APPOINTED MAYOR SWORN IN—Shortly after 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, July 10, 1990, Wayne Russell was sworn in as Mayor of Floydada. Russell fills the unexpired term of the late Parnell Powell and will serve until the next city election following unanimous approval of his appointment by the city council. City Council appoints Wayne Russell Mayor

By Juanita Stepp

Councilman at-large and Mayor Pro Tem Wayne Russell was unanimously appointed to fill the unexpired term of mayor during the Tuesday, July 10, session of the Floydada City Council. Motion for the action to fill the post left vacant by the death of Parnell Powell was made by councilman Amado Morales. Councilman Wayne Tipton provided the second. Russell will serve in the post until the next municipal election in May 1991. He must then stand for election to the post or step down as Mayor.

Russell was sworn in and assumed his new duties immediately following the vote. His first order of business was to call for nominations for a new Mayor Pro Tem. Councilman Leroy Burns nominated Tipton for the post and councilman Ruben Barrientos nominated Burns. Burns was voted into the post by a unanimous show of hands. As Mayor Pro Tem, Burns will act as mayor during any absence of Mayor Russell.

The councilman at-large post left vacant by Russell's appointment as mayor will not be filled at this time. According to the regulations under which the city operates, the council may leave the post vacant at this time.

"With Eric Cornelius serving as an at-large councilman, the city is well represented," according to Russell and no special election will be held to fill the post. A new at-large member will be welcomed following the municipal elections next spring.

RESOLUTION OF SYMPATHY

The council voted to pass a resolution for delivery to the family of Parnell Powell expressing sympathy upon his death and recognizing his many years of devoted service to the people and city of Floydada.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

The council entered an executive session to discuss police personnel. No formal action was taken following the executive session. Mayor Russell indicated that none could be taken until certain budget considerations were worked out for the coming fiscal year. The council set July 16 at 7:30 p.m. as the date and time for a workshop session to deliberate on the 1990-91 budget which will take effect on October 1, 1990.

TDOC BLOCK PAVING GRANT DISCUSSED

A public hearing was conducted concerning the possible submission of a grant application for community development funds from the Texas Department of Commerce. A decision was made to submit a request for block grant funds to pave an additional ten blocks within the city limits.

Estimated cost of the proposed project is $187,958.00. The city will provide matching funds of $25,000.00 in order to attempt to secure a grant of $162,958.00 in block grant funds. Motion for the action came from councilman Tipton, seconded by Barrientos and passed by unanimous vote.

Commissioners vote to discontinue county employee health insurance

By Juanita Stepp

Following a regular monthly session on Monday, July 9, the Floyd County Commissioners Court conducted a public hearing and a lengthy discussion of the proposed county budget for 1990-91. The hearing, conducted under the VTCA Local Government Code, Section 152.013, was for the purpose of "setting salary, expenses and other allowances for elected county or precinct officers."

Designated as an insurance allowance, an increase of $150 was implemented for the coming budget year beginning October 1, 1990. This $150 will be added to the current salary of each full time county employee now covered by health insurance. This action is being taken due to a decision by the commissioners not to provide health insurance coverage for county employees after October 1, 1990.

The salaries were set following the morning session in which Precinct 1 Commissioner Connie Bearden made a motion to "cease to provide health insurance coverage" effective October 10, 1990, and to instead compensate each eligible employee with $150 per month (the approximate amount now paid by the county for insurance) which the employee may use to provide coverage on an individual basis. The motion was seconded by Precinct 4 Commissioner Kay Crabtree after a long discussion period. Crabtree stated, "I'll second just to bring it to a vote."

The vote recorded was Bearden and Crabtree for the motion with Precinct 2 Commissioner Floyd Jackson and Precinct 3 Commissioner George Taylor voting against. Judge Bill Hardin cast the deciding ballot, voting in favor of the motion to cease providing health insurance.

Proposed salaries as published in the Floyd County Hesperian the past three consecutive weeks for the named officials are as follows: county judge, $18,684.00; commissioners, $15,156.00 each; county clerk, district clerk, county treasurer, county tax assessor, county sheriff and Justice of the Peace Precinct 1 & 4 are each slated to draw annual salaries of $18,684.00. These salaries include the $150 insurance allowance adjustment which is the only increase each official will receive under this proposed budget. The new salaries will become effective on October 1, 1990 if the proposed budget is adopted as it now stands.

The office of county attorney was not on the published list as the office is vacant at present and the commissioners court opted to set the salary for that office at $7200 per year. Salary decreases are not required to be published. A decrease has also been proposed in the salary for Justice of the Peace for Precinets 2 & 3.

The proposed budget cuts the current salary of $14,036.00 to $9,000 and provides for the addition of the $150 monthly insurance allowance, making the total yearly salary for the office $10,800. Motion for this action was made by Bearden, seconded by Crabtree and passed by unanimous vote. Commissioner Taylor expressed his reluctance to vote on the motion as phrased saying, "I do not feel that this is a fair way to treat an elected official. I do not want to cut the salary, but I do want to continue the JP salary for Precincts 2 & 4 at the current level and implement the insurance allowance, but his motion died for lack of a second.

A second motion also died for lack of a second Tuesday afternoon as budget discussions continued. Bearden made a motion to increase the proposed budget for the extension office by $4,000 to be used for the purpose of securing an assistant ag extension agent to work in Floyd County. None of the three remaining commissioners provided a second, leaving the matter without support. Floyd County will not have an assistant agent under this proposed budget.

Other adjustments made in the proposed budget or changed from the 1989-90 budget now operating include decreasing the funding for senior citizens by $2000. The $1000 contributed each year to the senior citizen centers in both Lockney and Floydada was taken out of the budget. The proposed budget does continue the $1000 in funding contributed to operate the senior citizens van transportation network.

South Plains Emergency Medical Services (SPEMS) has been written into the proposed budget for $3000. This will fund the education and emergency care programs SPEMS oversees in the south plains area. Included in this is the repeaters used for radio communications between ambulance services and hospitals throughout the area. $12,000 in funding currently divided between the Floydada ambulance service and the Lockney ambulance service was reduced to $9000 for the coming year in the proposed budget. Both services now receive $500 per month towards their operating costs. Under the proposed 1990-91 budget, each will receive $375 per month.

The proposed budget is based on a tax rate of $0.33555 per $100 valuation. This is an 8 percent increase from the $0.3122 rate levied this year. The fund-

SPS and Lighthouse agree on service to Azteca milling plant

Southwestern Public Service Company and Lighthouse Electric Cooperative have agreed in principle on a plan to jointly provide service to the Azteca corn milling plant under construction near Plainview.

"We appreciate the cooperation between the two power suppliers and are moving full speed ahead on construction of the facility," said Azteca Vice President Fred Lange.

SPS and Lighthouse intend to share the electric load at the new Azteca facility, said Lighthouse General Manager Billy C. Harbin and SPS Vice President of Marketing Gary Gibson in a joint statement.

The plant site is partly in Lighthouse's service territory and partly in the service territory of SPS. The two power suppliers intend to cooperate on designing an electric distribution system to the Azteca facility that will include service from a single line. This is important from a safety standpoint, Lange said, and was a major reason Azteca had originally preferred to have just one power supplier.

SPS, Lighthouse and Azteca are finalizing details of the necessary agreements.

"We felt it was important to resolve this issue quickly to assure timely service for Azteca and to emphasize cooperation in economic development for this region," Harbin and Gibson said.

Price of law books reported incorrectly

It was incorrectly reported in last week's story, titled District Judge asks for audit of funds, that the law books which District Attorney McPherson hopes to buy will cost $16,942.57. They will, in fact, cost $6,942.57. It was our error. We apologize.

Second Annual High Plains Junior Rodeo slated this weekend

The Floydada Rodeo Association will hold their 2nd Annual High Plains Junior Rodeo on Friday and Saturday night, July 13 and 14, at the rodeo grounds.

Performances will begin each night at 7:30 p.m.

The public is invited to attend. For more information contact Vickie Pitts, at 983-2315.

Residents' opinion sought for County Community Center

The Floyd County Extension Community Development Committee is still working on plans for a multi-purpose County Community Center. An interest poll is in this issue of the newspaper. If you have not taken the time to fill it out, please do so! YOUR interest will determine if the Center is built!

Funding is the most challenging issue of the Community Center. The committee wants to build a facility large enough that it can be used for a wide variety of activities and functions. To do this will take a great deal of money. There is a good chance that some grant money can be obtained, but that money will need to be matched.

You will notice that one of the questions in the poll this week is "Would you be willing to vote for a bond election to pay for the Center?" The idea of the committee is to make this center where everyone in the county will use it at one time or another and the committee wants to know if everyone is willing to help pay for it!

The Community Development Committee wants to know if YOU are truly interested in building, maintaining, and using this facility.

Please take the time to fill out the interest poll found in this issue. Feel free to make any comments or suggestions on the poll. Return the poll to the Extension Office or drop it by First National Bank of Floydada or First National Bank of Lockney.

The Community Development Committee is willing to work hard to meet the needs of our county. All they need is support from YOU. Give your opinion today!

Swimming pool serves as escape from heat wave

The Floydada Swimming Pool got a booming start this year with crowds cooling off from the sizzling heat wave, beating down on the South Plains.

"There have been several days that there have been over 100 people swimming at the pool," said John Ballew. John and his wife, Dedria, of Lockney, will be managing the city's swimming pool throughout the summer.

The pool is open every day, except Mondays, from 1:00 p.m.-5:30 p.m. Admission into the pool is $2.00 for six years old and over. Those under six years are admitted for $1.00. Tuesday and Thursdays are dollar nights.

Ballew states that all children under six must be supervised by an adult. Parents should not drop off young children and expect the lifeguards to be baby-sitters.

Certified Red Cross lifeguards are on duty any time the pool is open. The lifeguards, Mark Phillips, Becky Poole and John Ballew, all have CPR and first aid training.

A lot of fun activities are available for children during regular hours at the pool, and the pool is also available for after hour entertainment.

"The pool can be rented out for parties, any night you want, from 7:00 p.m.-9:00 p.m., for $35.00," said Ballew.

"Whenever attendance reaches 100 people (during regular hours) we have diving for dollars," said Ballew. "The pool is cleared and we throw money in." The rest of the game is self explanatory!

Ballew is also available to teach swimming lessons. "The cost is $35.00 for two weeks. I've taught over 200 kids how to swim in Memphis Texas, and I'll start here on July 10th."

The lessons start at 10:00 a.m. on Tuesday. Another lesson begins at 5:30 p.m. All ages are welcome and Ballew urges those who are interested to be there at 10:00 a.m. to sign up and divide into age groups. For more details call the pool at 983-8128.

BREAKFAST IS SERVED -- Kicking off the Fourth of July festivities in Floydada, Pay-n-Save served free breakfast to almost 1300 people. Hot dogs were a sell out at lunch time with five thousand being served. Apparently the unseasonably hot weather did nothing to dampen appetites! Staff Photo

By The Way

By Alice Gilroy

There is still a desperate need for people to help with the Floyd County Fair.

I heard one of the people on the Fair Board complaining the other day about the lack of support in the community. She made some really good points.

Don't sit back and complain about the fair if you're not willing to come forward and put your complaints into action.

If there is no fair this year it's because there was no support. Don't take your complaints to the people that have been working at it - they are at least trying.

There is a letter to the editor in the Lockney Beacon that explains it better than I can. She is speaking from personal involvement.

I want to thank Johnny Summers at Pay-N-Save, and all the people who helped him out, for the great 4th of July celebration.

It sure was fun! The crowd was incredible.

Johnny said that they served almost 1,300 people at breakfast and sold 5,000 hot dogs at lunch.

The band was great, the food was good and the little ones thoroughly enjoyed Batman, Ninja Turtle, Ernie the Elf, and Kool Aid Pitcher, and Elsie the Cow.

Rest now Pay-N-Save, next years 4th of July is just around the corner!

Friday afternoon I was cleaning out our car in our driveway. I had the vacuum cleaner going sucking up the boulders on the floor and my three year old was crawling in and out, helping me anyway he could.

He was a little concerned about the clouds he saw building over Lockney (he hadn't seen any in over a month) and he kept telling me to hurry before it rained.

I laughed and told him not to worry because it wasn't going to rain, but that I wish it would because we needed it so bad.

He pondered that for awhile and then stuck his head out the back window and started shouting (so he could be heard over the vacuum) at the top of his lungs, "PLEASE GOD, PLEASE MAKE IT RAIN!" He repeated that a few times and then went back to playing around the car.

In about 15 minutes we had a little shower come through Lockney.

So I've decided to make a deal with you farmers and gardeners. For $50.00 I'll bring my son to your field for five minutes. He can say his prayers and run around your field. I bet you'll get rain.

He obviously has got a lot of pull!

Besides the rain, the neat thing about that experience was how un-surprised he was that it rained. I love the simplicity of children's faith. How come we mess it up?

While I'm on the subject of children's faith, I've got one more story.

Yesterday, Brandon and I, crawled out of the car to go into his very first swimming lesson. The bright sun hit us suddenly and Brandon sneezed three times in a row, (the sun makes him sneeze).

I said, "God Bless You, God Bless You, God Bless You."

He said, "He blesses you all the time."

Courtroom Activities

In District Court, July 6, the probation of Angel Velasquez, 45, of Ralls was revoked.

He had been placed on probation April 16, 1990 for four years for felony DWI. After being released from jail, Velasquez received another DWI on April 27, 1990. His probation was revoked and he will be sent to TDC for four years.

