Christopher Enriquez: A reason to give thanks

By Alice Gilroy

On Thanksgiving Day some families may rush through the holidays without stopping to give thanks for the blessings in their lives, but you can be sure that won't be the case for nineyear-old Christopher Enriquez, his mother Olga and thirteenyear-old sister, Nelda.

For the Enriquez family, Thanksgiving will be another day of thanks to Jesus, for sparing the life of Christopher two months ago, and for keeping him strong and healthy.

While visiting his uncle, Jesse Sanchez, who was working at the ranch of Clint and Dara Ware, Christopher was the victim of a fall from the canyon wall at Cedar Hill. Climbing the wall on Oct. 15, with a cousin and a friend, Christopher slipped on a rock and fell, hitting his head on another rock.

"I was knocked out at first," said Christopher. "My cousin and a friend went to get help and I woke up. I started running to Clint and Dara Ware's house."

Fortunately for Christopher, Dara was home. She cleaned out the wound and wrapped a towel around his head. Meanwhile, Sanchez was located and rushed Christopher to Lockney General Hospital.

"Jesse kept telling me to stay awake," said Christopher. "I did, even though it was hard."

Lockney hospital x-rayed Christopher's head and found it to be a skull fracture. Care-Link helicopter was called to take him to Lubbock General Hospital.

"All the time," says Olga Enriquez, "I did not even know he had been hurt. Since he loved to go out where his uncle worked and play, I had let him go with them, and I had gone shopping in Plainview. They were paging stores all over Plainview and had the police looking for us. I never even knew it had happened until I got home. By the time I made it to Lubbock they were hurriedly preparing him for surgery."

Never losing consciousness after the accident, Christopher admitted himself into the hospital. He was then taken immediately to surgery to relieve pressure.

The surgery lasted four to five hours and resulted in a blood clot being removed and also part of the skull bone.

"The worst part of the ordeal for me," says Olga, "was when they told me what happened and I-rushed to the hospital and I couldn't see him because they were taking him to surgery. Waiting was also terrible."

When asked what the worst part of the accident was for Chris, he replied, "Having to stay awake after surgery, and how they keep you awake."

For the first 24 hours after surgery, Chris was not allowed to sleep. "They would yell at him, shake him, slap him, pound on his chest and rub knuckles into his chest," says Olga. "It hurt to see that done to him."

Because of the necessity of staying awake, Christopher was given no sedatives after the surgery. "That's the only time it really hurt," says Christopher.

Another discomfort he remembers is the lack of water. For ten days, Christopher was without water, until the swelling went down. "They wouldn't even let me take a shower because they thought I would drink the shower water. I would have too." On the tenth and last day, after six days in ICU and four days on the third floor, Christopher was allowed to drink, and to go home.

"The whole time we were there," says Olga, "the doctors kept preparing me for the worst. They said I should be prepared for Chris to have seizures and weakness on the left side of his body. They also told me he probably wouldn't be able to go to school for a long time and he would have to have

But Christopher wasn't listening to anyone, except his heart that kept telling him Jesus would take care of him.

"Everyone at the hospital was shocked at how well he did, but he would tell them that it was Jesus doing it," says the proud mom, "We also had a very good surgeon, Dr. Vernon

"I was never afraid," says Christopher. "I was just worried about the hospital bills and what mom must have been going through. I never believed the worst, I knew Jesus was going to get me out of this, and He did," says Christopher.

Again not listening to anyone, Christopher came home and hit the ground running. Returning home Monday, Christopher was back in school on Tuesday.

"We had a scare after he went back to school," said Olga. "Because he has to be on medication for three to four months to prevent any seizures that might occur (which they haven't) he was falling asleep in class. The first time he fell asleep it alarmed the teacher and us, and we rushed him back to the hospital. They told us that it was normal for that to occur with that medication.

"He has not slowed down at all. The doctor said he can do anything even contact sports, except he has to wear a helmet for one year."

Praying a prayer that every mom can understand, Olga says, "Every morning I ask the Lord to help him and protect him because I can't be with him every minute."

As a result of the surgery and bone being removed, Christopher has a very soft spot on his right side. There can be no pressure on that spot. In one year, Christopher is told he will have to return to surgery and have a metal plate put in that spot.

Again, Christopher isn't listening. "I believe the Lord will heal me and I won't have to go back for surgery. I believe the bone will grow back."

