Absentee voting for the 1994 elections is upon us. It is time for all good citizens to once again gird up their loins and go forth into battle.

But who and what do we strike a blow for, and who and what do we strike a blow against?

That is the question this time around, as it always is in a system designed, originally, to allow citizens to determine who is to govern them, and what direction those who govern should take.

Yes, we know. We know. It hasn't worked exactly that way of late. A massive "disconnect" has developed between the citizens and their government. And for good reason.

Poll after poll shows that our citizens want things out of government that government refuses to even consider.

People want to vote on a constitutional amendment forcing the federal government to live within its means. The Congress, as it is presently constituted and led, refuses to allow it. People want to vote on a constitutional amendment limiting the terms of Congressmen, in the hope that Congress might once again represent the people rather than an entrenched political class of politicians and bureaucrats. Congress refuses to allow that proposition to come to a vote.

The people want this nation's destructive welfare system overhauled and "reformed", made less expensive. Those who run Congress, and those Congressmen who support those who run Congress, refuse to tackle the subject.

The people want the nation's immigration laws enforced. They want their borders protected against an invasion of "illegals" bent upon benefiting from this country's welfare system. The Congress refuses to tackle that subject as well.

The portrait of this Congress is painted by those little sidebars, the Post Office scandal, the House Banking scandal, the pay raise for Congressmen entered into in the dead of night and despite the outcries of an enraged public. And by a huge new tax bill designed to provide additional money for those constituencies that voted right in the last election. Is it any wonder that so many people are upset, even angry?

The list goes on, and is almost endless. This Congress, and this Administration is run by liberal elitists who honestly believe they know what is best for the people, and they are going to see that the people get what is best for them, so long, of course, as it agrees with their own vision of what is best.

And what is best? First, of course, is protecting their own incumbency. How can they do what is best for the people if they are defeated at the polls, and if they must then return to live among the people? That is a scary proposition. They might even have to take a job to supplement their lucrative "retirement" income, an income that amounts to four or five times what an average citizen makes by working all year long.

How to protect that incumbency? The tried and true method is by talking one way while they are back in the home territory, but voting another way on the floor of the House or the Senate. The talk, back in the territory, is all in favor of the taxpayer. The vote in Washington, all too often, is in favor of the tax eater.

Indications are that this year it might, just might, be a little different. Polls indicate that despite a massive propaganda campaign emanating from Washington and New York (the major centers of political and media "information" now) the people may truly be ready to hold accountable those comfortably ensconced in Washington. Even Ted Kennedy is fighting for his life in a state where Republicans can muster only about 14 percent of the registered vote. Speaker Tom Foley, the darling of House Democrats, is battling for his future against a relative unknown. Could it be that the people, finally, are waking up?

Let us hope so.

Now on the state level. For whom to vote?

We told our readers, years ago, that we would not try to give advice on the local level. That does not mean that we do not have our "druthers" on the local

Floyd County Democratic Party hosts political forum

Voters hear candidates' views

Floyd County's candidate forum was well attended Tuesday night by interested voters. Although Congressman Bill Sarpalius was the only candidate to personally speak on his own behalf, surrogates were on hand to speak for the candidates of their choice.

Floyd County's Democratic Chairman Jeffrey Johnson introduced the guests and kept the forum moving in an entertaining and light hearted fashion.

Most candidates kept their speeches to the five minutes allotted to them. There were no questions, however all candidates who attended the forum, except for Sarpalius, was available to talk to voters at the end of the forum.

Lubbock State Representative Robert L. Duncan began the forum by speaking on behalf of gubernatorial candidate

George Bush.

Duncan presented Bush as the candidate with new ideas. He said, Bush believed in revitalizing the juvenile code and making it harder on juveniles who break the law.

He also said Bush opposed the Ruiz settlement, which the state agreed to, to settle the prison lawsuit. "The Ruiz standards set forth by a federal judge are more stringent for Texas prisons than the standards are for federal prisons."

"Bush wishes to reform the current system of education and to get away from the tendency to centralize education. He wants to eliminate mandates and establish home rule schools," said Duncan. "Bush wants to pare down the Texas Education Agency and give communities more local control."

Duncan said Bush feels the governor needs to take a bold approach toward welfare and tort reform. Duncan said there had been no tort reform since Richards had been governor.

Robin Parks, the West Texas Coordinator for Governor Richards, spoke on behalf of Richards.

Parks asked the crowd to consider whether they felt the economy of Texas was better today than four years ago. Parks said under Richards guidance there have been more jobs created in Texas in the last four years than there has been in California or New York.

Parks criticized Bush's record of business pointing out that Bush owns less than 2% of the Texas Rangers. According to Parks, Bush has "lost millions and millions and millions."

"Think about it," said Parks. "Would this man even have a chance to run for governor if his name weren't George Bush—if his name were Fred Alexander would he be running for this job?"

Parks reviewed Richards support for the building of new prisons and took offense at what she said were Bush's criticisms of recent TAAS scores.

Parks praised Richards appointments, saying Richards had appointed more women and minorities than all other governors combined in the history of the State of Texas.

Congressman Sarpalius reviewed his background of growing up on Cal Farley's boy ranch and reviewed his six years as Congressman of the 13th Congressional District.

Sarpalius said when he became Congressman the nation was losing 2,000 jobs a day.

"The economy in my district was becoming very depressed," said Sarpalius.

Sarpalius said when he took office, Pantex in Amarillo was being downsized, Lake Meredith was being neglected with 100 pounds a minute of salt being dumped in the lake and Wichita Falls was dealing with a base closure.

"We've been successful in turning Lake Meredith into a National Park," said Sarpalius, "and the salt is being cleaned up. Pantex is beginning to grow and more construction is now going on at Wichita Falls base than at any other Air Force Base."

Sarpalius said 14 new jobs were being created every day in his senatorial district. Sarpalius said he felt good about the things they were accomplishing in Washington as far as the economy was concerned.

He said he is currently serving on the Small Business Committee and the Agriculture Committee. He said he ranks 7th in seniority on the Ag committee and chairs one of the six sub-committees.

Sarpalius also praised his voting record of 98% on attendance.

Sarpalius' challenger in the congressional race, Mac Thornberry, could not attend the forum because of a prior commitment and there was no surrogate present at the meeting.

Tim Lambert spoke on behalf of Tex Lezar, who is running as Lt. Governor on the Republican ticket.

Lambert is a member of the State Republican Executive Committee.

Lambert said the Lt. Governor has the most powerful position in Texas. "The Lt. Governor presides over the Texas Senate. He places legislation in committees. He appoints all the chairmen and members of the committees."

"Tex would like to see the abolishment of parole," said Lambert. "That may sound severe, but Tex feels that the communities who sentence criminals to prison expect them to serve their time."

Lambert said Tex was a strong supporter of term limits, and supports a decrease in the Texas budget and state jobs.

Lambert said Tex believes Texans ought to have the ability to get enough signatures on a petition to have a referendum placed on the ballot so voters can bypass the legislature.

Lambert said the current Lt. Governor, Bob Bullock led the campaign for a personal and corporate income tax. "We didn't get the personal tax but we did get corporate tax which hurt the small family businesses not the large corporations."

"In 1990 while running for Lt. Governor he told a group of gays and homosexuals that he would help them repeal sodomy laws in Texas. Lambert quoted Bullock as saying, "Rest assured that as long as I continue to serve in state government the gay-lesbians will have a voice in Austin."

Lt. Governor Bob Bullock was not able to attend the forum and a surrogate was not present.

Bryan Poff spoke on behalf of his father, Judge Bryan Poff, the incumbent, running for the 7th Court of Appeal.

Poff reviewed his father's years of experience in his field, saying, "My dad has been a judge for 17 years, a District Judge for 12 years and a Appeals Judge for 5 years. He has been endorsed by the Lubbock and Amarillo Police Depart-

Caprock Hospital District to purchase new ambulance

FLOYDADA — Caprock Hospital District will combine financial efforts to purchase a new ambulance for use by Floydada EMS. CHD will pay no more than $45,000.00 towards the purchase of the $75,000.00 vehicle and the $3,000.00 to $4,000.00 of additional equipment needed to meet state standards for ambulances.

