County bank deposits increase $2.9 million

SHOWER TIME — Okha and friends take their morning shower. The elephants are coming to Floydada with the Franzen Bros. Circus on Sunday, Oct. 25. The public is welcome to watch Okha, one of the largest performing circus elephants in the United States, along with Kostl and Megu — playful baby elephants — being unloaded that morning.

Guess Okha's weight, win circus pass

Guess the weight of Okha and win a circus pass.

Okha is the largest performing elephant on the Franzen Bros. Circus, which has scheduled two Sunday, Oct. 25, performances in Floydada at the rodeo grounds. The three entries which come the closest to guessing the elephant's weight will win a family pass to the Franzen Bros. Circus, compliments of The Hesperian.

Participants should write their name, age, address and phone number on a sheet of paper and send or bring it to The Hesperian office before 4 p.m. Monday. Don't forget to write down a guess on Okha's weight.

Not even The Hesperian staff knows the elephant's weight. A sealed envelope from the circus bears the weight, and the envelope will not be opened until after the contest closes Monday afternoon.

Names of the three winners will be announced in next week's Hesperian.

Each family pass will admit two adults and up to four children to either performance of the Franzen Bros. Circus on Oct. 25.

St. Mary Magdalen Church is sponsoring the circus' visit here.

Accumulative deposits in the two county banks increased and loans decreased on the latest call report as compared with the conclusion of the third quarter in 1986.

Deposits in the Floydada and Lockney banks totaled $69,239,789.63 on Sept. 30. This represents an increase of $2,923,813.68 over the $66,315,975.95 on deposit the same date a year earlier.

By contrast, loans decreased by $2,615,609.90. The two banks showed $26,753,955.03 in loans at the latest call, compared with $29,369,564.93 twelve months earlier.

First National Bank in Floydada reported a healthy $3,805,876.64 increase in deposits. On Sept. 30 of this year they stood at $47,016,089.56, up from $43,210,212.92 on the same date in 1986.

The Floydada financial institution revealed a decrease in loans of slightly over one-half million dollars: $570,746.04. Loans after three quarters in '86 stood at $17,225,175.20 and were down to $16,654,429.16 this year.

First National Bank in Lockney reported decreases in both deposits and loans. Deposits at the latest call were $22,223,700.07, a decline of $882,105,763.03 from the $23,105,763.03 at the conclusion of business on Sept. 30, 1986.

Loans at the Lockney bank were down $2,044,863.86. They were $12,144,389.73 after three quarters of the 1986 calendar year and $10,099,525.87 at the latest call.

Floydada down to 'wait and see' on selection of state prison site

It's down to "wait and see" if Floydada is chosen as the site of a minimum-security state prison, which would house 1,000 inmates. Texas Department of Corrections (TDC) has been offered 370 acres of land, about two miles south of town on the Ralls highway.

Twenty-seven Texas towns are competing to become home to one of four regional prisons and a 2,250 bed maximum security prison. TDC plans to erect these facilities within the next two years or prior to the next legislative session. This community is not bidding for the larger facility.

Floydada Development Co. and Floydada Chamber of Commerce are spearheading efforts to have Floydada chosen as one of the sites.

"We hope they (TDC) will make that selection on Monday, Oct. 19," says Bill Hale, president of FDC. The next TDC regular board meeting was delayed from Oct. 14 until the 19th.

"We believe this delay was to give the site selection committee more time," Hale told The Hesperian. "However, there is a possibility that, with 27 towns competing for the four regional prisons, the board will not make a final decision Monday but will pare down to what they call the 'short list' and, we possibly might be called down (to Huntsville or Austin) for an oral presentation. If so, the site selection would be made shortly after that time."

PLEDGE DRIVE CONTINUES

The committee seeking pledges from local businesses and individuals continues to make contacts. These volunteers are seeking to raise $220,000 with which to purchase the land.

In the event that Floydada is not selected as one of the prison sites, "not a nickel of those pledges would be spent" and all pledges would be voided.

Doyle Walls heads the pledge committee. He points out that pledges need to be in hand by Oct. 21.

Committee members are continuing to make contracts and no totals were available at press time. Out-of-town business owners are being contacted, primarily by mail.

Hale says that the final information was forwarded Friday to the TDC. This included "two or three" questions that the three-man site selection panel asked while visiting in Floydada last Tuesday.

"I think we have offered what this community could and should offer," Hale says. "It's fair to the community and to TDC, although some communities may outbid us."

I [We] pledge to the Floydada Development Company, the sum of $ _____ to help purchase the land for the State Prison System if and when it is located in Floydada.

This pledge expires on April 1, 1988.

Trustees disagree on drivers ed vehicle

Three separate votes were required to arrive at a decision on the purchase of a new drivers education vehicle by the Floydada Independent School District board of trustees during the regular monthly session.

Bids opened at the Tuesday, Oct. 13, evening meeting had been sought on three types of vehicles: a Suburban, a car and a mini-van.

Two local firms bid on the three. Oden Chevrolet bid $11,323.38 on an '88 Chevrolet Astro van, $13,278.60 on an '88 Suburban Scotsdale and $8,730.12 on an '88 Chevrolet Celebrity four door.

City Auto submitted bids of $13,800 on an '88 Suburban, $11,990 on an '88 Safari mini-van and $9,050 on an '88 Pontiac 6000 sedan.

More than one hour of discussion followed the opening of the bids. At issue was the question of other uses the drivers ed vehicle could serve, such as out-of-town trips for small groups (cheerleaders, students in regional and state competition, teachers to in-service sessions).

A first ballot on a motion to purchase a Suburban by Weldon Pruitt, seconded by Don Hardy, was defeated with two voting for, three - Charlene Brown, John Dunlap and Adolfo Garcia - voting against and Michael Hinsley abstaining.

The second round defeated a motion to purchase a car by Garcia, seconded by Brown. Again, two voted in favor, three - Dunlap, Hardy and Pruitt - voted against and Hinsley abstained.

The third vote was on a second motion by Pruitt to purchase a Suburban. Hardy again seconded and Hinsley joined the pair on the pro side. Brown and Dunlap voted "no" and Garcia abstained. The bid was awarded to Oden Chevrolet for the Scotsdale Suburban.

County 4-H Achievement Banquet slated Saturday

As fellow 4-Hers and parents look on, the Floyd County Gold Star award will be presented Saturday as a highlight of the annual Floyd County 4-H Achievement Banquet. The event is scheduled for 7 p.m. in Duncan Elementary cafeteria.

Other special awards due at the banquet include 4-H sweetheart, "I Dare You," Friend of 4-H and Silver Spur (honoring outstanding adult leaders). Other "surprise awards" are on tap, according to Mary True, county Extension agent-HE.

Kelli LaBaume will emcee the banquet. She serves as president of the county 4-H Council.

Wesley Teeter and Angie Bertrand are to hand out first and second year pins and certificates. Third through nine year pins and certificates will be presented by Grant Cage and Loretta Turner.

Parents and leaders will have the honor of presenting individual awards for all 4-Hers who completed and turned in record books; record book awards; national and outstanding record book awards (who won state and will compete for national honor at the national convention, Dec. 5-11 in Chicago); awards for outstanding first year, Junior I, Junior II and Senior records; state and national sponsored awards in clothing, foods and nutrition and small arms proficiency.

Given for the first time this year will be Roundup (district) awards to all method demonstrations and team contests such as rifle, livestock, horse and soil judging.

Tiffany Gentry will voice the invocation, the Pledge of Allegiance will be led by Sharon Smith, Gwen Lane is to lead the 4-H motto and pledge and Joel Mitchell will introduce special guests.

The benediction will be given by Matt Williams.

Winds host Muleshoe Friday

Whirlwinds and their coaching staff had a brief period to enjoy their 20-12 victory over Tulia before starting preparations for another District 2-AAA toughie, Muleshoe. The Green and White test the Mules on Wester Field here at 7:30 Friday night.

There appears to be no soft spots in the district chase as two of the squads - Littlefield and Friona - own perfect 6-0 records. Floydada is 5-1, Muleshoe and Tulia are 4-2 and Dimmitt has a 2-4 mark.

Muleshoe has its back to the wall following a rugged 27-17 loss at the hands of Friona last Friday. The Mules realize that another setback would virtually eliminate them from the title picture.

"Muleshoe has a good football team," says Whirlwind mentor Earl Overton. "It's going to be another tough ballgame, no question about it."

Coach Overton adds that Muleshoe has "some good personnel and they've played very well at times."

The Mules operate offensively from "a very multiple offense. They run the 1, pro-set, shotgun; they're in everything you can imagine."

Defensively, the Mules also operate from multiple sets, with "50" and "60" fronts.

Muleshoe owns victories over Olton (35-12), Hart (28-0), Springlake-Earth (39-0) and Lockney (28-0). Their lone setback, prior to Friona, was 13-7 at the hands of Boys Ranch.

Floydada and Muleshoe have faced two common opponents. The Whirlwinds outlasted Olton 47-6 and Lockney 28-0. This indicates a close battle Friday night.

'BIG WIN'

"There's no question it was a big win," Coach Overton says of his troops' hard-fought victory at Tulia last Friday. "Our players executed well on both sides of the ball. They played well and deserved to win."

The Fightin' Whirlwinds' coach adds that, "In that particular situation we (coaching staff) were well pleased with their efforts. We executed well and played with a lot of intensity. Our kids played hard throughout the course of the game."

"We appreciate the continued support of our fans, which really helps our players. We've had good support all year," Coach Overton says.

Danny Caballero, one of three Whirlwind linemen on the injured-sick list, returned to action against Tulia. The status of Leonard King was uncertain early this week, but Rolando Cisneros will again be sidelined.

Coach Overton anticipates "about the same lineup" for the Muleshoe contest.

"We played Jacob Galvan quite a bit as a down lineman, and we'll probably continue to do that," he adds.

Pari-mutuel wagering issue generates most interest in election

Two referendum propositions and 25 proposed amendments to the state constitution will be faced by Texans casting general election ballots. Tuesday, Nov. 3, is election day.

Absentee balloting opened Wednesday, Oct. 14, and continues through Oct. 30.

The greatest interest to date centers around the second referendum. Persons will vote for or against the referendum which states: "The legalization of pari-mutuel wagering under the Texas Racing Act on a county-by-county local option basis."

Should the proposition be approved, residents of a given county would have to approve pari-mutuel wagering within that county before it would be permitted.

Commissioners agree to funding increase for 110th District Juvenile Probation Department

A funding increase for the 110th Judicial District Juvenile Probation Department was considered at the regular October session of the Floyd County Commissioners. The request, coming in the form of a letter signed by department head Bill Hendrix and District Judge David Cave, stated that state funds had been decreased by $2127 for the coming year. The letter asked that Floyd County and the three other counties comprising the district approve a $2400 increase in county provided funds.

Floyd County would pay $1320 as a 55% share of the increase. The remainder would be split between Motley, Briscoe and Dickens counties. The measure was unanimously approved on a motion by Sam Spence, seconded by Floyd Jackson.

An order designating the outside steps of the west entrance to the courthouse as "the area for Real Property Foreclosure Sales" was also passed. This order will go into effect on January 1, 1988 and will preclude the use of any other locale in the courthouse area for such sales.

Along with the payment of regular monthly accounts, the court approved payment of $26,313 for general liability and fleet vehicle insurance. The policy, provided by Vantage Insurance, showed a decrease in premium from $27,718 last year to the current level for the coming year.

Local Accountant and fund raiser for the Floydada Development Corporation in efforts to fund the purchase of land on which to locate a minimum security prison, should Floydada be chosen as the site, met with the court to investigate the possibility of having the county act as "go-between" in the collection of funds.

