off by more than two minutes, so we were doing well. However, to ensure everyone finishes and to give everyone a sporting chance, all the previous days times are thrown out and the last two days are the scoring days that count. Those are the days we did the worst. On the next to the last day we went down a dead end road and on the last day we took a wrong turn and came in 11 minutes early. That put us behind, however we came in 58th for the eleven days cumulative."

The 1989 race route included a 39 city itinerary of pit stops, lunches and overnight stays. The itinerary included:

June 24-25: Norfolk, VA, to Baltimore MD; with stops in Parksley, VA, and Salisbury MD.

June 26: Baltimore to Charlotte, NC; with stops in Richmond, VA., and Raleigh, NC.

June 27: Charlotte to Nashville, TN; with stops in Asheville, NC, Knoxville, TN, and Sparta, TN.

June 28: Nashville to Little Rock, AR; with stops in Jackson, TN, Memphis; Stuttgart, AR.

June 29: Little Rock to Oklahoma City; with stops in Petit Jean, AR; Fort Smith, AR; Ada, OK.

June 30: Oklahoma City to Irving, TX; with stops in Pauls Valley, OK; Gainesville, TX.

July 1-2: Irving, rest stop.

July 3: Irving to Amarillo; with stops in Wichita Falls, Lawton, OK; Altus, OK; Wellington, TX.

July 4: Amarillo to Santa Fe; with stops in Vega, TX, Tucumcari, NM; Las Vegas.

July 5: Santa Fe to Phoenix; with stops in Springerville, AZ; Globe, AZ.

July 6: Phoenix to San Diego; with stops in Gila Bend; Yuma; Holtville, CA.

July 7-8: San Diego to Anaheim; with stops in Fallbrook and Disneyland.

"Tom McRae, of Dallas, organized this race," said Frank. "He is a good promoter and makes sure you go through every city on the itinerary. Observation points are set up so you have to."

The cities made the racers glad they came through. The route may not sound like a very direct route from Norfolk to Anaheim, but it was set up to go through cities planning receptions. Since all the towns who participated were competing for the grand prize of $10,000 for the best welcome, there were plenty of warm welcomes!

"There were basically three stops a day that included planned celebrations," said Marisue. "In Ada, Oklahoma, someone had painted all the cars in the race on the downtown windows. Our car, #13, was on a window with our names. Other towns welcomed us into town with people holding welcome signs, along the road, with our names on them. Everyone went all out. Lawton served us buffalo burgers and rattlesnake. Some places served homemade cookies and ice cream. Ada won the $10,000 first prize; Jackson, TN, won the $5,000 second prize and Santa Fe took the 3rd prize of $3,000."

Friendly towns weren't the only ones in hot competition. The winning racers also had a lot to gain. The 1st place grand prize winner took home $50,000. But even if you didn't win the grand prize, you could still shoot for the smaller everyday prizes.

"On any one day," said Frank, "the person who had the best time won $5,000. The 2nd best won $3,000 and 3rd place won $1,000. The person at the end of the day who had had the extreme hardships for that day won $500.00. There were other prizes all along the way. A total amount of $250,000 was given away in prize money. The major money was given from the last two days of scores, and you had to finish the race in order to get any of your prize money."

Even though the Potts say there was no time for relaxing or sightseeing they still came back with plenty of memories.

"I really enjoyed Norfolk that first day," said Frank. "They had a parade for us on the waterfront and they took us on the aircraft carriers at the naval base and swore us in as Navy recruits. All of our cars were parked in an air conditioned convention center to view. All along the trip were scenic areas and almost everywhere we stayed was on a waterside. I also really enjoyed Disneyland Main Street which is where we finished the race. They were very precise and professional getting everybody lined up and out on time for the parade. We also got to see our car on ESPN, which was taping parts of the end of the race."

