Pets save lives of owners in home fire

FIRE DESTROYS HOME—The Paul Atteberry home was devastated by fire early last Thursday morning. Mrs. Atteberry suffered smoke inhalation and was hospitalized following the incident. —Staff photo

Because of warnings from two family pets, Paul and Brenda Atteberry narrowly escaped their fire and smoke filled home early Thursday morning. Brenda Atteberry, a Floydada postal worker, was hospitalized at St. Mary's Hospital, suffering from smoke inhalation.

Floydada Volunteer Fire Department received a call at 1:41 a.m., to respond to a fire at the residence located at 301 N. 14th Street. Three engines and 16 men responded to the fire immediately, arriving at the residence at 1:46 a.m. The trailer house, owned by the Atteberry's, was already engulfed in flames when firemen arrived.

"From what I could see when I ran out," said Paul, "the fire started in the front bedroom. If my kids had been home we would have lost them."

According to Fire Chief Larry Guthrie, "The fire was started by an electrical short."

The Atteberry's were awakened to the fire by their Boston Bulldog and Chihuahua's frantic barking and scratching. "I have scratches on my leg where the dogs were clawing me to wake me up," said Paul. "The barking woke up Brenda, and when she rolled over to tell me to shut them up, she heard a loud pop. It was then that she saw the flames in the hallway.

"I don't know why the smoke didn't hurt me except that I am taller and it was hitting me at my chest. The smoke was right in Brenda's face. She also stopped to grab the phone and call the operator. We have a long cord on the phone and she ran outside with it. We also grabbed the dogs of course."

According to Paul, Brenda did not suffer immediately from the smoke

Play-off game set at Dimmitt Friday night

This week's play-off game is at Dimmitt at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Nov. 17. Tickets will be priced at $5.00 for adults and $2.00 for children. There will be no advance tickets sold.

Floydada will sit on the visitors side (east side), plus they will also have 123 seats on the south end of the west side of the stadium.

City Council grants disannexation request

The city council of Floydada granted a request for disannexation of a block on a split vote during the regular November session Tuesday evening.

The council was presented with a duly documented and proper request by Bill Hicks, sole owner of Block 2, Huckaby Addition, for removing the property from the city limits of Floydada. The request was based on the fact that the city's failure to provide sewer service to the property within the 4 1/2 years prescribed by state statutes governing annexations and disannexations. The property was originally annexed in 1971 and has never had sewer service due to the high cost of installation.

Councilmen Amado Morales and Ruben Barrientos questioned Hicks as to the "real" reason he was asking for disannexation, saying that they believed

A view from The Lamplighter

By Ken Towery

Last week we dealt a little with what we called "payola politics," and how small-time ward heelers fit into the picture. We discussed, albeit briefly, how they can go about putting their organization together and what is expected of them. We discussed a specific example, citing one such operation in South Texas.

But where does the money come from? How does it get from point "A" to point "B"? Where, for instance, did the money come from to steal the 1948 Senatorial election away from former governor Coke Stevenson and hand it to Lyndon Johnson?

"We don't know all the answers to that particular question, but we know enough to shed a little light on the subject.

Back in 1977 we were working for the University of Texas System as a special assistant to the Chancellor of the System, charged with the task of raising money in the private sector to help those poor, poverty-stricken schools survive. On the Board of Trustees for the system at that time was former Ambassador Ed Clark, a long-time friend and confidant of LBJ's. He was also Chairman of the Board of the Capitol National Bank. I had gotten to know him, and other members of his law firm, back when they represented a number of people mixed up on the wrong side of the Veterans Land Scandals. (Even then, in 1955, his firm also represented the interests of Lyndon Johnson.) At any rate, on this occasion the Ambassador and I had to fly down to Houston where he was to dedicate a wing, or a building at the M.D. Anderson cancer hospital. Someone had given a bunch of money and was to be remembered in return. We flew in the University's twin engine prop plane. After the ceremony there were a few small drinks and we boarded the plane for the flight back to Austin. The Ambassador's wife was also on board.

Immediately we hit bad weather. I mean really bad weather. The plane bounced all over the sky. There was nothing left except to steady one's nerves, as it were. Which the Ambassador did, in moderation.

Whirlwinds win District -- Go 10-0!

By Bill Gray

The Floydada Whirlwinds completed an undefeated season for the first time in 19 years on November 10 as they soundly defeated the Friona Chieftains, 42-0. The victory also brought the Whirlwinds their first district championship since 1981, and paved the way for a Bi-District engagement with the Canyon Eagles (whom the 'Winds defeated in non-district action on September 29 by the score of 15-0).

Friona appeared to come out prepared to squelch any hopes the 'Winds had for a perfect season as the Chieftain defense stopped Floydada's initial possession, forcing the 'Winds to punt. Floydada's vaunted defense wasn't about to be upstaged by their hosts. The #1 defensive unit on the South Plains answered their early call, with Ruben Chavarria leading the way as the Whirlwinds blocked Andre Duran's punt for their eleventh block of the year of an opponent's punt.

Ray Garcia picked up the loose ball, and sprinted 39 yards into the Friona end zone for a Floydada score. Frank Suarez converted the PAT to give the Whirlwinds an early 7-0 lead. Following the ensuing kickoff, the Chieftains were again held to minus yardage. Friona's punt attempt was again blocked by the swarming Floydada defense.

Jay Mendoza crashed through to block Duran's punt, and sophomore Jamie Suarez recovered the ball in the end zone for his first varsity touchdown as a Whirlwind. Older brother Frank tacked on the PAT, upping the Whirlwind margin to 14-0.

Brent Sanders lands seats to Cowboys-Eagles football game

Congratulations are in order for Brent Sanders who has won the game tickets for Thanksgiving day for the second year in a row. Sanders ended the season with a total of 162 points. His closest competition came from a quartet who amassed 157 each during the course of the 1989 contest. They included Deneen Marricle, Sherry Hale, Sheree Cannon and Mike Anderson.

Those late-comers from Floydada (who might have spent a "few extra minutes in Dimmitt" enroute to the game) were greeted with a scoreboard that read "Floydada 21, Friona 0," because the 'Winds extended their lead a few moments later. Grant Stovall passed a 9-yarder for a score to Joe Cisneros (It was Grant's thirteenth TD toss of the season). Frank Suarez added the extra point, and the Whirlwinds were on their way to their first undefeated season

Abundant Life to host annual community Thanksgiving service

"Each year at Thanksgiving our community comes together for a service of worship and praise. It is always a wonderful time of community unity as we join our hearts and lives to celebrate the Thanksgiving season," says the Rev. Howell Farnsworth, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Floydada. "Another reason we meet as a community is to show our support for the 'Spirit of Sharing'.

"The 'Spirit of Sharing' is a community ministry - a joint venture to meet the needs of people in our area. We will take a thanksgiving offering for the "S.O.S." ministry as we do each year."

This year they will be meeting at Abundant Life Fellowship, 701 West Missouri Street, Floydada, 7:00 p.m., Sunday, November 19. The entire community is welcome for this very special service. "We hope you will make your plans now to be with us Sunday evening at 7:00 p.m.," continues the Rev. Farnsworth.

Sammy Rodriguez, pastor of the Spanish Assembly of God Church, will bring the thanksgiving message. "Proclaim", a ladies ensemble from First Baptist Church, will bring special music.

Hesperian has early deadline for Thanksgiving edition

Due to the Thanksgiving holidays, the deadline for next week's paper has been moved up to Monday, Nov. 20, at 3:00 p.m. The paper will be on the newsstands Tuesday night and in the mail Wednesday for those receiving the paper at their homes. The Hesperian office will be closed Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 23, and Friday, Nov. 24.

Girls vie for crowns Saturday night

Five entries for the Miss Floydada Pageant have been received at press time. The deadline for entry, for all ages, into the pageant has been extended until Thursday, October 16, until 5:00 p.m.

The girls that have entered the Miss Floydada Pageant will be competing for the crown and a $300.00 scholarship. The scholarship will be awarded from the Women's Chamber of Commerce and the regular Chamber of Commerce.

This is the first time that a scholarship of this kind will be awarded to Miss Floydada. It is made possible from the proceeds collected from the Holiday Happenings Style Show, which took place Monday night.

The Miss Floydada Pageant will be held in the Floydada High School auditorium, November 18, at 7:30 p.m. It will be combined with the Junior Miss, Little Miss and Tiny Miss Pageant.

Advance tickets for the event may be purchased at Williams Florist for $1.00. Tickets at the door will be $1.50.

The reigning Miss Floydada, Janet Himes, daughter of S.D. and Kathy Himes will crown her successor.

Junior Miss Floydada, Lacy Golightly, daughter of Dayne and Penny Golightly, will crown the new Junior Miss.

Little Miss will be crowned by Little

Miss Jamie McGuire, daughter of Jerry and Jody McGuire.

Tiny Miss Kayla Stovall, daughter of Larry and Rhonda Stovall, will crown the new Tiny Miss.

As of press time the girls vying for the title of Miss Floydada 1990 are:

Robin Galloway, 16, daughter of Doug and Elaine Galloway. Robin is sponsored by R Photography. She is a sophomore at Floydada High School and is a member of the student council and a twirler. Robin was a state qualifier in twirling competition her freshman and sophomore years. Her favorite subject is theatre arts;

Shonda Guthrie, 15, daughter of Larry and Rhonda Guthrie, is sponsored by Thompson Pharmacy and is a sophomore. She is active in 4-H and currently serves as 4-H secretary. She is a member

CRASH LANDED--A twin engine plane was forced to make a crash landing at the Floydada airport last week. Four men on board escaped injury. --Staff photo

Four escape injury from forced landing

Four men in a twin-engine airplane escaped injury Friday night when they were forced to make a crash-landing in Floydada after losing a propeller. The men, en route to Floydada from Grand Prairie, landed at the Floydada airport shortly before 8 p.m. The names of the men were unavailable at this time. According to reports, the Beech Traveler twin engine plane lost a propeller around Roaring Springs. "They flew all the way here on one engine," said Doodle Milton, Floydada Airport Manager. "The prop severed the battery cable and the nose of the airplane. All the lighting and electrical system was gone and it would not hold altitude. "Because there was no power the landing gear could not be lowered, and they did not have time to lower it manually before they touched down. "It is just as well they could not get the gear down any sooner. If they had gotten the gear down they would have lost altitude even faster and not made it to the runway. They landed six feet from the end of the runway." Milton stated that the pilot was a multi-engine flight instructor, the copilot was a helicopter pilot with Dallas Police Department, and the passengers were a Church of Christ preacher and his son-in-law. "I believe the preacher was getting some flight instruction. He was coming here to make a speech at the Baptist Encampment."

The Lamplighter...

During the course of all this he began talking. We had been on opposite sides of many issues, particularly as they involved LBJ, but I had a high regard for his brains and ability, and told him so. I told him I would like to do a book on him, since I had always been more intrigued by people behind the throne than those on the throne. And I knew he was heavily involved in affairs in Duval, Jim Wells and other counties during that infamous episode. I just didn't know how deeply. The Ambassador said something like, "Not just yet, Ken. A few more people are going to have to die first. We could talk about it, and laugh about it, but there are a few chapters we would have to skip over for now." But then, whether because of the weather, the worry, or the relaxing influence of the nerve tonic, he began to talk, to the obvious consternation of his wife who sat nearby. They had an "organization" he said, that was supposed to look after and correct troubles when they developed. And while everybody knew of Box 13, in Jim Wells County, the organization was just as likely to "send people" into Nueces, or wherever if votes were needed. The money, in excess of $100,000 cash, was in a bank drawer and only two people had the key, he being one. ($100,000 cash in 1948 would be like a couple $million today.) There were only four people who knew the full extent of the operation; himself, one of the Brown brothers (of the anti-union Brown-Root Construction company in Houston) a State Senator named Wirtz, and former Governor Jimmy Allred, who as everyone remembers, was an exceedingly pious person. The few hundred votes delivered after the fact in Jim Wells county were just part of the total. While they were enough to round out the total of what was needed, they were by no means the total picture.

