Williams, Vinson academic leaders in '87

After four years of study at Floydada High School, Daralyn Williams is the academic leader of the Class of '87. Miss Williams earned the honor of being valedictorian with a 3.585 grade point average.

Salutatorian is Shannon Vinson, who posted a four-year average of 3.460.

FHS Principal Ronnie Wood explains that the selection process is based on a four-point system with extra weight given to accelerated classes.

Miss Williams is the daughter of Leon and Sue Williams. Vinson's parents are Roger and Doris Vinson.

Both the valedictorian and the salutatorian, along with the AFS student, Marida (Maria) Jativa of Ecuador, are to speak at graduation exercises, scheduled for 8 p.m. Friday, May 29, in A.E. Baker Auditorium at Floydada High School.

HONOR STUDENTS

In addition to the top two students, others ranking in the academic top 10 are (student, parents and grade point average):

Pam Curry, daughter of Travis and Louise Curry, 3.312

Matthew Redding, son of John and Carolyn Redding, 3.298

Sabrina Stepp, daughter of Joseph and Juanita Stepp, 3.257

Kim Zimmerman, daughter of Fred III and Pat Zimmerman, 3.221

Alissa Hambright, daughter of Bob and Frances Hambright, 3.192

Paige Cannon, daughter of Jerry and Sheree Cannon, 3.158

Kevin Carter, son of Eddie and Sheila Carter, 3.142

Rickey Benjamin, son of Larry and Stella Benjamin, 3.108.

Sixty-nine seniors are candidates for diplomas.

BACCALAUREATE CEREMONY

Baccalaureate is planned for 8 p.m. Sunday, May 24, in First Baptist Church. Speaker is to be the Rev. Travis Curry, pastor of Victory Baptist Church.

A.E. Baker Auditorium will be the site for a 10:15 a.m. Wednesday, May 20, awards assembly for high schoolers.

Principal Wood says that final examinations will be taken Thursday and Friday, May 28-29. All students are to be dismissed at 2:30 p.m. on the 29th.

ACTIVITIES CHARTED

Miss Williams has received departmental recognition in science, math and sociology/psychology. She was a Student Council representative as a freshman, sophomore and junior and placed fourth in district UIL accounting as a senior and advanced to regional as an alternate. Also as a senior, she has served as vice president of National Honor Society, was named Who's Who and has been co-editor of the yearbook. Miss Williams was a varsity cheerleader as a junior. An FFA member for four years, she was a Homecoming Queen nominee as a freshman and was second runner-up for Track Queen as a

Mitchell doll collection will be presented during reception

Monday afternoon at Andrews Elementary

Frances Mitchell, world traveler, retired school teacher and former resident of Floydada will be honored with a reception Monday, May 18, from 1:00 to 3:00 p.m. in the R.C. Andrews Elementary School Library.

Before her recent move to Lubbock, Miss Mitchell donated "a marvelous collection of dolls" (which she had acquired during her extensive travels) to R.C. Andrews School.

"You, the public, are cordially invited to attend the reception and presentation of the Frances Mitchell World Doll Collection," friends say.

Lamplighter Inn due historical marker at Old Settlers ceremony

Three quarters of a century of South Plains history will be relived May 23 in

Annual Spring Concert Sunday

Music will fill A.E. Baker Auditorium at Floydada High School this Sunday afternoon as three school bands present their annual Spring Concert. The curtain rises at 2:30 p.m.

Director Paul Stapp says high school, junior high and sixth grade bands are to perform.

The concert is "free to the public."

Floydada when descendants of the W.P. Dailys gather to dedicate an historical marker being placed on the Lamplighter Inn.

Originally known as the Commercial Hotel, the Lamplighter Inn will be the recipient of a Texas Historical Marker during a dedication ceremony outside the Inn at 1:30 p.m. on Saturday, May 23.

Friends and interested persons are invited to attend the ceremony, which is being held in conjunction with the annual county "Old Settlers" Day.

In 1986, the Floyd County Historical Commission made application to the Texas State Historical Commission for a historical marker for Lamplighter Inn. The state commission approved the application and worded the plaque.

Because the request for the marker was made in 1986, it is designated as a Sesquicentennial marker.

The hotel has been owned and operated by members of the Daily family since its completion in 1913, one year after construction commenced. The current owners are Dorothy and John Hotchkiss. Dorothy is the Daily's granddaughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Daily moved from Arkansas to Plainview, with their six children in 1907. It was there they built the Daily Hotel on Ash Street, near Eighth, a three-story structure of more than thirty rooms. After three years the Dailys sold their hotel, moved to Muncy, and tried farming. The farming career was brief and the Dailys then moved to Floydada and built the Commercial Hotel.

The Commercial Hotel was one of Floydada's first sizeable hotels and one of the two first businesses to get electricity. The other was a motion picture theatre.

Before Floydada could provide city water, sewer and electric service, toilets were available outside the hotel plus so-called "slop jars" were provided for the guests. Kerosene lamps provided light until an electric generator in the basement brought guests electricity. Also in the basement was a coal-fired boiler that steam heated the rooms.

Water came from a well in the yard, and was piped into the kitchen and one upstairs bathtub, which was shared by all the guests. Rooms were equipped with pitchers of water and basins. Later, plumbing was extended to all the rooms.

The north part of the building was completed in 1913 and the south wing

Dougherty School patrons will bid farewell to friend May 29

Dougherty School students, exes and others will be bidding "good-bye" to an old friend on Friday, May 29.

The school, which has provided educational opportunities for thousands of youngsters since its inception in 1929, is being closed at the conclusion of this school year. The Dougherty system will be annexed into the Floydada Independent School District.

A joint graduation and reception at 1 p.m. on the 29th will be the school's final function. All former students and other interested persons are being invited to attend the graduation-reception in the school auditorium.

The Hesperian is preparing a feature article about the Dougherty School, to be presented in its May 28 issue. Former students are invited to present their remembrances and photos from vester year for the feature story.

Freddie Morren tabbed as school board prexy

Presiding in the absence of an elected president, Superintendent Jerry Cannon opened the nominations for board president at the May 11 regular session of the Fisd board of trustees. Election of officers had been postponed from the April session after a 3-3 split developed during the absence of one member.

The same two candidates, Freddie Morren and Weldon Pruitt, were nominated for the post this month as were named in April. The vote with all board members present resulted in a 4-3 decision in favor of Freddie Morren. Morren assumed the post, which was vacated by Pruitt, following the vote.

The first order of business for Morren was election of a vice president and a secretary to complete the slate of officers. Board members selected Pruitt to occupy the position of vice president and Charlene Brown to serve as secretary. The pair were chosen unanimously for their respective offices.

Resignations were accepted from Janet Cunningham, (high school English teacher); Christi Norrell, (A.B. Duncan special education); Rosemary Finley, (R.C. Andrews fifth grade); Judy Gibbs, (R.C. Andrews sixth grade) and Nancy Barker (high school math aide).

Barbara Cocanougher was employed as the special education diagnostician at Della Plains for the coming year. Hired to staff position at high school were Dean Bates (biology/assistant coach),

All-sports party Monday

FHS athletes involved in all events will be honored Monday evening with the traditional all-sports party, sponsored by Floydada Booster Club. The function is scheduled for 6 p.m. at Floydada Country Club. Recreation is to follow a hamburger cookout.

School board members will be special guests.

COMMERCIAL HOTEL — This picture, taken in the early teens, depicts the beginning of the guest house later to be named the Lamplighter Inn. A ceremony to dedicate a Sesquicentennial Historical Marker will be held May 23 at 1:00 p.m. outside the Inn.

Champion stock no accident

Chad Edwards' steer carcass tops in Houston show

For the second consecutive year, a Floyd County exhibitor and his steer stood at the head of the class in the light weight Simmental class of the prestigious Houston Livestock Show. Chad Edwards' calf was placed in front of 41 others in the '87 show.

But Edwards, whose reputation as a deluxe cattle feeder is growing across the state, had an even greater thrill in store.

His light weight steer has been judged as the champion carcass in the Houston show.

The top two animals in each weight class — six per breed — are shipped to Texas A&M University in College Station for carcass analysis. From this group, which are the top steers from hundreds entered at the nationally-recognized Houston Livestock Show, the 10 champion carcasses are chosen by USDA standards and owners receive prizes.

Edwards' steer's carcass was determined to be the "best of the best."

It was yield grade one choice plus, with a 14-inch ribeye. The 1,185 pound animal had a 64.1 percent dressing point, which is "exceptionally high." It was M+40 choice for marbling and had "very little back fat and a large ribeye." Despite the high amount of marbling and muscle, the steer contained "an ample amount of fat."

NO ACCIDENT

Did the Floydada High School junior student accidentally produce the champion carcass steer at Houston? Hardly!

Edwards fed two class steers for '87 shows.

In addition to the Simmental, his cross was chosen as grand champion steer at this year's county livestock show.

Kary Kent, head of the meat judging team at Texas Tech University, and a member of that team came to Floydada to perform a carcass analysis on Edwards' 1,285 pound county grand champ at Caprock Meat. The result was the same as with the Simmental.

The cross dressed out 60.1 percent and had a yield grade one low choice, with SM30 marbling. Its 18.8 inch ribeye was superb.

The steer's size indicated it should contain a 13.1 inch ribeye — 13 inches was average at Houston — but it exceeded that level by an amazing 5.7 inches. This helped the yield grade.

Success after success rules out the possibility of an "accident" in feeding expertise.

Consider that Edwards has fared exceptionally well with pens-of-three commercial steers in the Houston Livestock Show.

In 1986, his was the only pen-of-three (from 72 entries) in which each of the steers had a yield grade of two choice. In this category, each calf is judged separately.

