Members gather for annual Lighthouse meeting

SOMEONE THEIR OWN SIZE—Joshua Bradley [right] seems to be real excited to have found someone his own size to talk to during Lighthouse Electric's annual meeting Saturday. Beautiful springtime weather was the order of the day in Floydada as Co-op members gathered for the 48th annual meeting of Lighthouse Electric Cooperative.

Members enjoyed a lunch of fish and chicken with all the fixings, listened to the progressive country sounds of the Country Fever band from Memphis, elected three board representatives, heard the business report of the Co-op, and drew for attendance prizes at the Co-op headquarters April 25.

Cooperative President Cecil Baxter called the meeting to order and welcomed those in attendance. He then called on member Nathan Mulder to voice the invocation. Baxter then introduced the chairman of the Member Services Committee, Dwight Jackson, Jr., who served as emcee and conducted the prize drawings.

The first order of business was the roll call, reading of the minutes from the 1986 meeting, and the reading of the notice of meeting by Board Secretary Louis Lloyd.

Cooperative attorney Harry Jung then conducted the election of directors. Incumbents J.W. Jackson of Crosbyton and Jimmy Ross of Quitaque were re-elected to their positions on the board. In District 3, Don Bean of Floydada was elected to fill the position vacated by retiring Board President Cecil Baxter.

After the introduction of special guests and Co-op directors and their wives by Vice President J.W. Jackson, Orlan Gilbert of the accounting firm of Bolinger, Segars, Gilbert, and Moss, presented a statement on the financial condition of the Co-op.

Following the auditor's report, Jackson introduced former manager Alton Higginbotham, who gave the report on the 1986 operations of the cooperative. Higginbotham touched briefly on the 1985 year of operations where the 35 percent reduction in KWH sales were offset somewhat by a corresponding reduction in peak demand on which the cooperative's wholesale power cost is based. He then reported that in 1986 the rains were not so timely, in that they came after the peak demand had been set. This higher peak demand, coupled with the loss of revenue due to the reduction in KWH sales, led to an operating deficit in 1986 of $81,787 for the Co-op. Higginbotham stated that this high demand resulted in an estimated $350,000 additional power cost to members.

During his report, Higginbotham complimented the board of directors for their efforts on behalf of the cooperative, and praised the employees of Lighthouse, thanking them for their efforts during his tenure.

Louis Lloyd then introduced the featured speaker, Golden Spread Electric Cooperative General Manager Robert Bryant, who reported on the operations of Golden Spread and updated Co-op members on the progress of the wholesale power rate cases now pending before the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission.

After Bryant spoke, Acting Manager Claude Weathersbee presented employee service awards to W.M. Kilpatrick and Ed Pollan for 40 years service, Nolan Arney and Jackie Duke for 35 years service, Bud Edwards and Dwayne Wilson for 25 years service, and Peggy Martin and Jimmy Garcia for 10 years service.

Alton Higginbotham then returned to the podium to make a special presentation to retiring Board President Cecil Baxter. After introducing Baxter's family who were in attendance, Higginbotham presented him with a plaque honoring him for his 24 years of dedication to Lighthouse.

Special entertainment was provided by Rusty Galloway, a talented Floydada High School student, who delighted the crowd with his humorous recitation of "The World's First Cowboy."

Following recognition of the Member Services Committee who planned this year's annual meeting by Cooperative Member Service Director Larry Ogden, and recognition of the oldest and youngest members present, W.F. Saul, 90, and Monty Williams, 23, the final prize drawing was held.

The grand prize, a $200 credit on her electric bill, went to Mrs. George Harris of Floydada. Other prize winners were: M.R. Givens, Crosbyton; Harold Trull, McAdoo; Curtis Sanders, Floydada; Don Warren, Floydada; A.E. Schwertner, Floydada; Angel Araujo, Lockney; E.H. Guffee, Plainview; Lon Emert, Dougherty; A.C. Pratt, Floydada; Billie Jo Smith, Floydada; Larry Ferguson, Floydada; Mrs. E.O. Chappel, Floydada.

Latest developments in CRP contracts released

Editor's Note: Due to the large number of CRP contracts the Soil Conservation office now has in Floyd County, they released this news article to inform you on the latest developments in CRP.

A soil analysis is required for each contract. The soil sample should be collected as soon as possible and sent to the Texas A&M Experiment Station. Label the soil information sheet "CRP", for Dead Litter Crop. Several samples have come back with little or no fertilization needed, so contact us before you apply unneeded fertilizer.

For Dead Litter Crop Establishment: Now is the time for seedbed preparation, if you have not already done so. Most fields will need one or more trips to prepare a smooth, clean seedbed.

A forage sorghum is generally being used for dead litter crops. This crop must be drilled at maximum 20 inch row spacing (10 inches is customary). Either 8 lbs/acre for forage or 10 lbs/acre for milo is required.

For Establishment of Permanent Vegetative Cover: A grass seed mixture has been recommended in each contract. Due to price and availability, participants are allowed to substitute amounts and/or varieties without contract modifications. You must contact us before you buy a mix other than the contract mix to see if the grass is adapted to your type of soil. Buy seed by Pure Live Seed (PLS), not bulk. You must have a seed tag for each lot number purchased. This is to accompany your bill.

Weed control is essential the first few years after seeding grass to ensure a good stand. Several good herbicides are available at reasonable costs. These herbicides can safely be sprayed on young grass to control broad leaf weeds. Contact us for details.

Cost share payments will be made only after a contract item number is complete. On most contracts, the first item consists of seedbed prep., drilling, sorghum costs, and fertilizer. After these practices are carried out, turn in the bills to us. We will certify the practices and send the bills to the ASCS office for payment. A Statement of Costs must be completed and signed by the participant or custom operator.

If you have any questions regarding your CRP contract, we will be happy to help. It may save us both some time and money.

July 20-31, 1987 will be the next CRP sign-up for 1988 contracts.

Voting on prison location continues

As of Tuesday, April 28, 127 people had voted at the Hesperian office on the minimum security prison location in Floyd County. The voting will continue through Tuesday, May 5, 1987.

