Arrest of one man helps clear up local thefts

Police cleared several thefts, a burglary, and recovered property from thefts this week with the arrest of one man on outstanding traffic warrants.

"This man had been under investigation," said Chief James Hale. "We arrested him on outstanding warrants on Aug. 27 and he confessed to one residential burglary and three different thefts. We recovered most of the property in the burglary, and we recovered a stolen lawnmower. Also an air compressor that had been stolen in the county was recovered. He also confessed to the theft of a chain hoist. We have not recovered the chain hoist yet. He was already on parole for burglary." Police also arrested two other men this past week for outstanding traffic warrants.

August 24 police received a report of a burglary of a habitation in the 200 block of West Crockett. A trailer home was broken into sometime between 9:00 p.m. and 2:00 a.m. on August 23. Items

Volunteers were stationed at Pay-n-Save, Shop Rite and downtown. "We raised over $380.00 in 2-1/2 hours," said Pledge Center Coordinator Mike Reeves. "We want to thank Pay-n-Save, Shop Rite and all the downtown merchants and especially everyone who

Where's The Fire...

One call was answered this week by firemen. At 9:45 a.m. on Wednesday, Aug. 24, firemen responded to 601 W. Grover where a dumpster was on fire. Five firemen and one truck were used to extinguish the blaze.

Several firefighters attended a fire class at Hale Center last week. The class was on instructional techniques and was taught by Billy Marquis of Floydada.

FIRE TIP

Don't overload electrical circuits. Too many cords plugged into one outlet can overload the wiring and cause an electrical fire. So please, use good judgement and don't try to over utilize one electrical outlet.

Dear Editor,

As a citizen of Floyd County I am deeply disturbed about our crime problem, especially our drug problem. As Chief of Police of Lockney I must admit that I am biased against habitual criminals. I have seen for years the harm they do to the innocent not to mention the influence they have on our children.

I feel that drug addiction and rampant crime are a result of many years of liberal attitudes. But now the general public has turned to a more conservative approach on crime. They now see we must get tough on the criminal. They do not want the criminals to go unpunished. I'm sure you can guess what my attitude is when it comes to criminals and drug dealers especially. Attitudes are very important. A person may say one thing but do just the opposite revealing his true attitude on the subject.

The sheriff is the chief law enforcement officer of the county. His attitude in the area of crime is extremely important. His attitude sends out a message to the residents of the county especially the criminal element. If he is lax in enforcement and soft on convicted criminals in his custody then that attitude sends out a message that affects us all.

After working for Fred Cardinal as a deputy sheriff it is clear to me that our sheriff wants the people of Floyd County to think he is tough on criminals. Our sheriff talks a good story but I feel his actions show that he is very sympathetic to criminals. I am not alone in the law enforcement community in this opinion.

Most people think that inmates are locked up where they can't commit other crimes. This is not necessarily true in Floyd County. Our sheriff allows persons charged with, and some convicted of felonies, awaiting to be transported to the penitentiary, to have free run of the jail. These prisoners are allowed to go outside of the jail unsupervised, to visit with their buddies, wives, girlfriends, whoever they want. When they return inside the jail they are not searched. They can bring anything into our jail. I have often seen persons in jail for felonies walking the streets of Floydada going in and out of businesses unsupervised. I am not talking about misdemeanor offenders, I am talking about drug dealers, burglars and the like.

Our sheriff has allowed felons to go home and visit with their families. I can think of one who was allowed to go home and committed another felony while out of jail on "Sheriff's Leave." In my opinion all of this is not acceptable.

We had one man in jail who was arrested for cocaine trafficking in Floyd County. He was also arrested for organized crime, to wit: cocaine trafficking out of Lubbock County involving approx. 17 other drug dealers. It was no small operation. Because of a plea bargain the state allowed him to "plead out" for possession of cocaine. The judge sentenced him to 4 years in the penitentiary.

Our sheriff felt sorry for this drug dealer and allowed him to spend his sentence in the Floyd County Jail so he would not have to go to the penitentiary.

This drug dealer was allowed by our sheriff, to answer the telephone at the jail, to run the police radio and the telephone. He was allowed to do just about anything in the jail he wanted. He was allowed to go in and out of the jail at his leisure. He was even allowed to drive a car in Floydada.