$15,000.00 of the total cost will be met with a recent donation from the Cogdell Trust and another $20,000.00 will be taken from the reserve fund being held for the purchase of a new ambulance or major repairs and new equipment. The purchase will leave $10,000.00 in the reserve fund.

Purchase of the vehicle was approved on a motion by Rob Heflin with a second by Joy Assiter. All voted in favor. The motion followed review of proposals from three manufacturers and information presented by Kyle Smith, Paul McIntosh and Mike Reeves of Floydada EMS.

The 1995 Mark Marathon made by Reliable Emergency Vehicles ambulance will be used as the primary vehicle for the service when it is received in March or April of 1995. The current vehicle will be relegated to use as a backup ambulance. Both will be fully equipped and functional. EMS will be responsible for insuring the vehicle

Halloween carnival and trick or treating planned Oct. 29 in Lockney

LOCKNEY—Ghosts and goblins will roam the halls of Lockney Elementary School Saturday night, October 29. Plans are being made for the annual Halloween carnival and trick or treating.

TRICK OR TREATING

The City of Lockney, in cooperation with Lockney ISD and the Lockney Police Department, has officially proclaimed Saturday, October 29th, trick or treat night. Since Halloween falls on a Monday this year this will prevent young children from being out late on a school night. It will also prevent children from trick or treating on two different nights since the annual Halloween Carnival is also on Saturday. The City also discourages anyone from passing out candy on Monday night.

Parents and children should follow a few safety rules when trick or treating: 1. Small children should always be accompanied by an adult; 2. Children should only approach houses where the outside is well lit; 3. Children should not eat candy or treats until their parents have inspected their bags; 4. Children should always be careful when crossing streets; 5. Children should not accept treats from strangers.

HALLOWEEN CARNIVAL

Debbie Wiley is carnival chairman and stated, "There will be plenty of food, fun and prizes for everyone. We will have booths set up throughout the school and there will be something for everyone."

Young and old alike are asked to come in costume and plan on eating at the carnival. There will be several booths offering food and all the usual games filling the gym.

The Lockney PTA is sponsoring the event and booths are being sponsored by local churches, study clubs, organizations and youth groups.

BY THE WAY!

BY ALICE GILROY

It's getting close to Punkin Days. I can tell because the Punkin Day Chairman, Roxanna Cummings, is walking around in a daze with her eyes crossed.

She really needs to carry a bag phone with her wherever she goes. She can't get away from the ringing of the phone from people wanting information about Punkin Days!

Floydada is getting all kinds of great coverage from newspapers and television. She has been very busy!!!

I also know it's getting close because I have all kinds of Punkin Day little tidbits to pass on.

First of all, there is still time to sign up for a booth. This is the last call. The Punkin Day Committee wants only handmade arts and crafts booths on the square. So all you creative people—make some Christmas money and sell your wares.

Call Roxanna at The Lamplighter if you want a booth. She is the one with the phone growing out of her ear.

Speaking of booths. Just in case you businesses are approached by someone who wants to set up in front of your store—the chamber is requesting that you keep the Punkin Day Arts and Crafts rule in mind.

Obviously, the chamber can't tell you not to allow someone in front of your business—but they hope you will agree that the vendors who sell things like silly string tend to detract from the arts and crafts booths.

Besides—THE SILLY STRING IS A PAIN TO CLEAN UP!!!

Also the chamber is trying to make some money off of the booth rentals. If someone request your space in front of your store—you might suggest they pay the chamber for the privilege.

After all—that vendor is getting the benefit of a lot of hard work done by the chamber on publicity for this occasion. They are bringing a lot of people into town. The vendor can give something back.

Next—volunteers are still needed for Punkin Day chores. They aren't hard chores—they are fun chores. There is already committee heads for everything so you won't be in charge of anything.

But volunteers are always helpful at writing down winners names, handing out carving knives at the carving contest, helping kids with pumpkin tossing, etc. If you want to have an extra good time at the festival—call Roxanna (again) and volunteer your time.

Next—the Punkin Days '94 hooded long sleeve and short sleeve T-shirts are on sale now at Janet's Designs. They look great.

Also the race T-shirts are in. They also look great.

Don't forget that judges will be checking out yards and businesses on Oct. 25 for the decorating contest—and be sure to dress up on October 28. It always makes for a better festival when more people play.

Computers are great. They make lots of mistakes, and when they do, it's nobody's fault.

History's first unisex garment: the diaper.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

Reading of Commissioner Taylor's effort to get the court to honor their previous commitment reminded me of an experience we had several years ago.

Bob Jarrett, then commissioner, told some of us in north Floyd County that the county was going to receive about 30 miles of Farm to Market roads and we had better get our name in the pot.

A delegation from South Plains and Sterley met with the commissioners court and asked for consideration. The court was divided north-south and the judge voted against us. When it was suggested that we would remember his vote when it came our time to vote the judge became quite agitated and remarked, "If I can get the vote in Floydada and South I don't need your vote!"

Our delegation went to Lubbock and met with the district engineer, a Mr. Crain. He looked at the county map and said, "I didn't know anyone in a populated area in Texas was in the shape for paved road you gentlemen in north Floyd are, you'll get your road!"

We got the road from Sterley to South Plains.

We are again asking for consideration!

Floydada ISD meets in regular session

FLOYDADA — The Board of Trustees for the Floydada Independent School District met in regular session for the month of October on Tuesday, October 11 to address a short, routine agenda. The annual practice of recognizing outstanding students from each school each month is again being observed.

Recognized as outstanding students for the month from A.B. Duncan Elementary School were Melissa Dunlap, daughter of John and Judy Dunlap, and Daniel Garcia, son of Paco and Mary Garcia. Honored from R.C. Andrews Elementary were Josh Caballero, son of Joe and Mary Caballero, and Jessica Castaneda, daughter of Rudy and Yolanda Castaneda.

Floydada Junior High outstanding students were Heather Carr, daughter of David and Sheri Carr, and Shonda Smith, daughter of Victor and Stacy Smith. Honored from Floydada High School were D.G. Hollums, son of Randy and Teresa Hollums, and Joni Smith, daughter of Victor and Stacy Smith.

The board discussed making a contribution to the Floyd County Day Care. Members felt that they needed additional information before committing to a donation. Board president Charlene Brown made a motion to table the item. The motion was seconded by Trena Simpson. Three voted in favor and one abstained.

The board also discussed the current school enrollment during the session. No action was taken concerning the subject.

Superintendent Jerry Cannon reported that school will be out at 3:00 p.m. on Friday, October 21, in order to allow more people to attend the football game at Muleshoe Friday evening.

He also told the board that a Texas Association of School Boards legal seminar will be held in Amarillo on December 7, 1994 and board members are welcome to attend.

... Motion was made by Simpson and seconded by Billy Joe Villarreal to approve payment of monthly bills. All voted in favor. ... Minutes from the previous board meeting were read by board secretary Simpson and approved as presented.

COURTROOM ACTIVITIES

In county court, October 18th, the following Theft charges were filed against:

Carlos Trevino, Romo, ... Alicia Fierros, Karlton Noland, Craig DuBois, Ernest Garcia and Paulo S. Mendoza.

ment Associations and over 50 former and present District Attorneys."
Poff's challenger, Brian Quinn was not present and no surrogate was available.
Mayor Wayne Collins, of Dimmitt, spoke on behalf of Tom Haywood who is the Republican candidate for the State Senate District #30.
"Haywood believes that less government is better government and that local government is better than government in Austin," said Collins.

"He wants to give control of education back to local school districts and stop making unfunded mandates.
"Tom is opposed to gun control and he has pledged to fight frivolous lawsuits. He has pledged to fight state spending. He believes it is out of control," said Collins.
"Tom is also in favor of term limits and does not believe in career politicians."

