Yellow ribbon drive to benefit the Red Cross

The Women's Division of the Floydada Chamber of Commerce has implemented a charity drive that will benefit the local Red Cross Chapter and help decorate Floyd County for the arrival home of our local servicemen and women.

The women will be selling big yellow all-weather bows, for $2.00 each, to decorate mailboxes, porch post, business doors, trees, etc., to welcome home our young men and women who have been serving in the Middle East.

All of the proceeds from these bows will go to the Red Cross to aid families in whatever capacity is needed.

You can order the bows by calling the Floydada Chamber of Commerce, at 983-3737, or Christina Chesshir, at 983-2255.

"We hope to serve a dual purpose with this project," said Anne Carthel, "with a strong show of visible support as our young people return and by helping out those who have endured hardship because of the war."

By Neta Marble

The lights went out and the spotlight came on illuminating the American and Texas flags as Boy Scout Troop #259 posted the colors to open the annual Chamber of Commerce Banquet, held Friday, March 8 at the Lockney Elementary Cafetorium.

Highlights of the evening included the presentation of the Citizen of the Year Award to Dub Hallmark, the Extra Mile Award to Ted Young and several employee awards from school, hospital and fire department.

The scouts led the 345 guests present in the Pledge of Allegiance followed by Zane Polson and Jessica Lemons who played the Star Spangled Banner on their trumpets.

President of the Chamber, Robert Delgado, welcomed guests and introduced Mayor of Lockney, Dan Smith.

Before recognizing out of town and special guests, Smith stated, "It is a great time of celebration in our nation and here in Lockney. We are happy that the war is over and we are proud of our soldiers."

Smith introduced Floyd County Queens, Little Miss Floyd County, Nicole Mosley of Lockney; Tiny Miss Floyd County, Ashley Brock of Lockney; Miss Floyd County, Robin Galoway of Floydada and Miss Teen Hurst, Eulless, Bedford, Mary Lindsey Poole of Lockney. Also introduced was Danielle Maia from Brazil. She is Lockney's foreign exchange student. She lives with Trent and Candace Wauson.

Delgado introduced Bill Anderson and presented him with the gavel of the chamber president. Anderson will preside as president of the chamber for the coming year.

Anderson is a graduate of Spade High School. He received a Masters Degree in Agri-Management in 1986 from Texas Tech. He is presently Yard Superintendent at the Carcock Industries Feed Yard, north of Lockney.

Anderson thanked Delgado for the work he had done as 1990 chamber president and presented him with a plaque in appreciation. The projects he has been involved in throughout the year included the Old Fashion Saturday, Lockney Junior Livestock Show, downtown Christmas decorations, Christmas Lighting Contest, the Ambulance Fund and the Floyd County Fair.

Delgado recognized retiring directors, Jim Martin, Merle Mooney, Margaret Schacht, Jack Covington, Mike Mooney and Larry Mullins; Appointed Directors, J.D. Copeland and David Foster; Hold-Over Directors, Tina Graves, Dub Hallmark, Judy Jackson, Lesca Durham, Bill Anderson and Robert Delgado.

New Directors for the Lockney Chamber are Bill Davis, Ted Young, Karen Hooten, Libby Delgado, Jeff Reece, Charles Charles McQuhae, Julie Hancock, Richard Larsen and Neta Marble.

Officers for the coming year include Bill Anderson, president; Dub Hallmark, vice president; Judy Jackson, secretary; Tina Graves, treasurer; and J.D. Copeland, historian.

W.H. (Dub) Hallmark was recognized as the 1990 Citizen of the Year by the 1989 recipient Gary Marr.

Marr read the following to recognize the honoree:

"It is my honor to get to present this trophy to a very worthy recipient. In many ways this years outstanding citizen is a typical Lockneyite, one who is married, has children, is active in church and civic affairs. He is a great supporter of young people, a motivator, a father, an outdoorsman and a sportsman.

"This person has been described by the people with whom he works as a person who stays in the background and allows others to receive recognition. He is characterized by his sense of humor and down-to-earth approach to problems.

Lockney City Council calls for seal coating bids

Members of the Lockney City Council met Thursday morning in their regular monthly session and voted to call for bids on seal coating the remainder of the streets in Lockney that were not done in the 1990 program.

Jamie Johnson, engineer with Ober J Construction of Wellington, met with the council and reviewed the seal coating work done on city streets last year and the streets, along with the parking lot at City Hall, that are to be seal coated this summer. Johnson showed the councilmen the map he had prepared showing the streets that were finished and those under consideration.

Last year the Johnson had worked up an estimate on what it would cost to repair all the streets and more than one half of Lockney streets were repaired.

Johnson urged the council to bid the work early to insure good bids and to give latitude for a time frame for the company whose bid is accepted.

Councilman J.D. Copeland made the motion to call for bids to call for on the seal coating. Bids are to be received by 5 p.m. April 3 and they will be opened at 9:30 during the council meeting on April 4. The motion was seconded by Kenneth Wofford and all voted for.

Johnson then gave an explanation of the new rules set forth by the E.P.A. on Storm Water Drainage. These rules are a portion of the Clean Air and Water Act of 1977. They were amended in the 1980's to include Storm Water Run-off. According to Johnson, "A lot of work went into industries and municipalities and now that work is done they are looking at smaller entities."

He stated, "Lockney could possibly be classified in the Industrial Storm Water Run-off category. The kind and

Court approves county bond officer

The Floyd County Commissioners Court authorized county judge Bill Hardin to sign a resolution approving Mendy Shurbet as the screening officer for the county bond program following a motion by Connie Bearden and seconded by Floyd Jackson. The vote was unanimous during the regular March 11 session of the court. Shurbet was selected for the position by the probation department. Approximately 50 persons submitted applications for the post.

The county bond program is being formed and administered on a grant under the auspices of the district attorney's office which will provide the supplemental funding. The program is intended to provide bond funds for eligible persons who cannot make bond on their own. A three percent fee will be assessed rather than the standard ten percent a bailbondsmen would require.

Chief probation officer Nathan Mulder told the court about another grant being implemented through the probation office which includes an electronic monitoring program and a curfew program for selected offenders.

Judge Hardin brought to the court's attention the fact that no monies have been transferred from Justice of the Peace Precincts 2 & 3 since Dottie Stansell took office in January. Transfers into the county funds are supposed to be made by each JP every thirty days. Orman told the court she was scheduled to meet with Stansell on Wednesday to review the JP books and see about the transfer. She also told the court that previous appointments for the review had not been attended by Stansell.

Hardin also pointed out that the budget for travel, supplies and equipment in that office has been overspent to date in the amount of $179.02. Money to cover the shortage of funding was transferred from the Justice of the Peace 2 & 3 utility fund.

Other transfers to supplement budget categories already depleted included increasing the postage account for the ag department by $14.63 taken from ag department operation funds; increasing miscellaneous labor by $120.00 taken from courthouse supplies; increasing audit funds by $1450.00 taken from courthouse utilities; increasing judicial and legal miscellaneous by $910.00 taken from court appointed attorney funding; increasing district attorney travel by $40.00 taken from county attorney travel funds; increasing sheriff's equipment by $1400.00 taken from courthouse repairs and maintenance; increasing adult probation equipment funds by $270.00 taken from courthouse equipment; increasing ag equipment by $997.00 taken from county agent & home demo agent payroll funds; and transferring $10,000.00 to each precinct from the road and bridge fund. The transfers were approved on a motion by Floyd Jackson and seconded by Howard Bishop.

Hardin presented a report recently received from Gladys Jones concerning the expenditures of the Floyd County Child Welfare Board during the past year. Jones, who is president of the board, wrote that the board is now responsible for 15 children, six of whom will remain in county custody until they are 18 years old or graduate from high school.

Jones stated that $143,090.00 was spent by state and county sources to care for Floyd County children in 1990. Floyd County provided $2,000.00 of this money. The remainder came from local donations, state funds and supplemental security income.

According to Jones, 50 families and

Floydada Spring Election signup deadline is March 20

At press time this week, local incumbents have been the only candidates to seek election in the Floydada Municipal Election and the FISD Trustee Election. Deadline for filing in both races is March 20.

CITY ELECTION

Wayne Russell has filed to run for election to the office this spring. At this time, he is unopposed for the post. There are no candidates for the at-large council seat vacated by his appointment as mayor last year.

Incumbent councilmen Ruben Barrientoz in District 2 and Leroy Burns in District 3 have filed to run for another term in their respective council seats. They have no opponents at press time.

Any eligible city residents interested in filing for a position on the May 4 ballot should contact city secretary Jimmie Lou Stewart at City Hall, 114 W. Virginia during regular business hours for more information.

FISD TRUSTEE ELECTION

Candidates who have filed for a place on the ballot in the school board election are incumbents Dr. Andy Hale and Cyndiann Williams. Both are seeking reelection to their school board posts. Hale is the incumbent in Precinct 1 and Williams is the incumbent in Precinct 2. At presstime, no one has filed to oppose either candidate.

Any registered voter residing in Precinct 1 or in Precinct 2 who wishes to file for one of the posts should contact Darlynn Hambright at the administrative office at 226 W. California between 8:15 a.m. and 4:15 p.m. weekdays.

Floydada School Board approves 5% increase for auxiliary employees

Meeting in regular session for the month of March, the board of trustees of Floydada Independent School District voted unanimously to increase the salaries of all auxiliary school personnel by 5 percent across the board. Those granted the increase include cafeteria workers, bus drivers and custodians. The pay increase will be effective with the beginning of the 1991-92 school year in September. Motion for the action was made by Andy Hale and seconded by John Campbell. A unanimous vote approved the motion.

Also discussed and approved was a revised salary schedule for district teachers, teacher's aides and secretaries. The current pay schedule allows for 10 levels of pay based on years of service. The revised schedule adds a mathematical progression of two year increments for those past level ten. The revised schedule will become effective for the 1991-92 school year. Cyndiann Williams made the motion for the revision with a second by John Campbell and unanimous approval of the remainder of the board.

Superintendent Jerry Cannon expressed the hope that the revised schedule would provide incentives and rewards for local employees for their years of service to the district.

DRESS CODE POLICY

High school principal Joe Christian presented the board with rough drafts of items proposed for the district dress code for the future. Christian reminded the board that he hopes to have an adoptable dress code by next month so that it will be in place and students and parents will be aware of it before school dismisses for the summer. Prior knowledge should alleviate some early problems with the code as everyone will know what is allowable before school starts according to Christian.

Three file for trustee and council positions in Lockney

The filing deadlines for the office of mayor and positions on the Lockney City Council and the Lockney school board are scheduled for Wednesday, March 20.

Carlton Johnson is the only other person, at press time, who has filed to run for a seat on the school board.

Any registered voter residing in the city limits of Lockney interested in filing for a position on the ballot should contact Jackie Lou Holt at the LISD office located at 416 West Willow. The current regulations being considered have been formulated by students, faculty and administrators with input by parents and others concerned. The purpose of the code as presented by Christian is to promote a better image, better

The two year terms of Councilmen Kenneth Wofford and Sam Fortenberry will be up, as will the mayors term. Fortenberry has filed to run again and Wofford has indicated that he will not seek another term. Smith will not be a candidate for the office of mayor as he will no longer reside in the city limits of Lockney.

