Public hearing slated by committee for county precinct redistricting

By Juanita Stepp

The Citizens Committee appointed by the Floyd County Commissioners has scheduled a public hearing on Tuesday, August 6, 1991 from 7:30 p.m. until 8:30 p.m. Anyone interested in the redistricting process now going on in Floyd County is invited to attend. The meeting will be held in the County Courtroom of the Floyd County Courthouse in Floydada.

The committee will be available to hear the input of other Floyd County residents prior to making a final recommendation to the Floyd County Commissioners concerning the adoption of a redistricting plan. Any plan eventually adopted will face the scrutiny of the Justice Department concerning the division of the population in the county and the minority voting strength in each precinct.

The public hearing was slated after the committee held an initial meeting last week. Under discussion at the first session were two redistricting plans formulated by county employees and officials. Each met the required criteria dictated by the population count of the 1990 Census and by the Voting Rights Act of 1964.

Under the provisions of these two items, county population must be divided with no more than a 10 percent difference between the highest and lowest populated precinct and at least one precinct must contain a minority voting strength of at least 65 percent. Any plan submitted by other Floyd County residents can be considered as long as these conditions are met.

The first session of the committee was

Summer band camp set Aug. 6-8

The Floydada High School Band Camp is soon approaching. This year's camp will be on August 6, 7 and 8. The camp will be held at the Plains Baptist Assembly. There is no cost to any of the band members to attend the camp.

Students will leave from the high school band hall every morning at 8:30 and will return to town between 7:30 and 8:00 each evening. Dinner and supper will be provided for the band students each day as well as time for recreation.

"It's important that every high school band member try and attend this camp so that they will have the time needed to learn marching and playing fundamentals," says band director John Odom.

If anyone has questions regarding the band camp please contact the Floydada Band Directors, John M. Odom and Ben Hill.

Students facing new principal at Floydada Junior High School

Among the many new students walking through the Junior High doors on August 22, will be Bruce Bramlett the new principal of Floydada's Junior High School.

Bramlett comes to Floydada from McCamey, Texas, where he taught Health and Biology for two years. He was also coached football and golf while in McCamey.

Before teaching at McCamey, Bramlett taught and coached at Bryan, Texas for 16 years.

Bramlett and his wife, Connie, are both Dallas natives. Bramlett is a graduate of Spruce High School and Connie graduated from Bryan Adams High School.

After graduation, Bramlett attended Eastfield Junior College for one year and then received his undergraduate degree from Texas A & M. He graduated Cum Laude in 1975.

He then pursued and received his masters in Education at A & M, in 1979. Bramlett is still pursuing hours at Sul Ross.

When he has spare time, Bramlett enjoys his hobbies of bird hunting, golfing and snow skiing. Connie Bramlett is currently employed as an aide to Mrs. Cannon, the high school counselor.

The Bramletts have two children, Blake, 12, and Jennifer, 13.

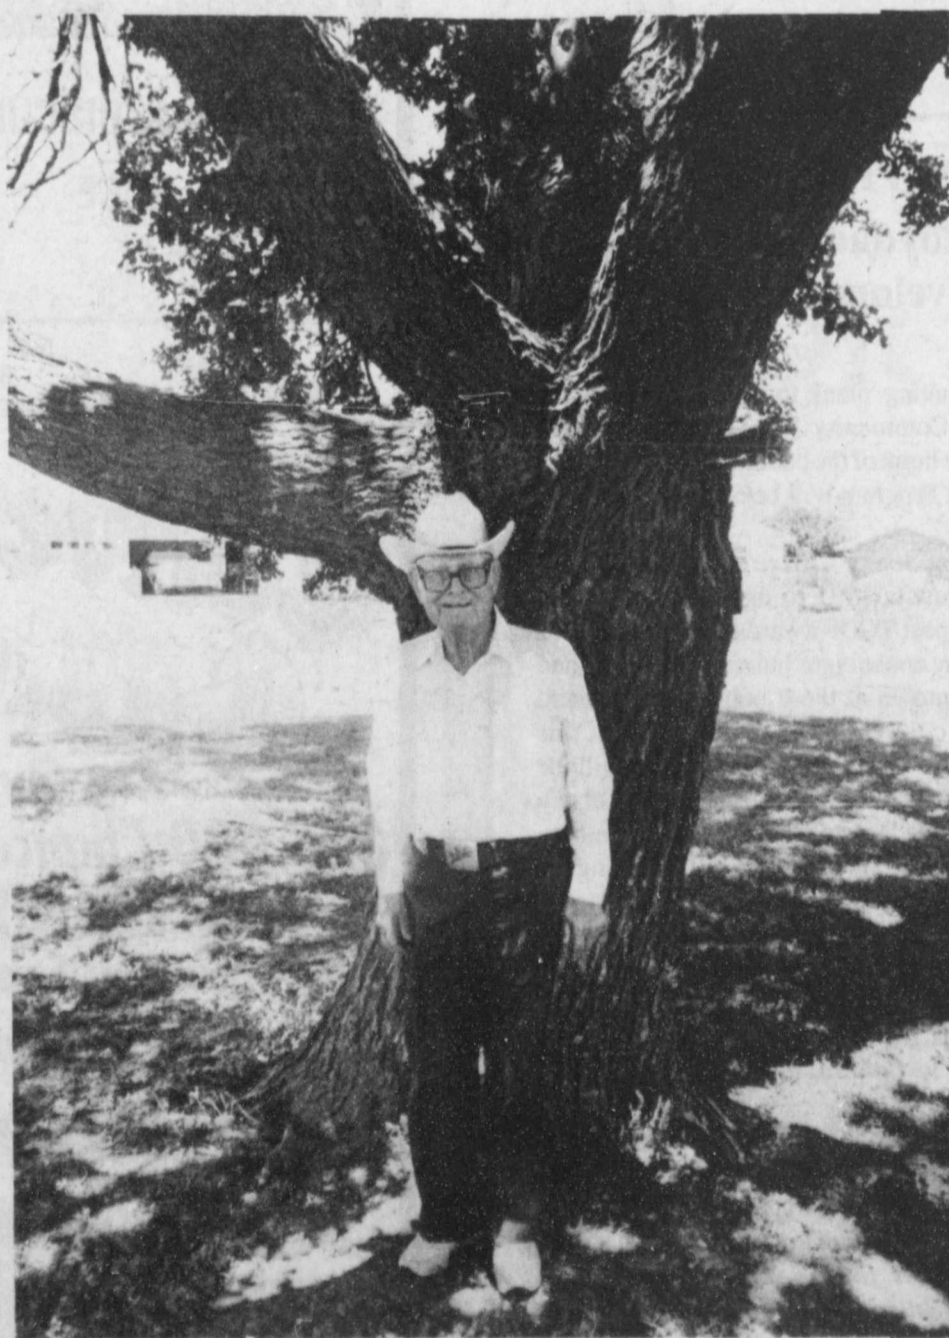

"I am really looking forward to this year," said Bramlett. "I have been preparing for this for a long time.

"I am a big believer in discipline and in shining the light on the good kids. We want people to know when they have done well. If the kids want attention they can work real hard and get in the spotlight, because I believe in covering them with the spotlight when they deserve it.

"My family and I are very excited to be here. We really like Floydada. The family has taken to the move very well."

The 38th annual Floyd County Fair begins today! Many activities have been planned for the three day run of the fair. Today, Thursday, will find all entries and exhibits in place by noon. Judging will take place beginning at 1:00 p.m. Events are scheduled for Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

A schedule of the fair can be found in this issue of the Floyd County Hesperian-Beacon. Admission to the Fair is free.

The ninth edition of the Little Miss and Junior Miss Pageants will be held tonight (Thursday) beginning at 5:00 p.m. in the Entertainment Building. The girls will have the interview portion of the pageant at 10:00 a.m. at the Lockney High School. Girls entered in the Junior Miss Pageant are Courtney Cummings, Jolie Robnett, Esmerelda Gonzales, Mandi Yeary, Cassy Fawver, Zan Daniels, Allison Mangold, Cassidy Hill, Amy Anderson and Kristen Kellison. Entries in the Little Miss Pageant are Amber Fortenberry, Sharyl McMurtrey, Lindsay Mathis, Cameron Kemp, Ruth Vasquez, Amanda Smith and Natasha Clemons. Tiny Miss contestants are Kimberly Garza, Marla Reeves, Jennifer Reyes, Ashley Fortenberry, Jessica Garcia, Megham Graham, Stormy Brannon and Sage Brannon.

The Miss Floyd County contest will be held on Saturday night at 6:00 p.m. Their interviews will be conducted at 1:00 p.m. at the Lockney High School. Vying for the Miss Floyd County title are Shonda Guthrie, Jennifer Collins, Amanda Garcia, Chelsea Patridge, Daisy Blanco, Amber Poole, Lisa Perez, Spring Lipham, Leigha Wood and Shirley Torres.

A prize package worth approximately $300 has been donated to the winners by local businesses in Lockney and Floydada. Each winner will receive a crown and a satin banner designating her title.

Admission to the Thursday night and Saturday editions of the pageants is $1.50 for adults and $.75 for students.

Friday has been designated as Ladies Day at the Fair. Crocheted items will be judged and on display. Peggy Weil will give program on Soil and Water Conservation; Helen Young will show those present how to do Pineneedle Basketry; Decorated Eggs will be shown by Quida Vaughn of the Eggery in Cactus Alley in Lubbock; and "A Visit to Russia", will be presented by Ted Kingery of Silverton. Numerous door prizes will be given away during the day.

A Gospel Singing will begin at 6:00 p.m. Friday in the Entertainment Building. Several groups will be on hand and anyone wishing to join in may do so.

Immediately after the Gospel Singing several students will do poetry readings. Orators are Josh Quebe, Adam Jones and Michelle Smith.

At 7:30 p.m. Friday, just before the Old Time Auction is set to begin, members of the Floyd County 4-H will perform a skit entitled "Proud To Be An American." Everyone is encourage to come out and enjoy the programs put on by the young people of the community. Bargains galore may be had at the Old Time Auction. Many items have been donated and the proceeds will go to pay for the air conditioners for the Entertainment Building. The auction will begin at 7:30 on Friday in the Entertainment Building.

The Fun Run/Walk and 5-K Run will begin at 8:00 a.m. and 8:30 a.m. respectively. The participants will gather Saturday morning in front of the Lockney Police Department on Main Street. The entry fee is $10 and entrants will be accepted up until race time. T-Shirts may have to be mailed to the late entrants.

Lockney Lions plan broom sale

The Lockney Lions Club will have their yearly broom sale, August 10, at S. Main and College.

All products sold by the Lions are manufactured by the blind and visually impaired workers in the Lighthouse for the Blind.

All the proceeds made from the sale will be used for the Children's Camp at Kerville and other community activities.

Citizens may purchase the brooms and other quality cleaning items, directly from the Caravan truck or contact, Robert Webb at 652-3343 to have your order delivered.

Available for sale will be: mops(cotton and sponge), household and commercial dust mops, assorted squeeges, lamb wool dusters, lawn leaf rakes, push brooms, wisk brooms, gong brushes, bowl brushes, barbecue grill brushes, dish towels and cloths, pot holders and other mitts, scouring pads; Mesh washing machine pads, sponges, dust pans, pet dishes, fly swatters, toilet bowl deodorizers, ironing board covers and pad sets, grass mats and rubber tire mats, and bus and truck washing brushes.

Sales of blind made merchandise in previous years have been very successful and Lions Club Members expressed their confidence in reaching a new all-time goal this year. "Every home and business can use some of these cleaning aids, and every item purchased helps to provide dignity and the security of regular employment for our blind citizens."

