Eight vie for seats on Floydada City Council

By Juanita Stepp

Early voting in the city election will begin on Monday, April 13 at City Hall. Voters are reminded to bring their voter registration cards when coming to vote. Ballots may be cast between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m.

The four positions up for election this spring on the Floydada City Council have drawn a total of eight candidates. Amado Morales, the incumbent in District 1, has been challenged by local

A view from The Lamplighter

By Ken Towery

Oh joy. The fun continues.

Mr. Foley and his cohorts now say they are going to clean up their act. And this time they really mean it.

They're finally going to belly up to the bar, tighten their belt, all those sorts of things. It's gonna hurt, but we suppose times have become so difficult for those who run the House of Representatives that difficult measures are called for.

You've probably heard or read of the draconian measures being instituted up there. It is said that the Congressmen will now have to start paying for their haircuts. Even, heaven help us, their prescription drugs. They've closed down the scandal ridden "bank," through which many members floated their personal loans. They've put in new management over at their personal Post Office, hoping, we suppose, this will cut down on drug dealing and assorted shenanigans at that location. They're thinking about charging members for use of the gym. They're even thinking about parking privileges.

They're doing a lot of thinking. And a lot of talking. Mr. Foley, the Speaker, is even talking about inviting Republicans in to talk about sharing the responsibility of running the House, perhaps under the theory that "misery loves company."

Any Washington politician knows that a good offense is the best defense. So now, in an effort to get the monkey off their back, the people who run Congress have decided it would be a good idea to hold televised hearings on perks down at the White House.

And do you know who proposes to hold the hearings? The House Subcommittee on Post Office and Government Operations, that's who. How does that grab you?

There's talk that Mr. Foley may be replaced as Speaker of the House. It won't happen. He says he won't quit, and, in the final analysis, who's going to mount a charge against him? The power structure in the House? The people who have benefited most from the way things have been run? Not hardly.

But what about the Democratic "back benchers," those members who elect the Speaker at the beginning of each Congress? Some Washington pundits think the back benchers may get the idea that their own survival depends on how people perceive the Congress as being run, and try to do something about it. Again, not likely, in our view. They could have done something about it long before now, had they been so inclined. Some of them will complain, when they're back home among their constituents. But when push comes to shove, they will "go along to get along," and Foley will be reelected to the Speaker's post.

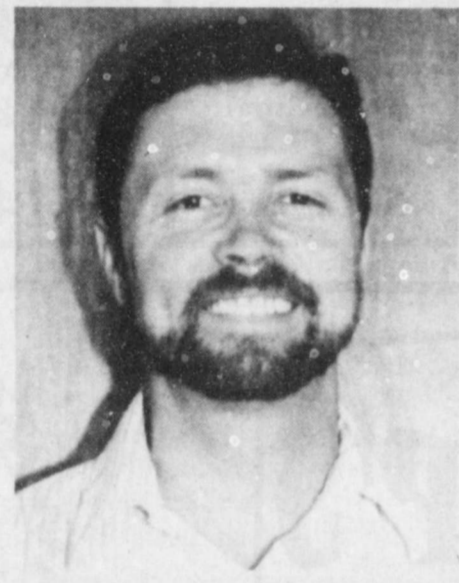

We are hearing a lot of the "Don't blame me. I didn't know" talk from people who, if they didn't know, certainly should have known, and should have said something about it. One is reminded of the ancient story about the guy who played the piano downstairs without ever realizing what was going on upstairs. That may be excusable for a piano player in a bawdy house, but it is hardly excusable for a Congressman.

restaurant owner Jon Nielson. District 4 incumbent Wayne Tipton is unopposed in his bid for reelection.

The two at-large posts are being pursued by two incumbents, Clar Schacht and Eric Cornelius. They are challenged by three opponents, Sheryl Burns LeCroy, Albert Hill and Ricky M. Vasquez. The two candidates who garner the top numbers of votes in the May 2 election will win the at-large positions on the council.

Below are profiles of the city council candidates in alphabetical order along with a photo of each.

ERIC CORNELIUS

One of two incumbents for the pair of At-Large council posts is Eric Cornelius. Cornelius is seeking a second term to the office.

Cornelius has been a resident of Floydada since 1975 and is a 1980 graduate of Floydada High School. He was employed by Cornelius Conoco before purchasing the business in 1986. He is married to the former Julianne Lipham. The couple has two children, Skyler, who is six years old, and Jordan, who is 5 months old.

Cornelius has served on the board of directors of the Floydada Lions Club since 1986 and was president of the organization in 1990-91. He was also a director of the Floydada Chamber of Commerce in 1988 and 1989. He was

Immunizations that students are required to have before September 1, 1992 are as follows:

DPT: 3 or more doses. One must have been received since 4th birthday.
Polio: 3 or more doses. One must be honored with the Extra Mile Award in 1990 by the Chamber in recognition of his efforts spearheading the ambulance fund drive which raised more than $92,000.00 towards the purchase of a new ambulance. He continues to serve as president on the board of the Floydada Emergency Medical Services now overseeing the operation of the ambulance.

Stated Cornelius, "I have enjoyed being a part of the council and would like to continue to serve Floydada and the citizens of the community. The council and city personnel have worked hard to make the city a stable and prosperous place to live and I would like to continue to work towards maintaining those standards and improving the city and its financial position for the future."

ALBERT HILL

Albert Hill, 40, is a first time candidate in the race for Floydada City Councilman-At Large.

Moving here from Plainview, Hill has lived in Floydada since he married Patricia Runnels on May 19, 1990. Patricia has one daughter, La Kindra and Hill has two children living in Hurley, New Mexico.

Born in Dial, Texas, Hill was raised in the Ropesville area of West Texas. He graduated from Plainview High School in 1971 and enlisted in the Army in June of 1972. He received an Honorable Discharge in August 1974.

Hill attended East Texas State University for one year and went on to Western New Mexico University in Silver City, New Mexico. While at WNMU, he majored in Physical Education and minored in Criminal Justice.

Hill was a substitute teacher in Plainview for three years, from January 1988 to June of 1990. He currently works at KKAP Radio in Floydada where he has been employed for a year and a half. His wife, Patricia, works as a cashier at Allsup's Convenience Store in Floydada.

When asked why he is seeking the position of city councilman, Hill said, "To my knowledge, Blacks have never run for city office in Floydada. It doesn't matter if I win or lose, but I think Blacks should get involved in their community. If I win I want to help the citizens of Floydada become more involved in their community and become better citizens. You shouldn't just live in a place—you should get out and get involved."

have been received since 4th birthday. Measles, Rubella, Mumps: 1 dose. Hib-CV: Will be required for all students who are enrolling through 4 years of age.

If you have questions regarding registration, call Bobbie Weir, principal, at 983-5341 or 983-5332.

CARTHEL FAMILY DONATES GAZEBO--John Lee Carthel, 91 and oldest surviving member of the pioneer Floyd County family, stands by the dedication marker at the gazebo which the family built and donated to the community. The gazebo is located at the Lockney Cemetery and has been given so that those families wishing to visit or sit awhile will have a comfortable place to do so. The marker reads, "In Loving Memory of the Pioneer Family of Joseph Marion and Martha Catherine Carthel."

SHERYL BURNS LECROY

Severe weather seminar scheduled

A Severe Weather Awareness Seminar will be conducted by the National Weather Service on Thursday, April 23, at Duncan Elementary Cafeteria, 1011 S. 8th, Floydada, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Approximately two hours long, the seminar will address NWS severe weather operations of today and in the modernized NWS, significant tornadoes of the past, tornado and thunderstorm safety tips and local severe weather warning procedures.

Any citizen interested in learning about the procedures that the NWS and the Floydada Fire Dept. use in potential emergency situations, is encouraged to attend this meeting.

Taking her first foray into the world of local politics is Sheryl Burns LeCroy who stated, "I have always been interested in City Council since my Dad (Leroy Burns) has been a member for 19 years. He has been a big influence on me and my decision to seek the at-large position on the council. I also think that a woman's view might be an asset to the council." She is a candidate for Council Woman At-Large.

