'Spirit of the Winds' grows by 20 students

Things are looking up for this year's high school band, the Spirit of the Winds. Not only are the students excited about the new band ball, but they are joined by a new and excited band director.

Not only is the director, John Odom, new, but so are over 20 new students who enrolled in band this year. "Last year we had 48 or 50 students in band," said Odom. "This year in 9-12th grade alone we have 71 students. We didn't have any tuba or french horn players, and we now have three new tuba players and four new french horn players. We have also purchased some new trumpets."

Odom not only teaches the high school band, but he is also responsible for the junior high band. The junior high band has an enrollment of 74 students.

"Junior high band usually only plays at the junior high pep rallies and their football games. This year, weather permitting, the junior high will march in a pre-game show at the last home varsity game," said Odom.

The new band hall has also added a sense of pride to the musicians. "I feel it's kind in this part of the state. It will offer us more storage space and rehearsal space. The storage space will also be just storage space instead of rehearsal space too," said Odom. "Now all our equipment won't be spread out between two campuses."

"The kids are working very hard. They have developed a good sense of pride about themselves and the band. They are going to do everything they can to make Floydada proud of them."

Floydada enrollment down from 1987-1988

1233 students have enrolled in Floydada schools as of September 7. This represents a decrease of 94 students. The high mark enrollment figure for the 1987-88 school year was 1,327.

"Our biggest decrease in enrollment," said Superintendent Jerry Cannon comes from the high school. We are about 30-35 kids short from last year. It's hard to tell from year to year what the enrollment will be. The enrollment is in good shape now. We are anticipating the same overall enrollment as last year, however it looks like high school will be less."

Duncan's first, second and third grades showed the only increase in enrollment. The largest class, second grade, totaled 106, which was up 11 students from last year. An increase of one student was seen in the first grade and third grade also showed an increase

Duncan expects more children will register for kindergarten after the 19th when children will start going to school for a full day instead of half a day.

Decreases by campuses this week were: Duncan, 17; Andrews, 34; Junior High, 10; and High School, 26.

"We expect more students later," said Cannon. "We are excited about the school year. We have six new classrooms in Duncan and have added five new teachers to Duncan Elementary to meet the 1:22 ratio. The K-4 classes are almost full."

Jean Hale takes first football contest prize

Results of the first week in the annual football contest are in and the scores are a bit surprising. It seems that there were either a great many upset victories this past weekend in high school, college and professional football, or else our readers are just a teeny bit out of practice at selecting winners.

Jean Hale, one of the leaders in last year's contest, came in with a first place winner this week. She incorrectly picked just five games. This earns her $10.00 in prize money and the leading spot in overall scoring towards the Cowboys-Oilers tickets at the end of the contest. Her point total now stands at 17.

Second place went to Sherry Hale, another top prognosticator from the 1987 contest. Hale missed on only 6 games giving her a point total of 16. She will receive the second place prize of Steve Brooks earned the $4.00 third place check with an entry which posted only 7 incorrect game winners. His point total now stands at 15.

Prize winners will be able to pick up their checks at the Hesperian office on Friday, September 9.

Nine persons receive honorable mention this week with entries which had eight incorrect answers. They include Lucio Vasquez, Frankie Luna, Joy Allen, Lisa Mosley, the Turner Twins, Terry Turner, Tom Moore, Doug Ward and Amy McCormick.

Readers are reminded to turn in their entry each week in order to accumulate points towards the season end prize of tickets to the Cowboys-Oilers game in Dallas on Thanksgiving Day. We would also like to remind those entering that they must circle the winners on the entry blank, NOT THE FOOTBALLS. Also remember to pick a TOTAL score for the tie-breaker game. The tie-breaker was not a determining factor this week, but will be used to break ties in the event two or more entries miss the same number of games.

Sixty-eight entries were received this week and competition should become very lively as the season progresses.

Lion's Club prepares for pancake supper

The Floydada Lions Club will hold their annual pancake supper on Friday night, Sept. 16, from 5:00 to 7:30 p.m. Pancakes will be served at the junior high school cafeteria located just north of Wester Field immediately preceding the Floydada-Lockney football game.

Tickets are priced at $3.00 for adults and $1.50 for children under 12.

Proceeds from this activity go towards various Lions projects, such as Lions Eye Bank, Scout programs, Cripple Childrens Camp, plus many, many others. So come on out and support your Lions Club by participation in this worthwhile project.

Teenagers share many similarities the entire Rainer family. and differences here and in West Berlin, according to 16-year-old Norman Langhoff, Floydada High School's AFS exchange student.

Arriving in Floydada, Aug. 19, Norman settled in with Bobby and Noma Lou Rainer. Coming from the Steglitz district of West Berlin, Norman has noticed a big difference in the way American teenagers spend their spare

"There are 1.8 million people living in West Berlin, which is 185 square miles. Teenagers do not have cars and drive like they do here," says Norman. "You cannot obtain a license until you are 18 years old, and only then after you go through a very strict school which costs about $1,000."

Needless to say driving up and down the drag is not a teenage past time in West Berlin. "In America there is much more street and space." The Langhoff family of four has one car, so a bike is used by Norman to get back and forth to school. Much of the travel in town is done by bus and subways.

