A series of city council meetings and a hearing under the jurisdiction of the 110th District Court has apparently led to an impasse concerning the City of Floydada's attempted acquisition of additional landfill acreage.

EMERGENCY SESSION

An emergency session of the council on Thursday, January 14, authorized Mayor Parnell Powell to "negotiate with Helen Faye Hammonds for the purchase of land for a sanitary landfill at a cost of no more than $250 per acre "if settlement could be made at the scheduled January 15 court hearing. The authorization carried no additional stipulations or conditions in ending the city's condemnation suit.

AWARD HEARING

The ensuing proceedings, an award hearing last Friday, Jan. 15, gathered the several individuals involved for an attempt at settling the condemnation suit previously filed by the City of Floydada.

Hearing testimony were Dale Goen, Larry Jones and Mal Jarboe, the three-man commission appointed by District Judge David Cave. The trio was charged to "assess the damages arising from the intended condemnations set out in said cause."

Attending the hearing were: Hammonds' attorney, Doug Jeffries of Vernon; Charles White of Plainview, attorney for the City of Floydada; Mayor Parnell Powell; Jim Green, head of the city sanitation department; city engineer Bill McMorris; and Sammy Hale.

Hale, a local real estate consultant, acted as appraiser for the city. Mrs. Hammonds was not present due to a physician's appointment.

Mayor Powell was called to present the initial testimony. Questioning by White established the location of the 48,999 acres in question as being adjacent to the current landfill site. Powell explained that the site was chosen for this reason and stated that the particular amount of land was selected to "save the city money" due to the cost of necessary permits and environmental testing mandated by current state law.

Attorney Jeffries then questioned Powell as to a possible "conflict of interest" because of the voting presence of Frank Breed on the city council. This allegation stemmed from the fact that the step-granddaughter of

Drawing establishes Demo ballot order

In a public drawing conducted last Wednesday, order of names to appear on the Democratic Primary ballot was established.

In the lone county-wide race, Penny Golightly is to be listed first and Carolyn L. Redding second for tax assessor-collector.

The five aspirants for county commissioner in Precinct One will be listed in the following order: Connie D. Bearden, Hulon Carthel, Bill Hopper, Sam Spence and Delmas McCormick.

Three men are vying to become county commissioner in Precinct Three. Their ballot order is to be: D.R. (Richard) Sanders, George Taylor and Thomas Warren.

John R. (Randy) Hollums of Floydada drew the middle slot in the three-man race for United States representative in District 13. Bill Sarpalius is to be the first name, Hollums is listed second and Ed Lahman appears third.

Individuals voting in the Democratic Primary will have an opportunity to express their preference for the party's presidential nominee. Eleven names appear, including: Gary Hart, Dick Gephardt, Paul Simon, Al Gore, Lyndon H. LaRouche Jr., Michael S. Dukakis, W.A. Williams, Bruce Babbitt, Norbert G. Dennerl Jr., Jesse L. Jackson and David E. Duke.

A referendum on the Demo ballot calls for a "for" or "against" the following proposal: "Texans shall maintain their right to select judges by a direct vote of the people rather than change to an appointment process created by the legislature."

Both the Democratic and Republican first primaries are to be conducted on Tuesday, March 8.

Valentine 'brag pages' due

It's termed "Grandparents Brag Pages" and it is just that!

In its Feb. 11 issue — the edition just prior to Valentine — The Hesperian will feature hearts bearing photos of children, along with their names and the names of their parents and grandparents.

Several pages were included in "Grandparents Brag Pages" last year. Parents may also reserve a heart.

Cost of each heart is $10, to help defray reproduction and space expenses. Clear, closeup photos (without an excessive amount of red in faces of children in colored pictures) allow for optimum reproduction.

Deadline for reserving hearts is 3 p.m. Friday, Feb. 5.

Five youngsters admit to fire hydrant openings on January 9

Five youngsters turned themselves in to authorities Thursday in connection with turning on five fire hydrants on Saturday, Jan. 9.

They made arrangements, through Floydada High Principal Ronnie Wood, who contacted City Manager Gary Brown, to meet with the municipal judge, police chief and city manager.

During a Friday afternoon meeting involving the young people, their parents and city authorities, "a conclusion satisfactory to all parties was reached."

Brown says. "Restitution has been set and will be paid to the city for out-of-pocket expenses," The Hesperian was told.

City officials point out that this action solves only a portion of that week-end's fire hydrant opening spree. The five admitted to turning on the five fire hydrants on Saturday night, "and named them by location."

However, they did not turn on the hydrant on Sunday, Jan. 10. That matter remains under investigation.

Floydada building permits total $367,150 in 1987

Although 1987 was not a boom building year in Floydada, permits increased in both number and dollar amount above the previous year. The 24 permits issued in '87 totaled $367,150, compared with 18 permits which amounted to $283,760 in 1986.

Only two of last year's permits were for commercial purposes. Producers Cooperative Elevator secured a permit for a fertilizer house, and Cornelius Conoco added a stall to house a car wash.

Three of the permits were secured by the school district. Two were for structures used for classrooms and the other was an addition to the field house.

Five permits were issued for mobile homes and one was for a house which was moved in.

Balance of the '87 permits were residential ventures such as car-ports, porch, patio, storerooms, additions, outbuildings, workshop and sun porch.

Five new residences, including one mobile home, were brought in during 1986.

City of Floydada issued 30 permits in 1985, totaling $580,328. This included the new Trinity Church, a Shop-Rite Foods warehouse and 10 new or move-in residences.

Local livestock show January 30, county show judging following week

Local youngsters will be bringing their animals to the county livestock barn "after school" on Friday, Jan. 29, in preparation for the annual Floydada Livestock Show. All weigh-ins are to be conducted that day.

Judging begins Saturday morning and continues until grand champions have been named in all divisions.

