Floydada awarded new landfill permit

By Alice Gilroy

FLOYDADA—After five years of frustrating and time consuming effort the new landfill will soon become a reality in Floydada. In a Texas Water Commission meeting in Austin, April 28, the landfill permit for the City of Floydada was approved.

"We are looking at having the new landfill in operation by October 1, 1993," said City Manager Gary Brown. "We have to be out of the old landfill by that time because of stringent requirements."

There remains a few things that have to be done before the landfill will open. "Until we receive the arid exemptions it will not be economically feasible for us to open," said Brown. "To get the exemptions we must prove we receive less than 20 tons of waste a day, we receive less than 25" of rain on a yearly average and there is no contamination of underground water."

According to Brown all of these qualifications have been proved and the city has submitted the arid exemption application to the Water Commission.

The arid exemptions allow the city to eliminate having to put liners in the landfill, provide for leachate collection and treatment and water monitor wells. "We've probably saved approximately $150,000 yearly with these exemptions," said Brown. "If we didn't have them we wouldn't have opened."

The process of opening a new landfill began in April of 1988 when the engineers started working on putting an application together.

"We first submitted an application in 1988 asking for permission to expand our original landfill site," said Brown. After a lot of additional request and more studies costing the city more money at every turn, the Texas Water Commission advised the city in 1991 to withdraw the application for expansion and submit an application for a new site.

"They convinced us to withdraw our original application because of post closure requirements. The Texas Water Commission felt that the upcoming rules would state we would have to monitor our old landfill for 30 years after we closed it. Instead we applied for a new site (the same area and same requirements) but now the old landfill would only have to be monitored for five years after closure."

When the battle first began for the city they were faced with a variety of problems, the most frustrating being that of contending with government agencies that couldn't make up their minds what the rules would be for landfill permit approval.

After every permit application the city would be asked for further study which cost more money.

"When we originally started looking into this," said Brown, "The EPA was telling all the communities they would have to line their landfills with synthetic liners and have monitor wells to test the water annually."

"Because of the problems being created for small West Texas towns an organization was formed to do battle with the Environmental Protection Agency. The Sparsely Populated Entities Coalition, known as SPEC, consisting of towns from West Texas to the Oklahoma Panhandle went to work convincing EPA and the Water Commission that many of the upcoming regulations were not necessary for the West Texas and panhandle areas."

"The City of Floydada is part of SPEC," said Brown. "In my opinion joining SPEC was a very good investment." "They did their homework and got the job done."

According to Brown, the preliminary plans for the landfill will be to serve the Floyd County area if arrangements can be worked out with the City of Lockney. Below is a brief outline of the order of events the City of Floydada took in obtaining the landfill:

- * 12-14-88—Submitted initial application for landfill expansion;
- * 1-23-89—City received TWC review and requested additional information;
- * 2-7-89—City submits additional information;

- * 6-15-90—The City submits ground water study;
- * 9-6-90—An engineer, the mayor and city manager meet with TDH staff at Austin. TDH request more information;

- * 4-28-93—Permit approved at T.W.C. public hearing in Austin.

Russell ends 24 years of council service

By Alice Gilroy

Mayor Wayne Russell will soon be going into "semi-retirement" ending 24 years of city council service when he turns the gavel over to newly elected mayor, Hulon Carthel.

"I decided not to run again because I knew I was leaving the city in good hands," said Russell. "I couldn't have picked a better time to leave. The city is in good financial shape and they have a good city manager and upcoming mayor to take care of things. If we had had big problems which had not been settled I would have felt bad about leaving."

Russell looks back on his years with the city council with a great deal of pride—and with good reason. Many large projects have been undertaken in his tenure and they have all been brought to a satisfactory conclusion.

When elected to the city council in 1968, Russell and the other council members were faced with a variety of problems. In debt and not sure which way to turn, Russell credits Mayor Jimmy Seay and Seay's "good business mind" with getting the city back on its feet.

"I believe Seay did more for the finances of the city than any mayor has done," said Russell. "We were in debt when he was elected and he immediately started working on our financial situation. He convinced us to move our money from Dallas Mercantile to the First National Bank in Floydada where we could draw more interest and invest locally. We gradually began to get out of debt."

Russell served two terms after being elected in 1968 and then decided not to run again. However, after one year off the council he was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Councilman Boone Adams in 1973.

In 1974 Russell was elected to the position and was reelected every two years.

In 1991 Russell was appointed Mayor to fill the unexpired term of Parnell Powell. He was then elected as Mayor for a two year term ending in 1993. He holds the record for serving the most years on the city council, as councilman and mayor combined.

"The first big project I remember as councilman," said Russell, "came around 1970. We used to have the old style garbage pickups from the trash barrels the people burned their trash in. We traveled all over and studied the trash pickup methods used by other small towns and in 1972 we had dumpsters installed for trash disposal. We were the first town in West Texas to be 100% containerized. We cut our labor force down from 12 to 2."

"Our next big project in the early '70's, under Mayor Parnell Powell, was the Mackenzie Lake Project. Four towns joined together to build a dam for future water supply in years to come."

Also in the '70's, Russell remembers the building of a new fire hall. "We also purchased two new fire trucks while I've been on the council," said Russell. "I'm very proud of our fire department. It is one of the most modern buildings in this part of the country and our volunteer fire department is known all over Texas."

In the early '80's a lot of worrying and "head scratching" was created while the city contemplated going to computers for office work. "It was hard getting some people convinced that we needed to go to computers," said Russell. "Now everything is on computers and the office is in tip top shape."

The 80's also brought changes in the way power was supplied to the city. "We built a line to connect to the SPS substation south of town," said Russell. "It proved to be cheaper to purchase their power than to generate our own because of the high cost of fuel. Ever since I have been on the council we have made money from the sale of electricity. We can carry a full load with our generator and we have a backup with our own plant."

The landfill fight was the biggest headache for Russell. "It took five years to get that permit and I give most of the credit to our city manager, Gary Brown. He has done a tremendous job."

"We are the only town between Borger and Snyder who has a landfill. With the arid exemptions we will be able to keep our prices way below what it would cost if it went to Lubbock or Plainview."

The last project that has been started during Russell's term has been the addition to City Hall. He won't be able to see this one through.

"We have been putting money back for two years and with the next budget year we will be able to pay cash for the new city hall. We have outgrown this space and we badly need a new building. The addition will cost $120,000 and we will pay cash for it."

