One car accident fatal to passenger

Coordinated efforts of several law enforcement and city agencies were called into action Tuesday afternoon when a fatal traffic accident occurred at the railroad crossing in the 600 block of East Houston (Highway 62-70). The one vehicle accident claimed the life of a Plainview resident and injured three others. No one involved in the accident was wearing a seatbelt according to police.

Rosa Linda Hernandez, 30, a passenger in the vehicle, was pronounced dead at the scene by Justice of the Peace Lowell Bilbrey. Bilbrey tentatively listed the cause of death as due to head and neck injuries.

Injured were the driver, Naomi Mayorga, 25, of Plainview, and her two children. Mayorga suffered injury to both legs and to her right arm. She was transported to Caprock Hospital and later transferred to Methodist Hospital in Lubbock.

The children, a 13 year old boy and a 19 month old girl, had cuts and bruises. The boy had been riding in the back seat and the girl was between her mother and the passenger in the front seat of the car. DPS trooper Chris Ray put the "Trooper Teddy Bear" carried as standard equipment in DPS vehicles to good use by giving it to the injured little girl as she awaited treatment.

The major accident, reported to Sheriff's Department dispatchers at approximately 3:50 p.m. June 12, sheared off a railroad signal standard adjacent to Weems Texaco and snarled traffic for more than an hour. Texas DPS troopers, Floydada City Police, Floyd County Sheriff's Department personnel, Floydada Volunteer Firemen and Caprock EMS personnel worked together to treat the injured and remove the victim from the car.

Patrolman Harold Snell stated that the accident apparently occurred when "the driver fell asleep at the wheel and lost control of the car as she was traveling west into Floydada." Computer generated estimates place the speed of the vehicle at approximately 68 miles per hour at the time of the accident according to Trooper Ray.

According to witnesses, the vehicle was traveling at a high rate of speed when it became airborne and struck the railroad signal light with the right front portion of the vehicle, turned over one time and came to rest on its roof.

Services for Mrs. Hernandez will be at 10:30 a.m. Saturday, June 16, in Spanish Assembly of God Church in Lockney. Interment will be at Lockney Cemetery under the direction of Moore-Rose-White Funeral Home.

Bid approved to reroof courthouse

Bids for reroofing the courthouse were opened at the regular monthly session of the Floyd County Commissioners Court on Monday, June 11. J. Q. Long Roofing of Plainview submitted the only bid for the project. Total cost will be $17,545.00. The bid was approved unanimously by the court.

The court approved the sale of three tax title properties if all other taxing entities involved agree. The court also approved payment of delinquent collection fees on a monthly basis through the appraisal district rather than directly to the attorney firm handling the collections.

The Texas Association of Counties has asked that all counties pass a resolution calling for the U.S. Postal Service to adopt a local government rate for official business as an alternative to the proposed rate hike the service asked for. The local government rate would allow government entities supported by tax payer dollars to mail official correspondence at a reduced rate. The resolution was passed by the court and signed by each commissioner and Judge Bill Hardin. It will be forwarded to the proper authorities to lend Floyd County voices of support to those now calling for a reduced postal rate.

A measure authorizing the county judge to sign an affidavit to the public concerning the closure of the Dougherty landfill was tabled pending more information concerning the ownership of and responsibility for the land involved.

Routine matters heard by the court included the monthly treasurer's report given by treasurer Glenna Orman. She stated that the county began the month with fund balances totaling $264,533.53 and took in receipts of $430,511.40. Disbursements totaled $459,289.14, leaving fund balances of $235,755.79 on May 31, 1990.

Orman also reported $284,000 in certificates of deposit which have earned $27,022.35 in interest since the beginning of the county budget year. Collection of taxes is now 95.76% complete according to the treasurer.

The court approved one farm work contract in Precinct 4 and voided a previously approved contract. Monthly bills were reviewed and ordered paid and the minutes of the May meetings were read and approved.

A special session was approved for Wednesday, June 13 at 9:00 a.m.

Juneteenth celebration set

By Bill Gray

The first public "Juneteenth" celebration in Floydada in over 30 years will be held at the Floyd County Courthouse pavilion on Tuesday, June 19. A barbecue dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m., with the program scheduled to commence at 8:00 p.m.

The dinner will be prepared by Willie Craver and served by the Mission Ladies of Mt. Zion Baptist Church. Tickets for the meal are $5.00, with children's plates available for $2.50. There is no admission charge for the event, and the public is invited.

The program will feature the combined choirs of several churches, singing traditional gospel and patriotic selections. John Campbell of Floydada is the general chairman for the celebration, which is an official function of the Floyd County Centennial. LaVada Garrett will coordinate the music and entertainment.

The keynote message will be delivered by Councilman T.J. Patterson of Lubbock. Mr. Patterson has long been associated with the activities of that city's Juneteenth observances.

