A view from The Lamplighter

By Ken Towery

Those of us in the press, or at least the ones honest enough to admit it, often find ourselves in something of a Ranching and Agribusiness" quandary concerning the fundamental nature of our mission.

our readers concerning the events and say "of our time."

There are all sorts of argument within the press as to just exactly how this is to 1:00 p.m. on Thursday. be achieved. I believe the first real arthe late Jack Howerton, then the ownerpublisher of the Cuero Daily Record, was on that very subject.

I was relatively new to the position of date. editor, (40 years ago) and was worried about how to treat a story that contained, in my view, a great many lies. It was one of those stories that came in over the United Press wire concerning our and Tracy Long, reporter. The board Congressman, one John Bell. He was a also includes Leroy Thompson, Rise hometown boy, a former State Senator, Ford, Greg and Cris Taylor, Kyle Brock, whom we had supported mightily in our David and Bettye Jackson, Doug and paper, but who later (after his election Traci Bradley, David and Tammy Ray, to Congress) became embroiled in the Christina Chesshir, Jeananne Williams, Veterans Land Scandals. (He was finally Richard Larsen, Evelyn Carroll, Virindicted in an adjoining county, but was able to get the indictment thrown out because one of the Grand Jurors had not Irene Garza, and Pat Schwab. paid his poll tax, thereby becoming an ineligible juror. Bell was never re-in- are listed below: dicted, because the DA, a political and university chum of his, took the position that would be "double jeopardy.")

At any rate, the story quoted the Congressman making statements in Washington that I knew to be untruthful. They were self-serving statements, the kind some Congressmen make all the time, but they went a little further than that. The comments dealt directly with his involvement in the scandals, protesting his innocence.

I expressed my frustration to Howerton over having to foist such lies upon our readers through our own news columns, since many people tend to believe what they read in the papers, or see on television, or hear on radio.

Howerton took modest umbrage. He was a good bit older, much more experienced, and much wiser than myself. He recognized the problem, but his position was that we were not guilty of telling lies. We were telling the truth, he said, since our mission was to accurately relay to our readers what had happened, what had been said, even if what was said was in fact a lie. We were not responsible for the lies told by others in the process. We would treat that problem in our editorial opinion columns. (Which we did, and the Congressman was defeated in the next election.)

Howerton was of course right. Nevertheless it did little then to relieve my own frustration and exasperation. We still worry about it, though we have learned to live with it, after a fashion.

The bottom line, gentle reader, is this: Our job is to report, as accurately as we can, what happened, or what was said. We do not vouch for the truthfulness of what was said, only that it was said. It is up to our readers to try to separate the wheat from the chaff. In that, we try, in our signed columns, to occasionally be helpful, but even then it is up to the reader to determine where truth lies. People see things differently. They sometimes differ on what truth is. We learned long ago that one man's meat is another man's poison.

In passing, we would only say that if politicians voted in Washington the way they talk when they are back among the home folks, most of our frustration would disappear. And we think most people feel the same way.

Signs of our times: Our state's capitol city played host over the weekend to a couple of gatherings, one celebrating the past and the other, we suppose, the present and the future.

The state's Governor, Ann Richards, officially welcomed a sort of hippie homecoming, called the first annual Armadillo World Headquarters homecoming concert. Moderation, according to the local paper, was the order of the day, comparitively speaking. The paper's reporter noted that, while beer flowed

Second man charged in counterfeiting

A federal magistrate has charged a second Floydada man, 19-year-old Armando Mata Lopez, with passing counterfeit money.

Lopez was picked up by Floyd County Sheriff's Department, August 29, on local warrants of bond forfeiture.

"Lopez was out on bond for DWI," said Sheriff Charles Overstreet.

"Secret Service Agents came on August 31 and took Mata away on suspicion of passing counterfeit money." According to Overstreet, Mata had been recognized in Plainview while he was attempting to pass a counterfeit $20 bill at convenience store. Lopez is accused of passing four phony $20 bills in Plainview, and one in Floydada which Lopez allegedly tried to give to an individual for payment of

The counterfeiting charge was read against Lopez by U.S. Magistrate Judge J.Q. Warnick Jr. Lopez was released on a $5,000 personal recognizance bond.

August 18 federal authorities had also charged Edward Casteneda, 22, of Floydada, with passing counterfeit bills in Floydada. According to Overstreet, Casteneda passed six $20.00 counterfeit bills in Floydada and an excess of 40 bills around the West Texas region. Casteneda is out of jail on a personal

Education issues may sway voters

After bubbling above and below the surface of politics for many months, the issue of education has erupted as one of the factors that may well influence Texan's voting in November.

Battle lines have been drawn, and the fight is in earnest. At least one could surmise that, by listening to those running for state and national office.

In the bigger picture the issues appear to be control and cost. Who is to control, or influence, what is taught in local schools? Is it to be the federal government, the state government, or the local schools? And who is to pay, and how much? Are local taxpayers, who now pay the lions' share of school costs, to be stuck with additional costs dictated by federal or state mandates handed down from Washington or Austin?

