$500 reward offered in vandalism crime spree

A $500 reward is being offered for information which leads to the arrest and conviction of the person(s) responsible for the destruction of school property sometime during the night of Oct. 3 or early morning of Oct. 4.

According to Sgt. Harold Snell of the Floydada Police Department, the school bus barn, located on the west side of the junior high, was broken into sometime late Monday or early Tuesday. An '88 Suburban belonging to the school was taken from the barn and driven to the back of Andrews Ward. The window at the computer room of Andrews Ward was broken and entry was made into the building.

"Several rooms were ransacked," said Snell, "including the cafeteria, library and office. Several items were taken."

According to police the Suburban was then driven away and abandoned on a road on the south edge of town. "The road is known to some people as 'Devil's Hill,'" said Officer Darrell Gooch.

The vehicle was unloaded, and then set on fire. "Considerable damage was done to the inside of the Suburban," said Snell.

As in any crime, the community's help is being requested. "It is believed that at least one of these subjects is involved in several burglaries," said Snell.

Anyone with any information on this burglary is urged to call Crime Call at 983-5200.

Two other burglaries occurred during the night on Monday, Oct. 3. One of the burglaries was foiled by an alarm in the business.

At approximately 2:30 a.m. an alarm sounded at the South Plains Health Provider. When officers arrived they found that entry had been made through a broken out window in the back of the building. No one was inside at the time, but several bottles of liquid paper were missing.

Police also received a report at 8:00 a.m. on Oct. 3 that sometime during the night the Floydada Cable T.V. office was burglarized. Entry was made through a window. Stolen were a 14" T.V., a Sony 4" T.V. with a long extended 12 volt cord on it, a remote control cable converter, and a six pack of Coke.

The First Baptist Church also reported Oct. 3, that someone broke into the church sometime Oct. 1.

Chamber membership drive deemed success

"The Floydada Chamber of Commerce membership drive last week was a huge success," said Chamber Manager Nettie Ruth Whittle. "Not only did we get a lot of new members but we had a lot of fun doing it."

The two teams headed up by Whittle and Chamber President Monte Williams competed against each other in a spirit of friendly rivalry knowing the losing team would have to cook for and serve the winning team.

Whittle's team, "The Bold Ones" came out the victors against the "Hard Chargers" team of Williams. Thirty-seven new members were attracted by the hard working directors and even though there had to be a losing team the directors were all excited over the overall victory for the Chamber of Commerce and the benefits the new members will bring the organization.

As for what the "Hard Chargers" will cook and serve to the "Bold Ones," Williams said, "I guess we'll just have to shoot some crow and feed it to them."

ANNUAL BREAKFAST

The Floydada Chamber of Commerce will host their annual membership breakfast October 14 at 7:00 a.m. in the Massie Activity Center.

All employers, employees, chamber members and their guests are invited to dine on the cuisine of Gary Brown and Richie Crow.

Instead of one trip to a Dallas Cowboy football game being given away this year, several door prizes will be given at the breakfast.

PUMPKIN DAY UPDATE

The Chamber of Commerce wishes to remind everyone that prizes will be given this year for the best decorated business and the best decorated yard.

Judging will be based on the best fall arrangement and since the judging will take place during the day, lighting will not be considered. "Only one prize will be awarded to a business and one prize awarded to a home," said Chamber Manager Nettie Ruth Whittle.

All types of media have been contacted concerning Floydada's "Punkin Days" and Floydada has already received publicity in several publications, including: Texas Highways, Texas Monthly, Southern Living and Lubbock Avalanche-Journal.

The Chamber encourages everyone to get in the mood and participate in the same way they did last year. Merchants are encouraged to dress up their businesses in "Pumpkin motif" and dress in costumes for Friday, October 28. There will be people visiting from all over, and people are encouraged to decorate their yards also.

Some booth space is still available for Oct. 29. The cost is $10.00 and those interested are encouraged to hurry and sign up.

Voter registration deadline Monday

The presidential election is November 8, 1988. The cut-off date for changing precincts or registering to vote is Monday, October 10, 1988. Persons that have never registered to vote before are the only ones that need to come in and register.

October 9-15 designated as Fire Prevention Week

Citing the tragic loss of lives and property from fire each year in Texas, Governor William P. Clements Jr. has proclaimed the week of October 9-15, 1988, as Fire Prevention Week.

"Fire continues to be a major threat to all our citizens, particularly the young and the old," Governor Clements said. Fire in Texas killed 322 people, injured more than 2,000 and destroyed in excess of $300 million in property during 1987, the governor noted.

"Much of this tragic loss could have been prevented," the governor said. "We have the knowledge and technology today to prevent much of the needless loss of lives and property in this state and we urge every Texas citizen to practice fire prevention every day in an effort to conserve our valuable Texas resources."

