County-wide cooperation is only solution for future

A joint workshop session between the Floyd County Commissioners Court and the city councils of Floydada and Lockney displayed an attitude of unity in working together to solve future problems for the entire county. The positive atmosphere and willingness to join forces was viewed as the "only way for a rural area to survive" in the complicated world of the coming years.

Floydada served as host of the joint session in which Floydada Mayor Pro Tem Wayne Russell welcomed everyone to the discussion of the current dilemma facing everyone, a solution to the landfill situation. All participants were introduced and Floydada city manager Gary Brown began the proceedings saying, "We hope that when we leave here tonight, we all at least have an understanding of what the ballgame is and how we're trying to play the ballgame."

Brown passed out copies of several publications containing information about landfills, their operation and possible costs. Engineer Bill McMorries brought the gathering up to date on the progress being made toward permitting the expansion of the Floydada landfill facility. He credits proposed EPA Title D regulations with "putting a scare into everybody" and making the process more difficult and expensive.

McMorries explained the current status of the proposed Floydada expansion, noting "I don't know of a way in the world they can not approve it. They can make the requirements so bad you will wish they hadn't approved it."

The permit is on hold until completion of an underground water study scheduled to begin as soon as approval of the study plan is received, according to McMorries. The study is costing approximately $29,000.

Lockney city mayor Dan Smith explained the problems Lockney is having concerning landfill use. "The city is simply too small to be able to afford to continue operating a landfill," said Smith. "We have accepted the fact that we have to go somewhere else. Our pressing problem is where. We have until this Thursday to decide whether or not we are going to contract with Plainview to participate in a regional landfill east of Plainview." Smith indicated that after that time, an additional fee for joining the regional facility would be assessed in an unknown amount.

Smith detailed terms of the 20 year contract offered by Plainview which would obligate Lockney to pay $547 per month retroactive to January 1, 1990, for development costs. After 1990, no fees would be paid until the facility opens. First year dumping fees are set at $1894 per month when the landfill opens. Lockney would also be a pro rata share of all post closure costs for a period of 30 years. Rates would be adjusted on the basis of actual operation costs after the first operating year of the contract, according to Smith.

"Based on these figures, Lockney would have to raise rates $1 per month per customer to break even," said Smith. "This contract gives the city of Plainview unbridled discretion for setting the rates in Lockney."

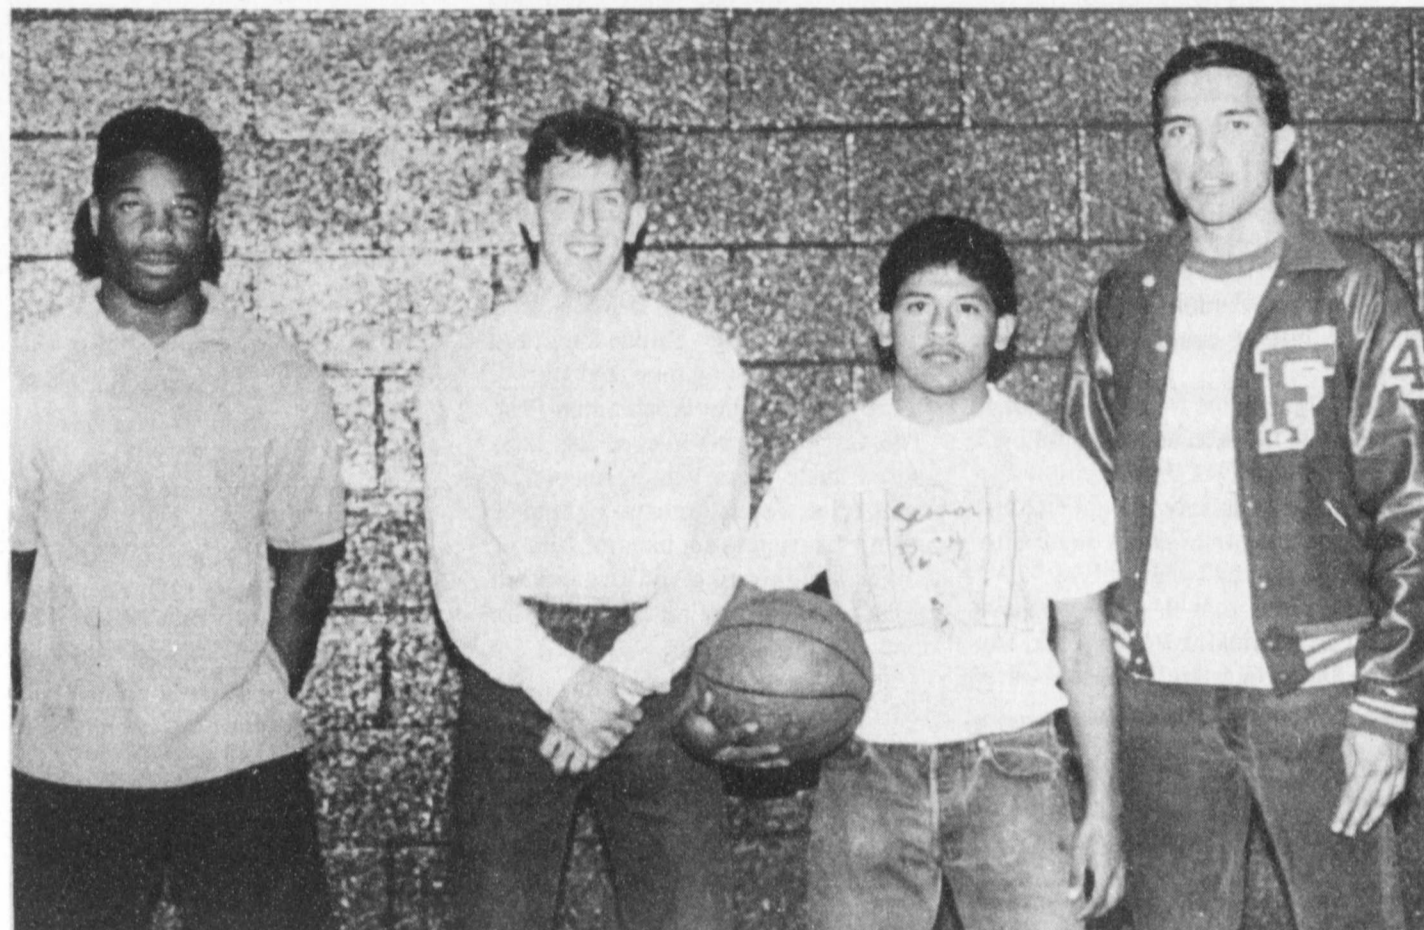

Brown stated, "Jeffries at Plainview will tell you he would like for Plainview to pay about $12 per month while the rest of us pay what it takes."

At this time, no opening date has been set for Plainview as no permit has been issued for the facility. The permit was recently applied for and it will be at least 120 days before it is examined according to informed sources. The Floydada permit has been in the works for more than a year at this time and should be approved in a few months.

Lockney councilman Aston commented, "It seems like Floydada is closer to being able to open a landfill than Plainview is, at least you have been allowed to spend $29,000, Plainview hasn't even gotten that far."

Brown then stated, "We already have $100,000 invested in this and we intend to continue to fight to open our facility."

ALL DISTRICT HONORS—(left-right) Kenneth Collins, Grant Stovall and Frank Suarez were named to-2-3A All-District. Joe Cisneros received Honorable Mention.

Whirlwind basketballers honored

Floydada's Kenneth Collins, Grant Stovall and Frank Suarez have been named to the 2-3A All-District basketball squad. Joe Cisneros received Honorable Mention on the elite team.

This past season, Stovall averaged ten points per outing and was 70% on free throws. Stovall, one of three seniors on the team, also pulled down an average of three rebounds per game.

Back court specialist and floor leader Frank Suarez, also a senior, tossed in an average of 15 points (many of his points were from "treys"). Frank was a 64% shooter from the line and had two rebounds per game average.

Collins was the scoring leader for the 1989-90 edition of the Whirlwinds, averaging 20 points per contest in the 27-game season. The talented junior accounted for 10 rebounds per game, and was proficient 66% of the time at the charity stripe.

Senior Joe Cisneros was the big man on the boards with eleven rebounds per contest. Joe also was a 50% free-thrower and averaged seven points per game.

Lady Wind Amy McCormick closed out her senior campaign by being named Honorable Mention All-District 2-3A.

Amy averaged over eleven points per contest and hauled in an average of four rebounds.

Amy averaged 76.3% on free throws and 43% on field goal attempts. McCormick also established the following FHS school records during her basketball career: Most free throws in year — 103; Free throw percentage for one year — 76.3%; Free throw percentage for career — 75.0%.

Congratulations are in order for these fine young athletes who contributed so much to their school. The seniors will be sorely missed!

HONORABLE MENTION—Amy McCormick was selected as 2-3A All District Honorable Mention.

Love Fund started for David Johnston

A Love Fund has been opened at the First National Bank in Floydada by friends of the family of David Johnston, son of Jesus and Aurora Johnston of Floydada. Johnston is in a Lubbock hospital and the money from the love fund will help defray some of the medical expenses incurred.

Your vote counts, absentee or on March 13

Absentee balloting for the March 13 Primary election continues until Friday, March 9, at 5:00 p.m. in the Office of the County Clerk at the County Courthouse in Floydada. Voting for both the Democratic Primary and the Republican Primary are being held in the clerk's office.

Any registered voter may vote in the primary of their choice during the absentee voting period. Current laws do not demand an excuse or a reason for voting absentee. Any properly registered voter has the option of using the absentee method for casting their ballot.

SPRING BREAK AND THE PRIMARY

Voters residing in the Floydada Independent School District may want to take advantage of the absentee voting in order to cast their ballot and not interfere with the scheduled spring break from school March 12-16. This would allow voters to exercise their right as a voter and take their spring trip during the school break.

ABSENTEE VOTING

On Tuesday, March 6, a total of 332 persons had voted absentee, according to the county clerk's office. 319 had cast ballots in the Democratic Primary and 13 had cast ballots in the Republican Primary.

