"We plan on opening The Lamplighter to guests immediately after the sale is done," said Roxanna. "We won't move to town immediately unless business takes off so quickly that we have too.

"At first we will keep our jobs in Lubbock, and come down on week-ends to open for guests. If we see that there is a need for it to be open during the week then one of us will quit our job right away and move to Floydada. Of course we hope that business picks up so fast that we both have to move to Floydada right away."

Roxanna and Evelyn are both West Texas women, Roxanna was born in Brownfield and her mother is an Eskota native. Both are very interested in preserving the Lamplighter in as much of an original state as possible.

Historical preservation is a big interest for Roxanna who is a member of the Lubbock Heritage Ranching Center and will soon be the President of the Lubbock Heritage Society.

"We plan on playing up the family aspect of the hoter," said Roxanna. "We will have histories available of different people who have stayed here and we will have rooms decorated in different nostalgic themes. For instance, one room will be decorated in the 50's theme.

"We also hope to open up the dining room the way it was in the beginning. At first we will only be serving breakfast, mercial Hotel, The Lamplighter Inn was the recipient of a Texas Historical Marker in May of 1987.

The Lamplighter has been owned and operated by Johnny and Dorothy Hotchkiss since 1964. They took over the management of the hotel when Dorothy's parents Ed and Ethel Moorehead retired. Mrs. Moorehead was the daughter of the original owners, Mr. and Mrs. Daily.

The hotel has been owned and operated by members of the Daily family since its completion in 1913, one year after construction commenced.

Mr. and Mrs. Daily moved from Arkansas to Plainview, with their six children in 1907. It was there they built the Daily Hotel on Ash Street, near Eighth, a three-story structure of more than thirty rooms.

After three years the Dailys sold their hotel, moved to Muncy, and tried farming. The farming career was brief and the Dailys then moved to Floydada and built the Commercial Hotel.

The Commercial Hotel was one of Floydada's first sizeable hotels and one of the two first businesses to get electricity.

Before Floydada could provide city water, sewer and electric service, toilets were available outside the hotel plus socalled "slop jars" were provided for the guests. Kerosene lamps provided light until an electric generator in the basement brought guests electricity. Also in

Farmers in Floyd County will have an opportunity to choose one person from candidates running for the Farmers Home Administration County Committee in the June 28th election, says FmHA County Supervisor Becky Rainer.

Any person who has an interest in a farm in the county as owner, tenant or sharecropper is considered a farmer and is eligible to vote. Spouses of eligible farmers also are considered farmers for voting eligibility.

Among other duties, County Committees help determine whether an applicant is eligible for an FmHA farm loan. Two of the three members are hire ag extension agent

By Juanita Stepp

The Floyd County Commissioners Court met in special session on Monday, April 1, for the purpose of considering the employment of a new agricultural extention agent for the county. The post has been vacant since the departure of Brent Crossland earlier this year.

Bob Robinson of the Texas Agricultural Extention Service came before the court to present a recommendation that the court hire Mike Mallett, the agent at Pecos, Texas, for the past 13 years. Robinson told the gathered commissioners, "Mike will lend stability to this program and he has a very good track record over his 18 year career."

Commissioner of Precinct 1, Connie Bearden made the motion to hire Mallett with a second from Commissioner of Precinct 4 Howard Bishop. The vote was unanimously in favor of employing Mallett as recommended.

Mallett told the court that he was excited about the move, adding, "I am looking for a strong program and a lot of support in this county."

May 1 was designated as the official starting date for Mallett as the Floyd County Agricultural Extention Agent. He will draw the salary of $6,439.08 per year and the same travel expenses already budgeted by the court. The court also agreed to bear the cost of gas for trips from Pecos to Floyd County to meet with Floyd County groups during April.

Mallett, his wife and two high school age daughters will be moving to Floyd County within the next few weeks.

Robinson also brought the court up to date on the search for a home economics agent for the county, saying that no replacement has been found within the extention system at this time. He told the court that an external applicant can not be considered until such time as the current hiring freeze is over and gave no definite date as to the replacement of Continued on Page 3

I have a bunch of tidbits I need to pass on this week. Nothing major and I don't have a soap box to get on! *******

Brent Crossland called me this week. I was glad to hear from him. Brent said that the Floyd County Development Committee was still organized and that he still wanted to be a part of it when they held their next meeting.

He told me that the organization was put on hold for just a little bit but that he was ready to get going again. Brent said with the hiring of the new Ag Extension Agent (whose office this organization is based out of) a meeting could be called again soon. So everyone who was in-

Floydada Police Report

The arrest and subsequent investigation of Joe Alex Lopez, 17, of Floydada and two juveniles, for the assault of an individual at Allsups, has allowed police to clear up several burglaries which occurred in January, February and March.

Police received the report of the assault at 1:57 a.m., March 28, from the clerk at Allsups. According to the report, three males (one adult and two juveniles) entered the store and started beating up a man inside. The clerk on duty called the police and tried to pull the men off of the victim. She was also knocked to the floor before the suspects fled.

Police have also been busy throughout the week taking reports of tires being slashed. On March 28, tractor and spreader tires (total value $720.00) were reported cut at Producers Coop Elevator, 301 E. Missouri, and at City Auto, 201 E. Missouri, two tires valued at $100.00 were slashed.

Saturday morning, April 30, two trailer tires in the 100 block of South 3rd Street, were reported slashed. The incivolved before better get ready to get a call. Start thinking about who else needs to be working with ya'll. GOOD LUCK!

I have to build up my good graces with some lawyer friends of mine. I want to say that the District Attorney (Becky McPherson) and her assistant and my fellow Lion member (Dena Reecer) are not on my hit list of unethical lawyers. Oh yeah-I also consider Steve Hale (who gets our paper in Dallas) a pretty neat guy.

There-I said it. Now if I ever need a lawyer maybe there is a couple that I can call.

I expect my check in the mail this week guys!