This year marks the 66th anniversary of National Fire Prevention Week. The week-long observance was first established in 1922 by President Warren Harding in memory of the so-called "Great Chicago Fire" of October 9, 1871.

That conflagration killed 250 people and destroyed 17,430 buildings at a cost of $168 million. People began thinking in terms of fire prevention in addition to fire fighting as a result of this fire.

FIRE PREVENTION GUIDELINES

The State Board of Insurance, State Fire Marshal's Office offer the following guidelines for practicing fire prevention in the home:

- 1) Make sure that heating and cooking appliances are properly installed and used according to instructions.
- 2) Do not use gasoline or flammable liquids for cleaning in the home. Do not use them to start or freshen a fire for heating or cooking.

3) Provide proper ventilation for portable gas and oil heaters or fire places.

4) Do not smoke in bed.

5) Before going to bed, check upholstered furniture to ensure that smoking materials are not lodged in the furniture.

6) Dispose of smoking materials safely. Store them out-of-doors in a metal container and immerse them with water to make sure that they are completely out.

7) Keep matches and lighters away from small children.

8) Make sure that all electrical cords are safe. Electrical cords should not be placed under rugs, over hooks, in door openings or other traffic paths. Check cords routinely for wear. Do not puncture cords with tacks, nails or other sharp objects and do not use cords which appear to be cracked, pinched, punctured or otherwise damaged. Electric cords that are worn or damaged should be disconnected immediately and disposed of.

9) Use only the correct size fuses in fuse boxes.

10) Keep basement, closets, attic and garage cleared of combustibles such as papers, cartons, old furniture, clothes or oil-soaked rags.

11) Store gasoline and other flammable liquids in closed containers away from heat, sparks and children, preferably away from the house. Never store flammable liquids in glass jugs, old bleach bottles or makeshift containers.

12) Keep paint stored in closed metal containers and discard paint-laden brushes.

13) Furnaces, stoves and stove pipes should be kept well away from combustible walls and ceilings. These appliances should be installed and maintained by qualified service people.

14) Heating equipment should be checked yearly by a qualified service person.

15) Do not overload electrical circuits with too many appliances.

16) When adding electrical wiring or appliances, have a qualified electrician do the installation.

17) Only special circuits should be used for heavy-duty appliances such as air conditioners.

18) Use only appliances that carry the seal of a nationally recognized testing laboratory.

19) Plan ahead.

a) Purchase a smoke detector with a nationally recognized testing laboratory label and install one or more at least outside the sleeping areas of your home. Check your detectors every week to make sure that they work properly. Clean the detectors according to manufacturers instructions. If detectors are battery powered, put in new batteries at least yearly.

b) Determine at least two means of escape from each bedroom. One will be the normal exit from the house or apartment. The other can be a window or a second door between bedrooms. Consider installing an escape ladder from windows.

c) Draw a floor plan to indicate the location of doors, windows, stairs and roof tops that can be used for escape. Always keep escape routes free from obstructions.

d) Agree on a warning device to be used when a fire is discovered. Set a meeting place outdoors for a head count of occupants.

e) Practice escape procedures:

-Sleep with your bedroom door closed. It could increase escape time.

-If you suspect fire, test the door. If it is hot, do not open it because the area on the other side of the door is too hot to enter safely.

-If you think it is safe, brace your shoulder against the door and open it cautiously. Be ready to slam the door if heat or smoke rush in.

-Practice escaping and meeting outdoors at an assigned spot.

-In case of fire, call the fire department from a neighbor's phone.

IN HONOR OF FIRE PREVENTION WEEK—The week of October 9-15 has been designated Fire Prevention Week by Gov. Bill Clements. One week out of the year is set aside to remind people of fire hazards and to remember those who fight fires and save lives. The all-volunteer fire department in Floydada consists of: (front row, left-right) Larry Smith, Mike Anderson, Donald Wylie (Cowboy), Carroll Sims (Papa Smurf); (back row, left-right) Mike

JILL WARREN

Jill Warren displays art at bank through October

Jill Warren, a native of Floyd County, is the artist showing at the First National Bank of Floydada during the month of October.

She is the daughter of William and Faye Bertrand of Floydada.

Jill has had an interest in art since her childhood; but it was not until 1981 that she began to pursue her hobby as a career. With three small children, finding time to paint has been difficult, but her family has learned to give "Mommy" her time at the easel. She credits her husband, Martin, as being her best critic.

Although basically a self-taught artist, she has studied under Christian Seidler, Carroll Collier, and Pat Krahn. Last summer, she attended a two-week workshop conducted by an artist she greatly admires, Dalhart Windberg.