Judge Bill Hardin questioned the legality of the procedure and postponed a vote on the issue until an opinion could be obtained from the office of the attorney general.

Also tabled until a later session was the appointment of a representative to serve on the Floyd County Appraisal Board and the advertising of bids for performing an independent audit of the fiscal year 1987.

County Treasurer Glenna Orman gave her monthly and quarterly financial reports, stating the county began the month of September with a balance of $147,475.64 and took in receipts of $676,129.63. Disbursements totaled $653,656.97, leaving an ending balance of $169,948.30.

Orman also reported that the fund for handling revenue sharing money had been closed out as "there is to be no more revenue sharing funds." The county has $479,000.00 in certificates of deposit on which $48,313.12 has been earned in interest. Several budget amendments were recommended and approved to enable idle funds to be put to use in depleted accounts.

Farm work contracts were approved for Bill Quattlebaum, Hannah K. Overstreet, Doyle Walls, Wayne Ashburn, Kirt Wyrick, Eddie Teeter, Raymond Rucker Trust, J.A. Colston and Lorilla Bradley. Contract #451, approved on May 11, was declared void at the request of Precinct 2 commissioner Jackson.

Attending the meeting were Judge Hardin, Commissioners Spence, Jackson, Thomas Warren and Kay Crabtree. Others present were Glenna Orman, Margaret Herrera, Edd Henderson, Sam Baker and the Hesperian reporter.

Courtroom Activities

In the 110th District Court on Wednesday, October 7, Richard Sanchez Castaneda's probation was revoked. Castaneda, 20, of Floydada, was on probation for burglary of a vehicle that occurred on Feb. 27, 1985. He was sentenced to three years in TDC.

In county court Richard Sanchez Castaneda, 20, of Floydada pled guilty on October 6 to his September 29 charge of DWI. He was fined $300.00 plus court costs of $88.50 and 30 days in jail.

C.L. Turner, 56, of Lockney pled guilty to this second charge of DWI. Turner was fined $500.00 plus court costs of $88.50 and 30 days in jail.

Hector Alcala, 18, of Hale County pled guilty, October 12, to his possession of a prohibited weapon charge. He was fined $250.00 plus 90 days in jail which was probated for one year and court costs of $88.50.

Teodoro Flores III, 20, of Floyd County, pled guilty October 12 to DWI. He was fined $400.00, 100 days in jail which was probated for one year and court costs of $88.50.

Matthew Dale Williams, 17, of Hale County pled guilty, Oct. 13, to his Oct. 12 DWI charge. He was fined $150.00 plus court costs, and was sentenced to 90 days in jail which was probated for two years.

In J.P. court for the two week period of September 29 through October 13 there were 223 misdemeanor cases filed.

Orman attends conference

County Treasurer, Glenna M. Orman joined some 164 other officials and numerous guests at the 39th Annual County Treasurers' Conference. The keynote address was delivered in Odessa by Jim Mattox, Texas attorney general. Special guest speaker was John Bryant, U.S. Congressman from the 5th District, Dallas.

"County treasurers have the major responsibility for handling and investing county funds," said Ms. Orman. "It's an ever changing business that requires staying on top of the latest in money management and legal requirements for government fiscal accountability."

County treasurers who attended the conference also heard various speakers on such subjects as payroll, accounting, investment alternatives, computer software applications and public relations. The annual conference is one of the educational programs sponsored by the County Treasurers' Association of Texas.

City police investigate variety of situations

Floydada Police Department has investigated several calls of various natures in recent days.

Police Chief James Hale says officers were summoned about 2:15 p.m. Saturday to the labor camp, where three windows and screens had been damaged. Damage was placed at $50.

Juveniles were involved. The responsible people have been contacted and have agreed to make restitution.

Willie A. Garcia of Lockney was apprehended at 7:05 p.m. Friday on charges of consuming alcohol in public and making intoxicants available to minors. The arrest was at a vacant lot located on Second Street.

An elderly woman reported at 11:11 p.m. Saturday that she was being assaulted. Officers were told by the woman that she had been struck several times.

However, she did not want the offender, who allegedly was intoxicated, arrested. The disturbance reported occurred in the man's residence, and the elderly woman allegedly was his landlord. No charges were filed.

Ona Ruti, Wright Neff reported last Wednesday that the front license plate was missing from an '84 Chevrolet at 811 W. Jackson. The Texas license was number 746 LTB.

A local resident, Rudy Castaneda, was apprehended at 5:05 p.m. on Oct. 5 on charges of disorderly conduct and assault. Chief Hale responded to a report of "a fight in progress." He was told that Castaneda and a brother were involved in a fight when a neighbor attempted to "break it up." The suspect then reportedly attacked the neighbor.

Castaneda was fined $75. The investigation continues into a recent burglary of the Hi Plains Farms office. Burglar(s) entered through a bathroom window they had broken out. This was on the south side of the building.

Taken was a coffee can containing about $20 worth of quarters. Replacement of the broken window pane was placed at $45.

Joe and Janie Barrientos reported to officers that boys were allowed to stay in their home during August and part of September. When they departed, a pair of boots were missing.

The boots were later returned, but reportedly were "very worn" and the Barrientos' wanted $40 instead of the boots. The suspects reportedly have "gone to the Valley."

IT'S A KEEPER — Kirt Wyrick holds a nine pound black bass he caught recently from Lake Amistad, located at Del Rio. Pictured with Wyrick is Bob Simpson (left). Wyrick was fishing with a plastic purple worm with a white tail in about "seven or eight feet of water" when he grabbed this beauty, which he will have mounted.

Punkin Day to feature costumes and judging

Community residents of all ages are encouraged to make plans to participate in Floydada's initial "Punkin' Day" on Friday, Oct. 30. This is the day before Halloween.

Youngsters — and oldsters, too — will have an opportunity to vie for Halloween costume awards. First, second and third place ribbons are to be awarded to winners in each of the following age categories: 2-4 years, 5-6 years, 7-10 years, 11-13 years and over 13.

"We would like for the merchants to dress up in Halloween garb that Friday to set the tone for the day," according to Nettie Ruth Whittle, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring Punkin' Day. "We would also like them to decorate their windows featuring pumpkins, even if they only do it in a small way."

In addition to the costumes, a highlight of the day will be judging in painted jack-o-lantern and carved jacko-lantern divisions. Two categories — 13 years and over and under 13 years — are planned in both painted and carved divisions, with first, second and third place ribbons offered.

Ribbons also will be awarded for largest pumpkin, smallest pumpkin, prettiest corn and ugliest gourd.

The event is scheduled for 4:30 p.m. on the 30th, under the courthouse pavilion.

Timing is designed to allow school students time to change into their costumes and to free everyone in time to prepare for the football game.

"We really want the community to get involved in this and show their support for the growers of this community," says Mrs. Whittle. "Since we started planning late for this Punkin Day we won't have as many events planned. Next year we plan on having many more family activities for Punkin Day."

Saddle and bridle stolen from Blanco Canyon barn

A saddle, bridle and blanket were stolen "sometime last week" from a barn in Blanco Canyon, just off Highway 62, about seven miles south of Floydada. The sheriff's department was notified of the "theft from a building" on Saturday.

David Edwards owned the stolen items.

The burglars entered the barn through a window.

Hector Alcalá of Plainview was apprehended Sunday afternoon for carrying a prohibitive weapon.

Also taken into custody Sunday afternoon was Isaiah Estrada, who was wanted on an outstanding warrant from a summer incident.

Parents and 4-H

By Elaine LaBaume
4-H is a youth development program of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service which focuses on the needs, interests and concerns of young people.

One of its aims is to help youth gain a positive self-concept. Nearly all youth problems stem from or are in some way related to poor self-concept.

How can 4-H and parents help build a better self concept?

4-H can help teach youth to set goals, work toward and reach a personal goal. Boys and girls between the age of 9 and 19 may participate in 4-H. Parental involvement in the 4-H program is vital to each child's measure of success.

4-H is not a "Kids Only" program. 4-H leaders and Extension agents may interest youths in becoming members, but it takes the parents' good will and support to keep them interested. A child's attitude and accomplishments are influenced strongly by those of his parents.

The annual Floyd County 4-H Achievement Banquet will be Saturday, Oct. 17, at 7:00 p.m. in the Duncan Elementary Cafeteria in Floydada. Make plans to attend, even if your child or children have just recently joined 4-H. You are urged to attend. More next week!

Lake report

Joe Carter of Canyon reeled in a 3 1/2 pound largemouth bass from Lake Mackenzie on Saturday. Fishing at the "mouth of Tule Creek," Carter was using a green and orange worm for bait.

According to a spokesperson at Cactus Cove Marina, the water temperature was 69 degrees Monday and the water depth at the dam was 111'5".

Have a good week!

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,

We're writing in response to an injustice that has occurred to us, the People of the city of Floydada, and the surrounding area. This letter is the combined effort of 17 people, who for more years than we care to remember, have supported Bob Alldredge and his fine radio station KKAP. What happened to Bob? We hear that you have turned your station over to someone who tells you what we want. I dare say, Steve Langston has never lived in Floydada, and in fact does not live here now. We keep hearing of a poll conducted by the station. We would be interested in seeing this mysterious poll. During the last week, we have talked with hundreds of people in and around Floydada and have yet to find anyone who was actually "Polled." To quote Steve Langston "Our Licenses are awarded to us on the assumption that this radio station or any other station serves the public need." Bob Alldredge has been serving our needs for many years without Steve Langston and with him Bob is failing to do so. We realize that this letter probably will not change anything, our only hope is that Bob Alldredge may at last realize that long after Steve Langston has moved on to greener pastures, the people of this city who have supported Bob all these years will still be here.

If you would allow us one question; Bob, how much are your paying Steve Langston to destroy your radio station? There is still time Bob, please give Floydada what it wants and we'll forgive you.

Floydada wants the music changed back like it should be.

J.D. Ritchey
Citizen of Floydada

I want to know if we will actually have persons here that have nothing to do with the drugs, drug distribution, or any related drug offenses. I feel that the public has been given less information on the actual facts of "minimum security" than the real push for the money to be raised.

Thank you for the opportunity to relay the questions and feelings I have regarding the prison for Floydada.

/s/ Sue Hardy

Dear Jim:

I just wanted to congratulate you and your staff on winning third place in general excellence for larger weekly newspapers in the annual West Texas Press Association Better Newspaper Contest. You should be very proud of this honor.

It pleases me that I can count on receiving such accurate and well-rounded news from Floyd County. A good reading of the county's views and good reporting of activities in the area makes my job much easier.

If my staff or I can be of any assistance, please do not hesitate to contact me. Again, congratulations on a job well done.

Sincerely,
Ray Farabee

MAGNUM PERFORMANCE

Full powershift in 18 speeds. Even more if you want.
With the MAGNUM tractor powershift, more choices means more productivity.

It's a smooth-shifting 18-speed full powershift transmission that gives you three more standard speeds than the leading competitor's optional fifteen. And it lets you start in any gear, shift up, down — even reverse. All without clutching.

Speeds range from 1.8 to 19 mph. And there are seven in the crucial three to eight mph range. What's more you can get a MAGNUM tractor with more powershift speeds under three mph than anyone else, thanks to the industry's only full powershift creeper transmission.

You can powershift to higher productivity with a Case IH MAGNUM 130-195 PTO hp tractor.

MAGNUM means more.

Dear Editor:
I feel this letter is necessary in order to clarify some questions I have and I know others have regarding the securing of a TDC facility in Floydada.

All that has been printed so far has indicated this facility is to be a minimum security facility. BUT, no one has indicated what is to be considered "minimum" regarding the offenses of the persons incarcerated in the facility. I feel this is one of the most important answers we, the public, should be given and it should have been given first before the rush for the pledges of money.

