Eight vie for queen

By Mary Martinez Eight Floyd County girls will compete in the Queen's Pageant for the Deis y Seis de Septiembre celebration on Sunday, Sept. 16, in Floydada.

These eight contestants from Lockney and Floydada enjoyed a get acquainted party at the home of Mary Martinez on Sunday, Sept. 2.

The pageant's coordinator from Lockney, Rosie Rendon and assistant coordinator, Mary Martinez of Floydada, then accompanied the girls to the courthouse pavilion where the girls could practice. They also enjoyed the watermelon feast sponsored by Nick Long. The highlight of the afternoon was when the girls and coordinator got to tie a ribbon on the Patriotic Tree at the courthouse in support of the military personnel in the Middle East.

The girls competing in the contest are:

Almadena Basaldua, 16, is the daughter of Ofelia Basaldua of Lockney. She is a junior at Lockney High School.

Priscilla Beltran, 16, is the daughter of Bennie and Mary Beltran of Lockney. She is a student at Lockney High Gonzales of Floydada. She is a senior at Floydada High School.

Rosalinda Gonzales is the 17-yearold daughter of Irene and Guadalupe Gonzales of Floydada. She is a senior at Floydada High School.

Rosemary Gonzales, a junior at Floydada High School, is the 17-yearold daughter of Irene and Guadalupe Gonzales.

Samantha Salazar is the daughter of Sally and Pete Salazar of Floydada. She is 19 years old and a senior at Floydada High School.

The pageant is scheduled for 2:00 p.m. on Sunday under the pavilion at the courthouse.

Motion to adopt the budget as presented was made by Councilman Amado Morales and seconded by Councilman Wayne Tipton. Vote on the motion was unanimous in favor.

The budget to be implemented estimates revenues for the 12 month period at $2,120,373.00 from all city funds. The general fund is expected to take in $573,403.00, the water fund should realize $505,300.00 and the sewer fund income is estimated at $115,000.00. The electric department should have revenues of about $900,320.00, the city farm fund is estimating revenue at $16,750.00 and the health fund at 9,600.00.

Due to several capital improvement projects planned for the year in the city, evening session is based on a continuing ad valorem tax rate of 40 cents per $100 assessed valuation. This rate has not changed over the last several years. A 40 cent tax rate on the current tax levy will bring in approximately $165,475.00 toward city expenses.

The 1990 tax rate was set at 40 cents on a motion by Councilman Eric Cornelius, seconded by Tipton and passed by unanimous vote.

WRITE-IN CANDIDATES MUST DECLARE IN ADVANCE

Members of the Floydada City Council voted 4 to 1 to approve an ordinance requiring all write-in candidates for municipal offices to declare their candidacy a minimum of 30 days prior to the election. Councilman Morales was the dissenting vote. Motion for the action came from Councilman Leroy Burns with a second from Cornelius.

What a way to start the season! We're all proud of you! Of course, we would be proud of ya'll even if you didn't win. *****

Evidently most people are happy we are giving cash away as a grand prize on the football contest. We sold out of newspapers last week and we had a record number of entries in the football contest the first week.

Wouldn't you know it though, when we stop giving tickets to the Cowboys Thanksgiving game they go and win a game! We may have been responsible for breaking their losing streak. Don't thank us - just send cash!

The Lion's Club is having their annual Pancake Supper at the junior high cafeteria, the night before the Floydada-Lockney game. They'll start serving at 5:00 p.m. until 8:30 p.m. Tickets for adults are $3.00 and children under 12 are $1.50.

The proceeds from the sales will go to different charitable projects locally and nationally that your Lions Club supports.

I'm a Lion and I get to use my column to sell my tickets. I've got a bunch in the office for sale and I'm also carrying them around with me.

The rest of those Lions can take out individual ads telling people that they have tickets on sale!

I know I'm going to regret saying that!

I was talking to Gary Brown this week about the championship goat cook-off in Brady. He was the man who got that started back in 1974.

The cookoff is now being sponsored by the Brady Chamber of Commerce, attracts thousands every year to town and is a big money making project for the chamber and area merchants.

I asked Gary for his advice on Punkin Days. I wondered if he thought we could ever expect that big of a turn-out for 'Punkin Days.'

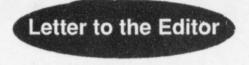

He was very encouraging but said that someday we may have a space problem

My little boy woke up this morning with a stuffed up nose and cough. He sounded terrible. The poor little thing got sicker everytime I sat close to him and told him I was sorry he wasn't feeling good. I was feeling miserable for leaving him at home.

He would lay close to me, growing smaller and smaller with each breath, poor pitiful cocker spaniel eyes looking up at me, and laying my hand on his forehead every couple of minutes to make sure he wasn't dying.

He hugged me so close when I said good-bye, as if in a final farewell. As I was walking out to the car, I could hear him running and screaming through the house playing with the babysitter and her son.

The little squirt. He gets that from me. I am always sicker when my mom is around to take care of me!

Dear Editor,

Today as I was riding through the park, I noticed tons of broken bottles, candy wrappers and all sorts of trash lying around. It made me feel really sad to know Floydada doesn't take the responsibility to throw their trash away. I just wanted to say that we ought to be proud of Floydada and keep it and our earth clean. So next time you're about to throw your trash down remember, Don't mess with Floydada!! Sincerely,

Katie Sanders

P.S. I picked up as much trash as I could.

(Editor's Note: Katie Sanders is the 10-year-old daughter of Brent and Sarah Sanders of Floydada.)

Court adopts 33.55 cent tax rate

By Juanita Stepp

Meeting in special session on September 7, 1990, The Floyd County Commissioners Court adopted a 1990 tax rate of 33.55 cents per $100 of assessed value. The action came on a unanimous vote of the court following a motion for adoption made by Precinct 4 Commissioner Kay Crabtree. Second for the motion was provided by Precinct 2 Commissioner Floyd Jackson. The order for adoption included the offering of a 3 percent discount for taxes paid in October, a 2 percent discount for taxes paid in November and a 1 percent discount for taxes paid in December.

SEPTEMBER SESSION

The court held a regular monthly session on Monday, September 10. Meeting with the commissioners were Lori Goulet and Donnie Carriker representing the Texas Association of Counties (TAC). The pair were present to discuss options they could offer in regard to county officials and employees liability insurance coverage.

According to Goulet, the county could save "between $5,000 and $7,000 per year" by using insurance coverage available through her organization. As a member of the organization, Floyd County would have better coverage and lower premiums. The current policy, due to expire September 14, cost almost $6,000 per year, covered only elected officials and had a $5,000 deductible. The county commissioners opted to take a policy with a $2500 deductible from TAC. The policy will cover all county officials and employees for an annual premium of $3182.

Floyd County Is 100!

(YEAH!). He said in Brady that the cook-off is in a beautiful shaded park and that a shuttle bus keeps driving people back and forth to shop in town at the many sales going on.

He said maybe someday we may have remainder of his probation. to consider having it at the Country Club. We could have some neat cross country runs, pretty scenery, lots of play room and a shuttle to town.

It's something to dream about.

Gary and I also got to talking about how we can support the whole county, what kinds of things the newspapers can do to bring the county together and how to bring people here to live with us.

He told me an interesting story. He said that he went to a meeting once (I forgot where) and they were discussing how businesses go about locating to new towns. The audience was told a true story about a big business that was thinking about coming to a small town.

The business first sent out representatives secretly to visit with citizens. They attended meetings, shopped in town and went to the local football games. The representatives asked the same questions everywhere they went.

What do you think about this town? What do you think of your school system? What do you think about your coach? What do you think about your local government, etc.

Everywhere they went people had upbeat things to say. Even negative things were counter balanced with a positive statement. The business located in that town and when they were asked later why they came to that location, they said, "Because your citizens are happy here. They are positive and the town has a good outlook, etc.

When a stranger from out of town stops at your gas station or in your store, what have you got to say about your town, or your county?

Would Floyd County impress representatives on a secret mission to relocate, or would we flunk? *****

If you are living in Your furnace needs an annual check-up.

Your natural gas furnace has been sitting quietly all summer, waiting for the time it's really needed. And like anything that's been idle a while, your furnace needs a checkup before it starts back to work. You may want to check with your landlord or apartment manager about arranging for an annual inspection by a qualified professional heating contractor. Once it's been inspected, your furnace should require very little attention the rest of the winter.

A closet isn't always a closet.

Your water heater or furnace is probably in a closet all by itself. And that's the way it should stay. As tempting as it may be, don't use the space around a water heater or furnace for storage. Even

The battle of Monte de las Cruces, where the insurgents defeated the Spanish forces of Colonel Torcuato Trujillo, could have shortened the war for independence and the liberation of Mexico. Hinsley moved that the board accept the bid of City Auto, Don Hardy seconded it and the motion carried unanimously.