HOME BREDS

In this era when it is common knowledge that some Texas feeders spend megabucks purchasing stock and feeding in quest of grabbing the "brass ring" inside the Houston Astrodome (site of the fabled show), how does a high schooler from Floydada continue to compete?

Edwards obviously has a special eye for outstanding steers and a knack for feeding them.

The 17-year-old has his own herd, which presently numbers "about 23 mother cows." Too, he has designed his own feeding program.

Not only that, but he custom mixes feed for several fellow Floyd County feeders. He stresses both quality and cost efficiency.

His reputation in both aspects — selecting and feeding cattle — is mounting. He has been invited to present feeding programs this month in both Crosby County and Canyon.

The youthful cattleman adapts feed to fit an individual animal. For example, his formula calls for "hotter" feed as a steer matures and show dates draw near.

The basic mixture in Edwards' rations consists of roughage, Morren pellets for protein — the only commercial ingredient — plus corn and whole cottonseed.

FuturePioneersnewevent for parade at Old Settlers

Traditional reunion unreels May 23

"Future Pioneers of Floyd County" will be a new feature in the colorful parade, one of many segments of the 1987 edition of Floyd County Pioneer Reunion. The traditional "Old Settlers" event unreels Saturday of next week, May 23.

The "Future Pioneers" will be riding motorized three-wheelers, and awards are to be presented in this category. For additional information, individuals should contact Lisa Mosley, 652-2569.

Organizations, businesses and others are invited to prepare a float for the parade. Indoor sites in Floydada are to be available for persons wishing to construct a float.

Groups or individuals planning a float are asked to phone Carolyn Jackson, 652-2489 in Lockney, or Janice McCandless, 983-2444 in Floydada.

Sid Waller will be chairman of the parade, which is to advance through downtown Floydada.

While youngsters and elders alike are being offered parade prizes, three special pioneers are due Old Settlers recognition. The Outstanding Pioneer Man will come from the Floydada area this year, while the Pioneer Woman of the Year is to hail from the Lockney area.

A Floyd County Pioneer Couple also will be cited.

'TEXAS' DANCERS

Dancers from the "Texas" production — presented each summer in Palo Duro Canyon — are expected to entertain May 23.

Additional entertainment is to be provided by the popular "Country Caravan" musical show from South Plains College in Levelland.

Keeping with the "something for everyone" philosophy, the Pioneer Reunion board has also scheduled an art show, a gun and knife show, a roping and a flower show.

Except for the roping, scheduled at the rodeo grounds, all activities are planned on the courthouse square or around the square.

BARBECUE LUNCH

County pioneers again will be guests at the noon barbecue meal.

The pavilion, located immediately south of the courthouse, will be the site of the annual auction. Persons who wish to donate items are asked to take them to Floyd County Insurance one day prior to the auction.

All auction proceeds go to Floyd County Pioneer Reunion Association to help defray expenses of Old Settlers.

Booth space "around the courthouse square" will be rented for $10 each. Chairman of the space rental are Fred Cardinal and Aldine Williams.

Five-day quilt show opens Tuesday at Floyd museum

Floyd County Historical Museum in Floydada will open a five-day quilt show of "old and new quilts" next Tuesday. The show remains open through Old Settlers Day on Saturday, May 23.

Time is 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. each day.

"This is an interesting display of over 30 quilts and is worth seeing at Floyd County Historical Museum. It's free. Don't miss it," state museum officials.

Both old and new quilts are to be featured. The event "will be open the same days as the annual art show across the street, held by the Floyd County Art Association."

Gladys Jones is chairperson of the quilt show committee. Assisting her are Polly Cardinal, Diana Glover, Norma Welch and Mary Lou Bollman.

Persons wishing to display quilts are asked to contact Mrs. Jones, 983-2771.

Olin Watson, president of the Floyd County Historical Museum board of directors, says FCHM mailers went out Monday to "over 2,000 persons throughout the United States."

Seven divisions planned for Old Settlers wild flower show

Registration begins at 9 a.m. May 23 for the Floyd County Wild Flower Show, being held in conjunction with the Old Settlers reunion.

Persons desiring more information should contact Mamie Wood, 983-2608, or Jettie Moss, 983-2317.

Best all-around receives the Trudy Taylor Award.

Seven divisions are included in the show:

- Division 1 — Miniature
- Division 2 — Unusual Container
- Division 3 — Antique Container
- Division 4 — Men's Arrangement
- Division 5 — Youth
- Division 6 — Miscellaneous
- Division 7 — Old Fashioned Mixed.

Doris Nixon (math aide), Sharon Graves (special education) and Ilus Overton (English). Beverly Bates and Nova Evans will be teaching physical education and sixth grade, respectively, at R.C. Andrews next year. Sharon Rainwater was accepted for the post of bookkeeper at the central administrative office.

High school principal Ronnie Wood met with the board to request "cash bonuses" for some of the teacher-sponsors involved in extra curricular activities at the high school. He requested bonus compensation for the annual staff sponsor, the cheerleading sponsor, the student council sponsor, the head junior class sponsor and the head senior class sponsor, saying, "These particular sponsors devote a lot of their own time and energy to these appointed duties and they deserve something extra."

Despite objections that "this might cause hard feelings" and "some of the teachers who have helped these sponsors in the past may now feel that it is the entire responsibility of the teacher being compensated," board members voted to authorize the bonus compensation on a motion by Pruitt, seconded by Don Hardy.

A motion by John Dunlap, seconded by Hardy led to approval of the sale of a vacant lot jointly owned by the various taxing entities for $50. The request came from Floydada city manager Bill Feuerbacher on behalf of a resident who wishes to purchase the lot and previously offered $500. She has since been told by her attorney that it would cost her "about $750" to update the deed on the property. Feuerbacher asked that the taxing entities let their interest go for $50 "in order to get the property back on the tax roll" according to Cannon.

Paragraphs written by several high school students evaluating the effects of the drug dog program in the school were passed around for board members to read during the meeting. Also handed out at the meeting were copies of proposed preliminary budget allocations for next year. Administrative assistant Jimmie Collins asked that trustees "read and study" the proposed budget plans and direct their comments back to him as the next budget is formulated. No action is expected on the matter until the June or July meeting.

Trustee Pruitt made a motion, seconded by Michael Hinsley, that the purchase of gym lockers for the junior high be approved on a bid of $9368 which was received at the April meeting. The motion passed unanimously after the board viewed a sample locker from the low bidder Construction Specialties of El Paso, Texas.

The board approved the career ladder selection committee and criterion for the 1987-88 school year. The selection process will begin in the near future. No major changes have been made and the selections will be carried out in much the same manner as they were in the last school year according to Cannon.

Cannon touched briefly on the proposed annexation of the Dougherty Independent School District and the changes it will bring to FUSD. The annexation will be considered and decided by the Floyd County Commissioners Court later this month.

The board meeting for July has been rescheduled from Monday, July 13, to Thursday, July 16 at the request of superintendent Cannon who will be out of town due to school business on the regular meeting date.

Attending the Monday evening session were board members Morren, Hinsley, Adolfo Garcia, Pruitt, Brown, Hardy and Dunlap. Others in attendance were Cannon, Collins, Wood, Joe Stepp and the Hesperian reporter.

50's again at Capada Drive-In Four 1950's automobiles came to the Capada Drive-In Theater Thursday afternoon May 7 to publicize the 1950's night planned for Saturday, May 16 at the theater. According to David and Chris McGowen there will be a 1950's car show from 5 to 8 p.m. and at nine the movie "Jailhouse Rock" starring Elvis Presley will be shown.

The Nifty 50's Car Club of Lubbock will bring 30 to 50 cars to the Capada Drive-In and will be joined by cars from a car club in Amarillo.

The Nifty Fifties Car Club has a membership of 76 families, most of whom own more than one 1950's car. The members come from all over West Texas and include Harvey and Judy Allen, Floydada. They meet the second Sunday of each month in the Briercroft parking lot and drive off to whatever activity is planned for the day.

Recently you may have seen members of the group in a commercial about Lubbock's Hi-D-Ho Drive-In. The British Broadcasting System came to Lubbock and did a documentary on Buddy Holly and his music. The old State Theater was opened and the car club helped simulate the look of the fifties with their cars and clothing.

They have served as escorts for the Crickets, Bobby Vee, Buddy Knox, Ace Cannon, Sonny Curtis, Dale Shannon and others when they came to Lubbock to hold concerts.

The majority of the cars that will be coming to the Capada, have been restored to showroom quality and a few will be unrestored originals. Club members will be dressed in clothes from the fifties.

The concession stand will be open for food and drinks. Admission to the car show will be 50 cents per person.

1950's AT THE CAPADA—Coming to the drive-in to publicize the coming car show and Elvis Presley movie were Charles, Wanda and Christi Jasper in a black 1957 Chevrolet Impala; Allen and Carolyn Jasper in a turquoise and white 1955 Bel-Air Chevrolet; Tommy Matthews, president of the Nifty 50's Car Club, in his original, unrestored 1955 Studebaker President; and Gaye Lampe in her torch red 1955 Thunderbird. — Staff photo added in 1920. Mr. Daily went to Dallas in 1913 and bought furniture for the hotel.

Lamplighter Inn due state historical marker

Founder-operator W.P. Daily made the hotel an important business center. Traveling salesmen, usually arriving by train, were met at the depot by Mr. Daily in his horse-drawn buggy. The salesmen were taken to the Commercial Hotel where they stayed and exhibited their wares in the lobby.

It also became a popular eating place for local citizens, with bountiful meals served at prices such as twenty-five cents for a dinner. The dining room was closed several years ago.

The hotel has served the traveling public, farmers and ranchers, including such notable figures as United States Senators, Governor W. Lee (Pappy) O'Daniel, showman-legislator Harley Sadler, and many politicians.

