LOCKNEY POLICE CHIEF JERRY EDWARDS

Council names Edwards as interim Lockney Police Chief

LOCKNEY—Jerry Edwards has been appointed to the position of interim police chief for Lockney by the Lockney City Council. He will serve for six months in this capacity before a final choice is made.

Edwards moved to Lockney in February, 1987 and went to work for the police department. He has been night patrolman for seven years and ten months.

"I want to see the police department continuing in the direction it is now going. We want to continue working with the citizens and the youngsters. We will still be involved in school and youth activities, Boy Scouts and the hunting safety program," stated Edwards.

"My wife, Linda, and I have enjoyed living in Lockney. Everyone has made us feel at home," he continued.

Edwards graduated from Clovis High

School and was employed by the T.N.M.&O. bus company for 28 years. After his retirement from the company he attended and graduated from the police academy and was employed by the Lubbock Police Department for nine months before moving to Lockney.

He has completed approximately 900 hours in schools and seminars for officers including cult and gang awareness, field sobriety, bombs and classes given by the FBI and Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms departments. He is a certified jailer and certified intoxilizer operator.

Edwards is a past president of the South Plains Investigators Association. He has been a Mason for thirty years and a Boy Scout leader for fifteen years. He and his wife are members of the Grace Fellowship Church.

I sure started out the year on the wrong foot. I knew I was going to leave something out last week when I did the end of the year review.

I also knew it was going to have something to do with one of the schools-and of course it also had to have something to do with sports.

I know I left off lots of things that some people thought were more important but I only got one complaint. I was asked why did I put in Lockney's All District Baseball and not Floydada's All District Baseball choices.

I couldn't believe I did that. I tried so hard to be fair to both towns.

When I highlighted a Lockney accomplishment I tried extra hard to make sure there wasn't a Floydada accomplishment I was missing.

After the complaint three different people scanned the pages of the paper -I didn't do it on purpose.

and they couldn't find any mention of Floydada All District Baseball.

That made me feel better.

If there were some Whirlwinds named to All District we were never informed of it. I have a feeling that Floydada didn't have any All District Baseball players. If they had, and we didn't have a story, surely we would have heard about it from Moms and Dads.

While we were scanning we did find that in June, 1994, Brandon Gilliland was named to the All South Plains Baseball Team and David Norwood was named All South Plains Coach of the Year.

I'm sorry I missed those and any others that were overlooked.

I know some Floydada folks think I favor Lockney and some Lockney folks think I favor Floydada, but I promise-

BBB warns of overseas job opportunities

by Nan Campbell, President

Throughout the year, the BBB receives many calls about dubious overseas job opportunities that are advertised in the newspaper classifieds. The appeals usually target high school and college graduates. Typical ads promise high paying jobs in interesting or exotic foreign cities, but claim little or no experience is necessary. Closer to home, other ads promise postal or government jobs all over the country. Unlike legitimate employment firms that have permanent addresses, unscrupulous employment firms usually run their operations from out-of-state and offer applicants only a phone number or mail drop address. Job seekers should not be fooled by a firm's promise of a refund, if no job materializes. Check the company out through your BBB before doing business with hem. And also check out foreign job offers with that country's consulate or embassy. Ask the BBB for a free pamphlet called "TIPS ON OVERSEAS IOB SCAMS" when you call 763-0459.

Whirlwind Basketball Report

The Whirlwinds improved their overall record to 9-9 on the season during their appearance in the Wildcat basketball tournament in Littlefield on December 28-30. Floydada opened with a 73-65 victory over Lockney, but the 'Winds were knocked out of the championship bracket by Grady, New Mexico. Victories over Meadow and Dawson enabled Floydada to meet Lockney again - this time with 5th place at stake.

"I was pleased with our overall showing," commented Coach Hayden Merket. "Our scoring was well-balanced and (we) had more than one player turing in a high-point game. Grady (New Mexico) was tough, but they were the eventual tourney winner (topping Littlefield in the championship game)."

Zach Abshier's 22 points led Floydada's 73-65 win over the Longhorns on December 28. Zach also had 9 rebounds and a couple of blocked shots. Pete Cooper scored 20 as he hit 9 of 11 from the field. Pete also had three steals and three assists to go along with 8 rebounds. Vernon Cooper also scored in double figures with 13 points. Sammy Rodriquez, the team leader in assists, had 5 against Lockney to go along with his six points.