The board voted unanimously to transfer county available school funds from the county to FISD. The money, which is based on the average number of students in the district, will amount to approximately $100,000 for FISD. The money can only be used to pay off bonds or permanent improvements.

The board voted to accept the resignation of migrant aide, Mrs. Lucio, and to employ Abel Vasquez at a trainable aide at Duncan. Vasquez will help with a non ambulatory student.

The trustees also approved the early dismissal of school on November 20 (Thanksgiving), December 20 (Christmas), March 15 (Spring Break) and May 24 (the last day of school).

The members present were: Charlene Brown, Michael Hinsley, Cyndiann and disturbed the hearts of the people. Acts had occurred that indicated declarations of independence.

The names of the lawyers Verdad and Azcarate and that of friar Melchor de Talamantes were entered into history through the door of martyrdom. Notwithstanding, New Spain seemed to be tranquil.

Over in Guanajuato, Ignacio Allende, Capitan of a regiment of the queen's dragoons, cherished the idea of promoting the independence of Mexico. To this purpose, he looked for followers among friends and companions and succeeded in reuniting a restless group made up of the leader Aldama, the lawyer Ignacio Aldama, Captain Jose M. Arevalo, the priests Manuel Casteblanque, Vicenta Casas del Cerro, Fernando Zamarripa and many others. They conspired by meeting under the guise of dances and evening parties.

Meanwhile, in Queretaro and under the name of the Literary Academy, other conspirators were reuniting, the lawyer Parra, the priest Jose M. Sanchez, the lawyers Lazo and Altamirano, etc. at the same time as Allende and his companions were meeting. The Spanish magistrate of Queretaro, Miguel Dominquez and sets 40 cent tax rate

J. M. Willson's bid of $300 for the purchase of a tax sale Lot 19, Block 85, Original Floydada, was accepted by the council. Approval has already been given by the other taxing entities involved in the sale.

The council appointed Reverend Lupe Rando to replace Rosie Garcia on the Floydada Housing Authority Board. She is resigning and Rev. Rando has agreed to return to the board.

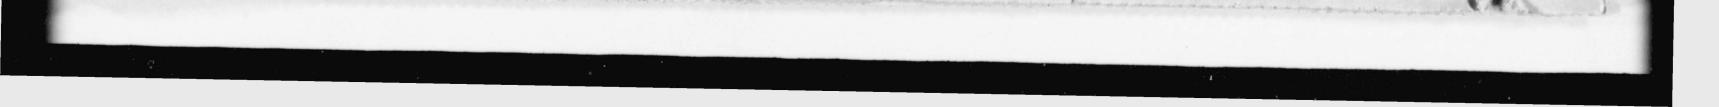

City manager Gary Brown reported on the developing progress of a regional solid waste study to determine the needs of the region and the solutions to the solid waste disposal problems confronting the region in the future. He also reported that the airport grant for seal coating has been approved by the state and that work should begin on waterline improvements within two weeks.

Brown also told the council that the digger truck for the electric department which was ordered several months ago is scheduled for delivery next week. In connection with the electric department, Brown advised the council that he had been approached by Southwestern Public Service about presentation of a pos-

Several diseased trees have been removed from areas of the city. The trees are dripping some substance and dying. The problem seems to be spreading to other trees in the city. Brown also stated that he had talked with the railroad concerning the overgrown condition of the railroad right of way through the city. This should be corrected shortly according to Brown.

A meeting between Mayor Wayne Russell, Brown and the Texas Department of Health in Austin on September 6 addressed the matter of the pending expansion permit for the Floydada landfill. No decisions were made. The department asked for additional information concerning drainage and Brown indicated that the city is gathering the information to be sent to Austin. According to Brown, no permits for landfill operations have been issued in the past two years that he is aware of. Floydada has been seeking a permit for the past 20 months and is in danger of running out of space at the current facility before permission is granted to use the new areas.

Attending the session were Mayor Wayne Russell, councilmen Leroy Burns, Amado Morales, Ruben Barrientoz, Wayne Tipton and Eric Cornelius. Also present were city attorney Randy Hollums, city manager Gary Brown and city secretary Jimmie Lou Stewart, Sharon Quisenberry, Karen Lawson, Connie Galloway, Joe Stepp and the Hesperian reporter in addition to several local citizens.

Brannon, Stewart marry in Quitaque

Amy Deann Brannon of Quitaque and Kyle Dean Stewart of South Plains were united in marriage during an afternoon ceremony at the First Baptist Church of Quitaque. The Rev. Ralph McCorick of Norman, Oklahoma, performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Brannon of Quitaque and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Brannon of Silverton and Mrs. LaVern Walker and the late Bill Walker of Lampasas. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Dean Stewart of South Plains and the grandson of Mrs. Ruth Babb of Logan, New Mexico.

A selection of wedding music was provided by organist Patsy Herrington and Jana Boyles, soloist, who sang "Nobody Loves Me Like You Do" and "Wind Beneath My Wings."

The couple exchanged vows before an altar lighted by an arched candelabrum. The altar was centered with a large arrangement of peach and white flowers trimmed with peach and teal bows. This was flanked by two seven branch candelabrum trimmed with the bride's colors. Two baskets of peach and white flowers completed the altar arrangement.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a gown of white La Champagne organza with a beaded Venise basque bodice and portrait neckline and off the shoulder pouf sleeves which featured ruffle detail. The skirt had pickup accents with beaded bows over a chapel train. The headpiece was a wreath of pearl filament sprays and flowers to which a long veil of illusion silk was attached.

She carried a cascading bouquet of peach, teal and white roses accented with baby's breath.

The bride carried out the tradition of something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue. A diamond necklace was borrowed from the groom's mother, a gold wedding band that belonged to the groom's greatgrandmother and a gold watch that belonged to the bride's great-grandmother were pinned in the bouquet, her dress was new and she wore a blue garter

As the bride approached the altar, she

Tri-community reunion held at Massie Activity Center

The Massie Activity Center was the site of the September 2, 1990, Center-Fairview-Campbell Reunion.

More than 75 residents- ex residents and relatives attended. Lola Pohl, of Matador, presided at the register. Officers presiding were: Vic Green - president, Don Green - vice president and Patsy Dunn - secretary treasurer.

Merle Weathers gave the invocation before a bountiful potluck dinner, which was enjoyed by all. After the dinner, Vic Green called the meeting to order with the old school bell from the Fairview school. Patsy Dunn read the minutes and gave the treasurers report from the previous 1988 reunion. Don Green recognized the group who started the reunion in 1971-72. They were: Roe Jones, J.B. Plainview. Jordan, Floyd Montgomery, Travis Lightfoot, Alma Dunn, Weldon Cumbie, Earline Bagwell, Murl Mayfield, Lillian Marble, Joe Robertson, Louis Anderson and Lee Burton. Vic Green recognized the couple married the longest, Gordon and Murl Mayfield, married 65 years. Persons traveling the longest distance were Alta Robertson, of Houston and Joe Lee Dunn and family, of Houston. The family with the most members present, was the Green family. The memorial list was read by Vic Green and consisted of 10 deaths since the 1988 reunion. The business meeting was concluded by a recommendation from J.B. Jordan that the same officers preside for the next reunion to be held on Labor Day weekend 1992, at the Massie Activity Center.

Tobi and Tessa Lutrick, twin nieces of the groom, served as candlelighters.

The matron of honor was Teresa Lutrick, sister of the groom. Bridesmaids were Margaret Leal of Amarillo and Pam Harmon of Quitaque. The attendants wore matching peach taffeta and organza tea length gowns designed similar to the bride's.

Flower girls were Holly Stewart and Erin Lutrick, nieces of the groom.

Matt Stewart, nephew of the groom, was ring bearer

Ronnie Stewart served his brother as best man. The groomsmen were Robey Lutrick, brother-in-law of the groom, of Hale Center and Brett Marble of South Plains.

Kelly Patrick and Lane Myers of Quitaque were the ushers.

Guests were registered by Robin Myers of Quitaque.

Following the ceremony the bride's parents hosted a reception in the fellowship hall of the church. The bride's table was covered with a teal cloth overlaid with a white crochet cloth and featured a white three tiered cake decorated with peach roses and accented with teal, it was topped by a crystal heart shaped piece which featured swans and wedding bells.

The floral arrangement on the table was peach and white flowers trimmed with ribbon in the bride's colors and crystal appointments. Robin Myers and Cristy Bays presided at the table.

The groom's table featured a peach cloth overlaid with heirloom lace and

Bill and Molly Stringer enjoyed a few days vacation last week. They went to Ruidoso the first part of the week and then went to Wichita, Kansas to visit their daughter, Melody and husband, Jim Roberts. The Roberts will be moving to Maryland this week.