LeCroy is a secretary for City Auto where she has worked for 20 years. She also assists her husband, Sharkey LeCroy, with his KenPo Karate Studio and serves as a coach and judge in both boxing and kick-boxing. Mrs. LeCroy is also active in the Bible Baptist Church and is a former Alpha Sigma Upsilon Sorority member where she served as vice president, secretary and corresponding secretary. She has also been listed in the Young Women of America publication.

Mrs. LeCroy is a graduate of Floydada High School. She has completed additional training through GM schools in the area of parts and secretarial work.

The LeCroy's have four children, two each from previous marriages. Shane Derryberry is 13 and Rowdy Derryberry is 8. Mark LeCroy is 18 and Melanie LeCroy is 16.

"I would like to see more of the town cleaned up," said LeCroy. "I mean the vacant lots and the buildings that are falling down. I would also like to work on more recreational activities for our young people and I would like to see a community effort to improve all of the city parks and add basketball goals and volleyball courts to each park. I think the city should take an active role in securing more housing and that the paving projects should continue.

"My most important wish is to see the institution of a recycling program to ease the landfill situation. I also think that we should actively pursue some sort of recycling plant for our area. This could help the landfill and provide jobs for our citizens."

Early voting continues in runoff election

Early voting will continue until Friday, April 10, in the runoff election between Charles Overstreet and Ellis Butler in their individual bids for the Democratic nomination for the office of Sheriff of Floyd County. At press time, 96 people have cast early ballots in eight precinct boxes according to County Clerk Margaret Collier. Early voters may cast ballots in the county clerk's office between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m.

The runoff election is slated for Tuesday, April 14. All sixteen voting locations will be open from 7:00 a.m. until 7:00 p.m. on that day. Voters are reminded to bring their voter registration card.

Athena Study Club plans annual pre-school clinic

The 42nd annual pre-school clinic, sponsored by the Athena Study Club of Lockney, will be held Tuesday, April 14, from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. at the Lockney Elementary School Cafeteria.

The purpose of the annual event is to pre-register youngsters who will enter the Lockney school system for the first time in September 1992. Included in this category are children who will reach their fifth birthday on or before September ber 1, 1992, and who are attending school for the first time. Also children who are six years old and have never attended school previously should be at this clinic.

As in the past, children will receive a physical examination, vision screening, dental exam and speech screening. Conducting the checkups will be Drs. W.J. Mangold, Gary Mangold, Kevin Stennett and Kevin Stuart. Dr. Stewart Webb will conduct the vision screening and Dr. Ricky Cross will examine teeth. Karen Quebe will hold the speech screening.

It is expected that regular immunizations will be available.

The entire clinic is free to all those who have children who will be entering Lockney schools in September, 1992.

"It is very important that the parent bring the child's birth certificate and immunization records," stated Joyce Evans, principal at Lockney Elementary School.

"In addition to being screened for health, vision, dental and speech problems, children will also be pre-enrolled in kindergarten. Pre-registration of children saves time for both parents and school officials in that youngsters may come to the first day of school with a minimum of fuss since all but the usual first day of school paper work is filled out. Also by pre-registering, school officials will know approximately how many kindergarten children to plan for," she continued.

Floydada sirens test Friday

City of Floydada will test sirens at 10:30 a.m. Friday, April 10, weather permitting.

We did it again!
The Floyd County Hesperian-Beacon was the proud recipient of three awards at the Panhandle Press Association Convention on Saturday!
Bill Gray won a third place award for his sportswriting, Tiffany Gentry won a first place award for her feature story on the Memphis Belle, and we also won a first place for our Society Lifestyle pages.
We compete against weeklies all over the South Plains and Panhandle region (including New Mexico), in areas such as Front Page Layout, Serious Columns, Humorous Columns, Editorials, Advertising, Use of Photography, Spot News Photo, Newswriting and all that other stuff.
All the weeklies got wiped out by the Tulia Herald. As usual, Jim Reynolds left with a whole bunch of first place awards. He is the only one we're ever proud to lose to.
We were judged by The Gulf Coast Region Newspaper Association. They were pretty rude in some of their comments toward some of the newspapers. We got off easy. Members of the Panhandle Press will be able to retaliate (I mean reciprocate) when we judge their newspapers next year.

I was real proud of Tiffany Gentry. She just worked with us for a semester during her internship with Texas Tech, but she was quite an asset. She really has a knack for feature stories and writing in general. I hope she considers the newspaper business seriously.
The convention was lots of fun, but sort of lonely for me. Usually Brandon and Lennie go with me, but this time my family stayed home.
It was very strange in my room all by myself. I've only stayed away from Brandon one night since he was born, and that was about four years ago. I kept looking down to see where he was.
Lennie always gripes that he can't even brush his teeth by himself because everyone is always crowded around the sink at the same time. I hadn't really thought about it until I was brushing my teeth at the hotel.
I kept looking down to see where Brandon was and I had all kinds of elbow room. It was very lonesome. I didn't like it.
I have to admit that I was looking forward to the king size bed all to myself. I decided to do stuff that I can't do when I'm with Brandon, so I stayed up until 11:00 p.m. watching a very scary movie on the hotel cable TV.

Then I couldn't go to sleep! I thought about calling the hotel security and asking them to come sleep by my door.
Actually it wasn't just the scary movie that kept me up. There was one other thing. It was like a plague because it affected everyone else that came to the press convention.
There was another convention going on at the same time. It was a ballerina convention. I don't know what they were there for, but there were girls ranging in ages from about eight to sixteen running everywhere.
Now you notice — I didn't say dancing around. They may be beautiful and graceful on the stage, but let loose in a hotel they are a holy terror. Every floor was overrun by them. Those girls never got tired.
They were running up and down the halls until the wee hours of the morning, giggling and slamming doors, and generally having a wonderful time.
The problem of course was that ballerinas running down the hall do not sound like ballerinas running down the hall. They sound like a herd of elephants trying to do the Swan Dance!

I want to close with one little thought. It was something I read in the Bible last Sunday. The passage reminded me of Congress.
Jesus was talking about the Jewish leaders and Pharisees of His day. They had spent the day trying to trick him with questions and trip him up on technicalities. He replied: "You would think these Jewish leaders and these Pharisees were Moses, the way they keep making up so many laws! And of course you should obey their every whim! It may be all right to do what they say, but above anything else, don't follow their example. For they don't do what they tell you to do. They load you with impossible demands that they themselves don't even try to keep."
"Everything they do is done for show" ... "and how they love to sit at the head table at the banquets, and in the reserved pews in the synagogue! How they enjoy the deference paid them on the streets."
... (Living Bible translation).

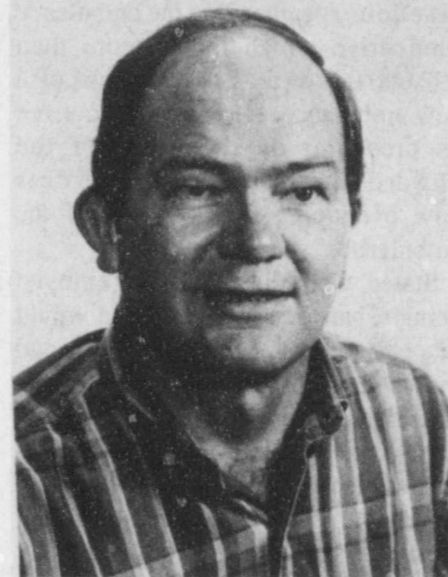

Behind the scenes of "The Foreigner"

(Editor's Note: This is the first of a four part series about the setting and characters of the upcoming Upstairs Theater's production of "The Foreigner" on May 7, 8, 9 and 10. Ticket reservations may be made by calling 983-2240.)
The Upstairs Theater's set for the production of "The Foreigner" represents the converted living room of Omer and Betty Meeks' home. It has been converted from a single family residence into a fishing lodge for out-of-towners.
This lodge is located in Tilghman County, Georgia, which is two hours by good road south out of Atlanta. At this point, a stranger would have to pull off at Cooley's Food and Bait and call for directions. It used to be at this point that Omer Meeks, who owned the lake house, would then drive down and lead the guests up the hill in his Dodge pickup.
Omer is gone now, and Betty his widow, doesn't drive. But Betty now single-handedly runs the lodge.
The lodge is for paying guests who come to fish, swim, play cards at night, and eat their fill of Betty's away-from-home cooking. A person might think it was still a living room if it were not for the presence of a small counter displaying a guest register and a bell.
The assorted rocking chairs scattered around the rustic, wood-burning stove have played host to an array of fishing tales from the lodge's patrons. Nearby, a coffee table is laden with a perpetually filled bowl of crisp, juicy apples. The walls are lined with a collection of spoons, a holder of keys for the various upstairs guest rooms, and mounted fishing trophies. This room is comfortable, but not necessarily indicative of the average dwelling in Tilghman County.