In remembering 24 years of service to the city, Russell is most proud of the fact that the city has been on a cash basis for 4-5 years and there has been no tax increase.

"We can now pay cash for whatever we buy," said Russell. "We are debt free with money in the bank and our taxes are still 40¢ per $100 per valuation. I credit a good city council and good city managers with this good management."

"We haven't raised taxes and we still

Lockney City Council accepts sealcoating bid

Lockney City Council swore in Roger Stapp and Bill Anderson as city councilmen and awarded a sealcoat contract to Ronnie Zahn during their regular meeting May 7.

Roger Stapp began his first day as a new councilman replacing Sam Fortenberry who did not seek reelection. Anderson is returning for his second two year term.

Three sealcoat bids were opened by the council. The bids came from Appian Corp., of Hereford, at $18,194.54 for total material cost and labor; Lipham Construction, Aspermont, $24,730.44 and Ronnie Zahn, $17,517.40.

Zahn's bid was accepted with a unanimous vote of the council.

Mayor Wofford informed the council that the Floyd County Central Appraisal District would be moving their offices and were asking each taxing entity for a percentage of the cost for buying a building and new computer system.

According to Wofford, "The Appraisal District had enough in their fund to pay $89,000 toward total cost and would have to amend their budget $66,434.00. Each entity is being asked to pay a percentage of that amended cost based on the taxes collected for that entity by the Appraisal District.

"Our percentage is 2.08 % which totals $1,381.74," said Wofford.

The council unanimously approved the expenditure.

Councilman Gary Marr asked the council to consider hiring a third person to work for the street department. "We used to have three people working in the department," said Marr. "I feel like we may need to go back to that. There are several major projects coming up and the street department is currently snowed under."

After discussion the council unanimously agreed to advertise for a 3rd full time employee for the street department.

Under department reports Marr also asked the council to consider the problem with the roll-off boxes. "It is getting to be too big of a mess out there," said Marr. "Some people are taking advantage of the boxes and throwing things out there that aren't suitable. If it doesn't fit in the box people are laying it beside the dumpster. They are coming in after 5:00 p.m. when there is no one around."

"We are gathering more than what was intended and we are getting complaints from the people who live in the area. It is very unsightly and looks like we have made another landfill—except that it is in town."

The council agreed to put the matter on the agenda for the next council meeting to consider taking the roll-off boxes away.

Other action by the council included:

* Canvassed election results and declared the election legal and valid.

* Appointed Stapp to oversee Fire Department-replacing Fortenberry.

* Appointed Dee Copeland, Terry Jones and Wofford as a check signing committee.

* Elected Marr as Mayor Pro-Tem.

* Reviewed financial statements and paid bills.

At the end of the meeting council met in executive session to discuss hiring a swimming pool operator and pending lawsuit litigation. There was no action taken.

I got a really cute book the other day for my birthday.

It is called, Live and Learn and Pass It On.

People of all ages have written down short little passages of what they have learned in their life which is worth passing on.

It's full of wonderful quotes—especially from youngsters. Ya'll will be seeing a lot of them in this column from now on.

Here are a few:

Hospital members attend HealthFind

FLOYDADA—Caprock Hospital was represented at a recent HealthFind community workshop by board members Joy Assiter and Jerry Thompson and hospital administrator Ronny Ammons.

HealthFind is a physician recruitment program coordinated by the Center for Rural Health Initiatives. HealthFind has two components:

* The first consists of workshops for representatives from rural communities seeking physicians. These statewide workshops prepare communities for the recruitment phase of HealthFind.

* The recruitment component is the HealthFind Exchange. At the Exchange, community representatives set up booths to "market" their community to the physicians who attend the Exchange. Although practicing physicians are invited to attend, most of the physicians who come will be completing their residency programs.

The Center for Rural Health Initiatives is a state agency that serves as the office of rural health for the state of Texas. The Center was established by state legislation in 1989. One of the Center's legislated responsibilities is to develop and maintain a fee-for-service health professional recruitment program for rural Texas.

The Center's physician recruitment program, HealthFind, is modeled after a successful rural physician recruitment program that has been operating in the state of Georgia for more than a decade. HealthFind is based on the premise that a rural community will have a much greater chance of recruiting a physician if all elements of the community actively participate in the physician recruitment effort.

The burden for physician recruitment is not the sole responsibility of a local clinic, hospital or physician's office. It is the community's responsibility as a whole because the availability of health care services within a community often has a profound social and economical impact on the entire community.

A community can participate in HealthFind if:

* the community population does not exceed 30,000, and,

* it is located in a rural county, or
* the rural portion of an urban county. HealthFind helps rural communities by:

* Assisting with the development of community recruitment skills,

* Providing the opportunity for communities to meet with physicians at the HealthFind Exchange.

* Offering a comfortable, low-cost recruitment environment

HealthFind cannot:

* Guarantee that your community will recruit a physician,

* Ensure that your community retains a physician it does recruit.

Any qualifying community can attend a HealthFind Community Workshop. The workshops are provided at no cost. Attendance at a workshop is strongly recommended because the workshop provides unique visual and oral information. There is an opportunity to ask questions and to interact with other communities.

ATTEND HEALTHFIND--Caprock Hospital was represented at HealthFind, a physician recruitment program, by (l-r) Joy Assiter, board member; Melvin Prado, South Plains Health Provider representative; Ronny Ammons, hospital administrator, and Jerry Thompson, board member.

County discusses budget considerations

By Juanita Stepp

Floyd County Commissioners are facing possible budget problems following the May 10 regular session of the court. The four county officials expressed concern over a projected budget shortfall in the Floyd County Sheriff's Department this fiscal year. According to budget reports through April 30, 1993, the $334,365.00 budgeted for fiscal year 1992-93 will fall an estimated $46,000.00 short of meeting the estimated expenses of the department.

County Judge Bill Hardin told the commissioners that the jail population has been running high this year and higher than usual medical expenses for jail inmates, increased cost of prisoner care and necessary overtime expense for employees for attending schools and extra training sessions in addition to the usual increases caused by inflation may be at fault. Hardin pointed out that the time period from October 1, 1992 to January 1, 1993, fell under the jurisdiction of former Sheriff Fred Cardinal and that current Sheriff Charles Overstreet took over on January 1.