Is this the way we want our jail run? Is this the way we want drug dealers and other felons treated by our Sheriff? I assure you if Fred Cardinal is re-elected our jail will be run like this for four more years.

I could go on and on about the problems in our jail but time does not allow me to do so. I have nothing to gain by writing this letter except the hope that the people of Floyd County will realize that Fred Cardinal has been in office too long.

In November I feel we should vote for a sheriff who will keep drug dealers and other felons behind bars where they belong. For this reason I will support Ray Macha for sheriff.

Sincerely,
Leonard Gilroy

An open letter to the citizens of Floydada and Lockney;

It has come to the attention of the Police Department, the Mayor, and the City Manager (of Floydada), that citizen calls to the Police Department are not being answered. If this has happened to you I would like to apologize in person.

The unanswered calls that I know about, some were discovered two to three months later; I have personally checked into the reason. Apparently the calls I investigated were not passed on to the Floydada Police Department. None of the officers were informed by radio or telephone that a call had come in for them to the 983-2322 phone number.

The written policy of the Floydada Police Department is that EVERY call received will be answered. The only problem with this policy is that the police department must receive the call.

To correct some of this problem the Floydada Police Department and the City of Floydada are in the process of having the number of the police department placed in the telephone books by November 1988. If during this time or afterwards you do not have an officer answer your call within a reasonable time, please call the Floydada City Hall or me at my residence.

It has also come to the attention of the City Manager that the City of Floydada and the City of Lockney soon may be refused the use of the Floyd County frequency in our police radios.

If this should come to pass the back-up radio system and special police frequency which the Floydada Police Department obtained during the first part of this year would come into play. The Lockney Police Department has this frequency in their radios and through the cooperation of the City of Floydada and the City of Lockney the protection of the citizens of both towns and their property will be maintained.

During the past few weeks information was received from a deputy that after the jail has been remodeled, there will be new rules set up for the City of Floydada and the City of Lockney to sign or we can take our prisoners elsewhere. I guess we will wait to see what the "new" rules will be.

In talking with citizens of Floydada, Lockney, and officers from surrounding towns I have learned that many stories, rumors, and lies are being circulated about the Floydada Police Department, Lockney Police Department certain DPS officers, Lenny Gilroy (Chief of Police of Lockney), and myself. These stories, after checking into them, seem to have originated from the Sheriff's Office. Chief Gilroy, DPS, and I have confronted the personnel at the Sheriff's Office about the stories, but fresh rumors and lies continue to come out of that office. Deliberate discrediting and character sabotage by the Sheriff's Office have cost Floydada, Lockney and Floyd County more than fifteen officers and their families because they dared to stand up to the Sheriff's Office. But eventually they chose to leave rather than subject their families to the continuing harassment.

I will not try and answer, at this time, the trash being spread as I have faith in the citizens of Floyd County that they are not a bunch of sheep that follow rumors or base their decisions on lies.

I believe that the citizens of Floydada and Lockney realize that the men and women hired to patrol their streets, answer their calls, and protect their lives and property will act in a professional manner at all times. Belief in the citizens keep most officers going; hoping that our conduct will disprove most of the stories.

This does not mean that the citizens will agree with all the decisions made by either or both departments, but I believe that most people know that everyone is treated equally.

Again let me apologize if you feel that your calls were not handled to your satisfaction or not answered at all. If it happens again, please, feel free to contact me on Floydada calls or Chief Gilroy on Lockney calls and we will personally check into the problem.

Sincerely,
/s/ James L. Hale

Carl Lemons' News and Views from

Cedar Hill

WEATHER

"Freeze date follows 60 days behind the first norther in August" is another sign the old-timers went by. So "He that hath an ear let him hear" Mother Nature's latest warning. On Tuesday, Aug. 23, while last week's news was on the road being carried to the printer, the wind changed and gently but firmly began blowing from the north. For 24 hours, until Wednesday afternoon, the north wind continued, steady and indisputable. Residents shivered, closed their windows, and pulled up their sheets Tuesday night.