The county residents are about equally divided between the very poor — old folks, mostly, who live in hillside dwellings which a stranger might call makeshift before they learn that some of them have been in use for a hundred years — and the very rich, who have bought up most of the lakeside property, erected split-level homes, and put down sod lawns, some of which the owners even mow themselves, enjoying the rough life. The clientele of Betty's lodge are as diverse as the county's residents, but she makes it home for anyone who hangs their hat there.

Betty Meeks has resided in Tilghman County all of her life and probably has not crossed its boundaries more than a dozen times. She has one regret about her life, and that is that she did not get out and see more of the world over the years. Anything foreign seems to attract her affections: friends, guests, and spoons. The origins of these things (Malaysia, Canada, Tijuana, Taiwan, etc.) intrigue her.
Her world seems to be closing in on her lately though. Her health and her business are not doing well at all. Betty's ailments keep increasing and guests are decreasing because of unwarranted rumors. The hearsay has it that Betty's lodge is rotting down due to the bad winter weather. It will probably be condemned soon by the local property inspector, Owen Musser.

Owen is another lifelong resident of Tilghman County, but he is far from being as cordial and accommodating as Betty. Owen epitomizes a typical backwoods redneck. He believes that if something or someone is not red, white, and blue American then its not worth having or knowing.
Psychologists tell us to beware of a man with two tattoos. One, he may have gotten on a drunk or a dare, but two means that he went back for more. Owen is a two-tattoo man. His aspirations include closing down Betty's lodge and eventually running for county sheriff.
The personalities of Betty and Owen finally clash and the outcome is quite amusing. The role of Betty Meeks will be portrayed by Doris McLain. Owen Musser will be played by Jerry Crawford. Next week more characters from "The Foreigner" will be revealed.

Hesperian-Beacon wins awards from Panhandle Press Association

By Juanita Stepp
Among the newspapers honored at the Panhandle Press Association (PPA) Convention in Amarillo April 2-4 was the Floyd County Hesperian-Beacon. Editor Alice Gilroy was on hand to accept two first and one third place plaques.
The publication was awarded a first place in the Society and Lifestyles division and in the Feature Stories category.
Society and Lifestyles is judged according to the content and layout of the pages dealing with weddings, engagements, anniversaries, club news, and general daily events affecting the local community. Although a variety of people are responsible for preparing the items which are published on the Society and Lifestyles pages, Tami Nielson has been doing the weekly layouts.
The Feature Stories division is judged on the basis of entries submitted by the paper. The entry which earned the first place award was the Memphis Belle story written by Tiffany Gentry which was published in the December 5, 1991 issue.
The third place award came for sportswriting. Entries were judged on the basis of content and style. The entries submitted by the paper were written by Bill Gray.
An Honorable Mention was received for the serious column entries of Ken Towery. Towery's Lamplighter came close to being the third place winner according to the critique sheet. Judges for this year's contest were members of the Gulf Coast Press Association.
Other area newspapers were also recognized. The Motley County Tribune was the recipient of a second place plaque for their Centennial Edition in 1991 and the Texas Spur was awarded a second place for newswriting.
The Tulia Herald was the overall winner in the weekly newspaper divisions, tying for General Excellence and taking home four first place, three second place and two third place plaques in addition to an honorable mention. The Plainview Daily Herald did quite well in the daily newspaper divisions, garnering three first place plaques, three second and two thirds.

One of the announcements made at the convention was that Kyla Zumwalt of Lockney has been selected to receive one of several scholarships which the PPA awards each year. Details of the scholarship selection will be released in a few weeks.
Convention activities included seminars on ethics, advertising promotions and the Texas open meetings and open records laws attending from the Floyd County Hesperian-Beacon were Publisher/Editor Alice Gilroy and Joe and Juanita Stepp.

County Amateur Night slated

Christina Chesshir, president of the Women's Division of the Floydada Chamber of Commerce, is looking for "a few good acts." The Women's Chamber has scheduled a county wide amateur night for May 9th. Anyone in Floyd County who sings, dances, does comedy or otherwise performs is urged to contact her and be a part of the evening. Says Chesshir, "We want everyone to participate and we want to provide an evening of fine family entertainment for the county. In order to meet time limitations, we will only be able to accept the first 30 acts. Entry fees are reasonable, a one person act is $3.00 and a multiple person act is only $5.00. All ages are welcome to enter and all Floyd County residents are eligible. Anyone interested in entering may contact me at 983-2255." The event is slated for 7:00 p.m. on May 9th at the Floydada High School Auditorium according to Chesshir.

GRAND RE-OPENING--Dixie Dog Drive In in Floydada held a grand re-opening ribbon cutting ceremony Saturday morning. The drive in, owned by Scott and Debra Graham, has just reopened after having closed a few months ago. Among those participating in the ceremony were Mayor Wayne Russell, the Graham's, Miss Floydada Annett Garcia, Little Miss Kember Everett and Tiny Miss Marla Reeves. A group of chamber members, friends and employees were also present.

April art exhibit on display at FNB

The First National Bank of Floydada is currently featuring the oil paintings of well-known artist Jim Shafer throughout the month of April.

From Lamesa, Shafer has a continuing exhibit in Jamison Galleries, the second oldest gallery in Sante Fe, New Mexico. He has been associated with JG for fifteen years. Shafer's education includes Southmost College in Brownsville and Frank Covino in Connecticut as well as in-depth studies of the works of Bierstadt, Moran, Inness and Hurley.

"I consider myself as being 'self-taught', however," said the artist, "as far as my technique and use of color." Shafer readily acknowledges that his study of world class instructors' works began in the Houston Museum of Art "where I stood and examined a work of Claude until the guards became wary. I was fascinated."

Shafer's paintings are all in oil and his favorite subject matter is the landscapes of West Texas and New Mexico. "I prefer oil because of its versatility and vibrant color. It is easily blended and slow drying, allowing time to study and perhaps change something during the painting process," said Shafer.

The artist is married and he and his wife, Jean, have a daughter in Lubbock and a son in Austin. Jean is a lay pastor at St. John's Episcopal Church in Lamesa. The couple spent four years with a group of lay missionaries in Mexico, working with the Pamme Indians and descendants of the Aztecs in the little town of Sanciro south of Laredo. "That was a most valuable experience, spiritually and artistically," said Shafer. "We would go back were it not too dangerous now."

In addition to his painting, Shafer is involved in the Lamesa Community

Theatre and enjoys gardening. He teaches workshops and seminars and is a member of the Lubbock Art Association. His paintings are found in museums, corporate and private collections throughout the United States. Shafer is especially proud of a month-long exhibit at Baylor University in a seldom given one-man show.

"My greatest moments are when owners tell me they still love a painting they purchased years ago and still find things in it they had not seen before," states Shafer.

The exhibit may be viewed during regular banking hours at the First National Bank of Floydada all during the month of April. Everyone is invited to stop in and see the works of this talented artist.

ELECT
Charles L. Overstreet
Sheriff of Floyd County

You, the citizens of Floyd County, have a very large investment in the sheriff's office. Your tax dollars pay for all salaries and training of each employee.

It is a risk of your investment to require current employees to submit applications.

I have worked with each of the employees daily and know that each one is very capable of performing their duties and feel that requiring applications from them would be very unnecessary.

