Slates complete for city, school spring elections

The end of the registration period for positions on the ballot in the school and city elections finds a full slate of candidates listed.

FLOYDADA CITY COUNCIL

There are three candidates for the council seat in District 1. The incumbent, Amado Morales, is being challenged by former council member Don Green and by newcomer Jack Ochoa. Incumbent Wayne Tipton is unchallenged in his bid for reelection to the District 4 position.

There are two at-large positions up for election this spring. Incumbent Wayne Russell will be seeking another term on the council in that capacity. Two new faces have tossed their hats into the ring this year. Eric Cornelius and Ricky Vasquez will be seeking at-large posts on the council. The two candidates garnering the most votes in the May 5 election will claim the two at-large council seats.

Absentee voting will begin on April 16 for the city election. It will continue until May 1. Absentee voters may cast ballots at City Hall.

SCHOOL BOARD TRUSTEES

There are two positions on the Floydada Independent School District board of trustees on the ballot this spring. The District 3 seat and an at-large post will be elected.

Incumbent Michael Hinsley will be unopposed on the ballot as he seeks a second term on the board as at-large trustee.

Adolfo Garcia, the incumbent in District 3, will be opposed by Billy Joe Villarreal.

Absentee voting for the trustee election will begin on April 17 and will continue until May 1. Absentee ballots may be cast at the school administration offices.

Two announce intentions for re-election to hospital board

The annual election of directors for the board of trustees of the Caprock Hospital District has been set for May 5, 1990. Two positions are on the ballot for this election.

Incumbents Fred Thayer and Melba Vickers have announced their intention to run for reelection.

Anyone interested in having their name placed on the ballot may do so by submitting a petition containing 25 signatures before the registration deadline on April 10, 1990. Petitions may be obtained at the hospital by contacting Nell McClung.

Absentee voting will begin on April 16 and continue through May 1. Absentee voters will cast ballots at the county judge's office in the Floyd County Courthouse in Floydada.

Search begins for pioneer fashions

The search has begun for models and garments for the style show to be held the day of the Old Settlers Reunion, May 26. We are looking for garments throughout the county that will represent the fashion over the past hundred years. Band and athletic uniforms, cheerleading and twirling uniforms, school teaching attire, farm family clothing, clothing from the medical profession, bridal gowns, military uniforms, graduation gowns suits or dresses, as well as other miscellaneous garments.

If you have any clothes that you would be willing to loan us for the show or model for the show please call Kathy Becker in Floydada 983-2092.

Merchants are also being encouraged to dress up in "period clothing" fitting the time period their business was established, and participate in the style show.

FASHIONS OF THE 90's? Laura Turner modeled one of the latest(?) after five fashions for 1990 during Monday night's Women's Chamber of Commerce Spring Style Show. Laura was all dressed up in her white formal (?) accentuated with a gold clock on the front, to show that it was after five attire, and completed with gold accessories. She carried a crystal wine glass and her cigarette to make sure everyone knew she was ready for an evening out. Laura's attire was part of the comedy segment for the evening's show and salad supper.--Staff photo

Salazar praised for generosity despite battle with leukemia

(Editor's Note: The following story was written by Texas Tech journalism student, Jennifer Jackson, provided to this newspaper by Tech's School of Mass Communications through a grant from the Readers's Digest Foundation.)

By Jennifer Jackson
Nine-year-old Scott Salazar is fighting for life with a positive attitude.

"Scott is special because he strives to be no different from any other child at Duncan Elementary, even though he is fighting his own personal war with leukemia," said Sherese Covington, third grade teacher, Duncan Elementary School.

"Scott has the biggest heart of any child I've ever been associated with. He would give anything he had if he thought it would help someone else," said Covington.

At homecoming a classmate lost her mum in the shuffle from one school to another, Scott felt bad for her and gave his teacher some money to help buy her a new one.

"That act is typical of Scott," said Covington.

Covington said, "He is a champion. He is a winner against all odds. He maintains an 'A' average even though he misses quite a lot of school. He has never lagged behind and I have never heard him complain."

The battle with leukemia began in August of 1986 when doctors diagnosed Scott as having acute lymphoblastic leukemia. In January of 1988 he suffered a relapse and the diagnosis was changed to central nervous system

(CNS) leukemia. The disease is now in remission. Scott has been under treatment at Hodges Cancer Center at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock.

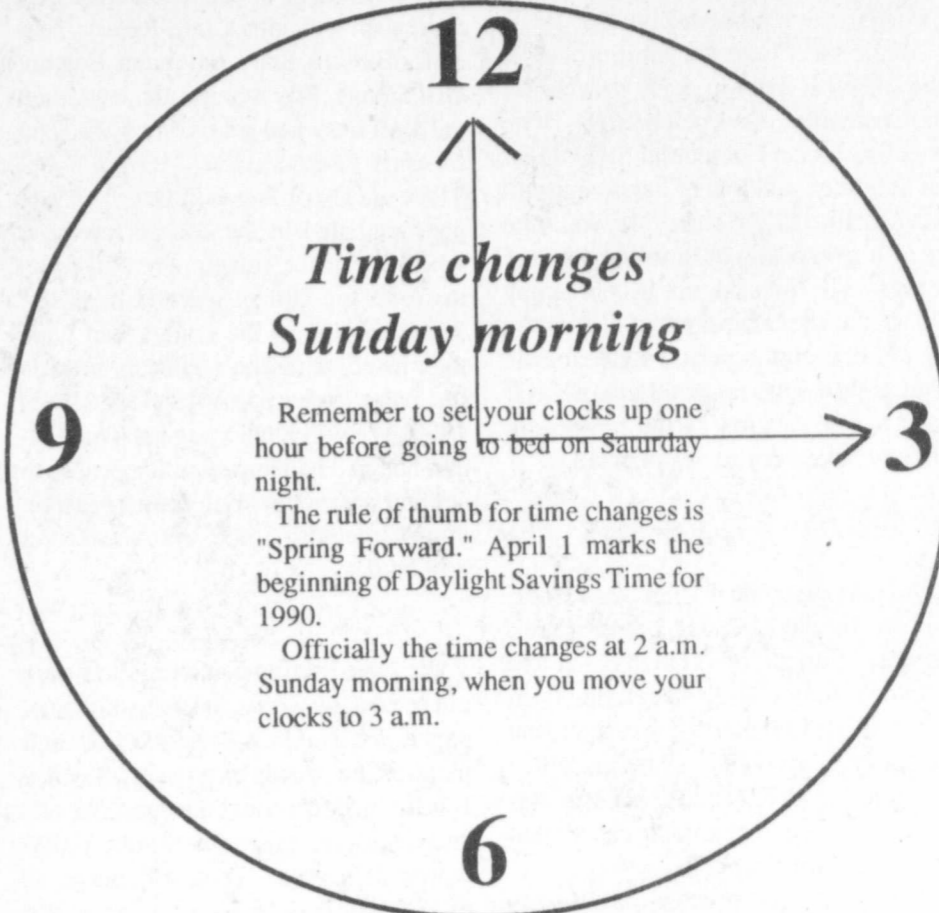

"The hospital does special things for the kids that go through treatment there, especially on holidays," said Nora Salazar, Scott's mother.

"The staff becomes a part of your family after awhile, they are all very caring and supportive of Scott," said Nora.

Doctors tell Scott's family that if the disease is held in remission through December of this year he can discontinue the 56-day cycle of chemotherapy and report to his doctors every six months.

Time changes Sunday morning

Remember to set your clocks up one hour before going to bed on Saturday night.

The rule of thumb for time changes is "Spring Forward." April 1 marks the beginning of Daylight Savings Time for 1990.

Officially the time changes at 2 a.m. Sunday morning, when you move your clocks to 3 a.m.

Show features everything from burlap sacks to latest fashions

The Spring Style Show sponsored and organized by the Floydada Women's Chamber of Commerce ran smoothly Monday night, in front of a packed house.

A record attendance of approximately 230 women gathered to view the newest Spring fashions and enjoy each others salad recipes.

Besides the lovely fashions of Kids Klosets, Sears, Hales, Jodi's and Bow's by Laura, the organizers threw in plenty of humorous fashions to keep the audience entertained.

