Lockney team vies for 2A Area title

LOCKNEY—"This doesn't look promising," one fan in the stands said after a dismal first inning found the error-prone Longhorns down 3-0. With memories of Post's 10-run win earlier in the season running through his mind, pitcher Leo Vargas, admitted that he was "just a little bit worried" after the Longhorns got off to a bad start.

But Vargas, who allowed only one hit after that first inning, ended the game with eight strikeouts and along with some help fielding from his teammates, saw Post go three-up, three-down in the final three innings. But it was the Longhorn rally in the fifth that gave Lockney the bi-district championship.

As he rounded third base heading home, the joy showed on Alfred Martinez's face. "I was happy," said Martinez, who scored the go-ahead run on a Leo Vargas hit. "But I wasn't overconfident because I knew they had the ability to easily come back."

But a comeback never materialized for the Antelopes. Down 4-3, the Post players were shaken when Jared Mosley stepped to the plate and nailed a fast ball over the fence on a full count pitch, bringing in runs five and six for the Longhorns in the fifth inning. "Leo's hit that knocked Junior Guerrero and Alfred Martinez in gave us a little breathing room," said Mosley, "but it sure was nice to see that fast ball coming over the plate."

Up until that point in the game, Antelope pitcher Phil Leininger's efforts had seen only two hits and six strikeouts. But errors by Post fielders in the third inning allowed Martinez to gain two bases and Chris Ochoa to score on Vargas' second hit of the game, bringing the score to 3-1.

But it was the fatal fifth inning that saw the Longhorns come to life after Ochoa reached first base on an error. He then stole second, Guerrero walked, and Martinez reached second on an error allowing Ochoa to score. Vargas' third hit of the game and Mosley's home run sealed Post's playoff fate.

BY THE WAY!

ALICE

For some strange wisdom I felt it was necessary to impart some kind of words of wisdom to the graduates from Floydada and Lockney. I felt kind of funny trying to think up some wisdom words—I mean after all I'm just a KID MYSELF!

So, I stole some words of wisdom from someone else. His name is Robert Fulghum and he wrote the following:
All I Really Need To Know I Learned In Kindergarten

All I really need to know about how to live and what to do and how to be I learned in kindergarten. Wisdom was not at the top of the graduate-school mountain, but there in the sandpile at Sunday School. These are the things I learned:

Share everything. Play fair. Don't hit people. Put things back where you found them. Clean up your own mess. Don't take things that aren't yours. Say you're sorry when you hurt somebody. Wash your hands before you eat. Flush.

Warm cookies and cold milk are good for you. Live a balanced life—learn some and think some and draw and paint and sing and dance and play and work every day some.

Take a nap every afternoon. When you go out into the world, watch out for traffic, hold hands and stick together.

Be aware of wonder. Remember the little seed in the Styrofoam cup: The roots go down and the plant goes up and nobody really knows how or why, but we are all like that.

Goldfish and hamsters and white mice and even the little seed in the Styrofoam cup - they all die. So do we.

And then remember the Dick-and-Jane books and the first word you learned - the biggest word of all -

LOOK.

Everything you need to know is in there somewhere. The Golden Rule and love and basic sanitation. Ecology and politics and equality and sane living.

Take any one of those items and extrapolate it into sophisticated adult terms and apply it to your family life or your work or your government or your world and it holds true and clear and firm. Think what a better world it would be if we all - the whole world - had cookies and milk about three o'clock every afternoon and then lay down with our blankets for a nap. Or if all governments had as a basic policy to always put things back where they found them and to clean up their own mess.

And it is still true, no matter how old you are - when you go out into the world, it is best to hold hands and stick together."

Good luck graduates!
We are all proud of you.

The only piece of advice I've got to add to all your other pieces of advice, is this—If you keep your eye on God and make Him a part of all your decisions, big and small, your life will then be full of love, comfort, and inner peace. There is nothing more important.

ARB to hear protests starting June 23

Property owners in the Floyd County Appraisal District will have an opportunity "later this month," to protest proposed appraisals of their property for local taxes. The district's appraisal review board (ARB) will begin hearing taxpayer protests on June 23, 1994.

After the ARB concludes its hearings and approves final property appraisals, local governments will use these appraisals to assess property taxes for 1994.

The ARB is a group of citizens who live in the appraisal district and who are appointed by the district's directors. Their responsibilities are outlined by the Texas Constitution, which requires that property be appraised equally and uniformly and that exemptions and productivity appraisal be properly granted.

Property owners may appeal before the ARB to protest any of the following appraisal office actions:

- * the appraised or agricultural value of the property;
- * unequal appraisal of the taxpayers' property compared to other property in the district;
- * inclusion of the property on the appraisal records;
- * denial of a partial exemption, such as a homestead exemption;

* denial of agricultural-use, open-space or timber productivity appraisal;

* determination that agricultural or timber land has had a change of use and is subject to a rollback tax;

* identification of the taxing unit or units in which the property is located;

* determination that the taxpayer is the owner of the property;

* any other action of the appraisal office that adversely affects the property owner.

Shelia Faulkenberry, chief appraiser for the district, outlined the steps by which a property owner files a protest. First, the property owner must file a written notice of protest with the ARB. This must be filed by June 10 or within 30 days after the taxpayer is mailed a notice of appraised value by the chief appraiser, whichever is later.