Remembering the upcoming Thanksgiving holiday, when asked what she was thankful for Olga replied, "I'm thankful for living in Floydada and having such caring friends. I'm also thankful to the Lord for making this all possible and for giving me the strength to go through this."

Christopher's thanks, though in shorter words, are the kind of thanks we should all remember Nov. 24. When asked to tell what he was most thankful for, Christopher simply said,

County purchases grader, will advertise for new patrol car

Members of the Commissioners Court of Floyd County approved the purchase of a motor grader for Precinct 2 during the November 14 regular session. The purchase was made on a bid of $59,013.00 from West Texas Equipment Company. The motion made by Floyd Jackson, was seconded by Kay Crabtree and passed by unanimous vote.

Also approved by the court at the Monday session was the advertising for bids on the purchase of a new patrol car for the sheriff's department. Bids will be opened on regular court day, December Commissioner Sam Spence voiced a motion accepting a bid of $1,000 for the purchase of Lots 17 and 18, Block C, N.L. Davis Survey, Lockney. The motion was seconded by Thomas Warren and passed unanimously allowing the lots to sell to Abelino Luna.

Continuing in the same line, the court approved authorizing the City of Floydada and the Lockney Independent School District to "receive any and all bids pertaining to the sale of real estate" acquired through tax delinquency suits in their respective entities.

The court approved the treasurer's report presented by Glenna Orman. In addition, a motion by Jackson, seconded by Warren and passed unanimously increased the child welfare line item of the budget from $1,700 to $2,000. Transfer of $60,000 from road and bridge funds into the four precincts was also approved. Each precinct will receive $15,000.

Farm work contracts were approved for Robert S. McDonald, Robbie R. Hatley and Eddie Smith.

Present at the session were County Judge Bill Hardin and Commissioners Sam Spence, Floyd Jackson, Thomas Warren and Kay Crabtree.

Holiday season and crime hand in hand

Thanksgiving traditionally marks the beginning of the festive holiday season. The next six weeks is the busiest time of the year for shoppers, merchants, and CRIMINALS. It is a known fact that the period between Thanksgiving and New Years produces more residential and vehicular burglaries than any other time of the year. As the most joyous season of the Christian year approaches, a review of some basic steps of prevention might assist in reducing such crimes in Floydada and Floyd County.

There are a number of neighborhoods in Floydada that have had an ongoing "Neighborhood Watch" program for several years. When implemented properly, this is one of the best citizen involvement programs for crime prevention. It is simply neighbor helping neighbor to insure the safety of a residential area. There has been a recent rash of vehicular burglaries, with a lot of report suspicious activity or persons callers, including repairmen, delivery-unknown to them in their neighborhoods.

Another way to combat crime in our community and throughout Floyd County is the use of our CRIME CALL telephone service. CRIME CALL is supported entirely by private funding, and tax deductible contributions may be made at the First National Bank of Floydada, First National Bank of Lockney, or checks may be mailed to: CRIME CALL OF FLOYD COUNTY, INC., P.O. Box 9, Floydada, TX 79235. The number to call in Floydada is 983-5200. Callers do not have to identify themselves, and citizens are reminded that CRIME CALL offers rewards for information on all unsolved felony crimes occurring in Floyd County.

Everybody knows the importance of locking the doors when leaving home. But, it's just as important to keep them property loss, and there continues to be locked when you're in. All the locks in reports of automobiles and persons the world won't do any good if you let unknown driving through neighbor- the crook in yourself. Install a peephole hoods at odd hours. Citizens are urged to in the door and check the identity of all solicitation ordinance, so anyone making a sales call at your home should have written clearance from the city offices. Don't let strangers in your home to use the telephone. If there is an emergency, offer to make the call for them. And, with the holiday season in mind, don't place your Christmas tree (and its many tempting presents) close to an exterior window that will be easily accessible.

Always lock your car - if only for those "few short minutes" in the grocery store or post office. Place all Christmas presents and other items of value in the trunk when the car is going to be unattended. If you are in your car and being followed, don't go directly home. Drive to the police station, Sheriff's office, hospital, or other safe, public place. One other thing. Be careful about your keys. Leave only the ignition key with parking or service station attendants. That way you won't run th risk that your house keys will be duplicated. And, speaking of house keys, DO NOT hide them outside - crooks know all the best hiding spots.

