Plans developed for cloud watch

West Texans are all too well aware that, with the arrival of spring, tornados and rattlesnakes are not far behind!

Floydada volunteer firemen and city personnel are drafting plans to serve as a human cloud watch network and an early warning system to local citizens. With the approach of threatening weather, the E.O.C. (Emergency Operation Center) will be activated in the fire hall basement.

All fire fighting equipment, except for a single unit, and certain city vehicles will be dispatched to various observation points. The reason for leaving only one fire fighting vehicle in the fire station is that, should a tornado strike the fire hall other equipment would still be available.

Firemen disbursed with the trucks would carry their "fire gear" and be prepared to combat any blazes which might break out, possibly due to lightning.

Should the base or tower be knocked out, radio contact would be possible "from vehicle-to-vehicle." Also, a second base unit is anticipated "as a backup."

The "cloud watch" operation would be activated at the time notice is received from the National Weather Service (NWS) or "when the weather warrants." The city manager (Gary Brown), fire chief (Larry Guthrie), fire marshal (Bobby Welborn) or, in their absence, the fireman on duty would have the authority to make decisions on sounding the siren.

CABLE TV WARNING

In the past action was not normally taken until a warning was received from the NWS. When the E.O.C. goes into operation, a verbal message will be transmitted "on every channel" of the Cable TV system. The message would be similar to: "There is severe and threatening weather approaching our community. The E.O.C. is going in operation."

Should a tornado be spotted and be moving toward town, a second verbal message would be heard on Cable TV to the effect: "A tornado has been spotted approaching Floydada and you should seek shelter immediately."

Simultaneously, warning signals would be sounded by the city's siren system. The "take cover" signal would be "three blasts of the siren, running 30 seconds and off 10 seconds and then repeated." Sirens will not sound unless immediate danger exists.

Once the threat has passed, "one long, continuous blast on the siren" would be heard.

When severe weather approaches, various units would be disbursed to the strategic points such as the county line in the direction of the cloud, the compass, the draw west of town on Farm Road 37 or eight miles out on the Sandhill highway, eight to 10 miles northeast on the Silverton highway, the Lockney highway "past Muncy," Sandhill to the county line, past McCoy or Ralls to the county line and other points, depending on movement of the clouds.

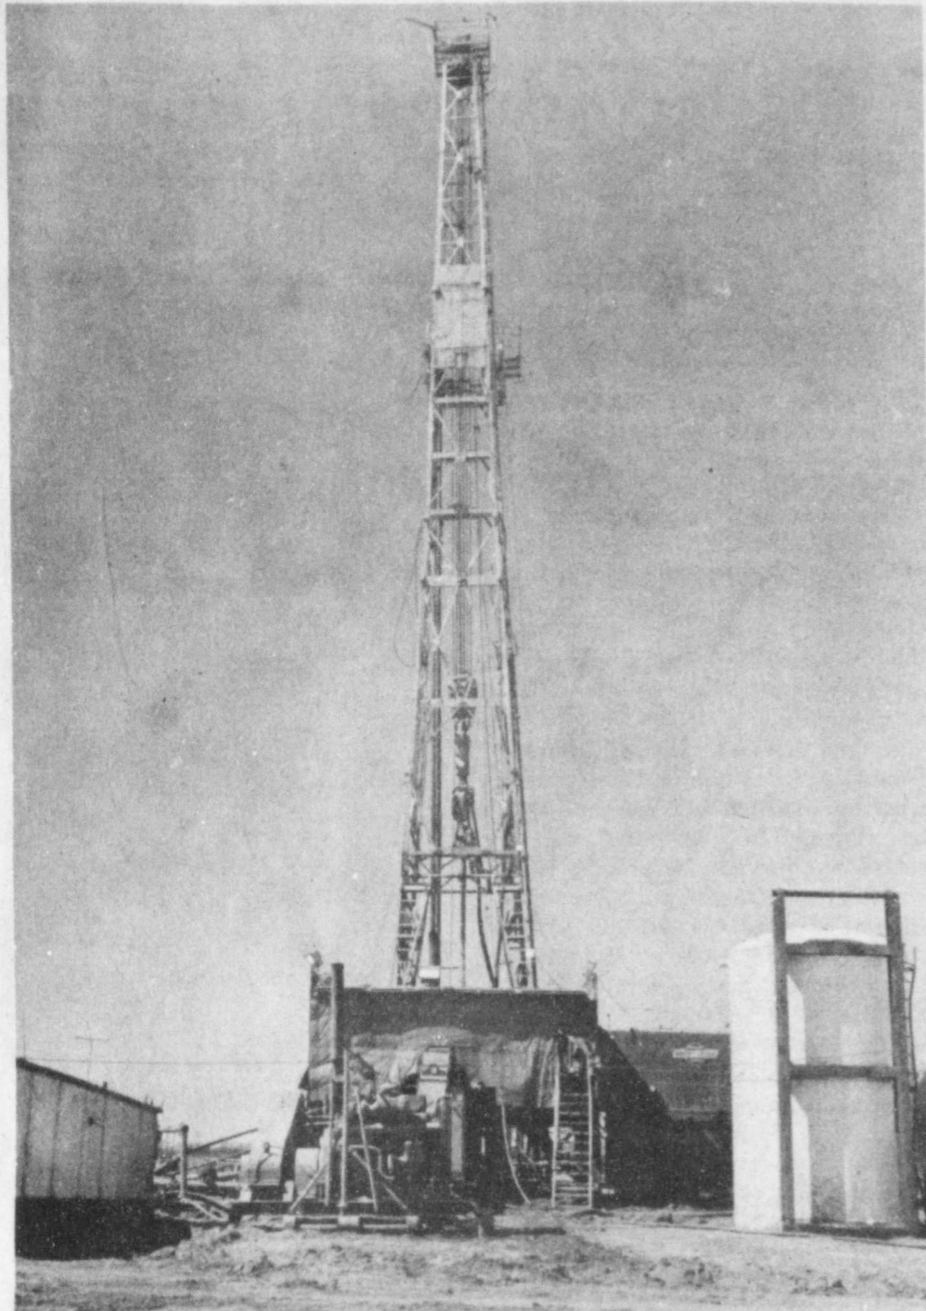

The rescue van would be stationed in the nursing home-hospital vicinity in case either facility should need evacuation.

