The Lamplighter

By Ken Towery

Ah, these are busy days for the FBI. In addition to their usual activities, like hunting down the "most wanted criminals," ferreting out domestic spies, or rather spies operating on the domestic scene (as opposed to the CIA, which has that jurisdiction abroad,) entering into cases involving the "civil rights" of people who feel they have been slighted on account of their color, race, sex or whatever, and the usual run of "white collar crimes", the FBI must now divert its resources to looking after the morals and ethics of those elected to make our laws and administer our laws.

How much of this activity will turn out to have been WPA-type work remains to be seen. (For the past year or so they have been examining, along with a Special Prosecutor and all his staff, the relationship of Attorney General Ed Meese to his friend Mr. Wallach, an influence peddler with close ties to the Israeli government. The word is that the Special Prosecutor hasn't really been able to make a case, and his report will stress the fact that Mr. Meese really should have been more careful in his selection of friends, or at least this particular friend.)

We really didn't need 14 months of terribly expensive "investigation" to tell us that. The Meese-Wallach friendship has always seemed strange. Mr. Wallach proclaims himself a registered Democrat, and a very liberal one at that. Mr. Meese is identified otherwise, needless to say.

Now the word out of Austin is that the FBI is probing around in the affairs of Mr. Garry Mauro, our photogenic Commissioner of the General Land Office. And they are also looking at the circumstances around which friends of Mr. Dukakis acquired some land on which a new prison was to be built up in Massachusetts, or upon which it was "later decided" to build the prison. (The governor's friends say they are now willing to sell the land to the state for about three times what they paid for it shortly before the "decision" was made to locate it there.)

The worry with the Mauro thing is that some of the developers of...are you ready for this...veterans land tracts are also people who were most generous to Mr. Mauro in terms of campaign "contributions."

Not too much is known about the affair at this date. About all we have, other than some names and circumstantial evidence, is the word of one Greg Rampton, a special agent with the FBI in Austin, who was quoted in the press as saying "all I can do is confirm that there is a pending investigation of certain transactions that took place in the General Land Office involving veterans land tracts." He said the investigation includes transactions "and improprieties that may have existed between developers and Mr. Mauro's office."

I doubt the FBI will be able to make a case on this. The Texas Legislature, like the national Congress, took care of these little problems several years ago when they supposedly "tightened up" the laws governing ethics, rules and regulations regarding their own behavior. In the process they made sure that certain things which were once frowned upon can now be accomplished under the sanction of law.

Poor Bascom Giles. If he had only waited. He got himself sent off to prison for taking kickbacks from veterans land tract "developers" and putting the money in his pocket. If he had only insisted that they place the money in an "office account" or campaign election fund he could have perhaps gotten by. But in those days it was not considered nice to use those accounts for personal benefit. Now we have the spectacle of State Senators sending their kids through college on the "office account" to which special interests are only too happy to contribute...as long as he has, and they have, a vote when the chips are

School board proposes tax decrease

Based on information received from the Floyd County Central Appraisal District, administrative assistant Jimmie Collins recommended that the Floydada Independent School District board of trustees adopt a proposed tax rate of 66 cents per $100 valuation for the upcoming 1988-89 school year. This figure would be a 3 cent decrease from the 69 cent rate adopted last year.

"Calculations based on the effective tax rate indicate this would afford us sufficient tax revenue to meet our obligations while allowing our taxpayers a decrease in their tax obligation," stated Collins.

No action was taken on the recommendation at the July 11 regular session of the board. A final decision will be made in August.

Collins also discussed the proposed budget for the 1988-89 school year which is currently being prepared. He reported that the tentative budget calculations are being based on a total income in excess of $4 1/2 million. 70 percent of this is anticipated state revenue, 18 percent local taxes, 10 percent federal funding and 2 percent from other local sources.

Collins stressed "Exact figures will not be available until final state funding appropriations are allocated and the

Athletes urged to get physicals

All athletes for the upcoming school year are urged to get their physical examinations prior to the beginning of school says Coach Earl Overton.

All incoming seventh and ninth graders must have a physical. Other grade levels are optional, based on answers to the questions on the physical form.

The physical forms are available at local physician's offices or from the Athletic Director at Floydada High School.

PRE-SEASON SCHEDULE

Coach Overton has announced the 1988-89 football pre-season schedule. Practice will begin Monday, August 8.

There will again be two scrimmages. The first, on Friday, August 19, will be against Post and will be played in Post. The second, against Cooper, will be played on Friday, August 26 here in Floydada.

Rains soak county

Floyd County folks began coming up for air this week, following two weeks of generally beneficial rains that soaked all parts of the county.

While barges took turns navigating recently deepened channels of Mississippi River, and while Great Lakes governors argued over whether to release Lake Michigan waters to bolster the river's flow, Floyd fields and pastures were saturated and many of the county's lakes were brimming.

With the exception of maturing onion fields, where the rains and sagging prices combined to cause problems, most crops seemed to be in good shape following the prolonged moisture.

Jim Roberts at Sterley told the Hesperian that four to five inches fell there in the past two weeks and that "nothing has suffered so far."

"It's getting a little weedy, but looking good," he said.

D.L. Miller at Barwise said 3.5 inches had fallen there, including 2 inches last Sunday.

"The corn and milo looks pretty, and the cotton is ready to dry," he said. "The cotton is growing too fast and looking too pretty."

The Lone Star community reports "a little over 6 inches" during the wet spell. Lois and Iylene Williams of Aiken report 6.5 inches.

Glen Graves reports some 7 inches in the Providence community during the last two weeks. (His first reaction, when asked for a rainfall report, was "Two." "Too?" "Yeah, too much.")

Robert Webb, with SPS in Lockney, reported that 6.6 inches had fallen there since June 25. That came on top of 2.85 inches on June 14.

Herman Graham at the Muncy elevator said, 7.25 inches had fallen and "the weeds are looking great."

The Floyd County Sheriff's Office

reported a total of 7.51 inches here in the city.

The uneven nature of the rainfall was illustrated in Dougherty where 8.5 inches fell at the home of Joe and Juanita Stepp, and 4.5 to 5 inches fell at Covington Oil, about 3/4 mile distant.

The Sandhill Elevator reported 3.5 inches since July 6.

From McCoy, Lewis Reddy summed it up, "It's wet, but better than dry." He reported 8.5 inches in two weeks.

All Changes Have Been Good

Thirty or more years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lovell asked a sporting goods store clerk in the state of Washington, "How old do you have to be to not have to buy a fishing permit?"

"73 years old," was the answer.

Already in our 60's then, Mrs. W.A. Lovell (her friends call her Maggie) remembers her husband saying, "Who would want to fish when they are 73!" We laughed about that later because we were still fishing strong at 73.

"I'd go fishing right now," says Maggie. When I was 92, I had to get a 5 day permit in Sedalia for fishing. The clerk said I was the oldest person he'd ever given a permit too.

Having celebrated her 95th birthday July 9, the spry and energetic Maggie, who has traveled over most of the United States in her lifetime, is still going strong and still traveling.

"I was born in 1893 in Heflin, Alabama in Indian Territory. I didn't have a birth certificate. We lived there until I was 3 months old."

At that time parents Lela and Thomas Creed moved to Plantersville, Mississippi. Margaret was one in a family of six brothers and one sister.

"My father was a carpenter mostly, and we moved around a lot. It was wonderful. I've seen a lot in my lifetime. We moved around Alabama and Mississippi and saw a lot of the big plantations, where we would live and work. We had such a happy life."

Moving to Texas in 1908, Maggie met her future husband Walter Lovell, a farmer, in Waxahachie. The two were married Aug. 12, 1917.

After a short stay in East Texas it was back to Waxahachie and then to Lockney in 1925. "We lived in Lockney until 1937 when we moved to Floydada.

"We farmed all the time until 1943 when we moved to California to work in the shipyards. When the war was over in 1945 we moved back to Floydada and took up farming again. We lived in this house since 1947."