The newspaper offices in Lockney and Floydada will be closed on Friday. All of us girls are going to the Panhandle Press Convention in Amarillo. We do this once a year to reward ourselves for all of our hard work.

We got a little notice in the mail that said that we had won an award (maybe even more than one) from the Panhandle Press Association.

The awards breakfast is Saturday morning.

We are practicing how to be humble if we win some big prizes. We are also trying to learn how to be gracious if we lose!

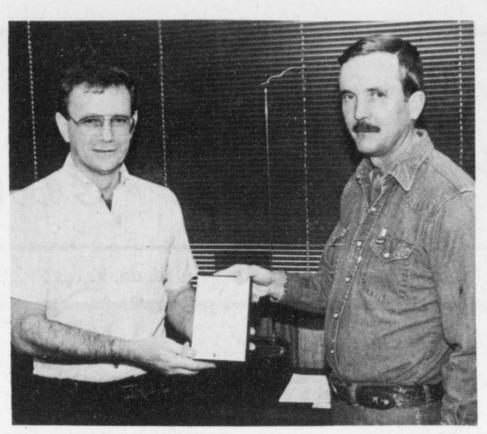

As of Monday, April 8, our Lockney office will be moved to a new location. We will be located at 102 W. Bryant (behind the pizza place).

It's not that we didn't like our other location, but the Grace Fellowship Church is growing too much for the two of us to share that building any more. We are happy for them and they deserve to be excited for themselves. They've been great roommates! The office phone number will stay the same and our hours will stay strange. We plan on having an open house soon. We'll let you know when.

Letter to The Editor

Citizens of Lockney,

Wow!! What a surprise it was to receive your messages and signatures. Thanks alot for taking time to pray for us and for the support you've showed to all of the troops. It was especially important to me and J.J. that Lockney was behind us, and for that I Thank You!!

Fortunately, the war was short and casualties were low, and we should all be thankful to the Lord for that. As scary and uncertain as it was for myself, I knew we were doing the right thing. I'm glad it turned out like it did.

For any families with members serving in the Gulf, let me say that I hope they return home safe and sound. I know that my brother and I look forward to coming home and seeing everyone once again.

Now that our mission is accomplished, let us continue to pray that peace be sustained throughout that region. For it could all happen again just as fast as it did the first time.

Again your support was very, very much appreciated. I look forward to seeing ya'll in July. Take care and God Bless.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company has filed two separate applications with the Public Utility Commission of Texas to introduce two new optional directory services. One service is Directory Assistance Call Completion (DACC) and the other service is Multiple List Directory Assistance (MLDA).

DACC is an optional service that provides customers the option of having their Directory Assistance call completed to the requested number (when they call Directory Assistance for a number) by either the Directory Assistance operator or a mechanized audio response system.

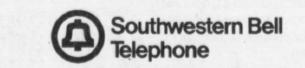

The proposed rates* for fully-automated DACC calls are: $.30 if the call is sent paid or billed to a calling card, $1.00 if the call is collect or billed to a third number and $.25 from a coin telephone

The proposed rates* for semi-automated (operator assisted) DACC calls are: $.85 for calls that are sent paid or billed to a calling card, $1.20 if the call is collect or billed to a third number and $2.60 for a person-to-person call.

Multiple List Directory Assistance (MLDA) allows the customer to request more than two listing requests per call to Directory Assistance. Customers can either call on "demand" and receive up to 10 listings, or schedule an "appointment" and receive the assistance of a Directory Assistance operator for as long as required. The rates for "demand" MLDA are $.30 per listing request (after applicable allowances), with a maximum of 10 listing requests per call. The rates for "appointment" MLDA are $1.00 per minute, with a 15-minute minimum.

The optional services DACC and MLDA are intended for use by both residence and business customers. Those persons who qualify for exemption of Directory Assistance charges because of visual or physical handicaps will be able to use DACC and "demand" MLDA free of charge. If approved by the commission, DACC and MLDA will be available beginning May 13, 1991. Firstyear projected revenues for DACC are approximately $9.6 million. First-year projected revenues for MLDA are approximately $1.7 million.

Building permits are required in city limits

Any citizen who plans to do any type of construction within the city limits of Floydada must get a Building Permit. By requesting a permit, the person can find out if the planned project meets city codes and possibly save themselves problems after starting construction.

Anyone planning to locate a trailer house within the city limits must also have a permit. By checking with City Hall, a person can prevent buying a lotor trailer house, or both, only to find out that the trailer house does not meet city codes. If the trailer house does not meet city code, utilities may not be connected to it.

Anyone who has a question about the City of Floydada Building Code, may check at City Hall for the information they need.

News from Caprock Hospital

By Molly Stringer We want to thank Ray and Ann Smith for the plants they gave us for our flower beds.

Our basement sale was successful in removing the clutter from our basement and also provided us with over $300.00 to pay for the carpet for the conference room, plants for our patio and some folding tables. We appreciate everyone's effort in helping to prepare for this sale. Especially do we thank Frances Miller, Elena Hopper, Jean Jarrett, Bill Tye and Ralph Jackson.

AeroCare came over to our hospital on Monday and visited with our staff and let everyone see the helicopter. AeroCare is a cooperative effort between Methodist Hospital, St. Mary's Hospital and some physicians in Lubbock. Helen Teeple's diabetes classes are being very well attended. The last meeting was attended by 16 people. Helen puts a lot of time and effort into this and welcomes anyone with a need in this area to please call her. The next class is April 25th at 7:00 p.m. in the hospital dining room.

We had an excellent turnout for our Health Fair. Twenty-two ladies signed up for mammograms. We thank our community for supporting our efforts to provide these special services. The ladies auxiliary registered for us. Those helping were: Beth Tye, Juanita Henry, Ethel Carmack and Rene Chapman.

Jean Jarrett and the dietary staff provided us with some wonderful homemade doughnuts and goodies.

