A view from The Lamplighter

By Ken Towery

We can now relax. The Brady bill is now the Brady law. Our big cities will no longer be jungles with various tribes contesting for drug turf. The criminal element, now convinced that the nation means business, will, no doubt, back off. The lion will lay down with the lamb.

It is also true that the moon is made of green cheese.

The Congress of the United States, long dominated by liberals intent upon socializing America, has made itself famous for standing truth on its head. For years we have been told that passage of the Brady bill would have a tremendous impact upon the crime situation in our big cities. No amount of logic, no amount of reason, seemed to deter them. Finally, when they got a President who agreed with them, and with the help of a national media also dominated by liberals, they came out on top. The Brady bill was passed and is now in effect.

Not so strangely, however, no sooner was the bill passed than we began to hear, from the same people who were instrumental in its passage, that we should not expect too much from it, that really it is only the first, symbolic, step toward solving the real problem. The next step must be licensing those guns now in the hands of gun owners. And their ideal world, of course, will only come when all guns are removed from the hands of private citizens, when the Second Amendment is interpreted as applying only to the government, a government run by a self-serving class of professional, power-hungry career politicians.

In our own personal opinion, we have no real quarrel with the theory of a five day waiting period before a citizen can buy a handgun. But in the real world it will have little or no effect upon the crime situation in America. Those who commit the crimes will find their weapons. They will commit their crimes. And they will also be assured that when, or if, they do get caught, the chances of going to prison and staying there, will be slim indeed.

But no matter how meaningless the law will be in dealing with crime in America, it was very meaningful in the world of politics. This now proves, to those who don't think, that Mr. Clinton, Mr. Foley, Mr. Mitchell and all their liberal political kith and kin, have finally turned the page and are now "tough on crime."

One short item before we turn to a paragraph on the upcoming elections, and before some of our readers begin to think we are being somewhat heartless in our assessment of the Brady bill, now the Brady law. We know, or rather we knew, Jim Brady. We were together in the Reagan campaign in 1980, during which I was "officially" the press "spokesman" for the campaign. Jim was a former newsman also involved in the campaign. He was a big, friendly bear of a man, who in fact went by the nickname "Bear." He was well thought of by members of the travelling press. Much of the time he travelled with the candidates, but as far as I could tell had no real, identifiable duties other than to be a good guy. The real head of the overall press operation was Lyn Nofziger, who was my immediate chief. When the campaign was over, and Reagan won, there was much speculation concerning who would go to the White House as Press Secretary. Nofziger didn't want it. Others who far outranked Brady didn't want it either. It finally went to him, and it was he who was with Reagan during the assassination attempt and it was he who got hit in the head by a bullet meant for Reagan. For a long time his survival was questionable. Ultimately his wife, Sarah, whom I did not know, became interested in the subject of gun control and aligned herself, and Jim, with those who finally passed the bill. One can understand her emotional concerns, and her actions. One can also understand the concerns of those who passed the bill. But that does not make future assassination attempts any less likely. Nor will passage of the bill make drive-by shootings any less likely in our nation's cities.

FLOYDADA—The prestigious and infrequently bestowed Citizen Through the Years award was conferred posthumously to Jerry Thompson Saturday night at the Floydada Chamber of Commerce's 46th Annual Banquet.

Larry Ogden, the Chamber's '93-'94 president, presented the award.

"We that shared his life found a safe harbor amidst the storm of everyday life.

Early voting tally rises

As of deadline time on Tuesday, March 1, there had been 292 early ballots cast in the March 8 Primary Election. According to officials in the Floyd County Clerk's Office, 5 people have voted early in the Republican Party and 287 have cast ballots for the Democratic Primary.

Early voting will end at 5:00 P.M. on Friday, March 4. The election will proceed on Tuesday, March 8 with voting taking place at polling locations around the county. (Voting locations are detailed in the back of the paper in legal notices from both Republican and Democratic Party.) All voters are asked to bring their voter registration card with them when they come to vote.

Election results posted Tuesday

The Hesperian-Beacon office in Floydada will post the election results of only contested races on Tuesday night, March 8.

Election sign-up is slow

Candidates for city and school elections have been slow to file. The sign-up period will continue through March 23. As of presstime, four people have indicated a desire to pursue an office in the May 7 municipal elections. No candidates have come forward, incumbent or challenger, in the city races for Lockney and Floydada.

LOCKNEY CITY COUNCIL

Districts which will elect a city council representative this year in Lockney are 1, 2 & 3. With the change to single member voting districts, anyone who wants to run should contact City Secretary Charlotte Hooten at City Hall. Anyone concerned about whether or not their district will vote on May 7 or wondering which district they should vote in, may obtain more information by calling 652-2355.

LISD BOARD OF TRUSTEES

Three seats for Lockney Independent School District are up for election this time. Incumbents in those districts, #1,

He accepted us as we were and knew how to bring out the best in us. We miss you Jerry," Ogden said.

"I hope he knows what's happening here tonight. He would be proud," said Jan Thompson, Jerry's wife, accepting the award with her two sons, Greg and Mark, at her sides.

Anne Carthel presented the Special Award to Richard Larson and Roy Ray, representing Cargill Hybrid Seeds.

"There is a sign in front of Cargill which reads 'Momentum — Once you are moving in the direction of your goals — nothing can stop you.' I believe this is the positive belief that echoes in all that the employees of Cargill undertake; and so, we present this Special Award to a group of very dedicated people who have truly earned our admiration and applause," Carthel said.

This year's Citizen of the Year award is bestowed upon Clar Schacht and was presented by Bobby Gilliland.

Gilliland introduced the award in a kidding manner, telling of Schacht's contributions to the community. "He (Schacht) is noted in town for his loud voice — Excuse me, his vocal projection — and jovial nature. He can be counted on to do or say anything. Which puts him in great demand at events where a person is needed to put others at ease or make a fool of themselves," Gilliland said.

Schacht accepted the award with a shaking voice, thanking both the Chamber and his wife, the former Judy Maggard, and his two children, Meredith and Spencer.

Schacht is the agency manager of Floyd County Farm Bureau. He has led his agency to win the National Quality Award three times, has served as treasurer for the Life Underwriters Association in insurance and is currently the judge of District Three Farm Bureau.