With the north wind saying October 23 and the broomweed saying October 15 the doubting Thomases can poke fun and have a field day. Scoffers beware! Nature is not to be taken lightly! It would be a fearful retribution if she should freeze things on October 15 and keep them frozen until Oct. 23.

Weather watcher, Richard Sanders, west side of the Silverton Highway, says his tribe has always used 90 days after the first norther in July. He reports a strong norther on July 20 and watch out for Oct. 20.

The National Forecast Center in Colorado warns that in most droughty years, when our nation is covered with light, moisture depleted air, cold fronts easily sweep out the warm air and we get an early freeze.

A more serious norther at mid-afternoon Saturday, Aug. 27 had people donning their jackets, and had dropped temperatures to 57 degrees before morning. Rain began falling around midnight and continued most of Sunday. This correspondent had only 45/100s in his rain gauge Monday morning, and that was for all of August. To the east Dara Ware reported 50/100s for all of August at their place on the edge of the canyons, and half an inch this spell on the Durham place two miles south of Cedar. Two and one half miles northwest of Cedar Junior Taylor caught 55/100s this time, but he had other showers in August that were nearly that good.

CROP COMMENTS

Corn harvest is imminent, most of the ears have dried enough that they have turned down, a sure sign that sap has stopped coming from the stalk. Moisture is still a little too high for samples to be cut. Now and then a stalk is down due to damage by corn borers.

Cotton that has been irrigated is well loaded but appears to have little moisture reserves. To quit or continue irrigation is still a major problem. Dryland cotton in the drier areas has really gone down this past week. Some fields have unloaded all squares and small bolls, and the leaves are yellowing. One patch has only eight bolls left per yard, which figures a little less than a quarter bale per acre. One grower says heavy rains would not revive his dryland cotton, he would have no second growth problem.

CRP farmers are still shredding many fields, while some farms had to be reseeded to cover crops. These latter were dry sowed behind the plow and at this point have not had enough moisture to germinate the seed. Now and then you see an ideal field, such as the Sid Brown estate, with its seeded grasses waving knee high or higher, and not a weed in sight. Proof that it can be done.

Cucumber prices continue to improve. Cedar has some later planted cukes coming along that should come into production just as the older vines cease to yield.

Hay growers are still looking for rain. This 24 hour shower has it washed clean and on it's best appearance, but the ground is still dry.

Milo that has been watered looks better and better. Dryland milo is suffering and growers are thinking it might be wiser to bale those patches.

Vegetable patches are winding down. Pea and bean vines are pretty well exhausted but commercial tomatoes are just now coming into production. Early ripeners are supplying local demands but shipping will begin as soon as we have a few clear, warm days.

PEOPLE

Monday, Aug. 22: For the second Monday morning in a row Edna Gilly joined friends and relatives at Floydada's Caprock Hospital where her aunt Clara Redd had surgery related to, but more serious than, that of a week ago. Clara's surgeon reported excellent results and feels sure there will be no further complications.

Thursday, Aug. 25: Friends and relatives of Linda Gayle Lemons, of Lockney, met at Lubbock's Methodist Hospital where she underwent major surgery. Exploratory surgery had been performed at Lockney's General Hospital the week before. She was released and returned home Tuesday, Aug. 30. Linda's surgeon has prescribed a series of chemotherapy treatments as a follow-up for an indefinite period of time.

Friday of last week the Rev. Bud Morton family returned from several days visit with his father's family at Thackerville, Oklahoma. They came back driving a big new Oldsmobile. Rev. Bud will be hard to identify without that little red Ford.

Monday, Aug. 22: It was a joint birthday supper for Phyllis Harris and her son Terry, complete with ice cream, cake, the whole works, out here in the country at Cephus and Imogene's house.

The assembly line has started up again at Durrell Fortenberry's Excel Co. Deliveries to dealers are keeping someone on the road most of the time Durrell's stepson, Roy Hill, has returned to his former position in the shop.

Tuesday, Aug. 30: Graveside services for Daris Hill, 58, were held Tuesday morning at 10:30 a.m. at the Floydada cemetery. He was admitted to Floydada's Caprock Hospital Friday, Aug. 28, due to symptoms of irregularity with his heart. He was stricken by a major heart attack around 10:00 Sunday morning and succumbed at 6:00 p.m.

