TWO INJURED IN MOTORCYCLE WRECK--A San Antonio man and a 12 year old boy were injured Sunday, after the motocycle they were traveling on collided with a goat on Hwy. 207. The duo were on a sightseeing tour and were headed back to San Antonio from North Dakota.

Motorcyclist collides with goat in Sunday afternoon accident

By Alice Gilroy

One man and a child were injured Sunday afternoon when the motorcycle they were traveling on collided with a goat. The accident occurred at approximately 6:00 p.m. Aug. 11, three miles north of Floydada on Hwy. 207.

According to Crosby County Trooper Robert Bybee, "Ronald Lowery, 30, of helmet," said Bybee. San Antonio was driving south on 207, on his Harley-Davidson motorcycle. He was accompanied by a 12-year-old male passenger on the rear of the motorcycle. "Mr. Lowery noticed a goat on the west side of the road and slowed down. When he got close to the goat, the animal decided to go to the east side of the road and darted out in front of the motorcycle. The motorcycle hit and killed the goat and the driver and passenger were thrown from the bike."

The goat was owned by Shannon Shurbet of Floydada.

According to the DPS trooper, Lowery was not wearing approved headgear and received a bad cut on the back of his head. "He was wearing an old WWII

The youth was wearing an approved helmet and received a chin injury and a possible chipped tooth.

Lowery and the boy were returning to San Antonio from a recent sightseeing drive to North Dakota. They were transported to Lockney General Hospital where they were listed in stable condition on Monday.

WOMAN HOSPITALIZED AFTER ACCIDENT--Joyce Loraine Sutton, of Morton, was injured in an accident August 12 at East Houston and Wall. EMT personnel Rhonda Guthrie (inside the cab) and Charles Bradford (to the right of the cab) are seen here applying a brace to Sutton's neck and slipping a backboard under her before removing her from the car and transporting her to Lockney General. County votes with state on Constitutional Amendments

By Juanita Stepp

Floyd County voters turned out in small numbers to vote on the two constitutional amendments on the ballot of the August 10 Special Election. A total of 283 voters cast ballots during the absentee voting period and the twelve hour Saturday voting period in Floyd County.

Amendment #1 passed state wide by a 57.4 percent margin or 467,115 votes. Opponents of the proposed exemptions cast 346,826 votes against the measure. Local voters cast 173 votes for the measure and 110 votes against it.

Amendment #2 was defeated states wide by a 50.42 percent margin. In Floyd County, the vote was 168 against and 111 for the amendment to authorize the sale of general obligation bonds to fund student loans for higher education.

Passage of the first amendment brings into play the County Education District Election held at the same time. Voters in Floyd County overwhelmingly approved the first two propositions on the separate ballot while just as soundly defeating the third.

Proposition one, authorizing an increased homestead exemption passed 148 to 45 in Floydada ISD. Lockney ISD voters passed the proposition 57-30. County Education District totals for Proposition One were 205-75 in favor.

Proposition two, approving the additional exemption for the disabled and elderly home owner, passed 161 to 36 in FISD areas and 63-25 in LISD areas. CED totals were 224-61 in favor.

Proposition three failed to win FISD voters by a vote of 133 to 59. This proposition would have approved the taxation of non-income producing personal property. LISD voters also rejected the measure, voting 55-30 against it. CED totals on the proposition were tallied at 188 against and 89 for.

County proposes 7.99 percent tax increase

By Juanita Stepp

Following a budget work session lasting nearly three hours on Monday, August 12, the Floyd County Commissioners voted unanimously to propose an ad valorem tax rate increase of approximately 7.99 percent. Motion for the proposed increase was made by Precinct 4 Commissioner Howard Bishop with a second by Precinct 1 Commissioner Connie Bearden.

The proposed rate increase would raise Floyd County taxes from the current 33.55 cents per $100 valuation to 36.45 cents per $100 valuation. It would exceed the three percent level requiring only public notification of the increase, but falls just short of the eight percent level which could result in a call for a roll back election. Increases above three percent must be aired at a public hearing prior to adoption of a tax rate.

The date and time for a public hearing concerning the proposed tax rate increase was set by the court. The hearing will be at 9:30 a.m. on Tuesday, August 27, 1991, in the County Courtroom of the Floyd County Courthouse in Floydada. Any resident or taxpayer of the county is welcome to appear at this time to comment on the proposed tax

BUDGET DISCUSSIONS

Commissioners engaged in a prolonged review of the proposed budget for the 1991-92 fiscal year which begins October 1, 1991. The proposed budget, based on a tax base $2 million lower than the tax base for the 1990-91 fiscal year. The court was provided this information in a certified copy of the Floyd County Tax Roll submitted by Chief

Appraiser Shiela Faulkenberry. The roll was approved as presented at the Monday morning session of the county offi-

The decrease in the tax base, lack of carry over funds, inflation and the proposed three percent salary increase for regular full time county employees accounts for the need to increase the taxes. No raises are being contemplated for elected or appointed officials or for part time county employees. Proposed funding for the various departments of the county includes no major increases and

Proof of insurance will be needed to get drivers license, license plates or safety inspection

According to Penny Golightly of the Floyd County Tax Assessor/ Collector's Office in Floydada, September 1, 1991 will usher in a new state regulation which will effect everyone who drives or owns a motor vehicle.

Golightly states, "Effective September 1, 1991, anyone who applies for or renews a drivers license, registers or renews the registration on a motor vehicle or seeks a safety inspection sticker will have to show proof of current insurance on the vehicle."