Commissioners asked that Judge Hardin speak with Sheriff Overstreet and make him aware of the situation so that he can take whatever cost cutting measures he can in the remaining five months of the budget. The commissioners fear that the county will have to borrow money in order to fund the department for the remainder of the fiscal year should the current funds run out.

Commissioners also learned that the county will be responsible for $13,797.51 in funding for the amended budget for the Floyd County Central Appraisal District. This amount is the county share of the cost of purchasing a building and a new computer system for the Appraisal District. The figure was calculated according to the percentage of the overall tax roll the district collects for the county, in this case, 20.77 percent.

According to Judge Hardin, the Appraisal District has decided to purchase the FmHA Office on the South side of the square at a cost of approximately $35,000.00. He added that the building will require only minimal renovations to meet the needs of the Appraisal District.

A question concerning the use of county owned machinery by other taxing entities was addressed by the court. Judge Hardin suggested that the situation be clarified with a motion to be placed in the minutes.

Following discussion, the court unanimously approved a motion stating that county machinery may be borrowed by another taxing entity at the discretion of the commissioner of the precinct to which the machinery is allocated. The commissioner will be responsible for granting or denying any such requests. The motion stipulates that the borrowing entity must pay the county the farm work rate for the machinery and that the person who will be operating the machinery must be approved by the commissioner responsible for the equipment.

Other action at the morning session included:

...monthly bills were reviewed, approved and ordered paid;

...Budget amendments were approved to transfer funds from accounts that are under budget to accounts that are over budget;

...$40,000 was divided among the four precincts for operating money;

...County Treasurer Glenna Orman presented her monthly report;

...Officials monthly reports of fines and fees collected were reviewed and accepted as presented;

...Minutes of the previous meetings were read and approved as presented.

Her Indian heritage is Choctaw, and she is married to a Sioux. They are active in the West Texas Native American Assn., which meets at the Garden and Arts Center in Lubbock each month.

She told of the cultures and customs of different tribes. She showed several pieces of art that had been made by some of the members, including Indian dress as well as pipes and jewelry.

After the program, the hostesses Connie Johnson and Janis Julian, served refreshments to Melanie Harmonson and Sandra Smith, and members, Mary Lou Bollman, Vera Jo Bybee, Sherry Colston, Carolyn Cunningham, Susan Dunavant, Dorothy Hodges, Ona Ruth Neff, Gayle Reay, June Sherman and Loretta Denning.

During the business session, Janis Julian read the President General's message and the group had a short discussion on National Defense. Other matters of business were discussed.

Mrs. June Sherman announced the next meeting will be May 25 at 6:30 p.m. Each member is asked to bring a salad for the meal. Nancy Marble will give the program, "Cultural Focus, Past and Present."

Senior Citizens Rockins

By Gene Newton

There were 71 who enjoyed a delicious meal Thursday night. If you haven't been to the Senior Citizen building you should.

Lozell Keeter would like to have some more pictures of mothers, even if it was before you were a mother. She has the building decorated for Mother's Day. Lozell, it's a very different decoration, thank you for the great idea.

We had some guests Thursday night, we were proud to have you all.

Jr. Brotherton was surprised with a birthday cake, which we all enjoyed.

Two of our hometown ladies now live in Dallas, Myrtie Lou (Newton) Arnold and Norma Jean (Vernon) Chalupa.

They and their husbands were in California and went to "The Price Is Right" game show and sure enough Myrtie Arnold got on the show and a won a 31" TV and a new car. Anyone interested in this it will be aired May 20. As some know Myrtie Lou is Arvie Newton's sister and she wrote him wanting a loan to pay her taxes — ha!

We want to remember our community's ill.

Acenith Kinard was involved in a car accident last week and we do hope she will recover okay.

Carman Dodson broke her right arm in Clovis Saturday. She is home now and we wish her a speedy recovery.

Jackie Gregory shares her experiences of Japanese trip for 1950 Study Club

By Jane McCulley

The members of the 1950 Study Club met in the home of Carol Reese for their May meeting. They began with the reading of the Club Collect, a prayer written by Mary Stewart.

Reporting on this year's Hugh O'Brien Leadership Seminar in Amarillo were two Floydada High School students, Amanda Parks, sophomore, and Austin Williams, who is a junior. The study club helps to sponsor a student each year.

Amanda talked about the activities of the three-day event as well as the speakers who talked about leadership roles in business, education and society in general. Also, Amanda felt she benefitted from the interaction with participants from other schools in the panhandle area. Austin emphasized the benefits derived from the seminar which he had attended last year and which influenced him to return this year as a junior counselor.

The study club program was given by Jackie Gregory who with her husband, Howard, had spent nine days in Japan last year. The trip had been a surprise gift from their children in honor of the Gregory's 50th wedding anniversary. Their hosts in Japan were Migaku and Mari Sato. Migaku had made his home with them when he was a Floydada High School foreign exchange student in the 1966-67 school year.

Migaku had continued his studies in both Japan and Germany. He is now a professor of Christian Ethics at St. Pauls University in Tokyo. He and Mari have a little daughter, Mana, who was almost two years old at the time of the visit. They make their home in Kamakura which is on the Pacific Ocean southeast of Tokyo. Migaku travels by train to and from the university in Tokyo.

Migaku had planned their tour of Japan. He and his family were able to travel with them a few days so he could act as their guide and interpreter. Jackie showed slides of cherry trees in full bloom, Buddhist Temples, Shinto Shrines, parks, bustling cities, older men and women in kimonos, young people in T-shirts and jeans, and business men and women in black suits.

Knowing of Howard's interest in agriculture, Migaku took them to a farm. The prized land was only five acres. Though the city was encroaching all around it, the farm produced the maximum yield of edible crops. The farm, which has been family owned for generations, had a large two-story house, a barn, greenhouse, and carefully tended land.

The program was such an interesting one - enhanced by the beautiful slides and the fact that many of the club members had known Migaku when he lived here.

This being the end of the study club year, dues were paid, plans were discussed, and committee assignments were made for the new year beginning in September.

Members attending were president, Geniele Evans, hostesses Carol Reese and Nell Abram, and Edris Edwards, Margie Fowler, Wanda Hickerson, Martha Lotspeich, Jane McCulley, Marjorie McElyea, Doris McLain, Lovene Moore, Sue Moore, Shirley Morton, Nettie Ruth Whittle, Ellie Anderson and Addie Assiter.