Mulberry tree marks spot of J.K. West family dugout

J.K. West and the large mulberry tree, in front of Floydada's Cogdell Clinic, have something very important in common. They were both given their start in life by J.K.'s father, John L. West.

The beautiful shade tree was planted, by John L. West in 1904, to provide shade to the half-dugout lived in by John and his wife Marcella.

To appreciate the history and life of this tree is to appreciate the history of the man who planted it and the family that grew up with it.

John L. West was born May 6, 1869 in Tuscaloosa, Alabama. He arrived in Floydada July 15, 1902. John L. remembered his first winter in Floydada (1902-3) in his memoirs. "The first winter we had rains and snows plenty and in February things were thawed by a warm rain. The whole country was a flood of water. The streets around the courthouse became a pond of mud and to go to stores or courthouse one had to go horseback or in some vehicle.

We had no stock law and loose stock in numbers roved the streets. Court was in session and many comers and goers made the streets a disgusting sight. Such a condition caused the call of the Commissioners into session and a plan was put into effect to order machinery to grade the streets and roads for better drainage. In June the grader was on hand and the men of the town were given the choice of paying $2.50 each or spending 2 days at work on the roads. I was short of money and agreed to work my 2 days."

John worked as a real estate salesman for a time and then bought land for himself. He married Marcella McCarty Feb. 14, 1904, and moved her to a half-dugout on his farm (on the east side of the hospital grounds). The dugout was located about 40 yards inside his property and a mulberry tree was planted for shade and comfort.

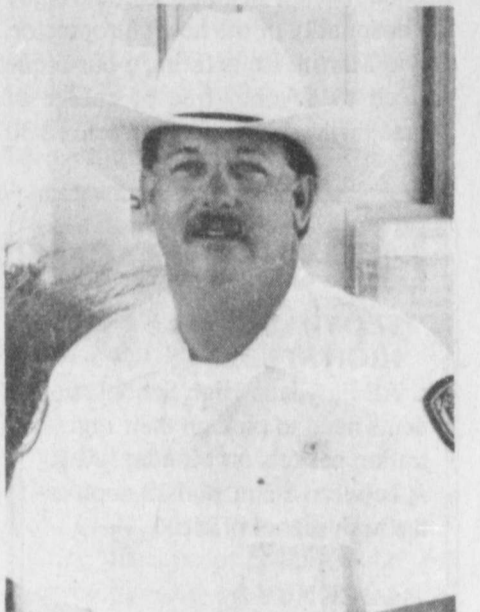

John West wrote, "I had no home to carry the girl (Marcella) to and no rent house could be found. The gin man had a 20 acre plot just west out of town to

Election Boxes

Election boxes and supplies are ready for election judges to pick up at the Floyd County courthouse. If they are not picked up they will be delivered by the Sheriff.

Absentee voting continues through August 6. The election will be held August 10.

KYLE ADAMS

Adams joins Sheriff's Dept.

Kyle Adams, 31, has joined the ranks of the Floyd County Sheriff's Department. He will be filling the position left open when Deputy Darin Smith resigned earlier this month.

Adams, who began official duties on July 23, moves here from Wichita Falls where he served for several years as a deputy with the Wichita County Sheriff's Department.

He completed three years of study at Midwestern State University, majoring in criminal justice.

Adams and his wife, Sheri, have been married for four years and have recently purchased a home in Floydada.

By The Way

By Alice Gilroy

This is going to be a busy week-end. Of course the fair is going on and there are activities planned for almost every minute on Friday and Saturday. I'm just happy knowing that I'm not going to have to cook supper on any of those nights. I'm just going to go with my family over to the fair and taste all the food over there.

Then on Sunday I'm not going to have to cook lunch. I'm going to come enjoy the hospitality of the new chiropractor, David Martin. He is fixing a bar-b-que to feed to anyone (free of charge of course) who shows up between 12:30 p.m. and 3:30 p.m. at his new office at 211 E. Missouri (by City Auto).

This is a very nice way for the new doctor to get to know the people in Floyd County and it is a very nice way for ya'll to get to know him. If you don't know much about chiropractors come by and talk to him. You'll be glad you did and I promise, you will learn something very beneficial to your health.

So when you leave church and you're looking for a place to eat, go to the parking lot by City Auto and say hello to Dr. Martin.

Well I guess everyone heard about Pee Wee Herman. He got arrested after exposing himself at a Triple X theatre.

Was anyone surprised? I wasn't in the least bit surprised. But I was sad that he has gotten so much publicity from the television networks that kids were brainwashed into thinking he was someone they should mimic.

Now if it happens to Big Bird I'm gonna be surprised!

My husband is lined up to take the plunge many times at the Dunkin' Donut at the fair on Saturday night.

For some strange reason the people in town really like to dunk the chief of police. They pay big bucks for the privilege!

Last year I took my little boy to watch, because I thought he would think it was really funny watching his daddy fall into the water over and over. But he didn't think it was funny at all. In fact he got very upset at the fact that people were throwing balls at his daddy.

Now that he is older I bet he'll be standing in line to smash that release lever!

Lockney Police Report

The Lockney police were dispatched to the Lockney Hospital July 18 in reference to the vandalism of a 1991 Ford pickup. A key or other sharp object was run down the side of the pickup. Damage was estimated at $200.00.

On July 21 the Lockney police investigated a vandalism to a home in the 100 block of S.W. 7th. Two large windows were broken out. Damage was estimated at $500.

The police investigated the break-in of a storage shed located on S.W. 11th Street on July 24. Someone broke into the shed and damage was done to the door. The contents of the shed were ransacked but nothing appeared to be taken.

On July 24th the Lockney Police were dispatched to the Lockney Hospital in reference to a 11 year old boy bitten by a dog. The boy was bitten on the left arm. He was treated and released from the hospital. The dog was seized and destroyed and the owner was issued tickets for no rabies shot and no city tag.

Assiter named International Auctioneer Champion

Tommy "Spanky" Assiter II, of Amarillo, formerly of Floydada, was named International Champion Auctioneer, July 17, in Omaha.

Assiter won the title over 62 other competitors. The event was sponsored by the National Auctioneers Association. He had placed among 15 finalists at the same national contest one year ago.

Assiter, 34, son of Tommy and Joy Assiter of Floydada, advanced into National competition after he was named the Texas State Champion at a competition in Corpus Christi last month.

A diamond ring and trophy were among the prizes garnered by Assiter at the International competition.

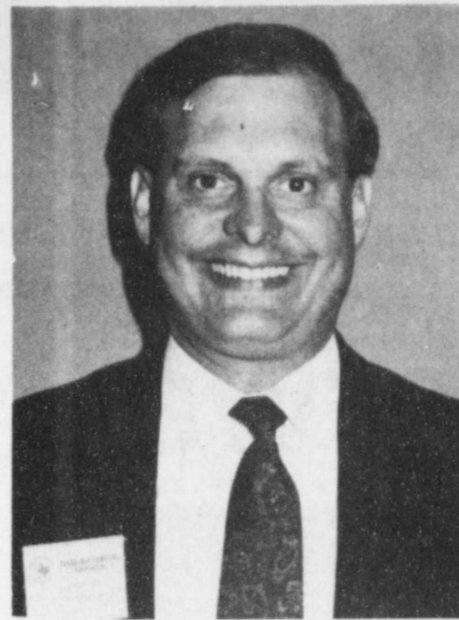

Contestants participated in a question and answer session with judges. Competitors were judged on salesmanship, conveying a professional image and the quality of the auction chant.

All 62 contestants auctioned three items before judges whittled down the list to 15 finalists. The finalist then auctioned off four items.

At a contest in February, Assiter was also named reserve champion auctioneer of Oklahoma. Assiter said that Leroy Van Dyke's country song, "The Auctioneer," inspired him to become an auctioneer.

After graduating from Floydada High School in 1975, his parents paid for him to attend national auctioneering school in Mason City, Iowa, as a graduation gift.

TOMMY "SPANKY" ASSITER II

Assiter has performed at benefit auctions as a West Texas State University student, where he received a bachelor's degree in speech with an emphasis in mass communications. Assiter also earned his master's degree in business administration from WT.

He owns Assiter & Associates, an auctioneering company that employs four in Amarillo. He also owns a half interest in an Altus, Oklahoma, auto auction that employs eight.

He auctions for Amarillo Auto Auction Inc. a subsidiary of Anglo-American Auto Auction, at the company's regular consignment sales and does dealer auctions for Chrysler, Ford and General Motors.

During his year as International Champion Auctioneer, Assiter will act as a goodwill ambassador for the auction profession.

PUBLIC NOTICE

City of Floydada

Texas Community Development Program

The City of Floydada is currently making plans to apply to the Texas Department of Commerce for Texas Community Development Program Funds. Two public hearings to solicit the input of the community in the preparation of the Community Development Program will be conducted.

The first public hearing will be held at Senior Citizen's Building, 301 E. Georgia, Floydada, at 7:00 p.m., August 6, 1991 to discuss housing and community development needs, use of past TCDP awards, amount of funds available and eligible activities. The City encourages individual citizens and citizen's groups to make their views known at these public hearings and welcomes the full participation of its citizens in the development of this TCDP application. General information on the TCDP program will be available. Citizen comments may be delivered in advance to City Hall at any time. Groups representative of persons of low and moderate income may request technical assistance in developing TCDP proposals by contacting the person listed below.

The second public hearing will be held at City Hall, 114 W. Virginia St., at 7:30 p.m., August 19, 1991 to allow citizens an opportunity to comment on the proposed project, amount of funds requested and estimated amount proposed for activities that will benefit low/moderate income persons.

More detailed information on proposed activities, amount of funds and proposed location of activities will be available for inspection at City Hall after the second hearing. Handicapped individuals who may have difficulty in attending these meetings should contact City Hall to arrange for assistance. Para residentes necesitados de interpretes, favor de comunicarse con la municipalidad antes de las audiencias publicas.

Floydada City Council reviews proposed capital improvements

By Juanita Stepp

Meeting in a special called session, the City Council of Floydada reviewed proposed city operating expenses and estimated revenues at a Monday evening meeting. Lengthy discussions concerning the proposed operating budget for 1991-92 were followed by recommendations from the council that several capital improvements be included in the final version of the budget.

The outcome of the July 29 meeting left the council authorizing City Manager Gary Brown to include these items in the proposed budget for the coming year. Among the items specifically to be considered are the enlargement of City Hall, a new street sweeper, a new sewer machine, a new garbage truck, the purchase of a new and used city vehicles, park improvements, electrical distribution improvements, water improvements and paving of 10th Street between Missouri Street and Lee Street.

City employees were evaluated and the proposed budget will contain a 5 percent cost of living increase for city employees. Additionally, some employees will receive merit raises based on employee evaluations.

A second budget workshop has been scheduled for August 12.

Eric Cornelius, a member of the city council, was designated to be the city's representative on the Ambulance Board. This board will be concerned with the operation and funding of Caprock Emergency Ambulance Service in the Future. Cornelius will be reporting to the council on the board's progress in the coming months.

Also approved at the session was a proposal from Edd Henderson, CPA, for the upcoming audit of the city financial records for the budget year ending September 30, 1991.

Attending the evening session were Mayor Wayne Russell and council members Amado Morales, Ruben Barrientoz, Wayne Tipton and Eric Cornelius. Councilmen Clar Schacht and Leroy Burns were not at the session. Also present were Gary Brown and Jimmie Lou Stewart.

Floyd County Fair
Thursday, Friday, Saturday - Aug. 1-3
See Schedule of Events on Page 8.

Notice of Public Hearing.