"I enjoyed Norfolk too," said Marisue, "but I liked the back roads and countryside the most. I can't remember the cities, but I remember the smoking rivers in North Carolina. Our ancestors

Quick action nabs local man in the act of Thompson's burglary

Good security measures and quick action by police resulted in the apprehension of a burglar inside Thompson's Pharmacy, early Sunday morning.

According to police reports, Officer Harold Snell received a call at 1:48 a.m. that an alarm had been tripped at Thompson Pharmacy. Snell arrived within the minute and observed the pant leg of someone darting back into the broken glass door of Thompson's.

"He heard me coming," said Snell. "He turned back into the store to hide."

Snell radioed for backup before entering the building and DPS Trooper Marty Lucke and Lockney Police Officer Jerry Edwards arrived at the scene. While Edwards covered the back door, Snell and Lucke searched the inside of the building. They found a man hiding under a counter by the photo processor. He was arrested at the scene.

"He gained entry by knocking out the glass of the north door," said Snell. "We found him with four tapes in his possession." The value of the tapes and the damage to the door was estimated at approximately $312.00.

Police also received a report that sometime during the weekend of July 22-24 the chrome strip of a pickup parked in the 200 block of South Main was stolen from the tailgate. The loss was estimated at $90.00.

On July 20 a report was received that someone had slashed the tire of an '88 came from there and I felt like I was retracing their footsteps. It was very special."

Both Frank and Marisue agreed that the small towns were more memorable. "As you were driving down the back roads," said Marisue, "whole families would come out of their homes and wave at us. Some would even point the way we were supposed to go. I guess what touched me the most, since I am from a small town, was seeing a farmer stop his tractor - just to smile and wave and watch us all go by."

Suzuki, parked in the 500 block of East Kentucky. The estimated loss was $50.00.

Accidents investigated by police included:

On July 18 at 9:38 a.m. in the intersection of South 1st and West Kentucky a 1981 Ford Ranger pickup that was westbound on Kentucky started to make a left turn on to South 1st and pulled in front of a 1981 Buick Regal. The two cars collided and had to be towed away.

Also on July 18, at 6:00 p.m., police received a call from a family who had looked in their back alley between Jackson and Lee, in the 400 block, and saw a small trailer, with a tank, that had knocked down their back fence. They observed a man hooking up the trailer and driving away. Damage was estimated to the fence at $300.00.

On July 22 at 8:55 p.m., a 1978 Chevrolet Silverado and a 1978 Chevrolet Scottsdale were parked at angles in the Pay-n-Save parking lot. The Silverado backed up and struck the Scottsdale on the rear quarter.

On July 24 at 4:30 p.m. in the 300 block of North 2nd, a 1979 Silverado pickup was northbound in the right lane of North Second when a person on a 20-inch Roadmaster bicycle came riding west across a yard. The driver of the bike could not stop and hit the vehicle behind the rear door. No damage was done to either vehicle and there were no injuries reported.

PAVING EQUIPMENT of Duinick Brothers is shown in the final stages of the $2 million-plus paving and improvements on Highway 70 east of Floydada. According to Shelby Peoples of the Lubbock office of Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation, the project has been considered and planned since 1981. The project in July, 1988, with Duinick Brothers, Inc., Gra Texas, receiving the bid as primary contractor. The value of the improvements is $2,310,492.26.

Residents celebrate birthdays

By Lorilla Bradley
 July is a "sizzler" month...
 Know that now 'tis summer...
 But with the 4th and birthdays, too...
 It just can't be a "bummer!"

*****

Mrs. Pettit we salute
 ...Her years are 89...
 A nicer lady you'll not meet...
 Today...or any time!

*****

Our greetings to Flo Ella...
 On this her special day...
 We hope the things she's needing
 Will always come her way.

*****

Mr. Young we're greeting...
 ...His years are 84...
 May he enjoy this birthday...
 And many, many more.

*****

We greet our Mrs. Lovell...
 ...Her years are 96...
 Just take her on a fishing trip...
 That's where she get's her "kicks!"

