HAIL DAMAGES PROPERTY--Insurance adjusters are once again busy in Floyd County completing claims for hail damage to cars, roofs and windows following Monday afternoon's hail storm in Floydada. Small hail fell throughout the county during the thunderstorm but some large hail measuring 2 3/4" in length fell in Floydada. The hail shown in this picture was gathered in the back yard of a home on Jackson Street. The bad weather brought one confirmed tornado which was tracked east-northeast from the Allmon community and last seen 5 miles east and 2 miles south of Floydada. Floyd County spotters saw the tornado touch down twice but no damage was reported.

Crume Cafe offers true family dining

By Alice Gilroy

A lot of diners will advertise themselves as a "Family Restaurant", but none of them can come close to making you feel as much at home as the family at Crume Cafe. The family of Crume Cafe consist of whichever customer happens to walk in for a home cooked lunch.

You're not served with a menu, because Hope Perez only gives you one choice each day—but no one is complaining. Some of her family have been enjoying her cooking for the full 18 years she has been cooking it.

"I usually feed the same crew every day," said Hope. "About 12-15 farmers will come in every day at lunch when they are working in the fields around here. That saves them the time of driving to Lockney or Plainview. If the weather is bad—they stay home and I don't feed as many."

Hope's menu usually consists of: Roast beef on Monday's; chicken fried steak or hamburger steak on Tuesday; beef tips on Wednesday's alternated with Beef fajitas; Fried Chicken on Thursday and a Mexican combination plate on Friday's.

A customer learns very quickly to make himself at home. Hope sees you coming and if you are a regular she already knows just how you like your plate. Help yourself to tea and chips and hot sauce. Have a seat and just wait a short time for Hope's husband, Servero, to bring you a full hot plate.

When you're through, walk over to the deep freezer—pop it open and help yourself to an ice cream sandwich. Dessert is included in the price.

Pay at the door—$3.98 tax included. If it's Fajita day you'll owe $5.25.

Word of mouth and satisfied customers has kept Hope busy. It's best to have someone show you where the cafe is—because if you don't know it's there you'll never find it. There's no sign.

There used to be a sign—18 years ago—until a tractor caved in the wall the sign was on.

"It wasn't too long after I started working here," said Hope. "I was cooking in the kitchen when all of a sudden a tractor, which was being boosted outside, jumped up and hit my car shoving ing: Cardiac Monitoring and Telemetry, Tub Room and Two Procedure Rooms Expanded Nursery, Hydro Therapy, for Out-Patient Care.

Manager & Cook of Crume Cafe

BY THE WAY!

BY ALICE GILROY

I hope everyone will do their best to attend the ribbon cutting and open house at the new hospital in Lockney.

The community is proud of the new facility and they should be. They are also proud of the new name on the hospital—The W.J. Mangold Memorial Hospital.

There was never any question that the name should be any different. It has been the Mangold hospital for a long time. It's about time the name got changed. I'm just sorry Dr. Mangold won't be there to cut the ribbon.

I've been treated to a few tours already—since I got to take the pictures. It is beautiful inside! It will be almost fun to stay there and I bet the pretty rooms will help you get well faster.

Go to the Open House and see the inside. I guarantee you'll be impressed!

I'm not sure I'll make all the ceremony because we will be in Amarillo at the Panhandle Press Convention that weekend. We hope to win at least one award!

But don't worry—we've got the ceremonies covered! There will be lots of pictures (if we cross our fingers just right).

Oh By The Way—since we'll be in Amarillo, the Lockney office will be closed on Friday. There will still be someone in the Floydada office on Friday.

I've got a good project for a church group or Sunday School class—or anybody for that matter.

April 16 at 7:00 p.m. there will be a fund raising banquet at Wayland for a brand new Crisis Pregnancy Center which is starting in Plainview.

The Center will care for pregnant women who have no place to go. They will counsel the expectant mothers and help them with adoption if that is the mother's wish. The center will also help mothers who wish to keep their children by teaching them ways to care for the babies.

This is a great service and they will need support.

Tables at the banquet will sell for $80 each and each table will seat 8 people. For those of you who can't figure it out—that's $10.00 per person (pretty cheap).

If you are interested in being a part of the banquet or even a part of the center, please call Debbie Montandon at 652-3696, or Susan Humphries, at 293-5632.

I've got an Arkansas 12th Grade Reading Test, supplied by Albert Scheele.

There are four parts to it—if we have room all four will be listed below. If we don't have room—we may have to cut out some tests.

I'll give you a hint on the first one.

WTPA scholarships available

Applications are now being accepted from high school seniors and college students for a pair of $500 college scholarships, according to Alice Gilroy, publisher of The Floyd County Hesperian-Beacon.

The Hesperian-Beacon is a member of the West Texas Press Association, the world's largest regional press organization. That association will be presenting scholarships to two future journalists whose career goals include working with a community newspaper.

Through the Bob Craig Memorial Scholarship program, named in honor of long-time Hamlin Herald publisher Bob Craig who died in 1981, a graduating high school senior and a college student will each be presented with a $500 college scholarship.

Each applicant must fill out an application form and write an essay based on the theme "My Career Goals in Community Journalism."

One scholarship will be presented to a graduating high school senior and the other to a student who is already attending a college or university and is majoring in print journalism or advertising.

Applications have been sent to newspapers and high schools throughout the West Texas region and to college journalism departments throughout the state. Applicants must be from the West Texas area.

Applications and essays must be mailed to WTPA Scholarship Committee, Russel Skiles, chairman, P.O. Box 710, Lamesa, TX 79331-0710.

Application deadline is June 15. Scholarship recipients will be chosen by the directors of the West Texas Press Association and will be announced at the association's annual convention July 22-24.

Once the winners are selected, they must be enrolled in at least three hours of college or university journalism courses each semester that the scholarship is awarded. The scholarship will be divided into payments of $250 per semester for two semesters for each of the two scholarship winners.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor,

On behalf of all the readers of the sports page in area newspapers, I would like to thank Bill Gray for his untiring effort to bring this community very outstanding coverage of almost every sport that Floyd County schools has to offer.

I know how hard it must be to cover all these games, to know almost every statistic of every kid in sports. I not only enjoy his unbiased coverage of every game, but his very comical cartoons as well. Fans from other towns often want to buy The Hesperian to see what Bill has said or drawn about their teams.

Floyd County is very fortunate to have a sportswriter of his talent and dedication. Bill has several other talents that everyone might not know about, for example, leather craft, photography, drawing and music, just to name a few. I would think he would be pleased if you would just go by Russell Equipment sometime and let him show you some of the work that he has done.

Bill, I think the community, the schools, players and The Hesperian owe you a big hand to thank you for your talents and time that you devote to our community.