However, if the ARB sends a property owner a notice of any other kind of change in the appraisal records, or if the chief appraiser issues a notice for a property omitted in the prior year, the property owner has 30 days from the mailing date to file a protest.

West Texas counties join forces to attract tourists

With her appointment as head of a newly organized West Texas Tourism Council, Floydada Chamber Manager Brenda Clampitt will now be twice as busy not only promoting Floydada alone, but also as a package deal to West Texas.

Clampitt was nominated to her new position after meeting in Slaton, May 17, with representatives from 19 West Texas counties, who are eager to join forces and bring tourism to this area.

"It began after I sent a letter to chamber managers, mayors, courthouses, businessmen and women, of 19 different counties," said Clampitt. "I asked them to come to an organizational meeting for the purpose of promoting West Texas tourism. We were going to wait and see what kind of interest there was before we went any further."

"Fifty-seven people showed up and my phone rang off the wall from people who could not show up but who were definitely interested."

According to Clampitt, all kinds of positive ideas and enthusiasm was generated from that first meeting.

"After we met I was contacted by a lawyer who said he would provide his services for free to take care of all the legalities of forming the association," said Clampitt.

"There was also a sales representative from the Sheraton Hotels at the meeting. She was thrilled with the organization. She said it would be very helpful to the Sheraton and other hotels to know what is going on in the little towns around here so they can send out tourists eager to see the countryside and experience a little of what West Texas has to offer."

Also attending the meeting was a representative from the Panhandle Tourism Marketing Council who volunteered to help with the construction of bylaws and other areas of organization.

"Because of the publicity from the first meeting," said Clampitt, "I've been contacted by the executive producer of the West Texas Roots Music Festival, out of Lubbock.

"This producer is already in the process of putting on a major production of country artists who are from our West Texas counties. The music videos will spotlight the different towns the artists are from."

"For instance, a Don Williams video will feature Floydada, Jimmy Dean will feature Plainview, Mac Davis will feature Lubbock, Lee Horsley will feature Muleshoe, etc."

According to Clampitt the State of Texas Tourism Bureau has also offered their assistance.

"We will get busy right away contacting tour buses to arrange for tours to different towns coinciding with the particular events going on in those towns," said Clampitt. "I keep emphasizing the word - Networking. The individual towns can't do it by themselves but together we can make an effective advertising campaign."

"City dwellers are eager to experience small town living, but they have to know what is going on and where. We will get information out to the Highway Department's Tourist Information Centers, to hotels, chambers, city halls, and hopefully someday be able to provide a West Texas travel brochure for Southwest Airlines."

Counties participating in the council include: Andrews, Bailey, Cochran, Crosby, Dawson, Floyd, Gaines, Hale, Hockley, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, Martin, Midland, Terry and Yoakum. Garza, Swisher and Motley counties have also shown an interest.

The council will meet once a month to exchange information and ideas. "We should be completely organized by September and then we will be off and rolling," said Clampitt.

Anyone wishing to be a part of this council or knows of anyone who should be contacted should notify Brenda Clampitt at the Floydada Chamber of Commerce.

Hill joins Floydada City Council

FLOYDADA — Albert Hill Sr., elected May 7, 1994, to the office of Floydada City Councilman, District 1, was sworn into office on May 19 during the regular monthly meeting of the Floydada City Council. Hill was joined in taking his oath by incumbent councilmen Clar Schacht, Eric Cornelius (At-Large) and Wayne Tipton (District 4) who were reelected to their council seats.

The first action of the council after the seating of the new member was approval of the minutes of the previous regular meeting on April 21 and a special session on May 10. Motion was made by Cornelius and seconded by Tipton. The vote was unanimous with all present voting in favor. Councilman LeRoy Burns was absent. The council also reviewed the financial reports and approved the payment of the monthly bills.

Randy Duke and Earnie Hudgins, representing Southwestern Public Service, met with the council to request permission for SPS to offer their Floydada customer allowances under the current program used by the company in other locations. According to the pair, allowances are being offered only on the purchase and installation of heat pumps at this time. The program is designed to entice customers into installing energy efficient equipment, benefiting the customer with lower utility bills and the company by lowering peak usage.

Councilman Cornelius made the motion to approve the program for Floydada Customers and Councilman Schacht seconded. The council voted in favor. Floydada Power and Light offers the same allowances on heat pumps and will continue to match the SPS program according to the city manager.

Bids for the purchase of two new 1994 pickups were opened by the council. Three local dealers, City Auto, Oden Chevrolet and Floydada Ford, submitted bids. The item was awarded to the low bidder, Oden Chevrolet, for $12,295.00 per vehicle. City Auto bid $14,932.00 and Floydada Ford bid $12,899.00 per vehicle. Motion to award the bid was made by Tipton with a second by Hill. Tipton, Hill, Schacht and Dale Lawson voted in favor with Cornelius abstaining.

The election of Albert Hill Sr. to city council has created a vacancy on the Floydada Housing Authority Board of Directors. Floydada State Farm Agent Nick Long was appointed to fill the unexpired term through December, 1994. Motion was made by Cornelius with a second by Schacht. All voted in favor.