Helen Teeple was the victim of a spectacular April Fools joke played by her co-workers. Ask her about it.

It continues to be our privilege and joy to serve in this community. We want to respond to your needs and provide for our community the services it needs. If you have a health need we can help you with please call on us.

Watch out for those knees!

We don't usually think about our knees until something goes wrong with them. But when a "problem knee" causes discomfort and interferes with normal activities, we suddenly realize how important our knees are.

A problem knee can occur at any age and any time. A blow, twist or severe injury can tear or break the knee's ligaments and cartilage, especially in sports like football, basketball or skiing. The knee can be sprained when it is asked to do more than it is conditioned to do, as in the case of the "weekend warrior." More severe injuries can occur when sufficient force is applied, for example a car or motorcycle accident.

According to Debbie Thornton, director of Physical Medicine at Methodist Hospital, pain and loss of motion are the most common complaints in knee injuries. Swelling immediately following an injury can be due to bleeding inside the joint and should be examined by an orthopedic surgeon as soon as possible. When an injury does occur, ice, elevation and immobilization of the injured leg will minimize the pain and prevent further injury until it can be examined in the Emergency Department. After your doctor determines the severity of your injury and puts you back on the road to recovery, Thornton suggests following these tips to avoid further injury.

* Check with your doctor for any persistent knee pain, swelling or if you Guest speakers for the week include (Monday, April 8) David Milstead, President of Milstead Hardware in Plainview. Milstead is a deacon of Seth Ward Baptist Church, is active in Gideon ministry (went to Nigeria in 1987 on avoid after you injury and/or surgery.

* If you're out of shape, your muscles surrounding your knees probably are, too. Before you return to strenuous activities, such as weekend sports, protect your knees with a preconditioning and ongoing exercise program. Remember to stretch your muscles before engaging in your activities.

* Avoid activities that regularly irritate your knee, for example squats and stair climbing, and consult your orthopedic surgeon to determine the cause of pain and swelling.

With early diagnosis and treatment, your doctor can successfully treat most knee problems. Most important is your role in maintaining knee strength and stability through exercise. It takes strong leg muscles to have strong knees!

Gonzales places 12th at state meet

Arturo Gonzales placed 12th at the State Power Lifting competition held Saturday, March 30 at A&M University.

Gonzales had placed third at the regional meet in order to qualify for the state meet. There are 6 regions in the state and the top three lifters from each region advance to the state competition.

He was ranked 17th out of 18 lifters in the Super Heavyweight Division. He advanced five spots by lifting 55 pounds more than he lifted at the regional meet.

At the state meet he lifted 535 pounds in the Squat Division, 305 pounds in the Bench-Lift Division and 495 pounds in the Dead-Lift Division for a total of 1335 pounds.

According to Coach Bert Vandiver, "Arturo has had a great year. He concludes his senior year of power lifting by going to State. He has been to Regionals three times and holds the Lockney High School records in all three lifts. He will be missed on our team next year."

Jose Martinez accompanied Gonzales and Vandiver to A&M and was selected by the coaches to be an official spotter for the state meet. "He was selected because of his years experience in power lifting" stated Vandiver.

"We saw many state records set and broken. We received a tour of the weight room at A&M. It is the largest in the United States," commented Coach Vandiver.

"Participating in the State meet was a great way to conclude a great power lifting season," said Vandiver.

Stenholm to address and bank stockholders

Congressman Charles Stenholm (D-TX) will address the 1991 Farm Credit Bank of Texas (FCBT) Annual Meeting for Federal Land Bank Associations (FLBAs).

More than 500 directors and employees representing the bank's 50 FLBAs in Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and Texas are expected to attend the annual gathering April 5 at the Stouffer Hotel in Austin.

Congressman Stenholm of Stamford, a member of the House Agriculture Committee, will discuss agricultural and environmental legislative issues during the general session beginning at 9 a.m. in the hotel ballroom.

In 1990, the FCBT expanded its longterm lending operations into Alabama, Louisiana and Mississippi with the establishment of six FLBAs there, and added New Mexico to its short-term lending operations with the reaffiliation of the Albuquerque Production Credit Association. Bank CEO Donald R. Rogge, Board Chairman Robert Vanwinkle, and President Michael R. Davis will discuss these and other 1990 results. The theme of the meeting is "Stewards of the Land."

With approximately $3.6 billion in loans outstanding to 60,000 farmers and ranchers in Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi, New Mexico and Texas, the Farm Credit Bank of Texas is the largest agricultural lender in the five-state region.

Warren Chisum of Pampa joined other conservatives this week in admonishing the Legislative Budget Board (LBB) for consistently ignoring the mandates of the people of Texas to limit the growth of the state budget. Rep. Chisum, who represents the 84th district, is a member of the board of the Texas Conservative Coalition.

According to members of the group, the LBB has consistently ignored statutory and constitutional mandates which limit the growth of the state budget. "Two provisions of the Texas

Vehicle Fuel economy is important

The fuel economy of the cars and trucks we drive affects our environment, our economy, and even our national security. Transportation accounts for almost a third of the energy consumed in the United States, and gasoline and diesel fuel - are almost entirely derived from petroleum. All vehicles that operate on petroleumbased fuels emit harmful pollutants into the environment

Recently, scientists have come to recognize carbon dioxide (CO2) from motor vehicles as an environmental problem as well. Carbon dioxide is the result of "perfect" combustion - an ideal engine would convert all of the carbon in its petroleum fuel into CO2. Unfortunately, CO₂ is also a greenhouse gas, which means it tends to prevent the earth's heat from radiating out into space, which can lead to global climate change.

What can you do to help?

tax liability issues for certain vets

According to Margaret A. Herrera, the Veterans County Service Office in Floyd County, the Department of Veterans Affairs has announced a clarification of two issues concerning tax liability for veterans who are entitled to VA disability compensation and also eligible for either retirement pay or disability severance pay from the military.