"I've had many people comment to me that they have not been able to vote during the week," said Bill Hale, president of the Floydada Development Company. "For that reason, we will also have the Floydada Chamber of Commerce office open on Saturday, May 2, from 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m., for the purpose of casting your final vote. Remember, that just because you have voted the first time does not mean we don't want your vote this final time."

Members of the Floydada Development Company continued to work this week with governor's office and the state prison board in their efforts to keep communication open with the appropriate legislative bodies, in the event that voters choose to pursue the possibility of bringing a prison here.

"Tom Farris and I flew to Austin

Monday and met with various people involved in the prison location," said Bill Hale. "Mr. Farris and Ken Towery met with George Bayoud, who is the administrative assistant to Gov. Clements.

"While they were there I was meeting with the state prison board. All three of us then talked with Ryder Scott, who is the Governor's top legal assistant. We also met and talked with various legislators all through the day.

"We were very well received and very encouraged, but I want to remind people that the competition is fierce. One of the strongest points of our proposal will be the interest shown by our community, so we really encourage people to vote.

"Other communities who may have big things to offer may fail to show community support. A community will have to have that before the area will be considered by the prison board."

Michigan man kills self

The body of a 44-year-old Michigan man, whose death was ruled a suicide, was discovered about 7:15 a.m. Thursday at the roadside park in the canyon south of Floydada. Investigating officers said he had a "brown quilt wrapped around the upper portions of his body and head" and was holding the blanket over the exhaust pipe of his Ford Fairlane.

The body of David Leon Riley was

'He has never complained about pain' despite injuries

Leif Younger overcomes injury jinx enroute to goals

"He's got to have a heart as big as a Mexican sombrero," a veteran once said about an injured race horse which had turned in a sterling performance despite being "60 to 65 percent sound."

The same description would fit Whirlwind senior Leif Younger if the terminology "race horse" and "veterinarian" could be changed to "track star" and "physician."

Younger's two goals to conclude his senior track campaign — to qualify for the regional meet and to establish a new school record — bounced off the surface of the Tulia oval on April 11 when the gritty Whirlwind athlete felt his right ankle slam against the fifth hurdle in the District 2-3A meet's high hurdles preliminaries.

The resulting fall peeled skin from his right cheek bone and his right shoulder...and caused a badly sprained right ankle.

He was running shoulder-to-shoulder with the district champion at the time of the spill which wiped away his chances of advancing to the high hurdles finals.

CHANCES SLIM

It also virtually voided his chances in the intermediate hurdles trials, which were no more than an hour away. An ordinary athlete would have scratched out of the intermediate prelims.

Not Leif Younger!

"His ankle looked about the size of a grapefruit when I taped it," following the fall, Coach Mike Vickers says. The ballooning ankle went into the ice bucket.

Coach Vickers was possibly the only person in the confines of the Tulia football stadium-track — besides Leif himself — who realized the FHS senior would climb into the starting blocks less than 60 minutes later for the preliminaries of the intermediate hurdles.

Not only did Younger run on the painful, swollen ankle, but he placed second in his heat and qualified for the finals.

This was about 10:30...and the ankle remained in the ice bucket much of the time until 4:30 p.m., when rumors answered the call for the finals.

Determination — and pain — were clearly etched in the 17-year-old's face as he chased Tulia's Todd Lacey over hurdle after hurdle. The lad in the green...but he headed the remainder of the field and had earned his trip to regional.

PAIN NOT MENTIONED

He didn't mention the pain. But that was vintage Leif Younger!

"With all his injuries in the four years I've been around him, he's never complained about pain and never sought sympathy," Coach Vickers, Whirlwind boys head coach emphasizes.

"Leif is a very special kid to me," Vickers volunteers "Never in eight years as a coach have I had a more dedicated athlete. He has excellent work ethics. He's not the most talented athlete, but he makes up for it with hard work. Several times Leif has had injuries that most kids wouldn't have come back from, but each time I knew he would come back if it was humanly possible."

And come back he has: again, and again and again.

Chronicling the muscular 180 pounder's athletic career, one realizes that his injuries would have kept a single doctor fairly occupied.

Coach Vickers remembers that "Leif came out of junior high as a hurdler with great potential, but he broke his wrist toward the end of his ninth grade basketball season. After his wrist was placed in a cast, he was told that he could run track

Leif Younger

'He has never complained about pain'

Continued from Page One but not the hurdles. I then started working Leif in the 400 meters and as a 1600 meter relay member.

"For a freshman, he was quickly becoming one of the top runners in the district. One week before the district meet the doctors noticed that his wrist was not properly healing and suggested surgery at that time. Leif missed the district meet because of the surgery."

His sophomore year started better and "Leif made it through football season without any serious injuries. During the off-season we moved Leif back to the hurdles — his first love. We (coaches) knew that he would be a good intermediate hurdler, but we were concerned that his stride was too short for the high hurdles. As the season progressed Leif became one of the top intermediate hurdlers in the area but struggled in the highs," Vickers recalls.

"At the San Angelo Relays, Leif

qualified to the finals in the highs and ran a time of 15.7, his personal best. The next week he ran a 15.2 at Sweetwater and set a meet record for the Sweetwater Relays.

BROKEN WRIST

"The next week at district Leif was rated fourth going into the meet in the highs and second in the intermediates." In the finals of the district meet, run that year in Floydada, "he ran a 14.9 to get second but fell at the finish line and broke his wrist again."

Although Lady Luck continued to frown on him, Younger didn't tell his coaches about the injured wrist. When they saw him taping it, coaches inquired but were told that it was fine.

He ran fourth that day in the intermediates in a "photo finish." The Whirlwind sophomore did qualify for regional in the high hurdles and ran at regional with a cast on his wrist.

His wrist was x-rayed the day after the district trials and a cast was placed on the injury. Not untypical of him, he had endured pain to compete.

As a junior, Younger eluded the injury jinx until "the third quarter of our last football game." Coaches were numb as they saw number 30 lying on the ground in pain, both bones of his right leg broken "about three inches above the ankle joint."