Sue and Gary Fuller went to Oklahoma last week to the funeral of Gary's grandmother.

We have two new LVN's at the hospital. Shari Shaw will be working fulltime and Margaret Soudelier will be parttime. Michelle Bearden our weekend nurse has started to Tech full time. We wish her lots of luck.

Joyce Smith and all of her daughters, her sister and her daughter enjoyed a trip to Law Vegas several weeks ago. They all reported a good time, Joyce is still working.

Monday was a busy day at the hospital. We started off with a nursing staff meeting, then had Peer Review and R.N. supervisor's meeting. After these meetings we had our hospital wide Quality Assurance Meeting and finally at lunch we had Medical Staff meeting followed by Medical Staff Quality Assurance meeting.

We had the Mammogram unit at our hospital this week. We had 22 ladies sign up for appointments.

Our employee of the month for September is Elena Hopper. Elena won our employee of the year last year. Congratulations Elena!

We celebrated September birthdays and recognized Elena at an employee luncheon on Tuesday of this week.

Health Tip

To make weight loss more permanent here are some strategies that can help.

* Keep a daily record of what, how much and under what circumstances you eat. The first step toward changing your eating patterns is to become aware of them. Is food a comfort when things aren't going well? Do you eat when you're feeling depressed or bored?

* Once you've identified what situations make you reach for food, learn to neutralize those times by replacing food with a new behavior. For example, instead of heading for the refrigerator when you've had an argument with your spouse, go for a walk, clean the house or call a friend.

* Replace self-defeating thoughts with positive "self-talk." Focus on your successes rather than dwelling on the times you've slipped up.

will help you eat smaller portions.

* Eat regular meals. Skipping meals can lead to out-of-control hunger, which often results in overeating.

passed out the rice bags.

* Make healthy food choices. Limit your intake of fat and sugar. Instead, choose foods from the four food groups.

* Don't put all your favorite foods in an "off-limits" category. By allowing yourself small amounts of the foods you enjoy, you'll feel less deprived and you'll be less likely to binge.

* Be assertive. If someone offers you dessert, simply say, "No, thank you." Recognize that you do have control over what and how much you eat.

* Set a reasonable goal and keep revising it as you progress. If your expectations are unrealistic, you're bound to feel like a failure if you fall short. Instead of saying, "I want to lose 50 pounds," think in terms of a day-today goal: "I will take a short walk instead of eating during my afternoon break." Ask a qualified health care professional to help you determine a realistic weight.

* Take temptation out of your path. Don't go to the grocery store on an empty stomach. Buy only foods that you've included in your meal plan. Avoid situations where you may overeat, or make careful, realistic plans for how you will handle the situation. For example, if you're going to the movies, take along an appropriate snack.

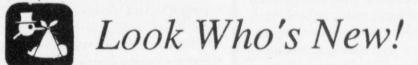

Child Welfare Board met September 4 at agriculture building

The Floyd County Child Welfare Board met Tuesday, Sept. 4, at the agricultural building. Those present were Charlanne Burson, Gladys Jones, Kay Martin, Karen Lawson, Lesca Durham, Karol Rainwater, Connie Johnson and Gloria Roberson, protective services worker from Plainview.

Floyd County is now responsible for 14 children. If any organization, church group or individual would like to be responsible for any one of these children's school clothes, birthdays or Christmas, please contact Kay Martin at 652-3386 or Connie Johnson at 983-3603. The board appreciates all the community does for these children.

The regional meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, Sept. 25, in Lubbock at 7:00 p.m. The board is also planning on having an informational booth at the Pumpkin Day celebration.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

By Jo Bryant

Hi, to all our friends and neighbors. Do hope that you enjoyed your Sept. 3, Labor Day. Some of our residents went out to visit and eat with their families and some had visitors. I got to visit with my daughter, Nila and family in Plainview. We attended the memorial service for our men and women who are in the Middle East. Gilbert Garcia gave an inspiring message. He is a Vietnam vet.

Tuesday, the residents enjoyed watermelon given to us by Boone Adams, thanks.

Wednesday, Irene Rodriguez and Bro. Sammy Rodriguez came and shared the word with us. Irene played the flute for us, "He Touched Me" and "Amazing Grace."

Wednesday, Bingo time once again. Della Halencak had the first Bingo. Mary Alice Davis came and assisted the residents.

Thursday was the monthly resident meeting. Ottis Johnson called the meeting to order. The residents have a time to discuss their needs or compliments. They enjoyed popcorn too.

Friday, Evelyn Latta came and played the piano for us. We shared a poem on "When You've Counted All Your Blessings." For rainbows, birds, the budding rose, for friends and family. The residents went on a bus ride to Plainview. Residents going were Peggy Young, Della Halencak, Jim Gage, Clarence Cobb, Billy Probasco, Charles Breeding, E.O. McElyea, Henry Willis, Knox Jameson, Charles Breeding and Brooks Callaway.

Stars treated them to some ice cream. We want to welcome two new residents, Hattie Jones, mother of Frances Hambright, and Clarence Cobb, father of Jane Bean.

A thought: "Temper is a valuable possession, don't lose it."

Visitors this week were: the Rev. Sammy and Mrs. Rodriguez, Pauline Robertson, Willie Mae Smith, May Sue, Myria Dade, Deeota Odam, Arlene Holmes, H.C. and Marge McElyea, Frances Barnett, Robert Hardin, Al Galloway, Rena Turner, Ruth Scott, Ola Smith, Evelyn Latta, Mary Helen and Billy Wason, Matador, and Mary Shurbet.

Coach's Comments

At the Floydada Booster Club on Monday night, Coach Dean Bates stated: "Our boys got off the bus ready to play, and we're proud of their effort. We played dumb at times, but we're young in spots and it's going to take us some time. The effort is there!"

"Defensively, I think we had an outstanding ball game. We gave up some yardage and made some mistakes. We had several youngsters who had the best ball game I've seen at certain positions. Ruben Chavarria had the best game at linebacker I've seen in my 23 years of coaching! Michael Aleman had an outstanding game, as did our weak side cornerback, Jaime Suarez."

"A lot of others played well, but those three really were outstanding. Offensively we didn't generate much - but Crane had a lot to do with that. They've got 20 seniors back off a district champion team and averaged 225 across the front."

"Their defensive tackle, Toby Guy, will be the best down lineman we play all year - he's an excellent football player. We had a hard time dealing with

"I hope Crane goes on until we see them again (if we see them in playoffs). I think it would be an outstanding confrontation if we were to meet again somewhere other than at Crane. I didn't tell anybody that I've never had a team do well at Crane. I've taken teams there for years and never did well."

"The kids were disappointed - we were disappointed - that we didn't win, But we gained some important experience. We'll work some things out in the offense and we're going to be a good football team."

"We've got Lubbock Roosevelt over there this week. They've not been a good team in the past, but have five or six kids who can really play. They have a big fullback and a talented tailback along with some 225-lb. linemen. Their starting quarterback didn't play against Dimmitt, but I expect to see him."

"Roosevelt can present us with some problems, so we've got a week's work to do. We won't have to travel as far, so maybe we can get some people over there to look at us. The team appreciates the fan support."

'Winds tie favored Crane 0-0 opener

By Bill Gray

If the Floydada Whirlwinds' season opener against Crane was indicative of what to expect in 1990, Floydada's followers will be in for an exciting year. Although outweighed 20 pounds-perman on the line, the 'Winds ventured to the heart of the Permian Basin "oil patch" and held the favored Golden Cranes to a scoreless tie. Both teams established early on that they will be powers in their respective 3A districts.

The topsy-turvy contest had every element to contribute to a classic event - in all probability, it was one of the foremost schoolboy games to be played this or any other year. Neither team was ever able to gain total momentum -although the Golden Cranes controlled the ball almost 70 percent of the game, the Whirlwinds' tenacious defense kept Floydada in a position to counter anything the Cranes had to offer throughout the evening.

The Whirlwinds received the opening kickoff, but were forced to punt after netting minus-six yards in three plays. A late hit penalty, against the 'Winds on Crane's return, moved the ball to Floydada's 34-yard line. Six plays later, the Cranes were knocking on the Whirlwind goal (shades of last year's playoff game against Canyon!). However, a key play by 'Wind linebacker Ruben Chavarria set the stage for a tremendous Floydada goal-line stand.

Courty Jones' 20-yard field goal attempt on fourth down was wide, and Crane failed to capitalize on the golden opportunity. The 'Wind stopper unit, led by linebackers Jamie Davis and Chavarria, and the interior defensive wall, displayed almost mid-season form in denying Crane's early scoring threat.