All radios would use the fire department frequency.

Present siren buttons are located in the fire hall and in city hall. To further ensure the public's safety, another button is to be erected in the fire hall basement.

WARNING SYSTEM TEST

City Manager Brown says "all warning systems" - including sirens and Cable TV messages - will receive a trial run next Monday or Tuesday, March 28 or 29, "if the weather is clear." No tests are conducted when threatening weather conditions exist.

NEARING PAYDIRT? — A massive rig operated by Willard Oil and Gas of Borger nears what is hoped will be productive formations on a Baker-Taylor lease across the northeast Floyd County line in Motley County. A spokesman for the operators says "if we are successful" a number of additional wells will go down in the general area. When this picture was taken the drill bit was at 3,200 feet on its way to about 5,500 feet, more than a mile deep. Exploratory wells are going down north and south of a producing Chevron well, some seven miles south of Turkey and northeast of Flomot. — Staff photo

School and hospital district boards produce only May 7 election races

a view from
The Lamplighter

By Ken Towery

This is National Agriculture Week in America, and last Sunday was National Agriculture Day. Since we don't publish on Sunday we've made note of the occasion in today's issue. This is that time of the year when the Agriculture Council of America's Education Foundation asks us to salute the nation's farm and ranch producers.

All in all we think it's a good idea. Here in Floyd County, and in most counties throughout the Panhandle and the South Plains the folks need no prompting to recognize agriculture's worth to the nation, as well as to our own economy. There are lots of folks elsewhere however who can stand a little reminding, and if one day, or one week a year can help in that process we're all for it. So we want to add our own salute to the names of those who will be found on a page elsewhere in

Dr. Andy Hale filed Tuesday as a candidate for Precinct One on the Floydada school board. Incumbent Freddie Morren had earlier become a candidate.

Another race is on tap for Precinct Two on the school board. Jerry Livingston, Clar Schacht and Cyndi Williams are the aspirants.

Three individuals are offering themselves for service as directors on the Caprock Hospital District board.

Fred Thayer and incumbent Aldine Williams join Melba Vickers, the first to file, as names which will appear on the ballot for the May 7 election. Terms of Williams and Claude Weathersbee expire this spring.

Wednesday, March 23, was the deadline for filings in school, city and hospital district elections, all of which will be held May 7.

At press time, one position on the city council was sans a candidate. This was one at-large position, presently held by Wayne Russell.

Incumbents have filed for other positions which are to be filled this spring: Frank Breed, at-large, Don Green, District One; and Nancy Willson, District Four.

Justice Department approves single balloting site for city

A request by City of Floydada to have a single polling site for municipal elections has been approved by the U.S. Department of Justice. This voting box for the May 7 voting will be at city hall.

In a written request to the Department of Justice, the city sought the change "in order to reduce the cost of holding elections."

Last year, for the first time, the city was forced to operate a polling site in each of the four municipal districts: Floyd County Courthouse, fire hall, First National Bank and Massie Activity Center.

The expense of added personnel and supplies of voting at four sites made the '87 city election "much more expensive than in the past."

"Under the requested voting change," the city pointed out, "the polling places for each district would be changed to the Floydada Municipal Building, located at 114 W. Virginia Street, Floydada, Texas. The Floyd County Courthouse is two (2) block from the Municipal Building; the Firehall is one-half block from the Municipal Building; the Community Room of the First National Bank is three (3) blocks from the Municipal Building; and the Massie Activity Center is .7 miles from the Municipal Building.

LESS EXPENSE

"If the polling places are moved to the Floydada Municipal Building, the expense would be considerably less for holding an election and will reduce the number of workers needed to prepare for an election," the city points out.

Asked by The Hesperian about the savings represented by a single polling site, City Secretary Jimmie Lou Stewart said cost of the '87 municipal election was $1,557.85 — for election personnel and supplies — and this year's estimated cost is $790. This is a difference of $767.

The final municipal election under the at-large system was in 1985. There was no '86 municipal balloting while the matter was involved in litigation. The '87 election was the first under the place or district system.

The city added in its request that "the voting change requested will not have any effect on members of racial or language minority groups."

A letter to the attorney representing the city from Gerald W. Jones states that "The Attorney General does not interpose any objections to the changes in question. However, we feel a responsibility to point out that Section 5 of the Voting Rights Act expressly provides that the failure of the Attorney General to object does not bar any subsequent judicial action to enforce the enforcement of such changes." Jones is chief of the Voting Section of the Civil Rights Division of the U.S. Department of Justice.

When the city was ordered by the courts to change from an "at large" to a "place" voting system, a part of the order called for a voting box in each district.

Hall of Fame to salute Floyd County's founding fathers

Outstanding individual contributions to the development and betterment of Floyd County will be saluted by the newly created Floyd County Hall of Fame. A project of the Floyd County Pioneers' Association, the Hall of Fame will receive its first group of honorees as part of this year's Pioneer Reunion festivities scheduled for the last weekend in May.

The Pioneer Association's desire in establishing this Hall of Fame, according to Frances Staniforth, Association president, is to recognize those men and women whose lives and careers have been instrumental in the development and progress of Floyd County.

"As we approach our county's centennial in 1990," Mrs. Staniforth stated, "we become more conscious of the extraordinary efforts that have brought us to where we are today. We want to bring proper and lasting recognition to those individuals who have contributed so much to Floyd County."

In subsequent years, selection qualifications will be broadened to include

Floyd County natives who have gone on to achieve such professional or civic prominence elsewhere as to positively reflect on their origins.

The 1988 honorees will be selected from among those active during the county's first quarter century, roughly 1880 to 1905. "Attempting to cover

Prove it . . .

Indicators disagree with agency's population loss data

Floydada has lost 762 residences — the area's sixth largest decline — or 18.17 percent of its population from the 1980 census until the present, according to the State Department of Commerce. The Hesperian's response: prove it!

According to the data released by the state agency, Floydada's 1980 census of 4,193 persons has dwindled to 3,431.

