Sunday reunion slated at South Plains School

End-of-school program Tuesday

The old adage - "All good things must end" - was never more true than when applied to the closing of rural schools.

When the final lessons are taught at the South Plains School next week, it will mark the end of an era. It, and numerous other schools, has fallen victim of a decreasing agricultural population, more rigid state requirements and other factors.

Despite the sadness created by the closing of another school and an era - leaving only Floydada and Lockney with public schools in this county — there is a positive side.

"There's a lot of excitement" about twin end-of-school events at South Plains.

The community and school's initial reunion in several years will unreel this Sunday afternoon, May 29, and a "last-day party" is being planned next Tuesday afternoon, May 31.

"We've heard from many out-oftown people who are planning to come home for the reunion," a South Plains resident says. "If the people who live within easy driving distance will come we'll have a good crowd Sunday.

REUNION STARTS AT 2

The reunion is scheduled to begin at 2 p.m. and continue until "who knows when.'

A bevy of former teachers and ex-students of South Plains School are expected for the program which will include recognition of present and past educators at the school and introduction of all classes through at the reunion. Refreshments will be served Sunday and again on Tuesday afternoon when the end-of-school program unfolds. It is scheduled for 10 a.m.

Former students and faculty members are also invited to attend the Tuesday function which will include skits by pupils.

THANKS TO RAILROAD

South Plains School has the railroad to thank for its existence. It all started with the Curlew community, when the Curlew Store and Post Office were erected about one mile north and four miles east of the present South Plains.

Then came the Sunset School, reputed to be two miles east of South Plains. But with the coming of the railroad, that school building was dismantled and moved to the thriving new town on the railroad Material from the old Sunset School structure was hauled to South Plains for erection of the new school building. One major difference in the two "school houses" was that a flat roof replaced a gable roof when the structure was rebuilt at South Plains.

Studies at South Plains School began in the fall of 1929, and the school's first group to graduate was the Class of 1930.

Promotion ceremony for eighth graders set Tuesday afternoon

Eighth graders at Floydada Junior High will be involved in a promotion ceremony at 3 p.m. next Tuesday, May 31. The ceremony is planned in the junior high auditorium.

The class has 88 members.

Principal Joe Christian says tests are to be given Monday and Tuesday.

FUTURE PIONEERS

Youngsters of all ages are invited to ride three-wheelers, go-carts, bicycles "or anything on wheels" in the Future Pioneers segment of the parade. This is the second year for the Future Pioneers to ride in the parade as a group.

When registering at Duncan Abstract Co., before 1:30 p.m., contestants will be issued a number. The announcer will identify entries by number.

The Junior Miss Floyd County, selected at last August's county fair, will lead the Future Pioneers. She will ride on a trailer pulled by a three-wheeler.

Youngsters who ride in this division are asked to meet in a group on the First Baptist Church parking lot. There is no age limit for the Future Pioneers, but each must be "capable of handling what he or she is driving."

Adding color to the parade will be the 4th Cavalry — "about a dozen mounted cavalrymen, along with a mule-drawn teamster wagon and a mountain howitzer on a horse-drawn carriage and troopers' wives and children dressed in "appropriate frontier attire" — and classic automobiles owned by the Nifty-Fifty Car Club of Lubbock.

Honored pioneers, cited during the Saturday morning business meeting, are to ride in new vehicles. Best dressed oldtime cowboy and cowgirl, best dressed modern cowboy and cowgirl and junior cowboy and cowgirl (up to 12) will be chosen from mounted riders in the parade.

Trophies, plaques and cash prizes will be presented to parade winners, who will be announced during intermission of the Country Caravan show.

A complete list of parade prizes was listed in last week's Hesperian.

HONOR PIONEERS

Pioneer tribute, the recognition of outstanding and longtime county residents, is scheduled during the business meeting, which opens at 10 a.m. in the courthouse pavilion.

A memorial service also is planned during the business session.

Persons are encouraged to bring lawn chairs for activities under the pavilion and for the Country Caravan show.

Registration of those attending the reunion begins at 9:30 a.m., simultaneous with the flag-raising. Registration will be inside the courthouse.

A Fourth Cavalry tent, along with gear and weaponry, are to be displayed on the courthouse grounds during the day.

Lone Star Ballet from West Texas

State University in Canyon will perform in the pavilion, beginning at 10:45 a.m.

BARBECUE LUNCH

The traditional barbecue lunch gets underway at 11:45. Tickets are $4 each, with old settlers and special guests receiving complimentary meals. Special music is to be presented while the reunion group is having lunch.