In every community there is always one individual who goes the extra mile in supporting the community through volunteer services and leadership. The chamber selected Nick Long, who is known even as far away as Dallas, as the "Punkin Man," as the recipient of this

Lions Club commandeers Floydada radio station

By Alice Gilroy

The revolt has started and Floydada Lions Club will assault the local radio station armed with a quick wit and tongue twisting advertising. The yearly revolution will take place on Floydada's KAWA 900 AM, or KFLL 95.3 FM this Saturday, March 5, beginning at 7:00 a.m. until 3:00 p.m.

The Lions thoroughly enjoy wrecking havoc on advertisers and listeners alike and you can tell by the laughter coming from the control room.

Funds raised by the advertising read on the air during "Lions Radio Days" goes to local charities and other Lion Club charities.

The Lions Club will use money to provide eyeglasses for local needy school children and will also give donations to local Boy Scout programs. Donations will also be given to help Lion Crippled Children's Camp, Lions Eye Bank and the Lions Diabetes Camp.

Advertisements are written by Lions and read on the air by Lions. At least one responsible Lion will man the controls and try to keep order in the radio room. Sit your family around the radio this Saturday and tune into KAWA 900 AM or KFLL 95.3 FM, for good music and good fun.

You'll never know what is in store and you'll always be surprised at what you hear—mainly because the Lions never know what they are going to do and are always surprised at what they say.

Kenneth Wyatt speaking at Lockney banquet Saturday

LOCKNEY—Kenneth Wyatt, artist, sculptor and author from Tullia will be the speaker at the annual Lockney Chamber of Commerce banquet. The banquet will be held Saturday, March 5 at 7:00 p.m. in the Lockney Elementary School Cafeteria.

Wyatt is well known for his western paintings and real life sculptures done in bronze and pewter. He is also an author with several books to his credit.

His series, "Offer Them Christ", are paintings of Jesus, Paul and the twelve Apostles. They were commissioned to commemorate the church for 200 years of Methodism in the United States.

He is currently working on paintings depicting fourteen women of the Bible.

Wyatt turned to painting after 32 years as a Methodist minister. He was fourteen years old when he pastored his first church. He became an ordained Methodist minister in 1944 at Stephenville and was later ordained as a deacon and as an elder.

He graduated from Stephenville High School, John Tarleton Junior College and McMurry College. He did his graduate work at Baylor University and received a Doctorate of Fine Arts from McMurry.

Wyatt and his wife, Veda Mae, are the parents of a son Mark and a daughter Jill.

Highlights of the chamber banquet will include the naming of the Citizen of the Year and the Extra Mile Award. Two businesses have been selected to be recognized. New officers and directors for the coming year will also be announced.

Charlie McQuhae, chamber president, will be the master of ceremonies for the event. Members of the Lockney High School National Honor Society will serve the meal and Lucy Dean Record will provide the dinner music.

Tickets for the evening are $10.00 per person and can be purchased from any chamber director, at the First National Bank, Lockney Cooperative office, Cargill Hybrid Seeds, Caprock Industries and the Floyd County Hesperian-Beacon office in Floydada. Tickets will also be available at the door.

High seeks Floyd County vote during campaign stop

Doyle High, a candidate in the Republican primary for the Texas Senate Seat District #30, stopped in Floydada on Sunday to meet with constituents during a reception at The Lamplighter Inn.

Seeking to be the Republican's choice to take on Incumbent Democrat Senator Steve Carriker, High told the crowd that Carriker had put "his political ambitions ahead of our District's priorities."

"For example," said High, "Carriker voted for the two largest tax increases in Texas history. In 1991 Carriker was the #1 biggest spender in the Senate voting for every single bill that called for more spending. Carriker voted for a 324% pay raise

High said he believed in the "common sense approach to running government." He opposes taxes, unfunded mandates, gun control and the Robin Hood funding plan for public education.

High also expressed a strong desire for tort reform and for "stopping frivolous lawsuits which are costing the state millions of jobs from the loss of businesses being afraid to locate to Texas."

High has received the endorsement of Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry,

Lockney administrator resigns

By Alice Gilroy

W.J. Mangold Memorial Hospital Administrator Jeff Reeceer submitted a 30 day notice to the hospital board of directors on Feb. 15. His resignation will become effective March 15. Reeceer and his family will be moving to Snyder where Reeceer will serve as administrator of Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

A Lockney native, Reeceer came to Lockney hospital Oct. 1, 1990, from El Paso Sierra Medical Center. He is the son of Paul and Zora Reeceer of Lockney.

His wife, Dena Reeceer, serves as the County Attorney and also has a private law practice in Floydada.

According to Hospital Board President Claude Brown, "Reeceer is currently reviewing applications. If we have not chosen a permanent replacement by the time he leaves we may get an interim administrator."

Haywood seeks Republican bid in March 8 primary

Tom Haywood, of Wichita Falls, is a Republican candidate for the Texas Senate, District 30, which now includes Floydada and Lockney.

"I want to serve the people of District 30 because I truly believe that I share their conservative beliefs and family values," said Haywood.

"I ran a very close race for this seat in 1992, nearly defeating the incumbent Steve Carriker," said Haywood. Haywood lost that seat by only about 2,000 votes out of nearly 200,000 ballots cast.

Tom was born and raised in Dallas, where he met and married his high school sweetheart Pat. They have been married for 34 years and are the proud parents of four children and three grandchildren.

Pat is a public school teacher and administrator with the Wichita Falls Independent School District. Tom and Pat are active members of First United Methodist Church in Wichita Falls.

Haywood believes that the most important issues facing Texas today include crime, lawsuit abuse, and a common sense approach to balancing the rapidly growing state budget. "As a small business owner, I know how to

BY THE WAY!

BY

Just a little bit of election information for those of you who may be thoroughly confused about what state senatorial district you are in.

You may notice we have announcements from two Republicans running in Texas Senate District 30. The winner in the primary will face Sen. Steve Carriker.

You may ask yourself why we are concerned with fellows running in District 30 when we continue to run "On Your Payroll" information in our paper which lists this county in State Senate District 28.

