Invasion by Old Man Winter

Old Man Winter passed this way... and decided to stay.

Six and a half inches of snow were deposited on the Floydada area Saturday and early Sunday before the moisture moved on to the northeast. The winter's most frigid temperatures followed with a low of 12 degrees reported early Monday.

Although regarded as a "major" storm, no extensive damage was left in its wake. Schedules were abbreviated over the week-end due to the snow and hazardous driving conditions.

The storm's timing was ideal in coinciding with the Floydada school schedule. Obviously, no classes were slated Saturday and Sunday and Monday was a teacher work day, with students having a holiday. This had been planned on the original school calendar and no school day was lost. Weather during the week came in the form of three different systems. Slick road conditions were the result of a front which passed through the area Thursday and Friday.

The second "norther" deposited the snow on Saturday and Sunday. Another wintry blast arrived late Monday night, but did not deliver the punch of the second storm.

MELTING MONDAY

Slight melting resulted Sunday afternoon and, following Monday morning's frigid temperatures, sunshine that day began to melt away the mantle of white. Highways and roads again became treacherous with temperatures dipped later that day and ice again formed on the roadways.

The "exceptionally dry" snow did not deal as much misery as during some winter storms.

Lighthouse Electric Cooperative had "no major problems" with lines. Most trouble occurred "along the edge of the caprock," which often is a trouble area during winter storms.

The regular crew and an "overtime crew" were able to answer all calls Saturday.

Despite some wind Saturday, lines were not generally in immediate danger of breaking because of a lack of heavy ice at the time.

TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS

Several traffic accidents, some related to weather, were reported, but no serious injuries resulted.

Six head of cattle were killed when struck by a truck about 9 p.m. Saturday, four miles south of Floydada on U.S. Highway 62.

This was the third in a series of mishaps which occurred in as many days and were investigated by the Department of Public Safety.

The 18-wheeler struck the cattle which reportedly were in a herd of "25 to 30" on the road. A deputy sheriff was attempting to remove the cattle from the road and his vehicle was north of the herd.

A source other than the DPS said the deputy also was attempting to direct traffic, but that the truck failed to stop.

Two of the cattle reportedly were thrown under the truck's front axle, causing the vehicle to go out of control. The trailer went into the ditch. It was

'Grandparents Brag Pages' February 12

How many proud grandparents reside in Floydada?

Grandparents — including former residents — will be given an opportunity to show a photo of their "pride and joy" to friends in Valentine hearts, scheduled for publication on Thursday, Feb. 12, the last issue prior to Valentine. The feature is entitled "Grandparents' Brag Pages."

In addition to a photo of grandchildren, names of the children, parents and grandparents are requested. The $10 fee per heart helps defray reproduction and space costs.

A photo may include one or more youngsters. Clear pictures, without extreme dark or red tones in faces, allow for the best reproduction.

Deadline for bringing photos and data to The Hesperian office will be 3 p.m. Friday, Feb. 6. They may be submitted from now until that date.

This is one of those times when it is difficult to determine whether we should tune in or tune off. The Legislature is once again gathered in Austin to solve the problems of Texas and Congress has assembled in Washington to solve the problems of the nation.

Both bodies have been working on our problems for quite a while. The Congress now assembled goes by the name of the "100th Congress", meaning this is the 100th time a new Congress has met to pass laws and solve whatever problems were then apparent. The current Texas Legislature, which also gets sworn in every two years, is known as the "70th Legislature."

One would be hard pressed to argue that our citizens are 100 times better off, or even 70 times better off, than when those two illustrious bodies began meeting to solve our problems. Indeed, in our darker moments it seems we could almost argue the opposite.

The people proceed with their business of earning a living and paying their taxes. The lawmakers, in Washington and in Austin, proceed with their business of spending and getting elected. The special interest groups, in Washington and in Austin, proceed with their mission of delving into the treasury and rewarding those lawmakers who help them in their efforts.

Still, it's the only system we have. And, as Winston Churchill said, it's the City and school elections scheduled April 4

Initial trustee balloting under single member district system

The first school board election under a single member district system in Floydada ISD is scheduled for April 4, 1987. According to school officials, two positions on the local board will be filled by this election.

A trustee will be elected to represent voters residing in the newly formed Precinct 3 of the school district and one at large board member will be selected. Presently holding these posts under the old at large election system are Bill Orman and Harvey Allen. Both of these board members will have to stand for election this April in order to retain their posts.

Anyone interested in running for one of these school board positions may file for a place on the ballot by contacting local attorney Ben Ayres at his office. Filing dates began on January 19 and will end on March 4.

Absentee balloting will be held in the Floyd County Clerk's office at the Floyd County Courthouse from March 16 until March 31.

The April 4 election will be conducted in the county courtroom at the county courthouse. All voters casting ballots in the election will vote at that location.

Due to the new precinct system, there may be some confusion concerning the precinct of residence for voters.

Anyone with a question regarding this should contact the school administration office. Maps detailing the various precincts will be published in the Hesperian as soon as they become available.

Neighborhood watch... still alive

By Bill Gray, Coordinator
Floydada Neighborhood Watch

There are many pretenses, devised by would-be burglars, used to gain access into residences. Among the most common is posing as some type of door-to-door salesman.

Even if they actually do have a product for sale, care should be taken in determining the validity of their intentions. Many cities have solicitation ordinances to help deter some of this type of activity.

Floydada has such a solicitation ordinance, whereby door-to-door vendors and solicitors are required by law to register at the city offices prior to canvassing the neighborhoods. In most cases, salesmen are required to obtain a business permit and they also undergo an investigation by law enforcement authorities.

In the case of religious and other types of non-profit solicitors, they still must obtain clearance through the city secretary's office to ascertain their legitimate intent.

If a citizen is approached by a door-to-door solicitor, the first question to be asked the salesman should be, "Do you have a permit and clearance from the City of Floydada?"

The legitimate caller should be more than happy to present the proper credentials. If it is determined that this clearance has not been obtained, residents are urged to call the police immediately, giving a description of the person, his or her automobile description and license number, product offered, and any other information by which the person or persons can be located and investigated.