Walter and Maggie had two sons, Clyde and James, who both live in Floydada; and three daughters, Francis Wallace, Gladys Fitch, and Margaret Sudeiluer.

"My husband farmed all of his life. We traveled all over and loved to fish. We would get up and go to the drop of a hat. We saw 10 states on one of our trips while traveling in a 62 Fairlane Ford. It's still running."

Maggie now lives in her home without her husband, traveling companion and fishing partner. Walter Lovell died July 8, 1979.

"I don't really live alone because I travel a lot and visit my family in East Texas and Arizona. My sons are also close by."

The grandmother of nine and great grandmother to six, Maggie still reads without her glasses and hears so well she does not need hearing aids.

"My life has been full of experiences. I've been very lucky." Lucky in more ways than one as Maggie survived a broken back in 1957 and still moves gracefully around her immaculate home.

"Looking back on my life and changes I have seen, I still remember the first airplane I saw. It landed in a field we were farming in, in 1912."

I don't remember when I saw my first automobile but I remember what it looked like. We were in our yard and saw it as it passed in front of the house. A man was driving it.

board sets a tax rate for the year."

Preliminary budget discussions centered around the estimated total budget and the principal's lists of requests. Capitol improvements were also mentioned with Collins suggesting that board members "look over the information and attempt to prioritize the proposed expenditures" in preparation for the upcoming budget sessions.

NEW DOORS AT HIGH SCHOOL

Board members did agree to move forward on replacing the main doors at High School. These doors, adjacent to the auditorium, will be renovated during the summer. The action was approved on a motion by Andy Hale, seconded by Michael Hinsley and passed by all present. The estimated cost of replacing the four doors is placed at $4,160 with the work being done by Plainview Plate Glass and Awning.

Involvement in three legal actions discussed by city

Separate litigation cases, three in fact, were the topic of discussion at the regular session of the Floydada City Council on July 12. The trio of lawsuits all concern the city operated landfill site.

The major development in the ongoing dispute between Helen Faye Hammonds and the City of Floydada was reported by Mayor Pamiell Powell during the evening session. A lawsuit filed in November of 1987 in which Hammonds charged the city and the county with negligent management of the landfill resulting in "severe physical pain and mental anguish" was dismissed by 110th District Judge David Cave following a hearing held in the district court on July 6. The judge's order for summary judgement in effect brings the suit to an end unless Hammonds elects to seek an appeal according to Mayor Powell.

The remaining two legal actions involve the condemnation by virtue of "imminent domain" filed by the city against 48.9999 acres owned by Hammonds. This action was taken in late October, 1987 after more than two years of negotiation with Hammonds failed to secure the purchase of the land adjacent to the present landfill site.

The condemnation suit was filed following the expiration of a 30-day period

SOUTH PLAINS SCHOOL

Discussion of the future disposition of the South Plains School building resulted in a proposal to advertise for bids to sell the structure with the stipulation that it be torn down and the lot cleared. No action was taken at this time as superintendent Jerry Cannon indicated that he had been approached concerning a possible South Plains homecoming in conjunction with the Floydada homecoming the weekend of September 16.

HIGH SCHOOL HANDBOOK

Approval of the revised and expanded handbook for high school students was given the nod of approval by the board following a period of study since it was submitted last month by principal Ronnie Wood.

A motion by Hale, seconded by Hinsley and approved by the remaining members authorized the printing and during which Hammonds had agreed to sign a negotiated settlement for the sale of the 48.9999 acres at a price of $500 per acre. The council elected to file the condemnation procedure when it became apparent that Hammonds had allowed the grace period to expire without inking the contract stated Powell.

A January 15, 1988 hearing in 110th District Court resulted in a court appointed three member panel (consisting of Malvin Jarboe, Dale Goen and Larry Jones) awarding Mrs. Hammonds $500 per acre as "just compensation" for the condemned land. According to the city's attorney in the matter, Charles White, This action left the way clear for the city to post the required settlement in escrow and proceed to utilize the land as a landfill site.

A motion by Ginger Warren at the Tuesday session called for the placing of the necessary $24,499.95 in escrow to enable the city to begin the lengthy process of testing and certification mandated by the state prior to opening the site as a landfill. The motion was seconded by Nancy Willson and passed unanimously.

The process of certification, testing and preparation for the landfill site is

Simpson named to Management Club

Michael D. Simpson of Lubbock, an animal health sales representative for Elanco Products Company, has been named to the firm's Management Advisory Club.

Simpson was selected to represent the Amarillo sales district on the basis of his outstanding performance during the last year. He joins only nine other sales representatives in this nationwide select group.

A graduate of Texas Tech University, Simpson joined Elanco, the agricultural marketing division of Eli Lilly and Company, in 1976. This is the second time he has been honored as a Management Advisory Club member.

Simpson, a 1970 graduate of Floydada High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W.H. Simpson Jr. of Floydada. He is married and has a two year old daughter.

All of us kids took off running to get a better look at it. It was made of wood and burned coal oil. It was just a pop-pop-a-going. He just drove off and we never knew where it went.

Back then there weren't hamburgers and soft drinks to spend money on. I remember when I was 17, my father put me on a train by myself and sent me off to Heflin Alabama to visit relatives. I had a trunk of clothes and $20.00. I stayed a month and when I came home I still had some money left."

Besides the fact that there weren't hamburgers and soft drinks to blow all your money on, and forget the fact that $20.00 will hardly last 2 days, when asked about good and bad changes that she has seen; Maggie smiled and said sincerely, "All the changes have been good."

Caprock Hospital slates health care projects

Caprock Hospital District has scheduled several health awareness events throughout the month of July. The staff of the hospital hopes everyone in the community will make an effort to become more aware of their health and measures which may be taken to preserve it. All interested persons are invited to participate in these health care projects.

MAMMOGRAMS

July 26 has been set as the date for mammograms being offered by the hospital. Anyone interested in having a mammogram done should call 983-2875 for more information and an appointment.

HEALTH FAIR

A health fair will be hosted at the hospital on July 28 and July 29. The Thursday and Friday event will be open from 7:00 a.m. until 3:00 p.m. each day. The Hospital Auxiliary will be assisting with the health fair.

The Lab of Caprock Hospital will offer testing for blood cholesterol and glucose levels for a charge of $6.00. Testing to Valu-Care members will be free of charge during this two-day interval.

EMS attendants will be taking blood pressures and doing weights for those attending the health fair.

The dietary department will present a film for viewing and will have nutrition information available as well as providing refreshments.

Another film will be shown concerning diabetes and additional information will be provided on the subject.

Juliann Cornelius plans to set up a booth on aerobics and exercise for persons of all ages. Community service groups such as the American Cancer Society and the American Heart Association will also have informational displays during the two-day fair.

DIABETES CLASSES

Diabetes classes are scheduled to meet in the dining room of the hospital at 7:00 p.m. July 28. Helen Teeple, R. N. will be directing the class.

OPEN HOUSE

Rounding out the flurry of health awareness events will be an open house on Sunday, July 31. Scheduled from 2:00 P.M. until 4:00 P.M., the open house will afford the community the chance to tour the patient areas of the hospital. This is an excellent opportunity for everyone to see and enjoy the recent community-wide renovation project which was carried out at Caprock Hospital.

The 1956 Study Club has graciously volunteered to assist the hospital staff for the open house. Refreshments will be served.

Molly Stringer, R. N. expressed the wish that "Everyone come out and get acquainted with the staff and the hospital. We are encouraging each member of our community to participate and learn more about the care of their bodies and the preservation of their health."

Police calm disturbances

A "fight in progress" call for police, Friday night, resulted in confiscated weapons, an air evacuation of one injured man and some very tense moments for police as they tried to control an angry crowd of 15-20 people.

A disagreement between two families during the day finally ended in a fight between two men in the 300 block of West Marivena.

"We received the call at 8:50 p.m.," said Police Chief James Hale. "Sgt. Snell answered the call and was backed up by Officer Gooch and myself. A crowd of 15-20 people had gathered during the fight and they were all very angry."