Mark all items of value with your DRIVER'S LICENSE NUMBER so that your property, if stolen, can be easily traced and identified as yours. Marked property is difficult for a burglar to dispose of or resale. It can be traced to the rightful owner. If the burglar is caught with marked property, it is solid evidence of possession of stolen

A few tips for personal safety on the

1. Don't make crime easy. Stay out of risky areas and stick to well-lighted, well-traveled parts of town. Avoid doorways, shrubbery and other dark places where someone might hide.

2. Walk confidently. Be alert - notice who passes you and who's behind you. If you're worried about crime, ask a friend to accompany you when you go

3. Keep your purse close to your men, or salespersons. Floydada has a body, covering the clasp or flap with your hand or forearm. And, keep your credit cards separate from your wallet. If the wallet gets stolen, you won't lose these valuables.

> 4. Carrying a weapon? That's asking for trouble. It can easily be turned

5. Be careful about phone calls, too. Don't give your name or address to unidentified callers. Never say who's at home...or tell anybody that you're home alone. And, make sure that children and babysitters know not to give strangers that information either.

THANKS GIVE GIVE

A Thanksgiving Story

by Athena Towery

Food, the one thing everyone thinks of when they think of Thanksgiving is second only to the memories of childhood and the Thanksgivings of by-gone days. The holiday that holds the warmest and most precious memories for me is Thanksgiving.

Visiting relatives was another. A gathering of relatives and friends would join in the celebration of Thanksgiving.

I remember, when I was young, watching with excitement as my mother began the preparation of the stuffing for the Thanksgiving turkey. It was one of the things we looked forward to as we were allowed to help with the stuffing.

Several days before the big day we would plan what we would take. We always tried to bring something that no one else was bringing. That didn't really matter as everything that was brought was eaten.

We always had the basics, turkey, dressing, cranberries, sweet potatoes, pumpkin pie and more. . . ham, pecan pie, mince meat pie and one year a creative relative brought cabrito.

There was always a herd of children, screaming, running around and making altogether nuisances of themselves (okay, so I was one of them). We had fun, fun, fun. Of all the fun and food, food and fun, the thing I loved most was being able to be with my family.

Of course half of my family was always pursuing a favorite indoor activity...yes, watching football. A memory of Thanksgiving has always been of grown men stuffing themselves and standing around the television set. To me it was just one of those things. My mom was always so perplexed at this. To her Thanksgiving was a time of togetherness not television.

To me it was just one of those things. Men like to watch football on Thanksgiving. That didn't bother me in the least. I always knew where they were when I needed assistance. Although "Go ask your mother" was always the reply received.

Tired children and droopy eyes at the end of a beautiful day.

Much to be thankful for in Floyd County

By Neta Marble

We in Floyd County have much to be thankful for... Our forefathers came to this country from many different places, at many different times, and for many different reasons.

They settled in various places and migrated to others. Those who came early to this county found grass and peace and quiet. They saw a future and they settled here. Settlers were few and far between but gradually more and more came and they filled the open Ranching gave way to farming. Times in the beginning were hard. The few neighbors were treasured commodities. Communities sprang up. Schools and churches were built. The railroads came in and made things easier. Gradually the county settled in.

Thanksgiving was celebrated in churches with prayer and song and in schools with programs and plays. Families and friends gathered together for a day of feasting and fellowship. Traditions were made and have been carried down through the years.

Floyd County grew as did the nation. Inventions made things easier. Electricity came and then the telephone. A way of getting water from the ground in abundance changed the background of the county. Life became easier, more

A way of life changed and still at Thanksgiving time we pause for a time and give thanks for who we are and what candle from each of the original candles and then in turn were escorted to their place in line. When each student was in place they repeated the National Honor Society pledge and were instructed as to their conduct and duties.

Lockney trash pickup to begin

The City of Lockney has announced that Triple C will begin their trash hauling operation on December 15. Dumpsters will be in place behind homes and businesses and once a week trash pickup will begin.

All trash barrels must be removed from the city by January 1, 1989.

No longer will burning in the trash barrels be allowed. Between December 15 and January 1 the city will remove all trash barrels. If you wish to remove your trash barrel yourself you must either remove it or mark it so that the city will not haul it off.

Triple C has made a list of do's and dont's for your convenience. They ask that you do:

1. Keep the lids to the containers closed. This will keep out cats and dogs and will reduce flies and other pests.

2. Bag all grass clippings. 3. Bag all household trash. The bags will keep the flies to a minimum. They ask that you do not:

1. Burn in the containers. It is not a barrel. 2. Do not put hot ashes or coals in the containers, 3. Do not put building materials (sheet rock, shingles, etc.) in containers.