I'm going to attempt to set the record straight. First of all—it's all very confusing, but you can rest assured that we aren't crazy and neither are you. We are also not the only ones who get confused. Even the Senator and Representative's offices get confused about whether we are in their district or not.

It all started with the 1990 census, the results of which required changes in many political districts.

The state legislature (controlled by Democrats) drew new lines creating a change in our Senate and House seats, as well as our Congressional District.

After the new lines are drawn, we lost Warren Chisum as our State Representative and got Pete Laney. But we kept Carriker in the plan drawn by the Texas Senate. Republicans challenged the new configuration in court, on a lot of grounds. The courts agreed and drew new Senate districts. We were put in Lubbock Senator Montford's 28th District (which is where we currently are until the election).

Then the Democrats took the case to a higher court, which threw it back to the State Legislature to decide.

Back to the beginning—and I repeat. The state legislature (controlled by Democrats) went back to its redrawn lines, which put us back in Carriker's district.

You may find this hard to believe but the Legislature returned to their original "gerrymandering".

We got Carriker again, or will have him if he wins. Personally we would have rather stayed in Montford's district.

We will be in District 30 after the next election.

Our State Representative will still be Pete Laney in District 85.

We have had some comments throughout the year concerning our "On Your Payroll" list which we put in the paper. We have been told that we had the wrong Senator on our list—that it was supposed to be Carriker not Montford.

Every so often I would check it out by calling and making sure we were right. Two out of three times I would receive an answer like—"I'm not sure, but I think ya'll are in District 28—Let me check." They would then come back to the phone and say—"Yes, you're still in our district but you won't be for long."

So you see—you're not the only ones who are confused. You're just the only ones who will admit it.

Did you know that our senate district is larger than 10 individual states and about the same size as South Carolina? It stretches from Sherman on the eastern edge, Snyder on the southwest corner, and north up to Wheeler in the Panhandle. The district includes Floyd, Castro, Swisher, Armstrong, and Carson counties as well as the city of McKinney and part of Abilene.

I didn't make it to Floydada's Chamber Banquet and I'm very sorry that I didn't. I would have loved to cheer for those folks who won awards.

They were all very deserving individuals and I think that the judges who did the picking did a great job.

From what I understand there were a lot of very deserving people nominated. Isn't it great when you live in a community where it's hard to pick just one deserving person!

Congratulations Clar Schacht, Nick

I just wished he was still alive to accept it—then I started thinking about the truly great rewards he received when he got to Heaven. Its nice to know that he knows how we all feel.

Don't forget the Lockney Chamber of Commerce Banquet, this Saturday, March 5, at Lockney Elementary School, beginning at 7:00 p.m. The speaker is Kenneth Wyatt. Everyone who has ever heard Wyatt tells me that he is a great speaker. I'm looking forward to it.

City adds more recycling programs

By Alice Gilroy

In an effort to show "good will" toward complying with future state mandates, the City of Floydada has embarked on several recycling programs.

The landfill battle has been long and hard for Floydada and only with a concerted recycling effort from the citizens could the future of the landfill remain positive.

To reduce the large amount of newspapers in the Floydada landfill, the city has placed a recycling bin for newspapers at the Pay-n-Save parking lot. The bin is put out and picked up on Fridays and should only be used for newspapers and the advertising inserts inside of newspapers. No slick paper or cardboard boxes should be placed in this bin.

Another newspaper recycling bin has been placed inside Blanco Offset Printing plant to collect spoiled or unused newsprint. Printing newspapers all over the South Plains, Blanco Printing has traditionally had a large amount of paper to discard during the week.

People who wish to recycle their boxes can deliver them to Pay-n-Save loading dock where they will be flattened and packed for recycling. "We just ask that you do not leave the boxes at the back door without telling us they're there," said store manager Johnny Summers. "The wind blows the boxes into neighbor's yards if we are unable to put them inside right away."

"The city has also put out an oil tank for do-it-yourself oil changers," said City Manager Gary Brown. "Just bring your old oil and filters to the tank east of Floydada Fire Department on north Main Street. The city is also in the process of obtaining a grant for oil filter crushing equipment."

A grant is also in the making for the purchase of a chipper and light duty truck for tree limbs.

balance a budget by cutting spending, not by raising taxes," said Haywood. "The people of Texas want lower taxes and less government regulation."

Tom also favors term limitations for our elected officials and local control of education. "I want to return control of educating our children to our local school districts, teachers, and parents."

Haywood was a physics professor at the University of North Texas and Midwestern State University, where he later served as Director of University Affairs. He moved from M.S.U. to become the Executive Director of the North Texas Oil & Gas Association, where he learned a great deal about the petroleum industry. He now owns a small business, a property tax and appraisal company in Wichita Falls.

He has served on the board of directors for Crimestoppers, Drug Free North Texas, Boy Scouts of America, Texas Association of Business and West Texas Children's Aid Society.

If anybody has a question or comment about any issue, Tom encourages you to call him toll-free at (800) 866-7330, or writing Box 8552, Wichita Falls, Texas 76307.

For those who use aluminum cans you can do your part for recycling and for cancer research by depositing your empty cans in the stock trailer by the Floydada Branch of the First National Bank in Lockney.

"When the landfill does open," said Brown, "people will have to do some things which won't be too popular, but which will have to be done in order to remain open. Anyone bringing a load of trash will be required to separate the trash for recycling. White metals, such as appliances, will have to be separated as will scrap lumber, limbs and yard wastes."

"We also anticipate placing designated dumpsters in the alleys for grass clippings," said Brown. "We shouldn't have to fill up our landfill with grass clippings if people would leave the cut grass on the ground. The clippings are good for the soil."

"We had to show the EPA that we were willing to cooperate in order to keep our landfill open," said Brown, "it will now have to be a community effort to make the plan work."

As our readers know we normally do not get too involved in local races, figuring local citizens know the candidates as well or better than we. But we have been known to express views concerning state and national politics, as well as state and national politicians. This time, for reasons we won't go into right now, our comments will be rather brief. For those who vote in the Democratic Primary in March (and then usually vote Republican in November) we think one would be well advised to vote for Raul Gonzalez for the Supreme Court, rather than his opponent. For those who vote in the Republican Primary we think the best choice for State Senator would be Doyle High of Haskell. We think he would have the best chance of defeating Steve Carriker in November. And this district would be well served with Mr. Carriker's defeat. The best choice, in our opinion, for Congressman in the Republican Primary would be "Mac" Thornberry of Clarendon. When the Primaries are over we can all assess our choices again.