During the fight, Donald L. Burk of Fort Sumner, N.M. was struck in the head with a tire jack.

Burk was transported to Caprock Hospital where he was taken by helicopter to Lubbock. He is expected to be released later this week.

Two other men received minor injuries. Arrested was, Reyes Castaneda Jr. 26, for DWI and disorderly conduct.

"A knife and a club were confiscated at the scene," said Hale. "The investigation is continuing and other charges are in the process of being filed at this time."

"We appreciate the response and all the help from other officers. Troopers Steve Ward and Marty Lucke were off duty but still came out to help. Also assisting were Trooper Chris Ray and Trooper Dude Speed out of Matador. Lockney P.D. was also standing by in case more help was needed."

Another tense situation arose for police on Monday, July 11, when they responded to a call in the 1100 block of S. Main of a man attempting to commit suicide.

"It started off as a family disturbance, and then at 7:30 p.m. the wife reported that her husband wanted to kill himself. We responded to the call and found a man with a rifle threatening to kill himself," said Hale.

After extensive negotiations the man agreed to admit himself to MHMR in Plainview. He was transported to Plainview and admitted.

"I would again like to thank everyone for their help and especially to the ambulance unit for standing by in case they were needed."

TAX REPORT

Collins presented the tax report noting that collections of $861,563.30 at this time leaves an uncollected balance of $34,998.10 on a current tax levy of $897,642.28. Collins stated, "This is ahead of collections in 1987."

Collections at this time in 1987 were at 95.47 percent. Current 1988 collections are at 95.98 percent.

In attendance at the Monday evening session were board members Hinsley, Hale, Dunlap, Cindi Williams, and Charlene Brown, superintendent Cannon, administrative assistant Collins, High School principal Ronnie Wood and the Hesperian reporter. down. And then there was the case, a couple of weeks ago, involving some Congressmen and the Oshkosh company up in Wisconsin. The company makes, among other things, a truck used by the military. The military has been unhappy with the truck and was reluctant to purchase any more. But certain Congressmen, who know more about these things than the military, insisted that they do so. The matter was coming down to a crucial vote in the House committee charged with overseeing the purchase.

According to press reports the company brought the Democratic Chairman of the relevant House Committee and several of his colleagues up to Wisconsin for breakfast, and incidentally paid them an "honorarium" of $2,000 each to make the trip and break bread. The members returned to Washington that same day, and convinced of the truck's worth, voted that same day to force the military to buy Oshkosh trucks, whether they wanted them or not.

This will be a situation in which the FBI will not become involved. Nobody would be able to prove anything. Being pure of heart, we are absolutely certain, more or less, that the $2,000 payments had absolutely nothing to do with the vote. And if all citizens of Floyd County who are likewise certain that the two incidents are unrelated will gather on the Court House lawn next Wednesday, we'll take a picture and publish it in the Hesperian.

Incidentally, one of the Congressmen was from Texas. He is a friend and supporter of House Speaker Jim Wright, who also is having his own problems with laundered money. Jim has found a new wrinkle on the practice. He merely assigned an aide, whose salary is paid by you, gentle reader, to collect some of the Speaker's old speeches and articles, edit them, put them in a paperback book form, and turn the whole thing over to a crony who knew what to do next. Result? About $55,000 in "royalties" flows to the Speaker on books sold to labor unions and other groups who were interested in seeing Mr. Wright prosper.

But if anyone complains the Congressmen have a ready answer. The solution to the whole problem, from the standpoint of the House leadership, is simply to raise the members salary once again. In other words, if we want honest Congressmen we have to pay them more than $89,000 per year, plus certain expenses.

It cannot but remind us of the old, probably apocryphal story of a heated conversation between Winston Churchill and a rich society dame in London. Churchill is alleged to have asked her: "My Lady, would you spend the evening with me for a thousand pounds?" She is supposed to have replied in the affirmative. Churchill then asked if she would spend the evening for ten pounds. She replied, with some heat, "certainly not. Do you think I am a common prostitute?" Churchill is said to have replied, "Madame, we have already established that fact. All we are doing now is haggling over the price."

We all know there are some good, dedicated, honest people representing us up there. But they must get awfully lonesome at times.

At any rate we can all hope when the FBI gets everything straightened out, they can get back to the business of hunting down murderers, kidnapers, drug dealers, things like that.

Underground wire causes power outage

An underground electric cable shortage caused portions of Floydada to grind to a virtual halt Monday morning. The two-hour power outage affected most of the downtown business district and the eastern part of the city, according to City Manager Gary Brown. It was first thought a "downed line" might be the cause, according to Brown. After work crews eliminated that as a possible cause, attention turned to the underground system, where the problem was pinpointed. The culprit was an underground wire shortage," said Brown, possibly brought on by a combination of saturated soil and insulation failure.

Four Floydada firemen to serve as instructors

Four Floydada firemen will be representing their employers, the city and the fire department, as they serve as instructors at the Texas A&M Fireman's Training School.

One of the men, Danny Nixon, will be going as an instructor for the first time. According to Lt. Jackie Jacques of the Fire Training Division, "Danny's selection was the result of his outstanding skills, subject interest and expertise as evaluated by Texas A&M training specialists, area fire chiefs, fellow firefighters and students."

"To be asked to instruct at the municipal training school is certainly an honor," said Lt. Jacques.

Nixon will be joined by Dinks Eckert, instructor in charge of Agro-Rescue; Bobby Welborn, instructor in charge of Pressure Pit; and Alan Fondy instructor for Agro-Rescue. They will in turn join over 400 instructors in classroom and firefighting.

The Texas A&M Fireman's Training School is expecting to offer training to approximately 2,500 firefighters and rescue personnel throughout the state of Texas, 30 other states and several foreign countries the week of July 25-29.

Nixon will be instructing on Project 34-Process Unit. According to Jacques, "This is an advanced level of firefighting and firestream application. As an instructor he will be instructing along side other fire chiefs, training officers, industrial fire brigade officers and fire equipment specialist."

Instructors will teach eight hours a day with students participating in lecture and hands-on training.

Nixon has served as a Journeyman Lineman for Lighthouse Electric for eleven years. "I really appreciate Lighthouse Electric giving me the opportunity to go. They have been very generous allowing me time off from work to attend this school," said Nixon.

To the Editor:

Not long ago you published an article, with photo, about the Glad Snodgrass home. I recognized the house immediately, having lived across the street from it for several years in the '20's.

It was, without doubt, the finest brick home in Floydada at that time. However, it is possible that it was not the first brick house built there. I remember two small red brick houses on adjoining lots several blocks northwest of the location of the Snodgrass home. I can remember that my family lived in the one furthest west. (The street the houses faced runs east and west.)

I am enclosing copies of two photos which I believe were taken by my Mother. Photo #1 is of my Father, Oscar Rutledge, holding my younger brother O.P. Jr., who appears to be less than six months old and who was born July 13, 1918.

and, in the background, the brick house east of the one in which we lived.

I doubt that these houses are still standing, but there may be someone in Floydada who remembers them and knows when they were built.

I enjoy The Hesperian and try to visit a few friends when I pass thru Floydada every year or so. Hope to be able to attend the 1988 Homecoming this fall.

Letter To The Editor:

The recent business burglary of Don Green's Auto Parts is a good example of a burglary that probably would not have happened if only a neighboring business would have heeded the advise of Floydada Police Department. Warned on numerous occasions about leaving a ladder propped up against the building could result in a roof burglary, brought no action in its removal. The burglary happened, a large amount of property loss and damage resulted.

Our businesses, farmers and homeowners are having a rough enough time making ends meet, without an unexpected loss due to crime. Yet, many simply believe it will not happen to them. It is a common reaction to believe that someone else's house or business be hit and not our own.