Any registered voter residing in the city limits of Lockney is eligible to file for the position of mayor or councilman.

The city council and school board elections are set for Saturday, May 4. Absentee voting will begin an April 15 and continue until April 30.

By The Way

By Alice Gilroy

There wasn't a dry eye in the Lockney cafeteria after Harmony sang "I'm Proud To Be An American," and Rev. Tommie Beck gave his benediction, at Friday night's chamber banquet.

I didn't think anything could top Floydada's banquet the week before, but I was wrong. Not only was Lockney's banquet full of funny local entertainment, but the singing from Moses Blanco of the Arriba Study Club and the Harmony group would have impressed any Hollywood record producer. They were very professional and extremely talented.

If any of you folks around the county every need any entertainment for any function, I highly recommend these people.

Every time a name was called to step forward for an award, I got choked up. Dub Hallmark really got to me when he gave his acceptance speech for his Citizen of the Year Award. When he started talking about how proud he was of his children and the kids of Lockney he got all choked up and so did everyone else.

The conclusion of the evening, (after plenty of laughs) was Harmony singing "Proud To Be An American." As they sang, the curtains parted to reveal a huge floor to ceiling flag. The audience stood in respect and honor and listened to the song with tears streaming down the cheeks of most of the crowd. I think the singers had a hard time getting through it too.

I noticed one elderly gentleman standing with a cane. You could tell it was probably hard for him to stand in the cramped quarters, but I'm sure you couldn't have beat him down with a stick.

If you missed the banquet you missed a memorable evening. If you went, you'll have memories to carry around with you for a long long time. I hope we can do as much for our returning soldiers as we've done as a community while they've been gone.

So far, everyone has been really nice about the paper combining. Maybe they are all living by the motto, "If you can't say anything nice, don't say anything at all." Anyway, the comments we've gotten have been positive.

I braced on Thursday for complaints in Floydada and didn't get any. When I went to work in Lockney on Friday, I braced for complaints there, but didn't get any. Well, let me re-phrase that. I didn't get any about combining the papers, but I did get some about Little Dribblers pictures.

I'm going to try and explain our position on this, and I know there are going to be a lot of unhappy parents. Somehow, some people in Lockney got a story that if they wanted their kids team picture in the paper, they were going to have to pay $2.00 per kid. This is not true. There has been some kind of misunderstanding. It took me half a day of complaints before I even figured out what people were talking about.

Because of the cost of printing pictures in the paper, and the cost of printing pages that are not paid for by advertising, we will only be able to put the first place teams pictures in the paper. That is all we will have room for.

We have tried in the past to put all the Little Dribblers pictures in the paper (Lockney and Floydada). It took us weeks to get them all in, (plus of course regular school activities) and by then T-Ball and Little League had already started. Because all the Little Dribblers got their pictures in, then of course we were obligated to run all the T-Ball, T-Shirt and Little League pictures.

I am sorry and we are truly sympathetic to everyone's feelings on this, but we can't afford all that. We are not complaining, really we're not. We enjoy putting in children's activities more than anything, but because of our size we have to be selective at times.

Now I think I'll take a week off where no one can find me.

Without going into detail again.

Check out the story about the yellow ribbon drive being conducted by the Floydada Women's Chamber to benefit the Red Cross. It's a great idea!

Insight magazine printed some war slang from "Operation Desert Storm," that I thought was interesting, so I'm going to share them with you.

The soldiers in the field call a Scud missile, a "spud." They call Saudi women "BMOs" which stands for black moving objects, because of their traditional dress. "Rotor heads" are helicopter pilots. "Tread heads" are tank operators. CNN is called "Scud-a-vision." MREs (meals ready to eat) are called, "Meals Rejected by Ethiopians."

A quote to remember:
By John Stuart Mills

"War is an ugly thing, but not the ugliest thing. The decayed and degraded state of moral and patriotic feeling, which thinks that nothing is worth war, is worse. A man who has nothing that he cares about more than his personal safety is a miserable creature who has no chance of being free unless made and kept so by the exertions of better men than himself."

Courtroom Activities

In county court on March 7, Luis Escamilla, 26, of Plainview, was charged with DWI. There was no disposition on this case.

On March 8, 1991, Robert Camacho, was charged with false swearing to an application.

March 11, Glendale King was charged with disregarding a stop sign. No disposition.

Also on March 11, Dora May Stubbs, filed a speeding appeal. No disposition.

March 12, Gary Bennett, 31, of Lockney, was charged with DWI. There was no disposition on this case.

Also on March 12, Ernest Torrez, Jr., pled guilty to evading arrest. He was fined $500.00 plus court costs and sentenced to one year in jail, which was probated for one year.

Gary Mike Furgeson, was charged on March 12, with violating terms of release. There was no disposition on this case.

Old cases disposed of in county court included:

Steve Caballero, 19, of Floydada, pled guilty on March 12, 1991, to his Oct. 2, 1990 charge of DWI. He was fined $500.00 plus court costs and sentenced to 180 days probated which was probated for two years.

Ernest Torrez, Jr., 30, of Floydada, was charged with DWI on June 25, 1990. It was dismissed March 12, 1991.

Gary Mike Furgeson had filed an appeal on speeding and no seat belt charges on March 14, 1990. This was dismissed on March 12, 1991.

In J.P. court February 19, 1991 thru March 13, 1991, there were 152 misdemeanor cases filed.

Floydada Police Report

Jesus Sanchez, 43, of Floydada, was arrested at his residence, March 7, on a warrant out of Lubbock County. He was charged with possession of marijuana, transferred to Lubbock County jail and is being held on $100,000 bond.

On March 8, at 6:40 p.m., police received a report of a theft of two cartons, of cigarettes, valued at $32.00, from Furr's. Larry Richardson, 34, of Floydada, was charged in with theft

Elementary principal making history as a basketball official

A lot of Floydada students and their parents are probably not aware of the fact that their elementary school principal, Bobbie Weir, has recently made history in her capacity as an official at the girls state basketball tournament in Austin.

Weir, who has been officiating for 14 years, traveled to Austin last weekend, and served for the second year as a referee in the semi-finals and final games.

"This was the first year that two women officials got to work alone on the floor at the same time," said Weir. "I don't know why women haven't been allowed to do that in the past. Before a woman official always had a male official out there too. It made me really proud to know that we had broken that ground for women in the future."

Weir, who has been president of the Plainview Chapter of the Southwest Basketball Officials Association for four years, is one of approximately 10 women out of 400 officials in the South Plains.

She was one of nine officials, out of 6000, who were chosen to officiate at the state tournament.

"We were chosen from coaches recommendations to the UIL office. This was my second year. If you are good enough the first year they ask you to come back, but four times is the most that anyone has ever been."

"Of the six teams from West Texas that went to state, I was able to referee for five of them throughout the season," said Weir proudly.

"West Texas teams won all the gold! It was a great feeling! The West Texas kids also had the best behavior. Region I is the best area in the state of Texas to referee."

Bobbie has been Duncan Elementary's principal for five years. For seven years before that she taught at Duncan.

She is married to Bill Weir who also shares her love for the sport of basketball. He has been an official for 27 years, concentrating mostly on college basketball.

"I was really nervous last year when I went to state," said Bobbie. "But it gets better and easier every year."

Charlene Brown creating quilts featuring handprints

By Gilianne Carter

Texas Tech Journalism Student Charlene Brown of Floydada, who has spent 14 years babysitting, has begun plans to make quilts of children's handprints.

Brown, who has kept more than 200 children, came up with the idea of a quilt from the suggestion of Atha Sue, of Floydada.

"Atha suggested I make a memory of the children I've kept," Brown said. "We came up with the idea and I decided to just do it. I really like children."

The quilts will be filled with colorful handprints of the children Brown has kept throughout the years. Brown began taking handprints last May and June. She has collected an estimated 30 handprints.

"Most of the kids are still in town," Brown said. "Some of the kids are now sophomores in high school."

Charlene is sending cloth blocks and paint to those out of town and asks them to make their handprint and to send it back to her.

"There are some kids I can't get, for one reason or another, but I'm going to try to get as many as I can," Brown said.

Charlene estimates she will make eight quilts, and would like to have at least two of them finished by the end of the summer.

The handprints will be colorful and the choice of handprint will be left to the child.

"For the children I can't get, I'm going to get colorful blocks and put their names on the blocks. I want all the kids included," Brown said.

Charlene devotes time for the quilts on evenings and on weekends. Ann Jones, of Floydada, will be helping her put the quilt together. Charlene will keep the quilts for herself when they are completed, and will probably display them in her home.

"I'm not one to put stuff away, so I'll probably use the quilt as wallhangings or something like that, so they can be seen."

"If there are any kids that I have kept that I haven't contacted, please contact me so I can get a handprint," she added.

CHURCH PRESENTS 'THE NERD'--Don Warren (center) portrays the nerd, who saved the life of Willum Cubbert, played by Grant Hambricht, (right), during this weekend's performances of "The Nerd", a two act play being presented by the First United Methodist Church of Floydada. Among other characters in the play are Kay Brotherton (left) and Deen Braly (standing). The dates for the dinner theater are March 14, 15 and 16, with a matinee performance on Sunday, March 17.

Methodist Church slates performances of "The Nerd"

The drama group from First United Methodist Church in Floydada will present The Nerd, a play in two acts by Larry Shue. The play is presented by special arrangements through Dramatists Play Services, Inc. The dates are March 14, 15, and 16 as a dinner theater with a matinee performance scheduled for Sunday afternoon, March 17, at 1:30 (play only).

Dinner will be served in Fellowship Hall at 7:00 p.m. with the play presented on the stage upstairs beginning at 8:00. Risers for seating have been installed to provide a better view of the stage.

The dinner menu includes an appetizer of creme of orange tomato soup with bread sticks. The entree is Polynesian Stack, followed by a dessert of sherbet with apricot sauce and cookies.

Tickets may be purchased for both dinner and the play for $12.50 each, or for the play only for $6.50. Dessert will be served to everybody during intermission (including the Sunday Matinee).

The cast for the March performance at First United Methodist Church includes: Grant Hambricht as Willum Cubbert, Kay Brotherton as Tansy McGinnis, Deen Braly as Axel Hammond, Bobby Rainer as Warnock Waldgrave, Cindy Day as Clelia Waldgrave, Will Warren as Thor Waldgrave, and Don Warren in his debut role as Rick Steadman, the nerd.

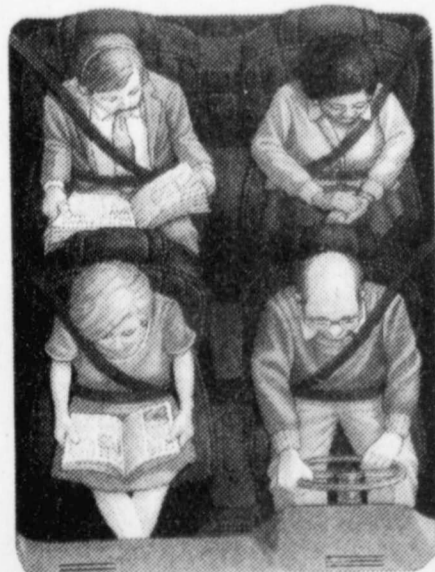

The play is under the direction of Bobby Rainer. Stage manager is Trina Wilson. Assistant Director and property manager is Noma Lou Rainer. Lighting and sound are managed by Vikki Yeary, and the House Manager is Connie Bertrand.