Sincerely,
Louis Pyle

Editor:

I would like the opportunity to express my opinion about the drive of the Floydada Power & Light trying to persuade the customers of SPS to drop their service and connect to the so called home-owned utility company. This drive is beginning to create hard feelings and ruffle the feathers of some citizens of this town. Needless to say we don't need more controversy to add to what already exists.

During the past thirty-four years of my life my electric service has been supplied by SPS, thirty-one of those years have been in Floydada.

I have in the past month or so received two letters bearing the signature (I suppose it might be his) of Mayor Russell telling me how I should be supporting the City utility and all of the great benefits that it will bring me.

The last letter I received would lead me to think that the service I get from

TRUE PERSPECTIVE

As a pattern of life and as an example to others, is it possible to maintain a condition of heart and attitude that is kind toward each other? Tender Hearted? Forgiving each other just as God in Christ also forgave each one of us? If this condition of heart and mind is attainable, would you desire to have it?

In order to achieve such a high standard and goal for your life, would you be willing to be committed to and follow a prescribed plan? Is there real benefit to such a plan or is this just another way of being used and abused by others?

What is your perspective?

- Is life viewed only as a physical experience and, therefore, all my thoughts and desires are focused on things of this earth and life?
- Or have I set my mind and heart on things eternal, Heavenly, where our Father and Sovereign Lord are?

Here is another way of showing us what our true perspective is - where your heart is there your treasure is also. The kind, tender hearted, forgiving folks that pattern their lives after God and His Holy Son do as the Father directed them. Consider Eph. 4:25 - 5:10.

Sixth annual Charles Ball Memorial Fishing Tournament slated April 17

The sixth annual Charles Ball Memorial Fishing Tournament, for Lockney area fishermen, will be held at Lake Mackenzie on Saturday, April 17, 1993.

The tournament will start at sunrise and weigh-in time will be at 3:00 p.m.

The person catching the most pounds of legal fish will be named the winner and presented the traveling trophy.

There will be a $20.00 entry fee per person and the fee is payable at Consumers Fuel Association by 5:30 p.m. Friday, April 16. All entry fee money goes into a scholarship fund. All entrants need to meet at Lambert Feed Store at 8:00 p.m. Friday night, April 16, to pay lake and boat permit fees and discuss how the tournament will be administered.

A scholarship, in the name of Charles Ball, will be presented to one or more senior students at the Lockney High School Awards Ceremony in May. Interested students can obtain an application from Mrs. Lowe at the high school. In 1992 Jennifer Fortenberry, Jessica Lemons, Michelle Delgado and Chad Cook received scholarships totaling $2,000.00.

"The fishermen in Lockney can be proud of the scholarships that they have provided over the past five years and having a lot of fun doing it," stated Eddie Teeter.

He continued, "Chad Frizzell was the best fisherman last year! Who will it be for 1993? Let's all be there to find out.

"If you can't fish with us but want to donate to the scholarship fund you can contact a member of the board of directors: Claude Brown, Pat Frizzell, Bill Turner, Bill Race, Charles Ball or Eddie Teeter."

law of the bride, were maternal great-grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Fred (Buna) Crow of Morton; maternal grandmother, Mrs. Helen C. Smith of Tulsa; paternal grandmother, Mrs. P.L. (Amanda) Hart of Floydada; groom's maternal grandmother, Mrs. David (Mary) Lewis of Floydada; mother of the groom, Mrs. Linda Blackman of Amarillo; and mother of the bride, Mrs. David (Linda) Hart. A single red rose trimmed with lace marked the seating of the mothers.

As the groom stood waiting at the altar in his class A uniform, with best man Pvt. Scott Couch from California, also stationed at White Sands Missile Range, and the pastor, the pianist, Diane Mansell of Lubbock, aunt of the bride, played bridal selections.

Matron of honor Sallinda Ruff of Floydada, older sister of the bride, made her way down the aisle in her tea-length dress of satin designed with a white bodice and red sleeves and skirt. She wore white leather flats, her mother's pearl necklace, and paternal grandmother's pearl earrings. She carried a traditional bouquet of white and red silk roses trimmed with white rose streamers.

Ring bearer, David Ross Bennett of Floydada, six-year-old cousin of the groom, wore a white shirt and red tie with charcoal slacks. He carried a white satin pillow in the shape of a heart, decorated with rose patterned lace trimmed with white and red ribbon streamers and two rings tied with a bow.

Youngest sister to the bride, three-year-old Shaina Renae Hart as flower girl, made her presence known in a long waisted knee-length white dress with puff sleeves made of a rose patterned lace similar to the bride's dress. Trimmed with three red hearts, a symbol of the two separately with the third centered on top to show the two joined as one. In her long flowing blond curls she wore a clip of the three hearts. She ran down the aisle in red rose and white leather eyelet shoes that had originally been worn by the bride.

All stood as the bride made her appearance on the arm of her father in his navy suit with white shirt and red tie finished with a single red rosebud boutonniere. She carried a traditional bouquet of fresh white carnations and red sweetheart rosebuds and baby's breath trimmed with antique lace and red ribbon streamers. All were in awe as she came down the aisle, her long flowing curls of auburn-brown hair cascading over her shoulders almost covering the hand-beaded soft boat style neckline of the antique white rose patterned lace dress fashioned with princess style sleeves coming to a point at the back of her hand with a five tiered skirt flowing into a chapel train, the something old which had been given to her by a very special friend. Something new was the self designed, two tiered veil of shimmering tulle caught up into a gathered pouf made by her mother, and a pair of white leather two inch heels. Something blue was a garter of blue ribbon and white lace given to her by her older sister, Sallinda. Something borrowed came two fold, an antique pearl necklace and gold embellished pearl earrings from her paternal grandmother and pearl and sequin shoe clips, loaned by Sallinda.

After the pastor announced Mr. and Mrs. James Ritchie, all were invited to a reception in the fellowship hall after a few pictures of the bride and groom.