"I have noticed that weekends are very special to American teenagers. Their school days are longer which allows for less spare time. When they are off from school, they want to go somewhere else and do something. Because we have more spare time, German teenagers go more often. I visit my best friend a lot, who lives 10 minutes away. I play the guitar, go shopping at record stores and we enjoy going to sporting events (soccer mostly). My family does not watch that much T.V."

Many American teenagers would be glad to know that not only is there T.V. in West Berlin, but also Cable T.V., including MTV.

"MTV is very big in Germany. Pop music like Madonna and Michael Jackson are popular and so is easy listening (George Michael) and RAP music. My favorite is Bruce Springsteen (easy rock and roll). I enjoy playing his kind of music on my guitar and I also enjoy playing classical music."

"He is very good on his guitar," stated

Even though school has just begun, Norman feels the subjects he will enjoy the most are the ones he cannot take at home, such as; speech, home economics, typing, drafting, accounting, record keeping and the sports. The American courses that are similar to West Berlin's are English (Norman speaks fluent English), algebra, and government. "Our school days go from 8:00 a.m. until 1:30 p.m.," said Norman.

"Even though Norman (who will be 17 in November) is a senior here and will go through the graduation ceremony with the class of '89, he will not truly be through with school," said Bobby Rainer

"When I return to West Berlin I will probably have to take two or three more years of school. Our schools are set up different than yours," explained Nor-

"After the sixth grade (Grundschule or Elementary) you have a choice of three other schools. You can continue in a school called Hauptschule (or Mainschool) from the 7th-9th grade. In this school you learn a trade. After the 9th grade you go work for a firm as an apprentice.

"Or you may choose Realschule, 7th-10th grade. People who leave here usually go work for banks and places like that. If you choose to further your education from Realschule you may do so.

"The school I am in is called Gymnasium. It is 7th-13th grade. When you graduate from here you get an Abitur (or diploma). You must have an Abitur to continue on to college."

Though he enjoys being away from home Norman misses his best friend and is looking forward to meeting people at school and making some new friends. Since arriving in the United States, he has traveled to Albuquerque and Colorado. "The countryside is different here in Floydada. In West Berlin it is gently rolling and there are lots of forests."

Because of the large population and small area, the Langhoff family along with other West Berilners enjoy getting away from their crowded and noisy cities. Many West Berliners travel to their Schreber gardens out of the city for peace and quiet and beautiful scenery. The history of these gardens are a reminder in itself of what the German people have been through. "After WWII there were so many ruins that a man named Schreber wanted to bring beauty back to people. He wanted people to see land without ruins on it so he divided up some of his property into lots for people to have gardens. At first the lots were given to people, but now they are leased.

"In the beginning mostly potatoes were raised because it was a very poor time and there was not much to eat. Now they are used like weekend retreats.

"We grow apple, plum and cherry trees. Flowers are also raised and for the first time this year we raised potatoes. We also have a lot of lawn."

The 500 square meter lot was passed down to the Langhoff family from Normans mother's mother. The lot now contains two small cottages. "They are very neat lots, very compact and efficient," said Bobby and Noma Lou Rainer, who visited with the Langhoffs during the summer."The cottages are on the order of a travel trailer as far as how much room and and what is in it."

"It is very quiet at the garden," said Norman, "but it is a lot of work.

"A lot of gardens form a colony. The colony then elects a board of directors to oversee business arrangements."

Remembering their visit to Norman's home, Bobby and Noma Lou Rainer commented, "It is very clean. The streets are immaculate and there are no chug holes. The gardens and trees are beautiful but the buildings are a drab grey and brown."

"Because of the housing shortage after the war the buildings were built very fast and the achitecture is very 'hodge podge'," said Rainer.

"Norman's family was wonderful to us," said Noma Lou. "I enjoyed visiting with them and I would only go back to see them, because overall I thought the

Letters to The Editor...

Dear Editor,

I read the letters to the Editor in last week's paper and I have also heard there are some people who don't believe that the Sheriff would let things like that go

I know things like that do go on because I was a victim and I would like for the people of this county to know what happened to me.

I won't call names because it would not benefit anyone.

A girlfriend and I had a mutual friend who was locked up in the jail in Floydada. She had gone to see our friend in jail the day before I got involved. She told me that a deputy would not let her see him, because they were going to take him to Lubbock. She went outside and was sitting in her car. This trustee came out to her car and asked if she wanted to get a message to the guy that was in jail and she said yes. The trustee told her that he would have to sneak it in, but he could get a message to him for her she wrote a message on a piece of paper and gave it to the trustee. He took it to our friend and brought back a message from him.

The next morning she called me to go with her to pick up our friend's car from the Sheriff. When we got to the jail there was a guy sitting outside and my friend told me that he was the trustee that had taken the message the day before. We went in and made arrangements with the Sheriff to pick up the car.

When we got outside this trustee stopped us and said that there was a man in jail that was being sent back to Old Mexico, that had been working for a man here and had a payroll check that he couldn't cash in Mexico, and asked if we would cash it for him. He handed my friend a check for $235 and said here is the check and here is his I.D. He gave her a drivers license that had the same name as the check.