Juneteenth is unique to Texas, and traces its origin to June 19, 1865. It was on that date, in Galveston, that Union General Gordon Granger arrived with 1800 federal troops, sent to supervise Reconstruction in Texas.

On the day of his arrival, General Granger issued a proclamation that freed all Texas slaves. This action carried out President Abraham Lincoln's 1862 Emancipation Proclamation. In 1863 the president declared freedom for all slaves who were living in Confederate states.

After the Civil War, former slaves were granted United States' citizenship and the men were awarded the right to vote. Women, regardless of their race, did not receive voting rights until the ratification of the Nineteenth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution in 1920.

In commemoration of Granger's 1865 proclamation, June 19 is observed as Emancipation Day in Texas. African-Americans throughout Texas are proud of their roots and heritage. Significant contributions have been made by Black citizens in the growth and development of Floyd county for over 90 years.

Board awards bid for new building

Bids were opened for the proposed construction of a building to house the Caprock Special Education Cooperative at the June session of the Floydada Independent School District. Vocational education programs for local and coop students will also find a home in the facility upon its completion late this summer.

Six bidders had representatives at the meeting on Monday evening as the bids were revealed, ranging from a high of $274,548.00 submitted by Halmark Systems Buildings to the low bid from Walter Davis Construction at $188,676.98. Falling in between were West Texas ($258,000), Associated Contractors Incorporated ($218,964), Brown & McKee ($223,158) and Vinson Construction ($204,700).

Motion was made by Andy Hale to accept the bid of Walter Davis Construction. Michael Hinsley provided the second and the board approved the awarding of the bid by unanimous vote. Board president Charlene Brown did not take part in any discussion or vote concerning the project to avoid any conflict of interest.

Estimated construction time was placed at 120 calendar days with work beginning as soon as possible. The board also approved a change order on the project moving the location of the new building from the originally proposed site at Della Plain to the South East corner of the high school location at the corner of Tree Street and Crockett Street.

According to school officials, this change will allow students at the facility to interact more closely with other students as well as placing them closer to administrative supervision and medical facilities if needed. The need for daily busing of students will also be decreased. Size of the building will be adjusted under the terms of the change order to include space for Joyce Williams' CVAE classes.

Among other matters handled at the meeting was the election of officers for the coming year. The current slate of officers was held over for an additional term. Charlene Brown will again serve as president with Michael Hinsley as vice president and Cyndiann Williams as secretary.

Resignations were accepted from Robert Redden (health and physical education at R. C. Andrews), Sharon Redden (4th grade) and Melinda Quattlebaum (1st grade). The board approved the hiring of Kathy Becker as a half-time home economics teacher, Kelly McCormick for high school government and history, Holly Lee for Junior High earth science and Donna Baer for 4th grade teacher.

Superintendent Jerry Cannon passed out preliminary information regarding the recently passed education funding reform bill. According to this information, FUSD will be required to increase taxes to meet the state average over a period of five years. An initial increase of at least $0.03 cents would be necessary for the 1990-91 school year with additional annual increases totaling a 30 cent increase in taxes over a period of five years in order to maintain eligibility for maximum state funding.

"The state is not going to be willing to provide funding for programs in a district that is not willing to tax and we have been unwilling to tax in the past," stated Cannon.

Board members expressing concern for local residents on social security and fixed income retirement were reminded by Cannon that current provisions of the tax code provide for freezing the rates of senior citizens at the level they are when senior status is achieved. These people would not face any increases over the level they now pay, or are paying when they attain that age.

The additional taxes raised at the local level should total approximately $56,000 for FUSD. In addition to this, state aid for the period is estimated at approximately $582,357.00. These figures are only estimates said Cannon. He also noted that average daily attendance would likely result in some form of reduction in most districts. Exact figures will be available after all aspects of the new funding bill have been worked out.

Board members reviewed preliminary 1990-91 budget requests from building principals and department heads during the meeting. They also looked at ideas for capital improvements for the coming school year. Final determination of budget items will be made in the months to come.

Among items considered for capital improvements at high school were a new ag pickup, a new suburban for driver training and district travel, air conditioning the auditorium, renovating the science lab and resurfacing the tennis courts. Junior high projects under consideration include renovation of the science lab, additional computers and new seats in the gym.

Chamber sponsors June 30 dance

In an effort to raise money for a community public address system, the Floydada Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a country-western dance, June 30.

The Porter Brothers, stars of radio, television, stage and recordings, will travel from Aurora, Illinois to help the chamber raise money for the P.A. system and other community activities.

"The Porter Brothers have agreed to come with no guarantees," said chamber manager Kathy Himes. "They will travel 1,600 miles, one way, and will be paid half the proceeds of the ticket sales. The other half will go to the chamber. It is very important that we sell a lot of tickets."