Also, maybe some of the persons feel we should be indebted to Senator Ray Farabee. I feel that all the Senator may be trying to do is reestablish himself with the voters in Floydada after he so aptly let the teachers, coaches, and parents know how little he knew of Housebill #72 and how little he cared about us and the knowledge he could give us on this Housebill. He fully let us know his priorities were with the GOOD and HONORABLE H. Ross Perot, Governor Mark White, and who knows whom else. Therefore, I am not sure we should be so proud of this assistance with this project.

Alpha Sigma sorority has rush and salad supper

Alpha Sigma Upsilon chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met at the First National Bank at 7:00, Tuesday, October 6, for its regular business meeting and for a "rush and salad" supper. Special guests were Mitzi Nixon, Renee Lucke, Sharon Redden, Brenda Ward and Lisa Becker. Ginger Warren, who had been on a leave of absence, also received a special welcome.

Alice Ogden, Karen Elliott, Rhonda Guthrie and Sheri Turnbow performed a skit to introduce the guests to Beta Sigma Phi. Jodie McGuire supplied the raffle which was a jack-o-lantern basket. The group decided to send donations to the following for the month of October, Floydada Nursing Home, Kyle Kinast Love Fund, and a money pledge to help purchase the land necessary to house the jailing facility in Floydada.

Plans are being made to sponsor a dance probably sometime in November. Proceeds will be divided between the Ronald McDonald House and the Flight for Life.

Members who attended were: Jan Poteet, Alice Ogden, Jodie McGuire, Emma Pate, Barbara Edwards, Rhonda Guthrie, Sheryl LeCroy, Jan Nichols, Vicky Covington, Sheila Carter, Kathy Himes, Judy Schacht, Karen Elliott, Mary Ann Kelly, Sheri Turnbow, Ginger Warren and Suzanne Wyrick.

Floydada 4-H club opens year with skating party

The Floydada 4-H Club had its first planned recreation of the new school year on Tuesday, Oct. 6. The group met at the County Extension Office shortly after school and traveled by caravan to Plainview where they had a skating party at the Plainview Roller Rink. There were 54 4-H'ers and 10 parents and Mary True, extension agent, that attended.

Parents that went to help chaperone and provide transportation were: Pat Rowan, Connie Johnson, Kay Cage, Terri Nelson, Jill Hayes, Sarah Hinsley, Sammy and Olivia Mercado, and Carl and Debra Bailey.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

By Jo Bryant

Well, I must say that the residents had a lot of things going for them this week.

Tuesday, Bro. Neeley came and shared the devotion with us, and sang some good old songs. The residents always look forward to the bananas too. We do hope that the Mrs. will be able to join him soon. At 2:00 p.m. Ann Wilson, a Friend of the Library, came and shared a story with the residents. Thanks Ann, they enjoyed your sharing. Then at 2:30 the Companions & Caring came and gave an Autumn party. Ruth McIntosh played the piano, and we sang, "Take Me Out to the Ball Game," and "School Days, School Days." Dolores read a poem. Cookies, popcorn and punch were served to all. Thanks ladies, we appreciate you.

Wednesday we had morning coffee and juice break. 10:30 Bro. Blair came and shared from Matt. 11:11-18. "Come to me, who are heavy burdened and labor." He shared about Jesus being burdened and lonely in the garden too. So He understands us, when we feel that way too, sometimes. 2:00, bingo once again. Angelina Reynolds came and called the numbers. Ruth Benson, Myra Hall, Iva Wells, Della Halencak, Maude Galloway, Opal Morrison, Thelma Hoffman, Oda Birchfield, Brooks Callaway, Ruth Smitherman and Charles Breeding played.

Thursday, the residents painted ceramics, they painted rabbits. Those painting were: Maude Galloway, Opal Morrison, Charles Breeding, Myra Hall, Della Halencak, Iva Wells, Ruth Smitherman, Iva Simpson and Ruth Benson. In the morning Bro. Curry came and shared.

Friday, morning coffee as usual and at 10:30 the ladies from the First Baptist Church came and gave the devotion. Evelyn Latta played the piano and we sang, "Sweet Hour of Prayer" and "When The Roll Is Called Up Yonder." Mrs. Lillian Ross read Ps. 15, and shared a couple of jokes.

In the evening the residents went to Plainview on the bus ride. Residents going were: Iva Wells, Opal Morrison, Della Halencak, Florence Curry, Brooks Callaway and Charles Breeding. Wilma Payne is our bus driver from the Caprock Community Action. We appreciate her driving us. Most places don't have the opportunity to take bus rides. In fact, Lockney and Floydada are the only homes that get to go on the bus rides. So thanks again.

Our sympathy goes out to the family of Charlie Berry. We will miss him. Many thanks goes out to Judy Macha for the potatoes and Scott Faulkenberry for the pumpkins.

A poem to share with you:
What if yesterday had it's sorrows,
What if your day was diffused by grief.

What if it rained when you wanted sunshine,
What if you labored without relief.

It doesn't matter what did befall you,
It doesn't matter what might have been.

For God puts our yesterdays all behind us,
And every day let's us start all over again.

This week's visitors: Scott Faulkenberry, Mel and Marjorie Holcomb, Bessie Wilson, Harvie Saxton, May Sue, Artie and Floyd Webb, Jettie Moss, Buck Galloway, Wenana Brooks, Suzanne Paschall of Paducah, Deota Odam, Lucille Sisson, Frances Badgett and Don Faulkenberry.

Cedar Hill News

By Carl Lemons

Monday, Oct. 12:

Crop comments: This has to be classed as a wonderful fall, heavy September rains to give hay crops that final push and give ample moisture for wheat seeding. Then clear, dry days for shredding, combining grains, sowing small grains, and swathing the hay crop.

Some few patches of hay have been baled, but baling the swathed hay will be the main activity this coming week.

Less than fifty percent of the milo is still in the field and cotton is opening fast. Pinto beans are developing at an amazing rate. Beans that were barely one inch long and one eighth inch wide at the last writing are now five inches long and individual beans can be counted through the hull.

Those attending the farm sale on the Paymaster Gin yard in Quitaque last Thursday had the opportunity of seeing Motley County's first bale of 1987 cotton being ginned. The trailer load of cotton was under the suction all day long but Ron Carpenter, manager of the gin, didn't want to dust the crowd attending the sale so he waited until the auctioneers were crying for bids on their last few items before starting the gin machinery.

A short review of signs for the date of a killing freeze gives us sign no. 1, a killing freeze based on 60 days from the first northern in August, which came Aug. 4. On Oct. 4th night temperature dropped to 40 degrees. Sign no. 2, a weak sign based 90 days after the July hailstorms set the freeze date for Oct. 12; early morning temperature Oct. 12 was thirty eight. The last and most dependable sign of all says killing freeze will occur 60 days after first broom-weed bloom in August, which was seen August 16. So I feel I must issue a: Freeze warning for Thursday, October 16, for livestock owners! Keep an eye on those cattle grazing second growth hay fields. Many factors are right for the development of prussic acid poisoning in that tender new growth during the first two to three weeks after the first hard freeze.

Freeze warning for Thursday, October 16, for gardeners! Keep your ears glued to weather forecasts throughout the day! Get empty buckets together, check batteries in the flashlight, and lean the grubbing hoe against the wall near the back door. After the 10:30 p.m. weather report you will want to use the flashlight and buckets to go out in the dark and gather those green tomatoes and get them inside. Early Friday morning while the sweet potato vines are still frozen take the grubbing hoe and cut off the runners just below the surface of the ground. This will prevent freeze damage from transferring to the yams under ground. Then, after that has been done, don't delay too long in digging those sweet potatoes. When the yam can no longer breathe through the vines, suffocation and deterioration develops quite rapidly.

Attendance at the Men's First Monday breakfast at the Assembly of God Church was the best ever. The group is very encouraged. Joseph Morton, son of the pastor, delivered his first sermon at the midweek service last Wednesday night. Fine singing and a good preaching service by the Alley Singers was enjoyed by those attending services Sunday. The singing group remained for the sectional wide CA meeting which was held Monday evening.

The church is sponsoring a hay ride and community weiner roast Friday, October 17. Time set for the hay ride is about 6:30 p.m. All community residents are invited.

Traca Lemons brought four of her classmates home Friday night for a slumber party. On arriving at Traca's one of the girls, Chastity Price of Quitaque, was presented with a huge birthday cookie and the traditional birthday song. So it turned out to be a surprise birthday party. The names of the other three girls were: Audra House from Turkey, Katy Browning from Valley, and Kacey Fuston from Turkey.

Bud and Junior Taylor are feeling good about their week-end trap shoot. They estimate that 17 shooters participated in the activity, and many a clay pigeon bit the dust. A major distraction to the shoot was the pheasants that kept popping out of the adjacent CRP field to see what the shooting was all about. The pheasants were seeded birds and they needed to cross the shoot site to get their evening drink at the nearby lake. One shooter decided to scare a pheasant with his shotgun. When the dust began to fly nearby the bird just stood and looked puzzled. A bystander finally ran out and flushed the pheasant back into the CRP field.

Mr. and Mrs. John Belaska drove to Amarillo last week where Mrs. Belaska is under the care of an eye specialist. She was scheduled for examination and possible surgery, but her condition had improved, so it was decided that nature should be allowed to continue its good work. On Tuesday and Wednesday of this week the Belaskas were in Lubbock where Mrs. Belaska underwent a form of chemotherapy. This particular therapy is often used as a follow-up to the type of surgery Mrs. Belaska recently underwent.

Four-year-old Preston Vick of Fort Worth visited great-grandparents Tom and Gladys Fortenberry from Wednesday of last week until Sunday of this week. In Fort Worth Preston got the short end of a karate exercise while playing with his brother Patrick. A bump against the corner brick of a fireplace hearth resulted in a stitch or two below Preston's left eye. Not a bad injury at all, just enough to give lonesome grandparents an excuse to go get him for a few days. On Sunday Gladys took Preston for a few days visit with his Boone grandparents in Plainview.

Robert and Fred Conner were back in the Harden home this weekend. Installation of the badly needed heating system was completed. Both Holley and Joshua are suffering from colds.

You rear a child like you throw a baseball...give it the best start you can while it is in your hands for it must go the rest of the way by itself.

NOVEMBER WEDDING SET — Mrs. LaVada Garrett of Floydada and Chief and Mrs. Ayo Akinsanya of Ikene, Nigeria, proudly announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their children, BraVada Mae Garrett and Akinyele Adekunle Akinsanya on November 28. The wedding will be held at the Holiday Inn Atrium, Lubbock, beginning at 11 a.m. The Bride-elect, a graduate of Floydada High School, has a masters degree in psychology and is completing her doctorate degree in clinical psychology at Texas Tech University. She also works as staff psychologist at the Lubbock State School. Akinsanya is an honor graduate of Oklahoma State University. He has a masters degree in public administration from Texas Tech and is currently completing a second masters degree in urban and regional planning at Texas A&M. Following a wedding trip to Europe and Nigeria, the couple will reside in College Station.

COUPLE ENGAGED — Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Beckham announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Lori Beth to David Dean Caldwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Caldwell of Amarillo. The wedding will be an event of January 2, 1988 at the First Baptist Church of Floydada. The couple are candidates for December graduation from Texas Tech University, with Bachelor of Business Administration degrees.

CROWD GATHERING — As word spread last Wednesday morning that free "chip potatoes" were being given away, a crowd gathered in the 200 block of West Houston. A man is shown scooping potatoes into a sack at the back of Jerry Leatherman's truck and the commodity was also being distributed through the side door. Approximately 50,000 pounds of potatoes were given from 9:30 until "about 2:30."

