A view from The Lamplighter

By Ken Towery

It was one whale of a celebration. The festivities were great. The parade was big, interesting and exciting. The visiting among old, and new, friends was wonderful. It was a little warm, but who could complain, given what the weather could have been at this time of the year on the South Plains.

In short, the annual gathering of old and new Pioneers in Floyd County was a rousing success, coming as it did in the midst of this county's year-long celebration of its 100th birthday. The only discordant note that came out of the affair, as far as we have been able to determine, was the obvious double-cross of the celebration's leadership by the Ann Richards camp. But even that, to our way of thinking, could not distract from the hard work and dedication that went into making the event such a success. Or from the enjoyment that came from old friends gathering on the Court House lawn and swapping tales of how things have changed.

From all we have heard it was the biggest and best of its kind since General Wainwright came to town for a similar celebration nearly 50 years ago. When we were told that by Jimmy Willson it got us thinking. Wainwright was one of the heroes of Bataan and Corregidor, names that have probably faded from America's memory. But not mine. He was my Commanding General on Corregidor, and after the fall of the Philippines spent some 3 1/2 years in Japanese prison camps, part of the time in a camp a few miles north of my own prisoner of war camp in northern China, not far from Siberia. Later, a year or so after the war, he and I shared a platform in Yoakum as "guests of honor" at a community celebration. We sat there, The General and a Private, sharing memories of those thousands who died in prison and were thus unable to bask in the thanks of the crowds.

So when the day was drawing to a close on Saturday, and while some folks were still celebrating the success of the day, we drove up past South Plains, turned East and stopped on the edge of the Caprock, gazing in the darkness at the distant lights of Quitaque and the still more distant lights of Silverton, and doing some remembering of our own.

Between where we were parked on the Caprock and the lights of Quitaque lay the site of Camp Resolution, where an early band of Texans had undergone much hardship, death and destruction in search of a dream. Back the other way, back toward Lockney and Floydada, and all the other communities that now make up Floyd County, lay the fruits of their dreams, and the dreams of many others who had come and conquered the Plains. And we thought of Bataan and Corregidor, and of all others who had sacrificed so much in so many ways so that those who came later might have a better life, or what they hoped would be a better life.

So to those who worked so hard and so long to make it all possible, to the leadership of the Pioneers Reunion Committee, and to the leadership of the Centennial Commission, and to the thousands who turned out to mark the occasion, we want to say thank you ever so much. It meant a lot to the community, to all of us as individuals, and to all of us as a community of kindred spirits.

Now to a slightly different, but somewhat related, subject. As Senator Phil Gramm said at the Floydada airport the following day, on the occasion of endorsing candidate Dick Waterfield for Congress for this District, it appeared Floyd County had become, as he put it, "the political capital of Texas."

And indeed it had, however briefly. Datelines in news stories all across Texas began with the word "Floydada." Television news broadcasts across the state began with shots of the celebrating crowds and of the appearance here of

More than 1000 participate in pioneer activities

Pioneer Days kicked off Saturday, May 26, with a flag raising ceremony at 9:00 a.m.

Boy Scout Troop, 357, had the honors of raising the flag and starting the centennial activities throughout the day.

Over 1000 people registered throughout the day and organizers estimated 1800 people were fed at the Old Settlers lunch.

The annual Pioneers Business meeting was held under the pavilion at 9:15 a.m. Several honors were bestowed on Floyd County Pioneers, both young and old.

Will Massie Martin and his wife Beatrice Clara Germany Martin, of Floydada, were chosen as the 1990 Floyd County Pioneer Couple of the Year.

Mattie Emma Hall Covington, of Floydada, was honored as the Floyd County Pioneer Woman of the Year.

Paul Monroe Cooper, of Lockney, was selected as the Pioneer Man of the Year.

Eleven year old, Johnnie Lynn Mosley, a 5th grader at Lockney Elementary, was recognized as the winner of the select a centennial theme contest.

Mosley, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ricky Mosley, was presented a $50.00 savings bond in March, from the Floyd County Pioneer's Reunion Association, after his centennial theme was chosen.

Johnnie's entry "100 Years Of Pioneer Spirit" was chosen, from 44 entries, because it most depicted the Floyd County Centennial theme.

Mosley's social studies teacher, Marva Rasco, was responsible for encouraging her 4th and 5th grade students to enter the contest as a way of making the students feel more a part of the community in which they live.

Also recognized were Ellis and Laura Mitchell of Gage, Oklahoma and Edgar and Jane Fielder of Greeley, Colorado. Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. Fielder are granddaughters of S.A. McMannis, an early Floydada businessman in the firm of McMannis and Posey.

Mr. McMannis' father was the first

Will and Beatrice Martin are Pioneer Couple

Well-known Floydada residents, Will and Beatrice Martin were named as the 1990 Floyd County Pioneer Couple of the Year during the Pioneer Reunion business meeting Saturday morning.

The Martins were joined on the stage by members of their family, as Travis Jones, president of the Pioneer Reunion Committee, presented Will and Beatrice with a plaque.

Making the presentation, Jones told the story of Will Massie Martin and Beatrice Clara Germany Martin.

He said, "Will Martin was born November 2, 1908 in a half dugout 2-1/2 miles west of Floydada to Wes and Sally Martin. This same dugout was on 80 acres Will's parents bought in 1906 for $4.00 an acre.

"Will's grandparents Thomas Henry and Melissa Self Martin came to Floyd County in the early 1890's. They bought land northeast of Floydada in 1897.

"Will graduated from Floydada High School in 1928."

Jones continued, "Bea Martin was born May 8, 1906 in Wingate, Runnels County, Texas, to Jessie Lee and Ada Lou "Kettie" Fowell Germany. They moved to Floyd County in 1920 in a covered wagon from Fisher County, Texas.

"Will and Bea were married July 29, 1935 in Floydada by Elder J.J. Day. Will worked at various jobs and Bea worked at the school cafeteria for a while. Will then went into the construction business finishing concrete in and around Floydada for 20 years.

"Bea ironed for the public which allowed her to stay home with their three children. Neighborhood children were always at their home playing with their own children.

"After Will stopped his concrete work he and Bea operated a second-hand shop on East Houston street for another 20 years.

"Will and Bea had two sons and a daughter. Jesse Martin lives at New Deal and Carolyn Sue lives in the Providence community. Bobby passed away in October of 1983. They have 11 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

"Will and Bea are members of the West Side Church of Christ in Floydada, where they always attended regularly. They still attend as often as health permits.

"Will has written some 39 articles over the past seven years for the Floyd County Hesperian describing the earlier times of Floydada and its people.

"In the 1927 yearbook Senior Class Will we read, "J.C. Ainsworth devises and bequeaths his title as shiek of the Senior Class to Will Martin, as the one most fitted to carry on the banner."

Jones concluded with, "Our 1990 Floyd County Pioneer Couple, Will and Bea Martin."

Mattie Covington selected Pioneer Woman

Mattie Emma Hall Covington was recognized as Floyd County's 1990 Pioneer Woman of the Year, during the Pioneer Reunion's business meeting Saturday morning.

Travis Jones, president of the Pioneer Reunion committee, presented Covington with a plaque and paid tribute to Covington's pioneer spirit.

"Mattie Emma Hall Covington was born Aug. 11, 1901 in Stephens County, Texas, to R.F. and Rillar Hall," said Jones.

"She and her family came to Floyd County in 1913. She finished school at Lakeview School and went to West Texas State Teachers College in Canyon, Texas, for two years.

"She and F.M. Covington were married May 22, 1923 in Floyd County. She was a nurse for Doctors Lon and George Smith, who owned Smith and Smith Hospital and Clinic in Floydada at that time.

"In 1929 she and her husband went into the butane and oil business. They owned and operated, together, the Covington Oil and Butane in Dougherty until his death June 18, 1974. She continued to run the store and business until it sold in 1988.

"Her children are: Jean Covington Mayes from Dallas, Bobby Hall Covington from Dougherty, Jack Milton Covington from Lockney and Kent Roger Covington from Dougherty. She has 11 grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren. She has five brothers and sisters living. One brother and one sister are deceased.

"She still lives at Dougherty and drives into Floydada to church each Sunday where she worships at the First Baptist Church."

Jones concluded by saying, "You are one of a kind and we love you very much. Our 1990 Pioneer Woman of the Year, Mattie Covington."

Marker commemorates county's organization

A dedication and unveiling of the Texas Historical marker, commemorating the organization of Floyd County, was held Friday, May 25, at 5:00 p.m. on the courthouse lawn.

Judge William D. Hardin welcomed those in attendance and recognized the families of the first officials, were in attendance. Among those recognized were: Mildred Ragland, San Saba,

Texas; Randy Hollums and family; family of Arthur B. Duncan, the first county judge;

W.A. Robbins and son Wallace Robbins of San Antonio and W.D. Miller of Lubbock. Mr. Miller and W.A. Robbins are both grandsons of R.T. Miller.

Nancy Marble, the chairwoman of the Floyd County Historical Commission was joined at the podium by County Clerk Margaret Collier and past County Attorney Kenneth Bain, who assisted in the unveiling of the new historical marker.

Marble then read the text of the marker: Floyd County was created by the Texas Legislature in 1876. In the 1880s, the Fort Worth and Denver City Railway Company began building westward from Wichita Falls, resulting in increased settlement of the area.

Ranchers T.J. Braidfoot and J.R. McLain formed a partnership in 1887 to establish a town they hoped to promote as county seat. Named Della Plain, it soon boasted homes, businesses, and civic institutions. As more homesteaders settled northwest of Della Plain, a town named Lockney was created in 1889. Soon there was rivalry over which town would be named county seat.

In 1890 M.C. Williams and J.K. Gwynn selected this site for a town called Floyd City. In an election held on May 28, 1890, the voters chose Floyd City as county seat. Officers elected were: Arthur B. Duncan, county judge; John C. Hendrix, county attorney; R.T. Miller, county and district clerk; D.W. Jenkins, sheriff and tax collector; E.E. Keeley, county treasurer; L.C. Darby, tax assessor; W.M. Massie, surveyor; and C.F. Ramsey, T.B. Michael, W.R. Vandever, and B.P. Merrell, county commissioners. When a post office was established in September, the name of the town was changed to Floydada.

Olin Watson gave a dedication prayer at the close of the ceremony and the crowd then disbursed and gathered in the courthouse for a Hall of Fame ceremony.

What a great weekend! Could you believe all those people in Floydada?

Not counting the people who forgot to register, or who didn't take the time, there were approximately 1,100 people who registered at the Pioneer Reunion. That doesn't even count the news media. I think there was at least 1,100 of them - and they were all standing directly in front of the stage.