Opening the afternoon segment of the program at 1:15 will be a style show featuring "yesteryday's fashions" in the pavilion. This is a feature which is being revived after an absence of several years.

Third grade students from A.B. Duncan Elementary in Floydada will entertain presenting excerpts from "Floyd County from a Tumbleweed's Point of View." Beth Faulkenberry is to direct the youngsters, who will appear in "pioneer garb," as they perform immediately prior to the style show.

All other activities come to a halt as the parade — which begins forming at 2 o'clock — makes its trek down Floydada streets at 2:30.

COUNTRY CARAVAN

Another popular Old Settlers feature is "Country Caravan," presented by South Plains College in Levelland. The talented crew takes its country-western musical on the road each spring and summer.

The show unreels at 3:30 p.m. in the street near the courthouse.

All ropers residing in Floyd County are welcome to rope in the Floyd County Old Settlers Roping on Saturday afternoon at the rodeo arena. A round robin starts at "4 o'clock sharp."

Duncan first hall of famer

Duncan will become the first Floyd County Hall of Fame inductee during an 8 p.m. Friday ceremony in the courthouse. The material contained in this biography of Floyd County's "first citizen" was compiled from "Texas and Texans," "Texas Under Other Flags" and Claude V. Hall's "History of Floyd County."]

Judge Arthur B. Duncan, whose death in 1931 wrote finis to a half-century of service to Floyd county, was not only the first citizen of the county during his many years here, but was built the first home in the county, and were pioneer settlers for two years before any others came upon the scene.

From the beginning, Arthur B. Duncan had a prominent part in all affairs of the county. After Floyd county was attached to Crosby county for land and judicial purposes, he was appointed by the commissioners court of Crosby county, Justice of the Peace for Floyd county. This position he filled until his election as county judge of Floyd county matters, he provided himself with the Revised Statutes of Texas and a copy of the Acts of the Texas Legislature. His own experience as a land litigant. coupled with his duties as Justice of the Peace, entailed upon him the duty of consulting the Statutory Laws of Texas and in this way he soon formed a fondness for the study of law, which knowledge served him well in the different offices which he later filled. On account of these land litigations which arose between the settlers and the large ranch interests, all the early settlers, except Mr. Duncan wearied of the strife and compromised by relinquishing their claims for a small consideration.

that came up with reference to land

1886, the year which marked the exodus of these same settlers from the canyon settlement, also was marked by an influx of new comers. The year also was marked by the birth of Maud Eudora, first daughter of Judge and Mrs. Duncan, being also the first white girl born in the county. She was so small and frail that she seemed unfitted to this new rough country. Her proud father called her his "Lily of the Valley and the Queen of all the Plains."

That winter of 1887 and 1888 was extremely cold, thousands of cattle and a few antelope froze to death. Mustang horses were troublesome and would often get with the gentle horses and lure them away, but perhaps the greatest menace of the early settlers was the fear of prairie fires. Only a very few of the earliest settlers can remember one of these when one ranch firm lots its entire herd of three thousand sheep on crawfish draw near the Crosby county

Those first years in Blanco canyon were the hardest for the new comers, but as each problem of life was solved, the settlers learned better to adapt themselves and their experiences lessened the labor and suffering for later homeseekers who could now profit by the experience of those preceding them.

Floyd county was organized in 1890 and in the first election held for Floyd county officers, Duncan was honored with the election as county judge which office he held for nine successive terms. After retiring for a number of years he was again elected in 1912. The county judge's office even at that early day carried numerous duties though its remuneration seemed rather small. The first month the office paid only twenty eight dollars, being raised the second month to thirty-five dollars and finally settling on the salary of forty dollars per

After being elected to the office of county judge, Judge Duncan and his family began preparations to move to the new settlement where they began at once to build a new home. The Plains country was quite a change to the home in Blanco canyon, and many hardships were here to face. As Claud Hall says in his "History of Floyd County" speaking of those first days "No Mollycoddle could thrive there."

Only a very few people made up the new settlement. These were obliged at first to carry water from the public well. Accommodations were few and living was high, as all supplies must be shipped from Amarillo or Childress and it took six or seven days to make a trip to either place even when the weather was favorable. Western wind storms were a sore trial to many new comers and in 1892 came an awful visitation of grass hoppers. These afflictions, together with repeated dry years, caused many settlers to move elsewhere.

Floyd county's first effort to build a court house resulted in two of the commissioners voting for, and two against the proposition. The county judge cast the deciding vote. This resulted in Judge Duncan's vote being responsible for the building of Floyd county's first court house. It was a wooden structure costing ten thousand dollars. Later a small jail was added to the equipment and Floydada became the executive center.

