Fifty years. Who would have thought it?

We suspect there are many people reading this who are somewhat surprised. Or, put another way, would have felt a lot happier fifty years ago if they could have been assured they would be around to mark the occasion. At that time one couldn't be sure.

We've often wondered how some of those who didn't make it would feel if they could come back now and see what has happened in the meantime. At that time the Japanese claimed they only wanted all of Asia, in which they would establish their "Greater East-Asia Co-prosperity Sphere." During the past fifty years the "Sphere" has been enlarged considerably, and the resulting "prosperity" has been most noticeable in that nation that came up with the idea.

Pearl Harbor didn't mark the beginning of Japan's expansion. It did mark the day they chose to remove America as a stumbling block to their aims. Before it was over many, many people died. Those men and women who took part in that struggle, and the many who died at Pearl Harbor, and in the Philippines, where we were stationed, are the ones I tend to think of when this anniversary rolls around. I suppose everyone has their own private thoughts when Pearl Harbor is mentioned. Those just happen to be mine.

The Japanese had planned to hit several places across Asia at essentially the same moment. History records that heavy fog in Formosa, the place we now call Taiwan, prevented takeoff for a few hours, so their planes didn't hit the Philippines for some three or four hours. Ships and troops were not far behind.

Looking back over those fifty years causes, on my own part, some mixed feelings. There is the feeling of pride in the way our nation rose to the occasion, in the manner in which our troops, in all services, did their duty. There is not that much pride in the way the politicians handled the peace won by those involved in the struggle.

But that is not the message of this day. This should be a day to remember, and to honor those who went down that first day, and other days, and the ones who came later to raise the flag once again in places it had been torn down. To all we say thanks, and may God Bless.

New doctor joins Lockney hospital staff

Dr. Kevin Stewart is the new doctor on the staff at the Lockney General Hospital. He started work at the hospital on Monday, November 25 and according to a hospital spokesman, Dr. Stewart saw approximately 25 patients and did an appendectomy the first day that he was at work.

Stewart was raised in Amarillo and is a graduate of Amarillo High School. He attended Amarillo College for two years and received an Associate Degree in Biological Sciences. He is a graduate of the University of Texas in Austin where he received a Bachelor of Science Degree in Zoology. He received his Medical Doctor (M.D.) degree after four years at Southwestern Medical School in Dallas. In June he finished his Family Practice Residency at John Peter Smith

Hospital in Fort Worth.

In June and July of this year he worked in the Emergency Room at Hugely Hospital in Fort Worth and after finishing there he and his family spent several months in Nigeria doing medical missionary work.

Stewart and his wife, Victory, are the parents of a two year old daughter, Lauren Elizabeth.

Mrs. Stewart was raised in Amarillo and is a graduate of Amarillo High School. She has a Bachelor degree in Accounting.

They are members of the Paramount Terrace Christian Church in Amarillo.

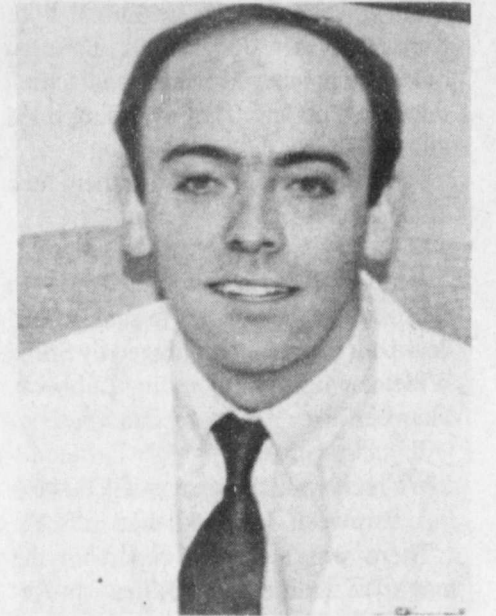

He and Doctor Kevin Stennett did a part of their residency work together and he did a two week rotation in Lockney as a part of his residency. Stewart gives credit to Stennett and Dr. Gary Mangold for recruiting him for the Lockney Hospital.

Stewart lists cycling, playing the piano and camping as hobbies he enjoys. He attained the rank of Eagle Scout and is interested in scouting. He is a member of the American Medical Society and the Tri-City Medical Association.

"My wife and I wanted to live in West Texas, we like the area and are glad to be close to our relatives. I like rural medicine and am very impressed with the Lockney Hospital and its staff. We are looking forward to living in Lockney."

stated Stewart.

A reception will be held at Lockney General Hospital for Dr. and Mrs. Stewart on Sunday, Dec. 15, from 1:00-3:00 p.m. Everyone is invited to come and welcome the Stewart family to Lockney.

Annual Cancer Society Christmas Brunch slated at Lampighter Inn

An annual event, looked forward to and well-attended by numerous area residents and out-of-town guests, is the festive Christmas Brunch sponsored by the Floyd County Unit of the American Cancer Society. The popular occasion will be held on Saturday, Dec. 7, from 9:30 to 11:00 a.m. at the historic Lampighter Inn in Floydada.

A recorded Texas Landmark, the Inn has been carefully restored and decorated by the mother-daughter team, Evelyn Branch and Roxanna Cummings. The Christmas Brunch will be served in the large dining area; and, those attending will be able to see the lobby and newly-redecorated rooms also.

A variety of foods will be offered again this year, all baked and served by members of the American Cancer Society's local board. As in previous years, there will be a drawing for the poinsettia plants.

Tickets for the event may be obtained from board members for a donation of $5.00, or may be purchased at the door on December 7.

Memphis Belle crew led by Parker

(Editor's Note: Research for this article, by Texas Tech journalism student Tiffany Gentry, was made possible by a grant from the Reader's Digest Foundation.)

By Tiffany Gentry

When U.S. Air Force Captain Vernon Parker took over the crew of the Memphis Belle, he had no idea he would pilot the World War II bomber during the filming of a major motion picture.

The movie, released shortly after Parker returned home from the war, was just one of the many highlights in his career in the United States Air Force.