This wiped out the track campaign for him last spring.

His left wrist had been broken during a freshman football workout and again in a basketball drill as a sophomore. But his right wrist had escaped injury...until last summer.

The broken leg had healed, but now the broken wrist eliminated his final opportunity in football. Undaunted, Leif knew he could be ready for his senior track season.

His "excellent work ethics" showed through as he began conditioning in September. To remain in shape, he ran on the cross country team during the fall.

ZEST FOR COMPETITION

Younger's zest for competition almost cost him a final opportunity in track.

Coach Vickers strongly suggested that he bypass high hurdles in the district meet — "although he was really coming on in the highs" — and concentrate on his specialty: intermediate hurdles.

The youngster's competitive nature wouldn't allow him to withdraw from the highs. That fatal fall at the fifth hurdles in the preliminaries of the highs would have eliminated 99 percent of prep athletes from testing a gimpy ankle in the intermediate trials.

But Leif wasn't about to let a little — or a lot — of pain stand in the way of his goals.

His first goal — qualifying for the regional meet, May 1-2 in Odessa — has been reached. What about the second?

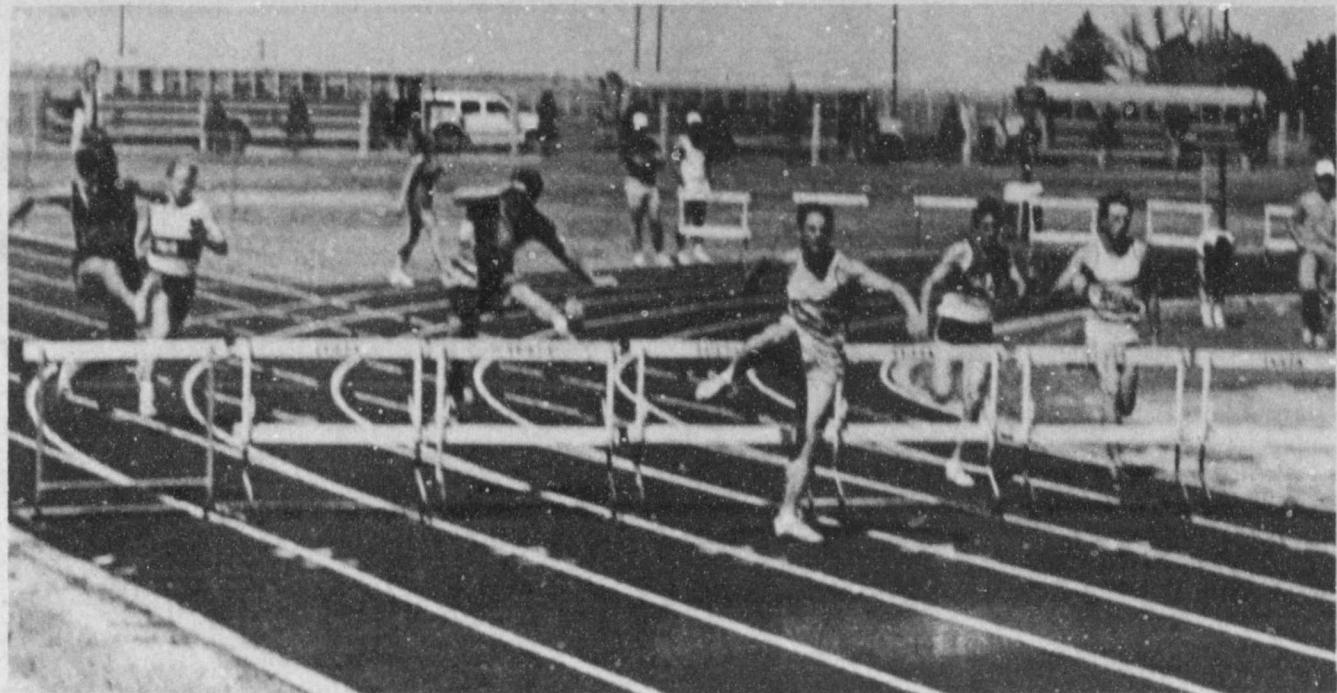

Can he eclipse the school record of 39.5 in the intermediate hurdles, established in 1985 by former teammate Derek Jenkins?

"Yes, sir. I'll give it a shot, anyway. I would like to break the school record so I could feel I put something into the school."

His "person's best" in the event was a 40.7 run as a sophomore. His elite mark this season is a 41 flat in the Post Relays. Younger was clocked at 41.75 in the district meet, on a painfully sprained ankle.

Leif, the third of four offspring born to Jakey and Leora Younger — older brother Moody and older sister Misty are Texas Tech University students and younger sister Tian is a Floydada student — is quick to emphasize that "The main reasons for my comeback were Coach Vickers, my dad and my brother (who suffered a knee injury in football). They had a lot of push in it."

Mike Vickers realizes an injury as severe as a broken leg would be necessary to keep his star hurdler from stepping into the starting blocks at regional. Because, as the veterinarian said in describing the injured race horse, "he's got a heart as big as a Mexican sombrero."

ON A SWOLLEN ANKLE — Determination showing in his face, Leif Younger [third from right] clears a hurdle during the district intermediate hurdles race in second place, despite a badly sprained and swollen ankle. Teammate Chad Pernell is in lane one. Younger finished second to Todd Lacey of Tulla [out of picture at right] to qualify for regional.

City Council rescinds bids, re-awards bid

Meeting in special session on April 23, the Floydada City Council rescinded a motion which awarded the bid for a 14" water improvement project to H.B. Jordan Co. of Amarillo on April 14. The award was withdrawn on the advice of city engineering consultant Bill McMorris who told the council that the "PVC pipe the bid was based on does not meet American Water Works standards and does not meet the specifications stated in the bid advertisements."

The bid was then awarded to Currington Plumbing and Ditching of Leveland. That firm had bid $19,309.75 at the original bid letting.

