SPLASHING AROUND--Floyd County residents have done a whole lot of splashing around during the past several days as rains have intermittently inundated Floydada and Lockney streets and playa lakes. Rain reports have ranged from 2 to 5 1/2 inches throughout the county. Small hail, visible on house rooftop in photo, has also accompanied some of the rainfall.

Rains in county ease dry spell

Water level low at Mackenzie

The water level at Lake Mackenzie may be down but according to retiring general manager of the Mackenzie Municipal Water Authority, John Earl Simpson, "there is no allocation anticipated at this point."

Mackenzie Municipal Water Authority currently is contracted to pump 2,404,000 gallons of water each day to the four member cities. The volume for which each town contracts includes: Floydada, 770,000; Lockney, 405,000; Silvertown, 200,000; and Tulia, 1,030,000 gallons.

"Over the years, we've averaged pumping approximately 600 million gallons annually to the four towns," said Simpson. "That equates to about 2,000 acre feet per year. According to the Texas Water Development Board, as of late February 1994 the lake had 10,000 acre feet of water and we've been taking out approximately 2,000 acre feet per year."

"We don't know how much sedimentation is in the lake, but to be on the safe side we'll say we have three-year supply available. There is no rationing in the forecast and there is no need for people to be alarmed that there is going to be rationing."

"We just need to get this back order for heavy rains."

As of April 10th, the Mackenzie Lake depth at the dam stood at 81.4 feet on Monday. By comparison, the reading was 90 feet on Jan. 25, 1993. The highest recorded level of the lake was 115 feet in 1986.

FLOYDADA HAS FIVE WELLS AVAILABLE

"The City of Floydada has five wells which could be used in case of rationing by Lake Mackenzie," said City Manager Gary Brown. "Since we've started getting water at Lake Mackenzie we have never had to use the wells but unless the watershed gets a pretty good soaking the towns should be prepared to supplement Lake Mackenzie if the need ever arises."

"We've had some nice rains and I don't foresee Floydada using much of that water right now. We won't use our wells unless we are told to by the Mackenzie Municipal Water Authority. The wells we have would be able to meet the city's needs."

According to Brown, the peak day of water usage in Floydada last summer was 1,226,372 gallons on June 2nd; 1,169,077 gallons on July 27, and 986,683 on August 19.

LOCKNEY HAS THREE WELLS AVAILABLE

According to Dickie McCarty, Lockney's Water Superintendent, "Lockney has three city wells that would take care of the city in case of rationing by Mackenzie Water Authority. We might have to cut out heavy lawn watering."

"I have been told that the water level at Lake Mackenzie would have to get very bad before we would have to go to wells. Except for a few days in the summer most of the time we don't even use our water allotment."

RAINFALL LEVELS FOR THE COUNTY

The rains finally starting falling at a pretty good pace in Floyd County on April 23. Beginning on that date the following rainfall has been recorded:

Floydada, 3 3/4"; Lockney, 3.65"; Liberty (north of Floydada), 3 1/4"; Providence (N.W. of Lockney), 2 1/2"; South Plains, approx. 3"; Barwise, 4 1/2"; Dougherty, 2"; Muncy, 3"; McCoy, approx. 3"; and Cedar Hill, 5 1/4".

According to Carl Lemons, a resident of Cedar Hill, "The frogs are croaking again. It sounds great!"

NO SWIMMING ALLOWED

Floydada city officials are asking parents to keep their children from swimming in the lakes south of Dairy Queen. Not only is there a risk of drowning, the lake has also been treated for mosquito prevention.

Delta & Pine Land purchases Cargill Seed

Delta and Pine Land Company has finalized the purchase of the cotton planting seed business of Cargill headquartered in Aiken. Terms of the transaction were not disclosed.

David Sternstein, a public relations spokesman for D&PL, noted that the Cargill cotton seed research and breeding program acquired on Monday will complement D&PL's world-wide program of cotton seed research and offer potential synergies for future product development.

"Changes in the cotton seed operation are not expected, nor does D&PL foresee any significant effect on its 1994 earnings resulting from the acquisition," said Sternstein.

The acquisition will give Delta & Pine

Land a presence in the markets of the High Plains region of Texas and the Oklahoma Panhandle in which "stripper" cotton varieties are planted. Delta and Pine Land Company has not been a factor in those U.S. markets favoring "stripper" cotton varieties prior to this acquisition.

"The addition of the 'stripper' cotton varieties will complement D&PL's traditional strength in the 'picker' cotton varieties, in which Delta and Pine Land enjoys a substantial reputation in the United States and throughout the world," said Sternstein.

Cotton varieties sold in the High Plains region will continue to carry the Paymaster and Lankart brand names and according to Sternstein, both companies will work to ensure a smooth transition during the upcoming cotton planting season.

Cargill's Seed Division will continue to research and market its major lines of corn, sorghum, sunflowers, canola and alfalfa.

Delta and Pine Land is the world's largest commercial breeder, producer and marketer of cotton planting seed.

Headquartered in Scott, Mississippi, with offices in nine states and several foreign countries, D&PL also markets sorghum, soybean and corn planting seed. D&PL's common stock trades on the NASDAQ National Market System under the stock symbol COTN.

Ammons contract terminated

FLOYDADA — Three days before the election which would see the end of his tenure on the Caprock Hospital District Board of Directors, Fred Thayer made the motion to terminate the contract of hospital administrator Ronny Ammons giving him six months severance pay in accordance with his contract. Thayer made his motion saying, "I feel that we have certainly come to a point where we cannot continue to work with Mr. Ammons anymore. It is time for a clean sweep where we can start out with something new and build to provide health care in this community."

The motion was seconded by appointed board member Carmel Eastham. The motion was approved by unanimous vote of the members of the board.

The 7:00 a.m. session of the board on Wednesday, May 4, was originally scheduled for an executive session to discuss the appointment, employment, evaluation, reassignment, duties, discipline or dismissal of the administrator. Ammons requested that discussion take place in open session as part of the public record.