We went and got our friend's car then we went to Pay N Save to cash the check. My friend had left her drivers license at home, so I had to use my drivers license to get it cashed.

When we drove up in back of the jail, this trustee was sitting on the steps. My friend got out and took the money to him, then we went home.

The next Saturday morning Pay N Save called me and told me that the check was no good. I called the man that was supposed to have signed the check and I found out that he had not signed that check. It had been forged.

I called my friend and told her that the check was no good. She came over and said that the trustee had called her the night before and had another check he wanted her to cash for another guy, and he was willing to pay her $20 for her trouble if she would get it cashed for

We went to Pay N Save and payed for the other check and picked it up, then we went to the jail. The trustee was sitting on the back steps. My friend got out and he handed her a check and a Social Security card. The check this time was for almost $200.

We saw who the check was made out to so we went to a pay phone and called the jail to see if this man was locked up there. They said they didn't have anybody by that name. We took the check and went home.

About two days later we thought we might be in trouble because this trustee kept calling my friend, wanting his money. We didn't know what to do, so we called the police who called a deputy and he took our statements and the two

Later we found out that this trustee had already been to prison two or three times for forgery and was back in jail for forgery again then. While he was supposed to be locked up, the Sheriff started letting him go home at night and he had forged another check to a grocery store. This was before he gave us the checks.

They called from the jail a few days later and wanted us to identify the guy that gave us the checks. When we got to the jail they put us in an office. There was a deputy and the Sheriff in there with us. The Sheriff called this trustee in the office and told him to sit down. The Sheriff asked the trustee if he had ever seen my friend before and he said no. She said yes, you know me. He said, "No, I've never seen you before." The Sheriff was standing next to the door. I looked at the Sheriff and he had a grin on his face and just shook his head and told us we could go. I didn't know what to do or what to say because the Sheriff didn't ask us anything. He took the word of the trustee and just told us we could go!

As far as I know charges were never filed and I'm still out $235 and the Sheriffs Department still has the second check that he gave us and charges were not filed on it either.

This has happened to us and I feel that if it happens again to someone else the Sheriff wouldn't do anything then ei-

Homecoming will be September 16 and 17. A large number of out of town exes are making plans to be here for the event. So, I would like to encourage each one of the local exes to make every effort to be present. The out of town people want to see and visit with you. Please don't disappoint them and the people who have worked so hard planning this Homecoming.

This reunion is for anyone who has ever attended the Floydada schools during anytime. You do not have to be a graduate of Floydada High School.

Okay! Local Exes! Let's all be there! We are proud to live in our home town. Sincerely,

Jaynette Harrison

To the Editor:

I'm writing this letter because I'm worried about the safety of my family and our business. We moved to this town very excited to build a good business and help the community anyway we could.

It has been brought to my attention that the problem in the law enforcement is very real and it's time to act on the part of the citizens and the city fathers. The way I see it anyone that wears a badge is the law whether it's the Sheriff's Department, City Police or D.P.S. In Floyd County we have only 9 or 10 officers, that's not many for a county this size. If they are not all working together we, the citizens, are in very serious trouble. I have always been told teamwork is the best policy and I have seen first hand that is not the way in Floydada.

Our business was broke into and burglarized early one Saturday morning, the police were called and responded very quickly, notes were taken, no fingerprints or pictures of footprints were taken.

The first officer was on the premises about one hour. He said pictures would be taken at daylight. It was 11:30 in the morning before anything else was done. By this time all good evidence was blown away by the wind. It was about 4:00 in the afternoon before we were questioned again, by this time I felt the stuff that was stolen was long gone and it was too late. And at the present time we have heard nothing. No one knows anything. To me there is a big communication problem in the law enforcement, it has to be a team effort not one or two people on a glory trip. I truly believe we have good law enforcement personnel in Floyd county and don't like to see them try to make one look bad over the other by finding dirt to say. We all make mistakes and I do know first hand by seeing and reading something needs to be done today, not later, because the ones it's hurting is my family and yours.

MDA pledges doubled over last year's total

Volunteers, firemen and the generosity of Floydada citizens were responsible for this year's $2,550 pledged for the MDA fund raising drive.

"That is a subtotal," said Chairman Mike Reeves. "I believe we have some more pledged today (Tuesday). The total is already more than double of money raised last year.

"The money is a total of the "Fill The Boot" campaign conducted on Aug. 27, the Nielson's Restaurant Jail and Bail, and the calls that came in to the pledge center at the Floydada Fire Hall."

The Fill The Boot campaign was conducted by firemen at Pay-n-Save, Shop Rite and in the downtown area. The firemen carried the boots asking for donations to fill them up.

The Nielson's Restaurant Jail and Bail was an entertaining hour for local volunteers. Volunteers were kidnapped, taken to a phone at Nielson's and were not allowed out until they had either called enough people to come up with $50 in pledges or a time limit of one

Hickerson-Dawson say promises

The second secon

The Worship Center of Prestonwood Baptist Church in Dallas was the setting for the ceremony uniting Tolya Valan Hickerson and Bruce Warren Dawson of Dallas at 2 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 3. The couple pledged their marriage promises before Dr. F.C. Bradley, Baptist District Area Missionary from Plainview, as they stood before an archway of candles and spheres of candles accented with greenery that encased the wedding party. The aisle was decorated with white satin pew bows with greenery accents.