Water, natural gas and phone connections and the school ADA (average daily attendance) figures do not concur!

The Hesperian contacted several individuals to secure data with which to make comparisons. Three of these persons pointed out that "Floydada just doesn't have that many empty houses." A population loss of 18.17 percent would mean that one of five dwellings is vacant. That is not the situation!

City of Floydada reports water connections numbering 1,342 in January 1980, according to City Manager Gary Brown. This January, the city had one additional water connection: 1,343.

Percy Edwards, local Energas manager, secured information from his firm. In January 1980, Energas had 1,608 "active accounts" within the Floydada city limits. Fifteen fewer "active accounts" — 1,593 — were on record on March 1, 1988.

This represents a decline of .09 percent.

FEWER PHONES

Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. had 132 fewer residential and commercial dial-tone lines on the entire Floydada exchange — town and rural — at the end of 1987 than it served at the end of 1980, according to Jim West, area manager of external affairs for Southwestern Bell.

West, who is headquartered in Plainview, said the Floydada exchange showed losses in dial-tone lines of 24 in 1982, 37 in '83, 52 in '84, 15 in '85 and 39 in '87. Gains of 12 in 1981 and 23 in '86 were noted. Southwestern Bell uses 2.7 persons per residential connection as a "rule of thumb." The loss of 132 phones during the abovementioned period, if the 2.7 ratio is used, equal 356.4 fewer persons with telephone service. This figure is high because the total decrease would not be residential phones.

West says that 2,141 Floydada exchange phones were in service on Jan. 1, 1988. On this basis, again using the 2.7 individuals per connection, a total of 5,780.7 persons would be presently served through this exchange.

One individual with whom The Hesperian talked — not West — presented the idea that the ethnic population change could mean fewer families with phones.

As another barometer, this newspaper talked with school officials about student numbers. In November 1979, the Floydada school ADA was 1,255 and last November (1987) it stood at 1,276. Closing of the Dougherty school and adding students from that community to the Floydada ADA figures would "just about equal" the 21 student increase.

Supt. Cannon explains that actual enrollment figures are higher than average daily attendance numbers.

He points out that, except for high school, "our enrollment is gradually going up."

One individual suggested that perhaps the community's average number of persons per household has declined during the eight years since the 1980 census. However, school figures would not agree with this evaluation.

The Hesperian concedes that the county population has declined somewhat since the 1980 census, with fewer persons residing in rural areas.

However, the utility connections and school numbers suggest that Floydada's population has declined little. This information totally disagrees with the Department of Commerce figures that the town has 762 fewer residents.

Again, this newspaper says to the state agency: prove it, if you can!

Doctor Morris is director of the Mathematical Sciences Program for the National Security Agency of the Federal Government.

Those from Floydada attending the Waco meeting were J.M. (Jimmy) Willson Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gray. Willson, a Past Grand Master of Texas Masons, acted as marshal during the installation ceremonies. John E. Jack Kelly, Past Grand Master, was the installing officer, and J. Continued from Page One almost a hundred years of historical figures, plus deal with deserving living individuals, quickly became a staggering undertaking," explained Mrs. Staniforth. "After much discussion, we concluded that approaching the project chronologically made the most sense.

By taking a quarter century a year, we can cover the county's past in four years and begin recognizing living recipients."

A committee has been appointed to research and submit possible candidates for consideration. The public is invited and encouraged to share in this undertaking by nominating deserving individuals. Nominations should include a brief biographical history, a description of principal accomplishments and activities and the name of someone to contact should further information be desired by the committee. Nominations should be mailed to Hall of Fame Committee, Box 85, South Plains, Texas 79258 and should be received no later than April 15.

"This being the first year of this selection process," Mrs. Staniforth added, "we are attempting to keep our guidelines as flexible as possible.

Rather than have a fixed number in mind of how many awards we are going to present, we intend to see how many truly deserving individuals emerge from the committee's research."

Those selected by the committee will be recognized at a Friday evening reception preceding the Pioneer Reunion on Saturday. Descendants of the honorees will be special guests at the reception, to which the public is invited. Additionally, framed photographs of the honorees will be permanently displayed in a prominent, but yet to be determined, public space.

today's issue, in paying tribute to those who produce our food and fibre.

Sometimes, it seems to us, some people tend to forget that agriculture is big business, subject to all the ups and downs, all the frustrations, of any business, plus a few more to boot. Few things can illustrate that point more than last year's cotton crop here in Floyd County. We read in the Hesperian that 1987's cotton crop was on the order of 108,000 bales. Translated into cash flow dollars (not profits) that means the cotton crop alone was worth approximately $32 million. We don't know of a big city in Texas that wouldn't fight like mad to land a manufacturing operation that might bring $32 million into the community.

Still, many of our producers did not share in that bounty, having fallen victims of devastating hail storms that swept portions of the county. Their lot is to begin again and try to recoup. It has ever been thus for those who till the soil, and it will probably always be thus. Which is another reason we take this opportunity to wish them well. After all, their ups and downs are ups and downs for all of us.

Occasionally, as our readers know, we comment on items appearing elsewhere, in publications hither and yon. The Lubbock Avalanche-Journal carried a piece the other day on its editorial page by one George Plagenze. Mr. Plagenze must be a very, very religious person, for he presumed to know how Jesus Christ would vote if he were walking the earth today. Surely Jesus could not vote for either George Bush or Robert Dole, for, as he said "can anyone believe that Jesus, from what we know of him through the Gospels, would vote for a conservative Republican who might be expected to tip the scales in favor of the rich, albeit in the name of 'what's best for the country'."

No, his guess is that if Jesus were around for this year's election, "he would cast his vote for Paul Simon or Jesse Jackson, because of their concern for the poor, which was Jesus' concern too."

Having discerned how the Savior would vote, were He here, Mr. Plagenze notes that "this might come as a surprise to Pat Robertson, who probably thinks he would have Jesus' vote wrapped up."

What can we say? We had always thought that the paramount concerns of Jesus Christ ran to the souls of men, rather than their pocketbook, or their politics. But it is good to know that Mr. Plagenze has an inside track.