CITY ELECTION REPORT

With four positions on the Floydada City Council up for grabs this spring, city elections have been set for May 5. Two voting districts and two at-large council posts will be filled at that time. At-large incumbents are Frank Breed and Wayne Russell. The incumbent from District 1 is Amado Morales and Wayne Tipton is the incumbent from District 2. None have declared candidacy for the May 5 election.

Anyone interested in running for one of the posts may do so by completing the necessary paperwork at City Hall, 114 W. Virginia, before the March 21 deadline for filing as a candidate. The only requirements are that a candidate be a resident of the city for at least six months, be 18 years old or older and be a registered voter. Candidates may file between 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. throughout the registration period.

FISD ELECTION REPORT

Floydada Independent School District trustee posts are also on the ballot for May 5. At-large member Michael Hinsley and District 3 member Adolfo Garcia are the incumbents for the election. Both have signed up to run for reelection.

Anyone wishing to run for one of the trustee posts may sign up at the FISD Administrative Offices at 226 W. California before the filing deadline on March 21.

Local election results to be posted Tuesday

The Floyd County Hesperian will have a crew keeping track of election results, Tuesday, March 13.

A large blackboard will be posted in front of The Hesperian, Tuesday, to post election results as they come in. The City of Floydada will supply floodlights to keep the area lit after dark.

Only the results of the local contested races will be covered thoroughly. A TV will be supplied, courtesy of Kirk & Sons, so interested person can come inside The Hesperian and watch national and state returns. Floydada Cable has generously agreed to hook the TV up to cable for that day.

Coffee and snacks will be provided for everyone.

Deadline for Miss Mackenzie is tomorrow

Deadline for Miss Mackenzie entries is Friday, March 9, and contestants must have their entry forms in by this date. Entry forms may be picked up at the local newspaper offices and school offices.

Rehearsal will be Tuesday, March 13, at 6:00 p.m. in the Silverton High School Auditorium. For further information, call Kim Mayfield, 823-2127.

Centennial stories being sought for special edition

By Alice Gilroy

Time is growing short for centennial stories. The Floyd County newspapers will be publishing an extra special edition at the end of May for the celebration of Floyd County's Centennial year.

Included in the issue will be a history of Floyd County, which will have to include the history of all area churches, hospitals, fire departments, police departments, schools, city and county government, community organizations, businesses and even individuals. If you have ever been a part of Floyd County's history, then we want to hear about it.

Stop and think about what you do for a living and where you live. Is there something about your community that should be included in the historical edition? Who at your place of business is going to write about that business history? It doesn't have to be a novel, but you will want to be mentioned for posterity.

Your business or church, etc., doesn't even have to still be in existence, but it still had a part in shaping history. Write it down. Preserve it!

Every church, business, and organization should designate someone now to compile their history. If you have any old pictures we will want them too.

This edition will be separate from the regular edition, and all subscribers will receive a copy. The deadline will be sometime near the end of April.

Crane and Slaton added to 1990 Floydada High football schedule

By Bill Gray

The 1990 Floydada football schedule was finalized last week, with the Whirlwinds set to play two new opponents -- the Crane "Golden Cranes" and the Slaton "Tigers." The changes are the result of the University Interscholastic League's biennial realignment.

Since February 1, athletic directors and coaches throughout the area have been negotiating and confirming home-and-home date arrangements for the next two years. Idalou had indicated a desire to drop Floydada from its schedule prior to the realignment. Abernathy was positioned in the eight-team District 3-2A, which made it difficult to continue its non-district rivalry with the Whirlwinds.

With the deletions of Idalou and Abernathy, Crane of 6-3A and Slaton of 3-3A were added to Floydada's 1990 and 1991 non-conference slates. District 2-3A will remain unchanged and will again be composed of Floydada, Littlefield, Tulia, Dimmitt, Friona and Muleshoe.

Floydada will commence its non-conference play on September 7. The game is tentatively set at Crane, but a closer, neutral site is still being discussed. The Golden Cranes are a perennial playoff contender in their district and will offer the "Winds a severe test in the season opener.

The Whirlwinds hit the road again on September 14 when they tangle with the Roosevelt Eagles. Floydada will host the Floyd County Championship on September 21 as the Whirlwinds and Lockney Longhorns continue one of the longest rivalries in Texas schoolboy football. The two squads have been battling for football supremacy in Floyd County for over six decades.

Canyon comes calling on September 28 for an encore meeting of last year's bi-district match-up. After defeating the Eagles in non-conference play, the Whirlwinds dropped a playoff heartbreaker 17-14 to Canyon. The 1990 bout has all the earmarks of two potential playoff teams again meeting in non-district action.

The non-conference schedule closes

Floydada building permits down 29% since 1989

Residential permits in Floydada decreased by 29% in 1989, totaling $353,825.00. Total dollar value of permits in 1988 was $492,350.00.

Thirty one permits were issued for 1989. Nine of the permits were for new homes, trailer homes moved in, rebuilt homes moved in and houses moved in. The total value of these permits was $285,130.00.

Of the thirty-one permits, 22 were for additions and remodeling, totaling $68,695.00.

In 1988 there were 38 permits issued. Fourteen of the permits, totaling $334,550.00, were for new construction (including two classroom buildings), and moving in trailers and homes.

Twenty-four of the 1988 permits were for additions and remodeling, which totaled $157,800.00.

The dollar total for residential permits for the past five years are: $530,675.00 for 1985 (includes construction of The Trinity Church); $281,760.00 for 1986; $376,150.00 for 1987; $492,350.00 for 1988; and $353,825.00 for 1989.

By The Way

By Alice Gilroy

We get a few laughs in our office every once in a while. Like most offices, we are the only ones that think they are funny. Nobody else appreciates them.

One of the things that makes us laugh is the number of "special days" or "special weeks" we are supposed to recognize every month. Every day, our office gets a "news release" about a commemorative day, week, or month, that we are supposed to publicize.

For instance—we have either overlooked or already publicized the following special occasions. (Just since February): Black History Month, Crime Prevention Week, Heart Month, FFA Week, FHA Week, National Engineers Week, Race Relations Day, Black Press Day, Earth Day, Girl Scout Week, National Free Paper Week, Public School Week, Newspaper in Education Week and Poison Prevention Week. Those are only the ones I could re-locate right away.

Well I thought we were the only ones that thought this was unusual until I got The Heritage News Forum column in the mail. It is written by Edwin Fuelner. He decided to write about some silly resolutions passed by Congress.

He mentions that in 1989 we have already had: Drinking Water Week, Tap Dance Day, Digestive Disease Awareness Month and Patient Account Management Day. Those were just a few of the ones he mentioned.

It sounds silly. But it's not. It's depressing.

Fuelner goes on to say that, "Everything Congress does has to be recorded in the Congressional Record, and announcing commemorative bills cost between $100,000 and $50,000 a year....."

"In 1989, Congress considered 1,359 bills commemorating time periods, and passed 287 of them—that's 38 percent of all the bills passed by Congress during the entire year."

Fuelner pointed out that Rep. Claudine Schneider, R-R.I. wants to propose an independent commission to decide what days, weeks, and months to commemorate.

Rep. William D. Ford, D-Mich., says that is just another bureaucracy and would end up costing more money.

Ford also told the Washington Post, "The Congressional Record has been abused since there was a Record. A member has a constitutional right to be a damn fool and to act like one."

Well you have to give Congressmen credit—when they're right—they're right.

The Centennial Committee is having a contest for Name The Centennial Theme. The theme will be used all year and must be five words or less. The winner will get a $50.00 savings bond. The deadline is March 19. If you want to enter, check out the ad and entry form inside this week's paper.

I got to go see and hear Rush Limbaugh this week-end, at the Amarillo Civic Center. He is a conservative radio talk show host that is gaining a lot of publicity and popularity lately. I had never heard him, but I thoroughly enjoyed him. He spends most of his time picking on absurd politics and their relations to special interests groups. His stories are true.

He brought up an interesting point. He said that a homosexual group in California wanted to release some balloons with the names of those who had died from AIDS, written on the balloons.

The environmentalists wouldn't let them, because the balloons would fall into the ocean and choke the sea turtles, which were becoming extinct.

Limbaugh went on about the sea turtles, saying that a man had stolen 1000 sea turtle eggs from the beach. The environmentalists were seeking to prosecute him, because the turtles are becoming extinct. The man said, they aren't turtles yet, they are only eggs.

A woman lawyer then jumped up to say, "YES! But they are going to be turtles someday!"

I wonder what picket line we would see that woman in? Pro-choice or Pro-life?

Floydada Police Report

On February 28, at 8:25 a.m., police received a report of a business that was burglarized in the 200 block of W. Missouri. The burglary is still under investigation.

A criminal mischief was reported to police on March 1. According to police, a resident in the 300 block of W. Marivena heard glass breaking outside, at 3:42 a.m. The homeowner ran outside and saw two Mexican/American men running from the scene. The complainant discovered that the windshield of his '72 Toyota, which was parked in the driveway, had been broken out. Police are still investigating.

On March 2, police received a report of a criminal mischief/burglary at a different residence in the 300 block of W. Marivena. Someone entered a home and took two light fixtures and broke two windows. Damage is estimated at $170.00.

Police investigated two minor accidents on March 1. These are the first accidents police have investigated since December 17, 1989.

One accident involved a '86 Ford Pickup and a '81 Ford LTD, and occurred in the parking lot of Butler's Diner, in the 500 Block of East Houston Street. The pickup was backing from a parking space at Butler's Diner, and backed into the LTD parked at an opposite angle space.

Also on March 1, a '74 Ford LTD was backed from the driveway in the 200 block of West Houston, and hit the chain link fence behind it. The post to the fence was bent and the wire was pushed in.

To the Editor:

Since deteriorating education is of national concern, it is difficult to understand the parental attitude displayed recently in Floydada. The teachers who were under fire, are fair, caring, superior teachers. I taught with them and considered the high school fortunate to have them on the faculty.