Alice Gilroy was out first with the latest in drapery wear. She displayed a long elegant curtain, rod and all, accessorized with newspaper clippings and a iron to go to press with.

Dee Dee Covington modeled a "100% cotton Sear Sucker dress, which closely resembled a burlap sack, appliqued with suckers and cotton balls.

Janet Himes was prepared for active sports wear in her tennis outfit, conveniently equipped with velcro and stuck on tennis balls, ready to pluck from her dress and slam dunk across the court.

The "After 5" look was modeled by Laura Turner. It was the hit of the evening and had to be seen to appreciate.

Entertainment was provided by Meghan Graham doing a hoola dance and Spring Lipham singing "My Little Corner of the World".

The stage was decorated in balloons in spring colors shaped into a rainbow. Bill Smith, was the lone man (and very appreciated man) in the room full of women. He provided the sound system and the background music for the show.

Emcees Anne Carthel and Julianne Comelius carried the show smoothly from one transition to another with beauty, style and grace.

Hard work by the style show chairwomen Debra Graham and Alison Robertson, assisted by many women chamber members, resulted in a successful and enjoyable evening of food, fun and fashion tips.

Love Fund

A Love Fund has been started for Roger Nichols, at the First National Bank, Floydada, to help with his hospital bills.

Hesperian office closed April 6

The Hesperian office will be closed on Friday, April 6. The staff will be attending a press association meeting that day.

Regular office hours will be in effect on Thursday prior to the meeting and will resume on the Monday following.

Cates selected for all-star tilt

By Bill Gray

Senior Adam Cates, a three time All-District honoree at Floydada High School, has been named to the North All-Star team which will play the South All-Stars during the Texas High School

ADAM CATES

Coaches Association clinic and convention. The game is scheduled on August 2, 1990, in Houston's Astrodome. Cates is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Cates.

It is believed to be the first time since 1953 (when Don Barber was chosen) that a Whirlwind footballer has been chosen for the prestigious All-Star contest. Southlake Carroll's Bob Ledbetter will coach the North squad, and the South mentor will be Dennis Parker of Marshall.

A 6'2", 220-pound center-defensive end, Cates was a unanimous All-South Plains choice on offense and defense in 1989. He hopes to play football at the collegiate level, but is yet undecided where he will attend.

The North-South teams are selected from players in all school classifications throughout Texas. Cates is one of only six Class 3-A players who will suit up for the North. Adam's selection is not only a tremendous honor for the young athlete, but also a credit to the Whirlwind coaching staff and Floydada High School.

CENTENNIAL THEME COMMITTEE--(l-r) Darlynn Hambright, Gayle Reay, Nettie Ruth Whittle and J.K. West, along with Elfie Sherman, who is not pictured, were on the committee to select a theme for Floyd County's Centennial celebration. Johnnie Mosley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ricky Mosley and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Boyce Mosley of Lockney and Mr. and Mrs. Howard

Gregory of Floydada, submitted the winning theme. He presented the theme "100 Years of Pioneer Spirit." Johnnie is a 10-year-old fifth grader at Lockney Elementary. His social studies teacher, Marva Rasco, encouraged her 4th and 5th grade students to enter the contest. There were 43 entries, four from Floydada and 39 from Lockney.

By The Way

By Alice Gilroy

I sure have to be careful what I say in this column. I never dreamed when I said I wanted to wear a curtain in the Spring Style Show, that they would put me in one. But I have to admit, it was an exceptionally attractive curtain! Very stylish!

All the fashions were beautiful, but my personal favorites were the not-so-beautiful fashions worn by myself, Dee Dee Covington, Janet Himes and Laura Turner. Look out Gloria Vanderbilt and Christian Dior, here we come!

While we are on the subject of style shows. What are you going to wear for the Centennial Week celebration. There is going to be a Centennial Style Show on Saturday, and lots of happenings all week before Old Settlers. It would be great if everyone got in to the spirit of things and dressed up in old-timey dress. All the businesses in the county should dress up in period style clothes. You could even wear it at 'Punkin Days' too! All of us girls at the newspaper already have our dresses planned.

Support your local Lions this week. Get fed by the Lockney Lions at their Pancake Supper on Thursday, at the Lockney Junior High Cafeteria, from 5:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. Then listen to the Floydada Lions on KKAP radio, Saturday, starting at 7:00 a.m. All donations to the events go to charitable causes that the Lions Clubs support.

There are times when individuals don't find the time to support different charities that they feel are worthwhile. Now is your chance to support some organizations that will take care of those charities for you.

Another worthwhile event to attend this weekend is the Floydada Volunteer Firemen's bar-b-que on April 1. Instead of driving to Plainview for lunch after church or having to hurry and cook a meal, take yourself over to Duncan Elementary and for $5.00 get a great meal and help your firemen. They will start serving at 11:00 a.m. and stop at 2:00 p.m. They even have take-outs! You can't beat this deal anywhere!

We have mailed out all the letters to businesses and churches concerning our Centennial edition. We got the addresses to the churches off the church page directory. Four letters came back and we have found homes for all of them, except the Friendship Chapel CME. Would anyone attending that church please call us and give us your mailing address.

We will not be mailing out letters to all the organizations and sororities, etc. So if you want a history of your organization included in the Centennial edition, such as Lions Club, Rotary, Masons, Eastern Star, American Legion, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, etc., then ya'll get busy and get us one by the end of April. PLEASE!

We are also going to have a signature page included in the edition for those who want to be remembered as being there for the 100 year celebration. For $5.00 anyone in the county can have their name, or families name, printed on the page saying, I WAS THERE IN 1990! We will have a page at The Beacon and at The Hesperian for people to see and sign up for. You can also mail in your name with $5.00 and we will get you on it.

We have sat down and tried to figure out how many words goes into a 10 page paper. We couldn't. Because of ads and pictures, the words on a page will vary. But if you don't count the space for ads and pictures, there are about 6,000 words to a page. That, of course, is 60,000 words for a 10 page paper. We normally, counting the Beacon, have a 14 or 16 page paper.

We try to have something in it for everyone, so that is why we purposely put in misspelled words.

Very often (I mean every once in a while), we leave off paragraphs or rearrange them entirely. Sometimes we misspell children's names because their parents did not have the foresight to spell them the way we think they should.

When we make mistakes around here, everybody knows it. It is in print. It's not like your ordinary everyday screw ups in your office where the only ones who know about it are the people you work with. Here—EVERYBODY KNOWS!

Here are some of our favorite mistakes that we still manage to laugh about:

One of our marriage headlines untied a couple, instead of having them united. The groom laughed. I'm not sure about the bride.

In the Lamplighter Column we had a woman on welfare living in a tree bedroom house instead of a three bedroom house.

In the Senior Citizens menu, we had oven fried children, instead of oven fried chicken. Lowell Bilbrey, the justice of the peace pointed that out to us, and told us he was filling out a warrant for our arrest!

My dad told me about a story in the Cuero Record (years ago), in which the marriage of a very influential couple was described. When it got to the part about them leaving for their honeymoon, the typesetters dropped the "s" in the Mrs., and described the beautiful trousseau that Mr. so-in-so left in. They were not amused.

But we love this last one.

The Traveling Sams Club was having a sunrise service, Easter morning, on one of their trips. They said, (or at least we printed it this way) that they enjoyed a sin along Sunday morning. It was supposed to be a sing along. One reader wondered (out-loud) what the club did the Saturday night before.

By the way, we don't need everyone out there reminding us of all the other mistakes I didn't mention this time.

Department Store, Jodi's, Sears, Kid's Klostet and Bows by Laura. They modeled sportswear, casual and dressy fashions for the upcoming year. The evening also included a comedy segment, which was a new addition to the event. --Staff photo

DRAPED IN FASHION--Hesperian editor Alice Gilroy modeled the latest in drapery wear, curtain rod included, at the recent style show. The comic relief outfit was decorated with newspaper clippings and a press card adorned the contrasting hat. Accessories included an iron for "going to press." The annual style show and salad supper was held at Duncan Elementary Cafetorium Monday night. Hosts were the Floydada Women's Chamber of Commerce. Approximately 230 area ladies attended and enjoyed an array of salads, which were part of the admission price. --Staff photo

NOTICE OF TARIFF CHANGE TO CENTRANET® SERVICE

GTE Southwest Incorporated gives notice of its proposed tariff changes to CentraNet® service, which is a Central Office-based service that provides PBX-type features to multi-line business customers and is currently being offered in all company wire centers where such facilities exist to provide the service.