Parents of the couple are Mack and Gail Hickerson of Floydada and Vivian Williams and Jim Dawson of Hutchinson, Kansas.

Escorted and presented in marriage by her father, the bride chose a Galina design formal gown of white satin and French alencon lace.

Her fitted bodice featured a Sabrina neckline, with a fitted dropped waist, made of satin and appliqued lace motifs with heavy pearl and sequin beading. The back had a dramatic opening edged in scalloped French lace and accented by a large satin bow. Princess sleeves were puffed at the shoulders with formal tapered lace to the wrist. The formal length skirt was edged with scalloped lace at the hemline and scattered appliques above the lace border. Beaded lace medallions were scattered over the chapel train.

Her headpiece, a pearl wreath, was attached to a short veil, sprinkled with pearls and sequins and completed with a large pouf.

The bridal bouquet consisted of a cascading array of gardenias, bridal white roses and stephanotis.

In keeping with tradition, the bride had as something old, six pence given to her by Mrs. T.J. Bond of Waco, her Kappa Kappa Gamma sponsor during college. Something new was her attire; something borrowed was a pair of pearl earrings from Mrs. Jeff King of Dallas and something blue was a garter, given to her by Mrs. V.H. Kellison, the bride's maternal grandmother. She also carried a white ivory backed Holy Bible carried by her mother at her wedding.

Serving the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Fred Seal of Dallas. She wore a tea length dress in cerise, featuring short sleeves with petals and a flower of self fabric on each sleeve. A basque waist and sweetheart neckline, with low v-back, accented the ensemble. She carried a bouquet of stargazer lillies, deudrobium orchids and minuette roses in a cascade design.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hickerson chose a mauve sheared crepe dress featuring long sleeves with heavy lace trim and pleated skirt. She wore a corsage of white gardenias.

The mother of the groom wore a periwinkle blue crepe dress with long sleeves and full skirt. She also wore a gardenia corsage.

The groom was attired in a traditional classic cutaway tuxedo of solid dark charcoal gray with a white winged tip collar shirt and dark matching cummerbund.

Matthew Kearney of Dallas acted as best man. He was attired in a traditional classic stroller tuxedo of dark charcoal gray with white winged tip collar shirt and dark band matching cummerbund.

Ushers were Blake Hickerson of Fort Worth, brother of the bride; Fred Williams of Hutchinson, brother of the groom; Eric Schrock of Edmond, Oklahoma, brother-in-law of the groom, and Jon Jones of Dallas. They wore dark suits with white shirts and matching turquoise ties accented with a cerise color design. All male members of the wedding party wore minuette rose bouterniores.

Musical selections for the ceremony were presented by Dr. William R. Hanson of Dallas on the organ. Mrs. Phil Pierce of Dallas vocalized "Sweet, Sweet Spirit" before the grandmother was seated and "My Tribute" after the mothers were seated. Trumpheter, Bill Moellar of Dallas presented "The Lord's Prayer."

A reception in the atrium of the church was catered by Bridal Concepts and hosted by the bride's parents.

White curtained screens, accented by palm trees and soft lighting formed the background. The table was covered with white satin cloths and highlighted with white net pours.

Silver candelabras with white tapers and a large floral centerpiece of hot pink, purple and yellow fresh flowers in a crystal global vase accentuated the setting. Spiced tea punch was served from a silver punch bowl. Fresh strawberries, displayed in a silver and glass bowl, were served with a whipped cream and grandmariner dip.

MRS. BRUCE WARREN DAWSON

The bride's cake was a Victorian style of Italian cream with ivory cream cheese frosting. It was a creation of detailed embroidery lace, tool and a curtaining illusion accented with stephanotis and delicate lace ribbons. The three-tiered raised cake was surrounded with five floating cakes.

The groom's table featured a German chocolate cake wrapped with a ribbon and bow made of white and dark chocolate to resemble a package. An oil derrick encircled with greenery was the centerpiece Misses Rhanda and Leslianne Hickerson of Lockney, nieces of the bride, and Miss Jessica Seal, Dallas, distributed bags of potpourri during the reception. They wore matching teal ength dresses of cerise featuring puffed sleeves and sweetheart necklines. The dropped waists were accented with a large sash. They wore cerise and pearl hair bows and single strands of pearls, gifts from the bride.

Following a wedding trip to St. Croix, Virgin Islands, the couple will be at home in Dallas.

As going away attire, the bride chose a mingled color of purple, black and aqua silk dress featuring long sleeves, high gathered neckline and full skirt. Complementing the outfit were black accessories.

The groom left for their wedding trip in a sport suit with black pants and black and white silk sport coat.

The couple are both employed with Sun Exploration and Production. She is a gas volume allocation analyst and he as a geologist. The bride is a graduate of Floydada High School and attended Baylor University. The groom attended school in Hutchinson, Kansas, and the University of Kansas.

Pre-nuptial courtesies given the couple included a miscellaneous shower in Floydada, hosted by Mrs.