This means that a document demonstrating current insurance coverage on a vehicle must be presented at the Tax Assessor/Collector's Office when anyone applies for a title on a vehicle or purchases annual license plates for a vehicle. It will also mean that all drivers being tested for the first time must furnish proof of insurance as will anyone renewing their drivers license upon its expiration.

Vehicles needing a safety inspection sticker will be denied one unless the driver or owner can furnish proof of current insurance at the time of the

Hesperian wins awards at WTPA convention

The staff of this Floyd County newspaper was once again recognized for excellence in journalism at the recent West Texas Press Association convention in Fort Worth.

Submitting newspapers from their 1990 publications, The Hesperian competed against weekly newspapers from all over the West Texas Region (extending west from and including Ft. Worth). This is the largest region for a newspaper association in the country.

With 20 points, The Hesperian placed second in the General Excellence Division, next to the Hamlin Herald who earned 22 points. Points were totaled between three classes: overall appearance and makeup, quality of news and headline-cutline writing, and overall quality and placement of pictures.

The judges noted, in their critique of this category, that The Hesperian was a "very attractive paper, well written and does a good job for its community. It garnered 6 points in appearance, 6 in news quality and 6 in photos to demonstrate what a well-rounded product it really is." (10 points was the highest awarded in any division).

Bill Gray earned a 3rd place in his coverage of Floydada sports, and the paper also received a third place in the area of photography.

Overall comments made by the judges were complimentary about the West Texas entries. "West Texas continues to produce some of the best news-

The paper also garnered 2nd in feature papers in the state, as evidenced by this group of entries," said the judges. "There were some quality entries and judging on the General Excellence and sports categories was tough indeed.

> "Some of the things that separated winners from losers included top notch front pages and poorly planned and constructed insides; lack of photos with good news stories; and the lack of consistency on standing heads.

"Overall, however, papers judged were better than average and a credit to their communities."

"With the creation of the County Education Districts (CED) and their taxing power, we don't know exactly what is going to happen for sure."

The local tax rate will be discussed at a public meeting on Thursday, August 15, at 8:00 p.m. in the administrative office board room at 226 W. California. The board is expected to vote to propose a specified tax rate at that time.

Cannon also told those in attendance, "We do know that we are at a disadvantage in the situation due to our low tax rate. Our rate of 78 cents is way below the state average of over $1.20 and our rate for the last year determines our ability to tax this year in conjunction with the CED's rate which is not yet determined."

Prior to the proposal of a tax rate, the board must adopt a budget. This is slated for a public meeting in the library of A. B. Duncan Elementary School at 7:45 a.m. on Wednesday, August 21, 1991.

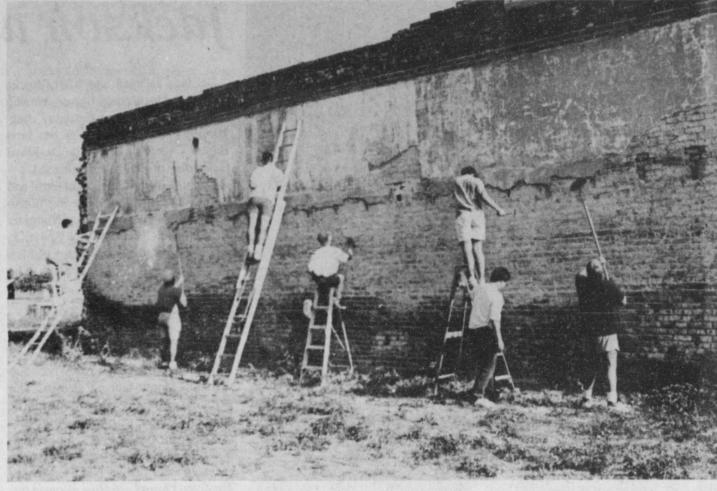

Board members discussed a proposed budget totaling $5,727,929.00. This is the total of the estimates revenues the district hopes to receive this year, as well as The total expenditures FISD estimates for the 1991-92 school year.

Revenues will come from local taxes ($102,625.00) and CED taxes ($823,610), state sources estimated at$4,177,763.00, federal sources such as Chapter I Regular funding ($406,306.00) and Chapter I Migrant funding ($!64,096.00) and miscellaneous local sources including fees and rentals.

Expected expenditures include $1,020,265.00 for Floydada High School, $491,428.00 at the Junior High, $706,812.00 at A. B. Duncan Elementary School, and $85,494.00 at R. C. Andrews Elementary School. Other items being considered and applying to all schools total $268,978.00. Administrative expenses are estimated at $580,803.00, transportation expenses at $190,239.00 and utilities and maintenance expenses at $553,360.00. Under the proposed budget, Chapter I Regular expenditures will total $406,306.00 while Chapter I the flower girl and ring bearer. Brianna wore a floor length crystal white shantung dress with a portrait collar and carried a basket of white petals. Matt carried a needlepoint pillow which was made and given to the bride by Sue Patton. It was decorated with white flowers with orchid centers, orchid lettering, and a white silk shantung ruffle.

Brianna Rankin and Matt Young were

Lee Young was his brother's best man. Groomsmen were Frank Young of Liberal, Kansas, brother of the groom; Morgan Baker and Bob Young of Lubbock, uncles of the groom; Jimmy Young of Oklahoma City and Craig Young of Canadian, cousins of the groom, and Luke Thrasher of Bryan.