Also in District Court, the probation of Anthony Wayne Emert, 19, of Lockney was modified.

Emert had been placed on probation for five years for a burglary of a motor vehicle, which occurred on May 6, 1989.

His probation was modified on July 6, because he failed to meet the terms and conditions of probation.

Emert will now be required to go to Allen Recovery Center for 28 days to be treated for alcohol and drug abuse. Upon completion from ARC, Emert will be sent to boot camp for 90 days. Upon completion there he will be returned for continuation of probation.

In County Court on July 2, Joe Collins was charged with fleeing a police officer. There was no disposition on this case.

July 3, Ella W. Davis was charged with possessing marijuana. No disposition.

July 5, Jose A Benavides was charged with selling alcoholic beverage in dry area and possessing alcoholic beverage with intent to sell in dry area. No disposition.

Lourie D. Buchanan was also charged on July 5 with possessing alcoholic beverage with intent to sell in dry area and for possessing liquor for purpose of sale in dry area. No disposition.

Ella W. Davis was charged with selling alcoholic beverage in dry area. No disposition.

On July 6, Olivia Martinez was charged with driving while her license was suspended. No disposition.

On July 7, Kenneth Ray Powell pled guilty to the following July 5 charges: selling alcoholic beverage in dry area, fined $200.00 plus $152.50 in court costs; possessing beer with intent to sell in dry area, fined $200.00 plus $152.50 in court costs.

May 22-July 10 there have been 328 misdemeanor cases filed in the J.P.'s office.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Sir:

My first remembrance of Parnell Powell was when I was six years old. A large hand grasped mine, and when it departed, I was looking down at some bubblegum and candy.

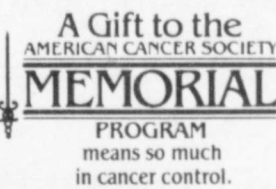

Throughout my long friendship with "Parn", he gave me more gum and candy, plus comic books, a grocer's uniform (complete with a broom and real store to play in), and in high school, a job as a real sack boy. He even gave me a pair of his fancy dress shoes (two tone black and white!) because we had the biggest feet in Floyd County.

Somehow, through my journey from childhood to so-called adulthood, nothing changed between Parnell and myself. The "boy" in us both refused to grow up, and although we didn't see each other as often, when we did, it was like I was six again.

My last conversation with him was a phone call right after I heard he was ill. The talk was full of laughter and his never ending desire to know how I was doing. It ended with him laughing about how I used to dress up like a grocery store clerk and play around his store. He always seemed to remember. I loved Parnell Powell unabashedly, and always will. He was nice to a little boy, and that little boy remembers. He will never forget.

Fondly,

July 5, an 8-1/2 lb. striper was brought in by Leland Venable of Olton. He was using large minnows in the main part of the lake (20 feet deep).

Also on July 5, Leland and Lonnie Venable of Olton caught a 7-1/2 lb. and an 8-1/2 lb. striper with big minnows in the main part of the lake (20 feet deep).

Richard and Kelly Railsback of Muleshoe caught a 7-1/2 lb. and a 2 lb. 8 oz. sand bass on July 5. They were fishing by the dam and using minnows.

July 6, two channel cats were caught with minnows in Tule Creek by Brian Vandamme of Amarillo.

Lonnie and Leland Venable of Olton caught a 7 lb., an 8 lb. and a 9 lb. striper on big minnows in the main part of the lake.

Also on July 6, Leonard Wilson of Canyon caught an 8 lb. 2 oz. striper with big minnows. He was fishing in the main part of the lake.

A 2 lb. 2 oz. sand bass was caught with crank bait by the dam by Boy Roy Stockett of Tulia.

Floydada Police Report

Police were called to a family disturbance July 3 at 11:32 p.m. in the 700 block of E. Thornton. The investigation led to the arrest of Freddie Luna, 27, for public intoxication and assault on his wife. He was released the next day after paying a fine of $225.00.

On July 5, police were called to the scene of an accident in the 100 block of W. California. The driver, Ernest Ray Robinson, 24, ran into a parked car while attempting to retrieve a dropped cigarette. He was arrested and charged with driving without his license.

On Saturday, July 7, at 8:10 p.m. in the 400 block of W. Mississippi, police were called to a domestic disturbance. Guadalupe Vargas, 18, was arrested for assault on his wife.

The same night at 11:13 p.m. in the 500 block of E. Missouri, police were called to another domestic disturbance. This resulted in the arrest of Billy Ray Leadon, 37, for aggravated assault on a police officer.

According to Sgt. Harold Snell, "Mr. Leadon came out of his residence pointing a gun at officers. He was disarmed and found to be intoxicated. It was later discovered that he had emptied his gun before we got there by shooting it in the house five times."

On July 9, at 9:30 a.m. police took a report of a burglary of a habitation in the 400 block of W. Lee.

Entry was made by forcing open a door of the residence. Stolen was a 13" black and white T.V., a wooden box with assorted hand tools and a pocket knife. The value of the stolen items was estimated at $150.00.

Also on July 9, at 12:05 p.m., police investigated an accident at Second and Mississippi.

According to police reports, an '82 Olds Cutlass was turning left on Mississippi from Second Street when it was hit by a southbound '88 Ford four-door.

Both vehicles were driven away with minor damage. There were no injuries.

You're Never Too Old!

Floydada grandmother continues studies

Mattie Wester's life has been one learning experience after another, whether it be in her job, her home, her formal education which she has continually pursued.

Now in her 70 plus years, (she will not divulge her age), Mattie is pursuing a B.A. degree in Psychology and a minor in speech, at Wayland Baptist University.

She has been attending Wayland since 1974, not in any hurry to complete her degree, only in learning and broadening her horizon.

"I could finish up what is required for my degree this fall," said Mattie, "but I don't want too. School makes me keep thinking and I don't sit around and feel sorry for myself."

Wester has missed two days in the 15 years she has been going to Wayland. With 100 hours completed toward her B.A., Mattie is taking it slow with three semester hours a week.

"I don't go to summer school, and when the fall semester starts, I'll go to class twice a week."

Listening to the life of Mattie Wester one can't help but wonder if the right person is sitting behind the desk instead of up in front of the classroom.

She has always been the type of woman that the Cosmopolitan magazine of "today" would describe as the "liberated 80's lady." A "well rounded successful woman." Except Mattie has been doing it for many years - before it was vogue.

She has always been a help-mate to her husband, has followed him wherever he felt "led to go", worked at a variety of jobs to help out at home, raised four children, and tirelessly put herself through school in her "spare time".

Mattie was born in Huntingdon, Tennessee to Rev. and Mrs. Jones. Her father was a Southern Baptist minister.

She won't tell the year she was born because, "my daughter said if I tell how old I am, everyone will be able to tell how old she is!"

Mattie started school when she was five but had to quit in the seventh grade at the age of 12.

"I started working in the textile factory at the age of 12 to help out the family. They thought I was 16 years old or they would not have let me work."

"After awhile I also went to night school so I could work through the 8th grade."

She worked in the factory for 16 years and quit at the age of 28. She then went back to the Knoxville Academy and finished high school.

During her teen-age years, while working at the factory, Mattie married J. Truman Boyd.

"We married over the border in Mississippi because I was considered too young for marriage in Tennessee.

"My husband was also a minister. He traveled all over, doing mission work and building new churches. He was killed in a car wreck in 1973."

Because of their travels all over the U.S., Mattie could not stay in school's long, nor keep a permanent job. However, she did what she could to help out, take care of her children, and continue her education.

"The first year I got out of high school I taught school at Maryville, Tennessee, I would substitute teach wherever we went. I even substituted at Plainview High School in 1954.

"I went to school when I had the chance, because of my family. The first university I attended was the University of Tennessee in Knoxville. I had to quit in 1959."

When teaching jobs were not available, Mattie always found work. "I've done a little bit of everything. I've worked at a post office, newspaper, department store, ran an elevator, nursery school, and I was also a meter maid.

After her first husband's death in 1973, Mattie enrolled in school at Wayland Baptist.

"They accepted 15 hours from the other colleges I had attended. I chose to study psychology because I love people."

In 1975, Mattie married J.C. Wester in Floydada. He died seven years later.

Now living alone in a small but pretty and well kept home, Mattie continues to keep herself busy with church activities, senior citizens functions, family get-togethers, and homework or course.

"I enjoy the psychology courses the most, but I'm really dreading the math courses. I'm not any good at math, Lou Burleson (Floydada High School teacher) told me to get the math over first so I wouldn't worry about it. She was right, I should have done that."

When asked what she likes most about school, Mattie replied, "I enjoy the kids the most. Being part of school with them makes you appreciate the young. I think you can understand young people better.

"I've learned that parents don't listen to their kids like they should. They have to pay attention.

"I love every minute of it. Everyone has been real nice to me and have respected me.

"The hard part so far was the time I had to climb three flights of stairs to get to a class."

After the life Mattie has made for herself, stairs will probably not stand in her way.

"If you've got your health, you can do anything you set your mind to. I appreciate school more now than I used to. I love the books, teachers and the kids. I'd encourage everyone to go."

School is obviously not the only thing Mattie is proud of. Pictures of children, grandchildren and a great grandchild adorn her buffet. From her first marriage, Mattie has four children: Larry Boyd, of Beaumont; Edgar Boyd of Shallowater; Jo Payne of Vigo Park; and Jane Englert of Matawon, N.J.

Mattie also has four step children: Ed Wester, Floydada; Dr. James Wester, Garland; Jean Jones, Floydada; and Dr. Bill Wester, Weatherford.

There are also 28 grandchildren, who along with anyone else that comes in contact with Mattie, should sit and listen closely to Mattie Wester's learnings. Her wisdom comes from something you can't learn in classrooms - living.

Choose my instruction rather than silver, knowledge rather than choice gold, for wisdom is more precious than rubies, and nothing you desire can compare with her.

McCoy Community Reunion is July 15

Past and present residents of the McCoy Community are holding a Community Reunion on July 15, at Lighthouse Electric.

"Anyone who has ever lived in McCoy or friends that want to come, are invited to the reunion," said the reunion's secretary, Flora McNeill.

The day will start out with registration at 9:30 a.m. and lots of visiting until the 12:00 noon business meeting.

A basket lunch will be at 1:00 p.m., followed by more visiting and singing at 2:00 p.m.

Everyone is invited and encouraged to bring a friend.

MATTIE WESTER, who is over 70 years old, is currently a student at Wayland Baptist University. Mrs. Wester is pursuing a B.A. degree in Psychology, with a minor in speech. She has been attending Wayland since 1974 and says that she is in no hurry to complete her degree, only in learning and broadening her horizon. --Staff photo

Gilbreath retires from Tex Pack

J.W. Gilbreath has been a familiar figure traveling all over Floydada delivering freight from TEX PACK. Now he is going to take it easy. After 17 years, Gilbreath, 66, has retired from TEX PACK and has turned the job over to Wayne and Lynn Tipton.

J.W. GILBREATH

J.W. has had the position with TEX PACK since 1973. He first took on the job while he worked at his EXXON Station, located at 101. N. 2nd. "I opened the station in December of 1956," said J.W. "When I started delivering for TEX PACK the freight was brought to the station and I delivered it from there.

J.W. sold the station to his brother, Bill, in 1984, and moved his TEX PACK operation to an office located near Don Hardy's on Missouri Street. From there, J.W. and his wife Betty, moved their operation to 111 E. Missouri, to an office next door to the Hesperian. Betty runs the Southwestern Bell office. The Gilbreaths have shared this office with Farmers Group Insurance.

"Betty will continue to work at S.W. Bell for awhile," said J.W. "For now I'll just be working at the house and hopefully we will be traveling a little. Lynn Tipton will be handling the freight from now on."

Pinner and Williams share art show honors

Sharing the spotlight in the lobby of the First National Bank of Floydada during July are two well-known Floyd County artists, Maye Williams and Bobby Pinner. Pinner's wood sculpture and Williams' oil on porcelain paintings are equally distinctive in design and technique.

Maye Williams has been a Floyd County resident for her lifetime. "I feel attached to this community and its people, and I have no desire to ever live anywhere else!" she stated.

Her parents were Mather and Annie Carr who came to Floyd County with their families in 1902. Maye graduated from Floydada High School and married Chloma Williams in 1936. Maye and Chloma farmed in the Harmony community and had two daughters.

"I have always been interested in art, but never had the opportunity to pursue it until 1979," said Williams. "My family obligations were fewer and we had partially retired from farming, and a dear friend, Alta Smith, asked me to go to Roaring Springs to study with a porcelain artist, Mary Webb. I immediately loved this art medium and continued to study with Mrs. Webb."

Mrs. Williams joined the South Plains Porcelain Art Club of Lubbock, is still a member, and she is now serving her second year as recording secretary of the organization. In addition to that, she is president of the Harmony Extension Club, reporter for the Harmony Community Center, secretary and pianist for the Carr's Chapel United Methodist Church.

The art viewer will note the variety of subject matter in Williams' exhibit. "I enjoy painting wildlife, portraits, animals. I don't stay on one thing very long. If I have painted a portrait, then I want to paint birds next, or an animal. I like diversity." She plans to study jewelry-making after a seminar in September.

Bob Pinner is making his second appearance as an exhibitor, and for this Centennial year of Floyd County's life has prepared some exceptional pieces of western sculpture. A particularly interesting sculpture scene is titled, "Mornin'," and there are wood sculptures of the buffalo, a bull, and the always beautiful birds, for which Pinner is famous!