Because of police cutbacks in manpower across our country, police departments have tried to stress citizen self-protection through crime prevention programs and neighborhood watches. Where such programs meet a large citizen involvement, crime is reduced. Criminals look for an easy mark! Most people do not realize that there are fewer police officers on patrol today than in the 1960's. Even though our crime rate has soared and our population increased, many cities and counties have had to reduce their police departments because of increased financial stresses on local governments. The cities of Floydada and Lockney are no exception. Both police departments have been reduced in recent years. Lockney from a 3-man to a 2-man full time, and some part time help. Floydada from a 6-man to a 3-man department. Both of these police departments are required to provide police services 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, 365 days a year. It is no easy task. Both cities are fortunate to have officers willing to work the long hours, and be on call most of their time off from regular patrol. Both cities require much more than 40 hours a week per officer to adequately do the job needed. Their job could be made much easier, however, if citizens would take their advise more often on how to protect themselves before they become a victim. We must remember, police are not responsible for crime, criminals are! Let's make Floyd county a difficult, unprofitable place for criminals by using some common sense and helping our law enforcement officers.

Letter to the Editor:

It is with a feeling of regret and sadness that we bid farewell to one of the best friends this community has ever had. Not only is he a personal friend, but a friend of our schools, our churches, all organizations, our entire community!

A person tireless in his efforts to please each of us, and at the same time produce a good paper - and get it out on time! Thanks to that midnite oil!

You are most deserving of the new position to which you are going, Jim, but we already miss you. May the Lord bless and keep you.

In this manner. I know for sure that most carriers do suffer tremendous losses from their newspaper racks in just this manner.

I realize that these explanations cannot make up for the humiliation you felt at being falsely accused of taking something without paying for it. But, I do want you to know that as a member of the staff of the Avalanche-Journal, I do not approve of the manner in which you were treated. I do not contribute to racism. Neither do any of my coworkers.

Again, you have my sincere apologies. Please contact me if I may be of assistance to you.

Caprock Hospital in need of volunteers

Caprock Hospital in Floydada is looking for volunteers to help staff its emergency care service, according to a spokesman for the hospital. For those volunteering the hospital will be offering an Emergency Care Attendant course in early September, teaching courses in cardio-pulmonary resuscitation, vital signs, and bandaging and splinting. Those completing the course and passing the examinations will be licensed by the state to work on any ambulance service, according to the hospital.

Volunteers, who will be paid $1.00 per hour while on call, will be required to carry a pager wherever they go, and respond if they are paged.

"We are in need of more volunteers to help cover our community with emergency care 24 hours a day," the spokesman said. "This can be a very rewarding role and the pay received can help stretch a tight budget. We need some housewives who do not hold another job to train and help cover during the day. If one works and cannot cover during the day, we can schedule for nights or weekends."

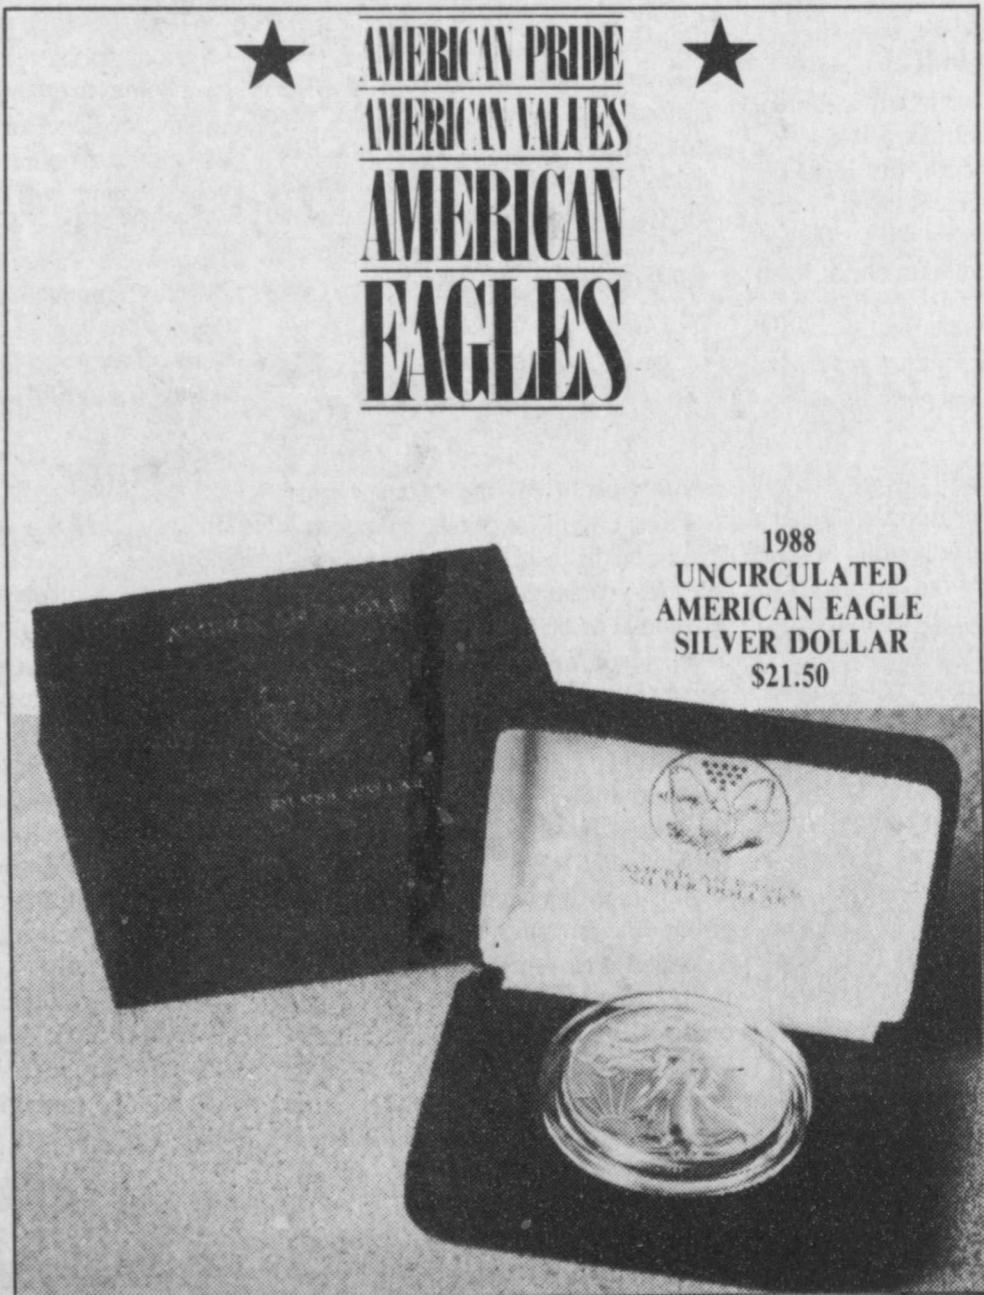

The service currently has seven certified people covering calls. These include Mike Reeves, paramedic; Bill Stringer, EMT, Barbara Hernandez, EMT, Paul McIntosh, EMT, Vicki Derbyberry, ECA, Rhonda Guthrie, ECA, Molly Stringer, R.N., ECA and B.J. Villarreal, who has completed the ECA course.

Interested parties may call Molly Stringer at 983-2875.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

By Jo Bryant

Monday, July 4, was a holiday, so I wasn't here. I spent the day with my family and enjoyed hot dogs, etc., as well as playing with my three grandsons. The residents had some visitors.

Tuesday, Bro. Neeley and wife, Zelma came and sang some songs and gave the devotion. Also brought bananas for each one of the residents. At 2:00 p.m. the residents painted pretty flower vases.

Wednesday, Bro. Sammy Rodriguez came and gave the devotion on John 10:10-16, on having abundant life, to the fullest. At 2 p.m. the residents played Bingo. Mary Alice Davis came and helped the residents play Bingo and passed out the treats, thanks Mary, we appreciate you. Ruth Smitherman had the first bingo. Bananas, bugles and marshmallows were the treats.

