Ag disaster designation sought by county

Congressman Beau Boulter visited in Floyd County on Sunday, but his mission was farm from a social call.

Farmers and officials of this county are eager to secure an agriculture disaster designation after the county has been reportedly pelted by hail storms. Most of the county has sustained crop damage "at one time or another."

"About two dozen" producers and elected officials from Floyd and Briscoe counties were gathered at Floydada Municipal Airport when Congressman Boulter's plane set down shortly before 10:30 a.m.

Producers showed the congressman crop ruins and healthy plants for comparisons.

He visited with these people at the airport before being driven by Lockney Mayor Dan Smith, himself a farmer, to various points in the county which have sustained crop loss or damage. Other officials, including Floyd County Judge Bill Hardin and Briscoe County Judge Jimmy Ross, accompanied them on the tour.

Besides the two county judges and Mayor Smith, other officials present to confer with Boulter were Commissioners Floyd Jackson and Thomas Warren; Bob Lotspeich, executive director of the Floyd County ASCS office; and Tommy Fondren of Lorenzo, a past president of Plains Cotton Growers.

The tour began in the South Plains area and progressed to other communities. Several vehicles comprised the entourage.

GOVERNOR NOTIFIED

Judge Hardin has forwarded a letter to Governor Bill Clements and the county ASCS office has submitted a damage report to the ASCS headquarters. "The paper work should be in the governor's hands by now," Lotspeich told The Hesperian on Tuesday.

The judge's request to the governor and the ASCS damage report are normal steps in seeking the disaster designation.

Floyd County has approximately 495,000 acres of cropland, which includes approximately 42,000 acres of land placed in the CRP program.

"I don't know whether it's high or low," Lotspeich says of his estimate that some 70,000 acres of crops have been "destroyed or have had very severe damage."

The estimate includes 58,400 acres of cotton, 7,000 acres of grain sorghum, 3,500 acres of corn and 1,100 acres of vegetables.

These figures comprise "about 35 percent — that's a rough estimate" of the county's cropland. Not included are many additional acres which have sustained lesser damage.

THREE STORMS

The Floyd ASCS official says three storms have inflicted heavy damage in this county. They occurred on June 29, July 12 and July 14, with the latter cloud entering the north section of the county and advancing into Crosby County on the south. The July 14 storm "covered the largest area."

The Cedar Hill area, which sustained the brunt of the July 12 cloud, also had damage two nights later.

An area from south of Lockney to McCoy were targets of the June 29 hail.

According to information secured by this newspaper, hardest hit areas last Tuesday were South Plains, Cedar Hill and along a line to the south and southwest of those points.

One farmer told The Hesperian that the most severe hail belt ended "about a mile and a half east of the Lakeview Gin." He added that Dougherty has escaped heavy hail damage and has "one of its best crops in several years."

Sterley and areas around Lone Star were hard hit on July 14, although "the town of Lone Star itself" had little or no hail. Sterley had not suffered previous hail damage.

"There are a few little spots not damaged around Sandhill and Barwise," this newspaper was told.

The July 14 thunderstorms deposited heavy hail in Briscoe County and also in the northeastern section of Crosby County. Hail damage was received northeast of Crosbyton last Saturday.

FISD approves $154,895 for school improvements

Meeting in regular session on July 16, the trustees for Floydada Independent School District approved expenditures from a variety of funds for capital improvements, new additions and equipment.

The two largest expenditures will be funded by federal and state funds the district has on hand. These items are a Title I Reading Lab for A.B. Duncan Elementary and a Functional Living Center for R.C. Andrews Elementary.

The reading lab will house two classrooms and a computer lab. Two bids were received on the construction of the facility. Larry Westbrook Construction of Floydada submitted a bid of $53,500 while ILCOR of Austin bid $38,556. A motion by Weldon Pruitt, seconded by Charlene Brown, awarded the project to ILCOR by unanimous vote.

The Functional Living Center, a standard three bedroom home equipped for use by handicapped students, will serve as an instructional tool for special students in everyday activities. Five bidders submitted offers on this construction. Fed Selman Enterprises of Plainview bid $85,377.60. A bid of $61,750 came from Jones Construction of Afton and Frontier Homes of Lubbock bid $59,460. Tommy Klein (represented by Bob Alldredge) of Sweetwater bid $51,572 and Larry Westbrook Construction of Floydada (represented by Larry Westbrook) bid $49,500. The project was awarded to Mr. Westbrook on a motion by John Dunlap, seconded by Michael Hinsley and passed unanimously.

Renovation of the exterior of R.C. Andrews Elementary was approved on a motion by Brown, seconded by Adolfo Garcia. The board approved awarding the contact to Karr Tuckpointing of Denton, Iowa, on a bid of $21,089. Other bidders included Rudd Palmer of Amarillo, $25,799, and Roof Maintenance of Amarillo, $33,300.

New intercom and bell systems will be in operation at both Floydada High School and A.B. Duncan Elementary at the start of school this fall. Audio-Video of Lubbock received the nod for the Sunday morning to view destroyed and damaged crops in Floyd County. He is shown here at the Floydada airport.

PLENTY OF ACTION—All ages are making preparations to participate in the week-end of events at Burleson Memorial Roping.

Burleson annual Memorial Roping scheduled Friday through Sunday

Burleson Arena "headquarters" on Farm Road 2009, east of Flomot, will become a beehive of activity Friday, Saturday and Sunday as the annual Burleson Memorial Roping unfolds.

A total of $3,000 will be given during the three days of events.

Activities are to include a western art show, washer pitching contest, cutting horse contest, youth horse events, team ropings, team penning and pasture roping teams.

A drawing will be held at 3 p.m. Sunday for a horse and a filly colt.

All profits go to the Scholarship Fund of the Ranch and Feedlot course at Clarendon Junior College.

DEDICATION

The 1987 benefit is being dedicated to the memory of Jack C. Lackey, H.B. (Jack) Johnson, John Barnhill and Eliza Jones.

"It is with appreciation that we want to remember these people who were supporters of the Memorial Roping," according to members of the Burleson family.

Coordinated by Jo Goen, the western art show will again be held in the "old barn" at headquarters, beginning at 10 a.m. and continuing "all day Saturday." Local artists participating this year are Penny Golightly, Margaret Calahan, Jack Robertson and Jo Goen.

Works of other area artists appearing in the old barn include June Keltz of Matador, Christeen Robertson of Flo-mot, Ruth Barnett of Hale Center, Vicki Diggs of Tahoka, Billie Byrd of Petersburg and Buster Jones of Lubbock. All art work on display will be available for purchase.

Three divisions — ranch, novice and open — of cuttin horse competition are scheduled for Friday. Entry books open Convenience store or delivery site?

Second Floydada child born on Allsup's parking lot in Lorenzo

Odds were astronomical against a Floydada child being born on the parking lot of a Lorenzo convenience store.

How about two in a row?

Yep, it happened Friday night when Beverly Williams, her husband and a relative were in a hectic race with the stork to reach Lubbock General Hospital.

The stork won!

Mrs. Williams gave birth to her third child, a son, about 8:35 p.m. The birth occurred shortly before a three-person ambulance crew from Lorenzo arrived at the scene.

The delivery site was the Allsup's parking lot in Lorenzo. Stephanie Renee Flores, daughter of Julio and Shondai Flores of Floydada, was born in the same location early Friday morning, July 10, only seven days before the arrival of the Williams child.

"When we got there it had already been born," Tura Mankins, an ambulance volunteer in Lorenzo, told The Hesperian. The ambulance, with Mrs. Mankins and two male attendants, arrived "shortly" after the birth.