The council took no action following an executive session to discuss city zoning ordinances. The single other matter considered by the council was the question of what to do concerning the city swimming pool this summer. No decision was made and the matter will be considered again after more complete information concerning insurance on the facility is obtained.

Decision time for wheat growers

Under a new stipulation added by the U.S. Department of Agriculture to the ACR program, producers will be permitted to graze land for a longer period or cut hay from set-aside acres.

According to Bob Lotspeich, executive director of the Floyd County ASCS office, producers are being allowed four alternatives for haying or grazing ACR acres:

1. Operator can graze his own cattle on this land.
2. Operator can allow another person's livestock to graze, although he is not permitted to charge for grazing.
3. Operator can cut hay for his own stock from this acreage.
4. Operator can cut hay for another person's livestock, although he is not permitted to charge for the hay.

Under original guidelines of the ACR program, land could be grazed for all but five months of the year. The "non-grazing" dates were May 15-Oct. 14. Haying was not allowed at any time.

The new stipulations were added due to "unfavorable growing conditions (primarily heavy fall rains) during the 1986 producing months that reduced the quantity and quality of hay available," according to Lotspeich. There was "a lot of hay ruined due to the wet fall."

To qualify for the new allowances, Floyd County producers are required to sign a register and state their intentions at the ASCS office in Floydada.

The relaxed guidelines will allow producers more flexibility.

CERTIFICATION DEADLINE
 Lotspeich encourages producers to "come in (to the ASCS office) and certify your 1987 small grains as soon as possible." The certification has been "slow" to date.

May 15 is the deadline for certifying 1987 small grains and small grain cover crops.

Non-participating or zero planted acreage should also be certified, the ASCS executive directors reminds farm operators.

Law books once again plague commissioners court

Once again, the Floyd County Commissioners Court found itself embroiled in controversy regarding ownership of various law books housed in the county courthouse. Meeting in special session on April 27, the commissioners were asked to consider the books and a county law library.

County Judge Bill Hardin first explained "The county has an interest in legal volumes in the district attorney's office, the county attorney's office and in the room behind the district courtroom." He went on to explain that the county owns some books in the district office, but shares an interest in others with Randy Hollums, the district attorney. The volumes in the county attorney's office also belong to the county and are updated at county expense.

The volumes in question include two complete sets of Black's Statutes, a set of Texas Jurisprudence and nearly two hundred volumes of the Southwestern Reporter.

Hardin told those gathered that he had met with local attorneys including the D.A. and the county attorney to seek their opinion and input on the subject of a county law library. They indicated a wish to see a law library in the county. According to state regulations governing the operation of law libraries, a fee of up to $10 per civil case can be assessed on cases filed in the district and county courts. Hardin estimated that this would provide "about $1,000 towards the operation of a law library." The total cost is estimated at "around $2,000 per year."

An extensive round of discussion left the commissioners in agreement in one area, but found one commissioner disagreeing on the proper course to pursue.

Commissioner of Precinct 3 Thomas Warren stated "I think we should determine the value of the books and make arrangements to discontinue joint shares in the volumes." Commissioners Sam Spence of Precinct 1, Floyd Jackson of Precinct 2 and Kay Crabtree of Precinct 4 agreed with Warren's observation.

A motion by Jackson, seconded by Crabtree, that the county hire an outside attorney to advise on the issue of the law library met with opposition from Spence. He voted against the measure saying, "I have been against hiring outside attorneys all along and I can't go back on it now. We have a county attorney who should be able to help us in legal matters and I think he should be the one to do this."

The question of what attorney to hire was not resolved and will be addressed at a later session.

The issue of equitable compensation to the county by the district attorney and the county attorney for the use of their county provided office space in conducting private practice also met with opposition from Spence.

Spence stated, "I don't think they should have to pay us for what little time and utilities they use in private practice. It is worth something to us to have them in the courthouse and handy if we need them."

Jackson called it a "conflict of interest" and said it was "unfair for them to represent us (the county) and represent themselves at the same time using county offices."

Warren stated, "The county business should come first and as long as it does and they pay their expenses for private practice, I feel that the county is being well served. Kenneth Bain (county attorney) has been paying $60 per year plus paying for all his stationary and postage. Both he and Randy Hollums (the district attorney) pay a portion of their secretary's salary."

Following a lengthy discussion, Jackson stated, "I don't think we are informed enough to make a decision on what would be an equitable figure."

A motion by Warren to charge each attorney $30 per month was withdrawn in favor of a motion to hire an outside counsel to review the matter and arrive at an equitable fee. This motion was seconded by Jackson with Warren, Jackson and Crabtree voting in favor and Spence voting against.

The court approved a $1500 expenditure to fund building repair and equipment for the Lockney Senior Citizens Center. This amount is equal to funds provided to the Floydada Senior Citizen's organization for utilities.

Farm work contracts were approved for Doyle Walls, Brynn Walding, James Jeffress and the Applewhite estate.

Bonds were approved for Penny Goughly. She has to provide two bonds, one to cover her in the operation of Floyd County Tax Assessor/Collector and a second to allow her to handle the vehicle licensing for the state.

Officers told The Hesperian that Riley's body signs indicated that he had been dead several hours.

Justice of the Peace Lowell Bilbrey went to the roadside park, approximately six miles south of Floydada on Highway 62, and ruled that the death was self inflicted. Judge Bilbrey's ruling was rendered at 7:40 a.m.

Riley's address was listed as 4178 128th Avenue in Allegan, Michigan.

Michigan lawmen informed local peace officers that Riley was questioned in Allegan "approximately a week ago" about arson. Officers believe warrants existed for his arrest on the arson charges.

The victim's wife recently had filed for divorce, according to reports.

Moore-Rose Funeral Home in Floydada "picked up the body," which was later transferred to Winkle Funeral Home in Octsego, Mich.

Floyd County Sheriff's Department and Department of Public Safety Trooper Tony Arnold investigated.

CROP INSURANCE AGENTS are Dale Goen and LaVerne McCarty.