Connie Bearden, assisted by Mrs. Victor Smith and Mrs. C. Byron Brock; a country shower in the home of Mrs. Fred Seal, Dallas; a miscellaneous shower by Miss Susan Smith and Mrs. Steve Black, Dallas.

An office luncheon was hosted by the employees of the Gas Measurement Department, Sun Exploration and Production; a fiesta party was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Spearman, Dallas, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Mark Lane, Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Thom Kobelan, Austin; Miss Jan Haywood and Miss Melissa Tanner, Dallas; a bridal luncheon hosted by Mrs. Jeff King and Mrs. Bobby Joe Benge. Potpourri bags were made by the hostess and guest.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Williams at Dovie's in Dallas.

Additional personnel at R.C. Andrews listed

A few of the staff members at R.C. Andrews Elementary were inadvertently omitted from the comprehensive listing published in this newspaper last week. The Hesperian regrets the error of omission, although we published the information available to us at press time.

Among the names not listed were Linda Smith, fifth grade teacher; Annelda Staples, aide; resource teachers, Noma Lou Rainer, Deborah Lloyd and Sharon Graves; custodian, Robert Narbaez, and dietary employee, Louisa Rea. Gale Hale was incorrectly identified as a fourth grade teacher when she is in fact the art teacher for all grades. Connie Hurt was identified as an aide at Andrews although she is assigned as an aide at A.B. Duncan Elementary.

Whirlwinds drop season opener to Saul and Idalou Wildcats

By Bill Gray

In a day that started out to be more appropriate for water polo or mud wrestling, the expected rains failed to develop. However, the floods came anyhow — in the form of Idalou's Tracy Saul, whose running, passing, kicking and defensive play led the Wildcats to a thrilling 7-6 victory over the Floydada Whirlwinds in the season opener for both clubs on September 2. The loss was a heart-breaker for the Whirlwinds, who failed to capitalize on several scoring opportunities late in the game. Floydada held the edge in the final statistics (first downs: 19 to 8, and total yards: 288 to 192), but came up short on the final

It rained most of the day, but by game time the sky had cleared. A beautiful night for football was assured for the near-capacity home crowd and a large following from the visiting Wildcats. Idalou won the toss of the coin, elected to receive, and Kenneth Collins kicked off for the Whirlwinds. The 1988 season was underway!

Idalou received the opening kick and set up shop at its own 32 yard line. The Wildcats were pretty impressive at the outset. Behind the running of Saul, James Russell and Ricky Westbrook. they gained forty-nine yards and four first downs. The Floydada defense bent, but did not break, during this offensive drive by Idalou. An errant pitch by Saul to tailback John Paul Jones resulted in a fumble deep in Floydada territory. Rolando Cisneros fell on the loose pigskin, stopping the Idalou drive, and gave the Whirlwinds possession of the ball for Saul found a wide-open Ricky the first time on their own 27.

On the first play from scrimmage, 'Wind QB Chad Quisenberry handed off to FB Frank Suarez, who rambled thirteen yards for a first down. On the next play off the wishbone option, HB Joe Cisneros fumbled, but an alert Armando Morales recovered and enabled Floydada to continue the drive. A thirteen yard run by Cisneros from the 16 put the 'Winds in scoring territory, where Suarez squirted through for the score two plays later. The kick attempt for the point after by Suarez was wide, and the scoreboard read: Floydada 6, Idalou 0, with 1:54 remaining in the first

Idalou received the ensuing kick and ran the ball three plays before the first quarter ended. Early in the second quarter, Saul fumbled and the ball was recovered by Joe Cisneros, giving the Whirlwinds excellent field position. However in the first turning point of the ball game, the 'Winds failed to take advantage of this golden opportunity. Floydada's offense bogged down and turned the ball over to the 'Cats on the Idalou 29 yard line. Idalou was unable to make a first down from this situation, and was forced to punt. A clipping penalty on the punt return sent Floydada back to its own 18. The 'Winds promptly picked up two first downs behind the running of Kenneth Collins and Frank Suarez, but came up short on a key first down attempt and had to punt back to Idalou, at which point, lightning (or rather, Saul)

On 3rd and 10 from the Idalou 26,

Westbrook, who caught the aerial for a first down at the 'Wind 45. On the next play, Saul rolled to his left on the keeper, turned the corner, and raced down the left sidelines for a touchdown. Saul booted the extra point, giving the 'Cats a 7-6 lead — which proved to be the winning margin. The Whirlwinds made a good effort to put some points on the board before intermission, but could only reach mid-field as time ran out in the first half.

Those who remained in the stands for the halftime activities were treated to a fine show by the "Spirit of the 'Winds" — the Floydada High School Band. It was obvious that the long hours of practice this summer paid off for first-year director John Odom and his youngsters, as the band executed and played well in their initial outing. There was no question about it...the 'Winds certainly won the battle of the bands at halftime!