Floydada managed only 17 yards and one first down in its next possession; Kenneth Collins was again called on to punt. Crane was unable to mount a drive. A low snap on the fourth down punt attempt worked in Crane's favor, as punter Ricardo Garza scooped up the loose ball and scrambled for a first down at the Crane 42-yard line. Three plays later another errant snap on fourth down gave the Whirlwinds some breathing room as they took possession at the utes had ticked off the scoreboard in the Crane 45. However, the Whirlwinds south end zone, but it still read: "Crane were again thwarted by Crane's defense 0, Floydada 0".

and Collins had to punt. The scoreless first quarter ended with Crane in possession at its own 19-yard line.

On the opening play of the second stanza, Floydada defender Freddie Portee slammed Felix Torres to the ground, denying a first down attempt. Crane punted back to the 'Winds, but Floydada was flagged for clipping on the return. Three early penalties against Floydada added to the Whirlwind's inability to move the ball.

Runningbacks Ruben Chavarria, Michael Henderson and Kenneth Davis received outstanding blocking from the right hand of the 'Wind line during the next series. Even at that, the Whirlwinds could only manage 29 yards and one first down. Collins' booming punt into the end zone backed the Golden Cranes to their own 20 yard line midway through the second quarter.

The Cranes mounted a 9-play, 45yard drive, highlighted by a 31-yard screen pass from QB Chad Ellison to Ricardo Garza. On fourth down at the 'Wind 36, Ellison was "stopped cold" by Larry Galvan and Floydada took over on downs. Another major penalty helped stall the Whirlwind drive, and Collins punted for the fourth time in the first half.

In their fifth possession of the game, Chad Ellison directed the Cranes out to their own 44, but 'Wind safety Michael Aleman jarred the ball loose. It was a remarkable effort on Aleman's part ---he gave up 60 pounds to the big Crane receiver. Kenneth Collins recovered the loose ball and Floydada took over on its own 45-yard line.

The Whirlwinds mounted their most serious offensive threat in the waning moments of the first half. Two consecutive Brian Teeple passes to Kenneth Collins brought the 'Winds into the shadows of the Crane goal posts, but an interception by Chad Ellison closed the door on the 'Wind scoring opportunity. The half ended on a Chad Ellison-to-Coury Jones pass which caught the Whirlwind secondary by surprise. Only a pure tackle by linebacker Jamie Davis prevented a Crane TD on the last play before intermission. Twenty-four min-

The 91 member Floydada "Spirit of the 'Winds" Band presented its first performance of the 1990 season. John Odom's third year as Floydada's director is starting to show, as the band produced a bold, big sound. The Golden Crane Marching Band, one of the top 3A bands in Texas, didn't "win" the halftime show ... the performances by both groups were about as even as the football teams they were representing.

Following a touchback of the second half kickoff, the Cranes moved the ball almost at will from their own 20 down to the Floydada 31. However, the 'Wind defense stiffened and knocked the ball loose from Felix Torres. "K.C." Collins made his second fumble recovery of the game, putting a momentary stall to the Crane offensive machine. Crane All-State candidate Toby Guy (what had been a thorn in Floydada's side the entire first half), continued his pursuit, as did the rest of the Crane defenders.

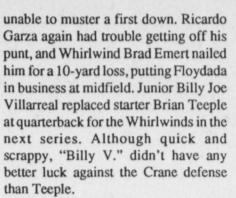

Following a Floydada punt, Crane moved from its own 43-yard line down to the Floydada 12. Crane attempted to go for it on fourth down, but a pass intended for Coury Jones fell incomplete. Floydada took over at its own 12, and advanced the ball out to the 17 as the third quarter came to a close. Crane held possession of the ball for more than ten minutes of the third quarter, but was unable to penetrate the Floydada double stripe.

A short Collins punt on the first play of the fourth quarter gave Crane possession in Floydada territory. Crane was Villarreal's second pass was intercepted by Crane's Ricky Flores, but Whirlwind Kenneth Collins returned the favor two plays later. A pass completion to Crane's Michael Hambrick wasn't what it appeared, as "K.C." reached over the left shoulder pads of the receiver and took away the ball. Collins' first interception of 1990 gave possession back to Floydada at the 'Wind 14-yard line.

Three plays only netted Floydada seven yards and Collins was called upon to punt for the eighth and final time of the game. Crane then drove from the Floydada 43 down to the 21. On third down, Ellison coughed up the ball, which was pounced on by Whirlwind Freddie "Bullet" Portee. Fullback Ruben Chavarria helped get the 'Winds out of the hole by a quick 10-yard blast up the middle. However, on first down from the Floydada 44, the 'Winds turned over the ball again on a fumble. Crane took over with 90 ticks left on the game clock, but pressure by Portee, Aleman, and the entire defensive corps halted the host's last attempt to put points on the board. With 22 seconds remaining, "K.C." Collins almost broke for paydirt on a reverse, but Crane's Toby Guy smelled the play and stopped Collins at the Crane 32. A pass interference call against Crane on the next play set the stage for one final Floydada attempt to score.

With the ball spotted on the right hash mark at the Crane 24, Kenneth Collins attempted a 34-yard field goal. As the ball sailed toward the uprights, time ran out...and so did the chance for a Floydada victory. "K.C.'s" attempt against the wind fell two feet short as the final horn sounded, and the scoreboard read the same as it had before the opening kickoff - Crane 0, Floydada 0.

BILL'S NOTES

For the Floydada faithful, who made the long trek to Crane, the final result was somewhat disappointing. But, for the football purist, it was a classic struggle. It was a "dream" match-up between two squads who figure to be around come state playoff time in November. If everything clicks just right, the 'Winds and the Golden Cranes could meet again in the second round of post-season play.

The Whirlwinds were 8-point underdogs going into the game according to the Harris ratings, but you would have had a hard time trying to convince any member of the Crane team that the Whirlwinds were inferior.

Outweighed at almost every position, the gutsy Green Gang "sucked it up" time and time again. Floydada handled everything Crane could dish out, and the 'Winds put themselves in position to win when the game was on the line.

The Whirlwind offense still has a lot of work to do before district play starts, but I'm confident that Coach Bates and the staff will work out those "kinks." The defense was AWESOME! They not only played well as a unit, but several young men gave some outstanding individual efforts.

My "Headhunter Of The Week" award goes to Michael Aleman for his jarring tackle of 6'3", 208-lb. Coury Jones, which resulted in a Crane fumble. Michael was outweighed by over 60 pounds, but that didn't keep him from making the defensive play of the game.

The Whirlwinds travel to Acuff to play Lubbock Roosevelt this week. It would be easy to have a letdown after such an emotional and physical game as Crane. That's where Coach Bates, his staff, and Whirlwind Senior Leadership come in. The 'Winds won't take Roosevelt lightly, but should whip the Eagles by four "touches."

Marricle earns 1st place in contest

Keith Marricle emerged from the fray with the first weekly prize in the annual Floyd County Hesperian Football Contest. His entry with six incorrect games earns the $10.00 first place check which may be picked up at the Hesperian Office on Friday, September 14. Marricle was the only entry, out of 73 received, to miss six games.

Second place goes to Sammy Bradley with seven incorrect games picked. Bradley will receive the $6.00 second place check for his efforts.

There were five contenders for the third place check of $4.00 with each of the five missing 8 games on the contest. Using the two tie-breaker devices, Sheree Cannon claimed the prize. She, along with the other four minus 8 entries, did not correctly identify a 0-0 tie between Floydada and Crane, but her total points for the game were 28, less than the other four entrys and closest to the 0 actually scored.

Honorable mentions go to the other four entries. Aaron Noland incorrectly picked 8 games, listing a total score of 30. The other three honorable mentions go to three Lockney players, Jared Mosley with a total score of 31, Nicole Mosley with a total score of 40, and Johnnie Mosley with a total score of 42.

Freshmen face Littlefield in season opener and and independent of the state of the stat

The Floydada 9th graders hosted Littlefield in the season opener for both teams on September 6. In a hard-fought defensive struggle, Littlefield came out on top 12-8.

Littlefield scored on a 97-yard reverse play early in the game. The young Wildcats also scored on a 75-yard kickoff return following Floydada's third quarter touchdown. Both extra point attempts by Littlefield failed.

Tony Hernandez scored Floydada's only touchdown. Michael Ochoa tallied the two-point conversion to keep Floydada close. Tate Glasscock made some good offensive plays from his quarterback spot.

The outstanding defensive players for Floydada were Brandon Gilliland and Adam Gonzales. Floydada mounted a drive in the closing minutes, but Littlefield intercepted a Glasscock pass and ran out the clock.