*****

To serenade these people
 Let's do the birthday song...
 So get your "vocals" ready
 And sing out good and strong!

Thursday, July 20, was party time at the Rest Home with ladies of the City Park Church of Christ hosting.
 The Hesperian photographer came for the "picture taking" after which everyone was ushered into the dining room with the honorees being seated at the "honor" table. It was laid with a pink cloth and centered with a crystal vase of silk flowers in summer colors. Their places were marked with special cards.
 We are so sorry Mrs. Lovell was unable to be with us as she is in the hospital with a broken hip. We hope she is well again soon.
 The honorees wore fresh corsages compliments of Williams Flower and Card Shop.

Jo Bryant read a brief history of the life of each honoree after which the poem was read and all joined in singing the Happy Birthday song. A delicious refreshment plate of pound cake, angel food cake and tangy fruit punch was served to the honorees, guests, home residents and employees.
 Seated with Mrs. Pettit was her sister, Winnie Neil, and with Mrs. Jarboe was her daughter and son-in-law, Vicki and Kenneth Pitts. We do appreciate, so much, all of you who came to be with your loved ones and friends at this special time.
 The next party will be Thursday, August 17, 2:30 p.m. You are invited to attend.

 Forms: Melanie LeCroy, 1st; Jason Schmidth, 1st; J.T. Wright, 1st; Keeley Adams, 1st; Chad Allus, 2nd; Tye Allus, 3rd.

State Capital Highlights

By Lyndell Williams
Texas Press Association
 If this summer seems hotter than most, it's not the dwindling ozone layer—it's the record political heat being generated in Austin. It comes from several sources, including:
 *Quarreling factions in the Legislature blaming one another for the failed special session;
 *A governor determined to let lawmakers feel the heat back home before calling them back in November to complete the workers' compensation mission;
 *An attorney general who said the three public utility commissioners should resign for political infighting; and *Warring aspirants for higher office, backed by prematurely large war chests, who have removed the gloves early.
 And almost lost in the heat wave was a breath of fresh air that is truly Texas: the state highway commissioner approved a newly designed license plate which includes the state flag and motto: "The Friendly State."
 "Don't Mess With _____"
 Remember the "Drive Friendly" signs along highways which have now been replaced with "Don't Mess With Texas?"
 Perhaps more appropriate are signs, "Don't Mess With _____," and then one could fill in the blanks with the several choices: Senate conferees, Jim Mattox, Ann Richards, Bill Clements, or Mark White, etc.
 Mark White? Yes, the former governor is close to officially joining the hopefuls running for governor, according to sources from several directions.
 Some private polls indicate he leads Mattox and Richards in enough categories to spur his camp to hope for a comeback.
Home for the Heat
 Gov. Clements made no bones about it: he wants lawmakers to face the political heat back home for failing to resolve the workers' compensation issue.
 Then, he thinks the stubborn trial-lawyer senators who blocked progress in conference committee will see the light before he calls them back in November.

 But one of the trial-lawyer conferees, state Sen. Kent Caperton, D-Bryan, retorted flatly that "Clements doesn't know what he's talking about."
Finger Pointing
 Lawmakers are embarrassed by the poor results from the 30-day special session which cost taxpayers about half a million dollars.
 Even as the session ended in failure, the name-calling and finger-pointing grew hot and heavy, but included some humorous exchanges as senators tried to cool off.
 In floor debate, Sen. Carl Parker, D-Port Arthur, accused Sen. Bob McFarland, R-Arlington, of spending more time playing golf than in studying workers' comp.
 Don Henderson, R-Houston, responded, "I'd like to say I've been with Sen. McFarland on the golf course and what he does there isn't golf."
 Then McFarland said he'd missed his chance when Parker played in the four-some ahead of him. "Maybe I should have hit into that group a few more times."
 But Parker outsmarted him, he said. "Carl knew he was safe because he stood by the flag."
Mattox Rips PUC
 Going beyond a request for an official opinion, the attorney general said the entire PUC panel has succumbed to political infighting and should resign.
 In an official opinion, Mattox said state law prohibits PUC chair Marta Greytok from simultaneously serving as the agency's executive director.
 Greytok, a Republican, accused Mattox of partisan politics himself, saying several Democrat predecessors had already done what Mattox ruled illegal.
Campaigns, Hopefuls
 Forecasters are calling next year's race for governor the costliest in Texas history, some $50 million, based on campaign spending reported to date.