The Public Utility Commission of Texas approved a generic tariff for CentraNet® service up to 100 lines in Docket No. 7652. The proposed tariff revision would establish specific rates for CentraNet® service involving 101 to 400 lines. Other proposed revisions involve the rate applicable to changes, additions, or deletions to the data bases and a new rate is proposed for additional trunks.

The names of the three CentraNet® packages have changed from Standard, Premium, and Deluxe to CentraNet® 1000, CentraNet® 2000, and CentraNet® 3000, respectively. Direct Call Pickup has been added to the three CentraNet® packages while Multiple Call Park and Shared Speed Call 30 have been added to CentraNet® 2000, and Speed Call 30 and Call Forward Busy/No Answer Split have been added to CentraNet® 3000. Flexible Night Answer and Automatic Route Selection also have been added as new optional features.

The proposed changes and new service offerings have been assigned Docket No. 9251, and pursuant to Section 43(d) of the Public Utility Regulatory Act will become effective June 23, 1990. Rates for service will be applicable to customers who subscribe to the service as well as existing customers. Therefore, there will be no effect on any other rates of the company. The company's gross annual revenues will increase by approximately $399,600, or less than one percent annually.

The proposed rates are on file with the Public Utility Commission of Texas, and are available for public inspection at the offices of GTE Southwest Incorporated. Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission. The deadline to intervene in this docket is 3:00 p.m., April 9, 1990.

Scott's mother takes him for his treatments. She describes him as very brave.

"I tell Scott he must be positive. Not to get himself down, because it will be over with soon. The treatment will only be as bad as he imagines it will be. So if he goes in with the right attitude, everything will be fine," said Nora.

His grandfather, Alex Pena of Plainview, is very close and often helps with the trips to Lubbock for treatments. Scott would tell other children faced with leukemia, "Don't be afraid. I made it through, so can you."

Scott, his parents Oscar and Nora and his younger brother Evan make up a very close knit family.

"We try to live a normal life, without being over protective. We treat Scott like a normal kid and that's the way he likes it," said Nora.

In his spare time, Scott does his homework and then likes to watch television, play nintendo or play with his parakeets. He loves to fish and dreams of going to Coleman to fish with his Uncle Fred. He also likes the music of Elton John and Hank Williams Jr.

Scott likes sports and plays the high post position on his Jr. League basketball team.

Best of all Scott likes school. "If I had my way, all of my kids would have the attitude that Scott has," said Mrs. Weir, principal of Duncan Elementary School.

"He doesn't want people to know he is sick. He wants to be normal. He has made many positive adjustments to life, and this is probably due in part to his tremendous family," said Weir.

Duncan Elementary School is made up of many supportive people.

"The support Scott receives from his peers is genuine and firm," said Covington.

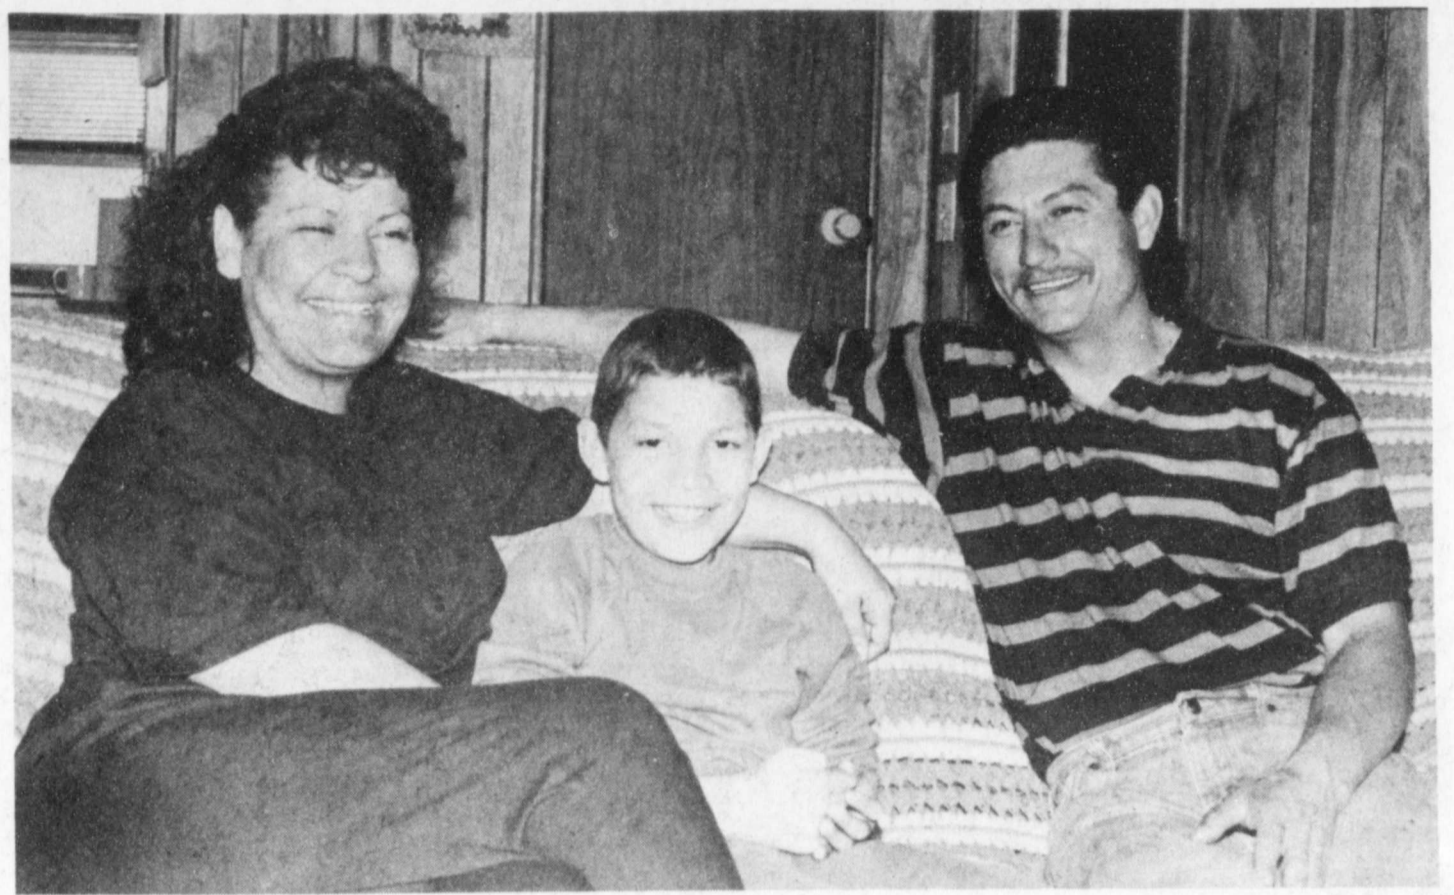

Scott Salazar was recently the recipient of a Certificate of Appreciation awarded by the Board of Trustees of the Floydada ISD. Nominations for the award were students "who are considerate and who put others before themselves."

We have often heard "For it is in giving that we receive." How appropriate it is that Scott Salazar should receive such an award. For he has given all those who know him an example of courage, perseverance, cheerfulness, dedication, humility, optimism and selflessness.

Sandra Nixon feted with bridal shower

Edgewood ISD loses funds under court ruling

By The National Center for Policy Analysis Edgewood ISD, the plaintiff in the lawsuit that led the Texas Supreme Court to declare the state's school finance system unconstitutional, will lose as much as $18 million in state funds under the Supreme Court's guidelines for reform.

This is the conclusion of a study produced by Kathy Hayes and Daniel Slotje, two economists at Southern Methodist University. The study was published by the National Center for Policy Analysis, a Dallas-based research institute.