"I was pretty disappointed when I missed the first one (delivery) the week before," Mrs. Mankins said. She just missed her first opportunity to play the role of midwife.

Asked about the infant's size, the ambulance attendant responded, "If I was guessing, I would say he weighed around eight pounds. He was a good size boy."

Mrs. Williams and her third child suffered no complications in the unusual delivery.

The father reportedly assisted with the delivery.

"When we got there, him (father) and the mama and the baby were all in the back seat" of the "older model" auto. "Yeah, they were pretty excited," Mrs. Mankins answered.

The Lorenzo ambulance carried the mother and new-born on to Lubbock General Hospital "as soon as we got her loaded up." The father attempted to follow in his vehicle, but experienced mechanical problems.

The Hesperian was unable to learn the name of either the father or the child.

Odds would be phenomenal against a third Floydada mother giving birth on the Allsup's parking lot in Lorenzo. But who would have guessed the birth place of the other two Floydada children?

The 1841 Texan Santa Fe expedition coming

Commencing with next week's July 30 edition, The Floyd County Hesperian will carry a five-part series on the 1841 Texan Santa Fe Expedition. This chronicle will be based upon research papers authored by Marisue Potts and Bill Gray.

Mrs. Potts' paper entitled, "The Texan-Santa Fe Expedition of 1841 - A Valiant, Misguided Effort for the Republic," was prepared for the General James Smith Chapter, Daughters of the Republic of Texas, in 1984. Gray's work, "A Masonic View of the 1841 Texan Santa Fe Expedition," was presented in 1986 to the Texas Lodge of Research, A.F.&A.M.

Much of the material for both accounts was derived from George W. Kendall's Narrative of the Texan-Santa Fe Expedition (The recollections of a well-known journalist and a member of the campaign), Noel Loomis' The Texan Santa Fe Pioneers, Walter P. Webb's The Handbook of Texas, Yoakum's History of Texas. Additional data was garnered from the writings of H. Bailey Carroll, the highly-respected historian of Texas and the Southwest. Carroll's The Texan Santa Fe Trail was published by the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society in 1951.

It was taken primarily from the personal diaries of George W. Grover, Thomas Falconer, and Peter Gallagher - all members of the ill-fated expedition. Thomas S. Lubbock, a lieutenant in the military escort, wrote an article published by the Colorado Gazette and Advertiser in 1842, following his escape from captivity. His revelations played a significant part in prompting U.S. and Texas intervention in gaining the release of the survivors of the expedition.

An important event of the campaign occurred in the far northeastern corner of present-day Floyd County. A decision was made to divide the command with the first group ordered to proceed to the western colonies of the Republic of Texas.

The remaining party encamped, awaiting assistance and supplies. The site was thereafter known as "Camp Resolution." This incident was brought to the attention of the Floyd County Historical Commission, which deemed the location warrented historical recognition. Documentation was furnished by Gray and Mrs. Potts to the Texas Historical Commission, resulting in an approval for a marker commemorating the Camp Resolution Site.

A second marker, honoring the Masons on the expedition, has been authorized by the Grand Lodge of Texas, A.F.&A.M.

The forthcoming articles will tell of the hardships, trials, and tribulations of the 1841 Expedition. It is a story of: the rigors of the trail by inexperienced pioneers; the first crossing of the Llano Estacado by white men; the first Anglo-Indian encounter using repeating rifles; a treacherous betrayal; man's "inhumanity to man" on the death march to the prisons; the cunning and ingenuity of proud men having been deprived and stripped of all worldly possession; the futility of imprisonment for no legal reason; and the impact that the failure of the expedition had on the relations between the Republic of Texas and Mexico, and, later, the United States and Mexico.

 installation on a bid of $18,850, $9,870 for high school and $8,980 for the elementary. The single other bidder was Simplex at a total of $21,529. A motion by Pruitt and seconded by Brown was passed by board members present.

One bidder, Bothwell Enterprises of Plainview, submitted the only bid for a new activity bus for use by the high school. A motion by Brown, seconded by Garcia, accepted the $27,000 bid with the remainder of the board agreeing.

Acting on bids received by the district for the sale of school owned properties acquired in the recent annexation of Dougherty Independent School District to Floydada Independent School District, the board chose to accept the bids on the three bedroom teacherage and reject the bids on the two bedroom teacherage and the school building.

Four bidders submitted offers for the larger house. They were Tony Martinez, $6,500; James Lovell, $2,100; Travis Jones, $8,500; and Motley County, $11,575. A motion by Pruitt, seconded by Dunlap approved the sale of the house to Motley County.

A single bid of $500 on the school was rejected as were two bids on the small house. The bidders on the small house were James Lovell, $750 and Travis Jones, $475. Both properties will be readvertised for bids in the future.

Board members approved the annual contract with the Education Service Center for media services which provides films for classes K through 12 each year. Unanimous approval of a motion by Brown, seconded by Hinsley authorized the measure.

Administrative assistant Jimmie Collins presented the tax report, stating that collections totaling $780,890.49 have been received, leaving an uncollected balance of $36,756.29. Collins indicated that this total is 95.47 percent of the total tax collection expected and is "a little ahead of last year."

Superintendent Jerry Cannon presented resignations from band director Paul Stapp and high school special education VAO instructor James Lovell. He also presented employment applications for several positions. Rondale Newton and Dale Newton were approved as special education teachers, Eddie Pace was hired as band director, Kathy Jahay was employed as elementary counselor for Title I and migrant at A.B. Duncan, Dale Jahay was approved to fill the special education of VAC slot, Carlon Beedy was hired as high school aide, Vickie Emert was approved as Title I aide at high school and Janie Devin was hired for high school English and annual sponsor.

Attending the Thursday session was board members Freddie Morren, Brown, Hinsley, Garcia, Dunlap and Pruitt. Don Hardy was not present. Also attending were Superintendent Cannon, Administrative Assistant Collins, Joe Stepp and the Hesperian reporter.

at 10 a.m. and cutting begins at 11 o'clock.

SATURDAY ACTIVITIES

Books on youth horse events open at 8 a.m. Saturday and events start an hour later. Youngsters do not have to be members of 4-H to participate in any of the three age divisions.

Team roping books open at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, with ropings scheduled to begin at noon.

Also on Saturday, the washer pitching starts at 9 a.m. under the hay barn, and the art show gets underway at the old barn.

Sunday activities begin with team penning at 8 a.m. Introduction of the pasture roping teams will be at noon and the roping begins at 1 p.m.

Gate admission is $2 each day or $3 for three days.

WASHER PITCHING

A different aspect is planned in the washer pitching event. Any team that pitches at the Burleson festivities will qualify to participate in the World Championship Washer Pitch Tournament, scheduled for Amarillo in October.

Previously the washer pitch at Burleson Memorial had not been a qualifying tournament.

"Washer pitching is similar to pitching horseshoes and can build up as much excitement as one team, which is comprised of two-members, continues to eliminate one team after another," the Burlesons explain. The 2 1/2 inch washers are pitched into three inch cups which are flush with the ground.

A score of 21 points constitutes a game.

Teams may consist of father-son, husband-wife, two females or two males, all of whom compete in one division.

"This is an event that all ages can participate in and have a good time," according to the Burlesons. Belt buckles go to each member of the winning team, and prize money goes to other competitors.

The Burleson "clan" and "faithful friends and neighbors" present the event each summer.

"This three-day week-end of events — cutting horse, youth horse activities, washer pitching, western art, team penning, pasture roping and the drawing for horse and filly colts — could not be possible without the support, donations of time and talent of neighbors an so many friends to make it a success," according to the Burlesons.

