Morales.

Cora Emert wins first in contest

Cora Emert was far in front of the pack as winner of last week's Hesperian football contest. She missed only four of 22 contests.

An even dozen contestants missed six games, leaving the tie breaker to determine second and third place winners.

Dell Gray and Jim Curtsinger, both of whom guessed the exact tie-breaker score of 42, split the second and third place money.

Other contestants with six incorrect winners and their tie-breaker scores were: Bryan Emert and Jean Hale, 40; Bill Gray, 44; Sarah Sanders and Carl Lewis, 38; Joy Allen, 35; J.D. Wilson, 34; Kenneth Young, 31; Duncan Woody, 30; and Leesa Brooks, 29.

Curtsinger continues to hold the season lead with 147 points. Other frontrunners include:

- 143 — Jean Hale
- 142 — Sherry Hale
- 141 — Dell Gray
- 140 — Trudy Hazlett, Paige Cannon
- 139 — Bill Gray
- 137 — Sheree Cannon, Lisa Mosley, Amy McCormick
- 136 — Tiffany Gentry
- 135 — Wes Campbell, Deneen Maricle
- 134 — Sheres Covington
- 133 — Brent Sanders, Bob Alldredge, Dolan Hanna
- 132 — Andy Hale.

Calculations and miscalculations of

Whirly and Windy

WINDY'S OPINIONS
What a game! What character! For those of you who did not go to Littlefield last week, you missed an opportunity to see what our young men are made of. They came up against a good, solid team and showed that they had a lot of character and desire. Littlefield people admitted that they had been in a ballgame. Winds, you have nothing to be ashamed about.

Lots of anxiety and playoff spots still available as the last week-end of regular football games is here.

Winds rebound and as Littlefield beats Tulia, second place becomes a three-tie tie and luck prevails. My sources say Winds' season will continue.

Horns still in a battle for a playoff spot. Will have their hands full, but Pursner and crew figure out how to win.

Tech over TCU. What can be said about last week. Raiders have confidence and after a tough battle, Raiders come through.

Cowboys and Raiders. With new quarterback getting to practice all week Dallas will be tough. Running backs are hurting, but will suck it up and perform. Maybe the black and whites won't take over the game. Cowboys ride.

Whirly, you and all your helpers are defeated in this contest and should go ahead and tell everyone that Windy is the best.

WHIRLY'S OPINIONS
Windy, too bad this is all about over (although the readers are probably glad). You seem to have a slight edge on me now, so I'm going to really have to bear down. How was I to know you would be so lucky?

The Winds really put up a fight against Littlefield and looked good. I'm going to go with them again against Friona.

I'm pulling for Lockney against Abernathy, but the Antelopes may have a little too much. Abernathy takes this one.

Tech may have finally found the confidence they've needed for a long time. They should realize by now they had better not take the Frogs too lightly. Tech over TCU. Is it possible Tech and Texas could exchange head coaches before next season?

The Cowboys had their hands full of Giants and came up short. Look for them to bounce back and defeat the Raiders.

By the way, Windy, I guess I did get a bum deal on the crystal ball. The last time I tried it, it shattered in my hands.

National Diabetes Month

Whereas: Diabetes Mellitus affects 11 million Americans and nearly 1 million Texans. It is the third leading cause of death by disease in the United States. It is the leading cause of new cases of blindness among adults and a major contributing cause of heart disease, kidney disease, stroke and amputations. It results in a direct cost of over $14 billion annual to the United States economy.

Whereas: The American Diabetes Association conducts a comprehensive program of public, patient and professional education and research directed at eradicating this devastating disease and its complications.

Now, therefore, I, Parnell Powell, Mayor, do hereby proclaim the month of November, 1986 as National Diabetes Month in Floydada and call upon all persons to observe this month with all appropriate activities.

In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand the 3rd day of November in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and eighty-six.

Farmers must file prevented planting claims November 17

PREVENTED PLANTING PAYMENTS AVAILABLE

Farmers prevented by adverse weather from planting cotton, wheat, feed grains, rice or other non-conserving crops can now apply for prevented planting deficiency payments, the National Cotton Council pointed out.

The farm must be in an area that the Secretary of Agriculture determines has been substantially affected by a natural disaster or an emergency designated by the President under the disaster relief law.

The payment will be 40 percent of the projected deficiency payment for the crop, multiplied by the number of acres prevented from planting, and by the farm program payment yield established for the farm's crop. The payment will be deducted from crop insurance indemnity payments due producers as the result of a disaster. Applications must be filed with county ASCS offices before Nov. 17.