Learning involves the cooperation of teachers, students, and parents. It also involves study and hard work. Students who do not work and study deserve to fail. Their parents need to put the blame on the student not on the teacher. Every one needs to accept responsibility for his actions. Teachers need supportive parents, not negative parents.

We all need to give a vote of thanks and approval to our teachers.

Dear Editor,

Thursday, March 13, Floyd Co. voters have the option to vote for the Democratic Candidate for Texas Commissioner of Agriculture. Floyd County, who's economy is entirely dependent upon agriculture, cannot stand another 4 years of Jim Hightower as the commissioner of T.D.A. His policies, which he will continue, will most certainly lead the Agriculture community down the path of economic ruin. Some of the reasons are:

1. He's not qualified.
Jim Hightower does not have adequate agriculture background to effectively direct the Texas Department of Agriculture. He's not a farmer or rancher nor agribusinessman. The Commissioner of Agriculture should have agricultural experience which Jim Hightower does not have. He is a politician and a journalist. He has a BA in Government, North Texas State University; worked for U.S. Senator Ralph Yarborough and was editor of the Texas Observer.

The Legislature in 1989 amended the Texas Agriculture Code for Hightower because he didn't qualify to be Texas Agriculture Commissioner. It now allows a person with no farming or ranching background to become legally eligible simply by being an employee of TDA for a period of time.

2. He's not promoting agriculture trade, he's restricting it.
Jim Hightower has used the Texas Department of Agriculture to make headlines for himself while interfering with international agriculture trade: instead of promoting trade he has reduced trade, especially the major commodity produced in Texas—beef.

Example, while the U.S. Trade Department was negotiating with the European Community (EC) to drop their politically motivated trade restriction to only accept hormone free beef, Hightower sided with the EC thus reducing U.S. beef exports to Europe and scaring U.S. consumers. He said we will supply Europe with hormone free beef. Since June of 1989, this farce has resulted in the Texas Department of Agriculture promoting only 3 shipments of hormone free beef to Europe. The shipments were valued at approximately $2.1 million with a small portion of that total coming from other States. This amount is a significant reduction in shipments, representing only 1.4 percent of the $150 million in beef products that the U.S. and Canada had sold to the European Community on an annual basis prior to the EC's ban of hormone treated beef. It is unlikely that additional hormone free beef shipments will increase because of the higher price associated with raising hormone free beef.

3. He has not managed taxpayer's money in a prudent way.
There are questions about Hightower's misappropriation of Department funds. Example—misallocation of Texas-Federal Inspection Service (TFIS) funds. The Texas-Federal Inspection Service is a cooperative agreement between the Texas Department of Agriculture and the USDA to provide uniform inspection procedures for growers and shippers. Funding of the service is provided by growers and shippers. Questions were raised about the expenditure of those funds by TDA officials for political purposes ($10,000 paid last year to son-in-law of the state AFL-CIO Chief to produce a 12 page history of the crop inspection program: credit-card use, travel vouchers and other expenditures by TDA officials affiliated with the inspection service rather than for program purposes.

The handling of inspection funds by TDA was audited and he has not been cleared by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

4. He doesn't care about the environment.
Hightower is always talking about trying to protect agricultural workers from pesticides and their side effects, but he has not worked with farmers and ranchers in programs that they are using to reduce pesticide use. For example, the Integrated Pest Management Program which reduces the use of pesticide and uses scouts to inspect fields to determine insect infestation and experts to determine if pesticides are needed and at what volumes. While the Integrated Pest Management Program was under Hightower's authority he cut the funding from $200,000 to $50,000.

5. He is against traditional agriculture-Texas family farms and ranches.
Texas Department of Agriculture loan programs have not been used to promote crops and animals most Texas farm and ranch families produce. Hightower has used these programs to promote, in many cases, hobby farming such as blueberry production, Christmas trees and buffalo production. At the same time, little or no funds have been made available to develop new markets for traditional crops such as cotton, wheat, feedgrains and livestock.

Jim Hightower, advised by Willie Nelson and others who know nothing about agriculture, may think they know what is good for us in the country but, we as "Family Farmers" think that it is time for a change. We urge all Floyd County voters to vote on Tues. March 13 for anyone but Jim Hightower in the Democratic Primary.

Dear Editor:

The other day a Floyd county resident approached me, and asked me for my personal thoughts on the reported voter fraud that has been going on in Floyd county as reported by our local paper, the Hesperian. Of course I told him it was no surprise, but I was really concerned that non residents and convicted felons were having a say in how our local government was run, since in local elections, just a few votes can mean the difference in who the elected official is who will represent the people.

He seemed rather distraught that non eligible voters were having an impact on Floyd county politics. He stated that in the recent past a new county judge, district attorney and district judge had all been elected, and it seemed as though nothing has changed. He said, "I know everyone in that courthouse is a democrat, and I think they won't do anything because they think these people tend to vote democrat. If they don't do something soon I'll see to it I—don't vote democrat ever again even though I've been a democrat all my life." His observations and conclusions were his own, but they took me back a couple of years to a swimming pool in a hotel in Houston, Texas.

While Judy and I were attending the last state republican convention, we went to the hotel pool after a long day of politicking to relax and enjoy ourselves. When we entered the pool, I noticed an attractive hispanic woman in her thirties conducting a conversation with several other people about politics. (It must have been my police training that helped me to notice that she was in her thirties and attractive.) Judy and I waded over to the conversation and joined in.

She also was attending the state republican convention, and her story was remarkable. She was a candidate for county office, in a county bordering Mexico. She related how she was working with the FBI and the Texas Rangers on voter fraud in her county. She described how the local democratic party bosses were hiring illegal aliens and others not eligible to vote, to vote in local elections. The payoff was usually a bottle of whiskey or five dollars.

She was the daughter of a migrant worker, had studied in school, graduated and gone on to college and worked hard all her life. She had accomplished this on her own initiative, and was proud

Crabtree named on Wayland Honor Roll

The fall 1989 Dean's Honor Roll at Wayland Baptist University includes J. Hope Crabtree of Floydada.

Crabtree, a sophomore English major, posted a 3.56 grade point average (GPA) for the recently-completed term.

The Dean's Honor Roll is announced at the end of each semester by Dr. Bill Hardage, academic vice president and dean of the university.

It lists the names of students who compiled a GPA of at least 3.50 or better on a 4.00 scale while completing at least 12 semester hours during the term.

A total of 178 students from 13 states were named to the Dean's Honor Roll for the fall term.

Letters To The Editor of the fact, and well she should be. She was proud to announce that her position in life was due to her hard work, study, and command of the english language. It was not due to government programs or quota requirements. Her story was a real success story in the American tradition of immigrants. She told us that the law enforcement agencies had warned her not to ever cross the border because there was a price on her head in Mexico. In addition to disclosing information on voter fraud, she had also had several local police officers arrested on bribery charges and sale of drugs out of their own patrol cars.

She had done nothing illegal or wrong, but she was being threatened because she dared to challenge the powers that be in her local county. I have since then said a silent prayer or two for her safety I must admit. During the convention Judy and I were privileged to see and hear many distinguished speakers, including our current president of the United States, George Bush. But of all the famous speakers and politicians, I must admit no one had a greater impact on my life than that hispanic woman fighting against the odds in that county on the border.

She was a living example of courage and strength, and I was proud to call her a political ally. She reflected those values and principles that were instilled in me years ago by my father and mother. In her I not only saw the pride and strength of Texas, but also the future. I left the convention not comforted by words of politicians, but words and deeds from an individual committed to basic values and principles. This woman was not afraid to fight against the tide for a better Texas, and a true two party system responsible to the people, not a one party system that can do as it pleases.

Employers shown appreciation with dinner

The Floydada Volunteer Fire Department, Stations 1 and 2, held their annual employers appreciation meal on Friday night, March 2. Approximately 100 firemen, their wives and their employers and wives, plus other guests attended the meal.

After the introduction of the guests, Dinks Eckert, 2nd vice president of the State Firemans-Fire Marshalls Association (SFFA) reported on the activities of the SFFA and the concerns confronting firemen. Liz Atchley, 3rd vice president of the Panhandle Firemans-Fire Marshall's Association, brought the audience up to date on the ongoing activities of the association.

Fire chief Larry Guthrie then introduced training officer Danny Nixon, who reviewed the training activities of the fire department. He stated that the volunteers had spent approximately 2400 hours in training. Nixon pointed out that most of this training was done in house, but that the firemen did attend area schools. Nixon also presented a short account covering the local aggro-rescue school. This school was started in 1984 with an attendance of 103. The attendance at the 1989 school was 301, showing an approximate growth of 25% per year.

Gary Brown, secretary, then reported on the emergency activity of the department. Brown told those in attendance that the department had made 144 runs in 1989 and spent a total of 1,872 hours. He also stated that the department may have made the toughest run ever in December, when at 2 a.m. a fire run was made. The temperature was minus 4 with a 12 to 15 mph wind. The question was asked, I volunteer for this?

Bobby Welborn, member of the Texas A&M fire school advisory board, reported on the schools that members of the department attend. Along with area schools, the department is represented at the A&M school in July. Welborn pointed out that a 5 to 7 pound per day weight loss was possible at A&M. These training schools are hands on, actual fire fighting.

Jim Covington, member of Dougherty fire department, presented a review of the Dougherty activities. He stated that Dougherty fire department had made approximately 40 runs. These runs were both fire and cloud watch.

Darolyn Snell told about the activities and future plans of the auxiliary. This is a relatively new group, of wives, who are trying to help the department.

Chief Guthrie then thanked all employers for allowing volunteers to have time off.

WELCOME GUEST—Floydada Fire Chief Larry Guthrie welcomes guests to the Employer Appreciation banquet held Friday night at Duncan Elementary.

Plainview artist is FNB exhibitor

Plainview native Rickey Davis is the featured exhibitor at the First National Bank of Floydada for the month of March. Davis is an accomplished artist in several media and should provide an enjoyable viewing experience for local patrons.