The conversation also revealed an attitude toward former Governor John Connally that I never knew existed. He was particularly critical of Connally, calling him "a little, shirt-tailed lawyer, running around on the fringes, thinking he knew what was going on." (Connally, if memory serves, was officially the "campaign manager" of that campaign.)

And the money? My guess would be that the folks at Brown and Root put up most of it. After all, they owed Lyndon a lot. He had carried their water all during his House terms, and was sure to do so in the future, should he get elected Senator. Which he did, and which he did. Lyndon was a great liberal until it came to Brown and Root. And the liberals of course were always willing to forgive him that lapse, so long as he delivered on their real agenda.

But the money loop is not completed. All we've done is touch on the organizations in the field, (by example) and on the top of the operation (again by example.) Next week, if the creeks don't rise, and all that, we'll look at some things that are going on now. We'll take a brief look at how things have changed, and how they haven't.

Remember to turn in your turkey coupons by Friday afternoon!

Court opens bids for new motor graders

Bids were opened during the November 13 regular session of the Floyd County Commissioners Court for the proposed purchase of two new motor graders. Precinct 1 and Precinct 2 are considering trading in current equipment on the possible purchase. Yellowhouse Equipment Company and West Texas Equipment Company each submitted bids for the two graders. Cash prices in excess of $100,000 were quoted by both firms. Yellowhouse submitted a bid of $104,500 on the Precinct 1 purchase of a John Deere 770 BH model with a trade-in value of $16,500 on a Gallion grader and $10,000 on a backhoe as trade. Their net bid was $78,000.

West Texas Equipment Company submitted a bid of $116,139 on a Caterpillar 140G model with $20,500 trade-in allowance on the Gallion and $12,400 on the backhoe. The net bid was $83,239 with a guaranteed buy back of $81,000 within five years, making the overall total cost bid $2,239. Bids in Precinct 2 were comparable, with the net bid after trade-in from Yellowhouse being $34,500 and from West Texas, $34,122. West Texas again offered a guaranteed buy back within five years of $81,000, making the total cost bid $46,878 in profit to the county. Both commissioners asked for time to consider the proposals. A decision is scheduled for Monday, November 20, at 8:30 a.m.

OTHER MATTERS
The commissioners considered an order to tax personal property, deciding to schedule a public hearing concerning the matter. The issue comes up each year and deals with the taxation of automobiles, pickups, boats, planes and etc. belonging to individuals. The county has taxed these items in the past and plans to continue to do so. Farm work contracts were approved for Oscar Phillips, David Frizzell, Mrs. C. M. Perry, Sammy Bradley, Kyle Brock, Walton B. Wilson and M. A. Ulmer. Contract #612, previously approved for Billy Crawford, was voided at the request of the court. County treasurer Glenna Orman reported that the county began the month of October with $42,113.06 in funds and received $469,193.50 in receipts. $177,938.83 was disbursed, leaving a balance of $333,367.73 in county funds on October 31. Orman stressed that funds received since that date have been invested in three month certificates of deposit to earn interest until such time as expenditure of the funds is necessary. Budget amendments and transfers were approved, returning the $120,000 the general fund borrowed from the four precincts last month in order to meet county operation costs at that time. Other budget adjustments were made to implement the new county attorney/district attorney plan. Motorola renewed an annual lease for use of the county owned radio antenna as a repeater relay. The company asked for a 15% discount for annual cash payment in advance. The commissioners approved and Floyd County will receive a lump sum payment of $1683 instead of $165 per month for twelve months.

The court also approved the annual order making county officials payable on a salary basis rather than on a fee basis. Election returns were canvassed for the November 7 vote on 21 constitutional amendments. The only errors corrected were found in Baker box. Proposition #9 had the against votes listed at 6 when there were 10 against votes. Proposition #19 had the against votes listed as 15 when they were actually 12 and Proposition 21 listed 5 votes for but should have listed 6.

Two items on the agenda were passed for later discussion. Possible action to rescind a motion passed on July 11, 1988 was discussed and tabled until the effect of such action can more fully be determined. The motion previously passed stated that the court would accept a new library building as a gift to the county and assume responsibility for its upkeep and operation. Due to the current financial problems being faced by the county, this action is being reconsidered as a possible way to save money in the future. The second item passed until a later time was permitting the district judge to remove personal property from the courthouse. The commissioners discussed calling for an inventory to itemize which property belonged to the county and what is personal. The court also paid the properly presented bills for the month and heard a reading of the minutes from previous meetings. Attending the session were Judge Bill Hardin, commissioners Connie Bearden, Floyd Jackson, George Taylor and Kay Crabtree, Glenna Orman, Margaret Herrera, Amado Morales, Lowell Bilbrey, three representatives of Yellowhouse Equipment Company and West Texas Equipment Company and the Hesperian reporter.

Floydada Police Report

On Nov. 10, police received a report of a burglary of a building that occurred on Nov. 3, in the 700 block of West Ross.

Entry was gained into the storage shed when the hasp was pryed off the door.

Stolen were: two log chains, two starters, one alternator, three chrome 14" wheels and a Chevrolet automatic transmission. The value of the items stolen was placed at $460.00. Also on Nov. 10, at 10:42 p.m., Gilberto Ortiz, 28, of Floydada was arrested for public intoxication. He was arrested in the 400 block of West Crock after police responded to a disturbance call. Ortiz paid a fine of $150.00 and was released the next morning. On Nov. 11, at approximately 5:30 p.m., police answered a domestic disturbance call in the 1000 block of South 4th. According to police reports, the wife was knocked down, by her husband. She received a bloody nose but refused to press charges. No arrests were made.

"It has been a pretty quiet week," said Sgt. Harold Snell, "but the fire department has been very busy answering calls in this dry weather. Everyone should be very careful where they throw their cigarette butts."

Outstanding students recognized by trustees

Floydada's school board met for their regular monthly meeting, Tuesday, November 14, at 7:00 p.m., and for the first time presented certificates to outstanding students from all schools. "We want to recognize outstanding students each month that have exhibited extra effort on their part," said Charlene Brown, school board president. "We want to express our pride in our children and show them we appreciate their efforts to be good students." Principal Ronnie Wood, of Floydada High School, presented Grant Cage, son of James and Kay Cage, to the school board for recognition. Also named was Amy McCormick, daughter of Delmas and Pauline McCormick. Amy, who was playing basketball, was not able to attend the meeting. Andrews Elementary Principal Charles Tyre turned the floor over to Mrs. Waller, a teacher at Andrews, for the introduction of their outstanding students. Waller explained the schools motivational program which consists of 10 teachers and 16 students. This committee sets up the goals and guidelines for recognition and makes recommendations for rewards. Teachers choices of Dynamic Achievement students were presented to the committee, who then picked David Watson, son of Dean and Brenda Watson, and Lacy Golightly, daughter of Dayne and Penny Golightly. David and Lacy then explained a program they had participated in as part of the 6th grade social studies class. Letters and mementos were exchanged between the Floydada classes and Russian students in an effort to gain knowledge about the two different cultures. Principal Joe Christian explained a new program started at the Junior High school called the Best of the Breezers. "We recognize students achievements in academics, citizenship, attitude, and participation. This month we want to present to you eighth graders, Jennifer Givens, daughter of Ted Givens, and Israel Medrano, son of Jose Medrano", said Christian. Mrs. Harmon, of Duncan Elementary, presented Paul Vallejo, son of Mr. and

Deweys to perform at Abundant Life church

Levoy Dewey and his wife, Cleon (SESAC Song of the Year recipients) will be in concert at the Abundant Life First Assembly of God, 701 W. Missouri, Floydada, on Thursday, Nov. 16, at 7:30 p.m. A free-will offering will be received during the concert. Levoy Dewey is considered one of the finest singers in gospel music today. He has recorded with the London Philharmonic Orchestra, made personal appearances in more than 33 countries around the world over the past 25 years and, along with his lovely wife, Cleon, co-authored one of the all-time great gospel songs, "Heaven's Sounding Sweetener", which, having sold over 2 million copies and reaped 4 Gold Records, has been designated "one of the top 10 songs of the decade."

Levoy and Cleon have recorded several dozen long play albums and written literally hundreds of gospel songs, scores of which have been recorded by such gospel greats as The Rex Nelson Singers, Governor Jimmie Davis, The Florida Boys, Mike Murdock, The Thrasher Brothers and Jimmy Swagart. Country superstar, Connie Smith, recorded their giant hit, "Because of Yesterday", for CBS and it was selected as the SESAC Song of the Year in 1974. Levoy is proficient on the saxophone, valve-trumpet, stringed instruments, clarinet and bassoon while his wife, Cleon, is an accomplished keyboard artist. Together, they have recorded four instrumental albums and they always include several exciting instrumental numbers in every concert appearance.

Clay Simpson and Franklin Harris stood at 150 points while Laura Hale had 149, Robert Redden had 148, Hugh Miller had 147 and Duncan Woody had 146. Lucio Vasquez, Gene Lowrance and Joseph Henderson had 143, Keith Marricle and Chad Turner stood at 142, Doug Ward and Joy Allen had 141 and Scott Redden ended the week with 140 points.

The final week of the contest found Mike Reeves with 139 points, Jana Davis and Irma Vasquez with 138, Carl Lewis and Juan P. Martinez with 137, Don Warren with 136 points and Carrie Davis and Suzanne Wyrick with 133. All other participants had point totals under 130 points.

HALE EARNS SECOND WEEKLY MONEY WIN

Sammy Hale won the tenth week of the Hesperian football contest with the only entry missing two games. Hale missed the obvious, the tie between Amarillo and Palo Duro, and mis-called the Redskins - Eagles match. He selected Floydada to win and chose a tie-breaker score of 34 in the Floydada-

Friona matchup. Hale will take home the final $10.00 check of the year this Friday.

Second and third place were more difficult to determine as nine entries tied with three errors each. Jana Davis emerged from the tangle with the second place money of $6.00. She selected Floydada to win, as did the other eight involved. Her tie-breaker score was 42, exactly on the mark for Floydada's 42-0 victory over Friona.

Deneen Marricle was one point over (43) to be next closest and earn the $4.00 third place check in the final week of the contest.

Money winners may pick up their checks in the Hesperian Office on Friday, November 17.

Due honorable mention for their entries with three errors were Irma Vasquez (35), Pam Tipton (35), Brent Sanders (35) Sherry Hale (35), Amy McCormick (35), Bob Alldredge (38) and Sherree Cannon (50).

The Hesperian wishes to thank all who entered the contest and to thank the sponsoring merchants for making the annual contest possible.

Sponsors this year include: Floydada Implement, Floyd County Implement, inhalation. "I am so glad we were told to go to the hospital. It wasn't until later that her lungs started filling up with fluids. He lungs are O.K. now, and hopefully she will be coming home this week."

The only thing saved in the fire was underclothes of the Atteberrys; everything else was lost. "Even my daughter, Dawn lost everything. She was storing her stuff at our house while she was in school at San Angelo," said Paul.

"Luckily we were in the process of buying a house, at 412 S. Main. They told us we could go ahead and take possession of it, and I'm moving in this week."

Anyone wishing to donate items to the Atteberry's are asked to bring the items by the Fire Hall or City Hall. A stove, icebox, one bed, a recliner, one little sofa, plates, silverware, cups and towels have already been donated.

Needed are utensils, pots and pans, blankets, bed linens, dressers and chester drawers.

Paul Atteberry already has clothes supplied, but Brenda and Dawn will need clothes. Brenda's blouse size is 4/2; pants are 38W-32L; shoes are 6-1/2 wide. Dawn wears a 38 blouse, pants 32W-34L.

"Even though it seemed like hours to me," said Paul, "the fire department was real quick and did all they could. I think it was all gone in five minutes."