Haywoods Democrat opponent, incumbent Senator Steve Carriker, was represented at the forum by Carriker's legislative assistant Greg Beatty.
Beatty said that Carriker understands West Texas and small town Texas.
Beatty said, "Carriker has been a strong defender of private property rights."
"Carriker also authored the Sunset Bill which re-created the Texas Department of Commerce."
"Carriker has passed legislation that has allowed over 270 rural health clinics to open up and has increased penalty for welfare fraud."

Beatty also pointed out that Lt. Governor Bob Bullock had endorsed Sen. Steve Carriker.

Julianne Cornelius, of Floydada, spoke on behalf of Richard Watson. Watson is running for State Board of Education, District #14.

Watson's concerns as a candidate are in the areas of textbooks that undermine the parental authority and parental values.

According to Cornelius, Watson is opposed to the type of textbooks that were adopted last year by the Texas State School Board over the objections of thousands of parents and educators.

"His main objection was the inappropriate and sexually explicit material in the book. He opposed class discussions and debate over the pros and cons of divorcing your parents and discussions of suicide using Dr. Kavorkian's books as a reference," said Cornelius.
"He does not believe our process of selecting the books is the problem. The problem is the state board of education not listening.

"Watson feels too much regulatory power goes to the Texas Education Agency and that restoring local control to school boards is very important."

Watson's challenger, Democrat Howard Neeb was not available and did not have a surrogate present.

Amado Morales, democrat candidate for Floyd County Commissioner Pct. #4 reviewed his six years on the city council. He said while he was on the council, the council had obtained water grants, paving grants, home improvement grants and park grants.
"We spent $200,000 to $250,000 to keep the landfill open. We asked the county for help but we didn't get it."
"As I look at the courthouse I don't see any minorities in office and I see that there are 50-60% minorities in this community and I think we must have our own representation."
"I'm asking each and every one of ya'll to vote a straight democratic ticket. I will help and I will listen to you and I will try to work for the community."

Morales' challenger is write-in candidate Jon Jones.

Jones spoke after Morales and told the audience he has been overwhelmed by the support he has received. "I would like the opportunity to serve. There is a lot of interest in the race and a lot of concerns."

"People have concerns about their tax dollars and how they want the commissioners to handle those dollars. They want the money spent wisely and not needlessly and they have given me a very strong message that they don't want their tax dollars increased."
"They also don't feel the salaries of commissioners need to be increased."

Jones said that he would do his best to abide by those wishes.

Meet Your School Board Candidate

Bill Hudson, Floyd County's State School Board Representative, District #15, will be on hand to meet his constituents Tuesday, Oct. 25, at 7:00 p.m. at Duncan Elementary.

Hudson is retiring this year and is traveling the district to thank those who have supported him in the past. Hudson will also be introducing Howard Neeb, who is running as a Democrat for State School Board to fill Hudson's position.

Neeb is opposed on the ballot by Republican Richard Watson.

level, but local people are perfectly capable of making up their minds about local personalities, whom they quite often know as well or better than we. But those running for state office are sometimes unknown to local voters, as are their positions on issues affecting the state's citizens. In that area we are perfectly willing to state our position, not with the idea of telling people who they should vote for, but who we are going to vote for, and why. If others agree, fine. If they disagree, fine.

Let us take the Supreme Court races first. There are two with whom we have no hesitancy whatever. In Place One, we will vote for Raul Gonzales, the Democrat. He has been a good conservative judge, in our opinion.

In Place Two, we will vote for Nathan Hecht, the Republican. He has earned a reputation for intellectual honesty and consistency. It is important that his kind be encouraged, not only because of his decisions on the court, but as a signal to other judges that one can take honest positions and be rewarded.

Quite frankly in the other races for Court positions we look to who is backing them, since we have no other non-political criteria by which to judge them. We will vote for Pricilla Owen for Place 3 on the Supreme Court, primarily because her opponent is backed by this state's plaintiffs attorneys, or "trial lawyers."

On the Court of Criminal Appeals (this is the court that handles appeals in criminal cases, and has been dominated, in recent years, by liberal lawyers who seem to enjoy overturning lower court convictions on account of technicalities) we will vote for one man and one woman, Steve Mansfield and Sharon Keller. They are both Republicans, but this is not the principal reason for voting for them. Their Democratic opponents, in this case, are backed by defense lawyers and they could be expected to continue the "turn 'em loose" philosophy of the past.

We will vote for Rick Perry for Commissioner of Agriculture, and Kay Bailey Hutchison for the Senate. We will vote against Garry Mauro in the race for Land Commissioner, and we would vote against him if he were the only one on the ticket, this election, or the next, or the next, and if 99.9 percent of the state's voters went the other way. He has used his office to further his own interests, and the interests of Bill and Hillary, and look what a mess that got us in.

And that's about as far as we can go, this week.

Lockney ISD reviews good TEA ratings

Lockney School Board Trustees convened for a regular meeting, Thursday, October 13 and were presented with a letter from the Texas Education Agency confirming that two campuses in LISD had received monetary awards for achievements within their schools.

According to LISD Superintendent Raymond Lusk, "Lockney High School received a rating of 'Recognized' from the Texas Education Agency. This is extremely good. It is next to the highest rating." Along with that rating came a check for $1,037.

"The High School received the rating because they met certain standards on the TAAS scores, for their graduation rates, drop out rates and college entrance exam scores," said Lusk.

Lockney Junior High School also received a check from the state for $2,826.00 and a "Significant Gain" rating from TEA. "The Junior High received that rating because of their gain on TAAS scores over last year," said Lusk.

The board approved a bid of $513.67 to fence the tennis courts and approved the sale of Lot 5, Block 2, Original addition for the cost of $1.00.

Board members approved the sale of this lot after considering the request from the City of Lockney to return this property to the tax role, and the expense that will have to be put into the building to fix it up.

Adopt-A-Pumpkin light campaign is still underway

It wouldn't take long for a visitor to Floyd County's Courthouse Square to notice that pumpkins hold a special place of honor around these parts.

Newly decorated pumpkin lights adorn the poles surrounding the square, placed there courtesy of the City of Floydada.

The decorations were built with money donated from a Southwestern Bell grant and individual contributors through an Adopt-A-Pumpkin Light program.

As more adoptions are placed more lights will be made and placed on poles around town. Signs will be placed with the lights as tributes to those individuals or businesses who adopted the light.

The cost for adoption is $150.00. Two groups combining their resources can adopt a light for $75.00 each. The lights could make wonderful memorials or could be used by businesses, pumpkin growers, churches or civic groups as their way of contributing to the Chamber of Commerce and the Pumpkin Day festivities.

Anyone wishing to donate could contact Anne Carthel at 983-2377 or 983-2527. Make checks payable to the Pumpkin Day Committee Grant Fund and please designate the way you want the contribution sign to read on your pumpkin.

The signs contributed this year will be made and hung next year for the 1995

Have a good week!

Punkin Days.

"I hope we can line the roads with pumpkin lights," said Anne Carthel. "These decorations help us live up to our claim to fame as Pumpkin Capital, U.S.A."

Harrell and Briscoe marry in Jamaica

MRS. STEVEN WAYNE BRISCOE
(nee Wendy Gail Harrell)

Wendy Gail Harrell and Steven Wayne Briscoe, both of Dallas, chose Jamaica as the location for their wedding because of its "romantic atmosphere." The couple was married in an afternoon ceremony on Saturday, October 8, 1994 at The Sandals Resort in Ocho Rios, Jamaica. Performing the ceremony, in a tropical garden setting, was a Protestant minister.

Parents of the bride are Travis and Jackie (Gaye) Harrell. The groom is the son of Ramona Briscoe and Hobert Briscoe of Rowlett, Texas. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Jack (Opal) Rosson was born in Floydada and lived all of her life here until her move to a retirement center in South Carolina two years ago. The bride's mother, Gaye Rosson Harrell, also grew up in Floydada.