Attorney Tom Riney warned that such discussion could result in the public revelation of information which might be detrimental to Ammons and could tarnish his reputation and effect his future employment. Ammons stated that he was aware of that, but felt he had done nothing wrong and that his reputation had already been tarnished by events of the past few months involving the district and himself as administrator.

Board President Tom Farris read a list of allegations concerning Ammons' performance as administrator for the board to consider. They included: failure to investigate the credentials of Enrique Herrera, Physician's Assistant before expending district funds to him, failure to insure proper posting of meetings, failure to see that applications for indigent care were properly handled possibly costing the district thousands of dollars, failure to be at the hospital during regular business hours, and responsibility for release or misuse of confidential information concerning the hospital.

Attorney Riney next reported on attempts to negotiate the end of Ammons' contract with his attorney, Pete Baker of Lubbock. Riney said that he had received a fax communication on April 28 from Baker saying that Ammons would resign with two months severance pay and other considerations, but that the offer to resign was withdrawn a few hours later by fax communication.

Ammons answered each allegation stating that he had done nothing that he felt was not in the best interest of the hospital. He told the board that he had documentation proving that a firm called Management Recruitment had guaranteed the credentialing of P.A. Herrera prior to the district expenditure for his expenses and that the man had been paid pursuant to the advice of the hospital's legal representative in Lubbock. Ammons said that efforts are being made with the firm to recoup the financial loss resulting from the discovery that the P.A. had no current license number in Texas.

Ammons stated that he could not remember exact events concerning the posting of agendas, but took the word of the employee delegated to post the agenda that it had been done properly. Riney reminded him that he had testified in a deposition that the December 21, 1994, agenda was improperly posted.

Ammons replied that he had testified to events as he could recall them at the time. He added that when Riney played the tape of the December 14 executive session for his lawyer on April 27, he was able to recall that he had told the employee to post the agenda according to the instructions given to him by the board at that time. He added that his recollection had prompted the withdrawal of his offer to resign since he felt had done nothing to warrant resigning.

Additional discussion took place concerning whether the actual posting of the agenda or the terminology was at stake in the Walls lawsuit. Ammons questioned the recent board action in reauthorizing December 21 actions asking why it was necessary if the actions taken were proper. Riney stated that it was best to do things both ways as a protective measure for the district.

Riney stated that the lawsuit was originally filed based on improper terminology and amended following Ammons deposition to include improper posting. He added that the suit was settled recently based on the information in the deposition and admonished Ammons for not telling the board and their attorneys the deposition testimony was erroneous as that might have influenced the settlement.

Regarding indigent health care, Ammons stated that his staff had handled the matter in the same manner it had always been taken care of by the district. Responding to questioning from Riney, Ammons acknowledged that he did not have total knowledge of every detail and aspect of hospital administration and had to depend on qualified employees to handle their jobs competently.

He added that expert help had been called in to assist since the termination of the employee responsible for handling the applications had resulted in saving the district most of the money they may have had to pay out through lack of knowledge concerning indigent care regulations.

Ammons told the board that whenever he was absent from the hospital for business or personal reasons, the staff knew where he was. He said he was entitled to time off for illness and had taken some in the past months due to stress and pressure resulting from the situation at the hospital.

The final allegation, release or misuse of confidential information concerning the hospital, Ammons stated that he had never released anything that he had been told not to nor had he ever released anything he considered confidential. Riney questioned the origin of information about prospective physicians in Dr. Tommy Swate's possession.

Ammons responded that as chief of staff, Swate was entitled to information concerning potential physicians before making recommendations to the board. He also stated that he had not released any information to Dr. Swate after the termination of his contract.

Board members were told that they had several options concerning the contract of the administrator at this time.

Adam Gonzales headed for state track competition

By Bill Gray

FLOYDADA--Floydada's Adam Gonzales defended his Region 1 title in the shot put at Odessa's Ratliff Stadium on April 29 to secure his second consecutive berth in the state track meet. Gonzales out-distanced Southlake Carroll's Zack Polling by more than three feet (54'-9" to 51' 7 1/4"). Midland Greenwood's Rusty Purser, son of former Lockney coach Bob Purser, placed third at the Region 1 meet with a throw of 50'-3 3/4".

Gonzales' 5th place finish in discus (150'-3 1/2"), coupled with his 1st place in shot put, gave the Whirlwinds 12 team points. Floydada tied with Comanche for 16th place overall in team standings. Lake Worth scored 47 points to capture the Region 1-3A team title. Tulia edged Midland Greenwood 41-40 for second place in team totals.

Floydada's only other Region qualifier, Lady Wind Dana McCandless, failed to finish in the top six of the girls' 800 meters.

It was a good track year for Gonzales in shot put as he set meet records at Littlefield and Shallowater as well as a new District 2-3A meet record of 56'-10 1/2". He holds the FHS school record of 57'-5", set in 1993. He won the shot put event at every meet this year and won the discus in all but two meets.

His personal best of 170'-1" in discus was second only to Perryton's Brandon Pshigoda's toss of 182'-11". Pshigoda won the discus title at the Region 1 meet with a distance of 183'-10".

Gonzales will advance to the state track meet in Austin on May 13 and 14.

Brochures available for city-wide garage sale sites

A complimentary map will be available to all garage sale enthusiasts who visit Floydada on May 7 for the first annual City Wide Garage Sale. The map will lead to the way to all the homes and other locations of Saturday's garage sales.

Ads have been placed in Plainview and Lubbock encouraging people to shop Floydada garage sales this Saturday. Besides garage sales, Larry Ogden will also hold an auction at the Auction Barn across from Higginbotham Bartlett.

Although at press time, only 14 locations will be listed on the map, many of those places will include several families that have banded together to sell their wares.

At the First Baptist Church the youth will be holding a garage sale in the parking lot to raise money for summer youth activities. Not only will items be sold by numerous families, but the church will also have a full fledged concession stand available, featuring popcorn, hot dogs and cokes.

St. Mary Magdalene Catholic Church will also have a large garage sale.

If you wish to be a part of the sale and want to benefit from your name included on the map, you must contact the chamber by Thursday at 983-3434. The brochures will be given away on May 7, at Nielson's Restaurant, Pizza Gold and Brooks Oil.