Silverton child felled by meningitis

The death of Tanya Wilkinson, a 2½ year old Silverton girl, has been attributed to bacterial meningitis caused by haemophilus influenza infection (Hib) following an autopsy. This fatality is the first in the South Plains area reported this year.

A total of 14 cases have been reported in this region to date in 1987. Ten occurred in Lubbock and three in areas outside the city limits of Lubbock. None of the 13 was fatal.

Floyd County Justice of the Peace Lowell Bilbrey ordered the autopsy after he was called to Caprock Hospital in Floydada "about 4:00 in the afternoon" to examine the body of the child. Nurses and doctors at the facility told Bilbrey that the child had been brought in from Silverton "in an unresponsive condition and expired shortly after arrival."

Stated Bilbrey, "I ordered the autopsy because there were no readily apparent indications of the cause of death. The mother of the child reported only that the girl had run a little fever for a day or two."

mann performed the autopsy in Lubbock and confirmed the cause of death the next day. Family, friends, medical personnel and others who may have been exposed to the infection were notified so that they could obtain vaccinations to prevent the spread of the disease.

No other cases of the disease have been reported according to Bilbrey, although two other children living in the home were taken to Lubbock General Hospital for treatment.

According to Lubbock's public health director, Dr. Anthony Way, the Hib virus is the most common cause of bacterial meningitis in the U.S. and one in every 200 children will contract some form of the infection.

In the majority of the cases, the infection is local in nature, resulting only in ear, nose and throat infections manifested as tonsillitis or sinusitis stated Way. He explained that if the infection spreads into the blood stream and infects the entire body, meningitis can develop. He also added that "No one understands why the infection progresses into meningitis in these cases."

Way said that the infection results when the covering of the brain and the spinal cord become inflamed. Hib is contagious and progresses very rapidly once it develops into meningitis, according to Way, but appropriate antibiotic treatment has lowered the mortality rate of this type of meningitis to "5 percent."

A vaccine against the Hib virus was developed in 1985. Children under the age of two should be immunized, but the disease rarely strikes children who have passed the age of five said Way.

Funeral services for Tanya Wilkinson were scheduled for 3 p.m. Wednesday in Silverton Church of Christ with Ted Kingery, minister, and Earl Cantwell of Rock Creek officiating. Burial was to be in Citizens Cemetery in Clarendon by Schooler-Gordon Funeral Directors.

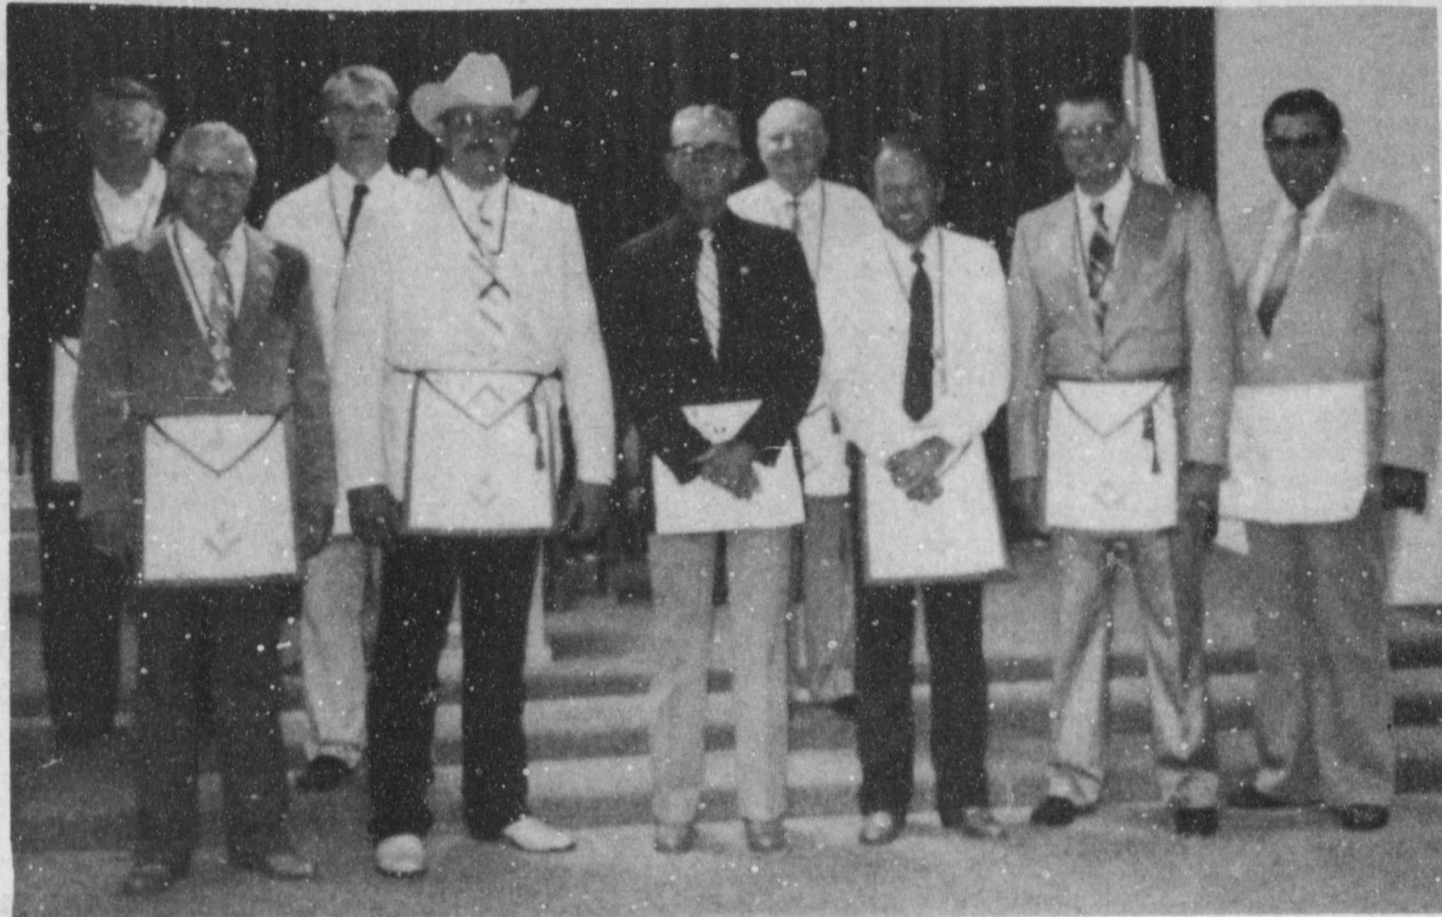

Tanya was born November 10, 1984 in Lockney.

Survivors include her mother, Sheila Wilkinson, a sister, Misty, of the home and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G.H. Wilkinson of Silverton. Also surviving are two uncles, one aunt and eight cousins.

Pallbearers were to be Cliff Wilkinson, Jeff Wilkinson, J.J. Wilkinson, Dusty Wilkinson, Brian Wilkinson and Terry Miller.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor;

Concerning the farm situation: In the past couple of weeks thousands of acres of crops have been hailed out on the South Plains. Interest rates are creeping up and fuel costs are increasing.

These and numerous other things have caused the farm depression of the past few years. A large number of farmers have gone out of business recently and more may be forced out soon.

Through the JTPA (Job Training Partnership Act) help is available. If a farm family has gone out of business because of foreclosure, bankruptcy, or the inability to secure an operating loan they are eligible for the "Displaced Farmer Program."

The program can help the family find jobs or enroll in a school to learn a new profession.

