A view from The Lamplighter

By Ken Towery

There's an idea going around Texas that probably bears watching. Since it involves taxes, and since its proponents argue that it would result in fairer taxation it probably won't get far in a state noted for its hodge-podge tax structure. Still, it is worthy of examination and discussion. Who knows, perhaps someday something like it might have a chance.

This particular effort is being headed by Mr. Ray Hollis of Abilene. We don't know the gentleman, though it is possible our trails have crossed somewhere back in the political past. And we are not now trying to boost his campaign, simply because we have not studied his proposals as thoroughly as would be needed before doing so. But he does advocate an approach we think has merit.

Basically, he and his organization, called "People's Voice of Texas", would like to see the current tax structure in Texas scrapped and in its place a one-percent "Trade Charge" enacted. The "trade charge", as explained by the organization, would apply to anyone "who makes a purchase of any kind, wholesale, retail, goods, services, money market, loans, stocks, bonds, imports, investments, manufacturing, distribution, transportation, utilities, governments, rents, leases — everything."

Our own interpretation of the proposal is that it is a variation of the "transaction tax" idea that has been around a long time. Its proponents claim, and we agree, that it would be much more fair than the present tax structure in Texas, and that it would raise more revenue. Indeed, some say that is one of the things wrong with the transaction tax . . . it would raise too much money and give politicians that much more to play with. To keep that from happening, the Hollis proposal is to put a cap on the amount that can be raised, which might make the idea more saleable to the people, but would make it less saleable to the politicians who would have to agree to put the idea on a state-wide ballot.

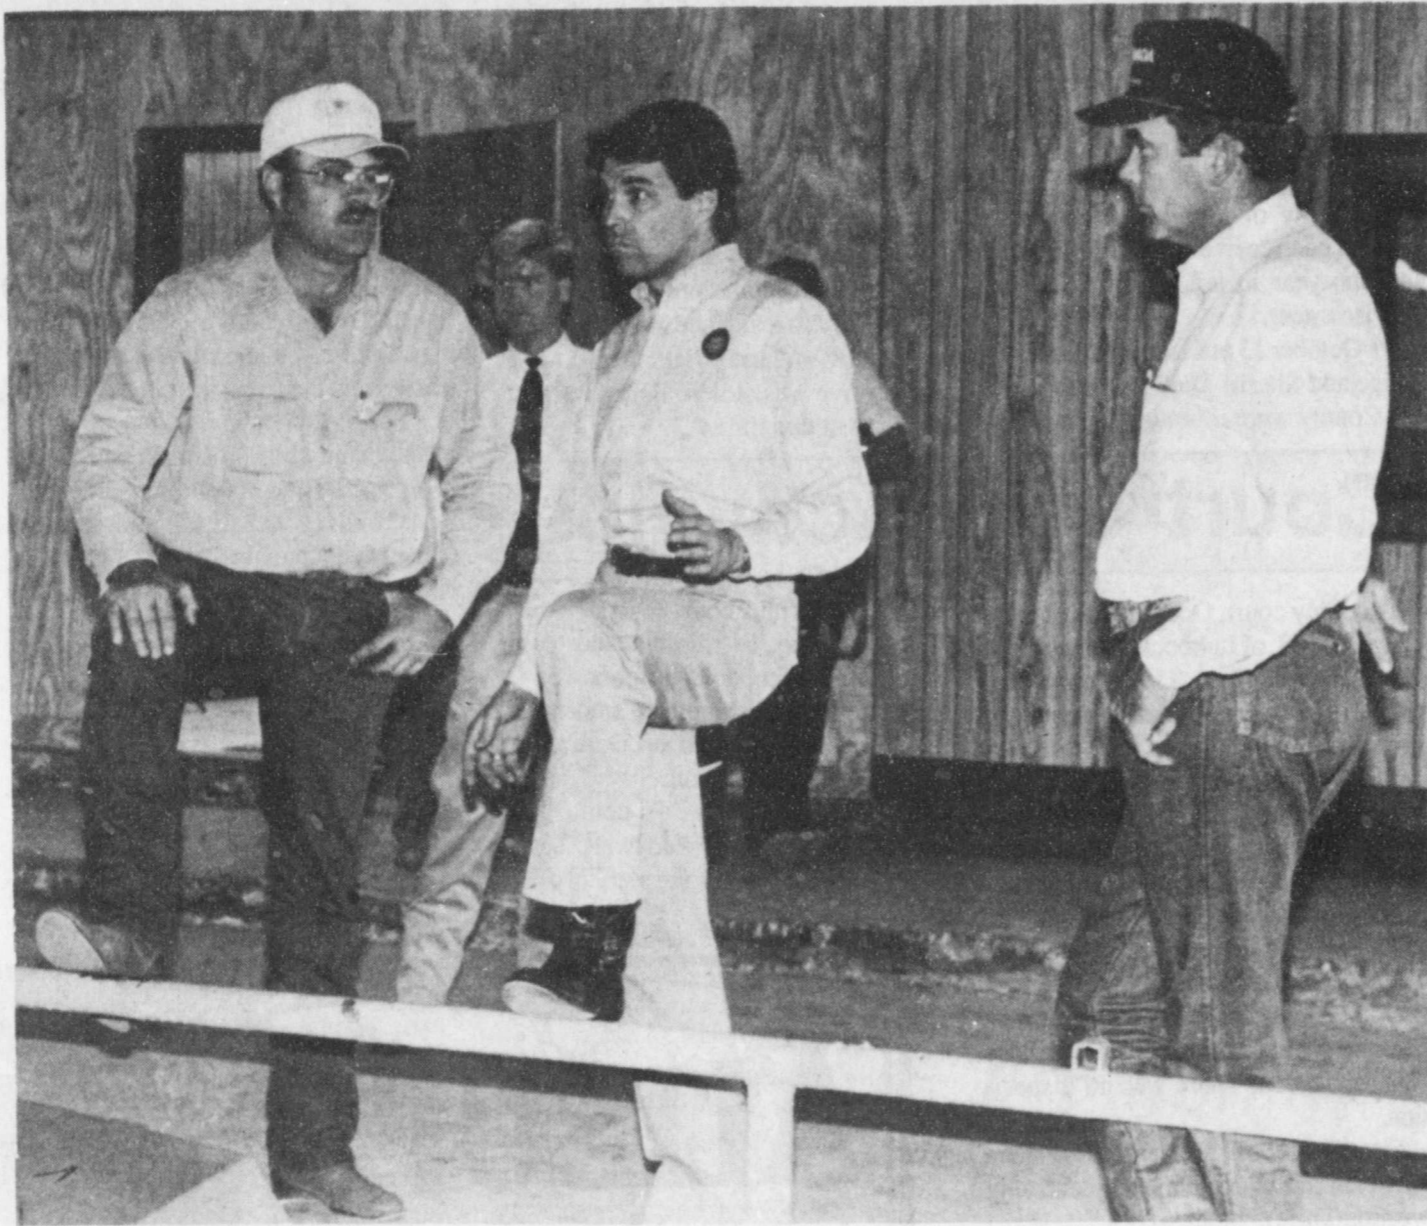

Another thing that might cause the approach to be met with less than genuine enthusiasm among politicians is that

AC promotes pumpkins during visit to Floydada

Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry visited Floydada Thursday, October 10, to promote the state's pumpkin industry and encourage people to buy Texas grown pumpkins.

During his visit Perry addressed Duncan 3rd graders, at Heptad Vegetable and Specialty Co., and also toured Heptad's facilities.

Perry told the school children that he got the idea to come and see Floydada pumpkins after a buying trip in Austin.

"One of my children wanted a pumpkin so we stopped to buy one from a roadside vendor," said Perry. "I asked the man where he had gotten the pumpkins and he told me 'on the Plains'. I asked him where on the Plains, and he said, 'Floyd County.'

"I decided I needed to look into this further and try and help promote the pumpkin crop in Texas."

Perry pointed to a Jack-O-Lantern pumpkin nearby and asked the school children if they knew how much one of those pumpkins sold for in Austin. One youngster replied, "$29.00."

Perry laughed and said to Hulon Carthel (who along with his brother Gary owns Heptad Vegetable), "The market is going up."

Perry explained that a pumpkin of that kind (15 or 16 pounds) sold for $10.00. "Considering the farmer only gets 5 1/2 - 6 cents a pound for it, someone in the middle is making a whole lot of money. That is what I want to change. I want to see the farmer get a bigger share of that dollar."

After discovering that many of the students were not sure what the Agriculture Commissioner does, Perry told them to think of him as the "state's farmer."

Before speaking to the students, Perry was presented with two small "Pumpkin

Trash hauling contract changed by city council

The Lockney City Council made a change in the contract with the Triple C Company in regards to the hauling of Lockney's trash to the Lubbock Landfill. Lon Comer of Triple C met with the council at their October meeting with a revised contract. The contract had been agreed upon at the September meeting.

The contract now reads that Triple C will be hauling Lockney's trash to Lubbock until such time as Floydada or Plainview receives a permit from the State of Texas for their landfills. The Plainview Landfill was closed recently to trash from outside Plainview as they were out of space. Officials in Lubbock agreed to let Triple C haul the trash to their landfill at approximately the same cost for hauling it to Plainview.

Comer also reported to the Council that Senate Bill 1340 has to do with the recycling of oil and oil filters. He asked that everyone be reminded that waste oil and oil filters cannot be placed in the dumpsters. They cannot be hauled to the Lubbock Landfill. The Senate Bill will make it a Class C Misdemeanor to mix oil filters or batteries in with the trash. "When we arrive at the Lubbock Landfill our truck is numbered and we are told in what spot to dump our trash" Comer told the members of the council. "After we dump they spread out the trash and it is then inspected for hazardous waste. If oil filters or batteries are found we can be fined." He continued, "The second offense is a Class A Misdmeanor and we take a chance of a big fine or being banned from the landfill. I don't know where we could take Lockney's trash if that happened."

The council was informed that there are three companies in Lubbock who will accept this type of waste and that at some time soon Lockney will have to look at a collection point for hazardous waste such as filters and batteries.

Comer concluded, "It will take all of us working together to get through the changes that are coming. We need to be ready for them before hand and then we will be ahead."

Don Marble met with the council and asked the city to clean out the culverts under the railroad tracks south of the Marble Brothers Farms Gin so that the water draining from the part of town

'Light Up Lockney Main Street' project underway

A "Light Up Lockney Main Street" project has been started by Vera Jo Bybee.

"I would like to see Main Street lit up at Christmas time" stated Vera Jo Bybee as she opened her campaign. "It will cost $6,000.00 to wire the light poles on Main Street so that the Christmas decorations can be plugged in," she stated.

"Southwestern Public Service has said that they will do the work for that amount and we need to have it done by the middle of November," she continued. "Lights will also have to be purchased for the decorations that were built by local donation also. I am asking the citizens of Lockney to help me in this project."

A donation has been made by the Athena Study Club to start the ball rolling. Bybee intends to contact all the clubs, organizations, businesses and individuals that she can, but she asks that you call her and pledge a donation to "Light up Main Street".

By The Way

Boy the Carthel brothers (Hulon and Gary) and Mike Mallett (Floyd County Extension agent) were busy last Thursday. Mike started Thursday off with a Pumpkin Field Day and then played host to Texas Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry's visit to Heptad Vegetables.

I had never met Perry before. I was personally very impressed with what seemed to be a genuine concern of his to help promote the pumpkin industry in Texas. I also liked the way he communicated with the third graders from Duncan Elementary who came to meet him and give him a Punkin Day T-shirt.

There was a lot of press people and media at Heptad. It was about that time that I noticed Gary Carthel had made himself inconspicuous. Hulon was left with the flashbulbs and microphones stuck under his nose. I could tell he was thrilled.

But it was still good publicity for the county and I thought it was a very exciting day.

I was just glad I made it to Heptad and on time. My day did not start out very well.

I wanted to go take pictures of the field day Thursday morning, but I didn't have time to follow the farmers around all day. I called Mike's office and asked when would be a good time to come take a picture of the field day.

I was told to meet at Hulon and Gary's pumpkin field at 10:30 a.m., two miles west and 1/2 mile north. Hulon relayed a message, telling them to tell me that I had been there before and I could find it with those directions.

Ok—it's true. I had been there to take pictures before, but Hulon drove and I talked the whole way. I wasn't paying attention.

Anyway, those were simple directions. I used to be a police officer for heaven sakes. I drove to work in the wild Houston traffic. Any dummy can go two miles west and 1/2 mile north.

So at 10:30 a.m., I set out on Hwy. 70 West, headed toward Muncy. I knew I was going west because the highway sign said so.

After two miles I slowed down and turned right (north), onto a dirt road. Well even I could tell the road hadn't been used in 100 years. I drove a little further looking for pumpkin fields on my right. There were none.

I went back to Heptad and found Gary. He told me that I was supposed to go two miles west of Muncy and then 1/2 mile north. (It was about this time that I vaguely remembered the extension office telling me that).