Child Welfare Board meets

By Karen Lawson

The bi-monthly meeting of the Child Welfare Board met on Tuesday, May 4, at 5:30 p.m. Members present were Bill Gardner, Gladys Jones, Kay Tinney, Elza Mercado and Karen Lawson. Bill distributed and discussed the financial report for April. A request was received to purchase clothing for one of the children in care. The request was approved by the board members.

The buttons which were ordered at the last meeting came in last week and Bill brought them to the meeting. They will be distributed either in the schools this month or at Old Settler's Day, May 29.

The regional meeting will be held Thursday, May 13, at 7 p.m. at the 50 Yard Line Restaurant, Lubbock. Check with Gladys if you are interested in attending this event.

The board agreed to join a new program, Parent Express Building Blocks.

This program is designed to give expectant and brand new mothers information and tips in a newsletter format. The literature will be given out at the doctor/hospital visit which will aid in the care of newborns. Contacts will be made and the material will be ordered.

Additional training manuals were brought to the meeting by Bill. The video training tape was unavailable but a copy will be brought to the July 6 meeting. The board will plan to view portions of the video at the July and September meetings. Board members are urged to make every effort to attend the next two meetings for this worthwhile training. We will probably spend an extra 30-45 minutes going over the material.

Remember the toll free number to report child abuse is 1-800-252-5400.

The meeting was adjourned at 6:20 p.m.

Popular baby names are recorded in birth records

The annual report of the Texas Department of Health's (TDH) Bureau of Vital Statistics contains at least one list of interest to even the most preoccupied new parent, according to Richard Bays.

The list, based on 1991 birth certificate entries, is the Texas roster of most frequently chosen names for newborns during that calendar year. Bays is chief of the Bureau of Vital Statistics.

The report included the name list for the first time in 1990, although the U.S. Bureau of Census has released similar lists for years.

Some names have made the national lists for generations, since many parents name babies--especially boys--after themselves, Bays noted. "John and James are like permanent entries on lists of popular baby names. Only their ranking on the list ever changes," he said.

Also, when parents try to think of uncommon names, they sometimes pick celebrities' names. Later they are surprised to find that thousands of other parents shared their idea.

"We know that popular movie stars' names often inspire parents. We haven't verified it, but a member of our staff said that the Texas list seems to contain a high number of names matching those of TV soap opera characters," he added.

By order of most often chosen, the 10 most popular names for boys born in Texas in 1991 were: Michael, Christopher, Joshua, Jose, Matthew, David, John, Justin, Daniel and James.

For girls born during the same period, the 10 most frequently given names were: Ashley, Jessica, Amanda, Sarah, Stephanie, Brittany, Elizabeth, Samantha, Lauren and Jennifer.

Besides the separate lists for all boys and girls born during a year, the report also provides similar lists for ethnic groups. Although those lists contain many of the same names as does the over-all roster, there are some exceptions.

Among children of white parents, the most popular names for boys were: Michael, Christopher, Matthew, Justin, James, John, Ryan, Cody, Jacob and William. For girls, they were: Ashley, Jessica, Sarah, Lauren, Brittany, Amanda, Megan, Shelby, Emily and Elizabeth.

Black parents chose Christopher, Joshua, Michael, Brandon, Anthony, James, Jordan, Justin, Jeremy and Robert for their sons. For their daughters, they most frequently chose Jasmine, Ashley, Brittany, Jessica, Courtney, Mariah, Raven, Crystal, Tiffany and Ebony.

Hispanic parents chose Jose, Juan, Michael, Daniel, David, Jesus, Christopher, Luis, Joshua and Jonathan for boys. For girls, they chose Jessica, Ashley, Stephanie, Amanda, Samantha, Elizabeth, Jennifer, Crystal, Vanessa and Victoria.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

By Jo Bryant

Hi! Once again it's time to share with you what is happening around here. It seems as if May is a busy, fun month. This week is National Nursing Home Week so we have had extra activities and visitors.

Monday started the week as usual with the Rev. Clark Williams sharing the devotional and Irene Wexler played the piano for us. The residents painted ceramics in the afternoon.

Tuesday the ladies from the Companions 'n' Caring met in the dining room at 2 p.m. Shirley Varner opened with a prayer. Leona Neff, president presided over the meeting. Minutes were read. Old business and new business was discussed.

Wednesday the staff enjoyed a Mexican buffet at 1:30 as it was Cinco de Mayo celebration. Music was also played and enjoyed. Bingo was played by the residents at 2:30. Otis Johnson had the first Bingo. Mary Alice Davis couldn't be with us, we missed her.

Thursday, the residents played the Penny Toss game. Kermit Glover was the winner. At 2:30 the residents had a Mother's Day party. The ladies were given a corsage and got to share about being a Mother, Grandmother or Great-Grandma. The ladies from the Companions 'n' Caring served ice cream. Judy Miller played the piano for us and we sang some songs. We had several guests attending the party. Thelma Lee Bearden of Amarillo, Dovie Holmes, Mel and Marjorie Holcomb, Freddie Arendondo, Judy Miller and daughter, Janet and Loren Fulton.

Friday, Alta Sue played the piano for us and Julianne Cornelius and sons shared the Word. They shared the "gospel in an eggshell" story of the death and resurrection of Jesus.

Then on to Plainview on the bus ride, McDonald's treated the residents to ice cream. Those going were Kermit Glover, Oliver Glover, Peggy Young, Henry Willis, Robert Holt, Knox Jameson and Nettie Adams.

We want to thank Irene Rodriguez for bringing the children last Wednesday night and the scripture cards.

May 9-15 is National Nursing Home Week, come visit, sit a spell. Until next week, love and take good care of yourself.

Thought: "If it weren't for the 'good old days' some people wouldn't have a topic for conversation."

UIL Computer/Science team wins 1st place at state

For the second year in a row the Lockney High School Computer/Science team has won the top place in the 3-2A division of the Computer/Science competition. Members of the team are Ryan Ford, Lance Patridge, Dragan Tomic and Allen Martin (alternate). The competition was held in Austin on Friday and Saturday, May 7th and 8th. Mrs. Ladora Aull, sponsor of the group, accompanied the students to the meet. This is only the second year that the computer/science event has been held at the state level. Contests in current issues and events were also added last year. Until this time the UIL academic contests covered math, science, business, language arts, journalism, speech and theatre.