BY THE WAY!

BY

I figure some of you may be tired of me harping on the bad agendas I see coming from the state and federal government for our local school systems. I was going to let it ride for awhile until I received something in the mail.

It is a tabloid called, "Advocate," a "Voice of the Texas State Teachers Association." They are part of the National Education Association (NEA).

TSTA is a teacher association that is unionized in some states. Some districts put a lot of pressure on their teachers to belong to this union—Floyd and Lockney districts do not.

When I saw the front page I thought it was a joke. Unfortunately it wasn't. I want to share some of it with you.

On the front page in scary looking type (you expect Dracula to pop up any minute) is a poster that resembles a movie poster. It says, "Coming Soon—Beware—The Invasion of the Radical Right—Starring Stealth Candidates—They're Targeting Our Schools With A Secret Agenda!—BE PREPARED."

Also on the front page—"Do You Know Who Your School Board Candidates Really Are?—How to unmask them and protect our school children."

I had to read this. I mean after all—I love my kid. I had to find out who was after him. I had to protect him from the blood sucking Dracula!

Inside the headline is, "Radical Right—invasives Texas."

The article says, "They badgered the State Board of Education to make 1,000 changes in health textbooks, including the removal of information on sexually transmitted diseases, teenage pregnancy and homosexuality..."

"They began infiltrating local school boards with their own stealth candidates...They object to the use in school of materials that increase self-esteem as part of a drug-abuse prevention program..."

"Their campaign is to keep children from thinking for themselves...They are threatening anyone who stands in their way. The scope of their efforts is frightening."

OH NO!!! WHO ARE THEY!!! WE HAVE TO KNOW!!!

Well the article tells us. They make sure we know who the "National Groups with an Anti-Public School Agenda" are. What a relief.

For your information, and so you can protect your children from these people, I'm including some on their list. It includes: The American Family Association, The Christian Coalition, Concerned Women For America, Focus On The Family (Dr. James Dobson), Free Congress Foundation and Traditional Values Coalition.

Leaders to look out for were: Jerry Falwell, Pat Robertson and Phyllis Schlafly to name just a few.

At first I was appalled when I read the whole story (I don't have room to comment too much on it), but then I decided that the TSTA and the NEA must be running scared and I felt better.

By the way—did you know that the recent "GOALS 2000" bill which just passed in Congress sets up a multi-tiered bureaucracy to develop and enforce sweeping national education goals and standards.

According to a "Human Events" article, "the National Education Standards and Improvement Council (NESIC) will determine whether local school boards are developing the 'correct curriculum and are providing enough resources to ensure that pre-school children as well as young students are being given an 'opportunity to learn.'"

"They will certify national content and student performance standards. All members of NESIC are to be chosen by Pres. Clinton. Even if Pres. Clinton didn't want to appoint liberals the law was crafted in a way that NO president could avoid choosing a "politically correct" NESIC board..."

"The President must choose five representatives of the public from among members of 'advocacy, civil rights and disability groups,' as well as from 'tribal governments or state and local education policymakers.'"

Supporters of the bill emphasize that the measure says the goals and standards are voluntary.

Sen. Judd Gregg, of New Hampshire, says, "the only thing voluntary in this bill is the word itself. In order to qualify for access to a $400 million pot of funds, states must produce plans that conform to the content and performance standards set out by the national panels." According to Gregg, "the law is written

Sams meet at Lighthouse

By Marjorie McElyea
 FLOYDADA--The Whirlwind Sams chapter met May 2 at the Lighthouse Electric building. The meeting was called to order by president Harold Reese.

Anniversary of Rufus and Ruth Lusk was recognized and those having birthdays were Ruth Adams, Mac McElyea, Harold and Carol Reese, Milton Harrison and Claude Weathersbee. There were 23 rigs present. The invocation was given by Claude Weathersbee. The delicious meal was served by the Parkers, Weathersbees and Adams.

Harold Reese called on George Miller, program chairman, to introduce the speakers for the evening. They were Joy

Denton of Plainview and Janet Milam of Floydada. Janet brought the first part of the program, which was 'Genealogy on Computer.' Joy then gave us lots of interesting ideas about tracing family history back in time by using back tax records and many other interesting references that are available.

The minutes were read by secretary Francis Weathersbee and approved. Treasurer Barbara Willis gave a financial report.

Wagon master Harold Norrell asked Trail Boss Darrell Mayo to give a report on the trip to Roaring Springs.

Keith and June Patzer won the door prize and were dismissed by singing "Happy Trails."

Artist uses photography to inspire others

By Alice Gilroy
 Multiple Sclerosis may keep JenniSu Smith from doing many of the ordinary things which others take for granted, but the disease has strengthened her spirit and her resolve enabling her to do extraordinary things others would never attempt.

She lives by the motto, "Lord Teach Us Joy in the Simple Things," and it shows in her photography work, on display this month at the First National Bank in Floydada.

JenniSu and her husband, Eddie, have lived in Floydada for 21 years. She is originally from San Antonio where she lived for the first 16 years of her life.

"My father, Joe P. Wood, was the superintendent of the Northwest Independent School District," said JenniSu. "The doctors told him that if he didn't slow down and get away from so much stress he was going to have a heart attack. Therefore, we moved to Lorenzo where he went to work as superintendent at a much slower pace."

"I was in shock when we drove into Lorenzo. I went from a class of 435 students to a graduating class of 35!"

"I was furious with my father at first for bringing me there," laughs JenniSu. "I missed my friends, however I never would have met Eddie if my father hadn't been so firm in his belief that Lorenzo was 'God's choice.'"

JenniSu attended Wayland for two years and married Eddie in 1971. She transferred to Tech and graduated with a BS in Elementary Education and a minor in English.

"My dad stayed in Lorenzo for three years and then took the position as Vice President at Wayland. He worked in this position for seven years before he suffered a heart attack, and one month later he died."