Davis has worked in oil, acrylic, watercolor, egg tempera, wood cutting, clay, silk screening and china painting. He considers oils his favorite media.

Influenced by his favorite artists, Monet, Cezanne and Manet, Davis tends to work in an impressionistic style. He paints landscapes, florals and portraits.

Says Davis, "My favorite subjects are landscapes and florals, although lately, I have been painting some figures and character studies."

In addition to painting, Davis owns an antique shop and maintains a studio in his hometown. He has taught classes for 17 years in Plainview, Tulia, Lockney and Matador. He also does painted furniture by commission.

Davis obtained a B.S. degree in Fine Arts from West Texas State University and has studied with Dr. Emilio Caballero, Romaine Swan and Stephan Cramer of Amarillo. He also studied with Pat Krahn and LaWanda Murfee of Lubbock.

Previous shows for Davis include exhibits at various banks in Plainview, Dallas and Houston. He has also shown works at galleries in Lubbock and Amarillo.

Everyone is invited to come by the bank during the month of March and see the works of this talented area artist. Public viewing will be during regular banking hours throughout the month.

U.S. CENSUS CAMPAIGN
NEWSPAPER AD NO. CEN-90-1589-2 COL. x 3.5"
Volunteer Agency: Ogilvy & Mather, Inc.

April 1 set aside for Census Day

How many Texans does it take to answer the census?

The answer is all of us. April 1, 1990 is the day for all Texas residents to stand up and be counted. Texas needs a complete and accurate count of its population in the 1990 Census to get its fair share of political representation in Washington, D.C., as well as federal dollars to which residents are entitled. If Texas is undercounted, it won't have the opportunity to get its fair share of ten years as the next Census will not occur until the year 2000.

The U.S. Census is taken at the beginning of each decade and provides national, state and city demographics which are used in numerous ways by government, the private sector and the general public. Information from census questionnaires is combined and reported only for geographic areas, and none of the data identifies any single individual. Answers provided by each household are confidential.

It is everyone's right to be counted, and the Constitution directs that every person in the nation be counted including non-citizens. In fact, the short version of the questionnaire, which will be sent to 5 out of 6 households, does not ask about citizenship status.

The Census Bureau estimates that it missed only one to two percent of the total population in the United States in 1980. Minorities were undercounted at a much higher rate, however; as much as six to eight percent of all Blacks and Hispanics may not have been included in the enumeration. If the same percentages hold true for 1990, Texas can expect an undercount of 500,000 to 600,000 persons, which amounts to about one Congressional seat.

In addition, more than $38 billion in annual federal grants to the state and local governments — in areas ranging from highway construction to the nutrition programs — are allocated using census data. The $38 billion averages out to about $150 per person per year. The 500,000 to 600,000 Texans who may not be counted could cost state and local government as much as $90 million per year in potential funding, or $900 million over the decade.

The key to improving the count in Texas is to convey the message that the census is truly confidential. All it takes to complete the questionnaire when it arrives in the mail on March 23 is a pencil and few minutes of time. Not responding to the Census hurts all Texans with fewer votes in Congress and less federal dollars for state and local service.

The mission of the Texas Department of Commerce is to encourage a climate that will stimulate business and other economic activities resulting in the retention and creation of jobs for Texas residents.

Commerce administers the Texas State Data Program, an ongoing cooperative state-federal effort to disseminate U.S. Census Bureau data throughout Texas.

UNDERSTANDING THE BIBLE by Randall Morris

"So then do not be foolish, but understand what the will of the Lord is" (Ephesians 5:17).

Jesus exhorts us to "Hear and understand" His Holy and Divine Word (Matthew 15:10). Paul wrote to Ephesus "When you read you can understand my insight" and to Corinth "We write nothing unto you except what you read and understand" (Ephesians 13:4; 2 Corinthians 1:13).

It is very evident that God intends for us to understand His word, which is recorded for us in the Holy Bible. In fact it is written concerning the great first century evangelist, Timothy, "That from a babe Thou hast known the Sacred writings which are able to make thee wise unto salvation" (2 Timothy 3:15).

It is true that the Bible contains some things "hard to be understood" (2 Peter 3:16), but it does not say such things are impossible to be understood.

Our soul's salvation depends upon whether or not we understand what we read. Our faith is a direct result of the Word of God (Romans 10:17). Thus if we cannot understand the word, we cannot have Biblical faith.

When we stand in judgement we will be judged by the Words Jesus has spoken (John 12:48), but if we cannot understand the word by which we will be judged, then we cannot receive fair judgement.

Additionally, it is possible, yea even necessary for us to understand the word of God alike. Consider Paul's statement in 1 Corinthians 4:6 where he says "Just as I preach everywhere in every church".

Doctrinal diversity was never allowed in the first century church and is expressly forbidden in 3 John 9: "If any man goeth too far and does not abide in the doctrine of Christ, he has not God." Furthermore, we are also precluded from extending the hand of fellowship or biding God's speed to those who do not abide in the doctrine of Christ (3 John 10-11). It is written in Acts 2:42 that, "they continued steadfastly in the apostle's doctrine." Paul records for us that there is "one Lord, one faith, one baptism, one body, one hope, one God..." (Ephesians 4:4-6) and exhorts us in the church to be diligent to preserve that unity of doctrine (Ephesians 4:3).

The Bible teaches us that we can understand it, we can understand it alike and that it is expected of us that we will understand it alike. Remember 1 Corinthians 1:10, "Now I beseech you, brethren, through the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no divisions among you; but that ye be perfected together in the same mind and the same judgement."

Elect Randy Hollums District Judge 110th Judicial District

"I want to say thank you to the people of the 110th Judicial District.

Your response to my campaign for District Judge has been most encouraging.

It is important for any voter who will be out of town on Tuesday, March 13th, to vote absentee by Friday, March 9th, at the County Clerk's Office.

I have campaigned actively throughout the Judicial District and have met new friends and renewed many acquaintances. If I have missed visiting with you, I hope you will consider this as a request for your vote and support. The Judicial District is just too big and the time too short for me to have contacted everyone.

Your vote in the Democratic Primary and your encouraging others to vote will decide who will be your District Judge in the coming years. I hope that my 13 years as your District Attorney justifies your support."

Wood chosen in Good Citizen essay contest

Buffalo Grass Chapter NSDAR met Feb. 27 at Lighthouse Electric. Mrs. Vera Jo Bybee, Regent, presided.

The three students who had entered the Good Citizen Essay Contest were present with their parents. They were Kelly Wood of Floydada High School, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Wood; Cindy Cook of Lockney High School, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cook; and Deidra Graves, of Ralls High School, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Graves.

Drug and alcohol awareness week observed by Duncan PTA

The Duncan PTA held its regular meeting in the school cafeteria on Monday, March 5.

The meeting was opened with a word of prayer voiced by the Rev. Randall Morris. Amanda Green and Victoria Cummings led the group in saying the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag. President, Debra Jo Fawver, then welcomed parents and announced that this week is Texas Public School Week. Mrs. Weir, principal, invited parents to visit the school and to eat lunch with their children.

The minutes from the last meeting were read by Secretary, Erma Meyers. These were approved by the membership. Judy Lloyd, treasurer, gave the financial report and reported on the Book Fair held this past week. Each teacher was given free books from the Book Fair for their classrooms.

Mrs. Fawver made the following announcements concerning projects of the PTA. The yearbooks have been ordered and should arrive during the first part of May. A donation was made to the Incentive Classes at Duncan for materials used in these classes. The PTA will be sponsoring Student Appreciation Week from April 9 through April 13. Special things are being planned for students at Duncan during this week.

The school is still collecting cash register receipts from Furrs, Shop Rite, Save 'n' Gain and Food Emporium for computers for the school. Over $10,000 has been collected so far. This program will run through the month of May. The PTA is asking everyone to save these receipts and send them to the school. There is a contest between classes on this project. The school needs $150,000 worth of receipts for each computer and printer.

The bumper stickers designed by Duncan students are now on sale for $2.50. These are available through the

The essays these young people had prepared were judged by a group of impartial judges.

The first place winner was Kelly Wood and the two young ladies tied for second place. All were presented certificates and lapel pins, and Kelly was the recipient of the chapter's scholarship for 1990. Each of the contestants read their essay to the group.

Following is the essay written by Wood in the contest:

Our American Heritage and My Responsibility To Preserve It

By Kelly Wood

Marble has never made me cry before, just because it was marble. Yet standing before the Vietnam Memorial, I cried. I know I did, because I saw my tears in its reflection. What made me cry was what the memorial represented. It represented lost lives, a controversial conflict many wanted to forget. Although I was never in the conflict, I knew I could not ignore what had happened. For it has become a part of my heritage. Our American Heritage is a very special and unique heritage. It is special and unique because men have died for the philosophies and principles it represents. Philosophies and principles that allow dreamers to dream, inventors to invent, writers to write, and artists to sing, dance, and paint. We must teach this heritage to our children. We must teach them its philosophies and principles. We must instill in them the morals and values which have shaped our heritage.

This responsibility is mine. It will teach my children the principles of democracy, freedom, liberty, and justice. It will live morally, and be the example of a citizen and an American that our forefathers were. Most importantly, I will teach them to dream, and to live their dreams. These are the principles that our forefathers believed in, I believe in, and I hope to pass on to my children. Our children are our most valuable resource and the best way to preserve our National Heritage.

Someday I will take my children to the Vietnam Memorial. Hopefully, when they see themselves in the cold marble, they will see what the monument stands for and what I have tried to teach them. They will see hope, liberty, justice, freedom, joy, love and dreams. All of which are a part of our American Heritage.

The hostesses, June Sherman and Vera Jo Bybee served refreshments to the guests: Mr. and Mrs. Wood and Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Cook and Cindy, and Mr. and Mrs. Graves and Deidra and the following members: Nancy Marble, Mary Lou Bollman, Grace Zabielski, Ona Ruth Neff, Eugenia Bethard, Janis Julian, Emily Johnston, Gladys Jones, Susan Dunavant and Ozena Norris.