Judge Duncan's home at that time was a two room frame building. Later more rooms were added until the large old house which served as home to his ten children was finally evolved.

By 1897, practically all the school lands in Floyd county, had been filed on by settlers and a new epoch in the history of the county was begun. The construction of the Fort Worth and Denver City Railway to Amarillo swelled the tide of immigration, new improvements were brought in and living became more pleasant.

Each county election provided its quota of new witnesses, and as Judge Duncan was honored with election so repeatedly, it was conceded by some that "Old Buck" was responsible for his good luck. Old Buck was the family's gray horse and a very familiar figure in the early politics of Floyd county. To assist early settlers of Floyd county Judge Duncan experimented with the growing of fruits, grains and vegetables, thoughtfully searching for the products most suitable to the soil and climatic conditions of the locality. Every one who lived here at that early day can remember the judge's office with its display of fine farm products.

Outside of the usual routine court work imposed on the judge's office, Judge Duncan served as superintendent

Institutes held over the county, visiting rural schools and supplying the early needs for education in Floyd county. He also served as a "marrying parson" and it was nothing unusual for him to drive or ride many miles through the snow to administer the rites of matrimony to some couple desirous of such service and every marriage ceremony performed by him carried its spirit of binding For many years, Judge Duncan was engaged in the real estate and abstract business, having compiled what is considered to be one of the most complete sets of abstract records in the Panhandle. He also served in the capacity of attorney in examining and perfecting rules. He served as president of the school board of Floydada from 1908 to 1912 at which time he resigned that position on account of again being elected judge. He served also as vice president of the First National Bank of Floydada, selling his interest later on account of the growing responsibility of

The progressive spirit of this dauntless pioneer is indicated by the fact that he was the first man to purchase a typewriter and bring it to Floyd county, was the first to buy and bring into the county, registered Jersey cattle. He also brought and had shipped from the State of Missouri, the first registered Poland China hogs for foundation stock. He also brought the first fine chickens from New York state and the first thoroughbred turkeys from the state of Pennsylvania. He is credited with having set out the first fruit trees in the county and the first to put out shade trees on the public square of Floydada. With his untiring efforts to render aid to every enterprise which meant greater wealth and comfort to the county, it is an evident fact that Judge Duncan was a real benefactor to Floyd county.

From those early days of the dug-out and covered wagon, he was able to watch the steady growth of the country and from the bareness of the Plains he has seen towns rise up with fine homes, schools and churches, with their accompanying advantages. At the time of his death he owned extensive farm lands and city property in Floyd county. At all times he kept in close touch with state and local affairs and to the end he never lost that quality that keeps men eternally young—an eager curiosity to learn and an earnest desire to improve himself and his opportunities for serving those about him.

Blood pressure is the force of the blood against the walls of the arteries and veins through which it is being pumped by the heart. High blood pressure (hypertension) is the condition that exists when the heart pumps harder than it should to circulate the

The hypertension threshold recommended by the Joint National Committee on Detection, Evaluation and Treatment of High Blood Pressure in 1984, for an average-sized adult, is a reading of 140/90 mmHg. If high blood pressure is not treated, the heart may continue to work harder and harder, eventually becoming enlarged.

The high pressure may result in damage to the eyes, heart, brain or kidneys. In about 10 percent of patients, high blood pressure is found to be a symptom of an underlying problem such as a kidney disease, tumor or congenital defect. This is known as secondary

If the underlying problem is corrected, the blood pressure usually returns to normal. In 90% of patients, the reason for high blood pressure is unknown. It is known, however, that being overweight or using a great deal of salt, can contribute to the problem.

South Plains Health Provider Organization, Inc., will be providing free high blood pressure screening in all of its clinics. Personnel will be available to screen, at the workplace, those businesses and industries whose employees would like to be screened.

Residents celebrate May birthdays

By Lorilla Bradley

May, the month of roses And other lovely flowers Is a time to have a party And spend some happy hours!

Our Mrs. Mavis Willson Whose years are 93... Is a very pretty lady And nice as nice can be!

We honor Mrs. Benson For all her many years... It's 91 she's boasting... So let us give three cheers!

To serenade these ladies Let's do the Birthday Song... So everybody ready And sing out good and strong.

Thursday, May 19, was party time at the Rest Home with ladies of the City Park Church of Christ hosting.

The Hesperian photographer came for the "picture taking" after which everyone was ushered into the dining room where the "honor table" was laid with a white cloth and centered with a lovely arrangement of peonies and roses. The honorees were seated at the special table where their places were marked with birthday cards.