Daris first moved to Cedar Hill nearly

25 years ago and later bought the Vonnie Fortenberry residence next to the Assembly of God parsonage. He still owned the place and lived there at the time of his death. He had worked for several nearby outfits, being a good dependable hand at nearly any job, but he was most comfortable and at his best working with cattle.

Earlier, the week he died, his fellow workers were unable to start the motor to a lake pump and they finally sent for Daris. From the water's edge he gave instructions and soon the pump was in operation. He was proud to be able to do those kinds of things, and he was useful to the end. Due to poor health his activities were somewhat limited those last few years, but his was a DOING nature. He always said, "Idleness hurts me worse than hard work."

There is no power on earth that can neutralize the influence of a high, pure, simple, and useful life.

Funds needed to erect monument for officers

In an effort to honor the men and women law enforcement officers slain in the line of duty, Congress in 1984 unanimously authorized a memorial to law enforcement officers who have died in the line of duty. Like the Vietnam memorial, this memorial would be erected on public property but it must be privately financed.

Work must begin by Oct. 19, 1989. Apart from the land, no government funds will be used for building the memorial. The cost of the memorial is estimated at $5 million, and more than one-half million dollars have been raised from corporations, organizations and more than 50,000 individual do-

The Memorial will be located in Washington, D.C. on 4.5 acres of federal park land, called Judiciary Square. This prominent site is just a few blocks from the U.S. Capitol and a short walk from the National Mall. It is flanked by the old Police Court and Municipal Court buildings. The National Peace Officers Memorial Day ceremony will be held annually at the Memorial. Last year more than 5,000 law enforcement officers as well as family members and friends of officers killed the previous year traveled from states throughout the U.S. to the nation's capital to participate in the ceremony.

Approximately 30,000 law enforcement officers have been killed on duty in the history of the U.S. in 1986 (latest

Curtain opens on 1988 football season

By Bill Gray

The grueling "two-a-days" are over! Since early August, the Floydada Whirlwinds — along with squads throughout the state — have been preparing for Friday night's OPENING GAME, 1988. Except for scrimmages against Post and Lubbock Cooper, the 'Winds have spent these past weeks squaring off against each other. It is now time to see the results of an extensive off-season conditioning program and rugged drills held under the unrelenting August sun.

In the opening scrimmage against the Post Antelopes, Floydada made a respectable showing, although having to overcome a number of early-season errors. If last Friday's tune-up against Lubbock Cooper was an indication of things to come, there should be some smiling faces around Whirlwind territory this Fall.

As expected, the Floydada defense was aggressive and intimidating. In Cooper's initial offensive sets, the Pirates made several first downs, but were unable to penetrate the Whirlwind 30-yard-line. This was the case throughout the evening as the Pirates failed to score against the 'Wind defense. It is difficult to single out any one individual for outstanding play as the entire 'Wind defensive unit did an excellent job of containing the Pirate ground game. Time after time, Cooper failed to move the ball through the stingy Floydada interior.

Unable to move on the ground, the Pirates went to the air — much to their dismay. After a couple of nice pass completions, it appeared that Cooper was zeroing in on the Floydada endzone. But, Grant Stovall had different ideas! Anticipating an out-pattern, Stovall stepped in front of the intended receiver, grabbed the aerial and breezed untouched down the right sideline for an 80-yard TD romp.

This unexpected score by the defensive unit stirred the Whirlwind offense, which really got untracked during their first series of plays. Two methodical, ground-eating drives set up a pair of scores by Frank Suarez. Grant Stovall hit paydirt again when he scored off the option following another error-free drive. Again, lightning struck the Cooper pass game, as Armando Morales picked off a Pirate toss and carried it to the end zone. The avalanche of scoring was finalized when QB Chad Quisenberry kept the ball on the option, picked up several key blocks, and crossed the Cooper end stripe from 22 yards out. Impressive performances also were turned in by Kenneth Collins (Sophomore, 185-lbs.), Ismail Delgado (Junior, 170-lbs.), and Joe Cisneros (Junior, 145-lbs.). The scoring summary: Floydada Whirlwinds - 6 touchdowns;

Cooper Pirates - 0.