Thursday at 9:30, the residents had coffee and juice, they enjoy the break. At 10:30 Helen Lipham came in the pouring rain and got soaked, thanks Helen, we appreciate you very much to take your time each Thursday, to come share and play the banjo. Lower rates set for elderly

Reduced telephone rates go into effect July 1 for older disabled Texans who live in poverty, according to state officials who worked out the plan with telephone company representatives in response to recent legislation.

Under Tel-assistance Service, phone companies offer a 65 percent reduction in the basic monthly local charge. The reduced rate does not apply to installation, touch-tone, custom calling, long-distance or similar charges.

"The program was established by the Legislature, which required all 66 telephone companies that serve Texas consumers to participate," said Marlin W. Johnston, commissioner of the Texas Department of Human Services.

The Texas Public Utility Commission is responsible for rules governing participation by telephone companies. The human services department will take applications for the service and determine eligibility. The department will furnish telephone companies with a monthly list of eligible Texans.

To be eligible, a person must live in Texas, be the head of a household, be at least 65 years old, be disabled and have income at or below the federal poverty level. The 1988 poverty level for a one-person household is $480.83 per month. The income limit for a two-person household is $644.16; a three-person household, $807.50; and a four-person household, $970.83. For each additional person, add $163.33 per month.

A person may have only one telephone line and may not have optional extended area service. People without telephone service must pay installation charges. Johnston said application forms will be mailed to potentially eligible Texans in the department's files. Telephone companies will mail information about Tel-assistance service to all customers starting in September.

Application forms and information are available by calling a toll-free number, 1-800-343-8353.

Fish fry kicks off Medley reunion Friday night

A fish fry Friday evening, July 1, in the backyards of Doyle, Dorothy and Valree Turner started the activities for the weekend reunion of the Medley children. One-hundred and 38 descendants of Robert Franklin and Ila Z. Medley attended all or a portion of the reunion.

Lonnie Hinsley, friend of the family, graciously gave of his time in frying the fish, most of which were caught by Doyle and Dorothy during their fishing excursions. Other dishes were brought by the Floydada hosts.

Highlight of the evening was the arrival of a 42 foot school bus, owned by City Auto and driven by Fred Zimmerman. The bus bore a banner reading "Medley Reunion or Bust, Sydney and Nadine." Earlier in the year letters started arriving from Sydney and Nadine postmarked from Oklahoma. The Medleys thought they had found some long lost relatives and were anxiously awaiting the arrival of the couple. Actually it turned out to be a most secretive joke instigated by Shorty and Louise Turner and Fred and Pat Zimmerman. After much laughter and the tale revealed, all that could, boarded the bus for a tour about Floydada.

Saturday everyone met at the Barcelona Court in Lubbock for two days and nights of fun and visiting. Saturday night Floydada hosts served sandwiches, cold drinks and desserts followed by entertainment, one of which included Sharkey LeCroy's karate group. A hilarious speed game was presented by Steve Calvert, Chris Turner, Bill Queen, Mark Turner, Dan Medley, Shorty Turner, Louise Turner and Peggy Medley. The birthday song was sung to Mark Turner who celebrated his birth July 2 and Leroy Burns, whose birthday was July 4. The beautifully decorated cake was made by Leroy's daughter, Sherry Hacker. Later names were drawn for prizes, then a small bale of cotton was presented to Ira Medley for being the oldest "cotton picker" present.

Dorman Turner of Hobbs, New Mexico, was emcee for the event and Dan Medley of Aurora, Colo., gave the blessing paying a beautiful tribute to the deceased parents of the seven Medley children ranging in ages from 64 to 87. After breakfast Sunday morning visiting continued, tables games played, tours about Lubbock made with several of the men braving the hot Texas sun for games of golf. For lunch all met at the Western Sizzlin' for a delicious meal then returned to the Barcelona for more games, swimming and resting.

In the evening all assembled in the atrium to hear music by Kelly and Susan Turner.

Throughout the day July 4 was a day of goodbyes as relatives departed for their homes in other points of Texas and in New Mexico, Colorado, Washington, Oklahoma, Arizona and Missouri. Next year's reunion will be held in Colorado.

Attending this year's reunion from Texas were Valree Turner, Doyle and Dorothy Turner, Evalene Boyd, Si and Peggy Medley, Leroy and Loretta Burns, Shorty and Louise Turner, Debbie and Candi Guffee, Travis and Margie Young, Larry, Rhonda, Shonda and Chad Guthrie, Lonnie and Juanell Hinsley, Richard, Becky, Amy and Ryan, Sharkey and Sheryl LeCroy, Shane and Rowdy Derryberry, Chad Williams, Fred and Pat Zimmerman, Irene Irby, Floyd Medley, Mike Potet and Bill Lamb, all of Floydada;

Sanders and Brown recite marriage promises

Shawnda Dee Sanders and Paul Ray Brown were united in marriage Saturday, July 9, at 7:30 p.m. in First Baptist Church with the Dr. Floyd C. Bradley, of Plainview, officiating.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Curtis J. Sanders of Floydada and Mr. and Mrs. Bill B. Brown of Brownwood. Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore an elegant gown of shimmering slipper satin. The bodice, encrusted with hand-beaded sequins and pearls on silk venise lace, featured a sabrina neckline, ball gown sleeves, and a deep basque bodice. The V'd back was set off with a butterfly bow. The full skirt was highlighted with lace motif cut-outs etched in scalloped lace and flowed into a cathedral train.

To compute the romantic look, the bride wore a tiara type headpiece of venise lace studded with sequins and pearls with a floral side waterfall attached to a two tiered fingertip veil.

She carried a custom designed cascade bouquet of white cymbidium orchids, stephanotis and rosario alstromeria. The natural style was enhanced with ming fern and baby white mums.

Serving as maid of honor was Crystal Sanders, sister of the bride of Floydada. Bridesmaids were Lisa Sanders, sister-in-law of the bride, Floydada; Susan Lunsford, Muleshoe; Karen Williams, Lubbock, and Lisa Hardeman of Tyler. They were attired in pink floor length gowns of tina satin. The bodice featured sabrina necklines and lantern sleeves. They were accented with a V'd back and bustle bow. The bridesmaids accented their hair with a headpiece fashioned with a pink satin bow with silk tulip streamers designed by the bride's mother. Attendants carried trailing bouquets of natural arranged orchids, alstromeria and baby mums.

The flower girl was Lauren Brown of Brownwood, daughter of the groom. She wore a dress and headpiece fashioned identical to the bridesmaids. She carried a white lace basket filled with rosario alstromeria and baby's breath.

Serving as best man was Brian Sanders, brother of the bride of Floydada. Groomsmen were John Brown, brother of the groom of Brownwood; David Main, cousin of the bride of Floydada; Roger Roulette of Brownwood and Kirk Root of Austin.

Male attendants were attired in black tuxedos with grey pin striped trousers and pink accents.

Ushers were Mark Hatley and Alan Crossland, both of Lubbock. They wore black tuxedos with pink accents. Attendants and ushers wore boutonnières of rosario alstromeria, babies breath and ming fern.

The bridegroom was attired in a white tuxedo. His boutonniere was made of assorted small blossoms from the bride's bouquet.

Music for the ceremony was provided by Laura Logan, harpist of Lubbock, and Dell Gray, organist of Floydada.

Soloist, Matt Lewis of Lewisville, performed and accompanied himself with acoustical guitar the country-western selection "One Friend" by Dan Seals. "Only the Beginning" was performed by Mary Lloyd and "The Lord's Prayer" was sung as a duet by Stacey Smith and John Brown.

The altar was decorated with three arches of brass candelabra entwined with plumosa fern, babies breath and twinkle lights. Two fan baskets of white gladioli and rosario alstromeria flanked the steps to the dais. Floor palms completed the altar accessories.

The aisle covered by a white runner was enhanced by many pairs of candelabra attached to the pews. These were entwined with plumosa fern and babies breath and tied with white satin bows. Streamers from the bows draped from candelabrum to candelabrum down the entire length of the aisle.