For the next three weeks, the JV and ninth graders will combine for games. Once district play starts, the ninth graders will have their own slate of games. The J.V. will host Roosevelt at Wester Field on September 13.

NINTH GRADE ACTION - Michael Ochoa scores a 2 point conversion for go-ahead points against Littlefield. The 9th grade Wildcats ran back the ensuing kickoff to take a 12-8 verdict over Floydada on September 6. Staff Photo

Videos available at the Library

If you haven't visited the Floyd County Library recently you may not know that you'll find more than books and magazines waiting for you there these days. Since July the Library has also offered videos for check-out. Sorry, you won't find the latest box office releases, so please don't call to reserve "Batman" for tonight. What you will find is a good selection of instructional, special interest and children's videos. For instance, through the month of September the Library has Charm of London, a 26-minute video which takes you on a two-day tour of the exciting city of London; Love Those Trains, a ride on the "Orient Express" and other trains in the Andes and the U.S.; Black Arrow, the Robert Louis Stevenson classic set in 15th century England; and Sensational Soups, hearty soup recipes presented in a step-by-step manner. There are eleven other videos of interest to all ages, even preschoolers. The videos will change each month, so call or drop by the Library regularly to see what's new.

PROCLAMATION

By The County Judge of FLOYD County

TO ALL TO WHOM THESE PRESENTS SHALL COME:

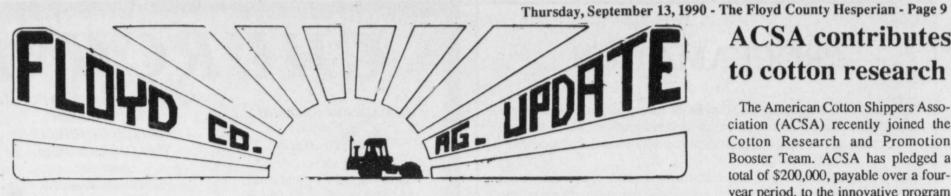

I, WILLIAM D. HARDIN County Judge of FLOYD County do hereby declare the week of September 16-22, 1990 as FARM AND RANCH SAFETY WEEK in FLOYD County, for the following reason:

WHEREAS, the President has proclaimed the 47th Annual National Farm Safety Week and the Governor has proclaimed the same period as Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Week; and

WHEREAS, the National Safety Council estimates indicate that in 1989 farm work accidents resulted in approximately 1,300 deaths and 120,000 disabling injuries. The death rate was 42 per 100,000 workers, among the highest compared with the composite rate for all industries of nine per 100,000. Many more farm and ranch residents and workers were killed or seriously injured in home, recreation and roadway accidents. An undetermined number of people involved in agricultural work suffered job-related illnesses known to cause disability or death; and

WHEREAS, during this week, a statewide farm and ranch accident prevention education campaign is being undertaken by the Texas Farm Bureau; the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council; the Texas Safety Association; the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the 4-H Clubs; the Texas Education Agency through the Texas Future Farmers and Future Homemakers of America, the Young Farmers and Young Homemakers of Texas and the FLOYD County Farm Bureau with the theme, "CUT FARM SAFETY RISKS IN THE '90'S": and

WHEREAS, accident prevention is often a matter of common sense; putting into practice basic safety rules like always buckling your safety belt; reading and following instructions in operator's manuals and product labels; and many other simple, sensible measures that involve little or no extra time, effort, or expense.

Small grain crop insurance available

Planting time for wheat, oats and barley is rapidly approaching, and the deadline for obtaining Multiple Peril Crop Insurance for these small grain crops is Sept. 30.

Multiple Peril Crop Insurance is a proven alternative for dealing with crop damage risks. It provides a financial buffer that enables producers to continue farming next year if a major crop loss occurs. Small grains in Texas in recent years have been hit with floods, freezes, drought and rust.

Texas farmers have until Sept. 30 to insure small grains against losses from these calamities and others including hail, wind and insects. Growers cannot change their insurance plans after the deadline.

Insurance coverage levels and costs of premiums are determined primarily by a combination of yield guarantee and price election.

A farmer must choose a yield guarantee of 50,65, or 75 percent of past production history. Essentially all 1991 price elections have been changed for wheat, barley and oats. The low- and medium-price election for each crop are respectively: $2.40 and $2.85 per bushel; $1.40 and $1.65 per bushel; and $1.15 and $1.25 per bushel. For the first time, the high price election for each of these crops is market-price determined and should be known in the near future.

For example, the market-based price (MP) election for wheat is equal to 90 percent of the simple average of the daily settlement prices for the succeeding July wheat futures contract traded on the Chicago Board of Trade in August 1990, preceding the Sept. 30 closing date. In case the wheat market during that period is weak, the market-based election will be less than the mediumprice election at $2.85 per bushel.

rently insurable. Approximately 95 percent of current crop production capacity next year will not be covered. Why? Because crop insurance is being squeezed by proponents for program reform, House Appropriations, and budget negotiations.

Ag chemical conference to look at environmental issues

The working relationship of agriculture and the environment, and its impact on the nation's future supply of food and fiber, will be the theme Sept. 19-20 for the 38th annual Agricultural Chemicals Conference.

The educational conference at the Lubbock Plaza Hotel also will provide commercial and non-commercial pesticide applicators training required for recertification under the Texas Agricultural Code. Applicators who satisfactorily complete this training can receive five continuing education units, which they must have before Dec. 31.

Keynote speakers Sept. 19 will address food safety, legislative action on the federal farm bill, sustainable agriculture and water quality. The required training for applicators will cover laws and regulations; safety in transporting, handling and storing chemicals; application technology, and pesticide factors.

The $55 registration fee includes the training, reception, banquet and luncheon. Only 500 persons can be accommodated for the training.

at 1 p.m. Sept. 19 with an update on the federal farm bill. Food safety will be addressed by R.H. "Dick" Foell, Agricultural Council of America, Washington, D.C.

Sustainable agriculture will be the topic of Dr. Larry Sanders, director of the Potash and Phosphate Institute, Stanley, Kan. Water quality will be discussed by Dr. John Thorne, deputy director of the Alliance for a Clean Rural Environment, Washington, D.C.

A reception and awards banquet will conclude the first day. Awards for distinguished service will be presented to an educator and an industry representative. Three $1,000 college scholarships will be awarded to students majoring in agriculture at one of six universities in West Texas.

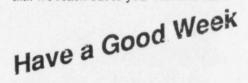

The program Sept. 20 begins at 8:45 a.m. and provides the training needed for five CEUs toward recertification of applicators. Those requirements will be explained by Bill Rogers, specialist with the Environmental Protection Agency, Dallas. Enforcement of regulations by the Texas Department of Agriculture (TDA) and record keeping requirements will be explained by Dale Burnett and

ACSA contributes to cotton research

The American Cotton Shippers Association (ACSA) recently joined the Cotton Research and Promotion Booster Team. ACSA has pledged a total of $200,000, payable over a fouryear period, to the innovative program designed to boost funding for the Cotton Research and Promotion Program. The Cotton Research and Promotion Boosters Program is a device through which individuals or corporations within the cotton industry can make voluntary contributions to Cotton Incorporated's market-building activities. The contributions are made directly to the Cotton Board for distribution to Cotton Incorporated and will act as a bridge in funding until the Research and Promotion Program's financial base is expanded. shake and make to you this pledge. ACSA congratulates Cotton Incorporated on its success for our industry and we look forward to joining in your continued good work." ACSA's pledge puts total commitments to the Boosters Fund at over $1 million. Additional contributors include the AMCOT Group, Inc., Arizona State Support Committee, J.G. Boswell Company, Dunavant Enterprises, J.S. Stephens and Robert Squires.

"ACSA is dedicated to the business and people of cotton," says J. Walker Clarke, president of ASCA. "We believe in cotton. It has been, is, and always will be the very 'Fabric of Our Lives.' It is with a great deal of pleasure that we reach out to you with this hand-

THEREFORE, I urge all those who live and work on farms or ranches to take necessary precautions to protect their safety and health - on the job and off. I also urge leaders in the agricultural community to bolster safety and health efforts in your area by example and by educational programs.

TMA urges farm safety

Farms and ranches should put safety first. During National Farm Safety Week, Sept. 16-22, Texas Medical Association joins with President George Bush in urging farm and ranch personnel to make safety and health a priority.

"Farming is one of the most hazardous occupations in the country," explains TMA member Joe H. Cunningham, M.D., who runs a small farm.

The distance between most farms and the nearest hospital increases the danger, he says. Consequently, farm workers need information about how to prevent accidents and avoid health risks.

The Jacksonville internist says he sees many of the common farm health problems in his practice: snake and spider bites, poison ivy, back strain from lifting heavy hay bales, asthma from inhaling dust and mold, and pesticide poisoning.