"We are at the bottom looking up now," said Paul. "I just want everybody to know, that we may be down but we ain't out."

Brenda, who has been in the hospital since the fire, will be released on Thursday, November 16, and should be arriving at 12:00 noon.

COWBOYTICKET WINNER--Brent Sanders of Floydada was the winner of two tickets to the Dallas Cowboy and Philadelphia Eagles football game on Thanksgiving Day in Irving. Sanders won the pair of tickets through The Floyd County Hesperian's annual football contest, sponsored by local Floydada businesses. He amassed the most number of points throughout the ten week contest giving him the right to the tickets. Alice Gilroy, publisher of The Hesperian, made the presentation to Sanders this week. --Staff photo

Brandy Lackey, 13, is daughter of Jerry and Leah Lackey. Brandy is sponsored by Floydada Coop Gin. She is in the eighth grade and is a twirler for the Breezer Band. She plays basketball and is on the Principal's List as well as being involved in the Gifted and Talented Program;

Jayna Ann Dunn, 15, is the daughter of Freida Dunn. She is a freshman and is active in 4-H. She plays basketball and her favorite subject is algebra;

Jodee Breed, 14, daughter of Joe Mack and Debbie Breed, is sponsored by Floydada Livestock Sales and is a freshman. She is a cheerleader and on the basketball team. Her favorite subject is Algebra.

Judging for the pageant will be based on preliminary interviews as well as the pageant modeling. Judges for the Miss Floydada Pageant are Lou Lee, a teacher in the Spade School District and from the Robert Spence School of Modeling in Lubbock.

Also from the Robert Spence School is Glenn Patton, a surgical technician at Methodist Hospital with experience in modeling. Patton has done TV, runway and photo modeling for South Plains Mall, Dillard's and Malouf's.

Latonya Johnson will also represent the Robert Spence School of Modeling. She is a senior at Tech and president of Texas Tech Fashion Board. She was a contestant in the recent Miss Lubbock Pageant and winner of the Miss Dance Pageant and Miss Cinderella Teen Pageant.

Judges for the Junior, Little and Tiny Misses are Cindy Boedecker of Plainview and Karen Sanderson of Tulia.

Bill Smith will be the emcee for the event as well as coordinating the entertainment to be presented.

Spring Lipham and Tian Younger will be performing vocally. Joyce Lipham and Allison Robertson will be presenting piano selections.

Honoring Floydada's Centennial, the theme for the pageant will be a patriotic one and the Boy Scouts from Floydada Troop 357 will be presenting the colors during the Grand Finale to the pageant.

Nightstalker was not from South Plains area

Floyd County residents who thought they had lived next door, or played with the famous Los Angeles Nightstalker, Richard Ramirez, can now breathe a sigh of relief.

The Richard Ramirez who had lived in South Plains and attended school in Floydada for a short period of time, is not the Nightstalker Richard Ramirez.

A rumor had been circulating in Floyd County that the Nightstalker had lived in South Plains with his father or grandfather. He attended Floydada schools in 77-78 and then moved to Dell City (outside El Paso) with his "Dad". Since the Nightstalker was reportedly from El Paso; it aroused some curiosity at this newspaper to check out any connection.

Contact was made with Sgt. Salerno, who is now famous for his investigation of the Hillside Strangler and the Nightstalker. Salerno said, "The Ramirez that lived there is not the Nightstalker. The Nightstalker lived with his mom and dad, who came to El Paso from Juarez. He grew up in El Paso and attended schools there."

Sgt. Salerno was told that the Floyd County Richard Ramirez had a brother, Johnny, and a sister, Mary. "It is definitely not the same man, said Salerno.

DANGER - CAUTION - HELP

It has been brought to our attention that a serious problem exists in the form of student safety!

State law requires all of us to stop for any school bus that has flashing red lights. This law is being ignored by some.

Please don't be the individual that has to explain to some parent why you hit or ran over their child.

Student safety is everyone's responsibility. We need your help! Report all violations. Passing a stopped school bus deserves a heavy fine.

What price are you willing to pay for a child's life.

Carl Lemons' News and Views from Cedar Hill

WEATHER

Temperatures ranging from cool, overcast mornings to warm shirt sleeve and straw-hat afternoons have been the feature of the past week's weather. We have been seeing a daily forty degree jump from near-freezing temperatures at daybreak to indian summer afternoons with highs in the middle to upper seventies; a range so wide that it behooves the outdoor man to anticipate and carry with him a wardrobe versatile enough to keep him comfortable throughout the day.

There certainly has been no need for a slicker this past week, however, foot wetting dews kept harvesting equipment idle for a few hours both Saturday and Sunday mornings. Major complaints about our extremely dry weather are being watered down by the universal desire to hurry that cotton crop into the comparative safety of module storage.

Nature's critters all have their roles to play and, as long as they keep their usual places, and do their usual things, we tend to accept them and they co-exist with us virtually un-noticed. The "un-usual" happened Saturday near mid-day when a roadside conversation was interrupted by a distant "coyote chorus." Now why in the world would normally nocturnal critters be sounding off in broad daylight several hours after they should have been settled for the day? One who was present quoted an old-timer saying, "Coyotes howl in the daytime just before a big change in the weather!" So your writer added more anti-freeze to his radiator, carried in extra fire-wood, and waited. Nothing happened.

Then, from out of nowhere, logic gave the answer. By mid-November the fur-bearing animals are well along the way to having finished growing their prime fur winter coats and when the weather warms a bit they get miserably hot. Not much they can do but howl! Down here all of us are growing the coats we'll be wearing in the here-after; do it wrong and there won't be much we can do but howl. End of sermon 11-16-89.

CROP COMMENTS

COTTON harvest is moving at a rapid pace. Some farmers with 600 acre crops are very hopeful of being finished by the end of this week, well ahead of the Thanksgiving target. There are still a number of unopened, moisture filled bales that present farmers with a difficult dilemma. Once they would have been bypassed by ginning equipment, gone out with the burs, or have been left in trailers, but now they may lie compacted in modules for many days, exuding moisture and damaging the dry cotton surrounding them. That is prompting farmers to move more slowly with the harvesting of that portion of their crop which was not treated with a hurry-up chemical.

A sight-seeing trip through a modern cotton gin, designed to acquaint a seven-year old grand-son with a gin's insides, turned out to be an eye-opener for granddad too. Cotton trailers, towed under the suction by man operated tractors, and two suction men in the trailers, have long since gone and have now been replaced by a 150 foot string of modules that, pressed tightly together end to end, inched forward on a conveyor track feeding exactly the amount of cotton into the building that the gin stands could handle.

Inside a multitude of laborers walked back and forth in front of machines, sometimes they walked circles around their units; actually they were not working, unless you want to call watching the operation of gin equipment work. Two men at the press, one bending and shoving heavy gauge wires, old-time presses used the flat bale ties, from his side of the press to a man on the press' opposite side. The second man bent his end of the wires and pushed them back through the press in such a manner that they fastened securely around the bale and held it compacted when the press was released. These two men were exerting more physical effort than any others been inside the gin.

Filters and high speed fans had removed most of the lint and dust from the plant that used to keep many gin workers at the brink of pneumonia. In short working in a modern gin looked like a cushy job during the brief time we were there. However, you can imagine the tension that must develop when a forced shut-down does occur. When all expenses are figured, payroll, depreciation, the loss of ginning income, and various other debits that would not occur to a shade-tree auditor, gin breakdowns and any other unscheduled stops has to cost the modern gin far in excess of $100 per minute.

The 500 pound bales tumble from the press into the "arms" of a robot that then places the bale onto a conveyor where it is pushed into a large plastic bale-bag, the bag's open end is fastened, the bale is then pushed outside where a bale loader places it on the trailer that will transport it, along with 70 to 100 other bales, to the cotton warehouse.

Watching the operation of a modern gin makes one realize that some cotton items purchased from your local drygoods store may have made the full circuit, from the time the cotton seed was dropped into the ground until you opened the plastic wrapped package in your home, without once having been touched by a human hand.

FIRE on CRP land brought the first fire truck of the season to Cedar Hill Saturday, on Veteran's day. An excited Arredondo boy who lives in the Mize house SW of Cedar phoned Norma Welch to call the firemen, their garage was on fire! When Norma and Peat Kelly arrived a few minutes later the garage had never really caught fire but the flames were out of control and being swept eastward from the main house along a country road by a comparatively gentle breeze. Numerous Arredondos, with sacks, coats, and what have you, were battling the southern edge of the fire and doing a fair job in keeping it from spreading to the large area to the south. They had it well enough contained that the fire department made a very short work of the finish. Had the wind been a little higher so that the flames had jumped the road then Cedar Hill proper and a few residences would have been in peril.

MILK harvest was over at Cedar Hill on Wednesday, November 8, when Hardin and Finly brought in their last load. All the milk received was dryland, even so some yields stood very near the 6,000 pound mark, a once in a lifetime record. Even the '89 sorriest would have looked good to farmers back in those hardcase years.

WHEAT hangs on tenaciously, crying for that life-giving rain.

CATTLE are eating the hay crop voraciously, as if they knew for a fact that rain was coming, would save the wheat and there would be vittles a plenty.

PEOPLE

Nannie Massengale Fortenberry has been dismissed from the Clovis hospital, and has returned to her old room at Pararie Acres in Friona. The leg amputation pains her very little, her greatest problem stems from her long period of lying in bed.

Warnie Leach returned to his home in Lockney Saturday, November 11, after being dismissed from Methodist Hospital in Lubbock. He is doing well but tires very easily. Made an ambitious trip to his barber's shop Tuesday morning but ran out of steam, very nearly had to be carried the last few steps. His eldest son, Earl Dean and his wife, from Albuquerque, N.M. are with him now. Anita spent much time with him while his was in Lubbock.

Edna Gilley and Imogene Fortenberry made a shopping excursion to Plainview Wednesday, November 8. Clara Redd, Ruthie Bell Clark, and Goldie Nabors, Edna's mother and two of her aunts spent the day with her the following Saturday.

Gayle DuBois and her children made a quick weekend visit to her parents home in Nara Visa, N.M. they returned Sunday with the report that her father has his wheat up and has his fences in place, but grazing will have to wait until after it rains.

Services were well attended at the Assembly of God Church Sunday. The new pastor, Brother Willis Dewy, has served as a missionary in a number of spanish speaking countries, and is very adept at the spanish language. He has been able to quickly establish a good rapport with the younger spanish speaking members of the congregation.

Cephus and Imogene Fortenberry visited a number of ex-Cedar Hill residents Sunday afternoon. They found Weldon McCormick in good spirits, laughing, and talking; still being cared for that the senior care section of Floydada's Caprock Hospital. Sara Beard was still improving. Betty Applegate has her husband back from St. Mary's Hospital now, and they also were visiting with Sara that afternoon. They found Clara Mize still the same indomitable Clara. As usual she had been in service for her Lord at Sunday School and Church services that morning.

IF YOU CATCH THE MOMENTS AND USE THEM WELL —THE YEARS WILL BE FRIENDLY. Clara must have latched on to that years ago!

Happenings at Caprock Hospital

By Michelle Bearden

One innovative change being tried at Caprock Hospital recently is placing a minor emergency room in what once was the nursery, situated across from the nurses station. This was implemented to better use nursing personnel as well as save thousands of steps for nurses in giving E.R. patients medication, copying insurance information, weighing sick infants and processing payments. Only critical patients will be seen in the well-equipped, spacious E.R. located on the west side of the hospital. E.R. patients can now go directly to the nurses station for care.

As with any business, a hospital must be run on sound business principles as well as meeting the needs of the public. These dual considerations offer an often conflicting challenge to hospital administration which are being aggressively met by Caprock Hospital's administrator, director of nurses and the hospital board of directors. It has been a special challenge for these dedicated people to balance cost containment and simultaneously continue a judicial use of finances while still striving to serve the needs of this community providing the best possible services. It is a challenge that is on-going and involves a gambit of people to ensure success—doctors, nurses, secretaries, auxiliary members and community members.