Seated with Mrs. Willson was her daughter-in-law, Ann and with Mrs. Benson was her sister. Artie Webb. The poem was read and all joined in singing the Hapy Birthday song. Each lady wore a fresh carnation corsage, compliments of Williams Flower and Card Shop.

A delicious birthday cake and angel food cake along with a tasty fruit punch was served to the honorees, guests, home residents, guests and employees. The next party will be Thursday, June spree involving juveniles, police have vehicle was failing to drive in a single discovered that a third juvenile was involved.

While attempting to recover merchandise stolen on Friday night and early Saturday morning, May 13-14, officers learned that both juveniles and adults not involved in the theft had handled an AR15 Colt rifle. They found that the weapon had been discharged downtown and was later in the possession of an adult.

Police Chief James Hale emphasizes that "anybody who has dealings with items known to be stolen" are themselves subject to charges.

He expresses the police department's appreciation for cooperation received during the investigation.

Chief Hale says his department is still working on items stolen from two vehicles that were burglarized that same night.

Police are requesting the public's assistance by providing information not only in the vehicle burglaries listed above but also on two residential burglaries which police continue to investigate.

ATTEMPTED HOUSE BURGLARY

Burglars apparently were unsuccessful in attempts to burglarize a residence in the 1900 block of South Garrison. The owner reported to police about 10 a.m. Saturday that he had found a window on his garage cracked and someone had made an attempt to pry the window away from the frame also on the north room of the residence. A window facing east had all of the screws around the storm window removed. Both were inside a fenced back yard.

The family did not spot anything missing.

Assault charges were filed as the aftermath of a domestic violence situation Friday night. Police were summoned to a house in the 300 block of West Lee about 8:48 p.m. and were informed by a female resident that she had sustained bruises to her face and neck.

The woman's husband appeared before the city judge on Monday and was

Police received a report about 11 a.m. Saturday that three checks had been passed, two each in the amount of $40, on the account of a woman who had no knowledge of their being passed. Officers have a suspect in the case.

"At this point, we know of eight other checks forged on the same account," Sgt. Harold Snell said Monday.

Three men were stopped on 12th

Letter to the Editor

Letter to the Editor:

Tuesday, May 17, I read a letter in the Plainview paper written by a man who had attended Wayland Baptist University Commencement. He commented that several small children were in attendance and a few became quite noisy. The adults who brought them did not leave the services which made it difficult, and sometimes impossible, to hear the speaker.

The next day, Wednesday, May 18, the Awards Assembly was held at Floydada High School. This assembly honors our outstanding students, mostly seniors, with scholarships, certificates, etc. It is an assembly attended by many townspeople, parents and friends. We are happy for people to attend the assembly as we are proud of the many awards and scholarships our students receive.

During this one and a half hour assembly, which is long for even high school students, many people found it extremely difficult to hear who won the awards due to the distraction of a very tired, unhappy child who cried and generally did not want to be where he

As a parent, I have deep compassion and understanding for someone trying to keep a child reasonably quiet. A few outbursts, or the adult leaving after 10 or 15 minutes with the unhappy child we could all understand and relate to, but staying in the auditorium for the entire assembly with an unhappy child is extremely rude to those around you.

One of the students in the assembly asked why the adult did not take the child outside, and I had no answer for him.

In a short time we will have our band concert, baccalaureate and graduation services. These are always pleasant, happy occasions and we want to share them with you parents and friends of our students. However, if your child becomes unhappy and after a few minutes you are unable to quieten the child, everyone else in attendance would deeply appreciate your taking the child out to the lobby.

County fathers discuss budget

Budget discussions continued in Floyd County Commissioners Court on Monday, May 23. A special session of the court met to consider the proposed $1.4 million budget for 1989. Attending the session were Judge Bill Hardin and commissioners Sam Spence, Floyd Jackson, Thomas Warren and Kay Crabtree. Also present were Connie Bearden, Margaret Herrera, Penny Golightly, Glenna Orman, Jane Mc-Anally and the Hesperian reporter.

Budget discussion centered around proposed raises and lack of budgeting for the purchase of any new equipment for road work in the precincts. As previously reported in the Hesperian, the court is considering a salary increase of 5% for most employees. 7% increases have been proposed for the judge's secretary, who is also the veterans service officer for the county, the chief dispatcher in the sheriff's offce and the budget finance clerk. An increase totaling 21% has been proposed for Justice of the Peace Lowell Bilbrey. This would bring his salary up to the level of other elected officials and give him the 5% increase. J.P. C.L. Mooney would receive no increase in salary under the proposed budget. Other deviations include the home agent and the ag agent who would receive only 2.5% raises from county sources. Their salary is paid in cooperation with other funding sources.