Oscar Garza Jr. made an offer of

SPC offering college courses

said Clampitt, "we will be adding courses for the Spring semester including English and Math."

Formal registration will be in August. Tuition and fees will be $119.00 for one course, $218.00 for two courses, and $317.00 for three courses.

Anyone with a master's degree with 18 graduate hours in "Discipline" that would be interested in teaching for South Plains College in Floydada, please contact Brenda at Floydada Chamber of Commerce.

$150.00 for the purchase of a city owned lot (Lot 3 Block 125, Original Town) adjoining his property on Georgia Street. The offer was accepted on a motion by Schacht, seconded by Tipton.

Council members discussed a rate adjustment which Southwestern Bell Telephone (SWBT) has asked the Public Utilities Commission (PUC) to approve. According to City Manager Gary Brown, SWBT is seeking permission to adjust rates to communications companies using their facilities according to the volume of usage. This would result in lower rates to AT&T while rates would rise for independent companies operating in this area.

Brown indicated that his concern is not the possible decrease in city franchise tax income generated by the phone companies since this is a very small part of the city budget each year. The major concern is that the PUC has not asked for any documentation indicating a need to make a rate adjustment. He said that allowing the adjustment without any documenting data would set a precedent for other utility companies which could be very costly to the consumers of Floydada in the future. Electric, gas and water companies might be allowed to make adjustments by increasing rates without being required to present any information showing the need for a rate increase.

The council opted to join a group of other protesting entities in seeking intervention on the case. Motion to become part of the action was made by Cornelius and seconded by Tipton. All voted in favor.

The proposed expansion and renovation program for Floydada City Hall has been approved and will move forward. The city will act as the primary contractor for the project, sub-contracting work in each individual phase of construction to local contractors whenever possible. Brown estimated that this will reduce the building costs to approximately $127,770.00 with $120,000.00 already in the budget. The work should be completed by early 1995.

Councilman Cornelius made a motion to pursue the project with the city serving as contractor on the job. Second came from Schacht. The council approved the motion by unanimous vote.

City Attorney Karen Houchin made her annual presentation to the council concerning the role of a council member and the rules, regulations and laws which govern actions of council members. She pointed out that each member has no individual power outside the council meeting and each can only act in the capacity of a council member in association with the other council members during posted meetings.

She suggested that all the elected officials need to make themselves familiar with the Texas Open Meetings and Open Records Act and presented copies to new Councilman Hill. She also said that each should strive never to give even the appearance of any impropriety in order to preserve the integrity of the council.

"If you don't know what is proper, ethical or legal, ask before you say anything," said Houchin. She also told the council members that she or the city manager were always available to assist council members with questions and obtaining information.

Thank You Floydada!

The support and encouragement that I have received the past few weeks has been overwhelming. Since the day that you knew that I would be competing in the State track meet, you have praised me and encouraged me 100%. I cannot possibly thank each of you individually, so I have chosen these means to say 'thank you.'

To the students at Duncan, your posters and cards were wonderful. To the persons who were responsible for the Proclamation and congratulatory pages in the newspaper - before and after the meet - 'Thank You Very Much.' And to my coaches David Carr and Rex Holcombe I couldn't have done it without you.

I am glad that I have been able to attain the goals that I have strived for.

I thank God for the ability that He has given me in everything I have done. I pray and hope that He will continue to guide me in the future.

Thank you all again and God Bless You.

Adam Gonzales

Adrian and McEndree pledge nuptials

ESMERALDA VASQUEZ and ROEL CISNEROS

Vasquez and Cisneros

Refugio and Paulina Vasquez of Lockney wish to announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Esmeralda, to Roel Cisneros, son of Joe and Elvia Cisneros of Floydada.

The couple plan an August 20 wedding in San Jose Catholic Church in Lockney. Miss Vasquez, a graduate of Lockney High School, graduated from West Texas State University in 1986. She is employed by the Department of Human Services in Lubbock.

Cisneros is a graduate of Floydada High School and is employed by the City of Floydada.

Erin Elizabeth Adrian and Darryl Brian McEndree were united in marriage Saturday, May 21, 1994, at 6:00 in the evening in the West College and 3rd St. Church of Christ in Lockney. Officiating the double ring ceremony was Bro. Steve McLean of Levelland.

Parents of the bride are Larry and Sandy Rae Adrian of Lockney. Parents of the groom are Mack and Carolyn McEndree of Aledo, Texas.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore an elegant gown of white satin and schiffli lace. The bodice, beaded with sequins and pearls, featured a portrait neckline and a basque waistline. The full ballgown skirt was highlighted with a bow in the back. Her veil, made by her mother, was a band headpiece covered with embossed satin adorned with pearl and sequined lace, accented by hand placed pearls. From the headpiece flowed a fingertip over veil and a chapel length train under veil.

Over a white Bible, the bride carried a large nosegay of rubium lilies, purple stasis, montecasino, ruskus leaves and ming fern with burgundy ribbons.

The bride followed tradition by carrying as her something old a locket given to her mother as a child, by her parents; something new was her wedding gown; something borrowed was her mother's white Bible, which she carried in her wedding; and something blue was her garter made from a piece of lace given by an honorary attendant Gwen Lane. She placed pennies in her white boots.

The bride wore two garters - the traditional blue one for the groom to throw and one made from her wedding colors of burgundy and forest green ribbon with white lace to keep.