The Porter Brothers consists of three brothers, Darryl, Norm and Shannon, who sing the latest hits in group harmony.

Besides having their own television show for one year, they have also appeared with top recording artists on stage, television, and radio and have been featured on many of the top shows from Nashville.

By The Way

I'm afraid if I say that this will be the last week to print corrections for the Centennial issue, there will be a hundred people come in to point stuff out. Sooner or later we will quietly fade from this subject.

But - for history's sake here is another correction. The names of the first board of directors at Caprock Hospital are wrong.

Turn to page nine in the second section and change the original board members names to: Hollis Bond, A.H. Kreis, M.P. Goen, M.S. Robertson and L.T. Wood. Travis Jones took over A.H. Kreis' position at a later time and Walton Hale later assumed M.P. Goen's position.

Also, in the section entitled 100 Years of Pioneer Spirit, (page 21, Lockney Senior Citizens Story, 5th paragraph), change the name of Mayor Dan Bailey to Mayor Dan Smith.

A very nice Mr. John Rogers brought me a folder full of information on Floydada's 50th anniversary, when I first started asking for Centennial stories. It was very helpful and now I want to return it, but I can't find him in the phone book. Can anybody help me with this?

The Lockney and Floydada Chamber of Commerce's are both very busy this month planning activities to benefit the community.

Don't forget Lockney's Ol' Fashioned Saturday, June 23. There is going to be plenty of fun all day long and the popular Slow Motion Band will play at a street dance that night. The hat will be passed at the dance and all proceeds will go toward the ambulance fund in Lockney. In fact all the proceeds the chamber makes off the activities that day will go into the ambulance fund. So come out and support them.

The Floydada Chamber is also sponsoring a dance on June 30. This is a group that is not known to this area, but they are coming a long way to help the chamber raise money for a new P.A. system. The group is The Porter Brothers and have a list of credits to their name, longer than your arm. They will be joined on the stage by some local talent, and it should be lots of fun. Check out the stories in today's papers about the events.

Did anybody see the Today Show Tuesday morning? Bryant Gumbel was contributing his usual public service for the viewing audience, as uninformed dummy's. It was an eye opener. I hope all the youngsters get a chance to see it.

He was interviewing a man and his lawyer who were both black (which would be completely irrelevant to everyone except people like Bryant Gumbel).

The man was one of two band members, of the 2 Live Crew band, who was arrested recently for performing his song "As Nasty As Can Be," at a nightclub.

The song had recently been ruled obscene by U.S. District Judge Jose Gonzalez. They had been ordered to stop selling and performing the sexually explicit material, but they didn't, they got arrested and they were out on $100 bond (ouch-big time bail).

According to the Avalanche-Journal (I haven't bought the record), the rap song is a detailed discussion of sexual positions and practices. The report in the Lubbock paper said that lyrics of many of the songs on the album contain references to violence against women and abusive sex, though they're tempered with humor. (Isn't that sweet—I'm grateful).

The judge said that the recording lacked social value, appealed only to prurient interests and violated community standards in Dade, Broward and Palm Beach counties (It's nice to know they still have community standards).

Anyway that is more background history than this group deserves but I wanted to lay some ground work for Bryant's insightful interview.

Bryant listened to the 2 Live Crew member's story about how his freedom of speech had been violated, and it was only bad and obscene if people chose to look at it that way. If you chose to think the words were funny, then it was funny. (He was very articulate).

Bryant then asked if the man thought it was racially motivated. Of course the man thought that it was—Bryant, of course, knew he would say that or he wouldn't have asked it to begin with.

Bryant closed the interview by asking the man and his lawyer if they were aware of the recent ruling by the Supreme Court, which Bryant said, "stated that expressing yourself is not against the law just because it is offensive to someone." (This was in reference to the flag burning, and I don't think that was the wording by the Supreme Court justices). Bryant then asked the lawyer if he saw a chance to fight this case on those grounds. The lawyer was very happy of course and said that they would.

Bear with me for a moment while I allow my mind to wander over all the ramifications of this.

When I was working as a police officer at Rice University, one crime that kept us very busy were the men who would expose themselves to the joggers running around the campus. These weren't nighttime occurrences, but in the broad daylight in a busy area, where women and children should feel safe, but weren't.

Anyway, I've got a new idea for Bryant—and it's right up his alley.

I think Gumbel should go stand on a Houston street corner and wait for one of the low lifes to come expose himself. Gumbel should grab him up and have the pervert showered, shaved and dressed in a suit. The Today Show should then put the misunderstood homeless man on prime time T.V., with a lawyer, and point out to him that his constitutional rights have been violated. He was after all, only expressing himself, and it doesn't matter if it was offending anyone.

Decent people shouldn't have been outside in public in the first place.