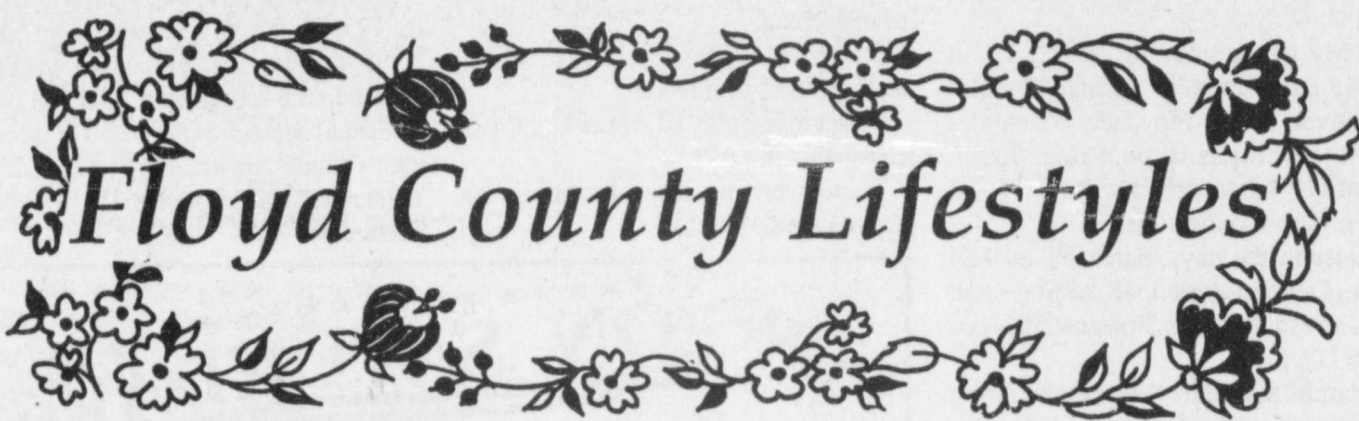

Down the hallway a table covered in lace over a red cloth set a picture of Sara and Jim, ages five and six, on either side were gifts, a set of carving knives from her mother and silver service for eight in a rose pattern with a case from her paternal grandmother, also a recent 8x10 photo of him and a photo of her at age six. Inside the reception hall, the bride's table was covered with a white rose patterned lace cloth, in the center sat a crystal bowl holding the bride's bouquet, to one side stood a cake of three tiers, held by crystal columns with red and white silk roses and baby's breath cascading from the centers around one side. The cake was topped with a heart made of hearts, two satin bells at the top with a single red rose above and below. The punch bowl had belonged to the groom's great-grandmother and was filled with a fruited punch. Cake and punch was served by cousins of the bride, Sherri Mansell of Lubbock and Jami Scott Thompson of Tulsa. The groom's table was draped in a Federal blue cloth set with chocolate cake, a silver dish of heart shaped chocolates covered with red foil, mixed nuts, mints and hot coffee served by cousins of the groom, Tiffany Bennett Billegas and Kristi Bennett, both of Floydada. The mother of the bride did a wonderful job of the cake, flowers, punch, decorations, and dresses in the three short weeks after they moved up the date and working full time too.

After changing to jeans in town the bride and groom left for two days in Lubbock to be together before he had to return to the base on Friday. After graduation this May from Floydada High School, they will be together in their first home in White Sand, New Mexico, on the base. He will be a part of the U.S. Army for some time subject to transfers even overseas, hopefully to Germany.

A wedding shower was held in their honor at the home of Cindy Dudley on Sunday, March 21, many guests sent gifts and came bearing gifts. Guests were served punch and cookies from a table covered in lace. A service of pots and pans were given by the hostesses that will be used for years to come as both the bride and groom are good cooks. They both wish to thank all who came or helped in any way from the bottom of their hearts.

Il Penseroso plans bridge tournament

By Cris Taylor

Il Penseroso Jr. Study Club met in the home of Pam Fulton on March 25. Co-hostesses for the evening were Julie Dorman and Sammie Setliff.

Members enjoyed Pat Frizzell's delicious recipe of Spaghetti Pizza, along with french bread, salad and chocolate cake for dessert. Julie Dorman informed everyone when they asked for the recipe, and almost everyone did, that it could be found in the Centennial Cookbook.

President Rise Ford called the meeting to order with secretary Melody Wiley reading the minutes of the last meeting and then roll call. Treasurer Heather Stowe gave the monthly treasurer's report and the meeting continued. Rise announced that club member Kellie Brown has handed in her resignation. The bridge tournament will be on Saturday, April 3, in the Lockney Community Center starting at 10:00 a.m. A sign-up sheet for salads, cakes and door prizes was passed around.

Club member must have a salad or cake along with a door prize to the center by 10:00 a.m.

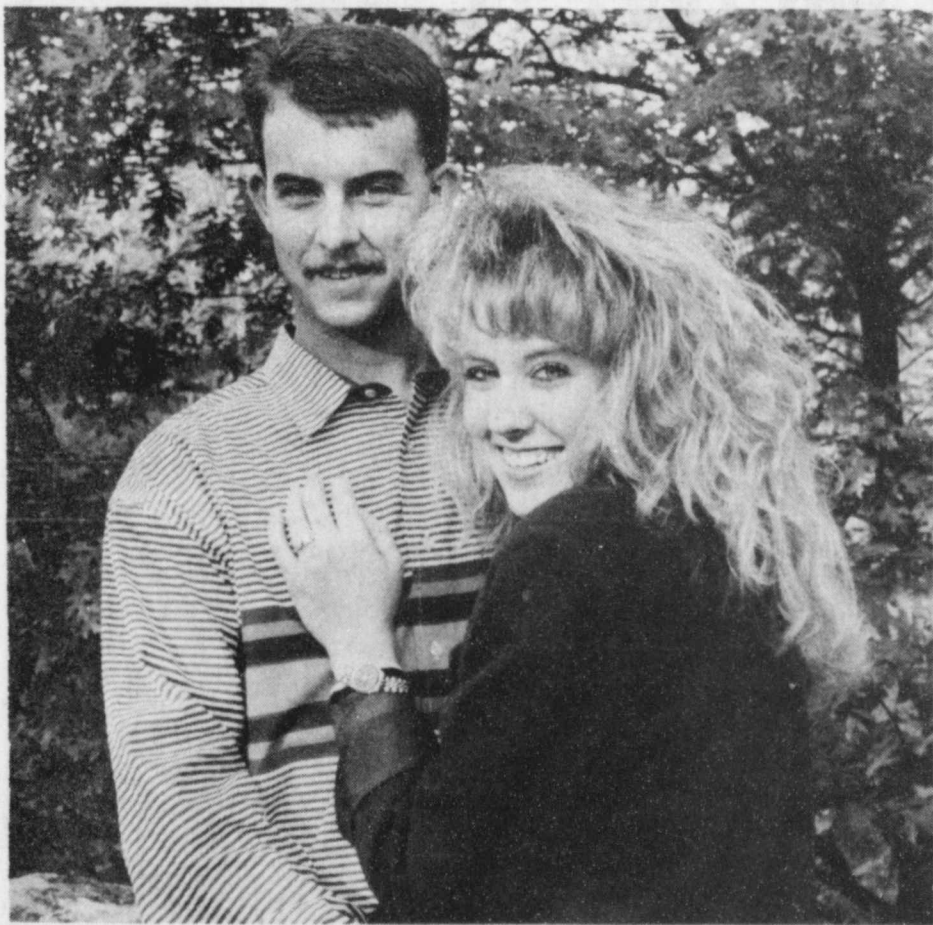

Members voted in favor of having our ever famous "Lemonade Stand" at this year's Old Settlers Reunion. The lemonade promises to be our best ever, so come on over and quench your thirst on Saturday, May 29, on the courthouse lawn in Floydada.