Seasonal door-to-door salesmen, such as wood or fruit vendors, seldom acquire the necessary permit and/or clearance. The solicitation ordinance is designed to allow only those with legitimate business from going door-to-door in the neighborhoods.

Those without the proper credentials

City residents voting after one year hiatus

After a delay of a year, long awaited city elections have been set for Floydada. Scheduled for April 4, Floydada could possibly see a complete change in city government as no election was held in 1986.

The 1986 election was not held under a court order issued in conjunction with litigation the city was involved in over the election procedures used by the city.

This initial election under a single member district system will see the election of a mayor for a two year term and two council members for two year terms. The remaining four council members will be elected to one year terms.

Districts 2 and 3 will elect representatives to serve for two years. Districts 2 and 3 will each elect representatives to serve for one year terms along with two at-large council members to be elected. A drawing by lot determined the length of terms for each office.

Anyone desiring to file for a position on the city ballot can do so by contacting Jimmie Lou Stewart at the city offices. The filing date extends from January 19 to February 18. A candidate must be at least 18 years old and be a registered voter. There is a six month residency requirement and a candidate for a district position must reside in the district in which election is sought.

The April 4 city election will have polling places in each district. District 1 voters will cast ballots at the county courthouse. District 2 will vote at the firehall. District 3 balloting will take place at the FNB community room and District 4 voters will vote at Massie Activity Center.

Absentee balloting will take place from March 16 until March 31 at City Hall.

Boulter doubts major bill changes

"I think there will be efforts made" to change the present farm bill, in the opinion of Congressman Beau Boulter, who visited Friday in Floyd and Motley counties.

Efforts to alter the present farm legislation will come from both "those wanting more government intervention" and from "those wanting total removal" of the government from agriculture.

Although he also would like to see some changes, Congressman Boulter opposes efforts to make major changes in the legislation, which he says is working in helping to eliminate domestic surpluses, particularly in cotton. He particularly opposes efforts to reduce target prices and deficiency payments.

A move is underway to attempt to incorporate market loan payments into the $50,000 payment limitation to any producer.

"I'm in a good position to oppose those moves on the Budget Committee," Congressman Boulter says.

FAIR LEGISLATION

Sponsor of the "Foreign Agricultural Investment Reform Act (FAIR)," the Amarillo lawmaker is "also leading the fight to not hand over our markets to foreign production." A goal of FAIR is to "eliminate our tax dollars being used to subsidize foreign markets."

Boulter legislation is designed to halt funds from both the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank which are being utilized to "finance overseas production to compete with our own farmers." The congressman, who says his proposed legislation has been endorsed by major commodity groups, hopes to stop the flow of "worldwide surpluses, created by our money."

Congressman Boulter is working toward the goal of creating markets whereby U.S. farmers can feed the world...and get a good price for it." He asks aloud, "Why not give commodities rather than cash to foreign countries?"