His time served in World War II was filled with intense pressure and the constant battle to conquer life-threatening situations, mixed with a little excitement, travel and prestige.

Some events brought glory and victory - others brought sorrow.

Take W.L.C. Jones, Parker's roommate and close friend during one period in the war.

"He was shot down while flying a mission and taken prisoner by the Germans," Parker said. "He remained a POW until the end of the war."

"You didn't make too many friends in the war," he said. "When one of them died, you were sorry you let yourself get so attached."

When the war ended, Parker spent 20 years in the Air Force Reserves before retiring from the armed forces in 1963.

At that time, Parker settled with his wife and two children in Floydada, where he opened a photography studio. He is retired today.

Parker's war days began long before his involvement with the Memphis Belle. Prior to commanding the Belle, the 25-year-old fighter pilot enlisted as a volunteer for Great Britain's Royal Air Force in 1940 and served there until the United States entered the war.

A member of the 121 American Eagle Squadron, he flew two types of fighter planes - hurricanes and spitfires.

When the U.S. entered the war in November of 1942, the Americans enlisted in the RAF were transferred to the U.S. Air Force. Most of the men, according to Parker, were given honorable discharges. But Parker had to stay.

"The U.S. didn't have any fighters at the time," Parker said. "The crews didn't have any combat experience, just ordinary training. So they kept me over there as a combat tactic instructor."

As an instructor stationed at the Dyersburg Air Force Base, Tennessee, Parker acted as a mentor, flying with first-time crews and handing down instructions.

Training as a pilot meant teaching perfect precision and how to make split second decisions while in the air.

"A pilot requires much more training than a gunner," Parker said of his important job. "You wanted the pilots to make it back from their missions with as little damage to the aircraft as possible."

Parker said the average plane endured only three to four missions. More startling was the fact that the average life span of a fighter pilot in the war was only 47 days.

"That means 85 percent of the RAF fighters died," he said. "Only three of us survived out of my squadron."

On bomb raids, planes were in the air for nine and a half hours a day. "You had to learn to live with the fact that every minute your life was on the line," Parker said. "My longest mission was 11 hours."

Most of Parker's 25 missions were flown over Germany. Others were in Holland, Belgium, France and Norway.

Parker is known for his development of a World War II flight maneuver which fellow U.S. bombers called the "Parker Two-Step." Credited for its

Lockney Chamber sponsors holiday lighting contest

The Lockney Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a holiday lighting contest. Decorations will be judged on the night of Saturday, December 14.

An out-of-town panel of judges will drive around Lockney on that night and make their choices. Cash prizes will be awarded and the pictures of the winning homes will be published in the Hesperian-Beacon.

Anyone who would like to be included in the judging must have their lights turned on when the judges come by.

Floyd County Museum will host Old Fashioned Christmas party

Visitors to the Floyd County Historical Museum Sunday afternoon from 2 to 4:00 p.m. will be entertained with Christmas music presented by the Proclaim Singers and the piano music of Brandy Coleman.

Santa Claus will be there to hear Christmas wishes throughout the afternoon. Refreshments will be served on the porch of the Montgomery Ranchhouse.

Special exhibits will include a preview of the 16th century Chain Mail

Gauntlet which was found by Burt Daniel south of Floydada in the 1950s. Bill Feuerbacher's Santa Claus collection will be featured at the party. Also on display will be an exhibit of antique Bibles from the museum archives.

Antique toys will be displayed around the old fashioned Christmas tree. The museum is decorated with red and green paper chains made by the Floydada school children.

Everyone is invited to attend the annual Christmas party at the museum.

Only three more Saturday's until Christmas!

Its beginning to look a lot like Christmas all over the county.

Thanks are in order to the Floydada Women's Chamber of Commerce for buying the Christmas lights that will go around the front of the courthouse. They had donations from a lot of individuals that also helped out. Thanks also to the city workers for hanging the lights.

Vera Jo Bybee of Lockney also deserves a great big thank-you for all her efforts in organizing the contributions for the lighted Christmas decorations in downtown Lockney, and for getting them put up.

I heard some disturbing news today. The Dixie Dog has closed. I was sorry to hear about that because they have been around for a long time. Debra Graham and her mother, Joy Allen have always been big supporters of the community.

They were willing to donate door prizes to events, donate cups and other items to chamber functions and school related events, etc. They even supported this newspaper with advertising.

I appreciate them and wish them luck in the future.

A fellow from Lorenzo called today to subscribe to the paper. He said he had heard our paper being plugged by Spike Wideman on KFYO radio, Lubbock. Thanks Spike. We appreciate it!

We received a magazine called News Inc., this week. It is published in N.Y. There was a special report in the magazine, entitled, "Weeklies - In Review." They interviewed more than 400 weekly publishers to find out what they think about their business and its future. They also sent out a multiple question survey to over 2,000 weekly publishers.

We didn't get one. We got a lot of laughs over what they had to say from their statistics, but we agreed with a lot of remarks about weeklies that other publishers had to say.

For instance the article said, "While daily publishers gnaw on a depression borne of an army of competitors and aging markets, their weekly peers revel in an optimism fed by growing number of readers who can't find the mix of very local news and ads anywhere else. Hard times may have slowed weekly publisher's cash flow but not their upbeat mood."

One publisher was quoted as saying, "More and more customers, overloaded with info-input will cleave to the easy-to-read, keeps-me-up-to-date, relax-me-as-it-informs-me weekly."

Little bits of trivia were scattered throughout the magazine. We found them very interesting.

Take Note Everybody!
"The average full-page open ad rate for the 76 Association of Alternative Newsweeklies papers; $1,686, (ours is $327.60); for NAB top metro dailies: $2,629."

"There are about 7,550 weekly newspapers in the United States, each reaching an average of 8,405 readers for a total of 63.5 million (we figure we have between 8,000 and 9,000 readers). South Dakota leads the nation in per capita weeklies, with one per 5,458 people. Illinois has the most weeklies, 526; Texas is second with 430."