A discussion was next concerning a re-order of the club's Centennial Cookbook. The Floyd County Museum has expressed an interest in obtaining some for their customers. No decision was made on the issue at this time.

Club members were asked to start thinking of officers for next year. Elections will be held at the April 22 meeting. The meeting was then adjourned and Secret Pal gifts were handed out.

The next club meeting will be on April 8 in the home of Dana Wright. Club members present were: Cindy Cotham, Julie Dorman, Julie Ellison, Rise Ford, Shawnda Foster, Pam Fulton, Tracy Long, Dena Reece, Lori Satterwhite, Sammie Setliff, Karla Stapp, Michealle Stennett, Heather Stowe, Victory Stuart, Cris Taylor, Kim Teeter, Melody Wiley, Tami Wofford, Dana Wright and Kathy Young.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

By Jo Bryant

Hi there! Glad we all survived the hail storm, some had broken windows and car damage. The residents were all safe. Since Spring is here, guess we can expect the rain and storms.

Monday started the week as usual with Bro. Clark Williams giving the devotional and Irene Wexler playing the piano for us. At 2 p.m. the residents painted ceramics. Ruby Hobbs, Neva Calahan, Knox Jameson, Henry Willis, Lennie Willis and Kermit Glover all participated in this project.

Tuesday the residents had a sing-along and music. At 2:30 they planted some flower seeds. Most of them were farmers or had gardens so they enjoyed planting.

Wednesday was Bingo. Mrs. Ruby Hobbs had the first Bingo. Mary Alice Davis assisted the residents. Bananas, candy and cheese snacks were the treats.

Thursday the residents saw a video tape on "Texas" and national parks. Also enjoyed some popcorn. Fr. Ricardo shared the word at 10:30 a.m.

Friday, Lorene Newberry from the First Baptist Church gave the devotional and Mrs. Randall Griffin played the piano. No bus ride, as Grace had to go to a workshop. The residents played games, and dominoes. Thanks City Park Church of Christ for coming on Sunday.

Our love and sympathy go out to the family of Pauline Faulkenberry and Bessma Hamilton. We will miss you.

We welcome three new residents, Minnie Faye Easter, Luis Arrendondo and Robert Holt.

Remember to set your clock 1 hour forward Sunday (Palm Sunday) so you won't be late for church.

Thought:

I wish you roses
Without the thorns.
Quiet nights,
And gentle morn's.
Evening jasmine,
And lilac days.
Simple sentences,
That heap on praise.
All of this
I wish you way.
Along with Jesus
To bless your day.

8th graders earn visit from author

Louis Sachar, author of children's books, paid a visit to Lockney Junior High School March 26 to congratulate and give words of encouragement to future writers and winners of a Caprock Area Writing Project.

In the fall of 1992, Dr. Shirley Koeller, Director of the Caprock Area Writing Project, based at Texas Tech University, (an affiliate of the National Writing Project) announced a writing contest for students in this area. Students were asked to write in response to any of Louis Sachar's books.

Linda Terrell's 7th grade Reading class and her 8th Language Arts classes met this challenge. The day after Christmas holidays, they began reading Sideways Stories From Wayside School.

For six weeks they buried themselves in writing in response to Sachar's book. Writing modes included, Poetry, Social Letters, Family Trees, Excuses, Fluency Drills, Stories, Shaped Writings, The-saurus Drills, Book Reviews, Posters, and TAAS Story Mapping.

They concluded their romance with Wayside School by creating a 6 foot Graffiti sign. This was done on the hall floor.

They wrote as if they were Wayside students inside Sachar's book. The Graffiti sign was folded into a tube and the writings were bound in a book entitled 47 Students and One Teacher's Excellent Adventure. The book was covered with cloth by student Amy Anderson and her mom Anne.

In March, word was received that Lockney Junior High eighth graders had won the honor of having a visit by Sachar. He flew in from his home in Austin, on Friday, to visit with the students.

"My students and I applaude the Caprock Area Writing Project for bringing Louis Sachar to us," said Language Arts teacher Linda Terrell.

"Sachar is witty, intelligent and sensitive, all wrapped into one. For my students, meeting him will encourage a continued love of language. Perhaps one of them will someday be an author too."

Terrell says that she has used Sideways Stories From Wayside School in her 7th grade Reading Improvement for several years. After receiving word of the writing contest and a possible visit from Sachar, Terrell decided to have the eighth grade Language Arts read the book too.

"Wayside appeals to all ages," said Terrell. "It brought out the 'child' in my teenagers. The book carried them back to a day when their life was less complicated. They laughed and enjoyed. I think Wayside's humor played a positive role in their rushed, often stressed filled world."

Baseball team defeats Bovina

The Lockney Longhorn Baseball team defeated Bovina by a score of 14-4. Lockney has advanced to 4 wins and 1 loss with this win.

After a difficult first inning pitcher, Alfred Martinez, settled down and pitched his first complete game of the year. He improved his record to 2-1 by allowing only 3 hits and striking out 12.

Lockney scored 14 runs on 11 hits and took advantage of Bovina's errors. The Longhorns started the game by scoring 5 runs in the first inning. Tanner Johnson started the inning by reacting on a Bovina error. Alfred Martinez and Carlos Raisse then loaded the bases by drawing a pair of base-on-balls. A two RBI single by Jared Mosley and a RBI single by Andy Stapp provided Lockney with a 5-2 lead after one inning.

Lockney added four more runs in the bottom of the fifth to take a 9-4 lead. A pair of base-on-balls by Tanner Johnson and Leo Vargas provided Lockney with baserunners and Carlos Raisse brought them home with a single to right field.

The Longhorns scored five more runs in the bottom of the sixth to finish the game on the 10 run rule. Singles by Andy Stapp and Jared Mosley and a BB by David Luna loaded the bases for Lockney. RBI singles by Tanner Johnson and Alfred Martinez provided Lockney with the 14-4 victory.

The Best That We Can Be In '93

By Annett Garcia

This week we would like to put our FHS senior spotlight on one of our more pleasant and hardworking seniors, Jason Owens.

Jason is the son of Joyce and Jimmy Owens and the big brother of Dustin, and James. He has attended school here for 13 years.

JASON OWENS

Many people may be acquainted with Jason for his work at Pay-n-Save, his after school job.

Jason is involved with the Boy Scouts and will soon become an Eagle Scout, (the highest position for a scout). He is also a member of the First Baptist Church Choir.