In Edgewood v. Kirby, 67 school districts challenged the constitutionality of the Texas school finance system on the grounds that property-poor school districts have access to too little money. In ruling for the plaintiffs, the Texas Supreme Court said that school districts must have access to substantially equal resources if they tax at the same rates.

"Many people assume that the Supreme Court decision requires more equality in school revenues. In fact, the court ruled that there must be equal revenue for equal tax effort," said Hayes. "because many of the plaintiff school districts in the lawsuit have below average tax rates, this will cause them to have below average revenues."

Using a strict interpretation of the Supreme Court ruling, the NCPA study predicted a number of surprises:

* Of the 67 plaintiff school districts that "won" the case, at least 27 (more than a third) will lose revenue because of the Supreme Court decision.

* Of the 49 defendant school districts that "lost" the case, at least 10 will gain revenue under the ruling.

* Of the 30 districts most affected by the ruling, 19 districts (including Houston, Dallas and Austin) did not enter the case on either side.

"The Supreme Court ruled that tax rates should be the main determinant of school revenues," said Hayes. "In effect, the Court said 'from each according to his ability, to each according to his effort.' The ruling will lead to even more inequality than we now have." According to the study:

* If inequality is measured on a scale of 0 to 1 (where 0 is perfect equality), school revenues in Texas currently have an inequality measure of .15.

* A strict interpretation of the Supreme Court ruling will lead to an inequality measure of .20.

According to the study, if the state were to try to meet the Court's mandate by spending enough additional money so that no school district would lose revenue, the additional annual spending would have to equal at least $450 billion. On the other hand, if the state meets the mandate by redistributing existing education dollars:

* The State of Texas will have to redistribute $1.07 billion of current spending.

* The school districts facing the biggest losses will be the large cities, including Houston (-$219 million), Dallas (-$105 million) and San Antonio (-$28 million).

* The school districts realizing the largest gains include districts on the Texas/Mexico border with large Hispanic populations, as well as some large city suburbs.

The National Center for Policy Analysis is a nonprofit, nonpartisan research institute. The NCPA originated the concept of medical IRA (which has won bipartisan support in Congress) and merit pay for school districts (recently enacted by the state of Texas).

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

By Jo Bryant

Hi, how are you on this rainy Spring day? We are getting a face lift around here, as we have a remodeling crew that are painting, papering, etc. Our colors are peach and blue. So be patient with us, family and residents, as it will be pretty and clean when they get through.

Monday morning, Bro. Bill came and gave the devotional as usual. We always enjoy his message. Irene Wexler also came and played the piano for us. It was beauty shop day, so Dolores C. came and did the ladies' and men's hair. At 2 p.m., the residents had arts and crafts. They are making a bird mobile in different spring colors.

Tuesday, the Companions 'n' Caring volunteers came and did the manicures for the ladies. Some of them wrote letters for the residents, read the Bible and took the residents for a stroll.

Wednesday, Bro. Sammy Rodriguez came and gave the devotional and we sang some songs. At 2 p.m. the residents played Bingo. Edward Jameson had the first Bingo. Snacks were bananas, marshmallows and cheese snacks. Mary Alice Davis came and assisted the residents.

Thursday, we shared Psalm 45, and talked about turning our sadness into gladness; sang the song, "This Is The Day That The Lord Had Made." In the afternoon, they played some games.

Friday, Letha Mulder and Evelyn Latta came and had the devotional with a Psalm and singing. It was a cold, bad day, so the residents didn't go on the bus ride. We played some games and had popcorn.

Raffle tickets are on sale by any staff member for a portable color TV. The tickets are $1.00. The proceeds will go for furniture, lamps and pictures for the nursing home. So we appreciate your donation. Anyone wishing to give a donation may do so.

Congratulations go out to June Austin on her recent marriage, we wish for you all the happiness in the world.

Research proves marijuana and inhalants are harmful to youth

Growing up is tough enough without the added stress of using drugs or alcohol, says the Texas Medical Association. Yet it is estimated that two-thirds of American youth use an illicit drug before they finish high school, one in five smokes cigarettes daily, and almost half report they have been drunk on at least one occasion.

The United States population is changing in relation to alcohol and drug abuse. If you are 35 years or older, the first drug you tried was probably alcohol. If you are 35 years or younger you also are likely to have experimented with marijuana. In 1965, the average age of introduction to alcohol or drugs was 13 years old; now youths are trying these substances as early as 9 years or younger. The result is that we now have a more drug-oriented population of people, although for adults, alcohol is still the most commonly abused drug. However, among your youth, marijuana is the most frequent drug of choice.

According to Dr. Lawrence Wharton, TMA member and recently retired psychiatrist at the Faulkner Center (for substance abuse treatment) in Austin, there are some big problems with the public's perception of marijuana. First, on the street (or in the schoolyard) advice is that marijuana is not medically harmful, yet, medical advice now says this drug is indeed very harmful. Dr. Wharton explained that the myth that marijuana is a harmless drug was perpetuated in the sixties when most of the research was conducted with marijuana that was 1/10 the potency of pot available now.

Studies now show that marijuana causes brain deterioration in rats four times faster than alcohol, said Dr. Wharton. In human users, "amotivation syndrome" occurs. This is indicated by loss of motivation or drive to complete a task or achieve a goal. In adolescents, Dr. Wharton feels this is a very real loss because young pot users have "a lot of potential, but no outcome; tremendous dreams and nothing to get there." Marijuana also impairs short term memory, and since all learning is dependent on this skill, the lack of short term memory represents a serious handicap for a young person. In addition to harming the brain, marijuana is especially harmful to the developing bodies of young users. THC, the most potent ingredient in marijuana, is stored in the fatty tissues of the body, therefore it targets organs richest in fat, including the brain and the gonads. As a result, physicians are seeing more birth defects as a result of marijuana use, and increased infertility in men and women.

When choosing a drug, cost and availability are major factors, so for some, this rules out a relatively expensive drug like marijuana. When looking for an affordable drug, young people often turn to a category of drugs called "inhalants" and this includes gasoline, paint thinner, correction fluid, ethyl chloride or "poppers", a solvent called "Rush", paint, spray paint, and glue. Like marijuana, inhalants never should be considered harmless. In fact, they are more toxic to the central nervous system than most other illicit drugs. It is extremely easy to overdose on inhalants because if oxygen is cut off from the brain for more than 20 or 30 seconds, the user can die. In addition, heavy sniffing can result in senility and permanent brain damage.

To assist young people in overcoming pressure to use drugs during a very difficult period of their lives, the Texas Medical Association urges you to show interest in your youths' activities, and help cultivate new interests by introducing them to sports, music, books, and other hobbies. Support their growing independence and encourage responsibility. And finally, show your youth that you love and respect them. In this way, you can help ease the pains of their growing up by pointing them away from substance experimentation and abuse.

The Texas Medical Association is a professional organization with more than 29,000 physician and medical student members. It is located in Austin and has 116 component county medical societies around the state.

Educators call for school choice to improve education system

Parents should have the right to choose which schools their children attend according to a task force of educators, including faculty members at ten Texas colleges and universities.

The task force report, published by the National Center for Policy Analysis (in Dallas) and the Texas Public Policy Foundation (in San Antonio) says Texas ranks near the bottom among the states in student achievement, in preventing high school dropout and in the literacy of its adult population.

"We have a crisis in education that demands radical reform," said NCPA president John Goodman. "We're spending almost $14 billion dollars a year—about $4,600 per student—and we're not getting our money's worth under the current system. "Texas lags behind the nation and the nation lags behind most other developed countries in student achievement."

According to the task force recommendations,

* Parents of children who fail the state's tests of minimum basic skills should have the right to choose to send their children to any public school or any accredited private school.

* The school of choice would receive state funds and local school district funds equal to the average spending per student in the district where the parents reside.

* Ultimately, all parents in the state would have the right of school choice.

The report says there is a nationwide movement toward school choice, including statewide choice plans in Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska, Ohio and Arkansas. "Freedom of choice in New York City's East Harlem and in Cambridge, Massachusetts have greatly improved the schools and led to much higher student achievement," said Goodman.