Some famous weekly newspaper owners are: Geraldo Rivera, Walter Cronkite, Oprah Winfrey, Michael Douglas, James "Scotty" Reston, Dan Quayle, and of course Ken Towery! (I added that last one).

Some of the original weekly titles listed were: Unterrified Democrat, from Linn, Missouri (they must be Republicans up there); Hungry Horse News, Columbia Falls, Montana; and Buffalo Reflex, from Buffalo, Missouri.

I said before that we did not get a survey to fill out, and I'm sure that none of the other publishers in this area got one either. The reason I know is because of this following tidbit found in the story:

"The average base salary for a publisher of a single weekly paper is $39,630; multiple-weekly publishers average $73,900; and entry-level reporter earns an average of $15,000-$16,000. Since 1987, circulation managers have been getting the heftiest raises."

That piece of information caused quite an uproar around here.

Have A Good Week!

The next little filler will really be appreciated by all those people who work at weeklies.

"Charlie Wrubel, a well known consultant on weeklies, was once asked by an advertiser: 'If you publish a weekly paper, what do you do the other six days a week?'"

Donut Man's Joke of the Week!
Huey: So, you're a night watchman. What do you watch?
Duey: I don't know. It's so dark I can't see a thing.

Lockney police investigate recent spree of burglaries

Lockney Police have been busy investigating burglaries. On November 12, 1991, Lockney police investigated the burglary of a home on East Bryant St. A V.C.R. was stolen from the home in the burglary. Lockney Police have arrested a 21 year old Lockney man in connection with this burglary.

Lockney police investigated another burglary of a home on East Bryant and in this burglary a V.C.R. was also stolen. Lockney Police have arrested a 25 year old Lockney man in connection with this burglary.

Lockney Police are still investigating the burglary of a home on West Washington St. someone entered a home on the 300 block of West Washington and stole a purse. The purse only contained some papers. The purse was valued at $10.00. Police have no suspects in this burglary at this time.

Lockney Police are investigating the burglary of a vehicle that occurred on November 23, 1991. A purse was stolen out of a vehicle that was parked on the 500 block of South Main St. The purse and its contents were valued at $49.00.

The Lockney Police Dept. would like to remind you that during the holiday season burglaries and thefts always pick up. We ask that everyone lock their homes even if you are only going to be away for a short time. If you are burglarized you stand a much better chance of getting your property returned to you if you engrave your valuable property. If your property has a serial number please record that number. We have had to return property to suspects, that we felt was stolen, because the owner of the property could not identify the property as theirs. If you own a Panasonic V.C.R. and it is stolen you may have to be able to identify it. Remember when they made that V.C.R. they probably made 10 million just like it. You are going to have to be able to show that particular Panasonic V.C.R. is yours. So please take the time to engrave, your drivers license number on your property, and record the serial numbers on valuable property especially guns. It is also helpful if you take photographs of jewelry and antiques.

Their has always been a problem with items being stolen out of vehicles, especially purses. It is not unusual for this to happen in the middle of the day at the Post Office, school or the store. It is very rare that someone gains entry into a vehicle by force. If you must leave valuable items in your vehicle lock them in

The First National Bank of Floydada is proud to announce a joint exhibition for the month of December art work display. Two Motley County artist, Teresa Ann Whitaker and W. Rainey Shannon, will be showing their western influenced art during regular business hours throughout the month.

W. Rainey Shannon, a native of Lubbock County, Texas, now resides on the historic Matador Ranch in Matador, Texas, with her cowboy/farrier husband, Nathan, and her one year old daughter, Atlanta. Rainey received her Bachelor of Fine Arts in Design Communication in 1984 from Texas Tech University.

She now pursues a successful career in freelance art, completing privately commissioned works and her first line of printed works from her favorite oil-on-canvas and colored pencil sketches. Although her artistic talents range from graphic to the softest of charcoals, Rainey has found her true love lies in the work that she and her husband share—that of the working cowboy and the talent of the farrier. Many of her works have captured the aura of the west and have depicted the movement of a bygone era.

Shannon spent a month artistic leave in Australia and worked as a graphic artist/designer for Distinct Impressions and Caviness Advertising in Lubbock. She has won numerous awards at the Post Art Guild Annual Art Show. She was the Texas Caprock Festival Merit Award winner and is an annual exhibitor at the National Cowboy Symposium and Celebration.

Teresa Ann Whitaker lived in Oklahoma City and now resides in Matador, Texas with her husband and two children. Teresa has ridden horses most of her life and once qualified for the World Show in team roping. Her love of horses has drawn her towards Equine Art. She has specialized in pencil drawings and colored pencil drawing and is currently studying oil painting and color expression.

Teresa is applying most of her energy in raising her children and plans to pursue her art career in full force when her children begin their own life adventures. She is so much a part of her western world.

"I have a deep yearning inside to paint my environment," she said. Teresa's list of accomplishments include Honorable Mention at the Texas Caprock Festival, Purchase Award at the AMAA Best of the Southwest, being named Woman Artist of the West, the Second Annual Juried Competition. She was 1st in Drawing at Central State University and won the Tuition Award at the Oklahoma Museum of Art.

She maintains membership to the Amarillo Fine Arts Association and the Tri-State AAA. She also serves as instructor for the Motley County 4-H program.

Seven FHS students inducted into National Honor Society

Seven Floydada High School students were inducted into the A.E. Baker Chapter of the National Honor Society, during an impressive candlelighting service November 26.

Membership into the organization is earned by the effective demonstration of scholarship, service, leadership and character. Inductees were: Jonathan Simpson, Yadira Martinez, Josh Thayer, Tian Younger, Micheal Gilliland, Emily Parks and Chris Wilson.

Jonathan Simpson, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Simpson. Active in sports, Jonathan participated in cross country, basketball and track in his freshman year, golf his sophomore year, and football for the last three years.

Jonathan is a member of the First Baptist Church and also a member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. He is a member of the Future Farmers of America and has competed in contests for the Junior Chapter Conducting Team. He currently holds the office of FFA Sentinel.