Too, there is the question of just what is a "mandate." Is a "string" attached to a federal program any different from a "mandate." Is the federal government issuing a mandate when it says "here is some money, providing you teach the things we think you ought to teach"?

In Floydada recently, and in subsequent campaign stops across the 13th Congressional District, Congressman Bill Sarpalius has defended his vote for HR 6, a federal funding program for elementary and secondary education.

Sarpalius defends his vote by saying the bill contains no mandates.

"The only mandates in the bill," said Sarpalius, "are that no school can receive federal funding if they do not allow for voluntary prayer in the school and that no school can receive any federal funding if they teach any type of homosexuality or have any obscene material in their books." He said the school districts can pick and choose the programs they want from 130 different

There are many in the field of education, and politics, who do not agree with Sarpalius' assessment of HR 6 and its lack of mandates.

Mac Thornberry, of Amarillo, who is challenging Sarpalius for 13th District Congressional seat in November, said in a visit to Floyd County recently that he would have voted against HR 6 because of its mandates, among other things.

"I would have voted against H.R.6," Thornberry said. "The choice is not whether school districts get federal assistance or not. The choice is whether federal assistance comes with federal whether it comes without them.

Many provisions in HR 6 grew out of the previously enacted "Goals 2000" legislation, setting forth broad, long term "goals" for American education, and how to achieve those goals. They are essentially companion measures, with HR 6 imposing as mandates three new sets of federal curriculum standards that are technically "voluntary" under the Goals 2000, that is, unless the state applies for Goals 2000 dollars. Taken together, the bills have attracted bi-partisan opponents as well as supporters.

William Hudson, of Wichita Falls, a Democratic member of the State Board of Education representing the 14th Education District which includes Floyd County, is one of those taking a dim view of the legislation.

"Goals 2000 is trying to nationalize education in America," Hudson told this newspaper. "If we nationalize our education we will stymie the initiative of our children."

The Texas State Board of Education will be asked September 9 to appoint a committee to formulate a plan to implement the Goals project, and Hudson is one member of a bi-partisan group of the Board determined to oppose it. Other members are Monte Hasie of Lubbock, in whose District Floyd County previously fell, before the district lines were redrawn following the 1990 census, and Bob Offutt, of San Antonio.

"They are trying to get us to 'voluntarily' join 2000. It is like being asked to go to a picnic with someone and they say they are going to feed you arsenic. I'm not going to that picnic," said Hudson.

"If we don't 'volunteer' we lose 7.1 million dollars in federal money. We don't need that money that bad," said

Similar sentiments were echoed by "A vote for Goals 2000 is a vote to undermine the board's authority," said Hasie. "We would be giving up a substantial portion of our responsibilities to an appointed panel. Why should an unelected panel that has to be appointed by the federal government develop a plan for Texas? If there are no strings attached to this legislation, then let the Board, which was elected by the people of Texas, serve as the panel."

Hudson noted that "the Commissioner of Education Lionel Skip Meno and Governor Ann Richards are asking mandates, requirements, and strings or the State Board of Education to give them permission to appoint a state committee to devise goals and education objectives in Texas. The Governor would appoint half and the Commissioner would appoint the other half. I don't want to adopt that committee. I want the State Board of Education to be the committee."

"Every state that 'volunteers' to be part of Goals 2000 has to appoint the state goals panel. That panel will be accountable to the National Education Standards and Improvement Council which was created under Goals 2000,"

NESIC could effectively veto any curriculum decisions taken by a state or local school board.

"There will not be any need for a local or state board of education," Hudson said. "If we are stupid enough to get into this we will relinquish our rights and I'm not going to relinquish our obligation to the people who elected me and turn it over to Washington."

Texas Congressman Dick Armey, of Lewisville, a leading opponent of the recently-passed H.R. 6, and a former economics professor, said the new bill "creates 10 new elementary and secondary education programs on top of the

I found an AP story in the Lubbock AJ and Amarillo Globe that reminded me of the old movie, "Escape From New

If you didn't see that movie you didn't miss anything, but the idea behind it has always stuck with me.

The movie stars Kurt Russell. He is a big time military hero who somehow went bad and is sent to prison. He is pulled from prison to go rescue the President of the United States who has crashed his plane in New York City. The president is now a hostage of the New York City residents.

Oh I forgot-New York City is really a prison in this movie.

It seems the city got so bad that the state just put barbed wire around it, took out the decent folks, put up guards to make sure no one gets out-and then turned the city over to the punks.

The bad guys all have guns and their own kind of government and pecking order. Basically it's a jungle in there and they just fend for themselves by stealing and killing each other. I always thought it was a pretty good idea.

It seems like someone else thought it was a good idea too.

Did you read about the two 17-yearold Tlingit Indian boys, Adrian Guthrie and Simon Roberts, who are going to be banished to separate islands by tribal elders for beating and robbing a pizza delivery man. The delivery man was beaten with a baseball bat and his hearing and eyesight have been permanently damaged.