Asked how he got started in this particular art form, the artist replied, "A school project and a bar of soap when I was nine years old led to this source of personal and financial fulfillment."

Pinner fashions and creates his beautiful and interesting works from elm, cedar, pecan and whitewood logs. Using carving tools and an electric knife for fine detail, plain wooden blocks become the forms he intends. They are then painted with acrylics to complete the perfect likeness of the bird or animal.

"If I make a mistake, it's firewood," said Pinner. "In most media, you start small and add on; but, in wood carving, you start big and carve off." A sense of detail and a patient skill are most important in this art.

The Lockney artist has exhibited in local art shows and often garners prizes in his division. He is a member of West Texas Woodcarvers Ass'n., National Carvers Museum and North Texas Woodcarvers Guild. He has also done commission work.

Floyd County has reason to be proud of two such artists as Williams and Pinner. Each is talented in a unique medium, and the combination of the art forms makes a visit to the lobby of the First National Bank of Floydada a delightful experience during this month of July. Everyone is invited to come in during regular banking hours to see and appreciate the works of Maye Carr Williams and Bobby Pinner.

Williams and Jiron pledge vows

Daralyn Denise Williams and Mark Fredrick Jiron joined their lives in matrimony in a candlelit double-ring ceremony in First United Methodist Church, Floydada. The Rev. Jerry Kunkel of Euless, Texas, national evangelist for the United Methodist Church Conference, officiated the ceremony.

Daralyn is the daughter of Ms. Sue Williams of Lubbock and Leon Williams of Petersburg, and the granddaughter of Maye Williams and Blanche Williams, both of Floydada. She is currently an accounting major at Texas Tech University and is employed by James Teague & Co., CPA's of Lubbock.

Jiron is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph D. Jiron of Isleta, New Mexico. Grandparents include Ramona Correo and J.D. Jiron, both of Isleta. He is a graduate of Clarendon College and is currently employed by Pro Electric of Lubbock.

Mrs. Dell Gray provided piano selections for the prelude, including "The Rose", "The Twelfth of Never", and a piano-organ duet with Penny Ogden, "Theme From Love Story." Jerry Kunkel opened the ceremony with a solo rendition of "House Full of Faith." Candles for the impressive ceremony were lit by Alissa Hambright and Lori Battey.

Paige Cannon presided over the registry table, which displayed a portrait of the bride and groom, a porcelain bride and groom that was a gift of the bride's grandmother, and a handkerchief that was carried by the bride's great-grandmother on her wedding day in 1903. Guests were ushered by Robert White and Cory Johnson of Lubbock.

The altar was banked with an arch of brass candelabras and greenery. On either side were spirals of brass candelabras, brass trilogies, and brass tower arrangements with magenta tweekia, periwinkle gypsophila, and lighted votive candles which completed the lovely setting. Magenta bows and fresh baby's breath adorned each pew.

Following the seating of the parents and grandparents, Penny Ogden at the organ began processional music from Mendelssohn's March from the oratorio "Athalia."

The groom wore white Padova traditional full dress with matching accessories and a white rose boutonniere. Phillip Jiron served his brother as best man and groomsmen were Wayne Jiron of Las Cruces, brother of the groom; Junior Torres of Isleta, cousin of the groom, and Brent Williams of Lubbock, brother of the bride. Groomsmen were dressed in silver shadowweave traditional full dress with raspberry accessories and wore hot pink rose boutonnieres. Brian Jiron, brother of the groom, served as ring bearer and wore matching full dress.

Kimber Williams served her sister as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Jeanie Jackson and Lori Battey, both of Floydada, and Jolene Jiron, sister of the groom, of Isleta. Bridal attendants wore silk taffeta gowns of fuschia. The bodice featured a sabrina neckline, three-quarter length renaissance sleeves and a dropped 'v'd waist. The deep 'v'd back opened to the waist and flowed to a full court-length skirt. They carried nosegay bouquets of sweetheart roses and mini carnations in hot pink and periwinkle, accented with baby's breath.

Whitney Williams, cousin of the bride, served as flower girl and was attired in formal wear of fuschia with a wrist corsage of sweetheart roses.

As Mrs. Ogden heralded the entrance of the bride with the traditional organ selection from Mendelssohn, Daralyn slowly approached the altar in a romantic gown of white satin and schiffli lace. The bodice was heavily beaded with sequins and pearls and featured a sweetheart neckline, Juliet sleeves and a basque waist. The full skirt was highlighted at the back waist with a candy box bow, flowing into a cathedral train adorned with schiffli lace cutout appliques.

To complete her attire, the bride wore a pearl-wrapped headband accented with side sprays of flowers and pearls, highlighted in the back with a dainty pouf and a single layer of silk illusion veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and stephanotis, accented with baby's breath and English ivy. Tied in the bridal bouquet streamers were wedding bands belonging to the bride's great-grandmother, Annie Almeda Carr, and two great-great-grandmothers. She also carried an English six-pence.

Following tradition she wore borrowed rhinestone earrings belonging to her sister, a blue garter, and pennies in her shoes bearing the date of her birth and the year of her wedding.

As the wedding party gathered at the altar, Eugene and Martha Jiron, witnesses for the wedding ceremony, came forward for the signing of the marriage certificate. The bride and groom then presented their mothers with a rose.

Lee Battey, accompanied by Dell Gray at the piano, sang "Through the Eyes of Love," followed by a greeting by the Rev. Kunkel. "Wind Beneath My Wings" was then presented by Mrs. Battey, and the Rev. Kunkel officiated the exchanging of vows and rings. Preceding the benediction by the Rev. Kunkel, Mrs. Battey closed the ceremony with "The Wedding Prayer."

After the couple each presented their new mothers with a rose, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Jiron were introduced to the audience. The wedding party exited as Mrs. Ogden, at the organ, played the traditional "Wedding March."

A reception followed the ceremony in the church fellowship hall. A portrait of the bride welcomed the guests into the reception area. Penny Ogden provided piano selections for the guests.

The bride's table featured a four-tiered spiral wedding cake topped with a traditional bride and groom. Appointments were sterling silver and the bridal bouquet adorned the table. Serving for the bride were Tana Harrison and Kim Zimmerman. Kimber Williams and Lucy Goughly distributed rice bags to the guests.

The groom's table was decorated in a unique western style and featured cascading fruit arrangements, sandwiches, and hors d'oeuvres. Pat Lucero, Renee Torres and Shannon Torres, all of Isleta, served the groom's table from brass appointments.

Out of town guests included Kaye and Heather Powell of Houston, Dr. and Mrs. Evans Curry, Lindsey Elliott, Brenda and Bryce Bowley, Pat Cates, Kathryn Strong, Karen George, Meredith Harrison, Jay White, Cory Johnson, Robert and JanAn White and

Kevin White of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jiron and family, J.D. Jiron, Chris Jiron, Mae Chewiewe, Ramona Correo, Abenita Abeita, Josie Zuni, Pauline and Lori Correo, Margaret Loretto, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Jiron, Pat

Lucero and Curtis and Calvin, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Torres and family, Phillip Jiron, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph D. Jiron and family, all of Isleta, New Mexico; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Jiron and Ashley, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Harris and Tammy, all of Las Cruces, New Mexico.

Courtesies for the bride and groom included a bridal shower held at the home of Mrs. L.B. Stewart Jr. in Floydada on May 19. Other hostesses included Lynda Seymour, Sue Fuller, Winona Allen, Frances Hambright, Sheree Cannon, Linda Dawson, Tommie Perry, Emma Pate, Rena Turner, Pat Zimmerman, Freida Dunn, Dell Gray and Doris McLain. Lindsey Elliott of Lubbock hosted a wedding shower for the couple at her home on May 26. Both the bride and groom were guests at bachelor parties given by their friends.

A wedding reception in honor of the newly-wedded couple was given by parents of the groom at their home in Isleta, New Mexico. A special ceremony was held for the couple and their sponsors, Eugene and Martha Jiron, and was conducted by J.D. Jiron, grandfather of the groom, and Chris Jiron. A host of friends and relatives were served and participated in the wedding celebration. Those attending from this area included Sue Williams, Kimber Williams, Brent Williams, Maye Williams, Bill Staples and Freida Dunn.

Baxter and Gray marry in California

The Arborarium of the Crystal Cathedral in Garden Grove, California, was the beautiful garden setting for the wedding uniting Sharyn Lynn Baxter and William E. Gray Jr. Pastor Linda Bos performed the ceremony before many family and friends.

The bride is the daughter of Ms. Gloria Spink of Las Vegas, Nevada, and John Baxter Sr. of Santa Ana, California. Gray is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Gray Sr. of Floydada and Mr. and Mrs. Alan C. Ulrich of Anaheim, California.

The couple exchanged vows before an altar adorned with flowing ivy and greenery with candelabras entwined with white satin bows. The crystal glass walls and cascades of fern and trees added a breathless view.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a San Martin gown by Eve of Milady. The illusion lace over a straight skirt flowed to flounces of ruffles forming the train. The Queen Anne neckline and puffed sleeves were accented by illusioned chantilly lace. The bodice of the gown had tiny hand-sewn seed pearls and mother of pearl sequins forming a delicate pattern that enhanced the sweetheart scooped front. A satin puffed bow dropped from the back of the gown flowing into the layers of illusioned lace ruffles. Handsewn seed pearls adorned her headpiece which formed a V over her brow. The puffs of illusioned lace fell to flounces of ruffles flowing down the back of her gown. She carried a cascading bouquet of ivory and fuschia roses, carnations and stephanotis entwined with baby's breath.

Julie Baxter of Santa Ana, Calif., sister-in-law of the bride, served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Lauren Baxter of Las Vegas, Nev., sister of the bride; Jeanine Helms of Laguna Niguel, Calif., sister of the groom; Kelly Crystal of Orange, Calif., and Leanne Owen of Huntington Beach, Calif. Chosen for bridal attendants were tea-length teal green gowns with puffed sleeves and fitted bodices with sweetheart necklines. Three satin bows accented the back of the gown, which flowed to a full circle skirt. Pearl drop earrings, given by the bride, were worn along with teal green headpieces with seed pearls. They carried ivory and fuschia roses and carnations with pink stephanotis cascades.

The groom was attired in a white tuxedo with teal green tie and cummerbund, accenting the waist length coat with tails. His boutonniere consisted of a single fuschia rose matching the bride's bouquet.

Tom Lockhart of Carlsbad, Calif., served as best man. Courtney Freeman of Irvine, Calif., cousin of the groom; John Baxter Jr. of Santa Ana, Calif., brother of the bride; Sean Freeman of Santa Ana, cousin of the groom, and Todd Darr of Mission Viejo, Calif., served as groomsmen and ushers. They were attired in black tuxedos with waist length coats and teal green tie and cummerbunds. Each wore a fuschia pink rose.

Tyler and Trey Helms of Laguna Niguel, Calif., nephews of the groom, were ring bearer and flower boy. Tyler wore a tuxedo identical to the groomsmen with a teal green tie and cummerbund. Trey wore teal green crushed velvet short pants with a tuxedo shirt and teal green suspenders. Both of the boys wore fuschia pink carnations and Trey carried one in his hand.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM E. GRAY JR.

Musical selections were beautifully performed by Leanne Harper. "Sunrise, Sunset" from Fiddler on the Roof was chosen as the mothers were escorted down the aisle to light the unity candle for their children. Other selections were sung as Bill and Sharyn finished their vows.

A reception at the Santa Ana Elks Lodge immediately followed the ceremony. A delicious chicken buffet was served along with fresh fruit, cheese selections and finger sandwiches.

The bride's table was adorned with a four tier wedding cake with emerald and teal green roses and leaves. Each layer consisted of a different swirled variety of chocolate, raspberry and cream. The cake was a wedding gift from Mr. and Mrs. John Baxter Jr. After dinner, there was a disc jockey who entertained everyone with a variety of music and laughter.

Special guests were Bill and Dell Gray of Floydada, Gene Anderson of San Marcos, Calif., grandmother of the groom; Sherry Anderson of Calley

Roberts and Jim of San Diego, Calif., cousin of the groom; Mrs. Baxter of Center, Calif., aunt of the groom; Lisa Santa Ana, grandmother of the bride; and Boone England of Dana Point, Calif.

A rehearsal dinner at Alan and Donna Ulrich's was enjoyed on Friday night before the wedding. The meal consisted of chicken stack, bread sticks and fresh fruit salad. Dessert was homemade cream pies. Later the women enjoyed a lingerie shower in honor of Sharyn while the men had a bachelor party at Mick's in Newport Beach, Calif.

A bridal shower was given by Julie Baxter and Donna Ulrich in the home of Donna Ulrich on May 11. A beautiful satin and lace wedding album was presented to the couple by the groom's parents.

The groom is a sales representative for B.B. Crown foods in Cerritos, Calif., and the bride is a secretary for an inventory service in Orange, Calif. After a wedding trip to San Francisco, the couple will make their home in La Habra, Calif.

Via and Rainer wed in outdoor ceremony

MRS. JOE C. RAINER

The "Adobe", west of Floydada, was the site for the sunset wedding ceremony uniting Becky Diane Via and Joe C. Rainer at 7 p.m. Friday, July 6. The Rev. Bill Wright, pastor of the First United Methodist Church in Floydada, officiated the recitation of vows.

