Volunteers contribute to success of Salvation Army

(Editor's Note: Research for this article, by Texas Tech journalism student Tiffany Gentry, was made possible by a grant from the Reader's Digest Foundation.)

By Tiffany Gentry

When the Salvation Army was founded in England in the 19th century, its sole function was to provide an outlet for goods to help the needy. Today, having expanded abroad to America, the Salvation Army does much more.

Just ask Art Barker. "You get a good feeling, helping people," he said of his work in the Army's Lockney branch.

Barker, co-owner of Barker Real Estate in Lockney for 18 years, involved himself with the Salvation Army about 25 years ago.

Currently, the Salvation Army in Lockney is looking for a new building.

"We have until January 1 to be moved out of here and in to a new location, so we have a few months to find a good, warm building," Barker said. "We want a place that is easily accessible to people who need us, and one that serves the basic needs we have to meet."

Barker presently serves as Director and Secretary/Treasurer of the local Salvation Army branch. He handles expenses, recruits volunteers and solicits the support and donations needed to keep this non-profit organization on its feet.

Barker's brother, Barry, is Salvation Army chairman.

City Wide Garage Sale planned for West's Love Fund

Working against time, fund raising activities are forming quickly to benefit the Jimmie Jo West Love Fund. To help defray the cost of a life giving lung transplant for West, Sandra Noland is organizing a city wide garage sale.

"I am in need of an empty building downtown to hold this garage sale in. I hope to have the garage sale on Punkin Day, October 26," said Noland. "All the proceeds will go to West's Love Fund."

Noland is also in need of volunteers to help her mark the donated items before the sale, and to help on Punkin Day with the sale itself. "We want to be able to get a building and have it open the week before the sale, so people can bring in their items ahead of time," said Noland.

Anyone interested in being a volunteer, or who has a building they would donate, should call Noland at 983-2087.

"We need volunteers on a continual basis," Barker said, "and here a volunteer has to like working with people."

Alicia Luna, head volunteer at Lockney's Main Street location, began devoting her time to the Salvation Army more than three years ago.

"Alicia is a great help," Barker said of Luna. "Because she is bilingual, people who come for help can relate to her. They feel more at ease."

Other volunteers contributing to the success of the Salvation Army are Teresa Gonzales, Luna's daughter; Elvija Salas; part-time volunteers Jerry and Soyla Reyna; and Armine Tarpley.

The Salvation Army does much more than serve as an outlet for clothing and other basic necessities. The volunteers gather donations, disperse goods throughout the community and provide means of transportation for the disabled who need medical help.

Profits from the store go back in to keep the store running.

The Army provides both local and transient citizens needing help with clothing, groceries, transportation and gas, medical and/or dental aid and toys for children.

"One-third of the Army's funds goes toward helping transients with groceries, gas and lodging," Barker said.

A transient is a homeless or migrant citizen who is searching for work or a place to call home. Some have families with small children and wouldn't survive without some kind of help.

"We fill their tanks with gas and give them food - something a Dairy Queen burger - and make sure they can make it to the next town," Barker said.

"A family might make it across the whole country like that," he said of the transients. "It's hard to turn someone down. You never know - some might be angels."

In regard to the approaching winter season, Barker stressed the need for cold-weather items.

"People will be looking for coats, blankets and shoes," he said.

The Salvation Army gets its contributions from local businesses and its canned goods and clothing from townspeople. Each city's local chapter must send two-thirds of its annual income to the Army's state headquarters in Dallas.

Although larger cities have funding to offer more programs and services through their Salvation Army branches than do small towns, Barker doesn't plan to allow this local operation to dwindle.

"I think it's important to be able to help less fortunate people," Barker said. "I believe in doing what it takes for those people, and I believe that miracles can happen."

Ambulance committee hires Porter as director

Responding to the needs of the community, it was recently decided during a meeting with all taxing entities that a separate organization consisting of a representative from each taxing entity should be formed to oversee the ambulance. Due to the closure of Caprock Hospital and their inability to operate or fund the ambulance operations, a new ambulance committee was formed.

The committee, met for their first organizational meeting July 16, representing the county on the committee is Connie Bearden. Eric Cornelius is the city's representative, and Joy Assiter represents the hospital district. Bud Crump was elected by the other representatives to serve as a citizen representative at large.

During the first meeting the new board was formed. Crump was elected president. Assiter will serve as secretary-treasurer and Cornelius was elected vice-president.

NEW AMBULANCE DIRECTOR HIRED

The newly formed committee has been busy working on re-organizing ambulance operations into an all-volunteer staff headed up by a part time salaried employee. Ted Porter, of Floydada, was hired during the September 24 meeting, as the Director of Floydada EMS.

Porter is presently an EMT and is currently finishing up EMT special skills. He is scheduled to take paramedic courses in the spring. Porter will be responsible for scheduling and billing.

"Fifteen citizens have already volunteered to be included in our upcoming Emergency Care Attendant classes," said Ambulance Board Director Joy Assiter. "We are currently not an all-volunteer staff, but because of our finances it is necessary that we become one."

"We need more volunteers," said Assiter. "The ambulance committee will pay for the supplies and textbooks used during the ECA classes. Mike Reeves and Paul McIntosh (both EMT paramedics) will teach the course."

"The EMT classes, which are more advanced, are much more expensive. We will need donations from businesses and individuals in order to schedule EMT classes. We encourage everyone to remember the ambulance fund in their memorials."

In the process of organizing this committee and the all-volunteer workers, research was done by the board of directors into other town's volunteer services.

"We visited a long time with Scott Murray, who heads up the EMS Division in Crosbyton," said Director Bud Crump. "They have a complete volunteer service and currently have four-three man teams with people on the waiting list."

"Murray helped us a lot and we are grateful to Crosbyton EMS for allowing him the time to get us started."

"It's going to take community involvement. Business people will need to allow their employees the time to take ambulance runs during the day. We will also need donations of money to give the volunteers advanced training. It is important that we have the best trained staff as possible, because of the fact that our hospital is not open."

The committee has also been busy with the paperwork necessary to incorporate the organization and have also applied for their Medicaid-Medicare Provider Number.

"We have become incorporated as a non-profit organization," said Crump. That means of course that donations are tax deductible. Anyone wishing to make a donation or memorials, can send them to Floydada EMS, Box 373, Floydada. Cards recognizing the donations will be mailed to family members. "We should receive our Provider Number within 30 days. This will enable us to be reimbursed from Medicaid and Medicare."

Anyone wishing to be a part of the volunteer ambulance crew should contact Joy Assiter, Bud Crump or Ted Porter.

"I believe that it is important for the community to remember, 'if it is to be, it's up to me'. That means all individuals," said Assiter.

Deadline set for Punkin Days booths

Friday, October 4, is the deadline for reserving a space for food booths on Punkin Days. Any person or organization wanting a food booth should contact Vickie Norrell, 983-5152; or Doedic Covington, 983-3348.

Floydada schools adopt policy regarding fights

Floydada Independent School District has adopted a policy regarding procedures to be followed in cases of student fighting. As of October 7, 1991, a student in grades 4-12 who is involved in a fight at school during school hours or while attending a school sponsored activity will be subject to in-school suspension then remanded to the local police for further investigation of disorderly conduct.

Disorderly conduct is a Class C misdemeanor and on a first conviction is punishable by a fine not to exceed $200.00, on a second conviction is punishable by a fine not to exceed $500.00 and on a third or subsequent conviction by a fine of $500.00.

School officials are asking for parents' help in working with their children in preventing fights from occurring.

Tickets on sale for pancake supper

Tickets are still on sale for the annual Floydada Lions Club Pancake Supper, to be held this Friday. All proceeds from the supper will go to the Jimmie Jo West Love Fund.

West's Love Fund has been established to raise money for a life saving lung transplant that Jimmie Jo needs as soon as possible.

The supper will be held at the Floydada Junior High cafeteria, prior to the Floydada-Slaton football game from 5:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m.