In 1986, 82 farm family members either went into on job training or several different vocational schools to learn a new trade.

If you would like to know more about the Displaced Farmer Program call: Caprock Community Action Joe Priddy 675-2732 in Crosbyton, Alton Painter 293-4397 in Plainview, or James Martin 894-6104 in Levelland.

Yours truly, /s/ Joe Priddy

Trio of communities will hold annual get-together

Lighthouse Electric Cooperative headquarters in Floydada will be the site this Sunday, July 26, for the annual "get-together" of Mt. Blanco, Lakeview and Pleasant Hill communities. Present and former residents of the three communities are invited.

The reunion begins at 10 a.m.

A pot luck-picnic is planned at 1 p.m. Bread and drinks will be furnished, along with forks, spoons, napkins and plates.

Organizers say that "Lots of reminiscing, picture taking and just visiting will be enjoyed. Anyone and their family and friends who have lived in any of the communities are invited. Come all. Bring a dish and enjoy the day with us!"

Parents of the couple are Dewane and Pat Franklin and John Burns and Clara Burns, all of Floydada.

The couple exchanged vows before an altar centered with a 15-branch arched brass candelabra entwined with plumosa fern, babies breath and yellow and white daisies. Large fan arrangements in yellow and white Dutch flowers flanked the altar and the unity candle-abra completed the scene. Pews were marked with sprays of plumosa fern and babies breath tied with yellow satin ribbon.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose to wear the gown that her mother had worn at her wedding. The bodice and sleeves of her white, satin gown were accented with white lace. Her cathedral length train was attached to a drop waist with white satin bows. She wore a white veil accented by white satin leaves and pearls. Completing her attire were a pearl necklace borrowed from her sister and a diamond heart necklace given to her by the groom. A pearl bracelet and earrings were borrowed from her mother. Her blue garter, made by her great-grandmother, had also been worn by her mother on her wedding day. In her shoes she had two pennies, minted in the year of the couple's birth dates.

The bride carried a cascade bouquet of white and pale yellow silk flowers. Aspera, lilies, roses, lilac blossoms and babies breath were interspersed with sprays of seed pearls and iridescent chantilly lace minifans. The bouquet was specially designed for her by her sister, Karrie Williams.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was her sister, Karrie Williams of Floydada. She carried a white lace fan accented with a cluster of yellow baby roses, alstromeria, white baby mums and babies breath. Sprays of seed pearls and white lace ribbon completed the fan.

Honorary flower girl was Whitney Lynn Williams, seven-week-old niece of the bride. She wore a corsage consisting of a single yellow sweetheart rose and babies breath.

Make fast food We Salute... good food

"It's too hot to cook," is heard more and more as summer temperatures climb, and people turn to convenient fast food restaurants. Fortunately, smart consumers can find good nutritional values in their quest to beat the heat. "The restaurant industry is responding to the consumer demand for more nutritional and lower calorie meals," says Dr. Dymple Cooksey, a nutritionist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service. "Fast food chains are especially making an effort to attract health conscious people." Many fast food chains are trying to improve the nutritional value of their products by cutting back on sodium and fat. A few chains have even switched to using polyunsaturated fats in their deep fryers in efforts to gain public approval and patronage. Cooksey points out. Salad bars, pizza, and a variety of ethnic foods can be nutritious and low calorie if high calorie toppings aren't added. According to Cooksey, "Eating fast food doesn't have to be a high-calorie fatty experience."

The bride, presented in marriage by her father, was attired in a white debutante satin gown with chapel length train. The fitted bodice was edged at the neck and waist by scalloped braid accented with rhinestones and pearl drops. Rhinestones also decorated the hem of the dress. The veil was of illusion with pearls cascading to one side. The bouquet was of daisies and pink roses.

The bride's sister, Melissa Jan Brown of Houston, attended as maid of honor. She wore a tea-length gown of royal blue satin under crystalline with a

Myra G. Burris new executive director of Girl Scout Council

The Board of Directors of Caprock Girl Scout Council announces that Myra G. Burris has assumed the position of executive director of the council.

Ms. Burris was formerly program director of Hornets' Nest Girl Scout Council, Charlotte, N.C., and has 14 years experience as a professional staff person with Girl Scouting. She has established her residence in Lubbock and has already begun to plan many programs and activities for Caprock Council.

As a girl in the program for 10 years she earned the coveted Curved Bar, the highest girl-award available before the introduction of the present Gold Award. In 1959, she was selected to attend Girl Scout Senior Roundup in Colorado, Springs, Colorado.

When she is asked about why Girl Scouting serves the five-year-old girl, she is quick to note that even these very young children must learn to live in the real world where everyone is in a hurry. Children must be able to care for themselves and for others; Girl Scouting helps them develop good, strong values in the midst of it all, according to Ms. Burris.

Young people today from kindergarten age through high school have support from their families, schools and religious community but Mr. Burris believes Girl Scouting provides an additional role model that is so important to their development. "The Girl Scout leader shows a girl that it is OK not to have all the answers, that what is important is that you are willing to give of yourself and your time as a caring volunteer," she said.

Ms. Burris says she's enjoyed getting to know the people and the stark beauty of the Caprock Council area. She emphasized, "The quality of volunteers here is wonderful and they can call us anytime. I really want to reach out to all 18 counties."

Caprock Girl Scout Council encompasses the counties of Parmer, Castro, Swisher, Briscoe, Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Motley, Cochran, Hockley, Crosby, Dickens, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza and Lubbock.

Update on immigration law

Farmers-ranchers eligible for petroleum rebate

"Between Aug. 19, 1973, and Jan. 27, 1981, a number of oil companies illegally charged excessive prices for crude oil," according to local Farm Bureau officials. "These overcharges were passed on to consumers of petroleum products. Texas Farm Bureau is working to help farmers and ranchers receive their portion of these oil overcharge refunds."

forms — available at the Farm Bureau office in Floydada — is all that is required for a person to obtain his/her refund. "Just itemize your purchases of petroleum products for the overcharge period. If records are not available, the refund application allows you to estimate your petroleum use if you tell how you arrived at your estimate."

for all gasoline, diesel fuel, heating oil, propane, motor oil and lubricants used on or off the farm purchased between August 1973 and January 1981 from suppliers other than co-ops. "Products purchased from a farm co-op do not qualify, since co-ops have already received refunds which are intended to benefit farmer-patrons. Refund amounts will vary, but will be between $0.0008 and $0.0015 per gallon."

From Richard Crow, CEA-Ag
The following is an article that might be of interest to many agricultural producers of Floyd County. The article was written by Richard A. Edwards, economist-marketing, Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The article is an update on the immigration law.

Due to various circumstances, the Immigration Service has amended several portions of the Immigration Reform and Control Act passed last November. The latest changes announced last week concern the eligibility provisions of the special agricultural workers (SAW) program, and clarification of the policy which will guide INS while imposing sanctions against employers.

Under previous SAW rules, illegal farm workers were ineligible to apply for legal status in this country if they had arrived after May 1 of this year. That date has been changed to June 26. The workers still must prove that they worked in the perishable-agriculture industry at least 90 man-days during the year ending May 1, 1986.

For those workers who are eligible for legalization under the SAW program, but are not presently in this country, they have to present all documentation to an authorized center within their country. Thus a "catch 22" situation, they had to have documents from employers, etc., showing eligibility but they could not come back to this country to gather the documents.

The new rules allow SAW applicants to complete the application form, pay their fee and give "reasonable statements" about their work that qualifies them as a SAW employee. They will be issued an employment authorization card which allows them to come into this country legally. The worker must promise to provide the needed documents within 90 days. If this is not done, the illegal alien is subject to removal from this country.