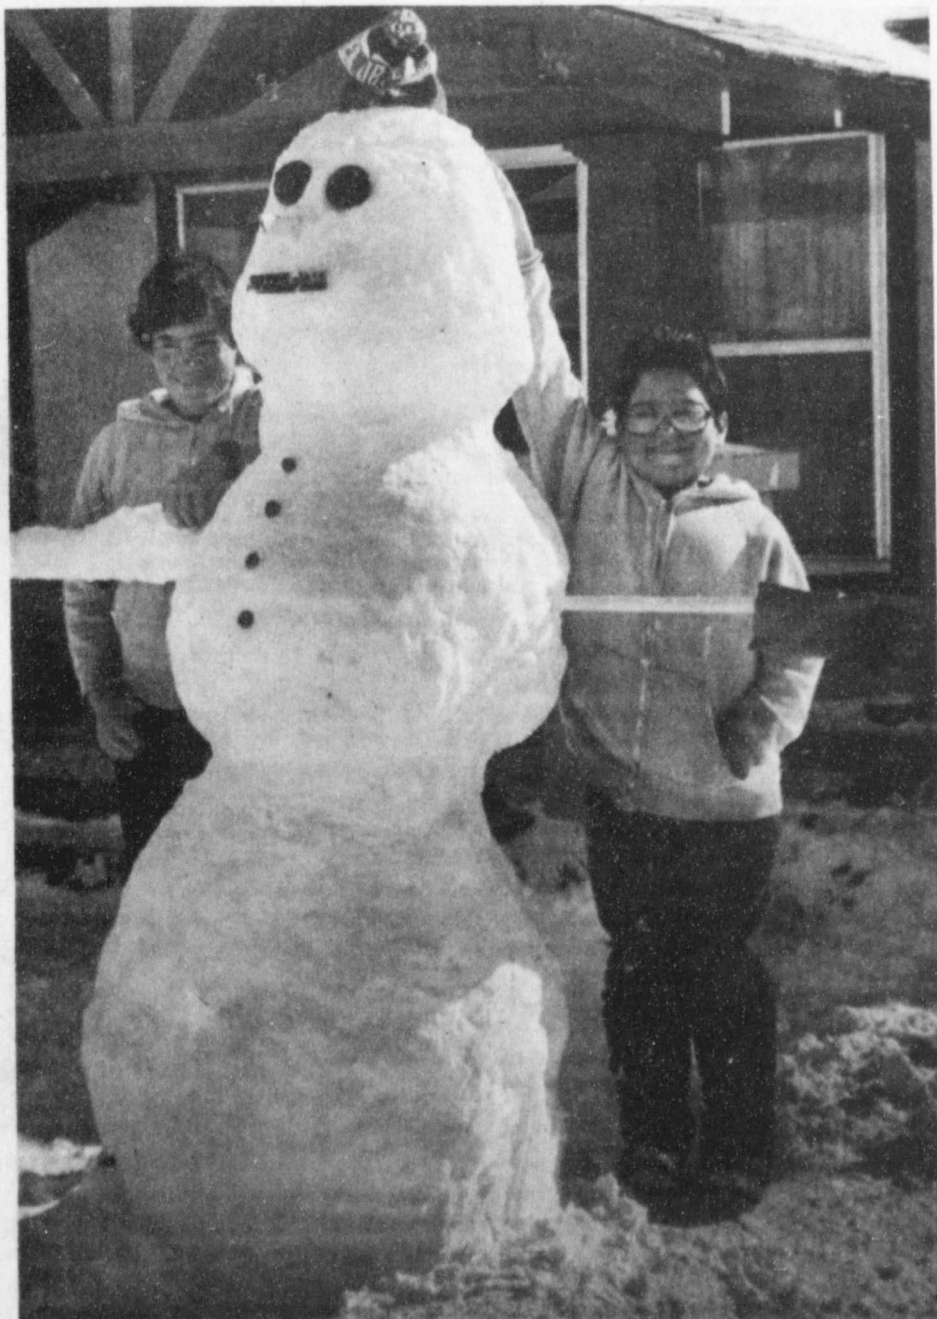

COMMODITY SURPLUSES

"Conventional wisdom is that surpluses were created by domestic production," he says, a theory which he totally rejects.

"Small towns such as Floydada and Lockney would virtually disappear" if farmers set aside large acreages," Congressman Boulter suggests.

Although he believes the CRP (land reserve) is "a good program," he sees it as being "too restrictive." The congressman is "not pleased with the way the program is turning out."

After extensive discussion, the congressman believes the present farm bill "will remain intact. All of us have some changes we would like to make. It's not a perfect farm bill, but I will resist major changes. I will predict that we won't go to mandatory acreage reduction," although he adds that "I certainly have no crystal ball."

Floyd Junior Livestock Show set

By Jon J. LaBaume
Secretary-Treasurer

Floyd County Junior Livestock Show will be held February 13, 14, 15, and 16. The show barn will open Friday, Feb. 13, after school for the arrival of animals.

Details will be published at a later date. Stock show directors voted to move the show up one week to avoid conflicts with six weeks school activities.

I recently read an article prepared by Dirk Aaron, Briscoe County Extension agent, and I think he had several very good points about 4-H and FFA projects. The following is his article:

Many people in the community have supported the Junior Livestock Show Program through the years as volunteer leaders and by providing money for premium awards. A great expense of time, money and effort goes into each of these animals by the members. Unfortunately, most exhibitors come out on the short end in terms of projects. Thus the ultimate question arises, "Junior Livestock Shows—Are They Worth It?" My goal as a County Extension Agent and an advocate of the 4-H Club work is to provide a well-rounded experience and one that provides a teaching experience more than a money-making experience. Again, "What does the Livestock Project teach?"

1. It teaches youngsters to get along with people. Showing animals, winning, getting beat, and so forth, helps youngsters to get along with others.

2. Livestock feeding teaches responsibility. It is the feeder's responsibility to hear the alarm clock and obey it. If they learn nothing more than that, feeding is worthwhile.

3. Junior projects teach youngsters to attend to details. In feeding, and especially through life, it is often the little things that count. The person who goes that extra mile gets the job done.

4. Decision-making is the most painful task that a teenager has. The good animals shown this year didn't just happen to be here. Somebody planned it that way.

5. Feeding teaches youngsters to plan. Without a good planning job, we are sunk.

6. Somewhere along the line, we hope our young feeders will learn a little about livestock production.

We don't expect every youngster who feeds a calf, lamb or hog to become a beef cattleman, sheepman or hogman; neither do we expect all little league baseball players to play for the major leagues.

Feeding is a family project. I don't mean the whole family does the work. I mean the whole family must enjoy it. Half the value of the project is lost if the parents don't attend the show.

I think sometimes we are prone to look at investments through the wrong end of a telescope. For example, we don't buy a car, we buy transportation; we don't buy a TV set, we buy entertainment; we don't miss a day at school, we lose a day of education. By the same token, we don't invest toward a premium list or buy some youngster's calf or pig in a premium sale. Rather than that, we invest in the future of some boy or girl who in turn will help to keep America the greatest country on earth.

Please remember, 4-H does not, throughout the Junior Livestock Projects, sell each as a money-making project. It is a teaching project, and should be sold as such.

I would like to add to this article, please remember these 4-H and FFA members when our community sales committee contact you for support for the 1987 Floyd County Junior Livestock Show.

Johnny Ray Watson due at Methodist Church Sunday

Johnny Ray Watson of Pflugerville, a musical evangelist well known in this area, will present the program for both 11 a.m. and 8 p.m. services Sunday at First United Methodist Church.

"The community is invited" to either or both services.

A Lorenzo native, Watson has appeared numerous times throughout the South Plains.

He was an all-state basketball player and an all-around athlete at Lorenzo High School before accepting a basketball scholarship to McMurry College. Watson has been a musical evangelist since completing his education at McMurry.

worst in the world except when we compare it with all the others. At least it has within itself the means of self-correction.

That's what the people in Texas did the last time around. They made a few corrections. Or at least they tried to make a few corrections. We'll see fairly quickly if it works that way. The Legislators will be meeting with a "shortfall" of some $4.8 billion hanging over their and our heads. There are those who want to solve the problem by cutting back on spending, rearranging our priorities, streamlining the state government. Bill Clements falls in that category. There are others who want to solve the problems by increasing taxes again. Bill Hobby falls in that category and always will. Hobby is continually embarrassed by the fact that some other states tax their citizens more heavily than has traditionally been the case in Texas. He tries to rectify that every chance he gets, and we must admit he is making progress.

Then there are others who fall into an entirely different category. That's the category that really can't be identified until after the fact, so to speak. House Speaker Gib Lewis falls into this category. He's the Speaker, you may remember, who held out for every so long as a "no-taxer" during the Special Sessions, then suddenly changed sides and rammed through a tax bill at the urging of Mark White and Hobby. Later he admitted that his early public opposition to more taxes was all an act. That made him a hero in certain political and media circles where a premium is placed on that kind of behavior.