During the first half of 1989, two candidates spent more than $500,000 while the third promises to catch up.
 GOP candidate Clayton Williams of Midland led the field with $618,787 in expenditures, designed to boost his low name identification, and covered mainly by a loan to himself.
 Democrats Ann Richards with $581,814 and Mattox at $308,057 were second and third, and each questioned the validity of the other's figures.
 Mattox said he hopes Treasurer Richards keeps the state's books better than she keeps her own campaign books, and her campaign manager said discrepancies appear in the Mattox records, too.
 Mattox led in campaign fundraising, including a $10,000 check from "chicken king" Bo Pilgrim, who made headlines passing out blank, $10,000 checks on the Senate floor.
Other Highlights
 *Amarillo's Boone Pickens, a Republican possibility for governor, will move to the University Park area in Dallas.
 *John Odom, Democrat candidate for attorney general, said he will use an interpreter in a bilingual debate challenged by John Bryant.
 *Liberal House Democrats shot down a bill allowing the death penalty for persons convicted of child murder.

God's Country features locals

Music, drama, dance and fun fill the night air when "God's Country" bursts into its fourth year of telling stories about early Crosby county history.
 The original outdoor musical will be performed at 8:30 p.m. August 3, 4, 5, 10, 11, 12 in Blanco Canyon amphitheater, 10-1/2 miles north of Crosbyton.
 Have you already seen "God's Country" and think there's nothing new? New episodes and new treatment of scenes will entice you to be a repeat viewer and come again this year.
 A delightful first-time scene, appropriately named, "The Lavender Cowboy", involves quite a few local young people. A charming group of lassies serenade a forlorn cowboy who despite the fact that he has used ample amount of hair tonic, still has only two hairs on his chest! Joining the group from Floydada are Misty Bertrand and Lezlie Warren. Crosbytonites include Katie Horn, Nancy Latta and Katy Brian, plus Jonathan James and Daniel Brown. Amy Rainwater from Lorenzo completes the charming group.
 Another new scene contains a circuit rider preacher (Bill Wheeler, Ralls) holding an old-fashioned camp meeting. A young man (Scott Parrish, Crosbyton) finds it difficult to pay close attention to the preaching when surrounded by several pretty young women in "The Revival" (Cindy Merrick, Ralls, and Janet Peterson, Crosbyton). Connie Bertrand, joining the group from Floydada, portrays a charming widow. Other members of the "God's Country" cast join in to sing an appropriate song.
 The complete show of six episodes depicts Crosby county life between 1872 and 1886, the first 16 years of pioneer activity on the South Plains.
 The format of music and script bring out the human element of history, and the outdoor theater draws the audience into the natural surroundings where much of the story actually occurred. Recent rains have further enhanced Blanco Canyon's wild flower beauty. The stories about the real activities of real people have many humorous, exciting and significant moments.
 Ticket holders should bring stadium seats for maximum viewing pleasure on the bench seats. A special section has been set aside for wheelchair/handicapped. Portable restrooms are on the premises.
 Reserved seat tickets may be purchased for $6.42 by mail or telephone. Mail checks to "God's Country," P.O. Box 386, Crosbyton, TX 79322. Call 806/675-2331 between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. weekdays and Saturday mornings.
 A concession stand including sandwiches, fajitas and soft drinks will be available.
 Don't delay! Order your tickets today!