The Citizens Committee for the Redistricting of the Floyd County Commissioners Precincts will hold a Public Hearing on Tuesday, August 6, 1991, from 7:30 p.m. until 8:30 p.m. in the County Courtroom of the Floyd County Courthouse. All interested parties are invited to attend and express their views concerning this redistricting process.

members include Fidel Martinez, Jeff Johnson, Kelton Shaw, John Campbell, Jessie Garza and Alex Wall.

Herrera, Shaw, Campbell and Garza were in attendance at the Commissioners session on Tuesday, July 30. Each reported on the progress they felt had been made at the initial meeting.

Shaw told the commissioners, "There were two different views at the meeting. There were people at the meeting whom I did not know that voiced the opinion that they would like to see the redistricting changed completely. I never have been in favor of people from outside the county telling us what to do. I feel like the residents of Floyd County should be able to do what needs to be done."

Campbell stated, "I feel that whatever plan is adopted will depend on the Hispanic minority. I think that the people that were at our meeting were proposing two districts with predominately minority population. I think that trying to do that will dilute the minority strength in the one required minority district."

Garza added the opinion, "I want to be equal. I don't think it is necessary to be more or less. In order to create two minority districts, I think we would have to change part of Lockney and that is not a possibility now."

No one noted having heard any objections or dissatisfaction with the redistricting plans under consideration, but everyone agreed that the residents of Floyd County deserved the chance to express their opinions before the procedure goes any further. Toward that end, the group set the public hearing for next Tuesday.

Present for the Commissioners session were Judge Bill Hardin, commissioners Connie Bearden, Floyd Jackson, George Taylor and Howard Bishop. Also in attendance were Margaret Herrera, Kelton Shaw, Jessie Garza, John Campbell, Jane McAnally and the Hesperian-Beacon reporter.

WE RECYCLE

FOR THEIR SAKE!

We attended the Texas Restaurant Association Convention last month in Dallas. The big thing talked about was recycling.

People told us to just try recycling for a month, so we did with the attitude not to make money, but to the savings we could make to the local landfill and on the trash collecting fees.

Now, a month later, the savings are about 50% in solid waste to Floyd Counties landfill by having the city remove one dumpster, and going from four pickups a week to two.

Nielson's Restaurant recycles all boxes, glass, plastic and newspaper.

A simple step to solid waste solution is to be Pro-Active in our communities waste management efforts!

Special thanks to Johnny Summers at Pay-n-Save for the use of their box smasher.

MRS. GARY ALLEN CAWLEY

Ford and Cawley say marriage promises

Karen D'Lese Ford of Lockney became the bride of Gary Allen Cawley of Allen, Texas, during a traditional wedding ceremony Saturday, July 27, in the First Baptist Church, Lockney. The couple pledged their vows before the Rev. Charles Wayne Broadhurst, pastor of First Baptist Church in Friona.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ford and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Cawley, all of Lockney.

The altar area was highlighted with an arched candelabra flanked by two candelabras, decorated with calla lilies and gladiolas. Candles were lit by Spencer and Courtney Offutt.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose an ivory gown fashioned from bridal satin, featuring an open sweetheart neckline and full length sleeves. The bodice of the gown was elaborately adorned with motifs of Schiffl lace encrusted with pearls and sequins. The fitted basque waistline allowed a full ballgown skirt to float gracefully to the floor and sweep into a full cathedral length train. The skirt, as well as the train of the gown, were richly decorated with panels of the lace encrusted with the beadwork. A satin candybox bow complimented the back of the gown. Scalloped schiffl lace bordered the gown and train.

For her hair, the bride chose to wear her mother's headpiece that she had worn at her own wedding. A pouf of ivory illusion and a cathedral length veiling were added to complement the gown. Her attire was completed with ivory satin pumps with satin bows. She carried a cascade bouquet of calla lilies and pink roses.

Serving as maid of honor was Kathy Lovell of San Angelo. Bridesmaids were Shandra Bybee of Lockney, Paula Turner of Bryan and Robin Watson of San Angelo. They were attired in magenta two-piece dresses, featuring long straight skirts and complemented with sweetheart necklines and puffed sleeves. They carried fuschia colored bouquets consisting of lilies, cushion mums, gladiolas and calla lilies.

Flower girl was Trinity Shea Ford of Lockney, niece of the bride, and John Allen Ford of Corpus Christi, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

Acting as best man was Casey Bean of Midland. Groomsman were Brent Rogers of Nacogdoches and Jim Thompson of Houston, cousins of the groom, and Robert Bryant of Dallas.

Mike Ford of Lockney and Rick Ford of Corpus Christi, brothers of the bride, and Mike King of Arlington escorted guests to their seats.

Musical selections during the ceremony included "Ave Marie", which was played as the mothers entered. The bride's processional was the "Wedding March." Solos presented by Ann Ford were "We Wish You", "The Lord's Prayer" and "Volios". Vance Rogers vocalized "Here and Now."

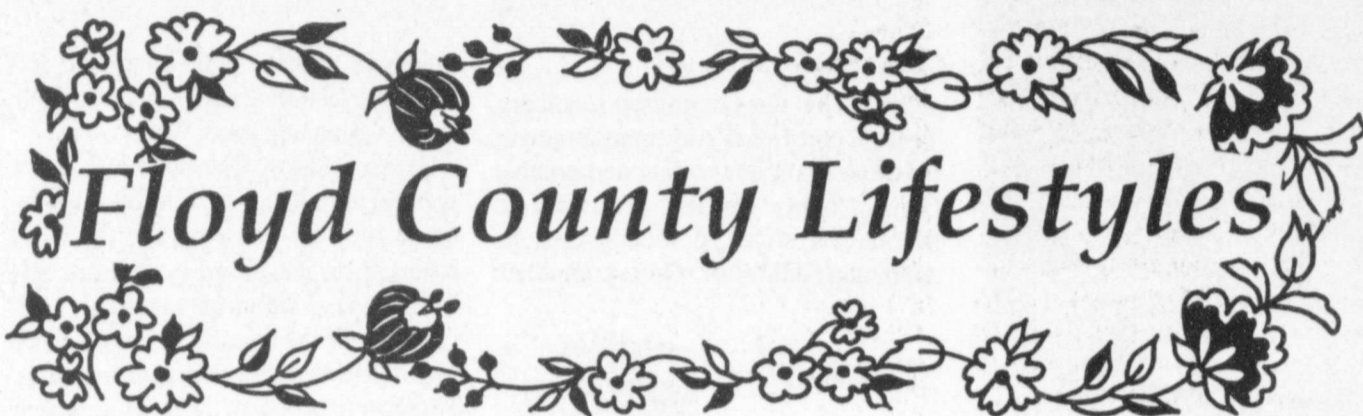

The bride is graduate of San Angelo State University. The groom is a graduate of Texas Tech University and is employed by Senisys in Plano. Both are Lockney High School graduates.

Following a wedding trip to the Bahamas, the couple will reside in Allen, Texas.

McCoy Community unites for reunion

By Flora McNeill

The 39th reunion of the McCoy Community was an enjoyable meeting of friends and neighbors who recalled the get-togethers from the first one in 1952 when 100 persons spread lunch and visited at Mackenzie State Park in Lubbock. Sunday, July 21, 1991 at Lighthouse Electric on the Matador highway, was the meeting location of about 50 people who were descendants of those who were settlers of the McCoy area along with those who lived there in later years.

As usual the covered dish lunch was spread in an abundance, but the visiting and sharing of photos was an enjoyable time with those having "old" ones desiring to have them entered in the "McCoy Record Book."

The old records have been taken from spiral notebooks and loose pages have been laminated and placed in sequence in a proper folder for permanent preservation. Included in the book are all the invitations, telegrams, cards, minutes or their results, memorial lists, attendance lists, officer lists, pictures and anything connected with the reunions since its conception.

The new Records Book of this group was one of the highlights of the day when those present could view all the happenings for the last 39 years. It was of special interest to those who had attended from 1952. Everyone could see the lists of those who had passed away in the same time period. Many of the family members have since died while none of the original McCoy Old Settlers are alive nor are their homes in evidence. The two story residence of the J.W. Jackson family is the oldest structure in the area.

The sign "McCoy Reunion - 1990" brought by Eloise Payne again greeted everyone as they approached the entry. A short business meeting was held immediately before the bountiful lunch with Mac McNeill being re-elected as president and Flora McNeill as secretary for 1992. Flora expressed her gratitude to Bobby Harless for his donation which made it possible to present the record book under its present cover of 129 pages.

She also presented the memorial program ending with the following:

"Death is a separation, a friend has left us. Death is a reunion, for we some day shall join them!"

"And from 1 Cor. 15:55, He will swallow up death in Victory and the Lord God shall wipe tears from all faces."

Those who have passed away since last year are: Mrs. Odell (Sidney) Johnston, Allan Stapleton, Mrs. Beulah (McDermick) McNeely, Mrs. Frances (Nixon) Lowrance, Mary Helen (Day) Day, Estelle (Cates) Eubanks, Mary (Pittman) Smith, Robert C. Fisher, Alfred Clark, Raymond Loy Rhodes, Carrie (Mallow) Parrish, Mrs. John Lloyd, Mrs. W.J. O'Conner, Buck Hickerson and Bennie Lee Ewing.

Those attending were: Mrs. Joyce F. Davis, Petersburg; Claude and Anna Mae Hartsell, Comanche; Eloise Payne, Kingsland; Darlene Payne Letton, Austin; Harvey and Billie Brock, Kingston, Ok.; Lou Ewing Hood, Plainview; Thurlan Thacker, Lubbock; Georgia and Fletcher Stark, Lubbock; Zora Pittman Hudson, Lakewood, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wheeler, Ralls; Wilda Laminack, Ralls; Bennie Sprawls, Lubbock; Floyd and Carolyn Jackson, Lockney; Mary Lou Bollman, Lockney; Charles Hulsey, Lubbock, Lu, Jim and Bubba Hodges, Garland; Jim Wilson, Edmondson; John Wilson, Ralls.

Those attending from Floydada were: Mac and Flora McNeill, Thelma Jones, Alma Smith, Marie Tardy, Crawford Sandefur, Faye and E.M. Jackson, W.R. and Margaret Daniel and Lara Kendrick, LaNell Tardy, Gleva and Billie Jo Smith, Johnny and Regenia Smith and Kody and Kevin, Kerry and Betty Reed and Jason and Winnie Beedy.

A beautiful handmade clock by Claude Hartsell was given to the person attending from the furthest distance was presented to Zora Belle Pittman Hodson from Calif.

The meeting will be the third Sunday in July in 1992.

Mammography services certified by ACR

The Mobile Breast Cancer Detection Unit of Odessa, which services Floydada has received the certification of the American College of Radiology Mammography Accreditation Program.

Mammography is an x-ray examination of the breast, which the American Cancer Society and other medical experts see as the best means for the early detection of breast cancer

The program is voluntary and is designed to insure that women receive optimum quality mammographic examinations. The process is done through a peer review evaluation of the facility's staff qualifications, equipment, quality control and quality assurance programs, image quality, and breast dose. The accreditation must be renewed every three years.

The accreditation program was instituted because of the concerns of radiologists, other national medical organizations, and the public that qualified personnel perform and interpret mammograms and that dedicated mammographic equipment be used. The American College of Radiology received an American Cancer Society Control Grant which was used to pilot test the Accreditation Program.

Support Your Chamber

Breast cancer will strike one in 10 American women. The American Cancer Society predicts that about 41,000 women will die of breast cancer this year. As there is no way to prevent the disease, early detection and treatment offer the greatest hope for survival.

The American Cancer Society recommends that women do monthly breast self-exams and have regular physical breast exams by a doctor. It further recommends mammography on the following schedule:

A baseline mammogram (for reference) between age 35 and 39.

A mammogram every one or two years between age 40 and 49.

An annual mammogram from age 50.