The task force included faculty members at Southern Methodist University, the University of Texas at Dallas, the University of Texas at Arlington, North Texas University, Baylor University, West Texas State University, and St. Mary's University (San Antonio). Also participating were, John Chubb of the Brookings Institution, David Hicks, headmaster of St. Mark's (private) School in Dallas, and Linus Wright, former Superintendent of the Dallas Independent School District and former Under-Secretary of Education for the U.S. Department of Education.

Carson & Barnes 5 Ring Big Top Circus arrives in Plainview April 4

History will come to life in Plainview on Wednesday, April 4, as the massive Carson & Barnes 5 Ring Big Top is raised with the help of elephant power on circus morning.

The size of Carson & Barnes is truly astonishing. The show travels with a staff of 200, including 95 performers as well as various cooks, electricians, mechanics, wardrobe and property people, animal handlers, box office and concession personnel. This in addition to the many animals, exotic and domestic, including 20 elephants.

As America's last big traditional circus, the big top stretches the length of a football field, holds five rings plus two stages, a hippodrome track and steel arena.

The show's contingent of performers presents a vast array of acrobatic and aerial displays that include wire-walking, bareback riding, juggling, risley, perch pole, Spanish web, head-balancing trapeze, flying trapeze and more.

Carson & Barnes is so big it moves every 24 hours in a herculean attempt to attract sufficient circus-goers to pay its astronomical daily expenses. The entire circus requires an area the size of three football fields to set-up on.

Everyone is invited out circus morning to watch the elephants raise the big top and visit the circus' mammoth traveling zoo with lions, tigers, zebras, camels, a giraffe, hippo and rare white rhino, all free circus morning.

It's a spectacle our great-grandparents might have seen and it will all be in Plainview sponsored by KKYN Radio with performances at 4:30 and 8:00.

You can save a dollar each by buying your tickets before showday from the sponsors or at Plainview businesses. Tickets will also be sold at the circus box office on the show grounds on circus day at I-27 and Olton Road.

Host an exchange student

American Scandinavian Student Exchange Programs (ASSE International) would like to introduce you to some very special people.

Lene from Denmark plays the flute, sings in a choir and hopes to teach music to young children one day. Florian from Germany enjoys nearly all kinds of sport and is eager to tell you about the changes in his hometown of West Berlin. Isabelle from France enjoys baking and would like to share some of her family's recipes that have been handed down many generations. Martin from Sweden likes swimming, sailing, snow-skiing and would like to teach you how to speak Swedish!

These exceptional high school students and many others from all parts of Scandinavia, France, Australia, New Zealand, Japan, Italy, Germany, Holland, Great Britain, Spain, Canada and Mexico have one thing in common—they are looking forward to spending the 1990/91 academic year in America as exchange students. Local families are needed to host students in all areas of Texas.

"Potential host families come from a wide variety of backgrounds and lifestyles," says Toby Hall, ASSE Coordinator for the Texas Region. "Ideal host families are open-minded, have an interest in people, especially those from another culture, and have a sense of humor."

ASSE exchange students are between 15 to 18 years old, are fluent in English, are fully insured and have their own spending money. They are highly motivated, willing to share their culture and anxious to learn about America by living with a local family. The students expect to share household responsibilities and be included in family activities.

For more information on hosting an ASSE exchange student, please call Sheila Butterfield at (806) 794-9194 or Sheila Callaway at (806) 794-2225 or call ASSE's toll free number 1-800-333-3802.

What makes "SUPER CLUB" better than other anti-theft devices?

Unlike electronic anti-theft devices which often false alarm, SUPER CLUB maintains its anti-theft efficiency by providing highly visible protection. It's unique appearance is a natural deterrent to thieves who will most likely move on to another vehicle rather than attack SUPER CLUB.

HIGHLY VISIBLE
Police agree that an anti-theft device which is highly visible from the outside of the vehicle is your best defense against vehicle theft and break-ins.

TOUGH TO DEFEAT
High tempered steel makes SUPER CLUB impossible to bend, cut or saw.

EASY TO USE
Because it is easy to use, more people use SUPER CLUB more often. It won't hinder you from entering or exiting your car.

GUARANTEED
No other anti-theft device on the market today can make this claim. We pay up to $1000 of your deductible if your vehicle is stolen while SUPER CLUB has been properly installed.

DON'T BECOME A STATISTIC!

The "SUPER CLUB" is an expensive, police recommended, highly visible deterrent to vehicle theft acclaimed by over 600,000 satisfied customers throughout the country.

Whirlwinds stay active in off-season

By Bill Gray

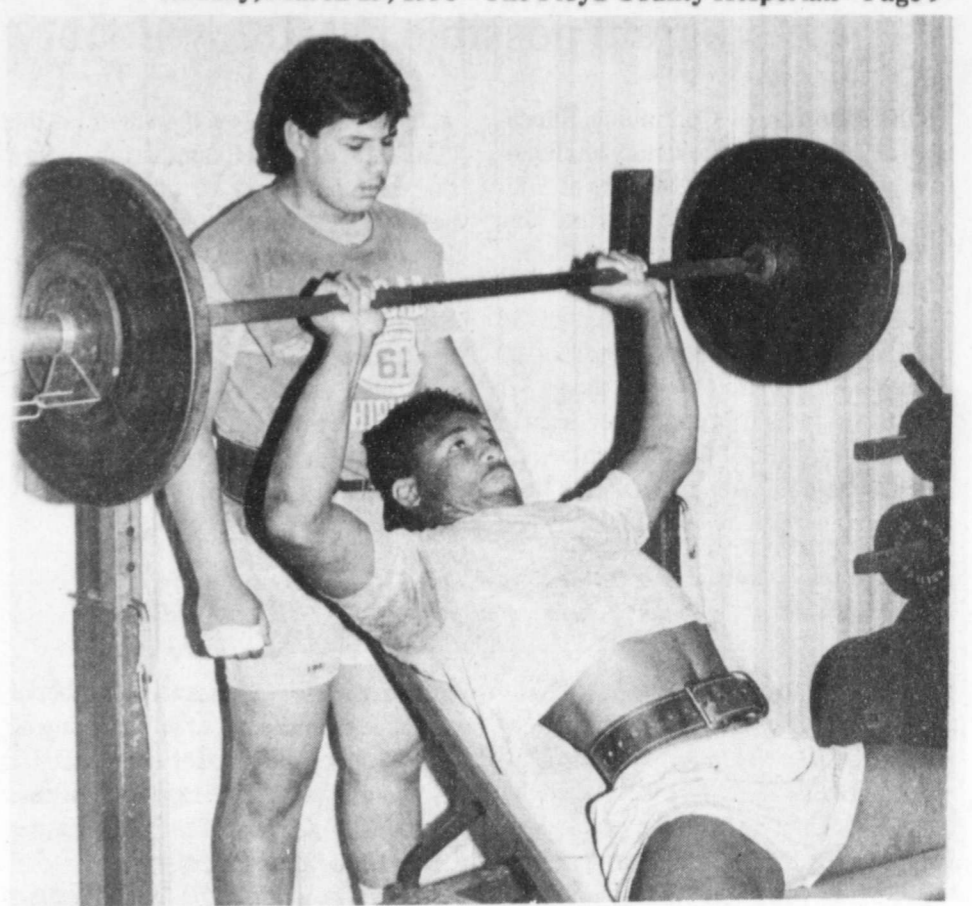

The grunts and groans one might hear these days when passing by the Whirlwind field house are not unlike the sounds emitting from a medieval torture chamber. But, don't be alarmed...Coach Dean Bates and his staff haven't resorted (yet) to putting Floydada's young athletes "on the rack." It's off-season time!

The off-season schedule includes all aspects of weight lifting and training, as well as quickness and agility drills. Several new weight devices have been added this year, including a "butterfly," neck machine, extension and curl machine, and a new curl bench.

The athletes are very dedicated to the program and know that the added strength and conditioning they receive now will pay big dividends in the long run. The rigorous training regimen has been improved in recent years, and the 1990 'Winds are on target to make certain that last year's 10-0 regular season record was no fluke.

After a lengthy and strenuous workout on March 27, Coach Bates reminded the group, "Two-a-days are only 146 days away." The coach knows, and they do too...they'll be ready!