FIVE-DAY EVENT

Judging of animals in the annual Floyd County Livestock Show is scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 6-7 at the livestock facilities in southeast Floydada.

Activities surrounding the event span five days, beginning with the stock entering the barn on Friday, Feb. 5, and concluding with the traditional banquet at Lockney Elementary Cafeterium on Tuesday night, Feb. 9.

The lamb show will be Saturday morning, Feb. 6. Swine are to be judged that afternoon.

Champion steers and heifers will be selected on Sunday afternoon, Feb. 7.

The buyers luncheon at 11:30 a.m. launches Monday, Feb. 8, activities. The auction starts at 1 p.m.

Floyd County 4-H is sponsoring a dance from 9 p.m. until midnight on Saturday, Feb. 6, at Duncan Elementary School. Slow Motion band is to provide music. Admission is $5 per person.

13 percent of county's cropland in CRP

Entering the sixth bidding period, Floyd County has approximately 60,182 acres subscribed to the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP), according to the ASCS and SCS offices. This represents 13 percent of the county's total cropland of 495,000 acres.

The Department of Agriculture allows a maximum of 25 percent of any county's cropland to be placed in the 10-year reserve program. That means 123,750 acres of Floyd land could be enrolled, according to information from Bob Lotspeich, ASCS county executive director.

Two hundred and 77 CRP bids have been accepted through the fifth signing period, which was last summer.

The sixth signing period will be Feb. 1-19 at the ASCS office.

Jon LaBaume of the Soil Conservation Service says requirements remain the same as last summer. Qualification is based on soils and crop history from 1981-85, LaBaume explains.

Lotspeich says Floyd County land bid into the CRP program is "spotted all around." The greatest concentration may be in the north-eastern portions of the county, above and below the caprock.

Floyd County's 13 percent of total cropland accepted into the CRP program is "about average" for the South Plains. One neighboring county, Briscoe, has filled its maximum of 25 percent. Other Panhandle and South Plains counties which have reached their limit are Andrews, Yoakum, Cochran, Bailey, Oldham, Lipscomb, Donley, Hall, Collingsworth, King and Kent.