As Sheriff each of the employees would be appointed and commissioned as required by law when a term expires or a new sheriff takes office.

Burns-Copeland say marriage vows

A double-ring ceremony in the First Baptist Church of Slaton united Amy Loral Burns and Jerry Wade Copeland in marriage. The 6:00 p.m. ceremony on Saturday, April 4, was officiated by the Rev. H.E. Summar, retired pastor of Bible Baptist Church, Slaton. The wedding scene was set with candelabras and fresh greens, accented with white glads, snaps and miniature carnations.

Parents of the couple are Richard and Rebecca Burns of Floydada and Jerry and Patsy Copeland of Slaton.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of white satin. The fitted bodice and scalloped v-neckline was adorned with applique lace, sequins and pearls. Short ruffled sleeves had inserts of handbeaded lace. The back bodice featured a deep scallop V that was accented with a white satin bow at the basque waistline. Her full satin skirt flowed into a chapel length train that was edged with hand beaded scalloped lace. She carried a cascading bouquet of fresh gardenias, white roses and white stephanotis accented with English ivy.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Nancy Wiley of Lubbock. Matron of honor was LuAnn Jordan of Lubbock and bridesmaids were Misty Heinrich of Slaton and Lori Fatheree of San Antonio, both cousins of the bride, and Jamie Pinnelli of Austin.

Bridal attendants wore formal teal moire gowns adorned with bows over the shoulders. Each carried a single fresh hot pink rose accented with English ivy.

Claire Fatheree of San Antonio, cousin of the bride, and Matthew Beard of Rockdale, cousin of the groom, were flower girl and ring bearer, respectively.

Acting as best men to the groom were Chad Copeland of Slaton, brother of the groom, and Brian Paulger of Lubbock. Groomsmen were Chip Payne of Alabama, Todd Sartor of Bryan and Stephen Piwonka of Round Rock, brother-in-law of the groom.

Guests were registered by Michele Haws of Shamrock. Seating guests were Ryan Burns of Floydada, brother of the bride, and Todd Jordan of Lubbock.

Musical selections during the ceremony included "Through the Years" and "I'll Still Be Loving You" being sung as the family was seated. "Til I Loved You" was vocalized as the unity candle was lit. Vocalist was Tondra Piwonka of Round Rock, sister of the groom. Accompanying on the piano was Shonda Guthrie of Floydada, cousin of the bride.

A reception followed the ceremony.

The bride's cake was traditional white adorned with fresh greenery. The groom's cake was a German chocolate sheet cake.

Serving at the bride's table were Tana Bates and Donna Golden, both of Lubbock. Jole Fisher of Wichita Falls, Tressa Graham of Slaton and Ann Marie Kitten of Lubbock presided at the groom's table.

Rice bags were offered by Veronica, Victoria and Christine Small of Round Rock.

Following a wedding trip to Las Vegas, Nevada, the couple will be at home in Slaton.

The bride is a graduate of Floydada High School and earned her Bachelor's Degree from Texas Tech. The groom, a graduate of Slaton High School, also attended Texas Tech and is employed by Lubbock Nut and Bolt.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

By Jo Bryant

Hi! Once again to come and share with you on what is happening around here. We appreciate all who come and visit and assist the residents. Do hope all is well and good with you.

We had our monthly family social Tuesday. It was cold and rainy so we didn't have that many to attend. The chili and stew were served with pecan pie and cake. Thanks Marjorie Holcomb for bringing the cake. We look forward to our May cookout and it will be a time to get outside.

Monday, Dolores Cannon came and did the ladies hair; also cut the men's hair. Dorothy Kerr made homemade cinnamon rolls for the morning coffee, sure were good. Bro. Bill Wright gave the devotional. Irene Wexler, Edna Patton, Deota Odum came and helped sing. In the evening the residents had arts and crafts.

Shirley Varner came Tuesday at 2:30 p.m. and gave a program on diabetes awareness. She shared some interesting facts about it, since she is a diabetic herself, she could relate to the problems, diet and medication for treating diabetes. Thanks, Shirley.

Wednesday, Charles Breeding had the first Bingo. Mary Alice Davis came and assisted the residents. We are starting a country store for our Bingo prizes. We need articles, snacks, donations, whatever you can give for it. The residents will be given tokens to spend in the store for their bingo prizes.

Philip Wilbanks came out and played the piano for the residents Tuesday evening.

Thursday the residents had their monthly council meeting in the dining room at 2:30. Lennie Willis called the meeting to order. They enjoyed some popcorn.

Friday, Evelyn Latta came and played the piano for us and shared the devotion on "Where is your treasure?"

On to Plainview for the bus ride. Dairy Queen, Floydada, treated the residents to some ice cream.

Thanks, Alma Smith for bringing the Mature Living magazine for the residents. They always look forward to getting it.

Thought:

The leaves of the winter wither and sing in the forest mould, to color the flowers of April purple, white and gold.

GOT A PIECE OF IT—A Morton Indian fouls off a Mike Ochoa fastball in game action last Friday. Whirlwind catcher Brandon Gilliland is behind the plate. Ochoa led

Whirlwind's Mike Ochoa stops Morton Indians at two hits

By Bill Gray

Whirlwind sophomore Mike Ochoa held Morton to only two base hits, and helped the 'Winds improve their 1991 record to 3-6, with a 10-7 verdict over the Indians at Watson Field on April 3. District 3-2A's Morton falls to 2-6 on the year. Although Ochoa surrendered five walks, he struck out 11 and aided his own cause by batting 1 for 2 with 2 RBIs. He also scored a run and leads the Floydada pitching staff with two wins and no losses.

In a complete reversal from their March 30 game against Lubbock High JV (when the Westerners scored nine runs in the top of the first), the Whirlwinds exploded with an eight-run barrage in the home half of the first inning and sustained the lead against the visitors.

Coach Jimmy Webster was pleased with the team's overall effort and commented, "Our defense was better than the Lubbock High game, which the 'Winds dropped, 3-17. David Johnston hit great today, as did Johnny (Eguia). Eguia got a big two-out triple in the third inning, and drove in two RBIs. Morton's pitching wasn't anything special, but we did come out swinging aggressively. If we just throw strikes and put the ball in play, we can compete with just about anyone."

The 'Winds still had a few breakdowns on defense. They had way too many errors (seven) and passed balls. To these problems, Webster related, "We keep shooting ourselves in the foot! We then try to limp through the inning, but it always comes back to haunt us."

Coach Webster added, "Mike Ochoa threw quite well today. It was by far the best-pitched game we've had. It was a relief not to have to go through a 15-walk game! Ochoa got ahead in the counts, and his curve worked well. He got lazy in the third inning, hung some curves, got behind in the count, and walked three batters (all three scored). Mike threw a two-hitter and struck out eleven. He can still improve a bunch, but he threw well tonight."

their six hits were for extra bases, including Eguia's booming two-RBI triple. Brandon Gilliland and Ochoa contributed RBI-producing doubles. With district play less than three weeks away, the team is starting to get at about the right time.

This Friday's 5:30 p.m. game at Watson Field with Lubbock Christian should give the coaches a good gauge of comparison as to how far the 'Winds have progressed since the season opener against the Eagles on March 2.

By the time this article has gone to press, the Whirlwinds will have already ventured to Idalou. Although the Wildcats have the advantage of two years' experience, they have had a late start this year and could be vulnerable to a possible second Floydada road victory of the season.

Lubbock High Junior Varsity defeats Whirlwind baseballers

(Editor's Note: Research for the following article, by Texas Tech journalism student Doug Fair, was made possible by a grant from the Reader's Digest Foundation.)

By Doug Fair

Chalk up Floydada's baseball matchup with the Lubbock High Junior Varsity as another learning experience for the Whirlwinds.

Floydada players found themselves climbing an uphill battle once again as they trailed 9-0 at the end of the first inning en route to a 17-4 defeat to the Westerners Monday at Watson Field.

Although Whirlwind's manager, Jimmy Webster, probably realizes that his team will occasionally be out-talented on the field, he demonstrated that he will not accept a lack of concentration or effort at any time during the season.