On June 6, at 12:30 p.m., in the 400 block of E. Houston, a '79 Chevrolet pickup was traveling west on East Houston, pulling a boat and trailer. When the pickup hit the railroad tracks the trailer came unhitched and traveled off the road to the north side, and hit a state owned pedestrian crossing sign. The driver was cited for no proof of insurance. There was only minor damage to the boat and trailer.

Kai shares experiences encountered as a 'Texan'

(Editor's Note: Kai Plarin, Floydada's Exchange Teacher from Thailand, will be leaving Floydada early June 20. We will all miss him.)

By Kai Plarin

Bye, Y'all!
I had heard so much about Texas before I came to see it with my own eyes, especially from cowboy pictures which we saw in the late 60's. I pictured a small town with a lot of cowboys on horseback with ropes and guns, and myself acting like a cowboy. Well, that was almost totally different from what it is in reality. I was very excited to have learned that I was going to spend a whole school year in Texas. That was only three weeks before my trip. It took six hours by plane to Narita Airport, Japan, and twelve hours more to Washington, D.C. and about fifty-five minutes by domestic airline to New York where we, 20 Thai AFS exchange teachers, had a two-day orientation.

Everyone was well prepared but we felt as if we still had been deep in sleep and just couldn't follow much of the orientation. This is because of the time difference. The Thai time is exactly 12 hours ahead of the U.S. time, so we felt very sleepy during the orientation. It was night time in Thailand and I just couldn't go to sleep at night here because to me it was our day time.

I took three flights, New York - Chicago - Fort Worth - Lubbock, and right in front of the arrival gate was a real big paper sign saying "Welcome, Kaiyasit Plarin" held by a good-looking young man whom I recognized right at that moment saying to myself he must have been the same person as the one whose photograph and a copy of host application form I had got a couple of weeks before I flew to the United States. He is Mr. William Grant Hambricht. Standing with him were kind-hearted looking people; Mrs. Darlynn Hambricht, Mr. Pete Hickerson, and Mrs. Wanda Hickerson - President of the Floydada AFS Chapter. That was August 23rd, 1989.

The following morning I went to high school and was introduced to the principal, Mr. Ronnie Wood, and the staff. I was asked to have a photograph taken just like other staff and students. I met my master teacher, Mrs. Jan Thayer. She has been very supportive and we enjoy talking on various topics very much. I had been sleepless and the photograph taken that day turned out very good - exactly sleepless and sick-looking. Well, it took me a long while to adjust myself to the local time here.

I thought I had studied and learned quite a lot of the English language, but I have to confess that at first I couldn't understand much due to the different sounds, accents, and different meanings of particular words. This is what y'all call "Texan English". I talked to classes, clubs, and civic groups, and after I had said that my personal goal was to improve my English, there was always someone to say to me, "They sent you to a wrong place."

Well, I think I have been in the right place learning different and interesting ways of pronouncing and using words. Mr. Charles Tyer and Mrs. Jan Thayer lent me a few books on Texan vocabulary and phrases. I really enjoyed reading them.

Teaching English to American students, whose native language is English, may sound funny because it is not my own language. It was a great experience having a chance to get involved in the teaching process. Most of the seniors were very supportive and understanding. I also learned how they learned to be independent and outspoken.

I was greeted by Mrs. Lou Burleson one morning, "What do you know, Kai?" I did not know what to say and was asking myself what I knew. I learned later that that was one of many ways of greeting someone. This is so interesting to me that I have been collecting these greetings.

Jerry Wickware, a very good friend of mine, always greets me with "What are you up to, Kai?" Well, I explained to him what I was doing. Later on I learned that that was only a greeting and what we are supposed to say is "Nothing", though we are doing something seriously. And to the greetings like "What do you know?", "What do you hear?", "What do you see?", people say "Not much". I guess, if someone says "Much", he may need a lot of time to explain or to tell what he knows.

Mom (Mrs. Darlynn Hambricht) called me one day, "Kai, the Thompasons would like for you to go ha'n with them." I had to ask her to repeat, "To go what?" She said it slowly, "to go hunting". I am glad that I came over here to Floydada. If I had not come, I would not have understood the words which I had already known such as shop'n (shopping), ca'n (cotton), ha'n (hunting), sa'm (something), mana-a-nas (monotonous), cer'nly (certainly) and a lot more. I enjoy collecting words which I have already known but pronounced differently.

I taught English to seniors two classes a day and gave talks on World History and my country Thailand to other classes whenever opportunities became available. I enjoyed morning talks with the faculty and staff in the faculty lounge.

In the second semester I started my research work on American Education. I moved from high school to junior high school, to R.C. Andrews Elementary School, to A.B. Duncan Elementary School, to Della Plains School, to the central office of the Floydada Independent School District, and back to high school. I enjoyed talking to the staff and principals on education and other general topics.

