Rail line to be abandoned

By Alice Gilroy

The Floydada & Plainview Railroad has given notice that on or about September 1, it intends to file an abandonment petition with the Interstate Commerce Commission, on the 23 mile line of railroad between Plainview and Floydada.

According to Gary Leydig, general counsel for the Floydada & Plainview Railroad, "it could conceivably be closed within two months, although the commission usually moves slower than that."

Citing the low use of the line as the reason for the abandonment, Leydig stated, "We have only had a handful of shipments out of Floydada since we bought the railroad."

"For the whole year of 1991 there were only 17 rail cars used. The first half of 1992 there were only 32 cars used.

That does not even remotely cover our operating expenses. Our expenses are four to five times higher than that."

According to the notice filed with the Interstate Commission, "appropriate offers of financial assistance to continue rail service can be filed with the Commission."

"It is possible for local shippers to subsidize the railroad or buy the railroad," said Leydig. "If the subsidy was appropriate the railroad could stay open."

Most Floyd County shippers who use the railroad were not available for comment, however Buddy Graham, manager of Attebury Grain, said, "I believe it would be too expensive for the local shippers to subsidize the railroad. We (Attebury Grain) have not used the railroad as much as we used to because it was cheaper for us to use trucks. We do not have official scales and it was costing us an additional $150.00 per car to get it weighed. It is more expensive to ship out of this line than it is for us in Lubbock or Amarillo. If we could get the same rates as we do there, we could afford it."

According to Leydig, because a "fair number" of cars are moved in Plainview, the Plainview line will remain open.

The Floydada & Plainview Railroad is owned by American Railway Corporation, a subsidiary of TEMCO, which is owned by Bruce Borland.

DOWNPOUR CREATES FLOODING HAZARDS-- Many Floydada streets were quickly converted to rivers during Monday's sudden downpour. The welcomed rain's came Monday at approximately 12:30 p.m. and again

Tuesday at approximately 4:00 a.m. Floydada received 1.37" and Lockney received approximately 1". This photo shows the flooding at E. Tennessee and Wall Street.

FISD redistricting committee okays plans for new districts

By Alice Gilroy

FLOYDADA — After consideration of several plans, the redistricting committee working with the Floydada School Board, voted unanimously to approve a plan calling for five single member districts and two at-large districts. The plan will be presented to FISD for approval, at their next meeting.

The committee had asked demographics expert Mark Turnbow to draw up a seven single member district plan

Local resident files lawsuit against LISD

By Neta Marble

LOCKNEY — A lawsuit, on voting rights, was filed August 21 in U.S. District Court in Lubbock by Joe S. Perez against the Lockney Independent School District, Jim Bob Martin, Richard Lambert, Paul Glasson, Gary Mangold, Bernie Ford, Mike Mathis and Carlton Johnson, all in their official capacities as members of the Board of Trustees of the Lockney Independent School District.

The lawsuit was brought against the board members on voting rights.

At press time LISD Superintendent W.H. Hallmark had just received the notice and had not had time to study it. He stated, "The suit came as a surprise because we had not heard anything about it until it came out in the Lubbock A.J."

Mr. Perez was not available for comment at press time.

and a plan calling for five single member and two at-large districts. The redistricting procedure was made necessary by population changes revealed in the 1990 Census.

Turnbow represents Sun County Reprographics, Inc., of El Paso. Any plan, when approved by FISD, would then be sent to the Justice Department for approval.

According to Turnbow, the justice department will be using standards set by the Voting Rights Act of 1963 to determine if the one man-one vote principle is a factor in any approved districts.

When choosing a plan the committee had to consider the voting strength of the minority community in the district. Minority areas must be preserved to facilitate the election of minority candidates to office.

The proposed plan, which contains five single member districts and two at-large districts (FISD currently has 5-2 voting districts), created two majority minority districts. District #3 would contain 75.97% minority voters over the age of 18 years of age. District #4 would contain 54.72% minority voters over the age of 18 years.

Another proposal considered by the committee was a seven single member district plan. This plan reduced the minority voting strength because it created only one majority minority district, with 76.23% minority voters in District 5.

Before the committee voted on the proposals, Superintendent Jerry Cannon asked for any discussion from the committee members or from those in attendance.

Floydada City Councilman Amado Morales started off a lively discussion when he asked Cannon, "What is the purpose of At Large districts? Can you just have five single member districts?"

Cannon replied that there have to be seven school board members elected.

Morales then proposed a plan calling for five single member districts and two "super districts".

None of the committee members, including Cannon, were familiar with a "super district" plan.

Morales explained, "The city would be cut in half by a 60-40 percentage." "There would be one super district on the west and one on the east. An individual would be elected out of each super district."

Residents invited to participate in Floyd County Fair Parade

LOCKNEY — This year's Floyd County Fair Parade is planned for Saturday, Sept. 19. Registration will be at 9:00 a.m. There will be various categories in which to enter the parade, but all entries must register to be eligible for prizes, ribbons, or plaques.

"The theme of this year's fair and parade is "Family Traditions, Old and New". Therefore, we are trying to get all sorts of vehicles, from horse and buggies to modern day cars, etc., in order to bring it all together to the present days," said Nellie Webb, chairperson. "So get out your old straw hat, your bonnets, or your space suit and come join us in a 'traditional' parade and lots of fun. All entries will be welcome."

Participants may pre-register by mail, by sending the name of their organization, the name of the leader or person in charge, their mailing address, etc., and type of entry. This information should be submitted as soon as possible to:

LISD amends budget and sets tax rate

By Neta Marble

LOCKNEY — The Lockney Independent School District Board met Monday, August 31 to set the tax rate and on Thursday, August 20 to amend the 1991-92 budget.

The board voted unanimously to set the tax rate at .2626 for 1992-93. The certified roll of $80,137,570 will generate $204,983 at a 97% collection rate. The tax rate, which is a .41% decrease from last years rate, will generate the same amount of revenue for the local school district.

At the meeting on August 20 the board voted to amend the 1991-92 operating budget to $3,624,402.00 and the federal budget to $285,714.00.

City approves pay increase

By Juanita Stepp

FLOYDADA — Meeting in a special called session on August 27, the City Council of Floydada approved a five percent across the board cost of living pay increase for all city employees. Motion for the approval came from councilman Wayne Tipton with a second by councilman Clar Schacht. The increase amounts to less than one percent of the entire proposed budget for the 1992-93 fiscal year.

Annual Football Contest begins this week

By Juanita Stepp

The annual Floyd County Hesperian-Beacon Football Contest appears for the first time this year in this issue of the newspaper. Local residents have an opportunity to win weekly prizes totaling $50.00 by participating in this gridiron favorite. Sponsors from throughout the county are responsible for bringing the contest to our readers.

The rules of the contest have not changed since last year. Anyone above the age of seven is eligible to submit an entry except employees of this newspaper and their immediate families living in the same household.

No mail entries will be accepted. All entries must be submitted on the official entry form printed on the Football Contest page each week. All entries must be taken to the Hesperian-Beacon Office, either at 102 W. Bryant in Lockney or 111 E. Missouri in Floydada. Each entry must be in the office no later than 5:00 p.m. on Friday of each week.

The contest is simple to enter. Clip out the entry form and circle the number of the team you think will win in each of the games listed in the footballs on the page. If you decide two teams will tie, circle both numbers. Select a winner in each of the two tie breaker games and write your guess of the total combined points of the two teams in the football. If a tie occurs in which a winner cannot be determined by using the two tie breaker games, the prize will be shared by those tying.

Three prizes will be given on a weekly basis. First prize for the most correct selections will be a check for $25.00. Second prize will be $15.00 and third prize will be $10.00. No cumulative totals will be kept and there will be no prizes other than the weekly prizes.

Entries are limited to one entry per week per person. Weekly winners are limited to one per household per week.

The contest entries will be graded each Monday following the weekend games. Results will be announced in the next issue of this newspaper and checks for prize money may be picked up at the appropriate Hesperian-Beacon Office, either in Floydada or Lockney, on Friday.

Sponsors making the contest and the prize money possible include Attebury Grain, Cargill Hybrid Seeds, The Tye Company, Lambert Spraying, Schacht's Flowers, Jewelry & Gifts, Lockney Meat Company, Pay-n-Save in Lockney, Pay-n-Save in Floydada, Wilson Photography, R Photography, Providence Farm Supply, Floydada Implement, Floydada Coop Gin, City Auto, Thompson Pharmacy, Ray Lee Equipment Company, Lighthouse Electric Company, The First National Bank of Floydada, Brown Implement, Floyd County Farm Bureau, The Floydada Branch of the First National Bank in Lockney, Script Printing and Office Supply, Quality Body Shop, Higginbotham-Bartlett Company, Tipton Oil & Butane, Punkin' Patch Restaurant, Kirk & Sons, Cornelius Conoco, Hale Insurance & Real Estate, Producer's Coop Elevator, Dixie Dog, Floyd County Seed Muncy Elevator and the Floyd County Hesperian-Beacon.

Our appreciation of the sponsors will be shown at the end of the ten week season with a special event. Each sponsor will be included in a drawing and the winning sponsor will receive either $50.00 cash or a $50.00 credit at the Hesperian-Beacon.

Ruben Barrientoz, Leroy Burns, and Eric Cornelius were in attendance to hear the various department heads present requests that new vehicles be part of the proposed budget plan for each department. Councilman Amado Morales was half an hour late in arriving and did not hear all of the department reports.

No formal action was taken on the matter of new vehicles, but no objections were made to the inclusion of seven new or good used vehicles in the proposed budget for next year. Estimated cost for each vehicle was placed at between $10,000.00 for a good used vehicle to $13,800.00 for a new vehicle.