The setting for the ceremony was an orchard. A windmill and an adobe in a western decor served as the background. A large horseshoe, decorated with peach and white bows and greenery, hung on the windmill directly behind the couple. Wagon wheels decorated with peach bows were propped against apricot trees, which provided shade for the wedding site. Stacks of hay were used to display saddles belonging to the bride and groom. A walkway made of white fence posts, rope and white bows led from the "Adobe" to the wedding site.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Via of Abernathy and Mr. and Mrs. A.C. Rainer of Floydada.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a brocade and lace, two-piece white western-style wedding dress. White western boots completed her attire. Her headpiece was of white silk flowers. She carried a bouquet of bluebonnets, tied with linen handkerchiefs belonging to her grandmothers.

Following tradition, for "something old" the bride carried the handkerchiefs belonging to her grandmothers; "something new" was a gold wristwatch given to her by the groom; "something borrowed" was a pair of diamond earrings belonging to the maid of honor, Phyllis Harris, and "something blue" was her garter, made by her friend, Patsy Wall. The bride and groom each had a penny bearing their birthdate placed in their boots.

Phyllis Harris of Floydada, maid of honor, wore a peach prairie skirt with an eyelet blouse and white boots. She also carried a bouquet of bluebonnets. Her hairpiece was an arrangement of white and peach silk flowers.

Acting as best man was Mickey D. Hammonds of Floydada. Guy Walt Via of Abernathy, brother of the bride, was usher.

Special music was provided by the groom's brother, Bobby Rainer and Don Warren. Wendy Pierce played an electric organ. Selections included "Twelfth of Never" and "River is Wide."

A barbeque dinner and dance, hosted by the bride's family in their home, followed the ceremony. Music for the dance was provided by "The Aces". On the first dance, the bride and groom danced to "Forever and Ever Amen."

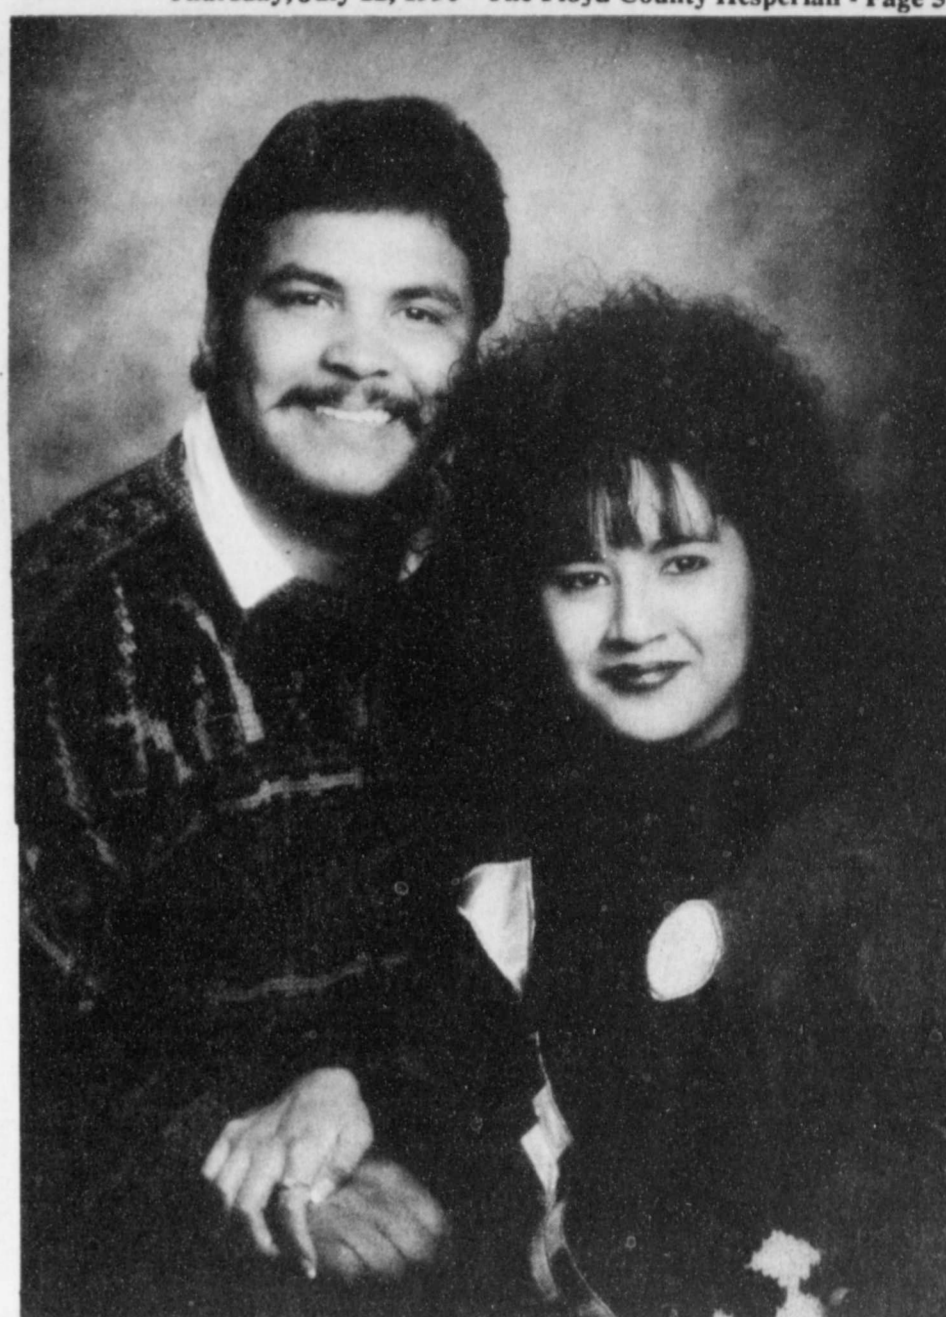

Daughters of the groom, Charla and Shelly Rainer served at the reception table and assisted with registration.

Red bandanas filled with oats were given to those in attendance to celebrate the marriage of Joe and Becky as they departed for their wedding trip to Ruidoso, New Mexico. Upon their return, the couple will be residing in Floydada.

The rehearsal dinner was held Thursday evening at the bride's home. Guests were served hamburgers with all the trimmings. Riley Deatheridge, cousin of the bride, prepared the barbeque for the rehearsal dinner and the reception.

The bride is a graduate of Happy High School and West Texas State University. She is County Supervisor for Farmers' Home Administration in Floyd County.

Rainer graduated from Floydada High and also attended West Texas State. He is self-employed as a farmer.

Family history workshop slated at Hotel Turkey

Historic Hotel Turkey is the unique setting on July 28 for a writer's workshop, "How to Write Your Family History As Fact or Fiction," conducted by author and literary consultant Cyndy Buchanan.

Fast-gaining a reputation as the place for family reunions, club celebrations, and company retreats, Hotel Turkey's fame has spread largely by word of mouth, even to distant shores. Recently the Johnsons received reservations from a German disc jockey, the first of perhaps many international visitors destined to visit the rugged beauty of the Caprock. Once popular with traveling salesmen and drummers, the hotel, recently included in the National Register of Historic Places, incorporates antiques, artifacts, and western art of the region into its decor.

Ms. Buchanan expressed excitement about being able to offer the workshop in the intimate surroundings of the bed and breakfast where hosts Jane and Scott Johnson create an ambiance of southern hospitality with a western twist.

"I help people write books, family or personal histories. Every family has a wealth of information to record," explained the teacher of Continuing Education classes at Texas Tech. "Most of those taking the course are interested in preserving the history of their family as a gift for other members of the family."

Though a professional writer with national publishing experience, Buchanan's favorite role is that of teacher. "I love helping people. If they just have an idea of something they have always wanted to write, fiction or non-fiction, a script or a novel, I can work with them as a consultant." That role might include editing literary content, developing narrative ideas, or shaping philosophies into words.

When not busy helping students develop priceless story lines, for example, about the Vietnam war, cowboy tales, days of the depression, a sharecropper's daughter, murder of a relative, and many other anecdotes or tragedies of family living, Buchanan serves on the National Cowboy Symposium committee and promotes cowboy poetry. She attends cutting contests with her horse Quannah and writes articles for western/horse magazines. Currently she is planning a barrel-riding clinic for rodeo queens.

To register for one or both of the individually planned family history sessions, from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. and 1:30 to 4:30 p.m., one may call Hotel Turkey at 806-423-1151. The cost is $25 a person per session. A delicious home-cooked boarding house meal will be served in the hotel dining room for about $5.50 each. If made immediately, hotel reservations may be secured for workshop participants on the night of July 27, one of the few nights unbooked at the busy bed and breakfast.

Whirlwind Sams have annual July cookout

By Betty Gilbreath

The Whirlwind Sams Travel Club enjoyed their annual July hamburger cookout at the R.V. Park on Monday night, July 2. The wagonmaster Orvel Newberry and the trailbosses for this year, along with their wives, hosted the event. All enjoyed charbroiled hamburgers and the trimmings, topped off with homemade ice cream and cakes.

Those attending were: the Adams', Assisters, Bensons, Cates', Cockrells, Feuerbachers, Gilbreaths, Harrisons, Hartsells and their grandson, along with the Rudolph McCurdys, Kendricks, Queen Annie Lawson, guest Mamie Bunch, Lyles, Livingstons and Alan, McElyeas, McPhersons, Millers, Newberrys, Parkers, Patzers, Virginia Pyle (sorry Louis injured his leg and was unable to attend), Russells, Thaxtons, Weathersbees, Wests, Williamsons, and Willis'.

We were all pleased that our two associate members were able to attend, they were Gordon and Teta Kirtley and Paul and Dortha Westbrook.

Sorry two couples were unable to attend they were Bill and Julia Baker and Harold and Carol Reese.

Our special guests included our city manager, Gary Brown and wife, Charlene and Chief of Police James Hale, and wife, June.

After our bountiful meal we had a short business meeting and closed by singing our chapter song, Happy Trails.

Some stayed for period of visitation and playing of games.

60-YEAR MASON—R.B. Hatley received a 60-year pin from Mrs. Hatley, commemorating his 60-plus years as a member of the Masonic Lodge. Past Grand Master J.M. Jimmy Willson Jr., presented the pin and certificate, on behalf of the Grand Lodge of Texas, A.F.&A.M., in recent ceremonies at Floydada Masonic Lodge. —Staff photo

Masons install officers in traditional ceremony

Installation of officers was held at Floydada Masonic Lodge on July 6. A large crowd attended the traditional ceremonies, which were conducted by Past Masters Bob Vickers (Installing Officer) and Doyle Walls (Installing Marshal).

The 1990-91 officers are: Delmas McCormick, Worshipful Master; John R. (Randy) Hollums, Senior Warden; Wes Campbell, Junior Warden; Doyle Walls, Treasurer; Kenneth Pitts, Secretary; Roger Poage, Senior Deacon; Wayland Jones, Junior Deacon; Wayne Russell, Chaplain; Bobby Rainer, Senior Steward; Grant Hambright, Junior Steward; and Kenneth Poole, Tiler.

Floydada Lodge is "Celebrating 100 Years of Masonry in Floyd County," and was the second Masonic body organized on the Llano Estacado (Staked Plains). One hundred years ago this summer, plans were made to form what would become Floyd City Lodge No. 712, A.F.&A.M. The lodge was set to work under dispensation by the Grand Lodge of Texas in April, 1891, and the charter was granted on 11 December 1891. It is the oldest, continuously operating organization in Floyd County.

It should be noted that during this Centennial year of Floyd County that a number of the founders of the county were also early members of Floydada Masonic Lodge. In reviewing the rolls of the charter membership, early brethren, and Past Masters, it is easy to recognize those whose legacies are remembered as the namesakes of R.C. Andrews School, A.B. Duncan School, Arthur B. Duncan Abstract Company, Menefee Street, and the I.C. Surginer Building.

Floydada Lodge No. 712 has a proud and storied tradition, and its membership and officers are looking forward to the many activities in the coming months, preparing for the lodge's Centennial next year.

THIRTIETH ANNIVERSARY—Mr. and Mrs. Bobby E. Rainer of Floydada will be honored with a reception from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday, July 15, in observance of their 30th wedding anniversary. Hosting the event at the First United Methodist Church, 203 W. Kentucky, are the couple's children, Mary Ann Rainer and Mr. and Mrs. Donny Young. The Rainers were married on July 15, 1960 in Carlsbad, New Mexico. Hosts add, "Your friendship is a cherished gift. We respectfully request no other."

Delta Kappa Gamma celebrates 61 years

Over 1200 members of the Texas State Organization of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society International met in Lubbock recently to celebrate their 61st anniversary. This society is the largest professional honorary organization in the world whose primary purpose is the advancement of education and women educators.

Local and area teachers from the Iota Tau Chapter who attended the convention were as follows: LaDora Afill and Zeldia Ellison of Lockney, Noma Lou Rainer of Floydada, Millie Martin of Petersburg, Bettie Hardin and Kathryn Newton of Abernathy, Nancy Baucum, Jane Berry, Frankie Carter, Ruby Henderson, Marilyn Jennings and Paulette Manning of Plainview.

1990 Texas 4-H Roundup gathers at A&M University

Nearly 450 4-H Club members from around the state were winners at the 1990 Texas 4-H Roundup at Texas A&M University June 4-6.

More than 2,400 young people participated in 41 contests at the biggest Texas 4-H event held each year.

In addition to contests, 107 scholarships totaling $591,000 were awarded to outstanding teens by the Texas 4-H Foundation, the service organization of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service 4-H Youth Development Program. Texas has the largest 4-H scholarship program in the country.