In this on-going effort to meet the health needs of Floyd County, we will be submitting brief questionnaires to residents to evaluate where we are in regards to meeting those needs and where we need to go. We, at Caprock Hospital are interested in you as a person and interested in what you see as our function in this community. While it is certainly true we cannot be all things to all people, we want to be the best at the services we can offer. It will be your commitment to the hospital that will ultimately bring about the meeting of your needs. Let us hear what you've got to say.

Michelle Bearden is our weekend day supervisor at Caprock Hospital. She works some 3-11 shifts during the week. She first came to work at Caprock Hospital in 1976. Since that time she has worked at intervals as well as for a home health agency. She also formed her own health agency in 1983. She sold her share in 1984. She is married to James Bearden and they live on the family ranch east of Roaring Springs. Michelle loves journalism and has done some writing for the Motley County Tribune. She will be writing our Caprock Hospital Happenings from time to time. We feel very fortunate to have Michelle as part of our staff. She is a very confident experienced R.N., respected by those she works with.

In the future we hope to mail out the brief questionnaires mentioned to every household in Floyd county and we hope each one will take a minute and respond to these.

Health Tip

The more alcohol a woman consumes, the greater her risk of breast cancer, say researchers from the Harvard School of Public Health. Reporting in the Journal of the American Medical Association, the investigators caution that their findings do not demonstrate a cause and effect relationship between alcohol and breast cancer. They write "There may be some factor that results in both tendency to drink alcohol and a tendency to develop breast cancer."

Alpha Mu Delta puts quilt together

By Tami Wofford

The 258th meeting of Texas Alpha Mu Delta was called to order at 7:00 p.m. in the home of Tami Wofford with 13 members present.

The program was given by Shelley Brock on quilting. She showed us many of the quilts she had pieced. They were all beautiful. After telling us a little about how to cut and piece, she turned the program over to Kay Brock.

Kay had cut and bagged quilt pieces. Then each member of the sorority will piece their own block. Kay will then set the quilt together and have it quilted. In January we will draw and a member of the sorority will win this quilt.

The final plans were made on the upcoming bridge tournament which will be Monday, Nov. 13, at 10:00 a.m. at the MAC. All proceeds from the bridge tournament will go to the Floyd County Child Welfare Board. Tami Wofford presented her box of candy to the sorority to tell everyone that her and Breck are having a baby. There being no further business the meeting was adjourned with all joining hands for the mizpah.

Hostesses for the evening were Tami Wofford and Sidney Jackson. They served shrimp pasta, salad, hot bread and Italian cream cake.

Members present were: Brenda Heflin, Tami Wofford, Sherese Covington, Kay Brock, Cindy Fortenberry, Sidney Jackson, Julie James, Dana Pyle, Sandra Schwertner, Dara Ware, Tammy Wilson, Gayla Marble and Mendy Shubert.

Williams and Wright marry in Abilene

The candlelight wedding of Holli Denise Williams and Vernon Lee Wright, both of Abilene, took place at Southwest Park Baptist Church in Abilene.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Williams of Abilene. The bride's mother is the former Nancy Sue Watson of Floydada. The bride's maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Jake B. Watson of Floydada. The bridegroom is the son of Virgil (Vernon) Wright of Abilene and Kay Wright of Lubbock.

The double ring service was read by Bro. Mike Woodard, pastor. Traditional wedding music was provided by Vicki Lay, organist, and vocal selections consisting of "To Me" and "It Seems I've Always Loved You" were sung by Sharla Millorn.

Wedding tapers at the altar were lighted by Shane Williams, brother of the bride.

Matron of honor was Jan Wendell and best man was Jamie Solis, both of Abilene. Ushers were Gayland Reeves and Shane Williams.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a formal floor-length gown of sheer moonlight satin. The bodice was designed with a sweetheart neckline of satin overlaid with portrait lace and seed pearls which fell to a V just below the waistline. The bell-shaped skirt consisted of softly gathered long tiers. The satin sleeves were gathered into puff layers from the shoulder to the elbow. Portrait lace designed with pearls extended from the elbows to petal points over the hands. A large pouf satin bow was gathered at the back waist and accentuated the gathered tiers of designed satin which fell to a fan-shaped chapel train. A Victorian-tea picture hat of satin completed the wedding ensemble. The crown was outlined in soft rolled silk illusion accented with miniature illusion roses and bows. The triple-tiered veil fell to just below the waist. The bride carried a large cascade bouquet of white silk butterfly roses and orchids interspersed with white satin ribbons and bows.

The matron of honor wore a tea-length deep mauve satin dress with short sleeves gathered into puff layers at the shoulders. The front and back V-shaped bodice was outlined with miniature layers of portrait lace. Matching shoes and gloves complemented the attire. She carried a cascade bouquet of silk mauve San Antonio roses.

The groom wore a black tuxedo with a white tucked shirt and white complements. Groomsmen were attired in black tuxedos, white tucked shirts and mauve ties and cummerbunds.

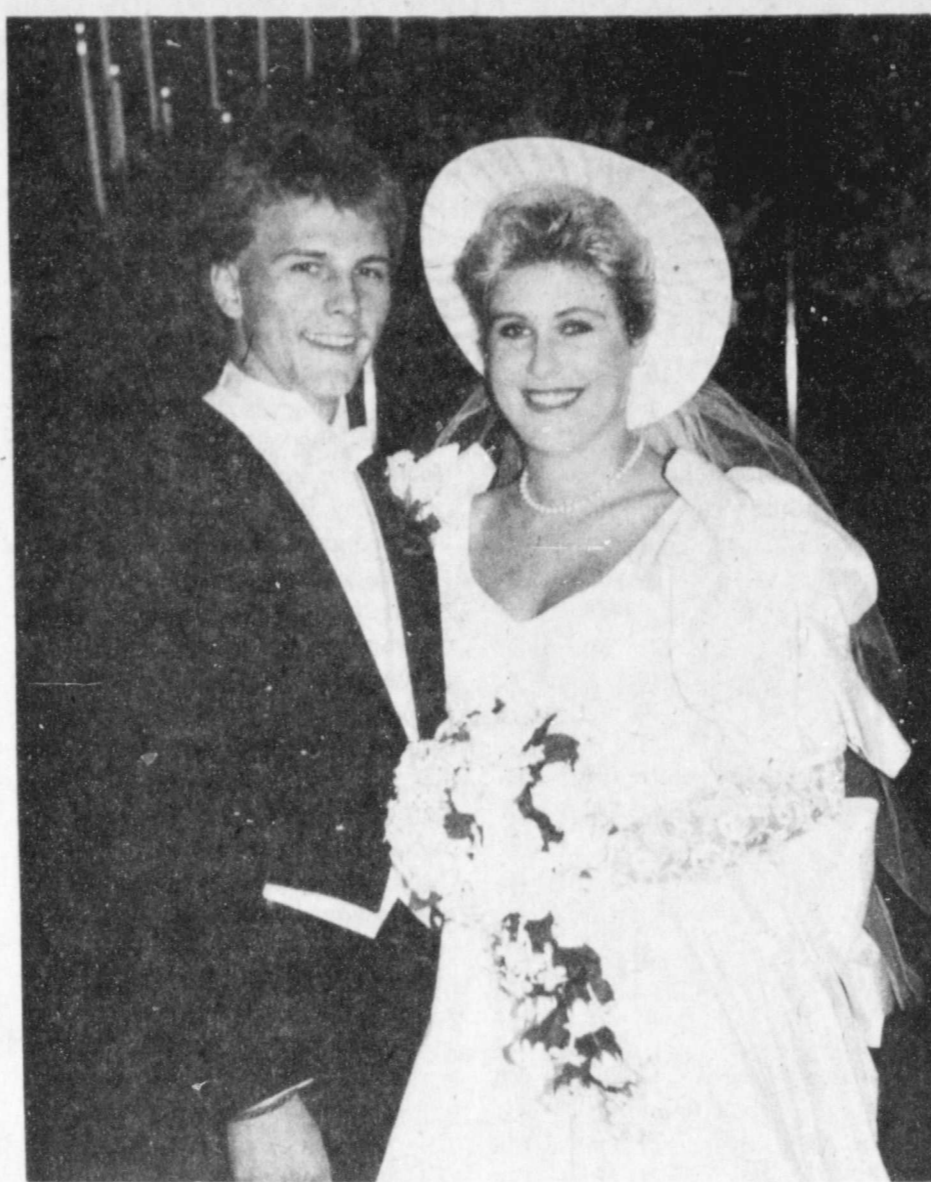

The wedding scene at the altar consisted of tall standing brass candelabras holding white cathedral tapers which were formed into a bow-shaped background. Silk greenery and small mauve wedding roses intertwined each taper. The bow-shaped background was culminated on each end with spiral candelabras intertwined with silk greenery and miniature flowers. Mauve blended San Antonio silk roses and mauve and white gladiolas stood in tall brass urns just below each brass candelabra. Brass urns filled with English ivy completed the scene at the base of each spiral candelabra.

The mother of the bride was dressed in a soft mauve silk dress. The neckline in both front and back consisted of a large full petal-point collar which fell to just below the waist. The groom's mother wore a wheat two-piece sweater dress. Each wore a corsage of silk San Antonio roses and orchids.

The reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church. The bride's table was covered with a deep mauve tablecloth overlaid with white lace and gathered at each corner with small silk gladiolas. The centerpiece was a large brass urn filled with mauve and white gladiolas. Crystal appointments and mauve napkins completed the setting.

The groom's table was covered with a delicate mauve cloth accented with a border design of flowers around the hem of the skirt. A large silver urn filled with mauve and white gladiolas served as the centerpiece. Silver appointments completed the setting.

Both the bride and groom are graduates of Cooper High School. Before attending Cisco Junior College, the bride attended Weatherford College. The groom attends TSTTI in Sweetwater. The couple will make their home in Abilene until school is completed.

MR. AND MRS. VERNON LEE WRIGHT

Square Dance News

By Vera Jo Bybee

Sorry I haven't written the Square Dance News this month but, Donnie has been busy in the field and I've had a wheel down. My old left knee has had arthritis real bad. We have missed a whole lot of dancing lately.

Last Thursday night's work shop and salad supper was well attended. Everyone had a good time eating and dancing.

Our regular Saturday night dance will be hosted this Saturday night the 18th by Fred and Virginia Byrd, Bill and Martha Mangold, the caller will be Dennis Horn.

Mavis and Donald Reecer were in Dallas last weekend visiting their children, Ritchie and Debbie Reecer and Tim Reecer. They were in Dallas also to visit Mavis' sister, Virginia and husband Dink Gann. Dink had a five by pass heart surgery at Baylor Hospital. He is recuperating well.

Anna Bell and Wayne Bramlet, Jim and Carol Huggins of Lockney and Bill and Lee Peacock of Roaring Springs, attended the "Best of the West" festival in Lubbock, Saturday night. Mike Bramlet of Dallas was the caller. Dancers from the El Paso and Midland area were in attendance along with the Lubbock area dancers.

Charlotte and Byron Brock have a new "granddaughter" born November 1, to their daughter and son-in-law, Shawnda and Jody Foster. Her name is Elizabeth Senee and weighed 7 1/2 lbs. and was 20 inches long. Her other grandparents are Eddie and Ann Foster.

Robert and June were in Odessa recently visiting with Monty and Cindy Bybee and boys. They enjoyed watching the boys play soccer. They then stopped by Midland to visit with Tony and Jimmy Whitley. This week they were in Fort Worth visiting with Kathy McDonald.

Vera Jo and grandson Bryan Bybee met Dara and Gary, Kara and Clint Faries in Amarillo recently. They did some shopping and attended a craft show where Bryan's mother Cynthia, had a booth. They went home with the Faries' and attended church Sunday morning to witness the baptism service of Kara Kay.