The groom was attired in a black cut-away tuxedo with burgundy bow tie and cummerbund. His boutonniere had a candia rose, stasis and montecasino to complement the bride's bouquet.

The front of the church was decorated with an arch of English ivy from which hung two gravevine heart shaped wreaths, lined on one side of each heart were pansies in tints and shades of burgundy and white. Beneath the hearts was a brass semi-oval candle stand with votive candles. Flanking the center arch on each side were brass heart shaped candle stands with votive candles. A unity candle surrounded by English ivy was set to one side of the arch. "A Cord of Three Strands" played softly in the background as the bride and groom lighted the unity candle from two single candles that each set of parents had lighted before being seated for the ceremony.

By special request of the bride, her wedding ring contains pieces of melted gold given to her by her maternal grandparents, Raymond and Gladys Wood, her paternal grandparents, Donald and Marie Adrian and her parents as a living memorial.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Kerl Dee Lusk of Lockney. Adrian Lysde of Petersburg, cousin of the bride, was her bridesmaid. Seated before the ceremony were honorary bridesmaids, Gwen Lane of Temple, Anna Cortez of Lockney, Tandi Mitchell of Austin, Lila Booker of Lockney, Sherri Pratt of Ballinger, and in spirit, Jill Wood of Olton, cousin of the bride.

Bridal attendants wore tea-length floral print dresses of light and dark burgundy roses, mauve flowers on a field of dark green, accented in the back by bows. The dresses featured a fitted bodice with short sleeves and a full skirt. Attendants carried a smaller version of the bride's bouquet.

Best man to the groom was Robby Bow of Aledo. Boyd Domgin of Ft. Worth was groomsman.

Josh Wood of Olton, cousin of the bride, and Brandon Williams of Ft. Worth, cousin of the groom, acted as candlelighters and ushers. Also seating guests were Randy Bow of Aledo and Clay Adrian.

Male members of the wedding party wore black tuxedos with black ties and cummerbunds.

Proceeding the bride down the aisle were flower girls, Ann Marie Adrian of Petersburg and Bethany Johnson of Kiev, Ukraine, Russia. The flower girls wore tea length dresses of the same print as the bridesmaids' dresses with puffed sleeves and a draped skirt, tied in back with a bow. Adorning their hair were garlands of silk burgundy and mauve flowers tied with burgundy ribbon made by the bride. They carried white lace and print lined baskets with burgundy and mauve flowers.

Special music was provided by Clay Adrian, brother of the bride. He played his guitar and sang "Beautiful in My Eyes" and a song he wrote for the bride and groom, "I'm The Luckiest Man Alive."

Registering guests before the ceremony was Gwen Lane, honorary attendant.

A reception followed the ceremony. The bride's table held punch and a beautiful cake decorated with lilies of the valley with silk flowers between the cake layers, topped with a wooden heart and a western bride and groom. The cake was a creation of Faye McDonough of Plainview.

Serving at the bride's table were Tandi Mitchell, Anna Cortez and Gwen Lane.

The groom's table was decorated with a Precious Moments bride and groom lighting a unity candle. Served at the table were walnut shaped filled pastries, a Russian dessert; fruit kabobs and meat and cheese kabobs, provided by the groom's parents and his sisters, Kim Boone of Milsap and Darla Johnson of Kiev, Ukraine, Russia. The coffee service on the groom's table belongs to the bride's grandmother, Gladys Wood of Cotton Center and was also used in the bride's brother's wedding reception. Serving at the groom's table were friends of the groom.

The bride and groom exited the church in a horse drawn carriage provided by Donnie and Vera Jo Bybee. The bride tossed her bouquet from the carriage before a ride down Main Street in Lockney.

After a honeymoon to Fredricksburg and San Antonio, the couple will be at home in Lubbock where he attends Texas Tech and she attends Texas Tech Health Science Center.

How nice to see the springtime
Come bounding on in May ...
It brings the birds and flowers
With sunshine here to stay.

We greet our Mrs. Garrett ...
Who loved to mow her grass
And as she did she'd visit
With one and all who'd pass!

We welcome Mrs. Gildy
On this her special day ...
May time for her be happy
All along the way.

To cheer these lovely ladies
Let's do the birthday song
So join us as we sing it
With voices good and strong!

On Thursday, May 19, the ladies from the City Park Church of Christ hosted the monthly birthday party for the residents of the Floydada Nursing Home. This month's honorees are May Garrett and Becky Gidley. They were presented with corsages from Williams Florist.

Refreshments of strawberry punch and chocolate and angel food cakes were served to the honorees, guests and residents.

All-District baseball team includes four Whirlwinds

By Bill Gray
FLOYDADA--Floydada seniors Brandon Gilliland and Gabriel de la Fuente, sophomore Michael Mercado and freshman Monty Anderson have been honored by being selected to the All-District 2-3A baseball teams. District champ Tulia placed five players on the first team and three on the second team, as selected by the district's coaches. Runner-up Muleshoe had five on the first team, and four Mules were named to the second team.

Gilliland, a three-year starter for the Whirlwinds, was selected as catcher on the first team. Batting .321 in the nine district games (.378 for the season), Gilliland led the Whirlwinds in home runs (3) and RBIs (28). He also connected for 5 doubles, a triple, scored 16 runs, and had 9 stolen bases.