DISASTER-CAUSED PRODUCTION LOSSES ELIGIBLE FOR PAYMENTS Provision authorizing $400 million for the producer disaster payments was included in the continuing resolution signed into law last week. Compensation is designed to cover both program and non-program crop losses in counties officially declared disaster areas.

However, only upland cotton, wheat, feed grain and rice producers who participated in acreage reduction programs for those crops are eligible. Payments are limited to $100,000 per producer and to production losses below 50% of payment yield. The rate for program crops will be the price support loan rate, and the non-program crop rate will be the average market price as determined by Secretary.

Each crop's production loss will be the difference between the farm's actual production and 50% of the program payment yield multiplied by the acreage planted for harvest within the crop's permitted acreage.

Although the deadline for filing payment applications is Jan. 21, the National Cotton Council says producers who believe they qualify should contact their county ASCS office immediately because total payments under the program are limited to funds appropriated.

Store pesticides properly, safely

By C. Mark Brown
Extension Agent-Entomology (PM)
Crosby/Floyd Counties

Is that bottle of malathion still on the workbench where you left it when you sprayed the apple trees? Homeowners and producers alike should check barns and workshops to be sure that pesticides have been properly stored. Proper storage will prevent potential hazards around the home and will increase the shelf-life of the pesticides.

The best way to store small amounts of pesticide is in a locked cabinet located in a ventilated area. The pesticide should always be stored in the original container displaying a legible label.

If at all possible, protect the pesticide from extreme temperatures. At 32° F.

or below, chemicals may crystallize out of solution and lose their effectiveness. Any chemical with a flash point of 140° F. or less is a possible fire hazard and should be protected from direct heat sources. Producers should not attempt to store sodium chlorate because of the extreme fire hazard involved.

Producers storing more than a few gallons of pesticides should check with local fire protection authorities and public health officials concerning legal ordinances. When storing any significant volume of pesticides, you should adhere to the following rules:

- *Keep chemicals in a locked storage area, well-ventilated and clearly posted at all points of entry.
- *Date all containers.
- *Keep a log of pesticides and amounts in storage.

*Check containers periodically for leaks, tears, etc.

*Do not locate storage area near feed or seed.

*Always store "empty containers" in the storage area pending disposal.

*Store pesticides properly and safely. Properly dispose of all empty pesticide containers. Generally, a homeowner can dispose of an empty container by wrapping it and placing it in a dumpster to be disposed of in a sanitary land fill. Most farmers are exempt from any special hazardous waste disposal laws because of the minimal amount of wastes they work with. However, producers are required to dispose of the container properly, according to the pesticide label directions. For further information you can contact your local Extension Service office.

Agricultural and city wastewater can be utilized on crop land

Wastewater from cities, food processing plants and livestock feeding operations can be partially treated and then applied to agricultural soils and crops.

The soil removes solid particles by filtration and decomposition, says Dr. John Sweeten, agricultural engineer in waste management with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The soil also removes disease-causing organisms and retains nutrients for plant growth.

"Although soils and plants benefit from the applied organic matter, nutrients and water, land application of wastewater has to be approached more carefully than irrigation with clean water," Sweeten points out. "Otherwise, problems can develop due to overloading the soil-plant system with certain constituents that could cause plant toxicity, soil salinity, nutrient imbalance or groundwater pollution."

COTTON PROGRAM WORKING

The 1986 farm program has dramatically reestablished U.S. cotton as a price-competitive industry at home and overseas, says Dr. Dean Ethridge, director of the National Cotton Council's economic services.

He noted that U.S. cotton exports for 1986-87 are projected at 6.5 million bales or nearly triple those for last year. Projected offtake is 13.3 million bales — up 59 percent from last season and 21 percent above the average of the past five years. Ethridge said prospects for a larger offtake could conceivably result in ending stocks of around 6 million bales in contrast to last year's 9.4 million.

The economist said the program also has (1) moved cotton out of the government loan into the market, and (2) accelerated foreign production adjustments to lower world carryover stocks.

Wastewater application rates should be controlled by at least three load limiting factors: hydraulic load, or depth of water applied; nitrogen load (many irrigated crops can use 200 to 300 pounds of available nitrogen per acre per year); and salt content. Too much salt will affect seed germination and crop yields and will damage soils. Also, clay soils cannot take nearly as much salt as sandy soils.