The next meeting will be March 27. Mrs. Gene Reed will be program chairman. Hostesses will be Sherry Colston and Gladys Jones.

Crusade set for local church

Evangelist Buddy Baird, New Albany, Indiana, is scheduled to begin a crusade at First Assembly of God, 707 W. Missouri, on March 11.

According to the Rev. G.A. VanHoose, pastor of First Assembly of God, the Evangelist's ministry emphasizes the biblical promises of healing and strength for the human spirit, mind and body. He said the Evangelist's ministry includes prayer for the sick and that many people have been healed through prayer and faith.

He said the Evangelist Buddy Baird is a former country music singer, having cut records in Nashville, doing T.V. and personal appearances over the Kentucky and Indiana areas. The Rev. Baird has now dedicated his musical talents to gospel music, which he considers an important part of his ministry. He has recorded several albums and sings a variety of gospel music, some of which will be featured in every service.

The meetings will be held March 11-16, Sunday night at 6:00 p.m. and Monday through Friday, 7:30 p.m. The Rev. G.A. VanHoose invites everyone to come hear Evangelist Baird preach and sing in these special services.

OFFICE OF THE DISTRICT JUDGE
110th JUDICIAL DISTRICT OF TEXAS
BRISCOE, DICKENS, FLOYD AND MOTLEY COUNTIES
SECOND FLOOR, FLOYD COUNTY COURTHOUSE
FLOYDADA, TEXAS 79235

DAVID CAVE
DISTRICT JUDGE

(806) 983-3384
P. O. BOX 456

DEAR FLOYD COUNTY VOTERS:

As most of you already know I moved to Floydada in 1989 and have lived in Floydada since that time. It has been a delightful experience living in Floyd County. I am seeking re-election to the office of District Judge of Floyd, Briscoe, Motley and Dickens Counties.

During the three and one half years that I have served as your District Judge I have made a diligent effort to be worthy of the trust and confidence that you placed in me when you first elected me to this office.

We now have a District Attorney, Mrs. McPherson, who has done an excellent job in working with the Grand Juries and Juries in prosecuting criminal cases. The Grand jurors and jurors have performed their duties well. The overall effect, I think, is that we are making progress in our fight against crime. I have worked hard to see to it that we did not have any reversible errors in the criminal cases which have been appealed. Hopefully the ongoing construction of additional prison space will result in an even more effective effort to deter crime since the inmate will serve a greater percentage of the sentence imposed upon them.

During the very short campaign period the business of the District Court has had to continue. This has made it impossible for me to contact each of you individually so I have to resort to this method of communication to ask for your support and vote in the March 13, 1990 election.

I would like very much to continue to serve as your District Judge. Therefore I respectfully ask you to vote for me in the upcoming election.

Yours most sincerely,

David Cave

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

By Jo Bryant

Hi, from the Floydada Nursing Home, residents, staff and family. Well, guess March came in like a lamb, the old saying, "If March comes in like a lamb, it will go out like a lion."

Monday started the week as usual, Bro. Bill Wright came and shared the word with us. Irene Wexler played the piano for us too. At 2 p.m. the residents had ceramics, they painted an orange, they will be painting some fruit, to make them enough for a basket. We are grateful for the ones that donated for the ceramics, without you, they couldn't have the ceramics.

Tuesday, the residents had games and exercise, coffee and cookies.

Wednesday was Bingo as usual. Mary Miller had the first bingo. Mary Alice Davis came and helped the residents.

Thursday, the residents had their council meeting. Otis Johnson called the meeting to order. They discuss their needs and compliment when things are all right. They also enjoyed some popcorn.

Friday, the ladies from the First Baptist Church came and gave the devotional. Letha read a Psalm. Evelyn Latta played the piano for us. We appreciate you. In the evening the residents went on the bus ride in the country. Our Place treated them to some ice cream. The day was a beautiful and warm day to go for a ride.

This week's visitors were: Nora Mummert, Bobbie Rogers, Alissa Wilson, Robert and Elsie Burkhuhl, Plainview; Jack and Ann Meredith, Belton; H.C. and Marjorie Holcomb, Alma Rape, Dave and Frances Willis, Paducah; Nila, Katie and Brian Ball, Plainview; Cody Sewell and Johnathan Bryant, Plainview; Artie and Floyd Webb, Irene Wexler, Phillip Wilson, Roy and Tess Hill, Arlene Holmes, Willie Mae Smith, May Sue and Betty Mendez.

Two compete in piano festivals

Brandy Coleman and Tamie Cocanougher have recently participated in two piano festivals. The first festival was the Lubbock Music Teachers Association Sonatina and Concerto Festival held at Texas Tech on February 17.

Each contestant played one movement from a sonatina or concerto and competed against other contestants performing the same selection. Brandy and Tamie each placed first in their category and were presented in a First Place Winners Recital on Sunday, Feb. 18, at Texas Tech.

Brandy and Tamie also played in the West Texas State University Piano and Organ Competition Festival in Canyon on March 3. Each girl played two selections. Brandy won two Superior (I) medals. Tamie won one Superior (I) medal and an Excellent (II) certificate.

Brandy also participated in the UIL competition held at Texas Tech on February 24 in which she received a II rating.

Brandy is the daughter of Virginia Coleman. Tamie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Cocanougher. Both girls are piano students of Mrs. Carolyn Check.

Darlene Carr earns cosmetology license

Darlene Carr recently graduated from the Galleria Beauty College in Plainview. She then went on and received her State Cosmetology License in February.

Darlene will begin working at Ginger's Beauty Shop on March 20.

She lives in the Harmony community with her husband, Bill, and two children.

Alpha Sigma holds monthly meeting

By Sara Coursey

Alpha Sigma Upsilon held the second monthly meeting Feb. 27 in the bank room. Hope called the meeting to order. Roll was called with all present, except one. Rituals were held for our two newest members, Donna Webb and Ellen Enriquez.

We received information about submitting recipes for the Beta Sigma Phi Celebrations cookbook. Each member may send in the recipe of their choice. Cash prizes will be awarded for all recipes published. Good luck to everyone.

We received a letter from Karen requesting a leave of absence. They are moving and she hopes to transfer her membership to a chapter in Pattonville. Their new address is Rt. 1 Box 139B, Pattonville, TX 75468. We wish them well and hope they will be very happy. Good luck!

Darlyn had the raffle. It was an Easter basket balloon. Robbie won it. She brings the raffle for the next meeting. The program was a recipe exchange. Everyone enjoys trading good food ideas.

The next meeting will be March 6 at 7:00. Donna will be the hostess. Their being no further business, the meeting was adjourned with all members standing for closing rituals and mizpah.

We all were then served dinner. I was the hostess. We had hot submarine sandwiches, cheese dip, hot sauce and chips, and dessert of peach cobbler with vanilla ice cream.

SWEETHEART BANQUET

Alpha Sigma Upsilon, chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, met in February for a combined business meeting and Valentine Sweetheart Banquet.

The dinner was held at El Jardin in Plainview. Every member and their spouse were in attendance. We all enjoyed good food and fellowship.

We crowned the new chapter sweetheart, Robbie Odom. We presented her with an ID bracelet from the chapter. Congratulations Robbie, we're proud to have you as a member.

Perfect day for Whirlwind Relays

By Bill Gray

A shimmering morning sun cast long shadows over the caravan of yellow busses which brought representatives from 17 2A and 3A track squads to Floydada on March 3. It was not a normal day for the annual Whirlwind Relays.

In past years, sandstorms and varied types of inclement weather have been more the order of the day for the yearly Floydada event. The meet was cancelled in 1989 due to below-zero wind chill factors. In contrast, 1990's version brought blue skies and mild temperatures. Minimal winds greeted the participants as they filed out of their busses, clad in the colorful hues of their respective teams.

With visions of victory dancing in their heads, the young athletes ventured to the areas of preliminary competition. For some it would be the first step toward a day of success. For others it would mean agony, frustration and disappointment. The calmness of the morning was soon shattered by the loud report of the starter's pistol and cheering spectators.

Early on it became obvious that Idalou was the odds-on favorite in the Boys 2A Division. State-class trackster Cliff Alexander led the Wildcats to the team title with victories in four events—long jump, triple jump, 110 and 300 hurdles. Alexander's 21'6" in the long jump was tops among all area AA and AAA meets that day. Idalou wrapped up the team title with 153 points, far outdistancing runner-up Ralls' 74 points.

Lockney finished a strong third place in team scoring with 70. Wesley Teeter captured 1st in discus with a toss of 126'3" and Mark Gatica was victorious in the 1600 meter and 3200 meter runs.

Other team scores were: 4. Springlake-Earth 60; 5. Olton 40; 6. Spur 38; 7. Shamrock 36; 8. Petersburg 27; 9. Crosbyton 26.

Spur handily garnered the 2A Girls' team prize with 177 points, followed by Petersburg's 136. Lockney finished third with 82 points, followed by: 4. Springlake-Earth 65; 5. Crosbyton 50; 6. Shamrock 32; 7. Ralls 12; and 8. Motley County 6.

The Lady Horns' were paced by a victory in the 1600 meter relay; McDonald's first in the triple jump; Butler's first in discus; Turner's first in the 3200 meters; and Lori Gonzales' second place finish in the 1600 meter run.

A strong, overall performance by Roosevelt led the Eagles to the Boys 3A team title with 129 points. Post was right behind with a total of 125 points. Other team results were: 3. Tulia 98; 4. Lamesa 69; 5. Floydada 64; 6. Cooper 52; 7. Slaton 18.

Floydada's Adam Cates finished second to Lamesa's Curbow in the discus with a toss of 125'1/2". Cates also placed third in the shot put. Ronnie Benjamin carried the Green and White to a second in the pole vault with a leap of 11'6". Ron Hernandez placed third in the 3200 meters, and the Whirlwinds also took a third in the 400 meter relay.