Tickets are $3.00 for adults and $1.50 for children under 12. They can be purchased at the door or in advance from any Lions Club member.

FIRST BALE IN FLOYD COUNTY--Shannon Shurbet (right, holding daughter Randa) took the honors and the $100 bonus this year for the first bale of cotton in Floyd County. Laura Farris, president of the Floydada Chamber of Commerce, presented the bonus check on October 1. The cotton, All Tex Quickie, was grown about four miles north of Floydada and harvested by stripper. It was ginned by Floydada Coop Gins and weighed 450 pounds with a 17% turnout and seed weight of 800. Coop manager Ray Ferguson termed the cotton as "pretty green and about normal to a bit late at harvest."

By The Way

I've got an update on the football score keeping problem in Houston.

I mentioned last week that the two newspapers in Houston, The Houston Chronicle and The Houston Post, never mentioned the Floydada football scores in the Saturday papers.

We were sent copies of the hundreds of football scores listed in those papers. Towns all around Floydada were listed, but Floydada wasn't. I pointed out that Lockney, however, was always mentioned.

Well, that all changed last week. Lockney wasn't mentioned either. That's what they get for playing Floydada.

October is a busy month! Besides football every Friday night, there are all kinds of other activities.

Friday morning is Floydada's Chamber of Commerce membership breakfast, starting at 7:00 a.m. All chamber members are invited to the Massie to enjoy Judge Hardin's famous biscuits and a home cooked breakfast.

Friday evening, starting at 5:00 p.m., the Floydada Lions Club will have their Pancake Supper at the Junior High cafeteria. All the proceeds from the supper will go to the Jimmie Jo West Love Fund. It is a very worthy cause and may save a life. The supper ends at 8:00 p.m., just in time for you to make it to the football game.

There will also be a dance Saturday night, October 5, to raise money for Jimmie Jo. Mike Porter and his band will perform from 8:00 p.m. - 1:00 a.m., at the Massie Activity Center. It is a good way to enjoy your Saturday night with friends and help out another friend in the process.

I was made aware of a rumor going around town. Evidently it has been going around town for about two weeks and I just heard it Saturday. The rumor involves several Floyd County men, who most people would refer to as "prominent". The rumor goes something like this, "Did you hear about so and so, and so and so—they were arrested during a raid on a prostitute's house. They weren't charged and evidently there is a big cover-up going on. The police are covering it up and so is the newspaper."

Well folks, I checked up on it. I asked every law enforcement agency in the county if they had heard the rumor.

Of course they had—and many times. I then asked these three questions: Have these men been charged with soliciting a prostitute? Have these men been arrested for soliciting a prostitute? Was there an incident involving these people investigated and nothing done?

The answer to all these questions, from every law enforcement agency was NO!

The police know nothing about it other than the rumor (which varies).

We will never refuse to report a formal charge filed against someone in county court or district court. Every single person involved in our judicial process would have to be corrupt in order to hide a formal charge from this newspaper. I repeat—there is no truth to this rumor.

I believe the people involved would be very interested in knowing where the rumor started. I believe they would have a good case of "defamation of character." So be careful folks. Don't repeat it to anyone else.

We got a short, but nice, Letter To The Editor last week. It was from Joe and Pat Jones, from Brownwood.

They said, "The Leathermans are a good bunch of people. Floydada is lucky to have them. Hello to everyone from Joe and Pat Jones."

We believe that the Jones' were referring to the Leatherman's giving away all those potatoes.

We agree. Floydada is lucky to have them.

We got (excuse me-I received) another letter to the editor. It can be found in the Letters to the Editor column.

I appreciate Mr. Braly's comments. We are always striving to make this a better newspaper, and input from our readers is one of the things that makes working here worthwhile.

I know I probably have a long way to go to improve my grammar, but I do want to point out that Mr. Braly's correction of my grammar is also wrong.

He pointed out that the sentence, "You have to study it real careful," was poor grammar. He was right. However, substituting "really" would be equally as wrong.

The sentence should have read, "You have to study it very carefully."

For those of you who are studious followers of proper grammar, you may make note of Mr. Braly's last sentence. I would have tried to remember to leave out either the word also, or too.

We should never stop trying to learn. Please continue to read our paper as carefully as you do, and keep us informed.

The doughnut man in Lockney received a lot of comments on his joke which was printed last week. When I stopped in this morning, I got another handful.

They're corny—but that's what I'm here for.

Question: What's the difference between crime and politics?

Answer: In crime it's take the money and run; in politics it's the other way around.

Question: Young man, you've asked me for a dollar every morning for the last 6 months. Why don't you just hit me up for a hundred dollars and get it over with?

Answer: It seems imprudent to put all one's eggs in one ask it.

For those of you who have been wondering where Mary Hutton disappeared to, we've got her address. You can write to her c/o Thomas Hutton, 18200 S.E. 92nd Street, New Walla, OK. 74857. Her phone number is 1-405-391-9499.

It might be nice to send her a birthday card. She will be 86 years old on October 3.

UPDATE!
The score for the Floydada-Canyon game was listed in the Houston newspapers. Nice of them to list the first losing score!

Bank artist inspired by southwest landscapes

Mel Branch is native Texan who draws much inspiration from the richly colored southwest landscapes of Texas, New Mexico, and Colorado. His work is technically influenced by the Impressionists and has much of the same soft surface quality, but he differs from the Impressionists in that he is more interested in color than in atmospheric effects. Color variety and richness are an important part of Branch's works.

Mel is currently a studio artist working out of his studio at his home in Lubbock. He studied art at Sam Houston State University in Huntsville, Texas where he received both Bachelor and Master of Fine Arts degrees in the mid-seventies. Since then he has taught at several schools as well as worked at an advertising agency in Lubbock for a number of years. He ceased full-time employment three years ago in order to have time to work in the studio and to develop a studio career. He conducts classes weekly at the South Plains College Campus at Reese Air Force Base.

His most recent exhibitions have been a one-man show in Lubbock and participation in the "Where South Meets West Show" in Gainesville where he won

First Place in the opaque painting medium category. His works are on display at the First National Bank of Floydada during the month of October.

Behind the scenes of 'Steel Magnolias'

Part Two

Editor's Note: This article is the second of a three part series about the actresses in the Upstairs Theater's production of "Steel Magnolias" (October 17, 18, 19, 20, 26 & 27) at the Floydada First United Methodist Church. Call 983-2240 for reservations.

The challenge of creating the character Clairee Belcher, described by the play's author Robert Harling as "the grand lady of Chinquapin Parish," is being met by Lou Burleson. Clairee Belcher is coming to grips with the death of her husband and the impact that it now has upon her life. She is the former first lady of the town, owns the town's radio station, and enjoys cheering the high school football team, the Devils, on to state championships. Clairee is a lively, energetic woman who wants to know everything about everyone. She is a peace-maker within her extended family.

When asked about what she has found to be the most challenging aspect of being in the play, Lou states, "I don't want them (the audience) to see me as myself. I want them to see someone else." Lou is no stranger to the stage; however, her previous experiences have been as a director, not as an actress. She has directed the ULL One-Act Play at Floydada High School for the past five years and has not had an opportunity to perform on stage before now. Lou adds that the easiest part of portraying the character of Clairee is "sparring with the character Ouiser. . . The hardest part is feeling confident about my lines." She also stated that the most memorable aspect of being in this production is the fun that she is having. "I wanted some 'spice' in my life," added Lou.

When she isn't portraying a role on stage or directing a production of her own, Lou stays busy as a mother and grandmother. This Woodward, Oklahoma native has three children; Carrla (Mrs. Steve Jones) of Levelland, Beverly (Mrs. Kirk Brock) of Levelland, and the late Dusty Burleson. Carrla and Beverly are the mothers of Lou's four grandsons: Kolt, Kwail, Klay, and Tye. Lou and her farmer/rancher husband Stanley have been a Floyd County resident since 1958. In 1976 Lou graduated from Wayland Baptist College, and in that same year directed fellow cast member Kelli Reddy in the play, "Crosspatch." She began teaching in 1986 at Floydada High School.