Normally, military retirement pay based on age or length of military service is taxable income and reported to the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). However, if all or a portion of the veteran's retirement pay is waived due to receipt of VA disability compensation, the veteran's taxable income is reduced by an amount equal to VA compensation. This means the veteran would normally pay less taxes based on a reduced gross taxable income.

However, VA officials have informed that IRS was unable to credit some veterans who had waived their retired pay for VA compensation because the award letters provided by VA did not provide sufficient information for IRS purposes.

Affected veterans should refile for the exclusion by submitting a completed VA Form 20-8993 or an official VA clearly states "in lieu of VA Form 20forms.

In these cases, VA is required to recoup the entire lump sum paid by the military, including the amount paid for taxes. This is generally accomplished by reducing monthly compensation payments by a set amount until the lumpsum military payment is reached.

IRS has also concluded that no reduction in tax liability would occur if the veteran were subsequently entitled to VA disability benefits for the same disability.

Weather plays havoc at track meets

By Bill Gray

The Floydada boys and girls track teams participated in the weather-shortened San Angelo and Hart Relays on March 29. High winds and snow curtailed all the running events for the Lady 'Winds on Saturday at Hart.

Coach Deanna Logan noted, "We needed the extra work in preparation for district, so we were disappointed that a lot of our girls were unable to partici. .

The coach added, "We've got the Dimmitt meet this week to hopefully get us ready for district."

Sophomore Zora Woody placed third in discus at Hart with a toss of 86'-6". Zora's best effort so far this year has been 94 feet. Her 29'-9" throw in shot put placed seventh in the event. It was Woody's best-ever distance in shot put. Elisa Suarez registered a leap of 32'-10" to place fourth in the triple jump.

The Whirlwind boys fared no better at the San Angelo Relays — thanks to the weather. Thunderstorms and lightning caused the cancellation of Saturday's running finals. Floydada qualifiers who missed the opportunities for the finals were: Michael Henderson (200 meters), Brad Emert (300 hurdles), and Jaime Suarez (1600 meters).

Emert did manage to come away with a medal, finishing third in the 100 meters with a time of 11.08. Jaime Suarez ran fourth in the metric two-miler, and Chad Williams placed third in the triple jump. Mike Henderson also placed fifth in the triple jump against some strong down-state competition.

Both track squads are in action this week at Dimmitt. It is hoped the Bobcat Relays will afford them the necessary momentum to go into next week's district meet at Tulia and come out as regional qualifiers.

The life of the early families of the Plains

By Will Martin

A friend of mine requested that I write this article. So I will try to do my best. I think that I have written most of this in past writings. But I suppose it won't hurt to lick the calf over and perhaps bring in some things that I left out in the other writings.

As we all gained a lot of history in last year's 100th birthday. Much of the information was of things that happened 18 years before I was born. My parents came to Floyd County 10 years before. I was born 1898 to be exact.

I received much of my information in early years from things my mama told me about, for which I am very thankful. She was very much of a talker and I suppose it's where I took my talking from. Papa was very quiet and told very little concerning things that happened in his lifetime.

I will always remember the moral things that he taught us children. We were taught to respect other people's ghts, to never sass back to anyone, pecially older people. Most of our neighbors taught their kids about the same as my parents did us. I remember papa telling me to always keep my word when I told someone I would do something for them and always do my best to pay my debts.

Mama tried to teach me to never tell a lie or take something that was not mine. And to treat others as I would like them to treat me. Our neighbors lived just about the same, taught their children and did likewise themselves.

Mama and I were extroverts and papa was an introvert. Both of these traits helped to make things go as maybe they should go in the proper balance of family life. If I talked out of turn when we were discussing something, Papa might say, "Son, I don't think you should say that at this time." Then I would resolve to keep my mouth shut until I thought twice before I spoke. Although I would forget and do it again.

In the early days most people would try to be strict with their children, but most of them were fair and tried to set a good example before the whole family.

ing to do the chores.

We had to get in the night's fuel coal, cow chips and dead orchard trees, that had to be chopped up in stove length. We used whichever of the three we were lucky enough to have. Getting in the night's fuel was always my job. When we happened to be using coal I would pull a five gallon can of coal from the coal pile to the front door on my little sled. Mama or Henry would carry the bucket of coal into the house over to the back of the stove. I was about five or six years old. Years would fly by in a hurry when I was young. A year seemed like five or six. Since I have gotten old a year seems no more than six months.

When I became old enough to go to school it was a great experience. The only thing I didn't like about it was that the boys had to play on one half of the school ground and the girls were on the other half of the playground. Even when we got the slicky slide, we had two slides, one slide for the girls on one side and a slide on the other for boys. When the slide was finished on a strong frame and flatform at the top end of the slide were string bars waist high to the average child at the elementary school.

I don't know why they were so strict in those early days on keeping the boys and girls separated unless it was for moral purposes or just easier to control them that way than in mixed bunches.

Schools in those times had a superintendent, over all, next a principal over the teachers and they all seemed to work together. And there were the trustees who set the general rules, such as length of school, when to have vacation, turn out for a few weeks to help the farmers gather cotton, etc., when hands were scarce or things came up to settle between the teachers and parents. I think the school board also selected and hired the teachers who had to be of good reputation and recommended by the people. The state board kept their nose out unless a school got clear out of line with the reasonable requirements of the state board that was actually run by the agreement of the citizens of the state.

I feel like sending children to school

ness on my part.

They had rules for students to go by that I feel most of us tried to abide by. Of course none of us were perfect. But I feel well pleased with my school days. The things I did not learn or take advantage of was most times my fault and not to be laid on the school system.

Let us turn to other things that took place in early home life. I would like to tell some of the things we in the country had for social life.

Farmers in those days worked most times from Monday morning until Saturday at noon. Then we would dress up and go to town to buy groceries and the children would go to moving pictures shows. In the early days the pictures were silent concerning the actors talking and any sound as we have now.