We don't envy either the folks in Congress or the Legislature. This is not going to be the easiest of sessions for any of them. Both are faced with the prospect of either raising taxes or slowing the growth of government, a terrible predicament for any politician to be in. About the only thing that can be worse is to have to do both, cut expenditures and raise taxes also.

We expect this to be a rather difficult session for the Legislature. One unfortunate aspect of this whole thing is the timing. It would be far better if the legislature and new governor had time to use this crisis as a way to overhaul the entire structure of state government, rather than restrict their thinking to either raising taxes or cutting existing services and programs. But that's not likely to happen. The new governor may try but the odds are against him. He may be successful in getting a one-year appropriation while he and the legislators wrestle with revamping state government, but even that is a long shot. Too many current office holders, like Mauro, Mattox, Hobby, White, Richards, et al, have their eyes on the governor's chair since Clements says he won't run again. They all have constituents who wouldn't want things changed until their man, or woman, gets in there.

At any rate we think the better show, and the more important arena as far as the folks here are concerned, will be in Austin for the next few months. That is the one we will be watching more closely. The Washington scene is now mostly media hype and politics. The principal battle there during the past few weeks has been to reestablish the dominance of television media types in our national life, along with their natural allies in Congress. The battles in Austin are likely to have far more bearing on the present and immediate future as far as the lives of people in this state are concerned. We believe Foster Whaley, who represents us down in Austin, is probably right when he says this session of the Texas Legislature "may go down in history books as the most historic session for this century."

Foster expects conservative Democrats and Republicans to support Clements budget proposals, providing Clements comes in with figures lower than those proposed by the Legislative Budget Board. There's not much doubt Clements will do that, so there's bound to be a giant battle in the offing.

should be turned in at once for two reasons: (1) they are selling their goods within the city without a business license, and (2) they may be doing more than just selling their wares — they may be using a sales come-on as a cover for "casing" neighborhoods for burglary intentions.

Today's burglar is brazen. He operates openly — not dressed in dark clothes, nor with the furtive actions of the so-called "cat burglar."

In a booklet, furnished by the Ad Council in conjunction with the Crime Prevention Coalition, the following tips are listed as to how some burglars operate:

1. He may drive a truck and dress as a service repairman.
2. He may knock at your door; using various pretenses, to appraise the house for valuable items.
3. Burglars often cruise neighborhoods, looking for absentee owners or such tell-tale signs as newspapers which have not been removed from the front of the house.
4. Another favorite trick is the wrong-number telephone call to find out if the owner is at home before attempting to enter a residence.
5. Quick thefts of purses and other valuables are commonly carried out by burglars who enter an opposite door when the homeowner is seen working outside in his yard.

One of the most important ways of protecting your home, and one of the basic principals of "Neighborhood Watch," is to know your neighbors. Make them fully aware of your family's living habits — who comes and goes to your house and when. Get to know theirs equally well.

When you are familiar with regular visitors, strangers in the neighborhood are easy to spot. If you should notice a stranger who appears to be doing something out of the ordinary, call the police immediately. It is better to be a little "nosey" and safe than to "look the other way" and be sorry!

Clothing taken from dryer at local laundry

A communication gap resulted in the loss of clothing Friday from Weems Laundry.

Lucie Garza of 316 W. Hallie left clothing in a dryer at the laundry, thinking that a relative was watching the garments. The relative was unaware of her role and left the laundry.

Meanwhile, another individual found the clothing in the dryer and, she told officers, not knowing the owner took the garments. She kept some of the items and gave others away.

City police investigated the ironic situation, and theft charges were filed. However, "most" of the clothing has been returned to the owner.

Samuel (Sammy) Mercado reported to police that two windows were knocked from his residence last Wednesday. The situation was repeated the following day when one window was broken. The victim told officers his son observed someone throwing rocks at the house.

Sgt. Harold Snell says an alley near the residence had been "freshly gravelled" and that gravel rocks were used to break the windows.

A Magnavox VCR, valued at $350, was stolen from the T.J. Coleman residence, 408 E. Jackson, on Jan. 13. It was valued at $350.

Helicopter rescue service

A new service recently became available to residents of the Floyd County area according to information received by Floydada police chief James Hale. Flight For Life, an emergency medical helicopter service was initiated in early January by St. Mary of the Plains Hospital in Lubbock and will serve 42 counties within a 125 mile radius of Lubbock.