Jason's favorite television show is "Quantum Leap", and more than likely if he were to choose a favorite movie to watch, it would be "Terminator II". Jason enjoys his computer class the most and reading and collecting comic books are among his hobbies. He also enjoys listening to groups like Guns 'n' Roses, and Firehouse.

Two things that interested me most about Jason were how opinionated he is about our school. He believes that spirit for the football team needs to be boosted. This is a great point. He also feels that he would like to see more care for the school itself.

If Jason could choose any occupation, he would become an astronaut. He would also like to meet the famous Neil Armstrong one day.

Jason's future plans are to attend South Plains College in Levelland to attain his basics and is as of now uncertain of a major. Helpful hint if I may: Astronomy!

Our next senior in the spotlight is Brad Jackson, the son of Linda and Cecil Jackson. He has attended school here for 13 years.

He is involved with the Future Farmers of America this year and has previously been on the football team.

Brad collects guns and knives and enjoys hunting as his hobby. His favorite T.V. show is "Cheers", and his favorite subject in school is Government.

"Bud", as many of his peers may refer to him, enjoys playing the drums and going out on the weekends with his friends.

Brad's future plans consist of going to college either at Clarendon or Tarleton. He is aiming to have a better life for himself.

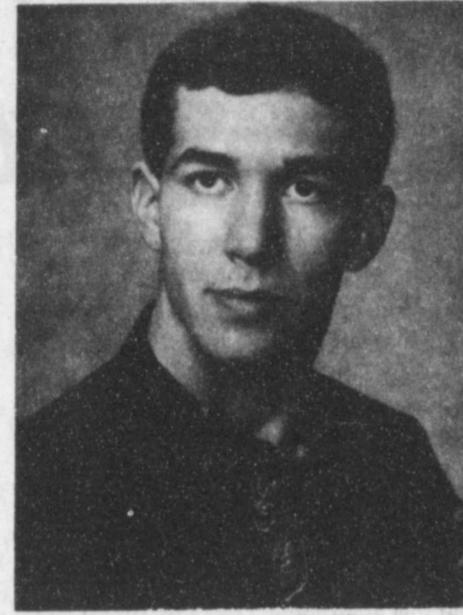

Zane Colston is our last senior in the spotlight this week. He is the son of Sherry and Billy Colston. He has attended school here in Floydada for eight years and previously attended school at Dougherty. Zane has been active in FFA this year.

During the summer you will often find Zane working on a farm, or ranch. He is often busy all year long because he is working constantly.

Zane enjoys roping and shooting as his hobbies when he has the time.

This San Antonio native likes relaxing and having fun. He is most happy when he enjoys a peaceful morning under the Caprock.

Zane's future plans consist of attending Clarendon College and pursuing his career in ranching.

Galloway serves communities through metal trades classes

By Ann R. Moore
Texas Tech Journalism Student

Three-tiered corner shelves, benches, coffee tables, and carts - all black metal - stand to the left side of the huge room that is the metal trades class room.

Surrounded by welding machines, long pieces of metal, and a chalkboard tucked in one corner of the expanse of the room is Al Galloway and his Metal Works Co-op class at Floydada High School. "Mr. G," as his students call him, teaches one class of eighth grade students; high school students fill his remaining classes, 21 students now.

Metal trades classes started 26 years ago in a building a little larger than a boxcar, Galloway says. A little later the class used a bigger area in the school where the Floyd County Day Care Center is located. The class moved into the current building three years ago, and better ventilation is now being installed in the room.

Students from Lockney and Floydada attend classes. Galloway starts them on the stick welders, adds the spot welders and progresses through the equipment. Skills are learned.

Welding skills are taught, but other

Students learn to work cooperatively with each other, learn how to take written and oral instructions, learn and practice safety measures. Students also have access to computer classes.

Some people say Galloway has a special way of encouraging students to finish high school.

Galloway says, "Any class that would help prepare a student for a job helps keep them in school."

He talks of a former student who owns his own fence company in El Paso, employing several people. When he comes to town, the young man stops and visits Mr. G.

Galloway uses peer training to get a point across that the students may not immediately understand. He says a student can get through to another student when or where a teacher sometimes cannot.

"One of my most rewarding experiences is having the co-op class come from Lockney," he says. "Their parents are interested and the students are well behaved."

"I appreciate the people in the community," he says. "I love both communi-

Galloway and his students traveled to Amarillo for the District 3 contest, Feb. 26-27, with 17 projects. The class won 17 first-place ribbons.

District, regional and state contests are expensive to attend, Galloway says. So he tries to watch where he takes his students. A parent usually drives a pickup truck and pulls a trailer loaded with class projects. Contests are held across the state, including Corpus Christi, Galveston and Houston.

Galloway says, "District 3, as far as vocational training goes, is the strongest district in the state of Texas."

On April 23-24, Lubbock hosts a state contest in the Municipal Coliseum.

As with most schools, they need more funding. Should more funding materialize, a computerized machine lathe tops the wish list.

Galloway grins and waves his hand toward four or five smaller projects the class worked on with only oral instructions.

"I don't have to do this," Galloway says. "I love it."

It shows, Mr. G, it shows.

'I Remember Mrs. Murff'

(Editor's Note: The following story was submitted by Don C. Green of Big Spring. He had recently received notice that Mrs. Vaughn Murff had passed away. Green was a former "pupil" of Murff and wrote this tribute to her. We thought other "Murff pupils" would enjoy it.)

By Don C. Green
'One of Her Pupils'

"It was the best of times—" Charles Dickens, A TALE OF TWO CITIES. Probably one trait common to all members of the human race is that tendency, as we grow older, to look back at the times when we were growing up, and selectively remember and reflect on the good things while barely recalling the bad.

I grew up in the Center Community in Floyd County in the 1930's and early 1940's, and to me those are still "the best of times".

Yes, those were the years of The Depression ("—the worst of times—" Dickens continues); but to farm families with loving homes and big gardens and good neighbors, they didn't seem so bad. And one of the things I enjoyed most was going to school at Center, with my schoolmates and good teachers.

I always had good teachers. The most memorable of these, to me, was my teacher for the first three years, Mrs. P.B. (Vaughan) Murff.

Mrs. Murff was truly a dedicated teacher. This is not to say that her life was one of unprecedented nobility and unparalleled self-sacrifice; there are thousands of excellent teachers in this country today (and there were many in the thirty or so schools in Floyd County then) who do fine and honorable things every day in the course of their jobs—the "thousand points of light" thing.

I have always admired the country preachers, and the farmers and ranchers who served as school board members, who saw to it that we had good teachers—but most of all I admire and respect those who were country school teachers.