So I said—no problem Gary. I can find that.

Off I drove back down Hwy. 70 West. I passed Muncy and continued down Hwy. 70 west. I thought I had it this time.

Sure enough, I found another dirt road on my right in exactly two miles. I turned and found only plowed fields. NO PUMPKINS. It is about 11:00 a.m. now.

I turn back to Heptad. I find Gary. I holler at Gary.

He says, "Did you turn west at Muncy?"

"What do you mean turn?" I ask. "I kept on going west on Highway 70."

Well after Gary quit laughing and got control of himself he drew me a map.

I found the pumpkin patch at 11:30 a.m. There was no one there. I was leaving and ran into the pumpkin growers arriving one hour late. If I had found it on time, I would have been alone. I wonder how long I would have sat there wondering if I was in the right place.

Don't forget the upcoming play, "Steel Magnolias" at the Methodist Church in Floydada next week. The cast has been working overtime to provide us with some great entertainment. Be sure and get out to see it!

Rumor has it that besides being different, it is a lot better than the movie!

Julianne Cornelius is expecting her baby anytime now. She was the chairman last year of Punkin Days and this year's chairman, Brenda Heflin, has given Julianne strict instructions that the baby cannot be born until after October 26.

Julianne has way too many things to do on Punkin Days. We have agreed to provide her with a golf cart to drive around in if necessary. If she has the baby the night of October 25, we expect her to show up the next morning.

Hey—a long time ago women worked in the fields after giving birth! At least that is what I've always heard.

Speaking of Julianne, my son Brandon was fascinated with her tummy a couple of weeks ago. Before I thought about the Pandora's box I could be opening, I informed Brandon that there was a baby inside there.

As soon as I said it, I braced for all the "How" questions!

Brandon thought for a moment and then whispered in my ear, "Has it got food to eat in there?"

That was the one and only question. It was easy. I was thrilled.

The donut man's jokes for the week! (By the way, his name is Vaughn Hunt).

Waiter: Would you care for red or white wine?

Diner: It doesn't matter. I'm color blind.

Tracy: Wilhelmina's a lot older than she looks.

Stacy: Oh, I'd say she's approaching forty.

it would essentially take them out of the taxing picture. The tax would be set. The amount of revenue generated would depend on economic activity. The way the present system operates statehouse politicians can use their taxing power to whip whole industries in line, or pose as protectors of this industry or that, while reaping vast sums in campaign contributions, some of which end up in "office holder accounts" used to buy homes in Austin or send kids to college.

But clearly something must be done. And the answers obviously will have to come from the people. History teaches us we cannot expect real answers to come from where they ought to. The Legislature has wrapped up another session in which they increased our tax burden by $2.7 Billion, not counting the additional local taxes they mandated for people to pay. Governor Ann Richards said the additional tax "was not all that painful." Perhaps not, from where she sits. We doubt the additional 5 cents per gallon tax on gasoline will have any effect on her pocketbook, but it does on the rest of us, or most of us. And Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock has already warned us that it was merely a stop-gap measure, that more is on the way.

It's certainly not too early to begin thinking. Anything that has promise of bringing a little more equity into our taxing system, and perhaps, just perhaps, lift the burden on local property owners deserves to be at least looked at.

If anyone locally wishes to pursue the matter, or find out more about it, we suggest you contact Layne Kirk. We know he's interested, since we have visited about the subject. And he can probably put you in touch with the people who are ramrodding the effort. We don't know if it will work, but we do know one thing. Nothing ventured, nothing gained.

Lockney Police Report

The Lockney Police are investigating an incident where a vacant house on East Willow was entered by approximately six teenagers and one adult to have a beer party. A small amount of damage was done to the house. Police are expecting charges to be filed this week on several of the teenagers and the adult for criminal trespass. Police expect to file charges on the adult for supplying beer to minors.

On October 13 Lockney Police arrested Juan Comacho, 27, of Lockney for public intoxication. Police observed Mr. Comacho walking north on S.E. 2nd at 4:20 a.m. Mr. Comacho appeared to be intoxicated and was arrested. When police searched Comacho they discovered a butcher knife inside his jacket. Comacho was also charged with unlawful carrying of a weapon. A person found guilty of carrying a concealed weapon can receive up to a $2000 fine and one year in jail or both fine and imprisonment.

On October 13 at 11:30 a.m. Lockney Police and Sheriff Dick Roehr of Briscoe County were investigating an accident north of Lockney in Briscoe County involving a van stolen in Plainview. Sheriff Roehr reported that a motorist picked up three juveniles in the area of the stolen vehicle, picked them up and brought them to Lockney. The motorist gave a good description of the juveniles. Lockney Police, Sheriff Roehr and a Floyd County deputy sheriff attempted to locate juveniles. The three juveniles stole three bicycles in Lockney and were located approximately three miles west of Lockney on Highway 70. The bicycles were stolen in an attempt to return to Plainview. The juveniles were taken into custody and the bicycles recovered and returned to owners. The case was turned over to the Plainview Police Department because of the stolen vehicle and the theft of the bicycles has been turned over to the Floyd County Juvenile authorities.

Lockney Police are investigating a burglary of a habitation. Unknown persons entered a residence in the 300 block of East Bryant and a light brown or tan microwave was stolen. Police have no suspects at this time.

Courtroom Activities

In county court, October 9, Robert L. Chapman, 68, of Lubbock, pled guilty to DWI. He was fined $500.00 and sentenced to one year in jail which was probated for two years. He was also ordered to pay court costs.

Also on October 9, Gilbert Gonzales was charged with theft over $200.00. There was no disposition on this case.

Augustin Martinez was charged October 9, with harboring a runaway. There was no disposition on this case.

October 11, Antonio Rendon, was charged with driving while his license was suspended. There was no disposition.

October 14, Juan Manuel Camacho was charged with unlawfully carrying weapon (knife).

Also on October 14 Pedro Angel Nayala pled guilty to failure to appear. He was fined $75.00 plus court costs.

Freddy James Litley pled guilty on October 14 to failure to appear. He was

Floydada Police Report

Floydada Police investigated two reports of burglary of habitations last week.

October 8, police received a report that sometime between September 10 and October 8, someone entered a home in the 500 block of E. Missouri and stole a 19" Edmondson color TV and a VCR. The owners had been away from the home during that time. Entry was gained by forcing open the front door.

On October 13, at 7:58 p.m., police received a report of a burglary of a home in the 300 block of W. Ollie. The owners reported that sometime the previous night someone stole over $4,000 in property from their home.

There was no sign of forced entry into the home, but the back door was found unlocked.

Stolen was: two Emerson VCR's, Emerson stereo, Remington 1100 carrying case, three additional barrels, aluminum mag flashlight, $360.00 worth of Nintendo games, one 35 mm Pentax camera, one 35 mm Canon camera, one Marlin .22 rifle, one Browning .22 rifle and 15 CD tapes.

October 15, police took a report of a criminal mischief which occurred between 2:30 p.m. and 4:00 p.m., October 15. The owner of a Ford LTD, which was parked at 2:30 p.m. in the 200 block of N. White, returned to the vehicle and found the left rear glass window broken out.

Floyd County Commissioners hold routine monthly session

By Juanita Stepp

The Commissioners Court of Floyd County met in regular session on Monday, October 14. The morning meeting handled an agenda of routine matters including the payment of properly presented monthly bills and hearing the treasurer's reports.

Floyd County Treasurer Glenna Orman told the court that her reports this month included an annual report for the fiscal year beginning October 1, 1990 and ending September 30, 1991, a quarterly report for the July, August and September quarter just ended and the report for the month of September.

According to Orman, the county began the month of September with funds totaling $99,469.05 and took in receipts of $276,996.13. Transfers in totaled $93,959.00. Disbursements in the amount of $131,605.71 were made and transfers out totaled $93,959.00, leaving an ending balance for the month, the quarter and the fiscal year in the amount of $244,859.47.

The county has no certificates of deposit at this time. Installment indebtedness totals $40,512.05 and interest earned to date totals $24,094.14. No tax collections have been received from the appraisal district at this time.

The members of the court approved the three reports submitted by Orman.

The court met with Bud Taylor of the National Association of Counties to hear his presentation concerning a deferred income savings plan he requested permission to speak with county employees about. He stressed that there is no obligation on the part of the county and that he would meet with county employees during break times or on their own time to discuss the matter.

Taylor told the court that the plan is an excellent means for an employee to build up a retirement fund and save money on current taxes while doing so. Commissioner George Taylor of Precinct 3 made a motion to allow the plan to be presented to employees who could then accept or reject it on an individual basis. His motion was seconded by Precinct 1 Commissioner Connie Bearden and approved by unanimous vote.

The court approved a motion to deposit officers salary funds into the general fund account rather than into a separate account. Motion for this came from Taylor with a second by Precinct 2 Commissioner Floyd Jackson.

The court approved one farm work contract for Shannon Shurbet in Precinct 3. Motion for the approval was made by Taylor with a second by Precinct 4 Commissioner Howard Bishop.

Attending the session were Floyd County Judge Bill Hardin and Commissioners Bearden, Jackson, Taylor and Bishop. Others present were Glenna Orman, Margaret Herrera and the Hesperian-Beacon reporter.

The October 10 story about the Fisd board meeting contained an unidentified quote. Joyce Kimble was the speaker of the paragraph:

"I think we are out in left field as far as our emphasis goes. You know I think that and I have thought it for years. I haven't changed and I'm not going to."

RED RIBBON WEEK--Lindi Miller, Wesley Hunter, Jeffrey Hunter and Wade Miller watch as Kenneth Wofford, mayor of Lockney, signs a proclamation designating October 20 - 27 as "Red Ribbon Week". The week has been set aside as a project that links via red ribbons millions of Americans who are convinced that the war on drugs can be won. Staff Photo

Red Ribbon Week declared Oct. 20-27

In a time when kids can't afford to get mixed messages about drug use, America can make a strong anti-drug statement without saying a word. During the week of October 20, when you pin on a red ribbon you become a part of the campaign to encourage our nation's youth to combat the use of illegal drugs.

Sponsored by the National Federation of Parents, the Red Ribbon campaign is a project that links via red ribbons millions of Americans who are convinced that the war on drugs is winnable. It is a grass-roots effort which is helping to change attitudes about drugs.

The Red Ribbon Campaign originated when Federal Agent Enrique Camarena was murdered by drug traffickers in 1985. The Red Ribbon became the national symbol to reduce the demand for drugs, just as the yellow symbolized the POWs in North Vietnam and support for the troops during Operation Desert Storm.

During Red Ribbon Week, October 20 through 27, communities across America will participate in activities designed to promote a drug-free America. By wearing a red ribbon, individuals can create positive peer pressure about drug-free choices. It is the rallying point for millions of children and adults who share the commitment to live healthy lives unhampered by substance abuse.

As a drug-free company, McCoy's Building Supply Centers are proud to be a part of the Red Ribbon Campaign. Beginning October 21 while quantities last, your local McCoy's will distribute free imprinted red ribbons and encourage customers to join the nation in promoting a drug-free America.

Account opened at Floydada bank for Taylor marker

An account has been set up at the First National Bank of Floydada for the purpose of raising funds for a marker to be dedicated to Mrs. Annie Taylor. The marker, which would be placed at Annie Taylor Park in Floydada, will cost approximately $1265.

Mrs. Taylor taught in the Floydada school system from 1925 until her retirement on May 7, 1972.

She was born Sept. 26, 1901 in Washington, Texas. She began teaching the primary grades during the school year of 1920-21 in Washington County and again in 1922-1925.

She accepted the teaching job in Floydada in the summer of 1925.

representatives from 29 rural Texas communities, including Floydada learned, it can be just plain fun.

Meeting in Ft. Worth October 5 and 6 at Healthfind, the Center for Rural Health Initiatives' physician recruitment program, local hospital board members and staff, chamber of commerce representatives, bankers and others had an opportunity to talk about the advantages and benefits of living in their town.

And talk they did, to more than 20 physicians and their families. Not only did they talk, they gave away souvenirs celebrating festivals held throughout the year—T-shirts, handy first-aid kits, mugs and even cotton boll corsages.

Floydada's Caprock Hospital was represented by Administrator Terry Keltz, Molly Stringer, Joy Assiter and Jerry Thompson.

Stan and Wendy Pierce volunteered to transport the display booth and community packets to Ft. Worth. The Pierce's also served as alternate representatives at the booth.

"We were told that our display was the best there," said Keltz. The booth consisted of large color photographs, donated by Jack Robertson of "R Photography, of an aerial view of the city and hospital and clinic pictures.

The theme of the booth was Floydada Pumpkin Capital U.S.A. The variety of colors from the miniature pumpkins, Indian corn, ornamental gourds, and the miniature bales of cotton and hay, quickly caught the eyes of doctors and other guests. Also included in the booth were two pumpkins hand painted by Keltz.

Doctors who stopped to view the booth and visit with the hospital representatives were given an information packet explaining the community and "variety packs" of pumpkins and decorative corn and gourds from Heptad

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor and People of Floydada, My family like many others in town must work from a tight fixed budget.