JenniSu landed her first teaching job in Floydada teaching second grade. Their son, Eric, was born in 1976 and JenniSu quit for a short time to be a full time mom. When Eric started first grade, JenniSu also started school.

It was while teaching 5th grade Math that JenniSu discovered she had Multiple Sclerosis. "A doctor does not diagnose you with MS," said JenniSu. "There was no positive or negative test for the disease—they could only tell you that all the signs point to the disease."

"The first signs of the disease were evident in the blurred vision in my right eye (optical neuritis) in 1981. In 1985 or '86 I lost the complete use of my right hand. I would be writing something on the board in front of the class and the children would start laughing. I would turn around to see what they were laughing at and they would say, 'You did it again.' I would look down and the chalk would be on the floor. I had no idea I had dropped it because I couldn't feel anything in my fingers."

Unable to clutch small items as her fingers and hand starting "drawing up", JenniSu started fine motor skill exercises. "I couldn't even pick up large pegs—but now I can even snap my fingers. That may not sound like a lot to some people but it is to me."

Because stress can bring on "spells" (called exacerbations), JenniSu was forced to leave teaching in 1987.

"Most of the things I loved to do I couldn't do anymore. I couldn't teach, I couldn't paint, I couldn't play the piano and I couldn't do calligraphy. But I found out I could take pictures."

Because of the blurred vision in one eye, JenniSu discovered she couldn't depend on her eye to focus the image. Because she used an "automatic camera", for many years JenniSu did not consider herself a photographer.

"My brother made me feel a little better about my work when he expressed amazement at my photos. He said, 'Your photos really are a work of art. I can snap the same picture as you do and mine never look like yours'. "I just take pictures of stuff—landscapes, old farm equipment, family and friends—stuff like that."

JenniSu does not print her own photographs however she does her own enlarging. "Enlarging my own prints enables me to crop out unwanted stuff and I can blow up the parts I do want."

"I love to travel all around but I now have to take someone with me. I have been out in the middle of a field before and fallen. With nothing around to pull myself up I can get into trouble."

JenniSu has been taking pictures for so long she says she can't remember when she started this "hobby". The most recent time they were on display was at the Floyd County Fair in 1993.

"I submitted eight photographs and won seven first places and one second place," said JenniSu. "Martha Farris saw my work at the fair and really encouraged me to display my work in the bank. If it wasn't for her motivation I wouldn't have had the opportunity to do this. I thank Martha for being my 'Barnabas' (encourager)."

"MS has slowed me down. One big thing I lost was my balance. Sometimes I look drunk when I walk. I can't walk farther than a block before I get exhausted. But how important is that?"

"I think it is more important that I witness to people about Christ. When people come and tell me that I'm walking better I tell them to thank God for that. Everything comes back to God."

"I get tired of listening to people complain and putting things down. We should look for the good instead of the bad. I hope that my MS made my own complaining slow down."

Explaining the disease, JenniSu said, "MS affects the nervous system; it causes scar tissue to form on the myelin or coating of the nerves. The messages from your brain don't always get to where you want them to go. I know what I want to say or do, but I'm not always able to do it."

"The MS also affects your memory. When I forget something I can blame my MS. My friends laugh and tell me they wish they had an excuse for their memory losses."

JenniSu has fought many battles since the onslaught of MS. Approximately six years ago, after a 'spell', she was wheeled into a hospital unable to walk. After undergoing chemotherapy she walked away from the hospital on her own.

"Recently I have started with a new drug that has given me an even better outlook about my future," said JenniSu.

The new medicine is Betaseron and JenniSu must give herself an injection of the drug every other day. "Betaseron won't cure MS but it will stop the progression of the disease," said JenniSu. It is not going to get any worse, however I may possibly continue to face challenges walking, with my fine motor skills and with my vision. But I believe that I'm going to get better not stay where I am."

"I'm not in the chronic progressive stage, which is wheelchair bound. This medicine might not be able to help me if I was. I am an ambulatory patient with relapsing-remitting multiple sclerosis."

"I want everyone to know that when they get depressed about something, that no matter how bad they have it somebody else is worse off than they are.

"I hope my photographs can help people look at life differently and be more positive. If my disease can help people look at their own life differently, then it has been worth it. I want my life to be a witness to people."

Because the disease has made JenniSu unable to do so many things, she has found herself sometimes feeling like she is not contributing anything back to her family. "When I was teaching, I was helping to put money in the bank and now I feel like all I do is take it out. My husband and son never make me feel like that, but sometimes I can't help but feel that way. That is one reason I am so excited about putting my pictures up at the bank. I've already sold my first photograph and now I feel like I'm putting some money back."

JenniSu was also looking for some way to serve her church. "I started praying that God would show me something I could do and then I was asked to teach juniors in high school in the Sunday School class at First Baptist Church. I was going to have to climb to the third floor to get to this class and I started thinking up reasons (excuses) why I couldn't do it. The Lord convinced me it would be good exercise."

"I think it has also been good for my Sunday School class. Parents tell me those kids see me climbing the stairs to come to class and they tell themselves—'If she can get there, so can I.' My class has been a real inspiration to me as well."

"I want to make myself available to God and let him work through me. The best medicine for me has been a positive attitude which I get from my faith in God. I also get a lot of support through the encouragement I get from my husband and son. Side effects from the medicine, other than flu-like symptoms, can cause depression and anxiety. My faith has brought me through most of that."

"I want to be a positive motivator—a 'Barnabas'. I want my show at the bank to be a motivation for someone else not to buckle under but to keep on fighting. "My witness to someone is to take one step at a time. I love the song, 'One Day At A Time', but sometimes one day can be overwhelming—so I tell them to take it one step at a time."

As JenniSu can tell you—it's not the blocks you can jog that are important. It's the little steps you take that get you where you're going. She truly lives by her motto, "Lord teach us joy in simple things."

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

FLOYDADA--Hi! On this cool, cloudy day, hasn't the rain been wonderful? And it came at the right time. Can't believe that it is May once again.

Families, daughters, daughters-in-law all are invited to the Mother's Day Party May 5th at 2:30 p.m. Don't forget to acknowledge your mother Sunday. Some of us have lost our mothers, so remember them in your thoughts and prayers.