An Important Message For Cable TV Customers

The Cable Act of 1992, which will be enforced by the Federal Communications Commission ("FCC"), requires Floydada Cable TV to have permission from TV stations to continue providing their signal to our customers.

We are currently negotiating with FOX Network station KJTV/34 (on cable channel 6) for permission to retransmit its signal.

The Cable Act requires us to notify customers 30 days in advance of any channel changes, and if permission to carry KJTV is not granted by April 7, 1994, the channel will remove its signal from our line up on that date.

It is our sincere desire to continue offering KJTV for your convenience. We appreciate your patience and understanding as we implement the changes resulting from the 1992 Cable Act and FCC rules.

year's Extra Mile Award.

Long is a native of Lockney and has spent 17 years in the radio broadcasting and advertising business.

"He is described by friends and co-workers as someone who cares for his fellow man, one who loves his family, his church and his community," Nancy Marble said when she presented the award.

Pepper Hinkle, Miss Floydada, presented the Employer of the Year award to Mark Lee.

Lee is a graduate of Texas A&M. After graduation, Lee and his wife, Holly, formerly of Matador, moved to Floydada to manage the John Deere dealership. In the nomination letter sent to the Chamber he was touted as "a young man with ambition, vision, compassion and community spirit; the main ingredients for a good employer — and that is what he is a top rate employer," his employees said.

After he accepted the award, Lee thanked his employees for the honor.

"You are the employees of the year. You take care of the business more than I do," he said. The evening's events included the announcement of retiring directors, hold-over directors and the newly elected directors of both the Floydada Chamber of Commerce and the Floydada Women's Division.

The retiring directors of the Floydada Chamber of Commerce are Wally Davis, Mark Lee, Becky Emert and Larry Ogden.

The hold-over directors are Randall Griffin, Stephen Becker, Roxanna Cummings, Tami Nielson, Sheldon Sue, Cindy Dudley, Bobby Gilliland, James Hale, Margaret Herrera and Candy Thrasher.

The newly elected directors are Kenny Chance, Paul Sharp, Jim Finley and Rick Meyers. The retiring directors for the Women's Division are Vickie Norrell, Julianne Cornelius and Debra Graham.

The hold-over directors are Julie Duke, Mitzi Nixon and Melissa Long, and the newly elected directors are Anne Carthel, Deedie Covington and Allison Robertson. Entertainment for the evening was provided by Ray Stone. Stone had the entire audience laughing with his funny, true life stories about the Dallas Cowboys. He urged every property owner and every business owner to become active in the Chamber of Commerce.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

By Jo Bryant

FLOYDADA--Hi! How are you this cold, snowy morning? At least the snow is pretty.

Our main event was the pie supper on Tuesday at 6:00 p.m. Several family members attended. The pies of all kinds were good. Thanks to all who attended and brought the pies.

The residents discussed all the presidents that they recall have been in office during their lives, some had remembered a lot.

Bernice Robison had the first Bingo. Mary Alice Davis came and assisted the residents. The residents played dominoes and enjoyed some popcorn.

Friday, Donna Thiebaud and Jo Bryant ate lunch at the senior citizens in Silverton. They have a nice building there. They meet on the third Friday of the month. Faye Self, L.V.N., who fills in for us lives in Silverton. Jo Bryant, activity director, passed out the newsletter and calendar and explained the function of the Floydada Nursing Home.

Freida Simpson came and played the piano for us Friday morning. Jo Bryant gave the devotionai.

We welcome a new resident, Lois Marler.

Well it seems as if March came in like a lion with high wind, rain and snow. The old saying is, if it does it will go out like a lamb.

March 8, Tuesday, we will be serving a noon buffet for senior citizens, ladies from the Companions 'n' Caring and for the family. Let Dorothy Kerr know if you can come to eat. Mrs. Ophelia Sanders chose the menu for March. It will be fried chicken, potatoes, green beans, hot rolls and fruit.

Thought:
"Do not fear what may happen tomorrow,
The same loving Father who cares for you today,
Will care for you tomorrow and every day.
Either He will shield you from suffering,
Or He will give you unending strength to bear it.
Be at peace then, and put aside all,
Anxious thoughts and imaginings."
--St. Francis de Sales

Senior Citizens Rockins

There were 55 present for supper on Thursday night and everyone enjoyed games afterward.

Geneva, Theta, Gladys, Marie and Gene want to thank everyone that helped us host this month.

We have a very exciting month coming up. I believe the hosts will be Hazel and Jewel and anyone else who wants to help.

We will have entertainment next Thursday night.

We will have a quilt block demonstration and we want to get Mrs. Cybert to give a necklace demonstration. We have a lot of talent in our center, so come and join us.

We are still working on the building. Everyday there is something to do if you look for it.

Let's remember our people in our prayers: Martha, Jimmy, Georgia and everyone who is ill.

Our sympathy goes out to the Beverly Towler family on the death of her mother in Oklahoma.

Pruning, gardening preparation are good activities in March

By Kerry Siders, CEA-Ag.

As spring gets nearer, gardening enthusiasts may be getting antsy to get back into the garden and get their fingernails dirty. Though it is still a bit early for new planting, fertilizing or mowing because frost and freeze are still with us, there are some things you can do to get a head start on the spring gardening season.

Now is the time to prepare garden soil for later planting. You can add compost, tree leaves that have not blown away, shredded pine bark, manure and other organic matter.

March is also a good month for pruning trees and shrubs that bloom during the summer months. Yet, do not prune severely at this time. This hinders them from starting new growth because they put all their energy into repairing damage. New research has also shown that leaving a quarter-of-an-inch stub where you prune helps in the healing process of the tree. Pruning at this time should be reserved for trees and plants that bloom during the summer months. If you prune plants that bloom in the spring, you will be cutting off this year's blooms.

If you're not sure whether a particular plant blooms in the spring or summer, contact the County Ag. Agent at 983-2806 or your local nursery.