Having grown up on a farm and having a husband engaged in farming and ranching, Jill enjoys painting realistic rural scenes and still lifes that are familiar to her. She has exhibited her art at the Country Frammer and at the Baker Gallery in Lubbock. In May, one of her paintings won the People's Choice Award at the Floyd County Art Show.

In addition to painting, Jill is beginning art classes this month for both children and adults. They will be held at the Western Visions Gallery in Floydada.

Jill looks forward to beginning each new painting and she continues to learn more with each one she completes.

Everyone is invited to drop in and see the works of this talented local artist during regular banking hours at the First National Bank of Floydada.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Mrs. Gilroy,
So often when bad things happen people are quick to point a finger and criticize, but when good things happen people fail to be as eager with their praise. Recently our community joined together for a very good cause and your paper played a vital role in that effort. Our recent homecoming plans and celebrations were given superior coverage in your paper.

Each week you and your staff greeted my stack of papers and requests with courtesy and professionalism. Each week our announcements were given priority in order to assure that all the students had an opportunity to participate in all the events. It is amazing what can happen in a community when the schools, the press, the businesses, and the individuals join together in a unified effort to accomplish a specific goal.

I am so thankful to all of those people who worked such long hard hours to make the 1988 Homecoming a success, but I am especially thankful to you and your staff for the extra time spent typing in all the names of those in attendance, taking the pictures at the events, and working an extra long night the night before the big homecoming issue was printed.

You and your staff did an excellent job of representing our community. Please give yourselves a pat on the back.
Sincerely,
Anne Carthel
Floydada Ex-Student Association Secretary

Dear Editor:
Our job at the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Waco is to administer programs to veterans who have served our country honorably. In its lifetime, the Veterans Administration has seen many changes that affect the nation's 28 million veterans and their dependents. The most recent legislative changes eased the criteria for former POW's to establish disability claims and a Department of Defense decision granted certain Merchant Marine Seaman veteran status.

Since the laws governing benefits we provide change from time to time, we frequently solicit your help in providing up-to-date information to the veteran public. We appreciate your efforts to ensure that veterans are kept informed of their earned benefits by frequently printing our news releases.

Since October 2-8 has been designated National Newspaper Week, I can think of no better time to say thanks for a job well done and for your significant role in broadening public awareness of VA programs. I look forward to a continuing effort between this regional office and your newspaper in working with a group of people who have insured the freedom each of us enjoy.

Sincerely yours,

The child ran from west to east," said Officer Harold Snell. "He had made it and was hollered at to come back. When he turned around and came back across the street he ran in front of the car and was hit by the front left part of the vehicle," said Snell. "He was knocked down."

He was transported to Caprock Hospital and kept overnight for observation and released the next day. There were no broken bones.

RE-ELECT FRED CARDINAL SHERIFF

To the Voters of Floyd County,

Because of the work load in the Sheriff's Office, I find it virtually impossible to see each of you, the voters of Floyd County, in person. Therefore I wish to visit with you by letter.

Being a native of Floyd County gives me an added incentive and an even greater interest in our community and its needs. I want only the best for all ages; this is achieved through hard work, love for my home county, and a deep rooted desire always for good Law Enforcement. Our county is known an Outstanding - let's keep it that way!! If it is a law and still on the statute books, we in my office, will do our best to see that it is enforced - no matter the age of the law - whether it was passed in 1940 or 1988!!!

As a member of the First Methodist Church, Chamber of Commerce, Art Association, Rotary Club, Masonic Lodge, Old Settler's Board, Floyd County Historical Museum Board, and Salvation Army Board, I try to show that I am civic minded when work and time will allow. In addition, I am a Marine Corps veteran of World War II, having spent twenty seven months in the South Pacific.

Since I have been involved in law enforcement in Floyd County for eighteen years, both as a deputy and as the Sheriff, I feel qualified for this position for another four year term. Too, I have attended sheriff's conventions and several schools pertaining to my position. My credentials speak for themselves.

Please feel free to come by the Sheriff's Office for a visit, ask questions, share new ideas with us, and even get better acquainted. The welcome mat is always out.

Whatever you do, exercise your privilege to vote in the November General Election. I solicit your vote; I need your vote; I want your vote!!

Sincerely,
Fred A. Cardinal

Class of '69 gathers during Homecoming

Twenty years ago, the '69 class were seniors at FHS and also were lucky enough to have Homecoming during their senior year. So, it seemed appropriate that they celebrate their 20 year reunion during the '88 Homecoming activities.

Not only were they able to attend all the activities at the high school and the exc dance, the '69 class and their families enjoyed an after-game party on Friday night at B&G Harvesters located on the Silverton Highway and a barbeque lunch, catered by ABC Cookers, and program on Saturday at the Massie Activity Center.