Pesticides have come under attack in recent years because of short- and longterm effects, including links to birth defects, sterility, liver damage, and cancer

The No. 1 problem with pesticides in Texas is how they're applied, says Jimmy Bush, assistant director of the pesticide enforcement program in the Texas Department of Agriculture.

To help reduce risk:

* Identify the pest you want to eliminate-the specific week, insect or disease.

* Use the least toxic chemical available to eliminate the pest or, better yet, look for a non-chemical alternative.

* Read and follow label directions exactly, such as those about weather conditions.

* After applying, wait the required amount of time to re-enter the sprayed area.

A minimum wait of 24 hours, despite what the label says, is required for most pesticides and up to seven days for such chemicals as ethyl parathion.

Anyone who works in fields or greenhouses where pesticides are used should be alert to symptoms of pesticide poisoning. They include itching or rash, headaches, blurred vision and irritation of the eyes, skin or throat. Other symptoms include dizziness, excessive sweating, vomiting, and chest pains.

If you have any symptoms, says Dr. Cunningham, immediately wash the affected area thoroughly. Follow that by asking a family member or friend to take you to a doctor or hospital for examination.

TMA is a professional organization of more than 29,000 physician and medical student members. It is based in Austin and has 119 component county medical societies around the state. The Association represents 82 percent of the doctors of medicine licensed and residing in Texas and its goal is to improve the health of Texans through the professional and personal development of its members.

September 17 date for Ag Day in Crosbyton

The Crosby County Extension Service, the Crosby County Livestock Committee, and the Crosby County Crops Committee will be sponsoring several educational programs during the next few weeks.

The Crosby County Crops Committee will sponsor an Agriculture Day on September 17, 1990 beginning at 9:00 a.m. at the Pioneer Memorial Building in Crosbyton. The educational program from 9:00 - 12:00 noon will focus on "Issues of the 1990's" and will also include a trade show which will feature equipment from various companies across the South Plains area. Also included with the program will be a catered meal sponsored by the Trade Show Exhibitors and the Federal Land Bank Association of Spur.

Interested small grain producers should contact a local firm that offers Multiple Peril Crop Insurance to obtain complete details for insuring the 1991 small grain crop.

With respect to the status of crop insurance as of mid-August, full funding of 1990 crop coverage exists. Only growers of 1991 winter wheat with Sept. 30 or earlier signup deadline are safe. The crops such as peaches where insur-

Floyd County Ag Day is Monday

The Floyd County Extension Service Agriculture Committee will be hosting an Ag. Day on Monday, September 17. The focus of this year's program will lean toward irrigation. "With the kind of weather that we have seen on the South Plains this crop year, there will be some very timely information", states Brent Crossland, Floyd County Extension Agent - Agriculture.

The program will begin at 10:00 a.m. at the Lyndan Morris farm, located 1 1/ 2 miles north of Aiken on FM 2301. Speakers will include Dr. Rosemary Seymour, Extension Irrigation Specialist, Dr. James Supak, Extension Agronomist - Cotton, and Dr. Steve Amosson, Extension Economist. They will address issues concerning various Dr. Harold Kaufman, president of the West Texas Agricultural Chemicals Institute (WTACI). The institute has planned and held the conferences here for almost four decades.

WTACI is an organization of scientists, educators, industry representatives and dealers. It supports and sponsors educational and research programs dealing with safe and effective use of agricultural chemicals.

Conference registration will begin at 8 a.m. each day. The program will start

Warren Mitchell farm. At noon, a fish and chicken luncheon will be sponsored by Rhone-Poulenc, I.C.I. and Mobay. A harvest aid update will be presented by representative from these companies. Continuing education units will be available for private applicators that attend these activities.

Producers interested in attending are encouraged to R.S.V.P. to the Floyd County Extension Office prior to 5:00 p.m. on Thursday, September 13, so an accurate count can be made for the noon meal. The Extension Office telephone number is (806) 983-2806.

cides will be covered by Ronnie Smallwood, Texas Department of Public Safety, Lubbock. Chemical storage and disposal will be the topic of Charlie Rodgers, Texas Water Commission, Austin. Container recycling also will be covered.

The National Pesticide Telecommunications Network will be explained by Jill Haukus, its director, Texas Tech University, Lubbock. Capt. Alan Breazeale of the Lubbock Fire Department will discuss chemical fire safety. Avoiding drift while applying chemicals will be the topic of Dr. Ellis Huddleston, New Mexico State University, Las Cruces, N.M. Dr. Tim Obrigawitch, research biologist with Dupont, Newark, Del., will report on advances in An overview of biotechnology will be presented by John Callahan, president of Calgene, Inc., Davis, Calif. Lisa Drake, Monsanto Co., St. Louis, Mo., will report on tests of biotechnologically altered crops under field conditions.

Dr. John Abernathy, resident director of research, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Lubbock, will discuss cropping systems for the future. New herbicides for grass control in corn will be reviewed by Dr. Brent Bean, Texas Agricultural Extension Service agronomist, Amarillo.

A Child's View of Grandmas and Grandpas

(Editor's Note: The following piece was copied from the newsletter of the First United Methodist Church in Floydada.)

A grandmother is a lady who has no children of her own, so she likes other people's kids. A grandfather is a man grandmother. He likes to go on walks with kids and they talk about fishing and things like that.

Grandmas don't have to do anything except be there. They're old, so they shouldn't play hard or run. They let us ride the "pretend horse" at K-Mart and have plenty of quarters ready. They take us on slow walks and always stop for things like caterpillars and pretty leaves.

They never, ever say, "Hurry up."

Usually they are fat, but not too fat to tie kids' shoes. They wear glasses and funny underwear. They can do neat things like take out their teeth.

They don't have to be smart, only answer questions like, "Why dogs hate cats" and "How come God isn't married." They don't talk baby talk like visitors do, because it is hard to understand. When they read to us, they don't skip or mind if it is the same story again.

Everybody should try to have one, because Grandmas and Grandpas are the only grownups who have time. -Copied

Floyd County Farm Bureau holds annual meeting and elects officers

The Floyd County Farm Bureau met Saturday night, September 8, for their 38th annual meeting. President Phil Dunavant called the meeting to order and welcomed those present. Joe Jones gave the invocation and Bud Taylor led the Pledge of Allegiance.

Introduced as guests were Leland White and Tad Duncan, Texas Farm Bureau representatives. Dunavant recognized the board of directors and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Aston, Mr. and Mrs. Randy Rainwater, Mr. and Mrs. Delmas McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Smith, Mr. and Mrs. John Quebe, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Beedy, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Taylor and Joe Jones.

Randy Rainwater read the 1989 Convention minutes and they were voted approved as read after which he gave the financial report.

The financial report shows income of $76,763.52 and expenses of $61,339.53. The total income from operations stands at $6,423.99. In 1988 the cash reserves totaled $26,682.32, in 1989 they totaled $34,562.45 and in 1990 the cash reserves stand at $38,152.87. This audit period is for 10 months and was prepared by the Texas Farm Bureau County Record Keeping Service. An official audit will be prepared by Texas Farm Bureau Occtober 31, 1990 and will be available upon request in the county office after that date.

The three students and one alternate who attended the Farm Bureau Seminar for young leaders were introduced by Joe Jones and each reported on what they had learned and thanked the group for sending them.

Melissa Strickland told the group that she had met a lot of interesting people and commented "If a man does not make new acquaintances through life he is nothing." She related that the seminar, "Will make me a stronger leader and more aware of the world around me."

Becky Poole stated "Meeting new people makes me grow."

Kip Holt related that he had enjoyed getting to meet kids from around the state of Texas. "We had many good speakers who made us aware of our freedom."

Jeffrey Sutterfield enjoyed making new friends and he stated that one of the things they had learned was to "Believe in ourselves and to set high goals."

Bud Taylor introduced Darrell Gooch, a member of the Floydada Police Department and the Floydada Volunteer Fire Department. Gooch reported to the Farm Bureau members on his trip to the A & M Fire School held in Bryan this summer. Gooch told those present that most people thought that all you have to know to be a fireman is how to "put the wet stuff on the red stuff."

Gooch reported that In the school they learned the latest in fire fighting and first aid techniques and he and ended his report with the statement, "Without the support of the Farm Bureau and other organizations our fire department would only know how to put the wet stuff on the red stuff."

Phil Dunavant delivered the presidents report. He thanked the office workers, Clar Schacht, Kenneth Holt, Linda Seymour, and Mary Shurbet.

He stated that "the activities of the directors are to further the interests of Farm Bureau in the county and by writing letters, making phone calls and participating we, as residents of the county and Farm Bureau members, have a say in the affairs of the government and Farm Bureau as a whole."