NSDAR awards Good Citizens

Buffalo Grass Chapter NSDAR met Tuesday, Feb. 22, at Lighthouse Electric. Mrs. Nancy Marble, Regent, presided. After the opening, Mrs. Janis Julian introduced the DAR Good Citizen Award winners. First place went to Allen Martin of Lockney, son of Jim and Kay Martin. The two runners-up were Trisha Kay Martin of Ralls, daughter of Harry and Sharon Wolfe, and Brandon Gilliland, Floydada, son of Bobby and Barbara Gilliland.

Brandon was unable to be present and Mrs. Julian read his essay. Trisha Kay Martin read her essay and Allen then read his essay. They were titled: "American Heritage and Our Responsibility to Preserve It."

The students essays read as follows:
By Allen Martin

We, the people of this great nation should be very proud of our American heritage. Over two hundred years ago, our forefathers battled through numerous hardships in order to establish their own society. A society in which they were free to choose how to live their life and a society free of the tyranny they had lived under for so long in Great Britain. This nation was forged from the hard work, suffering, and blood of a multitude of men and women who had the desire to call themselves Americans. In this day and age, I feel we have gotten away from many of the principles upon which this nation was founded. We as Americans hold the key to our own future and I think we have a responsibility to preserve the heritage we are so fortunate to have.

"In God We Trust", this statement appears on every piece of currency in the United States. When this country was established, that statement was very true. However, I feel we as a society have lost many of the morals which made the founders of "America" the type of strong, courageous people they were. They had the strength to stand up for what they believed, mainly because they had faith that God would stand by them. Their religion was an important part of their society, and because of their strong religious ties, their society was much closer and stronger.

In our society today religion is not nearly as important. There are those of us who have a strong Christian background or beliefs, but those in charge have let their faith wander right out of their lives. Government personnel have quit allowing God to guide them in their duties. In fact they have tried to totally take God out of the government. Through the separation of church and state, they have made it to where prayer and religious beliefs are not allowed to take place in public schools. We as Americans need to work to preserve the statement, "In God We Trust", and let God help bring this country back to where it needs to be.

"Hard Work", this a principle which played a key role in the founding of this nation. Those who set out to make this a great nation had to work very hard to achieve their goals. The early settlers of America had to work extremely hard in order to simply survive. They prided themselves on hard work and that is essentially what allowed them to be so successful in founding a new nation, one that would later become the most powerful and prosperous nation on the planet.

Despite the fact that the United States is one of the most predominant nations in the world, I feel we have lost sight of what it was that got us to where we are today. Many people do not realize that the true key to success comes from hard work and perseverance. They expect great things to happen to them without them having to really work hard to do it. Too many people would rather someone else do the work and just benefit from the final results. We as Americans must remember how important hard work is and strive to work hard to better ourselves and our nation.

Finally, I feel that in our society today we are too concerned with taking care of ourselves and insuring that we get what we want. We seem to not worry about our fellow Americans and hope that their shortcomings work out for our personal gain. Early Americans had to really work together and help one another through the tough times. Without the help and support they provided for each other, our heritage going. In doing that we must first of all keep photographs and accurate records of our family's past. Second, we must keep the next generation aware of everything our ancestors fought to keep for us.

They may not have been able to pass down much of price value, it's the mental value that matters. It may be a story they used to read to us or a blanket they used to tuck us in bed. To keep all of this preserved we must keep it within the family from generation to generation. Another way to keep our great heritage going is to keep the basic thoughts going such as morals, and religion that we sometimes forget and when we forget, we are forgetting about our heritage!

When I hear the word heritage I think of family first. But we must not forget the heritage of our great country. Most all of us have had a family member who fought to keep this country great. Whether it be the Revolution, World War I, World War II, Korea, Viet Nam, Desert Storm, or just someone who saw the misfortunes this country has faced and managed to stand by our beliefs and never give up hope.

By Brandon Gilliland
The importance of our heritage is not only about the present, but it is also a valuable asset to the Americans of the future. We should cherish everything that we have and realize that many other people do not even have the opportunity to even consider. So, what is there that we can do to be certain that our way of life will be around for many this country might not have ever been a reality. I strongly believe that if we as Americans would begin trying to help one another rather than take advantage of one another we can improve this nation and solve many of the problems we face.

Although this great nation has many problems, it is still the United States of America. We as citizens are lucky to live in such a great nation. As citizens we must always remember our forefather's faith, hard work, and benevolence which made this nation what it is. We must remember our heritage and that it is our responsibility to preserve it. We, the youth of America, hold an even greater task, for we are the future and the future of this great nation lies in our hands.

By Trisha Kay Martin

Our ancestors worked hard for the little they received in their time. The things they left us is our heritage. They may have passed down a quilt, or a book, but they always passed down a part of their lives and their way of life like their morals, and beliefs. When people think of heritage they think of possessions that are passed down from one generation to another. But I disagree. Heritage to me is our past, what our ancestors left of themselves, such as family stories, beliefs and religion. This kind of heritage is what makes each person the unique people we are.

It is our responsibility to preserve and keep years to come?

The importance of our heritage started when the United States first started to take form. From the very first Americans, we have always appreciated the fact that we want the very best and that we will work very hard in order to achieve all our many goals. From the wagon wheel, to the electric motor, we have strived for the unique trait of opportunity that many people can't even begin to imagine.

Our freedom is the building block of all of our lives. Many people have fought and died in order that it continue to thrive throughout not only the good times, but the bad times as well. Every American should respect the opportunity to work and achieve everything that they have a chance to consider. That very point is what people have wanted to give others from the very beginning. So, for that matter, we should do everything in our power to further that privilege.

Preserving our way of life starts from day one. It is basically taught every day of our lives that not only we are special, but that everyone around us is also special. If this was not a factor, then the point to succeed would not even be a factor, much less a necessity. Thus, our way of life would be drastically altered. Although, it is a necessity, so we should take on the responsibility of ensuring that not only my children have the chance to go out and buy the clothes that they want, but my great-grandchildren's children have that same opportunity and ambition.

In conclusion, it is my opinion that all of us contribute to the ongoing of our heritage. It started a long time ago with the original thirteen colonies and it should continue to thrive forever. Everyone who steps foot inside this country should have the opportunity to achieve the "American Dream" and not only be a success, but a major contributing factor to not only our society, but also the entire nation of people that make our world.