The Whirlwinds were defeated 83-54 by Grady in second round action on December 28. Pete Cooper was highpoint man for Floydada with 10. Abshier and Vernon Cooper each had p points as the Whirlwinds lost by 29 points to the eventual winner of the tournament. Floydada defeated Meadown 64-58 in the consolation bracket on December 29. Rance Barnett led all Whirlwind scoring with 17 points as he hit 7 of 11 from the field and 3 of 9 from the line. Abshier knocked down 10 rebounds and blocked 5 shots while scoring 14 points. Other point producers were Peter Luna 13, Pete Cooper 10, and Vernon Cooper 6. The Whirlwinds ran away from Dawson 92-51 in the consolation semifinals on December 30. Abshier's hot hand produced 33 points (15 of 23 from

Social Security recognizes role of grandparents

By Terry Richardson Social Security Manager in Plainview

More and more grandparents find themselves assuming the role of parents in the absence of their own children because of death or disability. When this happens, Social Security may recognize the grandparent as the "parent" for benefit purposes.

When the grandparent retires, becomes disabled, or dies, the grandchild may be able to qualify for benefits if certain conditions are met. Generally, the biological parents of the child must be deceased or disabled, or the grandchild must be legally adopted by the grandparent.

In addition, the grandchild must have begun living with the grandparent before age 18 and received at least one half support from the grandparent for the year before the month the grandparent became entitled to retirement or disability insurance benefits or died. Also, the natural parents of the child must not be making regular contributions to his or

If the grandchild was born during the one-year period, the grandparent must have lived with and provided at least one-half of the grandchild's support for substantially all of the period from the date of the grandchild's birth to the month the grandparent became entitled to disability or retirement benefits.

The grandchild may qualify for benefits under these circumstances even if he or she is a stepgrandchild. However, if the grandparents are already receiving benefits, they would need to adopt the child for it to qualify for benefits.

the field) as the 'Winds shot 51% as a team. Abshier also pulled down 12 rebounds and blocked a shot. Vernon Cooper was 50% on field goal attempts as he scored 18 points, and had 4 assists and 3 steals. Barnett totaled 16 points (8 of 11 from the field) and knocked down 7 rebounds. Other point producers were Pete (assists and a couple of steals), Omar Eguia 5 (4 assists and a steal), Peter Luna 4 (7 rebounds and a blocked shot), and Michael Molinar 3 (3 assists and 4 steals). Although he scored only one field goal, Sammy Rodriquez led with 7 assists, had 4 rebounds and 3 steals.

In the consolation final (for 5th place) on December 30, the Whirlwinds defeated Lockney for the second time in the tournament. Abshier scored 19 points in the 83-76 victory over their Floyd County rival. Pete Cooper hit 6 throws, totaled 17 points, and dished out two assists. Peter Luna was 5 of 9 from the field and 9 of 11 at the line for 19 total points in the well-balanced offensive output. Vernon Cooper also hit in double figures with 13 points. Peter Luna had a good night on the boards with 14 rebounds. Omar Eguia had 7 points and Rance Barnett scored 4 to complete Floydada's point output. Following the final non-district tune up against Petersburg this Tuesday, the Whirlwinds travel to Dimmitt

January 6 for the District 2-3A opener. Floydada will host

Muleshoe in the season's first home distict game on January 10.

BILL'S NOTES

As the Whirlwinds enter district play at Dimmitt tomorrow night, they appear to be somewhat stronger overall than the past seasons. For one thing, they are a more balanced scoring team, with three players averaging in double figured through the first 18 games. Zach Abshier leads the Floydada of fense with a season average of 19.2 points a game, followed by Pete Cooper (13.5) and Vernon Cooper (13.1). Abshier also is averaging 9.2 rebounds and 2.4 blocked shots per game. Zach also leads in total points scored with 345 in 18 games. Pete is second in points scored with 243 (hitting 45.8% from the floor) and Vernon is averaging 37.9% from the field with 235 total points. Coming of f the bench, Peter Luna and Rance Barnett are averaging 7.2 and 6.0 points-per-game, respectively. Sammy Rodriquez leads in assists with 91, with Vernon Cooper close behind with 82 for the year. As a team, the Whirlwinds are hitting 44% from the field and 53% at the free throw line. Defensively, Zach leads in total rebounds with 165 and Luna is second in the category with 118. Rodriquez leads the team with 42 steals, followed by Vernon Cooper's 40. Perennial playoff contender Dimmitt shares the district favorite's role with newcomer Shallowater. The Bobcats and Mustangs are picked by most to be the teams to beat for post-season play. Littlefield, a state tournament participant in 1994 is in a rebuilding year and is not expected to be a district threat. With improvements at Friona, Muleshoe, and Floydada, this year's District 2-3A race appears to be one of the tightest in recent years.