Willum Cubbert, an architect and Vietnam veteran, is visited by Rick Steadman, a man he's never met but who saved his life. Willum is hopelessly indebted to Rick and promises "to do anything for him."

Rick is an incredibly inept, hopeless "nerd." His only redeeming quality is that he dresses well (like, you wouldn't believe).

Willum's 34th birthday party provides the setting for so many uproarious incidents that the normally placid Willum considers violence of unprecedented proportions. A twist ending prevents Willum from wasting himself or somebody else, maybe everybody else.

Shue has done a masterful job of weaving a tapestry of friendship, duty, manipulation, honesty and love which is designed to leave its viewers breathless from laughter but wiser from insight.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

I would like to thank Coach Fortenberry for bringing our girls basketball program this far. I believe that the girls (with the help and leadership of the coaches) did a tremendous job. All any one has to do is look at their outstanding record. With more and determination they will get better.

Coach Fortenberry told us, when he first came to Lockney that it would take four years to turn the basketball program around and it has. In the course of the four years he may have stepped on some toes (sometimes a whole foot) but he knew what he was doing and what it would take. Sometimes as parents we don't understand. I will be the first to admit I didn't agree with his methods. A lot of it was the lack of communication, both with the kids and parents. As a parent I have had discussions with Coach Fortenberry, and as I mentioned before not always in agreement. (We agreed to disagree.)

As a parent of a varsity basketball player I would not want anyone else to coach my daughter her senior year of school. We need to support our coaching staff. We not only believe in our girls, we believe in our coaches.

Once again, Thank you — Coach Eddie Fortenberry and Robin McLaughlin.

News from Caprock Hospital

By Molly Stringer

We are planning a Health Fair at the hospital on April 2, 1991 from 7:00 a.m. until 3:00 p.m. We will have it on this day only. We will offer cholesterol and glucose blood testing for $5.00 and free to ValuCare members. The Mammogram unit will be here and the cost will be $60.00. Appointments need to be made for mammograms by calling the hospital at 983-2875. We will offer free blood pressure, weights, and diabetic counseling. Our dietary department will have refreshments and goodies available. It is better to have these tests before you eat anything, so we invite you to come early.

Board of Directors is scheduled to meet on Thursday, March 21 for their regular monthly meeting.

Medical staff meeting was on Monday of this week. This is a meeting of department heads and the physicians. Reports given include: Infection control in the hospital, nursing activity, transfers, blood transfusions, dietary, respiratory, pharmacy, lab and x-ray.

Several of our staff worked at getting some painting done. We have repainted the snack bar and library and added wall border. Those helping with this project were: Elena Hopper, Molly Stringer, Frances Miller, Jean Jarrett, Rhonda Stovall, Mary Simmons and Bill Tye. We plan a work afternoon in our flower beds and grounds soon.

We have had several folks pick up copies of the Living Will. We have these available at no cost.

Molly and Bill Stringer had visitors last week, including Terry and Meredith Roberts of Washington State and Christy and Paul Newberry.

Wendy Pierce will be attending a meeting in Lubbock this week on coding for Medicare.

Molly Stringer presented a program at Valley High School on Health Careers last Wednesday.

Joyce Smith has a new grandson. Vicki and Dale Derryberry are parents of this young man.

Sue Fuller was visited last week by her son Scott from San Antonio. Jean Jarrett is attending a dietary manager meeting in Lubbock this week. Trent Wauson is going to be spending a few days in San Antonio this week.

We're considering starting a cancer support group at the hospital, due to the high rate of cancer in this area. If you are interested and this could be beneficial to you or someone you know, please call the hospital at 983-2875 and let us know of your interest. Ask for Molly Stringer or Helen Teplee.

Diana Mendoza was named employee of the month for March. She was honored at the monthly employee luncheon last Tuesday.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

By Jo Bryant

Hi, on another windy day, do hope all is well with you. We all have been busy, time of the month to start over. Spring is so special to me, after the dreary winter, a new life, new hope and of course I was born in the spring.

Monday started the day as usual of the week, morning coffee, juice and cookies. Then Bro. Bill Wright gave the devotional and Irene Wexler played the piano for us, welcome back, glad that you're feeling better. Dolores came as it was beauty shop day and fixed the ladies hair and cut the men's hair too. At 2 p.m. the residents had ceramics.

Tuesday was the monthly meeting for the Companion & Caring. New officers were elected. Selma Ortiz was elected the new president, we want to thank Ruth McIntosh for doing such a good job this past year and all the rest, Leona Neff, Shirley Varner, Ola Smith, Dorothy Neff for all that you do. Sue Walker and Selma Ortiz are new members, welcome to the group. We discussed the St. Patrick's Day party, Thursday at 2:30 p.m. and the dying of the eggs for Easter on Tuesday, the 26th and the party on the 28th at 2:30 p.m. We are looking forward to the party.

Wednesday was Bingo day as usual. Linnie Willis had the first Bingo. Mary Alice came and assisted the residents. All were winners. Had a full house.

Thursday was music and exercise, the residents had popcorn.

Friday, Evelyn Latta came and played the piano for us and Jo Bryant gave the devotional taken from Matt. 19-16. "Teacher, what good thing must I do to get eternal life?" asked the rich young man. (We should follow him by faith, forsaking all other concerns, and he will lead us into the Kingdom of God.) The residents went on the bus ride to Plainview and McDonalds treated them to some ice cream. Some went shopping at Wal-Mart.

We welcome a new resident, Mrs. Maureen Gregg, mother of A.W. Ferguson and Joyce Taylor of Plainview.

We welcome all family friends to come to our family night, Thursday, March 14 at 6:30 p.m. We will have a pie supper, and discuss all the needs or compliment if you like. It's a time to share and to know what is best to serve you.

Thought

Who says old age will slow you down?

Don't pay them any heed.

Just know that when you are over the hill,

You begin to pick up speed.

Helen Phillips

Companions 'n' Caring discuss upcoming events

Companions 'n' Caring, volunteer organization of the Floydada Nursing Home, met Tuesday, March 5, at the home.

New officers for the year were elected as follows: Selma Ortiz, president; Ruth McIntosh, vice-president; Dolores Cannon, secretary-treasurer; Shirley Varner, assistant secretary-treasurer; Ola Smith, telephone chairman; Sue Walker, scrapbook chairman.

The group made plans for a St. Patrick's Day party on March 14. They will also assist the residents and Jo Bryant, activities director, with dyeing eggs on March 26 in preparation for an Easter egg hunt, parade and party on March 28.

"Companions" have served the home in many capacities through the years. They host a party almost every month, help with nail care once a month, and individual members give of their time in one-on-one contacts such as reading aloud, letter-writing, and just plain visiting. Dolores Cannon gives countless hours providing care for the residents' hair, a service that works wonders for the general morale.

If anyone is interested in getting involved in volunteerism and would enjoy working with the elderly, Companions would certainly welcome new members. Monthly meeting time is 2:00 p.m. on the first Tuesday of each month.

"Come discover how you can enrich many lives including your own!" comments volunteer Ruth McIntosh.

Women's Chamber review months activities

The Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce met Tuesday, March 5, at 5:00 p.m. The minutes and treasurer's report was given. A detailed budget report was submitted for the coming year by budget director, Julianne Cornelius.

An invitation was extended to all members to attend a Cotton Pickin' Luncheon at noon on March 26 in Slaton by the Women's Division there. Several made plans to attend.

Signature pins for the Chamber members were discussed and all members agreed that the purchase of these would be beneficial. Pins will be worn during all Women's Chamber events. These pins will also be made available to all women who join the Chamber during the style show on Monday night at a purchase price of $18.00.

A report on the Spring Style Show was given by Trena Simpson, chairman of the event. Decorations were finalized and rehearsal was scheduled. Annual membership dues are $7.00 and were payable at the door or during the month of March. Admission is a salad and $2.00. The new treasurer, Irma Garcia, and the new president, Sue Chesshir, were at the door to greet guests and take admission and dues.

Members expressed their support for the great job new president, Sue Chesshir, did at the banquet, as well as for her excellent leadership qualities in the year's new projects.

Deedie Covington made the motion to have a money-making project to aid the Floydada division of the American Red Cross. After some discussion, the membership decided to make big yellow all-weather bows to sell for $2.00 each to decorate mailboxes, porch posts, business doors, trees, etc. to welcome home our young men and women who have been in service to their country.

All of the proceeds from these bows will go to the Red Cross to aid families in whatever capacity needed. These bows were available at the style show on Monday night, or orders can be taken by calling the Chamber office at 983-3434 or Christina Chesshir at 983-2255.

The group hopes to serve a dual purpose with this project by a strong show of visible support as our young people return and by helping out those who have endured hardship because of the war. It is hoped that there can be yellow bows decorating the courthouse, businesses, and homes throughout the community.

The next regular meeting will be held on Tuesday, April 2, at 5:00 p.m. at the Chamber office. There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned.

Those in attendance were Sue Chesshir, Irma Garcia, Melissa Long, Deedie Covington, Christina Chesshir, Daphna Simpson, Trena Simpson, Vickie Norrell, Julianne Cornelius, Mitzi Nixon, Allison Robertson, Susan Simpson, Joyce Lipham, and Anne Carthel.

MODELS RELAX—The volunteer models at this year's spring style show posed for a picture at the close of Monday evening's event. The fashion show and salad supper is sponsored every year by the Women's Division of the Floydada Chamber of Commerce. Area clothing stores pick their models and furnish the spring apparel for shopping. Fashions modeled varied from casual to dressy.—Staff photo

Floyd County Fair Board plan upcoming events

By Carol Huggins

The Floyd County Fair Board held its regular monthly meeting on Monday night at the ag building in Lockney.

Among the items discussed was the fact that several of the ads in last year's catalog have not yet been paid for. It's a possibility that they were overlooked when statements were sent out before. New statements have now been sent out. Board members will soon be out selling ads for the 1991 catalog.

The "Design-A-Cover" contest that was started last year will be continued again this year. Ethelyn Vernon will be in charge of this. The contest is open to all Floyd County residents elementary through high school age. The drawing that best depicts the theme, "Pride in Our Country," will be featured on the cover of the catalog. The winner will receive a $50 savings bond. Deadline to enter is May 1.

Beth Bramlet will head Ladies Day. She has already contacted several people regarding programs for the day. If anyone is interested in donating a door prize, please contact her. This would be good advertising for you or your business.

Once again, anyone may be known as a "Friend of the Fair." For $5.00 a person may have his name and his family's names or a memorial to someone listed on this page. All money collected will be put into the air conditioner fund. Candice Wauson will be in charge of this, and she can be contacted at the bank in Lockney.

There is a desperate need for someone to take charge of the parade. Kana Kennedy has agreed to contact last year's parade participants. The Lions Club will get everyone lined up on the day of the parade. The need is for someone to take care of registration, judges, signs, etc. Anyone interested please contact Roy Saucedo or Betty Hayes.