Since the closing of the Furr's the people of this town have been forced to shop at the only grocery store in town. A grave disservice has been done to us.

Because of the lack of competition and ability for comparison shopping, Pay-n-Save can price their product in any manner they please.

In the months since Furr's closing my grocery bill has increased 25 to 30 dollars a week. This adds up to an average of an extra 100 dollars a month to feed my family.

I am a careful and frugal shopper. I have never been able to purchase luxury food items, now I must cut many necessities from my weekly grocery list just to remain within my food allowance.

Goen captures Best of Show

Jo Goen, local Floydada artist, recently won the Best of Show award in Spur at a show sponsored by the Spur Art Guild.

A first in oil landscape, third in oil landscape, second in Human Interest category, and two Honorable Mentions were also bestowed on her.

She has been painting for several years and maintains a permanent gallery in the office of Goen & Goen.

north of the gin would have somewhere to go. Members of the council agreed that something did need to be done and they agreed to contact the railroad officials and ask that the work be done.

Dan Smith was re-appointed to the Floyd County Board of Directors to represent the City of Lockney.

Members of the council voted to adopt a resolution to request the State Purchasing and General Services Commission to include the City of Lockney's stated need and/or needs on the Commission's annual contracts. A new police car is presently in the budget and will be purchased through this Commission.

City Hall was declared as a non-

Now that the Furr's store has been stripped it will be even more difficult for another grocery store to offer its services to our community.

Aren't there enough empty store fronts lining our streets?

Dear Editor:

Upon my recent unscheduled Pre-Halloween visit to check on my "Punkin" buddies and wish them "Bon Voyage" on their trips across the state and nation to become famous jack-o-lanterns, I made a shocking discovery. There was a most offensive sign blocking the view of my perfectly matured and handsome "Punkin head" sign on the highway. Normally, I don't fly off the vine and lose my "head" at the drop of a seed, but this really "Burns" me up! Therefore, I found it necessary to remove the sign bearing the City Auto advertisement and hold it until a more "ad" vine"tageous location could be found. Being the matured goodwill ambassador for Floyd County that I am, I will be delighted to relocate the sign for Mr. Burns in a more appropriate place a little farther down the road. If he will send his relocation specifications to the Hesperian office and promise to never, ever upstage me again, I will relocate his sign free of charge!

Productively yours,
The Great Punkin-Head

smoking area. Signs will be posted at the front and back door and it is requested that everyone entering the building honor the designation.

During regular business, the meeting was called to order by Mayor Kenneth Wofford. The minutes were read and approved and the financial statement was reviewed.

Present at the meeting was Mayor Kenneth Wofford; Aldermen J.D. Copeland, Gary Marr, Jim Doucette and Ronnie Aston; City Attorney Paul Lyle; City Secretary Erma Lee Duckworth; Assistant Charlotte Hooten; City Superintendent Dickie McCarty; Mr. and Mrs. Lon Comer, Don Marble and the Hesperian-Beacon reporter.

The friendliness and strong sense of community pride were evident among all hospital representatives, as they interviewed the potential doctors and met their spouses and children. They talked about the quality of hospitals and schools, the availability of recreational facilities, the proximity to shopping centers and cultural events, and the possibility of jobs for spouses.

But most of all, they talked about what made their community special. All of them boasted of probably the greatest asset of all, the residents.

Physicians who attended said this was a great chance for them to stroll through rural Texas without ever leaving the building, and to view a number of Texas towns in one place without spending time traveling to individual communities around the state.

Communities were encouraged about how easy it was to talk to the doctors, and how eager the physicians were to hear about their towns.

"I felt very optimistic afterwards," said Keltz. "Many contacts were made with young physicians that are eager to practice the full range of family practice in a rural area. Some physicians drove from as far away as Houston to attend."

"All the doctors are one to two years away from being available. With their being more opportunity to practice in Texas than there are doctors, it is very common to find 2nd year residents that are already committed to communities."

Caprock Hospital will join many of these communities in San Antonio for this year's second and final Healthfind Exchange, scheduled for November 2 and 3.

Capital" T-Shirts from Erik Gomez and Mandy Holbert, of Duncan Elementary. Perry thanked the students and told them that his own children would love the T-shirts. "Every time I come back from a trip, they want to know what I brought them," said Perry.

After his visit with the students, Perry toured Heptad Vegetables and met with several members of the news media including the television stations KCBD and KLBK, from Lubbock.

The Floydada area, which bills itself as the pumpkin capital has about 800 acres of pumpkins in Floyd County. Nearby, another 500 acres are planted in Hale County and some 200 acres are in Bailey County.

"The three counties are the top pumpkin producing counties in the Plains," said Perry. "Pumpkins grown in this area are shipped across the United States. The crop brings in almost a half million dollars each year into Floyd, Hale and Bailey counties."

"Pumpkins will not rival corn or cotton as far as the top-dollar generator in the area, but they are providing a significant income in the area," Perry said.

1956 Study Club

By Judy Dunlap

In observance of 1956 Study Club's 35th Anniversary charter member Betty Holmes visited the club as special guest October 6. The group met in the home of Dana Crossland.

Club President Judy Schacht greeted members at the door and presented each with a ribbon corsage made in the colors which depict 35th anniversaries—jade and coral. Roll call was answered with a memory of club which included opportunities to work with other women on community projects, enjoying the friendliness and helpfulness of the women's group, and the welcome spirit offered to newcomers of Floydada.

President Schacht read an article from the Centennial Edition of Floyd County Hesperian which described the formation meeting of the club. Scrapbooks and yearbooks of past club years were displayed. Long-stemmed coral roses were presented to Betty Holmes and long-time member Darlynn Hambricht. The ladies agreed that the gathering of women is full of laughter, yet also concerned about the needs of the community.

To increase the club's awareness of Family Law, District Attorney Becky McPherson described child abuse cases as the hardest to prosecute. She pointed out that a child's allegation can ruin an adult's reputation. "Children usually don't tell the whole story the first time they tell an adult," she said. They are influenced by the reactions of others and by television each time they tell the story. "Prosecution is not always the best thing. Counseling can help," Mrs. McPherson stated.

She emphasized the tremendous power exercised by the Department of Human Services over a family. As they work with the court and the family, the primary interest is what is best for the child in the long run.

In club business it was decided to donate money to the Spaghetti Supper sponsored by Floydada Day Care Center and to the Jimmie Jo West Love Fund.

New club member Shawnda Greer was present in addition to Kathy Becker, Lisa Becker, Rozanne Bishop, Rosemary Finley, Linda Harbin, Donna Henderson, Melissa Long, Latresa Miller, Sharon Rainwater, Susan Simpson, Atha Sue, Candy Thrasher, Leora Younger, Sharon Henderson, Sherre Cannon, and Judy Dunlap.

Keeping You In Stitches

The Keeping You In Stitches Quilt Guild met Tuesday, October 8, 1991 in the home of Anne Jones. They quilted on two quilts Anne had previously won in the monthly block exchange.

Terrisu Mann brought the Sampler Quilt that has been quilted and will be raffling on Punkin Days. It is very pretty, done in shades of burgandy red and forest green. Tickets are still available from any member of the guild.

Sydney Jackson reported on the Quilt Show that the guild will be holding October 26. Entries will be received from 6 p.m. until 8 p.m. at the First National Bank in Floydada, Friday, October 25. The show will take place on Saturday from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. Winners will be announced at the awards ceremony conducted at 5:00 that afternoon. Winner of the raffled quilt will also be announced at that time.

Guests for the day were: Oleta Wilson, Jan Beedy, Cheryl Dawdy and Johanna, Carol Vines, Jan Heichelheim, Shawnda Greer, Willie McCormick and Edwina Hollums.

Harmony Club

By Doris Snodgrass

The Harmony Extension Club met in the club room at 2 p.m. October 14, with Arvie Schulz as hostess.

The meeting was called to order by the vice president acting in the absence of Mae Williams, president.

Arvie Schulz read a poem for opening exercise, why God made little girls.

Roll call was answered by a Christmas gift you have received. Anna Maude read the minutes of the last club meeting.

Our club will be selling pecans for $5.00 a pound. Council Delegate gave the report from the council. The names of the committee for the new year were read.

The club program of Show -N- Tell was given by club members. Juanita Pool directed the recreation.

Arvie Schulz, hostess, served refreshments to the following: Bess Carr, Anna Maude Hopper, Lucille Miller, Imelda Murry, Ruth Scott, Doris Snodgrass and Blanche Williams.

El Progreso Study Club

Alice Mitchell entertained the El Progreso Study Club in her home Wednesday. Members answered roll call with a fact about Australia.

President Kathleen Thornton presided over a short business meeting and welcomed a guest, Laverna Sams' daughter, Donna Burger of Pampa.

Mrs. Mitchell showed a very interesting film of Australia. She noted some interesting facts about their different seasons, great mineral wealth, Botanical Gardens, Blue mountains and wonderful opera house built in Sydney harbor. Australia is about the size of the United States but has 1/10 the population.

Texas Tornado cake was served to Mrs. Burger and club members, Edythe Clark, Arla Copeland, Faye Ferguson, Elaine Gibson, Cornelia Johnson, Hazel Johnson, Bobbie Kellison, Sams, Doris Thacker and Thornton.

1950 Study Club

The 1950 Study Club sponsored a program on alcohol and drug abuse for their October meeting.

The program was held in the high school auditorium October 8. Greg Lott of Charter Counseling Center was the speaker. Lott works full time for Charter Plains Hospital offering encouragement and inspiration to those recovering from alcohol and drugs.

Anyone interested in having him speak to their organization or who would like personal counseling can contact him through Charter Plains Hospital.

The next meeting will be November 5, in the home of Jane McCulley.

Della Halencak celebrates 100th

Della Frances Bayer Halencak marked her 100th birthday October 10 at the Floydada Nursing Home. Her eight children had hosted a family celebration on Sunday, Oct. 6, at the Massie Activity Center, with approximately 75 relatives and friends attending.

Among gifts received by Mrs. Halencak was a card from Governor Ann Richards and an acknowledgement from President George Bush. She was also presented with an array of cards, money and phone calls.

Born Della Bayer, in Williamson County, Granger Texas, on Oct. 10, 1891, Mrs. Halencak, was the oldest in a family of 10. Three sisters, Gertrude Krischke of Schulenburg, Texas, Bea Childers of El Paso, and Alice Cook of Abernathy, and one brother, Raymond Bayer of Brownfield are still living.

Della married Frank Joe Halencak August 31, 1913. Together they had 11 children, three of which are deceased. They were Mary and Marjorie and Frankie Martin. Four daughters and four sons are still living.

Her daughters are: Mildred Kubicek of Vernon; Rosie Micola of Woodlake, California; Julie Connell of Waco; and Jo Bryant of Floydada. Sons are: Lonnie Halencak of Vernon; Rudy Halencak of Fresno, California; B.J. Halencak of Crowell, Texas; Raymond Halencak of Wichita Falls.

Della also has 28 grandchildren, 53 great-grandchildren and eight great-great-grandchildren.

Della and Frank were married 60 years before he died on May 7, 1974. They both were in the nursing home prior to his death.

Mrs. Halencak has spent the last seven years at the Floydada Nursing Home and spent 11 years at the nursing home in Woods, Texas, before that.

Although her hearing and eyesight are poor, Della has a bright outlook on life. Confined to a wheelchair, she stays alert and never complains.

Della is of Prague-Czech descent and is a Roman Catholic. She attributes her long life to "hard work, honesty, taking life as it comes, one day at a time, and always being thankful, and not worrying or have anxiety as tomorrow will take care of itself."

She also attributes her hobbies of gardening, making homemade bread, sewing and polka music to keeping her young.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

By Jo Bryant

Hi, on this crisp, cool Autumn morning. I will try to catch up on the latest events.

Monday started the week as usual, with Bro. Bill Wright giving the devotion, and Irene Wexler playing the piano. In the afternoon the residents had arts and crafts. They made a mask for their Halloween party.

experience with their problems. Care planning was then discussed. We each received 5 1/2 credit for the continuing education required.

Wednesday, was Bingo once again. Mary Alice Davis came and assisted the residents. Thanks for the candy, it was a treat. Otis Johnson had the first Bingo. Ruth Hammonds went on a trip, so we missed her.

Thursday, was Della Bayer Halencak's 100th birthday, so she was honored with a party. A large white cake with seven red roses, punch, mints, M&M's were served to all present. Jonah Keith from Lubbock came and played the piano for us. William's Florist presented her with a blue carnation corsage. President Bush sent a gold seal card and Ann Richards sent a 8x10 wishes.

Friday, Nell McClung came and did the devotion on prayer. Evelyn Latta played the piano and closed with a prayer. Then on the bus ride were Peggy Young, Nettie Adams, Audie Potect, Charles Breeding, Kermit Glover, Brooks Callaway, Henry Willis, Knox Jameson and Warren Denton. McDonalds treated them to some ice cream. Some did some shopping at Wal-Mart.