Without actual game conditions (kicking game, penalties assessed, etc.), it is difficult to say what the score would have been in the final analysis against Lubbock Cooper. But, the Whirlwind defense clearly established that it is ready to take up where it left off in 1987, when only 290 passing yards were allowed in ten games. The offense seems to be very comfortable with the wishbone attack, and executed well; the unit was very impressive in several long scoring drives. The 'Winds will be highly regarded by their opponents. This point was confirmed by the attendance of several Idalou coaches at the Cooper scrimmage.

Friday's game with Idalou will be a real test for Floydada's defense as the Wildcats come calling with one of the most talented players on the Plains, QB Tracy Saul. Running out of the "I," Saul is as close to a triple-threat player one will see in today's high school football. He can run, has a better than average arm, and also is quite a kicker. Saul is a legitimate All-State candidate, as is his favorite target, receiver Trevor Bell.

If the Floydada offense continues its almost flawless execution shown in the Cooper scrimmage, the Whirlwind-Wildcat matchup should be a whale of a season opener. The 'Winds came out of pre-season play without any serious injuries, which will be the KEY for a successful season and a possible run at the 2AAA title. While the 'Winds have good talent at skill positions, they still have problems with a lack of numbers. This depth problem is nothing new, but it is something that causes coaches sleepless nights and worrisome days. Shane Orman, who has been held out for a couple of weeks due to a shoulder injury, should be ready and will add to the depth chart in the offensive line.

The long, hard summer practices are history. As they say at Indianapolis (I think in another sport), "Gentlemen...Start your engines!" This writer's "Picks of the Week":

CONTEST RULES

Any Hesperian subscriber or individual above the age of 7 who purchases a Hesperian from a newsrack is eligible to enter this newspaper's weekly football contest, except employees of Floyd County newspapers.

To play, circle on official entry form the numbers of teams you believe will win this week's games. To indicate a tie, circle both teams playing a particular game. In addition, indicate in the tie-breaker football your guess on the total number of points to be scored by the two teams listed.

The only entries considered for prizes will be those appearing on official entry forms and those brought to the Hesperian office by 5 p.m. Friday.

Three cash prizes are offered weekly. In the event of ties - the same number of correct games and equal scores on the tie breaker - prize money will be shared among those involved in the tie. The tie-breaker score will be utilized only in the event of a tie on the number of games missed.

In the contest to determine the season winner and the recipient of the two tickets to the Nov. 24 Dallas Cowboys-Houston Oilers game in Dallas, each contestant will receive one point for each correct game selected on an official form throughout the season.

Print name and address plainly on official entry form and double check that your choices of winners have been circled.

Enter one entry per person per week. Weekly winners are limited to one per household.

Changes in carrying charges set

New rules for payment eligibility

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has announced new rules for determining whether a person is "actively engaged in farming" or payment eligibility.

Milton Hertz, executive vice president of USDA's Commodity Credit Corporation, said Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service county committees are now required to determine whether a person meets the "actively engaged in farming" requirement for payment eligibility under 1989 and 1990 price support and production adjustment programs and the Conservation Reserve Program. For the 1988 and previous crops, the only requirement for payment eligibility was to be identified as a producer.

Hertz said the payment limitation decisions were made after reviewing comments received in response to proposed rules issues April 6.

Other changes that have been incorporated in the final rules are:

— Significant contributions of active personal management will no longer be determined based upon the hours provided for management, but will be determined based upon the activities which are critical to the profitability of the farming operation.

— A member of a joint operation owning land may qualify as being actively engaged in farming under the landowner provisions if it is documented that, upon dissolution of the joint operation, the member would receive a share of the land.

— Cash rent tenants renting equipment from the landowner at a fair market value may qualify as separate persons from the landowner for payment limitation purposes under the cash rent tenant provisions.

— Stockholders who collectively own at least 50 percent of the stock of a corporation must contribute active personal labor or active personal management for the corporation to be considered actively engaged in farming.

— Noncitizens (persons who are not aliens lawfully admitted into the U.S. for permanent residence and entities in which such individuals have an ownership interest of more than 10 percent) will be ineligible to receive certain payments, unless these persons are providing land, capital, and a substantial amount of personal labor to the farming operation.