When tent shows came to Floydada, they often set up on vacant lots across Fifth Street from the hotel, providing close-up views for hotel guests. Harley Sadler, famous West Texas tent showman, and several "medicine shows" featuring live entertainers, were part of this scene.

After the Dailys retired, the E.J. Moreheads (the daughter and son-in-law of the Dailys) moved to Floydada to operate the Hotel. After their retirement, the institution was purchased by their daughter, Dorothy, and her husband, John S. Hotchkiss. It was then renamed the Lamplighter Inn.

This hotel has been a central gathering place for descendants of the W.P. Dailys over the years. Many happy occasions, such as Christmas and reunions, have been observed there.

The dedication service will be another time for a Moorehead-Daily reunion as they will gather together once again to commemorate the historical marker.

An open house will be given for friends of the family, to view the Lamplighter Inn. Individual rooms have been decorated to reflect early life in the hotel, including rooms for: drummers (salesmen), train crew, honey mooners, politicians, entertainers of tent shows, construction and agriculture.

Coincidentally the hotel marker dedication will be the release of a recipe book published by the family of Ethel

Daily Morehead, who died in 1984. The cookbook entitled, "What's Cooking?" contains old recipes of Mrs. Moreheads and other family members. The co-authors are Mrs. Dorothy Morehead Hotchkiss and Susan Hotchkiss Richardson.

Unscheduled executive session addresses hiring of attorney

An unscheduled executive session highlighted the Monday, May 11, session of the Floyd County Commissioners Court.

Reconvening following the noon recess, the commissioners went immediately into a closed session to discuss the hiring of an outside legal counsel to advise the court on several legal matters including the law library issue.

Following the private discussion, Thomas Warren, commissioner of Precinct 3, advanced a motion to "contact Lubbock attorney Jim Milam to see if he will advise the court regarding the establishment of a law library and what action the court should take regarding law books owned by the county, either partial or full sets."

The motion also asks for consultation regarding the issue of providing county office space for the county attorney and the district attorney who "both engage in private practice." The major item the court is concerned with in this case is what compensation, if any, the two attorneys should make to the county for the use of the county office space in their private practice.

The motion was seconded by Precinct 4 commissioner Kay Crabtree and passed on a 3 to 1 vote with Floyd Jackson, Precinct 2, joining Warren and Crabtree in voting for the measure. Precinct 1 commissioner Sam Spence voted against the motion.

County Judge Bill Hardin indicated that he would "probably be contacting Mr. Milam" on Tuesday.

More routine matters handled by the court during the morning session included the reviewing and approval of bills for payment and the presentation of the county treasurer's report.

All bills properly presented were approved for payment with the exception of statements from the City of Floydada regarding charges for rural fire calls. These bills were held back because "we have not authorized payment of $200 per rural fire" according to commissioners Jackson and Warren, the authors of the motion for paying bills this month. Jackson pointed out "I believe we offered them $100 per fire, not $200."

Treasurer Glenna Orman told the court that the county began the month of April with $364,180.33 and received $819,715.19 during the month. Disbursements were $763,056.98, leaving a balance of April 30 of $420,838.54.

Orman reported that current tax collections were 94.74% complete at this time. Interest earned to date on certificates of deposit totals $24,779.23 with $628,000.00 in certificates.

Judge Hardin informed the court that a refund of $4887 has been received from the Floydada Power and Light for inadvertent overcharges during the last three years. The error occurred because the power company was not aware that the courthouse had installed heat pumps. FP&L also agreed to take necessary safety precautions regarding a transformer located on the grounds.

Warren made a motion to continue the county electric service with FP&L instead of switching to Southwestern Public Service. Crabtree seconded and the action was approved unanimously.

Commissioner Spence requested that bills totaling "almost $3,300" for repairs to a county barn which will be utilized by Precincts 1 and 3 be paid from remaining revenue sharing funds rather than from road and bridge funds. The measure was seconded by Crabtree and passed with a unanimous vote.

Extensive discussion of a proposed policy manual for county employees was tabled until a called meeting on Wednesday, May 13 at 8:30 a.m. The manual will deal with aspects of county employment including wage and salary scales, working hours, pay periods, vacation and sick leave benefits. Judge Hardin explained to those present that "it is necessary to have such a policy on file to avoid the possibility of future lawsuits. He stressed that maintaining complete and accurate records concerning employees and hours worked is "a must under federal wage and hour laws."

The commissioners affirmed the appointments of Donald Gowens, Layne Kirk and Bill Gray, all of Floydada, to the Floyd County Historical Commission. Representatives from Lockney are Mary Lou Bollman and June Sherman. The appointments were approved unanimously on a motion by Spence, seconded by Warren.

The deputization of Nancy Barker for the county tax assessor/collector's office was approved. Barker replaces Penny Golightly who was recently appointed to head the office.

County treasurer Orman was appointed loss control co-ordinator to replace Bobbie Hamilton, the former county auditor. The post has been unstaffed since Mrs. Hamilton was relieved of her duties at the end of 1986.

Farm work contracts were approved for B.A. Robertson and Sun-Vue Farms in Precinct 1, Ronnie Thornton, Eddie Foster and Boyce Mosley in Precinct 2, Glen Wood in Precinct 3 and Vernie Moore in Precinct 4. A contract approved several months ago for Lorilla Bradley in Precinct 4 was voided at the request of Commissioner Crabtree.

Wording approved for Camp Resolution historical marker

Wording has been approved for an official Texas Historical Marker, which will be erected this summer in the northeastern corner of Floyd County. The marker honors the efforts of men involved in the Texan Santa Fe Expedition.

Bill Gray and Marisue Potts have been instrumental in researching data and receiving the marker, according to information received by this newspaper. Floyd County Historical Commission also has been greatly involved.

The marker site is seven miles south of Quitaque on FM 1065 right-of-way, or 16 miles northeast of South Plains.

The wording:

Camp Resolution - of the Texan Santa Fe Expedition

In an effort to establish a western trade route and expand Texas jurisdiction, Republic of Texas President Mirabeau B. Lamar sent an expedition of merchants, along with a military escort, to Santa Fe in 1841. The group left Brushy Creek north of Austin in June and in August arrived in this vicinity, where they established campsites at the confluence of the Los Lingos and Quitaque Creeks (1 m.E).

Traveling across unfamiliar territory, the expedition encountered numerous hardships. Provisions, food, and water were reduced to dangerously low levels, and bands of Kiowa Indians continually harrassed the group, killing some. Facing the impassable ravines of the caprock, the military commanders decided to divide the group. One party was sent to find new Mexican settlements and seek help, while the second remained. Commander Hugh McLeod drew up a resolution detailing the decision to split the command, and the site became known as Camp Resolution.

Finally reaching New Mexico in September, the men were met by Mexican soldiers and were forced to march to Mexico City, where they were imprisoned. Resulting in a U.S.-Mexico diplomatic controversy, the expedition also aided Texas' western land claims.

Amending tax return

Taxpayers can correct mistakes or omissions they made on tax returns they have already filed by completing and mailing a Form 1040X to Internal Revenue Service (IRS).

The correction can be submitted within three years of the due date (including extensions) of the original return, or two years from the time the tax was paid, whichever is later.

The IRS says that taxpayers can receive copies of Form 1040X by calling the toll-free number 1-800-424-FORM.

Texas women vie in breast screening project

More than 109,000 Texas women (a national record) called American Cancer Society (ACS) hot lines in recent weeks to participate in the Society's Texas Breast Screening Project. Texas participation was more than three times greater than the previous best response to a similar program in California.

ly breast self-examination for women 20 and older and an annual physical breast exam by a trained health professional.

During the project, more than 5,000 volunteers staffed phone banks in 32 Texas cities to determine the callers' eligibility for the project. Eligible callers, those women 35 or older who had no breast cancer symptoms, received a coupon entitling them to a $50 mammogram from local participating facilities.

The society also recommends monthly breast self-examination for women 20 and older and an annual physical breast exam by a trained health professional.

Initial planning for the Texas Breast Screening Project began two years ago, when ACS volunteers sought the cooperation of hospitals and screening facilities throughout the state to offer screening mammograms for a cost of no more than $50 for a limited time in the Spring of 1987.

Virginia Cage and Lillian Ross lead the service. We sang songs and had a good time. Thanks ladies! The bus ride to Plainview was the afternoon activity.

Cochran and Williams recite marriage vows

Wedding vows uniting Carol Cochran and Monty Williams in marriage were read Saturday, May 9, 1987, at 5:00 p.m. in the First Baptist Church of Floydada. Officiating was the Rev. Earl Blair, pastor of the First United Methodist Church of Floydada.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Jay Maritt of Lubbock and Allen Cochran of Tucumcari, New Mexico. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Dean Williams of the Harmony Community.

The altar was alight with candles. Brass candelabra of 45 ivory tapers formed an archway enclosure where the wedding promises were made. This was centered with the brass unity candelabra and flanked by a pair of seven-branch candelabra. All the brass candelabra were entwined with hailing plumosa fern, babies breath and royal blue satin ribbon and bows. Alternating pews were marked with cascades of greenery, babies breath and bows.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore a wedding gown of ivory Italian satin, English net and alencon lace. The bodice, covered with alencon lace, was heavenly adorned with beads and sequins. The yoke of sheer English net had a high alencon lace collar. Juliette style sleeves of satin English net were complimented by alencon lace and pearls. The satin skirt had appliques of beaded alencon lace at the front and around the hem. The court-length inset of English net, with beads and sequined lace appliques, was edged with alencon lace which trailed up to a point at the waist. The lace and pearl hat was turned up on one side with silk flowers and a long netted pouf at back.

The bride's bouquet was a crescent of candlelight torch lilies, baby roses, stephanotis and royal blue oriental blossoms. Tiny sprays of seed pearls sparkled throughout the bouquet and iridescent wisps and lace completed the custom designed cascade.