4. Do not put concrete or concrete blocks in containers.

5. Do not put tires or heavy metal items (such as auto parts) in containers. 6. Do not put loose dirt in the contain-

7. Do not put tree limbs or trees (such as Christmas trees) in the containers. 8. Do not block the containers or al-

9. Do not move the containers.

NOTICE: the contractor is not required to dump the container if tires, building materials, tree limbs, stoves, refrigerators, hot water heaters, sinks, or other types of house hold white goods have been put in the container.

FEES SET: Fees for the trash pickup have been set by the City Council. They are as fol-

Rash of burglaries reported in Floydada area

Christmas season is upon us and thieves are doing their Christmas shopping at the expense of Floydada and Lockney residents. Vehicle burglaries and home burglaries have increased and rewards are being offered for any information leading to the arrest and conviction of those responsible for burglaries in Floydada and Lockney.

Since November 8, seven vehicles have been burglarized in Floydada alone with a loss to owners totaling several thousand dollars.

Starting the week off on November 8, a 83 Chevrolet Pickup was entered in the 800 block of W. Marivena. The left vent window was broken to gain entry and one Cincinnati Microwave Escort radar detector was stolen, valued at $250.00.

Three vehicles were burglarized sometime the night of 11-12 or early hours of 11-13. One '86 GMC Pickup, parked in the 800 block of W. Missouri was entered by breaking out the left vent ndow Taken was a Remington Pump .22, one Savage .410 single shot shotgun, one DC powered air compressor, three leather cow whips, one electric cattle prod, personalized check book, tire guage, shotgun shells, and one cowstick. Total loss to this owner was over $500.00.

Also on the same evening, two vehicles at the same residence in the 800 block of W. Virginia were burglarized. One of the vehicles, a '79 Chev. Suburban was parked in an open garage, unlocked, while the residents were in their home. Stolen from it were: grey purse with checkbook, cameo sweatshirt, make-up mirror, tape, gold rim drinking glasses, and a heart shaped watch with a purple band.

Parked on the street, and belonging to the same people, a Chev. Pickup was entered, on the same evening, by breaking out the right vent window. Stolen were: a "TASCO" 8x-16x zoom binoculars, and a "Vivitar" 135mm camera. Total value stolen was $219.00.

On November 20, another Chevrolet pickup was entered by breaking out the vent window. Stolen from this vehicle, parked in the 800 block of W. Mesquite, were two new speakers.

Also on Nov. 20, two pickups parked across the street from each other, in the 700 block of W. Kentucky, were entered by breaking the vent window. One owner reported nothing missing and the other reported a loss of tapes, billfold, sunglasses and large speakers.

A home, in the 600 block of S. Wall, was burglarized on Nov. 16. The owners reportedly left for "only 30 minutes" to go to the store, and left the house unlocked. When they returned they found the following items stolen from their home: "Multi-Tech" VCR black case, "York: AM-FM dual cassette with turntable, and cassette tapes. Value of loss was placed at approximately $584.00.

City Auto reported a vandalism on Nov. 18, that they believed occurred the weekend of Nov. 5-6. One grey Regal was found with dents in the hood and fender and the Buick emblem broken off. Damage was estimated at approximately $649.00.

Sometime between Nov. 18 - 19 a theft was reported from the backyard of a residence in the 300 block of E. Kentucky. The owner reported that someone entered his backyard through an open gas burner valued at $50.00.

"Trailer house fire kills eight near difference in a real fire and a staged fire Silverton."

This was the headline in February, 1988, as six children and two adults perished in a house fire.

According to the National Fire Protection Agency, your family will suffer a catastrophic loss due to fire or know someone that will in your lifetime.

In an effort to keep fire related deaths and injuries to a minimum, the Floydada Volunteer Fire Department would like to offer a program to families to prepare them for a possible home fire.

They have developed a program for just this purpose. Approximately one hour in length, it includes a film as well as tips on developing a home fire escape plan. The movie does not use scare tactics and is presented by CBS, McDonalds and First Alert. Showing the inside of an actual fire most people, after viewing the film, stated that the 15: my thermometer actually fell to 19.9. Again, so that all might know just how good they were, the weathermen then predicted Friday night's low would be in the mid 20's and drizzle and snow would follow. My Friday night low was a return to 19.9 and at daybreak everything was lightly frosted with a snow that continued off and on all day and gave us a total of 3 inches. That was pretty mild compared to the word picture the radio announcers painted of the Texas Tech/Houston football game. They described the game as being played in drifted snow with snow blowing in the players faces, chilled fingers fumbling the ball, and players slipping and falling on frozen turf.