Never Before Like '94

By Melissa Faulkenberry

FLOYDADA—This senior spotlight features Aimee Fondy. Aimee, born Jan. 9, 1976, is the daughter of Kathi and Alan Fondy. She has one sister, Heather.

Aimee spent 1/2 year at Slaton kindergarten and the rest of her years at Floydada. She has earned a list of credentials: head cheerleader, varsity basketball, National Honor Society, F.C.A., Jr. F.C.A. reporter and N.H.S. reporter. Outside her busy school life, Aimee works in the fields spraying.

When Aimee is relaxing you may find her absorbed in a Calvin and Hobbes comic strip or playing her favorite song, "The Dance." Aimee might recommend you watch the T.V. show, "Seinfeld" or read "To Kill A Mockingbird." Aimee likes athletics best of all in school.

We asked Aimee about her past vacations and she says her U.M.Y. ski trip was the best. She attends United Methodist Church and is involved in the youth group.

Tell Leslie, Lacy and Misty to pack a bag, Aimee says she would someday like to go to the Bahamas and bring them along.

Although Aimee most admires her parents, she would like to meet Tom Cruise.

After high school, Aimee will begin college and get her degree and take the rest as it comes.

Good Luck, Aimee!

Our second senior of the week is Heather Fondy, sister to Aimee, our first senior featured this week. Heather, born Jan. 9, 1976, also is the daughter of Alan and Kathi Fondy.

Heather stays busy with her school and church activities. She is in N.H.S., Junior Board of Directors of First National Bank in Lockney - Floydada Branch, and is president of United Methodist Youth group.

After school, Heather works at Script Printing and Office Supplies and helps Aimee take care of Buffy and Pepper, their dogs.

Some of Heather's favorite things are Italian food, the book "The Promise" by Danielle Steel and the music group, Journey.

That must have been a great ski trip with UMY, because Heather picked it as her favorite trip also.

Heather says she most admires her sister. I can understand why. Both of these girls have excelled in many areas of FHS and many areas outside the school.

Some advice for school leaders, extend lunch to an hour.

Heather will plan to attend Angelo State or South Plains to begin her trip through college.

TAAS testing planned next week

FLOYDADA—Floydada ISD students in grades 4, 8, 10, 11 and 12, along with out-of-school examinees will be involved in TAAS testing next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, March 8, 9 and 10.

On Tuesday, the writing portion will be administered; Wednesday, the reading; and Thursday, the math. Those students who will be tested in grades 11 and 12 will only be the ones who have not mastered one or more areas of TAAS.

Parents are urged to make sure that their child is in school all of these days and that they are prepared to the best of their ability. Students should be well rested and will need to have eaten a good breakfast on these days, as these tests take time and physical energies of the students. There are no make-up or retakes on these tests.

If you have any questions, contact Kathy Jahay at 983-3916.

FISD hosting public forum

FLOYDADA—The Floydada Independent School District will be hosting a public forum entitled, "Raising Student Expectations to Meet Real World Needs." It will be conducted in the A.B. Duncan Elementary School cafeteria on Thursday, March 10, at 7:00 p.m.

The purpose of this forum is to solicit input from parents, business leaders, community members, teachers, and students as to what graduates need to know and be able to do when they exit high school.

Roundtable discussions facilitated by FISD staff will be used to collect ideas from participants regarding these skills and in what setting the skills will be used.

FJHS students vie in Math/Science meet

FLOYDADA—Floydada Junior High's Texas Math/Science Coaches Association team (TMSCA) placed fourth overall in the TMSCA meet in Idalou on Saturday, Feb. 5. They placed in the small school division in Science.

Individuals placing in the Science division were: Warren Bishop, 10th; Jason Henderson, 8th; Tyson Whittle, 8th, and Mario Nunez, 7th. Nunez also placed 3rd in the eighth grade Science division.

Others attending the meet were Nick Williams, Michael Palacios, John Martinez and Kyle Pierce.

Wheat and feed grain deficiency payments raised

--From Texas Corn Growers Association

Secretary of Agriculture Mike Espy has announced that the loan level and advance deficiency payments for the 1994 crops of wheat and feed grains have been raised.

The 1994 corn price level is $1.89 per bushel, an increase of 17¢ per bushel from 1993. The 1994 wheat price level is $2.58, an increase of 13¢ per bushel.

Producers may request 50 percent of their estimated deficiency payments for 1994 wheat and feed grains during the sign-up period, which begins March 1 and ends April 29. The advance deficiency payment rate for corn is $0.20.

The Texas Corn Growers Association and the American Corn Growers Association has urged the Secretary to raise the loan rate since he took his position. We feel that this is a step in the right direction on the Administration's part to help increase farm income.

Cotton popular in spring style shows

According to a recent article in the trade publication Women's Wear Daily (WWD) cottons, both woven and knit, were a top story in loungewear and sleepwear at the recent Intimate Apparel Salon in New York City.

At this showcase of up-and-coming innerwear designers and smaller firms, spring and transition lines were the main attraction.

According to WWD, major tones included sand, beige and taupe. Cotton was prevalent in foundations with pretty embellishments, oversized shirts and boxer shorts, camisoles, gowns, robes and at-home wear such as tunics over wide-leg pants.

Hunters and landowners voice opinions on pheasant season

By Neta Marble

A meeting was held Thursday, March 3, at the courthouse in Plainview regarding rules and regulation changes in hunting and fishing by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. Approximately 30 Floyd and Hale County hunters and farmers were present. The majority of those present were there to voice their opinions on the changes in the length of season and bag limit on pheasants.

The bag limit proposal by TPWD would increase from 2 cocks per day, four in possession to 3 cocks per day and 6 in possession.

The proposal to lengthen the season would change from 16 days beginning the second Saturday in December to 43 days starting the Saturday before Thanksgiving and running through December 31.

The majority of those who spoke were opposed to both the changes in length of the season and bag limit.

Ray Macha and Keith Marble agreed that Floyd County has more birds than ever before but that if the season were lengthened and more birds could be taken that would all change. Both made the point that a longer hunting season would work against farmers as it would interfere with harvest.