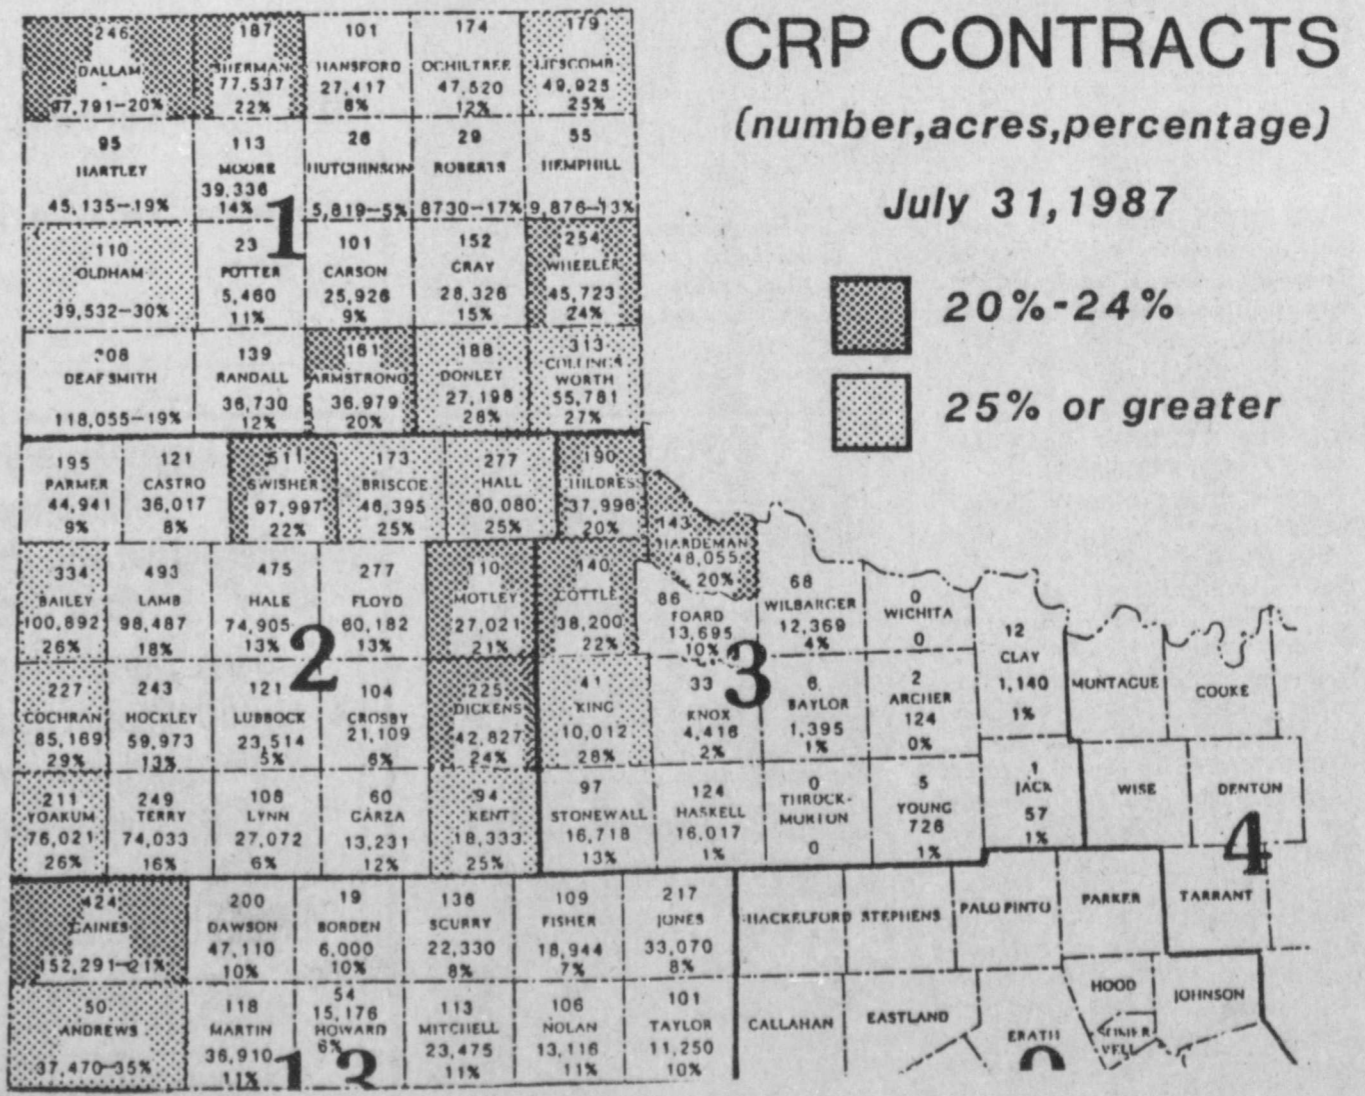

By contrast, only five percent of Lubbock County's total cropland has been placed in the CRP program. Crosby and Lynn have only six percent participation.

A map prepared by the Soil Conservation Service lists the number of bids accepted (top figure), total acreage in CRP and percentage of total cropland enrolled.

SIGNUP ANNOUNCED

Signup for the 1988 wheat, feed grains, cotton and rice programs will be from Feb. 16 through April 15, according to Secretary of Agriculture Richard E. Lang.

Legislation recently passed by Congress requires that a number of changes be made to the commodity programs. Accordingly, signup for these programs will not begin until February and the provisions of these programs will be announced "as soon as possible."

Where's the fire . . .

By Mike Reeves

Floydada firemen responded to five fires during the last week. The first call of the week was a grass fire just west of the city limits on land belonging to Ronnie Graham.

Gusty winds and soft ground hampered firefighting efforts. Three trucks and six men responded to the 1:55 p.m. Friday fire.

Firemen were called to Boone Adams' place northwest of town to extinguish a burr fire. Seven men and three trucks responded to this Sunday afternoon alarm.

While enroute back to town, firefighters spotted another blaze, this time a grass fire just north of Price Street. The same men and trucks responded to put the fire.

Firemen answered a 1:10 p.m. Monday fire call at Pay-n-Save. Damage estimated at $75 was done to a vehicle belonging to Bradley Saens of Floydada. One truck and nine men responded.

Ten men and three trucks made a run at 3:25 p.m. Monday to Darty Gin at Dougherty to extinguish burrs.

Three injured on highways

Capt. L.A. Reinhart, district supervisor of the Lubbock Highway Patrol District comprising of 21 counties said, "For the month of December, our troopers investigated one fatal accident, 72 personal injury accidents, and 122 property damage accidents. There was one person killed and 72 persons were injured in these accidents."

Sgt. Glenn Fant of Crosbyton stated, "In Floyd County, our troopers investigated no fatal accident, three personal injury accidents, and one property damage accident in the month of December. No one was killed and three persons were injured in these accidents."

Post lad earns National 4-H Presidential Award

A Post lad who raises both Hereford and Shorthorn cattle under his own registered brand on his parent's 300 acre cotton farm is the first Texan to win the National 4-H Presidential Award. The recipient, Clay Cowdrey, is working toward breeding up his herd to get a high quality line.

He fits his own cattle for shows and has led workshops in cattle fitting and grooming for 4-Hers in Garza County and New Mexico.

The 4-H Presidential Award is the highest and most prestigious award given in the 4-H program. It is presented annually to 12 members across the nation.

Cowdrey was one of 65 nominees chosen from 1,600 delegates at the

The Post lad received a $1,000 scholarship and an engraved silver tray.

Award winners must have a solid 4-H project work, broad 4-H experiences and significant involvement in 4-H citizenship and leadership activities. In addition, they must be involved in non-4-H activities such as church, school, community and other youth organizations.

As a winner, Cowdrey will travel and speak as an ambassador for 4-H and will be involved in setting 4-H policy in Washington, D.C.

During his nine years in 4-H, the 18-year-old Tarleton State University freshman has expanded his herd to 20 cows.

Prospective fifth generation farmer . . .

By Lois Jones

If early childhood traits indicate anything at all, Tyson Ross (Ty) Heflin seems destined to be a fifth generation farmer. He fills up his toy vehicles and constantly examines and twists all their screws or moving parts.

At two months of age, he and his mother made his first tractor ride with his daddy.

Even though he recently blew out one candle at his birthday party, still nothing else is quite as exciting as going to the field to ride on the tractor or on the cotton stripper or to watch the modular packing cotton into modules.

The youngster is the son of Rick and Brenda Heflin of Floyd County. Rick Heflin is the youngest and most recent member of the Jones Heflin Farms operation. The son of Robert and Linda Jones Heflin, he joined his father and grandfather in the endeavor some three years ago.

His grandfather, D.W. (Dorris) Jones, now 70, is still actively engaged in the operation, having joined his father, the late W.O. Jones in 1943.

A former grain inspector, Robert Heflin moved to Floyd County in 1965 to work with his father-in-law. They have continued to add to the farms by both buying and leasing. In recent years they have diversified by ranching in both Floyd and Motley counties.

So, Ty Heflin, your great-great-grandfather, who started the operation in 1939, would be quite well pleased to know that you show all the signs of being a fifth generation farmer. As the old saying goes, "You can take the boy out of the country, but you can't take the country out of the boy."

Police investigate tire slashings

Investigation by city police continues into recent tire slashing incidents. Between 7 and 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Jan. 12, three tires were slashed in the Pizza Gold parking lot. One belonged to an employee of the firm. Loss of the tire was estimated at $45.