Mysti Younger of Floydada served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Brenda King and Tracy Sims of Plainview, cousins of the bride, and Pam Cathey of Pampa.

The bridal attendants wore identical royal blue taffeta gowns accented with a double ruffle around the off-the-shoulder neckline. The long, fitted bodice came to a graceful point, front and back, over a full waltz length skirt.

The bridesmaids carried fans of candlelight satin and lace adorned with clusters of baby roses and royal blue oriental blossoms and accented with pearl sprays.

Chad Williams, brother of the groom, was best man. Groomsmen were Todd Williams, brother of the groom; Robert Nixon of Lubbock and Armando Sanchez of Robert Lee. The groom and groomsmen all wore black tuxedos with royal blue cummerbunds.

Ushers were Mitch Ross, Chris Fulton and Don Cheek, all of Floydada. Candles were lit by Denise and David Cochran, sister-in-law and brother of the bride.

Pre-wedding piano selections were played by Christi Norrell and Kelby Sue of Lubbock, organist, who played the bridal march and recessional. Denene Marrice sang "I'll Still Be Loving You" and "The Lord's Prayer." She was joined by Sheldon Sue in singing "To Me."

Guests were registered by Mrs. Cooper Ellison of Petersburg. The registry table held a royal blue fan decorated with a touch of roses and baby's breath.

Following the wedding, a reception was held in the Wall Street Parlor of First Baptist Church. The bride's table held a three-tiered candlelight cake with white flowers with royal blue ribbons intertwined through the cake. On top of the cake was a Precious Moments bride and groom. Punch, mints and nuts were served by Darren Taylor, Celesta Cartwright and Daina Hanna. The bridal bouquet formed the centerpiece.

The groom's table centerpiece was a three-tiered assortment of strawberries and frosted grapes. Finger sandwiches, cheese, crackers and coffee were served by Terry Nelson of Floydada and Shelli Teague of Pampa, cousins of the groom.

Serving in the houseparty were Shirley Morton, Leora Younger, Margie Sue, Judy Allen, Doris Nixon, Sue Higginbotham, Jane Pruitt, Alyene Evans, Sheree Cannon, Charlene Norrell, Joy Fulton and Julie Cathey.

Following a wedding trip to San Antonio and South Padre Island, the bride and groom will live in the Harmony Community where the groom is engaged in farming. Both are graduates of Floydada High School. Mrs. Williams is also a graduate of South Plains School of Nursing and works for Dr. R.J. Mehdiabadi of Lubbock. Williams is a 1986 graduate of Texas Tech.

A rehearsal dinner, hosted by the groom's parents, was held on Friday night at the First United Methodist Church Fellowship Hall.

MRS. MONTY WILLIAMS

Courtesies honor Cochran

Pre-nuptial courtesies given for Miss Carol Cochran of Lubbock included a luncheon hosted by Mrs. Margie Sue of Floydada at Creatively Yours in Lubbock on Saturday, April 25. Miss Cochran and Monty Williams were married May 9 in the First Baptist Church of Floydada.

Attending the luncheon were Martha Williams, mother of the groom; Edna Maritt, mother of the bride; Edith Sims, aunt of the bride; Brenda King and Tracy Sims, cousins of the bride; and Atha Sue and Nicki Sue.

The group was served strawberry soup, chicken crepes, vegetable salad and cream cheese cake topped with butter pecan frosting.

BRIDESMAID LUNCHEON

Mrs. Daisy Langford of Dimmitt and Mrs. Edith Sims of Plainview, aunts of the bride, hosted a bridesmaid luncheon for Miss Cochran at 11:30 a.m. Saturday, May 11, at the Plainview Country Club.

Special guests attending were Edna Maritt of Lubbock, mother of the bride; Martha Williams, mother of the groom; Mysti Younger of Lubbock, Brenda King and Tracy Sims, cousins of the bride from Plainview; Pam Cathey of Pampa, LaDonna Ellison of Petersburg and Christi Norrell of Floydada.

Guests were served a salad plate of chicken salad circled with strawberries, melon, cucumbers, tomatoes, olives and carrots all served on a bed of lettuce.

Sorority names officers

Alpha Mu Delta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met May 5 in the home of Kelli Reddy. Ritual of Jewels ceremony was held for Ronnette DePriest. Installation of officers for 1987-88 was also held.

New officers are: President, Dara Ware; Vice-President, Brenda Heflin; Corresponding Secretary, Kelli Reddy; Recording Secretary, Kelli Whitten; Treasurer, Tonnia Kitchens; Extension Officer, Wendy Pierce, and Sunshine Girl, Ronnette DePriest.

During the business meeting, plans were discussed for the Old Settler's Day dance, a float for the parade, and the Mother's Day brunch.

Hostesses Kelli Reddy and Jeanine Helms then served homemade hamburgers, ice cream and tea.

Those in attendance were: Abby Battey, Debra Grabam, Brenda Heflin, Jeanine Helms, Holly Hendrix, Tonnia

Kitchens, Wendy Pierce, D'Lee Powell, Kelli Reddy, Dara Ware, Debora Wilson, Ronnette DePriest and Kelli Whitten and Julianne Cornelius.

MOTHER'S BRUNCH

Alpha Mu Delta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held a Mother's Day brunch on Saturday, May 9, at the First National Bank community room. Each member brought a breakfast dish that was enjoyed by all.

Those attending were: Dara Ware, June Ware, D'Lee Powell, Neta Marble, Ronnette DePriest, Tonnia Kitchens, Margaret Kitchens, Debora Wilson, Sue Crow, Holly Hendrix, Fern Hartsell, Kelli Reddy, Ann Reddy, Carole Lyons, Brenda Heflin, Linda Heflin and Kay Hicks.

Each mother received a kitchen magnet and Fern Hartsell won the door prize.

DAISY SCOUT TROOP 201 met May 2 in the home of leader Joy Allen to bake cookies for the nursing home. The service project helped the Daisy troop finish a patch they had been working toward. After baking the cookies, the troop traveled to the nursing home to pass out the goody bags, decorated by the Daisy troop. Those attending were [in above photo, l-r] Mindy Kelly, Angie Rodrigues, Amanda Green, Amber Arney, Katie Sanders, Betina Bally, Micah Marble and special guests, Tanner and Tyler Battey, great-grandsons of Joy Allen. Also present were leaders, Joy Allen and Debra Graham. Not pictured was member, Nikki Meyers. In lower photo [l-r] Katie Sanders, Amber Arney, Amanda Green and Angie Rodrigues all give some helpful hints in preparing a batch of cookies for the nursing home residents.

Stoerner home hosts club

Il Penserio Study Club met in the home of Robin Stoerner on May 7 at 7:30 p.m. Co-hostesses were Treena Aston and Cindy Belt. Taco salad with all the trimmings started off the night with homemade ice cream and rosettes for dessert.

President Sandra Cummings opened up the meeting with five letters from members asking for associate membership. Club voted to accept the following associate memberships: Kathy Kellison, Karen Quebe, Cindy Ford, Charlanne Burson and Lesca Durham.

Old business was then discussed. Judy Jackson stated that she wrote a check for $739.00 to the Senior Citizens. The money was raised at the last meeting from an in-club auction. Jimmy Kemp did the honors of auctioneer.

Club members brought homemade items to be auctioned. Members and friends bid on their favorite items. The money making project was deemed a success.

New business was conducted. Officers were elected for the upcoming year. They are: Rhonda McCain, president; Sheri McDonald, vice president; Lezlie Sherman, treasurer; and Cindy Belt, reporter.

Club woman of the year was also voted on and will be revealed at the next meeting.

There were 22 members present. They were: Julie Hancock, Katy Durham, Judy Jackson, Cindy Means, Tami Wofford, Karen Quebe, Jami Kemp, Lynda Gant, Kay Martin, Sandra Cummings, Brenda Mangold, Sherry McDonald, Robin King, Charlanne Burson, Kim Lambert, Lezlie Sherman, Ginger Mathis, Kathy Kellison, Lesca Durham, Reeda Cay Smith, Sidney Jackson and Rhonda McCain.

The meeting was adjourned. Club will have their end of the year party on May 20 in the home of Karen Quebe.

U.S. cotton market moves up as world stocks shrink

A long-awaited adjustment in China's cotton use and a drop in its stocks has caused the market to move upward, says Dr. Carl G. Anderson, economist-cotton marketing with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Continuing with the optimistic outlook, Anderson points out that world use is up to 81 million bales. The 1986 crop trails with 70 million and carryover is dropping.

"Global cotton use has leaped by a third, or 20 million bales, in 10 years. The 15 percent dip in world stocks from a supply-demand report issued a month earlier is very significant. The world cotton price as reflected in the "A" Index, in two weeks, moved up 4 cents; December futures, 6 cents; and the U.S. adjusted world price in two weeks rose from 50.57 cents to 55.50 on April 23," Anderson says.

One way to look at the reduced world supply, Anderson explains, is to review the relationship of the world "use-to-supply ratio" and the "A" Index in the past.

"A relatively high use ration indicates that usage is absorbing much of the supply, with fewer extra left over stocks, while a low ratio suggests abundant stocks. Therefore, a higher ratio is associated with a higher world price," the economist says.

The use ratio is moving up from a low 63 percent in 1985 to slightly above 70 percent for 1987. In the past, a ratio around 70-73 percent has been linked with an "A" Index of some 70 to 75 cent per pound, Anderson notes. The U.S. adjusted world price runs around 12 cents under the "A" Index.

"The future strength of the market depends largely on the impact of weather on the 1987 crop size. A further drop in supply would likely be bullish," Anderson adds.

The new numbers on China cotton indicate reduced competition during the 1987 season in cotton exports from them. That should boost exports from the U.S., the economist notes.