PREPARING FOR SENIOR CAMPAIGN—Kenneth Collins "pumps iron" on the bench press while Lalo Delgado gives assistance and encouragement. Both were All-District performers last year (Collins also was named All-South Plains). The duo will be counted on for senior leadership for the 1990 Whirlwinds. —Staff photo

Red Rose FHA-HERO

By Mary Segura

President Elvia Huerta called the meeting to order Wednesday morning, March 21, in CVAE-Home Ec. room, Floydada. Song leader Gail Ledbetter lead us in saying the creed.

Secretary Gail Ledbetter read the minutes of the last meeting. They were approved. Treasurer Janie Sanchez reported one member still owes $13 on the candy sales. All others have paid up.

During new business the club discussed a skating party, an overnight campout at Quitaque Park and the State FHA-HERO meeting at Dallas in April. The advisor, Mrs. Joyce Williams, reminded us that to be eligible to go on any trips we have to be passing in all subjects and have all our club bills paid up.

For our program, Elvia Huerta reported on her trip to Lubbock to the District meeting at the Lubbock Civic Center on Saturday, March 10. She attended the general session and several workshops. One workshop was on how to handle teen stress.

A group of students did role plays to show how to not get beat down by stress from our school, parents, boyfriends, even ourselves. The moderator said there had been two teen suicides in Amarillo High School the week before and they want to help us prevent that.

Elvia, Emma Lopez and our advisor, Mrs. Joyce Williams ate lunch at Under-woods Barbeque. They talked to the waitress and bus boy and asked how they got their jobs. The waitress said she was working at Dairy Queen and decided to ask Underwoods for an application form and they just hired her on the spot because she knew how to do cafe work already.

Then they visited the Bridal Shop and looked at formals. Then they went to the Mall and shopped. They ate supper at Furr's Cafeteria before coming back to Floydada.

At Furr's they talked to the lady who ran the beverage cart and looked at how she stocked her cart. They also talked to the bus boy about his work there. They noticed the quick clean way he bussed tables. He urged them to continue their educations. He is working and going to Texas Tech. That was all her report.

Our club hostess Mary Segura set our tables with red tablecloths. Gail Ledbetter served ice tea. Janie Sanchez wheeled in the tea cart. It held the chocolate angel food cake and lemon pound cake we had made the day before in class. Garnishes were whipped cream, strawberries or ice cream. We took a sample to the other teachers.

Meeting adjourned.

Bluebonnet FHA-HERO

By RoseMary Arredondo

We met Wednesday, March 21, in the Della Plains Home Ec. room. President Susie Segura conducted the business meeting. Mary Lou Herrera led in saying the creed.

Treasurer Yolanda Ledbetter reported that JoAnn Mendez, Yolanda Barrientos and Rosemary Arredondo still owe for candy they checked out to sell back in October. All others have paid their money or returned the candy.

Under new business the club discussed a skating party Friday, March 30. Mrs. Joyce Williams, chapter advisor, said the Lock In party at the Methodist Church would still admit any students with written permission, including us when we got back from the skating party. Permission slips will be handed out Monday. Mr. Wood said we must have at least one mother go with us. Monica Garza called her mother and she agreed to ride the bus with us. Mrs. Williams will drive. To be eligible you have to be passing in all subjects, have your candy money all turned in and bring a signed permit.

Emma Lopez was our chapter delegate to the district FHA-HERO meeting at the Lubbock Civic Center Saturday, March 10. She reported about the speaker who talked about how he had climbed the ladder of success in business in Houston and then started missing steps until he was again at the bottom rung but didn't give up.

Then she told about a workshop on adoption and how the welfare office tries to keep children together if they are adopted. They will often help grown ups locate their brothers and sisters who were separated in adoption. She said young people usually want to locate their brothers and sisters more than they want to find their birth parents.

If parents or single mothers cannot give their children a good home then adoption offers a good home for them. The lady will come to our school if we ask her to and give a talk.

Emma also attended a workshop on stress and how to first love yourself and be kind to yourself. People of all ages have a lot of stress. What may be stress to a teenager may be nothing to an adult, the psychologist told the delegates.

After the meeting they ate lunch at Underwoods. At the end of the day they ate supper at Furr's Cafeteria. They discovered "all they could eat," was more than they could eat, but the bus boy liked their smiles and brought some carryout boxes for them.

After the meeting, the hostesses served iced tea and the three kinds of cakes we baked in class this week. We studied butter cakes, pound cakes and angel food cakes. Our teacher made us eat with correct table manners. We talked about the state meeting in Dallas to be held next month. We served cake to the teachers in the building.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company hereby gives notice that it has filed an application requesting the PUC to declare Southwestern Bell's intrastate Billing and Collection market subject to significant competition and to authorize the following form of pricing flexibility: detariffing of the rates, terms and conditions of the Billing and Collection services now offered in Section 8 of Southwestern Bell's intrastate Access Service Tariff. Approval of the application as filed would result in all tariff sheets in Section 8 (Billing and Collection) of Southwestern Bell's Intrastate Access Service Tariff being cancelled, and the service thereafter being provided on a contract basis. Through this application, using procedures established by P.U.C. SUBST. R. 23.27, Southwestern Bell seeks to obtain uniformity of rates, rules and regulations for intrastate and interstate Billing and Collection services.

Approval of this application would remove all rates, terms and conditions applicable to billing and collection from Southwestern Bell's Intrastate Access Service Tariff. Intrastate billing and collection service would continue to be subject to PUC regulatory oversight only to the extent that (1) Southwestern Bell would be required to maintain current price lists at the Commission for the service, and (2) the revenues or losses from the service would be subject to the regulatory treatment specified in P.U.C. SUBST. R. 23.27(p). Further, under procedures established by P.U.C. SUBST. R. 23.27, the PUC's General Counsel, the Public Utility Counsel or any affected person could seek a subsequent review of the rates, terms and conditions of this service.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings, or who would like further information, should call or contact the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757, (512) 458-0100. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Information Office at (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221, teletypewriter for the deaf.

The PUC has assigned this matter to Docket No. 9224. A prehearing conference will be held on April 19, 1990, at 9:00 a.m. at the Commission's offices at 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard in Austin, Texas. The deadline for filing motions to intervene is April 26, 1990.

EPA grants exemption on Lorsban

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency has granted a request by the Texas Department of Agriculture to allow Texas wheat farmers to use the pesticide Lorsban to control the Russian Wheat Aphid.

Wheat producers will be allowed to use the pesticide until May 31, 1990. TDA asked EPA for the special use of Lorsban on the Texas wheat crop on February 8.

Use of Lorsban, a trade name for the pesticide chlorpyrifos, is illegal on wheat in Texas without authorization from EPA.

EPA authorizes emergency pesticide is available and the pest problem poses a significant loss to growers.

The Russian Wheat Aphid caused an estimated $30 million in damage to the 1988 Texas wheat crop and more than $100 million to wheat crops nation wide. TDA worked with EPA to get a crisis exemption for the 1989 crop year, but because of an untimely drought followed by severe freezes, we can't really assess the impact of either the aphid or the pesticide on the most recent crop year.

The best estimates for the 1990 crop year are that without the use of Lorsban, the Russian Wheat Aphid could cast the Texas economy in the neighborhood of $140 million.

Since the initial outbreak of the Russian Wheat Aphid near Muleshoe in 1986, the pest has spread to more than a million acres in 84 counties in Texas.

Wheat producers may begin use of the pesticide immediately but should be aware that several restrictions apply to its use: The application must be made at least 28 days prior to harvest; no grazing can be allowed for 14 days after application.

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service also requested a number of restrictions, which EPA granted. The pesticide poses a potential danger to fish and birds.

"Do not apply this product by any method within one-mile radius of an active, wintering bald eagle roost area or within 1/4 mile of the margins of a lake or river being utilized as a foraging area by the bald eagle."

Russian Wheat Aphid Threshold
Recent rains have improved wheat conditions in Crosby-Floyd Counties, and producers should now be scouting their fields on a regular basis for pests such as greenbugs and Russian wheat aphids. It appears that aphid numbers are currently light across the two-county area, with isolated exceptions. Some fields in Floyd County have already received treatment.