Mrs. Murff made me feel that I was important, that I mattered, and that she expected good things of me. And I tried, really hard, not to disappoint her. After all, she liked me! Years later, I came to realize that she liked all of her pupils; it was one of the main reasons she was such a good teacher.

Let me pause to explain why I refer to myself as one of Mrs. Murff's "pupils" rather than as a "student". The word student implies action by one, the one who studies; one can be a student without even having a teacher. But the word Pupil implies an interaction between the one who teaches and one who learns. One of the definitions in my dictionary says a pupil is "one who has been taught or influenced by a person of fame or distinction".

Ah, yes, we were her pupils!

Mrs. Murff was a slender woman, about average height, with two outstanding physical characteristics. First, one entire side of her face and neck was covered by a deep purple birthmark. It did not detract from her appearance; in fact, it made her even more beautiful. Yes, she was a beautiful lady.

As marvelous as that purple face was, it was not Mrs. Murff's most outstanding physical trait; the most striking thing about her physically, was her voice. She had the clearest, sweetest, most melodic voice that I have ever heard, before or since. When her pupils came back into her room after an hour of hard play at noon, she had us all sit quietly and she read to us.

I can still hear her voice, clear as a crystal bell, reading stories, poems, and even books (a few pages a day). We listened to Hans Brinker, or, The Silver Skates, and formed mental pictures of Hans and his sister skating along the frozen canals of Holland; or saw "the crosses, row on row, in Flanders Field." We learned to read, and to love to read, from Mrs. Murff.

I remember Mr. Murff, too. He was a disabled veteran of the World War who had suffered severe and grievous wounds. As a result he had two unusual physical characteristics of his own. He had a scar running from one corner of his mouth back to his ear lobe, where his cheek had literally been torn open; and he had "a silver plate in his stomach" the result of repairing massive wounds to his torso.

Before I ever saw Mr. Murff, before I even started school, my older brothers had solemnly informed me that Mr. Murff "had a silver plate in his stomach".

I never knew how big that silver plate was, but I formed my own mental image of a large platter-like shell like a knight's shield, completely covering him under the skin from neck to groin and from one side to the other. This image was reinforced and verified when I first saw him and noted that he had a quite bulky torso, and that he was completely unable to bend or even twist at the waist!

Mr. Murff was very quiet and was always very friendly. On days when bad weather kept us in at noon, he brought their lunch up from the teacherage, and he and Mrs. Murff ate their lunch together while watching us eat our lunches and then play at the sand table, the library table, the blackboard, or at our desks. And when it was pretty, he sometimes umpired our softball games. After all, he had a built-in chest protector!

Mrs. Murff was very proud of her sister, Hester West, who was a missionary to China; and she kept us informed as to how she was, and what she had been doing, and so on. We came to feel that Hester was one of our school family. Later, when Hester was imprisoned by the Japanese, we grieved; still later we rejoiced when the war was over, she was freed, and she returned to Floydada.

Many of us came to Floydada's First Methodist Church one Sunday evening to hear her tell of her experiences—she

Preparations begin for boll weevil program

By Shawn Wade
Preparations are now well underway for the start of the 1993 High Plains Boll Weevil Control Program, according to Roger Haldenby, Boll Weevil Program Coordinator for Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers (PCG). The PCG program will begin its 30th year of operation April 1 with the placement of traplines inside and outside the PCG control zone.

The traplines serve three important functions. Firstly, to give a comparison of the effectiveness of the 1992 program with previous years; secondly, to monitor emerging boll weevil populations and indicate the potential threat for 1993; thirdly, the traplines provide up-to-date data to help county extension agents and county committees develop uniform planting dates.

In addition to using traplines to monitor weevil survival, PCG will also be utilizing a newly completed computer-based, "Boll Weevil Survival and Prediction Model." The computer model was developed by Dr. Don Rummel of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station (TAES) in Lubbock, Dr. Jeff Slosser TAES Vernon, Extension Entomologist Dr. Tom Fuchs of San Angelo, and Dr. Nick Stone with Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Blacksburg, Virginia.

Haldenby commented that both the computer model predictions and early observations indicate the potential for high boll weevil survival.

"We had a few cold spells this past winter" notes Haldenby. "But unfortunately, temperatures at the two-inch depth only reached the freezing mark on two or three days."

The program will continue evaluation of alternative control methods and technologies.

A pilot project will look at the feasibility of using satellite photography to identify and map cotton fields inside the control zone.

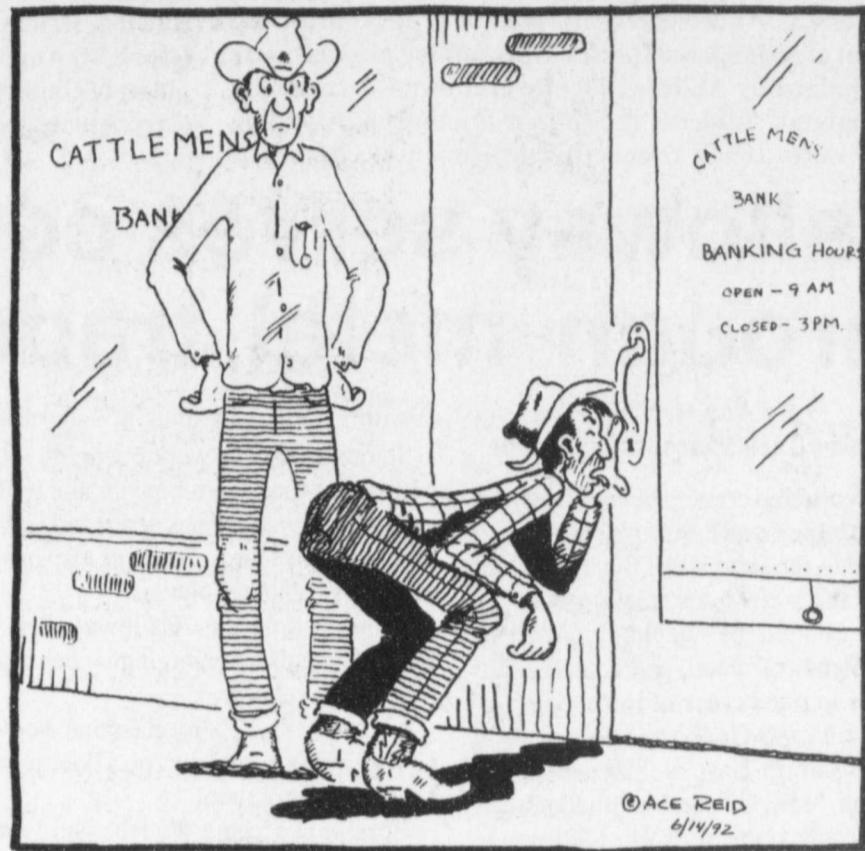

"We will continue to conduct our operation in the most efficient, economical and effective ways possible," states Haldenby. "Recent passage of enabling legislation for a Boll Weevil Eradication Program to be organized in Texas will have very little effect on the way the High Plains control program is administered."