Golightly was present to ask that the 7% increase be extended to include her deputy in the tax assessor/collectors office. "I feel that she deserves it as much as the others who have been proposed and if it is given to them, why not to her," stated Golightly. She also asked that the allotment for extra labor in her office be increased from $1500 to $2000 to enable her to pay the DECA student who works in the office.

All commissioners expressed concern that no provision is being made to accumulate funds for replacing old machinery in the road departments. Each precinct will have a budget which is at least $10,000 less than the previous two years if the currently proposed budget is passed as is. Crabtree stated, "The only alternative I can see is to either cut services or raise taxes to make up the difference." Commissioner Warren pointed out, "The tax cut in 1986 when we lowered

'87 regarded as banner year for Producers Cooperative Elevator

For Producers Cooperative Elevator, 1987 was "the second highest income producing year in history," approximately 275 persons attending the association's annual membership meeting on Friday evening were informed.

General Manager Bob Vickers reported that pre-tax earnings were approximately $400,000. This represents a return on investment of approximately 20 percent of member equity in the association.

The "net margin after taxes" was about $355,000, an increase of $140,000 over the previous year's margin.

Vickers told the group that "our single-most important change during the past year was the purchase of Consumers Fuel Assn. and the task and impact of joining these two types of businesses into one association during the last 20 days of our fiscal year.

"Your board of directors and the board of Consumers Fuel Assn. are to be commended for the time, effort and soul-searching decisions that went into the completion of this transaction.

"In reporting on the operation of the fuel division," he stated, "At this time operations are smoothing out and we confident, with your support in this division, this trend will continue throughout the year ahead. A new cardtrol system for the key pumps has been ordered and should be installed

Texas agricultural income rises in 1987

Agricultural income for Texas increased substantially in 1987 from 1986 levels, says Dr. Carl Anderson, an agricultural economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Anderson says a sharp gain in livestock sales was followed by a moderate rise in crop receipts. In addition, sizable government payments and steady farm expenses boosted net income, Anderson adds.

"Estimated cash receipts totaled $10.6 billion, a marked increase from the previous year. Higher cattle prices pushed cattle sales up sharply. Receipts from marketings of hogs, sheep, goats, wool and mohair also increased, and dairy product marketings advanced slightly. Poultry and egg receipts, however, declined," Anderson says.

"Cotton sales posted a big increase, with higher prices and record yields. Citrus, vegetables, nursery crops and timber receipts improved somewhat, but marketings of oil crops, feed grain's and food grains declined," Anderson

Agricultural income from fishing and aquacultural activities advanced substantially, while income from hunting leases increased slightly. On the other hand, outdoor recreation held steady, while income from horses slowed, he adds.

"Texas is expected to challenge Iowa for second place among states in 1987 cash receipts, behind California. Texas ranks first in sales of cattle and calves, sheep and wool, goats and mohair, cotton, spinach, value of farm real estate, number of farms and ranches, and farm and ranch land," Anderson

"Farm assets in Texas-including land, buildings, livestock, machinery, crop and livestock on hand, and farm financial assets-total about $64 billion. The state has 160,000 farms averaging 838 acres with value of land and buildings averaging $482 per acre," he adds.

AGRIBUSINESS

The economic impact of 1987 agricultural production in Texas is estimated in excess of $33 billion. Anderson notes. Businesses related to agriculture employ more than 20 percent of the state's work force.

Many business, financial institutions acres. and individuals are involved in providing, processing and marketing agricultural commodities, he explains.

"Texas agriculture remains strong. Major efforts by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, agencies of The Texas A&M University System, support development of the state's agricultural industry to its greatest potential. Agriculture in Texas benefits from a relatively warm climate, productive soils and excellent export and transportation facilities," Anderson

MEAT ANIMALS

Beef cattle in Texas boost the nation's cattle industry and represent 14 percent of the U.S. cattle herd and 16 percent of all beef cows. Cattle fed in Texas account for about 23 percent of the U.S. total, he adds.

Cash receipts from cattle and calves in 1987 are estimated at $5.1 billion-48 percent of the state's agricultural sales. Marketings from hogs totaled $88

Sheep herds are expanding, while goat numbers are down slightly. Estimated receipts from sheep totaled $92 million and goats $29 million.