Yadira Martinez is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Juan Martinez. In her sophomore year, Yadira was in the Future Homemakers of America. She is secretary/treasurer of her church youth group at the Assembly of God Church in Lockney, and is currently a library aide.

Josh Thayer is the son of Fred Thayer and Jan Thayer. He was vice-president of his class in his freshman year and has been involved in football and basketball his freshman, sophomore and junior years.

He is also a member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and has been a student council representative for the past three years. He has volunteered to raise the flag and say the Pledge of Allegiance every morning.

In his freshman year, as an active member of the Future Farmers of America, Josh was on the Junior Chapter Conducting Team and the Junior Farm Skills Team which finished third in the state.

He was vice-president of FFA his sophomore year and is currently FFA reporter.

Tian Younger is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jakey Younger. She was in the Future Homemakers of America her freshman year and was a member of "Youth Exchanging With Seniors" as a sophomore.

She was also a Junior Varsity Cheerleader and secretary/treasurer of her class in her sophomore year. She has been a student council representative each year and has helped with the canned food drive and raising the flag.

Tian was selected as one of America's Who's Who among teens, and has been an active member of cross country, basketball, and track.

She advanced to regionals in the 100 and 300 meter hurdles in her freshman year and in her sophomore year she advanced to State in track.

Tian is actively involved in the First Baptist Church where she is a member of the choir. She is the Captain of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes at the high school.

She was chosen by the faculty as an Outstanding Student of the Month her freshman, sophomore and junior year.

She was class favorite her freshman and sophomore years and is currently president of the junior class.

Micheal Gilliland is a member of Youth Exchanging With Seniors and is currently the junior assistant scoutmaster with the Floydada Chapter of the Boy Scouts.

As an active member of the Boy Scouts, Micheal has held the positions of assistant patrol leader, patrol leader, assistant senior patrol leader and senior patrol leader.

Micheal has performed many services for the community including: helping with a booth at Punkin Days, painting the interior of the American Red Cross building, re-building the fence behind the museum, serving lunch at Old Settlers and hanging the downtown banners.

He participated in the Science Fair his first two years of high school and placed second at the State Meet in his sophomore year.

His freshman year, Micheal was chosen as class favorite. He has been in football for three years and participated in track the last two years. He was president of the First United Methodist Church Youth Group. His freshman year, he was woodwind vice-president of Band and he is currently vice president of the band.

Emily Parks is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Parks. She is a member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and is an active member of the Garland Street Church of Christ. She participated in her youth groups Bible Bowl program and has worked with Vacation Bible School for the past four years.

She participated in basketball and track during her freshman year, and has worked at Junior High Band Festivals, the concession stands for JV football games, has picked up trash along the highways and has helped deliver needed items to the Ronald McDonald House in Lubbock.

Emily is a member of the Blanco Canyon Wind Ensemble and has been the trombone section leader of the Spirit of the Winds Band or two years. She has represented Floydada at All-Region Band for three years and will compete this year at the State Contest as a U.I.L. ensemble qualifier.

Chris Wilson is the son of Ken Wilson and Trina Wilson. He has been in band since his freshman year and also enjoys singing. Chris was one of only two people from Floydada who participated in the Methodist Youth Choir, the Spirit Wind.

He is an active member of his church's youth group and theater group, and works part time at My-T-Burger.

Abney is new pastor at Lockney FBC

Rev. Harold Abney has come to Lockney as the new pastor of the First Baptist Church. He and his family are moving from Lubbock.

Abney and his wife Kay are the parents of a son Koby, 18, and a daughter Kristen, 14. He is a senior and she a freshman at Frenship High School. Mrs. Abney teaches school at Frenship and she and Kristen will move to Lockney at mid-term. Koby will complete his senior year in Frenship.

Abney is a graduate of Ropes High School and is a veteran of the United States Navy. He attended South Plains College in Levelland and is a graduate of Wayland Baptist University. He received his Masters Degree from South Western Baptist Seminary.

Mrs. Abney is a graduate of South Plains College and Wayland Baptist University.

He has served as pastor at Channing, Bynum, Three-Way Baptist Church at Maple, First Baptist Church at White Deer and most recently the First Baptist Church at Wolforth.

"My family and I are looking forward to getting acquainted with the people in Lockney," he stated, "and we hope to soon be at home here."

Lockney Main Street decorated with newly-installed ornaments

The Christmas ornaments, with lights attached, were installed on the Main Street in Lockney on Monday morning. Robert Webb braved the cold and wind to plug in the lights that the citizens of Lockney have made donations toward.

The lights plugged in are at the corners of Main and Shurbet Streets, Main and College Streets and the intersection near the hospital. Residents of Lockney have contributed to a drive, spearheaded by Vera Jo Bybee, to light up the decorations in downtown Lockney during the Christmas season.

Six thousand dollars was needed to install electric plugs to the poles and an additional amount will be needed for the electric lights for each ornament. Eleven ornaments have been plugged in and Southwestern Public Service will wire the remainder of the poles before next year.

Bybee states, "$5,051.00 has been contributed and I know that we will get the rest of the money."

New donors to her list include Moore-Rose-White Funeral Home, Bill and Maxine Strickland, Dr. and Mrs. W.J. Mangold, the Arriba Club, and Dorothy and Angie Hooten.

Harris and Smith exchange vows

MR. AND MRS. JAMES SMITH

Mychelle Harris and James Smith of Paducah exchanged wedding vows during an afternoon ceremony in the yard of the bride's mother's home. The couple recited their vows before the Rev. Robert Chapman, pastor of Bible Baptist Church of Floydada, as they stood before an arch accentuated with black and white bows. Pumpkins carried out the theme of the fall season.

The bride is the daughter of Phyllis Harris of Floydada and the late Johnny Harris Jr. The groom is the son of Robert and Linda Smith of Paducah.

Given in marriage by her brothers, Terry Harris of Floydada and Jeffrey Todd Hodges of Guam, the bride chose a white tea-length dress. She carried a bouquet of white and peach flowers.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Gail Jackson of Lubbock. Bridesmaids were Maxarie Martin of Paducah, Melissa Hodges of Guam, sister-in-law of the bride, and Debbie Daniel of Paducah, sister of the groom.