The AP story said it is the first case of a state court referring a criminal case to an American tribal panel for a traditional Indian punishment. (The bleeding hearts won't be able to stand it and the politically correct people will have a hard time bad mouthing the tribal judicial system.)

The young men will be provided with sleeping bags, tools for cutting firewood and gathering food. Supposedly they will have no way to contact the outside world during a year or more in exile on Alaskan offshore islands. Seems like the only other living things on these islands are animals—including black bears!!! They will be helped to build a one room house and the experienced elders are going to make sure the men know how to hunt and fish before they leave them there.

The banished youth were being held under guard to prevent them from talking to the press (although a few statements have gotten out) and supposedly they are going to be taken to the island in the middle of the night so no one knows where they are going.

Sounds pretty good doesn't it. I think we ought to fill up those islands. There aren't enough islands for everybody to get their own. Eventually they'll have to

But, realistically-how long do you think this is really going to last.

Even if they ever really make the trip before someone else steps in and says they can't be subjected to such in-humane treatment-how long do you think it will take before Hard Copy or Inside Edition is rowing up there with a camera and microphone in hand.

If they don't end up filming it on a day to day basis—the boys will get rich off their movie rights. Kurt Russell did.

Don't worry about trying to squeeze supper in before the Floydada/ Brownfield football game. Just come early and eat at the Floydada Jr. High Cafeteria. The Floydada Lions Club is having their annual fund raising Fish Fry. You'll not only be able to let someone else do the cooking and cleaningyou'll be donating to a good cause.

As she spoke the proprietor of a local establishment dropped his trousers, unbuttoned his shirt and stripped down to his armadillo shorts and t-shirt.

The Armadillo World Headquarters, to refresh the memory of those UT students from the '60s and '70s who might have forgotten, was a sort of barn-like structure just south of the river that once housed the old National Guard Armory, where many bands of the time performed, and where folklore says much in the way of drugs, legal and illegal, was injested. It has long since been torn down to make way for something else. The "reunion" was held in City Coli-

The other celebration was the semiannual gathering of the state's homosexual, or "gay" community. Newspaper reports said between 6,000 and 8,000 out-of-towners were expected for the occasion. As far as we know, there was no official welcome, other than from editors of the newspaper, which devoted much space and ink to the eagerly anticipated event.

We are not informed as to which event actually proved the bigger drawing card.

the most disturbing mandates in H.R.6 are the requirements that states must adopt three new kinds of standards:

(1) content standards specifying "what all children should know:, (2) performance standards specifying "what all children should be able to do,"

(3) "opportunity to learn" standards specifying what the state believes it would have to spend per pupil on such "inputs" as teachers salaries, books, and computers in order to achieve the eight National Educational Goals set forth in cate America Act. "H.R. 6 would further expand federal control over local schools," said Armey. "In conjunction with the Goals 2000 Act, which conveniently creates a 19member (13 Democrats, 6 Republicans)

"Because it affects all states, HR 6 will be more damaging to local control over education because it takes the mandates in Goals 2000 and imposes them on everybody whether they are participating in Goals 2000 or not.

Letter To The Editor

Letter-to-the-editor:

For 25 to 30 years, Congress has taken much of our money and spent it on massive welfare and crime prevention programs that have actually helped create an environment conducive to crime. Most of these programs have been enormous failures in terms discouraging productive work and destroying self esteem.

Our current President and Congress have promoted the attitude that government will solve all our problems, including crime, if we will only give them what they want . . . our money.

Now they want more of our money in the so-called "Crime Bill". Along with this new federal money grab, they have told us that a ban on a large number of semi-automatic weapons is necessary to make our streets safe again. (Never mind the fact that even the F.B.I. crime reports indicate that these guns are very rarely used in crime.)

That is exactly what many of these same politicians, gun control advocates, and many in the press said about the "Brady Bill" five day waiting period before it was implemented last year. However, since the "Brady Bill" has been in affect, homicides are way up in Lubbock this year, according to a recent article in the Lubbock A-J.

Why have our local gun control experts (Lubbock A-J Editorial Board) been so silent about the failure so far of the "Brady Bill" in their city?

What will it take to wake up the complacent public in this country that swallow the "gun control" garbage spewed out by a federal government and a fawning press who actually despise the ones that they purport to help?

To those of you who have taken the time to discover the truth about crime and gun control, keep the faith. Truth, backed up by the facts, and a wise vote in the elections will eventually reverse this perversity and madness.

State meeting of Family and Community Education Association focuses on family

-- From Melissa Long, CEA-HE

Over 1,000 representatives of the Texas Association for Family and Community Education will be meeting for the annual state convention at the Lubbock Civic Center September 13-15. This year's focus is "The International Year of the Family."

The Texas Association for Family and Community Education (TAFCE) is a volunteer organization that supports strengthening and enriching families through educational programs, leadership development, and community service. During 1993, it is estimated that TAFCE members across the state returned more than $4,000,000 in volunteer time and money to their local communities. TAFCE cooperates with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service to provide programs and leadership training that improves the quality of life for all Texas citizens. TAFCE membership across the state currently totals more than 11,750.