Macha also stated that extra game wardens were called in during pheasant season and that with the lengthening of the season it would overlap with other hunting seasons and the game wardens would be spread too thin and more illegal birds would be taken. He continued that he would not be against adding 7 days to the season beginning the first of December.

Gary Carthel commented that the pheasant population was the best it had ever been and he did not have any objections to making the changes.

Layne Kirk stated that he thought lengthening the season would be a good idea in that it would decompress the number of hunters coming in at one time. "I would like to see the changes made. I know that we will still have as many the first weekend but it would slack off as the season progressed," he said.

He told those present that the bird ratio in this area is 1 cock to 4 hens, and in other states the ratio is between 1-8 and 1-10 and their season is up to 72 days. "I also know that they have a lot of corn and feed," he commented.

He continued, "The effects of hunting the ringnecked pheasant is not significant to the population of the birds. What basically hurts the population is the high intensive cotton farming, the cleaning up of fence rows and areas where the birds nest and feed."

"Speaking from Hale County were Joe Don Scott, president of Pheasants Unlimited; Paul Hayes, Jeane Browning, Bill LaFont, H.M. LaFont, Kenneth Soehgen, Charles Baker, Sandra Baker, David Wayne Garrett, Ray Boggs and John Newton. They were opposed to both changes.

They reported that the bird population in Hale County has been dwindling over the past few years and that they want to preserve the numbers that are here now. All stated that the changes in the regulations will only deplete the population more. Hail and coyotes were given as two other reasons for the dwindling population.

David Garrett stated that he did not hunt but he would like to see things stay as they are so that there would be birds for his children to enjoy. He remembers when there were no birds in this part of the county and the effort that it took to get them established.

John Newton stated that too many hunters do not follow the bag limits as it is and he saw no reason to make any changes.

Charles Baker is a hunter education teacher in the area and he commented on the hardship on the farmers to have hunters in the area for any longer period of time. He also wanted to see more hunter education courses for the kids and to possibly have the season open during the Christmas holidays so that more kids could hunt.

A guide and comment form was passed out that explained the changes in hunting and fishing rules. The guide followed along with the video that was shown.

Other changes that were proposed for this area include:

The season and bag limit for Rio Grande Turkeys. Presently the season starts the first Saturday in April and runs thru the first Sunday in May. The proposed change includes starting the third Saturday in April and running for 37 consecutive days. The bag limit is three and would change to four. Floyd and surrounding counties are included in this change.

Change the minimum length of small-mouth bass caught at Greenbelt Lake from 14 to 18 inches and reduce the limit from 5 fish to 3 fish;

Prohibit trotlines, juglines and throwlines in lakes and stream segments lying totally within State Park boundaries;

Also on the agenda for changes were a muzzleloader season, archery season, managed lands buck permit for white tailed deer, desert bighorn sheep hunting.

The local game warden can provide more information on these changes and any comments on the changes of the rules and regulations can be addressed to Dr. Rudy Rosen, Director of Fisheries and Wildlife Division, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, 4200 Smith School Road, Austin, Texas, 78744.

Advanced deficiency payments announced for upland cotton

By Shawn Wade

The final piece of the puzzle is now in place according to Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers (PCG). That puzzle is the 1994 Upland cotton program and the final piece was today's announcement of an upland cotton advance deficiency payment rate of 6.45 cents per pound.

The advance payment rate is 50 percent of the 12.9 estimated deficiency payment rate announced February 18. The advance will be available to producers when they sign-up for the 1994 cotton program. The sign-up period is scheduled to begin March 1 and run through April 29, 1994.

The announcement of the 50 percent advance payment rate is especially good news for producers according to Donald Johnson, PCG Executive Vice President.

"Having the advance payment set at 6.45 cents will make a big difference to producers this year," says Johnson. "Combined with last week's announcement of the 1994 program's common provisions producers now have all the information they will need to finalize their 1994 operating plans."

Concerned producers were worried that USDA would set the advance payment at the 30 percent minimum level. Most agree that if the payment had been set at the lower level they would have been forced to borrow more money up front to get them through the crop year.

Even though producers have been able to improve financial positions following the 1993 crop, money is still tight and the higher advance payment will help by lowering the amount they have to finance.

In the announcement USDA estimated upland cotton advance payments will total $340 million. ELS cotton producers can expect an advance payment of 8.48 cents per pound, with USDA estimating $6 million in advance ELS deficiency payments.

In addition to the announcement of the advance payment rate, Secretary of Agriculture Mike Espy also announced that upland cotton producers may plant designated crops such as oilseeds (soybeans, sunflowers, safflower, canola, rapeseed, mustard seed, and flaxseed) and mung beans on up to 50 percent of the announced 11 percent acreage reduction program requirement. Producers, however, must agree to give up deficiency payments on an acre for acre basis for each acre (or portion thereof) of the reduced acres planted to the designated crops.

Lawn scalping not beneficial

By Kerry Siders, CEA-Ag.

With warmer weather around the corner, it's not unusual to see homeowners out scalping their lawns. This is a practice that has been the subject of some controversy. As with most subjects, there are two sides.

One side says there is no agronomic benefit to the lawn from scalping. All this scalping activity generates is a great deal of organic material (and dust), much of which ends up in the landfill.

The other side states that while the above may be true, scalping "cleans" up the lawn and makes it look better. Some say scalping keeps all winter weeds in the lawn from going to seed.

The bottom line is there is no reason to scalp a lawn in the spring. It doesn't harm the lawn, but there is no benefit to the lawn either. Many homeowners feel it's a dirty job and would rather not do it at all possible. They don't scalp golf courses or football fields, and they get along very well . . . so why scalp lawns?

Floydada's Trinity Church celebrates 10th anniversary

FLOYDADA--Sunday, March 4, 1984 marked the official opening of Trinity Church of Floydada. March 6, 1994, Trinity will celebrate its Tenth Anniversary. Trinity Church had its beginnings during the Fall of 1983 meeting first in the home of former Floydada residents Paul and Dartha Westbrook.

The small group met in the homes of various members and in the Senior Citizen building until March of 1984. In March the church moved to a temporary location at the Trade Center on the Y which was owned by the Westbrooks, at which time the church was officially organized with 37 members under the leadership of Pastor G.A. VanHoose.