Annabel Bramlet has agreed to piece a red, white, and blue quilt to be raffled. The money raised will also be put in the air conditioner fund. When finished, the quilt will be displayed around the county.

The schedule is starting to shape up. Anyone who has a suggestion of something they would like to see at the Fair needs to let someone on the board know about it or come to the next meeting which will be on April 1.

DECLARACION PARA IMPUESTOS SOBRE LA PROPIEDAD

LE AYUDA A PROTEGER SUS DERECHOS COMO CONTRIBUYENTE

Una declaración (rendition) es un reporte al distrito de valoración que enumera todas las pertenencias que usted tiene o controla a partir del primero de enero de 1991 sobre las cuales se pueden cobrar impuestos.

Usted debe presentar una declaración si es dueño de bienes muebles tangibles (tangibles personal property) que son usados para producir ingresos—tales como el inventario y otro equipo usado por una empresa. El distrito de valoración puede exigir a cualquier contribuyente que entregue una declaración notificándole por escrito y enviándole un formulario para hacer su declaración.

Las ventajas de presentar una declaración:
• Usted puede dar su opinión del valor de su propiedad. Si el distrito de valoración impone un valor más alto sobre su propiedad le debe de notificar por escrito de ese valor más alto y le debe de explicar como puede protestarlo ante la junta de revisión de valoración.

• Usted registra su dirección correcta para que sus cuentas de impuestos sean enviadas a la dirección correcta. Si su cuenta es enviada a una dirección incorrecta, la ley aún lo hace responsable de que pague sus impuestos a tiempo o que pague cargos extra por hacer pagos tardíos.
• Entregando un tipo especial de declaración llamado reporte de valor decreciente, usted puede notificar al distrito de valoración de daños graves que le ocurrieron a su propiedad en 1990. El distrito envía a alguien para que verifique los daños y se tome en cuenta para cuando se le asigne valor a su propiedad para 1991.

Presente su declaración en las oficinas de su distrito de valoración local en la dirección citado abajo. Ahí encontrará los formularios que usted necesita.

El último día para presentar su declaración para 1991 es el Lunes el primero de abril. Usted puede recibir 30 días adicionales si lo pide por escrito antes del plazo del 1 de abril.

Para más información pida una copia gratis del folleto Los Derechos, Recursos y Responsabilidades del Contribuyente de Impuestos, en la oficina del distrito de valoración o puede pedirlo del Consejo Estatal de Impuestos sobre la Propiedad (State Property Tax Board) en Austin.

PROTECT YOUR RIGHTS—

RENDER YOUR PROPERTY

A rendition is a report to the appraisal district that lists all the taxable property you own or control on January 1, 1991. The form is available at your local appraisal district or you may draft a similar form.

You must file a rendition if you own tangible personal property used to produce income—such as the inventory and equipment used by a business.

The appraisal district may require any taxpayer to file a rendition by sending the taxpayer a written notice and a rendition form.

The advantages of filing a rendition:

- You give your opinion of your property's value. If the appraisal district wants a higher value for your property, it must notify you in writing of the higher value and explain how you can protest that value to the appraisal review board.
- You record your correct mailing address so your tax bills will go to the right address. If your bill is mailed to the wrong address, the law still holds you responsible for paying your taxes on time or paying extra charges for late payments.

• You can also file a report of decreased value, to notify the appraisal district of significant depreciation to your property in 1990. The district will look at your property before assigning a value in 1991.

The last day for filing or post-marking 1991 renditions is Monday, April 1. You can get an extra 30 days if you ask for it in writing before the April 1 deadline.

File renditions with your local appraisal district at the address shown below.

For more information, get a free copy of the pamphlet, Texas Property Taxes: A Taxpayers' Guide to Rights, Remedies, Responsibilities, at your appraisal district office or from the State Property Tax Board in Austin.

City awards bid for renovation of lines

The city council of Floydada opened bids for the proposed renovation of selected electric distribution lines for Floydada Power and Light prior to the regular March session on Tuesday, March 12. Two bids were received on the project. K & C Utilities of Midland and City Electric of Eastland submitted bids. The bids were reviewed by city engineer Bill McMorries who recommended awarding the bid to the low bidder, K & C Utilities.

Council members voted unanimously to award the bid to K & C Utilities on a motion by councilman Leroy Burns with a second by councilman Wayne Tipton.

Bids were opened during the meeting for the sale of used city equipment previously advertised for public bids. Six individuals submitted bids for the equipment, either piece by piece or as a package.

The council awarded the purchase of the equipment to Nick Mohamad who bid $3,600 for the package with designated bids of $1,000.00 on the 1981 GMC pickup, $1,000.00 on the 1983 Chevrolet pickup, $800.00 on the 1969 Ford bucket truck and $800.00 on the .966 Chevrolet digger truck. Motion for the action came from Tipton with a second by councilman Amado Morales.

Two resolutions were passed by the council. The first, approved on a motion by councilman Eric Cornelius with a second by councilman Ruben Barrientoz, established procedures for the upcoming municipal election. The second authorized the reappointment of Edd Henderson as the city representative on the board of directors for Mackenzie Municipal Water Authority.

A tax sale property under the supervision of the local taxing entities was discussed at the evening session. Ralph Casillas had requested that he and his wife be allowed to purchase the property for $1500 plus payments of $125.00 per month for 16 months. The structure is located at 401 W. Ross. The council voted to accept the offer on a motion by councilman Leroy Burns, seconded by Morales.

Summer water rates were discussed and approved by the council. Residential customers will be billed the usual $14.00 for the first 1000 gallons of water used. The rate for additional water will be reduced from $2.00 per 1000 gallons to $1.00.

Authorization was given to the city manager to advertise for an operator for the city swimming pool for the coming summer. Also discussed at the Tuesday meeting was the possibility of installing a diving board no higher than three feet, at the pool. This matter was tabled until more information concerning the cost of installation and the effect on the city liability insurance a diving board would have.

Future regular monthly council meetings will be held on the third Monday night of each month. Council members changed the set meeting night due to scheduling conflicts among some of the members and due to the need for more time to ready city records and materials for the meeting. Motion for the approval came from Morales and Tipton provided the second. Vote was unanimously in favor of the change.

The purchase of fuel being used by the city was addressed by the council. The current procedure for fuel purchases is to rotate between the local gas stations. The option discussed was advertising for bids and purchasing all fuel from the lowest bidder. Since no savings is likely to result from such a change, the council opted to continue to purchase fuel from local dealers on a rotating basis.

A rebate for customers of Floydada Power and Light who purchase a heat pump was discussed by the council. SPS is offering a $300 rebate to their customers who purchase a heat pump. The council decided not to offer such a rebate. SPS sells, installs and finances the equipment. The city power utility does not. Motion to reject payment of rebates was made by Barrientoz and seconded by Morales. The remainder of the council voted in favor of the rejection.

City manager Gary Brown presented his report to the council. Among the matters brought to the council's attention were the permit being sought for an expanded landfill (no new items to report), storm water run off permits (needed for the airport and landfill-city will join TML in seeking group permit), Napoleon Park grant request (now in the hands of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department), seal coating at the airport (bids to be let in late March), street paving on Third Street (concrete work complete, paving to begin next), the volleyball court at the High School City Park (should have nets up and be ready for playing in a week or so) and the concession stand for Annie Taylor Park (constructed and due to be set in place next week if possible according to weather and city work load).

Other matters handled by the council included the payment of the monthly bills and approval of the minutes of the past meetings.

Attending the session were Mayor Wayne Russell, councilmen Leroy Burns, Amado Morales, Ruben Barrientoz, Wayne Tipton and Eric Cornelius, city manager Gary Brown, city secretary Jimmie Lou Stewart, city attorney Karen Houchin, city engineer Bill McMorries, Sharon Quisenberry, Karen Lawson, Connie Galloway, Frank Breed, Ray Brooks, Paul Atteberry, Pam Holmes and Boy Scouts Warren Bishop, John Doershuk, Michael Palacios, Coy Holmes, Jason Campbell, and Austin Williams, Joe Stepp and the Hesperian-Beacon reporter.

TROOP SUPPORT CONTINUES—Floydada Misses continue support for troops in the Middle East by placing red, white and blue and yellow bows on the pillars in front of the First National Bank in Floydada. Bows were also placed on light posts leading to the drive-up window of the bank. The girls involved in the community service were (l-r) Heather Arney, Junior Miss Floydada; Shonda Smith, Little Miss Floydada; Meghan Graham, Tiny Miss Floydada; and Robin Galloway, Miss Floydada. Assisting the girls in hanging the bows were bank representative C.J. Payne (back left) and Laura Farris (right), Floydada Chamber of Commerce president. —Staff photo

Welcome Wagon project begins in Floydada

The Floydada Chamber of Commerce will be working in a joint effort with Floydada churches in a Welcome Wagon committee, which is designed to welcome newcomers to the Floydada area.

"Some of the churches have already started this project," said Chamber Manager Betty Marquis. "The chamber will be hosting the first meeting of all the volunteers, Friday, March 15, at 3:00 p.m., in the chamber office."

"The purpose of the project is to identify newcomers to the area and present them with 'Welcome Wagon Packages,'" said Marquis. "These will contain all kinds of information about the city, including business locations and services, church information, and anything we can think of to show people what our city has to offer."

"This isn't just open to church volunteers," said Marquis. "Any interested volunteer is urged to come to the meeting and become part of the Welcome Wagon."

Welfare Board reviews reports

The Floyd County Child Welfare Board met Tuesday, March 5. Those present were Gladys Jones, Karen Lawson, Linda Griffith, Connie Johnson and Bill Gardner.

The board adopted a new financial report that will help them know exactly how much county money they have and keep it separate from state funds. They voted to okay requests for clothing and shoes for two children and a senior ring for one of the seniors.

Bill Gardner of Plainview gave a 1990 case activity report. There were 50 families and 120 children referred to Human Services. Because Floyd County doesn't have a case worker, the number of referrals are lower than usual. Floyd County is responsible for 13 children at this time.

120 children were referred to the agency for such items as neglectful supervision, physical abuse, medical neglect, abandonment, sexual abuse, emotional abuse and physical neglect. Referrals came from relatives, friends, neighbors, schools, law enforcement agencies, hospitals, doctors, the Department of Human Resources, child care providers and anonymous sources. Jones requested that the county continue to provide funding to the child welfare board in the coming year. No action was taken at this time.

County treasurer Glenna Orman presented her monthly financial reports showing that the county began the month of February with $160,179.87 in the county coffers. $425,881.05 was taken in during the month and $141,690.43 paid out. This left a fund balance of $444,370.49 in county accounts at the end of February.

Orman stated that 92.53 percent of the current tax levy has now been collected. The county has one certificate of deposit for $100,000.00 at this time. $9,561.83 in interest has accumulated on certificates of deposit to date. Total installment indebtedness for Floyd County now stands at $49,283.58 for a main-tainer, a copier and a teletype. The treasurers report was accepted by the court as presented.

The treasurer also reported that she had received checks for only one account which has been transferred to the newly designated county depository at the Floydada Branch of the First National Bank in Lockney. This means that disbursement checks can only be written on that account. No other pay outs are possible until checks are received. Deposit tickets are also not in at this time.