Mostly the men would talk and attend to what business they might have, swap horses, cows and whatever crossed their mind. The women would shop and talk to other women till everyone got ready to gather up the groceries and go home. Sometimes that would be 10:00 Saturday night.

Sometimes if we got started home early enough we would invite 2 or 3 families to go home with us. We would buy 50 lbs. of ice and have an ice cream supper at home, have a good time talking and telling jokes. Just before supper time mama would have us kids to chase down two frying size roosters and wring their heads off for the women folk to prepare for supper. We had good old biscuits and other things to go with these things such as cakes, pies, jams and jellies. My, my how good this was.

Sunday morning many of the folks would go to church. Sunday evening a bunch of young people would get together at someone's home and have a singing greatly enjoying themselves. It seems that more people went to church and held longer revivals in those days than they do now. There was not as many interesting things to do and draw people away from home interest as there are now.

As I feel that most of us know that a house does not make a home, certain conditions and family relations may make a home for some families. Habits and ways of getting along together may be a home for other families. We may all like a peaceful and happy home. An ideal home will not pop up just by itself. It must be each member of the family that must do their part as nearly as human nature will permit them to do. My belief is that the father and mother work together in as near perfect harmony as possible and set as good example before the children as possible. The children should obey their parents in the perfect ways of the Lord.

There is plenty about Tourette syndrome that makes it a disagreeable ---and frequently life-crippling — disease. But one of the biggest problems is how often effective treatment is delayed because Tourette is diagnosed as some other condition.

"Many physicians are unfamiliar with all aspects of Tourette, and, as a result, many misdiagnoses occur," said Dr. Joseph Jankovic, professor of neurolhibition.' Patients are unable at times to stop themselves from acting out certain behaviors."

Motor and vocal tics are the most obvious signs of Tourette, a hereditary condition that can affect family members in different ways, said Jankovic, who heads the Movement Disorders Clinic at Baylor and The Methodist Hospital.

A VERY UNDERSTANDABLE BOOK

Even those who would consider themselves friendly with the Bible have been heard to say that there are many interpretations to the Scriptures because we cannot all understand it alike. It is this kind of attitude toward the Bible that forms the basis of religious division.

And these ideas do not reflect what the Bible says about itself. In Paul's letters to Corinth and Ephesus he declares, "We write nothing unto you except what you read and understand ... and when you read you can understand my insight into the mystery of Christ (2 Corinthians 1:13; Ephesians 3:4-NASB).

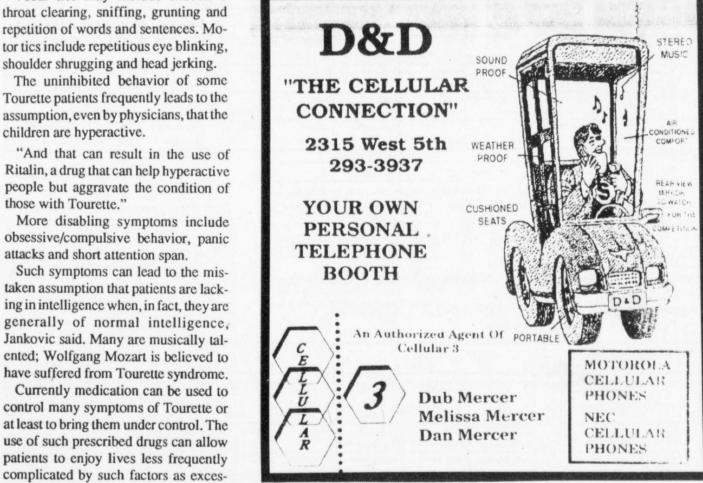

Those who advocate that the understanding and interpretation of the Scriptures belongs exclusively to university professors, Bible majors, and "seminary" school graduates have forgotten that the New Testament was written in the language of the common man (Koine Greek). Jesus did not receive anything even closely akin to a college education or "seminary" degree, and two of His most trusted and successful apostles were "uneducated and untrained men." (John 7:15; Acts 4:13).

They understood the gospel, and wrote it so that we can also: all of us!

City Auto earns Dealer Award

Co-owners of City Auto, Inc., Shorty Turner, Ricky Burns and Leroy Burns have been recognized for their outstanding efforts to improve the level of satisfaction for people buying new trucks in the Floydada area. They have recently been awarded the GMC Truck Customer Satisfaction Excellence Award.

The GMC Truck Customer Satisfaction Excellence Dealer Award is given to those GMC Truck dealers that meet or exceed the requirements of the Customer Satisfaction Index. Only 630 out of over 2400 GMC Truck dealers nationally, qualified for this prestigious honor this year.

To win this award, dealers are evaluated and judged in eight key areas of customer satisfaction. They are: newvehicle inspection and sales delivery, service reception and conveniences, quality control, customer response system, service personnel, training and development, facilities and equipment, and parts operations.

"Receipients of this award represent the upper crust of the GMC Truck dealer force", said Jack Kane, Director of Service-GMC Truck, while making the announcement of this year's winners. "These dealers have an outstanding dedication to customer satisfaction and service excellence."

City Auto has prominently displayed the GMC Truck Customer Satisfaction Excellence Dealer Award for all to see.

They said, "We want everyone to know how they can expect to be treated when they come to City Auto. It's what makes us different from every other truck dealer in town."

QUILTERS GATHER--A group of Floyd County volunteers, under the supervision of Ann Jones, got together for several days recently at the Floyd County Museum to quilt a quilt that will be raffled by the Pioneer Association, at the 1991 Pioneer Reunion, May 25. The quilt was pieced by Frances Staniforth, in the "Triple Irish Chain" pattern, done in shades of blue on a white background. It will be on display in both Lockney and Floydada prior to the reunion. Ticket chairmen are Jo Lyles in Floydada and Merle Mooney in Lockney. The price of tickets is $2.00 each or 3 for $5.00.