Courtroom Activities

In county court on July 18, Billy Mack Warren was charged with driving while his license suspended. There was no disposition on this case.
 On July 24, Ignacio Ascencio was charged with criminal trespass. He pled guilty and was fined $50.00 plus court costs of $88.50. He was also sentenced to two days in jail and given credit for the two days he had already spent in jail.

How Come?
 When I was born I was black.
 When I grew up I was black.
 When I'm sick I'm black.
 When I go out into the sun I'm black.
 When I die I'll be black.
 But you:
 When you were born you were pink.
 When you grow up you are white.
 When you get sick you are green.
 When you go out in the sun you are red.
 When you go out in the cold you are blue.
 When you die you turn purple.
 And you call me colored?

Top rural minister nominations sought

The rural minister might be considered an "unsung hero" by many Texans, and where that's the case, they have an opportunity to bring some special recognition to that individual.
 The search has begun for Texas' most outstanding rural minister for 1989.
 The award is presented each year by the Progressive Farmer magazine at the annual Town and Country Church Conference at Texas A&M University. This year's conference will be Oct. 2 through 3.
 The conference is an educational program for rural and small town ministers and lay leaders and is conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.
 "Rural ministers have a high calling and must deal with a wide range of challenge," said Dr. David Ruesink, a sociologist with the Extension Service and church conference coordinator. "Many of these ministers must deal with a variety of cultures and certain issues and concerns unique to small communities."
 "For example, much of rural Texas has been hard hit by the farm recession the past few years," Ruesink said. "Rural ministers have played a key role in helping families in these communities learn to cope and to survive."
 County Extension Service offices have details on how to submit nominations for the Rural Minister of the Year Award, Ruesink said. Nominations must include a record book that tells the story of what the minister has done for his congregation as well as the entire community.
 "It's important to focus on the impact that the minister has had within his congregation and the community as a whole," Ruesink said. "How has he made a difference? How have the people benefited from his efforts? How has he molded the people together to fulfill their religious as well as their community needs?"
 To be eligible for the award, a minister must serve a congregation in a rural community or town of less than 10,000 population, and he must have served that congregation at least two years.
 Nominations must be submitted by Aug. 15 to the Texas Rural Minister of the Year Committee, Dept. of Rural Sociology, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas 77843-2125.

Public Notice

On July 17, 1989, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company (SWBT) filed an application with the Public Utility Commission (PUC) of Texas to add a new service offering for business customers, called Customer Billing Reports (Toll Summaries). The proposed effective date for this offering is September 11, 1989.
 Four reports will be offered to provide toll detail based upon information from the customer's long distance usage billed by SWBT. These reports, which are entitled Usage Summaries, Billing Number Summary, Number Called Summary and International Call Detail, will include both intraLATA usage provided by SWBT and interLATA usage provided by Interexchange Carrier (IC) and billed by SWBT. These reports will be provided to customers for a charge and customers may order these reports on a monthly, quarterly, semiannually or annually basis.

CUSTOMER BILLING REPORTS (TOLL SUMMARIES) PROPOSED RATES
One Report	$25.00
Two Reports	$50.00
Three or Four Reports	$75.00

NOTE: All rates shown are per billing account number; per occurrence of report production.
 Customer Billing Reports (Toll Summaries) have been forecasted to generate an increase in first year annual revenues of approximately $282,983.
 Persons who wish to comment on this application should notify the Commission by September 1, 1989. Requests for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757, or you may call the Public Utility Commission Public Information Office at (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.

ASCS expands CNT pilot project

Cotton producers across the nation will soon have the option of transmitting bale loan data via computer to county USDA Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service offices.

The bottom line: by sending data on the National Cotton Council's Cotton Telecommunication Network, ASCS' workload will go down, loan processing will speed up and producers will get checks in hand faster.