The Breast Cancer Detection Unit will be in Floydada on Thursday, Aug. 8. You may call 983-5111 for an appointment.

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of ten women in the United States will develop breast cancer sometime in her lifetime. It is currently estimated that over 37,000 women die each year as the result of breast cancer.

Ninety percent of breast cancers are diagnosed by women or their physicians finding a lump in the breast. Women who are diagnosed with a lump large enough to feel have a 50 percent five year survival rate. A woman who is diagnosed as having breast cancer by mammography, before a lump can be felt, has a 97% five year survival rate and a 90% 10 year survival rate.

A mammogram can detect a cancer this small, ● even before it can be felt.

Guidelines For Screening Mammography Established by the American Cancer Society.

I. 35-40 years of age - One baseline mammogram.

II. 40-50 years of age - A mammogram every 1-2 years depending on breast type and risk factor.

III. 50 years of age and over - An annual physical examination and annual mammogram.

IV. Asymptomatic women under 50 years of age with significant high risk factors should be examined at appropriate intervals. These risk factors include previous breast cancer and family history of cancer.

V. A symptomatic woman should have a mammogram at any age when she experiences a mass, nipple discharge, skin changes or unexplained breast pain.

A screening mammogram is an x-ray of the breast using extremely low dosages of radiation (usually comparable to dental x-rays) and is designed to find very early cancers.

A female technologist who is highly trained in mammography will perform the examination.

The charge for the screening mammogram is $.65.00. The Unit accepts cash, check, Visa, Mastercard and American Express.

Tana Turner-Corey Bates joined in marriage

The First Baptist Church of Floydada was the site for the candlelight ceremony uniting Tana Turner and Corey Bates, both of Floydada, on Saturday, July 27.

Tana is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Turner and Corey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Bates. Officiating the ceremony was Bro. Howell Farnsworth, pastor.

The couple recited their vows before an altar of heart-shaped candelabras decorated with greenery and arrangements of roses, gladiolas, carnations and baby's breath tied with navy and strawberry pink bows. Boston ferns flanked both sides of the altar and arrangements of flowers and bows marked the pews leading to the altar.

Escorted and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional white satin gown. The fitted bodice had a Queen Anne neckline with sheer net insets at the shoulders. The front and back bodice was trimmed with lace appliques which were studded with iridescent sequins and pearls with outlines of solid pearl ropes. Eighteen pearl ropes dangled from the top of the heart shaped cut out back below the buttons. Puff sleeves tapered to a fitted wrist with net cutouts trimmed with lace, pearls, sequins and multiple rows of pearl dangles. The full skirt had a mantle of appliques from the front waistline almost to hem, embellished with pearls, sequins and outlined with pearls rope. Pearl dangles hung from several points. Wide schiffli lace trimmed the hem with a cathedral length train in a scalloped shape. Six rows of lace extended from waist to edge of train with additional appliques studded with pearls and iridescent sequins.

Her headpiece, designed by her mother, was a double layer of illusion attached to a band adorned with roses and pearls. Sprays of lily of the valley framed the sides of her face.

Her cascading bouquet was designed with white roses, orchids, baby breath, orange blossoms and ivy. Strawberry pink and navy roses were accented throughout the bouquet.

For something old, the bride wore a ring belonging to her maternal grandmother and pearls belonging to her paternal grandmother. Something new was her dress, something borrowed were the pearl earrings belonging to her maid of honor, April Randol. Something blue was her garter designed by Atha Sue and pennies in her shoe.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Angie Covington, sister of the bride, of Beaumont. Maid of honor was April Randol of San Antonio. Bridesmaids were Ange Armstrong of Floydada, Lisa Sherman of Lubbock, Tiffany Gentry of Lubbock and Sandra Schwertner of Floydada. They wore teal-length dresses of navy and strawberry pink floral chintz fashioned with flared, tapered skirts. The fitted long bodice featured a scalloped neck with a low cut back and puffed sleeves. Strawberry fabric bows and roses adorned the sleeves and waist. They carried bouquets of long stemmed strawberry and pale pink roses with navy lillies and baby's breath tied with pale pink bows. The flower girl was Karah Northcutt of Wink, niece of the groom.

The candlelighters were Heather Carr of Floydada and Kary Covington of Beaumont, nephew of the bride.

Ring bearer was Casey Covington of Beaumont, nephew of bride.

Acting as best man was Robert Martinez of New York, Tye Stovall, Grant Stovall and Chad Pernel, all of Floydada, Johnny Taylor of Lubbock and Jason Brown of Floydada.

Brett Turner of Floydada, Rick Covington of Beaumont and Amon Turner of Stillwater, Okla., seated guests. Registering guests was Joey Thayer of Floydada.

Musical selections were presented by Pam Lockwood on piano. Solists were Janet Walker of Abilene and Bill Smith of Floydada.

A reception was held in the Wall Street Parlor after the ceremony. Assisting were Alicia Turner, Denise Morren, Melissa Wood, Kelly Northcutt, Amy Burns and Becky Robertson.

The bride's table was adorned with a traditional white cake decorated with strawberry pink, pink, navy and white silk flowers with a fountain flowing underneath.

The groom's table was highlighted with a Texas Tech cake and a cheese sculpture surrounded with fruit.

Following a wedding trip to Puerto Vallarta, Mexico, the couple will reside in Lubbock.

Both the bride and groom are 1988 graduates of Floydada High School and are currently attending Texas Tech University.

PRE-NUPTIAL COURTESIES

Pre-nuptials extended to the couple included the rehearsal dinner, hosted by the groom's parents in the fellowship hall of First Baptist Church.

A bridal brunch was hosted by Mary Shurbet and Emma Pate.

A "Honey-Do" shower was given by April Randol in the yard of the bride's parents.

A lingerie shower was held in the home of Sandra Schwertner and the bridal shower was in the home of Nancy Mayo.

The coaching staff hosted a 'pounding' in the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Carr.

50TH ANNIVERSARY—Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Denning of the Cone Community will observe the 50th anniversary of their marriage with a reception on Aug. 3 from 2-4 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall of First United Methodist Church in Ralls. They were married on Aug. 2, 1941, in Ralls by the Rev. W.B. Flores. No gifts please.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

By Jo Bryant

Hi, once again on this hot summer day, July 3-August 11 are known as Dog Days (hottest time of the year). Even the mockingbird doesn't sing and the Old Timers used to say, it was so hot, my dog died. Well, anyway, I hope you are enjoying company, vacations, picnics and fun things this summer.

Speaking of fun things we will have another cookout on August 13, we'll have brisket and all the trimmings. So mark it on your calendar and plan to attend the event.

Monday started the week as usual, with morning coffee, juice and cookies. The Rev. Bill Wright shared the devotional with us, about "God's Love and care for us." Irene Wexler played the piano for us. At 2 p.m. the residents had rhythm band and a sing-a-long.

Tuesday, Penny Giesecke came and played the piano for us, Otis Johnson led the singing. We shared the word on John's gospel about "Peace and Power." In the afternoon, the residents had arts and crafts, they made a bird.

Wednesday was our usual Bingo day. Mary Alice Davis and Ruth Hammonds came and assisted the residents. We were glad to have Ruth come and assist and visit with us. Lennie Willis and Ruby Holcomb both bingoed at the same time. That doesn't happen very often.

Thursday we read and shared an article in Texas Highways. There were several interesting articles in the August edition. There was one on "Just Desserts", Blue Bell's Ice Cream made in Brenham for the past 80 years, by a family. Another article on "Lake Meredith: Shiner's Finest", "Cleanest Little City in Texas" - home of Spoetzl Brewery, and the "Forgotten Cowboys." The residents also enjoyed some popcorn.

Friday, Faye Benson came and shared the word taken from 1 Kings, "On how God feeds and takes care of us." The residents also all said The Lord's Prayer. Faye brought the residents some candy. Thanks Faye you are so very thoughtful. Evelyn Latta played the piano and closed with a prayer. We closed with the song "God Will Take Care of You". Then it was on to Plainview on the bus ride. McDonald's treated them to ice cream. The residents going were Otis Johnson, Charles Breeding, Henry Willis, Brooks Callaway, Knox Jameson, Kermit Glover, Audie Poteet, Nettie Adams, Peggy Young, Etoile Stanley. Thanks Wilma Payne for taking us.

The nursing home will have a yard and bake sale Friday and Saturday at 8 a.m. at 925 W. Crockett. The funds will go toward a large screen TV for the residents.

Thought:
"Stay Young"
It can be your fortune, to stay young. You can avoid old age. You can. For age is only a quality of mind. You are young if you have turned loose of yesterday.

Enjoy today, anticipate tomorrow. Look up when knocked down. Feel there is much to learn. Are ambitious, are enthusiastic, dream. Have no wrinkles on the heart. FEEL YOUNG.

Look Who's New!

BROCK

Kolt and Kwail Brock, sons of Kirk and Beverly (Burleson) Brock, have a new brother. Klay Ross was born July 24, 1991 in St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock and weighed in at 7 lbs. 12 ozs. They are at home in Levelland.

Grandparents are Stanley and Lou Burleson of Floydada and Jerry and Gail Brock of Levelland.

CHURCH DIRECTORY

Clubs & Organizations

Athena Study Club

The Athena Study Club met in the backyard of Kathy Allen for a swimming and pool side party. Members brought salads and dessert was served by co-hostess, Bettye Jackson.

The meeting was called to order by President Shirley Hardin. Devotional was given by Leslie Patterson. Roll call was answered by seventeen members. New members voted into the club were Linda Kidd and D'Linda Mullins.

Ice cream booth, educational booth and float were discussed for the fair. Work days were set.

August meeting will be at Dani Johnson's.

The Athena Rose and Outstanding Club members were voted on and selected by the members. The 1990-91 Athena Rose is Shirley Hardin. Outstanding Club member is Tanya Covington.

Members present were Kathy Allen, Jane Archer, Vera Jo Bybee, Barbara Cawley, Tanya Covington, Shirley Hardin, Vida Hrbacek, Bettye Jackson, Gayle Jackson, Dani Johnson, Barbara Mathis, Rhonda McCain, Mary L. McCarter, Donnie Meriwether, Leslie Patterson, Gayle Reay and Denise Doucette.

Following the benediction the meeting was adjourned.

Keeping You In Stitches Quilt Guild

The Keeping You in Stitches Quilt Guild met Friday, July 26, in the home of Dara Ware. The group quilted on a Lone Star quilt that Dara pieced in southwest shades.

D'Lyn Morris reported that the fabrics for the sampler quilt have been chosen for everyone to choose from. They are available at Jane Archer's place. These are due by the September meeting.

Terrisu Mann reported on correspondence she received from Winnie Fleming of Houston who will be coming to teach a class. She sent several pictures for everyone to see to help decide what they would like to make. The group voted to have the class on the Mexican Star.

The next meeting will be August 13th in the home of Cindy Belt.

The monthly block exchange was won by Cris Taylor.

Visiting for the day were: Jill Graham, Jamie Morris and Carol Vines.

Members in attendance were Cindy Belt, Brenda Heflin, Anne Jones, Terrisu Mann, D'Lyn Morris, Kelli Reddy and Dara Ware.

See You At The Fair!

Public Notice

On April 9, 1991, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas to request that the optional feature "Call Transfer Disconnect" be available to all PLEXAR I customers by including the feature in Southwestern Bell's PLEXAR I tariff. Currently, this optional feature is available only on a customer requested basis.

Call Transfer Disconnect (CTD) is an optional feature that allows PLEXAR I customers the ability to transfer a call to another telephone number within or outside their PLEXAR I system, hang up, and permit the two remaining parties to continue with the call. The PLEXAR I user is then free to place or accept another call. CTD is not intended to be used to avoid toll charges. Therefore, CTD will not be available to PLEXAR I customers subscribing to optional Extended Metropolitan Service or Extended Area Calling Service.