"Treated municipal effluent contains only about 10 pounds of nitrogen per acre-inch, so a farmer usually can apply about 25 to 30 inches per year to benefit his crops," says Sweeten. "With a 15 percent leaching rate, most of the salts would move on through the soil profile."

Food processing plant wastewater may be a little more concentrated than municipal sewage but also can be effectively used as enriched irrigation water, adds the engineer.

But some agricultural wastewaters, such as feedlot runoff or effluent in poultry manure treatment lagoons, may be high enough in nitrogen and salt that only 6 inches or less should be applied per year. Since it usually takes more water than this to fully irrigate a crop, wastewater can be used for supplemental irrigation, and additional or dilution water may be necessary to meet crop requirements, Sweeten points out.

He recommends a chemical analysis of both the soil and wastewater to determine how much agricultural or municipal effluent can be irrigated onto which crops. The Extension Service's Soil and Water Testing Laboratories at College Station and Lubbock as well as commercial labs can provide that type of analysis, says Sweeten.

NOTICE OF PROPOSED REDUCTION IN AT&T'S TEXAS RATES

The Public Utility Commission of the state of Texas has entered orders in two recent cases that would substantially reduce the charges which AT&T pays to the state's local telephone companies and which could allow AT&T to reduce prices for most of AT&T's customers on calls placed within the state of Texas.

The total amount of the reduction to AT&T's customers is expected to be between $115.3 million and $120.6 million. This is in addition to the $19.8 million reduction in AT&T's Texas basic long distance prices that went into effect on March 1, 1986 and is in addition to the approximately $2 billion in AT&T interstate price reductions that took effect earlier this year.

If the changes are approved, all of AT&T's direct dialed long distance, directory assistance, WATS and 800 service customers would be affected, and would experience a decrease in their prices for these services when calling within the state of Texas. The following tables show the anticipated impact of the changes on AT&T customers by service category:

Class of Service	Approximate Overall % Reduction	Approximate Overall Dollar Reduction (in millions)
Long Distance	9.2	$ 68.4
Directory Assistance	20.0	1.0
WATS	29.1	29.7
800	19.9	21.5

The rate reductions are presently anticipated to occur in two phases on or about October 22, 1986 and November 12, 1986. The matter has been assigned as Docket Nos. 6926 and 7113. Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene or participate or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information also may be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0223 or (512) 458-0227 or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf. A complete copy of the tariffs reflecting the potential rate reductions will be on file with the Commission on or before October 23, 1986.

TWENTY-SIX GIVEN PLACES AT FLOYD TABLE FOR REVUE

Delegation on Floydada Day at Frontier Centennial Enjoy Big Day

Twenty-six Floyd County residents dined at the table reserved for the Floyd County delegation at Casa Manana Friday night for the culminating event of a busy day and night, and saw the gigantic Billy Rose performance, outstanding event of the Frontier Centennial, where Miss Maxine Fry, was presented as the sponsor of Floydada on Floydada Day.

The lovely Floydada college girl was given a big hand as she appeared in the spotlight in a white brocaded satin evening gown and the local delegation was delighted with the charming stage personality of their representative.

Other features of the big show in which the local delegation had a part included the period in the late afternoon when West Texas Chamber of Commerce activities were turned over to Floydada and at 2:30 in the afternoon when a fifteen minute program on the grounds played up the Chamber of Commerce Cowboy Quartette, their program also being broadcast over WBA radio station. In this quartette were Garlan Glover, Claude Hammonds, Roy Holmes, and Kyle Glover, the latter taking the place of Woody Guthrie, in the singing foursome. Mrs. E.L. Angus was hostess at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce during the afternoon. Of the number who went from this city she and Miss Fry were the only ones who had a chance to see behind the scenes of the Casa Manana.

Mrs. Angus visited the women's dressing rooms and saw the bubbles being inflated for Sally Rand's dance. However, Miss Rand used fans instead of bubbles that evening in the performance on account of the stiff breeze that was blowing.

High in praise of the local delegation for courtesies shown were J.A. Rix, assistant manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce on duty during the Centennial, and Mrs. Edwin Phillips official hostess for that organization. Featured in the Fort Worth newspapers also were stories of the Floydada Day activities and the Star Telegram played up a group of photographs in which were J.M. Willson, Floydada director of the regional organization, Miss Maxine Fry, Floydada sponsor and Kyle Glover and Roy L. Holmes of the Cowboy Quartette. During the afternoon Floydada films were repeatedly shown on the screen of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Building and Floydada literature freely displayed and handed out.