Although he did not appear on the mound during district play, Brandon also pitched a total of 10 innings. He struck out 15, had an E.R.A. of 2.10, and finished with a 1-1 record in non-district action.

Second-year player Michael Mercado was also selected to the first team at the first base position. He led all Wind hitters with a torrid 11-for-18 (.611 average) in the district schedule. Hitting .413 for the overall season, the sophomore belted two home runs, 3 doubles and a triple, and accounted for 22 RBIs (second only to Gilliland in this category). In district play, he and Gilliland tied with 11 RBIs apiece.

Defensively, Mercado was one of Floydada's top infielders. He committed only 9 errors in the 25-game season and was charged with only two miscues in nine district games. He also stole 14 bases and was tagged out but once in the 15 attempts.

Senior Gabriel de la Fuente was named to the All-District second team as utility infielder. The three-year letterman hit .320 in district play (.338 for the season), had 17 RBIs and knocked two home runs. He also led all Whirlwinds with 25 stolen bases, and was thrown out only three times in his 28 attempts on the season. De la Fuente was used sparingly on the mound, appeared in 9 innings in four district games, and had a record of 0-1.

There were only four freshmen selected to the 29-player All-District first and second teams. Whirlwind Monty Anderson was one of those honored by being named to the second team outfield. First-year players joining Anderson on the second team were Tulia's Chris Burrow (2nd base) and Dimmitt's Jason Nino (pitcher). Tulia's first year pitching sensation, Nathan Culwell, was one of three unanimous choices and the only freshman named to the first team.

Anderson, used mostly as an outfielder by Floydada, also saw some game action as a pitcher and catcher. He is the obvious heir apparent to Gilliland behind the plate. Monty had a .306 average with 22 hits in 72 official trips at bat, which included three doubles and a triple. He also logged 10 RBIs. He was caught stealing twice, but was successful in 23 of 25 attempts. Anderson was 9 of 27 at the plate, and had a .333 average in the nine district games.

BILL'S NOTES

Congratulations are certainly in order for the four young men who were All-District selections. It is a big honor for them as well as coaches Jimmy Webster and Jimmy Bursleson. And, to a great degree, for their teammates. It's a team sport, and any player that stands out in particular plays, or all season long, has to have had a good supporting cast. Another win or so in the district schedule just might have resulted in another Whirlwind or two being chosen to the All-District squad.

It is certainly realistic to envision several of the younger members of this year's team being included in All-District recognition in the coming years.

Also, I want to take this opportunity to congratulate the Lockney Longhorns on their successful baseball campaign. All the best to them as they face Coahoma in the Region 1-2A quarterfinal tilt in Lubbock this week. Go, Horns!

A little more to share regarding the summer baseball program... there will be some exciting times coming for Ed Henderson's team. Reviewing the schedule, the opening date of May 31 finds Floydada hosting Tulia in a 7:00 p.m. game, followed by a road trip to Canyon. In June, Floydada will host Amarillo High JV, Dumas, Fritch, Canyon, and Muleshoe. In late June, Floydada will be playing in Amarillo's "West Texas Tournament" as well as hosting a three-day tournament at Watson Field.

Other notable teams on the 30-plus game schedule include Levelland, Lubbock Christian, Lubbock Monterey and Lubbock High. It's gonna' be a mighty big undertaking for Ed, the players, and the team parents. But, this is the type of commitment it will take to advance Floydada baseball into the next level of competition. Those who were earlier so vehemently opposed to "all that money being spent on the new baseball facility" should drop by Watson Field during the early July tournament... they just might have a change of feelings. It will bring additional business to our retailers, restaurants, etc., as well as prestige to the community. Plus it should have a good influence upon our younger people. When the Little Leaguers... even T-Ballers... see the interest and activity generated by such a tournament, they should have the incentive to continue in or organized ball, knowing that in a few years they can be part of such excitement and fun. There was a time back in the 1920s and 1930s that every town in the area had a town team. There was a lot of civic pride in those teams, and Floydada is about to have a second chance to develop such enthusiasm. Floydada's baseball programs are starting to "mushroom"... get on the band wagon. There are plenty of seats left!

Have A Good Week!

The contest is open to youth between the ages of 8 through 13. Four winning designs will be selected and printed on nearly 200 million First-Class stamps in 1995. The winners will join a small, select group of internationally acclaimed artists who art has appeared on U.S. postage stamps.

One hundred and two finalists will be eligible to win $100.00 U.S. savings bond and a framed copy of their illustration.

Four big winners will also receive a $1,000 Savings Bond, a framed copy, and trip to Washington D.C. and their design printed on nearly 50 million official U.S. postage stamps.

The students are part of 7th grade Reading Class or 6th grade Theatre Arts at Lockney Junior High.

SPS employees keeping an eye on area children

Southwestern Public Service Company is reminding children that the employees driving SPS trucks can find help for them if they are lost or feel threatened or in danger while outside playing this summer.

SPS's KidCare program was initiated five years ago with the cooperation of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers Local #602. The program formalized and publicized a service that has always been available. "Our employees have always helped people who have needed help," said Randy Duke, Floydada Area Manager. "KidCare simply lets the community clearly know that a marked SPS truck is a place where children can go to get help."