If the company's application is approved, the monthly rate for CTD will be $4.00 for each PLEXAR I station line. Prior to the June 19, 1991, interim rate approval, Southwestern Bell was billing customers who receive the service $1.50 for each station line equipped with this feature. In addition, under Southwestern Bell's proposed tariff, every line within the PLEXAR I system must be equipped with this feature. The nonrecurring charge for the additional lines which must be equipped with CTD will be waived for existing CTD customers. The tariffed monthly rate will apply to all existing and future CTD customers.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0256, or (512) 458-0221, teletypewriter for the deaf.

Sales tax rebates increase in Floyd County

Sales tax rebate payments made to cities in Floyd County continued to show an increase for the month of July.

Total payments received in Floyd County to date in 1991 stand at $92,026.16, an increase of 2.10 percent when compared to the $90,132.29 received at this time in 1990. Total amount received in the county for the month was $11,316.95 as compared with $10,420.66 received in July of 1990. This translates into a decrease of 8.60 percent county wide.

Lockney displayed an increase of 29.91 percent over the same period in 1990. The check received by Lockney was in the amount of $3,481.11 compared to $2,679.63 received in 1990 at this time. Total payments to Lockney stand at $27,470.78 as compared to $27,588.44 to date in 1990 making the over all decrease 0.43 percent.

Floydada's check for July from the state comptroller's office was in the amount of $7,835.84 and showed an increase of 1.22 percent over the $7,741.03 payment received in July of 1990. Payments to date in 1991 received by Floydada total $64,555.38, an increase over all of 3.22 percent from the $62,543.85 received at this time in 1990.

Area cities, their July 1991 rebates and percentage of change are listed below.

Quitaque; $888.77, +27.68%
 Silvertown; $1,414.19, +47.27%
 Crosbyton; $6,343.96, +38.71%
 Lorenzo; $1,774.90, +47.11%
 Ralls; $6,508.37, +34.22%
 Abernathy; $6,561.16, +33.41%
 Hale Center; $2,480.77, +1.25%
 Petersburg; $2,248.53, +41.66%
 Plainview; $144,599.92, +16.97%
 Idalou; $3,444.39, +32.01%
 Lubbock; $1,138,658.27, +20.12%
 Matador; $1,665.33, +61.58%
 Roaring Springs; $721.90, -37.82%
 Tulia; $17,223.57, +37.26%

More than $88 million in local sales tax rebates went back to the 960 Texas cities during the month, according to the state comptroller's office. Checks for this month represent taxes collected on May sales reported by June 15 by businesses filing monthly returns.

Sales taxes are collected by merchants and forwarded to the state which retains a 6.25 percent share and returns

Lockney schools slate educational screenings

PRE-SCREENING FOR PRE-KINDERGARTEN
Pre-screening for pre-kindergarten has been set for Wednesday, August 7 from 8:30 - 3:00 in the Lockney Elementary cafeteria.

Students must qualify on the following criteria: Child must be 4 years old by September 1, 1991; The child does not speak or comprehend the English language or the family income is at or below subsistence and would qualify for the free and reduced-price lunches.

Parents should bring a birth certificate for verification and immunization records must also be provided.

"This is a new program at Lockney Elementary School and will be provided if needed. Parents with children that qualify for pre-kindergarten are urged to pre-register them on Wednesday, August 7th," stated Mrs. Evans, principal at Lockney Elementary.

EARLY CHILDHOOD SCREENING
Early Education Screenings will also be held at Lockney Elementary School on Wednesday, August 7 from 8:30 - 3:00 p.m.

The purpose of this screening will be to determine those children who are eligible for the Early Education Program. Regulations for the program are: The child must be 3 years old at the time of placement in the Early Education Program; The child must have one or more of the following: A speech problem; a medical problem, or a physical problem which has impaired their development significantly.

If your child has one of these problems and is of the correct age please bring him or her to Lockney Elementary School.

The Early Education Program is a part of the Lockney School District and will help prepare children for successful entry into the regular school program when they reach the appropriate age.

If you are interested in either the Pre-Kindergarten screening or the Early Childhood screening and need further information call the Lockney Elementary School at 652-3321.

Lockney cheerleaders attend camp

The 1991-92 Lockney Longhorn Varsity and Junior Varsity cheerleading squads attended NCA Cheerleading Camp at Eastern New Mexico University in Portales July 16-19.

Each day began with cheerobics, followed by partner stunts and cheer and chant class. Each squad learned two cheers and three chants per day. They also learned two dances and the NCA spirit dance. Every day was filled with fun, but tiring, activities for each squad as well as a chance to meet other squads.

Following dinner each night was evaluation. Both squads were evaluated on a cheer and chant they had learned that day. They were evaluated on a home cheer the first night (a cheer the squads have done before). The second night the squads had to incorporate a jump into a new cheer they had learned that day. The third night the squads had to incorporate a stunt into a new cheer they had learned the third day.

Each night both squads earned a superior rating (blue ribbon).

In between learning all the cheers chants and dances, the squads had to make up a creativity cheer. The words were provided, but they had to come up with their own motions. Both squads were evaluated on their creativity cheer on the last day and both received a superior rating.

The junior varsity squad received a spirit stick on the second day of the camp and were able to bring it home with them on the final day.

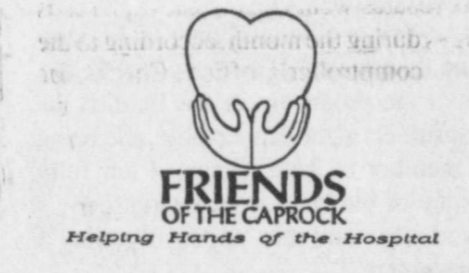

"Both squads did an excellent job at camp. These four days are long, hot, and very tiring. Each squad is to be commended for a job well done," says Pam Fulton, sponsor.

Saturday, July 27, the Varsity squad attended a one day clinic at West Texas State University in Canyon. They learned three cheers, two chants and a dance. They were evaluated at the end of the clinic on a home cheer.

The squad was presented with a spirit stick for being the most spirited. Jennifer Fortenberry received a megaphone for being the outstanding varsity cheerleader of the camp.

"The Lockney High School Cheerleaders would like to take this opportunity to tell everyone to come out and watch the games with them. We are looking forward to a very exciting and eventful season. Come watch and support the 1991-92 Lockney Longhorn football teams," says Fulton.

Tank registration

Ninety day amnesty announced

The Texas Water Commission has announced that beginning immediately, owners of underground and above-ground storage tanks who have not yet registered their tanks with the state agency may do so without penalty for late registration until October 15, 1991.

"Many individuals or small business owners who own and operate tanks, or who have unused tanks on their property, have not registered the tanks with the TWC because of lack of knowledge regarding registration requirements or a fear of penalties for late registration," said TWC Executive Director Allen Beinke. "Because our main goal is for every tank to be properly registered in order to protect the environment, we are granting this short 'grace period' for owners to voluntarily comply with the law."

Owners of underground storage tanks that contain petroleum and other hazardous substances have been required since 1987 to register those tanks with the Texas Water Commission. Tanks not currently in use, but not properly closed out according to TWC standards, also must be registered. In addition, above ground storage tanks that contain motor fuel-type petroleum products have been required to register with the Commission since 1990.

Only owners of registered petroleum storage tanks are eligible for clean-up reimbursement from the state's petroleum storage tank remediation fund in the event their tanks leak and result in environmental contamination.

After the tank registration "amnesty" period ends on October 15, 1991, owners with unregistered tanks are subject to fines of up to $10,000 per day. The amnesty policy does not apply to persons who have unregistered tanks that are discovered independently by the Texas Water Commission.

Registration requirements do not apply to certain tanks exempted by law or excluded by TWC rules, including small farm and residential tanks of less than 1100 gallons, heating oil tanks, hydraulic lifts, hazardous waste tanks, wastewater treatment tanks, small aboveground storage tanks of less than 1100 gallons, and certain other exempted or excluded tanks.

For more information on registering underground or aboveground storage tanks, please contact the Registration Section of the Petroleum Storage Tank Division of the Texas Water Commission at 512/371-6212.

Deadline nears for registration for Family Land Heritage Program

Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry issued a reminder that the deadline for participation in this year's Family Land Heritage Program is Friday, Aug. 16, 1991.

"The Family Land Heritage Program honors those families who have actively maintained agricultural production on their land for 100 years or more," Perry said. "By participating in this program, Texas farmers and ranchers can preserve and record the rich agricultural heritage of their families."

Basic requirements for participation in the program include continuous agricultural production on the farm/ranch for 100 years or more, land ownership within the family, and complete operation or supervision of the land production by family members who are Texas residents. The farm property must also be at least 10 acres with a minimum of $50 income from agricultural products or if less than 10 acres, sales must total at least $250 a year. If all of the land was ever leased to someone outside the family it will not qualify.

"Since the program began in 1974, more than 2,500 properties throughout the state have qualified for this honor," Perry said. "This year's honorees will receive certificates of recognition in October at the annual Family Land Heritage ceremony in Austin."

Texas residents who own agricultural property they think might qualify for the program, may obtain application forms and information about the program from their local county judge or county Historical Commission chairman. Applications and supporting documents must be certified by the county judge of the county in which the land is located.

Forms and information may also be obtained from any Texas Department of Agriculture district office or the main Austin TDA office, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711. TDA is the final judge on eligibility.

Water Commission advocates treatment of soil contamination

The Texas Water Commission is encouraging the use of alternative methods in the treatment of soil contaminated by hydrocarbons, a type of contamination often resulting from leaking petroleum storage tanks. The traditional method used consists of excavating the contaminated soil and disposing of it at a municipal landfill.

"Due to the large volumes of soil involved and the relatively low contaminant levels in the soil in many instances of leaking petroleum storage tanks, options aside from excavation and landfill disposal may be more economically and environmentally preferable," said Allen Beinke, Executive Director of the Texas Water Commission.

Though disposal at a municipal landfill is a legal and viable disposal alternative for soil contaminated with hydrocarbons, other methods of soil treatment may be utilized for excavated soil or even soil remaining in the ground at the contamination site. By using an alternate treatment method, owners and operators of leaking petroleum storage tanks may benefit from more reasonable treatment costs and from possible reduced liability associated with landfill disposal. Additionally, in most cases, tank owners and operators who use alternative treatment methods are eligible for reimbursement from the state's petroleum storage tank reimbursement fund.

The Texas Water Commission has developed guidance for the use of some alternative technologies and is currently developing policies governing the disposal options for petroleum storage tank wastes. For further information regarding remediation of soil contaminated by leaking petroleum storage tanks, please contact the Responsible Party Remediation Section, Petroleum Storage Tank Division of the Texas Water Commission at 512/371-6257.

Commissioner fights to keep pesticide regulations at TDA

Commissioner Rick Perry is urging members of the Legislature to resist efforts to move pesticide regulation from the Texas Department of Agriculture.

Perry said he is hopeful that legislators will turn a thumbs down to a recommendation from Comptroller John Sharp that would place regulatory authority for pesticide use at a proposed new Department of the Environment or DOE.

The Comptroller's Office proposed creating the DOE by merging a number of other state agencies and programs. Under the proposal as approved by the Texas Senate, oversight of the department — and its regulations — would come from gubernatorial appointees and an executive director hired by the governor. That, Perry said, would lessen accountability for the pesticide program.

"Let's leave responsibility for pesticide use under an elected official — who is directly accountable to the people of Texas. Let's not place this important duty in the hands of a mega-bureaucracy."

Moving pesticide regulation, Perry said, would not be in the best interests of agricultural producers, consumers — or taxpayers as a whole.