Public Notice

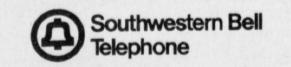

Southwestern Bell Telephone (SWBT) has filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas to offer a new optional service called Family Space Listing.

Family Space Listing is a new optional service designed for residential customers. It will give customers the option to list the names or nicknames of household members within a customized space in the white page telephone directory.

The proposed monthly charge for this service is $7.00. No charge to set up the service is proposed. Customers electing not to subscribe to this optional service will continue to receive their non-distinctive directory listings at no charge. SWBT anticipates this new service will generate sales of approximately $63,000 in the first year that the service is available. If approved by the Commission, this service will be available beginning May 6, 1991.

This new service will not affect the directory listings that existing residential customers have in SWBT's white page telephone directories.

Persons who wish to comment on this application should notify the Commission by April 26, 1991. Requests for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757, or you may call the Public Utility Commission Public Information Office at 512-458-0256 or 512-458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.

Carl Lemons' News and Views from Cedar Hill

Foreword: Often when reading aloud in the English language we reach the end of a sentence and, with no forewarning whatsoever, we find either a question mark, or an exclamation point. Now both of these punctuation marks are signs which indicate some degree of emotion and they usually call for a change, or inflection, in one's tone of voice as the reading is being done. The problem is you have already vocalized the message before you knew that it was a question or an exclamation.

A close parallel to this would be for our Highway engineers to place stop signs beyond, or on the far side of an intersection. The sign would be there instructing you to stop after you had already passed through the danger zone.

The English solution to this problem might be to look ahead to the end of each sentence for directions as to how it should be read, then snap back to the first words and proceed with the correct reading. Any nut knows that would bog you down! Another solution is to plug along reading the exclamatory or interrogative sentence in a flat, toneless voice as though it were a statement, then, when you crash into the sign at the end of the sentence, recognize that an error has been made. At that point you say, "Oops!", you disentangle yourself from the debris of the crashed sigh, go back to the beginning and read the sentence once more, this time with proper "feeling."

The average person who reads aloud in English soon gives up on these signs and renders everything he reads in the flat, monotonous, colorless, sing song voice of a first grader; a rendering which guarantees any listener a speedy transport to slumber, and.

Now a writer in the Spanish language quickly accumulates many red marks if "Easter Special." he does not politely inform the reader what to expect at the very outset of any emotionally charged sentence. ?How does he do this? !Simple! Each inter-also ends with a question mark. Each exclamatory sentence begins (starts) and ends with an exclamation point. Note that special Spanish language keyboards have inverted question marks and exclamation points to be used at the beginnings of those sentences while the sentences close with the conventional upright characters.

The Spanish are noted for social politeness as well as for politeness in punctuation. Should you encounter a robber of Spanish extraction some dark night in an obscure alley you might expect something like this, as he thumps the bridge of your nose with his cannon, "!Pardon me. senor! ?Would you like to stay alive? !My friend, this magnum 37 that I have in my hand, wants to see you dead! !Now if you will quickly pass to me your wallet I will ask my friend, the pistol, to leave your brain intact, right between your ears!"

!From this point on this week's column will use Spanish punctuation!

EASTER & WEATHER

Life and the Resurrection were the great topics on the air waves Easter morning when the clock-radio clicked on at 6 a.m. For the first hour the subject was "Life." A man named Jerry Baker told how we could put vigorous life into our gardens, grow wonderful things in '91 if we would buy our hoes, rakes, and seeds at a certain chain store. Also we were told that we could avoid many of the common pitfalls in vegetable production by purchasing and reading his book, The Gardner's Bible.

Next came that captivating hour featuring the Methodist Children's Home of Waco, Texas. Of course that program followed the conventional Easter theme to the letter. Truly that one was an

!It was during the Methodist hour that we checked the thermometer, and when we saw it, we froze! ! The reading was 25 on our "gung-ho" liberal thermometer!

rogative sentence begins (starts) and !That called for a second opinion, so we put out our conservative thermometer and that one dropped to only 28; still too cold!

> Next we found water in an outside bucket and it had a solid sheet of ice. !When upended and bumped against the ground the ice held fast, the bucket still held its water; the ice sheet was that thick! !Repeated knuckle raps finally broke through; that ice was almost 1/4 " thick!

It was perfectly natural. Ice and Easter are supposed to go together, be virtually inseparable, but losing the whole crop of stone fruits does leave one quite depressed. So we moped for hours, half heartedly pecking at the keyboard, then finally stepped outside again. !Stepped out into a different day, into a day that had become one of classic beauty, one of warmth, one with branches slightly swaying in a gentle southwest wind! !There was a fragrance in the air! !It was the perfume of the redbud trees that had recently turned into towers of tiny blossoms!

!Wait! !There is a mystery here! The redbud blossoms should be dead, they should have frozen. !There should not be any redbud perfume! Once around the corner the nearest redbud could be seen, still a blaze of purple, definitely not a pitiful collection of wilted petals. ?Had those thousands of flowers lived through the rigors of the night? On approaching closer the droning sound of many bees-on-the-wing could be heard, and, when closer still, bees by the thousand could be seen busily flitting from flower to flower.

!Flowers that did not freeze when water had thick ice! ?And would bees be harvesting bee-bread by the basket-full if it was not fit? !Incredible!

At sundown the peaches and apricots were checked again. !Not a wilted petal could be found! A few bees, moving slowly now in the chill of early evening, were trying desperately to finish filling their last baskets of pollen before returning to their colony. Apricot and peach blossoms had lost maybe 90% of their petals to last weeks punishing winds, but very few of the de-petaled buds would loosen free from their twigs and remain in your fingers when given a sharp tug.

Listening Post logic still protests that it can not be true, but evidence mounts that our fruit did not perish. We had best be fearful of the next freeze. ! A cooler one, you know, something like 15 or 20 degrees! !Anything warmer wouldn't hurt our fruit! !It seems to be virtually "freeze proof"!