DAJRY PRODUCTS

"The Texas dairy industry continues strong. The state's 2,100 dairy operators produced about 1.4 million gallons of milk daily from an estimated 328,000 cows. Milk production sales return about $575 million annually," Anderson

POULTRY PRODUCTS

Prices for broilers, eggs and turkeys in 1987 declined from the previous year. Volume was slightly higher to about the same, leading to lower sales of $598

MISCELLANEOUS LIVESTOCK

Wool and mohair sales totaled an estimated $59 million. Mohair receipts of $43 million exceeded wool sales of $16 million.

FOOD GRAINS

Receipts from wheat and rice harvests added about $353 million to Texas agricultural marketings. Sales of rice approximated $120 million. Per-acreyield decreased from 6,250 pounds in 1986 to 5,900 pounds on 7 percent fewer

FEED CROPS

Feed crop cash receipts amounted to $633 million. Grain sorghum marketings totaled $242 million, with yield increasing to 3,528 pounds per acre from 3,192 pounds a year earlier. Harvested acreage totaled 2.65 million, a 30 percent decline.

Corn yield decreased to 107 bushels per acre, down from 112 bushels in 1986. Acreage harvested declined 6 percent to 1.25 million. Sales of hay, oats, barley and ensilage increased

Cotton and cottonseed marketings

Acreage harvested totaled 4.4 million, a 28 percent increase over 1986. Yields rose to a record 502 pounds from 353 pounds per acre the previous year. OIL CROPS

Estimated oil crop sales increased slightly to $137 million. Texas farmers harvested only 150,000 acres of soybeans, a 21 percent decrease from 1986. Soybean yield averaged 28 bushels per acre, up from 23 bushels in 1986, with marketings at $18.8 million.

Peanut yields averaged 1,800 pounds per acre, compared with 1,750 pounds

VEGETABLES

Texas ranks among the top states in value of commercial vegetable crops, with about 200,000 acres harvested in 1987 for estimated receipts of $388 million.

FRUIT AND NUTS

Fruit and nut crop marketings remain strong, with sales about $78 million, up from $52 million in 1986. The pecan crop rose to 45 million pounds, compared with 40 million pounds the previous year. Citrus production is recovering rapidly from the 1983 freeze, but the peach crop was reduced sharply by adverse weather.

NURSERY INDUSTRY

Texas' wholesale nursery industry continues to grow with sales of $444 million. The nursery industry produces only a small amount of plants and turfs sold within the state.

Timber production in Texas increased 4 percent to 574 million cubic feet, with pine accounting for 80 percent of the harvest. Prices paid to landowners increased gradually because of high national demand for wood products. Pine harvest exceeded growth by 5 percent, while the hardwood harvest was 65 percent of growth. Projected cash receipts for timber in 1987 totals $275 million.

OTHER RESOURCES

Agricultural income from hunting leases, fish production and aquaculture, horses and outdoor recreation at $470 million rose moderately due to increases in fish and aquaculture operations. Receipts from hunting leases totaled about $149 million. Horses generated some $93 million in sales.

Income from outdoor recreation remained steady at $146 million.

"The future promises steady growth in gross income from these agriculturally-related activities," Anderson pre-

Hay prices have averaged $3 higher per ton this season than last over most of the state, said Dr. Robert Schwart, economist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service.

In South Texas, the first cutting of hay has begun in irrigated areas or locations that received rains this spring, Schwart said. Producers along the Upper Coast are planting their hay crops. Moisture is reported adequate in most of the Upper Coast, East, Northeast, and Panhandle areas, but the remainder of the state is short on moisture. Those areas with adequate moisture expect good hay crops, he

Oklahoma growers expect to harvest 5 percent less and New Mexico producers 2 percent less than last year. Producers in Kansas report no change in harvest intentions from year earlier

Financial counseling offered to West Texas farmers and ranchers

Help in assessing the financial situations and options for the family farm or ranch is available to families of the Texas Panhandle and Plains. It is offered through a new project, Texas Volunteers for Rural Families, conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension

The project provides trained volunteer counselors who will help farm and hay harvesting intentions suggest that ranch families assess the financial Texas growers will harvest 3.4 million situation in their operation, identify problem areas and offer alternative strategies to improve profitability, explained Dick Cummins, project coordinator of volunteers.

> It is funded by a grant from ACTION -Center for Volunteers, Inc., which administers domestic volunteer programs sponsored by the federal government, announced earlier this year by U.S. Senator Phil Gramm (R-TX).