Friends of Floyd Historical Museum mail in annual membership dues

Where's the fire...

By Mike Reeves

After a busy February, local firemen are experiencing a slow March. Only one fire call was received during the past week. That came Saturday, when 10 men and three trucks answered a call to Bob Alldredge's well house fire, approximately four miles southeast of town.

The weekly training meeting was held at 7:30 p.m. Monday. Apparatus training on trucks was the topic. Floydada Volunteer Fire Department membership is up to 20 men, a recent increase. Five more firemen still are needed to reach the department's potential of 25 firemen.

One hundred and seven friends of the Floyd County Historical Museum, "from Floyd County and across the United States," have mailed their $25 contributing membership to the museum this month, according to Lila Kendrick and Evelyn Pierce, museum managers.

A total of $2,875 has been received. This includes the contributing memberships and an additional $100 each from two members.

"We are still getting checks every day," Mrs. Kendrick says. Museum committee assignments have been made for 1988.

At a recent board meeting, O.M. Watson Jr. was elected president; Joyce Williams, vice president; Emily Johnston, secretary; and Jim Word, treasurer.

The museum is open each week day from 1 p.m. until 5 p.m. Last week's visitors to the museum included guests of Floyd County residents during the school spring break.

First special event for the year will be the annual art show, sponsored by the Floyd County Arts Association, the annual wild flower exhibit and the museum open house during the Floyd County Pioneer Reunion, the last week in May.

Police Department has 'pretty quiet week'

A relatively quiet week was experienced by the police department, according to Chief James Hale.

Charges of driving while intoxicated (DWI) were filed at 11:31 p.m. Saturday against Jimmy A. Avila, who was apprehended at 10th and East Grover.

DWI charges were filed at 8:32 p.m. Sunday against Byron James Hill. He was stopped in the 400 block of West Crockett.

Royces Castaneda was charged at 5:15 p.m. March 15 with simple assault in a domestic violence call received by police. The arrest was made in the 300 block of West Marivena.

No injuries were sustained and only minor damage resulted from a two-vehicle collision in the 600 block of East Ross at 8:25 a.m. Monday.

A 1978 Ford LTD was backing away from a parking stall at Della Plains School and the driver attempted to back across the street to drive east when the vehicle struck a '79 Mercury Bobcat. The Mercury was westbound. It was struck on the right rear quarter panel.

Both autos were driven away.

Another two-vehicle collision was reported about 1:55 p.m. Sunday. It occurred at the "Y" intersection as both autos were turning off U.S. Highway 70 onto South Third Street. A '79 Cutlass was attempting to turn right from the left lane and a '74 Caprice was attempting to turn left from the right lane. As the Caprice pulled in front of the other vehicle it was struck.

The Cutlass sustained significant damage, but the Caprice received only minor damage.

Republicans chose five state conflag delegates

Five delegates to the state convention were elected Saturday during the Republican county convention, held at the Community Room of First National Bank in Floydada.

Chosen as county delegates to the state convention, June 10-11 in Houston, were L.B. Brandes, Bill Hale, R.V. Macha, Kerry Pratt and Albert Scheele.

Alternates are Mrs. L.B. (Georgia) Brandes, Mrs. C.J. (Lucy) Eastham, Mrs. Bill (Carolyn) Hale, D.K. Jackson and Mrs. R.V. (Judy) Macha.

Albert Scheele, county Republican chairman, presided over the session until Kerry Pratt was elected as permanent chairman of the convention.

Twelve persons attended the convention.

Two resolutions were adopted by the convention:

1. Be it resolved that due to numerous Republican mailings requesting finances received from Republican contributors resulting in confusion and inefficient use of mailing, personnel, money, etc., we recommend a simplified and centralized procedure for solicitation of campaign funds in this state of Texas.

2. Be it resolved it is our belief that excessive federal encroachment upon state government from both federal judiciary and federal government forces are resulting in a loss of local control, standards and responsive government. We recommend a strong reaffirmation of states rights, and a limit on federal involvement to ensure better, more responsive local control of this state's destiny.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,
Lucky me! I live in Floyd County! Saturday afternoon my storage and wellhouse caught fire. Several young adults passing by alerted us and stayed to help fight the blaze until the fire department could get here with the special fire truck recently purchased by our commissioners for our county.

The Floydada Fire Department quickly and professionally got the fire under control.

All in all, some dozen or more white, black, and Hispanic good neighbors got involved in doing this good deed. My deepest thanks to the fire department, law enforcement, commissioners, and friends who discovered and helped contain the crisis.

People in many parts of the world will not help one another, but they do in my county!

/s/ Bob Alldredge

Dear Mayor Powell:
Thank you for your recent correspondence.

I certainly agree with you about the need for disaster payments from the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS). I share your concerns about the hardships facing farmers in West Texas due to the severe hailstorms last year. I have already contacted Secretary of Agriculture Lyng and urged him to use his existing authority to make disaster payments available to assist area farmers.

Again, I appreciate your sharing your thoughts on this problem. Knowing of your support is most helpful, and you may be assured I will continue to work to win approval of these needed disaster payments.

Sincerely,
/s/ Lloyd Bentsen

A small birthday cake was brought to their table and the waitresses all sang "Happy Birthday." There were also lots of pretty cards and several phone calls.

Hospital Happenings

This has been a quiet week at Caprock Hospital. Spring break took many of our community folks as well as our hospital employees out of town. Our administrator Leroy Schaffner attended a workshop in San Antonio this past week. Joy Breed, medical records director, and Donna Anderson, bookkeeper, attended a workshop on computers in Childress at the hospital on Wednesday.

The board of directors met for their regular monthly meeting on Thursday, March 17, at 6:30 a.m. Present were Aldine Williams, president; William Bertrand; Joy Assiter; Don Bean; Nell McClung; Leroy Schaffner, administrator; and Molly Stringer, director of nursing.

Through the efforts of the 1956 Study Club, we are noticing some changes at the hospital. Some rooms have already been painted. Wallpaper has been ordered and is ready to hang. Members of the study club will begin hanging the paper soon.