At the same time, both rear tires on a city patrol car were slashed, causing an estimated $100 in damage. Because this was a law enforcement vehicle, the action constitutes a felony. In the week prior to Jan. 13, all four tires were slashed on a vehicle in the 300 block of West Missouri. Estimated damage was $200. Police also continue their investigation of the theft of four first aid kits and four fire extinguishers from school buses parked during the holidays in the bus parking lot in the 900 block of South Fourth Street. According to C.O. Woody, school bus manager, one or more persons entered the four buses to remove the first aid kits and fire extinguishers, valued at $400. A dog bite on West Houston was reported Jan. 13. Charges have been filed against the animal's owner. The victim reportedly sustained a bruised right leg.

RESTITUTION MADE
A customer made restitution to Thompson Pharmacy for an Ace bandage and a prescription which were not paid for when the individual left the store. The suspect was confronted by police officers and returned to the store to pay for the items. No charges were filed. Another customer allegedly saw the individual carrying an Ace bandage package while the prescription was being filled and then saw the empty box laid down. The individual also failed to pay for the prescription. Both items totaled $12.14.

The general election will be Tuesday, Nov. 8. Voter registration deadline for the general election will be Oct. 10.

Sheriff's department makes two arrests

A 21-year-old Lockney man, Michael Gonzales, was booked into the Floyd County Jail at 7:35 p.m. Friday on a charge of public intoxication and suspicion of theft. Disorderly conduct charges were added after he "caused trouble" at the jail. The suspect initially gave his name as "Alice Cooper," according to reports. One individual was charged with driving while intoxicated (DWI) over the week-end.

Leaving town? City offers to turn off water

Residents "leaving town for three or more days" can have their water meter turned off by city personnel without charge, according to City Manager Gary Brown. Brown points out that weather conditions while a resident is away from his/her home can "turn bad" and cause lines to rupture. City employees will turn water back on when these individuals return. There is no charge for turning water either off or on. Persons who desire this service should contact the city office.

Grand jury indicts three

Three men were indicted Monday by a Floyd County grand jury. True billed were J.D. Busby, Luis Mendoza and Martin Marin Suarez. Busby was charged with retaliation in connection with an Oct. 26 assault with a chain on Wayne Bramlet at a Lockney service station. Officials charged this was retaliation against Bramlet, who allegedly had testified in a trial involving Busby. Both Mendoza and Suarez were charged with DWI, subsequent offense. The "subsequent offense" segment of the charges constitutes a felony.

Condemnation hearing on landfill site

Mrs. Hammonds is married to the son of councilman Breed and is involved in an on-going lawsuit against Mrs. Hammonds. Powell indicated that Breed's presence on the council did not create a conflict.

Further testimony established that "When the city is through with the present 60 acre landfill site," it would be returned to Hammonds with the city retaining only the road easement for access to the proposed 48,999 acre site. Testimony by Sammy Hale reflected his appraisal and opinion that the 48,999 acres should be valued at $125 per acre with damages to adjacent acreage set at $10.50 per acre.

The plaintiff's attorney, Jeffries, proposed a continuance to allow time for a "certified appraisal" to determine value of land, mineral values, water rights and problems with ingress and egress.

The attorney for the city asked that the commission "render an opinion" as the plaintiff "can always appeal to district court." He stated that settlement at this time would preclude the expending of "lots of money" on both sides.

Following a recess, the three-man commission offered the "suggestion" that the two parties involved, the City of Floydada and Helen Hammonds, negotiate a settlement of $1,000 per acre with no damages to surrounding land. Due to the council action of authorizing negotiations up to "$250 per acre" taken on Jan. 14, Mayor Powell was forced to reject this course.

After another recess for discussion, the commission rendered a judgement of award for "$500 per acre" with no damages for adjacent acreage and a fee of $500 for the three special commissioners.

The award was made with Dale Goen and Larry Jones "agreeing to all findings" and Mal Jarboe agreeing to the fee only. Proper documents were filed with Judge Cave on January 15.

According to Mayor Powell at press time, "We (the city) have not heard if Mrs. Hammonds has agreed to the award."

OTHER COUNCIL ACTION

Also discussed and approved by the council at the Jan. 14 session was the hiring of a lawyer to represent the city in a lawsuit filed by Mrs. Hammonds late in 1987. Lubbock attorney Jim Killian of Thompson, Thomas and Killian has been retained.

The council also met on January 18 to review the proposed city budget for 1988-89.

A resolution amending the power sales contract between the City and West Texas Power Agency was passed prior to an executive session for discussion of pending legal action. No council action followed the closed session.

The Executive Committee of Floydada Spirit of Sharing met Tuesday, January 12, for the first meeting of 1988 with president, Peggy Medley, presiding. Other officers for the year are vice-president, Margie Sue; secretary, Ardis Daniel; and treasurer, Ed Wester. Other members present were Si Medley, R.G. In the business session there was considerable discussion of plans for improving the organization and operation of the clothing room. Also the group voted to purchase a permanent sign for the front door, a second filing cabinet for the interviewers' office, and a small camera for recording and preserving significant events in the operation of the center.

Peggy Medley reported that during 1987 S.O.S. served 440 families with food, clothing, transportation, and other services, a total of 1879 persons.

Everyone involved in S.O.S. is deeply appreciative of the support of the member churches both financially and in time given by the volunteers, most of whom are members of those churches. Also many organizations and individuals in the community have given generously of their money, collections of food, and clean, usable clothing. Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

By Jo Bryant

Monday morning at 9:30 the day started as usual. Then at 10:30, we had the devotion. We listened to some songs, then shared from John 17: 17-26. We talked about how Jesus gave Glory to the Father, and how Jesus tell us that He has given that glory to us too. At 2:30 the residents had exercise and played dominoes.

Tuesday, Bro. Neeley couldn't make it so we shared the word on never being alone, taken from Zeph. 3:17. At 2:30, the residents had arts and crafts.