The court examined and approved accounts presented for payment and approved eight farm work contracts. Contracts approved were submitted by R. C. Fawver, Kevin Helms, Kenneth Pitts, Shelby Callahan, Lynn Campbell, Gale McPherson, Lewis Reddy, and Carthel Brothers.

Attending the Monday morning session were Judge Bill Hardin, commissioners Connie Bearden, Floyd Jackson and Howard Bishop, Glenna Orman, Nathan Mulder, Jan McAnally, Mendy Shurbet and the Hesperian reporter.

Lockney citizens recognized at banquet

"Our citizen is not a native of Lockney and came here with the intention of staying only a couple of years. But our community is a better place because that stay has lasted 23 years."

"Born and raised as a Pied Piper he is now a true red blooded Longhorn through and through. After serving two years in the U.S. Army he returned to marry his childhood sweetheart and much to the surprise of his hometown teachers to receive a Bachelors degree and later a Masters Degree in Education from North Texas State University in Denton.

"Because of our outstanding citizens leadership the Lockney Independent School District is recognized not only in this area, but statewide as a top performing school and has received several awards along with several of its teachers and students state and national recognition on several occasions.

"If you haven't guessed by now who our outstanding citizen is - it is my honor to present to you Peggy's husband, Brent and Todd's dad and Carmon's son - W.H. (Dub) Hallmark."

Hallmark came forward and received the traveling trophy. He told those present how honored he was to be chosen for this award and how much he appreciated living in Lockney among "some of the nicest people in the world."

Bil Anderson came forward to present the Extra Mile Award to Ted Young, Lockney High School Ag teacher. Anderson explained, "The Extra Mile Award is not for the person who is able to do something for the community. Nor is it something for the person who will do something for the community if asked to do so. It is for the person who looks for things in the community that need to be done, finds a way to do them, and does them... without being asked and with no thought of reward. This years recipient has been here only a short time but in that time he has demonstrated these attributes and shown his concern and extra effort in helping the youth of Lockney."

Jeff Reece, Administrator of the Lockney General Hospital, presented the Lockney General Hospital Employee Of The Year Award to Mrs. Kathi Hubbard for her steadfast dedication and commitment to her work and the welfare of the Lockney General Hospital.

W. H. Hallmark presented Lockney Independent School District Employee Of The Year Awards to LaDora Auffill, high school Math teacher, Edith Cook, junior high Special Education Aide; and Terri Fortenberry, Elementary First Grade Teacher.

The three were recognized by their peers and, according to Hallmark, "They personify what teaching is all about. They represent what the majority of our 102 employees do, day-in and day-out."

Lonnie Hooten, Lockney Volunteer Fire Marshall recognized Rick Kellison as Fireman of the Year. According to Hooten the Fireman of the Year is chosen by his peers as one who does the very best he can, works as hard as he can, and is always there to help.

Sam Fortenberry served as Master of Ceremony for the event. He introduced Moses Blanco as a representative of the Arriba Study Club. Blanco opened the entertainment segment of the banquet with the song "When Momma Prayed".

Members of the Lockney Gymnastic Team took to the stage under the direction of Jennifer Fortenberry. The gymnasts, assisted by D'Lee Powell and Laura Smith, did flip flops, cartwheels, one handed cartwheels, back bends kickovers, hand springs, front rolls, front rolls and roundoffs to the delight of the audience.

Lockney Cub Scout Pack 259 pulled off a skit entitled, "The Worlds Ugliest Man." Scout leader Chuck Auffill and Jeff Reece assisted. Nine cub scout cowboys also came riding up the center aisle on the "world's longest stick horse". Once on stage they sang "Happy Trails to You."

Il Penseroso Study Club did a skit, "Mirror Mirror on the Wall". Snow Lock commented, "The town of Lockney is Flying High". The witch presented her with a bouquet of flowers which put her to sleep. She was watched over by Dot Dork and her Dorky friends until Prince Lockney came to the rescue of Snow Lock. He stated, "The people of Lockney can do away with the witch," and he revived Snow Lock with a kiss, a large candy kiss, that is.

The members of the Athena Study Club presented an old time melodrama and once again the good guy defeated the bad guy for the hand of the pretty maiden as (literally) the sun rose and set, time passed by and the curtain opened and closed.

The skit planned by the Lockney Volunteer Fire Department went out the door as members present left to answer the fire whistle.

Jimmy Kemp, fire chief, along with Tim Cooper, Marlon McDonald and Archie Jones, members of the department showed several items that had been purchased for use in the new ambulance. Kemp invited those present to look at the new ambulance which was parked in the front of the building.

He also called the names of the eight firemen who had recently finished their ECA (Emergency Care Attendants) training.

Kemp reported that $500 had been presented to the baseball association from the sale of the aluminum cans being gathered in the trailer on the south end of Main Street. He told the audience that even though the money from the ambulance had been raised, the collection and recycling of the aluminum cans would continue. "The money will now be donated to charitable causes," said Kemp.

The singing group, "Harmony" comprised of Amy Thornton, Zelda Ellison, Lisa Mosley, Phil Cotham and Travis Thornton. They entertained the audience with several songs including, Rocky Top, Saturday Night Bath in a Galvanized Washing Tub, We come from a Long Line of Love, Sincerely, Keep on the Sunny Side and concluded with, God Is Watching Us.

Fortenberry recognized those from Lockney serving in the Armed Services. They are: Efen Perez, Jr., J.J. (Juan) Perry, Michael Villa, Robert Armstrong, Tamara Elam, Chris Rodriguez, Ruben Ascensio, Rodolfo Rodriguez, Abel Ballejo, Clint Carthel, Victor Hernandez, Daniel Perez, Sr., Ron Cates, Joe Widener, Daron Widener, Eddie Kinard, Ramiro Vasquez, Jayme Jones, Kelly Reed, Marcus Schacht, Richard Schacht, Elma Molina, Jeff Griffith, Jason Carthel, Robert Wofford, Luis Martinez Jr., Mike Arillano, Terry Carlton, Israel Cuellar, Joe Ochoa, Jr., Wayland Carthel, Sgt. Carmen V. Cass, Christobal Rodriguez.

He then asked those in the audience who had served in the Armed Services at any time to stand. Members of the National Honor Society presented each veteran with an American Flag for their service to our country.

The group "Harmony" came back on stage and sang, "I'm Proud to be An American" as the stage curtain opened slowly to reveal an enormous American Flag. At the conclusion of the song, Rev. Tommie Beck, pastor of the First United Methodist Church, gave the benediction.

The Lockney Cafeterium workers cooked a chicken fried steak meal which was served by members of the Lockney High School National Honor Society.

Judy Jackson was in charge of decorating the Lockney Elementary School Cafeterium in red white and blue balloons and table covers. Centerpieces were poofed ribbon of red, blue and silver topped by two American flags and balloon bouquets.

Table of content cards identified our freedom of religion, press, speech, freedom to petition, our right to vote, etc. The walls were decorated with Americanism pastel drawings done by art students of Lisa Mosley and posters conveying our rights as Americans.

Lockney City Council seeks seal coating bids...

size of facilities being operated by cities is what puts them in the industrial category."

The four main areas under discussion included: 1. Waste Water Treatment Plant 2. Airport 3. Landfill 4. Equipment Maintenance Yard.

"The Lockney waste water treatment plant would have to fall in the category of 100,000 gallons per minute for it to qualify in the industrial category and if the equipment belonging to the city was rented or leased out then the equipment maintenance yard would fall into the industrial category," Johnson explained.

Mayor Dan Smith stated, "The four groups are not applicable to Lockney, as the waste water treatment plant is no where close to 100,000 gallons of water per minute, the equipment belonging to the city is not rented or leased out, we do not have an airport and the landfill is closed."

Johnson told the group, "In my opinion the city of Lockney's circumstances do not require a permit."

The council discussed amending the budget. Smith told those present that this budget will be a six month budget and that it will cover the portion of the year that very little revenues will be coming in.

The councilmen agreed to delete a sewer clean-out machine from the budget until such time when it is necessary to buy a new one. Dickie McCarty stated that he would continue to repair the old machine as long as he could find parts for it. The council left the purchase of street signs in the budget and voted to replace or renovate the stop and yield signs as needed.

J.D. Copeland made the motion to approve the six month budget from April 1, 1991 through September 30, 1991. The motion was seconded by Kenneth Wofford and all voted for the motion.

Kenneth Wofford reported that the irrigation pump at the city farm had been repaired.

Jim Doucette stated that they were ready to work on the new city park located at Main and Locust. Dirt will be hauled in to fill in the area and trees and grass planted.

The deadline for filing as a candidate for the upcoming election is March 20. The positions of mayor and two council posts are open. Sam Fortenberry has filed to run as an incumbent. Kenneth Wofford and Dan Smith will not be candidates for re-election. Any qualified voter residing inside the city limits of Lockney may file for a place on the ballot. Filing is being held at City Hall during regular business hours. The election will be held on May 4th.

In regular business of the council the minutes of the February meeting were read by Irma Lee Duckworth and approved. The bills were discussed and payment approved and the financial statement was reviewed.

Present at the meeting were Mayor Dan Smith, Councilmen J.D. Copeland, Kenneth Wofford, Sam Fortenberry, Jim Doucette, City Secretary Irma Lee Duckworth, City Attorney Paul Lyle, engineer Jaime Johnson and the Hesperian-Beacon reporter.

'Winds finish second at Eagle Relays

By Bill Gray

The Floydada Whirlwinds continued their resurgence as a leading contender in area track action by compiling 135 overall points for a second-place standing in team competition at the Roosevelt Eagle Relays in Acuff on March 9. The boys class 3A rankings and points scored at the meet were: 1. Lubbock Roosevelt, 142; 2. Floydada, 135; 3. Muleshoe, 62; 4. Littlefield, 57; 5. Dimmitt, 49; 6. Friona, 48; 7. Hereford, 36; and 8. Lubbock Cooper, 32.

Just as in last week's team victory in the Whirlwind Relays, many of Floydada's cumulative points were produced by underclassmen.

Freshman Adam Gonzales placed third in shot put with a 41'5" toss. Gonzales missed first place in the discus by four inches, with a 127'1" effort. It has been a while since the 'Winds had several consistent entries in the "power" events.

Sophomores Michael Gilliland and Scott Crader are improving weekly. Along with Gonzales, the trio insures that Floydada will be very competitive in the discus and shot put by the time the District 2-3A meet rolls around.

For the second straight week, Whirlwind junior Jaime Suarez established his ranking as one of the better two-milers in the area. The 3200 meters is one of the most demanding running events in schoolboy track, and Suarez improves with each outing. After a second-place finish in the Whirlwind Relays with a time of 10:53.43, Suarez reduced his time by over 17 seconds to take first place at Roosevelt with a 10:36.06 clocking.

A one-two finish in the triple jump by senior Chad Williams and sophomore Michael Henderson gave a boost to Floydada's point total. Williams also placed second in the long jump with a 20'3-1/2" leap. Aaron Harbin (11'0") and Jason Pyle (10'6") finished second and third, respectively, in the pole vault.

Senior Brad Emert's victory in the 300 hurdles, with a time of 40.27, was a pleasant surprise — but, not unexpected. Emert has been involved in the Whirlwinds' off-season strength and conditioning program for several years. The end results of this intensive regimen have been realized on Floydada's gridiron as well as basketball court. The benefits are now being seen on the track field. Emert ran an 11.12 in the 100 meters, placing second behind Roosevelt.