All the patient rooms will have new mini-blinds, one wall will be papered, and the remaining walls will have a fresh coat of paint. We appreciate the club's interest in this project, and also offer our thanks to each individual and organization who have contributed to this fund. Give us a couple of weeks to work, then come by and see the progress.

The hospital will be offering mammograms every two months. St. Anthony's Mobile Unit from Amarillo brings us this service. Due to a mechanical breakdown, the unit was unable to be here Tuesday, but we have rescheduled it for Thursday, March 31. Those who had previous appointments on March 22 will be contacted for their appointments to be made at the same time. The cost of a mammogram is $80.00 and $70.00 if the patient is a member of ValuCare. The cost of mammograms is generally over $100.00 in other places.

Our Home Health Agency continues to make daily, weekly, and monthly visits to residents of our community who are in need of home care.

We now have over 90 members in our ValuCare program. We are planning to offer some new services in the near future for these members. If you are interested in knowing more about this program, you may contact Wendy Pierce at the hospital.

We have plans for a Health Fair in May, which will feature Diabetes. At that time, we will offer the blood screening for cholesterol and other lab work as we have in the previous two Health Fairs.

We will be offering an emergency medical technician and emergency care attendant course to begin in the next two weeks. We urge anyone who is interested to call the hospital and sign up. All who attend will be tested and certified by the state to work in ambulance emergency services, if they pass exams and complete the course. Being a part of the emergency services can be a very challenging and rewarding experience.

We hope to make this a weekly column. If you would appreciate a column about your hospital, please let the Hesperian and us at Caprock Hospital know.

A WORD FROM THE ADMINISTRATOR

At Caprock Hospital District, we want to provide the best possible health care to the residents of Floydada and surrounding communities. We have implemented the ValuCare program for senior citizens and will soon have two helicopter services which can transfer patients to hospitals in Lubbock in case of extreme emergencies.

If any group or organization would like to have a representative of the hospital make a presentation about any of our services, please call Leroy Schaffner or Molly Stringer at 983-2875. Also, if you have any problem with the service or personnel at the Caprock Hospital District, please call and let me know. We realize that you are the reason we are here.

HEALTH TIPS: YOUR EMOTIONAL WELL-BEING

Stop and think. Anger is often the result of a hasty decision. Step back and think about the situation before acting on angry impulses. Realize that others may not live up to your standards. There are no common rules governing the way people should act. Your standards may be very different from those of another person. Understanding and accepting these differences may help dissolve your anger.

Talk about it. Focus on solving the problem rather than arguing. You may strengthen a relationship if you are honest and express your feelings openly. Be open and receiving to other people's feelings as well.

A potluck supper is to begin at 7 p.m. In the council report it was announced that a retirement party for Dr. Catherine Crawford, district agent, will be at St. Johns Methodist Church in Lubbock April 10 from 2 to 4:00. All Extension Homemakers are invited to come.

The district meeting will be in Levelland April 14 at the women's building on the fairgrounds. Registration will be $1.25, the time of registration from 9:30 to 10:30. Meal tickets will be $5.75 and meal reservations should be sent by March 28 to Lillian Smith.

Ruth Scott gave the program on "Texas Trivia." All members present were native Texans, three parents were natives but no grandparents. Each told of their blood lines and several nationalities were represented. A game of Texas facts was played, and papers were read by all present on different nationalities, facts about them and where they settled in Texas, which was located on a Texas map.

Texas was settled by twenty-six ethnic groups. Distinctive cultural features of each group have been preserved through the peoples customs, family traditions, festival, religion, language, music and food.

For recreation each put a piece of paper on their head and drew a map of Texas.

The hostess served refreshments to Imelda Murry, Maye Williams, Blanche Williams, Vivian Curtis, Juanita Pool, Anna Maude Hopper, Arvie Schulz, Bess Carr, Ruth Scott and three children.

Resident celebrates birthday

By Lorilla Bradley
March is sometimes windy... She keeps us on our toes... But birthdays we'll remember No matter how "she blows!"

To greet our Mrs. Galloway... Her years are 93... We'll have a happy party! It might just be a "sprée!"

Let's serenade this lady With the good old Birthday Song So everybody ready And sing out good and strong!

Thursday, March 17, was party day at the Rest Home with ladies of the City Park Church of Christ hosting.

Everyone was ushered into the dining room with the honoree being seated at the "honor" table. Her place was marked with a special birthday card and table being covered with a white cloth was centered with a floral arrangement in blue which matched the placecard.

The poem was read and all joined in singing the Happy Birthday song. Mrs. Galloway wore a fresh carnation corsage compliments of Williams Flower and Card Shop. Seated with her to help celebrate her 93 years were her daughter, Bessie Wilson, Floydada; her sister, Harvie Sexton; niece, LaVerne Russell, and friend Ann Thompson, all of Portales, New Mexico.

A delicious refreshment plate of iced 7-up cake and angel food cake along with a delightfully tasty fruit punch was served to the honoree, guests, home residents and employees. The Hesperian photographer came for the "picture taking" which ended the party.

The next celebration will be Thursday, April 21, 2:30 p.m. You are invited to attend.

Farmers are efficient producers

U.S. farmers today produce over 80 percent more crop output on an acre of land than did their fathers. Today, one hour of farm labor produces 16 times as much food and other crops as it did in the 1919-21 period. New technology has made these gains possible. The productivity of the land now depends upon the skill and knowledge with which capital is applied. The bigger the volume that farmers can raise and sell, the lower the product cost per item. So U.S. consumers gain from the increase in farm production efficiency.

The following chart on productivity indicates how labor requirements have changed since the beginning of the 19th century.

Labor required to produce wheat, corn, and cotton.

	hours	1800	1935-39	1955-59	1980-84
Wheat (100 bushels)		1800	373	17	7
Corn (100 bushels)		344	108	20	3
Cotton (1 bale)		601	209	74	5

Yield per acre were 15 bushels for wheat, 25 bushels for corn, and 154 pounds for cotton.

And the following chart shows yield changes since 1800.

Yields per acre of wheat, corn, and cotton.