The potatoes were refused by a chip company because "they fried too dark" for the firm's chips. Harold Smith of Smith Potato Co. in Hart donated the potatoes and Leatherman donated the hauling "to help the people of Floydada." People brought sacks, boxes and buckets to receive potatoes. A traffic jam resulted.

ban at $13,278.60.

Superintendent Jerry Cannon asked the board to consider raising the salary of band director Connie White, who was elevated from assistant to head director following the resignation of Eddie Pace. Cannon said, "She has the responsibility and should have the pay."

White and assistant Stephen Henry - whose employment was approved at this time - were both hired at $15,200 base salary, plus $2,500 bonus and $300 Christmas bonus for a total of $18,000. Cannon requested a $2,000 increase on White's bonus for a total of $20,000. The increase was approved on a motion by Brown, seconded by Pruitt, and unanimously passed.

Jimmie Collins, administrative assistant, reported on current tax collections, $65,740 from Oct. 1 to Oct. 13, and on the institution of the Public Education Information Management System (PEIMS) using computers.

Collins told the board that a "tremendous amount of computer time is being required to implement this program." He went on to explain that the school budget is in the computer system, as are the personnel records of all school personnel and the teachers' schedules. This information is on line at present for the Texas Education Agency and the State School board to draw on at will to improve education.

Future plans call for complete student records to be placed in the system next year. Information in this area will include student "social security numbers and all kinds of information on the student."

According to Collins, "In addition to the changeover expense last year, this will cost $16,000 each year to maintain." Cannon added that the computer system will also have to be updated at intervals to avoid an obsolete system.

Collins next reported on the new criteria for level three of the teachers career ladder bonuses. Level one is achieved after a two-year probation period for new employees. This level will be static until the teacher applies for and meets level two criteria, consisting of a bachelor's degree and either nine hours of graduate work or 135 hours of in-service programs.

Level three is attained after five years on level two or "the fast track" of level two for three years. The next step, level four, comes after three years at level three or two years with clearly outstanding ratings.

Collins asked the board to approve local criteria at this session. In addition to meeting state minimums, FISD teachers will be required to make a request to be placed on the career ladder one year in advance. They will then be evaluated for one year prior to the awarding of a career ladder bonus at the end of the second year. Teachers must be employed by the district for one year before applying.

Credentials must be presented by Sept. 1 of the evaluation year to be considered.

Bonus for level three is a minimum of $2,000 and a maximum of $3,000. Level four will carry a bonus of $4,000 to $6,000. Career ladder bonuses are currently funded by the state.

Superintendent Cannon told the group that they will have to "look carefully at salaries for administrators, counselors and special ed diagnosticians who can not apply for the career ladder or you will not have anyone wanting to go into that" because classroom teachers are making more money.

Local career ladder criteria was approved on a motion by Brown, seconded by Hardy, and passed by unanimous vote. This criteria includes yearly rating requirements to remain on the ladder.

Bids on the sale of a 1956 Chevrolet pickup were opened. Bill Hill submitted an offer of $135, Danny's Motor Service bid $225, Janet Hall bid $430 and Don Green Auto Parts bid $100. The bid was awarded to Hall on a motion by Hinsley.

Grant to study Alzheimer's

The Unicare Foundation, a national not-for-profit charitable organization, announces that it has awarded a grant to the Texas Tech University Health Services Center in Lubbock to develop a regional center for dissemination of information and referrals related to Alzheimer's disease.

The $10,000 initial grant will be used to establish the Alzheimer's Disease Information and Referral Center, which will identify clinical educational and research resources related to Alzheimer's Disease, provide a 24-hour communication center, and provide assistance and educational programs to caregivers and support groups.

Serving as director for the center will seconded by Dunlap.

Present at the meeting were board members Pruitt, Hardy, Freddie Morn, Brown, Dunlap, Garcia and Hinsley. Also present were Superintendent Cannon, Administrative Assistant Collins, Joe Stepp and The Hesperian reporter.

Dr. J. Thomas Hutton, M.D., Ph.D., who is a professor in the Department of Medical and Surgical Neurology at Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center. Dr. Hutton also serves as the director of the Texas Tech Alzheimer's Disease Center and the Texas Tech Parkinson's Disease Information and Referral Center.

The Unicare Foundation is supported by fundraising activities conducted by employees and residents of Unicare facilities nationwide, including the Floydada Nursing Home.

Unicare Health Facilities owns or operates 140 health care facilities in 17 states, including 15 facilities in the state of Texas.

Football signals time to prepare lawn for winter

Fall in the air and the sounds of football throughout the area signal the need for a close look at your gameplan to help your lawn go into the winter season, says a specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Fall is a critical period for both warm and cool season turf, but treatment that is good for one type may be bad for the other, notes Dr. Michael Hickey, Extension soil chemist at Lubbock.

Fall may reduce the curb appeal of bermudagrass and zoysia, but it allows the turf to get ready for winter, Hickey said. "Such warm season grasses require a three- to four-week hardening period to prepare for winter. In our area, this occurs at the end of September and into October."

During this period, shoot growth will decrease and the essential carbohydrates necessary to carry the turf through dormancy accumulate. Practices that promote lush growth prevent the hardening process and increase susceptibility to low temperature injury or possible winter-kill, the Extension specialist said.

"Application of nitrogen-containing fertilizers and mowing too closely are two practices to avoid at this time of year," Hickey said.

Cool season grasses, such as fescue and Kentucky bluegrass, tend to suffer from heat stress during High Plains summers, the soil chemist said. "As fall approaches, their growth will increase through November."

"These grasses will respond nicely to a nitrogen fertilizer application in late September," Hickey said. He cautioned that care should be taken to apply no more than five pounds of ammonium sulfate per 1,000 square feet. Applying higher amounts will leave the grass susceptible to damage by very cold weather.

Both warm and cool season turf will benefit from an application of potassium in late September, the Extension specialist said. Potassium can improve winter-hardiness, wear tolerance and disease resistance in turf.

For bermudagrass and zoysia, the suggested rate is one to two pounds of potassium per 1,000 square feet. This should be applied as a potassium-only fertilizer, and nonnitrogen or phosphor-ous should be applied, Hickey said. Fescue and Kentucky bluegrass will benefit from a two- to four-pound application of potassium, he said.

"For the cool season grasses in West Texas, a complete fertilizer such as 10-10-10, containing nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium, can be used only if a soil test suggests the application of phosphorus. Otherwise, the individual elements are best," the Extension soil chemist said.

LUTC Fellow professional designation given Schacht

Clar Schacht, agency manager for Floyd County Farm Bureau Insurance, has been granted the LUTC Fellow professional designation.

LUTC is conferred upon life underwriters who meet the exacting training, membership and ethical standards jointly set by the Life Underwriter Training Council (LUTC) and the National Association of Life Underwriters (NALU).

The designation marks an agent's long-term commitment to professionalism on behalf of clients, establishes the agent's competence and business experience, marks a commitment to NALU's code of ethics and frequently leads to additional professional development.

The National LUTCH Conferment exercise was conducted recently in Orlando, Fla., as part of the LUTC Recognition Program at the NALU annual convention.

A local recognition event also was held in Plainview, where Schacht was presented with the official diploma.

Since the introduction of the LUTC designation in 1984, more than 13,000 U.S. agents have qualified.

Schacht, a member of the Plainview Life Underwriters Association, has been active in the profession for five years.

The National Association of Life Underwriters, founded in 1890, is a federation of state and local associations representing 135,000 sales professionals in life and health insurance and other related financial services.

The Life Underwriter Training Council is an independent, nationwide life insurance sales training organization offering courses in personal insurance, business insurance, disability income, advanced sales, financial planning skills and multiline skills each year from October to May.

Nixon re-elected SWCD director

Leslie Nixon Jr. of Floydada was recently re-elected to the Floyd County SWCD board of directors October 6. Nixon represents zone 3 of the district.

The purpose of the Floyd County SWCD is to promote sound soil and water conservation programs on farm and ranch lands within the district and to serve as a voice for farmers and ranchers on conservation matters and other issues affecting private property rights of landowners.

The board of directors coordinates the conservation efforts of various local, state and federal agencies and other organizations and has authority to enter into working agreements with these governmental agencies and private concerns to carry out its purpose.

As one of five individuals serving on the district board of directors, Nixon will be responsible for district policies and procedures for carrying out the district program within the framework of the Texas soil conservation district law. Nixon was originally elected to the board in 1980.

In Texas there are 206 soil and water conservation districts. Each is a legal subdivision of state government organized by local agricultural landowners with the assistance of the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board. Unlike most other legal subdivisions of state government, SWCDs do not have the powers of taxation or eminent domain. All conservation programs managed by the districts are of a voluntary nature to the landowner or operator.

Recently the Board appointed Leon Ferguson to fill the unexpired term of the late Weldon Becker for zone 4. The appointment was effective August 11, 1987.

First Baptist Church holds fall revival Oct. 18-23

The annual fall revival at First Baptist Church opens with the 11 a.m. Sunday worship service and continues through the following Friday night. Daniel Shaeffer will be preaching for the Oct. 18-23 revival, and music will be led by Larry Newberry.

Sunday services are scheduled for 11 a.m. and 7 p.m., and weekday services will be at 12 noon and 7 p.m. A nursery will be provided for all services.

Following are special revival events: Sunday — Youth Night, youth fellowship following evening service

Monday — Baptist Men's breakfast, 7 a.m.; noon service and lunch; Sunday School Night, fellowship for Sunday School workers and their families after evening service

Tuesday — Noon service and lunch; Children's Night, corn dog supper at 6 p.m. for older children (3-6 grades)

Wednesday — Youth Breakfast, 7

a.m.; noon service and lunch; Wednesday evening family supper, 5:45 p.m.; Family Night

Thursday — Noon service and lunch; Friend and Neighbor Night; church-wide fellowship after evening service for friends and neighbors.

Friday — Noon service and lunch; senior adult dinner (meal provided), 6 p.m.; Senior Adult Night.

The Rev. Shaeffer serves as pastor of the First Southern Baptist Church in Liberal, Kan., a position he has held since September 1986. He has preached crusades in India, Africa and Yugoslavia.

Newberry has been minister of music since 1979 at First Baptist Church of Grapevine. He toured with Singing Men of North Texas to England in 1979 and with the Centurymen to the People's Republic of China in 1983.

Abundant Life Church presents part two of "Prodigal Planet"

"Prodigal Planet" is a film that offers a futuristic look at a nuclear charred world following the wholesale exchange of nuclear attack. The film follows the lives of a few survivors left in that radioactive wilderness and will be shown at Abundant Life Fellowship at 701 West Missouri St. in Floydada on Sunday, Oct. 18, at 6 p.m.

This Mark IV production is the fourth in a series of prophecy films on the end times including: "Thief in the Night," "A Distant Thunder," and "Image of the Beast." The "Prodigal Planet" builds on the quality and power of the earlier films in the series. "It is notable, not only for the excellent performances and the compelling dramatic sweep of the story line, but also for its biblical accuracy and penetrating insights into scriptural truth," a spokesperson says.

The story follows the desperate journey of David Michaels, a condemned fugitive from the world-wide dictatorship of the anti-christ. He and others, who refuse to wear the mark of the anti-christ, must run for their lives.

At the same time, underground believers are seeking a key computer component that will allow them to broadcast information and support to their resistance members around the world. It becomes David's lot to try and deliver the component to an unknown destination in the deserts of the Western United States.

With outstanding technical production and cinematography, "Prodigal Planet" allows a glimpse of the devastation in the "days after." Although the film is based on biblical prophecy of destruction and tribulation found in the books of Revelation, Daniel, and Ezekiel, "the film offers a positive message of hope and reassurance amidst our current climate of pessimism and despair about the future.