The Agency Managers report was given by Clar Schacht. He thanked Linda Seymour and Mary Shurbet, office secretaries, and Janet Himes, DECA student, for their help. He introduced his wife, Judy; agent Kenneth Holt and his wife Jackie Lou, along with Candy Thrasher who is working towards her insurance license.

Schacht thanked the board of directors for their work and told the members that insurance companies all over the state are in a wreck and that a lot of companies with offices in other states are pulling out of Texas. He stated that since Texas Farm Bureau sells only in Texas that they will be working harder to make things better.

Dan Smith gave the membership report. He reported that in October, 1989 Floyd County Farm Bureau had 939 members and that at the present time the membership stands at 731.

Delmas McCormick gave the TASCO report. He told the audience that tires and batteries can be bought in Floydada at Tipton Oil and Garcia's OK Tire and in Lockney at Jackson Tire. He reported that sweeps and disc can be bought at the Lockney Cooperatives and they are in stock and do not have to be ordered.

Dan Smith was introduced as the outgoing director and John Quebe, nominating committee chairman, placed the name of Jeff Don Terrell before the members. Also up for reelection were Randy Rainwater and Delmas McCormick. Terrell was elected to fill the spot vacated by Dan Smith and Rainwater and McCormick were re-elected by acclamation.

Speaker for the evening was Tad Duncan. He is a Coordinator for the "Ag inthe Classroom" program sponsored by Texas Farm Bureau. Duncan spoke on the Farm Bureau program "Ag in the Classroom" as a tool for promoting agriculture in the urban areas.

He stated, "This is an exciting program developed by Farm Bureau. It explores each of the agriculture areas around the states and teaches the program to students on the fourth grade

Your Better Business Bureau has been informed by local authorities that the annual trek of gypsy pavers has hit the City and the South Plains again.

These itinerants come in from time to time and literally take thousands of dollars out of the South Plains for their own gain, leaving nothing behind but messy driveways or roofs and empty pockets. The main targets of these con artists are the senior citizens and the citizens that live on the edges of cities and in rural areas.

and his wife agreed to the meetings even though they didn't attend the meetings, they knew all the plans.

Unforeseen occurrences accelerated the beginning of the movement. Even knowing about what had happened in though the meetings began in secret, some information had been leaked and quietly spoken about. One of the conspirators, the leader of a detachment of the Celaya dragoons named Joaquin Arias, afterwards regretted joining and surely frightened of the possible consequences, he went before the mayor of Queritaro, Juan Ochoa, and the Sargeant Major of his regiment, Jose Alonso, making a denunciation of the conspiracy and handing over a list of the conspirators. Among these figured the leaders Allende and Aldama, Miguel Hidalgo y Costilla parish priest of Delores, Mariano Abasolo, Mariano Hidalgo, brother of Miguel, father Balleya, Jose Santos Villa and others.

The denouncement was finally taken to the Spanish magistrate, who knowing them to be at risk and in danger, ordered the arrest of Epigmenio Gonzalez in whose house was found a lot of weapons in accordance with the accusations. Knowing the impetuous character of his wife, Josefa Ortiz, the Spanish magistrate recommended that it was wise to guard her and locked her in her room in order to prevent any imprudent action. But Josefa, undisturbed by the turn of events, achieved communication with Ignacio Perez, head of the jail and a member of the conspiracy, asking him if he would leave for San Miguel El Grande and inform the leader Allende that the conspiracy had been discovered because of Captain Arias denouncement.

During the government of General Porfirio Diaz, a monument called "Column of the Independence" was erected on one of the bowers of the walk of the Reformation. There the rest of the heroes of the independence movement are buried. There is a lighted lamp that burns perpetually. There the social sectors, military groups, civilians, cultural institutes, scientific societies, national corporations, or visitors place floral offerings and stand guard over the honor and the memory of those brothers who gave their lives for the independence and freedom of their country.

Ignacio Perez mounted a horse and made his way to San Miguel El Grande in search of the leader Allende, but no one could tell him (Perez) where to find him. He looked for the leader Aldama whom he would inform about the occurrences in Queretaro. Aldama asked him if he (Perez K.W.) would go with him to Dolores where they would find Allende who had been called by Hidalgo not Oueretaro. He (Allende) had had vague information about the accusations and the danger that surrounded the conspirators. After Aldama and Perez informed him about what had happened in Queretaro, they hurriedly weighed the pros and cons of the question (issue) and the result was that Hidalgo exclaimed; "Sirs, I have thought about this well, and I see that we are lost; we can no longer remain without recourse because the settlements are going to be seized."

Fifteen men left the church to gather the ranchers who were on the way to mass because it was Sunday. The church bells rang out for mass at five in the morning on the sixteenth of September 1810 and the bronze voice (of the bell) seemed to vibrate strange sounds as if it knew that it had rung the hour of freedom. Hidalgo from the church vestibule addressed to the faithful gathers. He told them that the movements objective would be to tear down the bad Spanish government and liberate the town from abuse and injustice. The town responded to the address with shouts of "Long live America! Long live independence! Death to the bad government!" The initial small group had turned into a crowd and made its way to San Miguel. Passing through Atotonilco the priest Hidalgo entered the church and took a banner that had the image of the Virgin of Guadalupe. It was in this way that the first band of the rebel army was formed. What's more is that the army was an enraged mob undisciplined and frightful.

In Guanajuato there was a terrible battle that ended in a bloody way when the rebels seized the Alhondiga de Granaditas after a barricader nicknamed "the Butcher" attempted to set fire to the enclosure, there which at the same time served as a warehouse and a fortress. Within the conquered building, they burned an enormous amount of military weapons which would test the firmness, intelligence, and patience of their leaders. After Guanajuato, Hidalgo made his way to Valladolid, going on the hard journey afterwards to Monte de las Cruces where the rebels had defeated Cpl. Torcuato Trujillo attaining a splendid victory that Hidalgo didn't know to capitalize on, to the regret of Allende's rebels. After the retreat at Queritaro, the journey to Aculco, where he suffered a severe defeat, Hidalgo withdrew to Guadalajara, where some rebels committee horrible crimes that stained his record. Then came the bloody battle of Puente de Calderon where the rebels suffered terrible misfortune. Over the uncontrollable courage of the crowd armed with sticks, lances, rocks and machetes, the weapons and the discipline of the professional soldiers, commanded by qualified and capable leaders, prevailed. When Allende finally took command of the military, which he should have always had in his hands, it was already too late. The sad march to the north began to Aguascalientes, Zacatecas, Saltillo; but upon leaving Saltillo and heading for Monclova, in a place called Norias de Bajan, a traitor named Ignacio Alizondo (embittered about not getting the promotion he thought he deserved) took Hidalgo and his companions as prisoners after a brief skirmish. Some of the rebels were killed - among them Indalecio Allende, Ignacio's son. The prisoners were taken to Monclova and afterwards transferred to Chihuahua undergoing tremendous hardships. There they were executed on different days. Allende, Aldama, Jimenez and some others were executed on the twenty-sixth of June 1811. Hidalgo, after previous degradation, stripped of priesthood, was executed on July 30 of the same year.

In reality, it was Ignacio Allende who initiated the conspiracy which would culminate with the shout of Dolores. The imprint fit the vision of Captain made their way from San Miguel El Grande and headed for Dolores to inform Hidalgo and Allende that the conspiracy had been discovered. Messengers of destiny, they were bearers of the message that would give Mexico its independence and freedom through a hard and bloody war which, would be interrupted by a space of eleven long years. Aldama and Perez began the war unable to see the outcome, but they had offered their lives beforehand, assured that upon their ashes a strong and free country would be built.

The first small group had grown into a crowd and made its way to San Miguel. Passing through Atotonilco the priest Hidalgo entered the church and took a banner with the image of the Virgin Guadalupe on it. It was in this way that the first band of the rebel army was formed. What's more, the army was an enraged, undisciplined and frightful mob.

The march of the rebel leaders to the north carried with it the intention of purchasing weapons and supplies from the United States. Hidalgo trusted that our neighbors would look favorably on an independent and free nation, rather than a dangerous Spanish colony. But destiny intervened in the form of an ambitious traitor, wanting merit and honor who in his own arrogance believed he deserved it. A request for promotion that Allende rejected was the beginning of tragedy in which our heroes lost their heads. The treacherous ambush occurred on March 21, 1811.