With the strong market in April, the new U.S. crop could be about 13 million bales against a market of 13 to 14 million, but with carryover stocks still over 4 million and adequate to meet market needs, Anderson says.

The recent market excitement clearly indicates that what happens to China's cotton supplies has a strong impact on the ups and downs of the market, the economist emphasizes.

"The market continues to be nervous because of the uncertain events of world acreage, yields, political actions and consumption of cotton. Pricing strategies that protect against a possible price decrease, with the opportunity to benefit from a price increase, should be evaluated carefully," Anderson recommends.

Tobacco budworm resistance to pyrethroids can be managed

Cotton growers could face serious problems with tobacco budworm (TBW) resistance to pyrethroid insecticides unless they uniformly follow management strategies suggested by entomologists in areas where resistance is a growing threat. That's the assertion of Dr. Frank Carter, associate director of agricultural research at Cotton Incorporated's Research Center, Raleigh, N.C.

"Pyrethroid insecticides are the most effective and environmentally safe chemicals that cotton farmers have ever used," explains Carter. "But in recent years tobacco budworms have become increasingly tolerant of pyrethroids. Last year this was documented in parts of Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas and Mississippi. This has the potential to develop in other areas of the Cotton Belt wherever the tobacco budworm is a problem."

Insect resistance is nothing new to cotton farmers. Boll weevils, bollworms and tobacco budworms have all developed resistance to certain classes of insecticides within the last 25 years.

In the late 1970's when cotton growers were faced with serious bollworm and tobacco budworm control problems, emergency use of new synthetic pyrethroid products was granted. This led to rapid adoption of pyrethroid insecticides in widespread use today.

Since those days, researchers have learned a lot about the genetics of pyrethroid resistance, says Carter. And he feels that if growers follow pyrethroid guidelines to dampen tobacco budworm resistance, pyrethroids may be used effectively for years to come.

"It's up to the growers," he relates.

"We can abuse and over-use pyrethroids, or be responsible users and keep these products effective longer."

Two sets of guidelines have already been formulated—one for the Mid-South states of Mississippi, Louisiana and Arkansas, and another for Texas, particularly around the Uvalde and San Angelo areas.

"The better the cooperation, the more effective these programs will be," he points out. "If half of the farmers decided not to follow the guidelines, while the other half did, it could cause even more problems."

"For example, if half the cotton farmers in an area decided to apply pyrethroids early in the season, the tobacco budworms would begin to build resistance and convey that characteristic to future generations."

The key, he says, is to treat only the July and August generations of the tobacco budworm with pyrethroids, and use pyrethroids in combination with chlordaneform late in the season when high populations are present. This slows down selection for the resistant gene that is the source of the problem.

Carter points out that a similar plan was put into use by Australian growers in 1983 when a bollworm species developed pyrethroid resistance.

"The Australian growers had a good resistance management plan and followed it," he notes. "Their guidelines are still being followed, and I've heard of no reports of a resurgence in resistance since then."

WHEAT

Many of the irrigated, fertilized fields lost a significant amount of yield potential from the late freeze. Russian wheat aphids (RWA) are widely distributed over the two-county area, and are heaviest in fields that have been moisture-stressed, or that have nutrient deficiencies.

Since RWA control strategies are aimed at protecting the flag leaf, most fields are now past the critical stage. Treatment after the flag leaf has emerged would be questionable - more work is needed concerning late treatment recommendations.

Because of the dry field conditions, rust has not been a problem on older leaves.

AT-PLANTING INSECTICIDES FOR THIRPS CONTROL IN COTTON

Thrips were once considered as a minor pest in cotton. However, recent studies have shown that these insects can delay maturity and significantly reduce yield. We now realize that the first square is initiated when the cotton plant is in the 2nd true leaf stage. While thrips are grazing on terminal buds, they are also damaging the tissue that will form those first squares.

Once thrips damage is visible, it is too late to correct the problem. Studies conducted since 1983 have shown that where thrips have historically caused problems, preventative treatments, using at-planting insecticides, appear to be the most cost-effective control strategies.

In a 1986 test conducted on Norman Norris' farm near Ralls, Temik, Thimet, and Orthene 80 were compared. The results indicated that Temik was most cost-effective, giving the best control with 5 weeks residual. Thimet and Orthene were less effective and were approximately equal to each other in this test.

Studies conducted since 1983 have indicated that at-planting insecticide applications for thrips control are certainly cost-effective. Our findings indicate that Temik is the most cost-effective when used on irrigated, well-managed cotton. However, it is more expensive than the others. Therefore, the less expensive chemicals may be more cost-effective in low-input situations or later-planted cotton. Our studies continue, and more information is needed.

Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., is calling on USDA to reverse a recently proposed ruling under which cotton producers on the High Plains and elsewhere stand to lose hundreds if not thousands of valued employees.

Unless the ruling is changed, undocumented aliens applying for temporary resident status under the "Special Agricultural Worker" (SAW) provisions of the 1986 Immigration Reform and Control Act would not qualify if their applications were based on work in cotton production, PCG explains, leaving them subject to deportation.

The SAW program provides a means to temporary resident visas for aliens who worked at least 90 days between May 1, 1985 and May 1, 1986 in the production and harvest of fruits, vegetables and "other perishable commodities" as defined by USDA.

PCG in January of this year sought to establish cotton's perishability by presenting scientific studies that show severe losses from delayed operations, especially harvesting.

But USDA in an April 22 Federal Register notice proposes to exclude cotton from a list of perishable crops, a list that includes Christmas trees, sugar beets, tobacco and other crops PCG officials deem no more perishable than cotton and far less important to the Texas and national economies.

USDA defined qualified perishable commodities as those that have "critical and unpredictable" labor demands and said cotton does not experience such demands.

The error of that thinking, says PCG President Myrl D. Mitchell of Lenorah, is obvious to any High Plains cotton producer "and we think we've made a strong case for reversing it."

Probably the most dramatic critical and unpredictable need for intensive hand labor in cotton, PCG points out to USDA, occurs when abnormally long periods of heavy rains leach out herbicides, prevent timely cultivation and allow fields to be taken over by weeds.

When that happens, PCG's comment continues, the only alternative to crop loss is hand hoeing - a truly critical demand for labor that is unpredictable in the narrowest sense of the word.

"Since cotton meets all of the criteria outlined in your notice," PCG's statement concludes, "we think it behooves USDA to include it among the commodities qualifying for perishable status, thereby allowing its workers to participate in the Special Agricultural Worker program."

PCG believes it has support for its position from cotton organizations all across the U.S., from the National Council of Agricultural Employers, and also has enlisted the aid of Texas congressmen, senators and the Texas Department of Agriculture.

Winter wheat production estimate

Winter wheat production for 1987 will be about 50 million bushels below the 1986 level - or 3.5 percent less than the 1.52 billion bushel crop harvested last year, according to information from Floyd County Farm Bureau.

Although the harvested acreage will be 6-7 percent lower, the national average yield should be 3-4 percent higher than in 1986.

Hard Red Winter wheat production will be as much as 75 million bushels below the 1986 crop of 1.018 billion bushels - a drop of over 7 percent, and roughly 110 million bushels below 1986-87 usage. White Winter wheat should be down 15-20 million bushels from last year's 211 million bushels.

Combined with White Spring wheat production, total White wheat production should be over 30 million bushels below 1986-87 usage. Soft Red Winter wheat production will rebound somewhat from 1986, when low yields and acreage abandonment played havoc with total production.

Production may exceed 330 million bushels, compared to 290 million this past year, an increase of 14 percent, resulting from a 20 percent recovery in yields. Production should exceed 1986-87 usage by 8-10 million bushels.

WILLIE H. BUNCH

Services for Willie H. Bunch, 74, a well-known Floydada resident, were at 2 p.m. Saturday in First Baptist Church with the Rev. Howell Farnsworth, pastor, officiating.

Assisting was Dr. Floyd C. Bradley of Plainview, a former pastor of First Baptist Church in Floydada.

Burial was made in Lakeview Cemetery, under direction of Moore-Rose Funeral Home.

Mr. Bunch died at 10:15 a.m. Thursday, May 7, in St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock after a brief illness.

He was born May 13, 1912, in Shamrock, Tex., and moved to Floyd County in 1916. He married Mamie Schuster on Dec. 24, 1931, in Floydada.

A retired farmer and a member of First Baptist Church, Mr. Bunch also was a deacon and over a period of years was a Sunday School teacher and choir member. He was also a member of the Good Sam travel club.

Survivors include his wife; a daughter, Joy Finley of Midland; two sons, Darrell and Rod, both of Carrollton; one brother, Raymond of Lipan; one sister, Ida Denton of Denver, Colo.; eight grandchildren; and two great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers were Linton Pruitt, Nolan Turner, Milton Harrison, Sheldon Sue, Floyd Lawson, Vernon A. Parker, Fay Gooch and Orval Newberry.

Deacons of First Baptist Church were honorary pallbearers.

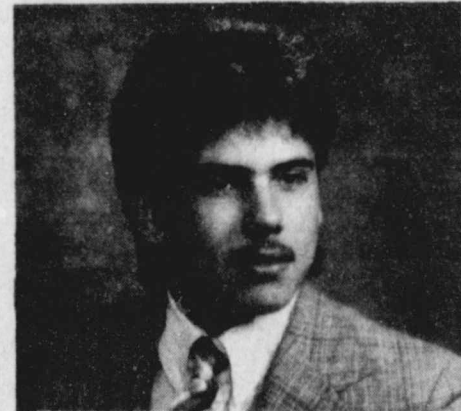

Gerardo Cervantes completes training

Army National Guard Private Gerardo Cervantes, son of Felix L. and Alicia Cervantes of Floydada, has completed one station unit training (OSUT) at the U.S. Army Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga.