High Plains producers can rest easy in the knowledge that PCG will continue to stop the weevil from getting established in this area. "PCG's suppression program will remain until the boll weevil no longer poses a threat to cotton producers on the High Plains," says Haldenby.

Texas Cotton Producers Inc. (TCP) is finalizing an eradication plan for the state and is preparing a petition to Commissioner of Agriculture Rick Perry for creation of a statewide Boll Weevil Eradication Foundation.

A Farm Wife's Prayer for Faith

By Mrs. VaDonna Jean Leaf
Hamilton County, Iowa

Dear God,
This morning at breakfast the bacon and egg platter was greasy and it slipped from my hand. It knocked over a glass of milk, upset the juice pitcher, and one runny egg fell in the sugar bowl.

I'm afraid I acted badly. My son laughed and said, "Don't blow your cool, Mom!"

But God, I'm afraid I do blow my cool too often. I get this uptight frustrated feeling. It seems nothing goes right. Sometimes I feels like running out to the back 40 where nobody can hear me and screaming.

The bills mount up. We'd counted on the hogs to stretch over all our needs, but the market fell as rain drops beating on a window.

The check wasn't big enough to go around and that means I can't get my new drapes and Bob can't make all the payments on his new tractor. I know Karin wants new clothes and Chad is hoping for a tape recorder for his birthday. All these things we can't have because of that darned hog market!

It isn't just money that ties me all up in knots either, God. It's little things, too, like Ricky outgrowing his naps when I need that rest time.

And Karin not wearing the skirt I made her because she imagines it makes her hips look fat. At 103 pounds! And Debbie not wanting to go to school because she hates P.E. with such a purple passion.

I've noticed gray hairs, too, God. Bob thinks his best cow has hardware disease, and now I've found half the green beans I canned last summer are spoiling. When all these things get lumped together it makes such a big pile that I can't see over the top.

What should I do? What can I do with all these frustrations and upsets and nervous feelings?

What's the secret
I sit here by my window tonight and see the sky dark with only a few star windows shining, God, and I'm glad for You and Your Son.

How many times He had reason to feel like blowing His cool. Yet He remained serene. Is there a secret, God? Is it because He kept His eyes on You?

Now a thought comes to me. He came as our example that we should follow His steps.

If I followed in the steps of Your Son, how should I walk? I should walk with my thoughts fixed on things above so that little things here seems less important. I should walk in prayer even as He had constant communion with You.

He knew the scriptures, too, so I should study my Bible. He trusted You, God, so I should seek to know Your will and abide in it.

As I sit here, God, a little bird flew into the branches of a tree outside the window, and now he has tucked his head beneath the feathers of his wing.

I remember a verse in Psalms 91:4 "He shall cover thee with his feathers, and under his wings shalt thou trust..."

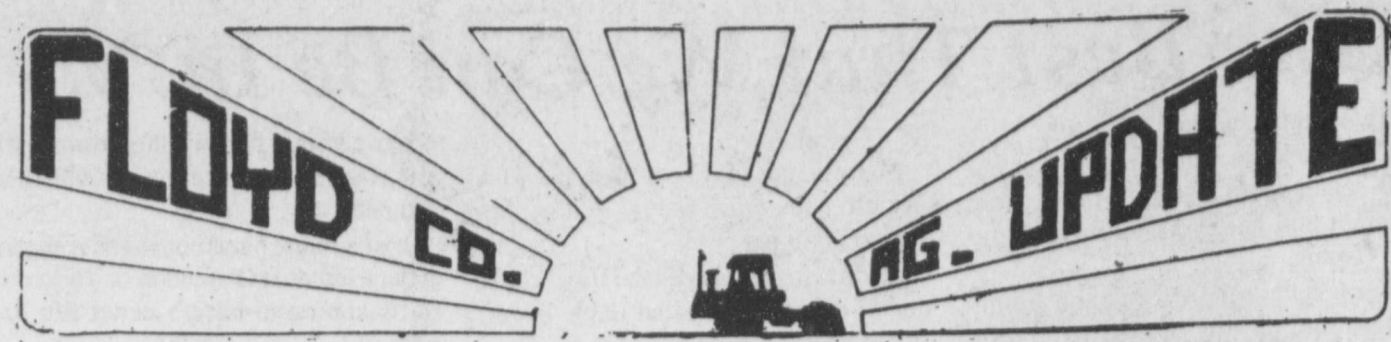

How sweet to think of myself covered with soft protecting feathers and resting under Your wing, God, knowing you care for me and will guide me through the various circumstances of my life.

I feel better now, having talked to you and shared my thoughts and worries with You. I am going to bed and sleep well, and I'm going to try to follow in His steps. God please help me. Show me how. Lead me. Hold my hand.

Tour visits winter nursery in Mexico

By Shawn Wade
"More bang for your buck" is what members of the Plains Cotton Improvement Committee (PCIC) agree that High Plains producers are getting following a visit to Mexico March 6-11. The trip allowed PCIC members to tour the winter nursery of cotton breeder Dr. John Gannaway according to Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers (PCG).

Committee members, who paid their own travel expenses for the trip, were unanimous in the belief that good things are happening through the use of the Mexican facility.

"By having this facility available we are definitely speeding up the development process," says PCIC Chairman

Myrl Mitchell. "The Mexico facility provides an excellent opportunity for the Plains Cotton Improvement Program to cut the development time of new varieties significantly by allowing Dr. Gannaway to make two crops in a single year."

The cotton nursery, located at a Mexican agriculture research station about 30 miles from Manzanillo, Mexico, is open to all public and private seed breeders and is sponsored by the National Cotton Council (NCC).

At the nursery, committee members viewed some 300 breeding lines being developed by Dr. Gannaway including seed increase plots of lines that survived the 1992 season in good condition plus a number of experimental crosses between High Plains varieties and cotton from France, the Sudan and Mali in Africa.

Committee members were also given the opportunity to meet and visit with Mr. Wes Malloy who works for the NCC in Mexico overseeing the nursery facility.

In addition to Dr. John Gannaway and the PCIC members making the trip several PCG Board members also paid their way to Mexico. PCIC members and PCG Directors making the trip were: PCIC Chairman Myrl D. Mitchell of Lenora; Dale Swinburn of Tulia; Bobby Nelson of Littlefield; PCG President Wayne Huffaker; Steve Verett of Ralls; and Bob Dumas of Brownfield.