	1800	1940	1960	1985-86
Wheat (bu)	15	15	20	34
Corn (bu)	25	29	55	118
Cotton (pounds)	154	253	446	630

In 1790, 3,000 bales of cotton were produced. With the advent of the cotton gin in 1793, production rose to 73,000 bales by 1800. Other crops produced at this time include 160 million bushels of grain products, 22 million bushels of wheat, 107 million pounds of tobacco, and 300 million board feet of lumber.

Food prices rise less than other consumer prices

Food prices rose 3.2% in 1986, slightly higher than the 2.3% increase in 1985, according to the Consumer Price Index.

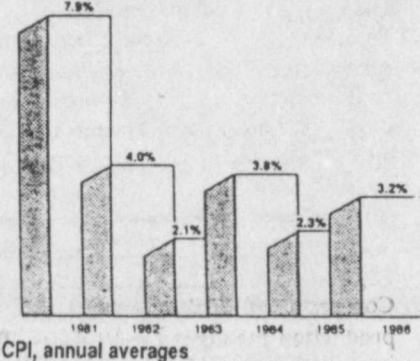

The farm prices of food products, that is, the value of the farm goods that go into the food product, went down for a second consecutive year making the 1986 farm value of food the lowest since 1979. Following a 7.1% decline in 1985, the farm value of food fell 1.3% lower.

The farm value averaged 30% of the retail cost for a "market basket" of foods purchased in grocery stores, down from 31% in 1985 and 34% in 1984.

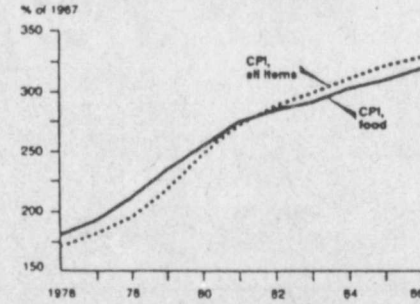

The farm share of the food dollar has declined recently because abundant food supplies have held down farm prices while rising costs to processors and distributors have boosted retail prices.

About 25 percent of last year's food spending went back to farmers, who received about $89 billion. This share is lower than the 30 percent farm value share for the market basket of food because it includes the much lower 16 percent farm share for away-from-home food spending.

A Farmer Comparison.

An American farmer provides food and fiber for 114 people.

Compared with a farmer that provides food and fiber for:

- 3.5 in China
- 3 in Japan
- 8 in Argentina
- 4 in Brazil
- 11 in the U.S.S.R.

Skill combined with technology make this production miracle possible.

National Agriculture Day -- 1988

U.S. Department of Agriculture - Office of Governmental and Public Affairs.

AGRICULTURE IS MORE THAN FOOD

We depend on farmers for our food - and a lot more besides. We count on farmers for obvious non-food items: wool and cotton for our clothing; leather for our shoes, belts, luggage, and other "leather goods"; pulp for paper and wood for our homes, other buildings, and furniture; and fiber for sacks, bags, and boxes. The American Paper Institute reports that paper and paperboard production averaged two pounds per person per day in January 1986.

Farmers produce our tobacco, another nonfood product. The greenhouse and nursery business, which is predominantly nonfood agriculture, has grown in dollar volume until it generates more cash farm income, $5.8 billion, than either the $1.9 billion for tobacco or the $2.7 billion for cotton. Forest products add $1.4 billion to farm cash income; wool adds $55 million.

Agricultural mining is an $18 billion industry directly employing more than 100,000 people.

Then there are common non-food items we might not readily think of as "agricultural": there's grass seed for lawns, bird seed for the birds, and how about pet food for dogs and cats? People spent $6 billion last year for dog and cat food, nine and one-half billion pounds of it, says the Pet Food Institute.

The more exotic agricultural products are something to contemplate as you relax and go fishing, maybe to bait your hook with a worm or other bait from a bait farm. That's an agricultural product, too. You'll find agricultural products in gasoline fuel, industrial alcohol, adhesives, cosmetics, fragrances, soap, candles, paints, chewing gum, utility poles, lead pencils, and pesticides containing substances such as nicotine and pyrethrum.

Next time your doctor gives you a shot, try to take your mind off the needle by concentrating on the fact that the vaccine may have been cultured in an egg, (an agricultural product.) About one-fourth of all prescription drugs contain agricultural products.

We've come a long way from old nonfood agricultural standbys such as straw mattresses, feather dusters, mustard plasters, leather chaps, and six-shooter holsters, but nonfood agriculture is still all around us. It's big business, not to be swept under the rug, especially if the broom is made from broom corn. Yep, that's agriculture.

Food and fiber industry

There are 21 million people working in agriculture. Each additional $1 billion of agricultural or food and fiber demand creates 30,000 to 35,000 additional jobs and adds a total of $2 billion to the Nation's Gross National Product.

Each $1 billion earned from farm exports in 1986 created another $1.51 billion of output in the U.S. economy, for a total of $2.51 billion. In 1986, 0.8 million (or 781,000 full-time jobs) related to agricultural exports. Nearly 450,000 of those were non-farm jobs assembling, processing, and distributing farm products for export.

Facts on agriculture and the hungry

The U.S. is the world's largest food donor.

In 1985, the U.S. exported $1.3 billion under PL 480, the Food for Peace program. African drought relief accounted for this higher-than-usual level of food aid. In 1986, world food needs weren't as great. Weather still drives world agriculture, however, and is increasing estimates of world food shortages for 1988. Severe drought in India and Ethiopia and inadequate rainfall in many African countries have increased world food needs to 26 million tons.

FY	World Food Needs	U.S. Shipments
84/85	11.7 mil. tons	7.5 mil. tons
85/86	8.8 mil. tons	6.7 mil. tons
86/87	6.6 mil. tons	6.5 mil. tons (est.)
87/88	26.0 mil. tons	6.1 mil. tons (est.)

A growing portion of the USDA budget goes to feeding the hungry in America.

The number of Americans facing hunger in 1986 was 20 million, according to the Physicians Task Force on Hunger. That number continues to grow. More and more families are standing in soup lines, whereas in the 1970's the hungry was largely made up of single men. Although many programs were cut in 1980, USDA costs for these programs have increased 42% (not adjusted for inflation). The total cost for various food distribution programs was 20 billion in 1986. Programs include: the Food Stamp program, Women, Infants and Children program, Child nutrition programs and other. Funding is also provided by private organizations and some state and local organizations mostly in the form of "emergency food assistance."