"Creation of the DOE is aimed at cost-effectiveness. But to move pesticide regulation would not produce any cost-savings," Perry said, "and it certainly would not be more efficient. In fact, this move would cost the state more than half a million dollars each year."

"The typical agricultural pesticide user does not have the resources or time to work with a complex bureaucracy. Agriculture needs to be able to work with an accessible and knowledgeable entity such as TDA," Perry said, noting that TDA has offices throughout the state to serve constituents' needs at the local level.

"Agriculture is different," the commissioner said. "We're not like any other industry. Agricultural pesticide users must be provided specialized expertise and information to determine types of chemicals that should or should not be used and how."

"Even with a new Department of the Environment, staff would still have to seek assistance from TDA for this type of expertise — creating a burdensome layer of bureaucratic red tape."

"In short, moving pesticide regulation would reduce efficiency and responsiveness," Perry said.

Perry noted that in 41 of the 50 states, pesticide programs are administered by the state departments of agriculture. The reason? It works.

"We're taking care of business," the commissioner said. "We're doing the most effective and efficient job possible in administering pesticide laws in Texas. There's no reason whatsoever to move this responsibility somewhere else."

"The bottom line is, 'if it ain't broke, don't fix it,'" Perry said.

TDA has program to benefit agriculture and Texas economy

By Rick Perry, Texas Agriculture Commissioner

As Texas' Commissioner of Agriculture, I represent all the people of Texas, from the producers in the field to the consumers at the supper table, and being a member of both groups, I am fully aware of the challenges facing today's producers and the needs of today's consumers.

I've been actively involved in my family's Haskell County farm and ranch operations for most of my life. The daily decisions I face — as well as the ups and downs inherent in the industry — introduced me to the challenges and opportunities in Texas agriculture.

Entering the farming and ranching business today is no easier a task than it was 100 years ago. We cannot control the amount of rain we receive or what the market does. And it's still difficult today to obtain conventional financing for farm and ranch operations.

But in order to foster innovation and adaptation to changing economic and environmental conditions, the state of Texas has established sources of capital for business start-ups and expansions and to finance agricultural producers who introduce new crops and production methods. These programs, like the Texas Department of Agriculture's Texas Agricultural Finance Authority, Linked Deposit Loan, Rural Microenterprise and Texas Agricultural Diversification programs offer lenders and producers opportunities to develop creative solutions for financing new agricultural ventures.

The Texas Agricultural Finance Authority makes available financing through loan guarantees for projects contributing to the processing of Texas food and fiber products. Loans from $30,000 to $2 million are dedicated to these processing ventures, crop and livestock marketing enterprises and new crop and livestock production development. Just recently, the State Bond Review Board authorized the authority to issue $25 million in general obligation bonds.

The Texas Agricultural Diversification Matching Grants program is designed to help diversify Texas agriculture by providing matching grants to eligible projects aimed at transferring newly developed agricultural crops and technologies to the marketplace, including soil, water and energy conservation. The program also establishes small business incubators in rural areas. Grants are made in the areas of research and innovation, as well as business assistance. Since the program was implemented in 1988, TDA has awarded 63 grants totaling $750,000. Those grants were matched with private funds totaling more than $3 million and have the potential to generate substantial economic activity and expand markets for Texas food and fiber products.

The Linked Deposit Loan program, administered jointly with the Texas State Treasury, was begun in 1988 to offer incentives to the state's banks to lend to agricultural businesses. Under the terms of the program, an alternative crop producer could receive a loan of up to $100,000, and an agricultural processor or marketer can secure up to $250,000 to be deposited with the financial institution with which he or she has obtained a production, processing or marketing loan. The financial institution in turn agrees to reduce the interest rate on that portion of the loan. Since the program began, 42 projects have received funding totaling $4.6 million.

The Rural Microenterprise Program, a new program to be in operation by the fall of 1991, is designed to stimulate the growth of small businesses in rural Texas. Through a loan-to-lenders program, a revolving loan fund will be established. The Microenterprise fund is supported by $5 million in general obligation bonds, with maximum loan amounts at $30,000 for business expansions and $15,000 for business start-ups. These loans funds are available for all types of small business located in rural communities. The fund is intended to work cooperatively with local non-profits, such as business incubators, councils of government, community colleges and other local agencies.

The Young Farmer Endowment Program, scheduled to begin Jan. 1, establishes an interest-free loan program for Texans between the ages of 18 and 40 who have four years of practical farm or ranch experience and who want to establish their first farming or ranching operation. A $5 increase in farm license tag fees will be earmarked for the endowment program. Applicants must submit a 10-year plan to their local county agricultural extension agent and then to the Texas Agricultural Finance Authority for final approval. The loan must be repaid within 15 years.

From those of us who have grown up on farms and ranches, to those researchers and small business entrepreneurs, these programs illustrate how state government, and the private sector can enhance economic growth. At TDA, we'll continue to encourage innovation and welcome new ideas. For more ideas about any of these financing programs, contact us at P.O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711, or call (512) 463-7624.

Bounty ready for consumers at two local farmers markets

Succulent fruits and vine-ripened vegetables are now available at Farmer's Markets located in Plainview and Lubbock.

The Farmer's Market at Plainview is open on Wednesday and Saturday from 8:00 a.m. until sellout. The market is located on the Walmart parking lot directly west of Burger King.

The Farmer's Market in Lubbock will open Saturday, August 3rd at their new location at 120th Street and South University. The market will be open to the public on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays from 8:00 a.m. to sellout.

"Come early." Usually the good-tasting, fresh from the garden produce items do not last long.

The High Plains market in Lubbock, now in its 7th year of operation, is certified by the Texas Department of Agriculture and accepts food stamps. The markets provide consumers with high quality produce and growers with local outlets for their products.

"TDA assists the markets with operational and technical information and joins with the Texas Agriculture Extension Service in helping to improve the opportunity for area producers to make a profit," Perry said.

"The spring, summer and fall growing seasons allow Texas farmers many months to sell their goods and provide consumers with statewide sources to select the best locally produced fruits and vegetables," Perry said.

MARK BECK

Services for Mark Wesley Beck, 33, of Abernathy were held at 3 p.m. Friday in the First United Methodist Church in Abernathy with the Rev. Steve Campbell, pastor, and Rev. Frank Oglesby, a retired Methodist minister, officiating.

Burial was held in Abernathy Cemetery under the direction of Chambers Funeral Home.

Beck died Wednesday, July 24, in Lubbock of injuries suffered in an accident. According to reports, Beck, a paramedic, was standing on the rear bumper of the ambulance as the driver was attempting to maneuver under a canopy at the Lubbock Hospitality House. He was checking for clearance and had apparently did not notice a steel beam that hung below the edge of the canopy. Reports stated that his head was caught between the beam and the top of the ambulance. He was pronounced dead at University Medical Center about 11:30 a.m.

He worked for Lubbock EMS for approximately six years and owned Beck Brick in Abernathy. Beck had taught EMT and ECA classes in Lockney as well as other towns in the area. The Lockney Volunteer Fire Department has eight certified EMT's and 8 certified ECA's that received their training from Beck. He had taught emergency techniques at Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center. He was a volunteer and director of the Abernathy EMS and a member of the First United Methodist Church.

He was born in Crowell January 4, 1958. He graduated from Plainview High School in 1976 and moved from Plainview to Abernathy in 1978. He married Connie Stephens on December 25, 1987 in Seminole.

Survivors include his wife; his father, Rev. Tommie Beck of Lockney; a sister, Tommy Hobbs of Odessa; and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Finis Wrinkle of Childress.

Pallbearers were Jackie Buck, Daniel Castleman, Don Pharr, Keith Lambert, Marvin Turner and Dana Hill.

Honorary pallbearers will be area EMS personnel.

The family suggests memorials to the Abernathy EMS, or to the Mark Beck Memorial Fund which has been established at the Whisperwood National Bank in Lubbock.

ANITA GAITHER

Services for Anita Marie Gaither, 52, of Floydada were at 10 a.m. Friday, July 26, in Bible Baptist Church with the Rev. Howell Farnsworth, pastor of First Baptist Church, officiating.

Burial was in Floyd County Memorial Park under direction of Moore-Rose-White Funeral Home.

Mrs. Gaither died Tuesday, July 23, 1991, in her residence after a lengthy illness.

She was born in Muleshoe and moved to Floyd County from Plainview in 1958. She was a member of Bible Baptist Church. She married Buddy Gaither in 1967 in Floydada.

Survivors include her husband; two daughters, Tanya Pierce of Paris and Angela Dunavant of Rudy, Ark.; five sisters, Betty Tiffie, Patricia Kimberling and Carolyn Nishiyama, all of Marillo, Geraldine Newman of Hulbert, Okla., and Nell Luper of Glendale, Ariz.; two brothers, Bob Williams of Odessa and Jack Williams of Plainview; and two grandchildren.

MARY COLLIS GOODE

Mary Collis Goode, longtime resident of Barwise Community, died in Temecula, Calif., July 23 following a lengthy illness.

A native of Hill County, Texas, she moved to Floyd County in 1925.

Mrs. Goode is survived by one daughter, Dr. Billie Blair of Temecula, Calif.; one granddaughter, Whitney Blair of Canada; three sisters, Eunice Robbins and Gladys Hammonds of Nederland and Edna Goode of Plainview.

ANNIE MAHAGAN

Services for Annie Collene Mahagan, 56, of Lockney were at 10 a.m. Wednesday, July 31, in First Baptist Church with the Rev. Edd Plants, pastor of Claytonville's First Baptist Church, officiating.

Burial was in Plainview's Parklawn Memorial Park under direction of Moore-Rose-White Funeral Home.

She died Sunday afternoon, July 28, 1991, in Lubbock's St. Mary of the Plains Hospital after a brief illness.

She was born in Baylor County on Jan. 1, 1935. She attended Lockney schools and married Richard Mahagan Feb. 18, 1953, in Plainview. She was a homemaker and a Baptist.

Survivors include her husband; two daughters, Vonda McLaughlin of Lockney and Leticia Torres of Dallas; a son, Ronald of Plainview; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Dipprey of Lockney; two brothers, Dub Dipprey and Charles Dipprey, both of Lockney; and two grandchildren.

Pallbearers were Rod Ramsower, Lonnie Cannon, Randall Stapp, Darrell Edwards, Todd Dipprey and Tyke Dipprey.

DOVIE NEFF

Services for former Floydada resident, Dovie Lee Neff, 77, of Crosbyton were at 10:30 a.m. Monday, July 29, in First Baptist Church with the Rev. Troy Neff, pastor of First Church of the Nazarene in Benton, Ark., officiating.

The Rev. Jim Neff, a Baptist minister from Plainview, assisted. Burial was in McAdoo Cemetery under direction of Adams Funeral Home of Crosbyton.

Mrs. Neff died at 7:35 p.m. Thursday, July 25, in Crosbyton Hospital after a lengthy illness.

She was born in Gonzales and moved from Portales, N.M., to Crosbyton in 1986. She married Archie C. Neff on Feb. 17, 1962, in Oklahoma. She was a homemaker and member of the Pentecostal Church. A son, Randy Jack Paty, died in 1974.

Survivors include her husband; three sons, Harry Paty of Stockton, Calif., Tommy Paty and Basil Paty, both of Riverbank, Calif.; a daughter, Billie Hickman of Crosbyton; a stepson, Troy Neff of Benton; two stepdaughters, Trudy St. Clair of Houston and Virginia Cross of San Antonio; 20 grandchildren; and 25 great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers were Gary Pate, John Hickman, Jan Whtaker, Tim Paty, Wayne Teague, Pat Smith, Print Boswell and John Burrow.