We must mention that a falling snow flake could be seen many times through the day Saturday. At one time they were numerous enough that one would have been correct to say it is snowing. It melted as fast as it fell and once the walks got wet, even a little mud would stick to shoes.

!Reports of much heavier snow and showers came from other parts of the county! Muddy roads and wet hiding places moved at least one Easter egg hunt from the Irick/Pleasant Valley area to Lockney's uptown facilities.

!Total rainfall at the Listening Post for March was .05! !Twenty more months like that and we will have ourselves one whole humongus inch!

CROP COMMENTS

WHEAT reports as presented by the N&V have been much too optimistic we found out late Monday. When asked if they were finding any bugs on their wheat Billie Ruth Lackey responded, "?What wheat? !We can't even find any wheat to find any bugs on!" For years now Lynn and Bill's wheat has been among the best looking patches in the community and I refuse to believe their '91 crop has slipped that much. The most common tobacco based people killers have both gone out of style so it is hard to think that Billie Ruth was out of snuff last Monday, but she was sure out of something.

!Lord, send us rain! and a better attitude for some.

are very short, and native pasture will be of little help until a substantial amount of rain has fallen. After years of dabbling with livestock for years some of our farm people will be closing down the cattle portion of their farming operations. Others will reduce the number of cattle they will continue to care for.

A USDA hogs and pigs report on Thursday, March 28, was judged to be neutral by market analysts and was not expected to create waves in the market. When the futures market opened Monday it quickly became clear that traders disagreed, they considered the report bearish. Hog futures fell sharply and continued weak, closing with substantial losses. Pork bellies touched limit down and closed very weak. This market action in the pork complex has only an indirect effect on cattle prices, still weak pork prices certainly add no strength to cattle.

Lockney phone directories to be distributed

Gayle Evertson, teacher of the year in Austin, is featured on the front cover of the 1991 Southwestern Bell Telephone directory for Lockney.

Her selection is a tribute to teachers who are the unsung heroes of education according to Gary Stevens Area Manager-External Affairs for the telephone company.

This year's Lockney telephone directory includes 1,223 white page listings in 12 white pages and 21 yellow pages and will be delivered from April 5, 1991. Gary Stevens requested that customers wait until the end of the directory delivery period before calling the Southwestem Bell business office if they haven't received a new directory.

Other features in the 1991 directory include:

Hearing or speech impaired customers using a TDD/TTY may contact the Customer Assistance Bureau to communicate their telephone needs. They may call toll-free 1-951-7088 Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. (central time) for an immediate response. After hours calls will be answered during the next business day.

Customers will find tips on how to save money on their phone service and to her important information including local emergency numbers in the Cu tomer Guide at the front of the directory. Five-digit zip codes will be listed for all residential and business customers along with address and telephone number. Zip codes are being added to make the directory a more valuable information tool. The Lockney directory date changes from July 1990 to April 1991 as part of Southwestern Bell's continuing effort to streamline its directory delivery schedule to more than 500 cities in Texas. The directory will continue to be delivered each April in succeeding years.

preparation an unusual twist the last days of March. Trouble on one farm shut down his wells a few days, but when they were repaired he let them set idle a few more days. His logic being that this farm was ahead of schedule, was going to be finished too soon, would lose too much moisture to evaporation before time to plant. Bud's maneuver will circumvent a problem that plagued farmers of vesteryear. Early day irrigators who finished watering too early were sometimes forced to load up their fishing gear and get out of the county until time to plant. They knew the warm days of early April would tempt them into putting in their cotton seed too early. !The economy of the '90s will not tolerate those luxuries of bygone days! ONIONS, all in the ground now, are well rooted and past that "keep your ground black" stage. A little insecticide, a little fungicide, and water every 7 to 10 days should keep the crop well and growing until time for harvest. As far as known the ranks of onion growers has thinned at Cedar this year with only Craig and Mark Gilly, and Bud Taylor still being in the business. CATTLE people are face to face with serious long range decisions. Wheat pasture is practically gone, hay supplies to the multi-hidings of this day and time. The Ware brothers, Cody and Clay, almost wore out their Easter eggs, and themselves as well, hunting them over and over again at their Garvin grandparents' home in Silverton. Also of great interest to the boys was a brand new boy-cousin, two-day-old Tyler Garvin, born March 29, on Good Friday. Back in Cedar Hill, at Grandpa Raz Ware's place late that afternoon, the boys had rested, and, the egg hunting began all over again.

Mar. 31: The Max Yeary flock flew in from Possum Kingdom Sunday afternoon, and alighted at their home camp. They stayed home during spring break, saving their trip for Easter so Max could go and fish. Max did get to enjoy watching his father-in-law, Billy Hinkle, land fish while the wind blew a gale, and Max got nary a nibble. Finally Max spilled all of Billy's coffee so they could quit and go back to the house and stop Max's humiliation. !But the humiliation wasn't over! !Sunday morning little Brad hooked a whopper that broke his line and swam off with the lure! Max had had enough; he said, "!Let's go home!"

PCG to hold 34th annual meeting

Officials of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. (PCG), are pleased to announce their 34th Annual Meeting will again be held in conjunction with the Texas Cotton Ginners Association (TCGA) Annual Convention and Trade Show, April 11-13, at the Lubbock Memorial Civic Center.

PCG's annual meeting will be Thursday, April 11, in the Banquet Hall at the Memorial Civic Center. The meeting will officially begin at 9:30 a.m. and end with a noon buffet lunch. Those attending the PCG meeting will be given tickets for the luncheon at the PCG registration table.

PCG also reminds everyone that the guest speakers for this year's meeting are Nicholas Hahn, President and Chief Executive Officer of Cotton Incorporated, and Keth Henley, a Director of Cotlook Limited and it's parent company Liverpool-based Liverpool Cotton Services. He is also Editor of Cotton Outlook magazine. The speakers will talk about some of the things that are going to affect cotton producers in the future.