"ASCS has notified us that they will expand the CTN loan-making pilot project to all cotton county ASCS offices beginning with the 1989 crop," said Joe Wyrick, the Council's Information Systems director who manages the CTN project. "We're looking forward to the challenge of providing this service to producers in all Cotton Belt States."

Although the loan pilot was limited to 80 counties in eight states last season, nearly 2,000 government loans involving more than 100,000 bales were secured from ASCS offices via the CTN. Now, the potential exists for all of the nation's 38,000 cotton producers in 800 counties across 18 states to get loans by computer. USDA crop production loans are available to producers following the harvest and ginning of the cotton.

Wyrick said CTN loan transactions are faster than the conventional form A loan which requires a producer to go to his county ASCS office, fill out the loan form and leave his bale class cards and warehouse receipts with the county office. The data on the paper loan form has to be keypunched by ASCS personnel which slows loan processing so that a producer often must wait from four to six weeks before receiving a check.

By contrast, CTN members are given software which allows them to send loan data from a personal computer to the ASCS IBM System 36 mini-computer via CTN—the Council's three-year old electronic document exchange system which receives support from The Cotton Foundation through a grant from ICI Americas.

Wyrick said the Council will continue to provide whatever training is necessary to make CTN users proficient with the loan-making software. Anyone interested in using the software should contact Wyrick or Tammie Martin at the Council, 1918 N. Parkway, Memphis, TN 38112, (910) 274-9030.

Floyd County Farm Conditions

By C. Mark Brown
Extension Agent-Entomology
Crosby/Floyd County

GENERAL SITUATION

Fleahoppers continue to increase in numbers in many fields across the two county area. Bollworm activity has decreased as compared to last week. Medium sized colonies of greenbugs are being reported. Our field scouts have detected some midge infestations in some blooming sorghum. Corn producers need to begin checking fields for the presence of 2nd generation Southwest-corn borer eggs.

COTTON

Fleahoppers continue to increase in area fields. Several older cotton fields in our program are infested with as many as 70 to 100 fleahoppers per 100 plants. From reviewing our scout reports, I have observed that when fleahoppers number more than 70 per 100 plants, the number of squares per plant will usually not increase from the previous week. This means that producers will have to decide whether to remove the fleahoppers or be content with the yield potential that has already been established. One method to estimate yield potential is to check 10 plants per site and record the number of matchhead or larger squares, bloom, and bolls per plant. These are safe from fleahopper injury.

Multiply the average number of fruit per plant by the number of fruiting plants per acre (average number of fruiting plants in 13.1 row ft X 1000 = fruiting plants per acre on 40 inch centers) to get an estimate of number of fruit per acre. Then divide the number of fruit per acre by 500, which is a conservative estimate of the number of fruit required to equal one pound of lint. This is your yield potential. Remember to allow for natural square shed and some insect damage. If you are not satisfied with the fruit load, fleahopper control may be considered, but realize that pinhead squares set after July 31 have very little chance of making a harvestable boll.

Fleahopper numbers are generally lighter in younger cotton; however treatment was recommended for one field of June 16 cotton near the Lakeview community. I cannot emphasize enough the need for producers to scout very late planted fields on an individual basis. Although we cannot financially afford to treat these fields unnecessarily, an economic infestation of flea-hoppers could prevent any chance of making an acceptable crop. If you find 2 to 3 fleahoppers per 100 randomly selected plants checked along with some blasted squares, in mid-June cotton, you should consider an immediate treatment. You only have 10 days left to set the fruit load!

For the sake of review, fleahopper adults are about 1/8-inch long, oval, and pale green with prominent antennae. Nymphs resemble adults, but lack fully developed wings and can be much smaller. Other insects easily confused with fleahoppers include minute pirate bug nymphs, which are orange in color, and leafhoppers, which are cigar shaped and often walk in a sideways manner when disturbed. Both fleahoppers and minute pirate bugs are common in most fields at this time.