Speaking of education, I have been very lucky to be here this year because the Texas legislators were working on the school funding bill. How they worked on it appeared in the newspaper almost every day from December 1989 to June 1990. I cut all these pieces of news from the beginning to the day it became law. Not only for the school bill, but I was also lucky to be here to see y'all celebrate the Floyd County Centennial. I have been so impressed with people and events that I have decided to come back for a visit. The words "Y'all come back" are really impressive.

The weather here is quite different from what it is in my hometown. We have an average 131 inches of rainfall per year, so it is not only hot but also very humid. The humidity makes it even much hotter. Here in Floydada y'all have about 17 inches of rainfall annually. That is very little, but what is so amazing to me that y'all still can grow a lot of plants and all kinds of vegetables.

The weather here is very severe; the lowest temperature was minus 2 degrees Fahrenheit around Christmas time in 1989; and was once, in June 1990, 104 degrees Fahrenheit. Well, the highest is about the same as it is in Thailand, but our lowest is about 50 degrees Fahrenheit - just fine for y'all, I guess. The wind is very strong here and y'all have hail and snow. We don't have snow and we rarely have hail.

I am grateful to many people and let me take this opportunity to let y'all know much I appreciate these people and the things they did for me.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tyer lent me a bicycle with which I went to places in town. Mrs. Jan Thayer has been very helpful both in the teaching process and in running errands in town, especially when the weather was bad. Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Thompson took me to their hometown, Wellington, in the Texas Panhandle, for quail ha'n. We hunted for two days and we got about 70 quails and five turkeys. It was my first time to really hunt and I shot one quail (accidentally?).

I was very excited to see snow and to ski. After Christmas the Sues; Johnny Bill, Margie, Kelby and Nicki, together with the Hambrichts; Mom and Dad (Gordon and Darlynn) took me to Sipapu in New Mexico. It was not snowing then and there was not much natural snow but there was man-made snow on the ski area.

Mom and Dad took me along to Pagosa Springs in Colorado. It was really pretty up there. The next morning we all went to Santa Fe. It was beautiful and very unique. On the way back to Camp Summer Life near Sipapu it was snowing heavily. It snowed all night, 8-12 inches thick.

The following morning, I went out skiing with Johnny Bill and Kelby. I took a ski lesson and I enjoyed it very much even though I fell many times. My bones were all sore a few days later. I still want to do it again if I have a chance. Johnny Bill paid for all my expenses up there; food, accommodations and the ski lesson. I found that being around Johnny Bill was real fun.

Clar Schacht took me around Floyd County to see a dairy farm, a dairy plant, a cotton gin plant, the Caprock Feed Lot, a cotton field, and a pecan plantation. It was a very good morning to see all these around the community.

Mom and Dad took me to Brady on September 1, 1989, to see the Goat Cook-off. There I met two real nice cowboys who really showed me how cowboys cook. These cowboys are Norman Muncy and Travis Jones. I enjoyed seeing these two cowboys and their friends working on the ranch of Joe Jones rounding up 146 cattle to load into two trailers. It took five cowboys one hour and a half to get all the work done. I think that was real fast.

Mr. Stanley C. Burleson and Mrs. Lou Burleson hosted me for a night and a day. It was the time they had cow branding on their ranch at the Flomot Arena. There were many cowboys helping them. When we were on the ranch rounding up the cattle, I felt like I was then in a cowboy picture. I helped wrestle a calf. Mr. Burleson put me on a horseback and I rode it amongst the cattle. That made me feel like I was a cowboy.

I came back to town that afternoon with Kyle Smith - President of Floydada Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture. I was invited as a special guest to the 42nd Annual Banquet, February 24th, 1990, by the Chamber of Commerce. I enjoyed the program by the guest speaker, Spike Dykes, head football coach of Texas Tech University. Friends who work at the post office have been very friendly and helpful. We always had good times talking. Freddie Morren, who works in the post office, and his wife, Laveta, who works at R.C. Andrews Elementary School, have been so friendly and so kind. They paid for shipping one of my boxes to Thailand for me.

When I first came from New York, I stopped over at Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport. Mr. and Mrs. Ben B. Berryhill of Grand Prairie came and picked me up together with two AFS students, one from West Germany and the other from Yugoslavia to have lunch at their house.

When I went to Norman, Oklahoma, to attend the conference of TESOL (Teachers of English to Speakers of Other Languages) at the University of Oklahoma (Norman). This loving couple came to meet me at the airport. I am grateful to Mr. and Mrs. William Russell Pyle of Norman, Oklahoma, who hosted me during the conference.

I was invited to talk about my country and customs to many groups besides the schools. They are the Lions Club, Rotary Club (twice), 1950 Study Club, First Christian Church (twice), First United Methodist Church (twice), Rotary Club (Lockney), First Baptist Church in Wellington, Silverton High School and March of Time Study Club.