He vocally showed his disapproval after watching the Whirlwinds commit five errors in the opening inning.

Players seemed to respond as they were outscored by a respectable 8-4 margin in the ensuing three innings.

Floydada pitcher Billy Villarreal, who entered the game in the third inning, set the Westerners down in order in the fourth inning. The Whirlwinds offense also came alive, as they scratched for three runs in the fourth.

After falling behind by nine runs after one and a half innings, the Whirlwinds loaded the bases with one out. It seemed vital that Floydada take advantage and put a dent in the large deficit. However, the Westerners escaped the inning without allowing a run.

Floydada has six non-district games remaining before starting district play April 22 against Dimmitt.

FHS golfers finish fourth in district

By Bill Gray

Floydada's boys and girls' golf teams placed fourth in the 54-hole District 2-3A tournament, which concluded on April 4. The Whirlwinds played their final round at the Littlefield Country Club while the Lady 'Winds hosted the girls' final eighteen holes at Floydada Country Club.

In the boys' final standings, Tulia won both regional berths. The Hornets' "A" team fired a 317 at Littlefield for a three-round total of 963 and the District 2-3A team championship. Tulia's "B" team totaled 1,029 and qualified for region as the district's runner-up. Muleshoe finished in third place with a team total of 1,031, and Friona placed fifth.

In the individual competition, Tulia's Chris Mahaney fired rounds of 75, 76, and 79, for a 230 total to be declared medalist of the district and earned a trip to the regional tournament. Teammate Lane Dyer was the medalist runner-up, and will also advance to region play.

FISD performing scoliosis screenings

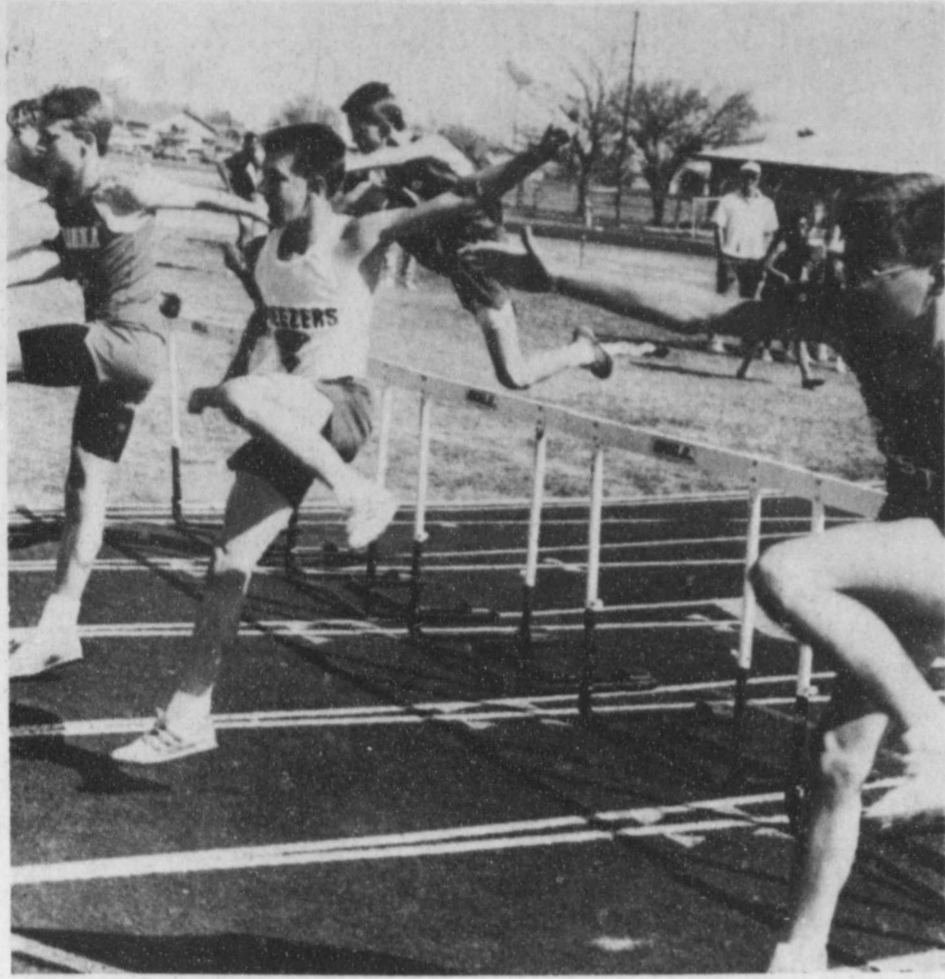

Floydada Independent School District will soon be screening all students in the 5th and 8th grades for Scoliosis, which is curvature of the spine. Early detection can prevent serious health problems.

The procedure is a simple and fast one which includes looking at the child's back while he/she is standing straight and then bending forward.

Boys and girls will be screened separately and individually. Boys will remove their shirt. Girls should wear a buttoned blouse that can be worn backward if needed so the back can be seen.

Students will soon be taking home a letter from school telling parents the date of the screening.

Floydada thinclads tune-up for district meet

By Bill Gray

Floydada's track teams had a preview of what to expect at this weekend's District 2-3A meet as they participated in Dimmitt's annual Bobcat Relays on April 3-4. The Whirlwinds amassed a total of 119 team points to finish in second place behind the Tulia Hornets' winning 140 mark. The Lady 'Winds had some misfortunes in some of the key events and failed to place in the top three totals for team honors.

Class 2A Lockney's Shawn Hill surprised Floydada's discus duo of Adam Gonzales and Scott Crader by winning the discus with a toss of 154' 6". Gonzales placed second with a 150' 7" effort, while Crader was third at 146' 11". Class 2A Hart's 6' 1" 240-pounder junior Bryan Welps served notice in his school's class that he may be the one to beat in Region 1-AA competition, as he bested Floydada's district hopefuls Crader and Gonzales in the shot put. Welps tossed for 54' 5" to top Gonzales (53' 8-1/2") and third place Crader (50' 4-3/4"). It also marked the first time this year that Adam Gonzales had surpassed teammate Crader in competition.

Whirlwind Michael Henderson continued his string of winning efforts in the triple jump with a leap of 42' 9". District rivals Cory Sanders of Tulia (42' 6") and Littlefield's Trevor Blair (42' 3") finished second and third, respectively, and set the stage for very close competition in this event at the district meet. Sanders long jumped 21' 6" to take first, but Henderson also established himself as a threat at district with a second-place effort of 20' 8". Floydada's depth in the event surfaced as Whirlwind Kenneth Davis posted a 20' 4-1/2" leap.

Floydada's Jackie Alaniz continued his strong showings in the two-mile run (3200 meters) with a third-place finish of 11:01.20. Jason Pyle carried the green and white colors to a second place in the 300 hurdles. Pyle's 41.35 was one of the Whirlwind junior's better efforts as Littlefield's Nathan Kelton won with a 40.80 timing. The 400 relay results were indicative of how closely contested this event will be in the district competition. They were: 1. Littlefield 43.15, 2. Floydada 43.96, 3. Tulia 43.98. The 1600 relay was almost as close with Tulia winning at 3:29.69 and the Whirlwinds finishing in third with a 3:32.28 clocking.

Senior Trevor Blair of Littlefield won the 100 meters at 10.77, with Tulia's Cory Sanders posting a second-place 10.97. Tulia's John Brookins took third with an eleven-flat effort. Coupled with Floydada's Michael Henderson (who owns an area-wide top-ten time of 10.7 in the event), the 100 meters at the district meet may take an electric timer to determine the Regional qualifiers.

Henderson's 21.98 in the 200 meters at Dimmitt not only placed first over Trevor Blair of Littlefield (22.44) and third-place John Brookins of Tulia (22.75), but was one of the quickest times (in all classes) in the area this year. In fact, it was only a few-tenths of a second out of placing as one of the state's top ten best for the year (all times in the event better than Henderson's 21.98 come from Class 4A and 5A participants from throughout Texas).