OSUT is a 12-week period which combines basic combat training and advanced individual training.

The training included weapons qualifications, squad tactics, patrolling, landmine warfare, field communications and combat operations. Completion of this course qualifies the soldier as a light-weapons infantryman and as an indirect-fire crewman.

Soldiers were taught to perform any of the duties in a rifle or mortar squad.

JOINS MARINES — Richard Rendon of Floydada has begun training for the United States Marines in San Diego, California. Rendon, a 1986 graduate of Floydada High School, is the son of Aaron Rendon and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Rendon, all of Floydada. He entered the service in April.

Lake report

According to information received from Gail White at Lake Mackenzie, the water depth is 112.6 feet and the temperature is 62 degrees.

White indicated that bass fishing is excellent up Cope, Williams and Deadman Creeks around structures and in six feet of water. Calvin Jobe of Kress brought in a nice 4 1/2 pound bass. Glenn Maddox and Curgus Lowe had a nice stringer weighing two to three and a half pounds which were caught on crank baits.

"Crappie are beginning to move into shallow water and are improving each day," said White.

Jack and C.D. Adams of Amarillo brought in some nice crappie weighing up to 2 1/2 pounds which they caught on yellow jigs.

Catfish are beginning to bite on minnows and cut bait. Richard Johnson and Bill Miller of Amarillo caught a 13 pound channel cat and several nice blue cat while fishing up Tule Creek.

DARRYN KAY BOOTHE GRAY

Memorial services for Darryn Kay Boothe Gray, 24, of 203 North 4th in Floydada, were conducted at 2 p.m. Friday in First United Methodist Church. The Rev. Earl Blair, pastor, officiated and was assisted by the Rev. Howell Farnsworth, pastor of the local First Baptist Church.

Interment was made in Floyd County Memorial Park, under direction of Moore-Rose Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were Mike Bartz, Ray Holcomb, Andy Holcomb, Deryl Evans, Mac Willson and Carl Jarrett.

Ms. Gray died early Wednesday, May 6, in the home of a Las Cruces, N.M., friend.

She formerly had been associated with the Lubbock State School, where she worked with handicapped children.

Born April 5, 1963 in Clovis, N.M., she later resided in Las Cruces and had been a Floydada resident the past eight years. She was graduated from Floydada High School in May 1981.

Ms. Gray was a member of First United Methodist Church.

She is survived by two sons, Joseph Mikel Garcia and Arnold Paul Garcia, both of Floydada; her parents, Bill and Dell Gray of Floydada; her father, Virgil Boothe of Las Cruces; five sisters, Tammy Vickers, Dorma Kohler and Trina Savage, all of Lubbock, Kim Boothe of Eules and Jeanine Helms of Floydada; one brother, Bill Gray Jr. of Garden Grove, Calif.; maternal grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Russell of Floydada; and paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Taff of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. Erman Gray of Floydada.

Friends have established a love fund at First United Methodist Church in memory of Darryn Kay Boothe Gray. The fund is to benefit her two sons.

A TRIBUTE TO DARRYN [Copyright Pending]

After the plane reached its top altitude, I looked out the window to see a soft white blanket of clouds stretched across the horizon. They looked so inviting — so comfortable. The sky was a gentle shade of blue and the world seemed so calm. I tried to picture myself walking on those clouds. I was sure they would feel like fluffy cotton balls — so soft to the touch. Somehow I couldn't imagine ever falling through these clouds, they seemed to tightly meshed.

The plane began to descend and soon we were enveloped in those same clouds. First, I noticed how misty they were and reality reminded me what clouds were really made of. But then they took on a different characteristic. The clouds became a light — A light so bright it was momentarily blinding. It held me in a trance. I had no awareness of my physical presence. Suddenly I felt a burning sensation in my chest. My heart knew what my mind would soon realize.

The plane dropped beneath the clouds and the rest of the world was grey and stormy. Then I realized that somewhere in that light, my sister and I had crossed paths. She too knew the power of this light which removes all the senses and leaves the soul in a state of ultimate bliss. I sincerely hope Darryn was on her way to that place above the clouds where the sky was crystal clear. A new home where there are no stormy days.

In Loving Memory of my Sister Kim Boothe

JERRY RAY COLTHARP
Jerry Ray Coltharp, a 1956 graduate of Floydada High School, was claimed by death April 8 at Bethesda Oaks Hospital in Cincinnati, Ohio, according to information received early this week by The Hesperian. Coltharp, 49, was a resident of Oxford, Ohio.

He was manager of the Audio-Visual Service Learning Technology Center at Miami (Ohio) University.

Remember your loved ones with a living memorial to the Caprock Hospital Auxiliary Memorial Fund. Mrs. Jane Pruitt, Treasurer, 911 West Virginia, 983-2040.

Mr. Coltharp's father, A.W. Coltharp — now a resident of Tyler, Tex. — was Floydada Junior High principal for 22 years. His step-mother, Jewell Coltharp, served as cafeteria manager for 22 years.

Memorial services were April 11 at the Oxford Bible Fellowship and burial was made in Oxford Cemetery.

Born Feb. 4, 1938 in Tulia, Coltharp was a graduate of Baylor University in Waco in 1960 and received a Masters of Arts degree in Educational Leadership from Case Western Reserve University in Cleveland in 1962. He had worked toward a doctorate in Indiana University and Kent State University.

Coltharp joined Miami University's staff in 1966 and became a media specialist in 1977. He was also an instructor in educational media.

Survivors include his wife, Evelyn; two sons, James of Cincinnati and Richard of Oxford; his father and step-mother, A.W. and Jewell Coltharp of Tyler; a brother, Larry of Irving; and nieces and nephews. He was preceded in death by his mother.

An elder in the Oxford Bible Fellowship, Coltharp was active in barbershop quartet singing and professional organizations.

FFA chapter recognizes standouts

Opening with ceremonies conducted by 1986-87 officers and concluding with the closing ceremony by new officers, Floydada FFA Chapter saluted a banner year Tuesday night during the annual Parent and Member Banquet. The barbecue meal, served in Andrews Elementary Cafeteria, launched the event.

Among highlights during the year for Advisor Allen Akers and his chapter have been:

*Sixth place in state from 77 teams for the horse judging team: Mark Thompson, Shane Orman, David Christian and Chad Quisenberry.

*Fourteenth in state, seventh of 105 teams in the Texas Tech University judging contest and third place in area for the livestock judging team: Shannon Barbee, Chad Edwards, Darin Martinez and Sharon Smith.

*Star Area Greenhand in Kelli LaBaume, who also won district competition and will compete in state next month.

*First in district and fourth in Amarillo Area in Star Chapter Farmer competition for Bryan Thomas.

HONORARY CHAPTER FARMER
Dr. Paul Glasson was chosen for the Honorary Chapter Farmer award, as a "special friend" to the youngsters. Dr. Glasson was cited for offering veterinary assistance on livestock projects and not charging for his services.

Dr. Glasson was unable to attend the banquet. He will be presented a plaque.

May Electrical Safety Month

May is Electrical Safety Awareness Month, and Southwestern Public Service Company (SPS) is reminding its customers to be especially careful around outdoor power lines and electrical facilities.

"In the spring, people spend more time outdoors," says Bill Greaser, SPS safety manager. "They're trimming trees, putting antennas on roofs, and moving ladders around. Any of these activities could cause a serious injury or death if a person should happen to come in contact with a power line."

Installing an evaporative cooler — a common springtime task — also is a potential hazard, Greaser says. "By the time you get your metal cooler up, you're usually standing in a puddle of water. But metal and water are both good conductors of electricity, so make sure your unit is grounded, like your washing machine is. And, don't plug

City Council charges cable TV to meet stipulations of franchise

The Floydada City Council, meeting in regular session on May 12, charged Floydada Cable TV to "meet the terms of their franchise or face losing it." The action came following a discussion between Joe McKinnis, manager of the cable utility, and the council.

McKinnis stressed that the cable company could not operate in a business-like manner if they would be required to "keep a full-time service man and a full-time office worker" here for the small work load they had to meet. He also told the council that the office in Plainview, which is used to service accounts in Floydada, has a staff of 2 installers, 3 technicians and 3 office personnel as well as himself as manager.

Councilman Wayne Russell stated, "I don't see how Plainview can have nine people and Floydada doesn't even rate a full-time person in an office." Russell added, "We can not allow you to continue to raise rates and cut service. We are getting less service and paying more for it each year."

McKinnis stated that the decision to remove the service man was made when the last one asked for a transfer and was not replaced to keep costs down.

Councilwoman Nancy Willson asked, "Are you saying that the only way you will meet the terms of the franchise to maintain a full-time service man and a full-time office is with a substantial rate increase?"

McKinnis answered, "That is one of the alternatives." He then added that he "works for a corporation" and can "only tell them what you decide. Then they will have to act on it. I can not promise you that we will return two full-time employees to the office here."

Mayor Parnell Powell instructed McKinnis to present a letter "stating your intentions concerning complying with the terms of your franchise by the next regular session of the council on June 11." The council will then consider the matter with an eye toward canceling the franchise if the terms of the contract are not met.

Three offers to lease the city municipal swimming pool were opened at the Tuesday evening session. Christine Wilson, who ran the pool last summer, Mrs. Jerry Lackey and Toby Williams each submitted a proposal for operating the pool under lease from the city.

After discussion of the problems encountered last year, the council voted unanimously to award the lease to Christine Wilson on a motion by Council member Nancy Willson, seconded by Wayne Russell. The lease will carry the stipulation that it may be revoked if there is a problem with safety or discipline under Miss Wilson's supervision.

After reviewing material received from the city engineering consultant, council members voted to offer Floydada Development Company a rate of $15.00 per capita for sewer service to a minimum security prison if it should locate here. This figure is $12,800 below the estimated cost of supplying this service. City officials are willing to subsidize the project for this difference in the belief that such a facility would generate more income and revitalize the community.