The final rules will be published in the Aug. 5 Federal Register.

USDA, in response to a request from the National Cotton Council and other interest organizations, has announced it will forgive enough carrying charges on cotton loans to allow cotton to be redeemed with cash at the adjusted world price.

The move, effective immediately, is expected to ensure that U.S. upland cotton will be more competitive in world markets.

"This is another major step by USDA in making U.S. cotton competitive in world markets," said Council President Billy Dunavant. "It will especially strengthen the ability of the U.S. to compete against southern hemisphere cotton. It also is a testament to our industry's ability to unite and to work in concert with USDA to achieve positive results."

Agriculture Secretary Richard Lyng already had approved three other cotton program changes requested by the Council: (1) revising the transportation cost formula, (2) allowing loan cotton to be redeemed at premium/discount levels in effect when it entered the loan, and (3) allowing the coarse-count adjustment on a broader range of cottons.

Under the new procedure for cash redemptions, when the adjusted world price (AWP) is below the loan rate, CCC will not require the payment of any interest and will pay all of the warehouse charges. When the AWP is above the loan rate by less than the sum of the accrued interest and warehouse charges, CCC will pay enough of the accrued warehouse charges to permit the loan cotton to be redeemed at the AWP.

When the AWP is above the loan rate by as much or more than the sum of accrued carrying charges, CCC will require the payment of all accrued interest and will not pay any of the accrued warehouse charges. In such cases, the loan may be repaid at the loan rate plus accrued interest and any warehouse charges previously paid by CCC.

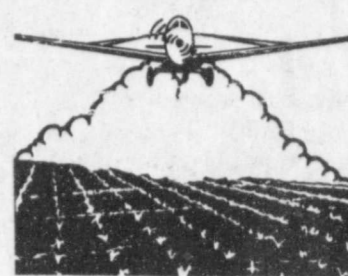

Under the previous plan, when cotton loans were redeemed with cash, the redeemer was required to pay all the accrued interest plus warehouse charges previously paid by CCC.

USDA's latest action does not alter current procedures for loan redemptions with certificates.

Marketing workshop set on futures and options

Although price may be beyond a producers' control, timing of pricing decisions and marketing strategy are in his control, said Dr. Jackie G. Smith, agricultural economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in Lubbock.

The Extension service is offering four in-depth Futures and Options Workshops in September 1988 and February 1989. The two-day workshops will provide market updates and training in pricing alternatives available to producers, emphasizing the use of commodity futures and options.

The first two trainings will be held Sept. 6-7 in Tahoka, and Sept. 8-9 in Lubbock. Participation in the workshops is not restricted to residents of the host counties.

Registration fee for the sessions is $20. This covers the cost of a large notebook with current examples and materials for future reference. Deadline for registration is Aug. 26.

Dr. Carl Anderson, Extension economist and cotton marketing specialist, and Dr. Mark Waller, Extension economist and grain marketing specialist, both from College Station, will teach the 12-hour workshops focusing on cotton.

These workshops will be of special importance to Lubbock and Lynn County producers, since the United States Department of Agriculture Pilot Futures and Options program, which involves both counties, will be discussed. This training will also qualify participants, for the pilot program.

In February 1989, a Futures and Options Workshop in Dimmitt will focus on grain marketing. A program in Gail will serve livestock producers.

"The rewards for making wise decisions have remained high, but more importantly, the consequences of ineffective marketing decisions can be disastrous," said Smith.

Smith added that farmers and ranchers should consider investing more time and effort analyzing market trends and pricing strategies.

Producers interested in the September cotton sessions should contact Lubbock County Extension Agent Stanley Young at telephone 741-8084, or Lynn County Extension Agent Brett Cypert at 998-4650.

"No comment" on boll weevil control program

Reporters on the trail of a story hate to hear "no comment."

But "no comment" was the big story August 3 at a public hearing in Lubbock on environmental concerns related to boll weevil control and eradication efforts. The High Plains Boll Weevil Control Program, now in its 25th year, drew not a single adverse comment. "To us," program officials say, "that means we must be doing something right."