City manager Gary Brown presented a report detailing the financial position of the city at the end of each fiscal year since 1987. The report showed an annual growth in cash reserves and displayed no loss situations during that time. As of the initial reporting date of September 30, 1987, the city had $460,326.00 in cash reserves and $676,961.00 in certificates of deposit. The ensuing five year period has seen these figures change to $302,670.00 in cash reserves and $1,411,361.00 in certificates of deposit as of September 30, 1991, an increase of $576,744.00.

"Considering the capital improvements the city has made during those years, a growing fund balance is really remarkable," said Brown. "I think that the council and the city employees have done a very good job."

According to Brown, the city does not anticipate dipping into reserves to complete the current fiscal year's budget. This would mean that the reserve figures as of September 30, 1992 would continue to display an increasing positive balance.

Brown also told the council that the current budget process is being based on no ad valorem tax increase. The budget does take in to account an increase of $1.50 in sanitation fees and $0.50 in sewer fees said the city manager. Brown stated that these increases are necessary in order to comply with new EPA guidelines regarding the operation of the sanitation and sewer departments.

Total estimated budget calculations for the 1992-93 fiscal year beginning October 1, 1992, come to $3,489 million dollars for the city of Floydada. Brown said that "actual expenses are only up a little more than $160,000.00 from last year."

Schacht made a motion to present the proposed budget for a public hearing scheduled on September 15 during the regular monthly session of the council. Morales provided the second and the motion passed by unanimous vote. The budget hearing will be open to the public.

Council members also unanimously approved line item adjustments to allow the completion of the 1991-92 budget calculations. Motion for the inter departmental fund transfers was made by Morales and seconded by Tipton.

Mayor Wayne Russell asked the council to consider a proposal for allowing a 10 percent discount on city electric bills for senior citizens. Russell termed the discount, "a good move for public relations." The proposal was received favorably, but some discussion established the fact that an age needed to be

By The Way

By Alice Gilroy

It's already September 1st folks! The count down has started.

Starting with the Floyd County Fair, September 17, you're going to stay busy all the way through October.

Floydada and Lockney will both host Homecoming's in October. Lockney will have their popular Ol' Fashioned Saturday in October, and of course Floydada will sponsor a big Punkin Days.

I'm sure that Lockney will also have their popular Halloween Carnival in October.

And people think nothing ever happens in a small town!

I don't have any soap boxes to get on this week. Aren't ya'll lucky!

I've got too many things on my mind. I'm worried about making a good impression at my son's kindergarten open house tonight.

He has been telling his dad and I all about the things he is going to show us when we get there.

For a little boy who has hardly anything to say to us about what he has done in school all day, all of a sudden he can think of a million things that we need to experience with him.

He wants to show us his lunchroom, his P.E. room (that's his favorite), his music room, his chalkboard, his weather map, and the "tacks" he gets for being a "good boy." Oh—there is one more thing that is very important to him. For some reason he is really looking forward to showing us the bathrooms. He explained to us that the little boy catpillar on the front of the bathroom is wearing a bow tie and the little girl has a bow in her hair. He wants to be sure we know which door to go in. I can't wait. It's been a long time since I got to be excited over tacks, chalkboards and bathrooms!

I have an interesting story to share with you.

It was submitted by Layne Kirk. It is called "The Cajun Bee Keeper's Language." To give you a hint on how to read it, the double "B's" stand for the word, "Bees." Say it out loud. It's more fun that way.

Lockney VFD purchases rescue vehicle

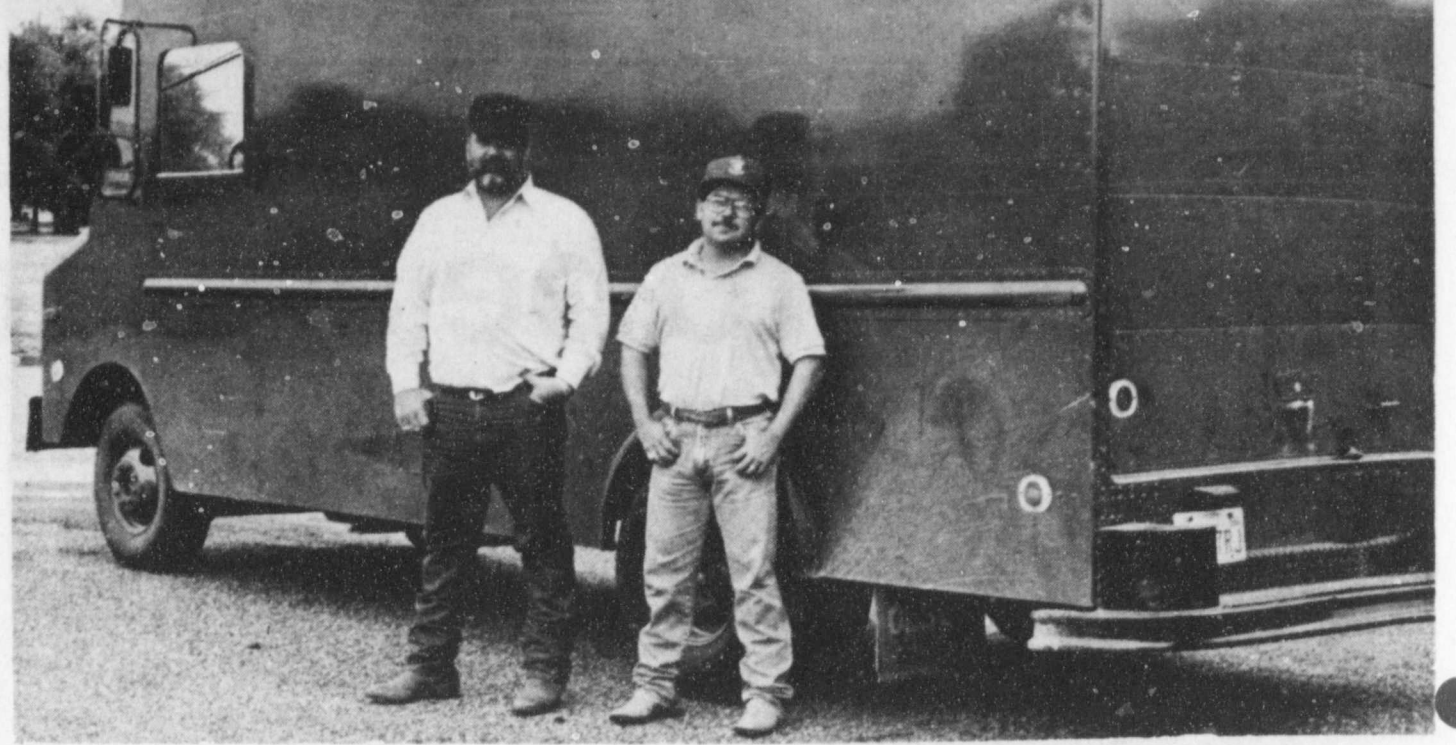

By Neta Marble

LOCKNEY — The Lockney Volunteer Fire Department has purchased a van to use as a rescue vehicle. The van has a large roll-up door in the back and can be loaded with all the equipment that the department needs to carry, as well as room for several of the volunteers to ride. It will replace the suburban that the department is now using.

The equipment that was carried in the suburban layed on the floor in the back and had to be sorted out before use. With the van the volunteers will be able to fasten their equipment to the walls and "it will be so much easier to get to in a hurry," stated Tim Cooper.

"We will need donations to get the van in tip-top shape and to put the money that we spent back into the departments operating account," stated Cooper. "We are hoping that the community will get behind this effort."

Donations can be made to any member of the fire department and they will be greatly appreciated. Citizens are asked to continue to donate to the aluminum can drive. The trailer parked on the south end of Main Street is there for that purpose. The sign on the side of the trailer has been changed to read, "Deposit cans here - proceeds go toward the purchase of a new Rescue Vehicle."

RESCUE TRUCK PURCHASED--
The Lockney Volunteer Fire Department has purchased a rescue truck to carry their equipment in. Shown with the van are Jimmy Kemp and Tim Cooper. The van will make it much easier and faster to get to the equipment they need. Citizens are asked to make donations for needed supplies. Money raised from the aluminum can trailer (shown in the inset) will be used for the vehicle. Staff Photo

Courtroom Activities

In the 110th District Court, September 1, District Attorney Becky McPherson presented a motion to modify the disposition of Robert Reyes, 18, of Lockney. Reyes was on deferred adjudication probation for the August 16, 1991 burglary of a motor vehicle.

Judge Randy Hollums, who presided over the proceedings, ruled that Reyes had violated his probation because of an assault and drinking complaint. Hollums then placed Reyes on standard probation for 10 years under the intensive supervision program and electronic monitoring program.

Also in district court, Ermelinda Vargas, 48, of Floydada, pled guilty to tampering with governmental records. She was given four years deferred adjudication probation, fined $250.00 and ordered to pay $3,380.00 in restitution.

In county court, August 26, Dereck Williams, 20, of Floydada, was charged with DWI. There was no disposition on this case.

Also on August 26: Isabel Lopez, 41, of Floydada, was charged with DWI. There was no disposition on this case;

Kyle Stewart, 27, of South Plains, was charged with DWI. There was no disposition on this case;

Joe Castro Jr., was charged with assault. There was no disposition on this case;

Ruben Ascencio was also charged with assault. There was no disposition on this case; and Arnoldo Trevino was charged with assault. There was no disposition on this case.

On September 1: Maurice Larrimore was charged with theft over $200.00 but under $750.00. There was no disposition on this case;

Roberto Rodriguez, 38, of Plainview, was charged with DWI. There was no disposition on this case; and Joe Cedillo, 55, of Petersburg, was charged with DWI. There was no disposition on this case.

In J.P. court, August 11 - September 1, there were 61 misdemeanor cases filed. Of those 61, all were traffic offenses except for Jose Garcia Jr., 19, of Floydada, who was charged with minor in possession of alcoholic beverage; and Reynaldo Mata Flores, 24, of Floydada, who was charged with public intoxication.