Have you noticed our big TV screen? We are so proud of it. The residents are really proud of it, and are enjoying it very much. Thanks for the employees for helping raise the funds, and the donations that were given. Also, we want to thank Scott Faulkenberry once again for our shocked corn shucks, pumpkins, gourds and Tommy Assiter for the pumpkins, etc., and Carhel's for the corn etc. We are looking forward to the events on Punkin Day, we will have a booth to sell food on that day. You all come to see us.

Our love and sympathy to out to the family of Hattie Jones, we will miss her. Also, we want to welcome a new resident Silvestre Arrandando from Cedar Hill. Charley Warren is in the hospital at this time.

Thought

If you really want to test your memory, just try to think of the things that were worrying you last week at this time.

October 24, the "blood cholesterol screening" from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m.

All ladies mark on their calendars October 30, Colleen Chadwick of Plainview will have a program on Creative Christmas, starts at 10 a.m., so be there early. It will really be an interesting program.

Bothwell-Probasco pledge nuptials

MRS. MAX ALAN PROBASCO

Karen Denise Bothwell and Max Alan Probasco were married on Oct. 12, 1991 at Orchard Hills Baptist Church in Garland, Texas. Dr. Don E. McKenzie performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Bothwell of Garland, Texas. The groom is the son of Mrs. Kenneth E. Probasco of Floydada.

The bride wore a white satin gown embellished with pearls and sequins. The train was chapel length. Her bouquet was of calla lilies and stephanotis.

Jana Grogan, the bride's sister, and Laura Foster, both of Garland, served as matrons of honor. Bridesmaids were Kathie Benkendorfer and Christi Jenkins, both of Garland. Their tea length dresses were of teal moire taffeta.

Carl Ross of Richardson, Texas, served as best man to the groom. Groomsmen included the groom's two brothers, Mark Probasco of Shallowater and Mitch Probasco of Floydada, and Paul Lloyd of Floydada. Ushers were Tracy Turner of Floydada, Scott Wheeler of Dallas and Joe Grogan of Garland. The groom and his attendants wore grey tuxedos.

Andi Probasco and Kenneth Washburn, niece and nephew of the groom, were candlelighters. Amanda Foster, daughter of the bride's matron of honor, was the flower girl and Robby Probasco, nephew of the groom, was the ring bearer.

Music included a congregational hymn, "Love Divine, All Loves Excelling", "The Lord's Prayer", "Only God Could Love You More", and "A Woman's Prayer".

A reception followed at the Bristol Suites Hotel in Dallas. The house party included Diane Lundy, friend of the bride; Jackie Suggs and Amy Bothwell, cousins of the bride; Judy Washburn and Jill Graham, sisters of the groom, and Lyndi Probasco, niece of the groom.

The bride is a 1977 graduate of R.L. Turner High School in Carrollton, Texas. She graduated from the University of North Texas in 1981 with her Bachelors of Science in Clothing and Textiles. She is currently employed at Texas Instruments, Consumer Products Division as a Product Development Manager.

The groom is a 1976 graduate of Floydada High School. He graduated from Art Center College of Design in Pasadena, California, with a degree in Industrial Design. He owns his own industrial design company, Probasco Design.

The couple will live in Richardson, Texas, following a honeymoon in Oahu and Maui, Hawaii.

PRE-NUPTIAL COURTESIES

Pre-nuptial courtesies extended to the couple included a bridal shower in the Floydada home of Janice Lloyd.

Punch, tea cookies, finger sandwiches and nuts were served from crystal appointments. The lace covered serving table featured a large basket of mauve, blue, pink and yellow flowers with napkins of the same shades.

Special guests attending included Dottie Bothwell, Peggy Probasco, Jill Graham, Laura Probasco and Katie and Lyndi and Andi Probasco.

Hostesses were Lori Lloyd, Lovene Moore, Trena Simpson, Pat Rucker, Jo Wester and Janice Lloyd. Their gift was a five-piece place setting of china.

Texas Caprock Arts Festival to be held October 19-20

Texas Caprock Arts Festival will be held at the Showbarn in Silverton on Oct. 19-20, with a reception to be held Saturday from 7:00 p.m. until 10:00 p.m. The show will be open on Sunday from 1:00 until 5:00 p.m. There will be no admission charge.

To vote for the Peoples' Choice Award, you will have to cast your ballot at the Showbarn before 9:00 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 19. The award will be presented at 9:00 p.m.

Thirty-two artists including Jo Goen of Floydada have entered the show and 90 pieces of artwork will be shown.

Dr. Kenneth Wyatt is judge for the show and also will be the guest artist. He will have some of his work on display and also will have some items for sale.

A lot of the artwork being shown will be priced for sale.

Dr. Wyatt is one of America's foremost artists, and is best known for his western and Christian art. His landscape, still life and character study work is among the best anywhere. He is internationally recognized for his Christian paintings, is the author of several books on art, is known for his numerous books as author, poet and illustrator, and he is one of the most sought-after speakers for after-dinner affairs.

Dr. Wyatt works in oil, watercolor, pencil, pastel, charcoal and sculpture. His work is produced for the public in original form, framed or matted prints, note cards, Christmas cards, jewelry and in limited edition bronze and pewter sculpture.

He has two galleries, his main gallery and studio in Tulia, and his Red River Gallery of Fine Arts in Red River, New Mexico. Both have fine selections of quality paintings, bronze sculptures, fine art prints, collectable pewters and unique treasures from the Wyatt's travels.

In recent years, the Tulia artist gained national recognition when he painted "Offer Them Christ," commemorating 200 years of Methodism in the United States. Following this, Dr. Wyatt painted portraits of the 12 Apostles, Paul and Jesus.

Ramsey and Wolcott to marry

Mr. and Mrs. Dallas L. Ramsey announce the engagement of their daughter, DeLyn, to Roger James Wolcott, son of Dr. Lester E. Wolcott and the late Helen Wolcott of Lubbock.

The wedding will be Nov. 16 at the First United Methodist Church in Lubbock.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Floydada High School and has attended South Plains College and Texas Tech University. The future bridegroom, a graduate of Coronado High School and Texas Tech University, attends Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center School of Medicine.

SILVER ANNIVERSARY—Mr. and Mrs. Abelino R. Luna of Lockney will celebrate the 25th anniversary of their marriage, Saturday, October 19, 1991 at 3 p.m. at the Lockney Community Center. It will be followed by a reception and dance.

City wide garage sale to benefit West

A city-wide garage sale will be held Saturday, Oct. 26, from 9:00 a.m. - 6:00 p.m. All proceeds will go to the Jimmie Jo West Love Fund. Mrs. West, a Floydada resident, is in need of a lung transplant.

"Roxanna Cummings and Evelyn Branch have offered to let us use a room at The Lamplighter Inn to hold the sale," said Sandra Noland, who is heading the project.

"They have been kind enough to let us use the room that used to be the Pat Walkers Salon," said Noland.

Volunteers are still needed to mark items and to work on Punkin Days. Paper sacks and coat hangers are also needed.

"The week before the sale, volunteers will be at The Lamplighter from 1:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. to take donations and mark the items," said Noland.

For more information concerning the garage sale, call Sandra Noland at 983-2087.

Artists come together for annual Running Water Draw Festival

The 16th Annual Running Water Draw Arts & Crafts Festival will be held in the Ollie Limer Ag. Center in Plainview Oct. 18-20. The Festival brings together nearly 150 artists and craftspeople from throughout the Southwest. During the three days over 8,000 people will attend. All items for sale are handmade by the exhibitor. Jewelry, pottery, clothing, furniture, quilts, afghans, and numerous country crafts are included. Original artwork in oil, watercolor, and acrylics is offered.

Among this year's exhibitors will be Cynthia Bybee and Kathleen Thornton, both of Lockney.

Also featured, this year, will be entertainment by area musical groups, from local school groups to professional country western bands. There will also be interactive craft exhibits where the spectator will actually create his own crafts.

This event is co-sponsored by the Plainview Noon Rotary Club, the Llano Estacado Museum and Wayland Baptist University. Proceeds from the sales are used to support numerous charities and civic activities supported by the Rotary Club and to provide support for the museum collections and exhibits.

The Festival will be open on Friday, Oct. 18, from noon to 8 p.m.; on Saturday, Oct. 19, from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.; and on Sunday, Oct. 20, from noon to 5 p.m.

Perry launches program aimed at improving children's nutrition

Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry has launched a new and far-reaching statewide program aimed at enhancing the nutritional value of public school meals and the agricultural literacy of Texas youngsters.

Known as Texas Education and Agriculture Cooperating for Health — or Project TEACH — the program is also designed to create new opportunities for Texas farmers and ranchers to sell their goods and products.

The effort — a first for the Texas Department of Agriculture — is being introduced in four school districts this month. They are Austin ISD in Austin, Edgewood ISD in San Antonio, Dallas ISD and Cypress-Fairbanks ISD in the Houston area.

Perry's goal is to expand the program to districts throughout the state.

"Ensuring that our sons and daughters are healthy and fully prepared for the future is our most important duty — not only for those of us who are parents, but for society as a whole," Perry said in unveiling Project TEACH. "What we do today to ensure a child's nutritional and educational well-being could affect that youngster for years to come."

"That's why Project TEACH is so exciting. Through this program, we hope to enhance students' agricultural literacy — to help them better understand where their food comes from," said Perry, who is making ag literacy a major focus of his administration.

"What's more, through Project TEACH we want to help public schools locate Texas producers and processors who can supply their food needs year-round," Perry said. "Texas produces some of America's most wholesome, affordable and abundant commodities. We want to encourage school food service directors to buy Texas whenever possible."

Perry, who is visiting schools to launch the program, noted that more than 2 million lunches and 600,000 breakfasts are served daily in Texas public schools.

The Texas Education Agency estimates annual food purchases for public schools at $500 million. For every dollar earned by a Texas producer, an additional $2 of economic activity is generated in the state.

Sponsored by the Texas Department of Agriculture and local school districts, Project TEACH encourages school food service personnel to plan school menus using Texas products when possible. Project TEACH schools are being offered sample menus that include fresh and processed commodities produced in Texas, as well as nutritious recipes to add diversity to menu planning.

At the same time, the program provides the schools special "children-friendly" support material designed to educate youngsters in kindergarten through third grade about the origins of the foods they eat.

For instance, activity sheets are provided to schools to help students understand where food comes from and how it gets to their tables. The youngsters may color the activity sheets as they "follow" the path traveled by fruits and vegetables from the farm to their lunch trays. Other activities on the sheets include vegetable word games and "connect the dots" to identify a vegetable.

Under Project TEACH, schools are provided a specially designed, full-color produce map featuring the state's nine major growing areas. A color-coded chart shows when fruits, vegetables and nuts are harvested and gives students a geographical perspective of Texas agriculture.

"This is good for Texas producers. It's good for Texas schools," Perry said. "Most importantly, it's good for Texas school children."

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK—The kindergarten classes at Lockney Elementary School were treated to a ride on the fire truck and ambulance as a part of Fire Prevention Week. The students were told what to do in case of a fire and how to report a fire. The pre-kindergarten classes also received a ride on the fire truck. Staff Photo

Rodriguez recognized by Air Force

(Editor's Note: The following letter was sent to Mr. and Mrs. Toribio Rodriguez of Lockney from the Department of the Air Force.)

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Rodriguez, Recently we completed a deployment to Incirlik Air Base, Turkey, where we supported the largest humanitarian relief effort in history — code name "Operation Provide Comfort". I would like to relay to you what a great pleasure it was for me to have served with your son, A1C Christobal Rodriguez, during our squadron's participation in Operation Provide Comfort.

The 526th's F-16 provided fighter air cover and presence over northern Iraq to insure no interference during the delivery of over 17,000 tons of food and supplies to approximately 468,000 Iraqi-Kurdish refugees seeking a safe haven in the mountain region along the Turkish/Iraqi border. With the help of our contribution, the Kurdish refugees were able to safely receive assistance and return to their homeland without further incident. This effort, purported to have saved "hundreds of thousands of innocent lives," was a multinational campaign conducted by her Combined Task Force.

We supported the operation from both Incirlik and Ramstein Air Base. Our deployed operations were conducted under austere conditions, with many of our younger troops living in tents. We all worked in very hot and humid conditions supporting the flying program which was two to three times our normal training — over 4000 flight hours in just three months. Our people at Ramstein pulled extra duty as well, all of the extra flying hours came with a price — we conducted our major preventive maintenance at three times the normal pace. So, my bottom line is that we all worked very hard and can be specially proud of what we have done — and we'll be going back to Incirlik soon to relieve our sister unit.

Your son has been a critical component in the success of Operation Provide Comfort. Christobal's dedicated and professional skill, knowledge, and leadership under the most severe conditions reflect great credit upon himself and the United States Air Force. I'm very proud of your son's accomplishments, and know you are too.