Serving as ushers were Bob Lusk of Houston, D.R. Dickey of Austin, Whitney George of Catoosa, Oklahoma, nephew of the groom, and Ed Hedgecoke of Canadian. Candlelighters were Jason Watson, cousin of the bride, and Gabe George, nephew of the groom. Debbie Rankin registered the guests.

Following the ceremony, the bride's parents were hosts for a garden reception at the home. The five-tiered stair step Italian Cream bride's cake was decorated with fresh spider mums and gladiolus and accented with baby's breath. The bridegroom's table featured a chocolate cake decorated with a corvette insignia.

A buffet table held baked ham and croissants, a fresh fruit cascade with fruit dip, a fresh vegetable tray with assorted dips, cheese balls, cheese logs, cheese spread, turkey balls, and assorted crackers. Almond punch, coffee, and ice tea were also served.

Assisting with refreshments were Tricia Purser, Vickie Rivers, Margie Dockray and Trey Johnson.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Morehead chose a mauve street-length chiffon dress accented with crystal beading. Mrs. Young, mother of the groom, wore a floral tea-length dress with a sheered waist and puffed sleeves.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Young are graduates of Canadian High School. The groom is a graduate of Texas Tech University and is employed at Hub City Body Works in Lubbock. The bride has attended St. Edward's University in Austin the past three years and will continue her education at Lubbock Christian University in the fall. They will be at home in Lubbock after a wedding trip to Orlando and Daytona Beach, Florida.

Rebekahs hold regular meeting

By Artie Webb

Floydada Rebekah Lodge met for their regular session Tuesday night, Aug. 6. Lodge opened with Barbara Gilliland and Ruth Gilliland presiding.

Business was discussed and taken care of, then Grace Grundy, Kathy Green and Evalene (Boyd) Goodnight reported on their trip to Abernathy lodge on July 28, when the President of the Rebekah Assembly of Texas, Ora Little, was making her official visit to the District #9 area. They reported a very interesting program.

Under good of the order, Artie Webb gave the program for the week. It was an essay written about Artie Webb from infancy to then. This had been written by Jane Marquis many years ago. She had called Artie's mother and had collected information, some of which Artie didn't even know about.

After the program, Artie served ice cream and cake to the members. Everyone enjoyed the evening reminiscing the 'Good Ole Days.'

Barbara Gilliland will present the program next week.

Public Notice

On July 22, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas for approval of two new optional services, Exchange Connection Service and Customer Alerting Enablement. Exchange Connection Service will permit a customer of the Telephone Company to provide voice messaging service, telephone answering service, or other services to itself or to patrons of the customer. Customer Alerting Enablement will permit residence and business lines to receive an alerting tone (intermittent dial tone) transmitted by an Exchange Connection Service customer. The proposed effective date for this offering is September 23, and will be available statewide where facilities permit.

The calling party's telephone number and other originating network call information will be delivered to the Exchange Connection Service customer when the calling number and the called number are served by the same switch. Additionally, the caller's telephone number and other originating network call information may be recorded and stored by the Exchange Connection Service customer. Customers may be able to identify the caller before the call is answered. All Exchange Connection Service customers will be required to sign a non-disclosure agreement prior to being provided service. In the agreement the customer agrees not to disclose the calling party's telephone number unless the customer has written permission from the

The Telephone Company estimates these new services will increase its annual revenues during the first year by approximately $1.2 million. Providers of voice messaging service and telephone answering services and their subscribers are the types of customers likely to be affected by approval of these services.

Exchange Connection Service is provided to customers in two parts: Local Serving Arrangement, which provides access to the exchange network; and Optional Service Features. These early Baptists met for services in the North Side School building for a time and later worshipped in the Methodist Church, having Baptist services on alternate Sundays. Baptizing was done in a dirt tank or windmill tank.

Early pastors of the church in addition to Bro. Kimbrough were T.E. Leake and D.N. Poole.

In 1897 Rev. R.E.L. Muncy was called as the first resident pastor. He organized the first Sunday School in 1899.

Rev. W.H. Rattan served as pastor in 1900-1902. From 1902 to 1913 the Rev. G.I. Brittain was pastor. During his ministry the church grew and prospered, enabling it to make plans to build. Lots were purchased and the building was completed in 1908. In 1910 the church building was dedicated with all debts paid. "To this group of Christian pioneers this frame building was very auspicious - with its bell tower, two covered entrances, decorative roofline and spotless white paint on the entire building." During the ministry of Bro. Brittain, the first Women's Missionary Union was organized as well as a Baptist Young People's Union.

From 1913-1927 the church was served by the following pastors: John F. Elder, 1914-1915; W.C. Carver, 1916; W.B. McDaniel, 1917-1919; W.A. Darden, 1919-1921; J. Pat Horton, 1921-1925; Edgar Eskridge, 1925-1926; and Clarence F. Morton, 1926. While Bro. Horton was pastor, the church adopted its first budget, $4,000. Additional lots were purchased in 1921.

Rev. W.R. Hill served as pastor in 1927. During his ministry the quarters for Sunday School were enlarged. In June 1928 a building of brick and masonry construction was completed. The Rev. P.D. (Dick) O'Brien was called in 1928 following the resignation of Bro. Hill. He led the church through the first years of the depression. He did all the writing of the Sunday School literature.

In 1932 Rev. S.R. McClung was called to minister to these people. It was a period of great need and a difficult time to meet the budget.