Mother Nature crop insurance salesman for Goen & Goen

Mother nature's been a decent multi-peril crop insurance salesman for Dale Goen of the Goen & Goen agency in Floydada.

Coinciding with the privatization of MPC in 1981, Goen says all sorts of strange things happen with weather patterns, "...diseases, drought, heat waves, hail during June, July, August, September, October and November, snows during (cotton) harvesting season," he recalls, were indeed drastic changes for the cotton farmers to whom Goen had previously sold only hail insurance, and who looked on June 19 as the latest hail date.

"That's when people became convinced that multi-peril was a vital part of an insurance program," Goen says, and he was able to help farmers understand the true principle of an insurance program—spreading the risk. But mother nature's twisted fate has not been the building force of the Goen & Goen agency, nor the factor which has brought the Top Agent in Farm Saver Sales in Texas award to Goen for three years running. The agency's philosophy of the customer being the primary concern is of paramount importance and much more the real reason for success.

Goen was featured in an article published by Stroud Crop, Inc., for whom the Floydada man markets.

Various crimes investigated

On April 27, criminal mischief was reported in the 400 block of West Jackson, when a man reported his gas cap stolen. Also on the 27, a lawn mower was reported stolen from the 100 block of Marivena. It was later recovered by the owners.

Mr. Lewis Newell sustained minor injuries when he was bitten by a dog running at large at the Y intersection of Houston and 2nd street. The police found out that the dog had its shots and the owner was instructed on the leash law and advised he would be charged if it ever happened again. The police report that the same dog had bitten a young girl approximately one month ago.

On April 28, police received a report from the 600 block of West Virginia of a hub cap that was stolen from a man's car. His estimated loss was $60.00.

Also on April 28, Velma Pleasant Craver, of Floydada, was charged with shoplifting from Allsup's. She was fined $35.00 and released.

Accidents investigated by city police included one on Saturday, April 25. It occurred at an unknown time in the 900 block of West Crockett in the hospital parking lot. An 87 GMC Suburban, belonging to Joe Mack Breed, was hit in the left door by an unknown vehicle that left the scene.

On the 28th at approximately 12:30 p.m. police also investigated an accident in the My-T-Burger parking lot. Jesse James Savage of Lockney, driving an 84 Nissan pickup backed into an 86 Mercury Cougar, driven by James Edwards of Floydada. The Cougar received a dented drivers door, and the pick-up sustained no damage.

FAC studies wheat damage from freeze

An extremely evident visit by Jack Frost on March 30 has left in its wake devastation unseen in area wheat fields for years. The mercury skidded to 17 degrees that morning.

The Foods and Agricultural Council of Floyd County believes that damage ranged up to total loss in some fields.

- A study by the group places the following figures on damage:
- * 90 producers sustained 100 percent loss of wheat
- * 50 producers had 90-99 percent loss
- * 70 producers had fields with damage ranging between 80-89 percent
- * 110 county growers had damage ranging from 70 to 79 percent
- * 225 farmers sustained damage of 60-69 percent
- * 75 producers had crop damage between 50-59 percent
- * 30 farmers have losses of 40 to 49 percent in wheat.

Floyd County producers originally planted approximately 90,000 acres to dryland wheat and about 23,000 acres to irrigated wheat. Portions of this wheat have been "plowed up, disastered or grazed."

This county has approximately 700 wheat growers. The Foods and Agricultural Council believes that dryland yield was dropped from an average of 20 bushels per acre ("on planted acres only") to five bushels by the hard freeze, which was an extremely low temperature for that late date.

Another source has placed wheat damage in this county at "30 to 40 percent across the board" and yet another says "It's about all gone."

Members of the FAC are Richie Crow, county Extension agent-ag; Bob Lotspeich, executive director of the county ASCS office; Jon LaBaume, SCS district conservationist; County Judge Bill Hardin; and Becky Via, Farmers Home Administrator for Floyd-Briscoe counties. Their study was necessary to determine losses in this county for the federal government to determine disaster loan eligibility.

PECANS UNINJURED

Crow says damage on pecan trees was fairly light, being placed at 20 percent.

"Most pecans hadn't starting budding," he believes, with the exception of trees near houses where heat from the residences caused them to bloom early.

Floyd County has an estimated 2,800 pecan trees for "commercial production."

Virtually all the fruit was lost to the March 30 freeze, although some persons have remarked that new buds have appeared on their trees since that time.

Recuperation continues at home in Floydada for Worth Howard

Worth Howard continues her recuperation at her Floydada home after having returned recently from M.D. Anderson Hospital in Houston. She suffers from a blood clot, a situation which she describes by saying: "We're on the cutting edge of medicine."

Mrs. Howard expresses appreciation to a host of friends for their concerns and acts of kindness during her illness.

Her daughter, Dr. Linda M. Merry of Pocatello, ID., during a recent visit with her mother in Floydada, inscribed a birthday card to Mrs. Howard which stated: "I can't begin to understand God's plans but I have a deep, deep faith that He has one. My constant prayer is that He will give you the things you need most to complete your purpose (or Karma, if you will) on the earth. I do believe that He does for us those things which are best, beyond our knowing even what to ask."

An out-of-state friend remembered Mrs. Howard's April birthday with a "Prayers for Impossible Days" booklet.

From her personal files, Mrs. Howard sends the following messages to friends: "This is another Day, O Lord: I know not what it will bring forth, but make me ready Lord, for whatever it may be." "If I am to stand up, help me to stand bravely. If I am to sit still, help me to sit quietly. If I am to lie low, help me to do it patiently. And if I am to do nothing, let me do it gallantly." "Make these words more than words, and give me the Spirit of Christ. Amen."

The James McGaugh took their

Whirlwind Sam's visit Perrin

By Betty Gilbreath

Perrin-Mitchell Park at Perrin, Texas near Jacksboro was the site for our May campout for the Whirlwind Sams Travel Club.