Bridal attendants were dressed in black tea length skirts and white blouses. Black and white tie sashes completed their attire.

Acting as best man was Terry Gilbert of Lubbock. Groomsmen were Marty Smith of Paducah, brother of the groom; Stan Burns of Lubbock and Ron Martin of Virginia. Ushers were Tim Daniel of Paducah, brother-in-law of the groom, and Brady Anderson of Floydada.

Musical selections for the ceremony included "I'll Still Be Loving You" and "Enough For Me". These were vocalized by Wesley Durham, cousin of the bride. Tamie Cocanougher presided at the organ.

Guests were registered by Becky Parsons, cousin of the bride.

A reception followed the ceremony. Janice Martin and Melissa Smith served at the bride's table and Misty Daniel presided at the groom's table.

The bride attended Floydada and Paducah schools. The groom attended school in Paducah. The couple will reside in Paducah, where they are both employed.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

By Jo Bryant

Hi to everyone, hope this finds you well and happy, finds us preparing for the wonderful holiday of Christmas.

We thank Bro. Bill for coming to share the devotional and Irene Wexler playing the piano for us. The residents had Bible study in the afternoon and shared what they were thankful for. This past week was National Bible Week.

Tuesday, the residents had arts and crafts. At 6 p.m. was our family pie social and family council meeting. The social was well attended, enjoyed all the pies.

Otis Johnson had the first Bingo. Ruth H. and Mary A. Davis assisted with Bingo.

Thursday, Thanksgiving, the residents had a turkey dinner and trimming. Some of them got to go eat out with their families. Some of the residents watched the parade on T.V. and football.

Friday, the residents didn't get to go on the bus ride as Wilma Payne was off, so they enjoyed games and music. Nell McClung came and did the devotional. Evelyn Latta played the piano, closed with a prayer. Peggy Hill was the winner of our nativity set. A Christmas wreath will be the prize this week. Remember the tickets are 50 cents each. Proceeds for Alzheimers and activities. A clock and popcorn popper will be next.

Our love and sympathy go out to the family of Ann Spears.

Remember family, employees, friends you are invited to the "Christmas Coffee" given by our administrator Wanda Gibbs.

How To Enjoy Being Older

- (1) Eliminate envy of those younger
- (2) Take pride in accomplishments (you are worthwhile)
- (3) Savor every minute of each day (know the importance of the presence)
- (4) Live joyfully (seek the best in every situation; laugh at yourself)
- (5) Don't complain - Some things are worse, some things better
- (6) Don't make excuses because you are older (think young)
- (7) Remember your purpose (ask the Lord what He has for you to do)
- (8) Sing a little, laugh some, pray alot (happiness belongs to any age)
- (9) Above all trust in the Lord (He carried you through youth, adolescence, middle age - why stop now?)

PRE-NUPTIAL COURTESIES

Pre-nuptial courtesies extended to the couple included the rehearsal dinner, hosted by the groom's parents in the home of Phyllis Harris. Guests were served a barbeque meal with all the trimmings.

A bridal shower was given in the home of Janice Martin of Paducah.

Clubs & Organizations

Alpha Sigma Upsilon

Alpha Sigma Upsilon, chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, met in the home of Robbie Odom for their first November meeting.

The meeting was called to order by president Hope Warren with all members present standing for opening rituals.

The only correspondence was from International in the form of an job/occupation survey. This was completed and returned to the International office.

Members then reviewed upcoming dates and events.

Donna Webb was in charge of the program. Her guest speaker was Sgt. Harold Snell of the Floydada Police Department. He gave ideas on how to better protect your home and belongings during the upcoming holiday season. He also told about some services they offer to assist in this endeavor.

A supper of fajitas and all the trimmings was served by hostess Robbie Odom.

Donna Webb won the raffle of a pot-pourri simmering pot that was brought by Robbie Odom.

Everyone stood for closing rituals and mizpah.

The group met for a second meeting in November at the Lighthouse Electric community room.

The program was presented by Rudd Owen, a lawyer from Plainview. He spoke about various legal documents and answered questions from the group concerning them.

Refreshments were provided by all members present.

President Hope Warren then called the regular meeting to order with all members standing for opening rituals. Roll was taken with eight members present and two excused absences.

There was no correspondence from International or otherwise to review.

A bake sale, as a fundraiser, was discussed, but tabled for further discussion later.

Plans were finalized for doing baskets on Nov. 26.

The only other business was to assign the first meeting in January. Hostess will be Beth Riddle, with Tammy Leeson in charge of the program.

The meeting was adjourned with all members standing for closing rituals and mizpah.

This 'N' That Hobby Club

The This 'N' That Hobby Club honored their husbands with a Thanksgiving dinner on Monday night in the party room at The Lighthouse Electric Co.

A delicious meal of turkey and dressing and all the trimming was served.

After the meal, games of 84 were played by all.

All members were present. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Sam Baker, Johnnie Cates, Sam Jackson, T.L. Holland, Olen Lyles, J.B. Sue and Glen White, Mrs. Bill Beedy, Earl Crawford, W. Bunch, L.L. Fawver, Floyd Lawson and John Wilson.

"When business is good it pays to advertise; When business is bad you've got to advertise."

SOS expresses gratitude

The workers with Floydada Spirit of Sharing would like to express deep gratitude to all the people of the area for their concern and generosity at this season and all year round.

The Community Thanksgiving service held on Nov. 23 at the Methodist church was especially meaningful this year. Attendance was very good and having 11 pastors participating in the service gave a feeling of the scope and depth of support.

As has been the practice since 1985, the offering taken at the service went to SOS to be used for food, clothing and other services to people who come there with their needs.

SOS is very grateful to all the churches as well as to the Boy Scouts who collected over 1400 pounds of food in a door-to-door drive on a very cold day.

There have also been Sunday School classes, clubs and individuals who have made contributions, and SOS is very appreciative of it all. We would not be in existence today were it not for the concern of the entire community.