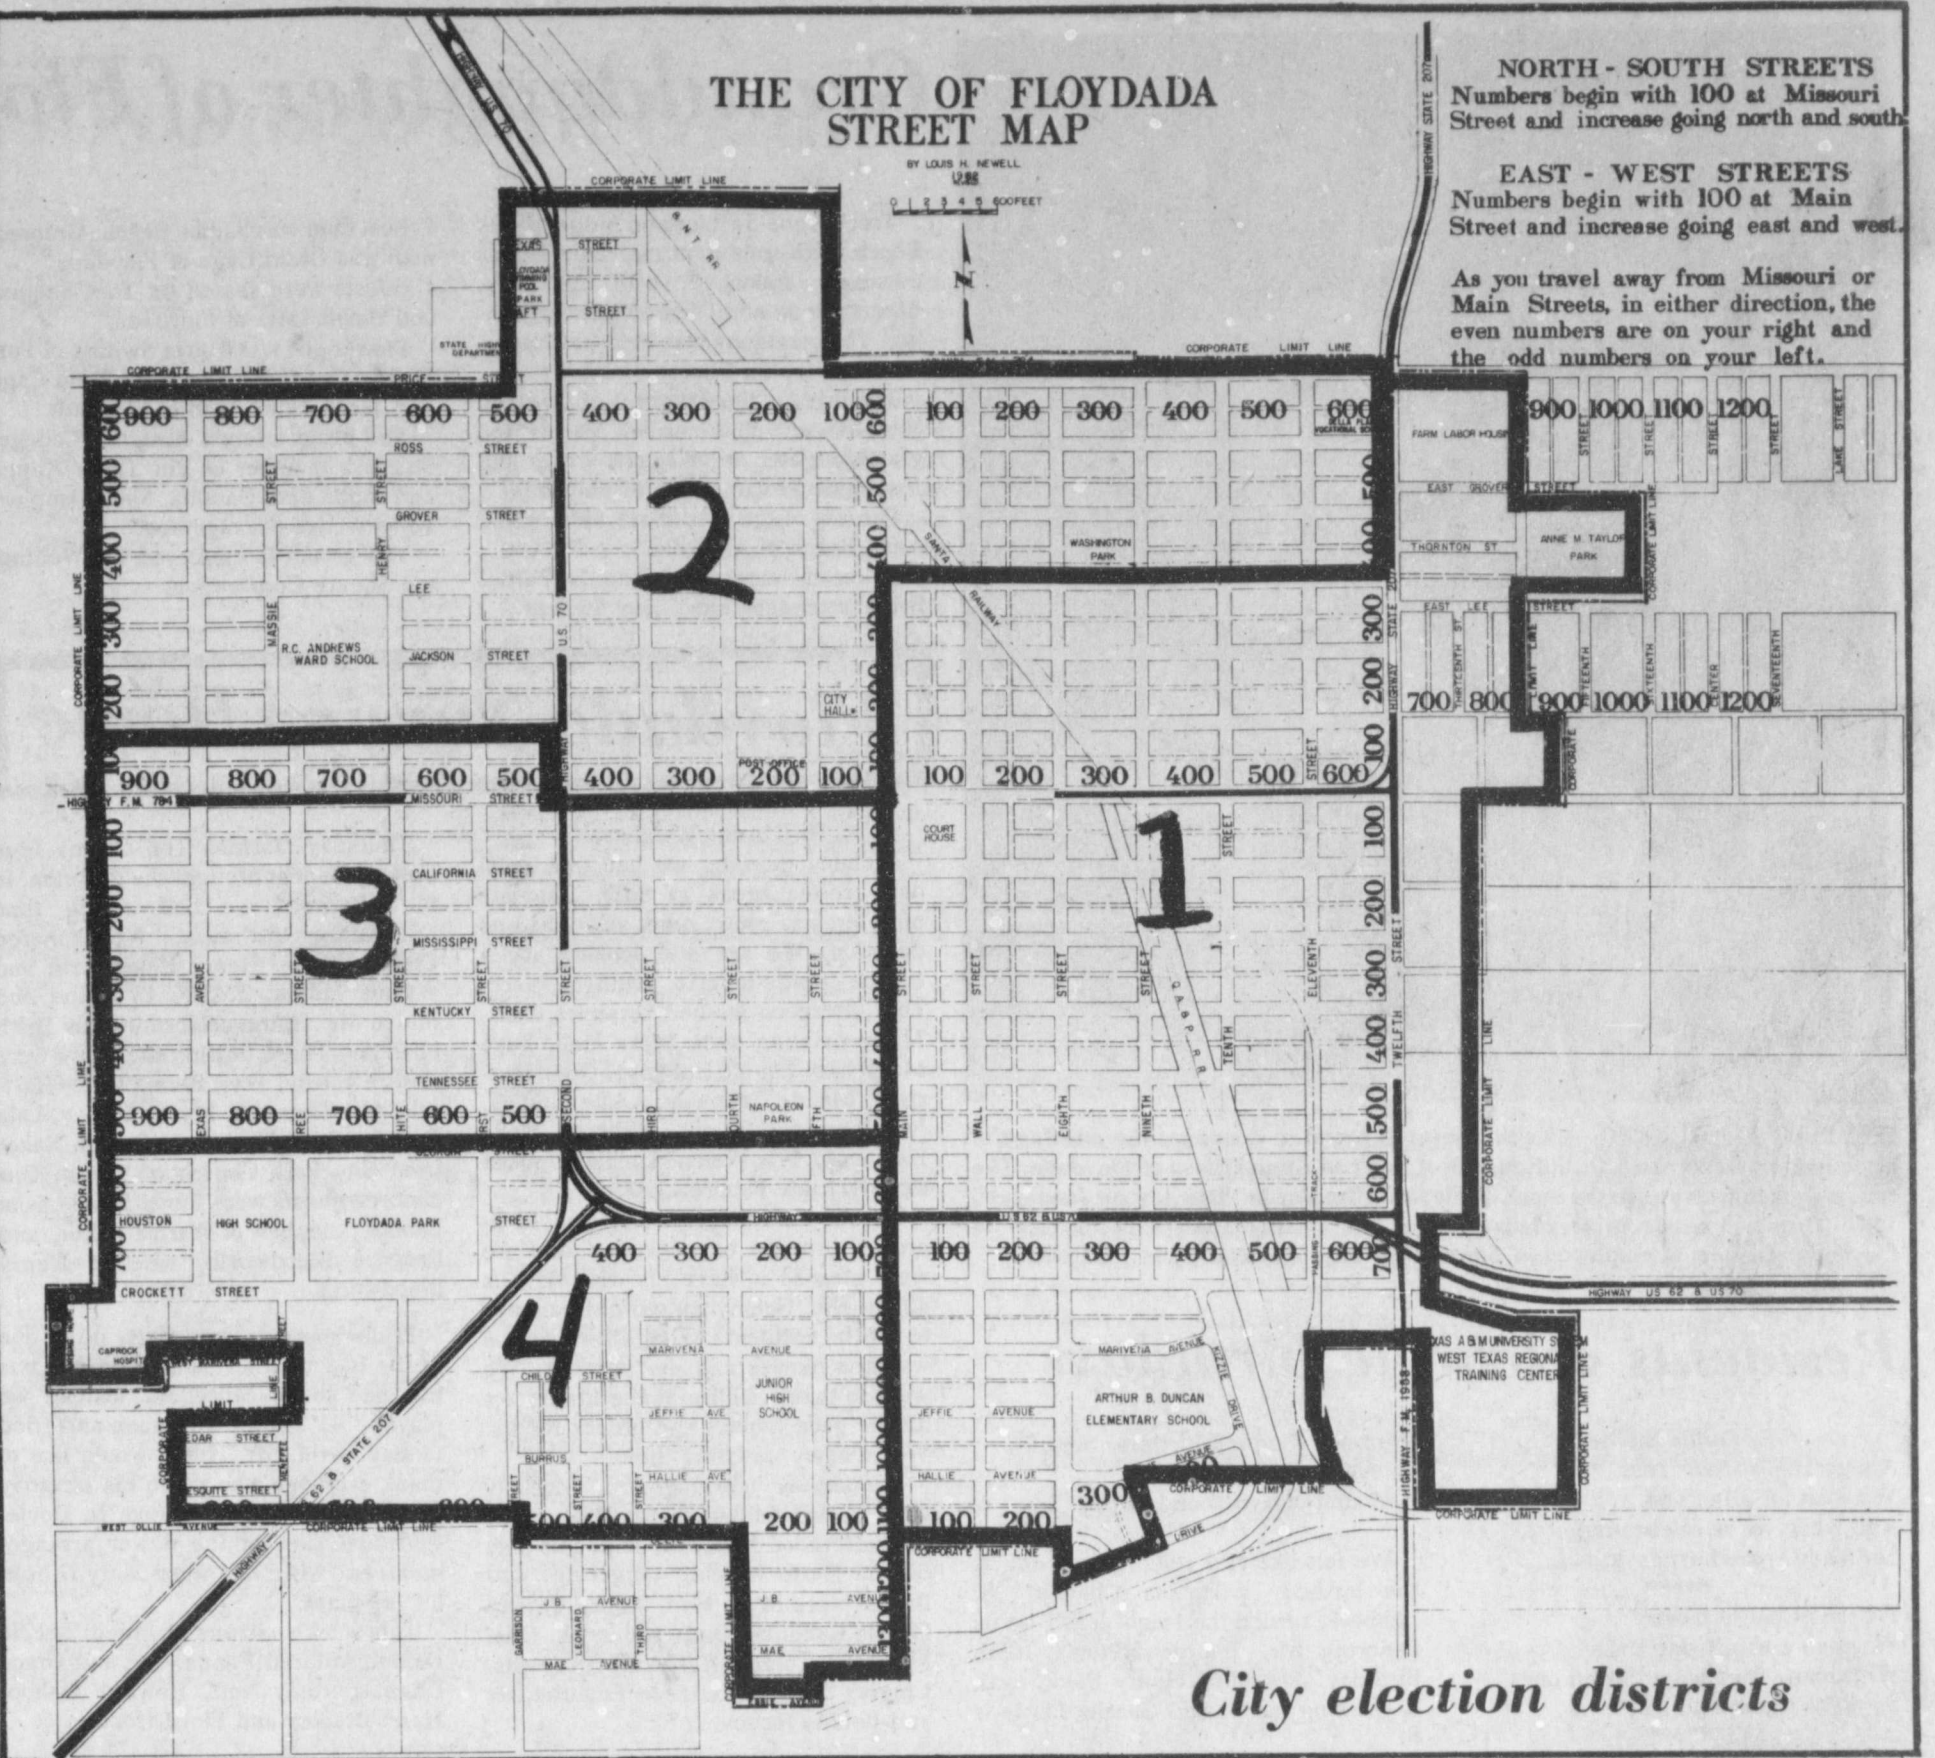

The hospital based service was designed to assist ground transport services in transferring critically ill patients from hospital to hospital and from accident scene to hospital. Flights are available 24 hours a day and seven days a week with the capability of carrying two patients at a time along with the flight crew.

Manning the flights will be an experienced helicopter pilot, a paramedic and a flight nurse. The medical personnel on board have advanced training in life support and considerable expertise in the areas of trauma care, cardiac care and neo-natal care.

The flight service will be airborne within five minutes of receiving the call and will respond to summons from physicians, medical or hospital personnel, EMS providers, law enforcement officials, fire fighters and public safety officials.

When requesting the helicopter ambulance service, the following information should be given:

Residents celebrate birthdays

By Lorilla Bradley
A very Happy New Year
We wish for all of you...
And while we're celebrating
Let's add some birthdays, too.

For Mr. Charlie Lewis
We wish a happy day...
With many friends and loved ones
To make it just that way!

For Mr. Henry Bloodworth
...He counts from '93...
We have the best of wishes
For better things to be!

We greet our Mr. Hilton
...His years are 105...
Now that's a distant "mile-post"
For which we all can strive!!

Let's serenade these people

With the good old Birthday Song
So everybody ready
And sing out good and strong!