I'm not used to having to compete with television cameras to get my pictures. Clayton Williams arrived first and I couldn't get through the swarm of well wishers and media. I kept thinking, I can't be the only news person that doesn't get a picture of the candidates. After all, it is our town!

I wanted to jump up and down behind the crowd and holler—LOCAL PRESS! LOCAL PRESS! STEP ASIDE! It was all a lot of fun and very exciting.

Travis Jones said he sure appreciated both candidates coming to the reunion and that it was quite an honor.

I know the candidates drew a crowd, but it was the hard work of the centennial committee that made the reunion such a big success! We all owe them a great deal of thanks.

The meal was terrific! I heard they served about 1100 pounds of meat (they also cooked that, you know). That of course does not include the people who ate at the many food booths around the square.

Rumor has it the lemonade stand used up 1000 lemons before they ran out!

Dawnell Smith and Virginia Taylor did a great job of organizing the arts and crafts show. Dawnell told me that she got a call from one of the daily newspapers trying to get information of the candidates appearance. She read them the information out of the Hesperian (Hurray!) and was a little depressed when the reporter asked if there was anything else going on that day.

She made sure he understood that there was plenty of other things (especially the arts and crafts)—the candidates were just "the icing on the cake."

I had one reporter call me and ask where the different events would be. I told him to just go to the square and he wouldn't miss anything. He said, "Oh - just like 'Punkin Days'!" That made me feel good.

I know everyone is tired but give yourselves a few days to rest and then let's turn our attentions to the Floyd County Fair! There is no reason why the fair can't be as big of a success. People all over the county pulled together to make the reunion a memorable one and it can be done again.

Let's keep our name on everybody's mind and in everybody's newspaper. Then - ON TO PUNKIN DAYS!

The top of the ad says, CONGRATULATIONS ON YOUR 75TH ANNIVERSARY!

(oops)
Dan Smith nicely pointed the mistake out to me on Friday. I tried unsuccessfully to call Clar at home Friday night to apologize for the mistake, but he wasn't there.

I saw him Saturday morning, at the Reunion. He tried to glower at me and said, "IT'S HAPPY CENTENNIAL, ALICE." I apologized over and over. He laughed, (thankfully) and said, he hadn't even noticed until Dan Smith pointed it out to him about 10 minutes before I walked up.

I WANT TO THANK DAN FOR BEING SO DAG-GUM CONSCIENTIOUS!

There is also a story about the womanless weddings that used to be given for old-time fund raisers. It's on page 15 of the communities section. The headline says - 1920 Womanless Woman. It should read 1920 Womanless Wedding. Oh well - same thing.

We messed up on Flora McNeill's name in the 1934 Study Club story on page 20 in the communities section. In the last column, last paragraph, it should say Flora McNeill's, not Flora McKinley's. She was very gracious. She said if you couldn't figure out who it was supposed to be by the time you got that far down in the story it didn't matter anyway.

The Clark's Pharmacy ad is wrong, in the first section on page 23. We have some names rearranged and redone altogether. It should read(right to left under the names) Gracie DeLeon, Danny Clark, Ida Nuncio and Libby Delgado. We are sorry! Thanks girls for being understanding.

On page 10 in the 2nd agriculture section there is a poem entitled, "What Does A Woman Really Want."

In the cutting and pasting the paragraphs got rearranged. The second column starts off - She had wanted only WATER.

This whole paragraph of 15 lines, needs to go at the bottom of the poem, under the sentence beginning with Catherine The Great, might have truly been if instead of all those men,—

Was that confusing?

In the memories section(the last one), on page 7, Deputy David Hart was left off of the ad from the Floyd County Sheriff's Department. Deputy Hart is the senior deputy and we regret his name being omitted.

Well that's all I can remember right now. Thank goodness.

We aren't going to be correcting mistakes for the next hundred years, so if you see any biggies, call us quick.

Morren's daughter assumes position of CISD president

Elizabeth "Liz" Hill, daughter of Verna Morren and the late James Morren of Floydada, has assumed the position of president of the Clint Independent School District, after the current president, Jerry Rogers, stepped down.

Hill, a 1955 Floydada graduate, was elected by acclamation to take over the position. Her brother, Fred Morren, is also a resident of Floydada.

Elizabeth Hill is married to Joe Hill and operates Temp-Force, a temporary services company in El Paso.

The Hills have been residents of Clint since 1972 and have two sons, Mike, a 1979 graduate of CHS, is in restaurant management, and Justin is a freshman at CHS.

Dear Editor,
I just wanted to take a moment to thank the people of Floydada, Lockney and Floyd County for inviting us to share in your Old Settlers Day celebration Saturday.

Modesta, my daughters and I enjoyed spending part of our afternoon meeting the people of Floyd County — shaking hands, meeting your kids and even squeezing a few cups of lemonade.

We also appreciate being a part of such a special celebration where we could take some time to look back on the adversities we've come through in Texas, the challenges we've met and the successes we've shared. As a fellow farmer and rancher, I know the trying times your agriculture-based community has come through - drought, depression — and I congratulate you on your Centennial Celebration.

I'd also like to give special thanks to Trav Jones, chairman of the Old Settlers Day event; members of the Old Settlers Day Committee and to Bill Gray for inviting us to be a part of your celebration.

Thank you and we hope to see you again along the campaign trail.

Sincerely,
Clayton Williams

Old Settlers parade draws large variety of entries from area

Community spirit was evident during the Old Settlers Day Parade Saturday afternoon. A large variety of floats, riding clubs, bicycles, tractors, antique and new cars were well represented in the parade.

Not only did an old time calliope, played by Penny Ogden, provide music for the crowd, but the Lockney and Floydada bands were also well represented with their high stepping and colorful musicians.

Though temperatures reached 100 degrees in Floydada, enthusiasm from the crowds lining the streets, and from the parade participants, never wilted.

Money prizes were given to the winners of the best floats, all bands, best decorated bicycles, best antique auto, oldest tractor, oldest truck, best dressed old time cowboy and cowgirl, best dressed modern cowboy and cowgirl, and best team drawn vehicle.

Trophies were given to the best sheriff's posse and the best junior cowgirl and cowboy.

Winners of the parade and their placings were as follows:

Best Pioneer Float: 1st "Celebrating A Century Serving Christ", First United Methodist Church, Floydada; 2nd Trinity Lutheran Church, Providence

Best Commercial Float: 1st City of Floydada; 2nd Floydada Branch of First National Bank, Lockney; 3rd "At Days End", Davis Farm Supply

Best Club Float: 1st II Penseroso Study Club; 2nd 4-H "Remember When"; 3rd Head Start

Bands: Floydada High, Lockney High, Floydada Junior High

Best Sheriff's Posse or Riding Club: 1st Lamb Co. Sheriff's Posse; 2nd Lubbock Hi Riders

Best Decorated Bicycle: 1st Tony Powell, 2nd Jeffrey Lyles, 3rd Cienna Carthel; Honorable Mention Veronica Galvan

Best Antique Auto: 1st Model T Ford, Wayne Arnold, Plainview; 2nd 1911 Buick, Carroll Johnston, Plainview; 3rd 1925 Dodge Brothers Touring Car, Frank Potts

Oldest Tractor In Parade: 1935 Model "D" John Deere, Charles Carr; 2nd 1936 Model W30, International, Dwight Teepel

Best Dressed Oldtime Cowboy In Parade: Rev. Bill Wright, Early circuit rider

Best Dressed Oldtime Cowgirl In Parade: Ada Pope

Best Modern Cowboy In Parade: Vanie Stark

Best Modern Cowgirl In Parade: Denise Calahan

Best Jr. Cowgirl In Parade (up to 12 years of age): Andi Probasco

Best Jr. Cowboy In Parade (up to 12 years of age): Tate Jones

Dear Editor,
Something that may be of interest to descendants of John Frost still living in the Floyd County area: The tri-annual reunion for the Smith-Roberts families will be held the 13-14-15th of July at the Ramada Inn in Harrison, AR. This information has been sent to Marletta Childs for her "Kin-searching" column. This year serious consideration will be given to the publication of a book about these families, so we are trying to locate as many descendants as possible.

Anyone interested is free to contact us, but it would be best to contact James Turbett, 6501 Waverly St., Lincolnia, VA, 22312. He has the responsibility for mailing reunion information this year and can provide full details.

Dear Editor,
Your announcement that appeared in your Thursday, May 17, 1990 issue came as quite a surprise. "Where", my staff asked, "have you found the time to go to school and earn a degree?" And, considering an average work week of 50 to 70 hours, this is a valid question.

The answer is simple: I have never attended a college or university - not even for one semester hour. Although, upon my graduation from Lubbock High School, I did receive scholarships to Texas Tech, including one given personally by Dr. Elizabeth Haley, I chose not to enter the world of state supported education and opted for a more intense and risk oriented system of self-education.

I must admit, however, that I was pleased that the fictitious degree given me was in my field - sales and marketing. But, my friend Dr. Carl Stem, Dean of the College of Business, would be more than surprised to learn that I had been a student of his College. My involvement with Texas Tech has been limited to two major areas. First, I have been responsible for donating several scholarships to the College of Business on behalf of my firm and the West Texas Data Processing Management Association. And second, my firm is the primary supplier of computer maintenance services to over eighty percent of Texas Tech and the Health Sciences Center.

In light of the afore mentioned facts, I would appreciate your publishing of this letter so that the record might be set straight. I am proud of having left home at sixteen years of age to establish a viable company and build it into the largest of its kind in western Texas and New Mexico without the false security of a university degree.

Cordially,
Robert W. Pratt
Executive Vice President and Vice President for Marketing

Mr. Pratt,
Boy, have we heard about this mistake. We are sorry for the error and apologize also to Robert Potts. Mr. Potts was supposed to be the name on that graduation list.

Potts graduated with a double major in marketing/management. He has accepted a job in the Dallas area with the Summers Group, an electrical supply network for builders and developers.

Potts' grandmothers are Mrs. Emily Potts Johnston and Mrs. Mollie Burleson.

We made the mistake by printing a list of graduates given to us from a Floydada citizen, instead of waiting on the list supplied to us every semester by Texas Tech.

We heard from many people and we learned our lesson.

Sincerely,
Alice Gilroy, Editor

1890 commissioners honored at Hall of Fame ceremony

Presentations were made during a Hall of Fame ceremony, Friday, May 25 at 5:30 p.m. Honored at the ceremony were the 1890 commissioners. Each of the current county commissioners were also recognized.

Francis Staniforth related a brief history of each of the first county commissioners and copies of the certificates, that will be placed in the courthouse, were given to family members present. Commissioner Connie Bearden presented a certificate to the granddaughter of C.F. Ramsey, Mildred Ramsey Ragland of San Saba.