The volunteer counselors have backgrounds in agriculture and related business and have undergone extensive training by professional specialists of the Extension Service, an arm of the Texas A&M University System, Cum-

Counties where trained volunteers are ready to serve are: Castro, Dawson, Deaf Smith, Donley, Knox, Lamb, Lynn and Shackelford. Volunteers are being secured and trained for other counties, including Randall, Briscoe, Hale, Lubbock and "These volunteers know how to help you look at your business figures and determine what they really mean to you," said Ronnie Piernot, Extension consumer economics specialist at College Station who is project administrator. "They're not going to tell you how to run your business, but they will suggest your options.' Cummins said the volunteers have been trained in procedures to follow for family budgeting and for financial planning of businesses of farming, ranching or which are agriculturally

"This includes financial structuring, debt restructuring and reorganization of business to maximize the resources which are available," Cummins said.

"It's a hands-on process, it isn't theoretical, and it is completely confidential," he stressed.

"Our goal is to help rebuild rural Texas, one family at a time," Cummins

The project resulted from a national competition to find ways to assist financially distressed rural families, Gramm said. Texas A&M won an $84,000 grant to conduct the effort.

"These funds are important because they apply the resources of Texas A&M and ACTION to the real problems faced by many Texas farmers," Gramm said. The senator said he hopes the Texas volunteer network will serve as a model for other industries confronted with financial difficulties.

Families or individuals wanting information on the project can contact their local county Extension agent; call Cummins at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center in Amarillo, telephone (806) 359-5401; or telephone Bonnie Piernot at Texas A&M, College Station (409)

Comment from Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., comes down hard on proposed 1989 payment limitation rules that would most affect High Plains producers of cotton and other government

The 25-county cotton producer organization's statement, mailed to USDA May 12 in reponse to a proposal published in the April 6 Federal Register, singles out specific instances in which the proposed regulations need to be clarified or rewritten.

New rules for applying the $50,000 per person payment limitation are mandated by a section of the Agricultural Reconciliation Act, passed late last year in conjunction with the omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act. However, says PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson, "we think the rules as now written are considerably more repressive than Congress intended."

The limitations law, PCG contends, should be administered by USDA "in a manner that will encourage, not discourage (a) program participation, (b) economically sound organization and operation of farm enterprises and (c) members of the younger generation who aspire to become a part of production agriculture."

To those ends the PCG statement emphasizes the need for changes in the proposed criteria for determining what constitutes "financing," a "significant contribution," and a "landlord" as those terms are used in payment eligibility decisions.

final regulations, and PCG asserts that financial arrangements made between producers before that date should not be used to preclude favorable separate person determinations. The statement also asks that the regulations clearly specify that the traditional practice of neighbors occasionally exchanging or loaning equipment, with or without compensation, does not constitute "fin-contribution" PCG objects to USDA's attempt to define the phrase in terms of hours worked and/or the value of land and equipment provided. Instead, PCG argues, the definition should be flexible enough to permit equitable decisions on and state levels where consideration can be given to standard regional practices, labor, management and capital require-

In "landlord" determinations, PCG cites the language of the law, which it says unequivocally accords person status to landlords, adult family members and sharecroppers if their contribution meets the commensurate share requirement, is at risk and is based on the

Therefore PCG maintains that USDA is outside the law in its proposal that payment eligibility be confined to individual land owners, denying eligibility to partnerships, estates, trusts or other land-owning entities.

Yes, Texas leads America's agribusiness, but some of our growers and producers are having financial problems; food processing plants have shut down; and many people are leaving rural Texas to search for other jobs.

From 1979 to 1986, farm cash receipts in Texas dropped by 17 percent. During the same period, farm debt rose by 18 percent to 10.4 billion dollars. Combined, this translates into a 35 percent reduction in available assets for our farmers and ranchers.

Our challenge today - the challenge of this task force - is to reverse that trend. As we work to strengthen our economy, it is imperative that we include the industry that not only helped build our state, but is our number one renewable economic re-

THE STEADFAST HEART

I've dreamed many dreams that never came true, I've seen them vanish at dawn, But I've realized enough of my dreams, Thank God, To make me want to dream on.

I've prayed many prayers when no answer came, though I waited patient and long, but answers have come to enough of my prayers to make me want to pray on.

I've trusted many friends that failed, and left me to weep alone, but I've found enough of my friends true blue, to make be keep trusting on.

I've sown many seed that fell by the way for the birds to feed upon, but I've held enough golden sheaves in my hands to make me keep sowing on. I've drained the cup of disappointment and pain and gone many ways without song, but I've sipped enough nectar from the roses of life to make me want to live on. -Author unknown.