Scholarship recipients were judged on their 4-H experiences, leadership skills, projects, community service, personal need, and academic performance.

A favorite part of Roundup is the 4-H Food Show. Contestants prepare dishes based on favorite recipes in one of four categories — nutritious snacks and desserts, fruits and vegetables, breads and cereals, and main dish. First-place prizes were $750 scholarships.

In 40 other contests ranging from agronomy and entomology to rifle shooting and talent skits, young people were judged according to their knowledge and skills. Many of the contests featured method demonstrations and illustrated talks.

"Roundup is a time to recognize outstanding young people as well as adult leaders, alumni and sponsors," said Gayle Hall Laine, 4-H youth specialist and Roundup coordinator. "It's an excellent learning opportunity for hundreds of young people."

City Council appoints Mayor

If the grant is approved by TDOC, work on the ten blocks should begin in 12 to 18 months. The city is now seeing the results of a TDOC grant approved in 1988 with 18 blocks of paving now under construction. A grant for water line improvements approved in 1989 should begin construction of additional water lines around the city within the next few months.

RESIDENTS VOICE LITTER COMPLAINTS

Several residents who live adjacent to the local baseball fields appeared at the Tuesday night meeting to express concern for the cleanup being done following ball games. Bill Gray served as spokesman for the group, telling the council that "It gets old when you have to pick up fifty or sixty paper cups every morning after a ball game. The cleanup must be done at night and not left until morning."

Gray suggested that the council set forth regulations concerning who is responsible for the cleanup and when it should be done when the park is used. The council agreed to consider the matter and establish guidelines for the director of the baseball program and for the concession operators during future seasons.

MUNICIPAL JUDGE VACANCY

Council members discussed the course of action to be taken in filling the municipal judge post vacant in the wake of Parnell Powell's death. The council may appoint a judge to fill the post, according to city attorney Randy Hollums, but must first pass an ordinance detailing the term of the post. An ordinance will be prepared and the council will consider it at the next session.

OTHER BUSINESS

The council approved the sale of two tax title lots, pending approval of other taxing entities involved. The offer of Billy and Betty Marquis to pay $325.00 for Lots 16 & 17, Block A, Bowers and Price Addition, Floydada, was accepted by the council. Councilman Morales abstained from the vote as it also approved his offer of $300.00 for Lots 15 & 16, Block 79, Original, Floydada.

Also approved at the July session was the updating of service credits and annuity increases on the city retirement plan.

This is an annual adjustment that is made in reference to the amount the city must contribute for each employee involved. Under the current plan, the city will contribute 6.01% as compared to contributions of 6.2% during the last year. The benefits to employees will be unchanged.

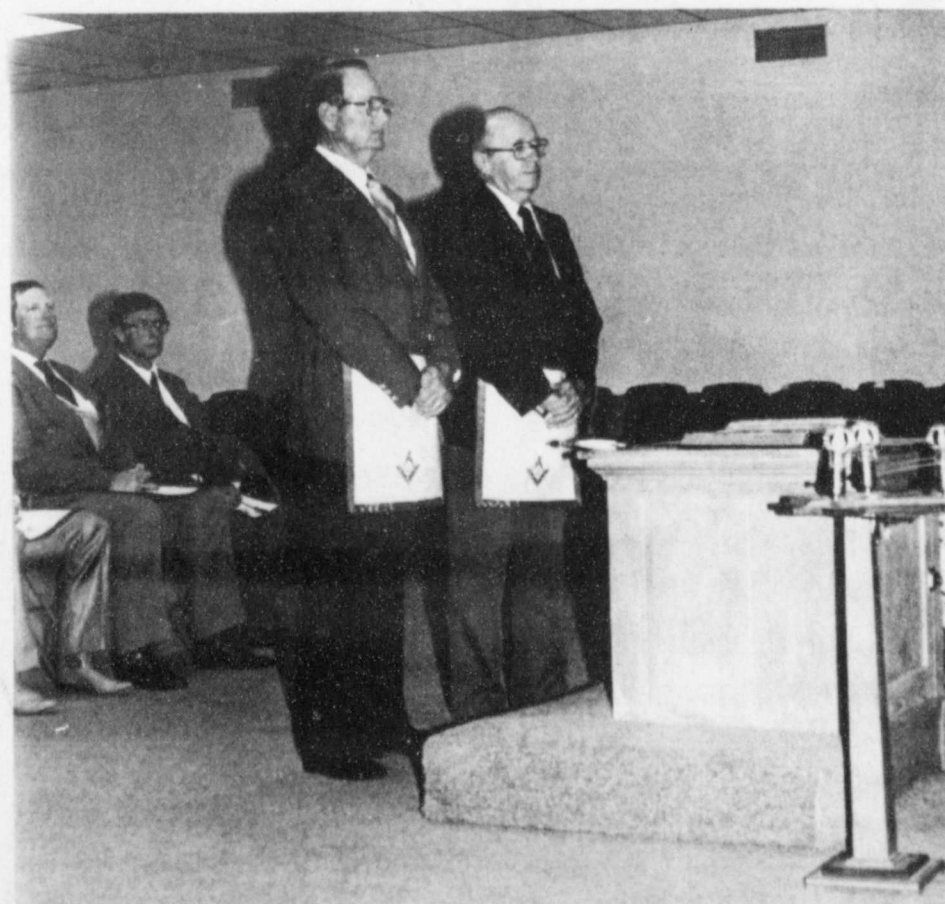

Discussions with the Floydada Cable TV Company will be delayed until after this year's budget is settled and the city enters the next fiscal year. City manager Gary Brown indicated that city personnel do not have adequate time to meet with cable representatives until at least September. Discussions will concern the franchise agreement due to expire within three years.

Councilman Burns asked that the council representatives try to get views from local residents concerning their satisfaction or lack of satisfaction with the service now provided by the cable company before entering negotiations.

Also suggested was the possibility of getting another cable company to serve Floydada, creating a better atmosphere of competition in hopes of raising the level of service and quality of programming.

Edd Henderson, CPA was approved as the auditing firm for the 1989-90 financial audit. Henderson has performed the annual audit in the past and will begin work on this year's during the month of August.

Attending the Regular session of the council in addition to all council members Leroy Burns, Amado Morales, Ruben Barrientoz, Wayne Tipton, and Eric Cornelius and Mayor Russell were Jimmie Lou Stewart, Gary Brown, Randy Hollums, Sharon Quisenberry, Roberta Russell, Dell Gray, Bill Gray, Jackie Chadwick, Langston Williams, Karen Lawson, Connie Galloway, James Hale, Joe Stepp and several other interested citizens as well as the Hesperian reporter.

NEW MASTER INSTALLED—Delmas McCormick (standing left) receives the Charge of his office as he was installed as Master of Floydada Masonic Lodge on July 6. Installing Marshal Doyle Walls assisted as Wes Campbell (Junior Warden) and John R. Randy Hollums (Senior Warden) await the investiture of their respective offices in the traditional ceremonies. The local masonic body is celebrating 100 years of Freemasonry in Floyd County this year, which will be climaxed by the Centennial of the lodge in 1991. —Staff photo

Owens and Hoover say nuptial vows

MRS. WILLIAM ALEX HOOVER

Tammy Owens became the bride of William Alex Hoover during a June 30 wedding ceremony in the First Christian Church of Plano. Dr. David Darnell, minister, presided over the exchange of nuptials.

The couple stood before an altar highlighted with three fifteen branch candelabras. White and raspberry gladiolas, white stock, pink snaps and greenery completed the background.

The bride is the daughter of Chick and Vickey Owens of Allen, Texas. She is the granddaughter of Gordon and Nora Mummert of Silvertown and the late Vera Owens of Floydada and the great-granddaughter of Bobbie Rogers of Floydada. The groom is the son of Bill Hoover of Kemp, Texas.

The bride chose a stunning white gown of lustrous crystal glow satin, designed by Robert Wok. A high crown collar adorned the bodice of re-embroidered alencon lace, lavished with sequins and pearls and was combined with a beaded schiffli necklace design. The full gathered skirt fell from a dropped waistline and flowed to a cathedral train. Double pouf sleeves completed the gown.

For her hair, she chose a lace and beaded crown that rested on her forehead. A soft pouf and fingertip veil completed the romantic silhouette. The bridal bouquet consisted of phalaenopsis orchids, stephanotis, white roses and white freesia.

Serving the bride as maid of honor was Darlyn Davis of Lubbock. Bridesmaids were Laini Scarbrough of Longview, Abby Adams, Mary Ellis and Valerie Stephenson, all of Allen, and Shannon Bloys, a cousin from San Diego, California.

Ellen Cantrell of Austin, cousin of the groom, was flower girl. Ring bearer was Dustin Ward of Midland, cousin of the bride.

Best man was Dan Hammersmidt of Durham, North Carolina. Attending as groomsmen were John Burnett of Garland, Johnny Nichols of Dallas, Danny Owens of Allen, Brad Lamberth of Garland and Jim King of San Diego, Calif.

Ushers were Dale Carr of Nacogdoches, Mike Morris of Commerce City, Colorado, Johnny Hodge of Dallas, Greg Battle of San Diego, Calif., Andy Florence of New York, New York, Ed Aceves of Lamesa, Calif., Jerry Tidmore of Dallas, and Tim Aubrad of Redlands, Calif. They also served as candlelighters.

Soloists during the ceremony were Donny Johnson and Amy Hopper.

A reception followed the ceremony. A four layer white cake with pink roses and greenery was topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Following a wedding trip to Cancun, Mexico, the couple will reside in Rockwall, Texas.

The bride, a 1985 graduate of Allen High School, was awarded her BA from Texas Tech University in 1989. She was crowned Miss Texas Tech University in 1988 and is currently a marketing representative for Wyle Laboratories in Richardson.

The groom is a 1982 graduate of Rockwall High School. He received his BA in 1987 at Colorado State University, where he was also a two year starting linebacker for CSU football. He is associated with Hoover Systems in Garland.

COUPLE ENGAGED—Bill and Martha Fullwood of Snellville, Georgia, and Jim Wester of Plano, Texas, wish to announce the engagement of their daughter, Tiffany Michelle Wester to Jonathan Mark Garrett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Garrett of Doraville, Georgia. The bride-elect is the granddaughter of Dr. and Mrs. James D. Wester and Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey Harris, all of Garland. She is the great-granddaughter of Rexie Gordon of Iowa Park and the late J.C. and Sibyl Wester and step-great-granddaughter of Mattie Wester of Floydada. She is a graduate of Brookwood High School and attended DeKalb College. She is currently employed by First Atlanta Bank in Norcross, Georgia. Garrett is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dunagan of Doraville, Georgia, and Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Wimpey of Roschton, Georgia. He is a graduate of Stone Mountain High School and attended DeKalb College. He is employed by South States Insurance Agency. The couple plan a July 14 wedding in the First Baptist Church of Snellville, Georgia.

By Jo Bryant

July 2:
Hi, once again from the Floydada Nursing Home residents and staff. Do hope this finds all well and happy.

Monday started the day as usual, with coffee, juice and cookies. Irene Wexler came and played the piano for us and we sang some songs. Bro. Wright wasn't able to be with us. At 2 p.m. the residents painted a lime to go with their fruit basket.

Tuesday at 2 p.m. the residents had current events, shared the article on the Texas play at Palo Duro Canyon. Also shared the magazine Texas Highways about the current issue of the wine made in Texas and about the wine made here in Lubbock.

Wednesday was Bingo once again. E.O. McElyea won the 1st prize. Mary Alice Davis couldn't be with us, as she attended a church retreat in New Mexico. We missed you.

Thursday, the residents had popcorn and arts and crafts. It's time to celebrate the 4th of July once again, our freedom and independence. Hope all enjoy picnics and just relaxing a bit.

Friday, the residents were treated to some ice cream from the Dixie Dog, then on to the country to see the crops of corn, milo, sunflower and cotton. They enjoyed the ride. We were glad to see Wilma Payne back again.

We want to thank Jennelda Fulton and Alva Smith for the magazine Mature Living and the daily guide. The residents enjoyed them.

We want to welcome two new residents to our home, Roy and Sarah Smith, parents of Clara Mae Bradshaw.

Have an enjoyable and safe 4th of July, don't eat too much and we will be sharing with you next week again.

This week's visitors were: Scott Faulkenberry, H.C. and Margie McElyea, Willie Mae Smith, May Sue, Tess Hill, Frances Badgett, Myria Dade, Irene Wexler, Arlene Holmes, Carolyn Sims of Corpus Christi, Jan Lovell of San Diego, Calif., Paula, Dave and Jesse MacArthur of Brainerd, Minn., Frances Wallace of Yuma, Ariz., Pauline Robertson and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Martin of Africa.

Thought: Sign by the side of the road - "Pray for a good harvest, but keep on hoeing."

WEDDING DATE SET—Ronald and Jeannette Weidner of Davie, Florida, wish to announce the engagement of their daughter Christine to Michael Dwayne Moore, son of Luis and Rotha Moore of Dumas, Texas. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bennett and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Moore, all of Floydada. The bride-elect is a graduate of Kearney High School, Kearney, Missouri. She attended Broward Community College in Davie, Florida. She is employed at Gribetz International, Sunrise, Florida. The prospective groom is a 1984 graduate of Dumas High School. He attended Texas Tech University in Lubbock. He is currently employed as a carpenter in Davie and is planning to attend college in Florida completing a degree in business management. The couple plan an August 11 wedding in Pompano Beach, Florida.