I have been to impressive places: San Antonio, Austin, Waco, Brady, Abilene, in Texas; in New Mexico, Albuquerque, Santa Fe, Taos and Sipapu; in Colorado, Pagosa Springs and Creed; and in Oklahoma, Norman and Oklahoma City. I went to Six Flags last weekend with the Bobby Rainers; Trina, Chris, and Alissa Wilson; and Grant. I enjoyed the rides very much, especially the Shock Wave.

I was given a senior ring as a Christmas gift, which I love very much, by the Floydada AFS Chapter together with the High School Student Council and the seniors. I will always be reminded of Floydada for the rest of my life. I was given a cowboy hat by AFS and the Lions Club. A pair of ropers to make me look more like a cowboy was given to me by the Hambrichts as a Christmas gift.

I am grateful to the Floydada AFS Chapter for hosting me in this community. I am grateful to all the Hambrichts who made me feel a part of the family and I really feel that I am a Hambricht.

I need to thank all the students, school staff, and all the principals and especially Mr. Jerry Cannon for providing. Continued On Page 4

I was a patient in our hospital this past week. I found the care given to me wonderful. I felt I was in very competent and professional hands.

Inez Miller gives travel program to Harmony

The Harmony Extension Club met May 28 at the Harmony Community Center in the club room with Karen Miller as hostess.

The meeting was called to order by the president Mae Williams.

The devotional was read by the hostess Karen Miller. Roll call was answered by "A Place I Have Always Wanted To Visit and Why."

The program was travel knowledge and etiquette given by guest speaker, Inez Miller.

It was a very interesting program as Mrs. Miller gave her own experiences of travel in England, Scotland, France, Spain and Japan. She stated that the Japanese people were so very friendly and one of the cleanest places she had ever been was Tokyo. The population in Japan is enormous. The farms consist of about two acres.

Inez is the wife of D.L. Miller. They are residents of Barwise Community. The trip to Japan took them for a visit with a son and family who is in the Navy and stationed in Tokyo, Japan. They had made their home in Japan for three years.

The club members and visitors enjoyed the experiences of the foreign countries.

Refreshments were served by the hostess to the following club members, Lucille Miller, Imelda Murry, Mae Williams, Juanita Poole, Vivian Curtis, Blanche Williams, Ruth Scott, Anna Maude Hopper, Doris Snodgrass, and three visitors, Inez Miller, Janet Scott and Gertrude Smitherman.

DAR met at Lighthouse

Buffalo Grass Chapter NSDAR met May 22 at Lighthouse Electric. Mmes. Ona Ruth Neff and Susan Dunavant were hostesses to a salad supper served to one guest, Mrs. Linnie Abbott of Lockney and to the following members: Mmes. Gene Reed, Vera Jo Bybee, Dorothy Hodges, Sherry Colston, Mary Lou Bollman, Nancy Marble, June Sherman, Emily Johnston and Loretta Denning.

Sanders inducted into honor society

Barbara Sanders, a Tarleton State University student from Floydada, was one of 74 TSU students inducted into the Phi Eta Sigma national freshman honor society during the spring semester.

Students inducted into the society must have been enrolled full time at the University and have earned at least a 3.5 grade point ratio as freshmen. Only eight percent of college freshmen throughout the nation achieve this distinction.

Barbara is an Accounting major at the University and she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D.R. Sanders of Floydada.

Phi Eta Sigma was founded in 1923 at the University of Illinois with the purpose of encouraging and rewarding superior academic achievements among freshmen. It was chartered on the Tarleton campus in 1981, and there are over 200 chapters throughout the United States and the District of Columbia.

Mrs. Sherry Colson displayed a Floyd County Centennial flag that she and the members of the Gifted and Talented Class in junior high had made to be used during the Floyd County Centennial Celebration.

Mrs. Susan Dunavant gave the "Centennial Jubilee" program. This covered a century of service to the nation - the history of one hundred years of DAR.

Mrs. Linnie Abbott was voted to membership in Buffalo Grass Chapter. The next meeting will be Sept. 24.

Pesticide in test wells disappears

Resampling and analysis of groundwater from irrigation wells shows no trace of pesticides, according to High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 officials.

A. Wayne Wyatt, manager of the Water District, points out that this sampling effort indicates that the chemicals being used in agriculture within the Water District service area are not percolating down through the soil and entering the groundwater.

"Every indication we have says that in this area, the chemicals break down and/or bind up with the soil before they get anywhere near the groundwater. We are very fortunate that our groundwater is deep enough below the land surface that it is somewhat protected from pollution through the percolation of chemicals through the subsurface strata (non-point source pollution)," says Wyatt.

This assurance comes as a result of the most comprehensive groundwater sampling effort in relation to agricultural chemicals yet made in the United States.