The spring of 1991 found one of our cast members retiring from twenty six years of teaching activities with the Floydada schools. This cast member is Doris McLain. As a teacher, Doris helped to organize and write applications for funding for the Gifted/Talented program; teach grades, 4, 5, and 6; and teach G/T classes during eight years of her tenure.

Doris has numerous stage credits to her name as an actress, producer, and director. She began her histrionic endeavors while in school. Doris took expression from Mrs. Bond and Mrs. Andrews, performed on stage as a de-

Bike-A-Thon benefits children's hospital

Cancer kills more American children than any other disease and is second only to accidents as the cause of death of the young. Unlike accidents, there is no prevention at this time.

At St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, doctors and scientists are probing the mysteries of catastrophic childhood illnesses. Their work has given the world the most successful methods for doctors everywhere to treat these diseases.

All of this is possible because of people like those in Floydada who give their time, talent, and donations to help children live.

Please join us in this life saving event by riding in or donating to the Bike-A-Thon, October 12, at 10:00 a.m. at the First Baptist Church parking lot.

All participants in the ride will receive a certificate. Those raising $30 or more will be awarded prizes.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir,
I would appreciate if you could put the following in your "Letters to the Editor" column.

I am interested in locating any descendants of John Pointer Officer and his wife, Nancy, who migrated to Texas around 1890. I know that they are buried in Floyd County.

Charles Morgan

Dear Editor,

Instead of leading a failed campaign to determine what everyone else may watch in the privacy of their own homes; why not launch a campaign to improve grammar, English usage, and syntax. You could, perhaps, begin with your own column. Example - "You have to study it real careful." (sic) (September 26th)

Many of us don't have a Rice University background; but we recognize the difference between "real" and "really". Double negatives and poor syntax find their way into the column much too frequently. Our local Thursday morning hobby during Tooley's reign, was "how many people were incorrectly identified?" With the past couple of years the game has become - "How many mistakes can the Editor squeeze into one column?"

Students used to be encouraged to read the newspaper (1) to learn news (2) to learn how to write and speak properly. I shudder to think what youngsters might be learning from your examples. Although composition and grammar appear to be your dominant problem, slight attention to common-sense and some proofreading could eliminate many obvious errors.

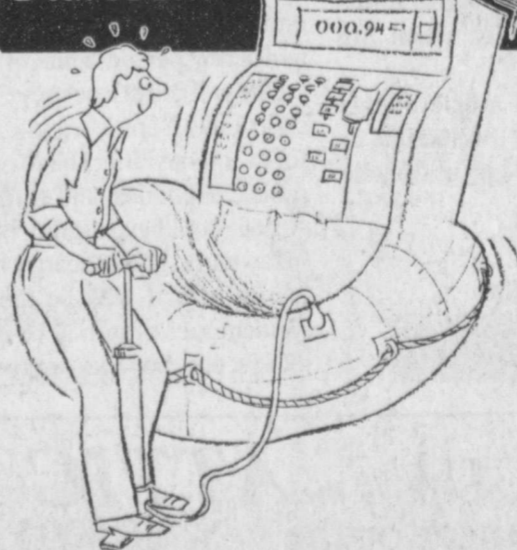

Since you and your family are becoming experts at surveys and polling, why not take a poll on how to improve the Hesperian? If necessary you could also disavow those results too!

Yours truly,
Wayne Braly

El Progreso Study Club

The El Progreso Study Club met Wednesday in the home of Cornelia Johnson. Roll call was answered with a Chinese proverb.

President Kathleen Thornton conducted a short business meeting. It was decided to give money toward purchasing trees for the Lockney Elementary School ground rather than club members exchanging gifts.

Arla Copeland brought the program on china. Some of the very interesting highlights of her talk were about the vast size and population of the country, customs, cultures and medical practices.

The hostess served delicious refreshments to members: Edythe Clarke, Arla Copeland, Faye Ferguson, Elaine Gibson, Hazel Johnson, Bobbie Kellison, Alice Mitchell, Merle Mooney, Laverna Sams, Dorothy Smith, Doris Thacker and Kathleen Thornton.

The meeting was closed by members repeating the club collect.

Homebuilders Extension Club

Homebuilders Extension Club met during September in the council room with Sue Lovell as hostess. A short business meeting was held before the presentation of the program on "Making Rag Baskets." Vivian Curtis of Harmony Club was the guest instructor. The meeting was adjourned, with plans to finish the baskets at the next meeting, Sept. 24, in the home Gladys Widener.

The baskets were finished during this gathering and Ms. Curtis assisted members in making handles for the baskets. Several different styles of handles were used. A guest attending, Fay Bertrand, began her basket.

A game was played and business meeting was held. Plans were made for the county wide Christmas trip and tour Nov. 12.

The October 8 meeting will be in the home of Murl Mayfield.

Harmony Home Extension

The Harmony Home Extension met in the club room with Vivian Curtis as hostess.

The meeting was called to order by the president Mae Williams. She read a poem entitled, "Autumn is Here Today." Vivian Curtis read about zucchini squash.

Roll call was answered by "Foolish things I have done in an accident."

Minutes of the last two meetings were read by secretary Annie Maude Hopper. Committee reports were given by committee chairmen.

The program was given by Daniel Hinojosa of the Petersburg Police Dept. on "What to do in case of an accident."

Those present were Anna Maude Hopper, Ruth Scott, Vivian Curtis, Juanita Poole, Lucille Miller, Imelda Murry, Bess Carr and Doris Snodgrass.

Alpha Sigma Upsilon

By Darolyn Snell

Alpha Sigma Upsilon, chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, met for their second regular meeting in September at Pizza Gold.

The meeting was called to order by Hope Warren, president, with all members standing for opening rituals. All members were present for this meeting.

An abbreviated meeting was held to review upcoming plans, after which everyone enjoyed a terrific meal.

The only other item covered during the meeting was the revealing of secret sisters for the past year. Also, new secret sisters were drawn for the coming year.

Everyone had a wonderful time. Members then stood for closing rituals and mizpah, said goodnight and departed.

claimant, and entered UIL in debate, oral-reading, and one-act plays. She was a member of The Footlight Club in Floydada; performed in numerous plays including, "Arsenic and Old Lace." "Miss Floydada" pageants, the Women's Chamber of Commerce-sponsored "Hee-Haw" and "1890 Music Hall Review" were co-directed and produced by Doris. She also has narrated various church productions. Doris has assisted with school-sponsored plays as well.

Doris is a native of Waxahachie, Texas. She went to school in Sweetwater and Floydada. Doris is the mother of three children: Cliff of Lubbock, Alison of Colorado Springs, and Marilyn of Aledo. She is a grandmother of three as well. The First United Methodist Church is her church home. In her spare time she has participated in the following organizations: The 1950 Study Club, American Heart Association, American Cancer Society, Spirit of Sharing, and as co-director of the West Texas Literacy Program. Her hobbies include sewing, needlework, and reading.

In the Upstairs Theater production of "Steel Magnolias," Doris portrays the character named Ouiser Boudreaux. The author describes Ouiser as a wealthy curmudgeon who is acerbic but loveable. Within the play itself Ouiser describes herself as having "been in a bad mood for forty years." Doris claims that this role has been easy for her because "everybody tells me it was typecast." Yet she is quick to point out that it has been difficult for her to acquire an authentic Southern accent. Doris also says that memorizing the lines has been a challenge her. "I'm not young and quick like Kelli and Kay," explains Doris. Her description of her most memorable aspect of the production thus far has been the association with the cast and crew. Doris adds, "I feel fortunate to be able to portray a real life situation."

Next week, the third article of this series will feature Kay Brotherton as Truvy Jones and Vikki Yeary as Annelle DuPuy-Desoto.