C.F. Ramsey was the first county treasurer. He was born Sept. 16, 1855 and died Feb. 17, 1942. He is buried in the Lockney Cemetery.

Ramsey continued to reside in Floyd County from the time he was elected commissioner. For a number of years he ran a well drilling machine, and many of the wells in the county are the results of his craft.

He was a successful farmer and stock raiser.

Mr. T.B. Michael, was the next official to be recognized. No member of the Michael family was present to accept the certificate, from commissioner Floyd Jackson.

Mr. Michael, after his term as one of the first commissioners of Floyd County resided a number of years in Briscoe County, where he filled the office of sheriff and tax collector from 1894-1898. At the expiration of his term of office in Briscoe County he returned to Floyd County. In 1900 he was again elected county commissioner and re-elected in 1902. He resigned however in the spring of 1904 in order to take up residence in California. In the eastern part of the county just prior to his removal to California he owned a large farm and ranch which he sold for $10,000.00. He died in California.

W.R. Vandever served as county commissioner until the fall of 1892. Soon after this time he moved to New Mexico. He was a typical western character. His home was in Blanco Canyon and it consisted of crude stone structure on a 160 acre homestead. At the time of his election as county commissioner he was in the evening of life.

Virginia Taylor, of South Plains, accepted the certificate from Commissioner Kay Crabtree, as a family member of B.P. Merrell. Raynell Bearden, of Floydada was also present as a Merrell family member.

His incumbency as county commissioner continued until November 1892. In 1896 and 1897 he resided in Scurry County, but returned to Floyd County and settled in the Sandhill community. Uncle Perry, as he was familiarly called by all who know him, was a Texan of the old regime, which implies southern hospitality and democratic sentiments. He came to Floyd County in 1887 and was engaged in horse raising. His life was one fraught with many interesting and thrilling experiences. In the war between the states and the frontiers of Texas he served and endured hardships and privations that would have ended the life of any man of average constitution and vitality.

B.P. Merrell was born Sept. 2, 1836 and died March 1, 1906. He is buried in Gray Mule Cemetery.

A house concurrent resolution was also read to those in attendance.

The resolution will be placed with the Hall of Fame awards. It read:

WHEREAS, Their hardy and independent character formed by the land and steeped in the traditions of farming and ranching, Floyd County residents are proud heirs of their forebears' indomitable spirit, and the county's centennial celebration is an occasion worthy of special legislative recognition; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That the 71st Texas Legislature, 4th Called Session, hereby commemorate the 100th anniversary of the organization of Floyd county and express warm regards to all its residents as they proudly celebrate a century of progress and achievement.

House Concurrent Resolution

WHEREAS, The Texas Legislature wishes to join the residents of Floyd County in celebrating the centennial of the county's organization; and

WHEREAS, Named for Dolphin Ward Floyd, an early Texas hero who died at the fall of the Alamo in March 1836, Floyd County was created by the Texas Legislature on August 21, 1876; and

WHEREAS, In 1884, Arthur B. Duncan and his family became the first permanent settlers in this northwest Texas county when they established a homestead in Blanco Canyon; and

WHEREAS, Other settlers soon followed these hardy pioneers, and small communities began to appear within a few years; some of these early settlements, such as Della Plain, Lockney, and Floyd City, were founded with an eye to the future and aspirations of becoming the county seat of a soon-to-be-organized Floyd County; and

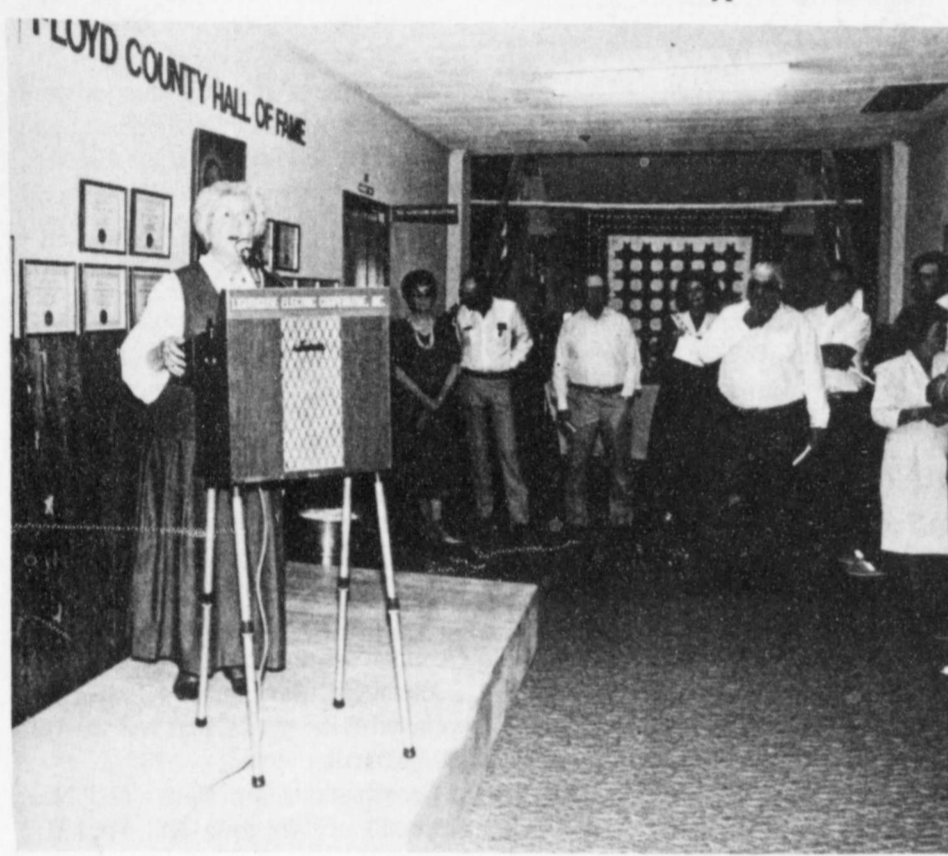

WHEREAS, In the spring of 1890, the residents of Floyd County held an organization election and voted to establish a county seat in Floyd City; although the election was contested in district court and later in the Texas Supreme Court, the legality of the election was sustained and Floyd City, later renamed Floydada, remained the county seat; and

WHEREAS, Having achieved a major goal in the organization of Floyd County, area residents then endured a devastating series of hardships as drought, financial panics, and grasshopper plagues decimated the county's population; and

WHEREAS, Rebounding from those early setbacks, Floyd County experienced a gradual influx of population, which resulted in a movement to relocate the county seat and build a new courthouse; the movement culminated in a countywide election in 1912 at which residents voted to keep the county seat in Floydada; and

WHEREAS, The county continued to grow throughout the first half of the twentieth century, reaching a population of more than 10,000 inhabitants by 1950; and

WHEREAS, Industrious and resourceful, Floyd County residents today enjoy a highly productive agricultural economy, and the county annually ranks among the leading producers of wheat and cotton in the state; and person buried in the Floydada Cemetery.

May Montague Garrett, of Floydada, born in 1900, was recognized as the oldest woman registered.

O.K. Sykes, of Plainview, born in 1900, was recognized as the oldest man registered.

Margaret Tubbs Fisha was registered as coming the farthest, from Talent, Oregon.

Officers for the 1991 Pioneer Reunion Celebration were also elected during the morning's business meeting.

Serving next year will be: President, Virginia Taylor, Vice President, Bill Hardin; Secretary, Gayle Reay; Treasurer, Norman Muncy.

Lavene Moore presented the Memorial service during the business meeting, in which all those Floyd County residents who died in 1990 were read.

Crowds continued to be thick at the beard growing contest and auction, which followed the business meeting. The auction moved quickly in order to stay on schedule for the arrival and speeches of the gubernatorial candidates.

Coming to the stage first was Clayton Williams who spoke of his childhood days raised in West Texas and his 5-5 football record at his Fort Stockton High School saying, "We lost five at home and five on the road." He praised the pioneer spirit of West Texans and congratulated Floyd County on their 100th birthday.

Ann Richards followed Clayton Williams on the stage, speaking mainly on the issues of education and rural health.

The "Old Settlers" lunch followed the speeches with The Brown's supplying lunch music entertainment.

Afternoon entertainment was supplied by the Floyd County Whirlers and a Pioneer Style Show.

The Centennial parade dubbed by many "old timers", as the biggest and best ever, started promptly at 2:30 p.m. Because of the length of the parade, and the time needed to set up equipment, the Country Caravan started their music entertainment later than planned, but were well worth the wait.

The large crowd, the well planned events, the good food and the cooperative attitude among all participants prompted many of those attending to state that this was "the best Pioneer Reunion ever."

THANK-YOU

"This reunion could not have been this good without the combined efforts of people all over this county," said the president of the reunion committee, Travis Jones.

"I hesitate thanking the many individuals involved, because I'm afraid I would leave someone out. There are also a lot of businesses that I feel everyone should thank. Without their contributions this wouldn't have been possible.

"We really appreciate the efforts of the First National Bank, of Floydada, and the money they spent on the banners all over town. Gary Brown, the city manager, and the city employees deserve a great deal of thanks for all their work they did for us.

"The meal would not have been possible without the combined efforts of a lot of individuals and contributions from many businesses. We really appreciate Pay-N-Save for their numerous donations of various groceries and supplies. Also thanks to the businesses who donated meat, such as: Caprock Industries Feed Lot, First National Bank in Lockney, Floydada Livestock Sales and Lockney Meat Company.

"Mrs. Bairds in Plainview donated all the bread, and we appreciate it.

"Thanks also to the people who made the muslin cloth bags that the meat was wrapped in and Scott Gin for supplying the burlap, the wood gatherers and the people who furnished the trailers to haul the wood in, and Jim Finley for the use of his building to the lunch headquarters.

"The cash donations from the Floyd County Cooperatives in Floydada and Lockney, Floyd County Farm Bureau, Plainview Production Credit and Light-house Electric were very much appreciated."

Not wanting to leave anyone out, Travis Jones continues his list and they are mentioned here with appreciation from this newspaper and the community:

"Thank-you to Assiter & Associates Auctioneer and the people who donated items and the buyers of those items;

Simpson Trees for the time capsule, parade organizers and participants, the community band, the Boy Scouts, washer pitching organizers and participants;

"Leonard's Cafe, judges and participants of the beard contest, Lavene Moore's memorial service, The Browns for the dinner music, Floyd County Whirlers;

"Registration workers, the ladies who handled the clock and quilt (which was

Clayton Williams and Ann Richards. Many of the stories, particularly the early t.v. newscasts had Ms. Richards accusing Williams of ducking the issues, and being "afraid" to debate her etc. And therein hangs a tale that probably ought to be clarified, in order that our own people, at least, might know the truth.