We felt like real celebrities today at the birthday party as Channel 28, Lubbock, turned the bright lights on us honoring Mr. Warnie Hilton's 105th birthday. Also, Mr. Henry Bloodworth is marking his 94 and Charlie Lewis is 81.

Floyd Henry of Lubbock, a nephew of Mr. Hiltons, shared honors with him and Mrs. Beatrice Bloodworth was there to help Henry celebrate his birthday.

A beautiful decorated birthday cake and punch was served to the honorees, other residents, guest and employees.

The next party will be Thursday, February 19, at 2:30 p.m. You are invited to share this time with your friends and loved ones.

Floydada Nursing Home

Monday morning we had our usual daily coffee break at 9:00, but late morning was pretty quiet as we had no devotion. We are still looking for a church group to take Trinity's place. That afternoon we had ceramics class. Those painting were Myra Hall, Faye McMahan, Estelle Eubanks, Opal Morrison, Maude Galloway, Addie Lindley, Iva Simpson, Mavis Willson, Della Halenak, Iva Wells, Lucille Duncan and Gertrude Feuerbacher.

Tuesday morning Bro. Neeley Richardson brought our devotion and we were pleased to have his wife visit us again. Bro. Neeley passed out bananas to all the residents. That afternoon we watched movies and ate popcorn. We want to thank Sandra at the library for all the good movies she orders for us. We so enjoy watching them.

Wednesday morning Bro. McNally from Lockney filled in for Bro. Blair. That afternoon Jo Bryant helped us play Bingo. Those winning tangerines and Bugles were Myra Hall, James Taylor, Estelle Eubanks, Della Halenak, Opal Morrison, Thelma Hoffman, Iva Wells, Charley Spence, Gertrude Feuerbacher and Robbie Hatley.