The girls' 3A crown was won by Post with 185 points. Tulia placed second with 178. The Floydada Lady "Winds posted 130 points to take third place honors. Elisa Suarez won the long jump with a 15'9-1/2" mark, while teammate Tian Younger finished second with a 15' leap. Younger also won the 300 hurdles and placed second in the 100 hurdles. Linda Suarez anchored the 400 meter relay team to a third place finish.

Individual results for Floydada competitors included:

Boys
Discus: 2. Cates, 125-0-1/2; 3. Chavarria, 123-8-1/2
Shot put: 3. Cates, 45-3-1/2
Vault: 2. Benjamin, 11-6
3200: 3. Hernandez, 11:00.54
400 relay: 3. Floydada 44.79

Girls
Discus: 3. Parks, 76-11
Long jump: 1. E. Suarez, 15-9-1/2; 2. Younger, 15-0-3/4;
Tripe jump: 2. E. Suarez, 31-9
3200: 3. Henderson, 19:30.92
400 meter relay: 3. Floydada 56.91
100 H: 2. Younger, 17.59
100: 2. Suarez, 13.38
300 H: 1. Younger, 50.86
800 relay: 3. Floydada 2:01.16
1600: 2. Powell, 7:08.45
1600 relay: 2. Floydada 4:30.21

BILL'S NOTES
With some key athletes out of action due to academic problems, the Floydada teams did pretty well with all things considered. Several underclassmen were impressive in their specialties.

Sisters Linda and Elisa Suarez will be around for a while. The duo has plenty of spunk, and will certainly make their marks before their high school careers are over. Freshman Tian Younger is a good bet to be a State qualifier in the hurdles one of these days. Kenneth Davis and Michael Henderson give 110% every time "out of the blocks"—both are outstanding youngsters in several sports. Brian Teeple, Freddie Portee and the rest of the underclassmen showed their versatility and gave hope for things to come.

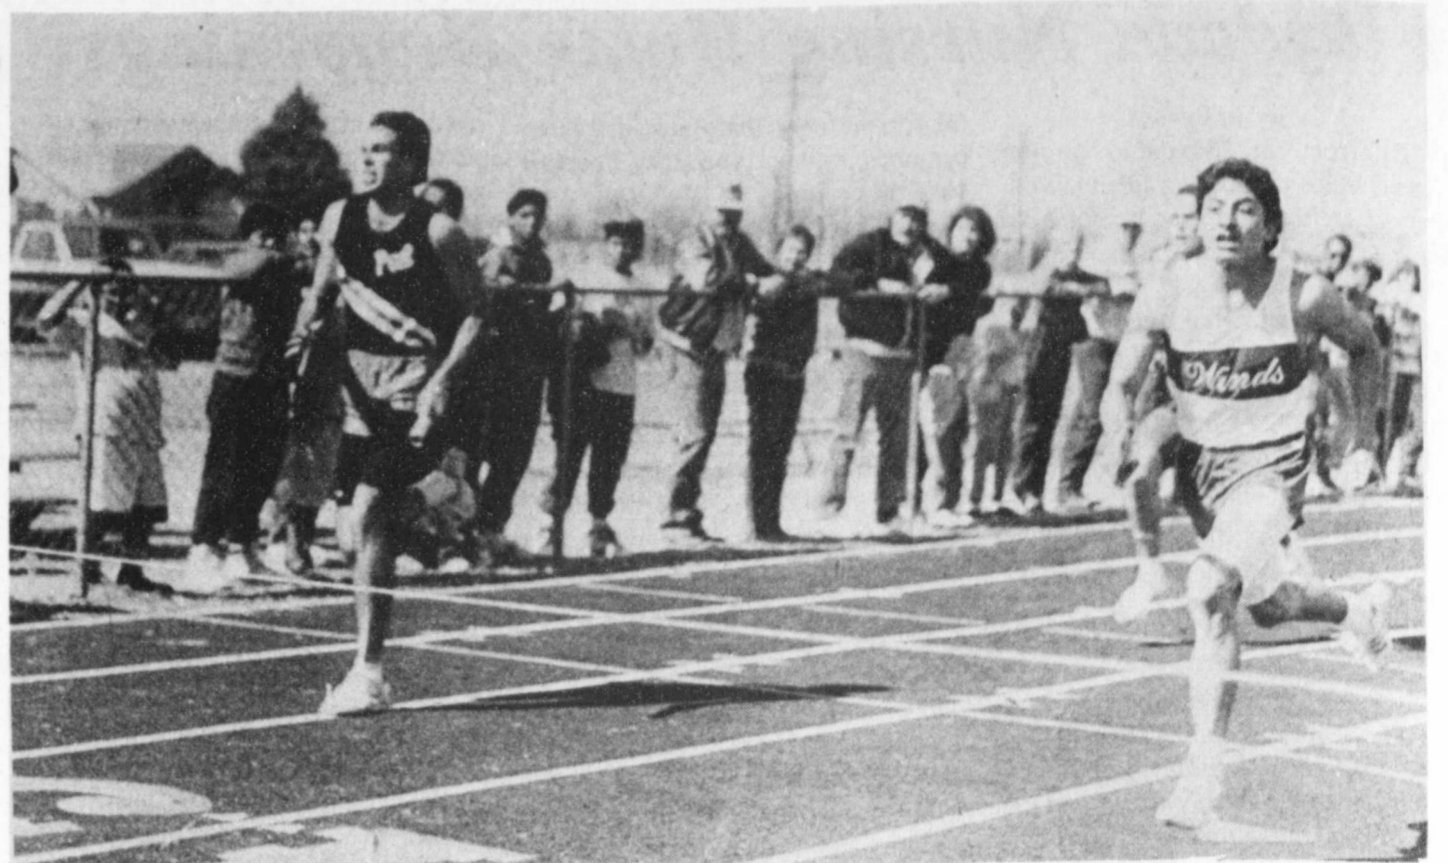

All the Floydada athletes are disciplined, well-trained and very competitive. They will win their share. Some had tough breaks last Saturday—such as Freddie Portee. He missed by 1/100 of a second in qualifying for the finals in an event. He'll be there next time—you can count on it!

For some there were cheers; for others there were tears. But, all came and left with the same attitude of spirited competition and with a feeling of having given their best.

One last word about the Whirlwind Relays of 1990. The entire coaching staffs and volunteers of host Floydada are to be highly complimented.

According to a number of visiting coaches, it was a class meet in every aspect. The schedule moved on time, the facilities and the fields were in excellent shape, and the weather was great.

Aside from the weather it took effort from a lot of people to pull this one off with such success. (Where else would one find the high school principal manning the field microphone all day...or the high school band director assisting "in the pits"? Many townspeople and parents helped and performed yeomen's work. It was truly a school and community effort!

FEATURE TEACHER—The Feature Teacher for the week of March 5 is Anne Carthel. She has been teaching for seven years. She has attended South Plains Jr. College, West Texas State University, and graduated Wayland Baptist University in 1980. In 1981 she received her All Levels Certification at Texas Tech. She has been married to Hulon Carthel for 10 years. She has three children, Casy, Corey and Cienna. She enjoys cross-stitching, sewing, painting and collecting teddy bear paraphernalia. She feels school should be "the foundation for teaching students not only math and reading skills, but also for teaching the skills necessary to be a productive citizen. Staff Photo

Happy 100th Birthday
Floyd County!!
You're looking good!!

THE NEW TEXAS

As we enter a new decade, Texans are looking for a new brand of leadership.

Texas needs new leadership. Leadership that meets the challenge before us forcefully and honestly. Leadership with unquestioned integrity.

Leadership like Ann Richards. As a candidate for governor, Ann Richards combines experience, vision and character into the kind of leader Texas needs to carry us boldly into the 1990s.

Ann Richards has the skills to meet the challenges of the New Texas. During eight of the toughest economic years Texas has ever experienced, Ann Richards made money for Texas taxpayers. While two governors were slapping Texans with the largest tax increases in the state's history, Ann Richards earned almost $2 billion in non-tax revenue—more than all the other Texas treasurers combined.

Ann Richards' tough and innovative management techniques that turned the Texas Treasury into a model for the nation will serve her well as the chief executive officer of the state. She's a fiscal conservative who understands that taxpayers deserve a dollar's worth of services for every tax dollar they pay.

Texas is ready for Ann Richards and the New Texas.

UIL participants to perform The Rainmaker

Floydada High School UIL participants are gearing up for competition and their public performance of the one-act play, "The Rainmaker."

The Rainmaker, by N. Richard Nash, is a comedy set at the time of a paralyzing drought in the west.

Characters in the play include a girl, her father and two brothers, who are as worried about her becoming an old maid as they are about their dying cattle.

The brothers try every possible scheme to marry her off, but without success. Nor is there any sign of relief from the dry heat.

Suddenly, out of nowhere, appears a smooth talking, picaresque character, with big ideas. He claims to be a rainmaker, and he promises to bring rain for $100.00.

It is a silly idea, but the rainmaker is so refreshing and ingratiating that the family finally consent. So, they begin banging on big brass drums to rattle the sky; while the rainmaker turns his magic on the girl and convinces her of her own beauty. The rain does come and so does love.

Cast members include:
Lizzie Curry (Katharine Davis), sophomore, daughter of Walter and Mary Alice Davis.

Rainmaker (Ronnie Benjamin), senior, son of Larry and Stella Benjamin. Deputy File (Joe Cisneros), senior, son of Joe and Elvia Cisneros.

H.C. Curry (Randal Sims), senior, son of Carroll and Elizabeth Sims.

Noah Curry (Kelly Wood), senior, son of Ronnie and Dianne Wood.

Jim Curry (Josh Thayer), freshman, son of Jan Thayer and Fred Thayer.

Narrator (Spring Lipham), freshman, daughter of Julian and Joyce Lipham.