Whirlwinds remove Hornets stinger, 20-12

The Fightin' Whirlwinds owned a paper-thin 13-12 margin over favored Tulia with less than 4 1/2 minutes remaining in the District 2-AAA opener for both squads. Everyone in the stands Friday night realized that the explosive Hornets, whose home field advantage added to their role of favorite, could score on any play.

Quarterback Curtis House, starting the play on his 22, faded to pass. The onrushing white shirted defenders were an indication that it would be a screen.

Brilliant Whirlwind linebacker Johnny Taylor — whose middle name must be "Desire" — wasn't House's intended receiver, but he sensed what was coming, intercepted the ball and charged unchallenged across the double stripe to up the visitors' lead to 19-12. Corey Bates' PAT kick sailed through the uprights and the Winds owned a 20-12 advantage.

Should the Hornets have scored another touchdown, they would have been forced to make good on a two-point conversion to come away with a tie.

But that wasn't going to happen as Taylor and Co. held Tulia at bay with only a single first down the remainder of the contest.

SPEEDY HORNET

Trampus Goodwin, who had already scored one touchdown on a kickoff return, took the ball following Kenneth Collins' kick to the 15 and scampered out to the Hornet 45. The guys in the maroon home uniforms gained 4 yards in three snaps and House passed complete to Merwyn Parker on fourth down, but the speedster was stopped for a 1 yard loss at the Tulia 48.

Containing control with 2:34 left, the Whirlwinds got a yard on fullback Taylor's blast into the line before the freshman Collins broke free. He handled several would-be tacklers before being pulled down just inside the 10.

Parker kept the Hornets alive with an interception and return to the Tulia 46. He came within steps of breaking for the TD. Two snaps later, the speedy Parker gained 15 to the Floydada 39.

The Hornets got 7 more yards on a House to John Doan pass. Another pass fell incomplete, and Goodwin gained 2 and lost 1 on fourth down.

With 0:18 left on the clock, the Whirlwinds owned the ball and the victory!

This was the first time since L.G. Wilson moved from Floydada to Tulia as coach in 1983 that the Green and White had emerged with a victory over the Hornets.

The 20-12 win gives Coach Earl Overton's crew a 5-1 season record, and more importantly, a 1-0 ledger in district warfare.

DEFENSE SHINES

In the contest dominated, for the most part, by defenses, the Whirlwinds "D" put forth a tremendous effort against the powerful Hornets (rated as the 65th best AAA team in Texas by the Harris rating system, which last week ranked the Winds as number 95).

Sparkling for the Winds on defense were Roel Cisneros, Adam Cates, Greg Lawson, Ismail Delgado, Jason Brown, Dana Cooper, Danny Caballero (returning to action after missing two games), Taylor, Jacob Galvan, Chad Pernel, Daniel Medrano, David Medrano, Chad Quisenberry, Ty Stovall, Bates and others.

Dame Fortune shined on both clubs early in the contest, although neither was able to capitalize. Six plays deep into the game, a white shirt climbed off a Tulia fumble at the Hornet 43. Two snaps later, however, the favor was returned at the 45.

Cates sacked House for an 11 yard setback to stall Tulia's second possession.

It was not until late in the first quarter that either eleven could produce much offense. After Stovall returned a punt to the Floydada 34, the Winds cranked up their offense.

Bates, whose passing was pin-point most of the contest, (eight completions in 12 attempts) connected with Collins on a 29 yard pass and run to the Tulia 37. A penalty at the end of the play moved it to the 32. Collins gained 1 and 1 before David Medrano hauled in a Bates aerial for a first at the 18. Taylor plowed for 3 and Bates was halted for no gain before the Winds were charged with a delay infraction.

Chad Pernel, who produced another sterling performance both ways, hauled in a Bates pass for 17 yards to the 3 as the first quarter became history.

WINDS SCORE FIRST

Yardage came tough as Taylor gained a half yard and Bates was sacked at the 6. Collins found running room around right end and handed the Winds a lead on a 6 yard run. Bates' PAT kick was short and it remained 6-0 with 10:40 — all but three plays — left before the bands entertained.

The determined Hornets wanted a TD of their own after Collins' kick went out of bounds at the Tulia 36. With Goodwin and Parker sharing ball carrying responsibilities, the Hornets advanced the 64 yards to paydirt in 11 snaps. Goodwin had the longest gainer, 35 yards, and Parker ran 11 and 9 steps for first downs.

With the Hornets owning a first down at the 1, the Winds defense dug in. Parker was stopped for a 1 yard setback, Goodwin got 1 before being popped by Pernel in a collision heard in the stands. Parker went into the left side of his line for the final yard. The Hornets had an opportunity to take the lead, but Goodwin's kick was wide right. The score was deadlocked with 5:45 left in the half.

Bates kept for 11 around left end and Stovall burst through for a 6 yard first down run to the Floydada 42. The offensive ran out of downs and the squads swapped punts before intermission.

Receiving the ball to open the third stanza, the Winds got new series on a 16 yard Bates-to-Taylor pass and a 6 yard run by Stovall before a fumble at the Tulia 41 handed the ball to Tulia.

STINGY DEFENSE

The host team rolled as Goodwin burst up the middle for 22 yards before being tackled by the last white shirt, David Medrano. House passed complete to Parker (15 yards) and end Lance Grantham (11 yards), which advanced the pighide to the Floydada 11. David Medrano almost intercepted on first down, Tulia was charged with delay, Goodwin made 4 and a 5 yard pass brought up fourth-and-6 at the 11.

Parker went back for an apparent field goal attempt, but a bad snap left the ball on the ground and Brown covered at the 18.

With the third quarter passing the midway point, a Whirlwind covered Goodwin's fumble at the Floydada 31.

Bates was dropped for a 3 yard setback before the senior quarterback found David Medrano open and threaded the needle for a 28 yard gainer to the Tulia 44. Collins was halted for a 2 yard loss, a pass fell incomplete and Pernel grabbed a pass for 11 at the 35. On fourth-and-one Collins — running behind an offensive line of Cates, Cisneros, Lawson, Cooper and Shane Orman — plowed 2 steps to keep the drive alive.

Coach Overton elected to try the overland route again and it clicked for a touchdown as Pernel outmaneuvered a defender for the 33 yard pass from Bates and run into the end zone. Bates PAT conversion made it 13-6 with 9 seconds left in quarter number three.

QUICK TOUCHDOWN

But not for long! But not for long! Parker fielded Collins kick at his 23, raced down the west sideline — in front of the home stands — and didn't stop until he was in the end zone. Parker's number again was dialed as the Hornets attempted a run for two points and the lead. But white shirts smothered Parker shy of the double stripe and Floydada's 13-12 lead held entering the final 12 minutes.

Early in the period, Pernel handed the Winds a golden opportunity to increase their lead as he picked off a House pass about the Floydada 40 and raced down the east sideline before being downed at the enemy 22.

But Tulia's defense also was rugged. On the next play, the white shirts were charged with holding, Bates was sacked for an 8 yard setback and two passes fell incomplete — one dropped about the 5 — before David Medrano raced downfield to kill Bates' punt at the 6.

The Hornets advanced out to the 22 before House's aerial was picked off by Taylor, who returned it for the final TD of the contest. Bates' third PAT attempt was good to make the final reading Floydada 20, Tulia 12.

Tiffany Gentry misses single game in contest

Tiffany Gentry missed only one of 22 contest games — Pittsburg's upset of Notre Dame — to easily claim first place honors in The Hesperian football contest. She received a $10 check.

Keith Marricle was all alone with three misses to earn the $6 second place check.

Things got sticky for third place as seven contestants had forms with four misses.

The tie-breaker score — the Whirlwinds and Tulia scored 32 points — was necessary to determine third place. Brent Sanders and Mike Anderson each had four incorrect winners and each was three points away from the exact tie-breaker score to share the $4 check. Sanders guessed 29 points and Anderson predicted 35.

Others missing four games and their tie-breaker scores were: Amy McCormick, 21; T.L. Holland, 28; Nelda Enriquez, 38; Robert Redden, 40; and Travis Gentry, 42.

Receiving honorable mention with forms bearing five misses were: Jack Robertson, Deneen Marricce, John Campbell, W.O. Newberry, Franklin Harris, Dolan Hanna, Rilla Sue Woody, Duncan Woody, Sherry Hale and Pam Fulton.

HARRIS IN LEAD

Fifteen contestants have scores of 85 or greater in the season point total. The winner receives two tickets to the Dallas Cowboys-Miami Dolphins game.

Franklin Harris holds the lead with a score of 93. Deneen Marricce and Sherry Hale are close behind with 91 each.

Andy Hale and Travis Gentry have scores of 90.

Others who have accumulated impressive scores are:

Dolan Hanna, Mike Anderson, Paige Cannon, Wes Campbell and Jean Hale — 87 points

Keith Marricle, Jeffrey Marler, Robert Redden and Duncan Woody — 86 points

Amy McCormick — 85 points.

Thursday games scheduled against Muleshoe

Floydada and Muleshoe junior football squads will square off Thursday (today) prior to the Whirlwinds-Mules varsity game here on Friday night.

Eighth and seventh grade Breezers will host Muleshoe on the local field. Kickoff in the seventh grade match is set for 5 p.m.

Both junior varsity and freshmen games are scheduled in Muleshoe, beginning at 5:30 p.m. However, JV and frosh squads could be combined and a single game played. This decision had not been made at press time.

FROSH GAME

Visiting Tulia broke open a scoreless game with a third quarter touchdown. This was the only points scored as Tulia claimed a 6-0 decision.

The Whirlwind freshmen were on the Tulia "five or six yard line" when the game ended.

EIGHTH GRADE BREEZERS

TIE TULIA, 14-14
Breezers traveled to Tulia last Thursday for their first district game.

The Breezers opened the game by scoring on their first series. The touchdown came on a 7 yard run over the left side by David Johnston, who also made the PAT on a 3 yard pass from Billy Joe Villarreal.

The 8-0 lead didn't last long. On the kickoff, Tulia returned it 65 yards for a TD. The two-point conversion was successful, leaving the score 8-8 at the end of the first quarter. Neither team was able to score in the second quarter.

In the third stanza the Breezers managed to add six more points on "an excellent 65 yard run up the middle by Kenneth Davis." The extra point failed and the Breezers owned a 14-8 advantage.

On Tulia's next series, the junior Hornets managed to score but their try for two came up short. Neither team was able to score again.

Jaime Suarez and Quincy Johnson both intercepted passes to stop Tulia's drives near the end of the game.

"This was our best defensive performance of the year," says Coach Tim James. "I was pleased by the way we were able to stop the big running backs from Tulia. The offense also moved the ball well most of the night. We really do appreciate the support we have been getting."

Next game* is Thursday against Muleshoe here. The seventh grade game starts at 5 p.m.

October Is

Cooperatives today come in all sizes and kinds. There are co-ops for electric and telephone service, credit unions and farm credit, housing, food, insurance, farm marketing and farm supply, health and day care. They're found in urban, suburban and rural areas — all over the country. The cooperative way of conducting business has an impressive track record — proving to be an efficient, economical way of meeting common needs of people. That's why co-ops are found in thousands of communities in every single state — why co-ops have grown and flourished.

Co-op people are proud of their cooperatives... knowing they provide services and jobs that benefit the whole community.

There's probably a co-op or two in your life, working for a better community and a better America — and for you!

"We are proud to do business the Cooperative way."

Council to pursue paving grant

Meeting in regular session for the month of October, the Floydada City Council voted to pursue an application for paving grant funds following a public hearing to discuss the matter. Persons in attendance at the October 13 session were told that funds are available on a competitive basis for "public service projects."