Visiting with Billy Joe and Jinna Sue Turner last weekend were Totsie Bain from Turkey and Stephanie and Tim, Callie and Evan Parker of Canyon. Tim came to shoot in FFA Turkey Shoot. He had real good luck.

Robert and Betty McPherson of Silverton, will be going with Whirlwind Sams to Gaines County this weekend.

Jim and Danny Huggins in past camping out with the Boy Scouts recently, while Carol and Melanie attended the Federation meeting and dance in Lubbock.

Bonnie Graham and Judy Strickland were in Amarillo recently visiting with Bonnie's sister, May Cook and brother T.L. Newman.

Wilfred Stoerner of the Providence Community is in the intensive care unit at the Plainview Hospital, suffering from a stroke. He is the father of Cynthia Bybee, our daughter-in-law. Our prayers are with all the family.

Mr. and Mrs. E.L. Crisswell of Plainview, parents of Lura Brown, our Silverton member, are both heart patients in the Lubbock Methodist Hospital.

Myrtle Bradford Blair, of Plainview, and Penny Bradford Galloway of Idalou, were honored with a birthday party recently, at the Golden Corral dining room. Hosting the occasion were Una Bradford and Geneva Cook. They decorated the room with pictures of relatives who had October birthdays, and could not be there. Those present were: Ben and Penny Galloway, Idalou; Myrtle Blair, Jim and Frances Wilson, Plainview; Cindy and Marshall Thorpe, Dalhart; Kenneth and Geneva Cook, Winters.

Also, from Floydada were Robert and Elsie Bradford, Doug, Elaine and Robin Galloway, Jim Bob Hambricht, Floyd and Una Bradford, Mable Foster, and Delzie Bradford.

Delzie, Mable, Penny, Geneva, Myrtle, Robert and Floyd are all brothers and sisters.

Herman and Bonnie Graham had as their guest at their home and at the Halloween Square Dance Special, Bonnie's mother and two sisters, Emma Newman from the Nursing Home in Floydada, Gracie Graves from Washington D.C. and Nelta and Wayne Bartos from Arlington.

On Sunday, they were joined by another sister and brother from Amarillo, Mary and Richard Cook and T.L. and Carolyn Newman. They enjoyed a wonderful visit, since it had been quite sometime since they were all together.

All members be sure and make the workshop Thursday night, and come and dance to Dennis Horn, Saturday night.

See you "Round a Square"

Alpha Sigma Upsilon traveled to Plainview

By Sara Coursey

Alpha Sigma Upsilon, chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met November 7. We traveled to Plainview and held our meeting at the Golden Corral. We enjoyed steaks and salad bar. Hope Warren called the meeting to order. Nine members were present and there were four excused absences.

We had one visiting guest, Sharon Henderson. We enjoyed having Sharon and hope she will consider joining us.

Jodie McGuire gave the treasurer's report. We made our monthly donation to the nursing home ceramics fund.

The next meeting will be Nov. 21 at Robbie Odom's. We will meet to put together the Thanksgiving boxes for our needy families. We will have a short business' meeting after the boxes are delivered.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned with everyone returning home from Plainview.

1950 Study Club meets in Jean Kendrick home

By Geneile Evans

The 1950 Study Club met Tuesday night, Nov. 7, in the home of Jean Kendrick with Geneile Evans as co-hostess.

The theme of the program was Texas, Our Texas and Wanda Hickerson lead the members in the Pledge to the Texas Flag. The members answered roll call by telling "My Favorite Texas Scene."

Jean Appling was the guest speaker and she gave a slide presentation showing the work that was done to prepare the present site for the presentation of the drama, God's Country. There were also many pictures of the completed site showing the seating, the stage, the dressing rooms and the technicians' building.

Jean has been a very active member of the Rio Blanco Heritage Foundation since it was organized and gave an interesting introduction of the organization of the Foundation. She has also been a member of the cast for the drama since its beginning.

In appreciation of Jean's program the 1950 Study Club will present a book to the library of her choice.

During the business meeting the members voted in lieu of a Christmas gift exchange they would give their money to the EMS of Floydada to help outfit the new ambulance with some necessary small items.

Also, it was voted to send a donation to the Wichita Falls State Hospital Volunteer Services Council to be used for purchasing Christmas gifts for the residents.

The meeting was adjourned and during the fellowship time the hostesses served refreshments.

Sunbelt Savings plans toy drive

November 14, marks the kick-off of the seventh annual Sunbelt Santas toy campaign sponsored by Sunbelt Savings. Community get very involved in the Sunbelt Santas program. It makes all of us feel good to share the joy of the season with people who really need it — children who can't help themselves," commented Joy Assiter, Branch Manager for Floydada.

Each branch of Sunbelt Savings selects charities in its community to receive the toys. Many branches have a "wish list" from the children which makes the Sunbelt Santas toy drive more personalized. "We have developed a relationship with dozens of charities over the years, so when people give us a toy they know it will help a child in their own community and they know exactly where the toys are going," said Assiter. "Every year we reach more children. Thanks to the generosity of so many people and businesses who help make Christmas special, this year will be no exception. We still find children who have never had a Christmas present in their lives," commented Wageman. "By becoming a Sunbelt Santa you can help make this Christmas a reality for thousands of needy boys and girls." Ings, FSB. This year Sunbelt people, continuing in the tradition of holiday giving, are planning to make 1989 the biggest year yet. The organization has set an optimistic, but obtainable goal of collecting over 20,000 toys this year!

Sunbelt Santas collect thousands of toys each year for children in need throughout Texas. In 1988, over 15,000 toys were collected and distributed to children through 90 charities. "What began in 1983 as a small Christmas project has grown into a major toy campaign for Texas," said Tom Wageman, Sunbelt Savings President and Sunbelt Santas campaign spokesman. "It is wonderful to be a part of something that brings so much happiness. But even more importantly, it tells these kids that somebody cares."

Toys may be dropped off at any Sunbelt Savings branch where the bright red Sunbelt Santas banner is displayed. "Each year, a lot of our customers, business associates and people in the com-needs of their families and friends. Now, through one reason or another they have had to give up their home for a new home and new life style.

I want to say thanks to all the volunteers, family, and friends for coming out and visiting the residents and showing them you care.

My reward for a day with these people is simply words of some saying, "will you be back tomorrow?" and with a smile on their face.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

By Jo Bryant

Hi, from the nursing home residents and staff. How does this find everyone? We have been busy around here as the nurses assistants were taking extra training and testing, also housekeeping have been working very hard to keep all the floors clean, etc.

Monday, Bro. Wright came and gave the devotional taken from Luke. Irene Wexler came and played the piano for us. At 2 p.m. the residents painted ceramics, ducks, rabbits, and owls.

Tuesday, we had morning coffee and juice break. We thank Evelyn Juarez Bible Study Group for the cookies. The devotional for that day was taken from the book of Sirach on Friendship. "A true friend is a sure shelter, whoever finds one has found a treasure, there is on measuring his worth, so as a man is so is his friend." In the evening, the residents had popcorn and current events.

Wednesday, Bro. Sammy Rodriguez came and shared the word with us, and we sang some songs. At 2 p.m. the residents played Bingo. Brooks Callaway had the first Bingo. Mary Alice Davis wasn't with us, we sure missed her.

Thursday, we listened to some songs, and the residents had arts and crafts, they made some Thanksgiving cards and door decorations.

Friday, Letha Mulder gave the devotional by reading a Psalm and Evelyn Latta played the piano for us. Evelyn closed with a prayer. The residents didn't get to go on the bus ride, Wilma had a holiday off for Veterans Day, so the residents played dominoes and had popcorn.

We want to thank the Methodist Sunday School Class for the snack tray they sent for the residents for Thanksgiving. Mrs. Jettie Moss brought it to us.

We want to welcome a new resident, Mrs. Lucille Poage, mother of Roger and sister to Pauline Robertson.

This weeks guests were: Bonnie Graham, Edna Patton, Evelyn Pierce, Ruby Dayis, Rev. Larry and Sharmin Perkins, Chris Webster, Enoch Webster, June Van Cleave, Vickie Webster, Ivola Walters, Deecota Odum, Beady Owens, Dennis and Katy Ross, Mel and Marjorie Holcomb, Jettie Moss, Alma Rape, Pauline Robertson, Julie Lackey, Irene Wexler, Willie Mae Smith, May Sue, Ola Smith, Winnie Neil, Floyd and Artie Webb, Vera Cox, Tiffany Reams, Shelda Reams, Margarette Holmes, Loyse Bradshaw.

We want to thank the Calvary Baptist Church for the devotional Sunday, we had a nice crowd.

All interested persons may speak at the meeting and present evidence for or against this proposal.

'Winds clinch District, go 10-0 for season...

Floydada was unable to capitalize on a Friona turnover early in the second quarter, but a 33-yard "flea-flicker" pass from Stovall to Kenneth Collins moved the 'Winds down to Friona's 21-yard line. Two plays later Frank Suarez blasted through the interior on a "flanker trap" and rambled into the end zone. Frank reached the 1000-yard plateau on his eleventh rushing touchdown of 1989. His PAT kick was perfect, and the Whirlwinds vaulted into an insurmountable lead of 28-0.

The last few minutes of the first half were highlighted by an exciting Kenneth Collins' punt return of 61 yards, which moved the 'Winds down to Friona's 9-yard line. Two penalties and a pass interception thwarted Floydada's attempt to put even more points on the board. The first half ended with Floydada holding a commanding 28-0 lead.

Floydada High School's "Spirit of the 'Winds" Band was the first to perform at the halftime break. Not enough can be said for the progress that this organization has made in the last year. There was a time, not long ago, that the feeling was that if the Whirlwinds did make the playoffs...would they have a band that would be representative and give a good account of themselves? Rest assured...the Whirlwind Band is BACK! The young musicians have worked long and hard to reach their current level.

The Whirlwinds dominated the first 24 minutes of play on both sides of the line of scrimmage. The defense scored two touchdowns on blocked punts, while limiting Friona to only one first down and 43 total yards. The offense scored twice as they rolled to 156 total yards and eight first downs. In the second half, Floydada continued the "blow-out."

Frank Suarez intercepted a Brian Brogden pass on the second play after intermission, and set up the 'Winds at Friona's 4-yard line. Two plays later, Frank scored his second rushing touchdown of the evening, added the extra point, and the Whirlwinds' lead forged to 35-0. As in last week's game at Dimmitt, at this point in the contest, Coach Dean Bates started inserting second-unit players into the lineup.

The Chieftains were still unable to get anything going and punted back to Floydada. An 8-play, 71-yard drive, highlighted by a 33-yard gainer by Jesse Suarez, was capped by a 1-yard scoring dive by Ruben Chavarria. Frank Suarez kicked his sixth conversion of the game as Floydada reached the 40-point level for the first time in 1989.

Brian Teeple directed the second unit offense the remainder of the third stanza and all of the fourth quarter. Although Floydada was held scoreless in the fourth period, the younger players performed well in mounting two long ball-control drives.

After intercepting a Teeple pass, Friona had one last chance to avoid the shutout. An 8-play 26-yard Friona drive was stopped abruptly on the final play of the game. Kenneth Collins intercepted a Brogden pass at the Floydada 35 yard line, broke into the open field, and rambled for a 42-yard return as the time expired. It was a fitting climax to an outstanding year for the talented return specialist-wide receiver.

Chaos erupted on the Floydada sidelines as the players carried Coach Bates to the huddle at the center of the field. It was soon learned that Floydada's Bi-District opponent would be Canyon. The kickoff is slated for 7:30 p.m. at Dimmitt on November 17. It was also learned that Tulia advanced to the Bi-District round with a victory over Dimmitt, and will play Childress at Dick Bivins Stadium in Amarillo this Friday.