Keeping with tradition, the bride carried her late great-grandmother's wedding band at her late great-granddad's request as something old. Something new was her wedding attire. Something borrowed were a pair of diamond earrings with matching diamond drop necklace belonging to the bride's grandmother, Flora Boteler. Finally something blue was her mother's blue garter worn in her wedding with a baby's ring attached belonging to Shawnda, the first born child.

Honored guests were grandparents of the bride, Mrs. Otho Sanders of Floydada and Mrs. H.C. Boteler of Plainview.

Following the wedding, a reception was held in the Wall Street Parlor. The bride's table was covered with a white floor length satin cloth with a topper of white gathered up and tied with pink bows. The three-tiered wedding cake was decorated with fresh cut flowers, satin ribbons and Precious Moments figurines. Loretta Myers and Tammy Vickers of Lubbock and Jeanine Helms of Floydada served at the bridal table.

The groom's table featured a chocolate cake in the shape of a draftsman's triangle and a fruit arrangement. Coffee was served from a silver urn by Mary Brown of Brownwood and Lori Root of Austin.

Members of the houseparty were Kay Tinney, Willie Mae Gregg of Floydada, and Susan Lewis of Lewisville and Trish Roulette of Brownwood.

Wheat seed bags were distributed by Renea Brown of Brownwood.

Following a wedding trip to California, the couple will make their home in Dallas.

The bride is a 1983 graduate of Floydada High School and a 1987 graduate of Texas Tech University with a degree in Interior Design. The bride is employed by the Spencer Company in Dallas as an Interior Designer.

The groom is a 1980 graduate of Brownwood High School and attended South Plains College in Levelland. He is presently employed by the LaDew Fire Protection Corp. as a fluid engineer.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents at the fellowship hall of First Baptist Church on Friday night. The fellowship hall was decorated with blue tablecloths and was accented with blueprint placemats, designed by the groom. Easels were set randomly displaying projects drawn by the bride and groom.

Other courtesies honoring the couple included a miscellaneous shower in the home of Nancy Mayo and a lingerie shower given by Mrs. Dell Gray.

Akers honored with "farewell supper"

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Thomas and Bryan recently honored Allen Akers with a "Farewell Supper" at their home. The Thomases served fried fish, brisket and all the trimmings. Akers has resigned as the agriculture instructor at FHS and has moved to Columbus, N.M., to become involved in a private business.

Those attending the supper were: Jon, Elaine and Kelli LaBaume, Jerry and Jan Thompson, Franklin, Dixie, Tate and Zacha Harris, Betty and Chad Edwards, Mike and Linda Hinsley, Richie Crow, Barron Wetsul, new ag instructor, Larry and Shannon Barbee, Junior, Mary, Debbie and Derrick Martinez, Grant Stovall, David Christian, Grant Cage, Johnny Taylor and Shane Orman.

Morehead-Lusk wed in Canadian

Melanie Anne Morehead became the bride of Robert Glynn Lusk during an 8 p.m. double ring ceremony July 9 in the First United Methodist Church of Canadian. Lewis Holland, pastor, read the recitation of vows.

Parents of the bride are Charles and Judy Morehead of Canadian. She is the granddaughter of the late Ruth and J.M. Williams of Floydada. The groom is the son of Sharon Lusk of Canadian and Glynn Lewis of Pampa. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. T.E. Lusk of Plainview and Jo Riley of Canadian.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Guffee of Floydada attended the ceremony.

Escorted and given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a candlelight satin gown with princess style shoulders consisting of scalloped lace in patterns of rosettes, and bishop style sleeves. The bodice was accented with pearls. A queen's crest medallion crown with pearls was featured on the skirt front. The back of the gown featured a v-shaped neckline with satin buttons. Accenting the full-length queen's court cathedral train was lacework and queen's crest border work. Her headpiece was a wreath of pearls with netting sweeping to the bride's waist. She carried a bouquet of white roses interspersed with baby's breath.

Globe candles, adorned with burgundy and dusty rose bows, lined the bridal aisle. Railings were decorated with baby's breath, greenery and candles, while the windows were accentuated with bouquets of pink carnations and baby's breath. Floydada City Council discusses involvement in three legal actions expected to take "from 15 months to two years". The city estimates that landfill area currently exists in the present landfill to carry the facility through "possibly the next twelve to fifteen months."

"We have delayed action on the landfill as long as we can possibly wait," stated council member Willson. "We may have waited too long if the new landfill cannot be opened before the old one is full."

The third legal action is an extension of the condemnation suit. It concerns 1.8 acres necessary for roadway easement to enable the city to enter the proposed new landfill site. The road currently goes to the existing landfill, but when that site is returned to Hammonds after it is closed as a landfill, the city would have no access to the new site.

July 6, a court appointed panel consisting of Malvin Jarboe, Larry Jones and Q. D. Williams awarded Hammonds a judgement of $1,000 for the 1.8 acres being condemned and ordered the payment of $3,500 in damages by the city. Either party, the city or Hammonds, can file an appeal within twenty days of the judgement. At this time none has been filed according to the mayor.

AUDIT REPORT

Local CPA Edd Henderson met with the council during the session to present the audit report for the 1987-88 budget year. He reported "Your city is in excellent financial shape."

Among the items he listed which were increases in profit to the city were the various utility departments. The electric utility netted a profit of $194,212.04. The water department showed a net profit of $165,685.92 and the sewer department netted $29,155.94.

The report was accepted on a unanimously approved motion by Wayne Russell, seconded by Warren.

AMBULANCE

Caprock Hospital District administrator came before the council with a report on the operation of the ambulance service and a request for additional funding of $500 per month toward the purchase of a new ambulance for the service. This would raise the city contribution to the service to $1,000 per month.

Although the council agreed that the service needs a new vehicle, no action was taken on the matter at this time due to budget considerations. City manager Gary Brown pointed out "There is no money budgeted for that at this time and we do not have sufficient surplus to amend the budget to include it. I suggest that you keep it in mind and try to work it into the budget being compiled for next April."

Mayor Powell was delegated to organize a joint meeting with the county commissioners and the hospital board to discuss the ambulance and find a solution to the problem. Stated council member Russell, "We all have a moral obligation even though the county bears the legal obligation for providing ambulance service."

ANNEXATION

A public hearing was held concerning the annexation of Lots 1, 2 and 3, Blk. 2, Stewart Addition as petitioned by Larry and D'Anna Westbrook. No one was present to offer any comment and the ordinance completing the annexation process was adopted on a motion by Russell, seconded by Willson. Council member Amado Morales voted against the measure, saying "There is a lot of expense involved and it will not be a profitable annexation for the city."

City manager Brown was instructed to pursue the writing of an annexation ordinance which states the various monetary and legal obligations of both the city and the petitioner in the event further annexations are requested.

BIDS

Bids were opened for the sale of a 1981 GMC water department pickup. Four bids were received with the bid being awarded to Larry Guthrie for $875. Councilman Leroy Burns abstained from voting on the motion by Russell, seconded by Frank Breed. Other bids were received from Mark Nutt ($651.99), Norrali Kassin ($501) and Armando Zuniga ($500).

The council agreed to advertise for bids for liability insurance renewal which is due in November. Along with this action, it was decided to again employ the services of a consultant in writing the specifications for the bid.

The 1966 Chevrolet truck and Polcat unit used by the light company was again under discussion. The council opted at this time to begin looking into writing specifications for a bid and soliciting bids for the next budget year to obtain a new vehicle and unit for use in the department. "This one has lasted over 20 years and buying a used one would be purchasing someone else's problem," said Connie Galloway, city light employee.

The estimated cost of the new vehicle and unit is placed at "$52,000 or up". Council members termed it a good investment in light of the number of years service it should give as compared to the net income of the electric department and its contribution to city operating funds.

The sale of two tax lots was approved by the council on a motion by Morales, seconded by Breed. The two lots, previously approved for sale by the FSD school board and the commissioners court, will go to Adelfino Aleman and Oscar Garza Jr. who have offered $100 for each respective lot.