This information was relayed by Kay Howard of Gary Traylor & Associates in Lubbock. Howard informed the group that the current door to door survey being conducted would yield the necessary information concerning the percentage of low to moderate income residents on unpaved streets in the city which is necessary to apply for the funds. These funds from the Texas Community Development Program are allocated on the basis of need, benefit, income levels and census data. Grants of from $50,000 to $300,000 are awarded to the communities whose proposed projects score highest on these items and funds available total $1.5 million.

At the end of the public hearing, the council agreed to proceed with the application. Details of the survey and the application will be released following a second public hearing on October 27. Final approval will come either at the November or December meeting of the council.

A scheduled discussion of the sanitary landfill with attorney Charles White was table as he was not present at the session. Discussion of the Energas franchise agreement was also tabled.

Transfer of maintenance of city birth and death records was approved by the passing of a resolution turning these records over to County Clerk Margaret Collier. The motion for approval was made by Leroy Burns, seconded by Don Green and passed unanimously.

Boone Adams and Mac McElyea representing the Whirlwind Sams met with the council to provide their recommendations for rules and regulations for the R.V. parking being constructed at the city park near the swimming pool. These recommendations included two free nights and a charge of $5 per night after that with a maximum stay of five days. A sign listing park rules and welcoming travelers was also suggested, along with patrolling by city officers and a designated "dog walk". The park will consist of 8 single spaces which can be used as 16 with back to back parking which will have electricity and water hook-ups. 16 additional spaces will have only electricity and a dump station will be provided. Don Green made the motion to accept the recommendations with a second by Frank Breed. The motion carried.

Gary Brown, city manager, presented a proposal for cleaning the sewer lakes from Lecco Systems. The estimated cost is $29,500. A motion by Burns, seconded by Wayne Russell approved putting the project out for bids rather than accepting only one proposal at face value. Discussion of a letter received from Wayne Tipton requesting the closing of the alley at Tipton Oil and Butane resulted in the council authorizing an easement for the use of the alley. The council felt that it would be unwise to close the alley unless it becomes necessary at a later date to help facilitate the Tipton remodeling project planned for the spring.

Charges for pick up trash at locations outside the city limits were increased by $1.00 per month to compensate for the fact that the people served in these locations do not pay any city taxes. A first proposal of a fifty-cent increase on a motion by Burns, seconded by Breed was voted down 2-4. The $1 charge was approved 4-2 on a motion by Nancy Willson and seconded by Russell.

Jack McIntosh, Charles Craig, Don Marble, Louis Lloyd, Kinder Farris and Louis Pyle were re-appointed to the airport board. Appointed for three year terms were McIntosh, Farris and Pyle. Two year terms were approved for Craig, Marble and Lloyd.

Discussion on two rundown projects in town yielded a motion to proceed with demolition measures on a structure at 502 E. Jackson Street and a motion to convey a letter of non-compliance to the owners of the old Booth Building behind Williams Florist. Both buildings do not meet city codes.

Renovation of the big water tower will be included in the budget for next year.

Cost of repairing and repainting the tower is estimated at $30,000. The smaller tower will not be renovated at this time. Also to be included in the next budget is the purchase of bunker pants (heavy duty pants) to complete the uniforms of firemen during the fighting of a fire. The council voted to purchase as many pairs of the pants as can be bought at this time with money budgeted for fire equipment this year. The special trousers will cost about $160 a pair. Approval was on a motion by Burns, seconded by Willson and passed unanimously.

Discussed and decided against was placing the city farm in the CRP program. Council also discussed and authorized placing the 1951 Chevrolet fire truck up for bids.

The council instructed police chief James Hale to "take care of Halloween night as he sees fit" in regard to staffing and police action. Hale expressed concern that the holiday falls on a Saturday this year and urged extra caution to avoid incidents in which young children might be hurt.

Attending the session were council members Burns, Russell, Green, Ginger Warren, Breed and Willson. Also present was Mayor Parnell Powell, city manager Gary Brown, city secretary Jimmie Lou Stewart, Kay Howard, Boone Adams, Mac McElyea, police chief James Hale, Joe Stepp and The Hesperian reporter.

★ The Massie family as recalled by Will Martin ★

By Will Martin

Mr. and Mrs. W.M. Massie and some of their kin were early settlers of Floyd County.

I shall try to tell part of the history of this family the best I know how from information I have received from three sources. The first is from pieces by early writers. The next source is what my Papa and Mama told me and when I became of age old enough to remember things myself.

I believe the two first sources will have a tendency to be closely related with each other as Papa and Mama came to Floyd County in 1898, just a few years after "Will Massie" came to Floyd County.

My first information was that Mr. Massie rode a bicycle from Weatherford to Della Plains, which was the first little town in Floyd County and about six or seven miles north of the present town of Floydada. As records go he had only a change of clothes, a school teacher's certificate and I believe a land surveyor's license.

Mr. Will got the job of teaching the first year of school at Della Plain. Two factions tried to start a town near Muncy and one near Lockney and then a third started a town called Floydalia. After they got a post office "right" it was called Floydada. I think while all this fussing was going on Mr. Massie was surveying for the state and buying land titles from either the school or railroad.

I think it sold all the way from 50 cents to $2 per acre. Mr. Will started his land office, I think, by buying and selling and when he would get a piece of land cheap that he liked, he would keep it personally. He started his empire as some people who were greedy and jealous accused him of beating people out of their land.

Some people would come out here, buy a piece of land, strike a poor year due to grasshoppers, hail and fire, etc. or they would get homesick. Then they would offer their interest to Mr. Massie so cheap that he or anyone else could not afford to turn the offer down. He could be said to be made of tougher metal than many people. I understand he lived in half dugouts and roomed in cheap boarding houses the first few years he spent on the plains, even after he moved to Floydada. I think his land office was on the west side of the square. It was there in 1910 when everything on that block was burned out.

Where he went next I don't know. All I remember was his office was upstairs in the east part of the brick building that was the First National Bank, where his office stayed all the time I knew him.

I will tell a few things about Mr. Will's earlier accumulation of land. Exactly when he acquired the land I am going to speak of I don't know but I suppose it was when Floydada was started. Anyway he acquired a few hundred acres of land on the west boundary of the town section, and I suppose several town lots at the same time. His land southwest of town was called the ranch place of about eight sections of land. My brother Henry told me that on the east side of this land was a piece of land that was considered the W.M. Massie homestead section.

After Papa and Mama arrived here in 1898 they went to Grandpa Martins. He owned a section of land about five or six miles north of town. Of course, Papa needed a job soon and Grandpa Tom took him to the Massie land office to apply for a job. Papa was raised on a farm in Arkansas and had just left a sheep and cattle ranch he had worked for four or five years. Grandpa must have known Mr. Massie well because as soon as introductions were over, Grandpa stated that Papa needed a job. Mr. Massie asked Grandpa, "Will he work?" Grandpa said "he had better. I sure taught him to work when he was growing up." Papa got the job and Papa and Mama and the two little girls moved on the ranch place I spoke of earlier. He was taking care of cows, sheep and doing some farming.

Allow me to attempt to try and explain why I use the names of our family so often concerning a story about lives of the Massies. From the time Papa got his first job from Mr. Will, he worked pretty steady for him for about 10 years for one dollar a day. After that Papa had bought an 80 acre piece of land from Mr. Will. Some members of our family either worked for him, rented land from him or was in some way concerned with some of the Massies until Mr. Massie passed away in 1949, (the same year my mother died). Anyone can understand how our family could get quite a bit of information about the Massies under those circumstances in that length of time.

Mr. Will married Miss Lela Martin from Weatherford. I remember it as in the early 1900s.

He built a nice home about one block from the town section and two blocks south of the Sandhill highway with a big yellow barn directly west of the house. All the land that was south of the house and west was pasture and field, is in town now.

In a few years Mama started to clean house for Mrs. Massie and kept it up for several years and, of course, she learned many of the Massie habits. Her report was that they were peaceable and both were honest, good and upright and unselfish people.

I remember one time Mrs. Massie called Mama to come and help her clean house and beat the rugs. In those days a person would hang the rug on the clothes line and beat the dust out with a metal beater sort of like a tennis racket. Besides being a good housekeeper, Mrs. Massie wanted to make a good impression on Mr. Will's employers. The Massie home was nice and neat. They had what would be antique, tall headboard bedstead, and I think a hall tree as well as maybe more than one old time dresser. And in the front room was the first fireplace I ever remember seeing, with pretty irons with brass knobs on top. In the kitchen was the largest cast iron coal cook stove with water heater on back and food warmer on top. This was the prettiest stove I ever saw.

Through Mama doing housework for Mrs. Massie I had the chance to personally learn a lot about the family. On the days Mama worked, I would stop by and wait until 5 or 6 o'clock when it was time for Mama to go home, and we would walk home together. Sometimes it would be pretty late and Mrs. Massie would have herself or Alberta take us home in the car. I suppose before they got cars Mama would walk home most of the time.

I would play games with Alberta and he would let me play with his cast iron train. Mr. Massie often came in before Mama and I went home. He would sit in the front room with Alberta and I, talk to us, give us advice and encourage us to be sure and go to school and learn things worthwhile for the future. This was one of the times I learned of his steadfastness and being a man of his word. When I was in the sixth grade and Alberta was in the seventh grade, (the last year of grammar school in those days) we were with Mr. Massie and he was encouraging and giving advice as usual. Alberta was due to go into high school that spring and Mr. Will said to us, "If you two boys will graduate into high school and in four more years get out of high school, I will give you a suit of clothes each time." That spring Alberta got his suit, which I was sure he would.

The next spring awhile before school was out Mr. Massie called me up to his office and said that he understood I was graduating into high school and for me to go to J.G. Martin's Dry Goods store and I would be fitted with a brand new outfit.

I thanked Mr. Will very much for my first suit of long pants. Four years later the same thing happened. He told me this was more than a gift, but also a reward because he felt a person should earn what he received.

While on the subject of work, Mr. Massie was firm believer in productive work. He saw to it that his own boy was trained to do different kinds of work.

Mr. Will asked Papa to let Alberta learn to pick cotton on our place. "Bert" would ride a horse out to our small farm and bring his lunch in a basket or paper sack. We showed him how to pick cotton. He would pick it real clean. It happened that he was the only one that I could beat picking cotton.

Mrs. Massie picked cotton for some of the people closer to town. She would use the money to get Christmas presents for the less fortunate people. Mrs. Massie was always doing good for someone in every way she could. Mr. Will also helped the ones who had hard luck. I suppose no one ever knew how many boxes of apples he gave to people over the years. But as I have said before, he expected people that were able to work to do just that.

If he were living today I just don't know what he would do with the modern parasites.

I will try to tell some of the odd and end things that he did for individuals and for the public. Let me remind you that Mr. Will was definitely not a show-off and did not care to see his name in the news print unless it seemed to be necessary. Mrs. Lelia was the same way with all her good deeds. I will write an article some time back and told that I did not know who paid for the tabernacle. I will always believe the Massies went a long way on paying for it.

There were other things of public interest that I would guess that Will and Lelia had had a silent hand in. Both of them liked to back projects that would be helpful to both young and old. I believe that the old bandstand on the northwest corner of the courthouse lawn was backed by the Massies to help encourage music in the community. If I remember correctly, Mrs. Lelia was a piano player and music lover and saw to it that Geraldine had music training.

I suppose the Massies helped with the Presbyterian college that used to be out east of town. If I get some of these things that I believe to be facts wrong, I would like for Geraldine to correct me.

A few more things I wish to tell about W.M. Massie. In the early 1920s when the towns in the South Plains were competing for Texas Tech, Mr. Massie was one of the main men who put out an effort for Floydada to influence the selection board to locate the college here. He contracted to buy a large block of land directly west of town that he would pay the owners and donate the land to the college if Floydada was chosen. I think the reason Lubbock got the school was that it was on a three-way major railroad.