Have A Great Week

LVN's meet each month

Licensed Vocational Nurses of Lubbock Division 18 meet the second Monday of each month. Guests speakers talk on subjects related to nursing. Continuing Education Units are given to those attending. L.V.N.'s are now required to have 20 CEU's for license renewal each two years.

All nurses are invited to attend the next meeting Dec. 9, in the O'Brian Room of St. Mary's Hospital. A Christmas social and long-range planning session will be held at this meeting.

For further information contact W.M. Coverdell, president, at 828-4565.

Andrews selects Educator of the Month

DONNETTA KELTZ

By John Dunavant

R.C. Andrews has selected the Educator of the Month. Her name is Donnetta Keltz.

When asked why she wanted to become a teacher, Mrs. Keltz replied, "I always enjoyed being with children and have the time to be at home with my family."

She graduated from Wayland Baptist University. She has two children, Kaci, 12, and Kyle, 10. Her husband, Terry, is the administrator of Caprock Hospital.

The Keltz's also have two kittens and one puppy. Mrs. Keltz likes her big family.

3rd Six Weeks

What a busy year we are having. We are amazed that it is the beginning of our third six weeks. We have taken our third grade T.A.A.S. test. We have many interesting activities planned for our kids between now and the Christmas holidays.

This time of year is a magical time of the year at Duncan. We plan activities to incorporate the spirit of the holidays. We want to invite you to come and visit one of the best elementary schools in Texas. Thanks again for all of your support. Without your help we couldn't be near as good as we are.

Sincerely,

Duncan Staff EARLY EDUCATION

FHA-HERO groups install officers

BLUEBONNET CHAPTER

By Sandra Ramirez
Officers of the Bluebonnet chapter of the Future Homemakers of America-HERO pledged their best efforts to their club Tuesday, Nov. 26, in the CVAE Homemaking Room at Floydada High School.

The officers stood in a semi-circle around a table. It was covered with a red cloth. The chapter's flower, the Texas Bluebonnet, was mixed with red roses in a vase that centered the table. Each officer placed a lighted candle in a circle of candles around the table.

The club advisor Mrs. Joyce Williams led them in their pledge of loyalty to their officers duties.

Officers for 1991-92 are Yolanda Ledbetter, president; Katrina Sessions, vice president; Julie Johnston, secretary-treasurer; Sandra Ramirez, reporter-historian; and Stacy McHam, song leader and sergeant-at-arms.

Plans for December include helping with a foster child's Christmas, decorating a door in the nursing home, baking cookies for the Museum Open House and plan a party for Christmas.

RED ROSE CHAPTER

By Nancy Sandoval

Forming a circle with lighted candles, officers of the Red Rose Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America-HERO were formally installed Tuesday, Nov. 26.

A red cloth covered the table, which was centered with an arrangement of red roses and Texas bluebonnets. The chapter advisor, Mrs. Joyce Williams, spoke to the members on qualities of leadership. Each officer lit her red candle from a large white center candle. They all pledged to perform the duties of the office to which they had been elected.

Officers include president, Gail Ledbetter; vice-president, Mary Lou Herrera; secretary, Priscilla Herrera; co-treasurers, Francis Nieto and Monica Wickware; reporter-historian, Nancy Sandoval; song leader and sergeant-at-arms, Rosemary Carisales.

Refreshments of popcorn and cold drinks were served by the advisor.

'WINDS MAKE VALIANT EFFORT -- Playing against a larger, more powerful team, the Floydada High School Varsity Boys played well and exhibited great heart, but were defeated by their Hale Center opponents on Tuesday. --Staff Photo

The Floydada High School Varsity Boy's Basketball team opened the 1991-92 season with a 68 to 49 victory over Idalou on Tuesday, November 26. Jamie Suarez lead the scoring for the Whirlwinds with 24 points scored during the game here in Floydada.

Michael Henderson toted up 14 points and 11 rebounds for the evening. Quincy Johnson made 11 points and Billy Villarreal added another 8 points.

According to Coach Mike Cocanougher, "The team played really well for a first game. They haven't been in the gym long enough to be seasoned yet, but we have some players who are very quick and the boys showed some good hustle in this first outing."

'WINDS LOSE TO HALE CENTER

Playing Hale Center on Tuesday, December 3, on their home court, the FHS Whirlwinds suffered their first defeat of the season. Posting a score of 76, Hale Center bested Floydada which was only able to tally 65 points.

Coach Cocanougher stated, "The opposing team is big and was very aggressive against us. It was a good game and our boys played hard and played good. Hale Center lead the entire time and when we had the chance to take the lead, turnovers did us in."

Michael Henderson lead the scoring with 25 points and 5 rebounds. Quincy Johnson made 14 points, Billy Villarreal had 8 and Jamie Suarez scored 7.

Lockney students attend 'Celebration of Teaching'

Six minority students from Lockney High School, along with sponsor Charlotte Mitchell, attended the second annual "Celebration of Teaching" program at Lubbock Christian University.

Students who attended were Pauline Gonzales, Mark Hernandez, Sarah Silva, Shawn Hill, Sandra Elias and Daisey Blanco.

The Teacher Education Department at the university hosted the program which is designed to encourage minority high school students to consider teaching as a career.

The day began at 9:30 a.m. with an informal reception and concluded at approximately 2:00 p.m. Dr. JoAnn Brown-Nash, an outstanding Black educator and motivational speaker, highlighted the program. Other features of the day included a panel of minority public school teachers, interaction with current education students at LCU and other activities designed to help the students examine the teaching profession.

Sandra Elias was the recipient of a $300 scholarship and Daisey Blanco received a pocket calendar.

The Celebration is funded by a grant from the Geraldine R. Dodge Foundation.

Students participate in PIP's

Kindergarten through sixth grade students in Lockney are participating in the Players In Progress (PIP)'s program one day a week after school.

The basketball program is under the direction of Terri Fortenberry, first grade teacher at Lockney Elementary School, and she is assisted by approximately fifteen volunteers.