"Although the UIL is more often associated with athletic competition, more students compete in the academic contests," said Dr. Bailey Marshall, UIL director. "In fact the league began as a debating league in 1910 and then later merged with a track and field association to form the basis for the current organization. Each year more than a third of the total participation in UIL activities involved academic contests. Texas has the nation's most comprehensive slate of academic contests. "Long before the development of other academic-based competitions, the UIL was sponsoring contests in writing, speaking, mathematics and science. The purpose of the UIL academic program is to use competition to develop students' higher order thinking skills. "A primary objective for League directors is to maintain a high correlation between what is taught in the classroom and what is required of students involved in extra-curricular competition." said Janet Wieman, UIL academic director. "Consequently, as much emphasis is placed on the educational context of the contests as is placed on the contests themselves." This year the TILF is awarding more than $700,000 scholarship grants to 534 college students who compete at the UIL State Academic Meet. In 1993-94, the TILF expects to award an estimated 550 new and renewed grants from foundations, individuals and families. The funds are made possible through grants from foundations, individuals and families. The TILF receives over $500,000 in annual donations and has over $2,000,000 in endowed funds.

Public Notice

On April 16, 1993, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company (SWBT) filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas (Commission) for approval of a new optional service, Network Subscriber Information Interface (NSII). NSII is a new service feature developed primarily for the provision of Voice Messaging Service (VMS). It will give a VMS provider (as SWBT's customer) the ability to receive originating call information from SWBT's central office and to activate and deactivate a Message Waiting Indicator (MWI) on the line of the VMS provider's patron. NSII also gives the VMS provider the ability to activate and deactivate an intermittent dial tone on a patron's line in multiple offices. The VMS provider will be able to perform these functions in multiple offices through a connection to a single Message Node office. The Message Node will be a pre-designated central office and will interconnect with all central offices within the Message Node Service Area. Upon approval of this application, NSII will be available to customers where facilities are available. Available facilities are not currently deployed statewide. The proposed effective date of this service is June 20, 1993.

SWBT estimates these new services will increase its annual revenues during the first year by approximately $2.4 million. VMS providers and Telephone Answering Services and their subscribers are the types of customers likely to be affected by approval of these services.

The proposed recurring monthly rate and nonrecurring installation charge is as follows:

Rate Element	Recurring	Nonrecurring
NSII	$6,000.00	$2,000.00

Persons who wish to comment on this application should notify the Commission by June 10, 1993. Requests for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757, or you may call the Public Utility Commission Public Information Office at 512-458-0256, or 512-458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.

Area families needed to host foreign students

Foreign high school students will be arriving soon into the Floydada area for homestays, and the sponsoring organization urgently needs a few more local host families for their upcoming academic programs.

According to Pacific Intercultural Exchange (P.I.E.) Executive Director, John Doty, the students are all between the ages of 15 and 18 years, have their own spending money, are fully insured and are anxious to share their cultural experiences with their new American families. P.I.E. currently has programs to match almost every family's needs, ranging in length from a semester to a full academic year, where the students attend local high schools.

P.I.E. representatives match students with host families by finding common interests and lifestyles through an informal in-home meeting. Prospective host families are able to review student applications and select the "perfect match". As there are no "typical" host families, P.I.E. can fit a student into just about any situation, whether it be a single parent, a childless couple, a retired couple or a large family.

Families who host for P.I.E. are also eligible to claim a $50.00 per month charitable contribution deduction on their itemized tax returns for each month they host a sponsored student.

For the upcoming programs, P.I.E. has students from Spain, Germany, Poland, Russia, Italy, Argentina, Brazil, Colombia, Australia, New Zealand, France and many other countries. P.I.E. is a non-profit educational organization that has sponsored more than 18,000 students from 18 countries since its founding in 1975.

Floydada area families interested in learning more about student exchange or arranging for a meeting may call P.I.E., toll-free, at 1-800-245-6232. The agency also has travel/study program opportunities available for American high school students as well as possibilities for community volunteers to assist and work with area host families, students and schools.

TULIA 11 FLOYDADA 1

The Tulia Hornets continued their march toward the post-season baseball playoffs with a convincing 11-1 victory over the Floydada Whirlwinds at Watson Field on May 3. Tulia remains undefeated in District 2-3A action, and has all but wrapped up a playoff appearance during its first-year campaign.

The Hornets overcame a 1-0 Floydada lead with five runs in the top half of the fourth inning, and scored six more runs in the final two innings. Errors again played a major role in the outcome as the Whirlwinds committed six miscues, resulting in five Tulia unearned runs. Tulia committed three errors of their own, but pounded twelve base hits while limiting Floydada to only four.

Mike Ochoa was 2-for-3 at the plate and scored the 'Winds' only run in the bottom of the second inning. Coach Jimmy Webster commented, "Gill (Michael Gilliland) came out very focused on the mound. He threw well until the roof caved in on us and we started throwing the ball around...Tulia just overpowered us after that."

Webster added, "Tulia is a good ball club...they do some things real well. I was disappointed in our lack of hitting off their pitching."

FRIONA 13 FLOYDADA 10

The Friona Chieftains kept alive their playoff hopes with a come-from-behind 13-10 decision over Floydada at Friona on May 8. It was one of the better ball-games the Whirlwinds have been involved in this season. The squads were tied at 3-all after three innings. Floydada surged ahead 7-6 after four, only to have the Chieftains score a run in the bottom of the fifth and bring the game back into a 7-all deadlock. The Whirlwinds scored three big runs in the top of the sixth to regain the lead, but Friona staged a 6-run rally in the bottom of the sixth for the final margin of victory.

It was a tough game for either team to lose as each squad produced enough offense to win most contests. Each team collected 13 base hits. Michael Gilliland had one of his finest days at the plate as the talented senior doubled twice in three official appearances and drove in five RBI's. Michael Henderson also made the best of one of his last times in a Whirlwind uniform by collecting a double and a single in five trips to the plate and scoring a pair.

Floydada again had some problems on defense as the 'Winds committed four errors, but the Chieftains had three errors which helped keep the game close. Rod Vela turned in another good job on the mound for the Whirlwinds. According to Coach Webster, "Rod kept us close, but once again we couldn't get it done with our relief pitchers. With two outs and a 2-2 count, we gave up a 3-run homerun to give them the winning margin."