The '69 class has made a donation to the FHS library in memory of their classmate, Billy Finley, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Porter Finley and also brother of Ann Ferguson of Floydada and George Finley of Perryton. Billy along with his wife, Genita, died in an automobile accident in Lubbock on May 23, 1971.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

By Jo Bryant

It is the fall of the year, and the cool mornings and the warm evenings have been great. The leaves on the trees are beginning to turn and the pumpkin crop has been made and we can be looking forward to the great Pumpkin Day celebration and the Halloween parties, etc.

Monday, Irene Wexler came and played the piano for us, we sang some songs, and Bro. Bill Wright couldn't be with us, so we shared the word taken from John's gospel on Jesus says who He is "I am" and from Genesis, where God tells Moses that he is the great "I am." Then at 2:30 p.m. the residents had rhythm band. Dolores came and did the ladies hair, it was beauty shop day.

Tuesday, Bro. Neeley came and brought some bananas and shared the word taken from Isaiah 6. At 2 p.m. the residents had a sing-a-long. We listened to a new tape I had ordered.

Wednesday Bro. Sammy Rodriguez from the Spanish Assembly came and shared the word from John 14:1-6, about Heaven and Jesus has prepared a place for us. At 1:30 p.m. the residents played Bingo, Mrs. Oda Birchfield was the first winner. Mary Alice Davis came and helped us play. We had a visitor, Faye Steen from the Crosbyton Care Center, who is the activity director there, came and visited us, she is also a consultant. The treats were bugles, bananas, everything is always a winner.

Thursday, we had morning juice and coffee as usual. Helen Lipham came and played the banjo for us and brought us some joy and sunshine too. At 2 p.m. the residents cut out and made paper chains and pumpkins.

Friday, Mrs. Lillian Ross came and read Ps. 92, Evelyn Latta played the piano. At 1:30 p.m. the residents went on a bus ride to South Plains. They saw the trucks loaded with bell peppers, they enjoyed their ride in the country, it was a nice day. Dairy Queen treated them to some ice cream.

Our love, prayers, sympathy are with the family of Mrs. Lena Withers. We will miss her.

This week's visitors were Willie Mae Smith, May Sue, Ann Thompson, Bessie Wilson, Jettie Moss, Mel and Marjorie Holcomb, Hubert and Edria Holcomb, Crosbyton; Letha Lightfoot, Irene Wexler, Arnold Hester, Rene Curry, Opal Kratzer, Wenona Brooks, Paducah; and Floyd and Artie Webb.

Whirlwind Sams collecting aluminum cans

The Whirlwind Sams RV has announced that they will continue their very successful drive to collect aluminum cans. The initial drive started a month ago, and one load has already been taken to the recycling center. It has been decided that the monies derived from the can drive will be earmarked for the City RV Park.

The rest of the community is asked to join in this project, which will serve a two-fold purpose: (1) help to clean up and beautify the streets and highways by removing aluminum can litter; (2) make improvements and additions at the City RV Park— which is a benefit to the

Those wishing to contribute cans for the drive may drop them by Russell's Equipment and Supply at 608 East Houston in Floydada.

The club is in the process of planting living memorial trees at the park in addition to erecting a flag pole at the facility.

The Whirlwind Sams will be hosting a one-day RV rally at the park during the City's "Punkin' Days" celebration on October 29. A number of rigs from other clubs in the area have committed to be here for the affair.

Harmony Club members tour historic Canyon home

Harmony Extension Club traveled to Canyon on Sept. 26 to view the historical Mary Elizabeth Hudspeth house, that has been restored to show the charm, elegance and love that Miss Hudspeth gave it. She was Dean of Women and taught in West Texas College beginning in 1910. The 20 room, three story house has been restored by Dave and Sally Haynie who are hosts.

A delightful salad plate was served in the dining room, where antique dishes and pictures were on display. After lunch, Sally took the group through the house and showed where she had used material, lace and ruffles to compliment the antique furniture, to make each room a beautiful place to relax. The ladies all agreed it had taken a lot of ingenuity and hard work to accomplish all of the beauty they saw.

Those going were Lucille Miller, Vivian Curtis, Juanita Pool, Imelda Murry, Anna Maude Hopper, Ruth Scott, Maye Williams and Blanche Williams.

Tammy Sue Teague weds Jeffrey Duclow

Tammy Sue Teague and Jeffrey Earl Duclow were united in marriage on September 24, at 7:00 p.m. at the Highland Park Baptist Church in Dallas.

Maid of honor was the twin sister of the bride, Tiffany Teague Gauthier. Best man was Matt Franklin. Other attendants were Donna Duclow, Adrian Dominguez, John Dallas and Kent Teague.