Michael Henderson placed third in the 200 meters, and was part of the third place 1600 relay team, consisting of Michael Aleman, Kenneth Davis and Brian Teeple. Henderson also joined Davis, Emert and Freddie Portee on the 400 relay team, which placed third behind Roosevelt and Littlefield. Aleman ran a 2:10.5 for third place in the 800 meters to complete Floydada's scoring total.

CONTRA-CLARINET SOLOIST — Michael Gilliland earned a First Division rating for his contra-clarinet solo during recent solo and ensemble contests on the Lubbock campus of Texas Tech. Gilliland will be traveling to Austin for state competition during the first week of June. Staff Photo

The Lady 'Winds also had a good outing at Roosevelt, placing second in the team standings. The girls' 3A team totals were: 1. Dimmitt, 106; 2. Floydada, 98; 3. Muleshoe, 91; 4. Lubbock Cooper, 85; 5. Brownfield, 76; 6. Lubbock Roosevelt, 59; 7. Littlefield, 57; and 8. Slaton, 17.

Elisa Suarez won the long jump at 14'3-1/2", and placed third in the triple jump with a 31'1-3/4" effort. Sophomore Tian Younger was a double victor, hitting a 16.86 in the 100 hurdles and a 48.78 in the 300 hurdles. Younger had misfortune in the 100 at Floydada last week, so the double win in her premier events should give her renewed confidence as the district meet draws near.

The Lady 'Winds' 1600 relay team of Elisa Suarez, Tian Younger, Lesha Black and Angie Maldonado, placed second with a time of 4:23.80. Black and Maldonado joined Holly Henderson and Kalli Hicks for a third-place showing in the 800 relay with a 1:58.59 timing. Freshman Gabina Suarez ran 13:33.0 in the 3200 meters for third place, and Elisa Suarez's 1:02.53 held up for second place in the 400 meters.

The teams travel to Levelland this week.

PROPOSED FISD DRESS & GROOMING CODE FOR STUDENTS

The FISD Board of Education, students, faculties/administration, and the community of Floydada are proud of our schools and our children. We know all Floydadians hope to present an image of a school system dedicated to high standards of excellence in character as well as excellence in academics. Due to this desire for excellence, we have developed, with input from students, parents, faculties and administration, a dress and grooming code for our students. Research indicates that students with positive self esteem perform at higher levels in their studies, and being well groomed and neatly dressed are building blocks of this sense of well being.

Student dress and grooming should be suitable for an educational environment and portray an image of excellence in character and work habits as well as in academics. The following guidelines have been developed for FISD:

I. CLOTHING

1. Extremely tight clothing is not acceptable
2. Short pants (above the bottom of the knee) are not acceptable. (Secondary only)
3. Halter tops, tank tops, or short tops that expose the waist area are not acceptable.
4. Sweat pants are not acceptable. (Secondary only)
5. See-through clothing is not acceptable
6. Clothing with insinuations or reference to alcohol, drugs, illegal or immoral activities is not acceptable.
7. Earring(s) on male students is/are not acceptable.
8. All students must wear shoes.
9. Skirt length: any skirt shorter than 4 inches above the knee may be considerable unacceptable.
10. Head Coverings should not be worn inside the school building.
11. Students should dress appropriately for the occasion at all school sponsored activities.
12. Uniforms issued by a school organization may be worn only during participation by that organization. Clothes or jewelry worn to indicate membership in an unauthorized organization are not acceptable.

II. GROOMING & HYGIENE

1. Students should practice good personal hygiene.
2. Hair must be clean, neatly trimmed and no unusual hair cuts or styles will be permitted.
3. Hair length on male students should not extend below the top of the shoulder.

Extra-curricular sponsors/coaches, with the building principal, may establish additional dress and grooming guidelines for participation in those activities.

Students wearing clothing or jewelry not addressed by the above guidelines, but deemed inappropriate for an educational setting by the building principal, will be subject to the same disciplinary procedures as violators of dress and grooming guidelines.

CONSEQUENCES FOR STUDENTS WHO FAIL TO MEET DRESS AND GROOMING GUIDELINES:

1. The student will be instructed as to how they can meet code guidelines. They will be placed in the time-out room until a parent can bring the appropriate clothing or until the problem can be corrected.
2. Time missed from class because of this disciplinary action will be unexcused.
3. Repeated violations of the dress and grooming codes will be classified as a persistent discipline problem and be subject to any discipline management techniques listed in the FISD Discipline Management Plan.

The FISD Board of Education invites you to comment concerning the proposed dress and grooming code. Please contact your School Board Member(s) if you would like to comment on the matter. Positive as well as negative comments are encouraged.

NOTICE TO FISD PARENTS & PATRONS

Members of an accreditation team from the Texas Education Agency will be available Monday, March 25, to meet with parents and patrons who have an interest in expressing their views and opinions about the Floydada Independent School District, according to Jerry Cannon, school superintendent.

Interviews will be conducted by team members beginning at 4:00 p.m. in the A.E. Baker High School Auditorium located at 618 South Tree Street, Floydada, Texas.

Every school district in the state is required by law to be visited by an accreditation team from the Agency to evaluate the quality of its educational programs and to determine what progress the school district has made since the last visit.

During the interviews, emphasis will be given to the quality of instruction and community support present on each campus in the district. Areas to be evaluated by the team including planning, curriculum, instruction, services to students, instructional resources, personnel, governance, community conditions, and physical facilities.

FHA-HERO hears about Job Corps

By Christina Session

Mr. Juan Ibarro of the Job Corps was guest speaker at the March 1 meeting of the Bluebonnet chapter of FHA-HERO. We met in the CVAE-Home Ec. room of Floydada High School, Friday afternoon.

President Gracie Gonzales called the meeting to order. Yolanda Ledbetter, vice president, led the group in the Pledge of Allegiance to the U.S. flag. Minutes of the previous meeting were read by secretary LaChelle Sessions. Treasurer Rachel Mendoza reported $58 of candy money was turned in this week. We are coming along good on our sales.

Under new business we discussed the state meeting in San Antonio April 12, 13, 14. To be eligible students must be passing in all subjects, have dues paid up and will also have to help pay. This can be in cash or they can sell candy with what the individual earns going toward their expenses. $57 per member who goes on the trip must be earned through candy sales or brought in cash for their individual part of the trip. Also students must not be on discipline restriction and must have completed sewing their garment in class to be eligible to go on the trip.

Mr. Ibarro showed a video film about

Job Corps. They will accept young people age 16 to 21. They prefer you get your high school diploma and then join Job Corps for vocational training. If you are a dropout or having trouble staying in high school, then Job Corps will still accept you and help you get your GED plus other training, he said. The Texas campus is at San Marcos.

The year around program is for students from low income families. They provide you with a dorm to live in, three meals a day, uniforms, spending money and a bonus of a few thousand dollars upon completion of your course to help you rent an apartment when you get a job.

You earn while you learn, he told us. The classes are self paced and you can finish quickly or go as slow as you need to learn the work. They train you for many jobs. No student cars are allowed on campus but buses are provided to take you to town to shop or go to church of your choice. He said students must follow the rules of the center. You can get details at the Texas Employment Center in Floydada or any town.

We thanked Mr. Ibarro for coming to talk to us. Meeting was adjourned. Rachel Riojas left early to attend the Region I meeting in Midland. She rode with Mrs. Becker and Mrs. Lloyd as she was our only delegate.

self esteem and to avoid anything on the negative side.

Among the items to be included in the dress code are the types of clothing not acceptable for school wear, personal hygiene, jewelry and hair length.

A complete version of the proposed dress code can be found elsewhere in this newspaper. Parents and students are urged to read the proposed dress code and make comments or suggestions to administrators and board members prior to the regular board meeting in April.

STUDENTS HONORED

Monthly recognition of outstanding students was made before the board, family and friends of the students. Honored from A. B. Duncan Elementary were Kalli Hopper, daughter of Cliff and Christy Hopper, and Lindsey Reddy, daughter of Rick and Kelly Reddy.

R. C. Andrews honorees were Bruce McHam, son of James and Susan McHam, and Kelli Bertrand, daughter of Glen and Debbie Bertrand. Junior High students Zach Abshier, son of Roland and Charla Adams, and Andy McHam, son of James and Susan McHam.

Tian Younger, daughter of Jakey and Leora Younger, shared honors with fellow student Scott Crader, son of Jimmy and Linda Crader. Both are students at Floydada High School.

Board members approved the text book committee report as presented and authorized the hiring of Hope Crabtree as high school English teacher for the 1991-92 school year. Also approved was the rental/sale of a tax sale property under the supervision of the taxing entities. The approval is dependent upon approval from the other taxing entities involved in the supervision of the property.

A formal motion setting Saturday, May 4, 1991 as the date for the trustee election. Darlynn Hambright was named election judge for the absentee voting and Louise Turner was tabbed as the election day official to conduct the election on May 4.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

Superintendent Cannon's monthly report addressed three subjects. The first was a proposal from ag instructor Barron Wetsel to change the requirements for exhibitors at the annual local stock show. The change would allow Floydada and Lockney to use the same criteria for eligibility. Students not passing would be ineligible to show their animals. The item will be placed on the agenda of the board for later action. Lockney has already observed this regulation for several years.

The second item Cannon discussed was the proposed ban on smoking at all school campuses by both students and school personnel. No action was taken at this time.

The third item mentioned by Cannon was school financing. Cannon told the board that the legislature is slated to vote on funding for future years March 31 and send the plan to the supreme court on April 1. Plans now being considered include county taxing units for schools in the same county and a special small school formula to aid smaller schools with limited funds. Cannon has been working closely with a committee in Austin throughout the financial hearings and state budget planning sessions for school funding.

Other business the board handled included the reading of minutes and the payment of monthly bills.

Administrative assistant Jimmie Collins presented the tax report showing that $1,029,992.00 has been collected and $81,949.00 remains to be collected.

Current collections are 92.7 percent complete as compared to 92.5 percent at this time last year.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

Following an executive session, the board approved renewal of teacher, teacher aide and secretarial contracts for the coming year as recommended by building principals and by the superintendent.

Present for the board meeting were trustees Charlene Brown, Cyndiann Williams, Michael Hinsley, Billy Villarreal, Andy Hale and John Campbell, school superintendent Jerry Cannon and administrative assistant Jimmie Collins. In addition to honored students, teachers and families of students, the Monday evening session was attended by principals Joe Christian, Larry Baer, Ellen Enriquez and Bobbie Weir, Joe Stepp and the Hesperian-Beacon reporter.

THE CROP CONCERN

APRICOT trees are dumb, they never learn! Or could it be the people who continue to nurture them from year to year? We pulled every string, we worked every angle, we even solicited public prayer in our efforts to bring back zero temperatures by March first. A temperature that low would have delayed the blooming and it was considered essential if there was to be a satisfactory set on Floyd County's fruit trees this year. Needless to say it didn't work and unseasonal warmth ushered in the earliest apricot bloom we have seen in years. The Listening Post's "fast" apricot tree appeared to be one huge pillow of white on Thursday, March 7, and the humming of honey bees could be heard from 20 feet away as they fervently rushed pollen into colony storage. Twenty four hours later, after Thursday night's drop to 26 degrees, that tree's once beautiful petals, now brown, shriveled, and crumbly, still wrapped themselves protectively around the frozen remains of the tiny fruits cradled within. So, already the '91 production of one Listening Post tree must be written off. Now, one week later, L.P.'s "slow" apricot tree has also reached full bloom; the stage is set, ready and waiting for the next freeze.