Council members also authorized a water rate of $1.50 per 1000 gallons for the facility if it materializes. Both prices are to be on a 12 month renegotiable contract in the event the project comes to completion.

The issue of the city farm was tabled pending more information about the council's options in offering it to the development company for the project.

Several other items were tabled after brief discussion. These include hiring legal council to review and codify city ordinances, providing money to paint and repair a 1940 Ford fire truck owned by the fire department which they wish to use in parades, building cabinets in a proposed kitchen facility at City Hall and payment of a bill for damages received from Joel Hendricks regarding a fifth wheel trailer he claims was damaged by a manhole cover.

Council declined a request from city employee Connie Galloway to purchase a riding lawn mower. The council instructed city manager Bill Feuerbacher to look into purchasing a "good self propelled standard mower."

No action was taken on the landfill issue as no response to the proposed budget has been received from the county.

No action was taken to rescind a prior motion to authorize the sale of a tax lot to a local resident for $500. The resident has asked that the lot be sold to her for $50 so that she can use the remainder of the money she is prepared to spend to obtain an updated title to the lot. Council opted to let the prior authorization stand rather than sell at an unusually low price.

A two year contract at a total cost of $200 has been agreed to for the control of red ants in three city parks. R.C. Green of Spur will serve as exterminator for that period.

The yearly agreement with the Floyd County Central Tax Appraisal District for the collection of taxes was renewed during the meeting. Also readdressed was the subject of a local curfew. Council members instructed city officials to see that it is enforced. A public notice will be run in the newspaper stating the terms of the curfew and the penalties which may result from violations.

The regular June council meeting has been rescheduled from June 9, a Tuesday, to June 11, a Thursday, as city manager Feuerbacher will not be in town on the 9th.

proficiency pins to Shane Orman, Christian, Quisenberry, Thompson and Zach Nutt.

Hunter Smith handed livestock judging pins to both the junior — Grant Stovall, Thomas and LaBaume — and senior — Sharon Smith, Martinez, Edwards and Barbee — teams.

Acting on behalf of the chapter, Barbee and Faulkenberry presented a gift of a straw hat to Advisor Akers.

A president's plaque was given to Barbee by Martinez.

Thompson presented pins to chapter officers for the past year: Shannon, Barbee, president; Troy Faulkenberry, vice president; Matthew Redding, secretary; Bryan Thomas, treasurer; Hunter Smith, reporter; Clay Lowrance, sentinel; and David Pyle, student advisor.

Inducted as officers for the 1987-88 school year were: Bryan Thomas, president; Mark Thompson, vice president; Chad Quisenberry, secretary; Sharon Smith, treasurer; Kelli LaBaume, reporter; Shane Orman, sentinel; and Dean Smith, student advisor.

Following the meal and opening ceremonies, Redding offered the invocation.

Barbee welcomed parents and introduced guests, including school trustees, administrators and high school staff members, county Extension agents Richie Crow and Mary True and others.

Banquet photos will appear in next week's Hesperian.

Bandsmen garner 45 medals in HC festival

In addition to returning home with a trio of "I" (one) ratings and one II (two), Floydada junior high and sixth grade bandsmen racked up 45 individual medals Saturday at the annual Hale Center Band Festival.

The local junior high band earned I (one) ratings in both concert and sight reading. A I in sight reading and a II in concert were received by the sixth grade band.

Director Paul Stapp says 23 sixth grade bandsmen garnered individual solo medals. Twenty-two junior high musicians were honored with individual solo medals.

LOCAL FESTIVAL

A.E. Baker Auditorium at Floydada High School will be the site this Saturday of the annual Floydada Band Festival. The event begins at 8 a.m. and continues until 3 p.m.

Director Stapp says four divisions are to be included: Beginner; Cadet (second year students); Intermediate (first and second year players combined); and Junior High (seventh and eighth graders).

High school bands do not participate since they vie in UIL competition.

Twenty bands are expected to participate in the festival.

Champion stock no accident

Chad Edwards' steer carcass tops in Houston show

Burr pellets, cottonseed hulls and ground cotton burrs have been used for roughage, with "about the same effect." This allows for flexibility and economy as the roughage which is the most readily available and offers the best price at that time can be utilized.

Edwards' uncanny ability to select young calves as show prospects has not escaped attention. On several occasions, friends have solicited his advice in choosing steers.

Seventeen is a tender age for a consultant in both animal selection and ration. But the son of Mr. and Mrs. Craig Edwards has proven his maturity in these fields.

He is a member of both the Floydada FFA Chapter and Floyd County 4-H livestock judging teams. He was high point individual in the 4-H district judging event, leading his team to first place in district while qualifying for state trials this summer. Floydada's FFA judging team recently place fourteenth in state.

The McCoy community youth has exhibited stock for eight years. Regulations allow a youngster to start showing livestock at age nine.

NEW DIMENSION

Edwards has added a new dimension with artificial breeding of his cows. He recently attended a school on artificial insemination and pregnancy testing, techniques which he practices with his cattle.

A member of both the Texas

Simmental Association and the American Simmental Association, Edwards harbors an interest in younger exhibitors. He is sponsoring — with the assistance of Don McCandless, Gary Brown and Leslie Nixon — a new feature at the 1988 Floyd County Livestock Show.

A commercial feeding division, which offers an even greater opportunity for "practical application," is being initiated for steers and swine.

Winners will be selected on the basis of record books and performance instead of animals being judged. It lends another dimension to the county stock show and affords youth an opportunity to learn more about cost efficiency and grading of livestock.

Profitability is a personal emphasis of young Edwards in his cattle operation. Champion animals are great, he reasons, but so is a bank balance in the black. This perspective has allowed him to expand his herd.

After graduating from Floydada High School next May, Chad Edwards envisions college studies. But his livestock will not be pushed aside.

His talents in that field will not be wasted.

CHAMPION CARCASS—This first place light weight Simmental steer, which headed its class at the Houston Livestock Show, has been announced as the champion carcass in the prestigious event. Chad Edwards of Floydada fed and exhibited the animal.

FHS students selected for UIL Scholar Awards

University Interscholastic League "UIL Scholar Award" is presented to students who graduate in the top 10 percent of their classes and participated in a UIL academic, music or athletic contest.

Purpose of the award is to honor students whose "academic and extracurricular achievements have been exemplary and whose self-discipline in preparation and integrity in competition are a model to others," says Dr. Bailey Marshall, UIL director.

"Though the award was introduced during the League's 75th anniversary observance, this is an award we plan to award in the years to come," Marshall says. "We feel it is important for the League to restate our commitment to academic success first, extracurricular proficiency second."

The awards will be presented to students during the annual FHS awards ceremony to be held at 10:16 a.m.

Wednesday, May 20, in A.E. Baker Auditorium at Floydada High School.

FHS seniors, who rank in the top 10 percent, due to be recipients of the UIL Scholar Awards, include: Daralya Williams, Shannon Vinson, Sabrina Stepp, Kim Zimmerman, Alissa Hambright and Matthew Redding.

The Floydada ISD held a public meeting for all parents of students enrolled in the Chapter I Migrant and Chapter I Remedial Reading Programs. The meeting was held in the A.B. Duncan Elementary School cafeteria, Tuesday, May 5. The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Alfred Medrano.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. Eutimio Martinez, Jr. Action taken by the group was the approval of the method and manner in which the Chapter I Programs are administered by the local school

The superintendent of the Floydada School District, Jerry Cannon, was introduced, as well as the principals of the two elementary schools, Charles Tyer and Bobbie Weir. All of the Chapter I school personnel were introduced.

After the business meeting was adjourned, the group visited the booths set up for the Learning Fair. A large number of parents attended.

Charges filed following burglary of deceased woman's residence

A young Floydada man was arrested about 6:30 p.m. Saturday at Caprock Hospital and charged with a Friday morning burglary of a residence at 203 South Fourth. This was the home of a deceased individual.

Police Chief James Hale apprehended two juveniles in Lubbock on Monday who are believed to have been involved in the burglary. A portion of the stolen merchandise has been recovered.

The burglar(s) removed a pane from an east bedroom window to gain access to the dwelling. Reportedly stolen, according to officers, were a vacuum cleaner, jewelry boxes, assorted jewelry, silverware and other items.

Time of the burglary was placed at 2 a.m.

Stacy Williams, 20, was charged with burglary of a habitation, "a first degree felony." Officers report that Williams was on parole at the time of the burglary.

The suspect was admitted to the hospital Friday night. According to information secured by this newspaper, doctors had prescribed for the deceased individual whose house was entered a medication which can cause a seizure in an individual not troubled with a particular ailment. Police Chief James Hale and his staff express appreciation to neighbors of the burglarized dwelling for their cooperations and assistance in solving the crime. A Crime Call reward will be paid.

CASH FLOW PROBLEMS
Charges were filed Sunday against Gregoria Degollado for failure to pay for gasoline purchased the previous day from Ince Oil Co. #15 at 401 South Second.

Police reported that he purchased 10.8 gallons of unleaded gasoline on Saturday. Since the man contended that he was unable to pay the bill, the suspect reportedly left his driver's license with an attendant at the firm and promised to return the following day with the money.

Twenty-four hours later, the Police Department was contacted.

A second individual with a cash flow problem ran into trouble early Saturday morning. The man, Steven Garza of Floydada, reportedly entered the All-sport store at 102 East Houston about 2:40 a.m., opened a package of cookies and ate some of the cookies.

He allegedly laid $2 and an unopened package of chips on the counter and left. Cost of the cookies was $2.42. Shoplifting charges are anticipated.