Council members authorized the donation of $2500 budgeted for fire department travel and schools to the volunteer fire department for use in attending a week long school at Texas A. & M. University. This amount represents the total budget for this activity and will not be replenished until the next budget is adopted.

Travel and mileage reimbursements for other city employees and officials was also addressed. Brown was instructed to draw up new guidelines citing methods and amounts of payment authorized by the city for such items.

These are to be included in a revised handbook being compiled at this time.

Sam Baker and Richard Hale were reappointed to continuing terms on the city planning and zoning commission. Both had agreed in advance to continue to serve.

A one to one match was authorized for retirement benefits for city employees. This is an annual action taken to set the rates as of January 1 of each year. The council agreed to consider increasing the match to a 1 1/2 or 2 to one ratio when the next budget is formulated.

Article 2-15 (j) of the Code of Ordinances was amended to read "sealed bids or public auction". This action will enable the city to sell surplus items not only by sealed bid as has been the only route for sales, but also by public auction. Sales will still have to be advertised.

Attending the session were council members Russell, Burns, Willson, Warren, Breed and Morales, city manager Brown, Mayor Powell, city secretary Jimmie Lou Stewart and city attorney Steve Hale. Also present were Edd Henderson, Leroy Shaffner, Connie Galloway, police chief James Hale, Reverend Ralph Jackson and the Hesperian reporter.

Commissioners set date for tax increase hearing

Floyd County Commissioners scheduled a public hearing for Monday, August 1, 1988. The public meeting will be for the convenience of Floyd County residents and tax payers who wish to comment on the proposed tax increases from 27.2 cents per $100 valuation to 29 cents per $100 valuation. The court will vote on the tax hike at the August 8 regular session.

LIBRARY EXPANSION

Several representatives of the Floyd County Friends of the Library met with the court on July 11 at the regular July session of the commissioners. The group was present to give a report on progress made concerning the possible construction of a new library facility.

Pat Zimmerman addressed the court first, saying, "Both the Floyd County Library and the Lockney Branch have become severely crowded. With the help of grants for library expansion from the State of Texas and private foundations, we hope to raise money towards this expansion."

Zimmerman continued her report noting that the friends intend to appoint a committee of interested persons to research the possible expansion of both county library facilities and to make all final decisions regarding the expansion.

Several properties are being considered for the project's location according to Zimmerman, "but no final site has been chosen. Offers of donated land have been received and various sites for sale are also being looked into at this time." Zimmerman also pointed out that the status of the Friends of the Library allows any donations to the project to be tax deductible.

"With growing interest, we must have a firm commitment from the commissioners before we can go forward with this project," stated Zimmerman.

She and others present urged the court to pass a motion assuring the group that they endorse the project and will accept the building as a gift upon its completion. The group also asked for an assurance that the county is willing to maintain the building and provide for the ongoing expenses involved in the operation of the library once it is built.

A motion by commissioner, Precinct 1, Sam Spence, seconded by Precinct 4 commissioner, Kay Crabtree was passed by unanimous vote, assuring the group that the county commissioners

CMH/MR REPORT

Former county Judge C.L. Abernathy and Seth Halbert of the Central Plains Mental Health/Mental Retardation Center in Plainview met with the court to present an overview of the center's work during the past year. Halbert stated, "We appreciate the moral support as well as the financial support the center receives from Floyd County. We are asking that the financial contribution remain at the same level as last year when you plan your budget."

Floyd County now contributes approximately $5,424 to various aspects of the center's operation. This contribution, according to Halbert, generates about $36,000 in state matching funds for use in the treatment of Floyd County residents who need help dealing with mental stress or illness, drug or alcohol abuse and a variety of other problems the center is equipped to handle.

During 1987, 112 persons were assisted through the Floyd County office of the center. These people made 959 visits, totaling 1,995 hours of treatment. 32 of those treated were from Briscoe or Motley County which also utilizes the Floydada Counseling Center.

OTHER ACTION

A motion by Floyd Jackson, commissioner of Precinct 2, seconded by Crabtree, was approved unanimously awarding the bid for renovation of the telephone system in the county attorney's office and the probation offices to Bob Douglas, an independent equipment dealer. His bid of $2,602.50 being lower than the $2,750.90 submitted by AT&T. The motion also approved the purchase of phones currently in use in the remainder of the courthouse to avoid the payment of further monthly lease charges on the communication equipment.

Revised field notes concerning the annexation of the Dougherty Independent School District to Floydada Independent School District were also accepted and approved as presented to the court by attorney Ben Ayres. Motion for acceptance was made by Precinct 3 commissioner Thomas Warren, seconded by Crabtree and passed by unanimous vote.

Commissioner Spence made a motion to approve the appointment of election officials for the upcoming November General Election according to the listing submitted to the court by county clerk Margaret Collier. The Motion was seconded by Jackson and received the nod from the remaining two members of the court.

County treasurer Glenna Orman presented her monthly and quarterly reports, stating "The county began the month of June with $110,832.16 and took in receipts of $604,913.27. Disbursements totaled $531,472.90, leaving the county with a month end balance of $184,272.53."

Orman also reported certificates of deposit totaling $610,000.00 on which interest to date totals $37,270.09.

LANDFILL LAWSUIT

Judge Bill Hardin reported to the court that "Last week, the judge in the lawsuit brought by Helen Hammonds against the county regarding the landfill indicated in open court that he would grant motions for summary judgement, essentially dismissing the lawsuit. The Hammonds contingent may yet appeal, but at this time, there is no involvement in a lawsuit concerning the landfill for Floyd County."

In attendance at the July session were commissioners Spence, Jackson, Warren and Crabtree, county judge Bill Hardin, treasurer Glenna Orman, budget clerk Jane McAnally and Connie Bearden. Also present were Bob Alldredge, C.L. Abernathy, Seth Halbert, Pat Zimmerman, J. M. Willson Jr., Parnell Powell, Olin Watson, Jim Word, Kyle Smith, Nettie Ruth Whittle and the Hesperian reporter.

Lake report

The water temperature was 79 degrees on July 11 according to lake officials. Water depth at the dam was measured at 108.4 feet.

Recent catches at the lake include a 6 1/2 pound yellow cat on July 6. The fish was caught by Red Jennings of Amarillo using live perch as bait. The prize was taken up Turle Creek.

On July 7, Danny Harland of Tulia landed a 2 3/4 pound striper. He was using a rapala. The location of the catch was west of the small islands in the lake.

It rained and rained and then the sun came out

AND THEN THE SUN CAME-In top left photo rows of foot-high cotton disappear into a brimming playa lake in the distance. All across Floyd County crops and pastures soaked up moisture resulting from some two weeks of on-again, off-again rainfall. In bottom left, a grape vineyard near Sandhill begins the drying out process, while sheep seek the high ground and shade of a mesquite tree in the photo at top right. But not everything comes up roses all the time. Good corn gets better while a field of onions, for which the rains came too late and too much, awaits the owner's decision on what to do next.

Bushland Research Lab celebrates 50 years

There is going to be an anniversary celebration at the USDA Conservation and Production Research Laboratory at Bushland on August 16, 1988. That date marks 50 years of operation of the Research Laboratory by the Agricultural Research Service and Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Dr. B.A. Stewart, Director of the facility, says the celebration will be part of a week-long International Conference on Dryland Farming. Preparations for the Conference have been underway for 2 years. There will be a three-day tour of dryland and conservation research, starting at Dallas and ending in Amarillo, prior to the conference.

The conference will be held at the Amarillo Civic Center August 15 through 19. Following the conference, a tour will leave Amarillo and travel to Denver.

The actual anniversary celebration will be Tuesday afternoon with a program and field tour of the Bushland facility. The tour will emphasize research on grain sorghum, wheat, sunflower, furrow diking, conservation tillage, pest management, livestock nutrition and health, plant water stress, water use efficiency, and a 500-kilowatt wind turbine. The afternoons events will be concluded with an outdoor dinner.