The leadership of the celebration invited the candidates to attend, with the idea that their appearance at the County's birthday party could enhance the historical theme of the event. They did not want the event turned into a polarizing political rally, overshadowing the purpose of the celebration. In point of fact, the Richards campaign insisted that it be this way, possibly fearing that Williams' west Texas roots and conservative message might give him some sort of advantage in this area. The minutes of the last Centennial Commission reflect that this issue was addressed again, and made clear to all parties, that the speeches were to be "non-political." The Williams camp, as we understand it, had already agreed to this stipulation.

Then, as the day approached, this paper received calls from people identified as Richards supporters here, suggesting that Mr. Williams might not even attend the event. We contacted the Williams camp on that point. Not so, they said. There had been no change in his plans, he still planned to attend the reunion.

Evidently those same calls were going to other media outlets as well. This paper received a call from the Lubbock daily paper, saying they too had been contacted with the rumor that Williams might not appear. Clearly a "rumor" campaign was underway. The A.J. wanted to know if we had any different information on the matter. They were told that as far as we knew everything was still on track, and they were also told of the format that had been agreed upon. That the candidates were to appear, but there would be no debate, that they were to make remarks concerning the theme of the event, and that they would then be available for separate press conferences after they had concluded their remarks. Obviously at the press conference they would be free to answer questions and say what they wanted to say.

When that appeared in the Lubbock A-J, we again received a call from one of Ms. Richards' local supporters, complaining that we should not have said that. She did not dispute the truthfulness of the report, it would have just been better if we had not said it. In a few days it became apparent why.

In her opening remarks Ms. Richards made two things perfectly clear. She did not come here, she said, to "tell funny stories." And she also said she had "worked a long time" in preparing her speech, which she gave eloquently. So the message, to anyone who understands politics, was clear. While her campaign was insisting that the two candidates appearance be "non-political", she was preparing an extremely political speech. In other words, Clayton Williams stuck to the ground rules and Ms. Richards did not.

Perhaps the ground rules should have been different. Perhaps they should have provided for a no-holds-barred political confrontation. But we happen to believe the leadership of the celebration did the right thing. They should not, and in our view cannot, be held responsible for the acts of those who do not abide by the rules.

But for Ms. Richards to break the rules, and then accuse her opponent of "ducking the issues", is, under the circumstances, a little much.

She of course got what she wanted: a great deal of statewide publicity. But we suspect that in the final analysis she will also suffer a degree of embarrassment, if it is possible for her to feel embarrassment, along with some friends and supporters who might have expected more from her.

Courtroom Activities

In county court, May 22, Javier Rodriguez, 27, of Lockney was charged with DWI. There was no disposition on this case.

May 25, Pete Billegas was charged with harboring a runaway child. There was no disposition on this case.

Also on May 25, Richard Garza and Janette Billegas were charged with criminal negligence in harboring a runaway child. There was no disposition on these cases.

The Odessa Mobile Breast Cancer
Detection Unit receives certification

The Mobile Breast Cancer Detection Unit of Odessa, which services Floydada has received the certification of the American College of Radiology Mammography Accreditation Program. Mammography is an x-ray examination of the breast, which the American Cancer Society and other medical experts see as the best means for the early detection of breast cancer.

The program is voluntary and is designed to insure that women receive optimum quality mammographic examinations. The process is done through a peer review evaluation of the facility's staff qualifications, equipment, quality control and quality assurance programs, image quality, and breast dose. The accreditation must be renewed every three years.

The accreditation program was instituted because of the concerns of radiologists, other national medical organizations, and the public that qualified personnel perform and interpret mammograms and that dedicated mammographic equipment be used. The American College of Radiology received an American Cancer Society Control Grant which was used to pilot test the Accreditation Program.

Breast cancer will strike one in 10 American women. The American Cancer Society predicts that about 41,000 women will die of breast cancer this year. As there is no way to prevent the disease, early detection and treatment offer the greatest hope for survival.

The American Cancer Society recommends that women do monthly breast self-exams and have regular physical breast exams by a doctor. It further recommends mammography on the following schedule:

A baseline mammogram (for reference) between age 35 and 39.

A mammogram every one or two years between age 40 and 49.

An annual mammogram from age 50. The Breast Cancer Detection Unit will be in Floydada on Tuesday, June 5. You may call 983-2875 for an appointment.

Alma Holmes greeted by friends and relatives

Friends and relatives greeted Alma Holmes of Horseshoe Bay, Texas, Thursday, when a visitation hour was hosted by the museum. Alma, a native of Floyd County was a charter member of the museum and has contributed many important records to the historical collection.

An announcement was made that plans are being drafted for a museum exhibit entitled "Listen Ladies". It will portray Alma's radio program days from 1951-1971 and will be built around a sound system that when activated by touch will play a recording of one of Alma's radio broadcasts.

The system was given by Dorothy Holmes McGinnis in honor of her mother. The gift was arranged by Dorothy's husband, Walt McGinnis and was a surprise to both Dorothy and Alma.

The exhibit will provide a look back at an eventful period in Floyd County history as revealed through the radio media by our favorite radio personality. To be included in the exhibit is a 1950 Model Crosley Radio provided by Southwestern Public Service.

Besides a large gathering of friends that came to honor Alma Holmes, also in attendance were family members: Church and Betty Holmes, Floydada; Beuna Wilson, Alvarado, Texas; Dorothy McGinnis, Carefree, Arizona; and John and Barbara McDonough, Plainview.

Good Sams travel to Quartz Mountain

Members of Whirlwind Sams journeyed to Quartz Mountain State Park in Oklahoma for their May campout. They left Floydada Sunday afternoon after members had attended the church of their choice and eaten a fast lunch, arriving at their destination around 5:30.

The group enjoyed visitation, games, the air base in Altus and the museum in Altus. A state park naturalist gave the group a talk about the park, wildlife and wildflowers in the area and brought a wounded owl named Otis that she was nursing back to health. Then, a Chamber of Commerce representative told the group of the tour they would take, which included the museum.

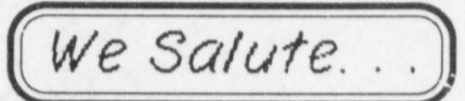

Members making the campout were Mr. and Mrs. Claude Weathersbee, John Lyles, George Miller, Blanton Hartsell, Milton Harrison, John Key West, Orval Newberry, Robert McPherson, Bill Feuerbacher, Vernon Parker and Alan Benson.

FHA representatives attend conference

Janet Himes, Stacy Staples and advisor, Deborah Lloyd represented the Floydada Future Homemakers of America chapter during the 1990 state leadership conference along with 5500 members and advisors from Texas. "International Express — Destination Success" was the theme of the 1990 meeting which was held in the Dallas

Convention Center, Dallas, April 27-28. Members identified the need to prepare for a lifetime by increasing self-awareness and responsibilities, develop leadership, and obtain life skills through participation in Future Homemakers of America. Dynamic keynote speakers and presentations by members highlighted the two day conference.

Interest sessions on leadership skills, time management, positive self image, self defense, communications, sexually transmitted diseases, and other teen issues were held for the members to attend.

The business of the Texas Association, Future Homemakers of America was conducted during the House of Delegates session. Recognition of the competitive events participants and installation of the 1990-91 state officers climaxed the Saturday evening's session. These officers were placed in office through chapter participation throughout the state. A newly elected president received the gavel from April Bell, outgoing president from Lubbock.

Future Homemakers of America is an organization sponsored by the Vocational Home Economics Education Division, Texas Education Agency, with Judith A. Hetherly, Director and Sharon Redell, State Advisor.

Caprock Hospital Report

By Molly Stringer

The Board of Directors met last Thursday for the regular monthly meeting. Those attending were: William Bertrand, Fred Thayer, Joy Assiter, Melba Vickers and Kenneth Pitts. Others attending were Leroy Schaffner, Molly Stringer and Nell McClung. We remind you in the community that these meetings are open to the public and the agenda and meeting times are posted at the hospital at least three days prior to each meeting.

Old Settlers Day was a lot of fun. Those who helped with the nurses bake sale were: Molly Stringer, Joyce Smith, Helen Teeple, Willie Mae Gregg, Susan Green, Sharon Hinton and Frances Miller. We appreciate everyone who baked something and participated in this money raising project.

Elena Hopper made a geese family and took donations and was given away in a drawing at 2 p.m. Elena worked very hard on this project and raised $140.00 for the patio fund. Joyce Smith baked an Italian Cream Cake which brought in $31.00 before it was given away. Winners were Mae Williams, geese family, and Helen Coleman, cake.

All of the departments of the hospital joined in the bake sale, half of the proceeds went to the patio fund and half went to the nurses fund which is used to buy equipment for the hospital. Several who could not participate in the bake sale donated money. Donations of money to the patio fund in the past few weeks included: Linda Irlas, Mary Simmons, Jean Jarrett, Carol Scribner and Bud Warren in memory of Mrs. Eula Meredith.

Mrs. Mary Wilkinson of Silverton donated a pecan tree to the patio in memory of her husband, Gwan. Mrs. W.J. Wilks donated some shrubs to be set out in the area. Marie and Lanell Tardy save their cans for us to sell. Frances Miller donated some honeysuckle plants. We appreciate everyone's support and interest in this project.

We remind you that we are doing mammograms at the hospital on June 5. Call 983-2875 for an appointment.

Sharon Hinton is offering a first aide course each month. Anyone wishing to attend this course should call 983-2581 to register. Participants must pre-register to attend.

Leroy Schaffner and his family have been vacationing in Colorado with their families the past few days.

Nell McClung enjoyed her 51st high school reunion this past weekend. Many classmates that had not seen each other in 50 years gathered and renewed acquaintances.

Most of the staff at the hospital spent Memorial Day catching up on yard work and things at home.

Thought For Today

A wise man once told me that there are two kinds of people: those who do the work and those who take the credit for it. He told me to try to be in the first group; there was less competition there.

PLAN JUNE WEDDING—Marva Jones and June VanCleve announce the engagement and approaching marriage of Tanya Jones and Lanny McMurrin. The couple plan to be married at 2 p.m. June 24 at Calvary Baptist Church. The couple has requested a western style wedding.

Club honors former members

On Thursday, May 24, from 3-5 p.m., the Blue Bonnet Needle Club honored its former members with a tea at the home of Faye Bertrand.

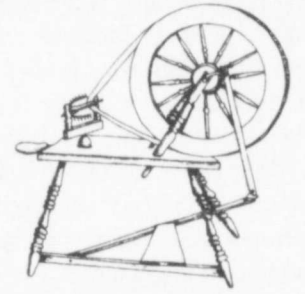

Assorted cookies, nut and fruit punch were served from a table laid with a beautiful linen and lace tablecloth and centered with a bouquet of bluebonnets, compliments of Maggie Perry.