The changes affecting employers concern the INS investigations and enforcement of sanctions. Initially, sanctions were to be enforced on June 1. This was officially moved back to July 1 and could be delayed until September 1 if a congressional compromise is reached. This has not been done at this time, so the official date of the start of sanctions is July 1.

The INS previously announced that any violations found on the part of the employer would be cited, but no fine would be levied for a one year period after the start of the sanctions. Fines could be imposed if subsequent violations were found during that one year.

The INS now has stated that the firm visit will be to provide information at consultation about the employee's responsibilities under the law. After the initial visit, a citation would be issued if the employer was still out of compliance. Fines would be made only on the third visit rather than the second visit as was previous policy.

One final item, there has been a list written about the commodities which are considered as perishable under the SAW provisions of the Act. The general categories are fruits and vegetables of all types and other perishable able" list, but not so widely known, are wheat, corn, rice, soybeans, mush rooms, rice, oats and peanuts.

If you are a grower of any product on the latter list, and illegal aliens worked for 90 man-days during the year ending May 1, 1986, they are eligible for legalization under the SAW program.

Questions and Answers Regarding Applications for Refund from Crude Oil Overcharge Funds

The following Questions and Answers prepared by the Department of Energy are intended to provide information concerning the filing of an application for refund from crude oil overcharge funds now held by DOE. Anyone using these Questions and Answers should be aware that they are intended as general guidance only. For more information, please consult the DOE procedural regulations and the refund decisions of the Office of Hearings and Appeals.

Q. Who may submit a refund application?

A. Anyone who purchased refined petroleum products in the United States during the period August 1973 through January 1981 may file for a refund. (Anyone who has already obtained a refund from a so-called Stripper Well escrow account may not receive another crude oil refund from the DOE.) Anyone who has received a refund from the DOE in a refined product refund proceeding may receive an additional refund.

Q. What purchases are eligible for refunds?

A. You may base your claim on your purchase of any product refined from crude oil. These purchases must have been made between Aug. 19, 1973 and Jan. 27, 1981. Eligible products include motor gasoline, diesel fuel, heating oil, propane, motor oil, greases, and other refined products. Purchases of energy sources which are unrelated to crude oil, such as natural gas, natural gas liquids and electricity, are not eligible for refunds.

Q. What if I purchased crude oil?

A. These Questions and Answers are not applicable to you. For more information, contact the person identified in final question.

Q. If I file a refund application, how much will I get?

A. For the crude oil overcharge funds now held by the DOE, we anticipate that an applicant will receive approximately $80 per 100,000 gallons of products purchased. Initially there is a refund available of $20 per 100,000 gallons. We anticipate that the refund amount will increase shortly to $80 per 100,000 gallons. This refund amount will grow as more crude oil overcharge funds are collected by the DOE. DOE's policy is to not issue a check for under $15. At the present refund level, a claimant must have purchase 18,750 gallons in order to get a refund.

Q. Do I need a lawyer to file a refund claim?

A. We have designed the refund process so that the typical applicant does not need professional assistance in filing a claim.

Q. OK, I've decided that it's worth my while to file. How do I file for my refund?

A. The requirements are simple. First, go to your records and determine the number of gallons of each refined petroleum product you purchased during the qualifying period—August 1973 through January 1981. See second question for a listing of refined petroleum products. Then, complete the official form (if you are an end-user of petroleum products) or send us a letter, preferably on your company letterhead. Your letter should include the following information:

- (a) A heading at the top stating "Application for Crude Oil Refund";
- (b) A short description of your firm's business and how it uses petroleum products;
- (c) The number of gallons of each petroleum product you bought from Aug. 19, 1973 through Jan. 27, 1981, together with the total amount of all purchases;
- (d) An explanation of how you obtained the volume figures, the location of any records used to determine the volume figures, and an explanation of any estimates used;

(e) A showing that your were injured, i.e. that you did not pass on all overcharges to your own customers (does not apply to end-users);

(f) A statement that you, your parent firm, affiliates, subsidiaries, etc., have not elsewhere waived their right to a refund (i.e. that you have not filed for a refund from any of the escrow funds established in the Stripper Well case);

(g) If you did business under more than one name, a list of the names which you used; and

(h) Identifying information, including (i) the applicant's name, (ii) the applicant's address, (iii) the name and telephone number of a person to contact for additional information, and (iv) the name and address of the person who should receive the refund, if different.

Please type or print your refund application.

The original and one copy of the entire application should be mailed to:

Subpart V Crude Oil Overcharge Refunds
Office of Hearings and Appeals
U.S. Department of Energy
1000 Independence Ave., SW
Washington, D.C. 20585

Q. What is the deadline?

A. The deadline for submitting applications for the first $0.0002 per gallon refund is Dec. 31, 1987. Other deadlines will be set as more funds are used to establish additional refund pools.

Q. If I can't locate records showing gallonage, can I use estimates of my petroleum product purchases?

A. Yes, provided you tell DOE that you have estimated the amount of your purchases. Your estimation method must produce a reasonably accurate estimate. The method which is most accurate for you will depend on your particular business and methods of recordkeeping. A full description of any estimation technique you use must accompany your application. If you used estimates based upon a sample, you should also include the location of the records you used to prepare your estimate.

Q. If I don't know how many gallons I purchased, can I tell you the amount of money I spent to purchase petroleum products during the August 1973 through January 1981 period?

A. Yes. However, since refunds are based upon the number of gallons you purchased, we must be able to convert the dollars you spent into the gallonage you purchased. You may be able to estimate the number of gallons you purchased by dividing the amount you spent in each period by the price for that product in your area during that period.

Q. Do I have to identify my supplier or suppliers?

A. Generally, you need not identify your supplier. Nor is it necessary for you to show that you purchased from one of the firms that remitted funds to the DOE. However, you may wish to identify your supplier if your firm's records are organized by supplier, and identifying the supplier will make it easier for you to compile your purchase volumes.

Q. I have received a refund in a refined product refund case. May I include the same gallons in my application for refund from crude oil overcharge funds?

A. Yes.

Q. Can an affiliate of a corporation apply to the DOE for a refund if another affiliate has applied for a refund from a Stripper Well escrow account (e.g., surface transporters escrow, railroad escrow, resellers escrow)?

A. No. A company that applies for a refund from a Stripper Well escrow fund must waive its claims to a DOE refund. The waiver applies to the company, its parents, subsidiaries, affiliates, and successors. If you are unsure whether your right to a refund has been waived, submit your claim and tell us about the waiver.

Q. I missed the deadline for one of the Stripper Well escrow funds. May I file with the Department of Energy?

A. Yes. However, if you are a reseller of petroleum products you should realize that you will be required to submit detailed proof of injury to get a refund.

Q. I'm a reseller of petroleum products. How do I show injury?

A. You must show that you were unable to pass through the effects of crude oil overcharges to your own customers. Because of the operation of the DOE regulations in effect during the 1970s, crude oil overcharges were spread throughout the entire petroleum industry. Since these overcharges were spread equally to you and to your competitors, proving injury will be difficult. Even if you were able to prove injury in a DOE product overcharge refund case, you may not be able to prove injury here.

Q. Does an end-user of petroleum products need to prove injury?

A. An end-user (i.e. a consumer—someone who doesn't resell the product as petroleum) shows injury by proving the amount of its purchases. No other showing is required.

Q. What will happen to my refund application when it reaches the Office of Hearings and Appeals of the Department of Energy?