The coach also stated, "Doggonit-we had every chance to win this game and didn't do it! We gave up two 3-run leads, a 4-run lead and a 1-run lead. We just don't know how to finish anyone off. This was our best game offensively, but we just can't bury anyone. The Whirlwinds travel to Dimmitt on May 11 for a 5:00 p.m. game, and will host Levelland at 1:00 p.m. on Saturday, May 15, in the season finale.

BILL'S NOTES

On paper it would appear that the baseball team is only slightly improved over last year's inaugural edition—that is, as far as the overall record and success in district are concerned. But, Floydada's improvement goes far deeper than merely winning a couple of three more games than a year ago.

For the most part, the defense showed marked improvements and the infield play was light years ahead of 1992's. It was a young bunch manning the bases most of the time and they should be a solid unit next year.

The hitting attack has been hot and cold all season, but the 13 hits with 3 doubles against Friona certainly displayed a great deal of improvement. A lack of depth on the pitching staff was a major concern all year, but everyone except Michael Gilliland will return. Coupled with two or possible three

Floydada FBC Music Ministry presenting "Bind Us Together"

The First Baptist Music Ministry will present the musical "Bind Us Together" Sunday, May 16, at 7:00 p.m. in the sanctuary of First Baptist Church, 401 S. Main, Floydada. Each segment of the musical presents the stages of growth in the lives of a family, from marriage through death.

The family is the fundamental unit of life. Lion, lamb, bird, bear, puppies, monkeys and man all cleave to the place of beginning from which we venture out into the world. It's a part of our primal instinct to nurture and protect that unit - and breaking its bonds always disrupts the natural order of creation. We were meant to belong to each other.

Perhaps that's why God chose to use family relationships as illustrations in teaching us about His Kingdom. He knew that those were concepts deeply engrained in our souls. Bride, groom, father, son, child... He created us and wove those values into the fabric of our humanity.

The church today must clearly recognize that Satan understands how important that family is to God's creation and that it is the primary focus of his attack. For if Satan can separate us from the ties that are most fundamental to our being, then he has succeeded in cutting us off from the Creator Himself.

As one song in this musical says, "Not only the sons are the wayward ones, there are mothers and fathers who have said their goodbyes." More than ever it must be the work of the Church to reconcile mothers and fathers, sons and daughters, first to God, then to each other, and to equip our families for the challenge at hand. We must pray now more than ever before, "Bind us together, Lord, bind us together with cords that cannot be broken."

This musical is written to be a tool that will help you to begin the work in your church and in your family of restoration.

The public is invited to attend. Nursery care will be provided upon request. Howell E. Farnsworth is the Pastor.

LIVESTOCK JUDGING--Representing Floyd County 4-H in the South Plains 4-H Junior Livestock Judging Contest were (l-r) Tate Harris, coach; Breanna Dawdy, Erin Dawdy, Leigh Dawdy and Tyler Phillips. They competed in Lubbock on April 24.

Local 4-H teams dominate district

The American Legion Range was the setting for the annual District 2 4-H Rifle Contest in Lubbock. Ten counties were represented by a total of 105 competitors, making up 27 teams. Floyd County took 5 teams consisting of one Senior, two Junior 2, and two Junior 1 teams. Each team competed within their own division.

This difficult and demanding sport calls for shooting 30 rounds, ten each from the prone, standing, and kneeling positions using .22 rimfire target rifles at a distance of 50 feet. Imagine each target being roughly the size of a silver dollar and then consistently shoot the center. You can now see why this is also an Olympic sport.

Our Senior team (ages 14-19), consisting of Nathan Whittle, Tim Mitchell, and Matt Whittle, took second place with a team score of 601, qualifying them for State competition at College Station in June. Lubbock County Senior team placed first with a score of 631. The first place District Senior high individual award went to Nathan Whittle, who shot a 239 out of a possible 300. Todd Cage, who was unable to attend the District competition, will be joining the State bound Senior team.

The first Junior 2 team (ages 12-13), consisting of Kaci Mathis, Wesley Hunter, Dusty Duke, and Tyson Whittle placed first with a team score of 485, just edging out a strong Hale County team, who placed second with a 464. The first place District Junior High Individual award went to Tyson Whittle, who shot a 184 out of a possible 300. Our second Junior 2 team consisted of Stacey Lloyd, Shane Lloyd, Mandi Yeary, and John Doerschuk.

The first Junior 1 team (ages 9-11) consisting of Alex Hadderton, Dustin Jones, and Lindsey Mathis, took 3rd team high with a score of 98. Hale County took first with a 148 and Swisher County took second with a 115. Our second Junior 1 team participants were Scott Nixon, Brad Yeary, and Chris Assiter.

All of these young competitors shot remarkably well, considering the short amount of practice time set aside for this project. The success of this program is certainly due to the excellent parent and volunteer participation during practices. Many of these young people who like to be competitive, but have no interest in other sports, have certainly found their place in the 4-H Rifle program.

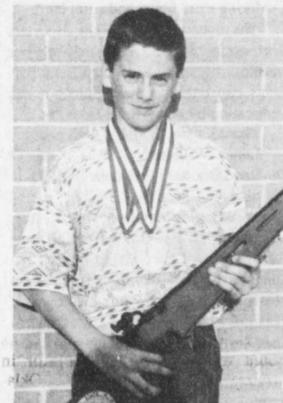

The 4-H Rifle coaches are Warren Mitchell, Layne Kirk, Randy Duke, Mike Mathis, and Mark Whittle. All involved extend their appreciation to Gary and Hulon Carthel for the use of their barn.

Brad Yeary, Chris Assiter, Dustin Jones, Alex Hadderton. Not pictured but also participating were Stacey Lloyd, Shane Lloyd and Wesley Hunter. The contest was held in Lubbock.

Demonstration plots are planted for show

According to Dr. John Gannaway, cotton breeder at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station north of Lubbock, two demonstration plots have been planted in the Texas Farmer-Stockman Show which is scheduled for October 12-14, in Lubbock.