ONION setting in Floyd County began February 26, roughly two weeks earlier than it did in 1990. Those who work at the onion sheds say this year's plants are of excellent quality; far, far superior to those put out a year ago. The 1991 acreage devoted to onions will remain virtually unchanged. Production must be limited to prevent an oversupply and a price collapse in the market place. The setting of Mark Gilley's onions earlier this week pushed the county's onion set just a little past the half way mark.

WHEAT continues its rapid growth. Early wheat that has not been grazed is well into the jointing stage and stands more than shoe top high. Late sown wheat now covers the ground and cattle are no longer forced to hunt and pick to find plants large enough to graze.

The lack of rainfall is becoming a matter of major concern. Although ground cracking is not yet extensive in the fields of rank wheat, the soil eight inches down was too dry to form a ball ten days ago. At that time mud balls could still be fashioned in the fields of younger wheat.

Listening Post records show that we had quite a bit more rainfall in the first 2 1/2 months of 1990 than 1991. The Post had received 3.40 by 3/15/1990 while 1991 gave .40 on 1/10 and a "sprinkle" on 2/28. Be encouraged, last year's rains increased significantly after April 1.

CATTLE on native pasture are still consuming substantial amounts of hay but they are depending more and more on the growth of new grass. Most local cattle still interrupt their grazing to run and meet the feed wagon when new hay is delivered, but now in mid-March a few head are beginning to continue their grazing and ignore the newly delivered hay.

On Monday, 3/11, feeder cattle on the Chicago Mercantile Exchange established a new record all-time high when the April option traded above the 82.00 per. hundred mark. This was accomplished in spite of the last few USDA cattle-on-feed reports being somewhat bearish, showing that the number of cattle in the nation's feed lots is gradually increasing.

If the winds of change are blowing you a message saying that you must abandon the cattle business in the foreseeable future then it is time to pause and do some planning; some very serious planning.

COTTON ground, the irrigated portion, is in its last stages of preparation. In fact some wells are already running, and, as usual, curious tales are being told. Bud Taylor frets because it takes longer for rows watered down-wind to finish than it does other rows which water cross-wind. Now hear this! Thus sayeth the Sage of Cedar Hill! The first drop of water, and all succeeding drops, that hit those down-wind rows is exposed to a water-starved wind traveling 40 miles per hour. That wind greedily gulps countless molecules of water then, with never a pause, goes whistling straight on down the furrow and heads out to the wild blue yonder, still carrying its burden of stolen water. Now the water going into the cross-wind row is protected from the thirsty winds by that substantial lister bed; thusly that water has its own special "micro-climate." The wind touching that water has been slowed by many miles per hour. Once loaded with stolen water the wind must now climb the next ridge before it can flee; go bumping across countless other ridges and furrows. The difference? Gallons and gallons of water each and every hour! Thus sayeth the Sage of Cedar Hill!

THE LEANING CEDARS

Our truck farm operator, J.D. Buzby has been quite ill since Christmas. Recently he has spent thirty days in St. Mary's in Lubbock, returning home just a week ago. JD was originally admitted to St. Mary's for surgery to correct an inner ear problem; but his doctors soon decided that better results could be obtained through the use of chemotherapy. In addition to JD's balance problems his doctors discovered a worry-spot or two in his lungs.

JD rented out the balance of his farm last fall, decided to become a full time retiree, and catch up on all the fishing he had put off over the years. He hadn't counted on this, but, as soon as he has this licked, the fishing will still be waiting.

THE HANGING ON CEDARS

Don't let go, Cedar Hillians! This March wind wants you in the canyons; down Quitaque/Flomot way!

Cedar Hill is so crammed with activity some of it gets lost with only one person to check it out! February was Birthday Month for Dara Ware, and we almost let it get away! Half of Dara's family was born in February. Her first birthday started early, on the first day of the month, with her least kid, Clay, who was having his third birthday. He got the full treatment, cake, candles, Grandpa Raz, and Aunt Lisa Baldwin and her family from Tulia.

Dara's birthday month ended on February 27th with her big kid, Clinton's birthday. Dara said this was the "big three" year for her birthday boys; easy to figure, three for Clay, thirty for Clint. Hold it now! Maybe Clint's was 33 instead of 30!

Mar. 4: Edna Gilley attended a tupperware party by Brenda VanHoose in the home of Marissa Fortenberry in Floydada Monday evening.

Mar. 7: Eloise (Langley) Gallaway, of Olton, spent Thursday night at Liberty visiting with her mother Mrs. Esther Langley.

Mar. 8: Junior and Martha Taylor, along with George and Elwauna Taylor, and Mattie (Taylor) Davis visited their brother Dale and Jean Taylor and their sister-in-law, Mae (Hammons) Taylor in Hollis, Oklahoma, last Friday.

Mar. 9: Imogene Fortenberry is still divided between Wolfforth and Lubbock keeping vigil over her nephew, Eldon Love, and her sister-in-law, Lotie (Love) Oswalt. Eldon remains in the hospital with his condition little changed. Cephus joined them for a time Saturday.

Update 3:40 PM Mar. 12: Cephus and Imogene have just returned home leaving Eldon Love improved to the extent he had been moved from Intensive care to a regular hospital room.

YESTERDAY'S HIGHLIGHTS

3/08/89: The Tom and Gladys Fortenberry house was loaded and moved from Cedar Hill to Turkey.

3/09/89: The Hesperian showed a dramatic front page picture of the old Otho Sanders (Tatum) house engulfed in flames. The house burned 3/03/89.

3/03/90: Lindsey and Billie Ruth Lackey returned home from "wintering" a few days on the Gulf.

POST YARD LOGIC

Life can be so simple out in the post yard on a clear calm day. The rays of the late winter sun fall warmly about, and you feel compelled to pause for a moment; it would be rude to hasten inside, ignoring the results of nature's efforts, especially after she had gone to great lengths to create a day so perfect.

In the sun's gentle warmth you begin to contemplate the problems of the world. Suddenly you feel a difference, a change comes over you; the mantle of wisdom, without invitation or provocation, has fallen on your shoulders. You, just a plain, everyday, unaffected guy who paused by the post yard on his way back from the mail box, have suddenly been transformed; now you are The Sage of Cedar Hill!

All morning long the radio had featured military men who spoke of their puzzlement because of Saddam Hussein's failure to use his extensive arsenal of chemical weapons during this last war. He had used poison gases freely to kill his own people, the Kurds, when they rebelled against him at the end of his war against Iran. He wiped out whole areas of Kurds whom he considered to be "Turkey lovers." The Kurds had been part of the Turkish Empire until they were sliced off by the Allies at the end of World-W-I and given to Iraq because Turkey made the mistake of lining up with the Germans and Italians.

Now the application of post yard logic explains in a hurry why Saddam chose his "no gas this time" policy. Those thousands of Kurds he killed with gas lived hundreds of miles down-wind from Baghdad, up along the Turkish border where there was no danger that wind-drift would carry the killing chemical back to central Iraq. Those were Kurds who hated him with a purple passion because he brutally conscripted their people to fight in his war against the Iranians. Those were Kurds who wanted above all else to be free of Iraq so they could join once more with their cousins in modern day Turkey. "Sure! Let's gas those Kurds," was the Saddam policy!

Iraq is remarkably like Texas. It has exactly the same latitude as Texas; has a fairly flat, unobstructed land surface; and it's prevailing wind, like that in Texas, blows from the south and west. Our troops were so close to Iraq that on most days there was danger that the wind would rise and drift poison gases back across his own land thereby injuring more Iraqis than it would the enemy. Saddam's thinking? "This is not the place to use poison gas!"

The nation of Israel was probably the safest and most logical target Saddam could find for his chemical weapons, but even a move in that direction could backfire and do him great damage. Should any of his scud missiles, noted for being extremely inaccurate, fall short of their target in Israel, they would land among the people of Jordan. That would alienate the Jordanians, especially if loaded with chemical warheads, possibly turn them into enemies; and they, in addition to being Iraq's border neighbors, were the strongest and most loyal supporters that Iraq had anywhere on Earth. Choosing not to launch into chemical warfare was Saddam Hussein's wisest decision of the war, perhaps the only one he made that was correct.

Out in the post yard, on a clear calm day, life can be so simple.

THERE IS NO LIMIT TO PROGRESS WHEN PEOPLE WORK TOGETHER.

Authorization given by EPA for chemical use

By C. Mark Brown
Extension Agent-Entomology (PM)

Crosby/Floyd Counties

The EPA recently granted a Section 18 to Texas to allow the use of cypermethrin (Ammo and Cymbush) to control thrips in dry bulb onions. There was a degree of concern regarding the effect of pyrethroids on aquatic organisms. Therefore, there are specific instructions listed in the Section 18 regarding use around water.

This specific exemption is subject to the following conditions:

1. The Texas Department of Agriculture is responsible for ensuring that all provisions of this specific exemption are met.

2. The products, Ammo 2.5 EC manufactured by FMC Corporation, and Cymbush 3E manufactured by ICI America may be applied. All applicable directions, restrictions, and precautions on the EPA-registered product label must be followed.

3. Five (5) applications by ground or air may be made at 0.08 to 0.10 lb. a.i. per acre beginning when an average of 25 thrips per onion plant is reached. Total rate is not to exceed 0.5 lbs. a.i. per acre per season.

4. A 7-day pre-harvest interval will be observed.

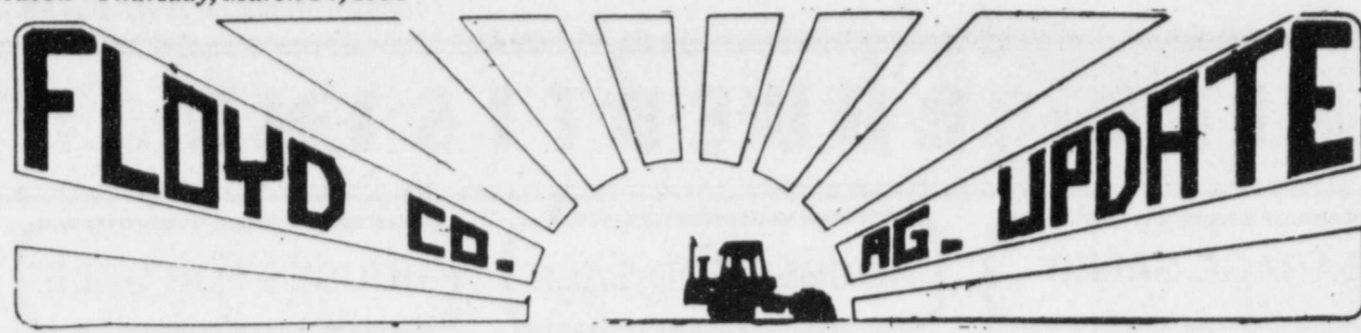

5. Applications are prohibited within 200 feet of any body of water, including creeks, streams, canals, lakes, and reservoirs.