Featured speakers for the state meeting will include Judy Weinkauf, National Association for Family and Community Education president; Don Seaman, Director of the Texas Center for Adult Literacy and Learning at Texas A&M University; Dr. Lynne Thibodeaux, Assistant Director for 4-H and Youth; and Ida Dromgoole, Texas Associtaion of Extension Home Economists president.

Educational workshops will include: Focus on Family Literacy, Health, Children and TV, the Environment, and Young Family Issues. Other activities included will be an International Year of the Family Global Fest, a closing banquet, a Country Store, and a cultural arts exhibit.

FCE members from across the 20 county, South Plains District have been working hard to make this the most successful meeting ever. Floyd County members will serve as pages for the business sessions, will man the information booth, will work at the Country Store, were responsible for securing Red Cross personnel for the first aid station, and donated door prizes and country store items. Members also secured goody bag items from the following businesses: First National Bank of Floydada, State Farm Insurance, Floyd County Farm Bureau and Script Printing and Office Supply.

Gamma Nu Conclave meets

LOCKNEY--The Gamma Nu Conclave of Kappa Kappa Iota met Sept. 3 at the Main Street Pizza in Lockney for their monthly meeting.

Following lunch, the sorority president, Dana Pyle conducted the bu meeting. Reports were given and plans for future meetings were made.

Those in attendance were Dana Pyle. Leslie Patterson, Jessica Davis, Sue Daniels and Marceen Lass.

Floyd County FCE members attending the state meeting as delegates will include Karen Miller, Jonelle Fawver and Vivian Curtis. Other members assisting with the state meeting will be Maye Williams, Gladys Widener, Ruth Scott, Juanita Pool, Imelda Ramsey, Erika, Laura and Rachel Miller, and County Extension Agent, Melissa Long.

Participating in the State Cultural Arts Competition will be Juanita Pool, member of the Harmony FCE Club, who took first place in the Fabric Painting Division with her Stained Glass T-Shirt Creation. Juanita took first place at the District FCE Cultural Arts Competition and will compete with members from across the 12 districts throughout the state during the annual State Convention Cultural Arts Exhibit. For more information about Family and Community Education Clubs in Floyd County, call 983-2806 or come by the Floyd County Extension Office.

At Bill and Molly Stringer's home recently they celebrated Molly's mother, Opal Earp's 80th birthday. It was a "come and go" affair and about 100 friends and relatives attended. There was one granddaughter from Saudia Arabia, one from Moscow, Russia, one from Melledin Columbia, South America, one from Baltimore, Maryland, one from Cortland, Ohio, and and a grandson from Detroit, Michigan. All four of Opal's children were present, ten grandchildren and six great-grandchildren. All these people made a special trip to help Opal celebrate her birthday.

Thank you for your donation toward the center's needs. Donations are coming in and when we get enough money. we will start making improvements. If you would like to help, please send your donations to Floydada Senior Citizens Fundraising Project, P.O. Box 573. We are a non-profit organization and we do need your help. Mildred Fuqua has been ill recently and she wanted me to let you know that she really appreciated your prayers and cards, especially the card from the center with so many signatures on it.

Please pray for those who are ill in our community.

Judge Bill Hardin signs Farm and Ranch Safety and Health Week Proclamation as Mark McCormick, President of the Floyd County Farm Bureau, looks

by the COUNTY JUDGE OF FLOYD COUINTY

To all to whom these presents shall come:

I, William D. Hardin, County Judge of Floyd County, do hereby declare the week of September 18-24, 1994 as Farm and Ranch Safety and Health Week in Floyd County, for the following reasons:

WHEREAS, this being the 51st anniversary of the observance of farm and ranch safety and health, emphasis is placed on better technology, safe work practices and education as is also being proclaimed by the governor, and,

WHEREAS, the 1994 theme, "Safety and Health . . . A Way of Life" calls attention to the fact that everyone in America should be concerned about agricultural production and its longevity and strength in the global arena. Each farmer and rancher now feeds nearly 130 persons and emerging technologies indicate that our future looks bright for expanding this milestone.

THEREFORE, every U.S. citizen should pause a moment during this week of our 51st anniversary, and recognize the dedication of our farmers and ranchers, daily, toward strengthening the welfare of our great nation. Their emotional, economic and environmental hardships should not go unnoticed.

THUS, the National Safety Council, the Texas Safety Association, the Texas Department of Agriculture, the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, and others, wish to recognize all agriculturists, with special emphasis to our safety specialists and to those farms and ranches seeking and following their advice for a safer farming community by posting a policy statement and safety rules for your operation, do a hazard hunt regularly and seek and use meaningful educational programs.

THEREFORE, I urge everyone to take the necessary precautions for their own safety as well as the safety of others on and off the job. I urge our leaders in agriculture to improve areas of safety and health efforts by example.