One plot will feature 10 PCIP breeding lines for producers to see. The second will contain a number of cotton varieties providing both a historical look at the cotton grown on the Plains and highlighting the diversity of materials available to area cotton breeders.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor,
To the citizens of Lockney and to all who voted in the Hospital Board Election. It has come to our attention, a few concerned citizens, that rumors were spread about a certain individual that was running for a seat on the Board. The rumor stated that this certain individual wanted to consolidate the Lockney and Floydada Hospitals, being he was originally from Floydada and always wanted the two hospitals consolidated. Those of us who have known this individual and have had dealings with him will acknowledge that this is not true and never has been true. We feel that this individual was treated unfairly and that the individual who started this rumor owes the other individual an apology. It is sad that a rumor can cause so much damage and that people seem to thrive on rumors and gossip. In such a small community as Lockney, rumors and gossip can be very damaging to a person and we feel people in Lockney ought to be very careful what they say and to whom they say it. Rumors and gossip start at the drop of a hat, and who knows what rumors could be spread or started about you.

Dear Editor,
We want to thank whoever is responsible for planting the lovely flowers on the "Y" east of Trinity Church. We have enjoyed them so much this spring. Wouldn't it be great to see more pretty flowers along our roadways? Thanks again whoever you are!

Shirley and Rainey Varner
(Editor's Note: Donnell Gowens and the local office of State Department of Highways and Public Transportation were responsible for planting the wildflowers referred to in the above letter.)

Dear Editor,
Since this is a column for people to express their feelings about certain issues, I would like to express mine about a special group of people.

This group of people are the parents of high school students. I don't think I speak only for myself, but I can truly say that many high school students feel the same way. We are very blessed to have such loving and caring parents. This was all proven on Saturday, April 24, (prom night), when Ms. Jan Rubio and all our parents cared enough to provide us with an after prom party, (which was a blast). I know there were many mixed feelings about the party since it was a drug-free party, but one point was truly proven - you don't have to have drugs to have a good time.

I appreciate Ms. Rubio for coordinating this event for us. Her hard work will not go unnoticed. Also thanks to all the parents who stayed there all night (or morning) with us. I realize it was a big sacrifice, but that just goes to show how many parents really care about their children.

Thanks to all the parents who made this possible, and to all who helped make prom night a night to remember. I hope that the parents of the future continue to care in the same way.

P.S. Mom thanks for caring, and I just want you to know that I love you very much!

To the Editor,
This past weekend Floydada had about 200 visitors for the Junior High School Band Festival. 38 Bands were represented at this festival—some from quite a distance.

The Floydada Band Boosters operated the Snack Bar for the festival.

We owe a huge "Thank You" to the volunteers who organized and worked during this Mother's Day weekend. It took a lot of time and hard work and we sincerely appreciate those who worked—many going beyond the call of duty working extra hours and extra hard.

The money earned for Band Boosters is used for many activities that help our Band Program in Floydada. Band parents can enhance their child's music education by being Band Boosters.

Thanks again to all the workers!
James Williams
Band Boosters President 1992-93

To Whom It May Concern,
To the best of my knowledge all these accusations of our Chief of Police Lennie Gilroy are false. Some people seem to forget how peaceful this town of Lockney really is. If it wasn't for Lennie, Jerry and others, that are doing a good job, this town, as small as it is, wouldn't be this quiet.

There are petitions being passed around for people to sign to get Lennie and Jerry out of town. I am a Mexican-American and I'm one of them that is simply going to ignore this paper.

Lennie and the rest of the policemen have helped me and the rest of our relatives in a lot of ways whenever we needed them. They are there and they keep you in tune of what's going on or what's going to happen.

Pat, I am very sorry for what's going on, in your situation. Yet, Lennie or any other police officer cannot be hated or blamed for what happened in the past. They are just doing their duty. Lennie is not watching over ya'll all the time, he has everybody to look after and to take care of. You shouldn't feel threatened when he drives by your house, I like it when he drives by my home because it makes me feel safe and secure.

Parents don't really know their kids as well as we think we do. Yet, we're not with them 24 hours. We try to raise them the way we want, but it doesn't always turn out that way. All we have to do is pray that everything is going to turn out alright and for Lockney to continue to be a peaceful town.

Lennie, we admire everything you are doing for everyone.

Thanks,
A Lockney Citizen

Dear Editor,
I'm writing concerning the very recent trial of Henry Sifuentes. My concern is the short amount of time it took to dismiss such a tragic circumstance.

It has crossed my mind on several instances, that I stop and think whether or not this case was taken too lightly. Don't misunderstand me, if justice was served in the case and trial of Henry, then so be it (justice was served to a certain extent).

But I'm referring to the very first days of this child's (LaToya C.) very short lived life. The doctor(s) involved in the delivery of this child should of taken professional measures into making sure that the potential adoptive parents had first of all the financial capabilities to maintain the bloodline to this precious child's life, the Department of Human Services would of been the first and most logical thing to do in my mind and the minds of others as well.

Another disturbing issue is the simple fact that nothing is being said about whether or not this child's life was actually put in jeopardy at the ill hands of unprofessionalism whether in the medical department or in the lack of involvement concerning the Human Services Department, or pure lack of professional interest in the investigating team.

To leave such questions unanswered would only deny us the knowledge of knowing the true purpose and real meaning of this precious child's short lived life.

I write this in memory of LaToya Cappachino.

Antonio Garcia

Dear Editor and the General Public,

I am the Community Coordinator for International Education Forum, an organization designed to help promote cultural understanding. I have placed several ads in this newspaper trying to find host families for the wonderful high school foreign exchange students we have to place in various high schools throughout the area, but I have not gotten any response whatsoever from the ad and I am stumped about how to best get the message out to folks like yourself. Therefore, I hope this personal appeal might change a few minds and help you to consider opening your homes and your hearts to a young man or lady from another land for the next school year.

For over 12 years, IEF has provided opportunities for small towns and large cities to experience another culture without leaving your hometown. Students from over 20 countries have taken advantage of a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to see the American way of life firsthand and take part in it themselves. It has also established ties that will bind families for the rest of their lives.

But these are not the only reasons to consider hosting a foreign student. We at IEF don't ask for much from a host family other than providing room, board, transportation to activities and a hospitable, caring and understanding family environment for a teenager from another country that will help put forth a positive image of America that will remain with them the rest of their lives. But you and your family can benefit so much from the experience.

Not only can your family broaden its horizons, but you might even qualify for a $50/month tax deduction. And the expenses that the student incurs during his/her stay are picked by the student and natural parents, therefore, the expenses to you are minimal, but the benefits are priceless.

Did this letter make things look much clearer to you? If it did, please call me (Coy) at 652-2600 so we can talk about this matter more in detail and so I can let you know how hosting a high school foreign exchange student can change your life. I hope to hear from you soon.