Cotton Acreage Reduction

USDA announced that the 1995 crop Opland Cotton Acreage Reduction Program has been set at zero percent. The announcement finalizes one of the most important parts of the 1995 program and reflects a significant decrease from the 7.5 percent preliminary ARP announced October 31.

PCG officials note that the zero percent set-aside figure is good news for producers who can now get on with the business of making plans for the 1995 crop year. The zero ARP announcement means producers will be able to plant 100 percent of their cotton base acres to the fiber crop and remain eligible to draw deficiency payments on 85 percent of those acres.

"The way it stands now producers on the High Plains and across the Cotton Belt will be able to make full use of their cotton acreage in 1995," says PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson.

Submersible

Other provisions of the 1995 cotton program previously announced include ceived one. the 1995 Loan rate of 51.92 cents per pound and the upland cotton target price of 72.9 cents per pound. No word has been received concerning the estimated 1995 deficiency payment and if there will be an advance payment offered in

Several other program provisions, including sign-up dates for the program are expected to he announced in early

Producers interested in participating in a pilot project designed to evaluate the effectiveness of prescribed burning of Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) grassland to control overwintering boll weevil populations should mark January 9 on their calendars according to Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers (PCG).

Two informational meetings designed to educate producers on the goals and scope of the pilot program have been scheduled for January 9. The first will be from 9:00 a.m. through 10:30a.m. in Lamesa at the Show Barn located at the Dawson County Fairgrounds. The second is also set for January 9 in Seminole at the Gaines County Community Center. Tis meeting will start at 2:00

Loan available for economic injury disaster from SBA

Businesses depending on farmers and ranchers in Armstrong, Briscoe, Castro, Floyd, Hale, Randall and Swisher Counties can now apply for low interest Economic Injury Disaster Loans from the U. S. Small Business Administration (SBA). These loans are available to help businesses meet normal operating expenses that cannot be met due to the effects of a disaster. Extensive rain and hail which occurred May 1 through May 31, 1994, and again on July 9, 1994, caused many farmers and ranchers to experience reduced incomes which may have had an adverse economic effect on businesses depending upon these producers. Farmers and ranchers are not eligible for this loan program but may be eligible for disaster assistance through other Federal agencies.

To obtain an application or receive additional information, interested business owners may call the SBA toll-free at 1-800366-6303 or TDD 817-267-4688 for the hearing impaired. The deadline for filing applications is June 26, 1995. Due to the extensive rain and hail, many producers experienced crop losses and were not able to purchase goods and services at normal levels. Businesses that are dependent upon these producers may have experienced decreased sales, reduced gross profit margins, increased accounts receivable or difficulty in moving inventories at normal levels. To the extent these problems have caused the business difficulty in meeting its normal obligations, these loans may be of assistance. The loan can help a business meet installments on longterm debt, accounts payable and overhead expenses that would have been met had the disaster not occurred. Refinancing of long-term debt, however, is not eligible under this program.

The loan is designed for those businesses with substantial disaster-related needs and is intended to supplement monies the business owner can provide from other sources.

Loans may be approved for up to $1,500,000 for actual disaster-related financial needs of the business. Interest rates are four percent (4%) and terms may extend to thirty (30) years, depending upon the repayment ability of the individual applicant. To qualify, businesses must be small by SBA's size standard. Businesses which can meet their financial needs through other sources are not eligible.

Record wildlife totals result of conservation efforts

-From High Plains Underground

Water Conservation District No. 1 Results from a 1994 Texas Parks and Wildlife Department study (TPWD) indicate that wildlife populations have reached record numbers within the state.

Each year, TPWD personnel go into the field and hand count the wildlife population.

'Texas has the largest population of white-tailed deer in the United States," says Andrew Sansom, Executive Director of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department in Austin. "Also, Texas hunters will harvest more wild turkey than any other state."