> SIGNED: William D. Hardin COUNTY JUDGE

The following information was taken in part from the High Plains Cotton Jour-

The extreme earliness of the 1994 cotton crop justifies even greater use of harvest aids than in 1993, when approximately 75% of the acreage received some treatment. However, the extremely low yields in many dryland fields will make it difficult to spend additional money on these fields. Before leaving a dryland crop in the field to wait on a killing freeze, consider the benefits of the use of harvest aids on low yielding dryland cotton: early harvest, reduced weathering loss, increased water retention for planting in 1995.

We have three techniques to determine when we can apply harvest aids and still retain maximum yield: seed and lint inspection with a sharp knife, Nodes Above Cracked Boll (NACB), and per-

Cutting into green bolls with a sharp knife is a highly accurate method to assess maturity. Inspect the cut cross section of seeds looking for signs of maturity: no jelly left in the seed, no glistening of free water in the boll, cotyledons yellow to tan, a darker ring around the cut seed due to the darker seed coat than the cotyledons.

To use the NACB technique, walk into

4 parts of a field, 10 plants with a first position cracked boll. A cracked boll has some visible lint, but no more than half open. When all the green bolls are within 3 nodes of the cracked boll that field will reach 100% maturity and waiting longer to apply a harvest aid will not increase lint weight.

SIDERS'

By Kerry Siders, CEA-Ag

Applying a defoliant (not desiccant) when the percent open bolls reach 60% has been a standard technique across the Belt, for a desiccant 80% is commonly

Start the harvest season with reduced rates of material, the warm weather and short stature of these early fields should reduce the amount of defoliant and boll opener needed. However, this same water stress has increased the waxiness of the leaf surface (the cuticle) and higher rates of surfactants may be beneficial. The options listed in the table are only starting points for producers to consider as they build a successful program for 1994, and should not be taken as a blanket recommendation. Several other materials that producers have reported success with include: Harvade, Accelerate and Sodium Chlorate.

For more information, contact Kerry Siders at the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in Floyd County.

Silver Spurs plan Horseless Rodeo

By Jurahee Jones

Reporter FLOYDADA--The Silver Spurs 4-H Horse Club met September 5 in the home of Debbie Shatley. Plans were finalized for the Horseless Rodeo which is planned for Sept. 17 during the Floyd County Fair in Lockney.

There will be four separate age divisions: 4 to 6 year olds; 7 to 9 year olds; 10 to 13 year olds; and 14 to 17 year

The seven events will include: Stick Horse Barrel Race (stick horses will be furnished); Steer Roping; Calf Roping (ropes furnished); Goat Tying; Ribbon Race; Goat Dressing; and Boot Race.

Cost will be $2.00 per entry and awards will be given.

For more information on the Horseless Rodeo call Debbie Shatley at 652-3135 or Marcia Phillips at 652-

During the meeting, Kerry Siders gave some handouts to the officers which explained what their duties are. Debbie encouraged the kids to earn enough points to get a 4-H jacket.

The October 3 meeting will be held in the home of Jurahee Jones.

Those present were Amy Davis, Kacie Young, Tyler Phillips, Laura Lote, Valerie Hartline, Nicole Hartline and Christopher Hartline.

MAX MARBLE

Services for Max Marble, 53, of Plainview were at 2 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 3, in the chapel of the First Baptist Church in Plainview. Officiating was Dr. Travis Hart, pastor. Burial was in Lockney Cemetery by Lemons Funeral Home of Mr. Marble died at 12:40 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 31, 1994, in Lubbock's University Medical Center.

He was born on March 14, 1941 on the family farm east of Lockney. He grew up on the family farm, where he lived, attended school and farmed until moving to Hart in 1970. He also farmed on the Nanny Pasture.

He married Evelyn Linderman on Nov. 9, 1980 in San Antonio and moved to Plainview in 1987.

He was a member of the First Baptist Church of Plainview and a former member of the Hart First Baptist Church. He was a member of the Hart Lions Club. He had been recognized as an outstanding farmer, placing first in the Holland Corn Growers Association in 1983 and had also received high yield awards in wheat and soybean production.

Survivors include his wife, Evelyn; three sons, Larry Marble of Plainview, Marlin Marble of Grand Island, Neb., and Jeff Rogers of Kress; a daughter, Zenita Rowland of Hart; his mother, Mrs. Hugh (Eathyl) Marble of Plainview; a sister, Mary Ann Slair of Plainview; and eight grandchildren.

tute of Certified Public Accountants.

Mr. Surginer was the recipient of the Superior Service Award from the United State Department of Agriculture, the Secretaries Management Improvement Award and the Federal Accountants Association of Distinguished Leadership Award. He retired in 1972 from his government career and later became consultant to Cooper and Cyberands and the National Utilities Cooperative Finance Corporation.

He was a Mason, a member of the Methodist Church, member of the University of Texas System Chancellors Council, the Littlefield Society, and member of the Dunes Golf and Beach Club.

Mr. Surginer and his family gave the C. Surginer and Son Hardware building, located north of the Floyd County Courthouse, as a permanent home for the Floyd County Historical Museum. Later he gave the building east of the museum as an addition.