Lockney Police Report

LOCKNEY — On August 16 Lockney Police were dispatched to investigate an assault that occurred in the 100 block of SW 8th Street. The disturbance occurred at a party and at least two subjects reportedly assaulted a 31 year old Lockney man. Lockney police have arrested Reuben Ascencio and Joe Castro Jr. Both subjects were charged with Assault with Bodily Injury. Persons found guilty of this assault can be fined not more than $3000 and confined in county jail not to exceed one year or both such fine and imprisonment.

The Lockney police took a report of a stolen bicycle on August 26. The bike was stolen in the 200 block of SW 4th Street. The bicycle is a 16 inch Huffy girls bicycle, bright pink and turquoise with multi-colored balls in the spokes. It is valued at $100.00.

In the last two weeks the Lockney police have investigated two dog bites. The bites are the result of citizens letting their dogs run loose. Please be reminded of the fine to the dog owner.

SCAM ALERT

Beware of telephone solicitors posing as IRS agents. In this scam, people are told they have won a contest and qualify for a large award, providing they first pay the taxes on the award. The victims are told to send the money to a bogus IRS address and then never see their supposed winnings.

If you are called by someone making this offer, write down who they claim to be and the type of offer; then notify your local Better Business Bureau and the nearest Office of the Attorney General Consumer Protection Division.

Floydada Police Report

A Floydada man, Maximo Nunez, is in the Lockney Hospital after being severely beaten during a fight at his residence Friday, August 28.

Police were made aware of the incident after stopping a vehicle, for running a stop sign, at 10:20 p.m.

Inside the vehicle, police discovered a woman driving Nunez to the hospital. The Lockney Ambulance was called (the Floydada Ambulance was inoperable), and the man was transported to Lockney General.

The investigation determined that the man had been beaten with a bumper jack which resulted in a broken left leg, severe lacerations to the right side of the head and a cut finger.

According to Police Chief James Hale, "We are continuing our investigation and we have four suspects. No arrests have been made at this time."

On August 27, police received a call of a man with a gun driving in the 300 block of W. Marivena. The vehicle was found on S. 4th Street about one hour later, and Reginaldo Flores Mata, 24, of Floydada, was arrested and charged, by the city, with disorderly conduct.

Floydada police also responded to a runaway child report on August 29, at 1:00 a.m. The mother of a 14-year-old girl told police that the girl had gone to the Jr. High football game and did not return. Police have leads as to her whereabouts and are continuing in the investigation.

On August 26, police also took a report of a criminal mischief. The owner of an S-10 pickup told police that someone had broken out the headlights of the vehicle, which was parked in the 200 block of E. Jeffie. The incident occurred between August 25, at 11:00 p.m. and August 26, at 7:00 a.m.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:
Once again I have made the paper! (Ref: 8-20; City Council addresses budget, — "Fuel Purchases").

I had already received a letter from the city concerning the issue and the matter was settled. I would comply with the city secretary's wishes. I would do the paper work although the IRS had told me that it was her job to do it.

Why she felt it necessary to go to the city council and ask for help "dealing with local fuel vendors" and having it published in the paper that I could cost the city up to $200 a month I don't know. Is this another effort to cut me out of the fuel rotation? If so, it is the third attempt since the present city council was elected.

The first attempt was when the city council planned to go to a "bid system". I went to a council meeting and stated that "rotation" was the only fair way.

When the county went to the bid system it was proved that it was not for the good of the taxpayer. The first bid I gave was 1 cent above cost plus freight. It was awarded to another fuel jobber for 7 cents above cost plus freight. That is your tax dollars at work for you Floyd County residents!

The second attempt was when the city decided not to buy from me because I don't purchase electricity from the city.

When I moved here in 1980 I used Floydada Electric Light & Power at the Houston Street location and SWPS at the North 2nd location in order to spread my business around.

I have sold the Houston Street location so I can no longer use the city's utility company. It is not available at the 2nd St. location and I live in the country so I use Lighthouse at home. I'm glad to give them the business because they employ a large number of people and they are an asset to the community.

Although I am unable to buy electricity from the city, I do pay a great deal of taxes, employ local citizens and make contributions to the school and local organizations. I feel that makes me a contributing member of Floydada economy.

I'll begin my thirteenth year here in October. I have good friends here; the best customers in the county; have raised my family here; own my home and I plan to stay.

So why has the council made this third attempt to cut me from the rotation? I don't know. Could it be because two of the council members are fuel jobbers? No, that couldn't be it. That would be a conflict of interest! Besides, a productive city council would be trying to find ways to bring business to Floydada — not how to squeeze existing business out.

I'm willing to help Floydada progress and I think it will and can if everyone will work together.

Thank you,
Ray Brooks

Lockney Chamber of Commerce discusses upcoming projects

By Neta Marble

The Lockney Chamber of Commerce met on Tuesday morning for their regular monthly meeting and discussed several projects that are on their agenda.

Plans are continuing to be made for the Old Fashioned Saturday. The event is scheduled for Saturday, October 10 and will begin at 2:00 p.m. and conclude with a street dance.

Karen Hooten stated that anyone wishing to have an arts and crafts booth, food booth, or fun booth should call her and she will assign them to a place on the sidewalk. Booths rent for $10.00.

Members of the chamber also finalized plans for the Floyd County Fair. A drawing will be held at their booth from those registering and money prizes will be given away. The prizes will amount to $50.00, $35.00 and $15.00.

A box will also be located at the booth for slogans for the city of Lockney. A winner will be chosen and will receive a gift certificate. The winning slogan will be used to represent the city in the future and will be painted on the signs leading into Lockney. Young and old alike are invited to join in with their ideas. A box is also located at the First National Bank in Lockney for entries.

Richard Larsen stated that the footing for the "Wall of Pride" will be poured within the week if the weather cooperates.

Jon Nielson, of Nielson's Restaurant in Floydada, met with the chamber and presented his ideas on having a "Floyd County Taste". All the restaurants, cafes and drive-ins in the county will be invited to participate with a sample of their cuisine and the public will be invited to the tasting. The money raised will be used to bring industry to Floyd County. Plans are in the beginning stages and details will be forthcoming.

GUEST ARTISTS--Artwork by Floydada High School exes will be the focal point at The First National Bank of Floydada during the month of September. The display will feature exes in preparation for next month's Oct. 2 Homecoming. Some of the guest artists will include: (l-r) Mildred B. Cates, Carol R. Reese, Darlene Marquis, Jill Bertrand Warren, Olin M. Watson Jr., Penny M. Golightly and Larry Smith. The lobby of the bank will be open on Saturday, Oct. 2, for the convenience of residents attending the reunion that weekend. --Staff photo

Homecoming '92 emphasis of art exhibit

In keeping with the planning and preparation for Homecoming activities Oct. 1 and 2, the First National Bank of Floydada is presenting an art exhibit during the month of September compiled entirely of the works and talents of Floydada High School alumni. Spanning a wide spectrum of subject matter and medium, the interesting display affords the viewer an unusual offering of varied talent.

"It isn't often that we are given an opportunity to see just where our graduates are 'scattered' and how they have continued to pursue the visual arts, either as a business or as a hobby and pleasure," said Monte Williams, Senior Vice-President and Senior Loan Officer. "We are happy to be able to share this with the community and surrounding area."

Artists entering work in the current exhibit include: Ken Barker, Seattle, Wash.; Naomi Hodges Battey, Paris, Tex.; a painting by Ted Bell; Mildred B. Cates, Winnie L. Carthel, Belleville, Ark.; Dane Clark, Albuquerque, N.M.; Bud Edwards, Penny M. Golightly; Dell Russell Gray; Dr. A.E. Guthrie II, Hurst; Tony Goen, Scottsdale, Ariz.; James Hinton; Mike Hale, Richardson; John C. Farris, Dallas; Lisa G. "Jill Warren, a very talented artist, has been the coordinator and has taken the lead in setting up the exhibit," said Martha Farris. "Her help has been invaluable. We hope that we have not overlooked anyone; but, if we have, please let us know. Other artists were contacted, but for various reasons, were unable to participate this year."

The public is invited and encouraged to visit the First National Bank during regular banking hours through September to view this unusual exhibit. The bank lobby will be open on Saturday, Oct. 2, in order for those returning for Homecoming to see the exhibit.

MR. AND MRS. CLINT R. PENNY

Campbell-Penny recite nuptials

The ranch of Mr. and Mrs. Vance Campbell was the site for the marriage of their granddaughter, Donna Jean Campbell to Clint R. Penny. The Rev. Nealy Richardson officiated the recitation of vows. Setting for the service was the yard on the Campbell Ranch overlooking the Caprock.

Donna is the daughter of Wes and Lynn Campbell of Floydada. The groom is the son of Wayne and June Penny of Lubbock.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal white satin gown with long tapered sleeves. The bodice and sleeves were accented with sequins and pearls. The skirt flowed into a full chapel train. She carried a bouquet of white silk roses and carried a handkerchief that belonged to her great-aunt, Ann Swebston for something old.

The traditional ensemble was completed with a garter of blue, earrings borrowed from her sister-in-law, Tracy Campbell, and the dress was new. She also wore pennies in her shoes.

Tracy Campbell, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor, and Sonya Campbell, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. The attendants wore street length dresses of pastel colors and carried fans with pink and white flowers and blue ribbon.

Bobby Featherston of Lubbock, a long time friend of the groom, was best man and Wesley Campbell of Dougherty, brother of the bride, was groomsman.

Vance Stark of Iowa Park and Lane Reynolds of South Africa, cousins of the bride, were ushers. Libby Reynolds of South Africa, cousin of the bride, provided the music during the ceremony.

The altar area, adorned with many baskets of flowers, and the background of the canyon of the Caprock, was the setting for the wedding vows.

A reception followed the ceremony. Tracie Stark of Iowa Park and Mrs. Rodney Reynolds of South Africa, cousins of the bride, served a three tier cake. A buffet table of finger sandwiches, dips and chips were also enjoyed by the guests. Punch and coffee were served by Anna Campbell of Dougherty and Cassy Lackey of Floydada, cousins of the bride.