"We were fairly certain that there was not a problem," says Wyatt. "However, the general public has heard and seen so many 'scare' stories that there seems to be a widely-held notion that agricultural chemicals are seeping down and poisoning the groundwater. We thought it was time to have some factual data. If there was a problem, then we needed to do something about it. But, if there wasn't a problem, we needed to know that, too, and pass the word along," he says.

During August of 1988, Water District field personnel took ground water samples from 90 irrigation wells. These individual samples were combined into 31 composite samples with no more than three individual well samples in any one composite. The composite samples were then analyzed to determine if the 19 pesticides used in the largest quantities over the longest period of time within the 15-county Water District service area would be found in the groundwater.

Of the initial 58 analyses (individual analyses for 19 pesticides on the 31 composite samples, 14 analyses showed trace amounts of six pesticides. They were Diuron (Karmex); Bromacil (Dix); Atrazine (AAtrex); 2, 4-D; Dicamba (Banvel); and Glyphosate (Roundup).

All trace amounts found were below small area of groundwater near the entry point is contaminated. In this case, pumping of the well is likely to pump the contaminate back out of the well, and the groundwater quality is usually not permanently degraded.

Wyatt says that he is relieved to find that there is not a non-point source pollution. The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's (EPA) proposed health advisory limits for each identified chemical. Most chemical amounts were expressed in parts per million or parts per billion. One part per million is equivalent to one ounce in 32 tons while one part per billion is one drop in 10,000 gallons of water.

Other chemicals analyzed for, but not detected in the composite groundwater samples, were Alachlor (Lasso), Metolachlor (Dual), Chlorpyrifos (Lorsban), Diazinon, Phorate (Thimet), Propazine (Milogard or Milo-Pro), DDT, Aldicarb Sulfone (Temik), Silvex, Picloram (Tordon or Grazon PC), Arsenic Acid, Trifluralin (Treflan) and Paraquat. The results of all the analyses were published in the November 1988 issue of the Water District's monthly newsletter, The Cross Section.

After the initial test results, District personnel collected additional water samples from all but three of the 37 wells contributing to the 14 composites showing contamination. Each of these samples was analyzed for the specific pesticide(s) found in the first test.

Only two irrigation wells continued to show trace amounts of agricultural chemicals after the second sampling effort. These two suspect wells were resampled a third time and the subsequent analyses indicated no chemical trace.

Bush declares major disaster

At the request of Texas Governor Bill Clements, President George Bush has declared that a major disaster exists in the State of Texas because of severe storms, flooding and tornadoes in some counties.

If you suffered storm damage on or after April 15, 1990, you may be eligible for state and federal disaster assistance. A toll free number has been set up to assist those filing claims. The number is 1-800-782-6681 and it will be in operation seven days a week. Hearing impaired persons may apply by using a telecommunications device for the deaf and calling the number 1-800-762-7983.

Possible areas in which assistance will be available include temporary housing grants, loans to repair damage to homes, personal property and businesses, grants for serious needs not met by other programs, emergency help from voluntary agencies, assistance from a variety of local, state and federal agencies and loans for agricultural losses.

Before calling, have the following information ready: Your address at the time of the disaster and the address you are staying at now; your social security number, a list of the damages and losses you suffered; good directions to the damaged property; your insurance policy number or the agent's and company name, if insured.

Additional information may be available at emergency management offices. Disaster recovery assistance is available to any individual without regard to race, creed, color, sex, religion, national origin or handicap. Anyone who feels he or she has been discriminated against should contact the Federal Coordinating Officer or the State Coordinating Officer at once.

It was important to learn whether or not the amount of chemical found in the samples increased or decreased over time. If the contamination decreased each time a sample was analyzed, the most likely source of the chemical contamination was point source pollution from some use of the chemical at or near the well site.

Point source pollution occurs when contaminants reach the groundwater through wells or other open pathways to the aquifer. Substandard well construction, uncovered abandoned wells, and agricultural spills are among the causes of point source pollution. Usually, when this type of pollution occurs, only a lution problem from agricultural chemicals within the Water District. But he warns, "We have got to continue to be careful with the handling of these chemicals to be sure that we don't pollute the aquifer directly through careless handling around susceptible areas such as wells.

"The fact that we didn't find much pollution in our sampling program means that most farmers are handling these chemicals safely. We congratulate the area producers for that. However, the fact that we found even trace amounts means that there is still room for improvement in chemical use and handling," says Wyatt.

Grain sorghum used for auto wax

By Barbara Kliment, Director, Nebraska Grain Sorghum Development and Marketing Board

The radiant sheen and satiny finish of a finely crafted piece of furniture or a new car has a way of catching the eyes of people passing by. Have you ever wondered how these showcased items got their beautiful coating? The protective finish was probably achieved by using carnauba, a premium vegetable wax. Carnauba wax is derived from palm leaves and is imported from Brazil at prices ranging from $1 to $2.50 per pound.