Survivors include his wife, Dorothy of New Bern, N.C.; two daughters, Gloria M. Gonyeo and Donna M. Hunt, both of Rochester, N.Y.; six grandchildren; and three great-grandchildren.

THOMAS GLEN WILLIAMS Funeral services for Thomas Glen

Williams, 72, of Lubbock were at 10:30 a.m. Thursday, Sept. 1, in Resthaven Funeral Home Chapel with the Rev. Irving Looney, a retired Baptist minister, officiating. Burial was in Resthaven Memorial Park.

Mr. Williams died Monday, Aug. 29,

1994, in St. Mary Plaza. He was born on May 10, 1922, in Lockney. He served with the U.S. Marine Corps during World War II and was a member of the Masonic Lodge and the Baptist church.

He married Margie L. West on Jan. 31, 1953 in Clovis, N.M.

Survivors include his wife; two brothers, Calvin Williams of Hale Center and Clifton Williams of Las Vegas, Nev.; three sisters, Irene Sinclair and Thelma Williams, both of Plainview, and Alta Trussell of Weatherford; three grandchildren; and four great-grandchildren.

A daughter, Dora Mae Herring, died Oct. 14, 1984.

Card of Thanks

We would like to thank everyone who has helped us during Linda's recent hospital stay. The flowers, cards, calls, and food were really appreciated. We couldn't have made it through the last month without each of you. Mike and Linda Hinsley

Thank you so much to all our friends who have shown us so much encouragement in the past weeks, for our granddaughter, for Claude having surgery, and for your love and concern at the death of my brother. You all have helped us through some difficult days in all of your sweet ways. We love each of you and know the Lord is going to bless your lives for such kindness as you have shown

Janice and Jerrel Brashear, are coming to Grace Fellowship Church in Lockney, on Sunday, Sept. 11, to present a concert of Southern Gospel and Christian Country music. The Brashears have sung all over the United States, parts of Canada, and Jamaica. They have sung in churches, both small and large, high school and civic auditoriums, electric

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

By Jane Martinez Activity Director

FLOYDADA--I would like to start by saying I am the new Activity Director here at the Floydada Nursing Home. I am very happy to be a part of the nursing home. I am hoping to be a part of the residents and their families as well.

I would also like to say that I would be happy if we could get more volunteers in the home. Our residents would really enjoy seeing the old faces and also some new ones.

As for nursing home happenings we have Grandparents Day, Sept. 11; Residents Birthday Party, Sept. 15, at 2:30 p.m.; National Housekeepers Week, Sept. 11-17; and on Sept. 21 at 12 noon we will have the Family Picnic. On Sept. 29, at 9 a.m. we will be taking a trip to the South Plains Fair in Lubbock for Senior Citizens Day activities

We would also like to wish a Happy Birthday to Ottis Johnson, Bernice Robison, Robert Holt, Fannie McConic and Emma Bearden. They are celebrating their birthdays this month of September.

We welcome Neddie Childress, Faye Stringer and Lurene Gee as our new resi-

Hope everyone can come and visit us. We will enjoy your company. Until next

Welcome Home recording artists, coops, county and state fairs, and also the World's Fair. They have sung several times at the National Quartet Convention, Nashville, Tennessee. They are regulars on the Sing Out America nationally televised cable program, seen on the Acts Network, as well as the Willie Williams Gospel TV program, "Southern Gospel Time." They have hosted the Southwest Festival of Gospel Music in Phoenix, Arizona, for 15 years, but in 1994 two other cities in Arizona, three in Texas and one in New Mexico will take part in this Jerrel has a monthly article in the national publication, The Singing News, "Western Trails Review", and an article in the Voice, "Just West of Here."

Jerrel Brashear has been singing gospel music for 40 years, but he started the Brashears 21 years ago. The Brashears and Grace Fellowship Church invite everyone to come and be a part of this concert, which is scheduled to begin at 11 a.m. A free will offering will

FHS Coach's Comments

FLOYDADA--According to Floydada coach Bryan Davis, "We were very happy to get out of Lockney with a victory. They played us tough, but both teams made a lot of opening-night mistakes. We are all proud of the way our kids responded and went 54 yards in two plays to pull out the win at the end of the game.'

The coach also said, "We are pretty young in a lot of places and grew up a lot last Friday. With the schedule we have coming up (Brownfield, Post and Childress), we'll have to grow up a lot more in the next three weeks."

Davis added, "We were real pleased with our defensive effort. It took a while to pick up their stunts. We worked on that in practice and looked better We'll see Brownfield stunting much the same way this week. Brownfield is better and much bigger physically than Lockney. .. they are a large 3A school and have plenty of depth. Defensive coordinator Rex Holcombe, discussing Brownfield's offense, stated, "They'll give us a similar tandem look as Lockney. We'll have to make adjustments for their returning quarterback -- he scrambled for about 75 yards against us last year. They have good size and speed and an experienced

Holcombe added, "We'll have our hands full."