For her wedding, the bride chose an off-the-shoulder white taffeta sheath style dress covered with hand-sewn lace and seed pearls. She also wore the same pearls that her mother had worn on her wedding day, along with a pair of earrings that were an heirloom given to her by the groom's grandmother, and a pair of blue topaz ear studs given to her by the groom's mother.

The bride attended schools in the Richardson area, Lubbock and Denton. She is employed by Jarvis Press. The groom attended Amarillo and Lubbock schools and is employed by Wickham Supply, Inc.

Floyd County FCE Council meets October 13

By Muri Mayfield
FLOYDADA--Floyd County FCE Council met October 13 with Almeda May-Williams, council chairman, calling the meeting to order. Opening exercise was a reading from Erma Bombeck entitled, "Peace For Women."

Recreation was by Ruth Scott, who gave us the word chrysanthemums. The idea was to answer 24 questions with the letters in chrysanthemums.

Roll call was answered by eight members and the county agent. The reading of the minutes by Blanche Williams, stood approved as read. The treasurer and officers then gave their reports.

Jonelle Fawver made a motion to change the program committee recommendation:

A) To read Informing the Council Program Committee of Their Needs by Oct. 1 of each year and to be read by council meeting time.

B) Using county program committee recommendation to plan and participate in and to read as needed for the year.

The motion carried, so changes will be made.

Club reports given by Gladys Widener for the Homebuilders and by Maye Williams for Harmony. Both clubs had all their meetings.

The program our agent, Melissa Long, gave was about cooking with pumpkins. She talked about Pumpkin Dip, Pumpkin Party Punch, Pumpkin Chili, Pumpkin Potato and Leek Soup, Russian Grated Apple and Pumpkin Salad, Pumpkin Peanutty Spread, Pumpkin Yeast Bread and many more.

TAFCE report was given by Karen Miller. She spoke about the state meeting in Lubbock. The beautiful quilt was won by Ann Noble and the three Miller girls, Rachel, Laura and Erica were pages for the meeting. They were each given a diploma. The girls were at council and received their diplomas in person.

Melissa Long, county agent, reported on the following items: the achievement banquet at Lockney; financial seminar on Nov. 17 at 7 p.m. at the Massie Activity Center; District Food Show, Nov. 19; Festive Food Dec. 13 at 6:30 p.m. at Lighthouse. She also reminded everyone about the 4-H Auction, Dec. 1, at 6:30 p.m. for the public. If you have anything you'd like to donate to the 4-H you may take it to the extension office. There will be free food for all, so don't miss it. It is not just for members it is for everyone.

Before the council meeting, Mrs. Long had a Brown Bag Luncheon to show Christmas stitchery. She did Christmas designs on sweatshirts.

Heartfest to be held Oct. 22-29

--From Melissa Long, CEA-FCS
American Heart Association's Heartfest, the national consumer nutrition education event, is set for October 22-29 and will be promoted throughout the United States. Thousands of American Heart Association volunteers will go into over 6,500 supermarket stores around the country to distribute heart-healthy eating tips, information on the new food label, and coupons for low fat products that are consistent with the FDA's regulations for making health claims.

Heart and blood vessel diseases kill more Americans in this country than any other cause of death. Scientists have demonstrated that the typical American diet, high in saturated fat and cholesterol, contributes to high blood cholesterol, a major risk factor of heart attack.

When a person's blood contains too much fat and cholesterol, the excess can collect in the walls of arteries, forming deposits called "plaque." If the accumulation of plaque is allowed to progress over the years, an artery can become completely clogged with fats, cholesterol and other debris. If the clogged artery supplies blood to the heart, a heart attack can result. If it supplies the brain, a stroke can result.

The American diet is so rich in saturated fats that even children show evidence of high blood cholesterol levels. By their middle years, most Americans have accumulated so much plaque in their arteries that they have become candidates for heart and blood vessel diseases.

Most healthy men, women, and children over two years old can control their blood cholesterol levels and reduce their risk of heart attack and stroke. To do this, they should limit their total fat intake to less than 30 percent of daily calories, their saturated fat intake to less than 10 percent of daily calories, and their cholesterol consumption to less than 300 milligrams per day. The Heartfest program is designed to educate consumers to lower the fat in their diet through tips, and provide information on label reading so consumers become more aware of the fat content of various products.

Floyd County 4-Hers will be among the many volunteers helping to spread the word out about Heartfest, and low fat food products in local grocery stores.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

By Jane Martinez

FLOYDADA--This week has been an enjoyable week.

Wednesday we had our morning coffee with donuts. The residents enjoy the donuts. At 10:30 we had devotional with the Rev. Glenn Wachob and his wife, Becky from the Trinity Church. Also coming to help with the singing was Jo Wilbanks and playing the piano was Joyce Lipham. Thank you ladies for coming to help.

After lunch we had Bingo. We had a good turnout. But then again when it comes to Bingo we have a good turnout.

Thursday, Jo Wilbanks gave us a devotional and singing and Joyce Lipham came and played the piano. After lunch the ladies from the Sunday school class of Doris of the Calvary Baptist Church brought angel food cake with whipped topping and punch in honor of Mrs. Lurene Gee celebrating her birthday this month. Mrs. Gee received a nice housecoat from these ladies. Thank you ladies for the nice gift.

We also had our family potluck dinner and I would like to say that we had a good turnout with our dinner. I really do appreciate everyone that came. We had a nice time and also a good meal. Our residents enjoyed having their families join them for dinner.

FLOYDADA--Mandy Bailey and Nathan Jones exchanged nuptial vows in Lubbock. The couple was married before family members.

Parents of the couple are Glenn and Sandy Bailey of Floydada and Ken and Jan Jones of Lubbock.

Before the ceremony, the groom presented both his mother and the bride's mother, with a long stemmed red rose.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a long sleeved white blouse with a hunter green embroidered fitted jumper. As the bride approached the groom he presented her with two long stemmed white roses.

Following tradition, the bride carried a handkerchief belonging to her great-grandmother as something old. Something new was her attire. Something borrowed was a necklace, belonging to her mother, which she had received from her husband on their wedding day, and something blue was her mother's birthstone ring.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Jodee Breed of Lubbock. Kelly Bailey of Floydada, sister of the bride, was a bridesmaid.

Acting as best man was Ryan Phillips of Lubbock. Brother of the groom, Kenny Jones of Lubbock was a groomsman.

RECEPTION

A reception in the home of the bride's parents was attended by family and close friends.

A three-tiered wedding cake decorated with hunter green was served to guests, along with punch.

Following a wedding trip to Dallas, the couple is making their home in Lubbock. The bride is a 1993 graduate of Floydada High School and the groom graduated in 1992 from Cooper High School in Lubbock.

Friday we had our devotional with the Baptist camp preacher.

After lunch we had to cancel our bus ride. Some of our residents that go on the bus ride were expecting company and were not able to go on the bus ride.

Monday we had our morning coffee with cookies and some talking about what the residents do on the weekends.

We had devotional at 10:30. After lunch we had crafts. Some of our residents painted faces on pumpkins. They seemed to think that they were not able to paint. But they did a good job of getting faces on the pumpkins.

We would like to give lots of thanks to Hulon and Gary Carthel and Louis Pyle for donating all of the pumpkins to the home.

We would also like to thank Cindy Comer and her group of school girls from Silverton for coming to sing and for visiting with our residents. They enjoyed your visit.

We would like to express our feelings again on how we appreciate all of the people that come and volunteer their time to us here at the home.

We appreciate every single one of you. Until next week, you all take care.

African-Americans hit harder by heart disease

African-Americans have almost twice as many strokes, 10 to 18 times more kidney failure and three to five times more heart failure than whites, according to Lavada Garrett, AHA spokesperson, of the Floydada division of the American Heart Association.

"This alarmingly high rate of heart disease is caused by significantly higher rate of high blood pressure among African-Americans," said Garrett. "In fact, African-Americans have the highest rate of high blood pressure in the world -- almost one in three adults have the disease."