Dr. Vernon Shaw succeeded Bro McClung in 1937 and served until 1941. During his pastorate the first Vacation Bible School was held. In 1941 Rev. L.A. Doyle was called as pastor and by this time the church needed a larger auditorium. Work was begun using the bricks from the old East Ward School building. The first service was held in this sanctuary on November 17, 1946. He was also able to get the Young People's Camp moved from Ceta Canyon to Blanco Canyon.

yon to Blanco Canyon.

Dr. Earl Allen served as pastor from 1950-1956. He was the first pastor to occupy the new parsonage on South Wall Street. The first publication of "The Baptist Voice" was made in 1950 and the first education director was called. During Dr. Allen's ministry ground was broken for a three story educational building in 1954. He also helped establish the systematic library. December of 1956 marked the coming of Dr. Ed B. Bowles as pastor. He started the radio broadcast of the Sunday worship service in 1959.

A Spanish speaking Mission was established in 1957 and has continued to grow. The first pastor of the Mission was Benjamin Vera. Others are Daniel Hernandez, Ramon Asebedo, Dan Gonzales, Eloy Felan and Lupe Rando.

While Bro. Bowles was here the Floydada Lodge was constructed at the Blanco Camp. While he was pastor the church indebtedness was cleared and a homecoming and dedicatory service was held in 1959. He served as pastor until 1961.

Dr. Floyd Bradley was pastor from 1961 to 1983. A new auditorium seating 1000 plus the office and music unit were completed in 1966 and dedicated March 27, 1966. A new parsonage was constructed on West Kentucky Street in 1972.

In 1977 the Wall Street Church of Christ building was purchased to be used for receptions and activities. With the purchase of these lots and the additional lots that had been purchased in 1958 and 1963 the entire block became the home of the First Baptist Church.

The bus ministry was begun in 1971 and in 1980 the Sunday services were televised on a free cable channel for the home bound.

The present pastor, Rev. Howell Farnsworth, Jr. became pastor of the church in 1984 and in 1990 spent three weeks in East Africa ministering to the people

In 1990 the church had a memberhip of 1,929.

For one hundred years the First Baptist Church has reached out and continues to reach out with the message of Jesus Christ; ministering to each other and extending that ministry around the world.

Floydada School Board discusses tax rate

Migrant expenses are placed at $164,096.00. Special education will require an estimated $442,675.00 and compensatory education for at risk students was placed at $317,473.00.

Included in this budget is approximately $100,000.00 to be used for capital improvements. Selections for this year's capital improvements include portable bleachers for the track field which will do double duty at the baseball field, computers for the high school, new stage curtains for Duncan, paving the parking area and alley between the high school building and the band hall, spotlights for the high school stage, mini blinds and storm windows at Duncan and new desks at the Junior High.

NEW BOARD MEMBERS

Recently appointed board members
Trena Simpson and Steve Lloyd signed their oaths of office and were seated on the FISD Board of Trustees at the evening session. Simpson was elected board secretary to replace Cyndiann Williams who was board secretary at the time of her resignation two months ago.

ELECTION RESULTS

Administrative assistant Jimmie Collins and board members John Campbell and Don Hardy canvassed the results of the August 10 Special Election. The trio then certified the results as reported to be true and correct. FISD voters approved Propositions 1 by a vote of 148-45 and Proposition 2 by a margin of 161-36. Proposition 3 was defeated with 133 votes against and only 59 in favor.

These results mean that the homestead exemption and the additional exemption for the elderly and disabled will be honored by the Floyd County Education District. The CED will not be levying a tax on non-income producing personal property. (More complete election results can be found in a separate story in this issue.)

HOUSING AUTHORITY REQUESTS WAIVER

Cindy Dudley, manager of the Floydada Housing Authority, came before the board to request a waiver on past due taxes owed by the housing authority and to request waivers for the future until such time as "our reserves are built up to 40 percent."

Dudley explained that the taxes for 1983 and 1984 had never been paid. She could offer no explanation as to the reason for this oversight. Also unpaid according to Dudley are the taxes for 1990. She stated that the housing authority would not have the money to pay the taxes for 1991 either. The delinquent taxes are estimated at just under $5,000 per year with the FISD portion being around $2,500.

Dudley explained that the housing authority is taxed on the rentals they take in minus the utilities they pay. Taxes are calculated on 10 percent of the remaining amount

Asked to define the period of time it would take to achieve cash reserves of 40 percent and be prepared to pay taxes once more, Dudley replied, "I can not tell you that. We have not been advised what our cash reserve needs to be so we have no idea how long it will take to build it up to 40 percent."

Dudley said that she would be going to all the taxing entities the housing authority is taxed by and asking for a waiver as she was instructed to do by her supervisors in the Dallas office.

FISD board members discussed the matter and decided to leave things as they stand. No waiver was granted and none is anticipated unless more information is presented which would persuade the board that a waiver would be more beneficial than detrimental to FISD.

Bids were opened on the supplying of transportation items for the coming school year. Two bids were received for providing gasoline, diesel, oil, grease, filters, flat repair and washing for school buses and other vehicles.

Producers Coop submitted a base bid of 92 cents per gallon for unleaded gasoline and 78.5 cents per gallon for diesel fuel. Tipton submitted a base bid of 92 cents for unleaded gasoline and 78 cents for diesel. Each bid was made with the stipulation that the cost will vary

Jaycees sponsor 50's night at the drive-in Floydada Jaycees sponsored a '50s night Saturday, Aug. 10, at the Capada Drive-In Theatre. Prizes were given for 1st and 2nd place for the best dressed 50's couples.