One of what I call one of Mr. Will's acts that seemed to me beyond duty was what he did for Papa. Papa bought the second 80 acres from him and paid on it three or four years and for some reason,

I never knew why, turned it back.

Everyone knows it is to be accepted when a person turns a piece of property back before it is paid for, he does not get any back that he has paid. Mr. Massie paid Papa every cent that had been paid. We rented the land for about 15 years. Papa's health failed about two years before he died in 1937, which was the reason he could not work the land. I know that all of the community are certainly thankful and all of us appreciate more than we know how to express for the gift of the Massie Activity Center that was given for the benefit of the whole community. I understand it was given by Mrs. Geraldine Massie Murray in honor of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W.M. Massie.

W.A. Massie was the son of Mr. and Mrs. W.M. Massie. Bert, as he seemed to like to be called, did many good things for Floydada and surrounding places. One of the most appreciated things that he did for Floydada was to have the land he owned and sold on the west side of town zoned so it would meet certain standards that the prospective buyer must agree to when he or she bought a home site.

Mr. Will also managed some land for two men that were named Howard. As I got the information it was several sections out northeast from the present town of South Plains. I suppose Mr. Massie got paid well for his efforts. I never knew where these men lived but I supposed it was in some city back east. I had the idea that they were rich compared to people in that day.

Mr. Will, the way I saw his way of living, was that he was business all the way and no foolishness or unnecessary carrying on. He might have had what so many now call recreation when he was younger but I never knew of him playing golf, croquet or pitching horseshoes as some did in those days. As I saw it, his first love was land and next was livestock and farming, besides his real estate business.

He seemed to have the greatest love for the Blanco Canyon that he acquired from some of the early settlers. The first land bought, going east, was a block of land from Mr. McCarty. There was a block of land, just west of Ralls, where he so kindly allowed the public to go fishing and picnicking. We boys that were big enough to go in swimming went in the raw. Mr. Will said he did not wish to deprive the people a place to play as long as they would shut the gates. We could picnic anywhere over his land. In those days it was a very rare person who would misuse their privileges. The fishing was possible because the plains irrigation wells had not drawn the water so low to cause the seep springs to dry up and leave the water holes dry. The creek is dry now except when it rains.

Mr. Massie also bought land from Uncle Joe Day's block going west on the east side of what we call the Da2 crossing. If I remember right, Uncle Joe and his mother lived a while in a half dugout. The last time I was down there the shape of the dugout and rock fence uphill were still there. The next place west of the Day Crossing was, I suppose, settled by the Edgar McCarty's. The place now belongs to Tom and Rita Pierce, two fine people in my estimation.

If there is any canyon land between the old Judge Duncan place, it belonged to the Coverdale land. The original A.B. Duncan settling. It was where the half dugout was located that the Duncans settled and where Maude Hollums, the Duncan daughter was born. She was the first white child born in Floyd County. If I am wrong on the location, I am due for a correction.

The last land going north belonging to Mr. Massie began at the Blanco bridge and crossed the road just south of the S.A. Greer home. This land was in the southwest corner of the eight sections. I am not sure that Mr. Will bought or traded these places from the original owners or from someone that had acquired the land first.

Mr. Massie seemed to love land more than any other material thing in this world. He was no lover of recreation or waste of time as he termed it. What he did mostly in later years was hire someone to drive him in a car when he was not working in his office. They would drive him over different blocks of his land. He would get out of the car and walk a pretty fair distance among his livestock and his crops.

When we workers were harvesting wheat, oats, etc. he would have his drivers to take him where we were working, not to boss us, because we knew what we were supposed to do. Mr. Will just enjoyed seeing the work take place. He undoubtedly got lots of pleasure from his land and livestock. He was also a good psychologist. He only told me one thing I didn't like and in later years in my life I have decided it was a good saying after all. The quote was that, "I failed to take advantage of my opportunities."

If my memory is correct, Mr. W.M. Massie had three brothers and one sister who lived a number of years in Floyd County. Their ages, according to place in the family, I never did learn for sure.

I will give a few facts that Mama told me about the ones I had limited knowledge of and try to separate the ones I knew a little more about.

The first I will begin with was J.M. or Marvin until he died. Mama said when he first came here he boarded a few months with Papa and Mama until he rented a place to make his first home. Mr. Marvin would later tell a story about my brother Henry. He said when Henry was about three years old, Mama placed a saucer of milk on the floor for the cat. Henry saw it and held the cat off by its neck and got on the floor and drank the milk himself.

Mr. Marvin's home that he had built still stands in pretty fair shape. It is on the west side of First Street, one block south of what I call the Sandhill road or the same street the Museum and The Hesperian are on.

All I know about Virgil was that he used to own the block of land on the hill about three miles southeast of town. I don't remember ever seeing that brother of Will's.

I suppose Charlie was the youngest brother, and he was in partners with Mr. Will in the wholesale grocery business which was located on the railroad one block north of the Henry Edwards grain elevator.

Charley was a quiet and honest man and a man that treated his fellow man right. He showed that by the number of men that worked for him so many years. I don't think he ever married. He spent several years boarding with Mr. Marvin after Mr. Marvin's wife died.

Mr. Will's sister was Mrs. H.D. or "Tobe" Butler. I do not remember ever seeing Mrs. Butler and I only remember seeing Uncle Tobe over three or four times. I knew Jed Martin's wife quite well. I think she was the oldest Butler daughter.

I also knew Truitt, the Butler boy, who buddied with brother Henry. Mr. Butler bought a block of land just west of our land. This was during the war of 1917 and 1918 or what was called World War I. I was just 10 years old but Truitt came and got me to ride a go-devil, cultivating a cotton patch. Mr. Butler gave me two dollars per day. Truitt said I handled the team real well even if I did get off the row two or three times.

All the Massies seemed to like to own land, which I think is a good investment.

Mrs. Lelia had two of the most wonderful brothers that I believe anyone ever had. They were J.G. "Jed" and Claude. I knew Jed ever since I can remember and Claude came to the plains later. I knew Claude's wife but I didn't know her parents' name. She was a nice and friendly woman.

Jed's wife was a Butler and I think her given name was Lura. The Martin brothers operated the Martin Dry Goods store a good many years at two different locations that I can remember.

I sure admired the Martins and when our family needed dry goods and didn't have the money handy, we could always get them on credit and pay later the same as other people that they knew they could trust. Jed and Claude will always stand out in my memory with their families as above average people. If you knew Lelia you would find Jed and Claude in the same outstanding character mold. I think Mrs. Massie had another brother at Weatherford but I never knew him.

Alberta's widow is named Troye and she lives in the former Massie home, the last house on the south side of the Sandhill highway. To me, Troye is a very fine lady and on top of her fine character she has the ability to be one of the best landscape artists I believe I have ever seen. Her place is one of the prettiest places in town.

There are only two people left living in Floydada that I know of who are kin to the older Massies. The first is Annie Laura Watson, wife of Jake Watson. I have known Annie Laura ever since I can remember and it is nothing but good memories that I have for such a nice person, daughter of J.G. and Laura Martin and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. H.D. Butler.

Jake and I went to school together and he has always been a good natured entertainer. There is nothing but pleasant things I know about both of them and wish them many more happy years together.

The next one I don't know personally, but knew her parents and grandparents, and I also know her husband, J.S. Hale. I am speaking of Mary Katherine Hale. We knew her mother, who we called Kate. She was a music teacher.

Mary Katherine's grandparents were Mr. and Mrs. H.D. Butler and her father was J.V. Daniels, who I remember as president of the First National Bank several years ago. J.S. has been nice and friendly with me since I have known him.

I hope this ending does not cause people to think I am bragging. Two weeks after I was born my two older sisters liked Mr. Massie and they named me William Montague Massie Martin. The name has been shortened since.

Loans for home repairs provided by Guadalupe Economic Services

Guadalupe Economic Services Corporation, through grants from the Farmer's Home Administration, has established a program to provide low interest loans for home repairs.

Funds are available for major repairs such as roofing, plumbing, electrical and structural problems and handicap accessibility, to comply with standards.

The amount of the loan is based on 55 percent of the value of the home with the maximum amount of $5,000. Loans are repaid at 5 percent interest, with a ten year repayment schedule. County income limits are based on family size and combined yearly income.

Income limits for a family of two for Floyd County is $13,300. Income, credit history, need for repairs and ability to pay, will be considered.

Priority will be given to elderly, handicapped and to low income individuals. Each applicant should bring proof of home ownership such as deed (must have been living in home for one year prior to applying); income verification for 1986, such as W-2 form, 1040 or Social Security determination letter; and Property Tax Receipts (taxes must be current).

GES has also been designated as an approved counseling service by HUD and the Texas Veteran Land Board to provide information, assistance and advice to prospective and current homeowners regarding housing questions or problems.

These services are open to everyone including those individuals experiencing mortgage difficulties. There is no charge to the client for this housing related counseling. Information on other sources of funding for repairs is available.

Applications from Floyd County homeowners desiring to repair their residences may be completed at the County Courthouse, Room 106, in Floydada, Texas, on Thursday, October 15, 1987, from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m.

This program is also available in Motley, Dickens, Crosby and Hale Counties.

For more information call 806-744-4416 and ask to speak to Mary Baiza or Margy McMennamy.

EXPLANATION
Where Does The Money Come From? Guadalupe Economic Services Corporation through grants from the Farmer's Home Administration has established a program to provide low interest loans for home rehabilitation. The intent of the USDA Grant is to establish an ongoing loan program so that other homeowners can be assisted in the future. Therefore, repayment is essential.

Who Is Eligible? Priority will be given to the elderly, the handicapped and to low income individuals.

For What Will The Loan Money Be Used? The loan money will be used to upgrade and make necessary repairs to homes in the rural areas of the counties surrounding Lubbock.

What Repairs Will Be Allowed? Funds are available for major repairs only such as roofing, electrical wiring, plumbing, insulation, storm windows and some foundation work.

How Much Can I Borrow? $5,000.00 is the maximum loan allowed for repairs, and the loan amount is based on property value of the home (only 55% of the appraised value can be spent on repairs.) The borrowed amount must bring the house up to HUD standards. Otherwise, loans will not be approved.

Are There Income Limits? Yes. The FmHA has provided a low income limit chart which will be followed based on family size and combined yearly income. These income limits vary for each county.

Do I Qualify Automatically? No. There is an application process to be followed. Income, credit history, need for repairs and ability to repay will all be considered.

How Is This Loan To Be Repaid? Loan repayment guidelines are set up at this time on the basis of 5% interest. However, each case will be reviewed separately and repayment will be established on the individual's ability to repay.

Who Will Do The Repairs? Construction will be open for public bids and be performed by approved contractors only.

What Should I Bring When I Come To Apply? Each prospective applicant is responsible for bringing with him to the application site the following items:

1. Proof of home ownership such as the Deed. (Applicant must be living in the home one year prior to application)
2. Income verifications for each person living in the home.
3. Property Tax Receipts (Taxes Must be current)

Baptist communication award to Beth Pratt

Beth Pratt, religion editor and staff writer for the "Lubbock Avalanche Journal," has been named recipient of the 1987 Texas Baptist Communications Award and will be honored at a luncheon Thursday, Oct. 15, at the Holiday Inn Civic Center.

The luncheon will be attended by media, civic and religious leaders.

Mrs. Pratt will receive the award at the 102nd annual meeting of the Baptist General Convention of Texas in Fort Worth, Nov. 10-11, said Thomas J. Brannon director of the BGCT Office of Public Relations.