Better Business Bureau issues loan scam warning

South Plains consumers and small business owners are now endangered by a "national epidemic" of bogus loan schemes preying on those experiencing hard times as a result of the recession and the tight credit market. The scams charge advance fees for "guaranteed" loans and then fail to deliver. The Better Business Bureau of the South Plains will issue an urgent CBBB National Consumer Alert on the advance-fee loan scam problem in this area on October 17, 1991. The Alert includes tips on how to spot and avoid the current outbreak of illicit loan schemes.

Horns self-destruct against Shallowater

By Isaac Cuellar

Fumbles, penalties blown assignments and mental errors had the Lockney Longhorns swimming in shallow water last Friday night as they suffered their sixth straight loss of the season. The final whistle of Friday's matchup found the Shallowater Mustangs out in front of the Longhorns 26-0.

The Longhorn defense, which played hard, was tested early by the Mustangs. The Mustangs took the opening kick-off and, with good ball control, drove all the way for the first score of the game. The Horns had several opportunities to stop the Mustangs on this first defensive series but continually came up short of the task.

In the beginning, the Horns failed to contain the Mustangs on a 4th and 1, then failed in the attempt to recover a Shallowater fumble on the Lockney 11 yard line. Finally, on a 3rd and 10 at the 10 yard line, the Horns were unable to cover the Mustang receiver who caught a 10 yard pass from the QB resulting in a 7-0 Shallowater lead.

Action such as this is exactly why Head Coach John Lowe says, "We must play better on possession downs on both sides of the ball." Coach Lowe explained this comment by saying that Lockney must stop the opposition on third and fourth downs when on the defensive. They must also convert third and fourth downs to first downs when on the offensive.

Lockney stalled out quickly on their first offensive series and punted after three downs. The punt gave Shallowater good field position, an aspect of the game which remained consistent throughout the night.

The defense came through for Lockney on the next offensive series as Longhorn Juan Vargas intercepted a Shallowater pass to end the first quarter of play. The second quarter found Lockney still unsuccessful in making first downs on possession drives, again giving Shallowater excellent field position.

Spectators were soon asking, "Who was that?" as a Shallowater running-back romped through Lockney's defense for a fifty-plus yard gain. This would have resulted in a touchdown if not for the efforts of Longhorn Phineas Riddley, who made the saving play by knocking the rampaging Shallowater player out of bounds.

This run set the stage for Shallowater's second scoring play of the evening on a five yard bulldozing play through the middle. The PAT was unsuccessful, making the score Shallowater 13 and Lockney 0.

On the ensuing kick-off return, Patrick Monroe gave the Horns their best field position of the night by returning the ball to near mid-field. The Lockney offense proceeded to put together an impressive drive by utilizing good blocking both up front and in the back-field. Fantastic running by Juan Vargas and Phineas Riddley placed them in position for their first score of the night.

With things definitely looking up for Lockney, the Horns stalled again on 3rd and 8 and turned the ball over to the Mustangs.

Shallowater answered Lockney's failed drive with a successful one of their own. With 2:31 remaining in the second quarter, a 35 yard pass made the score 19-0 in Shallowater's favor. A two-point conversion failed.

A dazzling kick-off return by Phineas Riddley found the Longhorns set up on the Shallowater 45 yard line as the next series of downs began. The two minute offense for the Horns pressed forward with Juan Vargas running for two yards on the first down. Riddley gained another two on 2nd and 8.

With Shallowater lulled into a false sense of security, David Luna dashed all the way to the 14 yard line for Lockney's biggest first down on the first half of the game.

The closing moments of the first half had the Horns faced with 4th and 8 after three unsuccessful downs. Riddley went back to pass and briefly found Monroe in the end zone as the ball went in and out of his hands and the first half ended with the score Shallowater 19- Lockney 0.

The only scoring in the second half came in the third quarter on a 16 yard Shallowater pass for a touchdown. At this point, the Horns were down 26-0 and remained so throughout a scoreless fourth quarter, giving Shallowater the victory.

"This is a game we should have won," stated Coach John Lowe. "We just killed ourselves every time we were in scoring range."

According to Lowe, the Horns must regroup and refit to fight for next week's contest with the Olton Mustangs at Olton.

ISSAC'S COMMENTS

First of all, let me do a roll call right quick in recognition of outstanding performances by the Horns.

Juan Vargas, outstanding performances on offense; 92 yards on 17 carries on defense, one tipped ball and one interception.

Patrick Monroe, great kick-off returns, blocking and hustling on defense.

Phineas Riddley, great runs on offense and kick-off returning.

Oscar Palomin, great defense. Keep hitting 'em hard.

David Luna, especially great on special teams and running the ball.

Carlos Raisse, fantastic on defense. Way to bounce back after the injury.

Michael Duran, great job on defense.

I would like to recognize all the Horns for their aggressiveness and total team efforts.

The Horns are struggling on offense and defense but I feel that when all the dust settles and all the bugs are worked out, the Lockney Longhorns will go a long way as time progresses. GO HORNS!

OTHER LOCKNEY SCORES

Lockney 7th Graders tied Shallowater, 12-12. Lockney came from behind in the fourth quarter to remain undefeated for the season.

Lockney 8th Graders lost to Shallowater despite a "never give up" performance.

Lockney JV was shut out by Shallowater, 36-0. There was hard hitting in this one. The JV Horns experienced a close encounter of the physical kind yet gave some back in return. JV will improve next week as they play at home against Olton.

Lockney FHA discusses October plans and events

The Lockney FHA Chapter was once again brought together on October 1, 1991. Members and officers met to discuss the events in which they were to participate in.

The first point brought to attention was that of a community project for the month of October. The chapter will be more involved in the community this year in order to show that everyone is important in today's society. This months project will be to have a small party for the children at Mother's Day Out on Wednesday, October 30.

The next issue was that of what type of booth to have at the October 26 Halloween Carnival. The chapter decided on a food booth. The chapter will sell funnel cakes.

Tuesday, October 8, the chapter had another brief meeting. Members received tickets to sell. The tickets are for the raffling of about three cakes at the Halloween Carnival. The tickets are being sold at .25 cents or 5 for a $1.00 and can be bought from any member who is in F.H.A.

Lila Booker then spoke to members about a meeting on October 15, 1991, at 6:00 p.m. in the Home Economics Department. An important and interesting video will be shown.

Lockney NHS institutes parliamentary procedure

By Rance Ford

The National Honor Society at Lockney High School held its October meeting at Mr. Gatti's Pizza in Plainview. After the meal, members conducted their business session.

It was decided that parliamentary procedure should be used since National Honor Society is a leadership society. Rules and general forms of parliamentary procedure were introduced. Every meeting will be conducted in this form.

Members were asked to think about a theme and a project for the year. The theme should be a small saying about pride in school, country and community. A contest is being held to select the best theme. Members were also asked to think about a community project. The National Honor Society would like to provide a service or goods for the community.

Characteristics of a NHS member were reviewed. Members were reminded that they are leaders in their school and community and their conduct should be appropriate.

Attending members were Lance Patridge, Rance Ford, Ryan Ford, Coy Davis, Ignacio Luna, Domingo Luna, Tony Ascencio, Chris Villa, Kyla Zumwalt, Tara Mallett, Carissa Clark, Jennifer Fortenberry and Kori Kellison. Sponsors who attended were Kay Williams and James Haney. Their spouses attended as well. The next NHS meeting will be held November 12. All members are asked to attend.

FLOYDADA JUNIOR HIGH SEVENTH GRADE 1991-92 TEAM

Dillard to attend national youth leaders conference

Shane Dillard of Lubbock, has been selected to attend The National Young Leaders Conference from October 15 to 20, 1991 in Washington, D.C. Having demonstrated academic achievement, leadership and citizenship, Shane will be among 350 outstanding high school students from across the nation at the conference sponsored by the Congressional Youth Leadership Council.

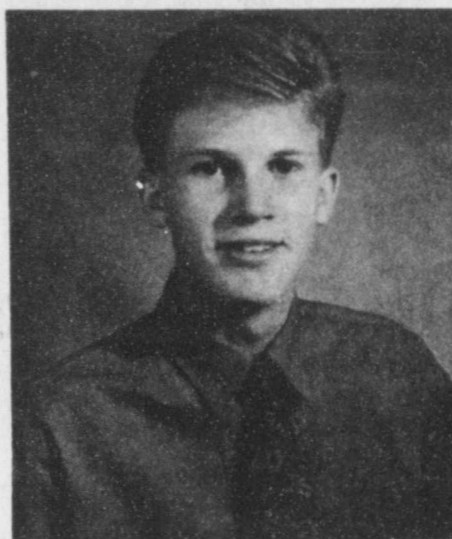

Shane is a senior at Monterey High School. Some of his high school activities include the following: The National Honor Society, Future Business Leaders of America, Spanish Club, JV Tennis, Dare to Be Different, and Who's Who in American High Schools. He is a member of First Baptist Church, and his current sports interest is volleyball. He is considering attending either Texas Tech or Texas A & M University.

The theme of the National Young Leaders Conference is The Leaders of Tomorrow Meeting the Leaders of Today. Throughout the uniquely designed six-day conference, Shane will meet with key leaders and newsmakers from the three branches of government, the media and the diplomatic corps.

Highlights of Shane's week in Washington will include welcoming remarks from a Member of Congress on the Floor of the United States House of Representatives and a panel discussion led by prominent journalists at the National Press Club. Shane will explore presidential decision-making in a simulation entitled "If I Were President." Shane will also visit the diplomatic embassy of either Belgium, Poland or Sri Lanka.

Shane will meet with Senator Lloyd Bentsen, Senator Phil Gramm, Representative Larry Combest, or designated staff members. These meetings provide students an opportunity to discuss important policy issues and focus on topics of personal concern to Shane. Culminating the National Young Leaders Conference will be The Mock Congress on Gun Control during which scholars assume the roles of United States Representatives by debating, lobbying, and voting on proposed handgun legislation.

His parents are Jerry and Kitty Dillard of Lubbock, formerly of Floydada. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lloyd of Floydada, and Mr. and Mrs. Wren Dillard of Plainview. Mrs. May

SHANE DILLARD

Garrett of Floydada is a great-grandmother.

Founded in 1985, the Council is a non-profit, non-partisan educational organization committed to recognizing outstanding youth like Shane and providing them with a "hands-on" civic learning experience in the nation's capital. Over 375 Members of the United States Congress join in the Congressional Board of Advisors.

"I firmly believe that by touching one life, the National Young Leaders Conference enriches thousands more," said John Hines, Council Executive Director. "Scholars return to their schools and communities charged with the lifelong duty of leading all Americans to better understand their rights and responsibilities in this participatory democracy."

Watch out for Trick or Treaters

It's time, once again, for "Trick or Treat". Halloween is fast approaching and hundreds of little children will be taking to our neighborhoods in search of those wonderful treats.

Major V.J. Cawthon, Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety, Region 5, said, "Many disasters can be prevented this Halloween, if parents and motorists will use good judgement. Small children should be accompanied by older children or adults and trick or treating should be confined to those areas that the parents are familiar with."

Major Cawthon urged that parents dress their children in non-flammable costumes and the costume should be of light colors. He also stated that the mask should not prevent the child from being able to see. Parents should also keep their children away from Jack-O-Lanterns with candles.

Parents should also instruct their children in some traffic safety tips, insuring they look in all directions before crossing streets and to walk, not run. A flashlight carried by the child can serve as a warning to motorists, and children should be instructed to use sidewalks, whenever possible.

We, as motorists, should remember that children in play become very excited and may forget the safety rules. Let's remember to be extra careful in the

RUTH CRUMP

Crump named educator of the month

By Cody Stovall
R.C. Andrews 5th Grader
The Student Board of Educators at R.C. Andrews Elementary has named Ruth Crump as Educator of the Month. Mrs. Crump is 31-years-old and has one son, Van, who is in the second grade.

She graduated from Baylor University in 1982. She enjoys reading, working in the yard and collecting antiques. She has a cat named Sophie, who she says thinks that she owns her.

Mrs. Crump has been teaching for seven years and this is her fourth year to teach fourth grade. She has taught Reading until this year and is now teaching Social Studies, which she says she loves.

Mrs. Crump states, "I feel very honored, I love my students and it is nice to know they like me too."

She wanted to become a teacher because as a child she always loved school.

She said some of the greatest people in her life were some of the teachers she had.

When asked about R.C. Andrews, she said, "I love R.C. Andrews because I get to work with such wonderful students and faculty members."

Floydada Whirlwinds storm by Friona 41-12

By Bill Gray

The Floydada Whirlwinds opened District 2-3A action by soundly defeating the Friona Chieftains 41-12 at Wester Field on October 11. Floydada improves its overall record to 5-1 (1-0 in district), while Friona remains winless in the 1991 grid campaign.

After receiving the opening kickoff, Michael Henderson took up where he left off last week with a nifty 13-yard scamper for the Whirlwinds' initial first down at their own 44-yard line. Led by 253-lb. tackle Wayne Jackson, the Chieftain defense stiffened, and Floydada was forced to punt.