Cotton aphids continue to be found in localized areas of the field; however, have not increased to economic levels as of yet. Last year at this time, many fields had already required treatment for aphid infestations.

Cotton bollworm activity has generally decreased this week in comparison to last week's counts. Early this week, some fields near the Big 4 community required treatment, with as many as 7400 worms and 2500 eggs present in the field in combination with heavy fleahopper numbers. This week, we have found as many as 4900 eggs per acre in some fields, but egg lays have generally declined. Moth trap catches peaked last week. We feel like last week was our first significant peak. Cycles usually occur at about 28 day intervals.

SORGHUM

Greenbug numbers continue to increase in sorghum fields. The largest colonies recorded by our scouts are moderate in size along the length of the midrib.

Our scouts have detected some midge infestations in blooming sorghum. Midge counts averaged 4 per 20 heads checked. Producers with seed production sorghum should pay particular attention to these midge numbers. The sorghum midge is a tiny, reddish-orange, gnat-like insect that lays its eggs only in blooming florets of the sorghum head. Females only live for about 24 hours, but may deposit as many as 50 tiny eggs into seed florets. An orange colored maggot hatches from the egg and feeds on the floret, preventing kernel development.

late Lt. Governor Hobby and Speaker Lewis," Rankin said.

According to Legislative Consultant Patrick Cox, legislators were selected for the awards based on their voting records and on work done in committees. Issues selected during the session were the Sunset Legislation for the Texas Department of Agriculture, rural health care, increasing aid and making improvements in public education and for the elderly and other legislation which will improve the competitiveness of the state's family farmers and ranchers in today's marketplace.

"Overall, the legislature is much more attentive to problems in education, health care, crime prevention, needs of the elderly and preserving family farms and ranches in Texas," Cox stated. "But major problems persist, especially with the slow economic recovery in rural Texas and the inequitable funding formulas for our public school system," Cox noted.

The best time to scout for midge is between mid-morning and noon, during peak egg-laying activity. The midge can be detected by rapidly placing a sandwich bag over an individual sorghum head. The midge will be trapped inside the bag, and can be seen fairly easily. The treatment threshold varies according to the economic value of the crop. You should check at least 40 plants (10 plants per site at 4 locations) in each field and then average the number of midge counted per head. Walk into the field a good distance since midge infestations will tend to be worse along field margins.

Cultural, mechanical decisions lessen chances of barky grades

Producers can make cultural and mechanical decisions throughout the growing season to lessen their chances of barky grades, say researchers on the Barky Cotton Task Force. The task force involves the Plains Cotton Growers, Texas Extension Service, Texas Experiment Station, Cotton Incorporated and the USDA. "Fall plant re-growth increases the potential for barky grades," says Dr. Dan Krieg, professor of crop physiology at Texas Tech University. "We have found a correlation between barky bales and September rainfall which promotes plant re-growth." Producers can maximize the fruit load and reduce fall plant growth potential with cultural controls such as water and fertility management during the growing season, Krieg says. "Nitrogen management is particularly important because lots of bolls shed due to nitrogen stress. Desiccants and defoliants prepare a mature crop in a timely manner so a producer can avoid late-season harvesting when stalks become brittle, causing high stick content and more bark, particularly in stripper harvested areas." Dr. James Supak of the Texas Ag Extension Service says a stripper modification developed by researchers on the task force also helps reduce bark content. "When making the modification, the brush to bat, and the bat is shortened by an inch. This modification reduces the aggressiveness of the bat mechanism on the stripper," Supak says.

C.I. presents "best of cotton"

Cotton Incorporated recently presented a fall/winter fashion show featuring American designers' "best of cotton" at the Men's Fashion Association (MFA) convention in Rye, NY. The show highlighted cotton apparel for men and women from several leading American designer sportswear collections including Calvin Klein Sport, Isaac Mizrahi, Joan Vass USA, Perry Ellis and Adrienne Vittadini Sport. Over 200 reporters, magazine editors and TV personnel viewed 100 percent cotton apparel over a four-day period. The show, divided into four main categories, corduroy, denim, twills and knits, spotlighted cotton velvet in its finale.