PUBLIC NOTICE BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENT OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT GENERAL ELECTION NOVEMBER 6, 1990

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 2, Sixth Called Session, 71st Legislature, proposes a constitutional amendment to provide that if the Senate, at any special session, does not take final action to confirm or reject an appointee of the Governor made during a recess of the Senate, the appointee is entitled to continue in office until the Senate rejects the appointee at a subsequent session or until the Governor appoints another person to fill the vacancy, but such a nominee whom the Senate does not act to confirm or reject at a subsequent regular session is considered to be rejected when the session ends.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

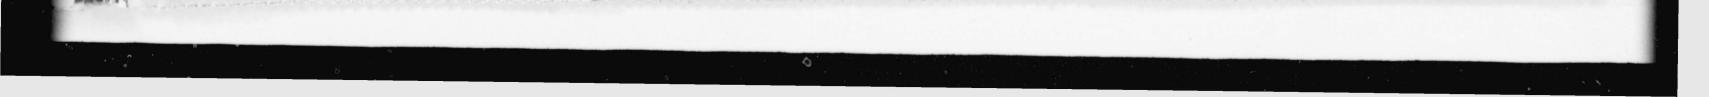

"The constitutional amendment to clarify the authority of the senate to consider certain nominees to state and district offices and to provide for filling vacancies in those offices."

This cooler weather was ushered in late Monday by a fast moving, dual pronged, dust-laden, cold front that reversed the direction our storm systems usually follow. The storm struck while N&V was conversing with Junior Taylor and he remarked that dust from the approaching norther had suddenly obscured houses and barns a mile away. For once the people in eastern New Mexico got a sample of left-over weather; weather that was made in Texas. Something like ninety percent of our summer weather systems originate in the vicinity of the Rocky Mountains and the folks in eastern New Mexico always get the first helpings, and all we get is leftovers after the storms have drifted across the state line.

Back in the early thirties your writer, Outside it is 58 degrees at 7:00 A. M. along with many others still living, witthis Tuesday, September 11, 1990. Visibility warmth through the room. Now a foot would be reduced to almost zero; it would become so dark that chickens, post pops occasionally as a slow flame thinking night was approaching, would fly up to roost; milk-cows, lowing for their calves, would come from the pastures believing it was time for the evening chores; and, inside the darkened homes, lamps would be lighted although it was still mid-afternoon.

Nature figured she overdid the dust bit, sixty years ago; Monday was the day she chose to move some of it back to New Mexico!

Since the last N&V was written we have seen several days when the temperatures rose into the nineties. What a switch! But it is that time of year! Nature has begun to toughen her living things for the frigidness which is to come. Ten days from today, September 23, will be the first day of fall, the Autumnal Equinox, that one day between summer and winter when days and nights are equal in Cedar Hill and her neighboring communities have had numerous showers this past week. Amounts varying from .75" to 1.60" have fallen, with less than one inch being the norm. Craig Gilly and the Junior Taylors witnessed water rushing down the Sid Brown ditches toward the sub-station Friday, but their home gauges did not confirm; all registered less than one inch. Near the old John Seay homestead, now the J.R. Belt barn, one gauge read 1.60" but it is thought that some practical joker may have run amok at that point. The 1.60" amount seemed to have been contained within the borders of one quarter section.

Most agree that the skimpy supply of rain we have received will suffice to halt plant desiccation for a few days, feed those surface roots, but that nothing with a lasting effect will result from this weeks moisture. Enough to stop wilting, little more.

Frost, with it's attendant problems, is rapidly becoming a thing of mute concern. It is being superceded by drought as our nearest and most dreaded enemy. Frost will affect only the growing vegetation, but continued drought will not only damage our growing crops, but also prevent the establishment of wheat and other cool season plants which are becoming increasingly essential as a supplement to the county's critically short supply of hay.

CROP COMMENTS:

COTTON: Bolls are popping open at an amazing rate; numbers of open bolls appear about equal in dry-land and irrigated fields, however green bolls on irrigated cotton far outnumber those on dryland cotton. Percentage wise there is no contest; some dryland cotton is virtually all open! In fact something like 500 acres of dryland cotton has already been sprayed with paraquat, the instant plant killer.

No mad rush to mount cotton strippers is under way at the moment, but, in their spare time, a number of operators are already bolting parts to their tractors. Floyd County's first bale of cotton will likely be ginned next week, at least before September 23, the first day of fall.

CORN: Dry-down is occurring at a unbelievable rate. As the moisture disappears, many stalks, hollowed out by feeding corn borers, are falling right and left. And, if commercial fields are like your writer's garden, there is either a rat or a pheasant waiting to exercise squatter's rights to each fallen ear.

MILO: Early milo is virtually ready. Clint Ware may sample a patch west of the old Starkey place on Parsons land late this week. Definitely it will be harvested sometime during that last week of Summer, rains permitting.

VEGETABLES: Humor springs eternal wherever humans dwell. The great depression spawned more than it's share; in those petrified days there was little else to do but be humorous. Each farmstead was in a sense virtually loaded with the biblical equivalent of "milk and honey", fatted calves, and all things edible, but a dollar was hard to come by. There was virtually no money. Buying enough salt and pepper to season what you grew sometimes strained family budgets. Clothing was a major, major problem. The time was right for one wag to come up with this "brawny" gem, "Go out in the country if you want to see some of the fattest, naked, people you can imagine!" Well if you think folks out at Cedar hill are about to go hungry this winter of '90/got everything full!" If you are even moderately sensitive you might suffer permanent "rejection psychosis." If Saddam Hussien hadn't wrecked our petro-economy we might have carted our veggies uptown and tried the city folks, but a dollar is hard to come by! THE LEANING CEDARS

SEPT. 3/9: Durrell and Alpha Fortenberry have spent much time this past week at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock at the bedside of Kenneth Coleman, a long-time and most dependable employee of Durrell's Ex-Cel Company.

It was Labor Day and Kenneth was working in Floydada at his own shop, using a discarded water heater tank to build an air holding tank for his air compressor, when he was seriously injured. He considered the job finished and, with the compressor still running, he was testing for air leaks when the tank blew up.

Unable to hear the sound of escaping air because of compressor noise, Kenneth held his face near the welded joints in order to feel any major jet of air. Miraculously Kenneth was not touched by a single fragment of the disintegrating tank, still the sheer force of the blast of air was devastating. Skeletal damage was to nose, upper and lower jaw bones, cheek bones, forehead, and the bones surrounding his eye sockets was unbelievable. He remained at MH intensive care from Monday until Sunday before doctors felt his swelling had gone down enough for surgery to begin.

He was under surgery for 7.5 hours, and now practically all of his facial features will be supported by metal plates. He did not lose his eyesight, but his doctors marvel at the fact that a blast of air could wreak such havoc, and that it did not kill him instantly.

Sept. 6: Edna Gilly visited Gertrude (Gilly) Hammit at her home in Plainview last Thursday. Gertrude is much stronger now, able to walk about some. Her daughter-in-law, Darla, is still with her, but her sister, Willie, returned to Stephenville Saturday.

Sept. 9: Max Yeary visited with his grandmother, Sarah Beard, Sunday. She had recently returned from a stay in the Floydada Hospital and seemed to be doing quite well.

Sept. 8: Imogene (Love) Fortenberry went to Bridgeport Saturday morning for a few days stay with her brother, Love, who is Raymond's widow. Imogene called back to Cephus, Sunday with the news that Edna, still in a Bridgeport nursing-care center and now suffering mild edema, was holding her own, but with difficulty.

THE CEDAR THICKET

Sept 4: Martha and Junior Taylor had her brother, Mr. and Mrs Jess Glover, and some of their friends, of Van Buren, Arkansas as visitors in their home Tuesday and Wednesday of last week.

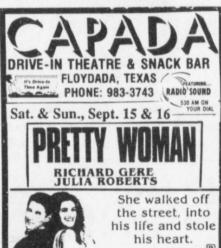

Sept. 6: Neil and Charlene Langley returned home Thursday from a week long vacation swing visiting friends and relatives in the Possum Kingdom, Dennison, and Metroplex areas of North Texas. Neil did some boating, watched others fish, and got warm enough to really appreciate his home in cool, cool Floyd county.

Sept. 9: Ester Langley returned home Sunday from a fortnight's visit in Olton, Texas, in the home of her daughter, Eloise and Charles Galloway.

Sept. 9: Clint and Jenese (Lemons) Lissenbee and daughter, Tonya of Seagraves, Texas, visited with her uncle, the Phil Lemons family; and her grandfather, Carl Lemons, Sunday afternoon. Jenese is a grant student at the Hobbs, N. M. College of Nursing.

Cathy Langley, having completed her college preparation, is no longer a helter/skelter part time student, part time moonlighter, but is now steadily employed in the field of her training. She is legal secretary to a member of the law firm Baker, Clifford, Currier, and Webb. Incidentally Mr. Baker is Floyd County's Norton Baker, LHS class of 1950, and son of Dorsey and Wanda Baker of Lockney.