After a short honeymoon, the couple will make their home in Lubbock.

The bride was honored with a bridal shower on August 25 in the home of Mrs. Tom Ross of Dougherty. Hostesses were Mmes. Jesse Pernell, Ricky Pernell, Scott Simpson, Mike Rainwater, Joe Christian, Cliff Hopper, Carmel Eastham, Lance Poole and Kenneth Poole.

Floyd County Extension Council travels to Plainview

By Mrs. O.G. Mayfield

The Floyd County Home Extension Council was called to order by the president, Jonelle Fawver on August 27, at 2 p.m. The club had opening exercises and prayer by all.

Recreation was by Ruth Scott.

Roll was called by Vivian Curtis, 10 members were present and our Home Extension Agent, Melissa Long.

Minutes were read by Vivian Curtis and approved.

The treasurer reported $86.39 in the treasury.

Harmony Home Extension Club reported that they were guests of Homebuilders recently. All went to the Victorian Mall in Plainview, toured it and ate lunch there. Then, they toured Billie's Antiques, Old World and the Shoppe, and Mollie's Antiques.

Then on a later date, Homebuilders reported Harmony Extension Club was their guest at the Harmony Community Center. They had an Old Fashioned dinner for all, cornbread, green beans, corn on the cob, red beans, potato salad, tossed salad, fried chicken and drinks. Later, they served cake and ice cream.

They had an old fashioned play for us. Ironing, churning and they took the butter up after they got through churning. Grandma's aprons, making biscuits, washing in the rubboard and hanging clothes out on the line. They took the wash water and scrubbed the floors and then they watered the flowers.

The agents report was given by Melissa Long. The fair books are out. Ladies Day will be great. Our 4-H boys and girls are working on their record books and they will have a banquet October 18 at Lockney. All council members are invited.

District TEHA meeting will be April 17, 1993 at Plainview Ollie Liner Center. Floyd County was to select a theme, we chose, "Be Some Bunny, T.E.H.A." Mae Williams will be in charge of cultured arts exhibits.

Our unfinished business was the district meeting. We will have another meeting to finish our plans.

Nominating committee brought a motion that we elect the same officers for another year. President Jonelle Fawver, Vice Chairman Ruth Scott, Secretary Vivian Curtis, Treasurer Gladys Widener, Parliamentarian Vivian Curtis, T.E.H.A. Mae Williams, Vice T.E.H.A. Chairman Karen Miller, Reporter Merle Mayfield, Delegates, Gladys Widener and Blanche Williams, Club Presidents are Vivian Curtis and Barbara Willis.

In new business, a motion was made that we pay $5.00 each into council for council expenses. Motion carried.

We dismissed and had an old fashioned pounding for our secretary, Jana Finley Muniz.

Marr honored with tea

LOCKNEY — Janis Marr, bride-elect of Richard Porter was honored with a bridal gift tea, Friday, August 21, in the home of Algene Barker. Guests were presented to Janis, her mother, Jeanette Marr, Richard's mother, Marsa Porter, Lubbock and his two sisters, Pam Porter, Carrollton, and Marinda Porter, Lubbock.

Refreshments of pineapple frosty punch, cookies, nuts and mints were served from a table featuring a white Battenberg lace cloth, and centered with a crystal bowl of lillies and mums. All crystal appointments were used. Servers were Beverly Barker and Karla Duckworth.

Guests registered at a small round table covered with a white lace floor length cloth, holding a small arrangement of Stargazer Lillies, baby pink mums and fern in a crystal bowl.

Eight glasses of water a day keep fat away

Everyone knows that water is good for you, but recent studies have shown that drinking plenty of water may actually help you lose weight. According to Tracey Norman, R.D., outpatient dietitian at Methodist Hospital, water naturally suppresses the appetite and helps the body metabolize stored fat. "Drinking about eight 8-ounce glasses of water each day can actually help reduce fat deposits," said Norman.

Here's why: the kidneys don't work properly without enough water, and when they don't work to their capacity some of their load is taken on by the liver. One of the liver's primary functions is to metabolize stored fat. But, if the liver has to do some of the kidney's work, it can't operate fully and as a result, metabolizes less fat. So, more fat is stored throughout the body.

The study also revealed that drinking plenty of water as a converse effect on water retention - drinking plenty of water actually helps guard against fluid retention. "When the body gets less water than it needs, it perceives it as a threat and begins to retain it," said Norman. "So, the best way to overcome the problem of water retention is to give your body what it needs - plenty of water." Drinking water also helps rid the body of excess salt, which is another major contributor to water retention.

Some other benefits of drinking water include better muscle and skin tone and improved irregularity.

The average person needs to drink about two quarts (eight 8-ounce glasses) of water each day. Water intake should be increased during exercise, or in hot, dry weather. Overweight people should drink an additional 8 ounces of water for every 25 pounds of excess weight.

Vows pledged by Reecer and Graham

Marriage vows were recited by Julie Kaye Reecer and Terry Wayne Graham during a 2 p.m. wedding ceremony Saturday, Aug. 29, 1992, in Westmont Christian Church, Lubbock. Terry Bell, pastor of Broadway Church of Christ in Lubbock, presided over the recitation of vows.

The altar area was highlighted with a 15-point candelabra, flanked by two seven-point candelabras all decorated with greenery and cream satin bows. Cream satin bows also marked the pews.

Parents of the bride are former Lockney residents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Reecer of Alto, New Mexico, and the groom is the son of Mrs. Flora Jones of Brundidge, Alabama, and the late Bennie Graham.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose an ivory lace and chiffon gown styled with a high neckline covered in French alençon lace and seed pearls. The bodice featured a v-shaped illusion yoke. Gibson girl sleeves with seeded pearls came to a point over each hand. The softly gathered skirt fell to floor length and flowed into a double layer of chiffon, extending the chapel length train. To complete the ensemble, the bride wore a seeded pearl headpiece with double tiers of French alençon illusion.

She carried a bouquet of bridal white roses, alstroemeria and stephanotis. Intertwined in the bouquet was a wedding band belonging to her grandmother, Clara Reecer.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Barbara Moore Wilt of Gaithersburg, Maryland. Bridesmaids were Jana Parker of Houston and Joan R. Wimberly of Lubbock.

They were attired in two-piece dresses fashioned from purple satin-backed shantung. The fitted bodices featured sweetheart necklines and short sleeves with pleated overlays. Their slim skirts were of ankle length. They carried arrangements of stargazer lilies, yellow spider mums and purple statice.

Acting as best man was Rick Gilbert of Lubbock. Brothers of the bride, Richie Reecer of DeSoto, Texas, and Tim Reecer of Irving were groomsmen.

Seating guests were Chris Contreras and Gary Harper, both of Lubbock. Presiding at the registration table was Mary Huffman of Abilene.

Musical selections for the ceremony were provided by "A Class Act" string quartet of Lubbock. David Gaschen was soloist, and Linda Kraus accompanied as organist, both are of Lubbock. Selections included "If", "Household of Faith" and "The Lord's Prayer". The wedding party entered to "Air From Water" and "The Wedding March". "Prince of Denmark March" was played for the recessional.

A reception in the foyer of the church was hosted by the bride's family. Reception attendants were Amy Jared of Dallas and Kay Brock of Lockney. Haley Moore of Lubbock handed out bird seed bags.

The bridal table held a three-tier cake flanked with greenery and topped with handpainted flowers. The groom's table featured a chocolate kaluha cake with chocolate-dipped strawberries. The focal point of the groom's table was a watermelon carved bride and groom with cascading fruit assortment. Finger sandwiches were also served.

Following a wedding trip to Charleston, South Carolina, the couple will make their home in Lubbock, where the bride is a medical representative for Stuart Pharmaceuticals and the groom is employed by KLBK-TV 13. She is a graduate of Lockney High School and Texas Tech University. He is a graduate of Pike County High School and attended Troy State University and Auburn University.

Special guests attending the wedding included Mrs. Clara Reecer of Lockney, grandmother of the bride; Debbie and Matt Reecer of DeSoto, sister-in-law and nephew of the bride; Bennie Hawn of Pensacola, Florida, Patsy Sharp of Salem, Alabama, and Sarah Nickolson of Dadeville, Alabama, sisters of the groom. Other out-of-town guests registered from Alto and Roswell, N.M., Houston, Dallas, DeSoto, Irving, Plains, Plainview, Amarillo, Midland, and Abilene, Texas, and Virginia.

MRS. TERRY W. GRAHAM

Marr and Porter say promises

Janis Kay Marr became the bride of Richard Mark Porter during a 10:30 a.m. ceremony Saturday, Aug. 22, 1992, in the garden of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Marr, Plainview. Murry Brewer of Amarillo, retired Baptist minister and cousin of the bride's mother, officiated the exchange of vows. The date chosen for the couple's wedding was of special significance, as it was the same date that the groom's parents and grandparents were married on.

The garden area used for the ceremony was decorated with a lattice arch adorned with greenery and flowers. Two large arrangements flanked the arch.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Tom Marr of Plainview and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Porter of Lubbock.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of white satin. Short puffed sleeves were accented with organza, lace and seed pearls. The fitted bodice featured a sweetheart neckline and split bodice of soft pleats and lace applique and dipped low in back. The full skirt was accented in the back with a bow shaped bustle. Her fingertip veil of French illusion fell in three tiers from a pouf accented with lace and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of stargazer lilies surrounded by white lilies, stephanotis and orchids.

Matron of honor was Karen Ford of Ft. Worth, sister of the bride. She wore a formal white suit of silk linen shantung. The off-the-shoulder short sleeve jacket featured applique lace collar and front bodice outlined with pearls. The fitted skirt featured a draped kick pleat in back.

Heather Ford of Ft. Worth, niece of the bride, was flower girl.