Congratulations Floyd County

TASHA SMITH, daughter of Kip and Kathy Pritchard of Plainview and granddaughter of Dr. and Mrs. Keith Patzer of Floydada, placed 1st in the Junior Elite Class of the American Trampoline and Tumbling Association National Competition, which was held in Rockford, Illinois, last week. City sales tax rebate down

Floydada's share of the $83.3 million in sales tax rebates sent out on Friday, June 8, was $7,926.00. This figure displayed a 4.11% decrease from the $8,265.46 received for the same period last year.
 To date in 1990, Floydada has been the recipient of $54,802.82 in sales tax rebates. 1989 rebates for the same period were $56,792.31, showing an overall decline in sales tax revenue of 3.50% from last year.
 The check received by Lockney displayed an increase of 39.43% over last year at this time. The June 1990 payment totaled $3,851.60 compared to June 1989 at $2,762.40. Lockney sales tax rebates in 1990 now total $24,908.81, a decrease of 36.11% from the $38,989.84 received by this time in

 Other area cities, the rebates received and the percent of change are listed below.
 Crosbyton, $4,707.39; +199.48%
 Ralls, $4,097.86; +19.30%
 Petersburg, $1,631.08; +32.41%
 June rebates include taxes collected on sales made in April and reported in May by businesses filing monthly returns. Merchants collect the taxes and send them to the comptroller's office with their tax returns.
 The state retains a 6 percent share and returns the city portion to participating cities and counties. Floydada currently levys a 1 percent voter approved city sales tax. Floyd County does not levy a sales tax, although a county may do so.

JOHNNY AND FRIENDS--Johnny Summers, manager of Floydada's Pay-N-Save had a lot of help keeping the 4th of July crowd happy during their annual celebration. Not only were there plenty of people to cook and serve the hungry, but children were entertained by (left-right): Batman, Ninja Turtle, Summers and the Kool-Aid Pitcher.

COME ON DOWN!--As soon as word was out that prizes were being given away at Pay-N-Save's 4th of July celebration a rush of people converged on Manager Johnny Summers. All smiles, Johnny passed out frisbees, shirts and caps until the carts were empty.

Emergency approval given

Floyd County has been granted authority to approve request to hay and graze 1990 ACR and CU for pay during the 5 months non-grazing period (May 15 - October 14). When requested by the farm's operator, approved cover on ACR and CU for pay may be:

1. Grazed by the producer's own livestock.
2. Grazed by another producer's livestock with the enrolled producer's permission.
3. Mechanically harvested for hay, green chop, or ensilage for:

- a. Feeding to the producer's own livestock.
- b. Feeding to another producer's livestock.
- c. Current use, or for storage for future use.

After grazing out or haying approved cover, producers may establish a later approved cover for haying and grazing. Haying or grazing SHALL NOT remove cover to the extent that the acreage is not protected from wind and water erosion.

Producers must sign a request before haying or grazing ACR or CU.

Important Change!!! Acreage designated as ACR and CU shall not be hayed or grazed under the emergency haying and grazing provisions if irrigation has or will occur between January 1, 1990 and the end of the 5-month nongrazing period, (October 14, 1990).

Corn or grain sorghum planted as an approved cover on ACR or CU may not be grazed or hayed under any conditions.

Producers who have filed a request to leave small grain standing on ACR or CU may not hay or graze under any conditions.

Conservation reserve program (CRP) acreage may not be hayed or grazed under any conditions.

Contaminants can enter ground water through abandoned wells

The exact number of water wells drilled on the Texas High Plains since large-scale irrigation began in the late 1930s is unknown. However, more than 46,000 permits have been issued by the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 since its creation in 1951. Many of the wells drilled prior to the District's creation and some drilled since then have been abandoned, the pump removed and the opening at the top of the casing left uncovered. Without a proper covering at the land surface, contaminants can enter these "open holes" and alter the quality of groundwater stored in the Ogallala Aquifer.

Water District rules define an open or uncovered well as any artificial excavation drilled or dug for the purpose of exploring for or producing water from the underground water reservoir, not capped or covered as required by District rules.

"Any open hole can provide a direct route for pollution to enter the Ogallala Aquifer," says Engineer, Technician Obbie Goolsby, who has been in charge of the Water District's abandoned well program since 1971.

For example, if an airplane, tractor boom or other chemical application system passes over or near an open well, the chemical can enter the hole leading straight to the aquifer. Also, rainfall runoff can carry chemical residues off fields and into open holes without a cement pump base.

However, the potential use of open, abandoned wells as chemical disposal sites poses a greater risk of groundwater contamination as compared to overspraying or the accidental introduction of small amounts of chemicals into the aquifer at the well site.

"If you have an open hole on your land and someone disposes of old chemicals in the hole, the chemical goes directly to the aquifer. Once the aquifer is polluted, it is difficult—sometimes impossible—to clean up," notes Goolsby.

Proper covering of abandoned wells is equally important to prevent people and/or animals from falling into the well and becoming trapped.

"Open wells are death traps. The most dangerous open holes are those without pump bases and casings. Small animals or even people could easily fall in these gaping holes. People need to understand how dangerous these open holes are," he says.

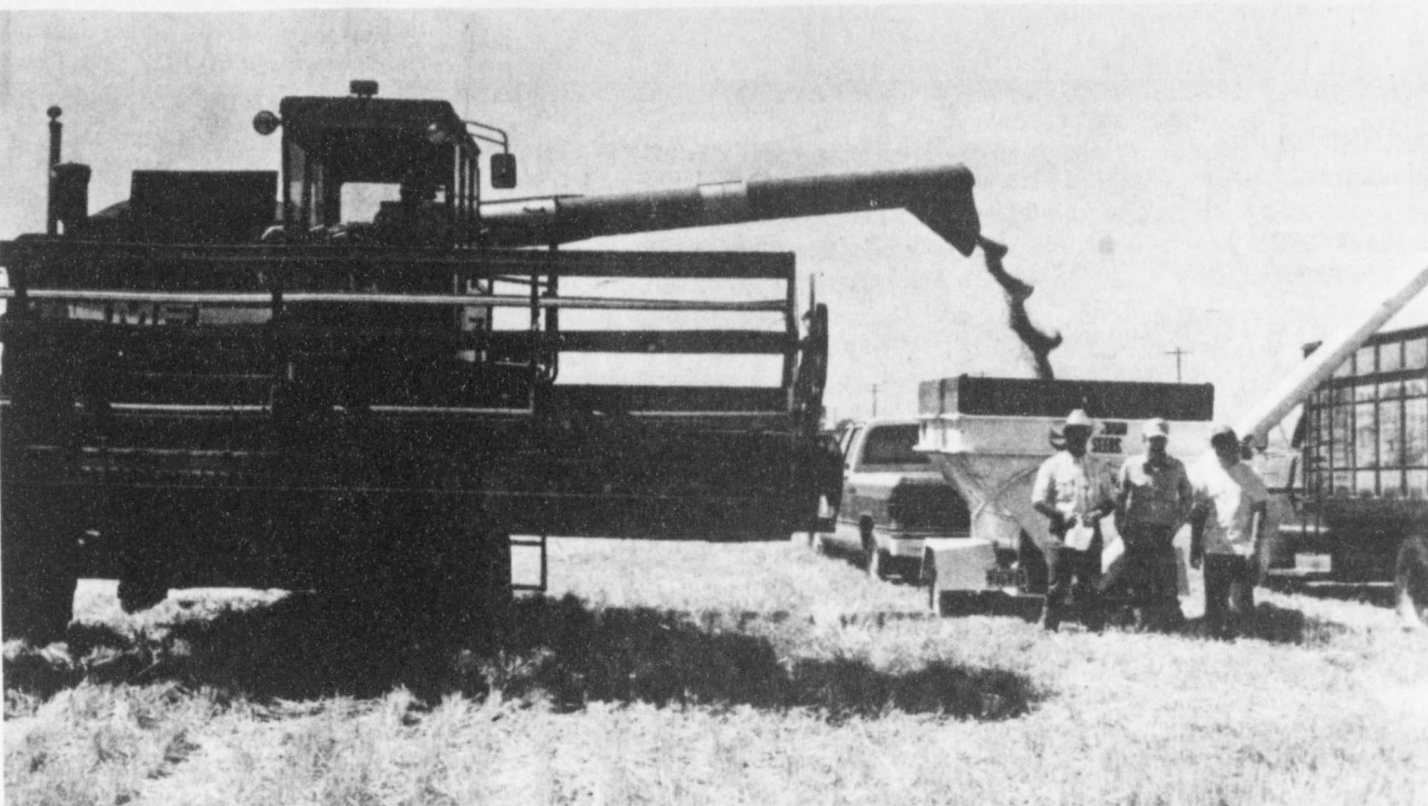

Landowners and operators are reminded that Water District rules and Texas law require open wells to be properly covered at all times, including instances when the pump is temporarily removed for repair. Goolsby notes that a cap should be installed in the well until the pump is returned to the hole.

The well cap must be solid and capable of supporting a minimum of 400 pounds. The cap should either be permanently attached to the casing or have a permanently attached weighted pipe extending at least three feet into the well casing. The weighted pipe diameter should be no more than two inches smaller than the well casing diameter. The surface cap should be wide enough to assure that the well opening will remain covered if the cap is moved from side to side.

Although many producers have taken the incentive to cap open, abandoned wells on their property, Goolsby says open holes are still being found. More than 1,200 abandoned wells have been located and properly capped or covered since the District was created in 1951.

Persons are encouraged to report the location of any open, abandoned well in the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1, 2930 Avenue Q, Lubbock, Texas 79405. The District's telephone number is (806) 762-0181.

Open holes located outside of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 service area should be reported to the Texas Water Commission, P.O. Box 13087, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711-3087.

Floyd County Extension Service analyzes wheat production practices

Wheat is a very important crop in Floyd County. Over 80,000 acres of wheat were planted in 1990. It is produced for its grain value as well as its excellent forage quality for grazing livestock.

Wheat, like many other agricultural commodities, has problems with pests and disease. The Floyd County Extension Agricultural Committee has been requesting result demonstrations to evaluate cultural and control practices.

Recently, a wheat field day was held at one of these result demonstration sites on the James Hinton farm, north of Dougherty. At this site, 14 different varieties were planted in a randomized block design that was replicated three times. The plots were moderately fertilized and irrigated two times. These varieties were analyzed at the field day.

Dr. Brent Bean, Extension Agronomist from Amarillo, evaluated each variety according to its characteristics. Dr. Harold Kaufman, Extension Plant Pathologist from Lubbock, presented disease information. The varieties were also rated for rust infestation and grazing quality by Brent Crossland, Floyd County Extension Agent. Plots were later harvested and results were gathered.

Another variety trial was also implemented at the Mike Buchanan farm near Aiken. Nine varieties were evaluated in this result demonstration trial. The results of both trials can be obtained at the Floyd County Extension Office. Producers are encouraged to look at this data prior to wheat planting for next year.

The Russian wheat aphid has also been a critical pest of the area. Controlled releases of possible Russian wheat aphid parasitizing insects were made on the Nathan Johnson farm north of South Plains. Some of these insects were native to areas as far away as Pakistan. Results of this release will be available in the Extension Result Demonstration handbook early next year.

Suthers to judge beef cattle at fair

Mac Suthers of Arnett, Oklahoma, has been selected to judge the beef cattle competition at the 73rd edition of the Panhandle South Plains Fair, September 22-29, according to general manager Steve Lewis.

Judging will be completed in one day this year, with Angus judging beginning at 9 a.m. and Shorthorn judging at 2 p.m., Tuesday, September 25.

The deadline for all livestock events is August 20, according to Lewis. The entry fee for the beef cattle division is $10.

Suthers also judged last year's show, when top winners included Tommy Colley of Bryson, grand champion Angus bull; Jerry Williams of Lockney, grand champion female Angus and Cliff Fleming of Logan, Oklahoma, grand champion shorthorn bull.

Other officials for the beef cattle division are John Farris, superintendent and Sam Field and Spencer Tankley, assistants.

Premiums totaling $13,410 will be awarded, with prizes ranging from $30 for fifth place to $85 for first. Grand champions and reserve grand champions will be named and a herdsman award will be given.

There are 50 classes of competition in the Angus division and 38 in the shorthorn division.

Lewis has confirmed three coliseum shows, including country music's hottest hunk Clint Black, who will perform at 7 and 9 p.m. Wednesday, September 26.

Rodney Crowell has been booked for 7 and 9 p.m. shows opening night, Saturday, September 22, and The Charlie Daniels Band will close out the fair with 7 and 9 p.m. shows Saturday, September 29.

Reserved-seat tickets, priced at $10, can be ordered by sending a check and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Show Tickets, P.O. Box 208, Lubbock, Texas 79408. Requests will be processed in the order in which they are received, but tickets will not be available for mailing until August. The ticket price does not include gate admission.

Other entertainment offerings, including several free shows put on by local sponsors, should be announced soon, Lewis said.

Cotton Inc.'s ad campaign wins tv awards

The song from Cotton Incorporated's new television advertising campaign, "The Fabric of Our Lives™," has been named Advertising Age's Best Original TV Music of 1989. The series of four spots — three thirty-second spots and one sixty-second spot — first aired last Thanksgiving Day and began running again on New Year's Day.