A mixture of Blair Burney passes to Ismael Rocha and Chad Hamilton, plus the running of Rocha and Curtis Brady, moved the visitors to the 'Wind 45. On second down from that point, Burney scrambled from a big Floydada pass rush. His hurried pass was alertly picked off by Whirlwind linebacker Ramiro Rios, who galloped 55 yards for Floydada's opening touchdown. It was the first score posted by the 'Wind defense this year. Michael Gilliland split the uprights with his conversion kick, and the 'Winds had an early 7-0 lead.

The Whirlwinds were unable to capitalize on a big break moments later. The Chieftains attempted to punt from their own 29-yard line, but the center's snap sailed over punter Blue Field's head. Floydada took possession at Friona's 13-yard line, but strong defensive play by Jackson, Harvey Martinez and Scott Houston turned back the 'Winds' scoring threat at the Chieftain 2-yard line. Friona maintained possession deep in its own territory as the first quarter drew to a close.

Friona fumbled the first snap of the second period, and Todd Cage came up with the loose ball for Floydada. It only took four plays for the 'Winds to hit scoring territory again. On 4th-and-six from Friona's 15-yard line, 'Wind QB Billy Villarreal hooked up with Jammie Davis for a touchdown strike. Gilliland converted the PAT, and the 'Winds were up 14-0.

The Chieftain war party struck quickly on its next possession. Pinpoint passing by Blair Burney to Ismael Rocha motored Friona in for a score. On second down from the Friona 35, Burney's play-action toss fooled the 'Wind secondary. Rocha's sure-handed grab and run covered the 65 yards to the Whirlwind end zone. The 2-point attempt was stopped by Adam Gonzales, but the Chieftains were on the board and had taken command of the momentum.

After an exchange of punts, Friona again struck for a long-gainer for a score. From his own 39-yard line Curtis Brady took a pitch from Burney, cut back to his left while breaking several tackles, and rambled 65 yards for the touchdown. An attempt to tie the game with a 2-point conversion failed when Whirlwind Jesse Rodriguez intercepted Burney's pass in the end zone.

With less than a minute remaining before halftime, Quincy Johnson returned the ensuing kickoff out to the Whirlwind 44-yard line. The 'Winds picked up three first downs and thirty-one yards in a 2-minute drill which put them in scoring position at Friona's 20 with five seconds remaining. On the final play of the first half, Villarreal lofted a perfect aerial to Jaime Suarez, who gathered in the ball at the 2-yard line and crossed the double stripe as the halftime horn sounded. Gilliland's extra point kick gave the 'Winds a 21-12 edge at intermission.

Following a rather lethargic first half, the Whirlwinds came out strong in the third quarter. Friona's first series met with disaster as Ramiro Rios blocked a Chieftain punt on fourth down to give the Whirlwinds possession at the visitors' 20-yard line. Michael Henderson took a Villarreal pitch on the option, and raced untouched for the Floydada score. Gilliland's kick again was true, and the Whirlwind lead was extended to 28-12.

Moments later Ramiro Rios recovered a Friona fumble, and Floydada was able to capitalize on the miscue. The 'Winds drove from Friona's 45-yard line, and Henderson capped the 6-play drive with his second rushing touchdown from seven yards out. Gilliland's kick moved the Whirlwind lead to a comfortable 35-12 margin.

Floydada scored again late in the third quarter on a 35-yard halfback pass from Quincy Johnson to Jesse Rodriguez. Gilliland missed his first conversion kick of the night, and Floydada was totally in command 41-12.

Whirlwind second-unit players were shuttled in and out for most of the final twelve minutes, but the Chieftains were unable to penetrate any deeper into Floydada territory than the 45-yard line. Michael Henderson intercepted a Friona pass late in the game to seal the winning margin of 29 points. As has been the case almost all season, the 'Wind second-unit offense maintained control of the ball to run out the clock.

Friona will have a tough time trying to get into the win column as the Chieftains venture to Littlefield this week to meet the red-hot Wildcats (fresh off their 35-7 thumping of Tulia). The Whirlwinds face their biggest test of the season this Friday at Dimmitt, a 32-0 victory over Muleshoe last week.

BILL'S NOTES

Friona certainly didn't play like a 0-5 club — at least in the first half — last Friday. The Chieftains had Floydada's option offense pretty well in check with virtually a nine-man line. Friona broke for two long scores to keep in the game until the 'Winds made some necessary adjustments at halftime. Ramiro Rios had a "career" night with a blocked punt, pass interception, and fumble recovery to go along with his usual high-profile defensive play. "Chucky's" 55-yard interception return for a TD has to rank as the defensive play of the game. Once again I'll name the rugged little linebacker as the defensive player of the game. Chucky continues to lead the charge on special teams. There have been few times in the first six games that Rios has not been near the ball or the first tackler on kickoffs. No one has so far managed a touchdown return or a long gain mainly because of his special teams work.

The offensive play of the game goes to the 20-yard Villarreal-to-Suarez pass in the last second of the first half. That touchdown gave the 'Winds momentum at intermission that they maintained the remainder of the game. My choice for outstanding offensive player goes to 'Wind field general Billy Villarreal. Billy's operation of the Bates' Wishbone keeps driving defenders up the wall. Villarreal is yet to be intercepted this year and has tossed for eight touchdowns while operating the run-oriented attack.

The 'Winds face their strongest test of the year when they meet the Bobcats at Dimmitt this week. The 'Cats have a strong senior squad and boast one of the better running backs in the area in 6'1", 180-lb. Lincoln Stewart. Dimmitt has a big-play offense, with experienced people at skill positions. It will be a real fight with the outcome helping clear some of the air for this district's playoff representatives. The real key to the game will be the control of the lines of scrimmage on both sides of the ball. The containment of Stewart could throw Dimmitt's game plan into turmoil. Floydada's front five and the aggressive linebacking duo of Rios and Ruben Chavarria will handle that assignment as the 'Winds limit the Bobcats to 14 while the 'Jolly Green Giants' pave the way for 20 offensive points.

Coach's Comments

By Coach Dean Bates

We are excited about our football team! The kids are playing hard and improving each week. We still have a lot of work to do, but we may be progressing just right. Friona is a much improved team from last year. They are a predominantly senior club and presented us with some problems. Our kids played extremely well in the third quarter, and we were able to play some different players in the fourth quarter. Dimmitt is a very talented football team. They have excellent skill people, and have gained some momentum.

They are playing some young kids like we are, but they are playing well. They are quick defensively and chase the ball well. It is a big game for both clubs, and it's a game we need to win to stay in the chase for the district title. We will have to have a solid effort, and it is a game we are looking forward to. See you in Dimmitt!

Floydada Junior High Football Report

By Bill Gray

The 7th Breezers opened district play with a hard-fought 8-6 loss to Friona at Wester Field on October 10. It was the Breezers' first loss of the season. Fullback Marcus Collins scored the Breezers' only points on a 2-yard run. The missed conversion was the difference in the ball game.

According to Coach Webster, "Friona played real well, and we played well in the final two minutes when we had to get the ball back. Our defense caused a fumble and gave us the opportunity to pull out the win. We drove the length of the field, but our effort came up 4-yards short as our bootleg pass was batted down in the end zone on the game's final play."

Named outstanding on offense were tackle Dustin Owens and center Robert Cuba. Marcus Collins also had a good defensive game, and he played well on special teams (kicking game).

Floydada's 8th Breezers defeated Friona's 8th graders 24-0 in the district opener. Adam Mendoza scored on touchdown runs of 52 and 9 yards. QB Zach Abshier had a 3-yard touchdown run and a 2-point conversion. Two-pointers were also logged by Arnulfo Cervera and Jose DeLaFuente.

Coach Clark commented, "This first game of district competition was a good win for us, and one we really needed. Our defense was much improved, which is important for the games ahead. The offensive line had an outstanding game — especially in the second half."

Outstanding offensive players — offensive line: David Watson, Alex Vallejo, Michael Mercado, Anthony Emert, Tim Rando. Also having good offensive performances were Adam Mendoza and Frank Jasso.

Named outstanding defensively were Alex Mallejo, Michael Mercado and Arnulfo Cervera. Both Breezer squads take to the road for their next action at Dimmitt on October 17.

Floydada JV quarterback Josh Thayer scored the only points of the game on a 65-yard run in the first quarter to lead the Whirlwind junior varsity to a 6-0 defensive victory over the Friona JV on October 10. Named by the coaches as outstanding offensive players were Thayer, Ronnie Hernandez, and Wayne Wells.

Defensive players to receive recognition for their play were Kevin Womack and Troy Johnson. Floydada JV'ers will try for their second district win of the season when they host Dimmitt at Wester Field on October 17.

Sissney operates "Saw Mill"

(Editor's Note: Research for this article, by Texas Tech journalism student Tiffany Gentry, was made possible by a grant from the Reader's Digest Foundation.)

By Tiffany Gentry

The smell of fresh cedar fills the air in Ray Sissney's Main Street woodshop in Lockney. He carefully inspects the rows of freshly painted wooden baskets that have been hung to dry for any imperfections in cut of texture. Then he turns back to his table saw where the making of another original creation is in progress.

"This one's going to be one of the pumpkin baskets," Sissney said, referring to the numerous collapsible baskets he designed for Halloween and Thanksgiving.

"I also thought they would be a good decoration for the Punkin' Days celebration they're having over at Floydada on Oct. 26," he added.

When Sissney retired from farming in 1985, he opened a little shop from which to sell his handcrafted woodwork and began producing his own creations.

"I wanted to have something to do after I retired, so I decided to do some of my own woodwork," he said.

Sissney became interested in woodwork as a child. "I've been making things out of wood since I was 10 years old," he said. "At school I would make wooden butter paddles for my teachers."

But Sissney's interest in wood didn't end as a child. In his high school history class he used a model of a World War II cannon to make an exact wooden replica. "I also designed a catapult," he said.

Although none of his family members shared his interest in woodwork, Sissney said the beginnings of his desire to create woodwork began at home.

"I lived on a farm as a child, and I needed a hobby. Working with wood was what interested me."

Today Sissney sells his creations straight from his woodshop. His main products are wooden baskets.

"I got the idea for my first basket from a craft magazine," he said. "I designed all of my other baskets myself."

Sissney said he has sold more than 1,500 baskets within the past two years.

The baskets, however, aren't Sissney's only specialties. "Most of the time when people ask me what I do here I tell them I make sawdust, because whenever I finish making something there's always a big pile of sawdust lying on the floor," he said.

On display at the front of the store are intricate what-not shelves, kids' toys and a beautifully designed cedar chest. "It took me about a week to make the cedar chest," Sissney said. "I've also made quilt racks, hobby horses and other home decorations."

Sissney works with the seasons, designing different baskets for Easter, Halloween, Thanksgiving and Christmas.

"I always like to keep some sort of project going," he said.

Lynn Sissney, Ray's daughter, comes to visit her father's quaint shop about four times a year.

"It's fascinating, because every time I come he has invented something new," she said.

Virginia Sissney also gets involved in her husband's woodworking operation. "She does most of the detailed painting work on the things I make," Ray said. "I'm lucky to have her around, because she really does a good job on the little stuff."

Sissney has no hired help in his business but does get some volunteer help from Harmon Handley, a retired Lockney farmer.

"He is a big help in all aspects of the production process, such as gluing and sanding," Sissney said.

Why does Sissney do what he does? "I do it because I like it," he said. "It's a hobby more than a business. You have to like what you're doing - that's what keeps me going."

When asked what he called his business, Sissney hesitated. "I never have given it a name, but I guess I should," he said.

"I think I will give it a name. Let's call it 'The Saw Mill.'"

Brown finishes ROTC training

Jason C. Brown has completed a U.S. Air Force ROTC field training encampment at Lackland Air Force Base.

The summer curriculum consists of orientation on jet aircraft, career opportunities, human relations education, and equal opportunity training. Physical fitness and survival training is also emphasized. The field training is normally attended by cadets between their second and third year of college.

The cadet is a student at Texas Tech University, Lubbock.

Brown is the son of Gary L. and Doris C. Brown of 129 W. Crockett, Floydada. He is a 1988 graduate of Floydada High School.

Management program started

Dr. L.R. Sprout, Extension Beef Cattle Specialist, was the guest speaker Thursday morning, at Stricklands Restaurant, for a program called Intergrated Resource Management. Approximately 12 Floyd County ranchers attended the meeting and learned of the innovated IRM program.

IRM, which is being formed with the cooperation and sponsorship of the County Extension Office, is a program which undertakes to open new doors/ideas to agriculture production and educate farmers and ranchers on how to increase net profits by utilizing all their available resources.

"We try and teach the rancher how to use his available resources more efficiently and at the appropriate time," said County Extension Agent, Mike Mallett.

"This is not a new program," said Mallett, "but it is relatively new to this area. It has been very successful among the ranchers who have implemented it, by improving weaning by 30-85%.