Parents of the bride are Dr. and Mrs. Rodney Teague of Horseshoe Bay. Parents of the groom are Dr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Skinner of Richardson.

Grandparents are Mrs. Lula Teague, Mrs. Alma Holmes, Mr. Patrick Amero, and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Swenning.

The bride chose a gown custom-designed especially for her from the St. Pucchi line from Bangkok. The fabric chosen by the bride was ivory raw silk in a sheath design with a flounced bottom. Cobra snakeskin, cut in a leaf pattern, sequined and pearled, covered the bodice of the dress. The same theme carried to the back of the dress over illusion that created a lattice effect. Larger cobra skin appliques were used on the shoulders.

The bridal bouquet consisted of a very important part of the bride's life. She carried an ivory basket, covered with matching snakeskin that cradled her life-long friend, Fluffy, her 21-year old cat. A matching veil covered the basket for Fluffy, that accented the bridal gown, as it was also made of the snakeskin.

The main altar was set aglow with over 200 candles. The bride's colors selected were ivory and black, as silk arrangements accented the church with silk flowers and black rattan sticks.

The bride sang "The Child In You Found The Child In Me" from the balcony before approaching the altar. The entire audience sang "Friends," led by Shawn Wilde, and "Joyful, Joyful, We Adore Thee," led by Tim Teague.

The minister was Brad Teague of Fort Worth.

The couple will honeymoon in Boston and the northeast United States, and will make their home in Dallas, Texas. The bride is employed by Liz Claiborne, and the groom is employed by Texas Bank and Trust.

News and Views from Cedar Hill

WEATHER:

The sun was rising Monday morning when the neighbor's gas tank went empty in front of my house. The temperature was 42 degrees and every siphon hose we could find, except the last one, was plastic and cold, stiff as a board. Today made three out of the last seven mornings with the temperature 45 or lower. It figures we have 12 days and 10 degrees to go to hit 32 on October 15. A minor electrical storm early Friday had the computer shut down for an hour and dropped 1/4 inch of rain. The rain was dried up before sundown. High winds Wednesday night knocked 176 apples off two trees east of Cedar, otherwise no damage.

CROP COMMENTS:

Cotton continues its slow maturing; spray planes are putting on some defoliant, however most of the first applications is a chemical called "Prep;" a module truck is getting its final tune up and repair at a local farm shop. Most of the spray activity is being done in the south and west parts of the county. Monday morning Cargill, headquartered at Aiken, issued tarpulins to protect modules of seed cotton already being stripped in the Turkey area.

CRP farmers are expressing concern that the young seed heads on some of their grasses will be frozen before the seed gets ripe enough to germinate/volunteer. Those seeds are very small and small seeds have to be fast; being fast is their only defense; to survive they must produce huge numbers of seed in a hurry and long cool nights are a spur that goads them on to try their hardest. Look how nature is putting those long, long seed heads on those little short careless weeds; and don't worry.

Cucumber patches, the late ones, some have been gathered, while others still languish in the field. Certainly the packing sheds are not pressing the harvest like they were a few days back with three waterings tied up in their production, and the crop very much ready to be gathered, the growers are disturbed by the foot dragging at harvest time.

Hay activity is at a halt. Early hay is in the bale and the surplus is being offered for sale. Late hay is being allowed every minute of growing time possible; most of it will not be cut until after frost.

Milo foundation seed harvest in the community has been augmented by bringing a second two row combine. Though not impressive this has speeded up the "nibbling" a little. Samples from a patch or two of commercial milo were tested early in the week.

Soybeans are much yellower than a week ago and have begun that spectacular leaf-drop for which they are noted. The 1988 crop could break yield records.

Vegetable crops are pretty well harvested except for the tomatoes. Peak production is past and cooler weather has reduced the size of the developing fruit, but the quality remains high and price is still competitive. There are not many turnip patches but they are really going great.

Wheat sowing is the front burner activity at this time as farmers hurry their seed into the ground "before rescue grass and wild rye make it so hard you can't drive a nail in it" as one farmer aptly put it. Those farmers with early planted wheat that has too much winter grass face a dilemma: plow it up and re-sow, or designate it as a graze-out wheat and let it grow.

From the church comes news of very good attendance, especially for the morning service. Bro. and Sister Jude and Marie Strickland from Amarillo were here again and led the services. Visitors from Lockney were Leonard and Jennie Lee Strickland, James and Ruby Wiggington, and Wanda and Rudy Zachary.

Weekend visitors in Gladys Fortenberry's home, from Rankin, Texas, were Mrs. Olin (Azalene) Beauchamp, Mrs. Beauchamp's daughter and son-in-law, Gwendolyn and Larry Phillips and their son, Byron Phillips; from Wautega, Texas, in Tarrant County, Gladys' granddaughter and great-granddaughter, Danita and Lauren Clark, and from Plainview, Patsy and LaFite Boone.