Board member Hardy made a motion to award the bid to the low bidder, Tipton Oil. The motion was seconded by Michael Hinsley and approved by unanimous vote.

RESIGNATIONS AND EMPLOYMENT

The board accepted the resignation of Linda Smith, fifth grade teacher at R. C. Andrews. She is moving to Hereford. Anna Leta Bradshaw will be replacing Smith.

OTHER ACTION

Trustees approved the reading of the previous meeting minutes and paid the monthly bills at the session. No tax report was presented as there are no current collections to report and delinquent taxes will be reported as received.

Appraisers for the coming year were approved as presented on a motion by Hinsley, seconded by Campbell. These include Jerry Cannon, Jimmie Collins, Joe Christian, Grant Hambright, Bruce Bramlet, Ellen Enriquez, Bobbie Weir and Les Ross. These personnel will be evaluating performances in the individual buildings throughout the year.

Monthly board meetings are being rescheduled for the coming months. The regular board meetings will take place on the second Tuesday of each month instead of the usual second Monday. This will allow board members to attend the band boosters and quarterback club meetings which are on Mondays.

Present for the session were school superintendent Jerry Cannon, administrative assistant Jimmie Collins, board members Charlene Brown, Michael Hinsley, John Campbell, Don Hardy, Steve Lloyd and Trena Simpson. Billy Villarreal was not present. Also in attendance were FHS principal Joe Christian, Joe Stepp and the Hesperian-Beacon reporter.

On April 9, 1991, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company

filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas to request that the optional feature "Call Transfer Disconnect" be available to all PLEXAR I customers by including the feature in Southwestern Bell's PLEXAR I tariff. Currently, this optional feature is available only on a customer requested basis.

Call Transfer Disconnect (CTD) is an optional feature that allows PLEXAR I customers the ability to transfer a call to another telephone number within or outside their PLEXAR I system, hang up, and permit the two remaining parties to continue with the call. The PLEXAR I user is then free to place or accept another call. CTD is not intended to be used to avoid toll charges. Therefore, CTD will not be available to PLEXAR I customers subscribing to optional Extended Metropolitan Service or Extended Area Calling Service.

If the company's application is approved, the monthly rate for CTD will be $4.00 for each PLEXAR I station line. Prior to the June 19, 1991, interim rate approval, Southwestern Bell was billing customers who receive the service $1.50 for each station line equipped with this feature. In addition, under Southwestern Bell's proposed tariff, every line within the PLEXAR I system must be equipped with this feature. The nonrecurring charge for the additional lines which must be equipped with CTD will be waived for existing CTD customers. The tariffed monthly rate will apply to all existing and future CTD customers.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Reduction in rate recommended

Following the announcement of results of the Research and Promotion referendum by the Secretary of Agriculture the Cotton Board announced that it will be recommending the USDA a reduction in the programs assessment rate effective for the 1992-93 crop year. Due to the amount of time necessary to implement a change in the assessment rate the lower level will not affect the 1991 crop. The new assessment rate will be set at the Cotton Board's September

Passage of the referendum by U.S. cotton producers has guaranteed the cotton industry a steady source of funding for its well-known research and promotion program. Most of the additional funds will be channeled into the market-building activities conducted by Cotton Incorporated (CI).

In addition a portion of the extra funds, totaling five percent of CI's overall budget, will be returned to cotton producing states under the newly revised State Support Program. Texas is expected to receive slightly over $500,000 under this program.

The referendum, conducted July 17 through July 26 by mail-in ballots distributed from county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service importers whether or not they favored implementation of amendments to the current Cotton Research and Promotion Order included in the 1990 Farm Bill.

Texas vote totals were right on line with the national average with sixty percent of producers voting in favor of (ASCS) offices, asked producers and the amendments and forty percent against. Nationwide the referendum passed by the same margin. Sixty-one percent of the importers voting in the referendum favored the changes.

Final analysis shows that six hundred and twenty-five importers and 45,595 growers participated in the referendum

Aphid control in cotton needed

By Mike Mallett, CEA-Ag.

Some really bad news is that producers have lost the ability to control cotton aphids in many areas of the South Plains including Floyd County. In fact these failures range from the Trans-Pecos in the south, as far east as Runnels County and back north. Control problems have ranged from out right failures to rapid re-infestations within four to seven days following an insecticide application.

What is a control failure? Certainly control less than 70 percent should be called a failure. You have not reduced aphid numbers enough to prevent very rapid resurgence. Even 80% control of an infestation averaging 300 aphids per leaf will leave 60 per leaf. In four days, this level could lead to unbelieveable aphid numbers. Most Extension specialists state that if 85% - 95% control is not achieved greater problems could be

What should I do? If you farm in areas where there have already been control failures with insecticides at the middle to higher labeled rates, the decision is simple - don't even think about trying to gain the upper hand. Aphid control is no longer a viable option in this case. The best strategy is to ignore the aphids, take the yield loss that is sure to come and hope the infestation "crashes" down real soon — at least before the cotton begins to open. If you have attempted to control aphids but failed - you too can forget aphid control. Repeat applications almost always produce worse situations than if you left well enough alone.

Expectation is that all classes of insecticides will prove ineffective this year in many areas. If you must try to control these aphids - do not use any rate other than the highest labeled rate. Sure it is expensive, but so is a yield of 50 to 60 pounds. Treatments that have worked the best have included 8 ounces of Bidrin per acre and mixtures of pyrethroids plus organophosphates. Any of these have also failed many a time. There are no guarantees. Dimethoate formulations have performed the worst and Metasystox-R performance has not been satisfactory.