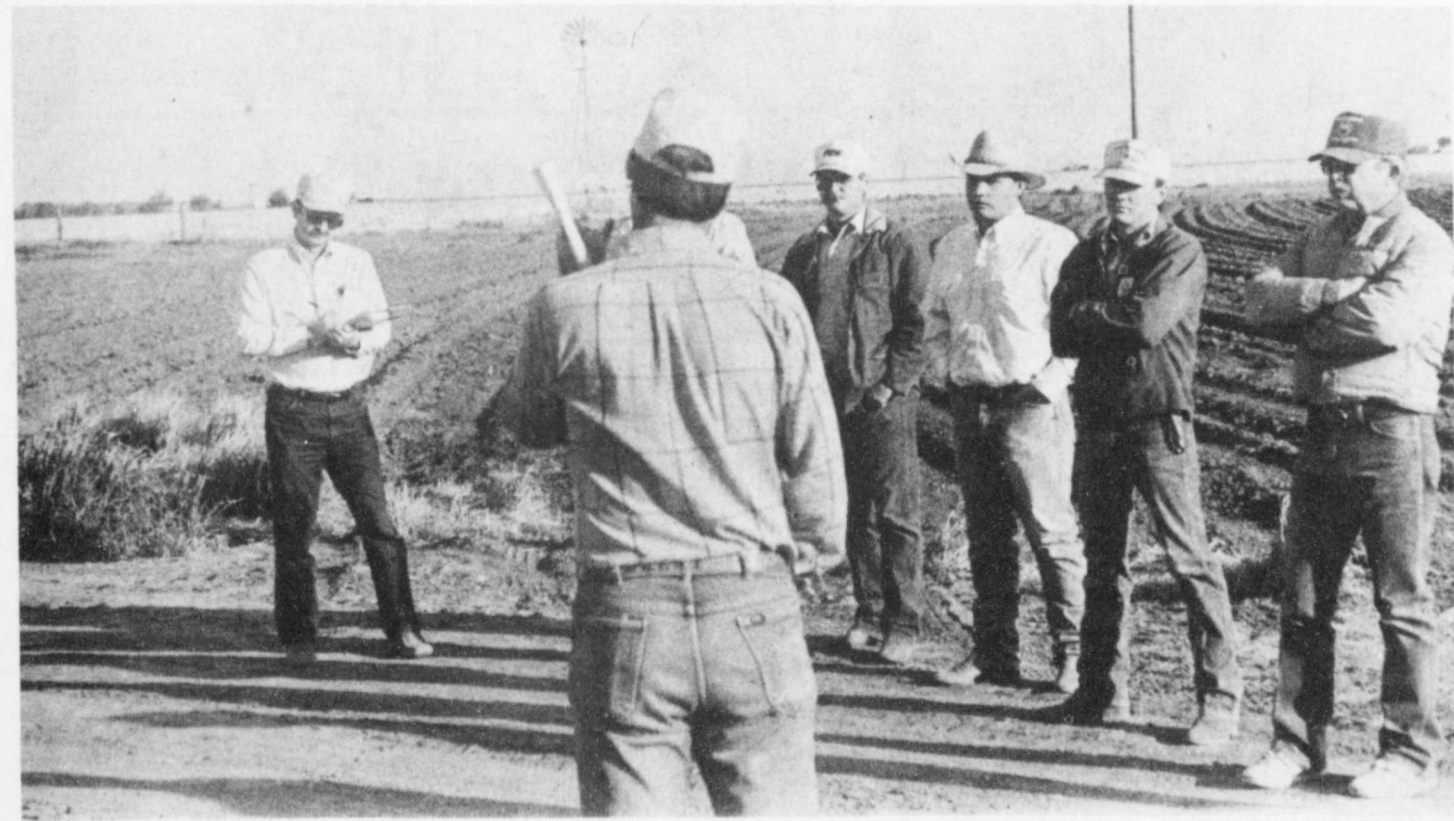

"The campaign has been enormously successful," says J. Nicholas Hahn, president and CEO of Cotton Incorporated. "And we've had an outstanding reaction from both the advertising industry and the public."

The music was written by Zack Smith, lyrics by Jan Prager and performed by Richie Havens.

Gen. Dempsey pins on second star

Maj. Gen. Robert E. Dempsey, vice commander of 8th Air Force, was awarded his second star on June 29 during a brief ceremony at Barksdale Air Force Base, Louisiana.

Lt. Gen. E.G. Shuler Jr., 8th AF commander, and Mrs. Dempsey placed a pair of stars on each of General Dempsey's shoulders signifying his new rank as members of his family and the headquarters staff looked on.

The general's mother, Mrs. Dennis Dempsey, resides in Floydada.

General Dempsey became vice commander of the "Mighty Eighth" in August 1989. Eighth AF is responsible for Strategic Air Command training and operations in the eastern half of the United States, Europe, the Mediterranean, Africa and Southwest Asia.

The general was born Nov. 12, 1941, in Gallup, N.M. His family moved to Lubbock in April 1942 and then to Floydada, where he graduated from Floydada High School in 1960. He earned a bachelor's degree from the U.S. Air Force Academy in 1964 and a master of science degree in systems management from the University of Southern California in 1971. He completed Air War College in May 1978. In addition, General Dempsey is a graduate of the Carnegie Mellon Program for executives and the Harvard Advanced Management Program.

Upon graduation from the academy, he received his commission as a second lieutenant in the Air Force. General Dempsey completed pilot training at Webb Air Force Base, Texas, and in October 1965 was assigned to the 9th Tactical Reconnaissance Squadron at Shaw AFB, S.C., where he flew RF-4C Phantoms. While at Shaw, he also served as wind executive officer for the 363rd Tactical Reconnaissance Wing.

In May 1967 the general transferred to Bergstrom AFB, Texas, where he upgraded to aircraft commander in the RF-4C en route to Tan Son Nhut Air Base, Republic of Vietnam. From November 1967 to November 1968 he flew 201 combat missions, 55 of them over North Vietnam.

General Dempsey then was assigned to the 38th TRS, Ramstein AB, West Germany, where he was the top American pilot in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's Royal Flush competition in both 1970 and 1971. After upgrading to instructor and standardization and evaluation flight examiner, he served with the inspector general, Headquarters U.S. Air Forces in Europe at Lindsey Air Station, West Germany, flying all models of the F-4 from June 1971 to June 1973.

The general then was assigned to the Directorate of Plans, Europe/NATO Plans and Policy, at Headquarters U.S. Air Force in Washington D.C. Serving there until July 1977, he specialized in United Kingdom, German and Spanish issues, and European planning matters.

In May 1978, after completing Air War College at Maxwell AFB, Ala., he was assigned to the 69th Bombardment Squadron, Loring AFB, Maine, where he flew B-52 Stratofortresses. He became commander of the 69th in April 1979. General Dempsey then was assigned to the 2nd Bombardment Wing at Barksdale AFB as assistant deputy commander for operations. He became deputy commander for operation in November 1981.

The general was assigned as vice commander of the 93rd BMW, Castle AFB, Calif., from May 1982 to April 1984. He then served as commander of the 93rd until June 1986, when he became commander of the 96th BMW at Dyess AFB, Texas, the first wing to receive SAC's newest long-range bomber, the B-1B Lancer.

He moved to Offutt AFB, Neb., in July 1987. He first served as deputy director for analysis, concepts and systems, Joint Strategic Target Planning Staff, and assistant for plans and policy, office of the Deputy Chief of Staff for Plans at SAC headquarters. In March 1988 he became deputy chief of staff for strategic planning and analysis, SAC headquarters, and deputy director for force employment plans, ISTPS. The general served in these positions until assuming his current duties in August 1989.

General Dempsey is a command pilot with more than 4,000 flying hours. His military decorations and awards include the Legion of Merit, Distinguished Flying Cross with one oak leaf cluster, Meritorious Service Medal with three oak leaf clusters, Air Medal with 12 oak leaf clusters, Combat Readiness Medal and Vietnamese Air Service Medal.

General Dempsey is married to the former Lynn Mary Salerno of Wilmette, Ill. They have three children: Robert, Michelle and Paige.

Floydada ISD Board considers proposed $5 million budget

By Juanita Stepp

The majority of the July 9 regular session of the Floydada Independent School District Board of Trustees was devoted to consideration of a proposed 1990-91 budget totaling more than $5 million. The proposed budget was prepared "as an educated guess as to what money we will have and how it will be spent," according to administrative assistant Jimmie Collins.

Collins told the board that the revenues estimated in the document are predicted on the basis of a five cent tax increase at the local level. This amount is more than the 3 percent requiring no notification to taxpayers, but less than the 8 percent which would subject the board to a rollback election.

The five cent increase this year will be followed by similar increases in the next few years to bring the local tax rate up 30 cents as mandated by state education funding changes now being implemented. The district will realize $75,000 in local funds from the tax increase this year and will qualify for an additional $56,000 in state funds by increasing the local rate at least three cents.

The proposed tax rate will be discussed at a called session at 7:00 p.m. on August 13. The public is invited to attend the session.

Discussion at the Monday evening session concentrated on possible capital improvement outlays for the 1990-91 school year. The board entered the discussion prepared to devote approximately $100,000 to capital improvement outlay for the year. Bids were opened and read on several proposed projects.

Placed at the head of the list were projects deemed necessary to education. First on the board's list of priorities was the renovation and installation of a science lab at the Junior High. Furnishings for the lab will cost $8533, plumbing is pegged at $2650 and a storage building at $4750. The work should be complete by early September depending on the delivery date for the six 4-student work centers and a teacher's station. Motion for the action was made by Michael Hinsley, seconded by John Campbell and approved by unanimous vote of the board members present.

The science lab at High School was also classed a priority, but will be deferred until next year due to lack of adequate time to complete renovations before the fall term begins and inadequate space for classes if work is done during the school year.

Fourteen Apple computers will be purchased under a state bid listing for the computer lab at the Junior High. The computers will be provided by C.A.S.A. Computers of Lubbock at a cost of $28,898.77. This includes membership in the M.E.C.C. computer information network available through the Region XVII Service Center. Motion for this action was made by Campbell, seconded by Billy Villarreal and approved unanimously.

Chair seats to replace the pull out bleachers at Graves Gym were approved on a motion by Hinsley, seconded by Cyndiann Williams and passed by unanimous vote. The seats will be provided by Southern Bleachers of Graham, Texas. Local installation will be done by school personnel and the project should be complete prior to the beginning of basketball season in November.

The board opted to replace the bleachers with chair seats after determining that repairing the current bleachers would cost approximately $16,000 compared to the purchase of new seats at a cost of $25,560. Installation costs are estimated at $3500 to $4000.

Rebuilding the High School tennis courts brought two bids. Vibra Whirl of Panhandle bid $66,693 and Sanchez Concrete of Floydada bid $46,615. The board rejected all bids and decided not to rebuild the courts at this time.

New stage curtains will be ordered and installed at R.C. Andrews Elementary School. The approximate cost is $4,000. Approval of the action came on a motion by Charlene Brown, seconded by Campbell and passed unanimously by the board.

The board also authorized the taking of bids for a new ag pickup. The bids will be considered at the August session and a decision made at that time as to the feasibility of purchasing a new pickup for the vocational agriculture department.

Increasing the amount the district contributes to the insurance coverage of employees remains undecided. Superintendent Jerry Cannon had suggested increasing the monthly $35 the district pays to $50 per employee. No action was taken and the matter will be discussed again at the regular August session.

Bids for providing milk to the district were also opened. Only one was received, coming from Bell Dairy. The board unanimously accepted the bid under the same terms and prices as in prior years.

Other new business for the coming school year included accepting resignations from Delores Moore (high school Spanish teacher), Vickie Rainer (P.E. aide at Duncan) and DeAnn Evans (Special Education aide at Duncan).

The board approved hiring Vana Littlefield (first grade), Dana Anthony (third grade), Clinton Fawver (P.E. & health at Andrews), Tracey Rice (assistant girl's basketball coach), Traci Zoth (Junior High English) and Bob Alldredge (High School distributive education, half-time). Kathy Becker, hired last month as part-time home ec teacher was bumped up to full time after pre-enrollment figures for next year were reviewed.

WHEEL CHAIR LIFT

One bid was received on the Caprock Special Education Cooperative project for installing a wheel chair lift at R. C. Andrews Elementary School. The lift is necessary in order to accommodate a wheel chair bound student entering the fourth grade this fall. Lift Aids Corporation submitted a bid of $27,775 which was accepted by the FISD board on behalf of the special education cooperative. The lift will allow the student access to the upper level classrooms at the school.

The cooperative has also purchased a used lift for $5000 which will be used to allow the student access to the basement gym and auditorium areas at Andrews. Both items are being paid for with funds from the special education group and will not cost FISD anything.

TWO BUSES SOLD

Two school buses were sold under terms of the state regulations governing such items at the session. Three bids were received on each bus. City Auto of Floydada bid $310 on bus #11 and $610 on bus #17. Eloy McDonald bid $402 on Bus #11 and $502 on bus #17. K & E Bus Sales bid $452 on each bus. The board accepted the bid of K & E of Rockdale, Texas, on bus #11 and the bid of City Auto on bus #17.

Board approval was also given on the sale of two tax property sales. Billy and Betty Marquis have offered $325 for lots 16 & 17, Block A in the Bowers and Price Addition and Amado Morales has offered $300 on lots 16 & 17, Block 79, Original Town. A motion by Williams, seconded by Villarreal approved the sale pending approval of the other taxing entities involved.

OTHER ACTION

The board approved the Texas Association of School Board Policy Manual update #36 as presented by Superintendent Jerry Cannon. Board minutes were approved from the previous meeting with one correction. The minutes were amended to reflect approval for chartering three buses to transport the band and football team to the first football game this fall in Crane.