On Thursday morning, 11 trailers departed from the Massie Center, including: Mr. and Mrs. Bonnie Adams, W.O. Baker, Alan Benson, W.B. Cates, J.W. Gilbreath, Milton Harrison, Blanton Hartsell, Bob Kenrick, Floyd Lawson, W.O. Newberry, Vernon Parker, John Key West, Paul Westbrook. The Wayne Bennetts joined us on Friday afternoon.

After we all got settled and rested a few minutes the ladies got busy with the final touches on our bountiful pot luck suppers. Later we all enjoyed games until we were all ready for bed.

Friday was spent touring the arts and crafts show at the main building at the park. There were sure lots of pretty things and lots of people. They had drawings for door prizes and we had three from our group to win. Winning were: Jean Kendricks, Eva Parker and Julie Baker.

Each one was on their own Friday to go into town to shop and lunch. In the afternoon we played 84 etc. Some of us went to a trailer where they were playing "Blue Grass music."

Saturday at noon we loaded into three Suburbans and went to Mineral Wells for lunch at the Shotgun Restaurant. We had good fish and barbeque and then went to Wal-Mart to shop.

Saturday at the park there was a mini Blue Grass festival for about two hours. We sure enjoyed it all. There was one group from Lubbock. I hope we can have them sometime.

W.B. and Eula Mae Cates had as their guests to spend the night with them, his brother and wife, Lonnie and Corkey Cates from Justin, Texas.

Alan Benson was in charge of our devotional service Sunday morning. The title was "Peace." This was enjoyed by all. The group was dismissed with prayer by Paul Westbrook and by singing the anniversary song for the Bob Kenrick and our club song "Happy Trails."

There was a big hand for Orval and Lorene Newberry for planning this outing. They did a super job.

Foster parents needed

There are many children in our society today who have lost their parents due to death, illness, divorce or desertion. Others have been abused or neglected. These children dream of having a real home and normal family life. The answer for many of these is foster care.

Foster care is a temporary or substitute family. The ultimate goal is to reunite the children with their biological parents once the family unit is restored. Children are removed from their homes only in life-threatening situations or when it is absolutely necessary.

There is a great need for foster parents in this community. They, along with caseworkers and community agencies, work together as a team to provide the best possible care and living arrangements for these children.

Foster parents are very special people who possess a tremendous amount of patience, understanding and love. The removal of a child from his/her home is very traumatic to him/her, and the foster parents must support the child and help him/her adjust.

There are no strict limitations on who can be a foster parent. Some have natural children of their own, others have none. Both parents may work as long as one is in the home when the child is present. Some foster parents are single adults or single parents.

The only income requirement is that foster parents be able to meet their financial obligations. Foster parents are paid a standard rate of $8.00 daily for children nine and under and $9.00 daily for those ten and older. Most of the children in care also qualify for Medicaid.

Foster parents may care for more than one child, depending on the number and age of natural children and space in the home. The foster child may have a room of his own or share with another child of the same sex. Every effort is made to keep siblings in the same home. The length of stay depends on the particular needs of the child at the time.

The foster care program is in great need of foster parents. Any person interested in becoming a foster parent or learning more about the program may contact Phyllis Coleman, at (806) 293-5193.

Senior Adult Encampment set

Plains Baptist Assembly, located in White River Canyon, south of Floydada, will be the site May 3-7 for the 14th annual Senior Adult Encampment. This encampment serves 195 Baptist congregations in five associations embracing 15 counties.

Church lodges and/or cabins are available for housing at Plains Baptist Assembly. The dining hall seats 400 and the auditorium 600.

"All senior adults are welcome to come and enjoy this time of Christian fellowship," according to organizers of the Senior Adult Encampment. For overnight accommodations, individuals are advised to bring bed sheets, pillow, blanket and personal effects.

Registration fee for the entire encampment is $33 per person, which includes lodging (except for adult lodges), all meals and insurance against bodily injury while there. Late registration will be on arrival and individual meal tickets will be available at the dining hall. Daily conference fee is $1 per person for those not eating or staying overnight.

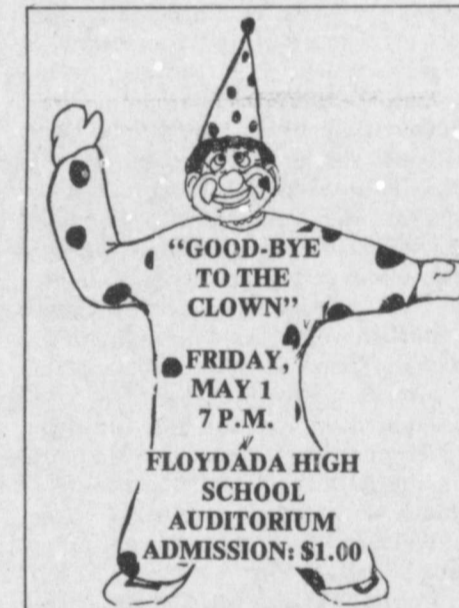

Opening session is scheduled for 7 p.m. with the Rev. Gene Hawkins of Lubbock, area missionary and a former Lockney pastor, as speaker.

Registration is scheduled for 1 p.m. Monday, with the program continuing until Thursday morning.

Psalms has received many awards the last couple of years including the 1986-87 "Group Of The Year" from the Southern Gospel Music Association. In 1985-86, they were honored with "The Male Vocalist" as well as "The Song of The Year" awards. They have three albums currently and are played by several radio stations across the state. They have led off concerts for groups such as The Florida Boys, The Mid South Boys, The Carolinians and many more.

Members of Psalms are Glenn Wilson who plays the piano, Tommy Newton plays the bass guitar and his wife Janie sings the alto part. Singing the tenor part is Ronnie Hardin, and his brother Randy sings the bass. Their musical style is Southern Gospel, but with a tight four-part harmony sure to be enjoyed by both young and old. Though their sound is important to them, even more so is their desire to share the love of Jesus and uplift the body of Christ and His church.

Help for patients to talk about illness

All patients—especially cancer patients—have definite communications needs. Because of the impact of their diagnosis, cancer patients may not always take in all their doctors are trying to tell them, or be able to formulate and ask questions, or communicate their treatment preferences. Sometimes doctors may not be sensitive enough to their patients' state of mind, or may not know how to communicate information on the patients' level. Patients can unwittingly give doctors mixed signals regarding how much they really do want to know about their illness.