Cedar Hill has lost a family. From the Courthouse Records, Wayland Baptist University has deeded to John Belaska property at 724 West Grover St. in Floydada. Mr. and Mrs. Belaska have made their home here since they acquired the old Conner place through a land trade with W.T. Conner some 10 to 15 years ago. The Belaskas have been good for us. We are glad they are still close by.

Cedar Hill stands to gain a family. According to Courthouse Records, John Belaska has sold to Julious Green Strickland 112.32 acres of land in two tracts in the Cedar community. So, after living in many places across the nation, ranging from Amarillo eastward to near the Atlantic seaboard, the Stricklands have traveled full circle. From Cedar, where Marie grew up, through a lifetime succession of pastorates, back to an anticipated retirement in Cedar Hill. Since Marie has a contract with the Amarillo Independent School District to teach the 1988-89 school term, a full scale move will probably be delayed a few months. Jude has accepted the position of interim pastor of Cedar's Assembly of God Church, and he is spending some time each week on the field, living part time in the church parsonage. Welcome back. May your expectations be fulfilled.

Peat Kelley and Norma Welch are home again. This time it was from a reunion with relatives to the west and southwest. The itinerary was as follows:

Clovis, NM (niece Mary Dorris went with them.) Carrizozo, Truth or Consequences, El Paso, Ruidoso, Cloudcroft, Clovis, Hereford, and Friona. Most of the towns visited were homes to multiple families of relatives, so it was certainly a visit-filled trip.

In any emergency in life there is nothing so strong and safe as the simple truth.

through Army ROTC scholarships

Each year hundreds of high school graduates enter college and receive financial assistance for college tuition, a stipend for books and educational expenses and $1,000 subsistence allowance.

These students are in the Army Reserve Officers; Training Crops college program and have been awarded a four-year merit scholarship. For some students, a scholarship is the only means of paying for college and getting a degree.

The ROTC scholarship awards are based entirely on merit rather than any financial needs of parents, guardians, or students. These winners are among the top-quality high school students in the country.

The scholarship winners must be accepted by a college or university that is host to an ROTC cadet battalion. They must also be high school graduates and citizens of the United States when the scholarship is awarded, and be at least 17 years old before the scholarship can be effective.

The student must complete requirements for a college degree and a commissioned Army officer and be under 25 years of age on June 30 of the year he/she plans to graduate and receive a commission.

Applications and information booklets will be available in mid-November for this year's high school juniors who will be entering college in 1990-91. This year's high school seniors still have until December 1st, 1988 to apply for a four year scholarship. Interested parents and students are encouraged to write to Army ROTC, Box 4029, Texas Tech University, Lubbock, Texas 79409-5003, or call Major Wood at area code 806-796-0062.

Case IH dealer offers a delayed first payment on new equipment

Steve Brown, owner of Browns Department Store in Floydada, is announcing a financing plan to assist buyers of new over-40 horsepower tractors and self-propelled combines.

The extended first payment financing, available through first payment financing program, available through Case Credit Corporation, allows a farmer who purchased a new tractor or combine to delay the first payment until January 1, 1990.

"Case IH is introducing this program because of the severe financial constraints being placed on some farmers by this year's drought," says Brown. "It is one more indication that we are listening and responding to our customers' needs."

The new program is tailored to be used in conjunction with other Case IH financing options, which may include low interest rate financing. The extended first payment program is designed to provide maximum benefit to buyers who select the annual payment plan. An annual payment schedule is most popular with farmers.

Payment eligibility meeting set

"Payment eligibility meeting." That's how officials of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, and the National Cotton Council, Memphis, Tenn., are billing a meeting scheduled in Lubbock to explain complex new rules that will weigh on the management decisions of every farmer participating in 1989 farm programs.

The meeting will begin at 8:30 a.m. on Tuesday, October 11 in the Board Room of Plains Cotton Cooperative Association, 3301 East 50th Street (Slaton Highway), Lubbock.

The new regulations evolved from language in the 1987 Budget Reconciliation Act designed to tighten application of the $50,000 per-person limit on farm program payments. That's why they're most often referred to as "payment limitation" rules. But Ralls farmer Steve Verett, who will chair the Lubbock meeting, says that's a misnomer. "There's much more involved than just setting a limit on payments a farming operation is eligible to receive," he says. Verett is president of PCG and an NCC delegate.

"Every entity in every farm operation," he explains, "is required to provide documentation proving eligibility to receive any payments, large or small." What many don't understand, he continues, is that "where payment eligibility is concerned everybody is back at square one, including operators, share-croppers landlords, members of corporations, partnerships, trusts — anybody that hopes to receive a payment of any size."