Lockney Care Center staff receives awards

Receiving awards at a recent meeting of the Unicare Health Facilities, Inc. were Ruby Bailey, LVN and Director of Nurses of the Lockney Care Center, the nursing staff of the Care Center and Wanda McClendon, Dietician.

Bailey accepted a plaque for "Exemplary performance in nursing care and dedicated commitment to quality resident services." McClendon received a $50 Savings Bond for her writing "The Dignity of A Nursing Home".

"THE DIGNITY OF A NURSING HOME"

By Wanda McClendon

The dignity of a nursing home—Lockney Care Center. First let's define a nursing home. The nursing home is a home away from home; a place where love, caring, and helping of the residents is foremost. A place where employees from all trades and professions come together to make life easier for the resident, resident's family, and loved ones.

The residents are number one at the home. Some have come here for their "Golden Years." Many are the ones who have worked all their lives, and that's all they know—hard work. This is what has kept them going in life. There are those who have disabilities that have brought them to our home. They have hard work of a different nature, but they are still human beings. They all deserve respect. You must remember to be on your best behavior at all times and display all your training in manners.

The dignity of a nursing home is heart. The residents, the staff, even the one who comes to mow the lawn, has heart. When a resident is brought to the home it is heart that decides that the heart will be loved and taken care of as time goes on.

Love is profound affection and a deep devotion between persons; compassion; and concern for others.

Family is defined as a unit. A head of a household is one who takes care of the family needs; one who provides shelter, food, and moral. Self-esteem—once someone believes in oneself others will also believe.

The next time a resident looks at you, take time to put yourself in that person's shoes so to speak. Are you doing all you can do for that person? If it was turned around, would you think of that person as a caring person, a part of your family.

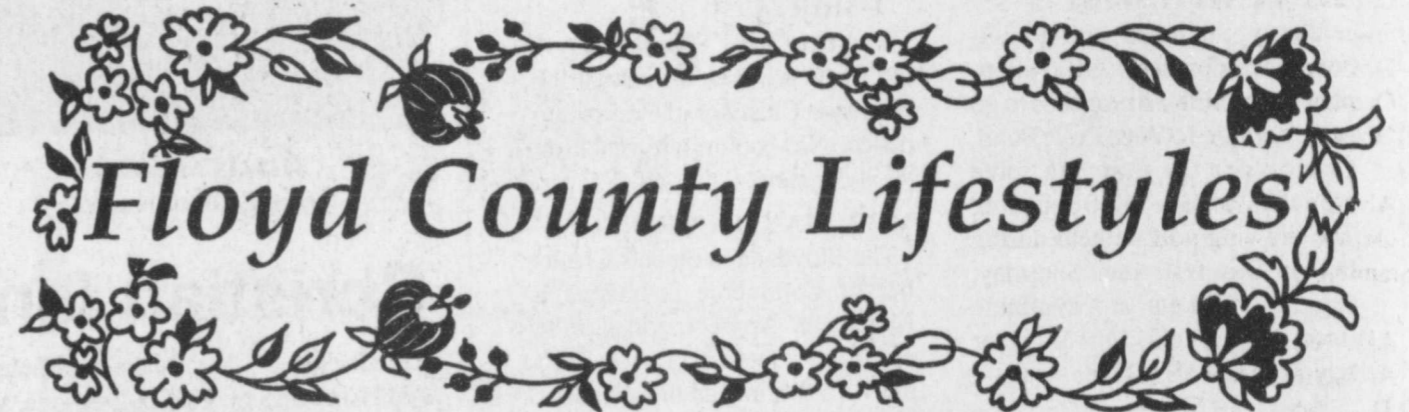

I've worked at Lockney Care Center a short time. Sure it's a job. Sure I work for the money. But, I have riches beyond rubies, diamonds, and currency.

You see, I have dignity in myself and in my work. I have heart. I have a larger family now. I may be the first one a resident sees or it may be that I will be the last one they see—only God knows.

My job is dietary, but I will show respect, I will give dignity to the residents and my co-workers that is due to them. They are my family, I can't leave my job every day without taking a part of the family with me.

I pray that God watches over all the Lockney Care Center each night and day and that I have made on or a few lives a little better for they are people with feelings also. The dignity of a nursing home can't be put in ink and paper. Dignity comes from the heart, caring, and of one's self. I can truly say I sleep better at night knowing my family is being taken care of when I'm not there.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

By Jo Bryant

Hi! Once again to one and all, here we are in the month of October. From now on there will be a lot of things going on.

Monday, Bro. Bill Wright came and gave the devotional and Irene Wexler played the piano and also the week started out with morning coffee and cookies.

Tuesday, the residents had singing in the morning and arts and crafts in the evening.

Wednesday was a staff meeting, and also we had a potluck dinner. A 2:30 p.m. the residents played Bingo. Henry Willis had the first Bingo. Ruth Hammonds and Mary Alice Davis came and assisted the residents. Thanks girls for helping with the snacks.

Thursday we read the article in the newspaper on "Old Sayings" and had some popcorn. The residents wrote down some sayings that they grew up with like: "Blind as a bat", "Pretty as a picture", "Busy as a bee" and "Now don't fry your tater?" It was fun. Evelyn Latta and Dolores Cannon came and cut the men's hair.

Friday, Faye Benson gave the devotional on "Prayer". The residents quoted the 23rd Psalm and said the Our Father. Then on to Plainview for the bus ride. McDonald's treated them to some ice cream. Those going were Peggy Young, Nettie Adams, Audie Potet, Henry Willis, Charles Breeding, Brooks Callaway, Knox Jameson and Kermit Glover.

Bro. Ed Cooper from Trinity Church came Sunday and gave the devotional. He spoke on the 23rd Psalm. The Martin's played the fiddle and she played the guitar. Thanks we enjoyed it very much.

West Side Church of Christ came and shared with us.

Thought: "Now or Never"
Don't wait with longing for the day.
When better times might come your way.

Discard the fears, that may depress;
Live now and seek happiness.
To fully live means you must face,
Whatever comes with humble grace.
And if you mourn, turn it to praise,
How much to do, how few the days.

Look Who's New!

FLOYDADA JUNIOR HIGH PEP SQUAD

Floydada Junior High starts Pep Squad

By Lina DeLeon

Although newly organized, the Pep Squad at Floydada Junior High has gained popularity in its first year.

The squad consists of about fifty, 7th and 8th grade girls who attend the football games and cheer on the Breezers.

The squad aims to build school spirit and have so far succeeded. They start off the spirit yells at the beginning of each game when they line up with the cheerleaders and form a cheering path for the football players to run through onto the field.

The pep squad has kept the school spirit up and will continue to do so. It has shown other schools that we have a lot of spirit.

We appreciate our sponsor, Mrs. Wyrick, because she takes time out to stay with us during school and practice. We are grateful that we have a sponsor who cares about the schools spirit.

Other sponsors who help us out, are: Duffy Hinkle, Mrs. Rosa Villarreal and Mrs. Vicki Emert who designed and ordered the T-shirts and pompoms that we wear;

Mrs. Jackie Chadwick, Mrs. Bruce Bramlett, and Mrs. Emert also help us out by driving the buses to out-of town games.

Because Suzanne Wyrick has us practice for pep rallies and the games during the school day, any girl can join. One

Sanchez earns first place in weekly football contest

A single entry with only seven incorrect game picks earned first place money for Jesse Sanchez of Floydada in this week's edition of the Floyd County Hesperian-Beacon Football Contest. He may pick up his prize check at the Hesperian-Beacon Office in Floydada on Friday, October 4.

The second and third place prizes were awarded after careful consideration of the first tie breaker answers with three entries vying for the two prizes. All three entries had eight incorrect game picks and each selected Floydada to win, effectively shutting off that avenue for determining a winner.

Moving on to the combined score of the Floydada vs Canyon game, Sheree Cannon of Floydada emerged with second place based on a total combined score of 30. The actual combined score of the game was 29 points. Her check for the $15.00 second place prize will be waiting in Floydada on Friday.