The TCGA convention will begin at 9:00 a.m. Thursday with the grand opening and ribbon cutting ceremony. The convention has historically drawn over 6,000 ginners, producers, oil millers, compressmen and others from all over the Cotton Belt with interests in the cotton industry, thus making it one of the largest gathering of cotton people in 1991-92. Texas.

"Our functions are scheduled so that they don't conflict with any of the activities that TCGA has organized," says Donald Johnson, PCG Executive Vice President. "We encourage everyone to attend both functions because they will undoubltedly provide something of interest."

The new 1990 farm bill presents producers with many challenges. One of them will be coping with its increased market orientation. Keth Henley's address is expected to provide an overview of cotton's international market situation and what it might be in the future. "Our goal is to provide producers with a better idea of what to expect from the cotton market in the future," explains Johnson.

Hahn is expected to discuss several topics, including the upcoming referendum to make the $1 plus six-tenths of one percent of the value of the bale assessment uniform and non-refundable. Passage of the referendum would also give the Cotton Board authority to assess imported cotton and the raw cotton equivalent of imported textiles.

PCG's morning program will feature reports on the Boll Weevil Control Program and the Plains Cotton Improvement Program. In addition, the President's and Vice President's addresses will provide an overview of what PCG has been working on over the past year and what their goals are for President Larry Nelson will certify new directors, chosen in county elections meeting. The Board will then convene at 1:20 p.m. in Room 108-109 to elect new officers for the 1991-1992 year. The current officers are: Nelson, President, Edmonson; Wayne Huffaker, Vice President, Tahoka; and Frank B. Jones, Secretary-Treasurer, Lamesa. Each officer has completed one year of the maximum two-year terms and is eligible for re-election.

That afternoon, from 1:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m., a cotton seminar with the theme "Question for the 90's" will also be held in the Banquet Hall. The seminar is sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station (TAES), PCG and TCGA. It will cover a broad range of subjects according to Dr. James Supak, Extension Cotton Specialist from Lubbock. The seminar will feature speakers from the Texas Agricultural Extension Service (TAEX), TAES and the United States Department of Agriculture-Agricultural Research Service (USDA-ARS).

wise could not qualify. Under the new program, FmHA will pay up to 4 percentage points of interest for farmers to help them qualify for FmHA guaranteed loans. "If a creditworthy farmer can't cash flow with a guaranteed bank loan at regular interest rates, we can pay part of that interest for him until he can," Johnson said.

The percentage of interest FmHA will pay depends on the financial condition of the farmer. FmHA will pay only the number of points necessary to help the farmer cash flow with a small reserve.

An FmHA guaranteed loan is made by a bank, PCA, or other lender with an agreement from FmHA that if the loan goes bad, FmHA will compensate the lender for up to 90 percent of its loss. "That guarantee plus the new interest assistance," Johnson said, "should greatly increase availability of farm credit through the private sector."

The program, made law in late 1990, was put on a fast track, so as to assist more farmers in time for the 1991 planting season," Johnson added.

According to Johnson, the level of interest assistance will be adjusted each

Cotton gains control of market marketing.

1975-1990

During the past 15 years, cotton has gained control over the largest share of the retail apparel and home furnishings markets - even in the recession stricken months of 1990.

At year's end, cotton controlled 53 percent of the total apparel and home furnishings market, excluding carpet.

"Cotton's 19-percentage point increase since 1975 relates directly to increased consumer demand for cotton products," says J. Berrye Worsham, Cotton Incorporated's aggressive research and promotion program. This program is funded by U.S. Upland cot- and heavier-weight jacquards to the ton producers through a per-bale assess- market."

ment In 1990, cotton's greatest market share growth occurred in various home textile categories and in upholstery, says Ira Livingston, vice president of U.S.

Specific categories such as blankets a relatively new end use for cotton experienced the largest increase in market share, from 32 to 38 percent. Sheet sets went from 50 to 52 percent, and bedsreads jumped 4 percent, from 47 to 51 percent. Mattress covers increased from 32 to 35 percent.

Livingston says, "For 1991, cotton throws and bathmats represent new growth areas for cotton. Upholstery, too, should mean new business for cotton growers as major upholstery manufacturers introduce new cottonprints be the educational workshops and meetings. One workshop will feature a panel discussion on lint contamination and classing system changes, while another workshop will address harvest aid management. The Texas Agricultural Extension Service will present a seminar on cotton marketing, nematodes, seedling diseases, pest control and genetically engineered cottons. However, according to Jerry Harris, Lamesa, president of TCGA, one of the best educational opportunities of the annual event is the chance to visit among friends and associates representing other segments of the cotton industry.

Other highlights of the convention include the TCGA annual meeting, the presentation of awards to the 1991 ginner of the year and winners of the annual golf and domino tournaments.

Harris said, "I cordially invite all ginners, consultants, producers, and anyone associated with the cotton industry to come to Lubbock and view the products of the cotton ginning industry."

AVOID BYPASS-STARTING

Bypass-starting a tractor can be a deadly experience.

"During the year, there is always the possibility of a machine that won't start," according to Murray Madsen, product safety engineer for Deere & Company. "Bypass-starting is a very dangerous way to deal with the problem.

"First, be sure the tractor, combine or other machine is in park or neutral before concluding there is a problem. If there is a problem in the electrical system, take the time to locate the cause and repair the problem instead of using a screwdriver or other tool to short across the starter terminals. It might cost you a little time and effort, but it could save your life."

Tractors, for example, will start and move when bypass-started in gear, running over you or whatever is in their path. "Never bypass-start," said Madsen. "Always place the transmission in 'neutral' or 'park', and follow the correct procedure of starting the tractor from the seat.

it could mean your finish Keeping the starter system in proper repair also will reduce the chances of starting difficulties."