Wednesday Bro. Earl Blair couldn't be with us, as he and Jean have gone on a trip, we hope that they have a good time and come back to tell us about what they did. We sang some songs and shared John 12:24. At 2:00 p.m. the residents played Bingo. Maude Galloway had the first Bingo. They had bananas and bugles snacks.

Thursday, Bro. Travis Curry came and shared the word with us from Proverbs 29:18. About everyone needs a vision, dream or a purpose. "My people perish without a vision." At 2:30 they viewed a movie and had popcorn. We are proud of our new air popcorn popper.

Friday, Letha Mulder came and led us in some songs, and shared about giving thanks in all things. At 1:30 the residents went on a bus ride to Plainview. McDonald's treated them to some ice cream. The residents going were Maude Galloway, Iva Wells, Della Halenak, Brooks Callaway, Charles Breeding, Otis Johnson, Burmah Probasco, Florence Curry, Sue Thompson and Jo Bryant, and thanks Wilma Payne for taking us. It was so good to get out as it had been over a month since we had a bus trip. It was a warm, sunshine, beautiful day.

A poem:

There's A Reason and A Season
For every pain, that we must bear,
For every burden, ev'ry care,
There's a reason.

For ev'ry grief, that bows the head,
For ev'ry teardrop that is shed,
There's a reason.

For ev'ry hurt, for ev'ry plight,
For ev'ry lonely, pain racked night,

There's a reason.

But if we trust God as we should,
It will all work out for our good,
He knows the Reason.

The nursing home would like to thank Perry's, Shop Rite and Pay-n-Save for the gifts donated for the residents for Christmas.

This week's visitors included: Eddie Jones of Austin, Artie Webb, Frances Badgett, Rudolph and Faye McCravy, Loyne and Augusta Bradshaw, Willie Smith, May Sue, Ola Smith, Mildred Fuqua, Ethel Warren, Viola Wise, Mel and Marjorie Holcomb, Ruby and Cheryl Nelson and Mrs. Wilbur Nelson, Lubbock.

U.S. Constitution is topic of discussion for Homemakers

By Ruth Scott
Harmony Extension Homemakers Club met Monday, Jan. 11, at the community center, with Anna Maude Hopper as hostess. Roll call was answered by eight members on "A fact I know about the U.S. or Texas flag." Minutes of the November meeting were read by the new secretary, Juanita Pool.

Names for secret pals were drawn. Maye Williams, chairman of the program committee, gave a paper on "A Nation of Farmers," as the program was on Understanding the Constitution of the United States. This told how in 1787, 55 of the nation's wisest and noblest men met in Philadelphia to draw up a plan of government. Though, after a common goal, they were not all of one mind. They met in May, but it wasn't until the middle of September, after weeks of battles and compromise, that they adjourned, after only 39 of the 55 delegates signed their names to the most famous document in American history, the Constitution of the United States.

At that time 90% of the population was involved in farming and now only 2%.

The club committees then convened and made recommendations for the new year, which were adopted by the club. Yearbooks were filled out and much enthusiasm was shown by the members and prospects are for a very interesting 1988.

accented the cloth. A ceramic basket, made by Pete Hickerson as a gift for Lori, and filled with a silk flower arrangement of the honoree's chosen colors of royal blue accented with white, served as the centerpiece.

Mrs. Karen Jones served almond tea and coffee from the silver coffee service. A fresh fruit plate, sausage balls and assorted nut breads were also served. Appointments were of silver and crystal.

A lovely array of gifts was displayed in adjoining rooms. The hostess gift was a 15-piece set of Farberware cookware.

Hostesses other than Mrs. Hickerson were: Mrs. Nell Abram, Sara Coursey, Hope Crabtree, Janiece Guffee, Holly Hendrix, Karen Jones, Janice Lloyd, Janet Lloyd, Olivia Mercado, Shirley Morton, Kathy Mulder, Charlene Norrell, Carol Reese, Miss Carolyn Cunningham and Miss Carmen Muniz.

Cost-in-water income tax deduction now available

High Plains landowners who use ground water in their irrigation farming business may save money on their federal income tax return by claiming a deduction for the cost of water depleted from the Ogallala Aquifer.

Deduction is now available from the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 for its service area. The water district has been supplying this information for its landowners for more than 20 years.

Landowners who purchased, inherited or attained interest in land in the water district's service area after 1948 and whose ground water supply is depleted in the irrigation farming business are eligible to claim the tax deduction.

The Internal Revenue Service requires cost-in-water data, saturated thickness amounts and water level decline data to process cost-in-water depletion allowances.

320 acres in the land tract. This results in a cost-in-water income tax depletion allowance of $640 for that year. (2x$1.00 x320=$640)

Amended tax returns may be filed for three prior years to claim the cost-in-water depletion allowance. However, the landowner must have owned the land during those years, must have used ground water in the business of irrigation farming and must have documentation that water depletion actually occurred.

Individuals who have previously requested information need only to submit the permanent re-order number from the upper right corner of the water district form.

To help cover administrative costs, a $5 charge is made for yearly decline data requests. There is no charge if no decline occurred. First-time requests cost $25 and the claimant receives the saturated thickness at the time of land acquisition, cost-in-water guidelines and up to three years of decline data.

Taxpayers and/or their accountants should request data as soon as possible to ensure the fastest service. Requests are handled on a first-come, first-served basis.

For more information, contact Bobbie Bramblett, High Plains Water District water depletion coordinator, 2930 Avenue Q, Lubbock, Texas 79405 or call (806) 762-0181.

Soil test helps plan next year's crop

It's time to plan next year's crops and soil testing should be one of the first items considered, advises a soil chemist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The Extension Service soil testing program provides advice which can guide producers in maintaining a soil fertility program and furnishes information to help make management decisions, explained Dr. Michael Hickey, soil chemist who directs the Extension soil testing laboratory in Lubbock.