Bill's Notes

What more can be said for the 1989 Whirlwinds? Dating back to the last two games of 1988, Floydada has now won TWELVE in a row. They finished the 1988 season as the number ONE AAA defense on the South Plains, and had leaders in all the statistical categories. Three players - Frank Suarez, Grant Stovall and Kenneth Collins - all finished in the top ten in scoring. Frank closed out his final regular season game with over 1000 rushing yards.

Frank, Grant and Kenneth will all have their names mentioned when post-season honors are announced. Adam Cates, Jay Mendoza, Ruben Chavarria, Lalo Delgado and several other 'Winds are in line for All-District laurels. In fact, the Whirlwinds should dominate the 2-AAA All-District squad just as the team controlled the other members of the district.

The "defensive plays of the game" at Friona were the two early blocked punts by Ruben and Jay, which led to scores by Ray Garcia and Jamie Suarez. My "defensive players of the game" award goes to Ruben Chavarria and Frank Suarez for their several appearances as "twin noseguards." (The poor Friona QB didn't know which little guy was going to be in their backfield!)

The "offensive play of the game" was the "flea-flicker" from Grant-to-Frank-to-Grant-to-Kenneth. It didn't score this time, but it set up Frank's 21-yard TD two plays later. Frank Suarez gets my "offensive player of the game" nod - with his 108 yards rushing on 15 carries (7.2 yards-per-pop average), two rushing touchdowns, and 6-of-6 extra point kicks (give holder Brian Teeple and "deep-snapper" Joe Cisneros a lot of credit here, also).

The Whirlwinds reached their first goal of the season by going 10-0 and taking the 2-AAA crown. Their ultimate goal now is to keep playing as long as possible. Canyon will be a different ball club than we saw earlier, but the Whirlwinds have also come a long way since September. The 'Winds will take their first step down the playoff road by dropping the Canyon Eagles...23-15.

Coach's Comments

Coach Dean Bates said that the chances of going 10-0 in a season are very slim, and that Floydada's 1989 squad is the sixth team with which he has been associated to reach such a milestone.

The coach stated, "We feel we're as good as anybody in our region, and the kids are ready to accept the challenges which lie ahead of them." He said the team had as good a practice (Monday) as they've had all year, and noted, "The players dedicated themselves to the three seasons they'll play this year: the five games of non-district action; the five district games; and the SIX remaining playoff games." Bates added, "The players believe they can get by Canyon and play awhile."

Bates said, "Canyon is a game we NEED to win. They are much improved, and have their quarterback (John Eller) back in top form. The Eagles have improved since September...but so have the WHIRLWINDS! We need all the support we can get at Dimmitt — we appreciate all the fan and town support we've gotten so far, and it has helped bring the Whirlwinds to where they are right now. We will be the designated 'visitors' for the Canyon game at Dimmitt, and we all know there'll be more fans dressed in green than in purple."

The coach announced that there will be a community pep rally at the Junior High gym on Friday at 2:45 p.m. (The other two were great, but this one should be a WHOPPER). Parents and fans are also invited to meet at the high school tennis courts at 8:30 a.m. on Friday for a "run through the school halls."

Coach Bates closed his remarks at the Booster Club meeting on Monday by saying, "This has been a remarkable year by a bunch of determined and dedicated youngsters. We are truly proud of this team, this school, and this town!"

'Wind JV blasts Friona 36-0 in 1989 season finale

The Whirlwind Junior Varsity closed out a very successful 1989 campaign with an impressive 36-0 blanking of Friona on November 9. The true Freshmen lost one game and the combined Freshmen-JV lost but once, for an overall record of 8-2.

Floydada's JV took a page out of the Varsity's game plan by scoring 22 points in the third quarter, after going into halftime with only an 8-point lead. They added another tally in the fourth quarter to close out the scoring.

Billy Villarreal tossed a 28-yard pass to Gabino Suarez to open the scoring. Villarreal also scored a two-point conversion. Jammie Davis had a 92-yard rushing touchdown in addition to two conversions. Michael Henderson scored on runs of 15 and 40 yards, and Ramiro Rios scored from 13 yards out.

Henderson recovered a fumble, and Jesse Rodriguez had an intercepted pass for the outstanding defensive plays. There is no championship, as such, for the JV level, but Floydada shared first place in the district with Littlefield and Dimmitt on the JV schedule.

FEATURE TEACHER--First grade teacher, Ms. Quattlebaum, has been selected as this week's feature teacher at Duncan. She has been teaching for two years. She has two children, Sam, 5, and Brady, 4. She feels that the most important thing parents and teachers can do is encourage children to use their imagination.

Two of Mankind's Greatest Inventions.

The prehistoric genius who created the wheel has long since been forgotten. Yet his invention is so much a part of our lives, we rarely even think about it.

No one remembers who invented the gas furnace, either. Like all the great inventions it is simple, reliable, and has stood the test of time. Your gas furnace quietly and efficiently does the job it was designed to do... year after comfortable year.

When it comes to heating your home, why try to reinvent the wheel. For comfort and efficiency, the most effective invention ever made is a natural gas furnace. Period.

Breezers end seasons with victories

Floydada's 7th and 8th grade Breezers ended their 1989 football campaigns with victories over Friona on November 9 at Friona.

Coach Clark's 7th graders edged Friona 12-6 to close the successful year at 8-1 (5-0 in district 2-AAA as champs). Bruno Mendez scored on touchdown runs of 4 and 18 yards, and J.R. Quilantan had a good evening in rushing the ball. The offensive line did a good job controlling the line of scrimmage, and QBs Corey Johnston and Terry Harris performed well in directing the offense.

Coach Clark had these comments to make regarding the 7th Breezers' year: "This was an outstanding group to work with. They worked very hard all season long, which paid off in their excellent record. The defense was especially outstanding as the 1st defensive unit allowed only 18 points throughout the season."

Clark further stated, "The offense played well and matured each week behind an excellent offensive line. The team as a whole also improved each week, and pulled together to overcome some unforeseen hurdles at 6 weeks. This was a special group to work with, and a fantastic way to start the football careers of these youngsters. Floydada has many great things to look forward to from these young men in future years."

Coach Jim Burleson's 8th grade Breezers ended their season on a winning note. The 26-14 victory over Friona evened their record at 4-4-1. The Breezers lost several close games, with three losses by 2, 2, and 6 points. Still in the learning process, the Breezers played with great intensity and effort all year.

In the Friona victory, Israel Medrano had touchdown runs of 30 and 5 yards plus a two-point conversion. Tony Hernandez scored on a 2 yard run. QB Tate Glasscock tossed a 35-yarder for a TD to Rod Vela.

The offensive line, consisting of Rafael DeOchoa, Pete Vallejo, Brandon Gilliland, Adam Gonzales and Eddie Rodriguez, had a fine year. Tate Glasscock, Israel Medrano and Tony Hernandez gave very consistent performances in the backfield throughout the season.

Cub Scout News

By Terry Turner

Twenty-two Cub Scouts and nine adult leaders enjoyed a field trip to the Quitaque Railroad Tunnel, Saturday, November 11, 1989. The Cub Scouts and leaders hiked through the 580 ft. tunnel and across a nearby railroad trestle before eating their sack lunches. Due to the nice weather the boys were able to wade in the creek and try their luck at catching minnows.

The scouts would like to thank Mr. and Mrs. Saul for allowing them to come on their property to see these historic sites that were built in 1927 and 1928.

The scouts and leaders who went on the trip were: Chad Turner, James Owens, Hector Palacios, Michael Palacios, Coy Holmes, Sam Holmes, Warren Bishop, Dane Sanders, Dustin Jones, John Doerschuk, Mark Lucio, J.R. Riojas, J.J. Morales, Dusty Duke, Jason Campbell, Jacob Thrasher, Joe Lucio, Terry Turner, Pam Holmes, Jimmy Owens, Randy Duke, Jesse Morales, Polly Campbell, Joe Lucio, Irene Morales, and Roland Adams.

Mulder finishes basic training at Lackland AFB

Airman Joseph C. Mulder has graduated from Air Force basic training at Lackland Air Force Base.

During the six weeks of training the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree through the community college of the Air Force.

Mulder is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan A. Mulder of Floydada.

He is a 1989 graduate of Floydada High School.

DISASTER STRIKES--Jay Mendoza received credit for the blocked punt as a horde of Whirlwind teammates converged on Friona kicker Andre Duran. Jamie Suarez fell on the loose ball in the end zone for Floydada's second score in the first quarter. The two rapid defensive touchdowns "jump-started" the Winds scoring avalanche as they shut out Friona 42-0.

Great American Smokeout turns 13, could be lucky number for smokers wishing to quit

The American Cancer Society's Great American Smokeout turns 13 this year, which could bring good fortune to those smokers trying to quit. As it does each year on Smokeout Day, the American Cancer Society will encourage all smokers to try their luck in remaining smoke-free for 24 hours—in the hope that they might quit for life.

Smoking cessation is a growing concern of today's Americans. Society's interest in health, fitness, and physical longevity has created a need for information to help smokers quit. The 1988 Great American Smokeout witnessed major corporations exploring the benefits of nonsmoking personnel, increasing both health awareness and productivity. Given this current knowledge, the American Cancer Society is making "Quit Tips" available to the public.

A September 1987 tobacco report of the U.S. Department of Agriculture estimates cigarette output in 1987 at 654 billion, down 1% from 1986, about the same decrease as the previous year. We know people are making an effort to stop smoking, we just want to give them a little incentive by providing a few helpful hints to assist them in their struggle to quit.

Quit tips covers the benefits of quitting such as: adding years to one's life, improved stamina, an increased sense of smell and taste, and the proof of one's self control. Sample Quit Tips are: Take a shower because you can't smoke in the shower. Seek new activities. Perform old activities in new ways. Get in the habit of doing things differently.

For copies of the American Cancer Society's Quit Tips, or for more information about quitting smoking or activities for the 1989 Great American Smokeout on November 16, contact your local American Cancer Society office at 5135 69th Street, (806) 794-5808, or call the American Cancer Society's Cancer Response System (CRS) at 1-800-ACS-2345.

Roxene Brown is the senior in the spotlight this week. Her parents are Gary and Charlene Brown. She has one brother, Jason and one sister, Rheelene.

This year Roxene is the National Honor Society Secretary, Lion's Club Sweetheart, and is active in band and 4-H. When Roxene was asked what she liked best about F.H.S. she replied, "I like the teachers best because they seem to care about each student."

After graduation, Roxene plans to go to Wayland Baptist University and major in mathematics or religion.

Nov. 16-23 set as Farm-City Week

Farm-City Week, Nov. 16-23, is observed annually during the Thanksgiving season to foster a better understanding of the interdependence between rural and urban residents.

Dr. Zerle Carpenter, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said to create a better understanding between the state's rural and urban dwellers, the Extension Service, Texas Farm Bureau, Kiwanis Clubs and many other organizations will join in Farm-City Week observances next month throughout Texas.

Carpenter said during the observance, participating clubs and groups will organize and conduct programs that will deal with rural-urban relationships as a statewide issue.

"Many groups will focus on activities creating more awareness of the importance of agriculture," he said.

Carpenter said the Texas observance will involve the entire month of November for special programs relating to improvement of rural-urban relationships and issues.

He said the special November observance will include educational presentations to civic and service clubs, exhibits, tours and other activities.

"This state and national effort to bring about a better understanding of rural and urban issues is critical to all Americans. Texas can have a tremendous impact on improving rural-urban relationships," Carpenter said.

Nationally, more than 15,000 communities are involved in Farm-City programs.

"While many people may not think about where their food comes from, the income of 23 million Americans, or one in every five jobs, depends, on reliable, efficient farms and ranches," Carpenter said.

Warren Dewberry of the Texas Farm Bureau said other Texas organizations cooperating in the effort are the Southwestern Peanut Growers Association, Farm Credit Banks of Texas, the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, Texas Farmers Home Administration, Plains Cotton Growers and Texas Cattle Feeders.