Until a fairly reliable treatment for aphid control is found consider letting the aphids run. Any applications that you do opt to make should involve lots of water - 10 gallons with a ground rig and 2-3 gallon minimum by air. Use 18 inch drops with a ground rig or do not Extension specialists throughout the West Texas area are working with insecticides in various trails and result demonstrations attempting to find an effective control.

"Beneficial" releases for aphid control are questionable, because of their feeding patterns etc. many of them do not work. Unfortunately there is not a lot of research data to answer these questions. Probably there would be no guarantee behind the "beneficial" release.

The bottom line - no effective reliable control!

Cotton sales up from 1989

America's preference for cotton apparel is increasing, according to "Cotton Counts Its Customers," the annual National Cotton Council market research report.

Figures show cotton was consumers' choice in apparel where the fiber strengthened its market share to 59 percent — a one percent hike from 1989.

The report also revealed that cotton's competitive position in U.S.-produced textile products remained strong in 1990 despite a struggling domestic economy and the continued flood of textile imports. The fiber's share in U.S.-produced textile end-uses last year was 34 percent — representing an estimated consumption of 9.024 million (480 lb.) bales.

"Even though total consumption was slightly below 1989's 9.188 million bales, cotton was able to maintain its competitive market share, confirming consumers' continuing affinity for cotton and cotton blends, especially in apparel and home furnishings," Council market analyst Jim Howell said.

The research report is free to Council members. Non-members can receive the publication for a service fee by contacting the Council's Gloria Phillips, P.O. Box 12285, Memphis, TN 38182, (901) 274-9030.

Obviously, resistance is not uniform between fields and across large areas. But when products stop providing consistent, across the board control, resistance probably is involved and control recommendations are often futile. Development of resistance during the summer season can be very rapid in aphids since each aphid out there is a completely isolated genetic unit capable of reproducing with mating without a male. All are females. There is no chance of genetic recombinations that could put some susceptible individuals back into the population. And their rapid rate of increase greatly accelerates resistance.

No, all the aphids we've observed so by Mike Mallett, CEA-Ag. from a news far are the cotton or melon aphid. must be elevated to gain the same level How good of control must I get to make it worthwhile to make a control attempt?

Because cotton aphids have such a remarkable rate of increase, 90 percent or better control is really necessary to gain the upper hand for any length of time. Sixty to seventy percent control is just not going to hack it. This level of control of 50 aphids will leave behind 15 to 20 aphids per leaf. This level could initiate a resurgence that could "blow up" to an infestation level of over 1200 aphids per leaf in just 5 days. This scenario could easily be worst than if you left the aphid infestation alone. You also must keep aphids pretty much out of treated fields for a week to consider this good control.

What does 90% control generally look like?

When you examine several leaves, aphid counts should average no more than 5 to 10 per leaf. Even less if the initial infestation was not that high.

How fast do insecticides kill aphids?

This is an important question to ask if you are trying to determine how soon to chick behind an application. Some insecticides are very fast, while others can take over 5 days to achieve maximum control possible. I think 1 day is too soon to check for any material. I also believe that resistant aphids take longer to kill than the more susceptible ones.

What insecticides are providing the best control?

We certainly haven't looked at them all, but Bidrin at the 8 ounce rate has been the most consistent performer. Unfortunately Bidrin is almost nonexistent. I have heard that 2 pints of Lorsban has worked well. A test conducted by Dr. Charles Allen supports these observations. Dupont has been reporting good results with 12 to 16 ounces of Lannate. I looked at control with 12 ounces after one day and estimated only 60 percent control. Maybe this would improve after a couple of days. There have been other reports that Lannate and Lorsban aren't working at these higher rates. I don't know what to believe. Be aware when using Lannate that it is possible that higher use rates could under certain circumstances redden the cotton leaves, and we certainly don't want this to happen. All of the other potential aphicides, when used alone, are basically not providing control above 60 percent. This hasn't stopped too many people from treating their fields anyway. I certainly wouldn't spray a field without control expectations in the high eighty to ninety percentile. Even if my cotton looked really bad. Cost certainly is no longer a barrier — $10 - $20 applications are not discouraging some people if control can be achieved.

We heard that the state label for Di-Syston was revised? That is correct. As of Friday, August

2, the Texas label was revised to reflect the addition of the 3.2 ounce per acre rate to the already existing rate of 1.6 ounces. Unfortunately this higher rate became available too late. No legal rate of Di-Syston is working well.

What about mixtures of insecti-

Most mixtures have not succeeded in overcoming the resistance problem. At least control has not been boosted in the 80 to 90 percent range. Some products that have shown some promise when mixed with traditional aphicides have been Lannate, Orthene, Curacron and amatraz. Most of these have not been the magic bullet everyone is searching for.

Are there any other unusual treatments being tried?

Yes, there have been some unusual treatments such as insecticides in combination with Def. Unfortunately, these did not appear to work. I've also had reports of fewer aphids where Pix has been applied. I can't think of any reason this should be the case. The experts I consulted with didn't believe this should work either.

Should you add something to the bollworm pyrethroid if aphids are

Unless you have found an aphicide that works, I don't expect that control will be improved by adding another insecticide to the pyrethroid. Some folks are considering targeting bollworm/ aphid infestations with Lannate at a higher rate. This will give you worm control not up to the pyrethroid standards but pretty good. It will provide control of bollworm eggs. And hopefully will control the aphids. Lannate will not provide near the residual activity of a pyrethroid — probably 50 to 60

"flare" the aphids following a bollworm application?