High blood pressure increases the heart's workload, causing the heart to enlarge and weaken over time. It can damage blood vessels and, if left untreated, can also damage the brain, kidneys and eyes. High blood pressure is called the "silent killer" because there are usually no symptoms. It can go undetected for years until a severe problem develops.

High blood pressure cannot be cured, but it can be controlled. The American Heart Association recommends the following ways to help control high blood pressure.

*Have your blood pressure checked regularly. If it's high, work with your doctor to get it under control.

*Eat less fat, saturated fat and cholesterol

*Eat less sodium. If you have high blood pressure, this is especially important.

*Get regular exercise. You can condition your heart with 30 to 60 minutes of brisk exercise 3 or 4 times a week.

*Maintain a reasonable weight -- people who are overweight are more likely to have high blood pressure.

*Go easy on alcohol -- heavy or regular drinking contributes greatly to high blood pressure. In some people, alcohol can raise blood pressure.

Floydada Senior Citizen News

By Margarette Word

FLOYDADA--Faye and William have recently been on a fishing trip to Possum Kingdom and Midland. They also attended the air show in Midland Oct. 8. Lorene Newberry was also in Midland visiting her daughter, DeAnne Jones. They all got a lot of visiting in but no fish was caught.

Elizabeth Armstrong spent a day last week in Lubbock visiting her sisters, Virginia Snell and Margaret Burton.

Mary Wilson's daughter, Jonnel and her husband Dean Williams of Las Cruces, N.M., another daughter Ruby McLeod of Abilene and a son and his wife Dwayne and Glenda Wilson of Floydada all had a great time visiting this past week.

At the center eating lunch recently were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Washob, who is the new minister of the Trinity Church.

Kyle and Diane Glover are home. They have been away most of the summer months.

The center stays open till 4 p.m. Monday-Friday. They served 85 at lunch around 11:30 a.m. If you plan to eat at the center, please call by 10 a.m. This helps them to know how much food to prepare. They want to have enough food for you.

Jo Helen Nutt of Galveston is here visiting her sister, Gertrude Smithman.

Last Thursday, Oct. 14th, we had turkey, dressing and all the trimmings and was it ever good. They served 85 at the center plus 28 meals delivered. We have the best cooks. Irene King and her crew really do a wonderful job. Thank you.

Flora McNeill has recently had a knee repaired. She is recovering real well.

Ray Smith had a heart attack about two weeks ago. He's really had a bad time but as of Sunday, Oct. 16, he has stabilized and is improving. Our prayer is that he will have a speedy recovery and be home soon.

We have so many wonderful volunteers at the center. One especially handy to have around is Travis Lightfoot. It is hard to name all the things he does. Some are making repairs such as putting up shelves, fixing and installing locks, helping to mount the huge mixer the center has recently received, changing light bulbs, cleaning vents and just anything that goes wrong. All Irene has to do is just ask him and he's "so" willing to do his best. We appreciate you Travis for a job well done. Volunteers are very important to the center because of limited funds.

Lula M. Miller of Tulia was at the center Friday eating lunch with her childhood friend, Kacky Jackson. They are having a great time reminiscing about their childhood days.

Mary Corley, while visiting in Corpus Christi, was having a lot of pain in her hip. The doctors had to perform hip surgery to relieve the pain. She is doing real well but will have to be in rehab for about five weeks. Her address is: Mary Corley, Bay Area Medical Center, 7101

Padra Drive, Corpus Christi, Texas 78412. I'm sure she would love to receive a card or letter from you. It will help her in having a speedy recovery.

The donations and memorials are still coming in. We truly appreciate your help. Saturday, Oct. 22, we plan to paint the inside of our building. We have volunteers already lined up to help us. I will list them next week. Our curtains are in the process of being made, thanks to Faye Bertrand and Lorene Newberry for their volunteer work. So much needs to be done such as new floor covering in the kitchen, pantry and tea serving area. As we get the money these things will be done. You are gonna be so proud of this center when the work is all done. It's gonna look good.

Thought For the Week: "Remember God Loves All People."

Sams travel club visits Littlefield

By Marjorie McElyea

FLOYDADA--Friday morning eight rigs of the Whirlwind Sams Club met at the Massie Activity Center and left for Littlefield.

We were greeted on arrival by members of the City Council and the Mayor of Littlefield. They served us coffee and donuts and gave us a great welcome.

We had two more rigs join us making ten in all. Friday afternoon we visited the fabulous denim mill and some of the ladies went shopping.

The rest of the afternoon was spent visiting and games and at 6:15 we went to Anton and ate at the Windmill Cafe.

Saturday was a free day spent shopping, visiting, playing games and resting. At 6:30 we went to the Cattlelacs Restaurant for dinner and it was great. Saturday night there was dancing, game playing and visiting.

Sunday morning we met at the building for coffee and donuts and our devotion was brought by Wayne Russell. He brought a good lesson. The singing was led by Robert and we were dismissed by Claude Weathersbee. Boone Adams led us singing Happy Trails. We all had a good time.

Those who traveled with us were the Russells, Adams, Weathersbees, Norrells, Willis, Parkers, Assiters, Lusks, Hartsells and McElyeas.

Floydada FUMC hosting evangelist Oct. 30-Nov. 2

FLOYDADA--Wesley Putnam, widely acclaimed evangelist, singer, and composer, will lead in "Dayspring" services at First United Methodist Church in Floydada on October 30 through November 2. Services will be held at 10:50 a.m. Sunday and 7:00 p.m. each evening. Children's activities will begin at 6:15 p.m. each day.

His ministry includes preaching, drama and music woven together to create a fresh approach to renewal. His clear call to commitment through both word and song has impacted the lives of people of all ages from all walks of life. The Rev. Putnam holds a Bachelor of Music degree from Northeast Louisiana University and the Master of Divinity degree from Asbury Theological Seminary. He is an ordained United Methodist clergyman, and he is a member of the Northwest Texas Annual Conference. He pastored local churches for over eight years before turning his attention to full-time evangelism in the summer of 1981.

Rev. Putnam is a prolific songwriter whose compositions touch on virtually every aspect of Christian living from temptation and suffering to forgiveness and praise. He has cut six albums. Songs from his last three albums have had airplay on Christian radio stations nationwide. Selected songs from his last three albums, "The Battle's On," "Hope of the World," and "Live the Day" have been published by Tempo Music.

In addition, Rev. Putnam has produced video cassettes of three of his dramatic presentations. Attired in authentic Hebrew costume, he captivates audiences as he recounts the lives of Old Testament characters, such as Gideon, as though they were alive today. He mates James, the brother of Jesus, to relate New Testament stories.

Whirlwinds fall to Wildcats, 32-6

By Bill Gray
FLOYDADA—Littlefield's Michael Benton scored four touchdowns and rushed for 145 yards to propel the Wildcats to a 32-6 win over Floydada on October 14. Littlefield remains undefeated in District 2-3A grid action and improves to 6-1 on the year. The Whirlwinds are yet to win a district game as their overall mark dropped to 2-5.

The Wildcats can virtually wrap up a playoff berth with a victory over Shallowater this Friday. The Mustangs remain in the hunt for a post-season ticket by turning back Dimmitt 23-18 last week.

The Whirlwinds travel to Muleshoe tomorrow night, seeking a win to move them out of 2-3A's cellar. The 2-5 Mules were edged 9-6 by Friona last week.

Littlefield, a prohibitive favorite against Floydada, wasted little time in putting points on the board in the dreary, rainy night at Wester Field. Capitalizing on a Whirlwind turnover on the game's fifth play, Benton's number was called on the Wildcats' first snap. The junior speedster carried for 36 yards and a touchdown - with only two minutes off the clock. Joshua Villarreal's kick split the uprights, and Littlefield grabbed the momentum from the outset.