Among those seated at the table reserved for the Floydada delegation at Casa Manana were J.M. Willson, R.W. Cothern, secretary of the Floydada Chamber of Commerce, Dr. A.E. Guthrie, Mrs. E.L. Angus, Miss Maxine Fry, members of the Cowboy Quartette, Mr. and Mrs. Glad Snodgrass, Mrs. Lon Davis, Mrs. J.M. Gamblin, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Heald of Fort Worth, and others.

City not to pursue SPS counter offer

Brief discussion preceded a motion by Ginger Warren, seconded by Don Green, that the city not authorize Glenn Reddic's to prepare a proposal to Southwestern Public Service to purchase their electric utility interests in Floydada.

Meeting in a noon session on November 3, the city council decided not to pursue a counter offer to the SPS bid to buy Floydada Power and Light. Both City Manager Bill Feuerbacher and Mayor Parnell Powell stated that SPS officials had indicated that they were not "in the business of selling, but were looking to buy."

Councilman Wayne Russell said, "If they are not interested in hearing an offer, that is no point in the city spending $1500 foolishly to submit an offer that will be readily rejected."

The motion was passed by unanimous vote of the full council. The council approved an expenditure of $3,565 for the purchase of an IBM PC

XT, Model 286, to add to the capacity and speed of the computer operation at city hall. The proposed purchase would enable the city to process records twice as fast as the present system is capable of doing and includes a 20 megabyte memory. Councilman Don Green made the motion with Russell seconding. It was passed unanimously.

Two Apple computers used by the city before the transfer to IBM equipment will be retired from city hall. One of the two units will be placed with the fire department for use and the second will be offered for bids in an effort to sell it.

The council designated Harold Snell as Sergeant in the Floydada Police Department. This will place him second in command to Police Chief James Hale. Snell will be the officer in charge when Hale is not available. Frank Breed made the motion, seconded by Russell and approved unanimously by Leroy Burns, Warren and Green.

County in turmoil?

The scheduled agenda of an October 30 commissioners court session went completely by the wayside as two elected county officials tendered resignations.

Both County Judge Choise Smith and Precinct Commissioner Bob Jarrett submitted resignations at the afternoon meeting. In attendance at the called session were commissioners Sam Spence and Thomas Warren of Precincts 1 and 3, respectively. The commissioner from Precinct 4, Jack Lackey, was not present.

Smith accepted Jarrett's resignation and appointed the Democratic candidate on the November 4 ballot to replace Jarrett. Floyd Jackson, the lone candidate for the post, was sworn in on October 30 at approximately 4:30 p.m. by County Clerk Margaret Collier.

The posted agenda for the October 30 session called for the "court to take action as to whether or not to join Mr. Lackey in the original petition for declaration and determination of ownership, reimbursement of funds and injunctive relief."

This matter was not addressed following the two resignations. Asked to comment on his resignation,

Smith stated, "I have worried and worried with this for some time. The stress of the job is affecting my health and I have personal business and farming I need to pay more attention to at this time. I love the people of Floyd County and I love working for them. I just feel that the time for me to leave has come."

Unconfirmed sources indicate that Smith has been the recipient of a great deal of public support and has been asked by numerous citizens to reconsider his action and withdraw the resignation, which was tabled until a special session could be posted for Monday, November 3.

On November 3, Smith asked the court to recess until after a scheduled injunctive hearing at 10:30 a.m. in 110th District Court. He requested that his resignation remain tabled until the conclusion of the hearing.

Commissioners Spence, Jackson, Warren and Lackey agreed to the delay. Due to the late hour at which the hearing ended, court was not reconvened on November 3. It was also not reconvened on November 4, as the courthouse was closed for the general election.

A MESSAGE FROM FLOYDADA POWER & LIGHT

Serving Our Owners - the Citizens of Floydada since 1939

Did you know:

In fiscal 1986, your locally owned, locally operated electric system had a net income of $136,718. That means over $100,000 that stayed in Floydada this year alone and the future looks even brighter. Our consultants say the electric system with over one million dollars in assets could be completely paid off within the next two years.

Just think:

Since it was created, FP&L has transferred over $750,000 to the general fund of the City. That means, three-quarters of a million dollars that you did not pay in taxes while still receiving competitive rates for electric service. In fact, the electric rates charged by your locally-owned Floydada system has always been lower than or equal to the electric rates charged by competing companies. At Floydada Power & Light, our name means service. We are working harder than ever before to see that you - Our Owners - get the kind of service you want and deserve.