The food problem in some Third World countries has prompted Lloyd Timberlake in his book Only One Earth to remark that "the average British cat eats twice as much animal protein every day as the average African citizen." Further, the estimated cost of maintaining a British cat is $260 per year; a figure that is "more than the average annual income of the one billion people who live in the world's 15 poorest nations," he says.

We can't attest to the cost of feeding a cat in Britain. The British spend about $900 per person annually on their own food, beverages, and alcohol. To take nothing away from the desperate need of poor countries for protein, it still can be said that the kind of animal protein in cat food wouldn't cause very many people to salivate, nor would it likely send very many to the stump to advocate that we kill the cat and send the cat food to the "poor people around the world."

Congressman Boulter responds to concern over diesel tax provision

Congressman Beau Boulter responded to correspondence about the diesel tax provision in the Budget Reconciliation bill from Floyd County Farm Bureau. He further explains the situation in a letter to the local farm group:

the hard choices to achieve meaningful and necessary cuts in spending. Once again, thank you for sharing your views with me. If I may ever be of further service, please feel free to contact me.

Sincerely,
/s/ Beau Boulter
Beau Boulter
Member of Congress

Thank you for writing to voice your concerns over the diesel tax provision in the Budget Reconciliation bill. I appreciate having the benefit of your views.

As you know, the House and Senate passed H.J. Res. 395, a government-wide appropriations bill, and H.R. 3545, a tax-hike and spending-cut package. These two omnibus bills direct the reduction of the deficit by $76 billion over the next two years, as called for by the Congress-White House budget summit held last November. The two bills repealed $23 billion in Gramm-Rudman-Hollings spending cuts that had been formally in effect since November 20.

I voted for H.J. Res. 395 which passed the House by a vote of 209-208. However, I voted against H.R. 3545, the budget reconciliation bill because it included a $9.1 billion fiscal 1988 tax increase. Unfortunately, the bill passed by a vote of 237-181. As you mentioned in your correspondence, H.R. 3545 includes a diesel fuel tax which requires the collection of diesel fuel taxes at the wholesale level, rather than on retail sales of the fuel.

You will be interested to know that I have become an original cosponsor of H.R. 3865. This bill, introduced by Representative Larry Combest, seeks to amend the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 to permit tax-free sales of diesel fuel for use on a farm or for other off-highway uses. The bill has been referred to the Committee on Ways and Means. Rest assured, this bill will have my full support when it comes before the full House for a vote.

As you may know, I am adamantly opposed to any sort of tax increase. If you will recall, the tax bill passed in 1982, TEFRA, raised taxes by $100 billion. In exchange for the President reluctantly signing the 1982 tax increase, Congress promised to reduce spending $3.00 for every $1.00 in new taxes. Well, we got the $100 billion tax increase, but we never got the promised spending cuts. Instead, Congress increased spending $1.58 for every new tax dollar. This is absurd! Raising the taxpayers' burden to increase spending programs is not the answer to our deficit crisis.

Rest assured that I realize that the time for action is now. This era of fiscal irresponsibility must come to an end. Congress must mend its ways and make

Wheat leaf rust update

The threat of wheat leaf rust is not as great this season as it has been for the past several years, according to Dr. Wendell Horne, plant pathologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Disease incidence in South and Central Texas is considerably less than it was one year ago. This does not mean, however, that no threat exists. Growers should be aware that the organism is present and that future conditions may be ideal for rapid development," Horne cautions.

Factors that may explain why wheat leaf rust is less threatening this season, Horne says, include less wheat acreage planted in South and Central Texas, more varieties being planted as opposed to one predominant variety, more slow-rusting varieties being used, and rather dry weather conditions.

"Producers should watch their fields for increases in wheat leaf occurrence. There's still plenty of time for an epidemic to develop if weather conditions favor such an event."

He notes that there may be more reason for some producers to use fungicides this year than in the past.

"Wheat prices have increased and another highly effective fungicide is on the market. Chemical control will not likely pay for everyone, but it may pay handsomely in many situations."

Growers considering use of a fungicide should make sure that they have a 40-bushel yield potential and that leaf rust represents a serious limiting production factor, he says. They also should be sure that they have a wheat variety that will respond to fungicide use. Slow rusting varieties, such as Sturdy, are not as likely to give favorable returns as non-slow rusting varieties, such as NK-812, Horne adds.

When one determines that fungicides will pay, make sure that timely applications are made properly according to the product label.

GroAgri Seed Company prexy

Larry Price revealed as new

Larry Price has been named president of GroAgri Seed Company of Lubbock, according to an announcement by Jim Gilbreath, vice president of Agrigenetics Corporation, U.S. Operations.

Survey notes Floyd soil moisture deficits

Soil moisture deficits in the portion of Floyd County which lies within the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District's boundaries range from two inches to eight inches. Pre-plant irrigation will be needed in most areas of the county to bring soil moisture levels up to field capacity for average or above average crop yields.

The plant root zone is drier than it has been in the past several years, according to data taken during the annual pre-plant soil moisture survey done by the Water District and the USDA-Soil Conservation Service (USDA-SCS).

Two to four inches of pre-plant irrigation are needed across the middle of the county and near Floydada. The northeastern and southeastern portions of the county within the Water District need four to six inches of water.

Scattered areas needing six to eight inches of water are located near the Floyd-Briscoe-Swisher County lines and the Floyd-Crosby County lines.

Moisture levels in the top foot are generally fair to good and should provide excellent conditions for land preparation. While there may be sufficient moisture for plowing, USDA-SCS Soil Scientist Mike Risinger is concerned that producers will be misled by these moist plow layer conditions. "Most fields are much drier below the 12 to 18 inch levels," he says.

Soil moisture conditions are measured at approximately 220 neutron tube sites throughout the Water District's 15-county service area. Soil moisture monitoring sites are selected to be representative of the soil type and farm management practices typical in the area.