"IRM helps identify problems and convert them to make a positive change."

"Any facet of agriculture can adopt the IRM approach to improve yields," said Dr. Sprout. "IRM was started by the National Cattleman's Association, but this approach has already been used with crops in the Intergrated Pest Management program. In the farming program, the farmer first had to identify the problem, decided at what level the problem existed and then decide if it is economically feasible at that point to correct it.

"The IRM approach is the same. With livestock for example, we have to find out if there is a health problem, identify it, decide what level it is at and then decide if it would pay to overcome it.

IRM is an effective approach," said Sprout. "But it is only as successful as the individual wants it to be. If you do enough of the right things each one of those things will lead to maximum effect. We tailor the advice to the individuals needs."

Dr. Sprout, who received his Doctorate in Beef Cattle Reproduction, from Kansas State University, encouraged those at the breakfast meeting, to remember the business aspect of their ranching operation.

Those who gathered for the meeting were told that IRM is a source for information on financial decision making, marketing strategies, production management, health management, wildlife management and range and forage management practices as they relate to profit potential.

The purpose of IRM is to help ranchers solve problems, set production goals and design effective management strategies for achieving those goals.

This is accomplished through an IRM team composed of veterinarians, fellow ranchers, Extension agents and specialists, agricultural lenders and allied industry personnel.

IRM is available to any rancher. Your county IRM team will conduct an on-site ranch visit, survey the ranch resources and determine initial goals in cooperation with the rancher and his veterinarian. A mutually agreed management plan is designed and implemented. Progress is then monitored by the IRM team through analysis of production and budgetary records.

Several Texas beef producers are already using IRM. Eight to 10 ranches are participating in ranch management programs using computerized financial and production decision aids. Another ten have been participating in management strategies to improve reproductive performance and weaning weights. The results have been improved pregnancy rates and weaning rates, and a 20 percent reduction in costs to produce a pound of beef.

The IRM has garnered the support of Farm Financial Standards Task Force in the banking industry. The IRM program is sponsored by the Texas A&M University System, including: Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, College of Veterinary Medicine and College of Agriculture and Life Sciences; and the Texas Veterinary Medical Association.

Any rancher interested in participating in this program should call Mike Mallett at the Floyd County Extension office.

DISCUSS PROGRAM—Sue Ward, an employee of ASCS, discusses the ASCS corn loan program with Steve Lloyd.

Farmers can store corn

Farm program participants who have suitable storage or the use of an approved warehouse may obtain a price support loan on their 1991 corn crop at $1.84 per bushel, according to Robert L. Lotspeich, Executive Director of the Floyd County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

After the fall harvest, farmers will decide how much corn to sell and how much to hold for later sale in hopes of higher market prices. Current predictions for low corn prices could cause many producers to place the crop in the commodity loan program.

Now is the time to winterize your horse

The temperature may still be in the 80s, but now is the time to start thinking about fall and winter management of your horses.

Management routines depend upon how much your horses will be ridden in competition during the next three to four months, when you want it fit and ready in the spring, facilities and location.

Here are a few recommendations to incorporate into your management program:

Adjust your feeding program according to your horse's workload. For a 1,000 lb. horse, this may mean reducing his daily concentrate and hay intake from a summer ration of about 25 lbs. to 18 or 20 lbs. through the fall and winter months. Adult horses in winter can be fed an 8-10 percent crude protein ration (in the total diet), slightly less than during the riding season.

More hay offered in the winter helps prevent boredom in stalled horses. Additionally, increased hay consumption produces more heat, which helps warm the horse's body.

Maintain riding horses in winter at a condition score or degree of fatness of 5 or slightly above, which means enough fat cover so that the ribs can barely be felt. To check this degree of fatness, palpate or feel the ribs of your horses weekly and adjust energy intake accordingly. Don't be fooled by long hair, which can make a thin horse look fat.

Horses in winter may consume only half the water they drink in summer, but water consumption is still vitally important. Ice cold, partially frozen water may retard water intake, leading to digestive disorders such as impaction colic.

If you are not concerned with short haircoat, remove horses in late summer from artificial lighting regimens that inhibit hair growth. Healthy horses with long winter coats can withstand cold temperatures. Precipitation accompanied by freezing winds, however, can cause chilling and hypothermia. Prevent this situation by providing pastured horses a covered windbreak where they can retreat from the wet and wind.

Williams elected delegate

Jerry D. Williams, Lockney, has been elected as a delegate to the 108th Annual Meeting of the American Angus Association, Nov. 17-19 in Louisville, Kentucky, reports Richard Spader, executive vice president of the American Angus Association.

Williams, member of the American Angus Association with headquarters in St. Joseph, Missouri, is one of 262 Angus breeders who have been elected by fellow members of their state association to serve as a representative at the Annual Meeting. Representing 47 states and Canada, the delegates will participate in the business meeting and elect a new president, vice president and five directors to the American Angus Association Board.

The Annual Meeting is held in conjunction with the Annual Convention and Banquet, and the 1992 Roll of Victory National Angus Show during the North American International Livestock Exposition.

The American Angus Association has nearly 24,000 active members and is the largest beef breed organization in the world.

"Amazing Grace" In Memory of C.L. Record

By Joe Brummell

On July 2, this year, 1991, we lost a real friend - C.L. Record, of Lockney, but more so, we lost a pillar of strength in our small summer community north on Forest Road 250 - know as the Rocky Mountain Lodge Area, on the Conejos River, Antonito, Colorado.

A FEW THINGS ABOUT C.L. RECORD

C.L. and his wife, Lucy Dean, owned probably the largest Mercantile - General Merchandise and Grocery Store on this side of the Rio Grande. If you needed a length of pipe, a half-inch flare nut - a roll of tubing, a 2" x 4", a bridge timber, a sink faucet, a loaf of bread, a can of beans, salted peanuts, or pecans, help on a plumbing or electrical problem, a major concrete job, or help on erecting a cabin, or sun-deck, or you name the item - it was always available at the Record General Store - always on a no-cost basis. They certainly didn't make any money - but they certainly endeared themselves to the neighbors in the community.

C.L. owned a white 1948 vintage Jeep named the "White Bull" or "Toro Blanco", to us locals. Every day "Old Toro" could be seen up and down the roads on some delivery or "mercy" mission to help a friend in need or just for a chat and a cup of coffee.

"AMAZING GRACE AT WORK"

The story is told about two fellows who summer in the canyon. Neither one of these characters had been in any formal church setting for at least thirty years, except for the occasional wedding or funeral. It was the personal magnetism of C.L. Record along with a little "AMAZING GRACE" that drew these two yokels to the short service held every Tuesday morning at the Record's. One of the two learned the words to "Amazing Grace" but could not carry a tune - the other sings bass very well but was not smart enough to learn the words. Still, he tolerated them. His short talks every Sunday were not sermons. He spoke of the mountains, the trees, (a certain tree that was used to make the Old Rugged Cross was one of his favorites). He spoke of the birds, the flowers, and the beauty of the canyon but most of all he talked about the love man should have for his fellow-man. He talked of these things in a way that even these two characters could comprehend.

The setting for his little talks was held in a rustic cabin - built probably in the 1920's. This setting carried HIS presence far more than any domed cathedral on this planet. Yes, indeed, "Amazing Grace" and the memory of C.L. Record will be emanating from this sanctuary in the mountains for the next hundred years or so.

This is "Amazing Grace" at work at least as we understand it.

C.L. Record has left us temporarily but, his good humored laugh, his slap on the back, his words of encouragement, his helpful hand to all will be heard and felt strongly at every pot-luck supper, at every pancake supper, in the Valley and in the Canyon for at least the next hundred years.

His friends and buddies are erecting a Pavilion in his labor. His guidance is with us and his humor is being felt. He probably laughs at mistakes made by our dumb supervisory help. Thank God he tolerates them because no one else does.

Yes, C.L. Record - we are going to miss you. You knew that a smile and laughter went farther than frowns and belly-aching. You laughed and smiled a lot, by Golly we're going to do the same.

By the way, C.L. and Lucy Dean, stop by when we're having a coffee break. Bring donuts if you will. You both helped us understand a little better what this thing called "Amazing Grace" is all about. We know God was with you all the way. Thank you, C.L. Record.

Texas Pharmacy Week Proclamation

October 20-26, 1991

WHEREAS, the sophistication of health care in the United States enhances the quality of life for every man, woman, and child; and,

WHEREAS, an integral part of quality health care includes drug therapy which is increasingly more sophisticated; and,

WHEREAS, more than 12,000 practicing pharmacists in Texas daily apply their five-years or more of training and education to dispense medications, to monitor prescriptions and non-prescription medications for the correct dosages as well as possible allergic and drug interactions; and,

WHEREAS, these professional pharmacists counsel patients to help assure the maximum benefits of both prescription and non-prescription medications; and,

WHEREAS, public opinion polls consistently rank pharmacists among the most highly-respected professionals for their unselfish gifts of time, knowledge, and talent to advise the public on health concerns.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Wayne A. Russell, Mayor of the City of Floydada, do hereby proclaim the week, October 20-26, 1991 as "Pharmacy Week" in Floydada, Texas, and urge all citizens to acknowledge and utilize the expertise of pharmacists whose skills, concern, and knowledge contribute to the health and well-being of this community.

IN WITNESS THEREOF, I have set my hand and caused the seal of the City of Floydada to be affixed this 10th day of October, 1991.

SPARTAN sponsors taxpayers rally October 19 in Lubbock

The non-partisan SPARTAN (South Plains Area Residents Taxpayers Action Network) will sponsor a local rally on Saturday, Oct. 19, on National Taxpayer's Action Day '91. Similar rallies will be held at several hundred locations across the U.S. organized by the Council for Citizens Against Government Waste (CCAGW). Among the co-sponsors are the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, the National Taxpayers Union, the National Radio Talk Show Hosts, the National Association of Manufacturers, Seniors Coalition Association, and Citizens for a Sound Economy.

The theme of this year's rally is "Take Back Your Power" and gives local and area taxpayers a chance to express their concerns about local, state, and federal spending and taxes.

Citizens are encouraged to bring handmade signs and join in on the $650,000 city owned parking lot west of the BDC's Center for Innovation at 74th St. and Canton Ave. from 11:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. At that time, there will be term limitation petitions, Waste Watch Newspapers, and SPARTAN literature on the upcoming constitutional amendment and sales tax elections.

Excessive taxation has reduced incentive to work, save and invest and has left fewer choices in how persons live their lives. SPARTAN hopes this rally will help people realize that together everyone can take back the power and demand that the government work for the people, instead of vice-versa.

For more information, contact Mikel Ward, Chairman, at 795-8870.

Motley County EMS delivers baby at Floydada railroad tracks

A Floydada paramedic, Paul McIntosh, was called out urgently on Saturday at approximately 6:00 a.m., by the Motley County EMS.

They were in route to Floydada with a woman in labor and they wanted the assistance of a paramedic.

"We all work together under a mutual aid understanding with South Plains Emergency Medical Services," said McIntosh. Since they didn't have a paramedic available there they called me to come meet them at W. Price just over the railroad tracks.

"But by the time I got there the baby had been born. Where it asked the location of birth on the birth certificate, I put W. Price. The doctor laughed and said that hitting the railroad tracks would do it everytime."

The EMS worker, Lisa Rose, of Matador delivered the baby, at 6:33 a.m. She was assisted by Bob Davis, of Matador. "Lisa did a good job," said McIntosh. "The baby was in good health and the mother had a good delivery. When I got there I had only to take care of the mother."

The mother, Leonor Valdez, and her 6 lb. baby boy were taken to Lockney General Hospital.

County 4-H'ers recognized with achievement banquet

Numerous awards were given to individuals during the Floyd County 4-H Achievement Banquet Saturday night at Duncan Elementary.

I Dare You awards were presented to Todd Cage and Lila Booker. Sponsored by William H. Danforth, this award is one of the most prestigious awards presented to an individual in any youth organization in the United States.

This award is presented annually to two Floyd County 4-H'ers who exhibit excellence in character, well-balance personal development and leadership potential.

Silver Spur awards went to Judy Lloyd and Ginger Mathis. These leaders were recognized for their hard work and service to the 4-H program.

Producers Coop and Jana Finley were presented with the "Friend of 4-H" Meritorious Award. These individuals and the organizations they represent are recognized for the time and resources they devote to the 4-H program and for their unselfish service to 4-H.

Producers Coop was recognized for their willingness to help 4-H. "They have donated products for fund raisers, bought 4-H animals at the livestock show sale, and given 4-H discounts on their feed and animal supplies," said Mrs. Jim Bob Martin, who presented the award to Producers Coop manager, Bob Vickers.

"Jana Finley has cheerfully helped each of us with our projects and for quite a while she kept the 4-H program running," said Martin. "With her help Floyd County excelled at many contests and activities this year."

Each year four recordbooks are recognized as being outstanding examples from each of their age groups.