The U.S. Department of Agriculture's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS) called the hearing to receive public comment in the process of preparing a court-ordered environmental impact statement on a proposed federal-state-industry eradication program spanning the U.S. Cotton Belt. A similar hearing was held August 1 in Montgomery, Alabama, and another August 5 in Phoenix, Arizona.

Only six statements were presented at the lightly attended Lubbock hearing, all of them lauding the High Plains program as a boon to area cotton production and the High Plains economy while posing no threat to environmental safety. In contrast, a USDA source reported, the Alabama hearing produced 25 witnesses, five of whom testified in opposition to the spray program that started last year in 21 south Alabama counties.

It was in Alabama that two environmental groups and two north Alabama cotton growers last April filed for an injunction against the eradication program, alleging, among other things, misuse of chemicals. The suit was settled in July, with the judge allowing the program to continue under an agreement that USDA would prepare an environmental impact statement for all U.S. programs, that specified safety procedures would be followed, advance notice of sprayings would be published, and producers would re-vote on the program before May, 1989.

The High Plains program has retained a high level of public acceptance, producer Jarrell Edwards of Borden County told the Lubbock hearing judge, through "intense training, management, spraying selectivity and close attention to sensitive areas." Edwards is Chairman of the Boll Weevil Steering Committee, a committee of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., the organization that has conducted the High Plains program from the beginning.

He pointed out that the chemical used in the program, ultra-low volume malathion, is a low toxicity, non-persistent insecticide with no long-range adverse effects on any desirable species. On management he said control zone fields are precisely mapped to shape and scale and sprayed only after two surveys confirm the level of infestations.

In addition, Edwards continued, contractor and pilots receive detailed briefings on a daily basis, every field is flagged and watched during chemical applications, aircraft are calibrated and checked for leaks after every load, and "pilots guilty of chemical misuse are dismissed on the spot."

Despite its success in protecting High Plains cotton production since 1964, the program does have one weakness, Edwards admitted.

Because of in-migration from outside the control zone, it cannot be expected to achieve eradication and must be repeated year after year.

Therefore, he assured, the APHIS long-term plan to include the High Plains in a beltwide eradication effort "has our full support."

Annual Ag Field Day set for September 13

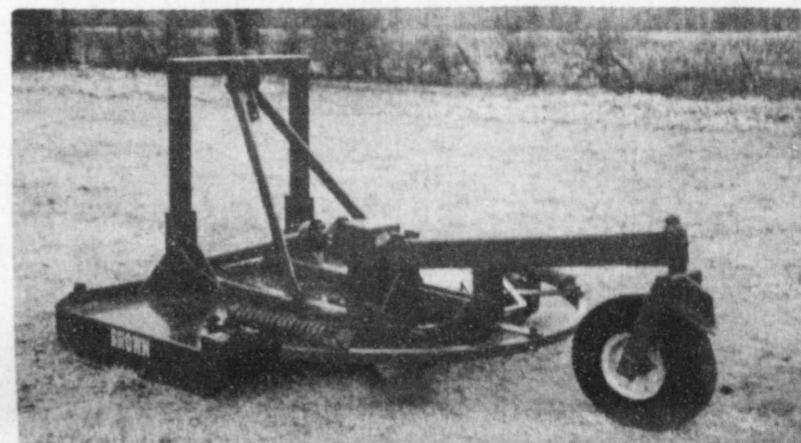

The 79th Annual Field Day is rapidly approaching. You are invited to attend.

The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station located at Lubbock will host its annual Field Day on Tuesday, September 13, from 11:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. Other agencies at the Center and cooperating in the event are the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, High Plains Research Foundation, Texas Forest Service, and the USDA-ARS.

The New, Improved BROWN TREE CUTTER

When Dependability Is Needed, Brown Supplies It

Ideal for cleaning mesquite pasture. Cuts mesquite trees 14" in diameter.

■ The 4 heavy duty cutting blades are reversible for double life and have alternating beveled edges to give a chopping action.

■ The Blade Holder is built from one solid plate which prevents breakage and cracking and by using a 1" plate a tremendous flywheel action is created. This flywheel action gives more cutting power and reduces gear box and drive line failure.

■ 90 Horse Power heavy duty gear box and torque limiter.