Offensive coordinator Lee Hurt said, "They'll line up in a 4-3 and sometimes will have all 11 within 5 yards of the line of scrimmage. They have good size up front. Their linebackers are quick and the middle linebacker is a quality football player. We'll see a lot of man coverage (on pass routes), and we'll see a lot of safety blitzes. If we correct last week's mistakes, we should have a good chance."

All the coaches noted and expressed their appreciation for the fan support and the large following at Lockney, and are looking forward to the home-opener against Brownfield.

Whirlwinds edge Longhorns for county crown By Bill Gray

FLOYDADA--Floydada scored the winning touchdown and two-point conversion in the final two minutes to rally past Lockney 8-7 as the Whirlwinds retained the Floyd County Championship on September 2. The exciting finish, before a packed house at Lockney's Mitchell-Zimmerman Field, was almost a carbon copy of last year's 14-13 comefrom-behind Whirlwind victory at Wester Field.

For 3 1/2 quarters, neither team was able to generate a sustained scoring threat. A Floydada turnover, with 9:11 remaining in the final period, opened the door for an apparent Longhorn winning drive. Lockney's Tanner Johnson hit freshman sensation Charles VanZandt with a 21-yard scoring strike on a fade pattern, Matthew Raissez kicked the extra point, and it appeared that Floydada's seven-year dominance in this long and storied rivalry was at an end.

Only 2:23 showed on the game clock. Time and again throughout the evening the Whirlwinds' offensive attack had been stymied by a swarming and blitzing Longhorn defense. A 15-yard penalty against Lockney on the ensuing kickoff gave the Whirlwinds excellent field position and one final opportunity to pull out the victory. And, the 'Winds responded to the challenge.

Floydada tailback Pete Cooper picked up nine yards to move the 'Winds into Lockney territory at the 45 yard line. QB Sammy Rodriquez started the option to the left side on second down and pitched to Cooper. The all-district speedster twisted away from several would-be tacklers, broke another tackle in the secondary, and rambled into the north end zone. Rodriguez added the all-important two-pointer with a gutsy dive across the double stripe. Floydada's winning drive took only 28 seconds.

Both teams' defenses pretty well controlled the flow of the first seven minutes of the initial period as each offense attempted to establish some early continuity. The early going could best be compared to a couple of heavyweight boxers testing one another or two worldclass chess players attempting to get the better of each other. The Longhorns picked up the tempo late in the first quarter when Carlos Perales recovered a Floydada fumble deep in Whirlwind territory. However, Lockney failed to capitalize on the break. They were penalized twice on the possession, and were forced to turn over the ball on downs at the Whirlwind 27. Rodriguez completed a 20-yard pass to Ken Cummings to move the 'Winds to Floydada staged its most serious threat to open the second quarter. Highlighted by Pete Cooper's 20-yard run, the Winds made their deepest penetration into Lockney territory. The 12-play, 49yard drive stalled when Floydada failed to convert a fourth down attempt. Lockney's Michael Hernandez and freshman Josh Lambert converged on Sammy Rodriguez, holding the Whirlwind QB to zero yardage. The 'Horns took over on downs at their own 24 yard line with 7:19 remaining in the first half. Defensive gems were turned in by Zach Abshier, Chad Hinsley and Michael Mercado as Floydada held the Longhorns to minus yardage in the ensuing series. Following an exchange of punts, Tanner Johnson guided the 'Horns to an 8-play, 41-yard drive. A 15-yard Johnson run off the option and a 24-yard pass to Shannon Veal helped move Lockney to the Floydada 37, but the halftime horn sounded before the Longhorns could do anything to break the 0-0 deadlock.

Floydada picked up a first down on Pete Cooper's 12-yard carry in its first offensive series following intermission. However, Lockney's Lalo Chavira and Carlos Perales sacked Rodriguez for a 4-yard loss - forcing Abshier's third punt of the evening (a booming 43-yarder which pinned the 'Horns on their own 5 yard line). Freshman Devon Phillips' nifty 24-yard run helped Lockney out of the hole, but the 'Horns couldn't sustain a drive and Raissez punted back to the Winds.

Rodriguez was shaken up on the first play of Floydada's next series, and Abshier entered the game at quarterback for several plays. Sammy returned to action in time to execute a first down run, but the 'Winds were stopped on Lockney's 43. Abshier's 39-yard punt again drove the Longhorns into a deep

Lockney started the final period on its own 18 yard line -- minus its starting quarterback. Johnson was injured in the final moments of the third quarter and was replaced for a few plays by Veal. Johnson returned, following the key Floydada turnover, and directed an 11play, 66-yard scoring drive. The drive started with a 15-yard pass to Phillips, consumed 5 1/2 minutes of time, and ended with the 21-yard touchdown toss to VanZandt. With but 2:23 showing on the clock, it appeared that the 'Horns were on the way to their first win in this

The Longhorns' premature celebration ended 28 seconds later. Following the ensuing kickoff it took the Whirlwinds only two plays to cover the 54 yards to Lockney's end zone and the dramatic 2point conversion by Rodriguez. During Floydada's post-game victory celebration, the Floydada quarterback, who produced the game-winner, commented, "I got hit solid at the two yard line, but the coaches teach us to keep our legs moving when we're hit. It was a tough game . . . Lockney played their hearts out . . . but we played just a little bit better when it really counted."