SPS employees serve only as a contact for help. They radio the dispatcher to notify the proper authorities, and they stay at the site with the child until help arrives.

"We want kids to be reminded of the KidCare program before summer when they are outside during the day," Duke said.

Additional information can be obtained at the local SPS office.

We Salute in Lockney...

Better Business Bureau warns of sweepstakes research scam

By Nan Campbell, President
Your BBB's phones keep ringing about a company called FINANCIAL RESEARCH GROUP, also known as Assessment & Search Commission out of Reisterstown, Maryland.

According to information submitted to the BBB in Baltimore, this company began business in December 1991 with Tom Alvarez as chief executive officer. The company is a sweepstakes research and fact-finding organization that works on behalf of its members to find appropriate sweepstakes that, in their opening, offer a better than average chance of winning.

The BBB/Baltimore has received numerous complaints alleging that after sending the initial payment to be entered into the contest they receive additional mailings which request a fee to enter each contest. Complaints also allege that receipt of prizes never happen.

The company has responded to all complaints by offering refunds. Just remember, read the rules of the sweepstakes very carefully, especially the odds of winning.

Your Better Business Bureau and others across the country continue to receive calls about various telephone offers where the consumer is asked for their checking account number. These offers include credit cards, magazines, cosmetic products, prize offers and others.

Your BBB cannot stress strongly enough to never give your checking account number to anyone. We have had reports that employees of local banks have told people that no one could possibly draft money from your account without your written authorization. This is not true.

If someone has your account number they do not need your authorization to draft money from your account and this is what these companies do. We have had numerous calls from local people telling us that this has happened to them. Don't give out your checking account number to anyone who calls you on the phone trying to sell you something or give you something!

Call us at 763-0459 and investigate before you invest.

AFTER GRADUATION, LET'S ENROLL IN THE SCHOOL OF LIFE

Whether the extent of your education has been high school, college, junior college, vocational school or whatever, there comes a time when that institution of learning has taught you all that it has to offer, and then comes graduation. What you do with your life after that depends a great deal on the skills you have acquired, but you should remember that there is a lot more to life than just earning a living. You should be wondering why God put you here, and what purpose He has for you, beyond the limits of your everyday life. For this you need a good postgraduate course, which you can get by attending your House of Worship. Schools can go only so far, but learning about God and the world in which He has placed you can give you the real meaning of life itself.

Learning isn't a matter of time. It's a matter of heart. Robert A. Hildebrand

Duncan PTA holds last meeting

By Sandra Bradley, Secretary and Julianne Cornelius PTA President

FLOYDADA—The A.B. Duncan PTA met for its final meeting of the 1993-94 year on May 17 at the school cafeteria.

The Duncan PTA had a very productive year. Some of the activities were an Open House in the fall and spring, Teacher Breakfast and luncheon, A average and Perfect Attendance Awards (given every six weeks), Library Volunteer Program, and Reading Volunteers for the Kindergarten and 1st grade.

The Duncan PTA also had many fundraisers, the #1 being selling popcorn and #2 Book Fair. Proceeds from these will go to many much needed items for the school. The fundraisers generated $8,000 without ever sending our kids door to door.

The staff and parents at Duncan voted on the items to purchase with these proceeds. Some of the items to be purchased are two picnic tables, three Ellison press cutouts, a message sign for the front of the school and many other items.

Over 70 volunteers were recognized at the meeting for their contribution to make this year such a success. Also presented with a gift for all his assistance throughout the year was Johnny Summers, manager of Pay-n-Save.

The '94-95 officers were installed and are President Julianne Cornelius, 1st Vice President Tonya Gooch, 2nd Vice President Shawnda Greer, 3rd Vice President Judy Schacht, Secretary Sandra Bradley, Treasurer Dee Leatherman. The outgoing officers for the '93-94 year are Judy Dunlap and Melanie Beedy. Chairpersons elected to help with the '94-95 fundraisers are Karrie Williams in charge of Annuals, Laura Nutt and Judy Griggs, co-chairpersons, in charge of Book Fairs, Brenda Heflin in charge of Popcorn Sales.

The Duncan PTA officers would like to thank all those who played a part in the success of this year. They would also like to encourage everyone who can to become a part of next year's PTA. There is a lot of good you can do to help in your child's education. All you need to do is become involved.

INCOMING OFFICERS--Incoming A.B. Duncan Elementary PTA officers for the 1994-95 school year are (l-r) Shawnda Greer, 2nd vice president; Julianne Cornelius, president; Sandra Bradley, secretary; Dee Leatherman, treasurer; Tonya Gooch, 1st vice president; Brenda Heflin, popcorn chairman; Karrie Williams, annual chairman; and Judy Griggs, book fair chairman. Two Floydada Wayland students selected as Collegiate Scholastic All-Americans FLOYDADA—The United States Achievement Academy has announced that Mary Ann C. Reyes and Jo Ann (Cavazos) Chavarria of Floydada have been named Collegiate Scholastic All-Americans.

The USAA has established the Scholastic All-American Collegiate Award Program in order to offer deserved recognition to superior students who excel in the academic disciplines. The Scholastic All-American Collegiate Scholars must earn a 3.30 or better grade point average. Only scholars selected by a school official or other qualified sponsor are accepted. These scholars are also eligible for other awards given by the USAA. These are awards few students can ever hope to attain.