You bet. But so can other classes of insecticides. What other choices do you have?

Why do extension entomologists discourage repeat applications for

Because the aphids left after each application are the more resistant ones and will most likely be much harder to control. All you are doing with repeat applications is spending money and creating an aphid that is impossible to kill. Wait till next year?

Are you recommending control of aphids any more? Generally, I am no longer convinced that there are insecticides available that will provide consistent control of cotton aphids across a wide selection of field infestations and will keep these aphids from resurging in less than a week. Bidrin at 8 ounces per acre may be an exception. Therefore, I will no longer recommend aphid control materials to be applied to infestations even if a pyrethroid is to be used to target bollworm infestations. I am now defining control as 90 percent or above with very little resurgence after one week. If these criteria are not met, I do not believe there is anything to be gained with an aphicide. There could be everything to lose however. Every application going out against the cotton aphid is leaving survivors that are even more resistant than

The future is looking bleak. If an insecticide is in fact providing only suppression of aphid infestations, someone is profiting — but not the farmer. I think we need to back way off of using these poor control materials. Put the sprayer in the barn and go to the house. Admit you have lost the battle with the cotton aphid this year and start looking for solutions for next year. As far as I'm concerned, there has been more than enough aphid control tests put out by extension entomologists. I do not plan to conduct any more.

What kind of yield loss can I expect Are the pyrethroids going to if I don't try to control these aphids?

From 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

There was an average of a 60 pound yield loss per acre in tests conducted over a four year period in dryland cotton. We really don't know what to expect in irrigated crops. Aphids damage the plant by probing into the leaf veins, extracting large quantities of water, sugar and nitrogen. The actual feeding process damages the veins causing heavy scarring.

What are all those white things on

The skeleton of an aphid is the covering to its body. In order that an aphid may grown to a larger size it must shed this "skin". Aphids will shed their skin three to four times during the 5-day period from birth to achieving the adult stage. If there are lots of white skins, some winged forms and only a few wingless aphids, your infestation is "crashing". This is good. Hopefully, aphid numbers will remain low after the "crash".

When are the aphids going to

"crash"? Infestations of aphids often reach very high levels in a short time. This is sometimes followed by a rapid decline in numbers we term a "crash". We're not sure what causes this "crash", but it usually is not the result of predators of parasites. We think it is the combined effect of crowding and reduction in nutritional value of the plant caused by heavy feeding and scarring of leaf veins.

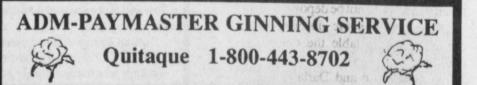

Will the honeydew hurt my cotton?

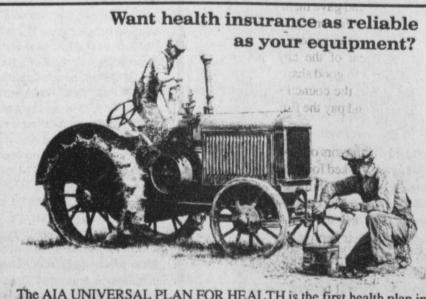

There is no evidence that the sugarwater deposited on the leaves beneath the aphid infestation will directly harm the plant. Studies in pecans have certainly shown no correlation between honeydew deposits and loss of leaf function. If a sooty mold fungus or dust collects on this sticky deposit, leaf function could be impaired and yield affected. I wouldn't worry about honeydew unless your cotton is beginning to open. Then you have a very serious problem.

What are we going to do?

The aphid problem has spread to the northern cotton producing counties of the South Plains. I would expect control problems in these areas as well. The evidence for this massive dispersal of winged aphids across the area can be found on the windshield of any motor vehicle. We may have to take our lumps, let the aphids to and suffer that ever yield loss that will occur. Right now I am "guestimating" that dollar losses due to yield reductions and control costs will run over 50 million dollars for the South Plains before this is all over.

The council was reminded that no hazardous waste such as paint, oil filters, or unrinsed chemical or fertilizer containers can be thrown into the dumpsters. The trash will be inspected at the Lubbock landfill and fines can be issued for not complying with the rules.

Comer asked the council if they would be interested in a roll-off box in which large items and tree limbs could be deposited. He explained that tires, air conditioners, appliances and other large metal items could not be deposited in the dumpster. After some discussion the council voted to table the discussion until later.

Edd Henderson and Darla Chappel, auditors for the city of Lockney, met with the council and gave them a report on the audit. Henderson stated, "Our opinion report on the general purpose financial statement of the city shows that everything is in good shape." After hearing the report the council voted to accept the audit and pay the firm for the preparation.

The board of directors of the Lockney General Hospital asked for a variance to extend the new hospital building 10 feet further to the south. Copeland made the motion to grant the variance and the board all voted their approval.

Chief of Police Lennie Gilroy met with the council to discuss the junk car ordinance. Cards will be sent out to all Lockney residents explaining the junk car ordinance and after the cards have been sent junk cars will have to be removed or fines will be levied.

Constitutional Amendment #2 was defeated in Floyd County by a vote of 168 to 111. (More complete election information can be found in another story in this issue.)

OTHER ACTION

A motion by Jackson, seconded by Bishop, approved the deputization of Kyle Adams as the fourth deputy in the Floyd County Sheriff's Department. Adams, approved by unanimous vote, replaces Darren Smith who resigned to return to Childress.