Serving as best man was Jim Porter of Lubbock, father of the groom. Ushers were brothers of the bride, Ronald Marr of Rockaway, New Jersey, and Gary Marr of Lockney.

Music for the ceremony was provided by Robert Black, who played the harpsichord, and Joyce Wilbanks, flutist and vocalist.

Assisting at the reception following the wedding were Mmes. Ricky Duckworth, Jeff Terrell, Dub Mercer, Glenn Cooper, Royce Hillman and Ms. Jo Ann Duvall.

Following a wedding trip to Maui, Hawaii, the couple will make their home in Huntington Beach, Calif.

The bride is a graduate of Lockney High School and earned a Bachelor of Arts from Texas Tech University. She is employed with a telemarketing company, Access America in Huntington Beach.

The groom, a graduate of Lubbock Monterey, attended Texas Tech, where he received a Bachelor of Science. He is employed by Metro Display in Huntington Beach.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

By Jo Bryant

FLOYDADA — Hi! once again, here we are in September. School has started, Fall is in the air and it seems as if one can kinda get back on a schedule once again.

Monday started the week as usual with coffee, juice and cookies. Irene Wexler played the piano. The ladies from Calvary Baptist Church came and assisted us. The devotion was on "Narrow Gate" at 2 p.m., the residents painted ceramics, Lonnie Willis, Paul Roeder, Charles Breeding and Peggy Young.

Tuesday, the residents, family and staff enjoyed a fish fry and trimmings outside. It was a perfect day for it, cloudy, cool and no flies. At 2 p.m. Elbert Parvin and his daughter, Martha came and played the guitar and sang. We all had fun.

Wednesday, the residents played games in the morning, bowling. Then at 2:30 was our Bingo day. Bernice Robinson had the first Bingo. Ruth Hammonds assisted the residents and brought a snack for them.

Thursday was Penny Toss. Bernice Robinson won the pennies. The ladies from the Companion-N-Caring came at 2:30 to serve the residents ice cream. Ruth McIntosh played the piano for us and we all had a Sing-A-Long. The ladies serving were Shirley Varner, Leona Neff, Dorothy Neff, Sue Walker, Ola Smith, Ruth McIntosh and Dolores Cannon.

Friday, we had a visitor from South Plains Baptist Church, Rev. Ernest Stewart and his wife. He shared the devotion from a Psalm. Joyce Lipham played the piano for us.

We appreciate the cookies brought to us from the Sunday school class from the First Baptist Church, also the monthly magazine. On to Roaring Springs on the bus ride. Our Place treated the residents to ice cream. Some of the residents got to visit with some old friends who were in town for the Old Settlers at Roaring Springs.

Sunday, the Trinity Church group came and played the piano, guitar, song and shared with the residents. Thanks for coming.

May you have a Safe Happy Labor Day weekend. Let us be thankful for work, as it is a blessing, not a curse.

Thought

If it were not for hope, the heart would break.

Bean feted with courtesy

Mrs. Kyle Bean, nee Lori Ann Johnston, of New Deal was guest of honor at a wedding shower held in the Garden Room of the First Baptist Church in Lockney. The couple was married on July 18, 1992.

Receiving guests were the honoree; her mother, Naomi Johnston of Lockney, and the groom's mother, Bobby Lou Bean of Silverton.

Kay Tannahill registered guests.

Melinda Thompson presided at the serving table, which was covered with a white floor length cloth overlaid with white lace. Refreshments of fresh fruit, cookies and punch were served from crystal appointments. The bride's chosen colors of purple and orchid were carried out in the floral arrangement and napkins.

Jo Beth Dietrich was in the gift room. Hostesses were Sally Shaw, Emma Collins, Pat Frizzell, Mary Jean Moore, Clara Beedy, Kim Lambert, Jody Bac-cus, Barbara Ellison, Ginger Mathis, Dar Lee Foster, Joyce Marks, Ann Race, Nita Henderson, Jo Beth Dietrich, Violet Cooper, Laura Teuton, Mary Louise McCarter, Cynthia Bybee and Algene Barker. They presented the bride with Visions cookware and a mixer.

Whirlwinds and Longhorns battle for county crown

By Bill Gray

The Floyd County Championship will be on the line Friday as the Lockney Longhorns host the Floydada Whirlwinds to open the curtain on the 1992 football season. Kickoff is slated for 8:00 p.m. at Lockney's Mitchell-Zimmerman Field. The two long-time rivals have been going in different directions of late, with the Longhorns posting a 1-9 record a year ago while the 'Winds took an 8-2 mark into the 3A bi-district playoffs.

For years the two squads met in the third week of the campaign. The season opener is the first in a long time for the Floyd County neighbors. As with most traditional contests, records go "out the window" when the 'Winds and 'Horns tangle.

The Whirlwinds had an easy enough time in their first preseason scrimmage against Post, but ran into a much tougher club last week. Lubbock Cooper gave the 'Winds all they could handle, but Floydada managed to outgain the Pirates 180 yards - 33 yards.

The Whirlwinds scored once when sophomore quarterback Sammy Rodriguez kept on an option and scored on a 65-yard scamper. However, Floydada failed to punch across the double stripe from within the 1-yard line on another scoring opportunity. The Whirlwind defense continued to approach mid-season form as the Green Gang stopper unit held the Pirates scoreless in Cooper's allotted offensive plays.

Lubbock Cooper was a very physical team and is one of the largest bunches the 'Winds will face until the second week against Brownfield. The final scrimmage took its toll. Senior QB Josh Thayer was sidelined with a hip injury which may keep him out of the Lockney game. Ronnie Hernandez sustained a knee injury which could keep him out of action indefinitely. Returning starters Jammie Davis (shoulder) and Todd Cage (knee) are also hampered with injuries. Most of the rest of the Whirlwind frontliners should be in good shape this week.

On paper, at least, the Whirlwinds appear to be prohibitive favorites to successfully defend their Floyd County crown. However, emotions run high in the teams' storied rivalry. Lockney will be ready - the 'Horns would like nothing more than to start the season with a major upset. The Whirlwinds will be in for a surprise if they take the 'Horns lightly. Floydada will be at least a 20-point favorite, and will gladly settle for that point spread. Bill's other pics:

Floydada 4-H Club archers end project with competition

The Floydada 4-H Club recently completed its Archery Project. 4-H'ers learned safety, sportsmanship, cooperation, and competition as it relates to archery. After several days of training on the basics of shooting a bow and arrow correctly and safely, the final day of the project was a competition.

The results of this competition were: Junior 1 Recurve: 1st Nicholas Hadderton, 2nd Brad Yearly, 3rd Bonnie Dunlap
Junior 2 Recurve: 1st Alex Hadderton, 2nd Mandy Yearly, 3rd Robert

Dunlap
Junior 1 Compound: 1st Shane Lloyd, 2nd Kyle Keltz
Junior 2 Compound: 1st Stacey Lloyd, 2nd Kaci Keltz
Senior Recurve: 1st Charla Yearly
Overall High Score - Recurve: Alex Hadderton
Overall High Score - Compound: Stacey Lloyd
Leaders for the archery project were: Adult Leader, Judy Lloyd, and Junior Leader, Stacey Lloyd.

Enriquez to serve as coordinator of St. Jude Hospital Bike-A-Thon

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital announced that Olga Enriquez will serve as coordinator for the Floydada "Wheels For Life" Bike-A-Thon with September 26, 1992, as the date of the event.

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, which was founded in 1962 by the late entertainer, Danny Thomas, is America's largest childhood cancer research, treatment and education center. The Memphis based hospital has a local impact because it freely provides area doctors and hospitals with assistance in diagnosis and the latest information for treatments and procedures. The non-sectarian hospital currently follows over 4,500 active patients. Because treatment is provided to all patients regardless of their family's ability to pay, it costs St. Jude Hospital over $215,000 per day to keep its doors open. These funds come primarily from public donations.

This year's Bike-A-Thon is dedicated to Ryan Martin of Waxhaw, NC. Ryan was diagnosed in June 1986 with a Wilms' tumor on his left kidney. The kidney was removed and Ryan was given six months of chemotherapy at St. Jude. When he was 2 1/2, he developed a Wilms' tumor on his right kidney. Ryan again received chemotherapy and his doctor discovered during surgery that nothing remained of the tumor but scar tissue. Today, Ryan is cancer free and only has annual checkups.

Volunteers and bike riders are needed. Contact Olga Enriquez at 983-3437.

Have A Great Week!

FISD redistricting committee okays plans for new districts

asked Morales if that was legal, and Morales replied, "I think so."

Committee member Jimmy Covington asked Morales, "If we draw a line, where would the balance be? That is why so much work went into making the proportions right for each district."

Morales replied that the balance would be created by the five single member districts.

Committee member Rev. Ralph Jackson replied, "I don't see anything wrong with the 5/2 plan."

Morales then told the committee, "The justice department will be sending this back if you take the 5/2 plan."

Jackson then asked Morales, "Are you going to sue again, Amado?"

Morales answered, "No", and then added, "but I think the justice department will kick it back after we send them a petition."

Committee member Nathan Johnson asked Morales, "If we don't go with the "super districts" are you telling us you'll get a petition and send it to Washington?"

Morales replied that he would. Morales also expressed his concern that since the majority of students in school are minorities, they were not properly represented on the board.

"Within five years the minorities will be the majority," said Cannon. "At large elections will be different. You won't have to worry about super districts at that time."

"I don't have any objections about where the district lines are drawn (on the proposed 5/2 plan), said Morales, "but in the super districts the minorities will have a chance. We don't necessarily feel we are being mistreated."

Nathan Johnson asked Morales, "Do you represent an organization when you say we?"

Morales replied that he did not.

Johnson also stated, "This is a multi-million dollar business. This is no place to play. I don't care what color they are, I just want the member to be competent."

Hulon Carthel, another committee member stated, "We need representation over the entire community, not just one district. We also need continuity."