Stage crew consists of Misty Avila, senior daughter of Jimmy and Susan Avila; Heather Henderson, senior, daughter of Bud and Donna Henderson; Delinda Jackson, senior, daughter of Cecil and Linda Jackson; Trish Pernell, junior, daughter of Ricky and Donna Pernell; Kalli Hicks, sophomore, daughter of Bill and Kay Hicks.

The UIL contest day is March 23 at Tulia High School at 3 p.m.

The performance for the public is March 24, 8 p.m., at Floydada High School Auditorium.

THE RAINMAKER—UIL participants are in the process of practicing for the One Act play, The Rainmaker, to be presented to the public, on March 24. Actors include: (left-right, back) Randall Sims, playing H.C. Curry; Kelly Wood as Noah Curry; Josh Thayer as Jim Curry and Katharine Davis as Lizzie Curry.

- REVITALIZE RURAL AMERICA STARTING NOW
- RETAIN FAIR & EQUITABLE TARGET PRICES ON ALL CROPS
- RETAIN FAIR & EQUITABLE LOAN RATES ON OUR CROPS
- SECURE PROFITABLE PRICES FOR AGRICULTURE CROPS AND LIVESTOCK
- DEVELOP ADEQUATE NATIONWIDE & INTERNATIONAL MARKETS
- HAVE A WORKABLE, AFFORDABLE FEDERAL CROP INSURANCE PROGRAM
- LOWER TAXES AND LOWER INTEREST RATES
- KEEP OUR PRIVATE AND PUBLIC WATER RIGHTS

Dick Waterfield was the only West Texas legislator to vote for a bill that would give our underground water rights away to a State Water Commission. This bureaucratic committee would have the authority to tell us how much water to pump, where, when and if we could drill a water well and have the power to levy a tax of 10¢ per $100 valuation.

STOP WASTING OUR TAX MONEY ON SALARY INCREASES FOR LEGISLATORS

Dick Waterfield voted to give himself a 300% increase in his salary. Congress voted to give themselves a $30,000 increase in pay. These actions do not reflect the wishes of this district and must be stopped. Representatives should not be obligated to anyone but the people of this district.

WE DID IT BEFORE, AND WE CAN DO IT AGAIN

Former Colleague George Bush and Bob Price were elected to Congress the same year and worked together on conservative legislation. Eight years of seniority will allow Price to immediately start working for this district.

Lions Club slates annual Radio Days

The Floydada Lions will once again be taking over our air-waves, March 31 on radio station KKAP. Every year amateur and "pro" Lions converge on the local station, taking over the microphone and record player. The results are very often hilarious.

KKAP manager, Bob Alldredge, generously donates the station to the Lions Club and all advertising proceeds go the charitable causes that the Lions support.

Local businesses should be prepared to be approached by a Lion for advertising. The ads will be sold for $20.00 for 3 spots on the air. Donations of more than $20.00 would obviously be accepted and appreciated.

Proceeds go to support: Lions Crippled Children's Camp, Eyeglasses for Needy Children, Local Scouting Programs, Local Youth Activities, Lions Diabetes Camp, Wheelchair Ramps and the Lions Eye Bank.

Officials meet to discuss county wide trash disposal

 why we're sitting here tonight. If we are going to have to spend the money, we would rather be paying in this county rather than Plainview."

Brown expressed the idea that "As far as Lockney and the commissioners court, I think Floydada would be willing to say we would love to have you work with us."

Lockney officials inquired as to what type of contract at what charge Floydada would offer if Lockney agreed to participate in the Floydada facility.

Brown replied, "I feel that we are all reasonable adults and that we could all sit down and negotiate a reasonable contract with reasonable charges fair to everyone." Brown indicated that if no extreme conditions are placed on the facility, no increases in current charges or at least minimal increases would be necessary.

No hard and fast figures are available at this time due to the fact that no one is certain what requirements will be placed on the Floydada facility for lining or monitoring. Until these aspects are known, no exact financial data is available.

Mayor Smith directly questioned County Judge Bill Hardin concerning the part the county intended to play in handling the garbage problem saying, "I think Floyd County knows it is going to cost them more than it does now. Are you going to be there to help? I know what you made quite clear to us. Are you going to take a look at it? I want to know how Floyd County feels about it."

Judge Hardin replied, "I don't think we can answer that right now, cause we don't know ourselves. It is going to take us some time."

"I think that if you are not interested in it, that is going to shed a different light on what we are going to do," said Smith.

Floydada councilman Leroy Burns then stated, "If they are not interested in it, where are they going to put it (county residents garbage)?"

Hardin responded, "I am saying that we are interested, but this is the first that we have heard here tonight. We have not discussed landfills here to for."

Other aspects of the waste management problem were discussed during the session, including recycling and land owner use of individual garbage holes before the meeting broke up. Other considerations addressed included how to assess charges for county residents use of a jointly operated landfill.

No decisions were made and each taxing entity agreed to take what was discussed back to their own upcoming meetings and take it into consideration.

Floydada councilman Burns suggested that the three entities meet on a quarterly basis to discuss matters of concern to all. The assemblage was receptive to the idea and future joint meetings will be considered.

Attending the session were Lockney council members J.D. Copeland, Ronnie Aston, Kenneth Wofford and Gary Marr along with Mayor Dan Smith. Judge Bill Hardin and commissioners Connie Bearden, Floyd Jackson, Kay Crabtree and George Taylor represented the county commissioners court at the session.

Floydada representatives included council members Wayne Russell, Wayne Tipton, Amado Morales, Frank Breed, Leroy Burns and Ruben Barrientoz. City manager Gary Brown, city secretary Jimmie Lou Stewart, city attorney Randy Hollums, engineer Bill McMorries, city employee Jim Green and the Hesperian reporter.

SILVER ANNIVERSARY BALLOON LIFTOFF—Texas Migrant Council shared in the silver 25th Headstart Anniversary Friday, March 2. It was celebrated by having an open house, a balloon launch at 2:00 p.m. and refreshments for the parents that attended. Some of the parents of the children enrolled volunteered their time to help the staff in completing the preparations which included decorating, planning and preparing the table for refreshments. The Headstart program provides children with education, nutrition, health, handicap, social services and parent involvement. "I am very proud of this program because it gives us the opportunity to work together as a whole to plan a better future for our children," says Nellie Riojas of the Floydada TMC. "Thank you for giving us the opportunity to serve you." Staff Photo

THE LIFE OF A COWHAND—Sharon Redden's (right) fourth grade class has been studying the life of cowboy, and were treated to a hands on demonstration, on Tuesday, to the art of horseshoeing, grooming, saddling and riding. Travis Jones (right background) brought a horse and mule to Andrews for the demonstration. Travis narrated the program and explained the procedures taken by horseshoer John Arnold (shoeing mule). Norman Muncy (left in background) demonstrated riding, how to groom and how to saddle. Many of the children were dressed in western attire and were allowed to sit on the horse. "We really appreciate the communities support of our programs," said Ms. Redden. "Every time we have a field trip or some kind of program, people in this community always help us out. We have really enjoyed all of our experiences." Staff Photo

News and Views from Cedar Hill

WEATHER

It was too wet to plow all of last week! Thus column reported one and one half inches at press time on Tuesday, Feb. 20 and rain was still falling steadily. When the weather cleared on Wednesday some Cedar Hill gauges read as much as two inches. Cool, cloudy weather slowed drying so that little field work had been done before another .22 hundredths fell Tuesday night, February 27th.

Notes from 1989: on Saturday, 3-11-89 high temperature was 94 degrees; Sunday, 3-12-89 temp. high 96 degrees.

CROP COMMENTS

Although little herbicide has been applied to land designated for 1990 cotton, the major problem that was presented by the ground being close to a 100% bed of clods has yielded to the mellowing effect of the extended period of freezing and thawing. That, together with a pass or two by the plows now has the soil in good condition for herbicide application.

February conditions could hardly have been better for fall and winter seeded small grain crops. Ironically, fall and early winter moisture was virtually non-existent and in some instances the result was disastrous; no crop survived to benefit from the excellent February moisture. Even now many wheat fields present a disturbing pattern as a result of the extreme dryness of the fall and early winter. There are fields having large spots with plants three to four months old and in a vigorous stage of growth while just inches away a perfect stand of tender young seedlings, having finally received sufficient moisture for germination, are just now pushing through the surface.

Our February moisture has been ideal for the older wheat at this particular time of its development; the time when it makes its seasonal switch from root expansion to vigorous top growth. Already jointing has begun and the head shoots are tall enough that each bite consumed by grazing cattle is reducing the number of potential heads which might be available for the 1990 harvest.

Wheat seeded since January 1st, for grazing only, has really had it ideal. Up to a good stand! Has experienced no moisture stress! Temperature exactly right! No bug problem :: yet!

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

"He that hath an eye, let him see!" Nature has posted her early notices of Spring! In her typical fashion she has ignored man's superficial calendar and gone to great lengths to spell out the fact that, by her standards, Spring is not something to come, SPRING is already here! So that none may plead ignorance to her finite control she has triggered millions of kochia seedlings whose joint push to reach the surface has literally lifted the soil's crust and holds it suspended in the air. Apricot buds, so swollen that pink or white shows through cracks in their restraining shucks, add their mute testimony; Spring is here!

A number of other trusted harbingers of Spring are giving off their "early signals". Among them are the following: dandelions are appearing, note, dandelions are fewer and later than on most years; beets, turnips, radishes, carrots, irish potatoes, and onions, those that were left in the ground and were not killed outright by winter's severe cold, are putting out new growth; bees bringing home pollen of various colors prove that several species of plants are now in bloom; and even a robin, a fairly rare bird on the high plains, was heard to sound off his strange, half choked note at the listening post a few days back. Conspicuous by their absence were newly emerged possession vines, which are sometimes called creeping jenny or wild morning glory. Smugly relying on their vast stores of root energy those villains fear no competition and will remain in lethargic hibernation until one day, similar to Jonah's gourd vine, they suddenly appear and shoot upward in an amazing burst of growth.