Floydada's Lady 'Winds didn't get their customary point production from Tian Younger in the hurdles. Floydada's 1991 state qualifier fell in both of her feature events (100 and 300 hurdles). The Lady 'Winds failed to place anyone in the top three in the field events, but the 400 relay team of Crystal Sanders, Kayla and Shayla Turner and Elisa Suarez ran a third-place 52.09 to Tulia's 50.56 winner. District 6-1A's Sudan ran second at 51.92, but they won't figure in the 3A competition at the district or region level.

Lady 'Wind quarter-miler (400 meters) Elisa Suarez continued her drive toward a district crown and a regional spot in the event as she ran a 60.57. According to the "Girls' Track Honor Roll" in the April 1 edition of the Amarillo Daily News, Suarez leads all classes in the area in the 400 meters with a 60.3 time.

BILL'S NOTES

Tickets to the Region 1-AAA track meet hinge on the results of this week's district competitions. Several Floydada contenders may have a slight edge with the District 2-3A meet being held at their home facility. Tulia will definitely have the favored squads as far as team competition is concerned. Tulia will be favored in almost all the relays, but Floydada's girls and boys will be factors in the quarter-mile (400 meters).

If she returns to her winning form, Lady 'Wind Tian Younger should be favored in the 100 and 300 hurdles, with Tulia's Tami Altman a close contender in both events. Lady Hornet Kandy Smith is the favorite in so many events that she might as well plan on several regional tickets, which will pave her way for a return trip to Austin for the state finals.

Whirlwind Michael Henderson has several chances for a regional berth, especially in the 200 meters. The likeable Floydada junior has recently been posting state-quality times in the 100 and 200 meters. He will also be a major contender in the triple jump and long jump at district.

Floydada's "power people", sophomore Adam Gonzales and junior Scott Crader will be pushing each other in this week's district competition. In fact, they could very well end up 1-2 or 2-1 in the shot put and discus. Each are rated in the top ten in both events in the area.

If either or both happen to get into the regionals in the two events, their most serious threat is Canyon's Matt Spears. The 6-1", 235-pound Spears is rated second-best in Texas (regardless of school classification) with a toss of the shot at 60' 7-1/2" at last week's Amarillo Relays. The effort was only three inches short of the all-time record at the Amarillo meet, and wasn't that far away from the state's record, set by Pampa's legendary Randy Matson back in the early 1960s.

Underclassmen Crader and Gonzales need to be patient, and not press during the district meet. At least one of them could go to region in discus and/or shot put, and at that level, anything can happen.

Regardless of the outcomes at district (and regional if either of them make it), Crader has yet another year to prepare for the ultimate goal of reaching the state meet, while Gonzales has two more years. The harder the two push each other, the more likely one, if not both, will arrive at the top level of competition. Both young men possess excellent training and conditioning mechanics.

Coming Through in '92

Our first senior for this week is Hector Enriquez Jr., son of Hector and Maria Enriquez. Hector is married to Jennifer, who is a junior at FHS, and he has a sister, Thelma, and a brother, Joe. He has attended school in Floydada for four years, coming here from Corpus Christi.

During the past summer, Hector worked at Don Hardy's Race Cars. Now he works part-time at the school bus barn. He attends the Catholic church in Floydada.

Hector's favorites include: "Who's the Boss?", "Sleeping with The Enemy," the color blue and pizza. He also enjoys English class and watching football and basketball games. Metallica is his favorite group and "Unskippy Bop" is his favorite song. Hector likes to read the Garfield comic strip, too.

Hawaii is Hector's first choice for a vacation spot. For now, though, he might be content with a cap from Hawaii to add to his collection of caps that he has. He'd love to meet Warren Moon someday.

If Hector had three wishes, one of them might likely be to make our school lunch time longer. He has no complaints with the students at FHS — he says they are friendly. After he graduates, he plans to join the Marines after his and Jennifer's baby is born in August.

Jason Outlaw, son of Oscar and Dortha Outlaw, is our next featured senior. He has two brothers, Ben and Andy. He attended school in New Deal before coming to FHS three years ago. Jason is active in the band and is out for track this year.

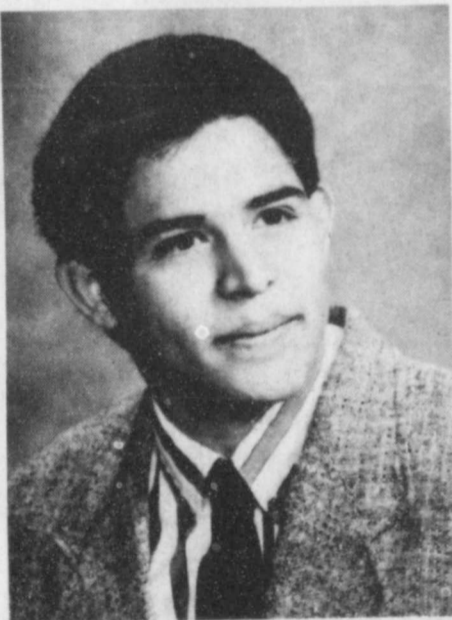

Jason can be found working hard at Nielson's Restaurant when he is not busy with school. His favorite TV show is "The Simpsons," and his favorite movies are Robin Hood and Prince of Tides. He likes to read Calvin and Hobbes and listen to "Just To Be With You" by Mr. Bigg. Slaughter, Led Zepplin, and Motley Crue are also popular with Jason, as are his music theory and speech classes.

Jason's hobbies include swimming and playing the guitar. This music lover also plays the baritone and trumpet. He likes to go to the Church of Christ in Lockney. His pets include two dogs and a black cat.

Jason would love to go to Hawaii and someday would like to meet Steve Vai. As to school, this senior says he'd rather get out of school at 4 p.m. and have an extra 20 minutes for lunch. (Now there's a thought!) He hates to study, but he likes school because of "the cool people here."

Jason plans to join the army and be in the 82nd Airborne at Fort Bragg, North Carolina, in August. Other career plans that he has are to become an architect or to study music in college, or to attend a trade school in California. Oh, yes, he hopes to get married someday.

Dad's and Kid's Pastry Auction slated

Young baseball players and Cub Scouts and their fathers will team up again this year for the second annual "Dads and Kids Pastry Auction" scheduled at 7 p.m. Saturday, May 2, in the Lockney Elementary School cafeteria.

Organizers are hoping for a repeat of last year's successful auction, which funded Cub Scouting in Pack 259 for the whole year, bought camping gear for the new Lockney Boy Scout troop, helped pay for a new baseball field built by the Lockney Baseball Association, and provided an evening of fun for everyone at the auction.

Cakes, pies, cookies, etc. for the auction are prepared by the children and their adult male assistants and auctioned off by Sam Fortenberry Auctioneers. The baseball association and Cub

Scouts are very grateful to Lockney and area businesses and individuals for their generous support of last year's event and to the auctioneers, who donated their time to sell the baked goods for "premium prices."

Hernandez completes Marine training

Marine PFC Mario Hernandez Jr., son of Mary Mariscal and Mario Hernandez Sr. of Lockney, recently completed recruit training at Marine Corp Recruit Depot, San Diego, California.

During the training cycle, recruits are introduced to typical daily routine and study personal and professional standards traditionally exhibited by Marines. In addition to an active physical conditioning program, close order drill, first aid, combat training, teamwork and self-discipline are included in the training.

PFC Hernandez is a 1991 graduate of Lockney High School and graduated from boot camp on March 27, 1992. He is currently on leave and will return to Camp Pendleton, California for further training.

BUTLER, ELLIS M.

this PERMANENT LICENSE as a COUNTY JAILER
by the authority of Art. 4413 (29aa) VACS

I have stated that when I am elected Sheriff, that I will strive to achieve cooperation between the Sheriff's Office, Administrators and Staff of the Lockney and Floydada Police Departments. The Sheriff is the Chief Law Enforcement Officer in the County. His Jurisdiction is Co-extensive within the county including all Municipalities and Townships. As Sheriff it is my Duty to Cooperate with all Local, State and Federal Law Enforcement Agencies.