Soil moisture availability and deficit maps are drawn by the Water District as a tool to give producers an idea of soil moisture conditions in their area. With this information, farmers can make better water management decisions and avoid over-irrigating or under-irrigating in the spring.

For additional soil moisture information, contact the USDA-Soil Conservation Service field office or the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District office, 2930 Avenue Q, Lubbock, Texas 79405 or call (806) 762-0181.

A committee of Texas legislators in Lubbock March 19 was served a generous helping of complaints against Texas workers' compensation insurance abuses and rates for cotton ginners.

The occasion was the second of three hearings called by the Joint Select Committee on Workers' Compensation Insurance, created by the Texas Legislature to scrutinize the Texas system with an eye to improvements. The first was held in Houston in February and a third is set for June 3 in Dallas.

Co-chairmen of the committee are Representative Richard Smith of Bryan and Senator Robert Glasgow of Stephenville. Acting chairman for the Lubbock hearing, however, was committee member Senator John Montford of Lubbock.

Taking the lead for ginners in documenting abuses, inefficiencies and excessive rates were the Texas Cotton Ginners, Texas Independent Ginners and Texas Cooperative Gin Managers Associations. They were backed by oral and-or written testimony from individual ginners and a statement on behalf of cotton producers presented by Myrl D. Mitchell of Lenorah, president of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

Addressing other facets of the workers' compensation system were doctors, the Medical Containment Division of the Texas Industrial Accident Board, the Texas Rehabilitation Commission, the Texas Restaurant Association and other interested parties.

Accounting for producer interest in the workers' compensation rates paid by ginners, Mitchell cited his calculation that the increases in rates over the past five years have added at least $1 per bale to total ginning costs. And when a ginner's costs go up for reasons he can't control, he added, paraphrasing the comic strip's Pogo, "We has met the man who pays the final bill, and he is us."

Speaking for the Texas Cotton Ginners Association, Keith Pendergrass of Wellman referred to a chart showing injured worker benefits and gin premium rates in each 14 states. He said it is frustrating to find that "while our losses are no less nor greater than other states, Texas has the second highest compensation rate — the highest of any state with over 100 gins in operation." Examples given included Tennessee which has the same maximum benefits as Texas and a rate of $10.89 per $100 of payroll, compared to the Texas rate of $25.05 per $100.

Mitchell's statement alluded to the same comparisons saying "...it should be obvious to one and all that something is wrong in Texas" when Texas premium rates are from 30 to 130 percent higher while the state's loss experience and benefits are about equal. Only New Mexico at $33.87 has a premium higher than Texas.

All the ginner organizations stressed the industry's concern for its employees, calling attention to their development and dissemination of extensive safety programs.

When injuries do occur, Pendergrass amplified, "we want the system to pay qualified claims in a timely manner that meets the worker's needs. At the same time," he appended, "the system must vigorously resist abuses and fraudulent claims that not only increase costs, but fuel an adversarial atmosphere between employer and employee."

It's Later Than You Think

By Rev. Ralph E. Jackson

TEXT AMOS 6:3, 6
 "YE THAT PUT FAR AWAY THE EVIL DAY, AND CAUSE THE SEAT OF VIOLENCE TO COME NEAR;

THAT DRINK WINE IN BOWLS, AND ANOINT THEMSELVES WITH THE HIEF OINTMENTS: BUT THEY ARE NOT GRIEVED FOR THE AFFLICTION OF JOSEPH.

About eight hundred years before Christ and probably fifty years after the locust plague described by Joel, there was born near Tekoa of Judah, a child who became a shephard lad named Amos.

While Amos was yet a boy, boy he went with his father and other herdsman up to Jerusalem ten miles away, carrying wool and dried sycamore to sell to the crowd at the feast. It was there he saw the people committing all kinds of sin. His heart was touched because of the sins of the people and he cried out, "The Lord will roar from Zion and utter His voice from Jerusalem." He says, have put away the evil day and caused the seat of violence to come near, but it's later than you think.

This is the warning of God's Ministers today. "It's later than you think." This may be with reference to the coming of Christ. The Bible declares in such an hour as you think not, the Son of Man shall come. "Watch therefore for ye know neither the day nor the hour wherein the Son of Man cometh."

Again we are told the Lord will come as a thief in the night. The foolish virgins were unprepared. They slumbered and slept, not knowing it was later than they thought. No one can spend his life in the pursuit of material things without paying the penalty of that sin. The people of our text wallowed in wealth and luxury living and made them forget God. Amos says, "They lie on beds of ivory, stretch themselves upon couches, and ate the calves from the stalls. They became so indolent, they drank wine out of bowls."

Let's think of our country today; there's more eating and drinking strong drinks than ever before. On every hand we see drunkenness, Midnight parties, lewdness, haughty, flirting with destiny, trifling with destiny, trifling with sacred things, and plunging into destruction. Another reason it's later than you think is because people have lost interest in the church. Many of our churches are dark on Sunday night. No time for service. Spiritual prosperity cannot survive where the fountain of righteousness is poisoned with pleasure.

Remember my friends, Prepare to meet thy God, for "IT'S LATER THAN YOU THINK." All the generations of the past are gone the way of death. Nations once powerful are now but a memory. Mighty cities that once stood are now shambles of decay. "Awake thou that sleepest and call on your God for it's later than you think. The rich man was thinking of the many years ahead. He was doubtless a farmer and had raised what we would describe a bumper crop. He was rejoicing in his earthy gain and his barn was not big enough. As he lay on his bed thinking I will tear this barn and build larger barns and said to his soul, "Take thine ease, I have enough for many years."

Like many people with big plans, he didn't realize, "It's later than you think." For the same night God called and said "Thou fool, tonight thy soul is required at the bar of judgment." For it's later than you think.

The same was true of Belshazzar, who made a great feast and invited a thousand of his Lords all of his princes, wives and concubines. He was king and all wealth of the empire was at his disposal. His word was law, but it was later than he thought, for in the same hour he saw fingers of a man's hand writing on the wall. He called in Daniel to read the writing. Daniel said, King, "It's later than you think. God has numbered your Kingdom and finished it and thou art weighed in the balances and found wanting." "IT'S LATER THAN YOU THINK."