The students are taught ball handling in order to improve their coordination and agility. Fortenberry stated, "We also stress responsibility. The kids learn to depend on each other and to realize that when they shirk their responsibilities that it affects everyone." She continued, "After each workout everybody leaves the floor a winner. They are all winners and we stress that."

Seventy-five of the PIP's participants, clad in blue and white uniforms, took to the floor in an exhibition during the Queen's Classis Thanksgiving Tournament in Plainview. The students lined the floor in the gym at Wayland Baptist University and did dribbling routines with their blue basketballs. The older students divided into groups and took to center court as they entertained the crowd. The younger students stayed on the outside lines and dribbled between their legs and front to back non-stop.

Fortenberry said that the kids would be doing their routines during halftime at the Lockney Varsity basketball home games.

A state competition will be held in Dallas in March and later in the year a national competition will be held. Fortenberry was not sure if Lockney would participate in the state meet.

Lockney 4-H Club meets

The Lockney 4-H Club met on October 29, 1991 at 7:00 p.m. at the Lockney Community Center.

Carolyn Turner, club president called the meeting to order, Krystal Allen led the Pledge of Allegiance, Chelsea Patridge led the 4-H motto and pledge and Leslieanne Hickerson gave the inspiration.

Cody Hayes told us about the Panhandle Parade of Breeds and a Texas A&M swine clinic he attended over the summer.

Krystal and T.J. Allen gave a report on the fun they had at 4-H camp in Brownwood this summer. Chelsea Patridge and Kaci Mathis told us about Leadership in June.

Jimmy Kemp spoke to the club on auctioneering in the program. We really appreciated Mr. Kemp sharing with us and enjoyed it very much.

In the business portion Mrs. Mitchell gave us the results of the raffle tickets. Ginger Mathis reported on the food show. Kay Martin informed us of the upcoming parents meeting.

Tim Mitchell led us in recreation and refreshments were served.

On November 25, 1991, at 7:00 p.m.

The Lockney 4-H Club met once again at the Community Center with Rhonda Hickerson presiding.

Josh Quebe led the Pledge of Allegiance and Sarah Martin led the 4-H motto and pledge. Mandy Hunter, club secretary, read the minutes from the last two meetings.

Kay Martin discussed the 4-H pleasant hunt. It was motioned by Lila Booker and seconded by Max Green that we send the money made from the food auction held in March to the fund for therapy for Kallie Kohls, a Glasscock County 4-Her who was injured in an accident recently. A $200 donation will be sent in November. The December meeting was discussed, and it was decided that we would go Christmas caroling.

The program was a display of projects by several 4-H'ers. Recreation was led by Rhonda Hickerson. Refreshments were served after the meeting was dismissed.

Glorybound Band to perform

Harold Conaway, Johnny Way and The Glorybound Band will be ministering at First Assembly of God Church Sunday, December 8, at 11:00 a.m. and 6:00 p.m.

Harold Conaway is well known in East

Texas and the Hill County for his ministry as vocalist and pianist. He and his family are from Kingsland, Texas. Johnny Way and his family are from Kerrville, Texas.

We invite everyone to come worship with us Sunday.

Blanco awarded scholarship

Moses Blanco, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rodolfo Blanco of Lockney, has been awarded an Ethnic Missions Scholarship by the Baptist General Convention of Texas in Dallas.

Blanco is attending Wayland Baptist University, Plainview, where he is a physical education major.

Nearly 1,424 ethnic students have been helped to attend eight Texas Baptist Universities and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth, through the program.

The scholarships are funded through the annual Mary Hill Davis Offering for State Missions observed each fall in Texas Baptist churches. More than $3.5 million has been invested in the scholarship program since 1956.

Floydada Methodist church to present "The Best Christmas Pageant Ever"

The cast and crew of the dinner theater, The Best Christmas Pageant Ever, have been busily preparing for their upcoming performances on the stage of the Upstairs Theater. The play was written by Barbara Robinson and is being produced through special arrangements with Samuel French Incorporated. The co-directors of the play are Doris McLain and Bobby Rainer.

The dates and times of the dinner and play are as follows: December 5 - dinner at 6:30, performance at 7:15; December 6 and 7 - first performance at 7:00, dinner at 7:45, second performance at 8:30; and, December 8 - matinee performance at 2:00 (no meal). Ticket reservations may be made by calling 983-2240.

The Best Christmas Pageant Ever is the story of a traditional Christmas pageant which appears to have gone awry. Mrs. Armstrong (Noma Lou Rainer) has directed the annual affair for many years; however, this year she is bedridden with a broken leg. She is able however to solicit the help of Grace Bradley (Donnetta Keltz) to direct this year's pageant. Even though Mrs. Bradley is the interim director, Mrs. Armstrong still maintains a firm grip on the reins of the play from her hospital bed.

The remainder of the Bradley family, Bob (Edd Henderson Jr.), Beth (Jamie McGuire), and Charlie (Dane Sanders), brace themselves for the hectic times ahead. Grace's family unfortunately doesn't realize just how hectic the times will become. They think that this will be the standard pageant with the same roles being assigned to the same people that have always played them, but that is not the case this year. The Herdmans will see to that.

The Herdmans are an interesting lot. They are a haggard group of children who terrorize the lives of everyone who is near. Ralph (Jason Henderson), Imogene (Mandi Yearly), Leroy (Kyle Pierce), Claude (Warren Bishop), Ollie (Justin McGuire), and Gladys (Tiffany Henderson) learn that the local church serves refreshments every Sunday which then motivates them to begin attending Sunday School. This wouldn't be bad except for the fact that this is the day that parts are being assigned for the Christmas pageant.

The Herdmans manage to coerce themselves into portraying the leading roles of the production. No one else will dare to volunteer for a part in which a Herdman has volunteered; therefore, they receive this year's top billings.

The results of the auditions shock the local church ladies, Mrs. Slocum (Jodie McGuire), Mrs. Clark (Sharon Henderson), Mrs. Clausing (Melissa Long), and Mrs. Armstrong (Frances Hambricht). They forecast nothing but gloom and doom for this endeavor. Reports from rehearsals initially indicate that their soothsaying may be correct. Even the Reverend Hopkins predicts that no one will attend as long as the Herdmans are involved.