There has been Serious MIS-INTERPRETATION regarding this matter. It has been said that as Sheriff, That I Would

Be MANIPULATED by someone else. I thought I had made myself clear, with the Key Word being COOPERATION! As Sheriff, I will run your office by the guidelines set forth by Law. I will always give the UTMOST ATTENTION and CONSIDERATION to any ADVICE or SUGGESTION from anyone. Final decisions will be made by me and FULL RESPONSIBILITY WILL WEIGH ON MY SHOULDERS. We all wear different uniforms, and represent different agencies, but our duties are the same, TO PROTECT AND SERVE THE PUBLIC. Without COOPERATION BETWEEN AGENCIES we as Officers lose part of our ability to serve, because there is a lack of necessary communication between departments. We lose pride in our work, confidence in ourselves, and others. Most IMPORTANT, we lose your respect and confidence in our ABILITY and INTEGRITY.

Respectively ask each of you to consider the GOALS that I want to achieve for your OFFICE of SHERIFF. I have a high school education, and have attended many LAW ENFORCEMENT TRAINING SCHOOLS, including the TEXAS DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY ACADEMY in Austin. This was specialized training for MANAGEMENT SKILLS, AND CRIMINAL INVESTIGATION covering many different types of crimes. I was accredited with 120 hours for this training. This academy is considered to be one of the Elite and has some of the MOST QUALIFIED INSTRUCTORS in the Nation. All of my schooling and training since high school has been strictly Law Enforcement. With many years of EXPERIENCE IN ALL ASPECTS OF LAW ENFORCEMENT, AND TRAINING, I KNOW THAT I AM PREPARED AND VERY QUALIFIED TO SERVE YOU AS SHERIFF IN AN EFFICIENT AND EFFECTIVE MANNER.

OUR SUPPORT COMES FROM A BROAD SPECTRUM OF THE COMMUNITY, WHICH SHOULD ASSURE YOU, THE TAXPAYER, THAT I OWE NO ALLEGIANCE OR FAVOR, TO NO ONE INDIVIDUAL OR GROUP, EXCEPT YOU THE CITIZEN.

AS YOUR SHERIFF, I WILL SERVE YOU JUSTLY AND FAIRLY, WITH DIGNITY AND HONOR. I SINCERELY ASK YOU TO ELECT ME YOUR SHERIFF APRIL 14TH!

PCCA directors approve $10 million payment

Plains Cotton Cooperative Association (PCCA) has announced a progress payment totaling $9.1 million to its members participating in the 1991-crop West Texas/Oklahoma Marketing Pool.

The move brings total progress payments after the initial advance to $32.7 million dollars for the 1991-crop West Texas/Oklahoma pool. With this progress payment, pool members have received an average of 10.15 cents per pound over the loan value of loan-eligible cotton.

Pool members' checks should arrive at local cooperative gin offices no later than Tuesday, April 7, and producers may pick up their checks after that day.

Throughout April, cotton producers from the Texas High and Rolling Plains and Southwest Oklahoma who wish to sign into the 1992 West Texas/Oklahoma Marketing Pool may do so by contacting their local cooperative gin. April also is sign-in period for PCCA's Denim Mill Option which affords members an opportunity to share in the margins from PCCA's denim mill in Littlefield, Texas.

And just so our readers not get the idea that it is only members of the House who are concerned about saving the Republic by saving their own hides, we note that over in the Senate last week an entire day was devoted to the proposition that Israel ought to get the $10 billion in "loan guarantees" it has demanded.

The President has said he will not approve the loan guarantee until Israel agrees to stop demolishing Palestinian homes and building new settlements in the occupied territories. Israel has refused to agree, but wants the money anyhow. (After all, what right does a President of the United States have to interfere in the dealings of a foreign government with the United States Congress.) The President has threatened to veto legislation along that line if Congress passes it, Congress knows it doesn't have enough votes to override a veto. So the next best thing is for the Senate to pass a "sense of the Senate" resolution telling the President they would like to see the legislation approved.

It was a spectacle to behold. There was the usual band of Israeli supporters and apologists, Metzzenbaum, (D-Ohio), Kasten, (R-Wisconsin), Spectre (R-Pa.), Crandall (D-Calif.), with their usual emotional arguments on behalf of the Israeli government. Israeli deserved the money, no matter what. Then there were those who saw this as an opportunity to go on record on behalf of Israel, knowing the resolution would not have the force of law, and therefore no money would flow as a result of its passage. Being on board now would pass the word, and assure significant campaign contributions when the time comes. It was a good, cheap, way of getting on the side of the financial angels, and it might slow down contributions to potential opponents. Senators were falling over themselves to be listed as "co-sponsors", or to voice their strong support for the resolution.

While that was going on we pulled a book off the book shelves. It was put out by the American Educational Trust in Washington, D.C. (Library of Congress Card Number 90-80185), and lists campaign contributions from Arab-American Political Action Committees, as well as contributions by Jewish-American Political Action Committees to members of the House and the Senate. Surprise, surprise. In 1986, the last time Senator Cranston stood for reelection, according to the listing, he received $241,232 from pro-Israeli political action committees from across the United States. He has periodically received additional sums (none listed from Arab-Americans). In 1986, the last time he stood for reelection, Senator Kasten received $128,300 from political action committees interested in Israel's welfare, (none listed from Arab-American PACs). Senator Specter received $145,923 in the 1986 election cycle. Senator Thomas Daschle, (D-South Dakota), another of those who was very vocal on the resolution, received $262,130 from pro-Israeli PACs when he last stood for reelection in 1986. (100 percent of which was from out-of-state.) Senator Frank Lautenberg (D-New Jersey) pickup up $253,500 when he stood for reelection in 1988. More than 90 percent of his contributions from this source came from out of state. And the amounts listed above do not even include the contributions from wealthy individuals interested in Israel's welfare. It includes only the amount given by "political action committees." That kind of money can buy an awful lot of kind words, and influence, in the Senate and the House.

In the meantime the Senate and House, with little debate and no fanfare, had passed and sent to the President, and the President had signed, a foreign aid bill providing more than $14 billion for various countries around the world. Approximately one quarter of that amount was earmarked for the usual dole to Israel, enough to provide another $1,000 for every man, woman and child in that country.

In the very near future, we are sure, the Congress will take up, and solve, matters of the federal budget, the federal debt, the federal deficit, the runaway cost of government programs, welfare reform, the multitude of overlapping committees and subcommittees, their bloated committee staffs.

Then they will hurriedly pass legislation saying that henceforth they will, retroactively, be included in all laws, rules, and regulations they have visited upon the rest of us. We are sure of it.

They will do all that just as soon as they can get the parking situation solved.

Morales was originally elected to the council in 1988 and reelected in 1990. He is now seeking a third term on the council as the representative for District 1. Morales is a self-employed independent contract trucker and produce dealer in the local area.

He has been a resident of the area for more than 30 years and resides in Floydada with his wife, Frances, and three children. The oldest, Monica is 11 years old. Veronica is 10 and Amado Jr. is 8.

Morales attended West Texas State University and Wayland Baptist University. He also studied LVN courses in Plainview for a year. He served three years in the U. S. Army and is an active member of St. Mary Magdalen Catholic Church in Floydada.

Morales stated that he would like to see some city projects already begun completed. "I want to see a couple of things I am very interested in go forward," said Morales. "I want to see the landfill permit issue resolved and I would like to see the continuation of the street paving in the City."

JON C. NIELSON

Jon C. Nielson, 30, is also a first time political candidate. He is opposing Amado Morales in a bid for the District 1 Council seat.

Nielson is the owner and operator of Nielson's Restaurant and Catering. He moved to Floydada from Lubbock six years ago after purchasing the former King's Restaurant. He and his wife, Tami, have one daughter, Crystal, who is 12 years old.

A graduate of Monterey High School in Lubbock, Nielson attended South Plains College, majoring in restaurant management. He has worked in the restaurant field since becoming a dishwasher at the age of 13. Having realized his goal of owning his own restaurant, Nielson believes that with hard work and a positive attitude, any goal can be met.