Cannon emphasized the cooperative effort that has been present among the school board members. "We have never had any problems where members only represented their district. Everyone votes for the good of all students. We don't have 5 stacked against 2."

"I've worked city elections," said Carthel. "There is mass confusion. The county, school, city and hospital all have different lines. It's already hard for the people to vote."

"Since the first time we've have single member districts we have had two minorities serving on the board. I don't think the justice department will take a petition very seriously."

Cannon told the committee that the justice department had already approved a lot of 5-2 plans.

The committee then voted unanimously to recommend the 5 single member, 2 at-large plan to the Floydada School Board for their approval.

Committee members present for the vote were: Sam Green, Steve Lloyd, Gerry Norrell, Jimmy Covington, John Dunlap, Nathan Johnson, Hulon

Prison pen pals must be handled with caution

Pen Pals have been with us for years. Perhaps you had one when you were in school. Adults have pen pals too. Often they are jail inmates who place pen pal ads in magazines, which caters to seniors living alone, or others who are looking for relationships. Prisoner ads have proliferated in recent years, and some prisoners may be looking for genuine contact with life outside their prison walls. However, many prisoner ads are merely a part of a sophisticated mail fraud scheme (using postal or other money orders) which has bilked consumers of their hard-earned savings.

Be aware of the tell-tale signs of this unusual scheme. If you begin to write letters to a prisoner who is attempting to cultivate you for his mail fraud scheme, he will slowly attempt to gain your trust and confidence. If you are a single woman, he may even promise to marry you upon his release. Eventually, the prisoner will ask you to deposit some money orders in your checking or savings account, because he has no one else he can trust. After sending you several money orders, usually in the amount of $700.00 each for you to deposit in your account, the prisoner will wait long enough for the money orders to be deposited, then he will call you (usually collect) by telephone and urgently request most of the money be withdrawn. He will want the money to be sent by Express Mail or wired by Western Union to another friend in order to pay an attorney to help gain the prisoner's immediate release from prison.

When the U.S. Postal Service routinely compares the cashed money orders with the original money order receipts, these money orders are found to be altered. All altered money orders will ultimately be discovered. Under current law, the person who cashes an altered money order is responsible for its total (altered) value. If you have a bank account, the U.S. Postal Service will contact your bank, and you will be made to pay the difference. For example, if you cash a one dollar money order, which has been altered to $700.00, you will end up being charged $699.00 of your own money. Remember this, if you see a pen pal ad from a prison inmate and are thinking of writing.

If you think you've been taken in by a prison pen pal scheme, report your experience to your local postmaster or the nearest Postal Inspector. The Fort Worth Division Headquarters telephone No. is 817/625-3411. Complaints also may be sent to the Regional Chief Inspector, 1407 Union Avenue, 10th Floor, Attention: MOSC, Memphis, TN 38161-0001.

Longhorns put a stop to Kangaroos

SHOW THEM HOW IT'S DONE—The Lockney Longhorns showed the Kress Kangaroos a thing or two at the scrimmage last Friday afternoon. The coaches and fans were pleased with the boys efforts. The Longhorns will take on the Floydada Whirlwinds at Mitchell-Zimmerman Field this Friday night. Staff Photo

By Les Reed
LOCKNEY—Kress was the place to be Friday, that is if you wore red, white and black! With this being the second and last scrimmage before the season opener against Floydada Whirlwinds, the Longhorns needed to show what they could do, and they did just that! During the first set the Longhorns were able to put together an impressive 214 yard total verses the Kangaroo's total yardage of 44. Also the first team was able to score several times using a variety of different offensive plays. During the second set the Longhorns defense was able to hold the Kress Kangaroo's to a minimal 4 yards total offense while our offense added up the yardage to a total of 108 yards.

Coach Lowe noted that several of his players had exceptional nights. Patrick Monroe played a real good game on defense. He was able to make some excellent blocks. David Luna also had a good scrimmage as he played well on both the offense and the defense. Luna scored on both a 70 yard touchdown and a 1 yard touchdown. Other players that played a great game included Leo Vargas and Phineas Riddley. Vargas connected with Jenaro Zapata for a 35 yard touchdown pass. Riddley also was able to hustle for a 70 yard touchdown against a somewhat weak Kangaroo defense. "We are pleased with the overall effort of the players," Coach Lowe said.

LONGHORN PEP RALLY

There will be a Longhorn Pep Rally, Thursday, September 3 at 7:00 p.m. on Main Street. Everyone is invited to come out and boost the Longhorns to a victory.

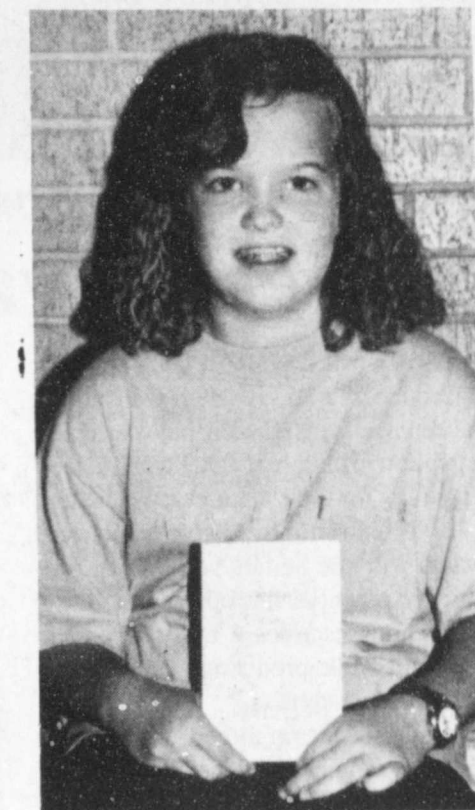

Go 'Horns!

Although greatly improved, Coach Lowe feels that the execution still needs to be better. The coaching staff feels that a victory would be achievable as long as the Horns played on the same level as the Whirlwinds.

Looking a lot better than last year seems to be the feeling overall. Fans made statements like, "They are looking really fired up" and "Wow, they didn't do that last year." Looking toward the future, the fans were making predictions ranging from "Looks like we will have a chance", to "We're taking it all the way this year." Whatever the outcome, the Horns need you there this Friday, September 4, 1992, at Mitchell-Zimmerman Field ready to take the hot air out of the Whirlwinds of Floydada! Go Longhorns!

Mangold has poem published

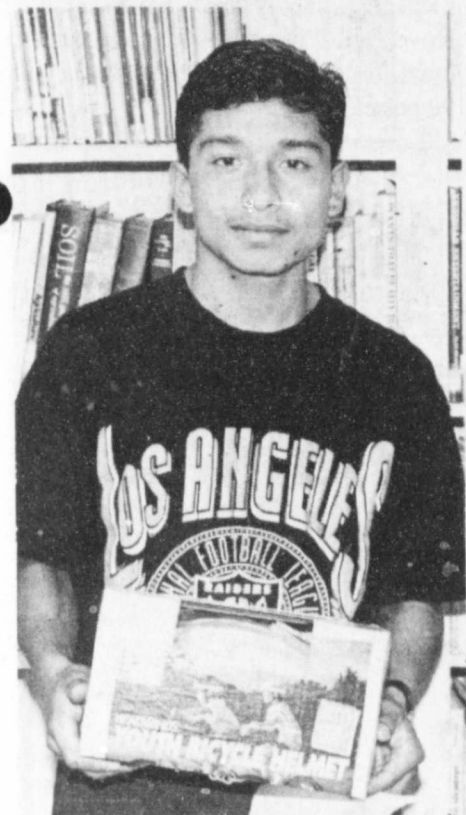

LAUREN REAGAN MANGOLD

LOCKNEY—Lauren Reagan Mangold, a fifth grade student at Lockney Elementary School, has had an original poem published. Her composition titled, "The Future", was included in a volume of poetry entitled "Anthology of Poetry by Young Americans." The poem follows:

"The Future"
 What will the future bring us?
 Better learning, better living, better care?
 What will they choose to do?
 Pollute or help clean up the air?

Sometimes we want to see the future,
 But I think it's best left unseen.
 Because when you really think about it,
 You'd rather wait to see,
 What the future brings!

Lauren, age 9 at the time she wrote the poem, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Gary Mangold of Lockney.

GUTIERREZ WINS CONTEST—Frank Gutierrez, a freshman at Lockney High School, has been informed that he is a winner in the SPORTS ILLUSTRATED FOR KIDS Drawing Contest. His "ultra personalized" drawing of a baseball has won him a bicycle helmet courtesy of Cycle Products Company. His drawing was chosen from 1500 entries. Staff Photo

Field Day to be held in Lubbock

From Mike Mallett, CEA-Ag.
The year-round efforts of scientists to help agricultural producers meet the daily challenges in providing the nation's food and fiber at a cost consumers can afford will be put on display in Lubbock Sept. 8 at the 83rd annual field day of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lubbock/Halfway.

The event alternates each year between the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center just north of the Lubbock International Airport and its research facility at Halfway, west of Plainview. This year, it will be at the Lubbock center, just east of Interstate 27 at the Shallowater exit No. 11. From 1 to 4 p.m., wagons will transport visitors to research plots and exhibits.

This year's tour will have five featured stops, exhibits providing timely information for producers and consumers, a look at the latest commercial and research equipment, and an open house at the Texas Forest Service greenhouses, said Edsel D. Bynum Jr., research entomologist and field day chairman. The first 100 visitors will receive a free tree seedling.