Let the politicians of the world consider the sandhill cranes, how they choose not Atlanta, neither do they choose New Orleans for their conventions, yet the Democrats and the Republicans, in all their wisdom cannot attain results comparable to a caucas of this migratory fowl. Any resident of Cedar Hill who happened to be outside during the quiet stillness and brilliance of last Sunday morning was free, almost compelled, to listen to the lively discussions that went on within the various crane caucuses which met on almost every quarter-section. Just like the D's & R's they all talked at the same time, the difference being cranes seemed to hear and to pay some attention to what the other fellows were saying. Complete freedom of expression was in evidence since from every direction came the clamor of their rapacious demands and the quieter acquiescences of others among them. Like the D's & R's, they seemed pretty well greed on where they were going, but the hang-up was on the route they would take to get there and when they would get underway. Some who had held out earlier for the southern route were mollified by the maturing milo they were finding on some of the CRP land in this area. Some said they were freezing, they were behind schedule, and they should already be in Aransas Pass. Others didn't want to take off until a new administration assumes control. Be sure of this, when the quibbling is over, there will be a closing of ranks of their numerous factions, and the sandhill cranes will press forward single mindedly, as a migratory unit toward their ultimate goal. Apparently this is an ability the D's & R's will have to develop over eons of time, except in those all too frequent instances when they mutually see an opportunity to increase the national debt. Well weather brought the cranes to us, and weather and their wisdom will move them away after a while.

COTTON:

Cotton harvest had been slowed for a day or two by high winds and the debri blown in from nearby CRP land, then Saturday's snow brought it to a complete stop. Before the snow many farmers had strong hopes Thanksgiving would find them with their last bale stripped and in the module. Now they will be out there struggling to get that damp, tough, extra material on up where the brushes can flog it. With two hard freezes behind the crop, at least all stalk moisture will gone.

Cash price continues to deteriorate making it more certain this crop will all go in the loan. As the average price falls benefits from the target price will increase, but it is a dollars for dimes tradeoff. Rumors are afloat that loan equities can be sold for some thirty dollars per bale. If that be true it is a strong indication prices will turn up later on, possibly in early 1989. Based on the figures quoted in last week's Hesperian the county had ginned in excess of 60,000 bales at that time. Is there another 100,000 to be ginned, will the total reach 160,000?

HAY: More bales moved from the field to storage this past week. A sizeable remnant that had been judged too wet for baling made a rapid switch and baling had to be stopped because of excessive loss of dry leaves. This snow will give ample opportunity to move on with that

Activity at the Excel Company, principally a manufacturer of hay handling equipment, has seen a big increase. There has been no report of additional hiring, but this is the season for peak demand, and these little snows certainly are a spur to interest.

MILO:

That finite acreage of milo that was reported still standing but in danger of falling, a week ago, now has the additional hazard of ravenous sandhill cranes to contend with.

LIVESTOCK:

Correction - The ilama sale of Amarillo which this column reported to have a top price of $15,000 and an average price near $7,000 was much, much too low. An accurate listing placed the selling price of the top individual at $35,000. Many llamas brought over $15,000 each, and there were very, very few that sold below $7,000. Llamas are small relatives of the camel family and are native to South America's Andes mountains. They are extremely agile with a sure-footedness approaching that of a mountain goat. Being easily domesticated, they are used more often than the conventional pack-mule in extremely rough terrain where a beasts of burden are needed. Often they are called "camels of the Andes."

PEOPLE:

Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 14 and 15 Edna Gilly stayed in Plainview with her mother. Mrs. Clark had just returned home from staying a time with her son, Rev. Lucious Hill, in Houston. This was the first time Mrs. Clark had been at home alone since Mr. Clark passed away a few weeks ago.

Sunday, 11/20: Cephus and Imogene Fortenberry visited in the homes of Clara Mize and Sarah Beard this afternoon. They reported that Sarah was doing fine, however Clara had a little touch of cold.

Sunday/Monday, Nov. 20/21: Gordon and Jenese Patterson of Farmington. New Mexico, visited the Gilly families in Edna's home. Mr. Patterson is a brother to Edna's father, the late Jess Patterson.

Attendance at Sunday services was somewhat limited by sickness and the snowy weather this Nov. 20. Brother Jude Strickland preached the last of a two part sermon on "Woman's Place In The Church."