LAWN MOWER STOLEN
Philip D. Smitherman reported last Wednesday to the Police Department that a new lawnmower, valued at $150, had been stolen from the backyard residence at 1116 S. Main. This was a 22-inch red Gebo's mower with a 3 1/2 HP Briggs-Stratton engine.

Three vehicles were involved in a 4:30 p.m. accident last Wednesday, May 6, at South Second and West California. According to officers, an '83 Toyota Celica driven by Lori Christian was attempting a left turn into a private drive and a '77 Chevrolet Camaro driven by Jodi Morrison had stopped to allow for the turn. An '84 Chevrolet Monte Carlo driven by Tana Perry reportedly struck the Camaro and drove it into the Christian vehicle.

All three drivers are Floydada High students. Miss Morrison was taken to Caprock Hospital by her mother.

"Extensive damage" was sustained by the Monte Carlo, while only "minor damage" was received by the other cars.

FOSTER CARE MONTH—As foster care worker Phyllis Coleman looks on, Judge Bill Hardin signs a proclamation designating May as Texas Focus on Foster Care Month in this county. —Staff photo

Proclamation

There are more than 5,000 children in foster care in the State of Texas. Social agencies, both public and private, and dedicated foster parents provide these children with a caring environment that will help them become responsible citizens. The purpose of foster care is to provide a substitute family for the child, while social agencies work with the parents to improve home conditions so that the child can return to his family, or if this is not possible, to find a suitable adoptive home for the child. Texas State Foster Parents, local foster parent associations and 2,500 Texas foster parents have initiated programs to create greater public awareness of the needs of foster children and the roles and responsibilities of foster families. THEREFORE, I, William D. Hardin, County Judge of Floyd County, Texas, do hereby designate the month of May, 1987, as and urge all state and local officials, public and voluntary agencies, and private groups to give special attention to the needs of foster children and to plan concerted action between agencies and citizens for the continued improvement and strengthening of services for foster children.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 5th day of May, 1987.

/s/ William D. Hardin
The Honorable William D. Hardin
County Judge

FOSTER CARE FACILITIES

Currently, three licensed foster care facilities exist in Floyd County. Requirements to be a licensed foster care facility are: Complete foster care training, complete home study, pass fire and environmental inspections, have current TB test, pet vaccinations, copy of marriage license and agree to have a criminal check conducted.

The person for interested individuals to contact concerning the foster care program is Phyllis Coleman in Plainview at 293-5193. Ms. Coleman is available to conduct presentations about foster care. She can be reached at the phone number listed above.

Foster homes are needed to provide emergency and long-term care. Children in foster care range in age from birth to 17. They are from all ethnic and socio-economic groups.

Proclamation

WHEREAS, The All-American Buckle Up is a nationwide challenge asking citizens to make safety a lifetime habit by using child safety seats and wearing their safety belt every time they get into a motor vehicle; and

WHEREAS, The safety of all citizens of the city of Floydada is among one of the most important functions of our society; and,

WHEREAS, Motor Vehicle crashes are the leading cause of violent deaths for people between the ages of six and fifty in the United States — more than 44,241 in 1984, and 45,600 in 1985; and,

WHEREAS, Safety belts could prevent 40 to 50 percent of the traffic fatalities and reduce the number of serious injuries by 45 to 55 percent; and,

WHEREAS, The use of safety belts and child safety seats are known to be the best defense against the drunk and drugged driver; and,

WHEREAS, The current nationwide economic losses resulting from traffic crashes exceed $65 billion each year; and,

WHEREAS, The All American Buckle Up provides the opportunity to increase safety belt usage in Floydada, Texas;

NOW, THEREFORE, I Parnell Powell Mayor of the city of Floydada, Texas, do hereby proclaim May 18, through May 25, 1987, as "ALL AMERICAN BUCKLE UP WEEK" in Floydada, and ask all citizens to use their safety belts for themselves and their safety belts and child safety seats for their young passengers, and to remind their other passengers to buckle up. In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 18th day of May 1987.

Sales tax rebates down for most

State comptroller Bob Bullock forwarded checks totaling $97.9 million to local entities that levy the one-percent city sales tax on May 8. These checks represent taxes collected on sales made in March and reported to the comptroller by April 20. Bullock said "1987 payments were down 7 percent as compared to payments to date made in May of 1986.

Floydada received a check in the amount of $12,700.46, bringing the year to date total up to $46,339.95. This is an increase of 6.91% over 1986 payments.

Lockney garnered a rebate of $6,114.03, making the 1987 total to date $21,787.67. This is an increase of 11.10% over the amount received at this time in 1986. Other area cities and their rebates are listed below, along with the percent of change.

Lubbock	$1,396,449.91	-8.23%

Letter to The Editor

The Editor
Floyd County Hesperian
Floydada, Texas

We would like to thank you for your interest in the welfare of the children in Floyd County. Thank you for publishing the articles concerning child abuse during April, "Child Abuse Awareness" month.

Some of your readers may have recently learned that Floyd County will soon be losing our Children's Protective Services Specialist, Regi Gross. She and her husband will be moving to Lubbock this summer. Due to recent legislative cutbacks of the State budget, many positions in the Department of Human Services will no longer exist or be replaced when openings occur.

Regi's job as a Children's Protective Services Specialist is to investigate all cases of reported child abuse and help parents to improve parenting skills. She has brought programs to many organizations, as well as to children and teachers in the public schools, to help raise community awareness of child abuse.

Floyd, Briscoe, and Motley counties are served by one employee of the CPS. As many other rural areas, these counties are suffering much financial distress due to the lagging agricultural economy. Children suffer when their parents suffer stress of any kind. It is unreasonable to expect an already overloaded case worker from Amarillo or Lubbock to take on any new cases, some in remote areas. Only Priority I Cases - those in which a child's life is immediately endangered - would be investigated extensively. Only limited investigations would be conducted for Priority II Cases - where children are in safety - or health-endangering situations. Priority III Cases - those where children are at high risk of abuse and neglect (often because of a parent who was known to have been abused as a child) will become virtually non-existent. Priority III Cases are the ones where Regi is doing some outstanding work in teaching good parenting skills and helping to prevent child abuse.

We need a Children's Protective Services worker in these counties. We are asking your readers to write to let the Regional Director know we need a replacement for Regi. This needs to be done soon. Won't you please help us protect the future of our communities - the children?

Write to Fred Seale, Regional Director of Family and Children Services, P.O. Box 10528, Lubbock, Texas 79408. Sincerely,
/s/ Linda Matsler
Linda Matsler, President
Floyd County Child Welfare Board

Dear Jim,
Since I work well under a deadline, I have done more writing in the last month that I have in the last year.
You are a good newspaper man, and it takes one to know one. I worked for Homer Steen as a young journalism student, and he taught me more than I ever learned in school. My dream was to own a country newspaper, but educating my family and teaching got in the way of my writing the great American novel. I had always hoped to write a book with the influence for social justice like Uncle Tom's Cabin.
My two years of teaching at Della

Plain were two of the happiest of my life. The Black people have such generous spirits, and I learned much about love from them.

Prejudice is such a terrible thing. Before we integrated the school, I was the first white teacher these children had met. One of the children was being very difficult, and a little Black boy named Larry Collier advised me, "You just love her and you will get the blessing."

Fifty years ago when I was graduated from Denver University, I won the Denver and Rio Grande Feature Award. I applied to the Denver Post, but at that time women were not allowed even to read copy.

On summer vacations I edited the social page for the Hesperian, and at that time Mr. B.F. McIntosh was the printer. It was not offset printing and very often the press would break down and we would be until midnight before the Hesperian was put to bed.

Before I sign "30" I need to express these sentiments. As you know I have a grandson, Worth Shipley Anderson, who is endowed with the same God given talent for writing, but he is winning all his debates in high school so he may become a lawyer.

People have been so wonderfully kind to me in this my "home town" — that I pray to have an attitude of gratitude.

Your Friend,
Worth Gwendolyn Howard

(Editor's note: Thanks, Worth, for your letter which takes us down memory lane. I remember doing a little typesetting for Mr. Steen and recall well those cantankerous old presses. As an original and present stockholder in Blanco Offset Printing, I remember, too, the conversion to offset printing. During Blanco's infancy years I vividly recall how — in between Blanco managers — Butch Gilliland, another fellow and I frequently saw the sun come up on Thursday morning while we were finishing the printing of area newspapers. Journalism is indeed a rewarding, and frequently trying, profession which we both fully appreciate. Again, thanks, for the memories from yesteryear. JR)

Courtroom Activities

In district court on Monday, May 11, Ray Hernandez of Floyd County, pled guilty to two forgery indictments. He received a total of three years deferred adjudication probation and was fined $150.00. He was also ordered to pay total restitution of $1,050 and court costs of $126.00.

In county court May 12, two men were charged with DWI. Armando Ruiz, Jr., 40, of Plainview, was charged with DWI, but there was no disposition on this case.

Hector Molina, 20, of Lockney, was charged with his 2nd offense of DWI and his bond was set at $500.00. There was no further disposition on this case. In J.P. court for the week May 5-12, there were 48 misdemeanor cases filed.

SHERIFF'S REPORT

Two DWI charges have been filed during the week, according to Sheriff Fred Cardinal.

CARD OF THANKS

We are at a total loss for words to express our sincere appreciation for the outpouring of prayers, love, and support in the loss of our dear Darryn Kay. It would be almost inappropriate to single out any one person or group of persons who helped all of us through this tragic ordeal. However, we would be remiss if we did not mention several for "special" thanks, including members of Floydada Chapter No. 31, O.E.S., Whirlwind Sams, and 1950 Study Club; Marge and H.C. McElyea; Nancy Willson, Joy and Tommy Assiter; Lee Battey and Penny Ogden for the inspirational music; Brother Hal Farnsworth and Rev. Earl Blair for the beautiful services. We love all of you and are most thankful for your being there when we needed you.