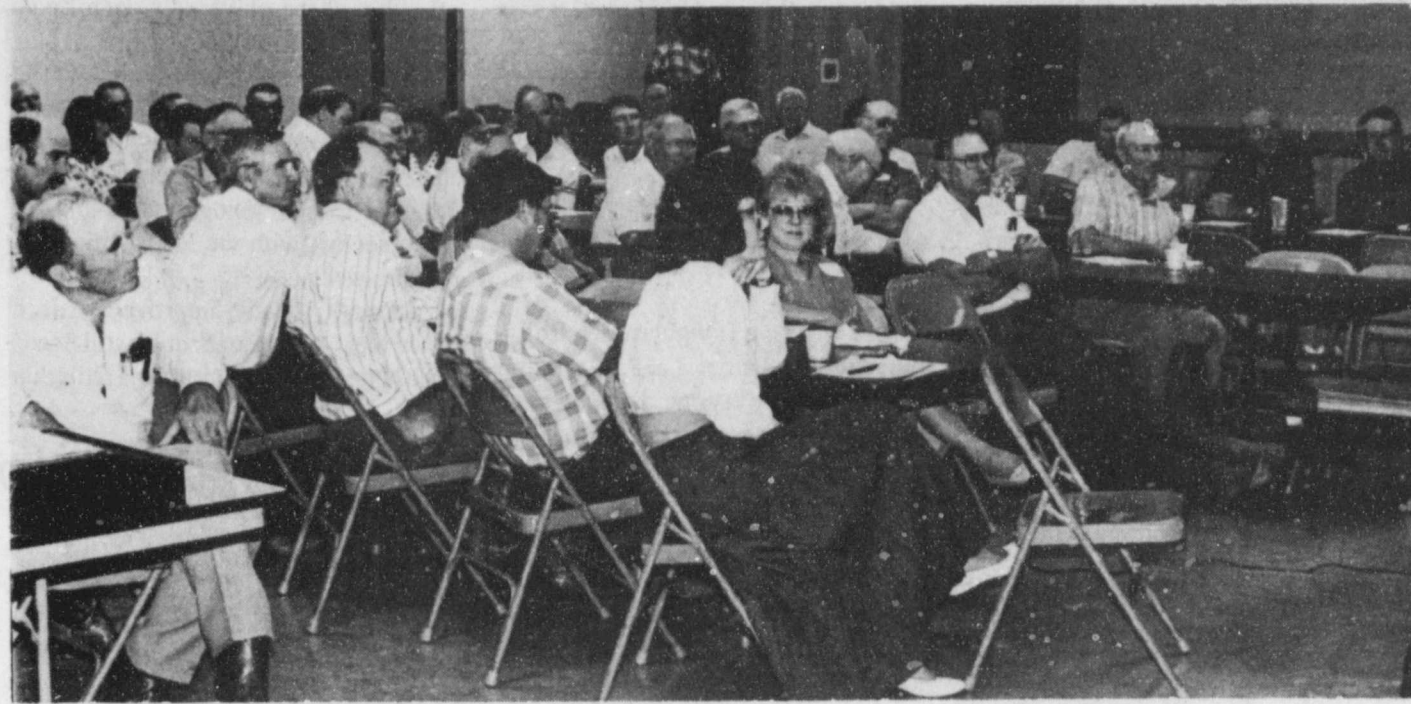

The featured stops will focus upon concerns critical to area farmers this year, as well as long range efforts to help them meet production and environmental demands, Bynum said. The stops will examine progress in cotton breeding efforts, farming systems, integrated pest management in cotton, developments in grain sorghum, and chemical storage and safety.

Private pesticide applicators attending the field day can receive two continuing education units toward annual requirements of the Texas Department of Agriculture. Applicators should have their TDA license certificate with them.

Home economists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service will present a food safety exhibit and a display on uses of cotton. Other exhibits will showcase cotton grown locally with naturally colored lint; collaborative efforts of the Experiment Station, Texas Tech and the U.S. Department of Agriculture in cotton production and fabric research; a program to help producers determine irrigation demands based on potential evapotranspiration (PET), and new agricultural products and equipment.

The field day is a cooperative presentation of the Experiment Station, Extension Service, High Plains Research Foundation, USDA-Agricultural Research Service, Texas Forest Service and Texas Tech.

Maternal values important in sires

By Mike Mallett, CEA-Ag.
Producers who save their won heifers as replacements should pay particular attention to maternal value when selecting bulls for their mature cow herds.

Bulls with an above-average maternal value will sire heifers with higher production potential than otherwise. Maternal value describes a bull's ability to transmit milk production and growth rate to his daughters.

A study done on three Central Texas ranches demonstrated the importance of using bulls with acceptable maternal value. Six sires were used in the study.

Three had above-average maternal value, while the other three had marginal maternal value.

The performance of offspring from all of the sires' daughters was compared. Daughters from the above-average maternal value bulls produced offspring that were 30 pounds heavier at weaning than offspring from daughters of the other bulls.

Heavier calves at weaning have advantages. Calves that are going to be sold are usually marketed at weaning, and a heavier calf will bring a higher price. For replacement heifers, a heavier weight brings them closer to sexual maturity, helping to ensure pregnancy when they are bred.

This clearly demonstrated the need to know a bull's heritage before using him to generate replacement females. In these particular situations, it is not enough to know only that the bull has good growth character, but that he has good maternal value as well.

For the past several years, most breed associations have genetically tested some of their bulls for growth and maternal value, as well as other characteristics such as birth weight, yearling weight, and in some cases, marbling score and rib eye area. These measures are expressed as expected progeny differences (EPD), and beef producers should learn the use and interpretation of EPD's.

These measures allow producers to more accurately choose bulls for mating systems designed for specific production purposes.

Tips given on soybeans

Cotton is king of the crops on the Texas High Plains. However, a stormy spring has helped the soybean plant dispute cotton's position.

Many benefits accompany soybean crops. Soybeans are a legume, and legumes add nitrogen to the soil. The residual nitrogen soybeans deposit in the soil will help produce next year's cotton crop. Also, crop rotation is necessary to prevent depleting the soil of valuable nutrients and a build up of disease organisms, he said. Soybeans are another crop to use in the rotation cycle. The cost of soybean production is moderate, which helps increase revenue, Brigham said.

Numerous farmers are growing soybeans for the first time this year. Brigham offered some suggestions that may help the farmers produce a better crop.

Due to the unfavorable weather, most soybeans were planted late. Moisture will be important to the crop from the blooming stage until the pods fill, he said. Light irrigation applied by sprinklers will suffice if the sub-soil moisture is good, Brigham said. Moisture will allow the plants to grow rapidly and thus increase the height of the plants. Tall plants help the harvest to be effective, he said.

Height is important in harvesting the soybean plant. Do not move soil to the plant thus reducing the distance between the lowest pods and the soil line. "You want as much height as possible for efficient harvesting," he said. Pests can also decrease the crop's yield. Watch for the soybean pod worm which is the same as the cotton boll worm, Brigham said. Treatment is necessary if the worms are present in sufficient numbers, he said.

After Sept. 1, pay close attention to the presence of foliage feeders, such as army worms, cabbage loopers and salt marsh caterpillars, because they have a ferocious appetite, he said.

Once the plant reaches maturity, timely and proper harvest procedures to prevent seed loss due to shattering must be considered. Many of the soybean cultivars used this year are not adapted to the High Plains, Brigham said. The cultivar may have been developed in the Midwest where the relative humidity is approximately 40 percent during the harvest months of September and October. At the same time on the High Plains, relative humidity may be as low as four to six percent. The temperature may also reach 90 degrees, he said. Combines should be ready to move into the soybeans as soon as possible after the seed moisture reaches 13 percent, Brigham said.

At TAES, research to develop soybeans better suited to the High Plains continues. "We have developed cultivars suitable for this area and lines with good shatter resistance and disease resistance. We are also breeding lines for insect resistance," Brigham said. "It is not a short term breeding program."

To prevent substantial loss of seed during harvest, a combine with an electrical or hydraulic header control is preferred, he said. The sickle should be operated as low as possible for maximum harvest efficiency, Brigham said. Cylinder speed and concave setting should be carefully set according to the manufacturer's specifications, he said.

Seed damage prevention is important when saving the seed for planting the next year. Cracked seed cannot be used for planting because germination will be reduced, Brigham said. Cracked and split seed also receive a discounted market price unless it is sent to a mill to be crushed, he said.

Soybean hay is another option available to the grower, Brigham said.

SWCD holds meeting here

By Dora Ross

Floyd County Soil and Water Conservation District recently were hosts to the South Plains Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts (SWCD). Presiding over the registration were Doris Nixon, Bill Ferguson, and Cheryl Dawdy, spouses of the Floyd County SWCD Board; and Dora Ross, Floyd Co. SWCD Bookkeeper.

The meeting was called to order at 9:30 a.m. by Leslie L. Nixon Jr., Chairman of the Floyd County SWCD Board. He introduced the Floyd County Commissioners Court present for the meeting — Judge Bill Hardin, Connie Bearden, Howard Gene Bishop and George Taylor. Judge Hardin then welcomed everyone to Floydada.

Immediately following the business session, a slide program on Conservation Practices in the Gambia, West Africa, was presented by Paul DeArmon, SCS Area Conservationist, Big Spring. He lived in the Gambia, West Africa, from February 1989 through July 1991.

DeArmon worked with the people of the Gambia through a foreign assignment with the Soil Conservation Service. He taught the people how to preserve the soil and different techniques to farm the land.

Leon Ferguson, Floyd County SWCD Board, gave the invocation before the meal of fajitas with all the trimmings. Roye Dale Pigg, Quitaque, catered the meal. It was enjoyed by approximately 90 people.

Floydada's First Assembly of God Church to hold crusade

FLOYDADA — Evangelist Buddy Baird, New Albany, Indiana, is scheduled to begin a crusade at First Assembly of God Church, 705 W. Missouri, Floydada, on September 6-10.

According to the G.A. Van Hoose, pastor of First Assembly of God Church, the Evangelist's ministry emphasizes the biblical promises of healing and strength for the human spirit, mind and body. He said the Evangelist's ministry includes prayer for the sick and that many people have been healed through prayer and faith. He said the Evangelist Buddy Baird is a former country music singer, having cut records in Nashville, doing T.V. and personal appearances over the Kentucky and Indiana areas. Rev. Baird has now dedicated his musical talents to gospel music, which he considers an important part of his ministry. He has recorded several albums and sings a variety of gospel music, some of which will be featured in every service.