Available to producers at the Lubbock meeting will be handouts that reduce to a few typewritten pages the published regulations which take up 28 small-print pages in the Federal Register.

The deadline for establishing payment eligibility is April 1 of next year, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service officials point out, emphasizing that anyone failing to complete the required forms and supply the necessary documentation before that date will receive no 1989 payments. At the insistence of PCG, NCC and other producer representatives, USDA must make its determination of eligibility within 60 days after a producer files the required information and must give advance notice to producers before finalizing adverse eligibility decisions.

"But that provision will be helpful only if producers request eligibility early, allowing time before April 1 to make the changes necessary to reverse such decisions," Verett comments. Complete instructions and all the required forms had not reached county ASCS offices as of September 30, but should be on hand before mid-October, officials say.

Providing the meat of the educational process in the October 11 meeting will be Norvell Breedlove, Chief of the Texas ASCS Compliance Division. Also expected are Charles Bragg, NCC Vice President for Producer Affairs, State ASCS Director Terry Harman, and State ASCS Committee Chairman Jerry Harris of Lamesa.

A similar meeting, sponsored by NCC and the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, will be held October 12 in the Knights of Columbus Hall, South 32nd Street and Elm Avenue in Abilene.

Written questions from producers will be accepted and answered at both meetings.

FLOYD COUNTY FARM TOUR—The 1988 Floyd County Farm Tour was held this year on Monday, October 3. This year's tour was co-sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Floyd County Soil and Water Conservation District. Tour highlights were Cotton Specialist, James Supak, explaining about cotton varieties, desiccation, early harvest, and many other aspects of cotton production. Charles Schure and Horace Garvie, Floyd County SCS, detailed establishment, expenses and care on two CRP fields. Richie Crow, County Extension Agent, talked about the cotton variety test, background and benefits. Those attending were able to ask many questions of the specialist which were available. The tour started north of Floydada at the Kelton Shaw farm, went to Dale Powell and Wayne Bramlett Farms and concluded west of Lockney at the Warren Mitchell Farm.

CASE-INTERNATIONAL MAGNUM TRACTOR—being shown at field day.

Magnum tractors win award

The MAGNUM line of tractors carried by Brown's Implement of Floydada has won a national award for outstanding design quality, according to Bud Crump, sales manager of Brown's Implement.

"The MAGNUM tractors earned first place in their class in a contest sponsored by the Industrial Designers Society of America (IDSA)," Crump said. "The IDSA calls this contest the Industrial Design Excellence Award (IDEA)," Crump said. "This year's IDEA competition had more than 310 entries."

The IDEA awards recognize industrial designs for excellence in five areas: innovativeness, user benefits, appealing appearance, appropriate use of materials, and cost-efficient production.

The IDEA jurors, who are all professional industrial designers, said the MAGNUM tractors deserved recognition because the product exhibited, "carefully guided evolutionary design" and "addressed and improved actual use problems whenever possible."

Winning this contest ranks the MAGNUM tractors as first class products along with the winners in other categories, according to Crump. Some of the other winning products and their manufacturers are: the Oldsmobile Cutlass Supreme automobile, General Motors; Sigma non-impact computer printer, Qume Corporation; Lamborghini Portofino show car, Chrysler Corporation; Newhouse Group Furniture, Herman Miller Inc.; and Amoco Station of the Future, Amoco Oil Co.

Crump said the MAGNUM tractors are the first tractors designed for the 1990's. Customer benefits that are a direct result from the design that helped the MAGNUM tractors win the award include:

- * improved engine cooling and reduced noise by creating the only agricultural tractor with a fully enclosed engine compartment;

- * unobstructed forward visibility by placing the muffler under the hood and lining up the exhaust stack with the cab corner post;

- * improved safety and efficiency by incorporating the only full coverage fenders on an agricultural tractor, preventing mud and debris build-up on the entry steps; and

- * easy daily servicing by consolidating all daily service points behind a single, swing-open access panel.

The MAGNUM line of tractors consists of four 7100 Series row-crop tractors, including the 130-PTO-horsepower Model 7110, the 150-PTO-horsepower Model 7120, the 170-PTO-horsepower Model 7130 and the 195-PTO-horsepower Model 7140. All feature an 18-speed, full-powershift transmission, totally electronic three-point hitch control and microprocessor-based monitoring systems as standard equipment.

The 1988 IDEA award is the most recent of several awards won by Case IH with the MAGNUM tractor line. Other awards include:

- * grand prize award in Plastics World magazine's Best in Design 1988 competition;

- * honorable mention in Industrial Design magazine's 1988 ID Annual Design Review;

- * recognition as one of the top 50 agricultural innovations of 1987 by the American Society of Agricultural Engineering's Agricultural Engineering magazine; and

- * selection as a Top Product of 1987 by Farm Industry News magazine.