The basic thrust of SpecTra '93 and Prime Time '93 will be upon improving leadership skills, enhancing 4-H project work, and building self-esteem and a better self-image.

Prime Time and SpecTra are the two camps available. The age limits are: SpecTra - no younger than 14 and no older than 18 on August 1, 1993; Prime Time #1 - no younger than 9 and no older than 11 on July 18, 1993; Prime Time #2 - no younger than 9 and no older than 11 on July 21, 1993; Prime Time #3 - no younger than 12 and no older than 3 on July 24, 1993; Prime Time #4 - no younger than 9 and no older than 13 on July 28, 1993.

Prime Time is designed for 4-H'ers 9-13 years of age. An investment in the 4-H'er, Prime Time concentrates on educational and recreational experiences that are out-of-the-ordinary. The total cost of the four day event is $69. This includes all meals, lodging, refreshments and limited accident insurance coverage.

Parents can be involved too! There are openings for adults who want to come to Prime Time. Adults are recruited to serve as Staff Leaders and work alongside the counselors and County Extension Agents to create a safe, fun, positive educational experience for the 4-H members.

There are positions for 10 women and eight men in each of the four statewide sessions. The cost for a Staff Leader is $37. Counties may send only one man and one woman Staff Leader per session. If you are interested in being a Staff Leader, just fill out an application and check the appropriate box. Adult positions are filled on a first-come, first-serve basis.

The other camp opportunity is SpecTra, a camp that is designed for 4-H'ers 14-18 years of age. Designed for excellence, SpecTra '93 offers 4-H members a unique educational experience: project enhancement, leadership development, self-image enrichment and career exploration. Learn, develop and expand project skills in company with outstanding people at the Texas 4-H Center. There are 10 project areas from which to choose. Five hours of training per day enable participants to develop new insights, expand appreciation in their chosen area, and develop materials and skills in educating others about these topics and issues. Discover a new dimension of yourself and your abilities and experience a new dimension of 4-H: Live SpecTra at the Texas 4-H Center.

Cost for SpecTra '93 will be $130 for all project areas. An advance deposit of $30 is required with all applications. Any person replacing an accepted applicant must attend the project area for which that applicant is registered. No substitutions will be accepted after July 26, 1993.

Project areas to choose from include: Consumer Life Skills, Field and Stream, Advanced Computers, Entomology, Public Speaking, Recreation, Video Production, Canoeing and Sailing, Conflict Resolution/Mediation, and Agricultural Enterprises.

First United Methodist Church begins revival Sunday morning

The First United Methodist Church of Lockney will begin their revival on Sunday morning, April 4 and conclude on Wednesday evening, April 7. Wesley Daniel of Breckenridge will be the visiting preacher and Robbie Hawkins of Hart will be leading the singing.

Services are scheduled for 10:30 Sunday morning, 6:00 Sunday evening, 7:00 a.m. and 7:00 p.m. Monday through Friday. An after-glow will follow each evening service and a nursery will be provided for all evening services plus Sunday morning.

The pastor Tommie Beck extends an invitation on behalf of the church to everyone.

This four county "All Kids Count" task force is one of 14 in the South Plains and Panhandle region of Texas. The "All Kids Count" project is a grant funded program to develop a plan to link health care facilities and physicians with a regional computerized database network to monitor the immunization status of preschool children.

The average rate of immunization for communities in this region is 58%. The goal is to increase the rate to 98% and lower the incidence of vaccine preventable disease.

Members of the task force from Floyd County include Frances Miller, Floydada ISD, Billie Jordan, RN, and Phil Cotham, Principal, Lockney ISD.

The needs assessment will enable the task force to determine where gaps exist in children's health care services. The providers survey will tell them what primary health care services are available for children. The information provided by the health care community will be used to develop a directory of children's health care services.

The purpose of this meeting is to discuss the process of distributing and collecting questionnaires within the four county area. The task force will distribute Needs Assessment questionnaires to parents of young children. Provider questionnaires will be given to administrators of health care facilities and physicians in private or group practice.

Sen. John Montford to assume reins of Texas Governor Apr. 24

The state's capitol city will take on a distinct West Texas flavor the weekend of April 24th when State Senator John T. Montford, D-Lubbock, becomes Governor for a day.

Sen. Montford's colleagues honored his decade of distinguished service to the Texas Senate in January by electing him President Pro Tempore of the Senate. Under state law, Sen. Montford will assume the governor's chair that date because Gov. Ann Richards and Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock both will be out of the state.

In keeping with a long-standing tradition, a two-day celebration to commemorate the occasion is being planned by Sen. Montford's friends throughout the sprawling 28th Senatorial District. This truly will be a celebration of the people of West Texas. Sen. Montford would like to extend an invitation to all the residents of his district as well as his friends from around the state to attend.

Festivities will commence in earnest on the evening of April 23rd. A "28th Senatorial District Charity Bash" will be held from 8-11 p.m. on the arena floor of the Frank Erwin Center at the University of Texas, highlighted by the dancing music of the Original Texas Playboys.

A variety of West Texas talent will provide entertainment during Saturday's festivities.

A barbecue luncheon will begin at 1 p.m. on the Capitol grounds and special tours of the Governor's Mansion and the Capitol extension will be 2-4 p.m. The cost of the luncheon is $15 per person. All other public events are free.

A calendar of events are as follows:

I Remember Mrs. Murff

was a community hero! But I tell you, to Mrs. Murff's pupils, (and we realize it more and more the older we get) Mrs. Murff was a hero of equal stature and is deserving of equal praise for her life and work.

Over the years I have tried to thank Mrs. Murff, when I saw her, for all that she did for me. I wish I could have told her just once more, before she died.

So now, again, thank you, Mrs. Murff. And to the other teachers I had at Center, let me thank you again, too, before it is too late: Faye Marble, now Mrs. Son Jackson of Floydada; Mr. R.L. Glenn (he didn't just put on plays, he produced Musicals!); Mr. Thomas L. Collins; and my teacher the last two years I attended Center School, a young man from Cedar Hill, Mr. George Taylor (who is now serving his second term as a Floyd County Commissioner).

Mr. Taylor, like Mrs. Murff, instilled in me a sense of self-worth. And he encouraged me, both at Center and again in 1948 when I began my own teaching career at Lockney High School. After school I sometimes stopped by his place of business in town, and I always got a big grin and words of encouragement. Thanks, Mr. Taylor, and all the others; but especially, thank you, Mrs. Murff.

At a Center-Fairview community reunion several years ago, I overheard a comment to the effect that Mrs. Murff never had any children of her own. Nonsense! Mrs. Murff had scores, even hundreds, of children; and few parents ever loved, or were loved, more.

We have lost one of our greatest heroes; and we, her pupils, will miss her.