Rev. Clark Williams, First United Methodist Church always cheers and lifts our residents with his devotions. Irene Wexler played the piano, Edna Paton, Decoda Odom, Ivola Walters also came and sung.

The residents painted ceramics, Mrs. Mona Dunn had the first Bingo. Mary Alice Davis assisted with Bingo.

Our main event this week was the Fish Fry. Instead of being a cook-out, it was a cook-in because of the rain. Several member of the family came. Thanks to all who came and brought food.

Cindy and Rick Fuller gave the devotion for Friday morning. First Baptist Church (May 8 then May 14) is National Nursing Home Week and National Nurses Week. We have something special for our residents each day. Highlights will include a Western Day and Bar-be-Que on May 12.

Thursday at noon there will be entertainment by Granny and Pop, of Silverton at 2 p.m. May 10 at 2:30, a tea. On May 11, a blood pressure and sugar screening test clinic, 9:00 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. On Saturday May 14, J.V. Martin family of Lockney entertain with guitar and fiddle music.

Homebuilders FCE Club gathers in Lovell home

by Jonelle Fawver

April 26, the Homebuilders FCE Club met in the home of Sue Lovell. President, Sue called the meeting to order and roll call was answered by five members and a guest. Minutes were read by Gladys Widener and then approved.

The club had elected 1995 officers and nominees for State meeting. These names are to be brought to May council meeting.

Report of the District II meeting at Crosbyton on April 7 was given by Jonelle Fawver. State meeting will be hosted by District II so many duties were discussed. A new District Director was elected--this being Nelma Ritchie of Mitchell County.

Saorie Kobayaski, a Japanese exchange student, gave us a report on Japanese culture. She wore a kimono she had sewn entirely by hand.

There was an art demonstration by Pfaff machine operators. Just think of computerized sewing machine. There was wonderful embroiders, applique and decorative repaired garments.

Melvin J. Silverstren M.D. and Neal Handel M.D. both FACS gave us a 37 minute program by video. These two were from The Breast Center of Van Nuys, Calif. The doctors program dispels many of the myths about breast cancer and offers up-to-date information on mammographies, self exams, reconstruction and treatment options.

Ms. Fawver reported that Texas Tech Health Science Center is beginning a five year study of TAMEXIFEN a drug used for treatment of breast cancer and for its ability to prevent the disease. Methodist Hospital of Lubbock, recently began performing a new type of breast biopsy that requires smaller incision and quicker patient recovery.

Refreshments were served to Gladys Widener, Lillian Smith, Mildred Fuqua, Jonelle Fawver, hostess Sue Lovell and guest Crawford Sandefur.

May 10 will be our next meeting with Lillian Smith.

'Winds edge Mules for win

By Bill Gray

FLOYDADA--The Floydada Whirlwinds came from behind to score twice in the bottom of the seventh inning to edge Muleshoe 11-10 in a thrilling District 2-3A contest at Wester Field on April 26. The game was tied twice and the lead changed five times as Floydada defeated the Mules for the first time since the Whirlwind baseball program was revived in 1992.

The victory snapped Floydada's 7-game losing streak and was the Whirlwind's first district win for the 1994 season. Floydada's overall record improved to 7-15 as the Mules dropped their first district game of the year.

The Floydada defense played perhaps its best game of the year. The 'Winds committed but two meaningless errors and turned a critical double play in the top of the sixth inning. It was the Whirlwind offense that "stole the show" in this game, however.

After giving up the lead with two outs in the top of the seventh inning, Angel Aleman opened the winning rally by beating out a grounder to the short stop and sliding under the tag, following a high throw to first base.

Ken Cummings ran for Aleman and stole second base. Chad Hinkle laid down a perfectly-executed sacrifice bunt to move Cummings to third. Hinkle was called safe at first when Muleshoe's first baseman lost the pitcher's toss in the sun.

Gabriel de la Fuente singled home Cummings with the tying run and Hinkle moved to second on the play. Monty Anderson then bunted Hinkle and de la Fuente to second and third, and Hinkle scored the winning run when Muleshoe's pitcher threw the ball high to first base.

Coach Jimmy Webster happily commented, "I think all the time and all the effort was worth it when we saw Gauna (Muleshoe's pitcher) throw the ball into right field after Monty's bunt, allowing Hinkle to score the game-winner."

The coach added, "Now, when that feeling happens over and over, it really makes things worth it. You get greedy and you want to win over and over. That is where the team is trying to get to - I want us to get greedy and quit being the nice guy!"

The Mules outlasted Floydada 15-11, but committed 6 errors on defense, which opened the door for Whirlwind base runners. Eli Gutierrez led the Whirlwind offense by going 3-for-4, scored twice and had five stolen bases.

De la Fuente had another good outing by going 2-for-3 at the plate and scoring three runs. He also had 2 RBIs and two stolen bases.

Coach Webster was happy with his younger players. "Our freshmen are really growing up and I guess they have to when all five of them start, along with two sophomores," said Webster.

The coach added, "I was proud of the kids and I think we all needed this win to make us remember that all the time and effort spent are worth it."

BILL'S NOTES

The victory over Muleshoe was especially gratifying - not only that the 'Winds finally whipped the Mules after three years, but also the way Floydada came back in the final inning. Several of the younger players came through in the clutch, and their gutsy attitude should carry over the remainder of the season. It should also be a confidence-builder going into next season (with underclassmen filling 7 of 9 starting positions against the Mules).

Angel Aleman pitched well enough to win, even though he allowed 15 hits and 10 runs. He walked only one batter and struck out 5. As Coach Webster noted, "You don't have to be a pitching God to be good. You just have to be a competitor who wants to win above everything else." The coach also stated, "We were aggressive, we were fundamental, we were competitive, and we refused to get beat even after we lost the lead late in the game."

The Whirlwind bats continue to sizzle... the youngsters are attacking the ball with confidence. Aleman, Anderson, Barrientos and Gilliland all collected doubles, and three of those four are underclassmen! The Mules got the first real hint of what to expect from Floydada in the next few years. The overall and district records may not show it, but the 'Winds have definitely moved up to the next level of competition.