Proper sampling tools will make the job easier, he said. Suitable tools include a soil sample probe, sharp-shooter shovel and a plastic bucket. The probe is best suited for sampling the sandy soils on the High Plains. If a probe isn't available or moisture conditions make clay loam soils stick in the probe, a sharp-shooter shovel can be used.

The first step in sound soil sampling is to subdivide the field, based on the overall appearance of the land and any known differences in past crop production. Hickey said this gives the producer an opportunity to sample problem sites separately so that site-specific fertility problems can be identified and the "average" fertility of the field won't be biased.

Each sample submitted for chemical analysis should represent a composite of 10 to 15 individual samplings, randomly taken, within a given area. For each individual sample, the same amount of soil should be taken to eliminate bias.

If the past crop was bed planted, the best sample will come from halfway down the bed. If last year's fertilizer was banded, try to avoid sampling from the band, Hickey urged.

Prior to taking a sample, scrape the litter from the surface, he advised. Then push the probe into the soil to the depth of plowing, which will be six to eight inches.

conditions which hamper temperature maintenance include: availability of water supply, available energy to the plant, and wet bulb temperature.

Beltwide cotton conferences

By C. Mark Brown
Extension Agent-Entomology (PM)
Crosby/Floyd Counties

Recently, I had the opportunity to attend the Beltwide Cotton Conferences in New Orleans, through the support of the National Cotton Council. These conferences are sponsored each year by the National Cotton Council of America and the Cotton Foundation.

Individual sessions at this meeting included conferences on: cotton diseases, cotton dust research, cotton economics and marketing, engineering systems, ginning, cotton improvement, insect research and control, cotton physiology, soil management, weed science, and industrial developments.

The meeting coincided with the winter storms that swept across the country, and I unfortunately spent as much time in the airports as I spent at the conference. However, I did obtain some valuable information at the conferences. The following are "highlights" from presentations at the conferences, which I felt would be useful to Crosby-Floyd county cotton producers:

R.M. Vietra [Mississippi State] conducted a study which showed that the number of lateral roots produced by cotton seedlings decreased proportionally as Treflan rates increased. However, there are genetic differences among varieties for lateral root production.

Another presentation by C.T. Bryson [Mississippi] conducted over a 5 year period showed no significant yield differences between cotton treatments in soils incorporated with 0, 0.5, and 1.0 qt/ac of Treflan. This study suggested no soil buildup of Treflan that affected crop stand, yields or fiber properties, in Mississippi cotton where Treflan was applied at the proper rates.

J.R. Supak and D.F. Wanjura [Lubbock] reported on a four-year study of the influence of skippy stands on lint yields. Three stand comparisons were made including: a normal stand of 4 plants per foot with no skips longer than 1 foot, a 25% stand loss with random skips of 1-9 feet, and 50 percent stand loss with skips of 1-9 feet. The 25% stand loss caused a 12.9 percent yield decrease, and the 50 percent stand loss resulted in a 26 percent yield decrease when compared to the normal stand. No significant differences were detected in grade, staple, or micronaire. These scientists also suggested that on the High Plains, the short growing season makes replanting difficult to justify after June 5.

B. Knight [Mississippi State] presented results from a study on the effects of fruiting position site on yield and fiber quality. The test was conducted using nine different commercial varieties. He reported that 68% of the dollar value of lint comes from bolls at the first fruiting position of each branch.

C. Allen, R. Minzenmayer, and W. Multer [TAEX] presented results of studies on fleahopper management in Far West Texas. The information they presented support the currently used Texas IPM fleahopper management strategies. Results showed no significant yield differences between cotton receiving weekly automatic insecticide applications beginning at pinhead square and cotton treated only when fleahoppers reached an economic threshold. They also presented results which indicate that yields are seldom increased by treating for fleahoppers after cotton was in bloom.

G.L. Lente [U. Tennessee] discussed the effects of selected insecticide classes on cotton yield and maturity. Organophosphates and parathions have been reported to change leaf morphology and maturity, as well as increase the number of vegetative branches. Carbamates have been reported to delay maturity. Although chlordimeform has been reported to exhibit "yield enhancement" properties, no positive benefits of yield enhancement were indicated from Tennessee studies.

J.B. Graves [Louisiana] discussed pyrethroid resistance management in the mid-South, which includes the avoidance of early season use of pyrethroids. Graves presented data which indicated that resistance had decreased from 1986 to 1987 in Louisiana after the Tri-state pyrethroid resistance management plan was implemented.

Information from J.R. Mahon and D.R. Upchurch [Lubbock] indicates that cotton maintains a constant leaf temperature of 82 + 4° F. Environmental Tighter regulations governing application of the limit on government payments under the 1985 farm act will be in effect beginning with the 1989 crop. Payments in 1988 will not be affected.

Changes were made as a part of the Budget Reconciliation Act passed by Congress in the final days of 1987. Together with other farm act amendments, including one that lowers target prices on all program commodities, the alterations are aimed at reducing overall farm program costs by $1.064 billion in 1988 and $1.21 billion in 1989.

The budget measure decreases the basic standards by which payment eligibility is to be determined and gives the Secretary of Agriculture until August 1, 1988 to issue detailed regulations. An advance rule-making proposal can be expected well in advance of August, according to Donald Johnson, executive vice president of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., giving affected parties time to comment before final decisions are made.

The payment limit per person is $50,000, and the cost savings envisioned by lawmakers, generally, are to come from permitting payments only to persons "actively engaged" in farming. Moreover, eligibility for multiple payments may not be achieved by a person holding a beneficial interest (more than 10 percent) in more than three entities. A producer can qualify for $50,000 as a separate actively engaged person, but may qualify for no more than $25,000 each by holding a substantial interest in two other entities.