Floydada received the kick to open the second half, and moved the ball downfield behind the running of Suarez and Collins - aided by the excellent blocking of Adam Cates, Joe Barrientos, and the rest of the offensive line. Quisenberry completed passes to Joe Cisneros and split end Ismail Delgado during this offensive set, but the 'Winds were stopped inches short of a first down and were forced to punt. Collins' line drive punt appeared to die on about the Idalou 1-foot line, but it was ruled a touchback and Idalou took over on its Idalou failed to garner a first down in this series, mainly due to the good defensive efforts of Leonard King, Frank Suarez, and Jay Mendoza. The 'Winds were unable to get anything going in the next series on offense, as both teams seemed to be waiting for the other to make a game-cinching mistake (a good chess game was being played by both coaches in their play-calling during this time). After an exchange of punts, the Whirlwinds took the ball over on their

as a defensive back, was able to overtake Morales at the 5-yard line, where he forced Morales out of bounds. (This writer has not seen the game film, but I would venture to say that this play would have to stand as one of the outstanding defensive efforts of this or any other year - Saul was a good fifteen yards from the receiver at the time of the reception at the 28 yard line, but made up the difference, cutting across the field, and was able to stop the play at the five -thus denying the Whirlwinds the apparent touchdown.)

With first-and-goal at the five, the Whirlwind offense seemed to self-destruct (shades of Texas Tech, the Cowboys, and any one of several teams this past week). An illegal procedure penalty moved the 'Winds back, and from there it got worse. After an excellent Idalou goal line stand, Floydada was forced to try for the field goal. The 25-yard effort by Frank Suarez was ruled "wide" (this writer could comment on that), and Idalou took over on downs. The Floydada defense rallied for the occasion and was determined to get the ball back, which they did. With King, Mark Thompson, and several others turning in a good effort, Idalou was forced to punt. The seesaw battle saw Floydada take possession with a little over six minutes left to go in the game. A pass completion from Quisenberry to Armando Morales gave the 'Winds new hope late in the fourth quarter, but an interception by Idalou with 3:32 remaining in the game pretty well sealed the outcome. The Whirlwinds had one more chance to pull out the victory, but a costly penalty once again nullified the effort.

From 4th down with 7 yards to go, Idalou was forced to punt. Kicking from his own end zone, Tracy Saul DREW a roughing the kicker penalty, which gave the 'Cats new life and a first down at the 23-yard-line. From there, Idalou ran out the clock and tucked away a hard-earned victory over the Whirlwinds.

one of the premier players in all of West Texas — but the Whirlwind defense shut him down time after time.

A lot of credit has to go to the Floydada defense. Leonard King, Jay Mendoza, Joe Cisneros, and the entire defensive unit of the 'Winds played one whale of a game for the first time out of the blocks. This gang of defenders will be one to reckon with as the season goes on. Except for a few critical errors, the offense, directed by Chad Quisenberry, played very well. They have nothing to be ashamed of — as a unit they have to be able to make the big plays when the game is on the line. This Floydada team is well-disciplined and spirited, which is a credit to head coach Earl Overton and his entire staff. The wins will come; more importantly, the character will be developed.

The character I am referring to is not winning as far as points are concerned, but the EFFORT PUT FORTH. No one is going to be cut from the team for not winning. It is always nice to WIN, but when a coach asks that his team give the effort, and they produce, THAT is the bottom line. Last Friday night, the Whirlwinds gave that effort. They came up one point short ... so, big deal. The sun will still come up in the East, I promise you! We are going to enjoy and have a lot of fun following the Whirlwinds this year. Do you know why? Because THEY are having fun. One only has to be around this bunch for a little while to feel the spirit and cohesiveness that exists within the coaches and players. It's this kind of cooperation and mutual consideration that will produce winners, whether it is on the football field or the field of life (which is a darn sight more important than who won the ball game on September 2, 1988).

This next week, the Whirlwinds travel to Acuff to take on the Lubbock Roosevits first game. Both clubs are hungry for a peach cobbler, milk victory, but the Whirlwinds should come out of this one with a win that will give them the needed momentum to set their sights on a possible playoff season. This writer's predictions: Floydada 31, Roosevelt 13 Lockney 6, Petersburg 27 Texas Tech 17, Arizona 30 T.C.U. 17, Georgia 24

The global economy

Education described as key to understanding

U.S. citizens need to become more aware of the global economy in which they live because it is changing rapidly and will impact everyone more in the future, said an internationally known economist.

Therefore, educational programs such as those conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service must focus on bridging the knowledge gap about the world economy.

Dr. Edward Schuh, who was director of agriculture and rural development for the World Bank for a number of years, told Extension Service faculty that the role of education regarding the global economy is becoming increasingly important as other countries focus on economic reform.

Schuh, currently dean of the Hubert Humphrey Institute of Public Affairs at the University of Minnesota, said that it is "vital that we develop stronger programs in extension education that deal with understanding the global economy. With many countries now making policy reforms to get their economic houses in order, our ability to compete and defend our interests will be seriously weakened unless we rapidly revitalize our own economy."

Schuh cited China, the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe as countries where economic reforms are already in place or are currently being contemplated.

"It is time we began to sound the clarion call and to educate our population about the global economy of which we are a part," Schuh said. "Your challenge, as extension workers, has never been greater. Getting your knowledge and skills up to date should be the first order of business. Then you need to develop creative and effective educational programs to enlighten our population about what is going on in other countries and what the effects will be."