Mary Ann and Jo Ann, who attend Wayland Baptist University, were nominated for this National Award by Professor Donald L. Eversole. They will appear in the Scholastic All-American Collegiate Directory, which is published nationally.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in American history. Certainly, winners of the Scholastic All-American Collegiate Awards should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, Executive Director of the United States Achievement Academy.

The Academy selects Scholastic All-American Collegiate Scholars upon the exclusive recommendations of professors, instructors, deans, and other qualified sponsors. Once awarded, the students may be recognized by the USAA for other honors.

They are both daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Roberto Cavazos and granddaughters of Angelita Torres, all of Floydada. Mary Ann is married to Moses Reyes and Jo Ann is the wife of Victor Chavarria.

Gregory takes third place in AA boys Tennis Tourney

Josh Gregory, a junior at Clifton High School, has recently made his third straight trip to the Texas State UIL Tennis Tournament in Austin. Competing in AA Boys Singles, Gregory came away from the tournament with a 3rd place medal to show for his effort.

Josh is the son of Jack and Zacha Gregory, both FHS graduates and teachers at Clifton. Grandparents are Kendall and Dot Cummings, and Howard and Jackie Gregory, all of Floydada.

The trip to Austin was earned when Josh won the Region II-AA tournament held on the campus of Tarleton University. During the regional tourney, he was never forced to go to three sets, winning all four matches in straight sets. The finals of the regional tournament was against Josh Harris, from Little Elm, who was ranked 49th in the state in the super championship 14's division of the USTA. The regional tournament ended with Josh claiming the gold medal with a 6-3, 6-4 win in the finals.

Going into the state tournament, Gregory had a UIL singles match record of 27-1 for the '93-94 school year.

Gregory was forced to play in his semi-final match with a knee injury and was later defeated by Jason Kirkland of Shallowater, the defending state AA champion.

TAKE ACTION FROM TORNADES

Tornadoes can strike at any time, any place, in Texas. Listen to National Weather Service bulletins for weather information. If a warning issued or you see a tornado, immediately take shelter below ground or in an interior hallway or bathroom on the ground floor. Stay away from windows. If you're outside, lie flat in a ditch or ravine and cover your head with your arms. Do not stay in or under your car or mobile home, since both are easily moved by tornadoes. Do not try to outrun a tornado or drive away from it in your car.

SIDERS' SIDELINES

FOOD SAFETY QUESTIONED

This last week the news program "48 Hours" aired a show on "cancer-causing" fungicide on fruit, the genetically-engineered hormones given to cows, the pesticide safety standards, etc. Most of the program last Wednesday night focused upon controversies that have already been subject to national news magazine attention (e.g. Frontline, 60 Minutes).

With respect to the pesticide issues raised in the report, on needs to keep in mind the first principle of toxicology that "the dose makes the poison"; it is the amount of a chemical, and not just its presence or absence that determines the potential for harm. One must also realize that the health benefits of consumption of a diet rich in a variety of fruits, vegetables and grains far outweigh any potential risks due to exposure to pesticide residues.

The claim that U.S. exports to Canada were rejected as unsafe but are allowed to be sold here is not factual. Pesticide residue levels vary from country to country; in some cases the allowable levels in this country are more strict while they may be less strict in other cases. These standards are not set as safety standards, but typically represent the maximum levels expected to occur if pesticide applications were made in accordance with label directions. Application conditions vary in different countries due to difference pest pressures and geographical conditions, so it is not surprising that different standards may exist. The important toxicological aspect, however, is that it is not appropriate to consider "illegal" residues as "unsafe" residues. In most cases, residues far in excess of established limits would not be considered to be of toxicological significance but would indicate pesticide misuse.

This whole subject reminds me of a producer's comments at the 94 Caprock Cotton Conference to an EPA administrator. "If we (producers) are killing so many people, where are we hiding all of these bodies". That sound a bit harsh, but that is basically what the accusation is. The American population's life span has expanded the past forty years, and the incidence of cancer per capita has not increased.

If you want to be frightened by food, look at what is "naturally contained in mushrooms.

What is a Farmer?

Editor's note: We received this in the mail from the Quitaue State Bank; a newsletter they attributed it to a calendar they have available. The author is unknown.

"A farmer is a paradox: he is an executive in overalls with his home as his office; a scientist using fertilizer attachments; a purchasing agent in an old straw hat; a personnel director with grease under his fingernails; a dietician with a passion for alfalfa, amino acids and antibiotics; a production expert with a surplus; and a manager battling a price-cost squeeze. He managed more capital than most businessmen in town.

He likes sunshine, good food, state fairs, dinner at noon, auctions, his shirt collar unbuttoned, and above all, a good soaking rain in August.

Farmers are found in fields: plowing up, seeding down, rotating from, planting to, fertilizing with, spraying for and harvesting. Wives help them, little boys follow them, the Agriculture Department confuses them, city relatives visit them, salesmen detain them and wait for them, weather can delay them, but it takes heaven to stop them.

A farmer has both faith and fatalism—he must have faith to continually meet the challenges of his capacities amid an ever-present possibility that an act of God (a late Spring, an early frost, tornadoes, floods, drought) can bring his business to a standstill. You can reduce his acreage but you can't restrain his ambition.