Mercado represents FHS at Amarillo leadership seminar

Sophomore student, Michael Mercado was this year's representative from Floydada High School to the Seventh Annual Texas Panhandle Leadership Seminar in Amarillo held recently at the Bishop Quarterman Conference Center.

Approximately 100 outstanding sophomores, each representing a different high school throughout the Texas Panhandle, were there for a weekend of being in an educational environment that teaches, through discussions and demonstrations a variety of subjects relating to profit, economics, business, self-improvement, motivation, and leadership skills.

The Texas Panhandle Leadership Seminar, an affiliate with the Hugh O'Brien Youth Foundation (HOBY), is one of five seminars held in Texas. There are a total of 92 seminar sites in the U.S., Canada and Mexico. Each provides a setting of education and motivation for sophomores who have exhibited leadership qualities. Michael became eligible by being nominated by his/her principal this past fall.

All discussions and presentations were centered on the theme: "America's Incentive System" our free enterprise economic system which motivates productive activity in our society. The emphasis was on motivating the young people to make a positive contribution to their school and community and to be aware, active and responsible citizens of their world.

CAKE AUCTION--The annual cake auction held at Lockney Elementary on Friday raised $6,355 which will be divided between the Lockney Boy Scouts and Little League. Various businesses and individuals bought the baked goods made by fathers and sons. The Boy Scouts has already made plans to use the money to put a roof on an old building which has been donated to them for meetings. The money also helps pay for scouting trips and equipment for the youth. The Little League also uses the money for equipment and last year was able to build a concession stand with the proceeds. Auctioneers who donated their time to the event were Sam Fortenberry, Donnie Bybee and Billy Joe Turner. Staff Photo

Cindy Perez wins $500 Panhandle Press scholarship

Cynthia (Cindy) Marie Perez, a senior at Lockney High School, has been chosen as the recipient of a $500 scholarship from the Panhandle Press Association (PPA).

Perez was nominated for the scholarship by this newspaper. As a PPA member, the Floyd County Hesperian-Beacon was able to submit names for consideration of the scholarship. She has been a part time employee of this paper since 1992 and has shown an interest in every aspect of journalism.

She has written city council stories, taken pictures at sporting events and other school and community activities, typeset, worked in paste-up and mail-out and sold advertising.

Cindy is the editor of "The Round-Up" (the school annual) and co-editor of the school newspaper, "The Informer." She has placed in journalism UIL competition and has advanced to Regionals twice.

She was a cheerleader for six years, four of them in high school and in her senior year, she is a member of the National Honor Society.

Perez was notified of her win at the recent Panhandle Press Convention in Amarillo. She will be given a plaque at the upcoming awards ceremony at Lockney High School, May 20.

Cindy will be attending West Texas A&M University in Canyon and plans to pursue a career in journalism.

Lockney ISD changing voting procedure

With the change in procedures for electing Lockney I.S.D. Board of Trustees, a great deal of confusion exists and should be clarified before the May 7 election. With the new system, which will be utilized for the first time in the election, the following provisions exist:

1. The school district is now divided into 5 Single-Member districts and 2 At-Large districts.
2. A Lockney I.S.D. resident may run for a trustee position in any open district.
3. For the five Single-Member districts, voters may vote only for candidate running in the district (or precinct) in which they live.

4. All voters may vote for At-Large candidates.

In this year's election, the following conditions exist:

1. Districts (1) and (2) and a At-Large position are open.
2. Running in district (1) are Jessie Garza and Tina Graves. Only persons living in District One may vote for one of these two candidates. District One is generally located from the red light to East 8th Street and North to the City Limits. A portion of District One extends from East 4th street to East 8th street on the South side of Locust Street.

3. Running in District Two is Jim Bob Martin. Only persons living in District Two may vote for this candidate. District two is generally located North and South between Shurbet Street and Locust Street and East and West between Third and East Fourth Streets.

4. Running for the At-Large positions is Bernie Ford. All Lockney I.S.D. school district residents may vote for this candidate.

Districts or precincts for school trustee election are not to be confused with City of Lockney Districts or Precincts. They are not the same.

If you would like to verify your voting district residence, this can be done on election day or by contacting or coming by the Superintendent's office.

There will be only one voting site. All voters will vote at Lockney High School.

Everyone is encouraged to come out and cast a vote in the 1994 School Trustee election on Saturday, May 7, 1994.

Lake Pointe Medical Center honors Scheele

Ralph Scheele was honored in a recent ceremony for being selected as Lake Pointe Medical Center's Employee of the Year for 1993. Scheele is the Assistant Director of Pharmacy for Lake Pointe Medical Center in Rowlett. From among the hundreds of employees and staff physicians at the Rowlett hospital, recipients of the awards are selected annually from votes by the Lake Pointe Medical Center staff.

The son of Albert and Otero Scheele, of Providence, Ralph is a 1982 graduate of Lockney High School and a native of the Providence Community. Given his proclivity for math and science, it was natural for Scheele to seek his Bachelor's Degree in a field like Pharmacy.

A position with a hospital pharmacy management company brought Scheele and his wife, Detra, to the Dallas area seven years ago. The couple chose Rockwall as their home. Two years later, he became associated with Lake Pointe Medical Center, and Detra, a Registered Pharmacist, was employed by the Kroger pharmacy in Rockwall, where she is now manager.

As Assistant Director of Pharmacy at Lake Pointe Medical Center, Scheele monitors Quality Assurance, responds to pharmaceutical related problems, addresses drug interaction issues, and supervises drug dosing and medicinal regimens.

Although his job requires frequent contact with other employees, Scheele expressed surprise at having been selected for the honor. "Since the hospital is staffed at all times, there are many employees who work shifts when I don't and don't know me personally. I'm really flattered to have been chosen because there are a lot of great people here who deserve the honor."