A. Our office will send you a letter confirming receipt of your application and giving you a reference number which we have assigned to your application. It is therefore unnecessary to send your application by certified mail, return receipt requested; however, keep a copy for your records. We track all applications on our computer. In any further correspondence with our office you should refer to this number.

An analyst in our office will examine your application and determine whether it is complete. If the analyst needs additional information or has any questions, he or she will contact you.

You may be asked to document some of the information on which your application is based. If we need such documentation, we will contact you. Please respond promptly, because we are unable to process your application until we receive the additional information. We also ask some applicants, selected on a random basis, to document their purchases. Unless we specifically ask you, do not send supporting invoices to us.

Once the analyst reviews your application, our office will issue and mail to you a written decision on your claim. If a refund is approved, a check will be mailed to you in about 60 days from the date of the decision.

Q. Where can I find more information?

A. Additional information can be found in the Federal Register, available in many libraries. A notice in the April 10, 1987 edition (beginning at page 11737) explains the general procedures for processing refund claims. Another notice in the April 22, 1987 edition (beginning at page 13291) also explains refund procedures. The regulations that govern the refund process are located in Title 10 of the Code of Federal Regulations, Part 205, Subpart V ("Vee"). They can be found in most libraries. Decisions of the Office of Hearings and Appeals are published in the Federal Energy Guidelines, a loose-leaf publication. The Guidelines may be found in most law libraries.

Q. How do I get more information?

A. We prefer that you write us a letter asking your question. Please include a telephone number so that we may respond by phone or letter. Address your letter to:

$6.00 OF ROUNDUP® HERBICIDE PER ACRE STOPS CRP FORAGE SORGHUM SEEDHEADS BETTER THAN SHREDDING.¹

MORE TIME FOR CASH CROP MANAGEMENT.

Managing CRP acres to comply with regulations shouldn't take too much time away from cash crop management. And it won't when you treat CRP acres with Roundup® herbicide to suppress your forage sorghum quickly and easily, for about $6 an acre.²

ONE PASS SUPPRESSES CRP FORAGE SORGHUM THROUGH THE SEASON FOR THE SAME COST AS SHREDDING.

Just treat your fields with 12 oz. per acre of Roundup when forage sorghum is 4-to-6 feet tall. That will suppress the forage sorghum until frost takes over. One pass with Roundup gives you excellent results with less time, fuel, and labor than it would take to drag a shredder through your fields. And you won't have to worry about regrowth—if you shred, you may need to go back in and shred again to comply with CRP regulations. One pass with Roundup, from the air, does the job.

NO SHREDDED TRASH MEANS NO PROBLEM NEXT SEASON.

Roundup doesn't leave a heap of shredded trash on the ground. That means better seed placement, less chance of having to reseed, and faster planting when you put in native grasses next spring. And Roundup suppresses forage sorghum longer than MSMAs or paraquat products, so you can suppress forage sorghum up through the first frost.

USING ROUNDUP FOR CRP ACRES MAKES SOUND BUSINESS SENSE.

One pass with just 12 oz. of Roundup saves you time, fuel, and labor when you spray your sorghum; and time and trouble when you're ready to plant next spring. And that gives you more time for production agriculture.

¹Recommendation under Section 2(ee) of the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act, as amended, and not approved by the EPA.
²Cost of a 12-ounce forage sorghum suppression rate of Roundup using average dealer prices.

Floyd towns tax rebate increases

State Comptroller Bob Bullock has sent checks totaling $53.6 million in sales tax rebates to 1,039 cities that levy the one percent city tax. Bullock says 1987 payments were down 6.5 percent compared to payments made in the same period last year.

Both Floyd County towns were an exception to the state average.

Floydada increased slightly for the latest collecting period and 1987 payments to date are $60,258.28, a 9.47 percent increase over the $55,043.77 collected through the same date last year.

Lockney's net payment for the latest period showed a slight increase, as well as a 10.74 percent hike for the year to date. The Lockney payment for 1987 stand at $27,272.11, compared with $24,627.21 12 months earlier.

Lakeview News

By Joyce Williams

July 23:
You are all invited to attend the Lakeview-Mt. Blanco homecoming at the Lighthouse Electric this coming Sunday, July 26, 1987. Bring your picnic dinner and your old pictures to share with friends and neighbors.

The hail and windstorms last Tuesday and Thursday evenings cut a devastating swath through our community. Some cotton fields were wiped out entirely while others are partially remaining. About one fourth of an inch of rain fell Saturday in very scattered parts of the community.

Mike Bishop and sons, David and Warren and Rozanne's mother, Mrs. Alice Page of Cameron, Oklahoma visited the Howard Bishops for supper Friday evening. Mrs. Page had been spending the week here looking after the little boys while Rozanne attended an art teachers' inservice at Junction, Texas. She returned home to Floydada Saturday and Mrs. Page returned home this week.

Mrs. Riley Teague and Mrs. Q.D. Williams were at Lubbock Christian College from Sunday evening through Thursday last week. They heard inspiring reports of mission work done by retired people, the Sojourners, who go in their motor homes and campers to serve churches needing help. On Tuesday evening two busloads of the group traveled to Canyon to see, "Texas," and got caught in the aftermath of the tornado that struck Pampa that same evening. The crowd was given a choice of waiting for the delayed opening of the show or returning to Lubbock. The Floydadians decided the storm had passed and stayed to watch the program, while others returned to the dorms. Not another drop of rain fell, although the natural streaks of distant lightning and rumble of thunder did did the sound effects during the prairie storm scene.

Mr. and Mrs. Choice Smith and sons, Hunter and Dean, visited in Lubbock Wednesday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Flukie Smith. Other guests present included Scarlet and Punk Jackson of Spearman, Texas. Scarlet's son, Tal, called the Smith's Saturday night to tell about his experience in Marine Corps R.O.T.C. summer camp in the southeast.

The Tom Taylors were hosts to Austin Williams for a few days last week at their ranch home south of Crosbyton. Austin helped cook at White River youth camp with other Floydada Church of Christ members on Monday of this week.

P.D. Custer of Slaton visited relatives here Sunday, including Mrs. Lucille Custer.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bertrand had their daughter, Jill Warren's children here for a few days last week. Their father, Martin Warren, brought them here. Their Aunt Charlotte came through from her home in Amarillo, picked them up and took them to Tahoka while she visited her Warren relatives there. Faye and the children were guests of Mrs. Lorene Newberry for swimming at the country club during their visit.

Mrs. Q.D. Williams visited her father, Edgar Jones, at Truscott over the week-end. They attended Knox County Ranch Day at Benjamin. Her sister, Mrs. Clara Brown, is chairman of the County Historical Commission and they raised over two thousand dollars that Saturday for their museum fund. The south part of the county is rich from farm land and the north part of the county is rugged ranch country, with the two different types of people inhabiting each having diverse interests and attitudes and very little cooperation in the past. But for this goal all united their efforts. A museum expert from Austin, friend of Georgia May Erickson, tore up her prepared speech, written to whip up interest, saying she had never met so much enthusiasm. The cowboys and ranchers who participate in the state wide Ranch Day at Wichita Falls each year decided why should the big city get all the credit when it was the small town people who had all the talent, so they put it together for their own benefit. Very similar to the early days of the Floyd County Museum when we got a building and raised ten thousand dollars and then discovered here were reports who could tell us here we ought to do it. The man from Austin came out to Floyd County and heard our plan and said it would not work, couldn't be done. We felt rather abashed, until we realized, well, so what, we had done it, even if not the way the experts said we had to. Floyd County ways, West Texas ways; just didn't know we had to consult Austin experts, and we prevailed and succeeded by ourselves.