Writer's comment: At a time when religious groups have been shaken by sensationalism, when some denominations have formally changed their policies relating to woman's place in the church, it was quite normal to view Bro. Jude's announced subject, "Woman's Place in the Church," with a degree of anticipation. A review of Bro. Strickland's sermons tells us that, regardless of the change and turbidity generated in some quarters, he wants to impress on his hearers that the scriptures have not changed; yesterday's truths are today's truths; the waters that surround him and his beliefs need no clarification, they were never muddied in the first Sunday night, 11/20: A telephone Texas, told Gladys Fortenberry the Morton's were hungry for news from Cedar Hill. They were well, Bud was away from the house visiting the sick, the boys' school was out for a week, and the boys were visiting both sets of grandparents in Thackersville, Oklahoma. The Mortons would go to Oklahoma for Thanksgiving and bring the boys back.

Sunday, 11/20 was Thanksgiving Day at Phil and Linda Lemons' home.

Dinner guests for barbequed turkey and all the trimmings were Marvin, Jessica, Diana, and Cory Lemons from Lockney; David Lemons, a Tech student from Lubbock; and Carl Lemons from Cedar. Marvin brought a birthday cake for Jessica. It was one day late, but it was thoughtful and appropriate.

Roof-top experience from a letter to Ruth Hall, Friday, 11/18:

"It's been such a heavenly day! I selfishly believe God made fall of the year just for me!" were the words of introduction you used in the letter you wrote me on Saturday, October 8.

Here at Cedar Hill, today must have been much like your Oct. 8. My outside work was a late afternoon job on the roof at Phil's house. It was so still, so warm; I wondered "Why did I wear this jacket?" Contrast that to the weatherman's prediction of rain, snow, and 25 degrees for tonight and tomor-

As I worked on the roof, my limited, grown up attention was fixed on chore related items like hammers, and shingles, and nails. No so with Vance, my seven-year-old grandson. As he looked over the trees, from the vantage of the rooftop, familiar scenes appeared strangely different, more clear, and closer up. Although he stood beside me, his young mind was transposed to a world apart. He treated me to a constant patter of questions and comments:

"Granddad, look at that funny cloud, the long shiny one toward the sunset!" as he gazed at the vapor trail from a high-

Later "Grandad why is Aunt Peat's house closer to us now than when we are down on the ground?"

He really brought my work to a stop for a little while when he shouted, "Hey, Aunt Peat's field is full of sheep."

I could hardly blame him on that tone, ten thousand sandhill cranes exercising their legs, walking back and forth, foraging on shattered maize heads from freshly shredded CRP ground sure look like one big, big herd of sheep.

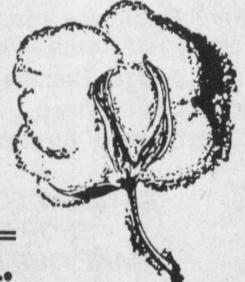

Then, "Hey, look! They walk up call from Marilyn Morton in Conroe, close to the road, then a car passes, and the nearest ones fly to the back side of the field. Then some more walk up to the road and another car passes, and they fly

After a while, just as the last nail was being driven, he asked, "Can Dacey's little black pup climb the ladder when he gets bigger? He's just sitting there now, wishing he was up here."

Ending thought: It is a mark of intelligence no matter what you are doing, to have a good time doing it.

High school boasts new band hall

Floydada High School and junior high are excited about their new band hall and celebrated their new building with an Open House on Sunday, November 20.

Proud of the new 2400 square foot rehearsal space, band director John Odom said, "This hall will give the junior high band hall more working space for their program as well as give the students more pride in their band and school as well."

The high school will also have an opportunity to expand their classroom and storage space by allowing them to take over the old band hall and convert it into two classrooms, a new nurses office, a conference room and custodial storage.

The new band hall will boast of four practice rooms, large instrument storage plus separate room for percussion storage, upstairs storage for uniforms and marching equipment which totals over 1000 square feet, and even separate restroom facilities.

For the first time all the high school equipment will be able to be stored at the high school instead of the junior high.

Band enrollment is up this year, high school has 73 enrolled, junior high has 74 participants and beginning sixth graders increased from 50 to 65 students this year.

Football season is the busy time for band students, but their work is only beginning when the season is over. "After football we spend the rest of the year learning how to play and getting better," said Odom.

Band students spend the year getting ready for the Christmas concert, taking place this year on Sunday, Dec. 18, for participation in the all region band, solo and ensemble contests, and UIL concert and sight reading contests.