COWPOKES

Cotton groups estimates vary

Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. recommended a 10 percent acreage reduction program (ARP) for 1990; the Producer Steering Committee of the National Cotton Council asked for a 15 percent ARP; merchants called for 10 percent; manufacturers wanted 5 percent, and the Administration's Office of Management and Budget stumped for 20 percent.

What USDA really wanted isn't certain, but in the final analysis the Department opted to announce the 1990 ARP at 12.5 percent. The 1985 farm act directs that "to the maximum extent practicable" acreage limitation be at the level needed to produce a four million bale carryover each year. Presumably USDA's decision was in pursuit of that objective.

Other program details announced to date include a 72.9 cent target price, a 50.27 cent base loan rate and use of the "Plan B" marketing loan program. The latter choice means a 1990 loan repayment rate fixed each week at the adjusted world price, the same procedure in effect for the past three years.

USDA also has set the 1990 program sign-up period from January 16 to April 13. And, while the estimated deficiency payment rate for 1990 is not expected until just before sign-up, it has been announced that 40 percent of the estimated payments will be made in advance.

Looking at supply and demand figures, PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson, among others, suspects that the 12.5 percent ARP might not be the last word on 1990 acreage provisions. USDA has no authority to change the ARP figure after November 1, he notes, but other measures can be taken if the need arises.

As an example Johnson cites the recent "Flexible ARP" offered wheat producers. The original ARP for wheat was five percent, but a later announcement permits growers to plant more acres. They can now elect to plant up to 105 percent of their acreage base and still remain in the program. However for each acre planted above a farm's original permitted acres (95 percent of the base) the farmer will forfeit deficiency payment eligibility on one acre. Thus a producer planting the maximum 105 percent of base could receive deficiency payments on no more than 85 percent of base.

This is the kind of acreage flexibility USDA wants to build into the 1990 farm bill, Johnson says, "and if it later appears that the carryover will fall below the level perceived as needed to meet market demands, we may have to contend with a similar program proposal for cotton in 1990."

Would PCG support such an option? "We're on record as favoring a 20 percent ARP instead of 12.5 percent," Johnson replies, "and at this point any proposal to increase planted acreage would obviously conflict with that position. But should there be a drastic drop in the currently projected 3.3 million bale carryover I'm sure we'd want to take another look."

20 YEARS OF SERVICE--John Dunlap, chairman of the ASCS board, presents Laverna Watson with a certificate of service for her many years with the agency. She began her career in Motley county in 1957, later working in Crosby County and Floyd County in 1982 on a fulltime basis. She happily says, "I have met some good people and feel that working here has been very satisfying. I have enjoyed it and appreciate the consideration I have received and the nice people I work with."

Gasoline will continue to be power source for years

Far from being the dinosaur of the industrial age some critics suggest, gasoline will continue to be the power source for American mobility and economic growth for many years to come. One day solar cars, electric vehicles or alternative fuels may play an important role in the nation's transportation systems. But that day has yet to arrive.

However environmental concerns already have arrived, and, with increasing frequency, these concerns are setting the ground rules for future U.S. industrial production and consumer selection. Nowhere is this more evident than in the debate now raging over advanced automobile engine designs and alternative fuels — particularly reformulated gasoline and methanol.

President Bush has called for legislation that would require domestic car companies to manufacture and sell 500,000 alternative fuel vehicles in 1995, another 750,000 vehicles in 1996 and one million vehicles annually from 1997 to 2004.

Washington is likely to pass a clean air bill by mid-1990. The petroleum industry supports the intent of the President's recent proposal, just as we have worked for many decades to meet consumer needs and government standards.

In the last two decades alone, industry scientists have identified the chemical components of auto emissions, removed lead and phosphorous additives from gasoline to improve the performance of catalytic converters, and reduce vapor pressure in order to cut emissions. Our latest attempt to reformulate gasoline and reduce auto emissions simply marks another evolutionary step in auto fuels research — not a rearguard action against other alternatives.

Existing cars and light trucks could burn reformulated gasoline. Some already do. And while Americans log a modest 7 percent of their total annual mileage on pre-1975 cars and light trucks, burning reformulated gasoline in these vehicles — which now emit 25 percent of the nation's ozone-causing hydrocarbons and 29 percent of its carbon monoxide — could significantly reduce urban pollution. By contrast, to use methanol and other alternatives would require building an entirely new fleet of vehicles at costs for vehicles and fuels which could be very high.

More can and should be learned about methanol and reformulated gasoline, as well as other potential alternatives, such as compressed natural gas and propane. That is why the petroleum and automobile industries recently launched a maior joint effort to build a larger, more comprehensive database about the environmental benefits and cost-effectiveness of 26 gasolines in 34 gasoline-fueled vehicles and 3 methanol fuels in 20 prototype flexible-fuel vehicles. Included in the testing will be additives such as ethanol and MTBE (Methyl Tertiary Butyl Ether).

The first phase of the proposed research, supported by industry contributions of $11.3 million, will examine auto emissions, air quality effects and the costs and benefits of various methanol blends in prototype vehicles and of various gasoline formulations in 1983-85 and 1989 vehicles.

These tests will be conducted openly. The advice of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and of such regional environmental agencies as the California Air Resources Board and the Northeast States for Coordinating Air Use Management has been solicited and will be listened to. Eminent scientists from academia also will advise the auto and oil researchers.

Tests will be conducted on existing cars driven 10,000 miles or more. More than 2,200 tests will be carried out, and not just to measure ozone precursors to smog, but also airborne toxic chemicals. Results of these tests will be used in atmospheric chemistry and air quality models to determine the potential reductions in urban ozone from using any of the tested fuels.

As part of this joint effort, scientists will conduct the largest number of gas chromatographic analyses — an advanced method of measuring potential pollutants — ever carried out anywhere with respect to vehicle emissions. We will complete the first phase of our tests by August 1990 — in time for the results to provide important information to those charged with the Clean Air rule-making process.

Early next year a second phase will begin as researchers test advanced fuels and vehicles. The most promising fuels will be tested to find out which fuel/vehicle combinations produce the least amount of ozone and air toxics at the lowest price.

The results of this latest research are needed by industry — to build cleaner, more efficient cars and fuels. By consumers — so that the higher prices people pay for these advanced vehicles and fuels is money well-spent. And by government — so that new clean air standards and rules direct manufacturers and consumers toward solutions consistent with scientific evidence.

BURR PILE FIRE--Winds aggravated the Floydada fire fighters ability to extinguish a fire in the burr pile at the Blanco Gin Tuesday. With the ginning season underway calls to fires are more prevalent. Sparks from any source can ignite a fire that may burn for some time before it is noticed and may be hard to put out. Staff Photo

Boatwright announces ag commissioner bid

Ken Boatwright, former Director of the Seed and Grain Warehouse Division for the Texas Department of Agriculture, announced his intentions of running for the Republican nomination for Commissioner of Agriculture at a Capitol news conference November 2. Boatwright, 39, is a Central Texas resident of Hamilton.

Among the issues Boatwright outlined for the race was qualifications. Boatwright said he feels his 16 years, experience with the Texas Department of Agriculture, including the last six and one-half as a Program Director, his Agriculture-Business Degree and his life-long participation in farming and ranching more than qualifies him for the job. He said: "The time that I spent as a director allowed me to work closely on legislative matters, agricultural issues and administration of large programs. I also relied heavily on my ag background to make many decisions."

Many of the agricultural associations very interested in the Ag Commissioner's race attended the news conference. Bill Powers, who ran in the last race for Ag Commissioner, said he felt Boatwright was further ahead at this time than Powers had been in this campaign.

Boatwright said this race will go beyond partisan politics because the people in agriculture are ready for a change and will unite behind one candidate; Boatwright said he hopes that person will be him.

Brucellosis test kits available

The kits that veterinarians use to test cattle for brucellosis are again available, signaling the end of a nationwide shortage of test supplies that resulted last summer when a federal contract with the manufacturer lapsed.

The test, called the "card test," is run on blood samples from cattle to indicate whether the animals may be infected with brucellosis, a contagious, bacterial disease that can cause cows to abort, deliver weak calves or produce less milk. Veterinarians use the card test on ranches, at livestock markets and in other "field situations." Test results can be obtained in about 15 minutes, without expensive equipment.

"The card test is convenient, but it is not as accurate in detecting brucellosis infection as the state-of-the-art testing methods in the state/federal laboratories. The equipment," said Dr. John Holcombe, executive director of the Texas Animal Health Commission (TAHC).

To prevent the spread of brucellosis, TAHC regulations require ranchers to have cattle tested before they are exhibited or sold. Exempt from the regulation are ranchers who show or sell cattle certified by the TAHC to be free of the disease.

Texas is the only state in which veterinarians accredited by the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture and the TAHC receive the kits and are permitted to use them at farms and ranches. In all other states, test supplies are restricted to livestock markets.

Cattle that have negative results on the card test are allowed to be sold and moved without restrictions. However, if confirmation tests detect infection, TAHC officials trace the animal to its new site for additional tests or condemnation.

it was motivated by the council's denial of a permit to expand his cattle pens at Caprock Meat last month.

Hicks replied that he had "no plans to expand at this time." He told the council that the contracts on which he had based his expansion request had already been withdrawn and he had no others under consideration.

The vote by the council was split, 3-2 on a motion by Wayne Russell, seconded by Wayne Tipton. Russell, Tipton and Frank Breed voted in favor of the disannexation and Morales and Barrientoz voted against. Councilman Leroy Burns was not present.

A second request for continuation of current city services on the property at standard out of city rates was also approved by the council in conjunction with the disannexation ordinance.

COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT COMMITTEE TO BE FORMED

City manager Gary Brown asked the council to consider forming a community involvement committee to act in an advisory capacity in when considering future city projects and development. Brown stated, "I would like to see more discussion and input from community sources as we plan where we are going in the next few years."

Brown suggested that each councilman submit the name of a citizen from their district to serve on the committee at the December session. "We could get started in January if members could be appointed in December," said Brown. The remainder of the committee would be made up of department heads from the city. This would enable the citizens to confer with the city and each would better understand the needs and capabilities of the other as any plans are formulated for future consideration.

SKATEBOARDS BANNED, ORDINANCE APPROVED

A unanimous vote of the council passed an ordinance regulating the use of skateboards, skates and, in some instances, bicycles, in the business area. The use of these items will be banned on the following streets: Main Street from Tennessee Street to Virginia Street; Wall Street from Tennessee Street to Virginia Street; Missouri Street from Fourth Street to Eighth Street; California Street from Fourth Street to Eighth Street; Houston Street from Second Street to Twelfth Street; and Second Street from Houston Street to Price Street.

Anyone violating the ordinance is liable for fines of not less than ten ($10) dollars nor more than two hundred ($200) dollars. This ordinance will become effective upon publication and will be enforced by local police.

OTHER ACTIONS

Appointment of three persons to serve on the Floydada Housing Authority board of commissioners was also on the agenda. Terms of board members Charles Holmes, Lupe Rando and Eneidino Espinoza are expiring. Holmes and Espinoza declined to accept another term. Rando agreed to serve again and the council appointed Ralph Jackson and Rosa Garcia to fill the other two spots.

Bids will be advertised for in the proposed purchase of a new backhoe by the city. The city will also take bids on the demolition and cleanup of the property at 520 E. Jackson following the approval of a resolution ordering the removal of the structure.

Bids were opened on the November 14 session for demolition and removal of a structure at 613 E. Grover. Bids submitted were: Shannon Shurbet, $1600; Fred Lipham, $750; Kevin Nelson, $490; Vernon Wickware, $450; and Melson Dudley, $300. Dudley was awarded the work as low bidder.

Bids for the cleanup of a lot at 323 E. Kentucky were also opened. Bidders were: Shannon Shurbet, $2400; Fred Lipham, $2200; Vernon Wickware, $1200; and Melson Dudley, $330. Dudley was awarded the bid as low bidder with the stipulation that if he could not perform the work, he be passed to Wickware as next low bidder.