The public proves the reverend wrong and completely fills the church to see just how much damage the Herdmans can inflict on the traditional Christmas story.

The pageant cast includes: Maxine (Crystal Driver) as the narrator; Elmer (Kyle Keltz), Hobie (David Bishop), David (Shane Lloyd), David Rainwater, and Brad Yearly as the shepherds; Beth, Alice (Katie Sanders), Beverly (Kylan Sanders), Shirley (Rebecca Warren), Juanita (Kelsey Pierce), Doris (Carissa Coursey), Adriana Hill, Molly Long, Briunee Brotherton, Jennie Young, and Taryn Rainwater as angels and the angel choir.

The church ladies were right. This was not the usual Christmas pageant as they had remembered from years past. This one was quite different. Come see for yourself as to how the Herdmans manage to make this pageant The Best Christmas Pageant Ever.

CHRISTMAS PACKAGES—The Salvation Army presented the Floydada Nursing Home and the S.O.S. with Christmas Care Packages. The packets are packed for either men or women and contain such items as, shampoo, razor, soap, make-up, deodorant, earrings and after-shave. Forty-eight packages were given to S.O.S. and the same number were given to the nursing home. They will be given to those in need throughout the year. Shown here are: (left-right) Martha Lotspeich, of the Salvation Army; Helen Martin with S.O.S., Tom Farris, Salvation Army, and Dorothy Holland, S.O.S.

Free tree-pruning guide is available from National Arbor Day Foundation

During winter dormancy is a popular time to prune trees, and a free booklet is available from The National Arbor Day Foundation to show you how.

The illustrated, easy-to-follow guide called "How To Prune Young Shade Trees" has been prepared for homeowners.

How a tree is pruned in its first few years of life will affect its shape, its strength, and even its life span.

The How to Prune guide includes step-by-step illustrations showing how proper pruning in the early years of a tree's life can save money in the long run and result in safer, more beautiful, healthy, easy-to-maintain trees.

The booklet is filled with illustrations showing you how to make a pruning cut . . . how to prune for desired form . . . how to strengthen your tree by removing certain branches . . . how to maintain the tree's health by removing trouble spots . . . when to leave temporary lower branches, and when to cut them.

The booklet even shows how to hold a pair of pruning shears and how to make pruning cuts at the proper angle.

You'll learn how to shape and guide a shade tree when it's young so that it's tall, straight, strong, and healthy when it's old.

The design of the booklet makes it easy to browse through to pick up tips.

You'll discover why tree paint isn't necessary, even on large cuts . . . how to select and care for pruning tools . . . how to prune according to the tree's function.

To obtain your free copy of this valuable booklet, send your name and address to: How To Prune, National Arbor Day Foundation, Nebraska City, NE 68410.

Cargill increases rural scholarship funding to 250

The Cargill Foundation again will sponsor $1,000 scholarships for high school seniors from U.S. farm families, increasing the number from 200 to 250.

"The program has been so favorably accepted throughout the rural community that we decided to expand it this year. It's a good place to put Cargill Foundation money," said Barney Saunders, President of the Cargill Foundation.

The Cargill Scholarship Program for Rural America is open to all high school seniors who graduate next spring and come from families that derive at least half their income from farming. Candidates must enroll full-time next fall at an accredited two- or four-year college, university or vocational-technical school.

The program was established in 1986 to recognize and encourage the academic achievement, accomplishments and talents of rural youth. Thus far, the Cargill Foundation has made 1,000 awards for a total of $1 million.

Selection for the scholarships is handled by the National Future Farmers of America organization, although applicants need not be FFA members.

"The FFA has a long history of administering scholarship programs for many agriculturally based companies. In addition, because it is a national organization that is part of the educational program in many rural high schools, it is ideally suited to administer the program," said Gladys Tripp of Cargill Community Relations. The National FFA Foundation will manage the selection process, which is based on academic record, leadership, extracurricular accomplishments and financial need.

Information and application forms can be obtained at any Cargill office or high school FFA department. Students also can request forms from the Cargill Scholarship Coordinator, National FFA, P.O. Box 5117, Madison, WI 53705-0117. Applications deadline is March 2, 1992.

Detecting Alzheimer's Disease is discussed

Alzheimer's disease, which produces a progressive decline in memory, thinking and behavior, affects more than two million Americans. While the exact cause of this disease remains unknown, medical scientists are working on a cure.

Some 60 diseases mimic the symptoms of Alzheimer's. But according to Thomas Hutton, M.D., a neurologist on staff at Methodist Hospital, you should suspect Alzheimer's in a loved one if you notice one or more of the following warning signs:

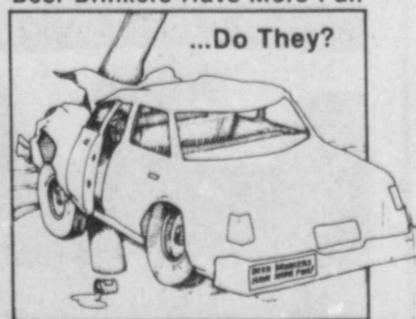

1. Difficulty finding the right word.
2. Difficulty with abstract thinking.
3. Poor judgment.
4. Disorientation related to time and place.
5. Mood or behavioral changes.
6. Personality changes.

These symptoms will begin to cause problems for the individual with Alzheimer's - both at home and at work. The person may lose his way en route to a familiar place, forget appointments or names of familiar people, or have problems with simple activities such as getting dressed.

Although exact diagnosis can be made only through analysis of brain tissue after death, an evaluation by a physician is recommended. A complete evaluation may include a thorough physical and neurological examination to rule out other disorders; a mental status test; psychiatric assessment; neuropsychological testing of language skills, attention and perception; and a battery of routine laboratory tests.

If Alzheimer's disease is suspected in a loved one, contact your family physician for an evaluation. Methodist Hospital offers physician referrals for those individuals who do not have a personal physician. The number for physician referrals is 793-4171 or 1-800-624-CARE.