"The school administration and school board should be given credit and enormous thanks for their continuing belief in the school and students," said Odom.

Thanksgiving dinner shows Texas agriculture bounty

Thanksgiving may have started in Texas' Rio Grande Valley and the win-Massachusetts, but the foods that are eaten at this traditional meal have also become important Texas agricultural products.

The star of Thanksgiving dinner is the turkey and about 7.4 million of them are grown in Texas each year.

According to Dr. David Mellor, a poultry marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas is about the 11th largest producer of turkeys in the country.

However, chances are that the whole turkey carved at your Thanksgiving table won't be from Texas.

"Most of the Texas-grown turkey ends up in value-added products such as cooked boneless breasts, luncheon meat and prepared products which are sent to the east and west coasts," said Mellor.

In the meantime, fresh and frozen whole birds are shipped in from Arkansas, Missouri and other producing states for the Thanksgiving feast.

From the corn meal for combread stuffing to the whipped cream for your pumpkin pie, just about every dish served at Thanksgiving is produced in some form in Texas.

For example, if you're making candied or whipped sweet potatoes or sweet potato pie from fresh sweet potatoes bought earlier this fall they're probably from Texas.

Sweet potatoes are produced in central Texas around Elgin, in the Lubbock area and in east Texas where they're harvested in the early fall.

White potatoes are grown in Texas too, although by Thanksgiving most white potatoes are coming from Idaho and other northern states. The Texas white potatoes are harvested in July and

Fresh fall vegetables for your dinner, especially winter squash, cauliflower, broccoli, carrots and spinach come from ter garden area of Southwest Texas.

Although many of these vegetables are shipped out of state for processing, they are also offered fresh through stores and farmer's markets.

For dessert, both pumpkin and pecan pies are Thanksgiving favorites. This year Texas produced about 39 million pounds of pumpkin. Many of them wound up as jack o'lanterns, but others will find their way into fresh pumpkin

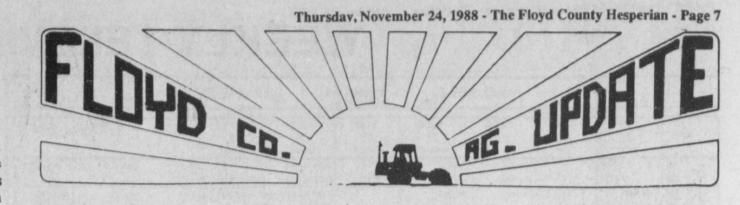

Pecans are grown commercially in 183 Texas counties. This year's crop is estimated at 45 million pounds. Although the pecans are slighlty smaller due to the drought, they're of exellent

It's unlikely that cranberries will ever be grown in Texas because they require a cold, wet climate.

If you make cranberry-orange relish, by using oranges from the Rio Grande however, you can add a touch of Texas Valley. The Texas citrus harvest began in October and will continue through

The Thanksgiving meal illustrates the fact that Texas agriculture is increasingly diverse. Although meat animals and cotton are still the major incomeproducers for the state, Texas produces hundreds of other crops.

In addition to producing food, agriculture provides another kind of bounty for the state. Dr. Carl Anderson, an agricultural economist with the Extension Service, said the economic impact of agricultural production in Texas is estimated at about $33 billion and businesses related to agriculture employ more than 20 percent of the state's work

The Texas legislature which meets only every other year will be in session in 1989. Deputy Commissioner of Agriculture, Mike Moeller of Austin, will open the session with a review of "Agricultural Issues Facing the 1989 State Legislative Session". It is expected that Moeller will address an array of issues including water, pesticides, workman's compensation as well as rural agricultural development.

Setting the stage for the "Current Wheat Situation Outlook" will be Dr. Bill Tierney, Kansas State University at Manhattan. Dr. Tierney is expected to focus on the changing supply and demand situation for wheat as well as producer alternatives in marketing.

Texas Wheat Producers conduct their overseas market development as do 16 other wheat producing states through U.S. Wheat Associates. Reporting to the producers on USWA worldwide activities through 13 foreign offices will be farmer-elected USWA Secretary Wayne Klindworth, Connell, Washington. Klindworth is chairman of the Washington Wheat Commission and a board member of U.S. Wheat, Reporting to the Texas Growers on NAWG's accomplishments this year and projected agenda to be considered for 1989 will be newly farmer-elected secretary, Del Wiedeman, Wakeeney, Kansas.