Recent research by Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has led to the development of economic thresholds for Russian wheat aphids infesting wheat in late winter and spring. The thresholds are based upon the cost of control and market value of the wheat. For every one percent of the tillers infested there is a 0.5 per cent yield loss.

While walking across a field randomly select tillers without looking at them. Carefully examine each tiller and record the number infested. Consider any tiller with one or more Russian wheat aphid as infested. Determine the percent infested tillers and use the following table to decide if treatment is justified.

The pesticide is available for use by certified or licensed applicators only.

1990 Program Signup

You are reminded that April 13, 1990, is the deadline for signing into the 1990 Farm Program. Please call for an appointment if you need to signup.

1989 Disaster program

Deadline for completing an application for the 1989 disaster program is April 2, 1990.

Haying and Grazing of ACR and CU for Pay

Producers can hay as well as graze their ACR (set-aside) and CU except during the 5-month non-grazing period. The five month non-grazing period for Floyd County is May 15 thru October 14.

Price Support Loans Available

The final dates to request loans on 1989 crops are as follows: Barley, oats, and wheat - March 31, 1990. Cotton, corn, grain sorghum, and soybeans - May 31, 1990.

Wheat

Wheat, intended for harvest and deficiency payment, should not be grazed past March 15.

Final Planting Dates

Final planting dates for Floyd County are as follows: Corn - May 15; cotton - June 5; Grain Sorghum - June 30; wheat, barley, and oats - November 15. Crops are required to be replanted until the final planting date. Crops that fail after the final planting date can be replanted, but you are not required to do so.

Pay Limit Status Date

Producers are reminded that the status date for reorganized and new entities in 1990 is April 13, 1990. All changes or initial operations must be completed by April 13, 1990 to be used in the 1990 person determinations.

For the crop year 1990, Graham - Rudman reductions will be in effect for all payments. The reduction is 1.4%.

Approved Cover and Practices on ACR

1. Land designated as ACR must have a history of being planted in a row crop, small grain, or ACR in 2 of the last 3 years.

2. Areas of ACR must be at least 1 chain wide and 5 acres in size. If a skip row pattern is used; the ACR must be at least 4 normal rows or 160 inches wide in a consistent pattern across the field.

3. It is recommended that adequate approved cover be established to prevent wind and water erosion.

4. Existing residue of previously harvested crops may be used if sufficient to provide adequate cover.

5. Small grains used as a cover shall be destroyed by May 15 (final disposition date).

6. Small grains that producer certifies as ACR cover and pays a $10.00 inspection fee will be allowed to head out and be left standing.

7. Land tillage operations may be used that control the growth of weeds, enhance soil moisture collection and conservation, and prevent wind and water erosion.

8. Producers who intend on planting a small grain on their ACR this fall will treat this acreage in a manner normal to the area for seedbed preparation. These tillage methods should utilize crop residue for wind and water conservation.

9. ACR must be maintained through December 31, 1990, and weeds must be controlled at all times.

10. Corn and grain sorghum has been approved for Floyd County as an eligible cover crop for ACR if the producer will certify that the crop will not be harvested for any purpose, including haying and grazing. The "close sown" provision has been withdrawn. A $10.00 fee is required to cover the cost of a farm visit.

Measurement Service

Floyd County will be flown for aerial slides sometime in April. It would help if producers requesting measurement service would make plow lines to separate wheat from ACR.

Insect scouting school scheduled

The first step to proper pest management is proper identification of the pest.

A comprehensive insect scouting school has been planned for Floyd Co. producers to be held on Thursday, April 12, at Lighthouse Electric Cooperative from 8:00 a.m. to noon. Although the June High Plains Scouting Workshop will again be held in Plainview this year, producers find it difficult to attend this District-wide event because of conflicts with the latter part of the planting season. Therefore, the April 12 workshop has been designed specifically for area producers.

Emphasis during the workshop will

Task force meets April 6

The Barky Cotton Task Force will hold its annual task force/producer meeting on Friday, April 6, at 9 a.m., in room 108 of the Lubbock Civic Center. The meeting is held each year in conjunction with the Texas Cotton Ginners' Annual Convention and Trade Show.

In Texas alone, the number of barky bales has averaged over one million annually since 1981. The loss to Texas growers has exceeded $20 million in some years.

Seeking to help organize a sharply focused program that would reduce the losses suffered by growers due to barky grades, the leadership of Plains Cotton Growers approached Cotton Incorporated for assistance. Organized at the 1986 Beltwide Cotton Conferences, the goal of the task force is the elimination of bark as a cotton problem.

A new video designed to help producers manage for bark, as well as ongoing research projects concentrating on the problem of barky cotton, will be discussed at the April meeting which is open to all growers.

Assistant FmHA director is named

Secretary of Agriculture Clayton Yeutter has appointed John E. Kirchhoff, a Plainview realtor, assistant state director for the Farmers Home Administration in Texas.

As assistant state director, he will have a large role in the operation of FmHA's family farm, rural housing, and community and business loan programs.

Kirchhoff has been in the real estate business since 1971. He also has been a farmer and ran a feeder cattle operation for several years. Additionally, he served as president of Rio Seco Development Ind. of Plainview from 1977 to 1981.

Kirchhoff is a member of the Plainview City Council and a number of real estate, community organizations. A native of Plainview, Kirchhoff attended Texas Tech University.

Carl Lemons' News and Views from Cedar Hill

WEATHER & the FRUIT CROP
 Mar. 24: The enemy, Cold, has struck again! Cold, biting cold, returned to Cedar Hill and Floyd County during the wee hours of Saturday morning. The Listening Post thermometer dropped to 21 degrees at 3:00 a.m. and it stayed there until well after daylight.

Your writer went to great lengths, a week ago, to present a good logical case to the Weather Man, and the general public, how things were in pretty good shape as they were; we still had prospects for a fair fruit crop, and part of the onion crop was already in the ground; weather-wise, our boat needed no rocking, none whatsoever.

Our Weather Man must have been asleep, off on a trip, or, could it be, he is one of the uninformed who doesn't read The News and Views? At any rate our weather supplication was ignored, our boat got a terrific rocking, a smashing jolt in fact, looks like major repairs are in order.

Our plan is to operate like the devout Muslim, Mohammed, who, in order to retain his status as being devout, was faced with repeated trips to the Holy Mountain for prayer and meditation. The scriptures told Mohammed he could move mountains by prayer if his faith was strong enough, so he decided the practical thing to do would be to pray the Holy Mountain to a new location; a convenient location just outside his yard fence, thereby saving himself a lot of valuable travel time. After an interminable period of prayer, with the mountain having not moved even one single inch, Mohammed had a new idea; says he, "If the mountain will not move to Mohammed, then Mohammed will move to the mountain!"

Using Mohammed as his role model, your writer promises to quit making changes in this spring's weather and allow it to progress according to its original schedule. His efforts will be confined to making appraisals of the shambles that are left.

Mar. 25: The sun may, or may not have risen this Sunday morning; the earth at Cedar Hill remains shrouded in a fog too heavy to be certain, but habit is so addictive the sun is probably up there right on schedule. The thermometer at the Listening Post seems stuck at 20 degrees. For 30 hours it has played up and down in the extremely narrow range from 19 to 21 DF. Tree branches and power lines are loaded with ice; only the wind being at a dead calm is preventing power outages and broken branches.

It is interesting to note that tree branches were breaking at the Lindsey and Billie Ruth Lackey home throughout the day Saturday while trees nearer the community center were not iced so heavily. Their trees also suffered greater damage from the ice storm on Jan. 18 than did the trees further away from the canyons. In fact the mid-January ice storm broke five high-line poles in a row west of their place, at the SW corner of Burleson Ranch.

Floyd County minds with a scientific bent might kick that problem around a bit. Listening Post logic says that winds colliding with canyon walls could build up pressure remotely similar to what the compressor does in your family refrigerator, then, sliding up over the canyon wall the air expands again and produces a greater chilling, a greater rate of condensation, hence more icing on the down-wind side of the canyon. Thusly, when the wind is out of the north, that would give Lynn and Bill a cooler temperature, more fog, and more ice but would do nothing at all for those who happen to live on the plains along the north edge of Blanco Canyon. The latter people would get more ice when the wind changed and started blowing from the south. That N&V column! Where does it come from? Where does it go?