He is not much for droughts, ditches, throughways, experts, weeds, grasshoppers or helping with housework.

Might as well put up with him—he is our friend; your competitor; your customer, and your source of food, fiber, and self-reliant young citizens to help replenish your cities. He is our countryman: a denim-dressed, business-wise, fast-growing statesman of stature. When he comes in at noon, having spent all the energy of his hopes and dreams, he can be recharged anew with the magic words: The market is up."

Workshops to teach crop scouting

by David Kostroun, Extension Agent-Entomology (PM), Crosby/Floyd Counties

Training of scouts who survey crops to assess pest infestations in integrated pest management (IPM) programs across the area will be held June 2 at the Ollie Limer Agricultural Center, on South US Hwy 87 (Business 87).

The workshop is open to summer scouts of private consultants and aerial applicators as well as farmers who scout their own fields. It is conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Training begins at 8:30 a.m. and ends at 4:30 p.m.

It has been accredited by the Texas Department of Agriculture for five continuing education units (CEU's) toward recertification requirements for private, commercial and non-commercial pesticide applicators.

This year's workshop will provide instruction on scouting cotton and grains, identification of plant disease and nutrient deficiency symptoms, use of herbicides and safe handling of pesticides.

IPM is a coordinated approach to management decisions based on pest infestations levels and economic thresholds. The goal of IPM is to effectively control weeds, insects and diseases and maximize net profit while creating minimal harm to the crop and the environment.

Scouts examine fields in a systematic pattern at regular intervals each week. Producer treatments for pests are based

Congress funds crop insurance reform package

Congress has recently approved increased funding for a crop insurance reform package.

According to the American Association of Crop Insurers, "The plan's "free-for-a-fee" catastrophic crop insurance coverage mandated for all farm program participants and increased subsidies for buy-up coverages hinged on getting $1 billion in "off-budget" ad hoc disaster monies shifted "on-budget" into the crop insurance baseline."

This increase in budget authority of $1 billion annually will allow Congress to make significant changes in the federal crop insurance program, while also eliminating the possibility of future ad hoc disaster programs.

on economic threat to the crop, presence of beneficial insects, which are enemies of the pests, and proper timing of pesticide applications for maximum returns with the lowest chemical input.

Topics for the workshop, and the instructors, all of whom are Extension Service specialists or pest management agents, are:

CEU training and instructions, Greg Cronholm, Extension Agent-PM, Plainview. Principles of IPM and sampling, Tommy Doederlein, Extension Agent-PM, Lamesa. Cotton growth and development, Kater Hake, agronomist and cotton specialist, Lubbock.

Thrips, fleahoppers and aphids, David Kostroun, Extension Agent-PM Crosbytown. Bollworms, loopers and armyworms, Dr. Jim Leser, Extension

Entomologist, Lubbock. Beneficials, Andy Williams, Extension Agent-PM, Dimmitt.

Major diseases and symptoms, Dr. Harold Kaufman, plant pathologist, Lubbock. Plant nutrient deficiency symptoms, Michael Hickey, Extension Soil Chemist, Lubbock. Herbicides injury and common weeds, Dr. Peter Dotray, Weed Scientist, Lubbock. Corn and sorghum and development, Dr. Brent Bean, Extension Agronomist, Amarillo.

Sorghum pests, Greg Cronholm, Corn pests, Brant Baugh, Extension Agent-PM, Fawcett. Pesticide safety, David Kostroun.

Additional information about the workshop is available at county offices of the Extension Service.

Rainfall brings optimism

by Shawn Wade

Pessimism has given way to guarded optimism on the High Plains with the arrival of beneficial rain showers over the past 10-12 days. According to Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers (PCG) rainfall amounts ranging from 1.5 to 7 inches were recorded.

Planting progress across the area has been running behind what is considered normal for the High Plains because of the dry subsoil conditions that existed over most of the area prior to the recent rains. It is estimated that around 25 percent of the 1994 crop has been planted at this time. PCG officials expect that as soon as fields are dry enough producers will be able to quickly get most of the remaining cotton acreage planted.

"The rainfall we received during the past two weeks has really made a difference in the type of start we are going to get with the 1994 crop," explains Donald Johnson, PCG Executive Vice President. "We are now in a much better position to get this year's crop established and off to a good start then we were before the rain. Unfortunately there are still some areas that missed out on the majority of the good rainfall."

Johnson explains that some areas have only gotten in the neighborhood of 1-2 inches in the past few weeks which, although helpful from the standpoint of planting and establishment, did nothing to alleviate the shortage of stored subsoil moisture necessary to make a good crop. He notes that these areas are still in need of further moisture in order to have a chance of taking the crop to harvest successfully.

One aspect of the dry weather that has delayed the bulk of planting operations until now is the benefit to be derived from an insect standpoint. PCG Boll Weevil Program Coordinator Roger Haldenby notes that the dry conditions essentially created a delayed uniform planting across the entire area and that because of the generally late start boll weevils emerging from overwintering habitat will have to wait even longer to find suitable feeding and reproductive sites.

Dry conditions still exist in some of the southern and western areas of the High Plains, even though producers in these areas have generally received enough moisture to plant.