Shane Lloyd received the 1991 Outstanding First Year Recordbook Award. Sarah Martin won the outstanding Junior 1 recordbook award. This is presented to the 4-H'er who turns in the highest scoring recordbook at the county level.

The Outstanding Junior 2 recordbook was presented to Kaci Mathis for her Foods and Nutrition recordbook.

The Outstanding Senior recordbook went to Allen Martin for his Santa Fe recordbook. His recordbook scored the highest at the county level.

This year Floyd County was represented at the state recordbook competition by Misty Bertrand's Senior Recreation Recordbook, which placed 4th, and Tara Mallett's Senior Clothing Recordbook.

Because Tara placed first at the state level she will be participating in the National 4-H Congress. She was presented with a plaque for her achievement.

1991 RECORDBOOK AWARD WINNERS

Those 4-H'ers who were awarded Recordbook Awards were: Mark Terrell - Junior 2, Achievement Award; Shane Lloyd - Junior 1, and Stacey Lloyd - Junior 2, received the Agriculture Award; T.J. Allen - Junior 1, Beef Award;

Wesley Hunter - Junior 1, Citizenship Award; Tara Mallett - Senior, Charla Yearly - Junior 2, and Mandi Yearly - Junior 1, Clothing Award;

Chelsea Patridge - Junior 2, Consumer Education Award; Erika Miller - Junior 1 and Kaci Mathis - Junior 2, Foods and Nutrition Award; Krystal Allen - Junior 1, Food Preservation Award; Lindi Miller - Junior 1, Health Award; Mandy Hunter - Junior 2, Housing and Home Environment Award;

Tim Mitchell - Junior 2 and Misty Bertrand - Senior, Recreation Award; Allen Martin - Senior, Cynthia Martin - Junior 2, and Sarah Martin - Junior 1, Santa Fe Award;

Rhanda Hickerson - Senior, and Lesli-anne Hickerson, Junior 1, Sheep Award.

ROUND-UP CONTESTS

Floyd County was well represented at District competitions this year and several Floyd County 4-H'ers went on to represent the state.

Twenty-one recordbooks were entered into District competition. "If we didn't have the highest number of recordbooks, we had the second highest," said Floyd County Extension Agent Mike Mallett.

"Fifty-seven percent of the Junior 1 recordbooks were first place winners, 80% of the Junior 2 books were first place winners and 66% of the senior books were first place winners.

Entering recordbooks were: Cynthia Martin, Tim Mitchell, Chelsea Patridge, Stacey Lloyd, Mark Terrell, Erika Miller, Sarah Martin, Allen Martin, Charla Yearly, Tara Mallett, Misty Bertrand, Krystal Allen, Shane Lloyd, Mandy Hunter, Lindi Miller, Kaci Mathis, Rhanda Hickerson, Leslieanne Hickerson, Mandi Yearly, Wesley Hunter and T.J. Allen.

The 4-H'ers who participated at the District Fashion Show were: Lauren Mangold, Lindi Miller, Mandi Yearly, Stacey Lloyd, Misty Bertrand, Krystal Allen, Allison Mangold, Charla Yearly, Kaci Mathis and Amy Turner.

Of the three 4-H'ers representing Floyd County at the District Horse Show, Jim Ed Davis qualified to represent Floyd County at the State 4-H Horse Show. Other participants were Wade Wiles and Amy Davis.

Eleven 4-H'ers competed at the District Food Show. Of those, Zacha Harris and Cassidy Mallett went on to compete at the State Food Show where Zacha received a blue ribbon and placed 6th. Cassidy received a blue ribbon and placed 2nd. Other participants were Meredith Schacht, Lindi Miller, Kaci Mathis, Tim Mitchell, Shawn Hill, Allen Martin, Gretchen Quebe, Sarah Martin, Wesley Hunter and Charla Yearly.

4-H Roundup participants are those 4-H'ers who compete with method demonstration and judging contests. The members, their divisions and how they placed are as follows:

Mandi Yearly and Katie Sanders, Clothing, 1st; Lacey Aston, Lindi Miller, Sarah Martin, Nicole Mosley, Family Life, 1st; Kaci Mathis and Allison Mangold, Housing and Home Environment, 2nd; Charla Yearly and Stacey Lloyd, Landscape or Production Horticulture, 1st;

Nathan Whittle, Tracey Johnson, Brandon Harrison, Grass Judging, 1st and 11th at state;

Tate Harris, Tad Terrell, Todd Cage, Zane Colston, Livestock Judging, 8th.

SWEETHEART AWARDS

The 4-H Sweetheart awards were presented to Shonda Guthrie, of Floydada and Rhonda Hickerson of Lockney. Rhanda went on to become the Floyd County Junior Livestock Show Sweetheart.

These young ladies sell memberships to the stock show association as its primary fund raising activity.

COUNCIL

4-H officers were recognized at the banquet. The officers of the Floydada Club are: Todd Cage, president; Shonda Guthrie, vice-president in charge of programs; Tate Harris, vice-president in charge of recreation; Tad Terrell, vice-president in charge of membership; Misty Bertrand, secretary; Carrie Emert, treasurer; Troy Johnson, reporter; Nathan Whittle, council delegate; and Charla Yearly, historian.

Lockney Club officers are: Carolyn Turner, president; Rhanda Hickerson, vice-president in charge of programs; Max Green, vice-president in charge of membership; Mandy Hunter, secretary; Mikhael Durham, treasurer; Allen Martin, reporter; Lance Patridge, council delegate; Michelle Delgado, parliamentarian.

Junior officers for the Floydada Club are Stacey Lloyd, president; Dana McCandless, vice-president; and Michael Mercado, secretary.

The county council officers are: Lance Patridge, president; Rhanda Hickerson, vice-president; Michelle Delgado, secretary; Mandy Hunter, reporter; Shonda Guthrie and Carolyn Turner, council delegates.

Four Pee Wee 4-H'ers also received recognition during the banquet, and 36 first year 4-H'ers received pins.

Thirty-two 2nd year 4-H'ers received pins and 38 third year 4-H'ers were pinned.

Twenty-four 4th year 4-H'ers were pinned and 27 5th year 4-H'ers were also pinned.

Lee takes top honors in weekly football contest

Submitting the only entry with four incorrect game picks earned the winning honors in the sixth week of the Hesperian-Beacon Football Contest for Boyd Lee of Lockney. The check for $25.00 may be picked up at the Hesperian-Beacon Office in Lockney on Friday, October 18.

The second and third place prizes were awarded after careful consideration of the first tie breaker answers with three entries vying for the two prizes. All three entries had five incorrect game picks and each selected Floydada to win, effectively shutting off that avenue for determining a winner.

Moving on to the combined score of the Floydada vs Friona matchup, Duncan Woody of Floydada emerged with second place based on a total combined score of 43. The actual combined score was 53. His check for the $15.00 second place prize will be waiting in Floydada on Friday.

Franklin Harris of Floydada landed in third place, beating out his closest competition, Randy Hancock of Lockney. Harris chose a combined score of 40 points and Hancock guessed 35. Harris can pick up his $10.00 third prize check on Friday in Floydada. Hancock earns the designation for Honorable Mention.

Ten entries missed six games and eleven had seven incorrect game picks.

Thirteen entries missed eight games and eleven missed nine. The remainder of the 83 entries received this week had misses in the double digit numbers.

Hinkle and Bramlett named outstanding FJHS students

Floydada Junior High School this week named their first outstanding students of the year. Selected for the honors were seventh grader, Chad Hinkle, and eighth grader, Jennifer Bramlett.

Chad is the son of Billy Gene and Duffy Hinkle. He is active in sports and has been since beginning T-ball. He has played first baseman on his team since he first began playing ball.

His basketball career began in the third grade with Little Dribblers. He is the quarterback this year for the 8th grade Brezzers and also plays the cornet in band.

Chad, a straight A student, is complemented by his teachers as being "of very good behavior in and out of the class".

He is involved in the youth church choir and youth activities at First Baptist Church.

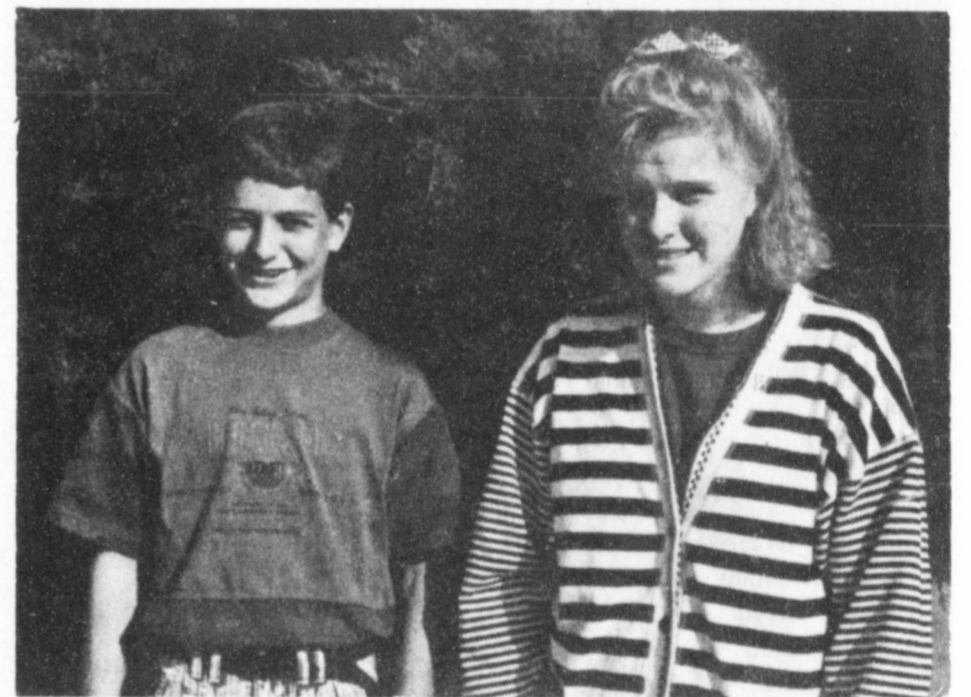

Jennifer, daughter of Bruce and Connie Bramlett, is the "new kid on the block".

"In a short time, she has captured the hearts of the students as well as the teachers," said her instructors.

She is active in the Lt. Pep Squad, cross country and the science club, along with giving the electronic announcements.

A straight A student, she also plays basketball, tutors students in class, is a member of the Gifted and Talented class, annual staff and newspaper.

A member of the band, she is first chair clarinet. As a member of First Baptist Church, she is involved in various youth activities.

Public Notice

On July 1, 1991, Southwestern Bell Telephone filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas that proposes to delete Paragraph 3.4(G) from Section 3 of Southwestern Bell's intrastate Access Service Tariff, which concerns credits where a customer uses Switched Access Service to furnish a service which has been defined to be an exchange service. The application was assigned Docket No. 10463.

Because Southwestern Bell is not aware of any customers who presently use switched access service to furnish an exchange service, Southwestern Bell does not believe its revenues will be affected. However, certain interexchange carrier customers of switched access service have made claims under the aforementioned tariff. Such customers, but only to the extent they provide an exchange service using switched access, would be affected by this application. Based on claims made for credits (assuming such credits were allowable), Southwestern Bell's revenues would be affected by no more than $1,168,962 annually, which is .037 percent of the Company's adjusted revenue for the 12-month period ending December 31, 1990. It is not possible to know how many interexchange carriers might believe themselves entitled to credits, but 189 carriers have registered with the Commission pursuant to PUC Substantive Rule 23.61.

The tariff, after suspension, is proposed to be effective May 1, 1992.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible, but no later than November 15, 1991. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256. The telecommunications device for the deaf (TDD) number is (512) 458-0221.

Floyd County Hesperian-Beacon FOOTBALL CONTEST

GOOD LUCK!!

Football Contest Rules

Any subscriber or individual above the age of 7 years old who purchases a Floyd County Hesperian-Beacon is eligible to enter this newspaper's weekly football contest, except employees of this newspaper and family members living in the same household.

To play, circle on the official entry form, the numbers of the teams you believe will win this week's games. To indicate a tie, circle the numbers of both teams playing the game. In addition, write in the two tie breaker footballs your guess of the combined total points to be scored by the two teams listed in each tie breaker football. Also circle the team you believe will win. Circle both teams if you think the game will end in a tie.

The only entries which will be considered for prizes will be those on official entry forms which are brought to the Hesperian-Beacon office in Floydada or to the Hesperian-Beacon Office in Lockney by 5:00 p.m. on Friday. No photocopies will be accepted.

NO MAIL ENTRIES WILL BE ACCEPTED.

Three cash prizes are offered each week. In the event of ties - the same number of correct games and equal scores on the tie breakers - prizes will be shared by those involved in the tie.

The tie breaker scores will be utilized only in the event of a tie on the number of games correct. Print your name and address plainly on the official entry form and double check your choices before clipping out the entry form and depositing it at the Hesperian-Beacon office before 5:00 p.m. on Friday.

Entries are limited to one per person per week. Weekly winners are limited to one per household.