Now to get on with the appraisal of the shambles that have been left; the prospects for a fruit crop does look dismal indeed! However some 25% of the buds on the Listening Post's late blooming apricot tree had not opened when this cold spell moved in, maybe 10% were still small enough to not be showing any color through their shucks. Any fool knows what 20 degree weather does for a blossom that has completed its petal drop, even to a blossom partly opened, but who knows at what point those younger, still developing, buds give up the ghost and die! Of course peach trees were not as far advanced as the apricots so it is quite possible that many trees can still set enough fruit to overload branches and cause them to break. At this point let us not worry too much about what this freeze has done to our fruit crop, but instead worry more about what the next freeze will do to it. Eventually our trees will run out of those late developing, young, back-up buds.

An apricot tree, three days into bloom, is also a tree whose blossoms are three days into being harvested. On those warm sunny days, before the first apricot blossom opened, tiny, earth dwelling, solitary bees were constantly checking the tree's swelling buds, and they were on hand waiting to push their way inside and claim the blossom's treasure of food-pollen when the first petals opened enough to allow them to enter. By that third day the whole tree will be a mass of flowers and hundreds of pollinating insects will be hard at work stripping pollen from the blossoms and packing it into the hair-baskets which nature attached to each of their back legs. Once their baskets are filled with pollen they hurriedly carry it back to their nests and store it to nurture their young, then rush back to the tree to gather another load.

And that nurturing and building up of the pollinator population, fellow homo sapiens, is the ONLY reason why nature and the apricot tree went to the trouble to produce those early blossoms in the first place.

Now that our friends, the pollinators, have a respectable amount of food stashed away in their pantry and their first generation of young established and coming on, their numbers should build steadily through the remainder of the three spring months. When summer arrives billions and billions of pollinating insects must be ready for what could well be the most important job on earth, the task of pollinating the food and fiber crops that are essential to both man and beast. Of course we humans tend to feel put down, and our ego is much deflated, when we are faced with the fact that most of those beautiful apricot and peach blossoms were created, not for us, but for the benefit of a bunch of bugs. The redeeming factor in that scenario is "that bunch of bugs" are all beneficial insects, and they in turn were created to boost world crop production; be a benefit to humanity and assure us there will be enough corn, cukes, and cantaloupes for everybody.

Now you ask, "How do we ever have an apricot or a peach to eat?" First, nature never intended for more than 10% of a tree's blossoms to produce fruit. If the earliest 90% were harvested by the bugs then were subsequently killed by a late freeze, that would leave 10% to bloom later and bear fruit for the perpetuation of the species and also give mankind the portion he wants so badly.

Most trees would become overloaded and the weight would break their branches before the fruit reached maturity if 10% of their blossoms were to set fruit.

THE LEANING CEDARS

At last report J.B. Whitehead and Jack Stansell were still patients in Methodist Hospital. Emogene had made inquiry about returning Jack to the Floydada hospital but his doctor advised against it.

Goldie Brown Cypert, still at Methodist, has continued to improve except that she is still unable to walk. Her family is concerned that she may have to move since her present home is unable to care for wheelchair patients.

Mar. 20: Cecil Wayne VanHoose, in an Austin hospital, underwent bone restructuring for the second time Tuesday. All benefits from previous surgery were negated when he fell from his hospital bed and broke loose all of his surgeon's first repair work. The doctors found the new damage was not as extensive as they had first feared. Pauline VanHoose flew to Austin Wednesday to be of service to the family.

Mar. 24: When Cephus and Imogene checked with his sister Evelyn Winn in Lockney, Saturday, they found her some improved however still quite uncomfortable.

Sylvestre Arredondo is something of an unusual wheelchair patient at present. He is doing fine however not many his age have all male nurse attendants. Since Lupe went to Roswell in late December he has been cared for by Fred, Louis, and grandson, Cisco Jr.

THE EVERYDAY CEDARS

Miriam Belden Meeks had disappeared from your writer's knowledge, but news this past week tells that she now lives in a rest home at Lewisville, Texas. She is 91 years old and never fails to check the N&V along with the rest of the Hesperian for news of the Floyd County people she used to know.

It was all of 20 years ago, probably longer, that your writer and a son purchased a new rifle at Kirk and Sons and went zig-zagging along country roads, looking for jack rabbits, on the way home to Cedar. We spotted a big one on Thomas Warren's place where it corners with Lee Burton's quarter, midway on the west side of Miriam Meeks's section. Just as your writer squeezed off a careful shot a pick-up horn let go on the right side of my pick-up. Needless to say the rabbit got off scott-free, but not yours truly! Miss Miriam was mightily concerned about two guys with a gun and her fine whitefaced cattle grazing just across the fence to the east.

My son and I understood perfectly. Not a week earlier someone had tried for the left eye of one of our best steers in the east pasture north of the Muncy section. We meekly meandered northward on past the P.T. Gentry section.

Glad to know you are still with us, still sharp, Miss Miriam!

Mar. 25: When Reverend Dewey stepped out the church door Sunday evening he had forgotten about the ramp he had so carefully constructed for Sister Edna Gilly's use. That iced over ramp was no banana peel but the effect was all the same. It was a "wet and wild" slip-trip to the end of the ramp for the Reverend, only there was nothing wet about it. He kept protesting, "I'm all right! I'm not hurt," as men of his flock helped him up. He was still OK Tuesday, but the ramp "ain't where it wuz."

Mar. 23: Friday was cattle working day at Edna Gilly's; she called in a semi-professional crew from Quitaque: Rex Yeary, Johnnie Turner, and Jerry Lackey, the lone Cedar Hillian, and it went well until the beginning of a rain put a stop to the branding. FROM THE POST YARD

Cedar Hill's fireside industries continue in their quiet unobtrusive way to crank out those specialties that John Q. & Jane Public demand. Charlene Langley's Bake Shop had averaged one of her captivating creations per week when this month's last delivery was made. Not bad for a lady who is still recuperating from surgery. Pretty good for Neil, a fellow whose normal occupation keeps him up in the air working among the girders of high-rise construction. As sure as the sap rises, and flowers bloom in the spring there will be a rash of weddings in June. That will be "harvest month," for Charlene, the month when she makes the most people happy, and by then she will be completely well, fully charged, and ready.

Excel Company's owner, Durrell Fortenberry, has found that diversification and flexibility are the factors that keep life-blood flowing to small manufacturing concerns such as his. When seasonal demand for his main line product, hay handling equipment, begins to slack in the spring, he already has a number of alternative ideas and experiments to go to work on. That was what gave farmers and ranchers the 12 volt, DC powered wire roller. Other slack season products are as follows: a top quality 12V air compressor, a 12V transfer pump, and an excellent 12V spot-sprayer. Now in the works, and soon to be perfected, is a diesel transfer pump especially developed for filling the voluminous fuel tanks of today's modern tractors.

The initial service areas will be Laredo, McAllen and Austin. Expansion into other service areas will be based on availability. Customers in other areas will be notified when these services become available.

Call Control Options include six new services - Call Blocker, Call Cue, Call Return, Priority Call, Call Trace and Selective Call Forwarding. The features will be available to single-line residence and business customers.

Call Blocker - enables the customer to block incoming calls from a maximum of three specified telephone numbers and/or to block the last incoming call.

Call Cue - enables the customer to automatically redial the last outgoing telephone number dialed. If the recalled number is busy, equipment will monitor the line for a maximum of 30 minutes and will let the customer know when the call can go through.

Call Return - enables the customer to automatically redial the telephone number of the most recent incoming call. If the number is busy, Call Return will continue to dial the number for up to 30 minutes, or until it completes the call.

Priority Call - provides the customer with a distinctive alerting signal, ring or Call Waiting Tone (if the customer has subscribed to Call Waiting), when the customer is called from a maximum of three preselected telephone numbers.

Call Trace - enables the customer to initiate a trace of the last incoming call received. The number, date and time will be recorded by Southwestern Bell Telephone so that the call's origin can be identified.

Selective Call Forwarding - enables the customer to forward incoming calls from specified telephone numbers (maximum of three) to another telephone number.