The formal program at the Civic Center will include about 300 oral and poster presentations from more than 40 countries. Topics of discussion will be soil erosion, water conservation and use, agroclimatology, soil fertility, residue and soil surface management, socioeconomic aspects of dryland farming, environmental issues, cropping systems including trees, integrated crop and livestock systems, and pest management.

Dr. Stewart says, "Never before have the best researchers on dryland farming from the entire world had the opportunity to exchange views and discuss their research at one location."

"We are proud to host the event as part of our 50 year anniversary celebration," he continued.

Down on the FARM

WATCH UP FOR POWER LINES

Power lines can be dangerous.

Touching irrigation pipe to a power line can divert the electricity through the pipe . . . and to anyone in contact with it. In this part of the country, this is the leading cause of farm injuries and deaths in electricity-related accidents. Any equipment of unusual height represents a potential danger. Lift arms on field equipment, combine auger spouts and even radio antennas can cause serious injury or death if they, and you, make contact with a power line.

Keep an eye up for power lines. Watch up, for safety's sake.

SOUTHWESTERN PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY

Cedar Hill News

By Carl Lemons

July 11:

Weather: Showers, falling nearly everyday over the last two weeks, have residents reporting from six to eight inches of rain. There are more reports of eight inches than of six. Twice last week water on the south side of Lake Cedar Hill was so high that only the tips of fence posts were showing. Twice water has lapped the shoulders of the highway, then the flow through culvert would equalize the two sides of the lake again. One more heavy shower and vehicles will be splashing water as they cross the lake.

Crops are making marvelous growth, in fact there has been concern because cotton has not been squaring as well as was expected. During the week of July 4-10 most growers were still looking for their first cotton bloom, however Joe Hinkle, over on the Fairview-Campbell line, had little boles on a patch of April planting. The spraying of a growth inhibitor has been reported, and several farmers are giving it serious consideration. Hoeing costs are varying from two and three dollars per acre to as high as thirty dollars on one small patch that was exceptionally woolly. Optimism decrees that a switch to hot, dry weather could still propel us into the best cotton crop in county history.

The corn crop is virtually made and at very reasonable cost. It is in full tassel and standing in soggy ground. Craig Gilly tells how he was watering his corn and it started raining while the last set was finishing out. He had to wheedle a neighbor with a four-wheel drive pickup to take him through the mud so he could turn his well off. Some of our cotton farmers are wishing they had a few hundred acres of corn instead of a few hundred acres of cotton.

Things are not so rosy in the vegetable patches. Some onion tops are falling prematurely, and other onions are developing a slimy film between the bulb and its outer skin. Buyers will shy away from those, and in addition the market has all the onions it needs at the present. Later patches stand a chance to fare better. The plow got some (hailed on) onions in '87 and it looks like the plow will get more in '88. Too much rain at the wrong time.

Heavy plantings of cucumbers in other areas have caused local growers to wait in an attempt to target their harvest to that time period just before frost. The risk is increasing each day, our '88 cukes may never get planted.

Weeds have captured the flat ground, pull a sweep plow a little ways now and it will be sitting on a haystack. Farmers are scrambling to locate those old one-way plows, tandems and off-set disks in order to chop up the weeds this next time over.

Conditions have been perfect for newly seeded grass on CRP land. Rain, then every day or two more rain, just perfect. Now those tiny seedlings, and they are tiny, are threatened by the fast growing broadleaves. There is a very real danger the little grass will be shaded and smothered to death beneath a canopy of weeds. Shredders and spray planes will be the order of the day for a time now.

It was a year ago today, July 14, 1987, that a devastating hail came back and finished the Cedar Hill crops that it missed two days earlier. If we should get that much rain again in '88, on top of what we have already received, terms like "Permian Basin" and "inland sea" would take on a very real meaning.

Now that we have the lake water tended to and have given crops a lick and a promise, perhaps you would like to know that Ernestine Gilly and Marissa Fortenberry drove out to visit with Edna Gilly last Sunday afternoon. They helped salvage some of Cedar Hill's abandoned cucumbers on a visit last fall. Hope it was dry enough they could get some onions this trip.

This past week some members of the Cedar Hill Gilly families went to a Hammit-Lawson picnic at Lake Mackenzie. It was for a visit with Larry Hammit and his wife, Sunny Lawson Hammit from Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. Also honored was Larry and Sunny's son and his wife, Gary and Ernie Hammit of Austin, Texas. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Reed Lawson from north of Lone Star, and Mrs. Gertrude Hammit of Plainview.

A week ago last Friday Rodney Durham used his newly acquired drivers license to drive down from Dumas, to visit with his brother Wesley and his grandparents, Cephus and Imogene Fortenberry. Wesley is staying with Cephus and Imogene while taking a court reporting course and working at Wal-Mart in Plainview. Rodney returned home Friday, July 8.

Neil Langley was home last Sunday

FLOYD COUNTY RESIDENTS ATTEND ELECTRICITY CAMP—Seven youths and a county agent, all from Floyd County, last week participated in an electricity camp sponsored by Southwestern Public Service Company (SPS) for 4-H members. between construction jobs. His company has just completed a conversion plant near Dalhart. The Dalhart plant captures the flare-gas that fuels the huge flames seen burning in most oil fields and converts it into a liquid fuel suitable for commercial use. This procedure will release millions of gallons of gasoline for other purposes. Next, Neil will join other members of his crew in the construction of a methanol plant at Gruver, Texas. The Gruver plant will utilize waste products from several of the area's feedlots to produce fertilizer and one type of alcohol. Both the Dalhart and the Gruver projects will be of benefit in holding down the cost of agricultural production. Y-EEE—AAAA NEIL!

Gladys Fortenberry and Cephus and Imogene Fortenberry were dinner guests of the Rev. Bud Morton and his family Sunday, July 3.

Melba Jean and Troy Smith from Dumas came Tuesday for a few days vacation visit with their son, Wesley and her parents, Cephus and Imogene. A one day fishing visit was spent at Lake Kemp with Troy's brothers, gin owner, J.B. Smith of Plainview and Gene Smith of the Kemp area. Melba Jean needed to be back to her tax consultants job on Monday, so they returned to Dumas Friday.

Patsy Boone flew to Wautauga, Texas, last week for a few days visit with her fifteen-month-old granddaughter, Lauren Clark. Lauren's parents, Danita and Paul, not wishing to interfere with Patsy's and Lauren's visit, decided to take off on a short vacation of their own. Patsy returned home Saturday.

Nick Joiner started his summer vacation with a two week's visit with his grandparents, Junior and Martha Taylor. All too soon mother, Shelia, was here to haul him back to hot, humid Tarrant County. Junior and Martha visited with Mattie Davis in Plainview Saturday.

Muddy roads failed to keep the Assembly of God congregation at home last Sunday. Attendance was quite good. A young preacher, Roger Kirkendall, from Plainview, was the evening speaker, delivering one of his first sermons.

The Rev. Bud Morton and family visited in San Angelo Monday through Friday. Their host was the Rev. John Hollar, an old high school and college classmate, who pastors San Angelo's "Tree of Life Church," a church of 450. Brother Morton was privileged to speak to "The Tree of Life" congregation Wednesday night.

Rattlesnakes are less numerous around the Lindsey Lackey place this year according to Billie Ruth. Only three have been sighted and one of them extended himself on the road at a 90 degree angle to their oncoming Blazer. Early day cowboys would sleep on the prairie, protecting themselves from snakes by laying their lariar ropes in a circle around their bed sites. From the Gulf, Lindsey has hauled in a huge anchor rope, so large that it takes both hands to span around it. He has used this rope to encircle his whole yard except for a gap at the back of the house. That ought to keep out the coons and coyotes too!

Max and Rex Yeary went to Lubbock's St. Mary's Hospital on June 30 and again on July 1, to be with their mother, Betty Applegate. It seemed that Betty was going to have to endure back surgery. Later she was found to have pneumonia and her doctors decided that was her trouble all the time. With the pneumonia under control, she is back at her home in Idalou and doing well.