To help address these often complex situations, the American Cancer Society has developed materials for the medical offers suggestions for well people to help cancer patients cope—ways to offer personal support, things to do and say, times to allow the comfort of silence. For a free copy of either of these two pamphlets, contact the District 3 office of the American Cancer Society in Lubbock at 794-5808.

Letters to the Editor

Mrs. Helen Hammonds
Route 4, Box 67
Floydada, Texas 79235

I would appreciate your notifying me:
 1. How much additional land you desire; and
 2. Where would you desire that acreage to be taken out of my farm;

Re: City of Floydada Sanitary Landfill on property generally out of Survey 90, Block 1, Certificate 1497, issued to B.S.&F. in Floyd County, Texas and City of Floydada Sanitary Sewer Waste Disposal situated on the same property.

Gentlemen:

I have been a resident of Floyd County for a number of years and it is my sincere desire to assist my friends and neighbors both in the county and in the City of Floydada in solving both their landfill and sanitary sewer problems. I well understand that any attempt you make to locate a new landfill will in all probability result in heavy protest from the residents in the areas adjacent to proposed sites. Those people recognize only too well the diminished value of property surrounding a landfill site. It is not just the sight nor smell of the landfill area itself; it is the litter that blows off the trucks going to and from the landfill, and the people that don't quite make it to the landfill and deposit their trash along way or worse yet in your field because the gate is locked and it wasn't convenient for them to return.

Also, there are the days that the West Texas wind blows before the days refuse is able to be buried, resulting in virtually everything blowing out of the landfill and across the neighbors' adjoining land. Also, there are the dead cattle from eating the plastic containers that are so popular today which those animals have for some reason, a desire to eat. Then, of course, there is the smoke from the fires and the smell associated with it and the occasional times that the fire gets out of control and burns your pasture. I can certainly understand justifiably the heavy protest of residents in an area adjacent to any new proposed sites.

I want to assure you and the county that there is only one thing worse than one sanitary landfill and that is two sanitary landfills. I do not oppose nor do I intend to cause a single month delay in the permitting process nor do I wish to add to the cost of the permitting process which is taxpayers dollars wasted.

If you could tell me how many acres and where, then I will sincerely and earnestly negotiate with you the terms.

It should be noted that the county has no right to use nor does any county citizen have the right to use the landfill, the easement is strictly for the use of the residents of the City of Floydada. Based on newspaper articles, I feel that it would be imperative to include both the county and the city or even other potential users in the easement.

What few citizens realize is that I pay taxes on the land upon which the rest of the citizens deposit their trash and dispose of their sewage and I have been paying those taxes all this time.

Changing the topic to the sewage waste treatment operations on my property, it was part of the understanding that I would have the use of the outfall of the waste treatment plant for irrigation purposes. Although, two-thirds of all the facilities are situated on my property, all of the water outfalls onto my neighbors' property and with the aid of the city he has prevented effectively any irrigation water from reaching my irrigation intake. As a result, the benefit that was obtained in the modest sale of the easement to the city in consideration for virtually an unlimited water supply is not now a reality. This is of particular concern since an irrigation system was installed to utilize that unlimited water supply for irrigation.

I welcome the opportunity to discuss this matter with both the City Council and the Floyd County Commissioners either jointly or separately or through their duly authorized agents. It is my sincere hope that no other citizens of Floyd County will experience problems that are associated with waste treatment disposal and sewage disposal. Hope we will be able to work a mutually beneficial arrangement for both the City and the County.

Sincerely yours,
 /s/ Helen Faye Hammonds

Editor,

I have been talking with people I know on what they think is important in the world as we know it. They have thoughts of a similar mind. They say get a high school and college diploma.

I then ask these supposedly learned gentlemen, when was the last time they read anything by Emerson, Thoreau, Plato, Poe, Milton, Burns or any of the great philosophers, poets, historians and novelists. They say never or a little in high school or college. This so-called great civilization we know claims to be the most educated in history. It is the most ignorant. Now days we depend on machines to do everything for us, our thinking, working and providing us with entertainment.

How many men these days can do math in their heads, raise a crop, without the help of machines, or be content by reading for entertainment. How many children do you know now that would be content with home made wooden toys. I believe man has become slave to his machine. He thinks that he can't have a home, farm, or store without the great god mechanized, assembled manufacturing. Before 1830 most of the communities such as ours were almost completely self-sufficient. These hardy people built their own homes, farm tools, furniture, kitchen utensils and even weaponry. How many modern farm towns can be totally dependant on themselves. All the modern man wants is luxuries, no matters the cost to his pocket book or stress to his body and mind.

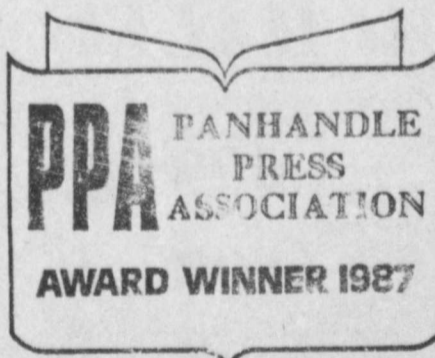

I am sad to live in a world where your knowledge is measured by a piece of paper instead of action. A world where machines think and people have the minds and constitutions of turnips.

They say machines are labor saving but for what, so you can go home early and do something constructive like stuff yourself, drink beer and watch the idiot box. Alas civilization, and mechanization.

Signed,
 Cecil Pope

Junk mail junked before delivery

Austint(TNAB) -- Postal workers throughout the country are now throwing "mountains of junk circular mail" into the post office trash cans instead of delivering them to household addresses. Citing improperly addressed circulars as one of the reasons for regularly discarding tons of direct-mailed pieces, an official of the U.S. Postal Inspection Service has revealed:

"An audit of more than 85 post offices around the country showed an average of about 14 percent of all direct mailings are dumped into the trash cans rather than being delivered to households. "The 14 percent was an average of the entire 1986 year's mailings."