Case IH introduced the MAGNUM line in August, 1987, the MAGNUM tractors are the first all-new agricultural tractors produced in North America in the last 20 years.

If you would like to see first-hand the award-winning line of MAGNUM tractors, contact Steve Brown at Brown's Implement, 983-2281.

Water District amends rules

The rule defining water waste within the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 has been amended by the District's Board of Directors, and the revision will go into effect October 1st.

At their September meeting, Board members voted to revise District Rule 1 (h) to conform more closely with the water waste definition stated in Chapter 52 of the Texas Water Code as amended by the 69th Legislative Session in 1985. The amended rule does not change the District's enforcement policy toward tailwater or any other water waste.

According to District officials, Rule 1 (h) (1) is amended to include "municipal" and "industrial" as beneficial purposes for which water may be withdrawn from the underground water reservoir.

Also, Rule 1 (h)(4) as amended deletes the words "means of," and changes the word "and" to "or." Rule 1, (h)(5) is amended to include the words "or negligently," while the words "produced for irrigation or agricultural purposes" are deleted.

The entire amended rule reads as follows:

RULE 1 - DEFINITIONS

Unless the context hereof indicates a contrary meaning, the words hereinafter defined shall have the following meaning in these rules:

(h) The word "waste" as used herein shall have the same meaning as defined by the Legislature, as follows:

(1) The withdrawal of underground water from an underground water reservoir at a rate and in an amount that causes or threatens to cause the intrution into the reservoir of water unsuitable for municipal, industrial, agricultural, gardening, domestic, or stock raising purposes;

(2) The flowing or producing of wells from an underground water reservoir when the water produced therefrom is not used for a beneficial purpose;

(3) The escape of underground water from one underground water reservoir to any other reservoir not containing underground water;

(4) The pollution or harmful alteration of the character of the underground water in an underground water reservoir of the District by salt water or other deleterious matter admitted from another stratum or from the surface of the ground; or

(5) Wilfully or negligently causing, suffering, or permitting underground water to escape into any river, creek, or other natural watercourse, depression, or lake, reservoir, drain, sewer, street, highway, road or road ditch, or onto land other than that of the owner of the well.

For additional information regarding Water District rules, please contact the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1, 2930 Avenue Q, Lubbock, Texas 79405 or call (806) 762-0181.

Boll weevil control program underway

Twelve aerial applicators September 20, 21 and 22 got the 25th year of the High Plains Diapause Boll Weevil Control Program off to what officials term a "mediocre" start.

The planes, flying from airports at Spur and Roaring Springs, sprayed insecticide on just under 60,000 acres of weevil-infested cotton in Floyd, Motley, Dickens, Garza, Kent, Crosby and Borden Counties. Flying time was reduced in the first three days by winds in excess of the 10 to 12 miles per hour maximum. Then heavy rains on dirt runways late September 22 prevented take-offs the following day from the two airports in use as well as flights scheduled from the airport at Post.

Surveys indicate a need to spray another 30,000 acres in the initial application, says Program Manager Johnny Anderson. Applications are scheduled on a 10 to 14-day schedule, and if the weather cooperates Anderson says the first treatment should be completed by September 26, well within the requisite time frame. Anderson is employed by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, the producer service organization that has conducted the program through its Boll Weevil Steering Committee since 1964.

The 90,000 acres to be sprayed in this year's first application is about a third more than the 57,000 acres covered in the opening salvo of 1987. Current estimates put aggregate acreage that will require treatment this year at around 750,000, compared to the 615,000-acre total last year. If reached, the 750,000-acre figure this year will be the highest since 1977 when 1,257,620 acres were sprayed.

Ultra low volume malathion is the insecticide used in the program. Applied at the rate of 12 ounces per acre from 20 to 30 feet above the fields, malathion has consistently delivered effective control, officials state.

Kimmel aviation, Greenwood, Miss., was awarded the contract for this year's spraying. Kimmel's bid of $5.94 per gallon, the lowest of three bids submitted to PCG, was accepted September 1. The per-gallon price, at 12 ounces per acre, equates to an application cost of about 56 cents per acre.

Currently flying for Kimmel are five pilots from Mississippi, one each from Oklahoma and Arkansas and five from the High Plains area. It's anticipated that another four planes will be needed before the end of the program, expected in early November when cold weather and/or harvest destroys the weevil's food supply.

The program objective is to kill the maximum possible percentage of weevils each year before they reach the overwintering sites from which they emerge to attack fruiting plants in the spring of the following year. The program is jointly funded by High Plains cotton producers, the U.S. and Texas Departments of Agriculture. Producers, with a small contribution from TDA, furnish 70 percent of the total cost.