Of course a dyed-in-the-wool urbanite, who must be hit over the head by the presence of spring before they recognize it, can get fairly accurate clue that it has arrived by walking down the aisles in their favorite supermarket. When you see a brand new, fully stocked, rack of garden seeds, a bin full of freshly dug onion plants, and a box full of treated seed potatoes you can safely deduce that Spring is here. Incidentally your local grocers have received their 1990 stock of garden seeds. Either they are already on display or they are waiting to be moved up from the back.

One of the most mysterious aspects of nature is her unlimited reach, the all-pervasiveness of her influence on dormant things what ever their location. Consider the potato and the onion, how they will lie for months in a housewife's dry vegetable bin, virtually in total darkness, in the coolest part of the house with no sign of growth. Yet in late March it will be discovered that vigorous tuber and blade growth has begun at almost the same instant that growth started on seed stock that had remained outside in the ground all winter.

The Listening Post has an apricot tree with buds that appear to be within hours of bursting into bloom, and that is a pity. The bees will indulge in a harvesting frenzy and eagerly save most of the pollen to feed their young, but freezes to come will claim all of that tree's fruit. Your town, with now and then a location in sheltered sunshine, should have many apricots in bloom by the time you read this column. Although many freezes still lie ahead of us, your writer is climbing out on his customary limb once again with the following prediction: Floyd County will harvest both apricots and peaches in 1990.

In contrast to the fully developed buds on the LisPo tree, blossom buds on Old Faithful, the Apricot beside the Cedar Hill Assembly Parsonage that never, never fails, are still very small and undeveloped. That tree, with still two or three weeks to go before blooming, stands a very good chance to extend it's unbroken record and bear fruit again in 1990. Peach trees are also exhibiting that same wide variation in their stages of development; your writer feels quite safe in his prediction, 1990 will give us apricots and especially peaches.

Notes from 1989: "Thursday, March 16. One apricot tree at the old place is in full bloom!" Then two days later, on "Saturday, March 18, first peach blossoms were observed."

THE CALIENTE (HOT) CORNER
Onion and pepper production goals for 1990 are little changed from the 1989 target. In fact December's bitter cold swept down into the valley and severely reduced the supply of available onion plants. The yellow granos appear to be in shortest supply. Should early losses occur in Floyd County it is doubtful if replacement plants could be found.

Following the 1989 "get well" year much greater interest has been shown in moving into onion production, however to expand beyond the 350 - 400 acre target range could help create a burdensome oversupply and cause greatly reduced prices. For that reason the list of growers is expected to remain unchanged from a year ago.

The setting of onion plants is scheduled to begin Monday, March 12 if the weather is co-operative.

LIVESTOCK AND HAY

The grass is coming! The grass is coming by leaps and bounds and many a ranch wife could make her cowboy over into a more lean and lissome specimen by opening the gate and turning him out to pasture. The experience gained in buying and observing CRP grasses over the last few years has stimulated an interest among our ranch people to the extent that some have become expert in the identification and classification of our native grasses. Grass watching as a hobby has become a wholesome and profitable alternative to watching Joe Montana work his football magic on the TV screen. Some of those old boys, if they could find the time, would love to spend hours "grazing" back and forth over their grassland finding and meditating on those rare and exciting clumps of grass that must have "drifted in" among our natives from some distant place. And, as a result, they would be leaner and keener from having done it. So, tend to the gate, girls!

Although native grasses are burgeoning and in need of nothing they don't already have, they are still too short to benefit hungry cattle. So anxious eyes are watching hay supplies that are fast disappearing. As usual cattle people are caught between the horns of a dilemma; sell cattle and harvest wheat, or graze the wheat and keep the cattle. Many acres of that early/late emerged wheat will eventually go for pasture, because a West Texas hail storm might claim the old wheat while it waits, ripe and falling, for the young wheat to mature.

THE LEANING CEDARS

Evelyn Fortenberry Winn was scheduled for release from Lubbock's St. Mary of the Plains Hospital on Thursday, March 1, but an abrupt change in her tests caused the release to be cancelled. Although she is in no great discomfort her doctors think that to release her while her blood count continues to fluctuate so wildly would be a serious mistake.

Jack and Imogene Lackey Stansell moved to Floydada several years ago, but many Hesperian readers only knew them from their years at Cedar Hill. It was with concern that this column learned that Jack has been a patient in Lubbock's Methodist Hospital for more than a visitation was restricted for part of that time.

Another milestone for Edna Gilley! After weeks and weeks of absence from her Church she was back for morning services last Sunday. No parking space marked "handicapped" was waiting for her, but a "welcome ramp" had been built and was waiting for her to use. After years of plying the carpenter's trade as a second calling, building a ramp was a snap for Pastor Dewey. Earnestine Dillard Gilley and Juanita Henry from Floydada visited with Edna on Thursday, March 8.

Mar. 5: Margie Starkey Cypert was hospitalized in Methodist Hospital in Lubbock on Monday. Her symptoms indicated possible kidney stones, however a short time earlier she had a serious bout with ulcers while on a visit to Oklahoma. Her ulcer troubles had her in both Oklahoma and Lubbock hospitals.

Mar. 5: Mary Helen Cypert Langley visited with her mother, Goldie Brown Cypert in her Lubbock rest home Monday. Goldie was doing quite well, still recovering from a recent fall in which, fortunately, nothing was broken.

THE EVERYDAY CEDARS

Mar. 3: It was home again, last Saturday, for Lindsey and Billy Ruth Lackey and their travel trailer, after spending nearly thirty days fighting the fish at Port Isabel. The sad fact is much more time was spent staying out of the wind and the rain than was spent fishing. They had one very agreeable surprise: folks at the adjacent park-site were moving out, going back home, one morning as L & BR were heading for "the ole fishin' hole." The Gulf of Mexico; when they returned to their trailer they had brand new neighbors, William and Faye Battey Bertrand were parked right next door. W & F had itchy feet; after a few days they moved on, forever in search for new horizons.

Mar. 4: Ester Langley had the pleasure of a visit from all four of her daughters, and one son-in-law, Sunday, March 4. The daughters, all of them grandmothers themselves, were as follows: Eunice and Bob Covington, Dougherty; Bobbie Damron, Dimmit; Eloise Gallaway, Olton; and Celia Higdon, Lake McKenzie, Silverton. Mrs. Langley still lives alone in her comfortable brick home a stone's throw from Neil and Charlene's home. Her house is on land originally acquired by her father and was commonly known as The Old Whitfill Place years ago. Mrs. Ester is thought to be the oldest "country person," that is still making her home out in the wide open spaces or our rural area.

FROM THE POST YARD

'89: It was Friday, March 3, a year ago that a trash fire got out of control and burned the old landmark Tatum House to the ground.

'89: On Wednesday, March 8 Trucks loaded the Tom & Gladys Fortenberry house and headed for Turkey. After ninety years the "home quarter" had no place for a Fortenberry to sleep.

The old Daris Hill house has been getting it's insides upgraded lately. Edna Gilly plans for her hired hand to live there. It won't offset the two losses above but it does help.

When I am gone, release me, let me go.
I have so many things to see and do.
You musn't tie yourself to me with tears.
Be happy; we had so many years.
I gave you my love, you can only guess.
How much you gave me in happiness.
I thank you for the love you each have shown,
But now it's time I travel on, alone.

MAJOR BRIAN L. VICKERS

Vickers selected for promotion to rank of major

The U.S. Air Force has announced the selection of Captain Brian L. Vickers for promotion to the rank of Major. Vickers is currently assigned as an intelligence officer to Headquarters, U.S. Air Forces in Europe at Ramstein Air Base, Germany, where he is Chief of Air Defense Analysis.

Major Vickers is a native of Floydada, graduating from Floydada High in 1973. He holds an Associate of Arts degree from South Plains College, a Bachelor's degree in Political Science from Texas Tech University, and a Master's degree in National Security Affairs from the U.S. Naval Postgraduate Institute.

Major Vickers' service decorations include the Meritorious Service Medal, the Air Force Commendation Medal, the Combat Readiness Medal, and the Humanitarian Service Medal.

Major Vickers is married to the former Debbie McMahan of Lubbock, and has two children, Robert and Amanda. His parents are Bob and Melba Vickers of Floydada.

Like a good neighbor, State Farm is there.

NEWSPAPER ADS PAY!

Print advertising remains the most effective of all point-of-sale advertising. Newspaper ads remain the most cost-effective of all print advertising. On a cost-per-exposure basis, The Floyd County Hesperian and The Lockney Beacon remain the most economical among area papers. For only 280 pennies per column inch, the advertiser can place a message in 2,900 households, reaching nearly 80 percent of all Floyd County readers.

NOTICE OF REQUEST TO CHANGE AGRICULTURAL PROCESSING RATE

Notice is hereby given that LIGHTHOUSE ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE, INC. (the utility) intends to reduce the agricultural processing rate available to cotton gins, grain elevators, and other seasonal agricultural processing services. The existing rate contains an energy charge for the first 450 KWh per KW of peak billing demand of $.1357 per KWh with all excess KWh billed at the rate of $.03 per KWh. The proposed rate is 150 KWh per KW of peak billing demand per month, but not more than 450 KWh per KW of peak billing demand per season at $.1357 per KWh with all excess KWh at the rate of $.03 per KWh. Based upon billing units in the 12 month period ended December 31, 1989, the proposed rates reduce revenues to the utility by approximately $50,000 or 0.45% of total operating revenues.

Implementation of the proposed changes is subject to approval by the appropriate regulatory authority. A statement of intent including the proposed revisions of tariff and schedules and a statement specifying in detail each proposed change is available at the general office of the Utility located at Floydada, Texas.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0223 or (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.

Odds to win each of the grocery product prizes based on probability are one-in-eight (every ticket can win). Odds to win sweepstakes prizes are dependent upon number of entries received. These odds are subject to change without notice. See promotion for details. Promotion is scheduled to be completed on April 2, 1990; however, the game officially ends upon distribution of all game tickets. This promotion is available in 83 participating Affiliated Food Stores located in Texas, Colorado and New Mexico.