Remember the homecoming Sunday, July 26, at the R.E.A. building.

Business loans available for rural residents

Authority is available to guarantee loans for Texas rural residents for use in creating new business or expanding existing enterprises. J. Lynn Futch, FmHA state director, says,

"Although the Farmers Home Administration guarantees a loan made by a commercial lender, we are interested in the economic health of our rural communities and welcome inquiries about this program," Futch says. "Our business and industry program was created primarily to provide jobs in rural communities and towns up to 50,000 in population."

Becky D. Via, local county supervisor, states that inquiries have been increasing statewide about the guarantee program. She also says that participation by a local or area bank or savings and loan association in an application or preapplication is essential.

Futch says information about the program can be obtained from the FmHA office located at 107 W. California, Floydada, telephone number 806-983-2430.

FFA members attend state convention

Four Floydada FFA members represented their chapter at the 59th annual Texas FFA Convention, held July 15-17 in the Tarrant County Convention Center in Fort Worth. Advisor Allen Akers accompanied Bryan Thomas, Mark Thompson, Chad Quisenberry and Grant Stovall.

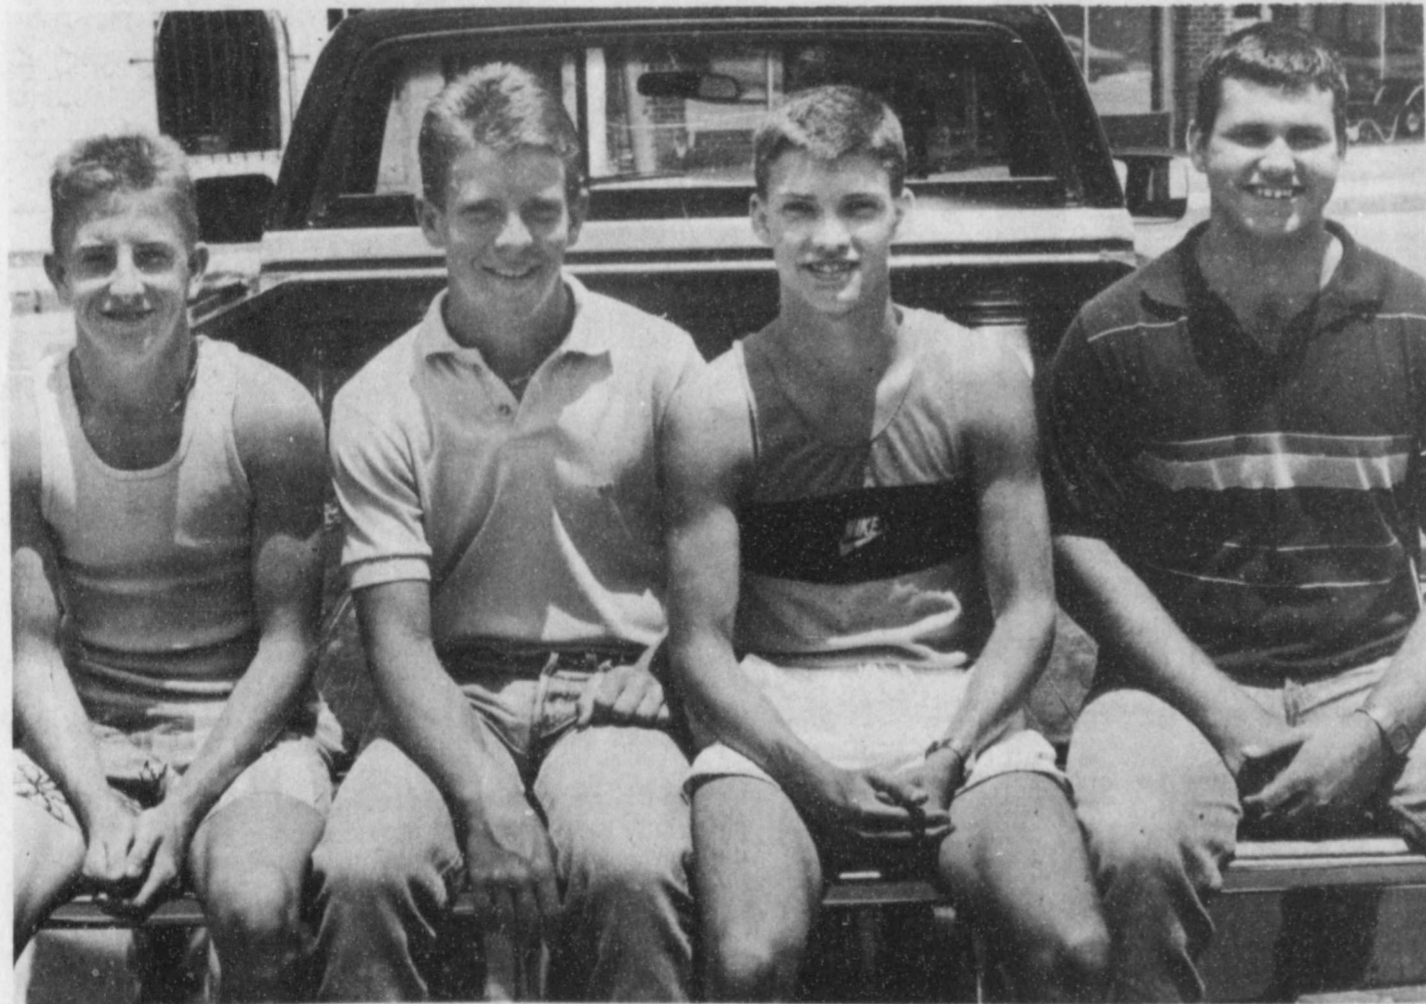

Thomas served as chapter president, Thompson is vice president and Quisenberry is secretary.

Motivational programs were heard by the FFA members from across the state. They looked on as their peers received advanced degrees, awards and scholarships and state officers were elected.

Among speakers were Jackie Mayer, a former Miss USA, and a female astronaut from NASA.

Akers and the four lads attended Six Flags Over Texas and toured the old Fort Worth stockyards.

Persons attending the convention will share ideas with other members

Matt Griffin technician for Texas

Edwin Matthew (Matt) Griffin of Floydada is a technician for the musical drama "TEXAS" which plays in Palo Duro Canyon, near Canyon. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Dale Griffin of 622 California.

Since opening on June 10 this year, the production has entertained a tour from London, England, and among others had patrons from Hong Kong, Indonesia, Singapore, Europe and Aus-

For the 22nd season the story of the settling of the Texas Panhandle is unfolding, revealing the struggles of the settlers and the cattlemen over land, and their battles against drouth, prairie fire and storms, making great spectacles on the stage and dramatic encounters among the people.

The audience sees horses, lightning, a prairie fire, a blanket toss and the first train during the show.

Three other persons among the 140 person company have local ties:

Latonya Johnson, a dancer, is a granddaughter of Henry Brewer of Route 2, Floydada.

Margaret Mary Reeves is a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reeves, who reside on Star Route. Miss Reeves, who works in hospitality, is also related to Raymond Reeves and Mrs. Carol Reese.

Actor John Taylor is a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Norris and of Mrs. J.W. McClure, all of Floydada.

"TEXAS" will play through Aug. 22 nightly except Sundays.

Individuals may write "TEXAS", Box 268, Canyon, Texas 79015 or phone 806-655-2181 for tickets. Week-end orders should be made several weeks ahead.