Lockney will regroup and travel to Petersburg this Friday. The Buffaloes scored twice in the fourth quarter to upend Crosbyton 27-14 last week. The Brownfield Cubs will help the Whirlwinds open their home schedule with a 8:00 p.m. kickoff at Wester Field.

The Cubs, still seething from their 12-7 loss to the Whirlwinds at Brownfield a year ago, will be looking for their first win of the season. If it weren't bad enough that the Cubs hope to atone for last year's close loss to the Whirlwinds, Brownfield will want to show that last week's 16-8 loss to highly-regarded Littlefield wasn't a fluke.

The post-Shad Evans era sees Brownfield as a more balanced club. QB-FS Rhett Graham (6-1, 180) passed for 188 yards with seven completions in 16 attempts and had one interception in the loss to Littlefield. Graham passed for over 900 yards a year ago in a runorientated offense. Fleet receiver Johnny Quesada (5-7, 127) averaged over 20 yards-per-reception a year ago. Quesada stung Littlefield for 85 yards on three tion attack.

If the Cubs have any weakness it could be their 4-3 defense, where they return only three starters from the district championship team. Graham doubles at free safety and Russell Perkins returns to his cornerback slot. Linebacker James Pauda (5-9, 165) is the only returnee in the front seven of Coach Eddie Hooper's stopper unit. Based on the "classics" the past couple of years, the 1994 Whirlwind-Cub clash promises more of the same.

BILL'S NOTES

Talk about deja vu! It was same song, second verse. For the second year in a row Lockney played an inspired 44 minutes . . . only to have a victory slip away at game's end. Although the Whirlwinds made a number of mental mistakes and committed a couple of costly turnovers, a lot of credit has to go to the scrappy Longhorns.

Coach Malcolm Moerbe's game plan kept Floydada guessing for the better part of the evening. His defensive front gave the young Whirlwind line about all it could handle, and the blitzing/stunting linebackers wrecked havoc with Floydada's option until the final

I can't say enough about the performances of the three freshmen who played such important roles for the 'Horns on both sides of the ball. Josh Lambert had a whale of a game at linebacker, and Charles VanZandt had a great defensive game for his first of many starts. But, it was on offense that VanZandt and Devon Phillips really shined.

A year ago Charles was playing in the "Pop Warner"-type junior leagues at Ft. Benning, Georgia, (his father is a recentlyretired Army staff sergeant). Not only does he have natural football talent, but he also had to have some excellent coaching in the basics of the game. I complained to his mother, Vanessa (manager at Allsup's in Floydada), "When you folks decided to move to Texas, I wish you had chosen to live in catches last week.

Brownfield will again have a strong ground game. The Cubs rushed for 123 yards against the vaunted Littlefield defense, led by James Pauda's 66 yards on eight carries and Kevin Flournoy's 40 yards on 13 attempts. Rusty Pickett, center (5-8, 204), Jabe Riley, tackle (6-5, 210), Adam Furlow, guard, and tight end Mickey McCalib (5-11, 205) help form the nucleus of a productive "I" forma-for his "stick" on Charles VanZandt on the next-to-last play of the third quarter . . . it was a good, clean hit. In fact, it was a good, clean game in spite of the intense rivalry between the two squads. THAT is a credit to both coaching staffs and both teams. Lockney will give Coach Moerbe his first win this week with a 20-14 verdict at Petersburg. The Whirlwinds need to turn it up

Hale earns first place check for week one of football contest

The first tie-breaker game was utilized to determine the winner of the first prize for the initial week of the annual Floyd County Hesperian-Beacon Football Contest. Jean Hale of Floydada and Phillip Glasson of Lockney each missed three games on the contest. Hale selected Floydada to win in the tiebreaker, thus nudging Glasson out. He chose Lockney as the winner. Hale will be able to pick up her first place check for $25.00 at the Floydada office on Friday, September 9.

The second place check for $15.00 will be available for Glasson in the Lockney Office on Friday.

The third place check for $10.00 will be waiting in the Floydada office on Friday for Mike Anderson who missed four games on the contest this week.

Honorable mention goes to those missing five games this week, W. H. Simpson of Floydada and Boyd Lee of Lockney. Bob Alldredge, Sheree Cannon, Sam Hale, A. W. James, Sammy Bradley, and Stan Payne, all of Floydada, as well as Coby Marr and Roger Perez of Lockney, each missed six games this week. Five entries missed seven games on the contest this week eleven entries missed eight.

There were a total of 25 entries in the Lockney contest box including one which was left in the drop box after 5:00 p.m. on Friday and was not counted for the contest. There were 54 entries in the Floydada contest box, making a total of 79 entries for the contest this first week.