Because of the high cost of carnauba, scientists are looking for alternatives to use in wax formulas. And much attention and research in this area has focused on grain sorghum. The project, "Screening of Oils, Waxes and Tannins from Grain Sorghum", is being funded by the Nebraska Grain Sorghum Development, Utilization and Marketing Board.

Grain sorghum is thought of solely as a grain crop with few industrial, nonfeed uses, says Dr. Dave Clements, professor of chemical engineering at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. However, sorghum has about 3.3 percent oil content.

"The total oil content is not necessarily the basis for a major new market," Clements says. "But the composition of the oil suggests some specific opportunities." According to Clements, the waxy oil from sorghum bran chemically resembles carnauba. The leaves and stalks to grain sorghum contain more wax than the seeds do.

The research being done to recover wax from sorghum is the initial step toward defining a production process. "So far our work has shown that there is a raw wax yield of 2.5 to 3 percent by weight from the as-received grain," says Bill Mammel, chemical engineering undergraduate student conducting the research.

Mammel was pleased that the yield of raw wax was considerably higher than originally anticipated, as much as ten times more. He added, however, the

NEW SHOWROOM--Since the closing of Martin and Company Implement, at 216 South Main, Oden Chevrolet has repaired and painted the building and it is being used for additional showroom space. Fred Martin, owner of the building, said, "I am very pleased that Oden Chevrolet is occupying this building. It is better for the community to have the building being used instead of standing vacant." Staff Photo extraction process is slow, taking about 15 hours to complete.

On a positive note, Mammel says the wax is highly resistant to acids, which could lend the product to be a good protective coating. Lab work now focuses on a process to refine the wax so it isn't quite so soft and tacky.

The results will serve as the basis for a preliminary process design and cost evaluation. There are three criteria that must be met for a new product to be economically viable: 1. the material must be recoverable; 2. the properties of the new material must be equal to or exceed the presently used material; and 3. the new material must cost the same or less.

"It's too early for us to speculate on whether or not we have a new industry here," Clements says. "But, we hope to have a product available soon."

PUBLIC NOTICE

Public Notice

TO ALL FORMER AND CURRENT INTRASTATE WIDE AREA TELECOMMUNICATIONS SERVICE (WATS/800) SUBSCRIBERS:
Southwestern Bell Telephone Company has instituted a Class Action Lawsuit seeking judicial approval of a settlement reached in Docket No. 7297, an inquiry of General Counsel of the Public Utility Commission of Texas into possible overcharges which occurred between September, 1976, and February, 1987, due to rounding practices, on bills of intrastate WATS/800 customers sent by Southwestern Bell and other telephone companies which concur in Southwestern Bell's tariff. The suit is styled "Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, Plaintiff, vs. MCI Telecommunications Corporation, A Member of the Class of Texas Intrastate WATS and 800 Service Customers Who Paid Overtime Charges From September 1976 Through February 1987, Defendant," and identified as Cause No. 471,460 in the 126th Judicial District Court of Travis County, Texas.

Pursuant to the settlement, while not admitting liability, Southwestern Bell, the other local exchange telephone companies in Texas, and AT&T Communications of the Southwest, Inc. have agreed to pay refunds to those WATS/800 customers who paid overtime charges attributable to the rounding practices for intrastate WATS/800 services at any time between September, 1976, and February, 1987. The refunds will be based upon either the actual or estimated amount of overtime charges attributable to such rounding practices. An exact refund will be determined for customers able to produce copies of their WATS/800 service bills. For customers who do not have copies of their WATS/800 service bills to establish actual overtime charges paid, an average refund of $4.53 to $5.95 per WATS/800 service line per month will be applied. All claims will be subject to verification. The refunds will also include interest at the rate of 7.80% per annum.

Claim Forms And Additional Information

Those customers who think they may be entitled to a refund or who desire more information must call 1-800-782-3026, 8:30 a.m. - 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, or write to WATS Refund Pool Administrator, One Bell Plaza, Room 670, P. The WATS Refund Information Package will contain further information regarding the lawsuit and eligibility for a refund, a description of documentation required to support a customer's claim for refund, and a refund claim form to be filled out and submitted requesting a refund. REQUESTING A WATS REFUND INFORMATION PACKAGE DOES NOT OBLIGATE YOU IN ANY WAY.

All claims for a refund must be received by the Refund Pool Administrator by Friday, October 5, 1990, and all rejections of the settlement (that is, requests for exclusion from the class action lawsuit) must be received by the Court by Wednesday, September 5, 1990. Only those who respond by filing a claim or by filing a rejection of the settlement, as explained in the WATS Refund Information Package, will receive notice of future developments in this proceeding.