GOODBYE, PRECIOUS MAMA

In Loving Memory of Mrs. Dollie Lee Cantrell
By Genell Blanton
March 25, 1994

Mama, tomorrow will be a month since you've gone away,
And believe me the pain is still as strong as if it were today.
You know you always said, "I don't want you kids to cry over me, like you did your Dad."
Sorry Mom, that's one wish you never had.
You know we loved you so much it was hard to let you go,
I don't think we kept it a secret. I think we let you know.
Remember I told you when you went home, I would go stay with you and cook your favorite food.
Boy, that always seemed to put you in a very best mood.
You said, "Hon, tell the doctor what you're going to cook."
He just smiled and gave you the sweetest look.
I guess he knew you probably would never go home again,
But he kept it a secret right up until the end.
The doctors and nurses said nothing but good things about you.
You did exactly what they wanted you to.
When you came out of surgery, you kept asking the time.
I said then, "Mama has something in mind."
Even after we found out you had the cancer and were eaten up so bad,
You never lost your patience or even acted mad.
Sure enough come Saturday at 15 til 7:00, you told us, "I love you and goodbye."
You had an appointment in heaven, but you didn't give up til 20 til 11:00.
The ladies at the church cooked your favorite meal.
I can almost hear you saying, "ladies, ladies, what a deal!"
I believe the preacher preached about the best funeral I've been to.
Of course, it was easy, he said so many nice things about you.
Jo Payne sang the prettiest songs I've ever heard.
She put so much meaning into every little word.
We all came to the funeral except for Bobby who wasn't feeling so good.
You know he surely would have been there if he could.
He said, "I heard Mom had a beautiful funeral. She really went out in style.
Why that funeral procession was way over a mile."
Each day I thank God that we had you for 88 years.
Now as I'm finishing this poem, I'm trying to hold back the tears.
I miss calling you at night and asking you, "Mom, do you have on your pajamas, and have you locked your door?"
I'm so sad, I can't do that anymore.
I tell everyone I not only lost my mother, but I lost my best friend.
That's why I stayed with you until the very end.
Mama I'm so thankful that when you started to die,
You still had the strength to say Goodbye!
Tell all the family who have gone on before,
We all said, "Watch after Mama and make sure she locks her door!"
Goodbye Mama, we love you!

Cards of Thanks

We would like to thank the PTA Parents of Duncan Elementary who have made us feel so appreciated throughout the school year, but especially during the past week. The lunch you provided for us was delicious and the fresh, crisp apples refreshing, but the best treat has been seeing many of you in the building, providing us with moral support and good cheer.

We enjoy teaching, love your children, and have the pleasure of working together with supportive parents.

We are truly blessed!

The coordinators of "Project Prom Night" would like to express our sincere thanks to all who helped make the night a terrific success. No matter how many or how few of our youth attend, it is well worth our time and effort to furnish them with a safe and fun environment.

Thank you to all the businesses who donated door prizes and money. Thanks also to the parents who gave of their time, money and effort to make this work. We could not have accomplished this without you all.

Here's hoping this will become a yearly tradition sponsored by concerned parents and a caring community.

Thank you very much,

Contract terminated

One option was to leave the situation as is, with the administrator in place. A second option was to place the administrator on a leave of absence, continuing to pay him, until further investigation and action was taken, but removing him from any duties at the hospital. Other options available under his contract were immediate dismissal citing a reason and offering no further compensation, immediate dismissal for no cause with six months severance pay (payable monthly), or mutual termination by agreement.

Riney asked Ammons what it would take to get him to resign and absolve the district of any further responsibility or liability. Ammons responded that since he had 20 months left on his contract and that he felt he had done nothing to warrant dismissal, he would take 12 months severance and a letter of recommendation in return for resigning and absolving the district of further liability.

Eastham asked Riney if any option but mutual agreement would keep the district from being liable for litigation. Riney replied that under any option but mutual agreement, litigation would be a possibility.

Thayer asked if legal action against Ammons in the future was possible under the terms of each option. Riney said that only mutual agreement would preclude the district from taking legal action against Ammons in the future if they deemed it appropriate.

Following the unanimous vote to dismiss Ammons, Farris stated that a formal letter would be issued detailing the decision. He also instructed Ammons to surrender his keys and any other hospital property and to remove his personal property from the hospital. Prior to adjournment, Riney recommended that any hospital official or employee asked to make a recommendation concerning Ammons in the future restrict information given out to dates of employment and position held.

She was born in Mercedes and had lived in Amarillo for 14 years. She was a homemaker.

Surviving are seven sons, Manuel Dominguez of Raymondville, Ernesto Castillo of Ohio, and Jose Luis Castillo, Alfred Castillo, Ricardo Castillo, Felix Castillo Jr. and Eddie Alberto Castillo, all of Amarillo; seven daughters, Olga Galvan of Hale Center, Felicitas Perez of Harlingen, Marcelina Dominguez and Beatrice Reyes, both of Sacramento, Calif., and Rosalinda Castillo, Minerva Ybarra and Eleticia Romo, all of Amarillo; three sisters, Anita Garcia of Floydada, Maria DeLaGarza of Alabama and Josephine O'Dell of Arizona; 52 grandchildren; and 24 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Newberry died at 7:30 a.m. Friday, April 29, 1994, at the Care Inn in Plainview.

Moisture still needed for drylands Cotton Crop Outlook

From Kerry Siders, CEA-Ag.
The moisture that has been received the past few weeks will benefit planting conditions, but it is critical that we continue to receive rain for the next several weeks and throughout the summer. The limited deep moisture, 36 inches deep, may be of little benefit, because any dry zone in the soil will prohibit deeper root development.

At this point, it looks like dryland producers will have to plant to receive full insurance and program benefits. Estimates put nearly 100% of dryland acreage as covered by crop insurance.

Dryland producers need to wait to plant until moisture is 12 inches deep. Plant with the least amount of soil disturbance. With as few as possible passes producers should stalk chop, seeding at low rate, band application and scratch incorporation of yellow herbicide, and furrow dike. On irrigated acreage producers should take advantage of timely rains that brings soil moisture up in furrow irrigated fields to plant. Check subsoil moisture prior to planting and frequently afterwards. Use the PET network and gypsum blocks to keep track of soil moisture and to guide when to start watering after planting.