Benton, the workhorse for the Wildcats in their next offensive series, carried eight times for 20 yards and a first down. Floydada's defense, led by Michael Mercado, Richard Powell, Monty Anderson and Matt Whittle stiffened. Mercado broke through blockers to stuff Benton for a loss on a 4th down conversion attempt. The Whirlwinds took over on downs, but were unable to mount a sustained drive. Floydada gave back possession when third and fourth down attempts failed to pick up less than a yard.

Littlefield took over on Floydada's 45-yard line and marched 28 yards in six plays to end the first quarter. Benton again accounted for most of the yardage as the Wildcats continued the 55-yard drive, which ended with Benton's second TD early in the second period.

The Wildcats added another Benton 6-pointer midway through the second stanza. Up to that point the Whirlwinds had registered but one first down and 22 yards total offense. Floydada penetrated the visitors' 20-yard line only once in the first 24 minutes.

With 4:36 remaining in the second quarter, the Winds moved from their own 28 down to the Wildcat 3-yard line in seven plays. A Sammy Rodriguez-to-Pete Cooper pass covered 26 yards, and positioned Floydada for an almost certain touchdown.

However, the ensuing scoring play by Cooper was nullified by a ruling that Rodriguez had been stopped at Littlefield's eight-yard line prior to the option pitch to Cooper. Zach Abshier's 33-yard field goal attempt was blocked two plays later by the Wildcats' Jeremy Price. Littlefield ran out the few remaining seconds of the period.

Floydada stopped Littlefield's initial drive following intermission, and forced the first Wildcat punt of the game. Four plays later, Littlefield's Tyson Carr blocked Abshier's punt and returned the ball 15 yards for a touchdown to extend the Wildcats' lead.

Rodriguez and Pete Cooper teamed for two long option plays during Floydada's next possession. The second of the two gainers of the option resulted in the Whirlwinds' only points - a 35-yard run, with Sammy carrying the first 20 yards, then pitching to Pete for the final 15-yard thrust across Littlefield's double stripe. A 2-point conversion attempt failed, but the Wildcat lead was reduced to 20 - with an entire quarter yet to be played.

Floydada's touchdown ignited the Whirlwind stopper unit. Linebacker Michael Mercado stopped Benton for no gain on first down, and then teamed with Peter Luna for a hard hit on fullback Michael Dalton for a 4-yard Wildcat loss.

Poor field position and a Floydada punt of only 16 yards opened the door for Littlefield's fourth quarter touchdown. According to Whirlwind coach, Bryan Davis, "The short punt against the wind really hurt us at that point just as we were reversing the momentum of the game."

A Joey Polk-to-Chris Tompson pass, coupled with a 13-yard run by Benton, moved the Wildcats deep into Floydada territory. Benton carried in from six yards out for Littlefield's final winning margin.

The Whirlwinds made a game effort for respectability in the waning moments of the fourth quarter. They advanced from their own 22 down to the Wildcat 14. The 64-yard drive included a 10-yard run by Vernon Cooper on a wind-back reverse. Rodriguez suffered his only pass interception on the game's final play.

BILL'S NOTES
 It was at least 40 degrees warmer than a year ago when the Winds lost to the Wildcats 15-13 on a disputed field goal as time expired. It was still wet and dreary and a rather dismal night in all aspects. The guys in the white shirts and helmets just had more experience. Not necessarily any more talented... just more experienced. That seems to have been a major problem all season.

A lot of younger people continue to be called on to perform, and some are performing quiet well. Monty Anderson had another good defensive outing, as did Matt Whittle and some others who have not had a whole lot of game time.

The young Whirlwinds played tough and kept the game closer than the score indicated. They held Littlefield's potent offense to under 250 yards (coming in the 'Cats were averaging 338.4 yards total offense per game) and limited Michael Benton to about 30 yards under his per-game rushing output. Benton had 115 yards in the first half and only 30 yards after intermission, and Whirlwind linebacker Michael Mercado had a lot to do with the second half defensive effort.

Mercado was well into double figures in tackles and assists. It was his best night as a Whirlwind, and earns the spunky junior my vote for the defensive player of the game. Mercado also figures into the "headhunter" stick... he teamed with Peter Luna in nailing fullback Michael Dalton for a four-yard loss with a real "pancake" at the end of the third quarter.

My choice for the defensive play of the night goes to Tyson Carr's punt block and Littlefield touchdown. It brought the score to 26-0 at the time and helped the 'Cats maintain the momentum they had built during the first half.

My favorite offensive play of the game was the 35-yard touchdown co-produced by Sammy and Pete. They just about have that play rehearsed to perfection.

In a year that we've seen a number of good running backs, perhaps the Wildcats' Michael Benton was the best yet... he accounted for 62% of Littlefield's total offense and gets my vote for offensive player of the game.

Not to take anything away from a talented, well-coached club, but several snafus by the game officials certainly contributed to Floydada's woes. A couple of rather bad spots on close line plunges cost the Winds a critical first down. Littlefield mounted a scoring drive after such a situation during the Winds' third possession in the opening quarter. The biggest blunder was the "quick whistle" on Sammy after Pete had taken the pitch in for a TD in the last minute of the second quarter. A 20-7 halftime score might have changed the entire complexion of the game.

For a number of years, the Whirlwinds have pretty well had their way with Muleshoe. That may not be the case tomorrow night. Even with superior teams, however, the Winds have been known to have problems over there. Those who remember back to the '79 game will know to what I'm alluding. There won't be a district championship on the line tomorrow, but all the intensity will be there.

They will throw every offensive set known - and some, unknown, at us in hopes of taking us out of our base defense. Patience will be the Whirlwinds' key to stopping their "multiple whatever" when they have the ball. Keeping their defense on the field will prove successful for the Winds, but it won't be as easy as the last four or five years. I'm sure some of the Whirlwind baseballers (who just happen to also be footballers) have some things to settle with some rather trash-talking Mules. If the Winds can get everything clicking on offense this game has all the earmarks for a finish similar to River Road's 42-41 donnybrook over Tulia a couple of weeks ago. The Mules have but six points in two district games and the Winds have 12, but it won't be 12-6 Floydada in a "nail-biter"... How 'bout 38-35 Floydada in a "heart-stopper"? Only the Strong Survive in '95

By Jennifer Harbin

FLOYDADA—This week's senior spotlight is Amy Waide, daughter of Brenda and Earl Rowan. Amy is involved in Future Farmers of America, National Honor Society and First Baptist Youth Group.

Amy's favorite classes are chemistry and Ag and her favorite teachers are Mr. Lockwood and Mr. Standlee. Amy's best friend is Amber Womack because she can depend on her. One of her most embarrassing moments was walking around school with a swollen and bruised mouth.

Some of her best memories of high school are decorating for the prom till 4:00 in the morning and swimming at midnight.

Amy admires Mr. Lockwood because of his hard work to become a success. She'll miss Ag competitions and all of her friends.

If she could change one thing from the past four years, she'd like to see the school and community become more spirited. If Amy could go on a trip anywhere with anyone, she'd go with a few friends for a relaxing weekend in the Colorado mountains.

After graduation Amy hopes to attend Texas Tech University or Texas A&M to become an entomologist until she has enough money to pay her way through medical school. Then she'd like to become a pediatrician, become married and hopefully have children.

Mike Reeves wins first place in seventh week of football contest

The first place check for $25.00 goes to Mike Reeves of Floydada, the only contestant who missed seven games on the contest for the seventh week. Reeves can pick up his first place check in Floydada on Friday, October 21.

The next two prizes were determined by the tie-breaker scores because six entries each missed eight games on the weekly contest. Tony Caballero, Lisa D. Martinez, Rodney Ferguson, Heather Arney, and Sam Hale of Floydada and H.G. Graham of Lockney tied with eight errors.

Hale was eliminated first by using the tiebreaker game. He selected Floydada to win over Littlefield. The other tied entries selected Littlefield as the winner.

Going to the tie-breaker score, Littlefield 32-Floydada 6, for a total of 38, Caballero won second place with a combined score of 41, just three points over the actual combined score. He can pick up his second place prize check for $15.00 at the Floydada office on Friday.