MONTY SMITH

Funeral services for Monty Dale Smith, 28, of Rogers, Arkansas were at 2 p.m. Monday, July 22, 1991, at the Callison - Lough Funeral Chapel in Rogers, Arkansas with Rev. R.V. Haygood, officiating. Interment was in the Union Chapel Cemetery near Garfield, Arkansas.

Mr. Smith died Friday, July 19, 1991 at St. Mary - Rogers Memorial Hospital. He was born June 6, 1963 in Plainview.

He was a member of the First Baptist Church in Garfield, Arkansas, was assistant manager of Thriftway South in Rogers and moved to this area in 1986 from Lockney.

Survivors include his wife, Yvonna Kay (Edens) Smith; his parents, Joe Dale and Kathy Smith of Mena, Arkansas; two brothers, Jerry Smith of Gilbert, Arizona and Rodney Smith of Lockney; one sister, Kimberly Perry of Plainview his paternal grandparents, W.R. Sr. and Myrtle Smith of Mena, Arkansas and a host of aunts, uncles and cousins.

which he had just moved a 12X14 boxed house on.

"We soon came to terms and it was mine. We felt we could not live in a room that size, so we planned to dig a cellar and move the house over the cellar, raise two feet on posts and under pin and drag up walls of dirt to shed water and make steps on the southside down into the cellar.

"We cooked and ate in the cellar and went up into the house to sleep. In times of heavy snows or rain we found it very disagreeable to go outside around and down into the cellar. A trap door was cut through the floor and when she was ready she would drop through and I'd catch her. We would be warm and dry in the cellar.

"She (Marcella) has lived in cow camps till she was 14, had cared for an invalid mother for some years, then a boarding house in Weatherford, Texas for six years before moving to Floyd County, so she was a real corner-cutter. For 2 years we bucked the odds and got by with no indebtedness by my selling my interest in the abstract to my partner, working at pick-up jobs and helping at the McCarty ranch, when needed. I borrowed a sod and plow and turned the 20 acres and planted most of it in yellow corn. It got no plowing or hoeing but yielded 30 bu. per acre. When shucked and shelled, I had ready sale at the mill to be ground for bread."

After his marriage, John was ordained as a Methodist minister in 1906 and practiced as the circuit preacher over four counties for several years. One daughter, Vaughan Evelina West Murff (now living at West Gate Nursing Home in Hereford) was born, in 1905, in the dugout shaded by the Mulberry tree.

After Vaughan's birth the family moved to another farm 1 1/2 miles north of Floydada (now Cecil Hagood's). John and Marcella had more children: Hester Dale West Moore (also living in Hereford at Kings Manor); John Key West, still living in Floydada; Benjamin Franklin West (deceased); Marcella Ione West Young (of California); and Philip Edgar West (deceased).

John Key West, known throughout Floydada as J.K. West, was born March 28, 1911, and is the only West still living in Floydada. In 1917, J.K.'s father moved his family to town to give his children school advantages.

"In 1921 my father bought the old Methodist Church and moved it to South 3rd Street," said J.K. "He made a two story house out of it and we moved in."

"I went to school in Floydada and as a freshman I started working at the Curbanks and Sims Dairy (located where the John Deere House is now)." J.K. graduated from Floydada High School in 1929 and attended John Tarleton College where he graduated in 1931.

J.K. married Madge Dorsey January 22, 1933 and still refers to her as "Miss America." In the Floyd County history book, J.K. says, "We (he and Madge) moved to the South Plains Community and started farming on the halves for my father."

"Madge, who had never lived on a farm, adjusted to farm life quickly and has helped me do all kinds of farm work such as: head maize, pull bolls, drive tractor, milk cows, raise gardens, work cattle, and has been a wonderful wife, mother, counselor, and homemaker....

"Our first produce was brought to town to trade for groceries. We received 4¢ a dozen for eggs, 7¢ a pound for cream and bought gas for 6¢ a gallon."

J.K. and Madge had four children. A daughter Madge Ann, now Mrs. Kenneth Bean; and sons John Muncy, Winfred Alva and Chester Dale. Winfred was killed in a tragic accident in April, 1965.

For nearly 40 years, J.K. farmed. He retired in 1967 when he turned the farming over to his sons, and went into a livestock operation known as the "The Rockin K'." "We operated ranches in Floyd, Briscoe, and Donley Counties in Texas and in Union County in New Mexico. After losing our grass leases, Madge and I moved to Floydada and went into the construction business." Madge designed the homes, and J.K. looked after the "odds and ends."

"I built all those homes south of Dairy

(The following was written for Levis Gilliland by his granddaughter, Connie Kay Gilliland. Mr. Gilliland died July 22, 1991.)

Growing old is something no one can avoid. My Grandfather, whom I call Papa, is a man that was forced to age much quicker than nature had intended. Due to an unfortunate accident which changed his life drastically, the Papa I remembered ten years ago, bears no resemblance to the man I see today.

Before the accident, Papa was a rugged man that often resembled the character of John Wayne. He had dark leathured skin, which was a result of his many hours laboring in the hot sun. Even though Papa's hands were rough like sandpaper, his touch was very soft and gentle. Papa was born with only three fingers on his right but this didn't slow him down any because his determination was strong.

I really valued the moments that my papa and I had together. The time we spent together was often occupied by going to the small town ice cream parlor, eating ice cream until our tummies could no longer hold any more. Another activity I vividly remember is sitting in his old run down shed, eating the freshly picked tomatoes. But in time, this all changed. In the mid 1970's, Papa was involved in a life changing accident. He was going about his daily business, repairing old windmills, when one of the blades fell, striking him on the back, leaving Papa paralyzed for life.

Papa could no longer move any part of his body from his waist down. With this loss of mobility Papa also lost his independence and had to learn to rely on others to achieve his routine tasks. My grandfather would sit in his wheelchair like a defeated man, feeling useless.

Time was taking its toll and before long, the man he used to be was slowly fading away. His tan leathured skin grew pale and eventually his bone structure became more apparent. Papa always had a certain glitter to his curly light brown hair but even that was turning to a dull grey shade.

The past two years have only continued to decline and each day something new pops up, but Papa tries to keep a positive attitude about the years he has ahead of him. Papa takes one day at a time and rarely seems to dwell on the past. Whether its playing dominos in a smoky room or fishing in murky pond, my Papa always lives each day to its fullest. One thing I have learned from Papa is to never give up no matter how bleak things may look.

come and go through Floydada. "We grew up together," said J.K. "but the tree has lived a whole lot longer and done a whole lot more good than me. It has shaded a lot of people."

It seems appropriate that this Mulberry tree will be remembered for the shade and comfort it has provided families over many years, and the homes that J.K. built will be remembered for the same reason.

Bus tour to "TEXAS" planned by Crosbyton Chamber of Commerce

"Because several of our friends from Floydada have joined us on past trips to a performance of "TEXAS" at Palo Duro Canyon and others have asked to be informed when another trip is planned, we are announcing a trip August 15." Ruby Swindall, manager of the Crosbyton Chamber of Commerce said this week.

Mrs. Swindall said the chartered bus from Crosbyton passes through Floydada on its way to Palo Duro and in the past has stopped at the Pay-n-Save parking lot on Second Street, to pick up persons from the Floydada area joining the group.

A minimum of 36 persons must make and pay for their reservations for the trip to be assured.

Cost of the trip, including roundtrip transportation and admission to the show, will be $20 per person. It does not include any meals or snacks.

"We must have paid reservations in hand before we can make a final commitment on the bus," Ruby Swindall, CofC manager said.

"Persons wishing to make the trip to see the production should come by or mail their reservations and payment to the Chamber office at 115 S. Ayshire, Crosbyton, TX 79322.

"All payments will be held by the Chamber so that checks can be returned and cash payments refunded immediately if the required 36 persons do not sign up for the trip," she added.

The bus will arrive at the Pay-n-Save parking lot in Floydada about 4:45 p.m., Mrs. Swindall noted.

It will depart Palo Duro Canyon for the trip back home immediately following the conclusion of the show.

Anyone wishing to make reservations for the August 15 trip should get in touch with the Crosbyton Chamber of Commerce as soon as possible. The telephone number is (806) 675-2261.

Martin pays tribute to our public servants

By Will Martin

I may not put these people in order of importance to some people. To me they are all important in their various callings.

I shall begin with the law of early days. In fact it was the sheriff that impressed a small boy, as myself, more than anything else. When we would go to town my parents and brother would tell me if I didn't leave this or that alone that the sheriff would get me. They would not tell me that the law was for our protection, as well as for our good; it was just a way to keep a small boy, as myself, in control.

Since I have become a grown man, I don't think that was the right way to make a child behave. I am not perfect, but the children mama and I tried to win the respect of, our children, was by kindness and setting an example before them.

A sheriff in the early days of Floyd County was respected and counted on by more people to keep the peace, be a friend and protect everyone in trouble than anyone else. Of course he had deputies to help him.

Newt McPeak was an early day deputy for J.A. Grigsby. His brother and wife, Bird and Daisy McPeak were friends and neighbors to the Wes Martin family. We visited the Bird McPeak family quite a bit and they visited our family often. Newt often brought them to our house and left Daisy to spend the afternoon with Mama. So it is understandable that we got most of the grapevine gossip of the whole county along with the facts.

Newt (S.N.) McPeak was a good man and honest as far as I know. His brother, Bird "L.B." told a joke on him one time in my hearing. Newt also farmed, as well as being a deputy to Mr. Grigsby; another good man and honest.

Newt's farm was just north of the graveyard and the rows of his crop ran east and west, ending on the Silverton road. When his crop of rhaize was about waist high, Newt was boasting about how free of weeds his maize crop was. In a few nights it came a high wind and a terrible hailstorm that laid the crop flat. About 200 yards up the rows were weeds thick and high and no maize in sight. For some reason hail won't hurt some types of weeds. So Newt was caught in his boast.

We had many sheriffs' in the space of my memory but I don't have the room to name but just a few, no disrespect to the one's I don't name.

J.A. Grigsby was a sheriff when I was in the 5th and 6th grade. I remember him so well because he had a son "Albert" in the same grade I was. Another thing was Mr. Grigsby put several boys in jail the first day of his tenure. They pulled some sort of stunt to try out the new law. His own son, Ernest, I think was one of them. He kept them overnight and gave them a good lecture on respecting the law. Pardon me if I named the wrong son. I only knew Albert and Ernest by name. I think Albert was too young to try a trick like that and beside the school grapevine would have told on him.

One good sheriff I shall name was J.R. Maddox, the father of two girls I started school with. The one I started school with my first year of school was Dola. When she was grown she married Hayes O'Neal. They first had a furniture store where the Hesperian is now. I think I am right about that. Later Hayes and Dola had a drugstore in the lobby of the Palace Theater. Hayes ran the drugstore and fell to a serious disease and passed away. Dola later married Jack Lackey who was for several years a county commissioner. He died a few years ago. To my knowledge, and knowing Dola as I have these many years, she has been a very fine and sweet person.

I failed my first year of school and Dola stayed a year ahead of me until we both finished. Dola's younger sister, Evelyn, started in my second year and we went through school the same year, 1928. She married Jack Deakens and they operated the Palace Theatre many years and the Old Ritz picture show a few years. Evelyn was considered Floydada's babysitter for so many years. She was so kind and sweet with children. She was so kind and sweet and friendly with everyone in all the years I knew her.

Mr. Maddox was found to be one of the best lawmen as anyone capable of having two sweet girls as he had. I don't remember the exact year Evelyn died. I sure miss her as I am sure others that knew her have.

Shame on me for not putting Claude Goen's name as one of the very best sheriffs we had. Mr. Goen was one square dealing man I shall never forget. He certainly dealt straight with everyone and left a good memory. He was another one who upheld the law.