■ 2" heavy duty output shaft with 15 point tapered root spline provides positive seating of shaft to blade holder. Straddle mounted input shaft for more rigid support.

■ Enclosed grease seal gives protection from wire, vines, etc.

■ 90 Horse Power heavy duty slip clutch has four linings for sure protection.

■ Heavy duty tail wheel assembly has a 3 x 5 tubular arm on the 6 foot cutter and a 3 x 4 tubular arm on the 5 foot cutter with a replaceable caster tube. The tail wheel is mounted in a fork for extra support and longer life. The fork has a 2" caster shaft and the wheel guard is a solid plate with its contact point off center from the caster shaft. This protects the tail wheel assembly from a direct hit when backing into brush and trees. The tail wheel has a 1 1/4" axle with a full bearing adjustment for longer bearing life.

■ The Tree Cutter deck is made of 1/4" plate on the 6 foot cutter and 3/16" plate on the 5 foot cutter. The frame is made of heavy 3 x 3 square tubing.

■ The A-frame is made of 3 x 3 square tubing for extra strength and is straddle mounted between the 4 lower hitch plates which are braced against stress from all directions. These features make this the strongest hitch possible and will eliminate the problems common to 3 point hitches.

■ The Limb Guard is made of heavy duty tubular steel and is arc welded. The limb guard is designed to protect the operator from limbs and brush, however, the tractor should have an additional extra heavy guard to protect the operator in the event of a large tree falling directly toward the operator.

FNB features local artists in show

The First National Bank of Floydada has collected an exciting and delightfully unique exhibit of art work for the month of September. In keeping with the spirit of Homecoming '88, the exhibit will be composed entirely of works by graduates of Floydada High School who have pursued their artistic talents professionally or as a continuing hobby and avocation.

"I think the viewers are going to be both surprised and delighted to discover just how many graduates of Floydada High School have achieved their goals in the realm of the visual arts," said Martha Farris, co-ordinator of the event. "From one of the earlier graduates, Maye Carr Williams, who will display oil on porcelain paintings, to one of the most recent graduates, Larry Smith, who does pencil portraits, we have such a tremendous variety of subject matter spanning the many art mediums."

Former FHS students scheduled to display samples of their work in the field of photography include Ken Barker (Seattle, Washington), Nancy Lloyd Barker, David Barker and Carol Reeves Reese (all of Floydada) and John Charles Farris (New Orleans, Louisiana).

Displaying oil paintings will be Naomi Hodges Battey (Paris, Texas), Winnie LeGrone Carthel (Clovis, New Mexico), Larry Smitherman (Austin, Texas), Mildred Burke Cates, Frances Field Staniforth, Jill Bertrand Warren, and Olin M. Watson Jr. (all of Floydada). Maye Carr Williams (Floydada) will also be represented by her oil on porcelain offering.

The medium of watercolors will be present in works by Christi Brown Johnson (Austin, Texas) who does Chinese watercolors and a submission from the late Ted Bell. Penny McClintock Golightly has submitted a work using acrylics and Larry Smith (both of Floydada) will be showing an ink drawing.

Pencil drawings by Donna Bertrand Robillard (Lawton, Oklahoma), Tony Shipley (Lubbock) and Larry Smith (Floydada) will join the colored pencil work of Jill Stansell Seale (Dallas, Texas). Dane Clark (Kapaa, Kauai, Hawaii), Bill Staniforth and Beth Crawford Pratt (both of Floydada) have not yet specified the medium of their art submission from among their multiple talents.

Lisa Gregory Mosley (Lockney) will be displaying pottery and Robert Pyle (Floydada) will have sculpture on exhibit.

Everyone is urged to stop in and see the works of this most unusual and talented group of alumni. The display will be on exhibit during the month of September and will be available to the public during regular business hours at FNB Floydada.

ACROSS THE YEARS—Spanning a time frame of almost 50 years of talent, these local residents, all graduates of FHS, will be among those represented in the September art exhibit at First National Bank of Floydada. Pictured are (l-r) Bill Staniforth (class of '66), Jill Warren (class of '70), Penny Golightly (class of '69), Larry Smith (class of '85) and Mildred Cates (class of '36). —Staff photo