Duncan Woody of Floydada landed in third place with a combined score of 35 to beat out his closest competition, Carson Johnson of Lockney who guessed the score at 42. Woody's check for $10.00 will be in Floydada on Friday. Johnson receives the highly touted, but profitless designation of Honorable Mention this week.

Four entries missed nine games and ten entries missed ten games. There were 90 entries in the contest this week.

Two tie games were responsible for two incorrect choices on each of those entries this week as no one is inclined to predict a tie score.

What this country needs is a good tax cut

By Edwin Feulner

There's only one way out of the economic muddle created by last year's disastrous budget deal: Jump-start the economy by cutting taxes.

Here's how it would work: A cut in personal income taxes—by decreasing rates, or increasing the personal exemption — will allow Americans to keep more of the money they earn. Much of that money will be used to make purchases delayed by the hard economic conditions — new homes, cars, refrigerators, VCRs, and so on. This will revive the moribund retail industry, which will increase orders to manufacturers, who will hire additional people to meet the rising demand.

And while we're at it, let's reduce capital gains taxes — what former President Ronald Reagan called "a tax on entrepreneurship." This would encourage Americans to invest in the small, entrepreneurial businesses that provide the majority of American jobs. Capital gains cuts also can help break the vicious cycle of poverty by giving inner-city entrepreneurs access to the money they need to build successful businesses.

This isn't just some wild plan dreamed up by an egghead economist. It's been tried before, and it's worked.

edy cut taxes, saying that the "soundest way to raise revenues in the long run is to cut rates now." Following these tax cuts, inflation dropped, unemployment fell, and the budget was balanced.

And 10 years ago, President Reagan signed into law the Economic Recovery Tax Act of 1981, better known as the Kemp-Roth tax cuts, after the bill's principal sponsors, then-Rep. Jack Kemp, now Secretary of Housing and Urban Development, and Sen. William Roth, R-Del. The cuts slashed individual tax rates by 23 percent over three years. At the same time, capital gains taxes were reduced from 28 percent to 20 percent. The effect was to end the "malaise" of the 1970s and spark a decade of unprecedented growth and prosperity.

It was "the most productive decade in history," Kemp said at a recent Heritage Foundation celebration marking the 10th anniversary of the historic tax cuts. He wasn't exaggerating: The American economy produced nearly 20 million new jobs, more than Europe and Japan combined; six million new businesses were created; and real GNP surged by 32 percent.

Reagan, in a special videotaped message, praised the Kemp-Roth formula to reinvigorate economic growth and investment. "It's that tax cut that helped bring interest rates down, strengthen the dollar, cut inflation, and once again make America the best place in the world to invest," he said.

Unfortunately, it appears that Washington hasn't learned anything from the success of the Kemp-Roth tax cuts. As Reagan noted: "Even now, the drum beat for new taxes is continuing on Capitol Hill. This is despite the fact that the tax hikes of last fall are already proven failures."

"When will Washington learn? When you tax production and growth, you get less of both," Reagan said.

It's time for a new round of Kemp-Roth tax cuts. Let's get the hand of government out of people's pockets, and unleash a new decade of prosperity and growth.

Canyon Eagles edge by Whirlwinds 15-14

By Bill Gray

Trailing by seven points with less than three minutes remaining, the Canyon Eagles rallied for a 15-14 victory over Floydada in Class 3A non-district grid action at Canyon's Kimbrough Stadium on September 27. With the victory, the Eagles continued their mastery over the Whirlwinds in close encounters, and have won four of the last five meetings by a combined total of eight points. Floydada's lone victory during the recent series was in 1989 when the 'Winds blanked the Eagles 14-0 at Floydada's Wester Field. Canyon improved its 1991 record to 3-0-1 while the Whirlwinds dropped to 3-1.

Floydada opened the game with its "new look" single-back set on offense, and moved to Canyon's 33-yard line in ten plays behind the power running of Ruben Chavarria (4 carries for 37 yards). The 'Winds were unable to sustain the drive, punted to Canyon, and the Eagles took possession at their own 20-yard line.

Adam Gonzales and Ramiro Rios spearheaded a strong Whirlwind defense, which allowed the Eagles only seven yards in their first offensive series. Mark Linebarger answered the call to punt, and his 73-yarder boomed into the north end zone. Floydada managed one first down in its next drive, which was highlighted by a 23-yard scamper by quarterback Billy Villarreal. Both defenses dominated play as an exchange of punts brought the scoreless first quarter to a close.

The third play of the second stanza lifted the Whirlwind faithful to their feet when junior Michael Henderson, following the crunching blocks made by Michael Gilliland and Adam Gonzales, broke into the clear and blazed a trail 40 yards down the right side for the game's initial score. Gilliland's conversion kick was wide to the right, and the score remained Floydada 6, Canyon 0.

The Whirlwinds missed a golden opportunity to add to their margin moments later when Quincy Johnson stepped in front of a Chad Olson pass. The smallest Whirlwind returned it 15 yards to the Canyon 36. Floydada's seventh snap of the series produced a completed pass from Villarreal to wide-out Jaime Suarez which resulted in a Floydada first down at the Canyon 2-yard line. The Whirlwinds turned the ball over on the next play, with Chad Olson recovering the fumble for the Eagles on their own 4-yard line.

Canyon then mounted the longest offensive drive of the year against the vaunted Whirlwind defense. Led by George Nester's 57 rushing yards on ten carries, the Eagles picked up six first downs and 94 yards before Floydada's defense stiffened at the Whirlwind 3-yard line. As time was running out in the first half, Chad Olson's 20-yard field goal attempt was wide to the right. Floydada took a precarious 6-0 lead into the locker room at intermission.

The game's tempo accelerated quickly in the opening moments of the second half. After receiving the short kickoff, Canyon moved out to its own 38-yard line. On second down, quarterback Kevin Kraai rolled out to his left, dodged a couple of would-be tacklers, and rambled 62 yards toward the south end zone to knot the score at 6-all. Chad Olson kicked the extra point to give Canyon its first lead only two minutes into the third quarter.

Following an exchange of punts, Floydada was back on the attack at the 50-yard line. The Whirlwinds motored ten plays down to Canyon's 2-yard line. On fourth down and goal-to-goal, Villarreal fooled Canyon's defense with a short two-yard pass to Jammie Davis for the go-ahead touchdown. Michael Henderson ran the two-point conversion, and the 'Winds were back on top 14-7.

Floydada's Ramiro Rios intercepted a Kraai pass during the next Canyon series, and put the Whirlwinds in position to take command. However, Floydada's drive fizzled on an incomplete pass at Canyon's 28-yard line. The Eagles took over on downs as the third quarter horn sounded.

With a versatile mixture of passing and option running, Canyon moved to the Whirlwind 25-yard line. George Hutcherson was thrown for a loss by Quincy Johnson on fourth down, and the 'Wind offensive troops took possession. Floydada's first turnover of the game (and only the second of the year) put Canyon back on the attack. From Floydada's 30-yard line on fourth-and-eight Kraai tossed a perfect 15-yard strike to Glen Woodard. Attempting to gain additional yardage, Woodard fumbled, and Michael Henderson fell on the loose ball for the visitors.

The 'Winds moved from their own 12-yard line in five plays, but lost another fumble to Canyon at the Floydada 43-yard line. As time was rapidly expiring in the third quarter, Canyon capitalized on Floydada's second turnover of the game. Two complete passes to Woodard, coupled with George Nester's running, positioned the Eagles with a 1st-and-goal at Floydada's 2-yard line. Nester crashed over for the Canyon touchdown on first down to advance the Eagles toward their climatic winning play. Electing to go for the win (rather than settle for a 14-all tie), Kraai tossed the two-pointer to Ben Russ. A little more than two minutes remained.

Hoping to stage a last-minute scoring drive, the Whirlwinds gamely attempted to get back into the contest. Villarreal almost pulled it out with a third down, 20-yard scamper to the Eagle 30-yard line. The Whirlwinds couldn't advance deeper than Canyon's 25-yard line, and were forced to turn over the ball on downs. Kraai took Canyon's last snap and dropped to one knee as the final 23 seconds ticked off the clock. The scoreboard read, "Canyon 15, Floydada 14," and the game was just as close as the score indicated.