Mr. and Mrs. Goen had two sons that went to school the same years that I was in school. Both of them were good boys and made dandy peaceful citizens when they became men. Polk Goen was the eldest and Papa to Dale Goen, the insurance man who is a dandy citizen in Floydada. Woodrow, a younger brother to Polk, was a good man and a successful person. If he and his wife, had any children I never knew them. Bud operated a drugstore at one time.

Let us not forget Fred Cardinal, the present lawman. If anyone has anything against him I have never heard it. He likes to tease me, as many who know me sure get a kick out of jesting with me. Fred might see me in the grocery store and say to me, "Be sure and keep your hands in your pockets and not let them get to rambling."

Fred has a very nice family. To me, Fred has made one of the best sheriffs Floyd County has ever had.

The reason I have taken up so much room about the families of the past lawmen was I believe the children of the man are generally a chip off the old block. You can see from reading this that I had a very good opinion of the law in days gone by and now. I left out that you can get a better picture of the Cardinals by reading the article in the Floyd County history book. Pardon my dumbness if you will.

I was about to forget the early sheriffs were also assessor and county tax collectors.

I don't remember when Floydada and Lockney got their first motorized lawmen. But I do remember when we probably got our first night watchman for the city.

Lee Howard was the first watchman I remember. His papa J.W. Howard was County Judge, I think before Lee was in office. Seaton Howard, his youngest brother, finished high school the same year I did. Seaton spent most of his working years in the grain elevator business. Henry Edwards was the man he began with. Seaton lives at Petersburg now.

When we had a night watchman most of the businesses were all pretty close to the courthouse around the square. There were only two streets paved except the brick paving around the courthouse.

Lee began his work after all the businesses had closed for the night. He started out by testing the locks on each door to see if they were locked. If a door was not locked he would notify the owner by, I suppose going to the courthouse where I suppose they had an outside phone for such purposes as that. The owner would come down and lock the place.

Lee had to make his rounds, I believe every two hours and punch a time clock to show he was on the job faithfully. I am sure someone would check the time clock every day.

Lee was watchman several years and made a very good officer. After Lee stopped that job he was elected sheriff for some time, I don't remember how long but he was also a good lawman at that.

Now I dread to see a patrol car blinking his lights and sounding their siren, even if they are not after me. But I know they serve a good purpose and we could hardly do without them. We must have both city policemen and highway patrol.

Once in my driving days here in town I made a left hand turn and was hit. The officer was nice and polite but that didn't knock even 50 cents off my fine. Once I was stopped coming from Plainview for a license check. Everything was ok, but the officer had to boost my old pickup off to get me out of the way. The patrolman said he was sorry he stopped me.

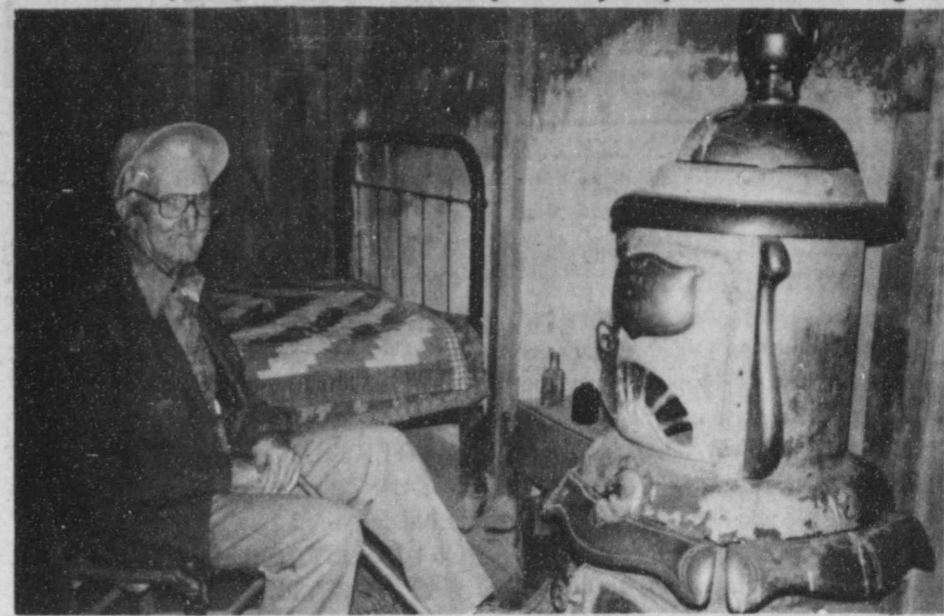

I have a grandson that is a patrolman in Wolforth. I haven't been over there and don't aim to go. As I said before "I think" we couldn't get along without motorized policemen this day in time.

Back when we had that bad storm in the spring made me realize just how much we depend on one another. We are not all able to take care of ourselves and must depend on someone, either hired or the ones who volunteer their help in dangerous situations, to be helpful to us when needed.

As I mentioned the different ones in law enforcement are those who help to keep things more peaceful and safe for each of us.

Now I take my hat off to both companies who furnish us with light and power, when we have a storm with wind, hail, lightning, and anything else that nature sees fit to bring, including tornadoes. I feel for these people who risk their life in all kinds of weather, both night and day.

The time that I spoke of, light poles were knocked down and cut off the power to all homes and all business places. Lightning was flashing everywhere. But these men worked on until every burned out transformer was replaced and every pole was put in place. It has been proved that lightning kills more people every year than are killed by tornadoes every year. Tornadoes are more spectacular and can kill more people at one time than lightning usually does. Speaking of tornadoes, the law and persons not paid try to spot tornadoes and give people warning of one that may be dangerous.

Most everyone remembers or heard of the time that fire burned the buildings on the whole west side of the courthouse. This has been told many times but I don't think it hurts to be reminded again of all historical happenings.

This fire took place some time in 1910. Of course a two-year-old boy could only tell years later what my parents and others told me. They did not have modern fire trucks, hoses and any water wagon as we have now. They only had a windmill and a small tank on the courthouse lawn. People even carried

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to say "Thank You" all for your concern and many prayers said in my behalf. I'm home after many weeks of being in the hospital. I'm weak but getting stronger each day.

The cards you sent were beautiful and up lifting. Most of the time I was so sick I hardly knew who came to visit, but I do appreciate your concern. Sometimes it takes an illness for us to stop and let our friends know we love them and will do anything to help make life more enjoyable for them. Through my illness I found I had so many friends who cared for "me" and did what they could to help me.

I want to thank Bobbie Weir, Sue Chesshir and everyone else who helped at the end of school to complete my work when it was impossible for me to do so.

For all the love and concern expressed through prayers, beautiful get well cards, visits, food, phone calls and gifts. I want to say "Thank You".

The first and greatest commandment is "Love the Lord your God with all your soul and with all your mind," and the second is "Love your neighbor as yourself," and this is what you have shown me and I love you for it.

You have brought a lot of pleasure to my life. Thanks for all your expression of love.

Sincerely

There are no shortcuts to justice

By Edwin Feulner

To ease prison overcrowding in the mid 1980s, Texas released thousands of convicted criminals early. "We are simply not going to release anyone who is a threat," parole-board executive John Byrd proclaimed in August 1985.

And, like Dorothy in "The Wizard of Oz," if we close our eyes and click our heels three times, we'll be in Kansas.

Five months after Byrd's pledge of judicial prudence, the board freed Thomas Grettenberg, the notorious "Austin Choker" rapist, sentenced to 123 years for assaulting 14 women. A few months later, he struck again, assaulting a 16-year-old Houston girl.

Such tales have become lore in the growing, gruesome catalogue of early-release policies of states squeezed by bulging prison populations. In the tug-of-war between money and justice, money is emerging as the underdog favorite.

In Illinois in the early 1980s, the state released 21,000 prisoners an average of three months early. A recent study estimates that the premature releases led to 23 murders, 32 rapes, 262 arsons, 681 robberies, and thousands of burglaries and assaults, says Reader's Digest editor Eugene Methvin in the June issue. Illinois' release policy didn't stem crime. And it didn't save the state any money: Harvard researchers figure that the $60 million "saved" eventually cost Illinois crime victims more than $300 million.

As former Attorney General Edwin Meese III has stated, "the continuing crimes of repeat offenders who have been returned to the streets through lenient sentences cost the taxpayers many times more than keeping them in prison; and that is just in economic terms—it doesn't include the tremendous cost in human suffering of innocent victims."

What's the answer? California may offer a clue. During the 1980s, the state spent $3.7 billion to build prisons. The inmate population jumped from 22,600 to 87,300. But the murder rate declined 24 percent, rape 29 percent and burglary 37 percent.

Building more prisons alone won't solve the crime problem, but neither will releasing dangerous criminals.

A society must do more than restrain its most vicious members; it must adequately punish them as well. A recent study reveals that murderers spend an average of about 16 months in jail. No justice system is worth the name if it fails to impose sentences that somehow reflect the seriousness of the crime.

Sometimes, regrettably, justice means using the death penalty. The Bush administration is sponsoring a crime bill that would help make the federal death penalty enforceable—criminals are rarely executed for federal offenses—by codifying the circumstances under which it could be imposed. The bill also would add several federal crimes to the list of offenses punishable by the death penalty, such as kidnapping when a death results or murder during a hostage-taking.

Punishing the guilty is one of the trademarks of a civilized nation. When you punish a man for acts of violence, you treat him not as an animal, but a man—conscious of the responsible for his decisions.

Such is an obligation—not a luxury—of a just society.

Martin pays tribute to our public servants

buckets of water to throw on the fire and wet the fire and throw on the buildings that had not caught fire yet. The tank was soon empty and neighboring windmill tanks were soon dry. We know it was a sickening feeling to stand there and see all that a person owned go up in smoke.

Everyone should be glad we have the modern machinery and plenty of water in all parts of town. But the thing that is greatest is the fire boys operating this equipment, sometimes risking their life and going into a burning house to try to see if there is anyone overcome with smoke and passed out. They also risk the chance of a wall or ceiling falling on them.

We have a grandson who is a fireman at Midland, Texas. He told us how lucky he and three others were in a burning house. Half of the roof fell in, but they were on the lucky side. The firemen in Midland get a pretty good pay. But these boys here, out of the goodness of their heart, volunteer their time and I understand get a small pay for each fire they go to.

Another class of public workers are the people who maintain and keep our highways and other roads in good shape. How they risk their lives when some careless person comes along, breaking the speed limit, and claiming they didn't see the little yellow cones, much less the men working. Even though they have on easy to see colored clothing.

If the sun was blinding their vision they should be driving slower and they should watch their driving closer. I realize a person can make a fatal mistake sometimes and be perfectly blameless.

There are other public servants that are very useful and we must have them to try and make the wheels of progress go around. They are just as useful as the ones I have named. I named the ones that struck my personal fancy. Not that these named are of more importance than the ones not named.

People work harder and smarter, if they find their work satisfying and know that it is appreciated.

Hot off the press!

Use this week to study the newspaper and learn how information is gathered and organized. How many different sections do you find in the weekday paper, and what kind of information is in each? What about on the weekend? While you read, try to tell the difference between news reports and other articles that judge, explain, or offer opinions about world and community events.

Conduct an interview with a friend and see if you can sift out fact from opinion. Like a good reporter, learn about topics by asking questions that begin with the words who, what, when, where, why and how.

Ask a friend to cut out stories and photos from the paper and come up with your own headlines and captions that capture attention. Or cut apart news stories and arrange the paragraphs in meaningful order.

What do you think Thomas Jefferson meant when he said, "Were it left to me to decide whether we should have government without newspapers or newspapers without government, I should not hesitate to prefer the latter?"