The tie-breaker combined game score was also used to determine the third place winner for this week. Graham and Martinez each chose a combined score of 34, four points under the actual combined score of 38. Moving to the second tie-breaker, each chose Hart to win.

Lockney won 22-14, for a combined total score of 36. Graham chose 42, six points over the actual score, earning him the third place check for $10.00. His check will be in the Lockney office on Friday.

Martinez fell into the honorable mention category by selecting a tie-breaker score of 24, 12 points under the actual Lockney-Hart combined total. Joining her were Ferguson and Arney.

Missing nine games this week were Greg Patridge, Phil Cotham, Carl Lee, Jim Ed Davis, Dickie McCarty, Coby Marr, Shawn Hill, Marcy Vasquez, Harold Abney and Noe Blanco III of Lockney and Larry Kirk, Josh Tipton, Bob Alldredge, Deneen Marricle, Carrie Davis, Billie Moore, Dusty Anderson, Mike Anderson, and A. W. James all of Floydada.

Entries with ten incorrect games this week include the 5th Grade ELS lab at Lockney Elementary, Owen Thornton, Phillip Glasson, Steve Anderson, Kevin Tipton, Kellie Williams, and Chad Turner, of Lockney as well as Max Yearly, Sheree Cannon, Sammy Bradley, and Juan P. Martinez, all of Floydada and Tommy Caldwell of Plainview. Thirteen entries missed eleven games.

WHICH TEXAS PARTY SUPPORTS YOUR VALUES? Compare the basic philosophy of the Republican and Democrat Parties on key issues. Then, decide for yourself.

The Republican Party believes:

That our Nation and the State of Texas were founded on the fundamental principle that individuals have certain rights and freedoms which cannot be infringed and may be restricted only to the degree necessary to preserve the rights of others.

That money you earn is yours and that government in a free society has the right to take only as much as is needed to perform those limited functions which are appropriate to it.

That the traditional family and the values it fosters are the foundation of American society and their preservation essential to our Nation's continued success.

That parents have the right to determine the values with which their children will be raised and to have the widest possible choice among public, private, and religious schools and that competition will improve public education.

That the free enterprise system is the most effective engine of economic progress.

That high taxes, runaway government spending, and over-regulation of business and farming punish initiative and stifle economic growth.

That with freedom comes responsibility and that individuals must take personal responsibility for their own actions and our criminal justice system must be based on this idea.

That your property is yours and you have the basic right to make use of it without unreasonable government restrictions.

That human life is sacred and worthy of preservation.

That the preservation of our rights and freedoms must be entrusted to a strong national defense and the ability of the United States to negotiate with other nations from a position of strength.

That it is imperative today to re-affirm the traditional freedoms and values of Americans to preserve our great Republic.

The Democrat Party believes:

That our Founding Fathers did not really mean what they said when they guaranteed certain constitutional rights such as the right to freedom of religious expression, the right to bear arms, and the right to retain use of private property.

That the government has a right to use your money as it sees fit to fund welfare programs and redistribute wealth and to return to you only that portion which it sees fit.

That American society must redefine its values and the role of the family to fit new lifestyle concepts which have resulted from the 60's counter-culture movement.

That the federal government has the right to determine the values which children will be taught in public schools and parents' choice of schools must be limited to avoid exposing public schools to competitive forces which would encourage reform.

That government regulation and control of economic activity can better distribute wealth and services like health care.

That penalizing achievement with higher taxes and increased government bureaucracy and spending will not stifle economic growth.

That individual behavior, including criminal behavior, can be blamed on "society" and that spending on social welfare programs and improvements in prison living conditions can combat crime.

That the government has the right to regulate the use of private property in accordance with narrow special interests without giving just compensation to owners.

That there should be no restrictions on abortion.

That we can afford to drastically weaken our military despite the threats present in an unstable, post-Cold War international environment and that the U.S. must be subjugate its interests to those of the U.N.

That America must adopt a "politically correct" multicultural set of values which denies a common American heritage and will further divide American society.

Mike Reeves wins first place in seventh week of football contest

The first place check for $25.00 goes to Mike Reeves of Floydada, the only contestant who missed seven games on the contest for the seventh week. Reeves can pick up his first place check in Floydada on Friday, October 21.

The next two prizes were determined by the tie-breaker scores because six entries each missed eight games on the weekly contest. Tony Caballero, Lisa D. Martinez, Rodney Ferguson, Heather Arney, and Sam Hale of Floydada and H.G. Graham of Lockney tied with eight errors.

Hale was eliminated first by using the tiebreaker game. He selected Floydada to win over Littlefield. The other tied entries selected Littlefield as the winner.

Going to the tie-breaker score, Littlefield 32-Floydada 6, for a total of 38, Caballero won second place with a combined score of 41, just three points over the actual combined score. He can pick up his second place prize check for $15.00 at the Floydada office on Friday.

The tie-breaker combined game score was also used to determine the third place winner for this week. Graham and Martinez each chose a combined score of 34, four points under the actual combined score of 38. Moving to the second tie-breaker, each chose Hart to win.

Lockney won 22-14, for a combined total score of 36. Graham chose 42, six points over the actual score, earning him the third place check for $10.00. His check will be in the Lockney office on Friday.

Martinez fell into the honorable mention category by selecting a tie-breaker score of 24, 12 points under the actual Lockney-Hart combined total. Joining her were Ferguson and Arney.

Missing nine games this week were Greg Patridge, Phil Cotham, Carl Lee, Jim Ed Davis, Dickie McCarty, Coby Marr, Shawn Hill, Marcy Vasquez, Harold Abney, and Noe Blanco III of Lockney and Larry Kirk, Josh Tipton, Bob Alldredge, Deneen Marricle, Carrie Davis, Billie Moore, Dusty Anderson, Mike Anderson, and A. W. James all of Floydada.

Entries with ten incorrect games this week include the 5th Grade ELS lab at Lockney Elementary, Owen Thornton, Phillip Glasson, Steve Anderson, Kevin Tipton, Kellie Williams, and Chad Turner, of Lockney as well as Max Yearly, Sheree Cannon, Sammy Bradley, and Juan P. Martinez, all of Floydada and Tommy Caldwell of Plainview. Thirteen entries missed eleven games.

The Republican Party believes:

That our Nation and the State of Texas were founded on the fundamental principle that individuals have certain rights and freedoms which cannot be infringed and may be restricted only to the degree necessary to preserve the rights of others.

That money you earn is yours and that government in a free society has the right to take only as much as is needed to perform those limited functions which are appropriate to it.

That the traditional family and the values it fosters are the foundation of American society and their preservation essential to our Nation's continued success.

That parents have the right to determine the values with which their children will be raised and to have the widest possible choice among public, private, and religious schools and that competition will improve public education.

That the free enterprise system is the most effective engine of economic progress.

That high taxes, runaway government spending, and over-regulation of business and farming punish initiative and stifle economic growth.

That with freedom comes responsibility and that individuals must take personal responsibility for their own actions and our criminal justice system must be based on this idea.

That your property is yours and you have the basic right to make use of it without unreasonable government restrictions.

That human life is sacred and worthy of preservation.

That the preservation of our rights and freedoms must be entrusted to a strong national defense and the ability of the United States to negotiate with other nations from a position of strength.

That it is imperative today to re-affirm the traditional freedoms and values of Americans to preserve our great Republic.

Massive Federal Crop Insurance reforms approved

--From ASCS Office
A major legislative victory was scored when the Senate passed legislation overhauling the way the Department of Agriculture responds when crop disasters strike America's farmers and ranchers. The House passed an identical bill on Oct. 3. Both actions pave the way for the President's signature.
"Last year, when President Clinton and I witnessed the devastation that Midwest floods and Southeast droughts caused to tens of thousands of farm families, we recognized the need to provide a crop insurance program that worked -- we now have one," said Ag

Secretary Mike Espy. "Farmers must be assured that adequate, affordable and effective crop insurance is as guaranteed as the next disaster. That promise has been kept."
As a result of the legislation, crop insurance will become an integral part of most USDA farm programs. Most notably, farmers must buy crop insurance to be eligible for other farm benefits, including commodity price support and certain FmHA loans.