Schuh said that the U.S. is an integral part of the global economy. Its dependence on international trade and its ties to an enormous international capital market not only links this nation with economies of other countries, but also links the economic policies of those countries and the world labor market. How all these issues interact puts significant pressure on better developing a 'knowledge' market in which you can play a key role, he said.

The economist said that huge budget deficits and a low savings rate have made the U.S. more and more dependent on the global economy because they have caused us to borrow massively from abroad.

"And the cost of servicing that debt is growing rapidly," Schuh said. "Earning the foreign exchange to service that debt requires either that we become much more competitive in foreign markets, or that we increase our savings rate significantly so that we can invest more abroad to earn foreign exchange."

This nation's trade and budget deficits require us to borrow between $10 and $15 billion each month from the rest of the world, he said. The current deficit of about $150 billion a year has to be matched by an inflow of capital, either borrowings or direct investments from

To help the situation, Schuh said that investments abroad must increase because they are an important source of foreign exchange needed to pay for our imports and to service our foreign debt. Such investments also are an important means of circumventing protectionist measures by other countries.

Loans by U.S. commercial banks are also an important source of the foreign exchange needed to pay for imports and to service our foreign debts, the economist said. In the mid-1980s these loans amounted to about $325 billion.

Schuh also said that U.S. dependence on certain raw materials from abroad and the consumption of a growing share of consumer goods and services from abroad is forcing us to even greater integration with the global economy.

Asgrow to hold field day

Asgrow Seed Company will hold a field day on Thursday, September 15 from 4 to 6 p.m., located three miles north of Plainview, Texas, on Interstate

The field day will feature tours of sorghum, field and processor corn and soybean plots containing new and established seed products.

An Asgrow technical service agronomist and other personnel plan to be on hand to discuss seed products and answer questions.

A meal and refreshments will be served following the plot tour. Everyone attending will also receive a free field day cap.

The contract for aerial spraying in the 1988 High Plains Boll Weevil Control Program has been awarded to Kimmel Aviation of Greenwood, Mississippi.

Kimmel submitted a bid of $5.94 per gallon of insecticide, the lowest of three sealed bids opened September 1 by program officials at the offices of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock. Forty aerial applicators were invited to bid on the contract. PCG, father of the 25-yearold weevil suppression effort, conducts the program through its Boll Weevil Steering Committee, currently chaired by Borden county farmer Jarrell Edwards of Route 1, O'Donnell.

Edwards was unavailable for comment, but PCG's weevil program manager Johnny Anderson said he considered the bid satisfactory on all counts. The contract in 1987 went to Perryton Aviation of Perryton, Texas, at $5.09 per gallon.

"Obviously we would have preferred to hold the line on price," Anderson said, "but Kimmel's bid was almost a dollar a gallon below the next lowest, and we have confidence in his ability to perform, so all in all we're pretty well pleased."

The contract calls for applying an estimated 50,000 to 60,000 gallons of insecticide, ultra low volume malathion, at the rate of 12 ounces per acre. Each gallon therefore will cover 10.67 acres, giving a per-acre application cost of about 56 cents. Infested fields, selected from weekly survey data, are to be sprayed on a 10 to 14 day schedule as needed. Almost 4,000 fields covering a half million acres in 15 counties are mapped for survey and possible spraying in the control zone, which lies along the eastern rim of the Caprock. It begins on the north in Briscoe County and curls around the south end to parts of Andrews County.

Surveying for this year started August 29 and the first malathion application is slated for September 19. Program officials are requiring that the contractior's planes report on September 15 to allow for inspection and correction of any defects. Kimmel expects to use some of his own planes, but says a majority of the work will be sublet to pilots and aircrafts from the High Plains area. Twelve planes are to report to the Spur Airport for the initial work, and will be sepplimented by four more planes at a later date if necessary.

While the early estimate of aggregate acreage needing treatment this year, about 600,000, would be covered by the 60,000-gallon contract figure, Anderson says a recent surge of in-migration from east and south of the control zone make an estimate of 750,000 acres more realistic. If reached, that acreage would compare to the 615,000 acres of 1987 and would be the largest since 1977 when 1,250,000 acres were sprayed.

By exterminating a high percentage of control zone weevils before they reach hibernation sites, the program since 1963 has prevented the dreaded pest from spreading into the concentrated acreage above the Caprock and on into New Mexico and points west. The program is jointly funded by High Plains cotton producers, Texas and U.S. Departments of Agriculture. Producers, with a small contribution from TDA, furnish 70 percent of the total.

USDA to forgive cotton loan carrying charges

USDA, in response to a request from previously paid by CCC. the National Cotton Council and other interest organizations, has announced it will forgive enough carrying charges on cotton loans to allow cotton to be redeemed with cash at the adjusted world

The move, effective immediately, is expected to ensure that U.S. upland cotton will be more competitive in world markets.

"This is another major step by USDA in making U.S. cotton competitive in world markets," said Council President Billy Dunavant. "It will especially strengthen the ability of the U.S. to compete against southern hemisphere cotton. It also is a testament to our industry's ability to unite and to work in concert with USDA to achieve positive Agriculture Secretary Richard Lyng already had approved three other cotton program changes requested by the Council: (1) revising the transportation cost formula, (2) allowing loan cotton to be redeemed at premium/discount levels in effect when it entered the loan, and (3) allowing the coarse-count adjustment on a broader range of cottons.