Sincerely yours,
Coy Reece Holley

Producers Cooperative Elevator celebrates 50 years of success

Producers Cooperative Elevator was organized by five individuals with a vision for the future. This unique group came together on March 9, 1943 for an organizational meeting. Organizing Directors included M. L. Probasco, P. J. Wilkes, R. M. Battey, W. Earl Edwards and John A. Lloyd.

Despite difficult economic times, the organization obtained a charter and began business operations on May 6, 1943. The original investment of operating capital was $5,192.00 and initial membership totaled 134. Storage capacity for the newly created facility was 13,082 bushels.

Serving on the first board of directors were three of the organizing directors, P. J. Wilkes, R. M. Battey and John A. Lloyd. Joining the founding trio were G. C. Collins and Roe Jones. The directors hired Andy Jackson as the first manager for the cooperative. He was followed by Noman Hamilton who received a salary of $175.00 per month as compensation.

The first annual meeting of the cooperative membership was held in the District Courtroom on September 21, 1943.

M. L. Probasco, one of the original organizing directors, replaced Hamilton as manager, becoming the third manager of the cooperative on May 9, 1944. Moving into the future and prospering during the years of World War II, expansion seemed prudent.

A contract authorizing the construction of a new concrete elevator was signed on October 11, 1945. The facility was the first modern 100,000 bushel elevator in Floydada. April 9, 1946 saw Seaton Howard hired as manager to replace John Hambricht who had resigned after serving as manager for only one month.

Approximately a year later, the cooperative made its first expansion of facilities in the county rural areas. The purchase of the Dougherty Grain Elevator gave the association an additional 20,000 bushels of grain storage and added a branch location to Producers Cooperative Elevator.

After serving two and a half years as manager, Seaton Howard stepped down and Roe Jones was employed to replace him on November 20, 1948. As the cooperative continued to grow and prosper, a series of special meetings were called to consider adding to the facilities capacity.

August 5, 1949, a contract was signed to construct a 250,000 bushel concrete elevator annex to the existing concrete elevator. This expansion brought the storage capacity to 350,000 bushels at the Floydada location.

November 20, 1950, another contract for construction was signed. This document called for the erection of a 150,000 bushel concrete elevator at the Dougherty location. This elevator was completed and went into service in time for the 1951 wheat harvest.

A second expansion was necessary at the Dougherty site in September of 1957. The new concrete annex which was built boosted total grain storage capacity at Dougherty to 275,000 bushels.

Steady growth of the cooperative necessitated the construction of a steel flat storage barn in Floydada in March of 1961. Storage capability at the city site was increased to 850,000 bushels by this expansion.

The cooperative purchased Henry Edwards' elevator at Dougherty in August of 1963. This added another 75,000 bushels of storage space at the Dougherty location.

Roe Jones was succeeded as manager of Producers Cooperative Elevator by Bill Cagle. Jones had served sixteen years as manager and Cagle would hold the position for just over twenty years.

About the same time, the cooperative made the decision to enter the fertilizer side of the business in addition to grain storage.

A new office was built in Floydada in 1967 and a new Farm Store Warehouse was constructed in 1971. Expansion continued with the purchase of Floydada Grain Company in September of 1972. The Graham Elevator at Cedar Hill was purchased in August of 1974 and added to the association's ability to receive and handle grain. It also provided a physical presence for the cooperative in another area of Floyd County.

Work completed in January, 1975, added another elevator to the complex at Dougherty. Two storage tanks were also installed at the facility. The McCoy Grain Storage Elevator at Boothe Spur was purchased in January, 1976, adding 325,000 bushels of storage space to storage capacity.

Striving to serve the special needs of cooperative members, Producers authorized construction of a seed cleaning plant at Floydada in February, 1976. A liquid fertilizer plant was added in September, 1978, and sprayer trucks were purchased. The Dougherty Farm Store was purchased from Ray Gene Carthel in June, 1981, and became a unit of the Dougherty branch location.

The success of the seed cleaning plant made additional storage space for bagged seed necessary and in May of 1983, a new storage barn was built to provide the needed storage area. Bulk herbicide sale was added to the cooperative's list of member services in January, 1984. The association purchased tanks and equipment to facilitate the sale and application of Treflan and Prowl in bulk quantities.

September of 1984 saw the transition from the management of Bill Cagle to Bob Vickers, the current manager of Producers Cooperative Elevator.

Storage capacity for Producers increased again in November, 1985, with the acquisition of the McCoy Grain Storage Elevator in the McCoy Community. This purchase brought storage space to 2,300,000 bushels at five locations in Floyd County.

A dry fertilizer operation was added to the cooperative in October, 1987. This expansion required the construction of a dry fertilizer building and purchase of a companion spreader truck to serve members.

Diversifying in a new direction, the association made a major business expansion in 1988. The purchase of Consumers Fuel Association in Floydada and Covington Oil & Butane in Dougherty added a new dimension to the services available to cooperative members with the creation of the Fuel Division.

As the local agricultural community moved into the decade of the nineties, Producers Cooperative Elevator was once more on the move toward expansion. D & P Grain Elevators at Lakeview Community and Dougherty were added to the cooperative assets. This increased storage capacity by 590,000 bushels and provided another rural location from which to originate grain from member farms.

Approaching a fifty year anniversary of operation, Producers Cooperative Elevator, Inc. has grown from a small elevator and bagged seed warehouse with few real assets to emerge as a major agricultural business and economic force in Floyd County. Current facilities boast six grain receiving and storage elevator locations, two fuel service locations, two farm stores and a seed cleaning plant as well as liquid, dry and anhydrous ammonia plants. Growing from three employees at inception, the cooperative now employs 23 people, making a substantial contribution to the local economy.

Storage capacity today totals approximately 3,000,000 bushels. Total assets of the cooperative are about $5,000,000.00. The original 134 members have grown to a current membership of 623. Sales figures for the last fiscal year totaled $12,100,000.00.

Bob Vickers remains the General Manager of Producers Cooperative Elevator, Inc. at the fifty year mark. The names of the current Board of Directors evoke echoes of the past as the organization marches into the future with a third and fourth generation of member farmers.

President of the association at this time is Carmel J. Eastham. Larry Jones serves as Vice President and Joe Jones holds the post of Secretary. Directors include Melvin Lloyd and Tom Pierce.