The court approved a prisoner custody agreement with the Texas Department of Criminal Justice for the coming year. The agreement, valid from September 1, 1991 to August 31, 1992, allows for the transferal of state parole violators picked up in Floyd County. These prisoners would be moved to a state designated facility at the earliest possible time, easing the county burden for caring for them.

Bids for the proposed sale of two pickups belonging to Precinct 4 were opened at the session. Only one bid on each vehicle was received. These were submitted by Tony Felan. He bid $450 on the 1978 Ford 3/4 ton pickup and $351 on the 1973 1/2 ton Chevrolet pickup.

Motion was made by Bishop that the court accept the bid and sell the 1973 Chevrolet. Jackson seconded and the vote was unanimously in favor of the sale. Bishop then moved to reject the 1978 Ford bid, retaining the vehicle as a county possession. Second for this motion came from Bearden and was approved by unanimous vote.

Westar Transmission Company requested permission to install a cathodic cable in a county right of way adjacent to a county road in Precinct 2. The installation will be at their expense and will not interfere with county road maintenance in the area. Approval of the request was unanimous on a motion by Bishop, seconded by Taylor.

County treasurer Glenna Orman presented her monthly financial report stating that the county began the month of July with fund balances totaling $255,122.45 and took in receipts totaling $258,736.41. Transfers in totaled $84,642.42 and were equaled by transfers out totaling the same amount. According to Orman, disbursements totaled $329,379.73, leaving fund balances on July 31 totaling $184,479.13.

Certificates of deposit now held by the county total $190,000.00. Interest on certificates of deposit to date have added $20,299.32 to county coffers. Orman also stated that installment indebtedness of the county now stands at $43,196.05.

Attending the meeting were County Judge Bill Hardin, Commissioners Bearden, Jackson, Taylor and Bishop, Glenna Orman, Jane McAnally, Margaret Herrera and the Hesperian-Beacon

Rotary Governor speaks in Lockney

Jim Cook, Amarillo veterinarian, District Governor of Rotary International, called on Lockney Rotarians to Look Beyond Themselves to fulfill Rotary's ideals during their meeting Friday, August 9.

Citing the theme of Rotary International President Rajenda K. Saboo, the new district governor said the role for each member is "to be Rotary, not just belong to Rotary."

"Rotary is a force of over a million community and world leaders in 172 countries," said Cook. "We are a good and near perfect democracy with a vision to help others beyond ourselves."

Citing the world-wide service club's successful $230 million PolioPlus campaign to eradicate polio globally by 1995, its scholarship and group study exchange programs and the Health, Hunger and Humanity project to improve the quality of life in the Third World, Cook urged members to personify Rotary's objectives.

"Philosopher William James said, 'The greatest use of life is to spend it for something that will outlast it', "Rotary's founder, Paul Harris, knew this and spent his life developing an organization dedicated to the principle of Service Above Self," Cook concluded.

The new district governor is charged with the leadership of 2,700 Rotarians in District 5730 which extends from Perryton to Pecos and from Sweetwater to Denver City. In his current round of club visitations, Cook is conferring with local leaders, reviewing club projects and addressing the general membership. He will visit 56 clubs in 43 cities.

Cook, reared in Sweetwater, graduated from Newman High School and earned his degree in veterinary medicine at Texas A&M University in College Station. Since serving as a captain in the U.S. Air Force from 1956-58, he has practiced veterinary medicine in

A Rotarian since 1966, Cook served Amarillo West Rotary, his home club, as president in president in 1970-71. He is a Paul Harris Fellow recipient, the highest Rotary honor bestowed upon its members.

A member and past president of the Amarillo A&M Club, the Amarillo Executive Association and the Amarillo

Veterinary Medical Association, he also has served as a member of the boards Business Bureau, Amarillo Chamber of Commerce, YMCA, Paramount Community Church, Tascosa Country Club, and currently serves the board of directors of Horn Creek Conference Grounds and High Plains Baptist Hospital Area Development Council. Cook and his wife, Sue, have four children and three grandchildren.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON TAX INCREASE

Floyd County will hold a public hearing on a proposal to increase total tax revenues from properties on the tax roll in 1990 by 7.97 percent. Your individual taxes may increase at a greater or lesser rate, or even decrease, depending on the change in the taxable value of all other property.

The public hearing will be held on August 27, 1991 at 9:30 a.m. in the county courtroom, Floydada, Texas.

FOR the proposal: William D. Hardin, Connie D. Bearden,

Floyd W. Jackson, George Taylor, and

Howard Bishop.

AGAINST the proposal: none PRESENT and not voting: none

ABSENT: none

The statement above shows the percentage increase the proposed rate represents over the .3384 tax rate that the unit published on July 11, 1991. The following table compares taxes on an average home in this taxing unit last year to taxes proposed on the average home this year. Again, your individual taxes may be higher or lower, depending on the taxable value of your property.

Average home value	Last Year 16,647	This Year 16,760
General exemptions available (amo available on the average home, not including senior citizen's or disabled person's exemptions)		0
Average Taxable Value	16,647	16,760
Tax Rate	.3355	.3654	11
Tax	$55.85	$61.24

Under this proposal taxes on the average home would increase by $5.39 or $9.65 percent compared with last year's taxes.

Comparing tax rates without adjusting for changes in property value, the tax rate would increase by $.03 per $100 of taxable value or 8.91 percent compared to last year's tax rate. These tax rate figures are not adjusted for changes in the taxable value of property.

Managers of high rise structures in Las Vegas are advised not to have workers in precarious locations at the time of detonation."