The afternoon was spent visiting and reminiscing. Twelve former members were present. Asale Noland of Blue Ridge, Texas, traveled the greatest distance to attend. Asale returned the prize that she had won in 1979 at the first tea for former members. She requested that the prize be passed on to a former member drawing the lucky number. Julia Baker won the prize.

Former members attending were: Asale Noland, Blue Ridge; Dorothy Darrell, Abernathy; Faye Jackson, Alice Baker, Betsy Dempsey, Gwen Cogdell, Ernestine Gilly, Sue Moore, Ella Lloyd, Maggie Perry and Mildred Fuqua, a charter member, all of Floydada.

Members attending were: Faye Bertrand, hostess, Thelma Crawford, Margaret Edmiston, Lois Gilly, Ruth Hammonds, Lahoma Matsler, Mae Muncy, June Patzer, Lella Pruitt, Virginia Pyle, Emogene Stansell, Wanda Turner and Nettie Ruth Whittle. Cheryl Simmons was a guest.

Judge and Mrs. Alton Chapman were here from Goldwaite. Also lots and lots of others I didn't see or know.

Alma Holmes of Horseshoe Bay and two daughters, Beuna and Dorothy visited with Chuck and Betty Holmes.

Mrs. Valree Turner had company over the weekend.

I can't get anyone by phone this morning, so my news will be kinda short.

I know everyone enjoyed the reunion and saw alot of old time friends.

Mrs. Esther Langley oldest woman to register at reunion

By Pat Langley

Mrs. Esther Langley was recognized as the oldest lady registering in person and appearing at the 100th Floyd County reunion. Mrs. Langley is 91 years old. She was born July 26, 1898. She will celebrate her 92nd birthday on July 21.

The Langley children were with their mother at the presentation. All of the children then visited their mother and enjoyed the centennial activities.

Spending the Memorial weekend were Charles and Eloise Galloway of Olton, Bob and Eunice Covington of Dougherty, Clyde and Bobbie Sue Damron of Dimmitt, James and Margie Langley of San Diego, California, Ralph and Pat Langley of Slaton, Neil and Charlene Langley, who live next door to his mother, and Jim and Cecilia Higdon of Silverton.

Other weekend guests were Ralph E. Langley of Austin, Raymond and Lois Parrish, Leslie Higdon and Brent Hackett, all of Lubbock.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

By Jo Bryant

Hi again, from all the staff and residents. Do hope that you had an enjoyable weekend. Some of our residents got to go and visit, and some had family and friends to come visit them. Wasn't our Old Settlers reunion great this year? A lot of time and work went into the celebration. Must say that I didn't even get to eat any of the barbecue, as it was all gone. My friends who ate it said that it was delicious. The line was two miles long, and the heat was 100 degrees, so I didn't tackle it.

Monday, Bro. Bill Wright came and gave the devotion and Irene Wexler came and played the piano for us. In the evening the residents played dominoes and games.

Tuesday, once again, Bro. Richardson came and shared with us and sang some songs. They always enjoy the bananas he brings to the residents too. At 2 p.m. the residents painted a pear in ceramics, soon they will have painted a basket full of fruit.

Wednesday we sang some songs, thanked and praised the Lord. At 2 p.m. the residents played Bingo. Ottis Johnson had the first Bingo. Mary Alice came and assisted the residents. They had bananas, cheese balls and marshmallows for treats.

Thursday, we all met in the small dining room and had current events. We all read and enjoyed the booklet of Floydada. The residents enjoyed some popcorn too.

Friday, Evelyn Latta came and played the piano for us and we sang some songs. Jo Bryant gave the devotional on the Second Coming. At 1:30 the residents were treated to some ice cream from My-T-Burger, thanks. Then on to the museum. Some of the residents got to go and look and walk through the museum, they really enjoyed it, and some remarked, "Oh you could spend a whole day in here."

Our love and sympathy come out to the family and friends of Eva Hartness. She was a sweet lady. We wish Bennie Wilson a speedy recovery, as she is in Caprock Hospital.

It won't be long until we will be completely remodeled, and then we will have an open house, so bear with us. It's looking good.

This week's visitors were: Pauline Robertson, Willie Mae Smith, May Sue, Mike and Phyllis Badgett, Irene Wexler, Frances Barnett, Jettie Moss, Dovie Holmes, Dolores and J.W. Cannon, Mel and Marjorie Holcomb and Billie Hanna.

Tasha Smith receives 2nd at regional meet

Tasha Smith, daughter of Kip and Kathy Pritchard of Plainview and granddaughter of Dr. and Mrs. Keith Patzer, competed at the Regional Meet for Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma, in Levelland placing 2nd in tumbling. She will be in Rockford, Ill. June 29 thru July 3, for Nationals.

She is a team member of the Acrospirits of Levelland.

Fifteen graduate from Floydada TMC

"Let Head Start Give You A Lift" was the theme used by Texas Migrant Council for their graduation ceremonies on Wednesday, May 23, at the Floydada Junior High auditorium. This year's ceremony also marked the 25th Anniversary of Headstart.

The theme was carried out in stage decorations with an array of colorful balloons and background of raindrops and clouds.

The evening began with center director, Nellie Riojas, welcoming the students and their families and friends. Ernestina Ramirez, area supervisor, acted as master of ceremonies for the event. Invocation was said by Soila Reyes, parent involvement and social service specialist. Students Jordan Martinez and Tracy Trevino led the Pledge of Allegiance.

Floydada TMC graduated 15 five-year-old youngsters, who will be advancing to kindergarten next year. The students received their diplomas from Nellie Riojas and Cecilia Martinez, while wearing their royal blue caps and gowns.

Students graduating were Johnny Joe Garcia, Eric Robles, Martin Torrez, Cynthia Nicole Vasquez, Jason Morales, Stephanie Rios, John Michael Valdez, Eric Garza, Manuel Hernandez, Amanda Ramirez, John Wayne Lopez, Jordan Martinez, Tracy Trevino, Christopher Hernandez and Sandra Pena. Teachers of the five year olds were Mae Duran and Nora Solorazano.

In commemoration of Headstarts 25th Anniversary, a special presentation was made to Mario Nunez by Ernestina Ramirez. He is an ex-TMC student, who graduated from the center on May 23, 1985.

Nunez, now a fourth grader at R.C. Andrews Elementary, has gone on to become a member of the Gifted and Talented program at the school. Ms. Ramirez reviewed a scrapbook containing the youngster's accomplishments in the past years. Nunez accepted his award, along with his parents, Maximo and Erlinda Castaneda.

Guests were entertained with special performances by the various classes at the school.

Five-year-olds presented the "Brown

Bear Skit", which consisted of the students holding cut-outs of brightly colored animals.

"Raindrops Keep Falling On My Head" was acted out by four-year-olds. In this presentation, the young ladies of the group were keeping their umbrellas all to themselves while the young men tried desperately to join them, in order to escape the falling rain.

"The Bean Bag Dance" was an arrangement presented by two and three-year-olds, along with teachers Ofilia Torrez and Velma Rodriguez.

Various TMC students were recognized with certificates for accomplishments during the year. Among these were:

Two-year-olds: Hazel Delgado, perfect attendance; Melissa Morales, achievement; and April Arevalo, citizenship.

Three-year-olds: Gregory Garcia, perfect attendance; Javier De La Fuente, most studious; and Olga Renee Garcia, most helpful.

Four-year-olds: Eric Morales, good classroom work; Mateo Delgado, attendance; and Melissa Torrez, citizenship.

Five-year-olds: Tracy Trevino, perfect attendance; Jason Morales, most studious; Amanda Ramirez, most helpful; and Christopher Hernandez, citizenship.

Recognition also was given to several parents, who have contributed time to help the center when needed. These included: Wanda Medrano, Margie Hernandez, Rosemary Morales, Diana Torrez, Joyce Lopez, Ramona Pena, Vicki Rios, Cynthia Morales, and Velma Rodriguez, volunteer. They were given two certificates, one from the Floydada TMC and one from the main office, along with a red carnation.

Also recognized during the ceremony were 1990 Floydada High School graduates, Ray and Roy Garcia, Lisa Delgado and Joann Cavazos, who assisted with the TMC graduates; Rudy and Alfred Medrano, who assisted as ushers; Ruben Barrientos, sign-in, and Connie Martinez, registration.

The evening ended with congratulations being expressed to all the students, along with the hope that this would not be the only time that they would graduate, but that they would strive to continue their studies through high school and college.

Reading club is slated at Floyd County Library

The theme of the 1990 Summer Reading Club, sponsored by the Floyd County Library, the Texas State Library, and Dairy Queen, is "The Secret Code is R.E.A.D."

The Reading Club is scheduled for June 6 through July 11, and all children ages 3 through 12 are eligible to join. All children who participate will receive a bookmark and a reading log, as well as a time sheet to record hours spent reading. Preschoolers who are not able to read may count time that is spent reading to them. After each five hours spent reading the child will receive a coupon good for a free soft drink or ice cream from the Dairy Queen. Upon completing ten hours of reading the child will receive a Reading Club Certificate, and 15 hours earns a gold star on the certificate and a coupon for a free Blizzard or Fun Bunch Lunch from the Dairy Queen. The top ten readers will also receive a "The Secret Code is R.E.A.D." poster.

R. C. Andrews Elementary School principal C. E. Tyer presided at a final awards ceremony prior to his retirement. The sixth graders at Andrews were honored for their achievements through the year with a short ceremony on Friday, May 25.

Tyer presented Presidential Academic Fitness Award (PAFA) certificates signed by President George Bush, the Secretary of Education and himself to each qualifying student commending the students on their scholarship, talents and enthusiasm. Criteria for PAFA include a B+ average for the three years at R. C. Andrews Elementary and a score of 80% or above on the SRA Achievement Test.