Canyon will again be tested when the Eagles travel to Class 4A Dumas this week before they open 1-3A action against Childress on October 11. The Whirlwinds will attempt to rebound when they host the always-tough Slaton Tigers who roll into town this Friday. Slaton fell to Dimmitt 21-15 last week to bring an identical 3-1 record into Floydada for the 8:00 p.m. kickoff at Wester Field.

Bill's Notes

As the television automobile huckster would say, "Folks... it just doesn't get any better than that!" The Floydada faithful who ventured to Canyon will know what I'm talking about. Those who were in the stands at Kimbrough Field last Friday night witnessed as fine an example of hard-nosed, smash-mouthed football as they'll ever see. It was truly "Football — West Texas style" at its very best.

Barring a tie, someone has to lose a football game. The Whirlwinds came up on the short end of the score, but they cannot be called losers... and they certainly haven't anything of which to be ashamed. It was unfortunate that the 'Winds were forced to play important portions of the game "without a full deck." Adam Gonzales spent more time than not on the sidelines nursing leg cramps. The critical loss of Jammie Davis (shoulder injury) hurt the defense badly. Also, Ruben Chavarria was hampered with a forearm injury.

I will not attempt to be a party to making excuses for losing to the Eagles for the fourth time in recent years. But, if I tried to come up with some reasons, I might mention that Canyon has a student enrollment of 750—as compared to Floydada's 347. The Eagles had 24 seniors in uniform last Friday... get my drift?? It is a tremendous credit to the Whirlwinds as well as Coach Bates' weight and conditioning program that enables our young men to compete with a school the size of Canyon.

My choice for the defensive play of the game was (Canyon's) Chad Olson's fumble recovery which stopped a Floydada scoring threat at the four yard line midway through the second quarter. Ruben Chavarria and Ramiro Rios share in my choice for defensive players of the game. Michael Gilliland's stop of George Nester at the end of the long Canyon drive just before halftime deserves special mention. The Eagles had to settle for a field goal attempt and came up empty handed.

Although conversions following touchdowns don't figure into game statistics, the WINNING two points by Canyon was the biggest offensive play of the contest. The nod for outstanding offensive player of the game is shared by Floydada's Michael Henderson (105 yards on 19 carries and one TD) and Canyon's Kevin Kraai (62-yard TD run and the pass to Ben Russ for the game-deciding 2-pointer).

An angry bunch of Slaton Tigers bring their high-powered offense to town this week. They, too, just lost their first game of the year. It will be another good test to prepare the 'Winds for the district wars. Joe Williams is back for his senior campaign, but the Whirlwinds will be ready. Floydada will "Hold That Tiger" to 14 points... the 'Winds will score 27.

'Wind JV loses to Canyon

The Whirlwind junior varsity hosted Canyon's JV at Wester Field on September 27, and came up on the short end of a close 17-8 score. Both defenses dominated play in the scoreless first quarter, but Floydada got on the board first during the second period.

After holding Canyon deep in Eagle territory, Joe Hernandez led the charge to block a punt. Kevin Womack recovered in the end zone for a Floydada touchdown. QB Josh Thayer hit Casey Criswell on a pass for the 2-point conversion to extend the JV 'Winds' lead to 8-0.

Late in the second quarter, a Floydada turnover on punt return resulted in a Canyon touchdown drive. The Eagles also converted the 2-pointer, and the teams were deadlocked at 8-8 at the half.

Canyon added a 28-yard field goal in the third quarter and a fourth quarter touchdown to close out the scoring. Coach Lee Hurt stated, "Canyon was a pretty good JV team, and came in here undefeated. We were all proud of our youngsters' efforts."

Named as offensive players of the game were Gabino Suarez, Ronnie Hernandez and Rance Golightly. D.G. Hollums and Joe Hernandez were given special mention for their outstanding defensive efforts.

Breezer squads split with Tulia

Floydada's 7th and 8th grade Breezers traveled to Tulia for non-district action with the Daubers on September 26. The 7th Breezers remained undefeated for the year with a convincing 22-6 victory over Tulia. The 8th graders were defeated 26-0 for their first loss of the season.

In seventh grade action, Floydada scored on its first offensive play of the game, with fullback Marcus Collins running 39 yards for the touchdown. The conversion attempt was no good. Moments later Tulia tied the score at 6-all.

Collins scored his second of three touchdowns of the evening on a 17-yard sweep. Vernon Cooper ran in the conversion for a 14-6 Floydada lead. Switching to defense, Cooper intercepted a Tulia pass and came close to scoring a touchdown on the return. He was forced out of bounds at Tulia's 2-yard line. On the next play Collins again crossed the double stripe. David Mercado capped the scoring for Floydada with a two-point conversion run.

Coach Jimmy Webster commented, "The offensive line blocked well while creating holes for Marcus. If they can get that initial surge off the ball and create any kind of hole at all, Collins will make some yards because it will take a solid shot to get him down. He (Collins) had a super game offensively. Vernon Cooper had a nice game on both sides of the ball; he ran well and had two timely pass interceptions. We need to keep improving offensively and our defense needs to play with a little more aggression. As a team we need to improve each week."

In the 8th grade Breezers' loss, Coach Kyle Clark singled out the following for outstanding play: Outstanding defensive players — Michael Molinar and Michael Mercado. Floydada's outstanding offensive player was Joe Ysagaga.

According to Clark, "It was a tough loss against a good Tulia team."

The next action for Floydada Junior high squads will be on October 3 when the Breezers host the Slaton teams at Wester Field. The 7th grade game will start at 5:00 p.m.

Coach's Comments

By Coach Dean Bates

Our contest with Canyon turned out to be a very exciting high school football game. It was a game where we had several opportunities to win and just came up short. We had turnovers at crucial times that took away from an outstanding effort from our young athletes.

A lot of credit must go to the Canyon coaches and team for their fine play. They made big plays on us late in the game. We were disappointed in the loss, but were proud of our effort.

We are preparing for another good team this week. Slaton is a very talented offensive team, and it will take another outstanding effort from our defense for us to win. We believe our team will rise to meet this challenge. See you at the game.

Current unemployment rate in county is 5.4%

According to figures released by the Texas Employment Commission on September 24, the current unemployment rate in Floyd County is 5.4 percent. This represents an estimated 255 workers who were not employed during the final month of the third quarter of 1991.

The commission reports the civilian work force in Floyd County at an estimated 4,708 workers. The report states that 4,453 of these workers were employed during the period covered by the latest report.

The state jobless rate for the same time period was placed at 6.3 percent, just under the 6.5 percent national rate. A comparison with 1990 data indicates that 18 of the 28 areas for which data is available have current rates that are somewhat higher than those recorded a year ago.

Commissioner Mary Scott Nabors said "It is definitely not a good time to be out of a job in Texas." She also points out that the number of bankruptcies (46,615) filed in Texas so far this year already exceed all filings (41,744) in 1990.

Sales tax permit fee, permit renewal abolished Oct. 1st

"New businesses that are scheduled to open their doors on or after October 1 and have already paid the $25 sales tax permit fee, will have their money refunded," State Comptroller John Sharp says. "The same applies to existing businesses that have already filed to have their sales tax permit renewed on or after October 1."

The refunds coincide with the announcement that the annual $25 sales tax filing fee paid to the Comptroller's Office is abolished, effective October 1.

"Not only will the $25 fee be abolished, but we're also going to issue a sales tax permit to a business for an indefinite period of time. As long as they are making sales and sending their taxes to the state, businesses won't be required to renew those permits every year, as they are now," Sharp said.

According to Mickey Moore, president of the Texas Association of Retailers, merchants are delighted to see the permit fee abolished. "They felt all along that it was inappropriate to ask them to pay a fee for the privilege of collecting sales tax for the state," Moore said.