Monthly bills were ordered paid and Collins gave the tax report. The current tax roll is $1,028,177.70 with corrections of $1,131.00. Current collections total $985,834.04 with a balance of $41,213.44 to be collected. This places the collection rate at 96% compared to 96.69% at this time last year.

Attending the session were superintendent Jerry Cannon, administrative assistant Jimmie Collins, board members Charlene Brown, Cyndiann Williams, Michael Hinsley, John Campbell, Billy Villarreal and Andy Hale and the Hesperian reporter. Board member Don Hardy was not present.

AMY HINSLEY

Amy Hinsley receives Who's Who nomination

Amy Hinsley has been nominated for inclusion in this year's edition of Who's Who Among American High School Students.

She is the 17-year-old daughter of Michael and Linda Hinsley.

A senior at Floydada High School, she is a varsity cheerleader and basketball player. She is also an active member of 4-H.

This honor is reserved for only 5% of the nation's high school students each year.

Since 1967 the major objective of Who's Who has been to recognize the achievements of outstanding students who have contributed to their schools and communities.

Nominations for this award are received from over 14,500 high school faculty members, scholarship agencies, youth club administrators and educators and advisors.

Educational services for Who's Who students include: the opportunity to compete for $65,000 in college scholarships and the opportunity to use the college referral service.

ing produced by the tax levy in collected taxes will be applied as follows for county operating expenses: the general fund will receive 90.75 percent of the taxes; road and bridge funds will receive 4.75 percent of the collected taxes and the Floyd County Library will receive 4.50 percent of the collected taxes.

This proposed budget is scheduled to be voted on during a called session at 2:00 p.m. on Tuesday, July 17, 1990 in the county courtroom. This will be a public meeting for the purpose of adopting a county budget for the 1990-91 fiscal year.

OTHER BUSINESS

The court addressed the regular business for the month of July during the Monday morning portion of the session. The court authorized the publishing of closure of the Dougherty landfill and the return of the property to the land owner of record, adopted a resolution designating the week of July 18 as Texas Veterans Land Board Week, and authorized Caprock Community Action to act as liaison for child day care for qualified children under the auspices of the Texas Department of Human Services.

Election judges for the fall elections were appointed as recommended by the county clerk, Margaret Collier. A complete listing will be published at a date closer to scheduled elections.

County treasurer Glenna Orman presented her monthly and quarterly reports concerning the status of the financial accounts of the county at the end of June. She stated that the county began the month of June with $235,755.79 and received monies totaling $358,452.74. The county paid out $442,974.38, leaving a balance of $151,234.15 in county operating accounts. The county had $259,000.00 in certificates of deposit as of June 30. Interest earned by certificates of deposit this year now totals $29,981.85 which has been added to county operating funds. The current budget will end on September 30, 1990, and the money in certificates of deposit will be utilized during the next two months to fund operations of the county for this fiscal year.

Farm work contracts were approved for Eugene Beedy, Jim Byrd, Beth Kropp, Jack Yeary and Ray Lloyd. A previous contract submitted by Randy Henderson was voided by the court at this time.

Attending the Monday session were Judge Bill Hardin, commissioners Bearden, Jackson, Taylor and Crabtree, Glenna Orman, Jane McAnally, Howard Bishop, Margaret Herrera and the Hesperian reporter. A contingent of about a dozen county residents also attended during the Monday afternoon session to show their support of home extension agent Mary True and ag extension agent Brent Crossland as they submitted their request for an assistant ag agent. Attending the Tuesday afternoon session were the judge and commissioners, Orman, Herrera, McAnally and the Hesperian reporter.

Old Fashioned Camp Meeting set for July 22-25

The Floydada Ministerial Alliance will sponsor an old-fashioned Camp Meeting under the pavilion on the courthouse square July 22-25. Local ministers and musicians will be in charge of the services with a different minister preaching each night.

On Sunday evening, July 22, the service will begin at 7:00 p.m. Monday through Wednesday services will begin at 7:30 p.m. You will need to bring a lawn chair or a blanket to sit on during the service. There will be some great music and a wonderful time of fellowship as a community. This is also a part of the centennial celebration to commemorate the 100th anniversary of Floyd County.

"Everyone is invited to attend these services as we remember our heritage and the faith that has built our community," say sponsors.

"Yellow Page" directories continue to cause confusion

Several bogus yellow page directory companies are continuing to fool local businesses. One such company, American Telephone Directory Binder Company, doing business as Yellow Page Index has been ordered by a Kentucky District Court to reimburse victims. Many of those victims are in Texas. Bogus yellow page companies send out solicitations for a listing in their directory that resembles an invoice. The "finers do the walking" emblem and the term "yellow pages" on the "invoices" cause people to believe that the mailing is from their local telephone yellow page company.

One look-a-like invoice promotion that is causing special problems currently in the South Plains is Southwest Yellow Page Directory out of Dallas. The BBB feels that many businesses will mistakenly believe that it is an invoice from Southwestern Bell Yellow Pages and pay the $98. The Bureau urges businesses to make sure that the people who pay the bills are aware of this potential problem. Contact: Alan Bligh at 763-0459

WHERE, OH WHERE, HAS JOHNNY GONE? -- Somewhere beneath the mass of an inflating Ernie the Elf, Pay-n-Save manager Johnny Summers stands engulfed due to a temporary air flow problem. All was soon set to rights as the Keebler Elf towered above July 4th activities and Summers ably hosted the 'Fourth Fourth' in Floydada.

Brandy Coleman nominated for Who's Who Brandy Coleman, 16-year-old daughter of Virginia Coleman and T.J. Coleman Jr., has been nominated for Who's Who Among American High School Students.

A junior at Floydada High School, she is drum major. She is also active in the First Baptist Church youth group. As a piano student, Brandy has competed at Texas Tech's piano contest. This honor is reserved for only 5% of the nation's high school students each year.

Since 1967 the major objective of Who's Who has been to recognize the achievements of outstanding students who have contributed to their schools and communities.

Nominations for this award are received from over 14,500 high school faculty members, scholarship agencies, youth club administrators and educators and advisors.

Educational services for Who's Who students include: the opportunity to compete for $65,000 in college scholarships and the opportunity to use the college referral service.

WEATHER

Remember Sunday, July 12, 1987 with it's heavy rain and severe hail! Remember Tuesday, July 14, 1987 with still heavier rain and a "mop-up" hail that finished off the crops Sunday's hail missed! Aw! Forget it!

The Bible plainly states that if we go to the ants and study their ways it will make us a whole lot smarter. It must have been 68 years ago that your writer, just learning the wisdom of keeping his bare feet out of goat-head vines and the red ant beds, first observed a number of winged ants lolling around the entrance to an ant bed. My childish curiosity quickly sent me to check other nearby ant beds and I was amazed to find that all of them also had those strange looking winged interlopers.

It took a number of years and much random reading before I understood that these "lolling winged ants" were actually busily at work doing the job they were especially designed to do. They were the males of the species, "Gentlemen in Waiting" if you please, whose job was to wait, and wait, and wait, outside, near the entrance to the ant bed until their majesties, the virgin queens, who also possessed wings, chose to emerge from within and take wing on their mating flight.

Once the queens are airborne the male ants take off in hot pursuit and endeavor to execute a mating in mid-air. The male ants, whether successful in the mating or not, share one thing in common, unable to find their way back home, they fall to the ground and perish in a very short time.

The newly impregnated queen also falls to the ground and immediately sets about digging a hole in which to rear her family. She now finds her wings a hindrance to her digging so she tears them off. That is how a new bed of red ants gets started.

After most of the questions about the winged ants had been cleared up, one mystery continued to puzzle me for something like 60 years. Why, after weeks without a winged ant in sight, was it that suddenly, one fine morning, every ant bed within walking distance would simultaneously present a number of the winged ants? What triggered them, how did all of them know to do this on the same day, usually within the same hour? Another of nature's strange and unfathomable mysteries!

Have you noticed the workings of the human mind, the strange times and places when the answers to perplexing problems burst upon you with no apparent reason? It happens to me quite often, as I sit among the congregation at church, while some poor preacher diligently presents to us the fruits of his hours of meditation and communion with the Lord, that the answer to some problem of the week comes through crystal clear and with indisputable accuracy. Or has your mind ever wrestled far into the night with some cantankerous situation, you catch a few hours sleep, and when you awake the answer is right there? No problem!

It was while digging post holes in dry, dry earth using a pair of old chugger post hole diggers, and sweat was pouring from my face, when suddenly I knew why winged ants appear around all the red ant holes at exactly the same time. RAIN was the answer; not just a shower, but one and a half to two inches of rain. When there has been enough rain to soften the earth so that the young queens can dig their new nests then the winged male ants appear and things are right for the ant world to expand once more.

Now you ask, "How does the ant business above tie in with the weather?"

Max Yeary coasted to a stop for a moments' chat Monday and while we were talking a red ant queen, already devoid of her wings, came strolling along the edge of the blacktop. Had she gone crazy from the heat? The last and heaviest shower we had was six tenths of an inch on June 15! Evidently the ants feel there is such little prospect for rain that they are sending out their queens to face almost certain failure in their attempts to propagate new colonies. Yes, it has gotten so hot and so dry that even the insects are beginning to behave in an irrational manner!

We have experienced a full week without a drop of rain, not a clap of thunder, and there was not even any dew most of the mornings.

Heat has not reached the extremes of a week ago, however the highs did exceed 100 on most days.

CROP COMMENTS

Crop checker, Jerry Davis, of Davis Flying Service near Sterley, brought in a cotton bloom to the Lockney Co-op Gin Office at South Plains on July 3, but Cedar Hill's first bloom, a pink one, was not observed until July 6.

However on July 4 the Listening Post honeybees, laden with nectar, were thumping heavily on the landing boards of their hives as they returned from their foragings. Later, at dusk that evening, there was the strong aroma of cotton honey drifting near the hives as the bees set about drying out the excess liquid from the raw, or green, nectar. It takes approximately three parts of field grade cotton nectar to produce one part of 17% moisture, storage-safe, honey. Already the bees are crying for empty supers, but here at the computer sits your writer; the N&V must go on.

Irrigation of cotton began on July 3, this year, a full week earlier than it did in '89. Even so this year's cotton that was watered first is already beginning to show stress. A thicker plant population, higher daytime temperatures, and beginning with soil moisture less than that of a year ago are all working to make this year's hill much steeper to climb.

July 6: It isn't a crop, but we will call it crop related; an 8X14 ft. green house was delivered at the Phil Lemons' home Friday. A cute thing with surprising roominess inside. It has thermostatically controlled vents in the roof. All such buildings are highly promoted, but this one has already produced a miracle; when Phil opened the door Saturday morning his first crop was ready and waiting to be harvested. There, firmly anchored in the pine-bark that covers the floor, with the mists from the watering system swirling about them, stood three perfect onion plants, two and one half feet tall, with snow white bulbs the size of baseballs. There will probably be a scramble each morning as family members vie to be first to see what new marvel the night and the green house have wrought.

I can think of several practical jokers that an antic like that would fit perfectly; the problem is to narrow the field.

PEOPLE

Cedar Hillians have gotten so healthy lately that we have run completely out of Leaning Cedars!

July 6: The Lucius Hill Family and Ruthie Belle Clark, Edna Gilly's mother, all from Austin, Texas came for a visit with Edna Friday. The Hill family, Edna's brother, continued on Saturday to vacation in Red River, NM. Edna and Ruthie Belle took lunch with Deliece Harrison and her family, and visited with Ruthie's sister, Mildred and Clay Anderson, in Plainview, Sunday.

On Monday they visited in Floydada with Clara Redd, another of Ruthie's sisters.

July 7: Reverend and Mrs. Mary Willis Dewey returned home from visiting Mary's mother in Pampa on Saturday instead of Wednesday as reported in last week's N&V. Trouble with their alternator and a broken fan belt took much of the pleasure out of their cool evening drive to Pampa after services on July 1. It was up in the small, wee hours of Monday morning before they arrived in Pampa.

July 7: Terry Harris spent the weekend with his grandparents, Cephus and Imogene Fortenberry. His mother, Phyllis came for him Sunday and stayed for dinner.

July 8: Nancy Evelyn Kelley and Norma Welch went to the Muleshoe Civic Center, in Muleshoe, Sunday to a gathering honoring Audrey Carter Ross Dudley on her 80th birthday. Audrey was still a teenager when the Carter family moved away from Cedar Hill back in the '20s.

NOTICE OF REQUEST FOR APPROVAL OF LARGE POWER WHOLESALE DELIVERY POINT RATE AND STATEMENT OF INTENT

Notice is hereby given that LIGHTHOUSE ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE, INC. (the "Utility") intends to implement a new rate for large power service received by the customer at the Cooperative's wholesale power supplier's delivery point. Additionally, the Utility intends to change the power cost recovery factor applicable to other customers to exclude power costs and energy sales under the proposed rate. The proposed rate and changes in power cost recovery factor are applicable to all areas served by the Utility and may affect all customers. Based upon a test year ending May 31, 1990, implementation of the proposed rate and changes in power cost recovery factor will not produce any change in revenues to the Utility.

Implementation of the proposed changes is subject to approval by the appropriate regulatory authority. A statement of intent, including the proposed revisions of tariff and schedules and a statement specifying in detail each proposed change is available at the general office of the Utility located at Floydada, Texas.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0223 or (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.