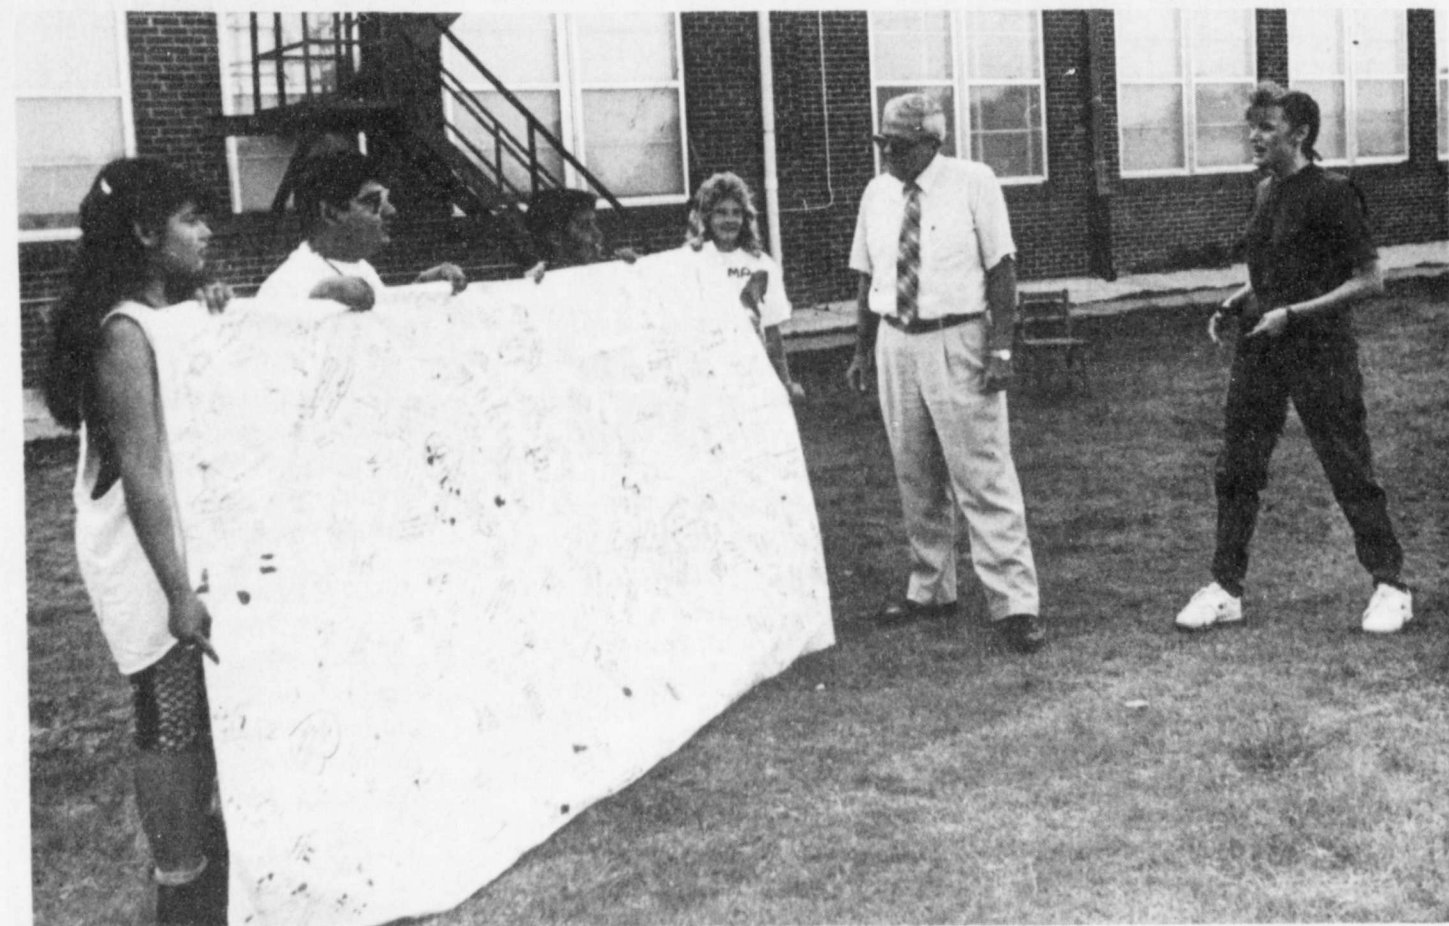

Receiving these special awards were Zack Abshier, Lacy Golightly, Kacie Lackey, Michael Mercado, Tale'a Owens, Alex Vallejo, Jodie Villarreal, David Watson and Amber Womack. Veronica Galvan was also recognized for Extraordinary Effort.

Other groups recognized included those with perfect attendance for the year. Gabriela Cervera, Richard Powell, Vicente Rodriguez, Hilda Rodriguez, Monica Henderson and Raul Ramirez attended school each day of the year to earn this distinction.

Honored for their dedication and service as flag persons for the year were

A Honor Roll certificates were given to Kacie Lackey, Dana McCandless, Michael Mercado, Amber Womack, Lacy Golightly, Tammy Martinez, Tale'a Owens, Jodie Villarreal, David Watson, Zack Abshier, K. C. Robertson and Michael Molinar.

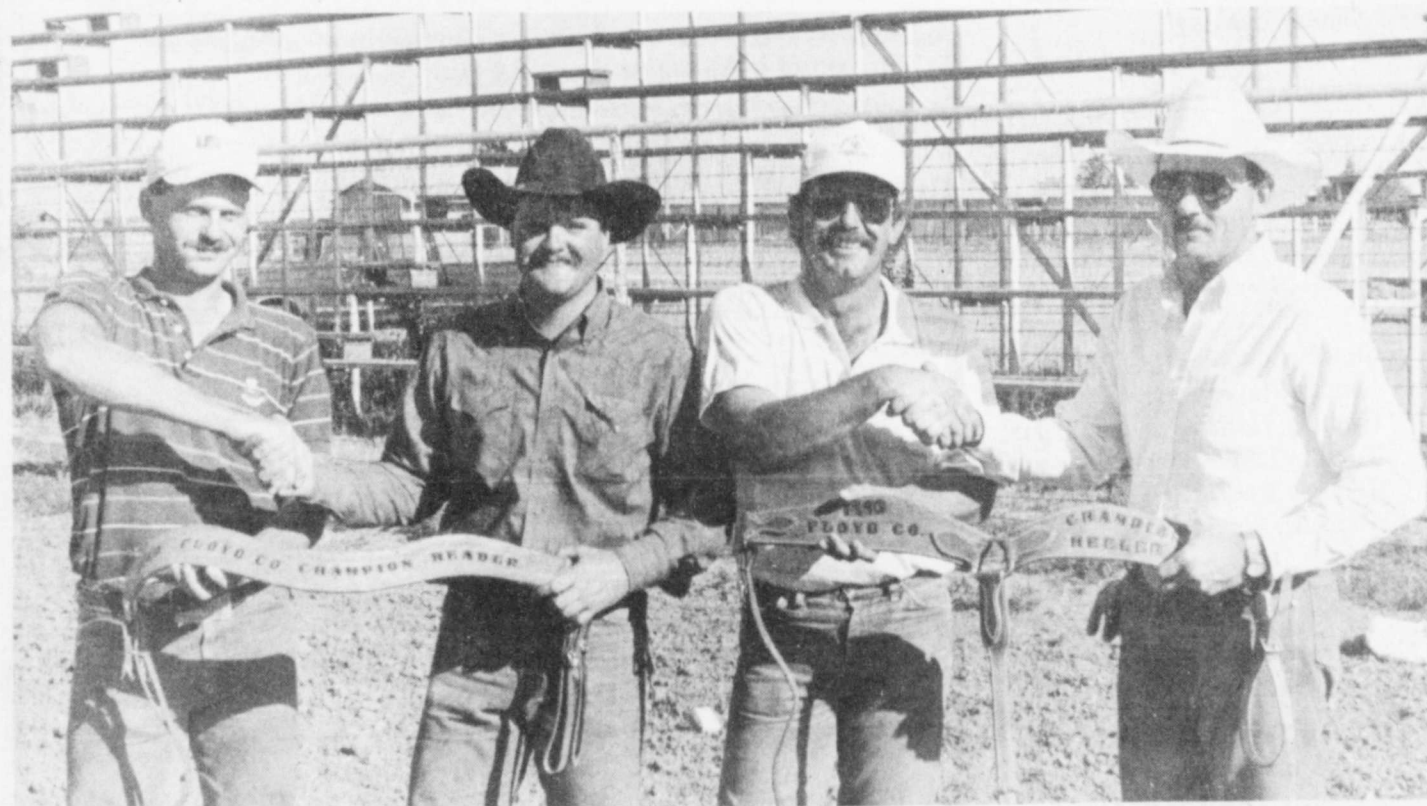

RETIREMENT GIFT — R. C. Andrews staff member Gail Hale, right, was the driving force in getting everyone at the school involved in creating a special retirement present for principal C. E. Tyer. On the last day of school, representatives of each grade level presented the retiring administrator with a tablecloth inscribed by each person at Andrews. The lasting memento will grace the table at Tyer's fishing getaway. Student representatives included (l to r) Priscilla Ramirez (6th grade), Armando Rios (Functional Living Center), Adam Soto (5th grade) and Neisha Simpson (4th grade). Staff Photo

Mr. Macha died at 11:35 p.m. Friday, May 25, 1990, in Central Plains Regional Hospital after a brief illness.

He was born in Brownfield and grew up in New Home. He graduated from Woodrow High School. He was an Army veteran of World War II and was in the initial invasion of North Africa. He was a farmer in New Home and Abernathy before moving to the Finney Community. He married Lois Ann Orsak on April 20, 1949, in Bomarton. He was a member of St. Alice Catholic Church.

Survivors include his wife; four sons, Donald and Joe, both of Plainview, Raynard of Floydada and Melvin of Woodrow; a daughter, Felicia Reeves of Woodrow; his mother, Mrs. Adophie Macha of Woodrow; two brothers, Felix of Woodrow and Robert of Marlin; a sister, Evelyn Macha of Woodrow; and four grandchildren.

Nephews served as pallbearers.

Hearing tests set for senior citizens

FLOYDADA--Electronic hearing tests will be given at the Senior Citizen Center on Thursday from 10 a.m. until 12 noon.

Randy King, Licensed Hearing Aid Specialist will be present to perform the tests.

Everyone should have a hearing test at least once a year -- even people now wearing a hearing aid or those who have been told that nothing could be done for them. Only a hearing test can determine if you are one of the many a hearing aid can help.

The free tests will be given Thursday, June 7th from 10 a.m. til noon at 301 East Georgia, Floydada If you can't come in, call 983-2032 for in-home service.

Gramm-Waterfield stop at airport

After spending a day campaigning in the crowds attending Floyd County's Pioneer Reunion, Rep. Dick Waterfield of Canadian returned to Floydada Sunday in the company of U.S. Senator Phil Gramm to receive the Senator's endorsement in his race for Congress.

The Republican Waterfield is seeking the seat now held by Rep. Bill Sarpalius, Democrat of Amarillo.

Waterfield, a two-term State Representative, is former farmer, rancher and feedlot operator. In his endorsement, Gramm said "Wouldn't it be revolutionary to have someone up there helping write the farm bill who had some practical experience in the field."

Gramm praised the just-concluded Pioneer Reunion celebration, and the occasion it afforded to expose political candidates, and the traveling newsmen who accompanied them, to the thinking and values of rural communities in Texas. The country would be better off, he said, if those values could become embedded in the thinking of those who make our laws, or influence the making of our laws. That was one of the reasons, he said, he hoped Waterfield would be elected.