"Since it was first enacted by the Legislature in 1987, the $25 annual sales tax permit fee has generated more mail from angry business people than any issue handled by this agency in the last 20 years," Sharp said.

"Hundreds upon hundreds of business owners were mad that they had to pay a $25 fee every year to collect taxes for the State of Texas. It didn't make any sense to me either, but that was the law—a law that needed changing," he said.

"While the fee generated substantial state revenue—estimated at $12.6 million in 1992 and $14 million in 1993—it also generated more animosity among Texas business people toward state government than you can place a dollar value on," Sharp said.

Also eliminated is the requirement that sales tax permits be renewed annually. Beginning October 1, the permits will only be cancelled if a taxpayer reports no sales or taxable purchases to the state for a year's time, or if the business does not file its sales tax returns and remit the taxes it collected to the state.

Longhorns suffer tough loss in district season opener at home

By Isaac Cuellar

The Lockney Longhorns had the fans on their feet throughout most of the second half as they battled the Hart Longhorns down to the wire last Friday night, Sept. 27, at Lockney.

Losing never comes easy for anyone and dropping a district game, well, just adds to the agony. Things weren't all bad for the Lockney Longhorns. For one thing, the defense arrived for Lockney by shutting Hart down in the second half in a game that matched last year's shared District Champions with a young developing team perhaps on the verge of clicking in the Lockney Longhorns.

Offensively Lockney also showed character by continuing to run the ball well. This is evident by the good runs put out by Juan Vargas and Phineas Riddle.

Hart struck first thanks to a 36 yard TD run by Cesar Salas with 3:40 still remaining in the first quarter. Add to a 7-0 lead by Hart, a safety also by Cesar Salas and you have all the scoring that this defensive game produced. Hart triumphs 9-0.

The Lockney Longhorns must pick up their guns and go west to face unbeaten Springlake-Earth. Let's support our Lockney Longhorns by being at Springlake-Earth as Lockney starts their District comeback.

War on fat

New program provides weapon

For years, health-conscious consumers have been asking retailers for leaner products in the meat case. But until now, retailers didn't have the tools to evaluate the bottom line value of fat, and lack of fat, on the beef he purchased from the packer.

Now a new computer program developed and funded in part by Floyd County beef producers and other producers across the country through the national beef checkoff, will provide retailers the flexibility to compare the true value of purchasing beef with different trim levels. And the bottom line value to consumers will be closer-trimmed, consistent quality, fair-valued beef products.

With the new computer program — called CARDS (Computer-Assisted Retail Decision Support) — retailers can start to bring about change throughout the entire meat industry. The program, being introduced nationwide this month, will enable retailers to communicate that value back to the packer, who in turn, can then send the economic signal for leaner cattle back to the feeders, and eventually beef producers. It was developed at Texas A&M University.

The software, which requires virtually no computer skills, evaluates the various business decisions from purchasing through cutting room operations to the retail meat case. It enable retailers to specify the grade and yield, fat trim level and price paid to beef packers. Using this information, the computer calculates the price a retailer would charge for the beef cut in the case.

The purpose of the entire project is to enhance the "lean" message from the consumer all the way back to the producer and provide retailers the ability to apply a direct price link to fat. In that way, beef producers in Floyd County and across the nation are continuing to fund programs that are in tune with today's consumers.

Weather aids completion of weevil control program

Perfect weather conditions provided the setting for completion of the first application in Plains Cotton Growers (PCG) 1991 boll weevil control program. Treatment covered almost 36,000 acres in just over three days of operation.

Following the heavy rains, low clouds and fog of the previous two weeks, there was concern about weather conditions becoming a problem. Fortunately, except a few hours of gusty wind on September 24, near-perfect weather conditions existed during the spray period.

Up to eight inches of rain had fallen across many parts of the control zone, making it difficult and sometimes impossible to accurately mark spray passes using ground vehicles.

The wet ground conditions became a blessing in disguise giving program officials an unexpected chance to evaluate a state-of-the-art electronic guidance system installed in the two turbine air tractor aircraft contracted to the program by Aero Tech of Clovis, N.M.

"I was delighted with the results," said Bill Tanner, pilot of the USDA's Aircraft Operations branch located at Moore Air Force Base, Mission, Texas. Tanner was able to check the accuracy of the Loran C guidance systems on the spray aircraft using similar equipment fitted to his government owned Cessna 206. "These boys are super conscientious and doing a very professional job," commented Tanner on the two pilots, Jim Uselton of Clovis, NM., and Carl Payne of Katy, TX.

Field surveys continue checking for fields to be included in the second spray application set to begin Thursday, October 3. It is likely that over 50,000 acres will require treatment. The heaviest infestations are in the southern and eastern parts of Dickens and Kent Counties and in the south of Borden County. Surveys so far detect little or no activity above the Caprock.

Pheromone trap catches in the control zone do not reflect, as yet, the usual inward migration of boll weevil from the Rolling Plains. Considerable in-season infestations of boll weevil have been experienced in Howard County this year.

"The open weather we are now seeing is allowing our survey teams to do the job the way it should be done," says Johnny Anderson, Program Manager. Anderson oversees the day-to-day operation from PCG's Field Office in Spur, Texas. "We should be able to do another good job on our second application using the excellent information being gathered by our survey teams."

More manufacturers use cotton trademark

Use of the Seal of Cotton trademark continues to grow as manufacturers realize the impact of the Seal at retail. Wrangler, a major jeanswear manufacturer, will begin using the Seal on the "Rugged Wear" jeans collection; Winona Knitting Mills will use the Seal on a collection of 100% cotton men's sweaters; and La France, a home fabrics mill, will use the Seal on a collection of 100% cotton upholstery fabrics.

Levi Strauss recently launched a new casual Dockers Sport line. They will be using natural fabrics which will feature the Seal of Cotton.

Expected record crop should be in demand

By Steve Hill

Although still dependent on the weather, the 1991 Texas cotton crop is expected to produce a record harvest — and to sell well on world markets hungry for cotton.

"Over the last few months, domestic demand has held up extremely well, and it looks like the world market will do likewise," said Dr. Carl Anderson, a cotton-marketing economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Texas A&M University.

"That's good news, because we're looking at a fairly large crop. This is a payoff for long years of research to improve Texas cotton quality."

Improved harvesting and milling techniques have made it easier to provide a higher-quality cotton in the state, he said. For instance, milling can now remove more stalks, stems and leaves from harvested cotton without harming quality, and washing and dyeing techniques have improved the color of Texas cotton.

According to monthly U.S. Department of Agriculture estimates released Sept. 12, total Texas production would equal some 6.2 million bales — slightly more than the record 6.04 million bales harvested in 1949.

However, there is at least one major difference between those two years. In 1949, that production came from a total planting of 11.5 million acres, compared to 6.5 million acres in 1991, Anderson said.

"That's a pretty big increase in average yield per acre, and you've got to have that because the cost of production has increased so much," Anderson said.

At last report, some 6 million acres of those planted would be harvested in Texas, he said. Much of the lost acreage was in the Lubbock area of the Southern High Plains, where sand, hail and dry weather early in the season set crops back, he said.