"When I sent the bill to Congress, I knew we faced many obstacles, most of them budgetary," said Espy. "Fortunately, Congress quickly united behind the Administration's resolve to provide producers a superior crop insurance program at a cost significantly less than providing both crop insurance and disaster assistance. Congress' determination to reallocate funds and revamp the crop insurance program showed their great commitment to providing farmers an affordable means to manage production risk."

Despite an annual crop insurance price-tag approaching $900 million, the federal government also provided ad hoc disaster relief payments to farmers for the last eight years. These off-budget crop disaster programs have cost taxpayers an average $1 billion per year over the last decade, and more than $1.5 billion per year over the last six years. Predictably, the availability of free assistance undercut participation in a voluntary crop insurance program. This crop insurance reform package will save an estimated $151 million over a five-year period.

In order to cut costs while making the program more attractive to farmers, the reform act repeals current legal authorities for ad hoc disaster relief. In its place, farmers will be able to purchase a "catastrophic" level of insurance coverage for a processing fee of $50 per crop per county.
Catastrophic coverage will protect against yield losses greater than 50 percent at a payment rate of 60 percent of the expected market price, a level comparable to disaster relief programs in recent years. Furthermore, farmers may purchase additional insurance coverage providing higher yield or price protection levels. To make the higher levels of insurance more affordable, the bill provides new incentives to encourage participation at higher coverage levels.
Farmers growing crops that are not currently insured will be eligible for disaster benefits similar to those provided under the catastrophic insurance plan. To be eligible, the area has to suffer more than a 35 percent yield loss per crop. Once this "trigger" is met, farmers will be paid for their crop losses in excess of 50 percent at 60 percent of the average market price. While reporting of acres and yields is required for these benefits, coverage is provided at no cost.

A DISTINCTIVE BOLL OF COTTON — Clinton Fawver of Floydada holds an unusual boll of cotton he found among the plants grown on his land by Adrain Helms. The boll, grown from Paymaster HS 200 seed, has seven distinct segments. Cotton usually has three, four or five locks. Says Fawver, "I get people in here (Floydada Implement) from as far as 200 miles away and I haven't found anyone who has seen a boll of seven lock cotton before. I have even talked to a couple of seed companys. They seem interested, but say they don't know of any other like it." — Staff Photo

Floyd County farmers staying busy with cotton, wheat and pumpkins

By Dianna F. Dandridge
(Editor's Note: Research for the following article, by Texas Tech journalism student, Dianna Dandridge, was made possible by a grant from the Reader's Digest Foundation.)

Floyd County farmers are staying busy this season with stripping cotton, planting wheat, and harvesting pumpkins.

Kerry Siders of Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says that only 10-15 percent of cotton has been harvested, "but if we're lucky we might get it out by Thanksgiving."

This year the dryland cotton is producing about 100 pounds per acre, and showing signs of good quality.

"We've had very few bumpy grades this year," said Siders.

"The staple length is a little short, but all in all it looks pretty good."

Siders said that Floyd County caught a few timely rains, which not all counties were lucky enough to get.

"The farmers are concerned with the storms from the hurricane," Siders said. "They just don't need rain now while they're trying to strip."

Another problem has been the regrowth in the cotton fields. Farmers spray to kill the leaves so they can strip the cotton, but with the extended summer weather many fields are putting on new leaves before the cotton can be stripped.

Cotton isn't the only crop needing attention this time of the year. The pumpkins are ripe and ready to come off the vines.

Twenty-five Floyd County farmers planted 1300 acres of pumpkins, which has produced 15,000 to 19,000 pumpkins per acre.

These golden gourds are shipped all over the state and used for food as well as decoration.

They can be found in any size or shape and the colors range from off-white to a dark golden orange.

"The price isn't bad this year," said Siders.

If the cotton and pumpkins haven't kept the farmers busy they can always think about planting wheat.

"About 45 percent of the wheat has already been planted," said Siders.

All news is not so good.

According to Siders the grain sorghum and corn markets are down a little, but the prices are pretty good.

Siders said that a few of the local farmers visited the Farmer-Stockman Show last week, but many of the farmers were busy in the fields making good use of the warm, dry weather.

Local pumpkins sold all across the U.S. and abroad

--From Texas Department of Agriculture

When Linus starts looking for the most sincere pumpkin patch for the imaginary Great Pumpkin, he should start with Texas for some of the best quality pumpkins this fall.

"Whether it's that perfect pumpkin for carving or one that you'll use in grandmother's made-from-scratch pumpkin pie recipe, if it's a Texas pumpkin, then it's going to be the best," Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry said.

And pumpkin pundits agree with Perry, since quality of the Texas High Plains crop is exceptionally good this year.

The High Plains is well suited for pumpkin growth with a warm, sunny climate during the growing season and cool fall weather which is good for ripening. Pumpkins from the area are noted for their good orange color, size and thick outer rind.

Floyd, Hale, Lamb, Bailey and Lubbock counties are the state's top-producing counties.

Producers planted approximately 1,500 acres to 2,000 acres this spring, but because of problems with pollination and fruit set, may only harvest from 1,000 acres to 1,200 acres. Although there are no production estimates for pumpkins, the High Plains crop may be down from last year.

Dr. Roland Roberts with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in Lubbock said this summer's prolonged hot weather may have contributed to pollination problems.

"There have been fruit set problems on hundreds of acres," Roberts said. "But while production may be down, quality of the Texas High Plains crop will be good this year."

Growers around the state also offer consumers the chance to pick that special pumpkin from local pick-your-own pumpkin patches.

"And while your pumpkin may come from a local grower, Texas pumpkins have been shipped as far away as New York and Philadelphia," Perry said. "Some Texas pumpkins have even been exported to foreign markets."

Linus shouldn't be surprised if the Great Pumpkin has a Texas drawl this year.

THE $51 PER BALE ADVANTAGE FOR COTTON PRODUCERS

More than $51 per bale paid in cash for the 1993 crop.

Your local and regional cotton cooperatives offer a vertically integrated system that takes your cotton from the field to the textile mill. It's a system that adds valuable income to your farming operation. Ginning, warehousing, marketing, textile manufacturing, and cottonseed processing all work to increase the value of your cotton crop every step of the way. For the 1993 cotton crop, combined cash payments from the local and regional cotton cooperatives averaged $51.62 per bale, over and above the value of your lint cotton. Thus, the more cotton you send through the cooperative system, the more you can add to your net profits. Consider the cooperative advantage for your cotton crop. From your local cooperative gin to the warehouses, the oil mill, the marketing association and the denim mill -- it's just good business. See your local or regional cotton cooperative today.

Pumpkin goodies needed at 'Punkin Day' bake show

--From Melissa Long, CEA-FCS
Plans for the Punkin Day Bake Show are underway and there's a category for every cook, any age. The Punkin Day Bake Show is a fun way to promote the use of pumpkin and win some prizes at the same time.
Categories for the Bake Show include pies, cakes, cookies and brownies, candy, breads, and even a miscellaneous "catch all" category. The age divisions are divided into the following groups: 7 years and under, 8-10 years old, 11-13 years old, 14-19 years old, and adults. The only requirement is that the recipe must contain at least 1/2 cup pumpkin. First, second, and third place ribbons will be awarded in each category by age divisions.

Registration for the bake show will be from 8:30-9:30 a.m. northeast of the pavilion between the agriculture building and the courthouse. The judging will take place at 9:30 a.m.
Also included this year will be a Pumpkin Nutrition Poster Contest in each of the age divisions as well. Posters should reflect the benefits of pumpkin in the diet. These will also be turned in from 8:30-9:30 at the same place as the bake show.
For more information on the Punkin Day Bake Show or Poster Contest, call the Floyd County Extension Office at 983-2806.