Acting as the sale agent for the involved taxing entities, the City of Floydada considered bids on three tax sale properties during the session. Lots 9 and 10, Block 101, Original Town, were bid on by Willie Galvan. He offered $800.00 for the two lots combined. Adrain West offered $75.00 per lot for lots 1 and 2, Block 2, Honerhea Addition. The third offer came from Calvary Baptist Church for lot 12, Block 22, Original Town.

The bids will be forwarded to the other taxing entities for consideration and approval. Sale will be final when all have voted on the bids. The city council approved the sales pending approval of other taxing entities.

Council members voted to adopt an investment guideline policy to safeguard city funds. The policy outlines the type of investment city funds may be placed in and insures that no city funds will be improperly placed in a potentially risky investment. This will protect city funds in the future and alleviate the possibility of loss. Stated Mayor Parnell Powell, "Our funds in the past have been well taken care of and this will insure their security in the future."

Holiday schedules were approved by the council for the Thanksgiving and Christmas season. City offices will close Thursday, November 23, and Friday, November 24, for Thanksgiving allowing city employees a four day holiday weekend.

Christmas schedules will differ slightly from past years. Each employee will have a four day weekend, but city offices will remain open by scheduling half of the employees off on December 22 and half on December 26. Offices will be closed on December 25 for Christmas Day.

Attending the session were Mayor Parnell Powell, councilmen Russell, Breed, Morales, Barrientoz and Tipton, Gary Brown, Jimmie Lou Stewart, Randy Hollums and about thirty-five citizens. Also present was the Hesperian reporter.

Outstanding students recognized by trustees

Mrs. Pete Vallejo, and Oscar Garza, son of Mr. and Mrs. Romero Garza, to the school board.

"Paul has done an excellent job on his achievement tests and is a good citizen," said Harmon.

"Oscar has worked very hard since coming to Duncan. He could not speak any English when he started school and he is now fluent in English and Spanish. He can speak and read both languages. When he took the Teams Test in Spanish he only missed one item. He has now worked very hard to learn English so he can take the test in English."

Lou Burleson, a teacher of theatre arts, speech and drama, and world history, spoke before the school board and explained programs currently in progress in her classes.

Burleson presented hand puppets that have been made by students. "The students must also write the story to go with the puppets and we will later do a children's play at Duncan."

"The speech classes and theatre arts helps build self-esteem and positive reinforcement, which I think are very important. No one can fail in my class if they participate. If they get up before the class and talk then they have achieved something."

Al Galloway, VEH teacher, explained his general mechanical repair program for vocational students. "Our class is designed to teach skills so these students can have an opportunity to go into industries for jobs, so they can own their own homes, etc."

"We teach welding, general shop safety, leadership training, and we do some kinds of small engine work. We have wonderful equipment available and a great shop. We also have all kinds of hand tools to work with."

"We are now building the cages that go around the schools new air conditioners and we built the hand rail at the hospital."

Administrative Assistant Jimmie Collins informed the school board members that there was an epidemic of head lice in the school. "Our problem with getting rid of the lice is the restrictions that are placed on the school through the wording of the current policy."

"According to policy now, students sent home with lice can return to school after one specially medicated shampoo. To be frank, they are returning with nits and it keeps on spreading."

"I am asking the board to re-word the policy to read that a student can return to school after treatment with the medicated shampoo and it is determined by the school nurse that the student is free of nits."

Don Hardy made the motion to change the policy and Charlene Brown seconded it. All members voted in favor of the change.

Collins also requested that the board give him the authority to sign all documents pertaining to school lunch programs. The member unanimously agreed to do so.

Collins presented the following bids to the school board:

Lot 9 & 10, Block 101, Original Town, $800.00 offered by Willy Galvan;
Lot 1 & 2, Block 2, Honerhea addition, $75.00 each offered by Johnny West;
Lot 12, Block 22, Original Town, $300.00 offered by the Calvary Baptist Church.

All bids were accepted by the board. The resignation of 3rd grade teacher, Jonelle Farmer, was presented to the board. She will be retiring at the end of the school year. It was accepted by the school board members.

All school board members were present for the meeting. Also present was: Superintendent Jerry Cannon, Administrative Assistant Jimmie Collins, Principals Ronnie Wood, Charles Tyre and Joe Christian, Mrs. Waller, Lou Burleson, Al Galloway, students and parents named above and The Hesperian reporter.

Endeavors and Successes of L.A. Marshall Family

By Will Martin

I don't remember just what year the Marshall family came to Floydada. It was possible when I was quite small or even before I was born.

My brother, who was seven years older than myself, told me of going to school with Ira, the oldest Marshall son. I also went to school in either 1917 or 1918 with U.S. or "Steve" the third son of the Marshall family. Steve and myself went to school eleven years together till we finished high school in the spring of 1928.

I remember seeing, when I was quite small, a concrete elevator just north of the railroad track from Massie wholesale grocery. I would go with papa in that part of town and he would get coal or sack feed.

When I was old enough to read there was a sign near the top of the building. The sign read, "Marshall buys grain." I went by that way a while back. The building is still there and a person can still dimly read the sign. I don't know if anyone still uses the elevator for anything or not. It is on the railroad right of way.

I don't know how long L.A. was in the grain business. Most of the older people called him Luther. He was a man who tried to get any thing started that he thought would help out the community in progress. I never heard anyone run down his character or honesty. As with lots of people some would laugh at his ideas and endeavors. But to me L.A. was a man who tried to make things better. He carried on work that I can't remember for sure what they were.

Someone told me that Luther invented a chicken coop or automatic hens nest that caught the eggs at the end of a chute after the hen laid the egg. The idea seemed to be that it saved hand labor of gathering up the eggs one at a time. I don't think Luther ever made any profit from his inventions. But I understand that a large chicken raiser got a hold of his idea improved on his invention and made a large profit on it.

Luther made other things that have been useful but he just couldn't get them off the ground. These things are what some people told me.

I personally know of one of his projects that was a success for at least a few years.

If I remember just right in the latter teens or first part of the twenties L.A. bought a few acres of land about 2 blocks southeast from the present junior high school. He put the first swimming pool in Floydada. A gasoline engine was used to pump water for the pool. Out south of the pool he planted a pretty large strawberry patch.

After the water was used to swim in for a while, they would drain it on the strawberries. Then fresh clean water was pumped into the pool to swim in.

Then Luther built a circle of hills and valleys around the whole outfit. These were wide enough for a car to go up and down the hills and valleys. This was named the Loop-the-Loop. It was a great thrill to ride in your car around the Loop-the-Loop. I rode several times with Beauford Eaves in his car.

Our family knew a family while on the farm by the name of Will Allens. Mama kept on visiting them when they moved to town. One day I came by their house from school and mama and my baby sister were at the Allens.

Some of the women expressed the desire that they would like to go over and see the people swim in the new swimming pool.

Mary Dee, the older Allen girl, took a carload of us to watch the young people swim.

Mr. Allen's sister, an elder woman who was known as "Aunt Mary Graham," couldn't hardly take what she said was very indecent dress by the swimmers. She said, "What is the world coming to, what a sin."

To give us an example of the difference in public swimming clothes then and now I shall try to give the best of my memory. The girls wore cotton knit suits. I don't know if they were two or one-piece suits. The suits came to the elbow and slightly below the knees on the legs. The boys suits were shorter. I wonder that Aunt Mary would think now at a public pool.

Getting back to Luther, after a few years I think public pressure had him close the swimming pool. The Loop-the-Loop was considered too dangerous for young people by the city fathers and he could not get a paying market for his strawberries.

Luther wouldn't give up. He kept doing anything he could to make an honest dollar. He just kept plugging away as long as he was young enough.

He would give his various opinions on varied subjects to Homer Steen. Homer was editor of The Hesperian at that time. I heard Luther and Homer were very good friends according to my source of information. I understand that Homer would take some of Luther's ideas and publish them in the paper in a way that he thought best.

The Marshall family were well thought of as far as I know. They raised a very successful family. Mrs. Marshall was a very nice lady. I think she had very good influence on the success of their children.

I have already told of my brother going to school with Ira, the oldest son of the Marshalls, and Steve, the son about my age going through school the same time I finished. Steve and Evelyn Maddox were voted the most popular girl and boy of Floydada High School. Also Steve was Editor In Chief of the 1928 Hesperian or annual yearbooks.

Ira and U.S. each left Floydada at their respective times and went to college and medical school. After finishing medical school they later ran a hospital for several years in Roswell, New Mexico. Every time I heard from them they were very successful and very well liked in that community.

Ira died a few years ago. Steve retired about three years ago. Steve was at the last homecoming at Floydada school in 1988.

Nell and Carl Marshall were living in Lubbock I didn't hear what they were engaged in.

I saw in the paper where Carl had died. One of the Marshall girls was in ill health and I never knew where she went after her mother passed away or after Luther died either.

One of the older boys was named George B. Marshall, who lived here all of his life. He was tax collector and assessor during the early part of the 1940's. "B," as most of us called him lost his health and passed away some time in the 40s. If I remember right B. was manager of the cotton compress north of town. That was in the early 1930s. It was probably sabotaged and burned one night. It was the biggest fire I ever saw in Floydada, except for when the north side school was burned by lightning.

Nothing is ever lost by courtesy. It is the cheapest of the pleasures; cost nothing and conveys much. It pleases him who gives and him who receives, and thus like mercy is twice blessed.

Mayor's Proclamation

Whereas, the American Cancer Society's Great American Smokeout is a light-hearted effort to encourage cigarette smokers to give up their habit for 24 hours on Thursday, November 16 and

Whereas, for twelve consecutive years, smokers including many in Floydada, have participated in this event, and

Whereas, the health benefits of not smoking are substantiated and well-known, and

Whereas, there are additional civic benefits such as a reduction of the risks of accidental fire and illnesses related to "secondhand smoking."

Now, therefore, I, Parnell Powell, Mayor of Floydada, do hereby proclaim Thursday, November 16, 1989, as the day of the Great American Smokeout in Floydada, and in so doing urge all cigarette smokers in the community to demonstrate to themselves and their friends that they can quit if they wish by joining the American Cancer Society's 13th Annual Great American Smokeout.

EVARISTA VASQUEZ

Funeral services for Evarista Vasquez, 82, of Denver City were at 11 a.m. Wednesday, Nov. 15, in St. James Catholic Church in Seminole with the Rev. Sean Sweeney officiating. Burial was in Gaines County Cemetery by Singleton Funeral Home.

Mr. Vasquez died at 4 a.m. Monday, Nov. 13, 1989, in Lubbock General Hospital after a brief illness.

He was born in Beeville and lived in Seminole for 22 years. He moved to Denver City in 1966. He worked for the sanitation departments of both cities. He married Tomasa Garza in 1942 in Seminole. She died in 1983.

Survivors include two sons, Jose Vasquez of Floydada and Ruben Rios of Hobbs, N.M.; three daughters, Virginia Garza and Socorro Castaneda, both of Edinburg and Yolanda Rodriguez of Denver City; two sisters, Lorenza Lopes and Manuela Vasquez, both of Edinburg; 20 grandchildren; and 22 great-grandchildren.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

TO TAX PUBLIC PROPERTY

The Mackenzie Municipal Water Authority will hold a public hearing on a proposal to tax the following non-business personal property: vehicles, airplanes, boats and recreational vehicles.

To tax the above property, the Mackenzie Municipal Water Authority must approve the proposal by ordinary resolution or order and must find that the taxation of property as proposed will be in the public interest of all residents of Floydada, Lockney, Silverton and Tulia.

The public hearing will be held on Tuesday, November 21, 1989, at 7:00 p.m. at the Administrative Office, located on the south side of Lake Mackenzie, 12 miles northwest of Silverton of Highway 207.

All interested persons may speak at the meeting and present evidence for or against this proposal.