Thursday morning Tim Owens from Calvary Baptist brought the devotion. In the afternoon we had a big time celebrating birthdays. We honored Charlie Lewis, Henry Bloodworth and Warnie Hilton. KAMC-TV came and filmed Mr. Hilton celebrating his 105th birthday. Those hosting the party were Eunice Hardy, Elva Blum, Ruby Hartsell, Alta Thurston, Myrtle Finley, Lula Teague, Doris Hillin and Beulah Baker from City Park Church of Christ. Our honored guests were Floyd Honey from Lubbock, nephew of Warnie Hilton, and Beatrice Bloodworth, wife of Henry Bloodworth.

Friday morning was pretty quiet due to the bad weather, and even our bus trip had to be cancelled. Instead we played "42" in the afternoon and tried to stay warm. Mr. Hilton would like to thank everyone who made his birthday so special. A special thanks to Doyle, Ruth and kids for the flower arrangement; and Mike and Rose Mary Gibson for the plant.

This week's visitors included: Lucille Daniel, Mildred Fuqua, Joe and Grace Dunn, Dorothy Neff, Howard Bishop, Hazel Bradley and Floyd Honey.

Probasco and Graham recite nuptial vows

The First Baptist Church in Floydada was the site for the Saturday afternoon, January 17, ceremony which united in marriage Miss Jill Probasco and Mr. Ronald Dean Graham. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Howell E. Farnsworth Jr.

The parents of the couple are Mrs. Kenneth E. Probasco of Floydada and Mr. and Mrs. Herman A. Graham, also of Floydada. The groom is the grandson of Mrs. Lando Newman of Amarillo.

The aisle leading to the altar was lined with brass pew candelabras holding miniature carnations, freesia, and assorted greenery, topped with cathedral tapers. The altar was lined with urns of greenery. The wedding setting was centered with a brass fan shaped candelabra holding ivory cathedral tapers, spiral candelabras were placed on either side. In front of this was a unity candle with the couple's invitation set inside. A floral arrangement of gladiolas, carnations, freesia and mixed greenery completed the setting. The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Mitch Probasco, came to the altar in a gown which was worn by her mother 36 years ago. Her gown of ice blue satin was made with a high round neckline and bands of cartridge pleats encircling the shoulders and waistline and Dolman sleeves. The full skirt flowed into a cathedral length train. The hat was made of satin with pleats encircling the brim and accented with nosegay and pearls and an illusion fingertip veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of royal blue love lilies, enchantment lilies, ivory enchantment lilies, and English ivy.

Following tradition the bride wore "something old" which was her mother's wedding gown; "something new" which was her hat; "something borrowed" was an heirloom diamond lavalier, belonging to her maternal great-grandmother and her mother's diamond earrings, and "something blue" was a traditional garter.

Matron of honor was Judy Washburn of Augusta, Kansas, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Kelly Ann Hagood of Matador and Laura Turner of Floydada. They wore tea length dresses of royal blue tissue taffeta. The bodice featured a sweetheart neckline and mushroom sleeves. The back was cut in a low "v" to the waistline. The full skirts were complimented with cummerbunds and candy-box bows with streamers. Their headpieces were made of royal blue silk roses, clusters and side sprigs of nosegay and pearls. They carried traditional bouquets of royal blue enchantment lilies, love lilies and peonies.

Andi Probasco of Floydada and Katy Probasco of Shallowater, nieces of the bride, served as flower girls. Ring bearer was Kenneth Washburn of Augusta, Kansas, nephew of the bride. Candlelighters were Lyndi Probasco of Floydada, niece of the bride, and Brandi Ross of Floydada, niece of the groom.

Norman Muncy of Floydada served as best man. Groomsman were Gale Campbell and Steve Brown, both of Floydada. Guest were seated by Dennis Ross of Floydada, brother-in-law of the groom; Jerry Calahan of Canyon, brother-in-law of the groom; Mark Probasco of Shallowater, brother of the bride; and Max Probasco of Dallas, brother of the bride.

Laura Probasco of Shallowater, sister-in-law of the bride, presided the bridal book as guests arrived. Penny Giesecke and Roberta Hardin accompanied on the piano and organ. Vocalist Sheldon Sue sang "Charity" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Wall Street Parlor. The bride's table was covered with an ivory tablecloth with lace overlay and silver and crystal appointments. The bride's bouquet gave the table its final touch. The hors d'oeuvres table was covered with ivory tablecloth with lace overlay and a silver coffee and tea service. The bridesmaids bouquets served as a centerpiece. Guests were served by Kathy Ross of Floydada, sister of the groom; Carol Calahan of Canyon, sister of the groom; Linda Mayne of Lubbock, Terry Rowland of Slaton, Billie Campbell of Floydada, and Maria Brown of Floydada.

After a wedding trip to Cozumel, Mexico, the couple will reside in Floydada.

A rehearsal dinner was held on Friday evening at the Plainview Club hosted by the groom's parents.

Other courtesies included a miscellaneous shower in the home of Mrs. Norman Muncy of Floydada. A Christmas ornament shower was in the home of Mrs. D.M. Cogdell of Floydada, with Mrs. Fred Cardinal and Mrs. Bill Stanforth assisting. A couple's dinner honoring the bride and groom was in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Travis Jones, Mr. Jon Jones and Miss Karen Lloyd assisting. A lingerie shower was hosted by Mrs. Gary Rowland.

Unreal finish! Winds nip Littlefield

Whirlwind boys took a painful look at the scoreboard after three quarters Tuesday and saw that they faced a 14-point deficit: 55-41.

Impossible? No! But unlikely, yes! The invaders from Littlefield were playing flawlessly, blocking shot after shot. And the Wildcats have excellent depth.

But the lads wearing green pants and white shirts weren't ready to concede the outcome of this crucial District 2-3A matchup in the Floydada gym.