Hearing tests set for Floydada

Floydada -- Electronic hearing tests will be given at the Senior Citizens Center on Friday, July 28th from 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 NOON.

Randy King, Licensed Hearing Aid Specialist, will be available to perform the tests.

Everyone should have a hearing test at least once a year - even people now wearing a hearing aid or those who have been told that nothing could be done for them. Only a hearing test can determine if you are one of the many a hearing aid can help.

The free hearing tests will be given Friday, July 28 from 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 NOON at the Floydada Senior Citizen Center. If you can't come in, call 983-2032 for in-home service or free hearing tests.

PUBLIC NOTICES

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON TAX INCREASE

The Floyd County Commissioner's Court will hold a public hearing on a proposal to increase total tax revenues from properties on the tax roll in 1988 by 48.74 percent. Your individual taxes may increase or decrease, depending on the change in the taxable value of your property in relation to the change in the taxable value of all other property.

The public hearing will be held on Thursday, August 3, 1989 at 9:00 a.m. in the County Courtroom.

FOR the proposal: Connie Bearden, Floyd Jackson, George Taylor, Kay Crabtree and William D. Hardin

AGAINST the proposal: None

PRESENT and not voting: None

ABSENT: None

The statement above shows the percentage increase the proposed rate represents over the 28.91 effective tax rate that the unit published on July 20, 1989. The following table compares taxes on an average home in this taxing unit last year to taxes proposed on the average home this year. Again, your individual taxes may be higher or lower, depending on the taxable value of your property.

	Last Year	This Year
Average home value	16,840	16,993
General exemptions available (amount available on the average home, not including senior citizen's or disabled person's exemptions)	-0-	-0-
Average taxable value	16,840	16,993
Tax rate	.2900	.4300 (proposed)
Tax	$48.84	$73.07 (proposed)

Under this proposal taxes on the average home would increase by $24.23 or 49.61 percent compared with last year's taxes.

Comparing tax rates without adjusting for changes in property value, the tax rate would increase by 14 cents per $100 of taxable value or 48.28 percent compared to last year's tax rate. These tax rate figures are not adjusted for changes in the taxable value of property.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON TAX INCREASE

The Floydada Independent School District will hold a public hearing on a proposal to increase total tax revenues from properties on the tax roll in 1988 by 14.14 percent. Your individual taxes may increase or decrease, depending on the change in the taxable value of your property in relation to the change in the taxable value of all other property.

The public hearing will be held on Thursday, August 3, 1989 at 8:00 p.m. at the EISD Central Office.

FOR the proposal: Charlene Brown, John Campbell, Andy Hale, Don Hardy, Michael Hinsley and Cyndiann Williams.

AGAINST the proposal: None

PRESENT and not voting: None

ABSENT: Adolfo Garcia

The statement above shows the percentage increase the proposed rate represents over the 66.58 tax rate that the unit published on July 20, 1989. The following table compares taxes on an average home in this taxing unit last year to taxes proposed on the average home this year. Again, your individual taxes may be higher or lower, depending on the taxable value of your property.

	Last Year	This Year
Average home value	17,110	17,247
General exemptions available (amount available on the average home, not including senior citizen's or disabled person's exemptions)	5,000	5,000
Average taxable value	12,110	12,247
Tax rate	.6600	.7600 (proposed)
Tax	$79.93	$93.08 (proposed)

Under this proposal taxes on the average home would increase by $13.15 or 16.45 percent compared with last year's taxes.

Comparing tax rates without adjusting for changes in property value, the tax rate would increase by 10 cents per $100 of taxable value or 15.15 percent compared to last year's tax rate. These tax rate figures are not adjusted for changes in the taxable value of property.