At one time, wild turkey were almost extinct. Thanks to restocking and hunting limits, there are more wild turkey in Texas today than at any time prior to World War II.

Sansom adds that the bag limits for other wildlife has been increased due to population increases. For example, bag limits for ducks have been raised from three to four per day, and bag limits for doves have been raised from 12 to 15 per day. For the first time, the TPWD has issued a trophy tag for the red drum fish on the Texas coast.

Sansom attributes the population increases to several key factors.

·Texas hunters and fishermen have supported conservation efforts within the state for many years. Sportsmen must purchase a license to hunt or fish within the state. The revenue from the license sales supports TPWD and its

•The TPWD staff plays an important role in the conservation effort. Sansom considers his staff to be the best in the Private landowners have had a great interest in wildlife conservation for many years. "The critical element is working with private landowners in Texas," says Sansom. "They will determine the future of Texas wildlife."

About 98 percent of the land in Texas is privately-owned. Therefore, wildlife relies upon landowners to provide them with the necessary habitat for survival.

Landowners can also provide areas for nesting cover, day cover for cool breezes in the summer, and protection from snow and ice in the winter.

The specific habitat needs vary from species to species. Each specific habitat needs to be studied and considered when making land habitat decisions. For example, deer do not eat coastal bermuda grass, even though it is suitable for cattle and other animals. Coastal bermuda grass would therefore not be included in planning habitat for deer.

"Landowners can do a lot to augment wildlife habitat," says John Hunter, associate professor of Range and Wildlife at Texas Tech University.

He suggests that a few rows of grain around the edge of a field be left for food. Trees can be planted for cover; and food plots of wheat, sunflowers, sorghum, and corn may be planted in or near protected cover.

Playa lakes are the only winter habitat for many bird species on the Texas High Plains. According to Charles Coffman of the Natural Resources Conservation Service (formerly the USDA-Soil Conservation Service), playas can be enhanced for wildlife by leaving weeds and other vegetation growing around them.

With wildlife populations flourishing in recent years, Texas landowners have discovered a new source of supplemental income through hunting and fishing leases. If the wildlife habitat is excellent, wildlife is more abundant, and landowners can charge more for hunting

Money to help cost-share the establishment of wildlife habitat is available from several agencies, such as the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) and the Texas Forest Service. Coffman recommends checking with each of the various agencies to determine which program will best suit individual needs.

Darwin Davis, agriscience instructor and landowner, does double duty to assist Texas wildlife populations.

For the past five years, Davis has taught wildlife management to students at Granbury High School near Fort Worth. Each year, he has approximately 50 students in the classes. Interest in the class has grown among urban students.

"I teach habitat management during the course, which includes planting and managing food plots, leaving cover strips, and providing water sources," he field—just as Davis does. Davis manages his family's 300 acres of land along the Paluxy River in Erath County and utilizes the same land management principles that he teaches in his classroom.

Davis also teaches students to conserve the land, respect the environment, and identify wildlife species.

The land is managed for cattle production, but needs of wildlife are always considered in management decisions. Davis is always careful to leave food and cover for wildlife

In recent years, Davis says he has seen an increase in the wild turkey population on his land. He has always had a large population of white tail deer.

The National Cattlemen's Association newsletter, The Beef Brief, recently noted that "cattle farmers and ranchers provide food and shelter for much of the nation's wildlife. Statistics show that 75 percent of U.S. wildlife habitat (excluding Alaska) is on private lands, and 85 percent of wild animals depend on pri-

FJHS students celebrate Non-Alcoholic Fun Day

by Fabian Falcon

Alcohol is a tough problem in our community today. As you know, teenagers face pressure from friends every day. Alcohol is more than a problem, it's a disease. Our schools are being affected by this disease, so Floydada Junior High had a N.A.F. Day (Non-Alcoholic Fun Day) to show teens that alcohol is not needed to have good fun.

N.A.F. Day had many games for the teens in our school. Games such as Drunkardy Jeopardy, No Beer Bingo, Drunkman's Maze, Dumb "Bud" Spelldown, and Drunk-N-Lose Squares. There was also a Fun Day Drawing with prizes. We also had guest speakers and showed a video on alcoholism. It was very educational and a lot of fun.

Students helped by buying a ticket for the Fun Day Drawing. If we drew their ticket, they won a special prize. Plus, the money went to the Youth Center fund