Hospital happenings

Officers for the next year were elected. They are: Don Bean, president; William Bertrand, vice-president; Joy Assiter, secretary. Board members attending were Aldine Williams, William Bertrand, Don Bean, Joy Assiter, Fred Thayer and Melba Vickers. Others present for the meeting were Leroy Schaffner, administrator; Nell Mc-Clung, accounts payable; and Molly Stringer, director of nursing.

An appreciation coffee for Aldine Williams and Claude Weathersbee, outgoing members, will be held Friday, May 27, from 9:00-11:00 in the community room at First National Bank. We encourage everyone to attend and express your appreciation to these men for their many hours of service to our hospital and community. Our new president, Don Bean, is a farmer in the South Plains communiy. He attended school in Silverton and graduated from Silverton High School. He attended and graduated from Texas Tech before entering the military. He served in the Army two years before returning to the South Plains Community in 1958. He and his wife, Jane, made their home in the South Plains Community. Jane Bean taught several years in the Floydada Independent School District. They have a daughter, Judi, and a son, Mike, also graduates of FHS. In 1976, Don and Jane moved into Floydada. he was elected to the hospital board in

We appreciate Don's interest in our hospital and are glad we have folks willing to take time from their already busy schedules for this community service.

The job our board of directors do is very often a discouraging one. The business of trying to get and keep revenue to balance has been a tightrope walk the past few years since the revisions in the government Medicare programs. The small hospitals have suffered greatly and many have been forced to close.

The government Medicare program will pay the larger hospitals in Lubbock considerably more money for treating a patient with for example, pneumonia than they will a smaller hospital even though the treatment and the results are the same. Our budget must be very carefully managed by the board and administrator so we can continue to offer our community healthcare at

The hospital is starting an ambulance fund which will go for replacing the existing ambulance. This replacement is going to be a major undertaking for our community. A new ambulance will cost anywhere from $45,000 to $50,000. We are hoping to apply for some government grant money to help with this project.

We welcome any suggestions that

The board of directors met this past might help us to accomplish this task. week. Newly elected members Fred We encourage you to get involved and Thayer and Melba Vickers were sworn welcome any donations or contributions or memorials to this fund.

GRAVESTONES DAMAGED-Several overturned gravestones at Floydada Cemetery are pictured following vandalism which occurred early last week. Several of the stones were broken by the vandal[s]. According to one local historian the headstone of the first person buried in Floydada Cemetery was among those overturned. "The Early History of Floyd County," by Claude O. Hall, states: "In April, 1891, a Nebraskan of the name of Morgan, who was located on a section three miles south of Floydada, died rather suddenly.

His remains had to be conveyed to Estacado [on the Crosby-Lubbock county border] for interment, as, up to this time, Floydada had no cemetery. This occasioned the purchase of a 10 acre tract of land one mile north of town for the Floydada cemetery. In August, 1891, Jehu McMannis, the aged father of S.A. McMannis, a new dry goods merchant at Floydada, died, and his remains were the first to be deposited in the Floydada cemetery.

NOTICE TO WATER CUSTOMERS OF THE CITY OF FLOYDADA, TEXAS

The United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has adopted requirements that all public water systems notify their customers about lead exposure. This notification is intended to educate and inform consumers on this issue in light of the fact that your drinking water may be a potential source of lead exposure. This is being done even though your water system is not in violation of the current standard. There are also other potential sources of lead contamination in the environment.

The following specific language is required by EPA in this notice:

The United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) sets drinking water standards and has determined that lead is a health concern at certain levels of exposure. There is currently a standard of 0.050 parts per million (ppm). Based on new health information, EPA is likely to lower this standard significantly.

Part of the purpose of this notice is to inform you of the potential adverse health effects of lead. This is being done even though your water may not be in violation of the current standard.

EPA and others are concerned about lead in drinking water. Too much lead in the human body can cause serious damage to the brain, kidneys, nervous system, and red blood cells. The greatest risk, even with short-term exposure, is to young children and pregnant women.

Lead levels in your drinking water are likely to be highest:

1. if your home or water system has lead pipes, or 2. if your home has copper pipes with lead solder, and

- if the home is less than five years old, or

- if you have soft or acidic water, or - if water sits in the pipes for several hours

Ways to avoid potential lead exposure are to "flush" faucets before use and to use cold water for drinking and cooking. You may wish to have your home tap water tested for lead content by a competent laboratory. You may also wish to check to see if lead pipes, solder, or flux were used in your home plumbing.

The lead content of the City of Floydada Water System is well below the current standards of 0.50 parts

Your Water System is operated by the City of Floydada, P.O. Box 10, Floydada, Texas 79235-0010, 806-993-2834.