"I have thought about running for city council for the last 2 or 3 years," says Nielson. "I have been attending council meetings for about the last six months and I would encourage more people to come out and hear what is happening at our council meetings. I am all for a more positive city council and uniting city government to work for more aggressive promotion of Floydada and Floyd County."

"Together we can make things happen. With a progressive and positive attitude, with the right team, things can happen. We need to come up with plans to build Floydada. We need to look at our strengths and build on them. We need to set goals for Floydada, not just from the city council, but from the whole community. After all, it's our town, our home, and we need to take pride in it."

Continues Nielson, "My goal for Floydada is to instill a positive and winning attitude with the courage to look for ways to focus on the success to grow."

WAYNE TIPTON

District 4 incumbent Wayne Tipton is running unopposed for reelection to a second term. Originally appointed to the council upon the resignation of a previous council member, Tipton was elected to a full term in 1990.

Owner and operator of Tipton Oil and Butane, he is a member of the Floydada Chamber of Commerce and is a past president of the organization. Tipton and his wife, Lin have been residents of Floydada for more than 13 years. The couple has five children.

CLAR SCHACHT

Clar Schacht is seeking his first full term to the city council as an at-large representative. Schacht was elected to a one year term in 1991 to fill the vacancy created by Wayne Russell's appointment as Mayor. Schacht is a Floyd County native who moved from Lockney to Floydada in 1986 as manager of the local Farm Bureau Agency. He has been a career agent with the organization since 1982.

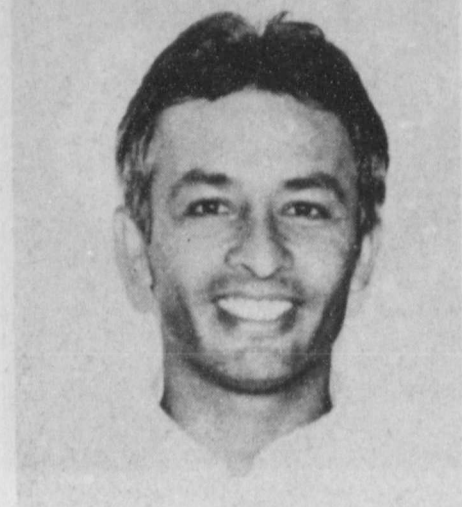

Schacht is active in the Rotary Club where he is currently serving as president. He is also the vice-president of the Floyd County 4-H Adult Leaders Council. He serves as chairman of the personnel committee at the First Baptist Church and is the Adult 1 Department Director.

A 1968 graduate of Texas Tech University, Schacht earned a Masters degree in Education in 1972. He taught school in Kansas, later returning to the Lockney area to farm. He was the construction trades instructor at Floydada Junior High School in 1981-82 prior to joining the Farm Bureau organization.

"I also have the distinction of finishing last in the Punkin' Day Fat Man's Race two years in a row," said Schacht. Schacht and his wife Judy have two children. Meredith, a fifth grader at R. C. Andrews Elementary, is eleven and Spencer, a student at the Rainbow Pre-School, is five.

Says Schacht, "I have enjoyed serving on the council and serving the people of Floydada this past year. I look upon the year as a time of learning and hope that it has laid a foundation upon which I may better serve the community and the towns people in the future. I would like to see the work continue to improve our city parks and recreation facilities and I feel that the landfill situation will have to be resolved in the coming months. I would like to see that through to completion and the opening of the expanded landfill site."

tion and the opening of the expanded landfill site."

RICKY M. VASQUEZ

A resident of Floydada for the past 22 years, Ricky M. Vasquez is making a second attempt to secure a post on the Floydada City Council. Vasquez, 36, has been employed by the Tye Company for 15 years where he has served as a supervisor of the machining, metal fabrication and paint departments.

Vasquez and his wife Ilda have two children. Ruth Anne is 9 and David Isaac is 4. Mrs. Vasquez is a homemaker and a substitute teacher at A. B. Duncan Elementary and R. C. Andrews Elementary School. The family is active in the St. Mary Magdalen Catholic Church where Vasquez serves as a lay minister and is a music and prayer group director. In 1991, Vasquez served as a grand jury foreman. He is currently serving his second term on the Floydada Housing Authority Board of Directors.

jury foreman. He is currently serving his second term on the Floydada Housing Authority Board of Directors.

Stated Vasquez, "During the past two years, I have had the opportunity to work with many of Floydada's long-time and experienced leaders. I have heard their concerns and their interest in our future growth and continued stability. I too share these feelings and I am committed to seeking ways of contributing my experience and ideas for the good of the entire community. I would like to make a contribution to the future of Floydada by serving on the City Council if the voters choose to elect me."

Have a Good Week!

Letter To The Editor

Dear Alice,

My husband and I read the article in "By the Way" in the February 27, issue of the Hesperian. We wanted to respond to your question about the wooden shoes of Holland.

Tracey is stationed in Germany and we took a trip to Holland last summer. Holland was once completely under water. The Dutch made their shoes out of wood to keep their feet dry while working in the fields. These shoes are completely water-proof. The shoes were once worn on an everyday basis. They even had special shoes for church services, and for wedding shoes the couples names were carved into them and then hung on the wall of their home. The Dutch still make and wear wooden shoes to work in the marsh land, but the tradition of the church and wedding shoes has long since past.

The shoes you tried on didn't fit properly. I had some fitted to me and they stay on easily and are amazingly very comfortable.

County Education District holds business meeting

By Juanita Stepp

The Floyd County Education District met on Monday, April 6, to hear a report of past activities and to make decisions concerning two future concerns.

Following the reading and approval of the minutes of the previous meeting, The board approved a contract for the collection of delinquent taxes. The collections will be handled by Perdue, Brandon and Fielder from Amarillo. This group of attorneys currently serves in the same capacity for all of the other taxing entities in Floyd County. The charges to the Floyd County Education District will be the same rates as paid by the other entities.

Motion for the approval came from Jim Bob Hambricht with a second by Dickey Lambert. The vote was unanimous.

The second item on the agenda was the passage of a resolution setting penalties for collecting delinquent taxes. The penalty was set at 15 percent on a motion by Lambert, seconded by Hambricht. The vote was unanimously in favor of the action.

Discussion of CED business for the first portion of the year included a list of the expenditures and income of the CED handed out by Jimmie Collins, administrative assistant for FISD.

The report listed income as $5,000.00 from FISD, $5,000.00 from LISD, and $1,303,997.17 from taxes. This amount is still $32,000.00 short of the target amount necessary to receive full state funding for the district. Collins pointed out that $80,000.00 in taxes are as yet unpaid and will be sufficient to reach the target when they are collected.

Expenditures included the disbursement of $803,856.18 to FISD and $500,130.99 to LISD. The CED also paid Floyd County $609.38 for conducting the August 1991 special election for the CED. $28.79 was paid to Pay-n-Save Thriftway for snacks at the meetings. Goen & Goen Insurance was paid $250.00 to secure a bond on Shiela Faulkenberry of the Floyd County Tax Appraisal District so that she could collect the CED taxes.

An additional payment of $2,416.84 was made to Goen & Goen Insurance for liability coverage of the CED. $5,395.00 has been paid to date to the Floyd County Central Appraisal District for billing and collection of ad valorem taxes.

Attorney Paul Lyles of Plainview has been paid $200.00 for preliminary handling of a lawsuit recently filed by one of nearly 500 companies which have filed against every CED in the state protesting the form of taxation currently being used to fund school districts. A second suit has been filed against each school district which serves as chairman of the CED's, in this case, the Floydada Independent School District.

The expenditures totaling $1,312,887.18 balanced against the income totaling $1,313,997.17 leaves a balance in the CED funds of $1,109.99. The report was approved and accepted by the board as it was presented by Collins.

Attending the noon session were board members Michael Hinsley, Jim Bob Hambricht, Dickie Lambert and Charlene Brown. Also present were school superintendents Dub Hallmark of Lockney and Jerry Cannon of Floydada., Jimmie Collins and the Hesperian-Beacon reporter.