The last ten years have seen a flurry of activities at the church. A new modern sanctuary with an education wing and a kitchen were constructed bringing great pride to the members of the church and community. A special thanks must go to the Texas Baptist Retirees Camp Ministry Builders who volunteered their construction expertise to this ambitious project.

The celebration Sunday, March 6, will feature the Rev. Dale Kitchens of Slaton whose ministry has been helpful to the church in the past. All ministers who have helped in the church have been invited to share with the congregation in the special 2:00 p.m. service that will feature special music by local and guest artist.

A special invitation has gone out to all past members who would like to join in this special event to join with the present church in a homecoming fellowship. The Trinity ladies will serve lunch after the morning worship service and a reception will follow the afternoon service. The entire community is urged by present Pastor James W. Poteet to join us in this celebration of God's blessing and preparation of the future.

Fair Board plans meeting tonight at D&J

LOCKNEY--With 1994 well under way, plans for the 1994 Floyd and Surrounding Counties Fair will begin soon. With the success of the past two fairs, coordinators are looking for some new ideas and board members to make the 1994 Fair even more successful.

The Fair board will be having a meeting Thursday, March 3, (tonight) at 7 p.m. at D&J Gin in Lockney.

On the agenda for the meeting is the election of 1994 officers. If anyone is interested or knows of someone who may be interested in participating on the board, they are asked to attend.

For more information, call Shawnda at 652-3351 or 652-2383.

Whirlwinds open baseball season with two victories

By Bill Gray
 FLOYDADA--After breezing to an 18-5 baseball victory over the J.V. Bulldogs at Plainview on February 22, the Floydada Whirlwinds defeated Abernathy 7-6 in an extra-inning home opener at Watson Field on February 25. The win over Abernathy was Floydada's first over the Antelopes in modern times, and the 2-0 mark is the Whirlwinds' best season start in Coach Jimmy Webster's three years as the Floydada baseball coach.

FLOYDADA 18, PLAINVIEW J.V. 5
 Senior Brandon Gilliland went 2-for-5, with 4 RBIs and scored twice, to lead Floydada's 15-hit attack in the 18-5 opening victory over the Plainview J.V. Gabriel DeLaFuerite knocked in 3 RBIs while going 3-for-5 at the plate in the Whirlwind offensive barrage. The game was terminated after six innings due to the 10-run rule.
 Coach Webster was pleased, especially with Floydada's offensive power, for the first game of the year. He commented, "The offense has the advantage this early in the year... we came out and did a good job at the plate." He noted that Floydada's first four batters did a good job of putting the ball into play. "We are really trying to stress hitting the ball with authority."
 The coach added, "Defensively we had a breakdown or two, but that's to be expected this early. Our pitching was just so-so. (Chad) Hinkle came in and added some welcomed relief... I was pleased to see that. Rod (Vela) was a little inconsistent and was up in the strike zone all night. I thought he (Vela) threw fairly well for this early in the season and considering the weather conditions."

 The Post Antelopes come to Floydada for a 6:00 p.m. date at Watson Field on March 1. The Whirlwinds travel to Childress on March 4 and 5 for their first tournament action of 1994. In addition to the host Childress Bobcats, others scheduled for the tournament are Lockney, Altus (Oklahoma) J.V., Iowa Park, and Amarillo River Road. The Whirlwinds' next home appearance will be against Lubbock Cooper on March 25.

BILL'S NOTES

Make no mistake about it... Floydada baseball is well on its way to being on the map. It was only a matter of time before Coach Jimmy Webster's dedication, to build a ball club from scratch, started paying off. Take the returning veterans, who have certainly had their ups and downs in the past two years, and add several talented (but unproven) freshmen... that spells WINNER any way one looks at it.
 Defensively, this team is far ahead of Jimmy's first two editions of Whirlwind baseball. They are gutsy and confident, and appear to have turned their play up a notch or two. Their bats are booming (25 base hits in the first two games... already with home runs by Gilliland and Mercado).

 The 'Winds are going to be an exciting bunch to watch for the next several years. Playoff chances are well within the realm of possibilities for this season. They will gain valuable experience in non-district play with two tournaments and a double-header against Lockney.
 Before it's over, the 'Winds will be a definite factor in the District 2-3A race. Coaches Webster and Burleson, along with the young student-athletes, have put in a lot of work to take the team to the present level. The end results of their efforts are now starting to be very evident.

FLOYDADA 7, ABERNATHY 6
 Freshman Monty Anderson scored from third on a base hit by Elias Gutierrez in the bottom of the 8th inning to break a 6-all deadlock as the Whirlwinds edged Abernathy 7-6 at Watson Field on February 25. The home opener was greeted by weather conditions more suitable for the third or fourth round of late-November football playoffs. Due to the strong winds and temperatures, the chill factor hovered around 10 degrees for most of the game.
 The Whirlwinds appeared to have the game well in hand and held a 6-3 lead after six innings. However, the Antelopes rallied for 3 runs in the top of the seventh inning. Floydada was unable to respond in the bottom of the seventh, and the stage was set for the Whirlwinds to pull out the victory in the home half of the first extra-inning game of the year.

The extra-inning win illustrated just how far Floydada's baseball program has progressed in three years. "I thought we did a fine job of keeping our composure after allowing Abernathy to tie the game in the 7th inning," stated Coach Webster. "In the past two years I think we would have just folded up the tents and gone home. Instead... we knew we still had control of our situation, and Rod (Vela) dug down and struck out two men (with runners on 2nd and 3rd) to end the inning."
 Webster added, "I can't say enough about how well Angel Aleman threw for six innings. This helped because Jed (Brandon Gilliland) and Gabby (Gabriel DeLaFuerite) had sore arms. Aleman (a freshman) stepped up and not only kept us in the game, but I thought he controlled their bats very effectively."

Following a few early breakdowns, the Whirlwinds played well defensively and committed only three errors. Floydada's 10-hit attack displayed the hitting improvements the team has made in the last year. Neal Nelson pounded two doubles and Tyrone Henderson also had an extra-base hit. Gutierrez, Gilliland and Anderson also had good offensive outings. Webster added, "As a team we are doing some