6. Do not apply where run-off is likely to occur to aquatic habitats.

7. Application is limited to private applicators and/or licensed commercial applicators certified in agricultural field and vegetable crop pest control.

8. The EPA shall be immediately informed of any adverse effects resulting from the use of this pesticide in connection with this exemption.

9. This specific exemption expires September 15, 1991.

Army cutworms outbreak extends to area

C. Mark Brown
Extension Agent-Entomology (PM)

Crosby/Floyd Counties

A recent outbreak of army cutworms now extends from the Texas Rolling Plains into Oklahoma. Army cutworm numbers of as many as 6 to 8 per row foot have been recorded in the Cone area of Crosby County. Both wheat and alfalfa producers need to be aware of this situation, since this pest is of economic concern in these crops.

The army cutworm is the larva of a night active moth. Eggs are laid in the fall; and the larvae hatch after rainfall and feed during warm weather throughout the winter and early spring. Cutworms hide under dirt clods and loose soil during the warm, sunny days. These cutworms can be detected by loosening the upper two inches of soil around the roots of the plants. These cutworms are a grayish color, with a few black dots on the body. Mature larvae are about 1 1/2 inches long and curl into a "C" shape when disturbed. Army cutworms complete feeding by late March or April and the adult moth emerges in May. There is only one generation per year.

The economic threshold for army cutworms in alfalfa is when 3 or 4 larvae 1/2 inch or less in length are found per square foot. Both Lorsban and permethrin are registered for use in alfalfa. There are a couple of approved pesticides for control of this pest. Methyl parathion is registered for use on wheat, with a 15 day pre-harvest interval and 15 day harvest interval.

Also, the Texas Dept. of Agriculture has issued a crisis exemption under the provisions of Section 18 of FIFRA for use of "permethrin" to control army cutworms in winter wheat. Either Ambush or Pounce can be used and would probably provide better control than methyl parathion. However, treated fields can no longer be grazed. The crisis exemption is subject to the following conditions and restrictions:

1. The product, permethrin (Pounce 3.2EC Insecticide, EPA Reg. No. 279-3014 and Ambush, EPA Reg. No. 10182-18), may be applied. All applicable directions, restrictions and precautions on the EPA-registered product must be followed. Use of the product may begin on February 18, 1991.

2. Permethrin may be used on sites devoted to the production of winter wheat in the High and Rolling Plains of Texas.

3. No more than 2 applications per season are allowed at the rate of 0.075 to 0.1 pound active ingredient per acre. Applications may be made with air or ground equipment. By air, applications should be made as a minimum of 1 gallon of finished spray per acre; by ground a minimum of 10 gallons of finished spray per acre should be utilized. Aerial applications at a minimum of 2 to 3 gallons of water per acre have been shown to provide best results.

4. Do not apply product within 30 days prior to harvest.

5. Grazing of winter wheat subsequent to an application of permethrin is prohibited.

6. The Texas Agricultural Extension Service (TAEX) insists that sound integrated pest management practices be used in all army cutworm control efforts. This includes, but is not limited to, field scouting, application of management tactics, and evaluation of control strategies. The TAEX suggests an economic threshold of 2 to 3 larvae per linear row foot for drought-stressed wheat of 4 inches or shorter in height. When wheat is in more favorable growing conditions, the economic threshold is 3 to 4 larvae per linear row foot. Adequate rainfall on the wheat may preclude the need for applications of permethrin.

7. Do not apply product where run-off or drift is likely to occur to aquatic habitats. Do not make applications of product within 24 hours following a local weather forecast which predicts a high probability of rainfall in order to avoid contamination of surface waters (playas, lakes, ponds or streams) as a result of rainfall run-off from treated winter wheat fields.

8. Do not enter treated fields within 24 hours following an application of product (s) unless protective clothing is worn.

Seminar set Mar. 18 for FmHA County Committee Elections

Farmers and businessmen are invited to a seminar Monday, March 18 at 10:00 a.m. at the Lubbock Plaza.

The meeting will cover FmHA County Committee elections. Any active farmer or their spouse may run for FmHA County Committee and those interested are urged to attend this free seminar.

An effort to elect 30 local FmHA borrowers to FmHA County Committees has begun. Seventy five percent of adverse FmHA loan decisions are eligibility decisions made by the county committee. An educated body of county committeemen will significantly reduce the adverse eligibility decisions. That alone will increase the number of approved insured loan applications awaiting funding.

For further information or to reserve limited seating space call 894-5956.

Producers look for clear-cut answer in 1990 Farm Bill

Looking for a clear-cut answer about what will be required of producers under the 1990 Farm Bill is not as easy as it sounds. Many High Plains producers are finding that the newly implemented regulations contain several unexpected, even unappreciated, changes.

For many it boils down to a change from the way they managed their crop in 1990.

Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. (PCG), the National Cotton Council and Texas Cotton Producers Association have begun an effort to get some of these new regulations changed. However, at this time it appears that these regulations are what ASCS will follow for the 1991-crop.

"The regulations being implemented by ASCS represent important changes for High Plains producers. Instead of being able to manage their operations the way they have in the past, many are going to find out that some of the things that they were allowed to do in the past are simply not going to work this year, unless the efforts underway prove successful," notes Donald Johnson, PCG Executive Vice President.

In spite of the confusion, however, program sign-up continues with many unknowns still plaguing producers trying to make management decisions regarding the 1991-crop.

Some of the changes that producers will face when making their decisions are:

1) Blank rows in 2:1 cotton are no longer eligible to be counted as CU for Pay. Land designated as CU for Pay must meet the same size requirements as ACR;

2) Land designated as ACR or CU for Pay must meet the minimum size requirement of five acres and 66 feet wide. One exception to this rule is windstrips, or skips, that are planted in a uniform pattern across a field and are larger of four normal rows or 150 inches plant to plant. One field per farm may still be designated as ACR and not meet the size requirements;

3) Terraces, even if planted in a high residue crop to comply with a conservation compliance plan, can no longer be used for ACR or CU for Pay unless they are in a uniform pattern across a field and meet the applicable size requirements;

4) In 1991 black-eye peas are not an approved cover crop;

5) Acreage tolerances have been lowered for 1991. In 1991 the maximum tolerance will be the larger of one acre or 5 percent of total acreage, not to exceed a maximum of 10 acres. The previous maximum tolerance for producers who measure the acreage themselves and certify was 50 acres. Producers who take measurement service will have no tolerance in 1991.

Farms that are found to be out of tolerance will be ineligible for program benefits unless it is determined that reporting the acreage was done in "good faith". If a good faith determination is made the farm will still be subject to a penalty at a rate of 50 percent of the target price of the applicable crop.

One of the new regulations that producers must follow this year requires that 50 percent of the ACR be planted in an approved cover crop. Home gardens no bigger than 3 acres can be planted on ACR but they will not meet the cover crop requirement. The 50 percent cover must also be planted no later than June 1, even if it means suspending the planting of cotton or sorghum. This cover may not be disturbed until December 31. Small grains planted on ACR must be planted by December 1, producers taking this option may destroy the cover on ACR after August 1. Volunteer wheat on ACR is not considered planted and is not an approved cover.

The net result of some of the new regulations will be that many producers will have to reduce the number of cotton acres more than they would like. The reason the reduction is necessary is to fulfill their conservation compliance plan and also meet the requirements placed on ACR and CU for Pay acres.

PCG is contacting senators and representatives to voice the concerns of the High Plains producers. Primarily, attention is being focused on the disallowance of the blank row in 2:1 cotton as eligible for CU for Pay, the elimination of terraces as eligible for ACR or CU, the new acreage tolerance levels, uniformity requirement regarding windstrips and the 50 percent cover for ACR, including the exclusion of volunteer wheat as an approved cover and the rigidity of the June 1 planting deadline. At this time, however, the outcome of these efforts is uncertain at best.

Stock Show Assn. will hold annual meeting March 25

Stock Show President Kim Hinsley announced that the annual Floyd County Stock Show meeting will be March 25, 1991 at 7:00 p.m. at Lighthouse Electric Cooperative.

The purpose of the meeting is to elect directors whose terms expire this year and to discuss operations of the Stock Show Association.

The standing rules of the Stock Show Association as approved in 1978 can be amended by 2/3 vote of the members present at any annual meeting. Any and all of these standing rules are subject to discussing this year.

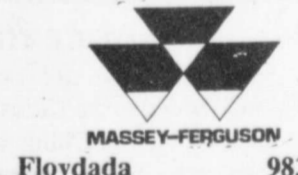

Sheep exhibitors rules meeting set

All 1991 and future Floyd County Stock Show sheep exhibitors and/or parents are invited to attend a rules meeting on Tuesday night, March 19, at 7:30 p.m. at Lighthouse Electric.

The purpose of the meeting is to go over all rules and regulations and make any needed changes that will improve the show. This will be the only meeting that all exhibitors and/or parents may put in suggestions.

These suggestions will then be presented to the full Board of Directors at their meeting on March 25. For further information, contact Gary Brown.

Trinity Church plans note burning March 24

March 2, 1986 marked the date that Trinity Church invited their friends to come and help them dedicate their new church.

Now, five years later, they are inviting you to their note burning. Special speakers at the ceremony will be Ed Cooper and Dale Kitchens.

"We want to thank everyone who helped us along the way, including: Texas Baptists Retirees, FNB, trades people, and all the others who gave time and money," said members of Trinity Church. "The Lord has richly blessed us. Come and rejoice with us March 24, 1991, at 2:00 p.m."

Gray asked to do portrait

By Gilianne Carter

Texas Tech Journalism Student
Goldie Gray of Floydada just completed a portrait to be displayed in the Sixth Annual Theatre History Seminar, at the Museum of Repertoire Americana, Mt. Pleasant, Iowa.

Gray was commissioned to paint a portrait of Merle Evans, a former band director for the Ringling Bros. Circus. The oil painting will become a permanent part of the museum.

Gray estimates the painting took her about two weeks, working two to three hours a day.

"I use a type of technique in which I use layers that need to dry between layers. This gives more depth to the colors," Gray said.

"I've been painting ever since I was a little girl," Gray said.

Gray first received formal instruction in high school, with the Incarnate Word Academy, Corpus Christi.

Additional training included studying under such artists as Suzana Cosgrove of San Antonio and Luis Krupp of El Paso.

Gray moved to Floydada in 1985, with husband, the late Mr. Irman Gray. He served as band director of Floydada High School from 1942 to 1944, and owned Coronado Assembly Service "covering the southwest," in Corpus Christi. The couple was married 40 years. He died here in Floydada in 1988. "I've been here ever since," Gray said.

Gray, a free lance artist, has done a number of portraits.

"I have done a large number of portraits here in Floydada, and out of town," Gray said. "Children are among my favorite subjects to portray, but I like adults also."

Most hear of Gray through word of mouth.

The portrait, commissioned by Mercedes Brunk, of Florida, will be shown April 12, 13 and 14. The seminar will be hosted by the National Society for the Preservation of Tent, Folk and Repertoire Theatre, Midwest Old Threshers, and Iowa Wesleyan College.