On some legislative conditions: A disaster program for the High Plains is highly unlikely, due to political and budgetary conditions in Washington; Final deficiency payment could disappear due to rising cotton prices. Twice, the government has asked producers to return some of the advance payment, both in corn and cotton.

Cargill sold their cotton seed division to Delta and Pine Land Co. DPL now has 70% or better of the U.S. cotton planting seed market. Impact on producers will be that a slightly better chance to obtain genetically engineered cotton, increased seed cost, increased reliance on saved seed, perhaps increased dollars for local seed companies to develop new varieties, and less U.S. wide competition.

USDA announces upland cotton premium and discount schedule

By Shawn Wade
The 1993-crop Upland Cotton Premium and Discount Schedule was announced by the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) April 26. Highlights of the new loan schedule, according to Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers (PCG), included the reduction of the base loan rate to 50 cents per pound for Color Grade 41, Leaf Grade 4 cotton. After location differences were figured, the 1994 loan rate (basis Lubbock) was set at 49.9 cents per pound.

One bit of good news for producers was the reduction of the level 1 penalty for Bark in Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma. USDA set the level 1 discount at 235 points, 15 points under the 1993 discount. The level 1 bark discount for all other areas of the cotton belt was set at 405 points.

"The reduction in the level 1 bark discount is not large but at least it is going in the right direction," says Donald Johnson, PCG Executive Vice-President. "Hopefully, as USDA gathers additional data on market activities under the new grading system, these discounts will continue to move down to reflect, more accurately, the actual cost of bark in cotton."

Because of the decreased base loan rate established for the 1994 crop, loan values will be lower across the board this year. If you would like a copy of the 1994 Loan values contact PCG at 806-792-4906.

BOLL WEEVIL REPORT
PCG reminds producers and others interested in keeping abreast of the latest boll weevil news to watch for the "High Plains Boll Weevil Report" on DTN in 1994.

The report is provided by Plains Cotton Growers and will be updated each Tuesday and Friday until November. The report can be found in the Cotton/Rice segment on DTN 6001 color system.

The two page report includes a color map indicating boll weevil levels across the area. Page two of the report contains a more detailed look at boll weevil trap catches in different High Plains counties.

For more information about the "High Plains Boll Weevil Report" contact PCG at 806-792-4904.

1993 Sorghum Variety Trial Results

From Kerry Siders, CEA-Ag.
The following is a summary of the sorghum variety trial conducted in Floyd County during 1993:
IRRIGATED-FULL SEASON SORGHUM VARIETY TRIAL

Ron Graham Cooperator
Kerry Siders, Coordinating Agent
Muncy, Floyd County, Precinct 3

SUMMARY: Irrigated-full season sorghum variety demonstration was initiated at Muncy on May 23, 1993. All varieties yielded over 5,400 pounds per acre with Garrison 942 producing the highest yield of 7,197 pounds per acre (see Table 2) when harvested on September 24, 1993. The check, Cargill 837, yielded on average 6,788 pounds per acre across all check plots with very little variability. Little if no influence from pests were noted.

PROBLEM: The fact that irrigation water is a limiting factor and the price of sorghum has not been real good, makes the selection of the most appropriate irrigated sorghum variety crucial to the producer.

OBJECTIVE: To demonstrate and compare various sorghum varieties available to Floyd County producers.

MATERIALS AND METHODS: Fourteen varieties were planted on the Ron Graham farm into a test block. Each plot was 8 rows by 70 feet. Five check plots of Cargill 837 were interdispersed to adjust yields at harvest.

RESULTS: A prewatering and 2 inches of every other row three times was applied to the sorghum varieties. With very dry and warm conditions throughout the growing season, yields ranged from 5,431 to 7,197 pounds per acre. A majority of the varieties yielded over 6,000 pounds.

ECONOMIC ANALYSIS: Each variety yield was multiplied by $4.00 per hundred weight. It is easy to see how variety selection can have a major impact on how much money a producer can generate. For example, Garrison 942 had a gross return of $288 per acre versus Oro Amigo at $217 per acre for a $71 advantage.

CONCLUSION:
Producers can use this data combined with other factors to make variety selection decisions. Careful study and selection of varieties can increase net returns. Be sure to use data from several years for more reliable decision making than one year's data will provide.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS: We would like to thank Ron Graham for his cooperation and assistance with this study. Thanks also to the participating seed companies.

Positions available as pest management scouts

By David Kostroun
Extension Agent-Entomology (PM)
Crosby/Floyd Counties

The Pest Management Scouting Program is the core of the overall Crosby-Floyd Pest Management program. The objectives of the scouting program are: to demonstrate the value of regular field scouting, to educate the producer in the identification and biology of pest and beneficial species, and to educate the producer in proper pest management decision-making.

The scouting program serves a two-fold purpose. Participating producers receive weekly scouting reports on each enrolled field, and they receive individual training concerning pest management decision making. The Extension Agent, Entomology (PM) also receives copies of each scouting report completed.

Thus, the second purpose is to allow a mode of gathering comprehensive information concerning the pest situation and crop conditions in the Crosby-Floyd area on a weekly basis throughout the growing season. This information is disseminated in a general format by the Extension Agent Entomology, (PM) in the form of newsletters, news articles, radio reports, and scheduled turnrow meetings in areas of concentrated pest activity.

On April 19, the Crosby/Floyd Pest Management Committee determined scouting fees for the 1994 Pest Management Program. Members of this committee include producers, ag consultants, and representatives from agribusinesses and industry from both Crosby and Floyd Counties.

Scouting fees are as follows: Cotton - $3.45/acre, Corn - $3.45/acre, Sorghum - $3.20/acre, and Sunflowers - $3.20/acre. Acreage enrollment in the program will be on a first come first serve basis.

The 1994 scouting program will begin June 2 with scout school in Plainview. Interviewing for scouting positions will be conducted during May. For more information about the Pest Management Program or field scouting positions, contact the Extension office at 675-2426.