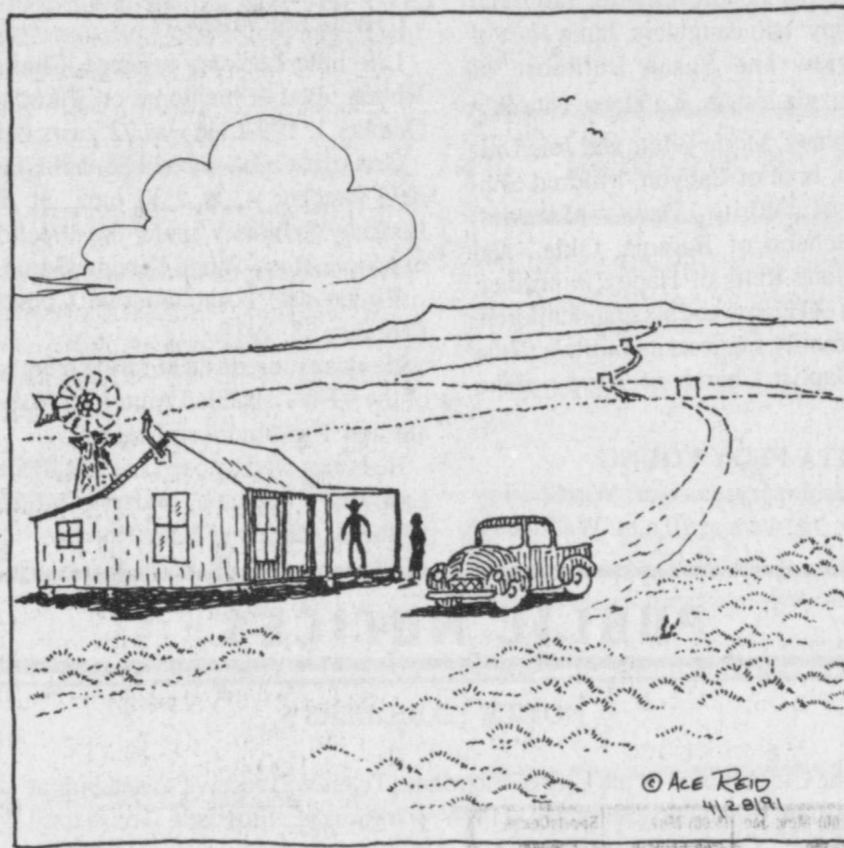

The coastal region, Brazos River bottoms and the area just south of Waco have had exceptionally good crops, he said. "Out here in the Brazos bottoms, they can push that to 4 bales an acre," he noted.

Total U.S. production should equal between 17.6 and 18 million bales, with much of that variance depending on insect and weather-plagued crops in the western half of Texas, Anderson said.

Weather must be hot and dry enough to be considered ideal for that area to be close to 16.0 million bales, he said.

Beef producers given feeding tips

Beef producers should be aware of the proper amount of cottonseed products that can be fed safely depending on the type of animal.

Cottonseed products have been used for more than 100 years as nutritional supplements to improve cattle production. Millions of tons of cottonseed products are fed annually to U.S. livestock.

Concern about cottonseed stems from its level of gossypol, a naturally occurring substance that can be toxic to some animals.

"Ruminant animals can tolerate much greater quantities of free gossypol than can monogastric animals. Pre-ruminant calves, under 8 weeks of age, should not be fed gossypol-containing products," says a report just released at Texas A&M University.

The source of gossypol and type of diet also affect the levels of gossypol tolerated by cattle.

Gossypol has been widely studied for its toxicity to some animals. But gossypol may also affect reproductive capabilities in cattle. These are the recommendations for feeding cattle:

* Beef cows and range bulls: 2 pounds per head per day of direct solvent extracted; 4 pounds/head/day of expander processed; 4 pounds/head/day of screw-press processed meal; or 4-6 pounds/head/day of whole cottonseed.

* Young bulls being grown or developed for breeding: Whole cottonseed should be limited to 15 percent to 20 percent of the total diet for most cattle and to 10 percent or less for young developing bulls. High free gossypol meal (0.3 percent or 3,000 parts per million) should be limited to 5 percent of the total diet. Screw press and expander process meal containing less than 0.1 percent or 1,000 parts per million can be used at up to 15 percent of the total diet.

If using a mixture of cotton products, the combined concentration of gossypol will need to be considered.

* Embryo transfer: Producers with embryo transfer programs in which large sums of money are involved per animal may wish to use a conservative approach since other protein sources are available.

* Pre-ruminant calves (under 8 weeks to be safe): These animals, especially dairy calves, should not be fed gossypol containing products until ongoing research establishes safe feeding levels.

Cattle raisers also should know that the method of oil extraction used on the cottonseed impacts the gossypol levels in the product. The expander process exposes the cottonseed to greater heat which in turn reduces the amount of free gossypol content to about one-third of the level in the old direct solvent method. More than 95 percent of the cottonseed processed in Texas and Oklahoma today are from expander or screw-press operations.

Also, with high roughage or forage diets where a slower passage takes place, cattle may be able to tolerate higher levels of gossypol. Cottonseed hull-based diets may be an exception, however, because of their rapid rate of passage.

Gramm praises VA for cut

Texas' 1.8 million veterans got a welcome chance to buy a home for less when the VA recently slashed its home loan rate for the second time in two months in late September.

"In August, the Department of Veterans Affairs cut mortgage rates to 9 percent. Today, they followed up with a further cut to 8.5 percent," said U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm.

"Each dip in VA's mortgage rate makes it possible for literally thousands of Texans to buy a home, often the first home they have ever owned," he said.

The senator noted that the cost of buying a home under a VA-guaranteed, 30-year mortgage has plummeted in recent weeks. "A $70,000 house in Texas would have cost $588 a month to buy at mid-summer, when the VA interest rate was 9.5 percent.

"At 8.5 percent, the new rate, the same home would cost approximately $538, or a full $50 a month less. That works out to a total savings of $18,000 over the life of a typical home loan."

Gramm noted that nearly 200,000 Texas veterans bought homes using a VA loan last year.

Manufacturers are making shift to more cotton in fleece fabric

According to a recent article in Daily News Record, to meet retail demands, fleece manufacturers are shifting to more cotton-rich blends, from 50/50 cotton/poly blends into 80/20 and 95/5 blends, even though these blends are more difficult to produce.

Floyd County native certified as master locksmith

The title of Certified Master Locksmith (CML) was recently conferred upon Don Probasco of Uvalde, Texas by the Associated Locksmith of America (ALOA). This highest level of proficiency recognized within the industry is presently held by fewer than five hundred locksmith, world-wide.

In order to achieve Master Locksmith certification and display the initials

CML after their names, practicing locksmiths must satisfactorily pass a series of lengthy examinations. This requires in-depth knowledge of at least thirty-three technical areas relating to general locksmithing, security systems, safes and vault technology. Many years of classroom instruction, independent study, and practical experiences are required.

Probasco, a native of Floyd County, opened his first locksmith business on E. Ollie Street, in Floydada, in 1981. A few months later, he moved Pro-Lock Shop to South Plains, expanding his mobile business to include small towns throughout the area. In 1986, he and his wife, Sara, moved to Uvalde, where they opened A-1 Lock & Key, a full line retail locksmith store. They have since added a division of decorative door and cabinet hardware under the name Superior Builders Hardware.

Floyd County Hesperian-Beacon FOOTBALL CONTEST

GOOD LUCK!!

Football Contest Rules

Any subscriber or individual above the age of 7 years old who purchases a Floyd County Hesperian-Beacon is eligible to enter this newspaper's weekly football contest, except employees of this newspaper and family members living in the same household.

To play, circle on the official entry form, the numbers of the teams you believe will win this week's games. To indicate a tie, circle the numbers of both teams playing the game. In addition, write in the two tie breaker footballs your guess of the combined total points to be scored by the two teams listed in each tie breaker football. Also circle the team you believe will win. Circle both teams if you think the game will end in a tie.

The only entries which will be considered for prizes will be those on official entry forms which are brought to the Hesperian-Beacon office in Floydada or to the Hesperian-Beacon Office in Lockney by 5:00 p.m. on Friday. No photocopies will be accepted.

NO MAIL ENTRIES WILL BE ACCEPTED.

Three cash prizes are offered each week. In the event of ties - the same number of correct games and equal scores on the tie breakers - prizes will be shared by those involved in the tie.

The tie breaker scores will be utilized only in the event of a tie on the number of games correct.

Print your name and address plainly on the official entry form and double check your choices before clipping out the entry form and depositing it at the Hesperian-Beacon office before 5:00 p.m. on Friday.

Entries are limited to one per person per week. Weekly winners are limited to one per household.