The award, presented annually by the Baptist General Convention of Texas' Public Relations Advisory Committee, recognizes an individual from the communications media who has made an outstanding contribution to the religious life of Texas.

"The award selection committee was particularly impressed with Mrs. Pratt's extensive and in-depth reporting of the farm crisis and her articles on the

Lockney rebates top Floydada's

The Lockney rebate this month totaled $6,861.22. The rebate for the same period in 1986 was $3,215.66. This brings the total 1987 rebates up to $43,637.00, representing an increase of 20.10%.

Floydada rebates for the year now total $88,328.23, an increase of 12.21%. The October check was in the amount of City sales tax rebate checks mailed from State Comptroller Bob Bullock on October 9 reflect a large increase for Lockney. The proceeds from the one-percent tax levied by 904 cities in Texas are returned to cities on a monthly basis. Checks in October reflect sales reported by September 20 for the month of August.

$6,387.89. Payment for the same time period in 1986 was $6,010.72. Rebates for other area cities, along with the percent of change are as follows:

- Quitaque, $1,007.15, -10.82%
- Silverton, $870.14, -16.03%
- Crosbyton, $2,505.57, -20.15%
- Lorenzo, $1,457.67, -2.99%
- Ralls, $2,616.97, -10.54%
- Abernathy, $3,361.29, +1.24%
- Hale Center, $1,889.78, -2.60%
- Petersburg, $1,529.84, +12.52%
- Plainview, $91,816.90, +0.19%
- Matador, $813.45, +1.17%
- Happy, $918.11, +41.11%
- Kress, $547.62, -13.93%
- Tulia, $7,722.46, -7.72%
- Lubbock, $936,601.84, -4.97%

present crisis in the television ministry," Brannon said.

The award recipient attributes her decision to major in journalism as the direct result of her five-year experience as a columnist for a publication produced by the Church Media Library Department of the Southern Baptist Sunday School Board. She returned to college after her children were grown and graduated in 1982 from Texas Tech University in Lubbock.

She is married to Floydada farmer A.C. Pratt and they have three sons. Mrs. Pratt was nominated for the award by Floyd Bradley, director of missions for Caprock-Plains Baptist Area. "Brad" was our beloved pastor for 22 years. He helped raise our three sons," Mrs. Pratt said.

Recognition for outstanding journalistic achievement is nothing new for this life-long Floydada resident. Earlier this year she received a national Wilbur Award from the Religious Public Relations Council Inc. In both 1985 and 1987 she was selected by the Lubbock Chapter of Women in Communications as Communicator of the Year.

Mrs. Pratt has served in various volunteer organizations and is active in the First Baptist Church of Floydada where her husband is a deacon. She has been a Sunday school teacher with various age groups and has served as church media library director since 1966.

"Religious news is no different from any other news," Mrs. Pratt said. "As a reporter I have to know something about it to report it. The big difference is, in religion there's no one single place to go to get information. We have more than 235 churches in the Lubbock area."

Mrs. Pratt daily faces the problem of religious terms having different meanings to various groups. "I'm a stickler for accuracy. You get accuracy by doing your homework and not assuming anything," she said.

"Every subject has moral and ethical dimensions. You can write about anything on the religion page," she added. Asked about the impact of the present crisis in electronic evangelism, Mrs. Pratt said that it is time we look at religion with the same intensity we do other areas. "The truth will make you free. People get in trouble when they try to cover up the truth. The church of all groups needs to be more open than anyone else. Accountability is crucial," Mrs. Pratt said.

"In the institutional church the present crisis has created an appreciation for the fact that accountability is built into the system," she said.

Mrs. Pratt praised her newspaper for its openness and support. "I've had freedom to do my job. Our paper tries to be responsive to the public and our public feels that religion deserves attention along with other areas of life," she said.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I'm writing you about a very serious and growing health problem in Texas.

Doctors report they're seeing more cases of oral cancer these days and they expect to see a whole lot more in the future — because of the big increase in smokeless tobacco use, particularly among kids.

But smokeless tobacco can't cause cancer if you never start using it or if you quit soon enough. However, quitting is very tough to do. I know because I tried to quit several times. Then I found out from doctors that smokeless tobacco is more addictive than cigarettes or cocaine. No wonder I had a problem. What I needed was something to help get me off.

I luckily found it when I got some samples of a new tobacco-free alternative designed to help me quit. It did help me and I'd like to see it help others, especially young folks who might have been following my example when they took up dipping or chewing in the first place.

I'm sure there are many people among your readers who would benefit from knowing about this new way to quit smokeless tobacco — before it's too late.

Yours in good health,
/s/ Randy White

Whirlwind band carries spirit to contest

By Marti Stepp

"It's rough, since the original band director resigned, but we've (the band) pulled together and made the best of things. We have strong leaders and a great band," says June Willson, band council president. "I think we will do well."

June's statement is in reference to the October 21 regional marching band contest slated for Jones Stadium at Texas Tech in Lubbock. Bands from all around the area compete in the performance of marching shows and receive ratings ranging from a division I (the best) to lower numbers as the judges see fit.

In agreement with her is the band council vice president Gabriel Mendoza. "The spirit and pride of the band this year has really come shining through thanks to our new directors. I feel that if every individual plays up to their highest potential, we can get a I."

Secretary Jane Willson stated, "We have a good group of incoming Fish (freshmen), which have really helped our size and sound! Our directors have really increased the spirit of the band. I think this is our year for a I."

In preparation for the annual contest, the band has spent approximately 20 hours a week in practice. Since August 10, band members have been meeting for practice many extra hours. Twice a day sessions were held in August and the beginning of school saw class sessions begin half an hour before regular classes each day. In addition to longer class periods, evening sessions for each section have been held weekly and full band rehearsals are held on Tuesday evenings for two hours.

The band council is responsible for helping the band progress by encouraging each band member individually, as well as a group, to reach the goal of perfection. Joining the four officers on the council are senior representative Shana Seymour, junior representative Rachel DeLeon, sophomore representative Heather Henderson and freshman representative Michael Aleman. Drum major Pam Woody also participates, along with band director Connie White and assistant director Stephen Henry. The officers and class representatives are elected by the band members.

Referring to the contest next week, Miss White says, "We are working well together but we still have a ways to go. We're hoping to get all our mistakes corrected this week."

When asked to describe her band, she said simply, "We are much improved over last year."

Local support is encouraged at the contest next Wednesday. The band's agenda for the day is:

7:00 a.m. rehearsal at the high school
7:45 a.m. load instruments and depart for Lubbock

9:30 a.m. arrive at Jones Stadium
10:15 a.m. band performs show
11:00 to 11:30 a.m. twirling ensembles and solos

11:30 a.m. lunch
1:00 p.m. watch a few other bands perform

2:30 p.m. depart for home
4:00 p.m. arrive at high school
Anyone wishing to attend contest and cheer the band on is welcome.

The contest performance this year includes "Sanchez" featuring trumpet soloist Gabriel Mendoza and "Thor", featuring the percussion section. Shining in this number will be Michael Poffinbarger, Leslie Enriquez, Martha Garcia and Nora Cisneros on bass drum, June Willson and Delinda Jackson on snare drum, Troy Peel on tri-toms, Roxene Brown on bells and Marti Stepp on xylophone.

Two additional selections, "Hot Samba Nueva" and "The Floydada Whirlwind Fight Song" will round out the performance. Adding spice to the performance will be the precision movements of the twirlers and the flag corp.

After seeing the band march this show, Miss White says, "I hope everyone will come out and support the band. We look forward to doing a good job and it is an awesome feeling to watch high school students as dedicated as these are."

The Whirlwind Spirit is very evident in the hard work and effort that has gone into putting together "the best show ever" for the marching band.

Treasurer Andra Smith agrees, saying, "This year we have worked hard and have a lot of spirit. I feel that everyone has done their best and I believe this will be our best year yet."

YOUNG EXPLORERS — These youngsters at R.C. Andrews Elementary are participating in a "fun with science type club this year" according to sponsor Nova Evans. The group is working to advance student knowledge in science, math and computers as part of the Young Astronauts Program. Left to right in the back row are Kristy Hinsley, Amy Gilly, Angie

Floydada High plans exit level TEAMS test

The Exit Level Texas Educational Assessment of Minimum Skills (TEAMS) tests will be given to all juniors and eligible seniors at Floydada High School on October 27 and 28 in the high school cafeteria, beginning at 8:45 each morning.

All Texas high school students must pass the exit-level TEAMS tests before graduation from high school. Students may retake the test as many times as they need to in order to pass. The tests are given twice each year in October and May to students needing the tests.

Junior students are encouraged to be in attendance on these two days. If there are questions concerning the TEAMS tests, please contact the district TEAMS coordinator, Sheree Cannon.

Whirlwind girls third in cross country meet

Whirlwind girls garnered first place honors Saturday in a cross country meet at Mae Simmons Park in Lubbock. Four FHS misses placed in the top 25 to score high for their team.

Angie Bertrand came in 8th in a time of 13:14. Teammates Blanca Medrano was 17th in a time of 13:41, Lori Christian placed 21st in 13:50 and Tricia Pernell crossed the finish line in 24th place in a time of 13:52.

Gloria Vargas ran a 14:18, which placed her 44th, and Kerri Pitts placed 81st with a 15:15.

Counting only District 2-AAA teams which competed, Floydada was a distant first with 93 points over runner-up Tula which had 130 points. Muleshoe came in third with 177. The lowest score determines cross country winners.

The six Whirlwind junior varsity girls participating Saturday and their times were: Angie Glasscock, 15:38; Trish Hanna, 16:13; Tiffany Gentry, 15:43; Tana Turner, 16:05; Pam Woody, 18:15; and Becky Porter, 18:26.

The Medrano twins again paced the Whirlwind boys team. Daniel ran a 16:50 and David finished in 16:50.4. Other varsity participants were: Harvey Espinoza, 18:32; Jr. DeHoyos, 20:03; and Jimmy Cavazos, 20:28.

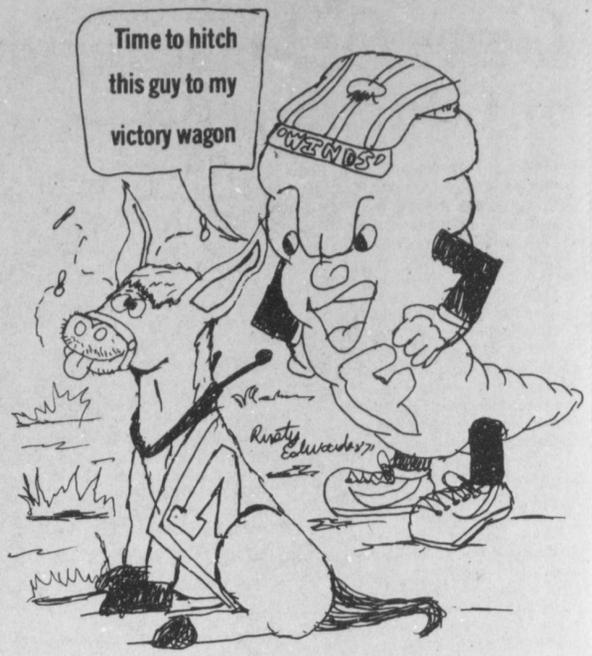

In the boys JV division, Carlos Riojas finished in 20:06 and Richard Gonzales ran a 20:41.

Placings were not available on boys. Coach Gregg is complimentary of his cross country runners. He is pleased with their dedication and effort. He terms their performance last Saturday as a "tremendous TEAM effort."

He says several freshmen runners continue to gain confidence.

In regional standings, Miss Bertrand stands fifth (third in district), Miss Medrano is 10th, Miss Christian is 11th and Miss Pernell is 12th.

Have a good week!