The task of rebounding from a 14-point deficit in one quarter still looked unlikely when Chad Pernell's jumper cut the gap to 59-49 with 5:28 left. It was 59-52 when Ty Stovall connected with 4:11 left. Pernell hit both ends of a one-and-one and then scored on a steal to leave the count 61-56 with 3:10 remaining.

F. L. Williams and Roel Cisneros were becoming dominant forces under the bucket, and Randy Enriquez came in to help. Enriquez' bucket narrowed the gap to 61-58 with 2:45 to play.

But Littlefield hit from the line and Floydada turned the ball over. The Wildcats failed to convert, and Stovall made it 62-60 with a driving lay-up. That came with 2:06 left.

Coach Mike Cocanougher's crew rebounded with 1:56 remaining and Pernell outthrust the maroon shirts to hit a lay-up and deadlock the count at 62-62. He was fouled, but misfired on the bonus shot.

Enriquez rebounded. The Winds missed. Littlefield hit the last of a two-shot foul and temporarily went in front 63-62 with 1:27 left. Stovall sent Floydada in front 64-63 with a jumper with 67 seconds to play.

The visitors canned two from the cline to claim a 65-64 edge with 0:51 showing. Williams outmuscled a Wildcat for a rebound and the Winds had another shot. Pernell made it count by driving for a lay-up and Floydada was on top 66-65. Twenty-two seconds remained.

The clocked contained only more seconds as Williams went to the line for a one-and-one, fouled on a rebound. His first shot dropped through the net — for a 67-65 Whirlwind edge — but his second shot bounced off the rim.

Littlefield missed with two ticks left. Floydada grabbed the rebound and the victory, their second against a single district setback.

The Whirlwinds had accomplished the seemingly impossible by outscoring Littlefield 26-10 in those thrilling final eight minutes. Their record now stands at 15-5 as they head for Friona on Friday and Tula next Tuesday.

After a nip-and-tuck first quarter — it was Littlefield 18-17 when the period ended — Floydada shot ahead 23-18 early in the second stanza. The talented Wildcats — and they are good! — opened a 38-29 lead with 3:23 remaining in the half. It was a seven- and nine-point difference the remainder of the quarter with the visitors in front 42-35 at intermission.

The tide turned temporarily early in the third period as Littlefield's margin was trimmed to 44-40 on a Stovall steal and bucket with 4:30 remaining in the stanza. But the Wildcats regained the momentum until they hit from the corner at the buzzer to lead 55-41 after three periods.

Stovall canned 28 points, Pernell put in 19, Cisneros added 10, Cornelius Campbell scored 5, Williams tallied 3 and Enriquez made 2. Littlefield also had three players in double digits.

Williams, whose board domination in the latter stages was invaluable, pulled down 14 rebounds. Cisneros and Enriquez each reeled in 7, Campbell — smallest player on the court — had 6 boards and Pernell had 2. Sylvester Mendoza and Heath Robertson also contributed to the win.

Both Williams and Cisneros are among the area's AAA top ten rebounders, and Pernell ranks in that elite group in scoring.

GIRLS WIN THRILLER

Whirlwind girls didn't have the storybook finish registered by their male counterparts, but it wasn't necessary. Their task was maintaining a slim lead.

Tremendous desire and hustle propelled the Whirlwind fems to their second district verdict against one loss and kept them in the thick of the district chase.

Coach Tommy Baxter's crew is 12-6 for the season.

A strong start moved Floydada into a 14-8 edge after one quarter. The margin went to 29-22 at intermission.

But the strong Lady Wildcats stormed back to cut the gap to 41-38 entering the final eight minutes as they threatened to claim the lead.

Foul trouble hurt Littlefield in the rought-and-tumble match as three players heard their fifth personals whistled.

Whirlwinds tenaciously clung to their lead and were on the long end of a 58-55 count as time expired. Both clubs scored 17 points in the final eight minutes.

Floydada's fems face a rugged task Friday when they take on league-leading Friona in a road game. The locals test Tula in another road contest next Tuesday.

Twin victories during the next week would leave the Whirlwind girls with no worse than a share of the 2-3A lead.

Amanda McDaniel led the scoring parade Tuesday night with 17 markers. Senior teammates Tana Perry and Paige Cannon also hit in double figures with 12 and 11, respectively. Norma Cisneros and Pam Woody each contributed 6, Angie Bertrand put in 4 and Sylvia McComas scored 2.

Littlefield captured the JV girls match to avert a shutout. Floydada won the JV boys encounter.

Host families needed

Unable to take that dream vacation to exotic lands? Well, let the Youth Exchange Service (YES) bring the culture to you! By hosting a teenage student (15-18) from another country, you can gain a cultural experience in the comfort of your own home. The Youth Exchange Service, is a non-profit organization that is currently seeking families to share their homes with students from around the world. These students will be arriving for the second semester of the 1987 school year, and will stay for the next six months. YES is also accepting host families for the 1987-88 school year beginning in August.

Our students have passed an English proficiency exam and are high achievers in their own countries. YES arranges for medical insurance, enrollment at a local school, and corresponds with the students on a monthly basis. YES also has local representatives that keep in touch with the students and host families. The students bring their own spending money and a piece of the world. Host families provide the students with a caring and loving home. Share the American Culture with someone who wants to learn, and share their own, an International Student! To make reservations for your own cultural experience, please contact: Youth Exchange Service (YES), World Trade Center Building, 350 South Figueroa Street, #257-P, Los Angeles, California 90071, or phone: 1-800-848-2121.

Rev. Blair improving

Sunday, January 18, the Rev. Earl Blair was placed on a liquid diet. His condition, as of early this week, was listed as critical but improving. The last surgery performed on the Rev. Blair was Tuesday, January 13. According to the Methodist church secretary, Gail Noland, the doctors did not have to remove his pancreas, but instead removed dead tissue and old blood.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Jim, I just want to say thank you for the retirement story which you ran in this week's issue of the Hesperian. It was a well-written article — and congratulations! You managed to get a picture with my mouth closed! You are a good writer and photographer. Thanks again.
 Sincerely yours,