LaBaume, Mitchell attend 4-H Congress

Kelli LaBaume from Floydada and Joel Mitchell from Lockney were among a group of 25 4-H'ers from around the South Plains that attended the 1987 Texas 4-H Congress. The 1987 Texas 4-H Congress was held in Nacogdoches, July 14-17. While there, they took a close look at a segment of agriculture not common to West Texas, the Timber Industry.

The two Floyd County 4-H'ers were involved in:

- °Tours of the forest and lumber industry
- °Speakers on natural resources
- °A cultural tour of East Texas by railroad between Rusk and Palestine;

and

- °Exchanges of ideas on leadership and citizenship

The Floyd County 4-H members, along with 500 others from throughout Texas, had an opportunity to learn about the rich history locations that have helped shape Texas traditions and its economy.

Texas 4-H Congress is a yearly event of the 4-H program that involves young people from 15-19 years of age. This year's forest exchange had the following objectives:

- °Develop a positive attitude toward the important of conserving our forest resources

°Appreciate the woodlands as a source of income, raw materials and enjoyment

°Learn about good forestry practices and develop skills in executing them

°Learn skills in forest management and use of forest products

°Practice leadership skills and roles, take part in community affairs and demonstrate citizenship responsibility

°Explore career, job and productive leisure opportunities

°Develop skills, knowledge and attitudes for lifelong use; and °Learn to use accepted practices for mental, physical and emotional health and to respect yourself and others.

CEDAR HILL NEWS

By Grace Lemons

July 21, 1987:

How do you get from here is a question of major concern to residents of Cedar Hill. Lifetime resident, Tom Fortenberry lives one half mile from his church. It took several telephone calls and an 11 1/2 mile drive to attend services Sunday.

Rain and damaging hail fell around 6:30 Sunday, July 12. This was followed on Tuesday, July 14, by more rain and even more damaging hail. Rainfall varied from four and one half to eleven and one half inches. Highway 97 is under water in three places between Floydada-Silverton highway 307 and the caprock.

Stay on any of our country roads four or five miles and you run into a playa lake. The most dependable east/west dirt road serving north Cedar Hill turns west at the first crossroad on top of the caprock. It is good past the S.C. Burleson ranch, then one must turn south one mile at that point, then turn west again and continue on to the old Smitherman place on the Floydada-Silverton highway.

Those needing an east/west route through south Cedar would go to pavement end at Fairview then on the dirt road one mile further north. Turn east (right) five miles, until road stops. Turn north (left) four miles until road stops. Turn west (left) one mile, then north (right) one fourth mile to highway 97 and the caprock.

Fully half of Cedar Hill crops are lost, with another fifty percent of what is left likely to be condemned later. Fields beaten flat and bare are ripe for a major sandstorm. We are lucky it hasn't already happened.

Lakes have covered much native grass, some hay has been moved near the cattle for supplemental feeding.

S.C. Burleson and some friends met in the J.A. Welch barn on the shores of Cedar Hill lake, and used some "rainy day time" to build a number of bleachers which will be put in service this weekend during the Burleson Memorial Rodeo southeast of Flomot. Mrs. Burleson estimates the new bleachers will seat 250 to 300 spectators. Addition of the art show, the washer pitch, together with the drawing for a filly will stimulate expanded interest in the activity and help to make Burleson Memorial Rodeo one of the outstanding events of this area.

Junior and Martha Taylor had daughter Sheila and grandson Nick in their home Wednesday through Sunday of last week. Two teenage young ladies, Michelle and Mason, also came with Sheila and Nick.

Ruby Jewell Nichols Whitfill and husband, Glenn Whitfill of Sweetwater, made a crop inspection trip to Cedar this weekend. They visited with Edna Gilly while here.

Clara Mize continues to receive treatment in Floydada's Caprock Hospital. She was admitted Friday, July 17, for treatment related to a pulmonary disorder. She has recently returned from visiting her son, Steve and his family in California. She was accompanied on the return trip by Steve's daughter.

Gertrude Hammit had most of her family together for an outing at Caprock Canyons State Park near Quitaque last weekend. Son Charles and members of his family from Holly, Colorado were there. Son Larry and his wife Sunny (Lawson) from Pittsburg, Penn., and Sunny's parents, Reed and Maudie Lawson from the Lone Star community were there. Sunny's sister, Reeda Kay Smith and her children, Michele and Tikka, along with Trudi, Amy and Terri, Lori, Emory and Jessica also enjoyed the outing. Claudie Jean, Gertrude's oldest son was unable to be there.

Rosa Lackey has been under her doctor's care for several days and daughter, Wanda DuBois has been with her. Wanda plans to return to her home soon.

The record for long way around due to impassable roads goes to Tom and Gladys Fortenberry, who went to Plainview last Friday by way of Matador.

Sunday guests at the Edna Gilly home were her mother Mr. and Mrs. W.M. Clark, Mildred Franks and Clara Reed.

A new barn on the north side of Highway 97 and one mile east of Cedar has been built by Jay Lackey. It is on land which Eldon Fortenberry sold to A.V. Bethel a few years back.

Energy assistance available

Some low-income Texans may be eligible for help in paying cooling bills this summer through the Home Energy Assistance Program, according to Texas Department of Human Services Commissioner Marlin Johnston.

Johnston said the one-time payment is available to many low-income households. Applications for energy assistance were mailed to households that received food stamps, Aid to Families with Dependent Children, or Supplemental Security Income in May. If those households have at least one member who will be 60 or older in 1987 or a member with a medical condition that is aggravated by heat, they may qualify for assistance. Other low-income individuals may request an application from local DHS offices during the enrollment period of June 15-July 17.

Eligibility is limited by gross income and resources. This year, because of budget cuts and participation rates, the benefits for the cooling program may be lower than last year's. Aid is available for a one-person household having less than $555.49 gross income per month. The gross income limits are $745.49 for households of two persons, $935.49 for three, $1,125.49 for four, $1,315.49 for five, and $1,505.49 for six.

Households are eligible if the cost for cooling is included in the rent payment or if the household pays a portion of its home energy costs.

Energy assistance checks are sent directly to the people who are eligible for assistance. However, the checks are made payable to the energy company.

Persons receiving one of these energy assistance checks should mail it or take it in person to the energy company business office with their regular energy bill. The check can be cashed only by the energy company. If the HEAP check is more than the energy bill, the additional amount will be credited to the person's account for the next month's bill. If the energy bill is higher than the check, the person is responsible for paying the difference.

Prepare for home food preservation

Many fruits and vegetables are beginning to ripen, and home canners should be getting prepared for the harvest. Preplanning before home food preservation can make the process easier and safer.

"It's a good idea to check out any questions you have before beginning any home food processing," says Marilyn Haggard, a nutritionist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service. "County Extension agents can tell you if your preservation methods are safe, and will provide you with the latest research based processing times and procedures.

"Using the correct procedures in home food preservation is important," the specialist maintains. "Incorrect methods can allow bacteria growth in the food, which may cause food poisoning or lead to spoilage."

If you have any doubt about the safety of your home processed food, don't hesitate to call a county Extension agent, she says.

"Food can sometimes be saved if you act quickly. Tell the agent what you think went wrong. Review the exact steps you followed when processing the food, being careful not to leave anything out. The smallest thing might make the difference," says Haggard.

"Have your dial gauge canners tested annually, and get any questions answered before you begin food processing," she suggests. "Preparation can save you a lot of time, money, and needless frustration."

POWER LINES

Out on the job, power lines bring needed electricity to the site. But they can be dangerous... if you don't watch up! You need to be especially careful when you are handling re-bar, pipes, scaffolding, or tools that are long enough to contact overhead lines. Contact with power lines is also a potential danger to operators of front-end loaders, dump trucks and any other equipment of unusual height.