"Dick's opponent is going around this District saying he would just vote the same way I do," Gramm said to applause and shouts of "I hope so," but he continued, "I don't want Dick up there so I can tell him how to vote. I want him up there to tell me how to vote on issues affecting this District."

Waterfield, accompanied by his wife

Gail, spoke of his being urged to run by both Gramm and President Bush, and of the issues he thought should be stressed in the upcoming campaign, particularly the issues of drugs and rural economic development, in both of which he has been active during his two terms in the legislature.

On Saturday, Waterfield campaigned through the crowd, accompanied and introduced by State Rep. Warren Chisum, a Democrat.

Needlework creation dedicated to former teacher by local artist

Lisa Mosley of Lockney has a lovely needlework creation fashioned in wool yarn on wool fabric at the Floyd County Artist Exhibit in the First National Bank of Floydada until June 8. The public is invited to stop in and view this exquisite creation, as well as the numerous other art endeavors included in the show, during regular business hours.

The original design developed by Mosley is dedicated to Frances Puckett, a teacher in the Floydada Independent School District. Puckett taught English in FID schools from 1964 to 1977 and returned to the system in 1988.

Mosley attended high school in Floydada in the early 1970's and was especially influenced by an English teacher, Puckett. According to Mosley, "Mrs. Puckett read to us from Walt Whitman's Leaves of Grass. I was most taken by a poem called 'There Was a Child Went Forth' and carried the memory as I grew into an adult."

Mosley says that she continued to love poetry and has used several poems as ideas for art work assignments as she studied art education in college.

"Having returned to Texas Tech to get a degree in Art Education," states Mosley, "I received the assignment to symbolically illustrate a poem or story with an art creation. I chose this favorite poem and have dedicated the completed needlework piece to my former teacher."

Martha Farris, the organizer of the exhibit, added, "Lisa's tribute to Frances Puckett would also speak for many, many young men and women who have studied under her. She has influenced many and instilled a love of poetry and fine literature in students for many years and is an outstanding example of the very fine teachers in our Floydada school system."

Thrip numbers in wheat are heavy

C. Mark Brown
Extension Agent-Entomology
(PM)

Crosby-Floyd Counties
Observations of thrips numbers in area wheat fields indicate a relatively heavy thrips population. As the wheat matures and begins to dry down, thrips will move from the wheat to invade nearby cotton.

Studies conducted on the High Plains have indicated that in irrigated cotton, where thrips occur annually as a pest, that preventative treatments for thrips control using in-furrow, at-planting insecticides are cost-effective. More studies are needed concerning cost-effectiveness of these automatic insecticide applications under limited irrigation or dryland production management systems.

Although yield potential can be gained early in the season under dryland conditions, this potential can be gained early in the season under dryland conditions, this potential can later be lost, primarily to moisture stress. The question then becomes: "How many times in a given number of years will these at-planting insecticides be cost-effective under dryland or limited irrigation conditions?"

Various thrips control methods include in-furrow granular insecticides, seed treatments, planterbox treatments, and foliar sprays after cotton emerges. Granular insecticides such as Temik, Thimet, and Furadan generally provide the longest and most effective control as compared to other treatment methods, but granular insecticides are more expensive than other applications. Seed treatments to be achieved. The key to determining whether the chemical is still effective is the lack of presence of immatures. These immatures are not winged. Therefore, their presence indicates that adults are living long enough to lay eggs in the field. The following treatment levels are in accordance with the average number of thrips found per plant in each field.

Livestock, equipment theft costly

The theft of livestock and ranch equipment in 1989 cost Texas and Oklahoma cattlemen and farmers millions of dollars, according to Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, A Fort Worth-based producer group that has fought the problem for more than a century.

In an annual report given today to its members, TSCRA Secretary-General Manager Don C. King said in 1989 the association's 32 field inspectors, all certified peace officers with special Ranger commissions, developed 103 theft cases, primarily involving cattle thefts. Working closely with state and local law enforcement officers, the inspectors recovered or accounted for 4,478 head of cattle and horses, 23 trailers, 216 saddles and miscellaneous ranch property valued at more than $3.59 million, or $9,841.68 per day.

"I cannot emphasize too strongly the important role that brand inspection in Texas played in resolving many of these cattle-related cases and the eventual recovery of these valuable animals for their owners," King said.

The cattle raisers group also employs approximately 82 brand inspectors who identify five to six million head of cattle at the time of their sale each year. They report their findings to the group's Fort Worth headquarters, where the information is tabulated for computer retrieval.

The theft of livestock in Texas is a felony offense even for the theft of one animal. This is a serious offense, a prison offense, King said, and with the help of the court system we are sending a strong signal to thieves that this kind of behavior will not be tolerated.

The cases worked in 1989 by the TSCRA field inspectors and other law enforcement officers, when presented for prosecution, resulted in almost 430 years of prison, probated, suspended and deferred sentences for the offenders. The courts ordered those convicted to pay more than $143,700 in restitution to the victims. Fines and court costs were assessed in the amount of $23,866, King said.

King encouraged all cattlemen and owners of farm and ranch equipment to take steps to protect themselves from theft. He invited them to contact their local TSCRA field inspector or the Fort Worth office for theft prevention information and other details.

Statistics list farming as most dangerous profession

Farming is America's most dangerous profession, according to statistics released recently.

Agriculture's accidental death rate is five times the national average for all injuries, said Thomas D. Valco, agricultural engineer for safety and mechanization with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Valco said the Texas safety picture parallels the national scene.

"The summer and fall months typically are the worst for farm and ranch fatalities," he said.

A total of 82 fatalities occurred on Texas farms and ranches in 1988, Valco said. Records of fatalities were obtained from death certificates and newspaper clippings.

"Most fatalities took place as a result of farm/ranch activities, but several deaths were a result of recreational activities such as hunting, swimming and horseback riding," he said.

Valco said the highest number of fatalities took place in July, with 13 deaths; while September followed with 12 and October with 11.

The age group between 20 and 29 recorded the highest fatalities with 15 deaths. About 47 percent of these were from gunshot wounds.

Next highest age category was between 60 and 69 years, with 12 deaths recorded. This group was followed by those 70 years or older, with 11 deaths.

"Eight children under age 10 died as a result of farming accidents. Many resulted from youngsters riding on farm tractors that hit a bump causing the child to fall under the equipment. Tractors have only one seat, and extra riders should not be permitted," Valco said.

He said tractors and associated machinery were the cause of 28 of all the recorded fatalities. Forty-eight percent of the machinery accidents was the result of people being run over by the tractors and equipment. Another 40 percent of the fatalities occurred from tractor overturns.

"Simple rollover structures could have prevented most of these deaths," Valco said.

Fatalities involving firearms were the next most frequent killer with 14 deaths. Most happened while hunting, being shot by another hunter or mishandling their firearm.

"Many of these victims lived in urban areas. Ranch owners need to insure that visitors follow safe hunting rules and require them to take firearm safety training," Valco said.

High frequency accident categories also were fires and explosions with seven fatalities, three of which occurred during grass fires.

Other farm vehicles, including pickup trucks and all-terrain vehicles, and highway accidents resulted in seven deaths.

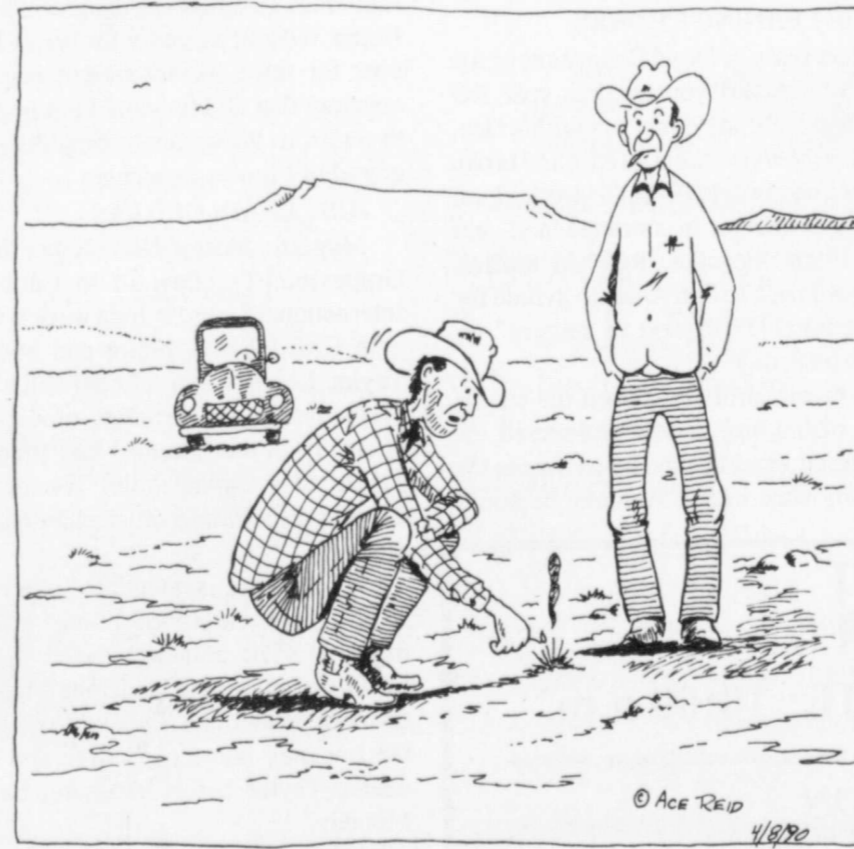

Three deaths occurred from falls, five involved animals, four resulted from drownings, five from being struck by objects, four from electric current, three from lightning and two from exposure and insect bites.

Valco said it is estimated that with every fatality, there are 100 permanently disabling injuries and 1,000 injuries that require hospitalization.

"Safety on the farm and ranch is a concern for everyone. By reviewing these statistics and incorporating safety into your farming activities, accidents can be prevented," Valco said.

CROP INSURANCE BULLETIN

The best time to turn in your acreage report is right after you finish planting while its fresh on your mind.

Cotton insurance has a difference set of rules for unit divisions this year. You need to report the crop on each farm separately and indicate the section number as well as the farm number.

Dryland and irrigated cotton need to be shown separately too.

In most cases it will be to your advantage to break your farms down into separate units if we can so that each one will stand on its own when you have a loss.

Come by or call and let us help you complete your acreage report form and we'll answer some of your questions at the same time.

Agent has video on barky cotton

A new videotape which will help Floyd County cotton farmers reduce bark contamination in their stripper-harvested cotton is now available for loan at the county office of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

County Agent, Brent Crossland, said the tape presents the latest ideas for managing bark, which can cause price discounts to the producer of $5 to $18 a bale. On the Texas High Plains, losses from bark contamination average over $5 million a year, the county agent said.