To be eligible as a separate person, an individual must make a significant contribution of (1) capital, equipment or land and (2) personal labor or active personal management. In addition his share of profits must be commensurate with contributions and must be "at risk."

However, the actively engaged restriction is modified for some landlords, adult family members and sharecroppers. Landlords who contribute only land and receive rent as a share of the land's production (not cash rent) are considered actively engaged, as are adult family members who contribute active management or labor, and sharecroppers who meet the at risk requirement and share in profits or losses commensurate with their contribution.

Adult family members are defined as parents, children, and brothers and sisters. A husband and wife will be considered one person unless they were engaged in separate, unrelated farming operations prior to marriage.

A corporation is considered actively engaged if it makes a significant contribution of capital, equipment or land and if its members collectively make a significant contribution of personal labor or active management.

COST-IN-WATER

The tax regulation states that the taxpayer must have paid more for a land tract with stored ground water than he would have paid for a similar tract without ground water.

Annually, the water district contracts with a professional land appraiser to document land sales made within the district service area during the year. Each land tract sold is visited and any improvement value is deducted from the total purchase price. The remaining sales records are divided into "dryland" or "irrigated" categories with an average per sale price for each tract determined.

IRS engineers visit the water district to review the data and develop yearly cost-in-water guidelines for each county in the service area.

For example, if $500 was the average price paid during the year for land with stored ground water and $200 was the average price paid for land with little or no water stored ground water, then the taxpayer may not claim more than $300 as a cost-in-water allowance. ($500-$200=$300)

SATURATED THICKNESS DATA

The IRS also requires a documentation of the quantity of water in storage, or the saturated thickness, at the time the land was purchased.

This formation thickness is calculated by determining the depth to water below the land surface and deducting that figure from the depth of the base of the Ogallala formation, as determined from well logs and measurements taken from existing wells on the property. Past valid water level measurements made at land purchase, as well as driller's logs noting the depth to the Ogallala formation, may also be used to support the taxpayer's depletion claim.

If these records are not readily available, the water district can supply the information using IRS-approved maps.

The saturated thickness may be determined as follows. If the depth to the base of the Ogallala formation was 500 feet below land surface, and the depth-to-water below land surface was 200 feet, then there would be 300 feet of saturated thickness. If the price paid for the stored ground water was $300 per acre, the landowner would have a $1 cost per foot of saturated thickness. ($500-$200=$300; $300 divided by 300 feet of saturated thickness = $1 per foot of saturated thickness)

DECLINE DATA

Landowners may file a water depletion allowance and provide their own data to support the claim. However, the water district can also provide IRS-approved information for land within its service area.

Measurements documenting the aquifer water level for both the beginning and ending of the calendar year are also required. If a negative value occurs, this would be the amount of depletion occurring during the year. (If the January 1987 depth-to-water measurement was 202 feet and the January 1986 measurement was 200 feet, there would be a two-foot decline in the water level.)

If the landowner had purchased 320 acres of land, his water depletion allowance is two times the $1.00 cost per foot of saturated thickness times the

REQUESTING DATA FROM THE WATER DISTRICT

To request water depletion data from the High Plains Water Conservation District, the taxpayer's name, address, and social security number or federal ID number must be provided. Also, a complete legal description of the land on which the claim is to be filed and the date of land acquisition must be included. The land tract must lie within

New legislation applauded by farm credit officials

Texas farmers and ranchers should begin immediately to feel the positive effects of new legislation now in place for the Farm Credit System.

According to Donald R. Rogge, chairman of the Farm Credit Banks of Texas Presidents Committee and president of the Federal Land Bank of Texas, the most immediate result would be up to $4 billion in assistance from the federal government to aid weaker Farm Credit districts.

The legislation also reverses $138 million in assessments against the Texas District.

Rogge explained that since the Texas Farm Credit District remains one of the strongest of the 12 Farm Credit districts nationwide, it would not need financial aid from the government. However, it would benefit indirectly.

"When weaker Farm Credit districts are in need of help the $4 billion provided for in the legislation will be the source," Rogge said. "The stronger districts will not be assessed to the point of nonviability as before."

For the past two years many borrowers feared that further drain on Texas reserves would impair the safety of their stock investments in the Farm Credit System. The legislation guarantees that when a borrower pays off a loan, his stock can be retired at par value.

As the system began experiencing the effects of a declining agricultural market in 1985, prior legislation required that stronger banks set aside funds to help ailing districts. Since 1985 the Texas district has paid $50 million in cash to help other districts.

The legislation also ends a two-year legal battle over $138 million in assessments against the Texas District. The act calls for immediate reversal of $72 million assessed the Texas Land Bank in the third quarter of 1986 and an additional $66 million assessed by the FCS Capital Corporation. The Capital Corporation is the FCS organization set up to handle acquired property and problem loans for distressed districts.

"We do not take lightly our joint liability and responsibility to other Farm Credit districts," says Rogge. "However, we simply could not continue to send money out of the district and risk not being able to serve our own borrowers."

Rogge said, under the new law, the Texas District will pay a one-time assessment of $39 million which he called a manageable amount for the Texas banks and associations. Rogge noted the net benefit with reversals would be almost $100 million.

"This will allow the Texas banks and associations to retain their viability," Rogge said.

Rogge stated that the portion of the bill related to restructuring mandates a merger of the Federal Land Bank of Texas and the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Texas. Rogge indicated the banks' seven-member board would meet with management the week of January 18 to discuss implementation of the merger which must be complete by July 6, 1988.

Also, as a result of the legislation, stockholders of the Texas Bank for Cooperatives will vote whether to merge the Texas bank with other 11 district BCs and the Central Bank for Cooperatives into a national BC. The legislation allows local stockholders to decide the structure of their local Land Bank Associations and Production Credit Associations.

At December 31, 1987, the Farm Credit Banks of Texas, 44 Federal Land Bank Associations and 23 Production Credit Associations had $3.3 billion in loans outstanding to some 100,000 Texas farmers and ranchers and 200 agricultural cooperatives and rural utilities.