Pupils earn state recognition

Dale Smith, instructor and adviser for the CVAE-VEH general construction trades classes in Floydada, accompanied twelve students and thirteen projects to Corpus Christi for the State Leadership Conference Project Contest on April 3, 4 and 5. The group returned home with three first place awards, nine seconds and one third.

High school students Albert Chavarria and Raymon Trevino each garnered a first place classification for their projects. Juan Carillo, Adolfo Chavarria and Fernando Gonzalez earned second place awards and Wally Rodriguez was judged third for his project.

Jackie Alaniz earned the only first place award among the junior high students attending. Fabian Torres, David Perez, Wayne Swinner, Lupe Soliz and Adrian Pleasant earned seconds. A project entered by Jessie Suarez was awarded a second although he was unable to attend the competition. Julian Moreno also won a first in district competition and was state qualified.

"The state competition was extremely stiff this year," according to Smith. "Floydada did very well this year considering our students were competing against approximately 400 projects which were both beautifully done and complicated in design."

Mackenzie Lake Report

The water depth on April 27 was 113 feet and the temperature was 59 degrees. Dick Watson of Olton weighed in a 3 and a 4 pound bass caught with black lizard in shallow water. Olen Wilson of Amarillo and Craig Ellison of Lockney brought in bass weighing 4 3/4 and 5 1/2 pounds caught with crank bait. Bass fishing is best up Tulle and Cope creeks in about 4 feet of water using dark colored worms, jigs, eels and crank bait. A 3 pound blue cat was caught by Carol Lord of Amarillo with a minnow. Crappie fishing is slow but is starting to improve according to a spokesperson.

Social Security Report

By Terry J. Clements

If you are approaching retirement, you are probably looking forward to a well earned reward after years of hard work. Yet, you enjoy working and do not want to stop entirely. You may ask, "If I take a part-time job or run a small business, can I still get Social Security retirement checks?"

The answer depends partly on your age. If you are under 65, you can earn up to $6,000 in 1987 and receive ALL benefits due. If you are 65 through 69, the annual exempt amount this year is $8,160. And if you are 70 or older, there is no limit on earnings. The exempt amounts increase each year to keep pace with rising wage levels.

Even if you earn over these amounts, partial benefits may be payable. The basic rule is that $1 in benefits is withheld for each $2 earned over the exempt amount.

There is also a special rule that applies in only 1 year—usually the year you retire. You can get a full benefit for each month earnings do not exceed one-twelfth of the annual limit (in 1987: $500 if you are under 65 and $680 if you are 65 through 69).

This monthly rule allows you to start getting benefits right away in the year of retirement no matter how high your earnings earlier in the year. If you are self-employed, your time and services devoted to the business are considered in addition to net income; you can get more information on this at the Social Security office.

To see how these two rules work, consider "Joe" who retired at 62 in 1986 and gets $450 a month from Social Security. He took a part-time job in January 1987 and will earn $7,600 in 1987. Under the basic annual rule, Joe will lose $800, or a little less than 2 months benefits.

Now let's say Joe, instead, retires June 30, 1987, and earns $15,000 in the first 6 months. Then he works part time the last 6 months for $300 a month. Even though Joe's total 1987 earnings are $16,800, he can get a full benefit for each of the last 6 months under the monthly rule.

You should notify Social Security any time you start or stop work or have a change in estimated earnings. In this way you can avoid a possible overpayment. It's best to estimate on the "high side" to be safe since your benefits for the year will be based on that estimate.

We will be pleased to answer questions you have about how earnings affect Social Security benefits. You may contact us at 1401-B West 5th street, or call us at 293-9623. Appointments can be arranged if desired.

"Wheels for Life" on May 9th

Bike-a-thon chairman Howell Farnsworth is asking Floydada residents to join the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital "Wheels For Life" Bike-a-thon slated for May 9th at Floydada High School.

Mr. Farnsworth said this ride honors Jaime, a leukemia patient at St. Jude. "With every turn of the wheel, riders become 'spokes'-men for all the kids with cancer, like Jaime," Mr. Farnsworth said, "This ride is a vital part of the fight against childhood cancer at St. Jude. Riders are really needed. They make or break a Bike-a-thon."

Sponsors donating a sum for each mile completed are enlisted by riders. All riders turning in money will receive a certificate. Those who raise $25 receive a certificate and a St. Jude T-shirt. When $75 is raised, the rider receives a barrel tote bag, a T-shirt and a certificate. Pick up sponsor forms at First Baptist Church.

"The general plan is to have a good time while helping a wonderful group of children counting on our support," Bro. Farnsworth said.

Contact Howell Farnsworth, 920 W.

Whirlwind band vacations on Padre Island

The Whirlwind band rolled into Floydada Sunday night ending a weekend of sun, surf and music. Leaving here Thursday night at 6:00, the band drove overnight on a TNM&O charter bus to arrive Friday morning on South Padre Island for a two-day stay as the feature band in the Cameron County park concert series.

Following a breakfast buffet Friday morning, the band visited Ila Loetscher, the famous "Turtle Lady" who has appeared on national TV shows such as "Real People" and network evening news. She delighted the students with her 150 lb. giant sea turtles. The students went for a dip in the ocean and then on to a two-hour cruise aboard the "Isabella Queen" ocean paddlewheel-er.

The concert Friday evening was held near the Bahia Mar Resort, a two-block long complex of condominiums, recreational facilities and the Bahia Mar Hotel, which also housed the students for the weekend. The concert was followed by dinner and a dip in the jacuzzi and swimming pool.

Saturday morning the students took a five-hour tour of Port Isabel and Matamoros, Mexico, learning about the shrimping industry, building sea-going oil platforms, and shopping at the market in downtown Matamoros, Mexico. Following an afternoon on the beach the students enjoyed a "Farewell Beach Banquet" provided by the Bahia Mar Hotel featuring Shiskabob and barbecue ribs.