The no-fee registration will begin at 8:30 a.m. Keisling will chair the morning program beginning at 9:30 a.m. and report on the Producers-Board's activities in attempting to enhance producer markets and income.

Kendrick will chair the afternoon session and will report on the Association's state and national activities and conduct the business which will adopt resolutions for 1989 and the election of officers.

It is expected that the 1-day session will adjourn by 4:00 p.m.

Sponsoring activities and awards during the session will be Monsanto, Du-Pont, Mobay, Ultrawing Sweep & Agricultural Insurance Administrators.

Trees now available for establishing wind breaks

By Horace Garvie, Soil Conservationist

The Floyd County Soil and Water Conservation District is selling trees for the establishment of windbreaks around farmsteads. Windbreaks are relatively cheap to install and maintain. They provide for multiple-use benefits such as beautifying the countryside and/or farmstead, reduction of energy costs for heating and cooling buildings, reduction of soil blowing, establishes livestock shelters and wildlife habitats.

Trees will be sold at a nominal price through the Texas Forest Service. The seedlings are grown at the West Texas Nursery in Lubbock. Species available are conifers and hardwoods.

Conifer species available this year include Afghanistan (Bullet), Afghanistan Pine, Arborvitae, Arizona Cypress, Austrian Pine, Ponderosa Pine and Red Cedar. The seedlings are containerized. Conifers will be sold for $45.00/30 and Bullets will be sold for $30.00/30. Seedlings are 6 to 8 inches tall.

Hardwoods available this year include Bur Oak, Cottonwood Cuttings, Desert Willow, Flameleaf Sumac, Green Ash, Honeylocust, Little Walnut, Osage Orange, Pecan, Red Oak (Shumard) and Russian Olive. These seedlings sell for 32 cents and each are available in bundles of 25.

Orders are now being taken at the Soil Conservation Service Office in Floydada for seedlings. The SWCD Board will continue to sell trees upon their availability until March 1, 1989. Orders will be delivered to the Floydada SCS field office on March 8, 1989. Place your order now to ensure getting the trees that you desire most. All orders are filled on a first-come first serve basis.

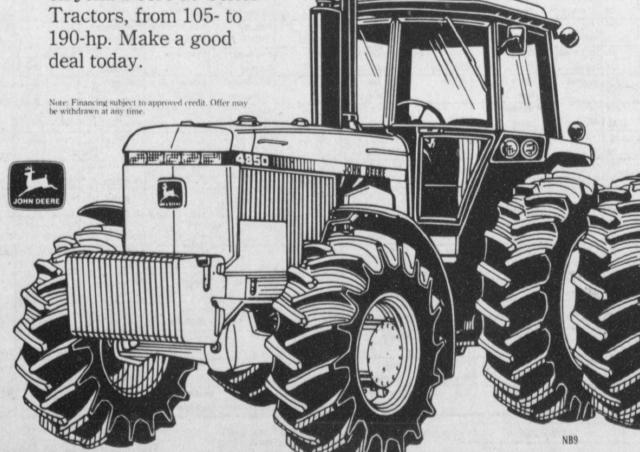

Trees sold may not be used for landscaping or ornamental purposes.

Floydada's Whirlwind Sams RV Club braved wind, rain, sleet, and snow, as 16 rigs traveled to the spacious Gaines County Park in Seminole on November 17-20. Most of the units left the Massie Activity Center last Thursday, and several joined the group at the park on Friday.

On Friday evening the club went into Seminole for steaks, and returned for games and fellowship in the park's recreation center. The potluck lunch on Saturday was truly a Thanksgiving feast. Outdoor activities were curtailed by the snow and sleet Saturday afternoon, and more than one couple spent the afternoon in the warmth of their rigs (some, including this writer, kept their ears glued to the radio to the Tech-Houston clash — being played in Lubbock in blizzard conditions). The front blew through, the skies cleared, and Saturday evening featured a sing-a-long followed by more games and visiting.

The Sunday morning devotional was highlighted by a musical selection by Paul and Dartha Westbrook, accompanied by Dell Gray on electric piano. W.B. Cates gave an inspirational message with a Thanksgiving theme. The outing was closed with the traditional singing of "Happy Trails."

Wayne Russell, on his last campout as president, thanked Bob and Jean Kendrick for their hard work in planning the trip. Russell also thanked the entire club for making this past year a truly outstanding one. The next meeting scheduled is the annual Christmas party in Floydada on December 3.