In addition to Rogge, other members of the FCB Presidents Committee are Vice Chairman Paul S. Day, president of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Texas, and Jack P. Hughes, president of the Texas Bank for Cooperatives.

Whirlwind girls went to Littlefield to play Tuesday night, zapping the Lady Wildcats by a 57-36 count. Trailing 10-8 after one quarter and 23-20 at half, the Whirlwinds outscored Littlefield 19-7 in the third quarter to move ahead 39-30 entering the last quarter.

"The girls played one of their better games," assistant coach Regina Smith says.

Coach Gail Gregg's crew had nine point producers: Amanda McDaniel 11, Angie Bertrand 10, Jamie Morrison and Shelby Ogden, 8 each, Sylvia McComas and Lori Christian, 6 each, Angie Glasscock 4, Pam Woody and Trish Hanna, 2 each.

JV girls made it a clean sweep with a 31-22 win. The box score:

Floydada	4	6	17	31
Littlefield	6	10	15	22

Amy McCormick and Kim Perry, 8 each, Stacy Hadderton 6, Libby Anderson 4, Shayla Barbee 3, Heather Henderson 2.

For the second consecutive outing, the Whirlwind boys knocked heads with a 2-3A super team, coming out on the short end of a 99-77 score at Littlefield.

The Wildcats moved ahead 28-11 after eight minutes in the Tuesday night encounter. They were up 58-25 at intermission and lead 78-49 entering the final quarter. The Winds outscored Littlefield 28-21 in the fourth stanza.

Four Whirlwinds ripped the nets for double digit scores in the high octane game. Chad Parnell and Chad Quisenberry each tallied 18, Ty Stovall added 12 and Johnny Taylor put in 11. Six Littlefield players also tallied in double figures.

Both Littlefield and Dimmitt are 2-0 in league warfare, and the Whirlwind boys are 0-2. Floydada's lads own a 12-7 season record.

Floydada claimed a 31-22 victory in the girls JV match.

In the boys JV match, the Wildcats owned the scoreboard 76-57 at the final buzzer.

Winds have home court advantage next 2 games

Friona and Tulia will play here

Whirlwinds basketballers will have the luxury of their home court for Friday and Tuesday basketball games. Friona comes to town Friday and the Tulia Hornets will invade Whirlwind Gymnasium on Tuesday.

The Tulia match marks the conclusion of first round in district action for the Floydada girls.

JV girls are scheduled to open Friday's tripleheader against Friona at 5 p.m.

Tipoff in the first of four Tuesday contests is slated for 4 p.m. Both varsities and both junior varsities are to see action.

Whirlwinds give all in District 2-AAA opener

"Other than for a few mistakes, I felt like we played about as well as we could," Coach Mike Cocanougher says after his Whirlwinds were downed 89-71 Friday night by perennial powerhouse Dimmitt. "We had a few turnovers that hurt."

This was the district opener for both teams.

"I was real proud of the kids' performance," Coach Cocanougher adds. "We worked hard all week" in preparation for the Dimmitt encounter on the local court.

"We felt like we needed to try to slow them down some," the Whirlwind boys mentor says. "They (Dimmitt) has good quickness, good shooters and good size inside."

Chad Parnell, who gunned for 28 points despite having a sore ankle, was "hot as a pistol late in the game." He was the game's high point scorer.

The visiting Bobcats went in front 16-13 after eight minutes and were up 41-29 at intermission. The score was 62-47 after three stanzas.

"They're good players; they can play," Coach Cocanougher says in complimenting the Bobcats. Several of the players have "been to Austin (state tournament) twice."

A trio of Dimmitt players who are averaging 20-plus points a game — Warren McDonald 27, James Alexander 24 and Jeremy Warren 21 — paced the Purple and White.

Roel Cisneros with 14 and Ty Stovall (who was ill early in the week and missed several practices) had 12 to join Parnell in double digits for the Winds. Randy Enriquez added 7, Johnny Taylor put in 5, Chad Quisenberry netted 3 and Jason Brown had 2. Enriquez had 6 rebounds, one more than Cisneros.

JV BOYS SPLIT PAIR
Dimmitt's JV boys scored a 66-47 Friday win over the Whirlwind JV boys. Quarter scores were 20-12, 37-25 and 49-33.

Kenneth Collins with 15, Alice Cooper with 14 and Grant Stovall with 13 gunned in double figures for the Whirlwinds. Joe Cisneros put in 4 points and Wes Campbell had 1.

Tuesday of last week, the Whirlwind JV gunned down Valley 68-38

Whirlwind girls broke even with the Dimmitt Lady Bobcats in the early going Friday night, but the visitors took command in the second quarter and pulled away to a 55-38 victory. Dimmitt owned only a 14-13 advantage after one quarter before sprinting to a 30-15 halftime edge and leading 42-21 entering the final stanza.

Amanda McDaniel netted 16 points for the Green and White. Six of her eight teammates also broke into the scoring column: Jamie Morrison with 8, Pam Woody with 6 and Angie Bertrand, Lori Christian, Shelby Ogden and Angie Glasscock, 2 each.

Woody was the rebounding leader with 9. Bertrand pulled down 7 rebounds while McDaniel and Morrison each had 5. Woody had 4 steals, Bertrand had 3, Trish Hanna was credited with 2 and Sylvia McComas and Ogden each had 1.

NARROW LOSS
Closest game of the four Friday contests pitted the two girls JV squads. Dimmitt eked out a 39-33 victory after leading 14-13, 20-15 and 27-19 at the end of the first three quarters.

Shayla Barbee was the Whirlwind point leader with 13. Others putting in points were: Amy McCormick 7, Kerrie Pitts 5, Libby Anderson 4, Heather Henderson 2 and Kim Perry and Stacy Hadderton, 1 each.