Bark is woody material from the cotton stalk. If it gets into lint for the textile mills, it causes difficulties in processing, imperfections in the yarn or fabric, and a lower value of the end product.

Dr. James R. Supak, Extension Service cotton agronomist at Lubbock, supervised production of the videotape for the Barky Cotton Task Force and Plains Cotton Improvement Program, with funding from Cotton Incorporated.

The videotape examines problems with bark and what causes them, and offers ways producers can manage the problems. These include cultural practices, timely use of harvest-aid chemicals and stripper modifications.

Cooperating with the Extension Service in the production were the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, CI, Texas Tech University, Oklahoma Cooperative Laboratory at Lubbock. It was produced by the broadcast bureau in Texas Tech's Office of News and Publications.

In addition to borrowing the tape from the county office of the Extension Service, producers may buy a copy of the tape for $10. The county agent has information on how to purchase it.

FAX used in economic development

Southwestern Public Service Company (SPS) announced a program designed to promote the region through technology commonly found today in U.S. offices — the fax machine.

The electric company has produced messages promoting the local four-state region that are designed to be affixed to the bottom of fax cover sheets. They are available free from SPS offices to any business in the service area using a fax machine. The material also can be obtained through local chambers of commerce and economic-development foundations.

The messages are available for Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Kansas. All read: "Wish you were here. . . Call and I'll tell you why!" The sheets are individualized for each community in which SPS maintains an office.

The Texas version carries the emblem for The High Ground of Texas, and the New Mexico version has the emblem for The Business Quarter of New Mexico. The Oklahoma and Kansas versions highlight those states. The High Ground and Business Quarter are regional economics-development efforts in which SPS participates.

"The proliferation of fax machines is truly incredible," said Gary Gibson, SPS vice president of marketing. "What an obvious way to spread the good news about this part of the country."

The economic-development messages are designed to be photocopied to the bottom of a company's existing cover sheets, which typically designate to whom the fax is being sent and from whom it originates. Most cover sheets have the company's letterhead at the top.

"We are all spokesmen for this part of the country. These messages will let everyone with a fax machine get in-involved in economic development. We're not asking businesses to send extra fax messages but to use the sheets in the normal course of business," Gibson said.

Carl Lemon's News & Views From Cedar Hill

WEATHER

This Tuesday morning thunder rumbles in the distance and lights at the Listening Post blink from time to time; constant reminders that the smart thing would be to unplug this computer and wait until the storm has passed. However a fast approaching deadline denies that luxury; the writing must go on.

Already the puddles at the Listening Post are filled with water; it is the beginning of the "rattlesnake rain"; the make-good on the Indian sign about which this column wrote a week ago. The voice of the turtle will be heard in the land; ducks nesting in Floyd County wheat fields will find a watery haven for their young when their eggs have hatched; and, country dwellers beware, there will be mosquitoes, hordes and hordes of starving mosquitoes seeking samples of your blood in the evening time.

We have had a touch of that annual late spring wind and heat which dries the last moisture from matured wheat plants and ushers in the harvest. On two succeeding days last week the mercury on the Listening Post's exaggerating thermometer pushed to points just below 100, then on Thursday it pushed past the century mark and hit 101.

CROP COMMENTS

The ripening of the wheat is pushing ahead at a rapid rate. At the pace it is going the county will definitely have received it's first load by the time this paper's June 7th issue has been printed.

The moisture and cool temperature which began late last week, coupled with Tuesday's showers, will add test weight to the older wheat, and will cause some of the late planted wheat, which had been classed "too sorry", to go ahead and be harvested. Even so, many acres of the latest seeded wheat has already suffered too much damage and will not pay the cost of harvesting.

The County's cotton crop is off to a wonderful start. Surely, somewhere in the County, there is a patch or two that has had to be planted over, but your writer certainly has not heard of it. Most growers reached deep into their pockets and bought certified seeds, an extra investment that appears to have paid off very well. Some who planted and got up a good stand of top quality gin-run seed are now able to see such a great difference that they think they would have been ahead to have planted the more expensive seed.

Moisture was beginning to pale after last mid-week and there were some fears that part of the crop would have to be replanted. By Monday enough of the questionable cotton had emerged to cause those farmers to delay; to "wait and see" another few days.

Community onions are now the size of "sharpie" pencils or "AAA" drycell batteries and are beginning to bulb, that is to swell at the end. Looking green! Looking good!

One patch of Cedar Hill's peppers, having been dry-planted prior to Saturday, lacked only a few hours having also been watered.

THE LEANING CEDARS

Everybody in Floyd County knew this except me and you but last year RG Dunlap went off down in Old Mexico, across the river from Del Rio, and broke his leg on the day before Christmas Eve. Being a stranger in a strange land, and not liking the odds, RG had himself shipped back to San Antonio in time for a memorable "session in surgery", on Christmas day.

A break hardly described the condition of his leg; perhaps splintered, or shattered would be the better words for it. Any way, in San Antonio, he could understand his surgeon's "anglo talk", and the metal "assist plate" they installed in his leg was "made in USA". Be assured when you see RG that he is All American, no foreign parts were incorporated.

Willard and Valerie Dunlap, RG's brother from north of Sacramento, CA., have visited with him for the last two weeks. Incidentally Valerie was made in England but that was so long ago that one has to explain to her when you speak of "Maggie" that you are talking about England's Prime Minister, Margaret Thatcher. They left on their homeward journey Monday morning. Willard and Valerie are both very much food and exercise aficionados. In English that means they are a pair of "health nuts," and their being here has been very good for RG.

At their behest, under their tutelage, he has accelerated his exercise regimen and is well on his way to overcoming his cane dependency; might even throw the thing away one of these days.

Goldie Brown Cypert has recently moved from her apartment at Lubbock's Pioneer Home to The Lockney Care Center. When Goldie was released from Methodist Hospital her daughter, Mary Helen Wilson, stayed with her at Pioneer for three weeks until it became apparent that Goldie would not be able to return to the self-help capability required of Pioneer residents.

JUST PLAIN CEDARS

May 26: Master Nick Joiner from Grapevine, Tx. flew in to Lubbock International Saturday for a week's visit with Grandparents Junior and Martha Taylor. Lots of room at Cedar Hill to fly that tethered, gas-powered, model airplane. Then too, Gramps had found a satisfactory fishin' hole. Wonder if Gramps also found a satisfactory bed of worms?

May 26: May Hammonds Taylor arrived at the Martha Taylor home Friday night to visit and attend the Floyd County Centennial, and Old Settlers festivities Saturday. She also visited in the Lockney home of George and Elwauna Taylor before returning home Monday.

May 27: Just graduated into Junior High! School turned out for the summer! Amy Gilley was looking forward to a relaxed, carefree vacation. Then a cloud crossed her sunny sky. Jamie, the dog she got as a puppy years ago, chased one car too many. Craig came home from changing the water that night and saw Jamie laying there. He moved her away then broke the news to the family, "Jamie won't be coming home tonight!"

May 27: Pastor and Mrs. Willis Dewey drove to Pampa after church services Sunday night. Their plans were to join with family and friends and participate in Pampa's Memorial services on Monday.

May 28: Cephuss and Imogene Fortenberry went to Bridgeport, Tx. Monday to visit her brother Doyle Love and his wife, Edna, along with other relatives who live in that area. Edna still lives in a Bridgeport Convalescent home.

May 28: Juanita Teeple met Edna Gilley and Marissa Fortenberry for a few day's outing at a cabin on the shores of Lake McKenzie. Two inches of rain Tuesday morning followed by threatening storm warnings sent the trio scurrying back to their homes for more substantial protection Tue. afternoon. Brighten your corner with humor; it is the sunshine of the soul!

PUBLIC NOTICES

APPRAISAL REVIEW BOARD FOR THE FLOYD COUNTY, TEXAS, APPRAISAL DISTRICT

Notice of Public Meeting of the Appraisal Review Board:

Notice is hereby given that a public meeting of the Appraisal Review Board of the Floyd County Appraisal District will convene at 7:30 A.M. on June 6, 1990, at the meeting room in the County Courthouse, Rm 107, and will continue in session at that time and place on June 6, 1990.

The board will examine and equalize the appraisal records of the chief appraiser, and will hear and determine taxpayer and taxing unit appeals on all matters permitted by TEX. PROPERTY TAX CODE Chapter 41.

The Appraisal Review Board will be in session until all tax appraisals have been equalized and approved and all timely filed appeals heard and resolved.

This notice is given pursuant to TEX. REV. CIV. STAT. ANN. art 6252-17.

Taxpayers who feel that the 1990 value of their property is incorrect are asked to please contact the appraisal district office immediately at 983-5256. If the situation cannot be resolved, the taxpayer will be given an opportunity to schedule a hearing with the Appraisal Review Board. In order to be entitled to a hearing, a written protest must be filed at the Floyd County Appraisal District office. DEADLINE FOR FILING A PROTEST IS June 1, 1990.

/s/ James H. Word
Chairman, Appraisal Review Board
5-31c

PUBLIC NOTICE Red River Gas Pipeline Corporation

Operates a gas pipeline in the county. Each line is marked where the pipeline crosses under the road and at other locations.

In the interest of public safety and to help maintain an uninterrupted supply of this vitally needed fuel, we request the following:

- Contact Red River if you plan to excavate, blast, or conduct construction operations within 200 feet of the pipeline right-of-way. WE WILL LOCATE THE PIPELINE FOR YOU.
- Advise others to contact Red River prior to performing any activity which might damage the pipeline.
- Contact Red River if you observe any activity such as drilling, excavation, blasting, etc., in the vicinity of the pipeline.

Telephone Number 915-445-4971 Call Collect

Reporting of Leaking or Damaged Pipelines

- If you know or suspect that the Red River Pipeline is leaking or damaged, stay away from the site. Do not strike matches, start cars, smoke, or provide any source ignition in the area of the gas. Encourage others to stay away from the site. NOTIFY RED RIVER immediately at the telephone number listed above.
- Gas leaks may be detected by observing blowing earth, bubbling water, sound of gas escaping, and by smell where gas is odorized.

Facts about Sweet Natural Gas

- Sweet gas is colorless and odorless.
- It is lighter than air and will rise and diffuse rapidly.
- It is neither toxic nor poisonous, but can cause suffocation in a confined space because of lack of oxygen.
- It will burn when mixed with air and ignited. Escaping gas can be ignited by open flames or sparks from electrical switches and motors, ignition systems, mechanical equipment and flying rocks striking substances which may cause sparks.
- The gas you receive in your home has an odor added so that you may easily smell a small leak.