Under the new procedure for cash redemptions, when the adjusted world price (AWP) is below the loan rate, CCC will not require the payment of any interest and will pay all of the warehouse charges. When the AWP is above the loan rate by less than the sum of the accrued interest and warehouse charges, CCC will pay enough of the accrued warehouse charges to permit the loan cotton to be redeemed at the AWP.

When the AWP is above the loan rate by as much or more than the sum of accrued carrying charges, CCC will require the payment of all accrued interest and will not pay any of the warehouse charges. In such cases, the loan may be repaid at the loan rate plus accrued interest and any warehouse charges previously paid by CCC.

Under the previous plan, when cotton loans were redeemed with cash, the redeemer was required to pay all the accrued interest plus warehouse charges

Developing countries hold key

The future of U.S. farm exports rests with developing countries, according to an internationally known economist.

Dr. Edward Schuh, speaking on impacts of the global economy, at a recent conference of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service faculty, said that developing countries hold the key for farm exports.

Exports are vital to Texas and U.S. agriculture, totaling more than $30 billion annually for the nation as a whole. About 25 percent of Texas' agricultural production annually moves into export markets.

"For developing countries to become viable importers of agricultural products, they must first experience some significant economic development," Schuh said. "And developing the agriculture in these countries is the key to economic growth."

Schuh said that raising agricultural production in developing countries need not pose a threat to U.S. agricultural exports. "Developing countries have both supply and demand sides that are very important."

Regarding the ability of developing countries to purchase U.S. farm products, Schuh said that "our nation's commodity programs have priced us out of many international markets.

"Our commodity programs, in many ways, have been detrimental to agriculture because they have stimulated production in other countries by setting a price floor and allowing these countries to price just under that level," he said.

Schuh is currently dean of the Hubert Humphrey Institute of Public Affairs at the University of Minnesota. He was director of agriculture and rural development for the World Bank for a number

Purchase rate for '88

A preliminary announcement of the loan and purchase rate for 1988 crop soybeans of $4.77 per bushel was made today by Secretary of Agriculture Richard E. Lyng. A final announcement will be made by October 1.

In addition, Lyng said that a marketing loan program will not be implemented for the 1988 crop of soybeans.

All producers of 1988 crop soybeans will be elligible for loans and purchases. Soybeans are inelligible for any reserve program or farm storage payments.

A regulatory impact analysis on the 1988 soybean program may be obtained from: Director, Commodity Analysis Division, USDA/ASCS, Room 4741-S, P.O. Box 2415, Washington, D.C.

September has arrived, crops are naturing, students are back in school, veryone seems to be getting back into somewhat normal routine. Even those of us who do not have children in school eem to welcome this time of year. It omehow gives direction to our lives to ee the school buses moving about the community and the bustle around the schools. We are ready to enter in once again to the activities our school system provides for the community to be involved in.

The end of summer and the beginning of Fall very much effects what goes on at Caprock Hospital. Schedules are o much easier. Staffing problems may be solved until the holiday season approaches. We who supervise departments wish we could honor all of our employees requests for time off. But in departments such as dietary, housekeeping, and nursing the work must go on. When 5:00 comes we cannot turn off the lights, lock the doors and go home. This means that every day, holidays and all, 13 people must work their shifts and several others be on call.

How do we choose who gets special days off? Usually we rotate the employees who have been at the hospital for more than a year. Those who had last Christmas off will be off Thanksgiving and work Christmas this year. Those who worked last Christmas will work Thanksgiving and be off on Christmas this year. And then there are some wonderful folks who say they do not mind working on holidays.

Making a schedule that involves the lives of 28 people can become very complicated. As a supervisor we want to meet the needs of our employees, we want them to love their jobs, and we want to instill loyalty to the institution they work for, so we are continually changing, moving and juggling schedules as unexpected problems and opportunities make it necessary to amend the schedule for our folks. On a recent schedule over 100 changes were made in one month. Many of these were due to employee illness, illness in their families, or some crisis that required a change in schedule. How fortunate we are to have people who are willing to work any day, any shift to take up the

On Thursday of last week all the staff brought a Mexican food dish and we all had a noon luncheon to celebrate Nell McClung's birthday. The food was wonderful. We always enjoy the fellowship with our co-workers on this informal basis.

When we want to arrange any special occasion at the hospital, the person we ask to organize this is Peggy Hill. Peggy works in our Repiratory Therapy Department. Peggy has worked at Caprock for 2-1/2 years. She is currently working on her certification in Respiratory Therapy. She is very conscientious about her work, and spends many hours on call and at the hospital caring for the patients. If you do not know Peggy you have missed knowing someone very worthwhile.

Peggy and her husband Rodney have lived in Floydada for nine years. Prior to moving to Floydada they lived in Turkey. Rodney was employed by Hall County Electric Company, which merged with Lighthouse Electric. He has been employd with Lighthouse for many years. Peggy says she enjoys being around people. Her favorite past time is to spend time with Rodney. She enjoys just about anything he does. They enjoy fishing and go as often as they can.

Peggy was born in Childress. Her mother and two sisters still live there.