The meetings will be held September 6 - 10, Sunday at 6:00 p.m., Monday through Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

Rev. G.A. Van Hoose invites everyone to come hear Evangelist Baird preach and sing in these special services.

Obituaries

GLESSIE GOINS

Funeral services for Glessie Goins, were at 2 p.m. Monday, August 31, 1992, in Moore-Rose-White Funeral Home Chapel with the Rev. Howell Farnsworth, pastor of First Baptist Church, officiating. Burial was in Floydada Cemetery by Moore-Rose-White Funeral Home.

Miss Goins died at 1:30 a.m. Sunday, August 30, 1992, in Methodist Hospital Plainview after a lengthy illness.

She was born in Roosevelt County, N.M. and moved to Texas as a young child. She was a longtime businesswoman in Lubbock and operated a lingerie establishment known as Sweetbriar and Gaudins. She also owned Janie's Dress Shop.

She attended West Texas State University and was a member of Bacon Heights Baptist Church in Lubbock. She had lived at Care Inn Nursing Home in Plainview for five years.

Survivors include 19 nieces and nephews.

Pallbearers were Don Finkner, Roland Boenig, Lon David Jr., Olin Thornton, Rae Thornton and Hubert Frizzell. Nephews were honorary pallbearers.

BOBBY WITHEY

Funeral services for Bobby Withey, 55, of Denver, Colorado, will be held in Denver, September 3.

Withey died of gunshot wounds at his home, Saturday night, August 29.

He was born in Crosbyton and lived in Floydada from 1953 - 1956. He graduated Floydada High School in 1955.

He had been an employee of Rocky Flat Plant, in Denver, for over 20 years. He is survived by his wife, Jackie.

MARY E. WAGGONER

Funeral services for Mary Elizabeth Waggoner, 77, were at 2 p.m. Wednesday, September 2, 1992, in the First Christian Church of Claude with David Hugel, pastor, Jimmy McFarland of Claude and Brad Huyckabee, Hospice of the Plains chaplain of Plainview, officiating. Burial was in Claude Cemetery by Wood-Dunning Funeral Home.

Mrs. Waggoner died at 1:15 a.m. Tuesday, September 1, 1992, in the home of her sister, Lena Faye Alford, after a lengthy illness.

She was born Mary Elizabeth Wofford on January 7, 1915 in Lockney. She graduated from Lockney High School, Amarillo College and West Texas State University. She taught elementary school in Borger and Lockney. After her husband's death, she moved to Claude and worked as a proofreader and correspondent for her brother-in-law, Brian Waggoner, at the Claude News, retiring in 1982 when the paper sold. She moved to Plainview from Claude in 1988 to live with her sister.

She married Cecil O. Waggoner on April 27, 1935 in Tucumcari, N.M. He died January 13, 1979.

She was a member of First Christian Church in Claude where she also was a Sunday School teacher.

Survivors include one brother, Winston Wofford of Austin; three sisters, Lena Fae Alford and Claudelle Norman, both of Plainview, and Mattie Belle Dosier of Cleveland, Texas; and several nieces and nephews.

The family suggest memorials to Hospice of the Plains, 4416 Olton Road, Plainview.

Class of '72 marks 20 year reunion

Lockney High School Class of 1972 held its 20-year reunion in Lubbock at the Holiday Inn Civic Center on Saturday, Aug. 1. The reunion was organized by Tony Ford of Ft. Worth and Brad Baccus of Lubbock.

All members of the class were invited to a come and go party at 6:00 at the home of Brad and Rhonda Baccus in Lubbock. Then the formal reunion activities began at the Holiday Inn at 8:00.

Twenty-four classmates out of a graduating class of 52 attended the reunion. Several former teachers and coaches were also in attendance including Lockney Superintendent W.H. Hallmark and his wife, Peggy, Floydada Superintendent Jerry Cannon and his wife, Sheree, Mrs. Merle Brotherton Mooney and her husband, Mike, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wood, Bill Calvert and Alton Fields.

The agenda for the night included a silent moment in remembrance of Margaret Blanco, a classmate who died in 1973.

Ford delivered a synopsis of significant historical events which have occurred since the class graduated in 1972. He was followed by Lockney resident, Danny Joe Lambert, who gave a summary of events that occurred in 1960 (the year this class started the first grade). Later, Ford gave a similar summary on 1972. Then, Lisa Cooper Hudson of McGregor and Sandy Riley Hackney of Lake Jackson read the class prophecy which was originally read at the Junior-Senior Banquet in 1972. They also read a brief summary of the class history which comically detailed classmates who had come and gone over the 12 years of school.

A surprise visitor from the east, Carnack the Magnificent (alias Chris Reecer of Plainview) performed a "Carnack" routine with song titles from 1960 and 1972 as the answers and the activities of various classmates as the questions.

Nominations and winners of the awards for the reunion were:
Most Changed Girl: Lisa Cooper
Most Changed Guy: (tie) Ronnie Gammage and Brad Baccus
Least Changed Girl: Sandy Riley* and Pam Brandes

Least Changed Guy: Lupe Saenz*, Ike Gonzales and Tony Ford
Who Came the Longest: Cleo McGee Silver Fox (grayest guy); Danny Lambert* and Brad Baccus
Barbara Bush (grayest girl): Kathy Graves
Bald Eagle Award:  Ronnie Gammage (*Winner)

(There was a bit of controversy on this award. Immediately after Mr. Gammage was nominated, a motion that nominations cease was suspiciously made and seconded by members of the Danny Joe Lambert family. After reviewing the instant replay (which was difficult to do because of the glare coming off the foreheads of Danny and Ronnie), the reunion judges decided to let the decision stand.)

Those who were in attendance along with their present city of residence were: Amelia Alaniz Gonzales, Lubbock; Pat Anderson, Ralls; Brad Baccus, Lubbock; Robin Smith Boedeker, Turkey; Pam Brandes Hall, Garland; Shelley

Collins Gammage, Plainview; Ron Gammage, Plainview; Lisa Cooper Hudson, McGregor; Dee Earle Cummings Sanders, Floydada; Tony Ford, Fort Worth; Connie Garcia Duenas, Lockney; Ike Gonzales, Plainview; Kathy Graves Burley, Lubbock; Billy Joe Hill, Lockney; Shari Johnson Smith, Lockney; Danny Joe Lambert, Lockney; Cleo McGee, Huntington Beach, Calif.; Lonita Rose Flitton, Aztec, N.M.; Chris Reecer, Plainview; Sandy Riley Hackney, Lake Jackson; Lupe Saenz, Lubbock; Dan Smith, Lockney; Larry Bob Williams, Ralls; and Mike Jordan, Midland.

The reunion ended with Ford, who was class president, delegating the responsibility for the next reunion to Lambert, who was class vice president.

PUBLIC NOTICE

CITY OF Floydada
TEXAS COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

The City of Floydada is currently making plans to apply to the Texas Department of Housing and Community Affairs for Texas Community Development Program funds. Two public hearings to solicit the input of the community in the preparation of the Community Development Program will be conducted.

The first public hearing will be held at City Hall, 114 W. Virginia Street at 7:00 p.m., September 8, 1992, to discuss housing and community development needs, use of past TCDP awards, amount of funds available and eligible activities. The City encourages individual citizens and citizen's groups to make their views known at these public hearings and welcomes the full participation of its citizens in the development of this TCDP application. General information on the TCDP program will be available. Citizen comments may be delivered in advance to City Hall at any time. Groups representative of persons of low and moderate income may request technical assistance in developing TCDP proposals by contacting the person listed below.

The second public hearing will be held at City Hall, 114 W. Virginia Street at 7:30 p.m., September 15, 1992, to allow citizens an opportunity to comment on the proposed project, amount of funds requested and estimated amount proposed for activities that will benefit low/moderate income persons.

More detailed information on proposed activities, amount of funds and proposed location of activities will be available for inspection at City Hall after the second hearing. Individuals with disabilities who require special assistance should contact City Hall to arrange for such assistance at least 72 hours prior to the meeting. Para residentes necesitados de interpretes, favor de comunicarse con la municipalidad antes de las audiencia publica.

For further information, contact Gary Brown, City Manager at the City Hall at # 983-2834.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Marty Smith would like to express their sincere appreciation for all the prayers, cards, and food brought to the house during the illness and death of our mother. Words cannot express such gratitude, only a personal love for each of you. Our strength is renewed through God and the many friends who stood beside us during one of our hardest trails. May God always be with you.

Sincerely,

Floyd County Hesperian-Beacon FOOTBALL CONTEST

GOOD LUCK!!

Football Contest Rules

Any subscriber or individual above the age of 7 years old who purchases a Floyd County Hesperian-Beacon is eligible to enter this newspaper's weekly football contest, except employees of this newspaper and family members living in the same household.

To play, circle on the official entry form, the numbers of the teams you believe will win this week's games. To indicate a tie, circle the numbers of both teams playing the game. In addition, write in the two tie breaker footballs your guess of the combined total points to be scored by the two teams listed in each tie breaker football. Also circle the team you believe will win. Circle both teams if you think the game will end in a tie.

The only entries which will be considered for prizes will be those on official entry forms which are brought to the Hesperian-Beacon office in Floydada or to the Hesperian-Beacon Office in Lockney by 5:00 p.m. on Friday. No photocopies will be accepted.

NO MAIL ENTRIES WILL BE ACCEPTED.

Three cash prizes are offered each week. In the event of ties - the same number of correct games and equal scores on the tie breakers - prizes will be shared by those involved in the tie. The tie breaker scores will be utilized only in the event of a tie on the number of games correct.

Print your name and address plainly on the official entry form and double check your choices before clipping out the entry form and depositing it at the Hesperian-Beacon office before 5:00 p.m. on Friday.

Entries are limited to one per person per week. Weekly winners are limited to one per household.
