The contract will spell out the obligations of the Chamber and those of the City and also address such items as staffing and hours of operation for the Chamber Office in City Hall. The matter was tabled for the time being, pending drafting of the agreement to be voted on at a later meeting. City Manager Brown told those present that the chamber should be able to move into their new quarters about April 1st.

The public forum section of the Floydada City Council session on Thursday, January 19 proved to be a windfall for citizens living on three blocks of unpaved street. A. T. Thrasher, who resides at the corner of Garrison and Ollie and operates a gravel pit in northeastern Floyd County, offered to provide paving materials necessary to cover three blocks of dirt street near his home at a discounted rate. He indicated that the company has the material left over from another contract.

So now we have a new governor. And, a new Congressman. And a new State Senator. We even have a couple of new County Commissioners. They will join a lot of other new people in government, all across the country. They will be wrestling with some old problems in government, from top to bottom. We wish them

We do not expect our new governor, George W. Bush, to be the flamboyant type. In fact, we really do not know exactly what to expect from him. But if he does what he says he intends to do, and if he gets the cooperation of the legislature, we may see some subtle yet beneficial changes in the "quality of life" in this state.

Changes in the juridical system, both civil and criminal, are long overdue. A perfect "solution" will probably never be found to the problems in education. but perhaps improvements can be achieved. We doubt that much will be done about the chaotic Texas tax structure, but perhaps beneficial improvements can be made there as well. All in all there is much to be done. We hope the new people in charge will make the effort, and we think they will.

In passing we will note that the

Believe it or not I'm starting to actually enjoy covering stock shows!

For the past couple of years the weather has been bearable which makes me a lot more bearable.

Besides the bearable weather I'm always impressed with the kids and adults that work at the stock showsand this year is no different.

What a great way to teach responsibility, patience and sportsmanship. The kids I saw showing this weekend competed hard and when the winners were chosen, the other kids remembered to sincerely congratulate those winners.

It always makes me proud to live in this community. I just wish there was some way to impress on everyone how proud they should be of where they live.

Sometimes the grass does look greener on the other side of the fencebut take it from someone who has been on the other side of the fence—folks around here have got it made! ******

Some of you may have noticed my husband, Lennie, taking pictures at the stock show. He is really enjoying that camera work.

Now that he has a little extra time in the evening and on week-ends he has agreed to help us out here in our darkroom whenever he can.

Jack Robertson was gracious enough to come and teach Lennie how to develop film and print pictures (aren't you glad I asked someone else to teach Lennie-at least he won't learn bad

Anyway, Lennie is having a ball. He is also enjoying teasing me about being my employee. He went home the other night and told my mother, "Alice treats me a lot better as an employee than she does as a husband. She treats me like I'm Somebody at work."

My son calls his dad's part time job "Mommie's helper".

I like the sound of that. I think I'll put that on his time card.

Did you hear about the lady who was arrested in Sweden, by customs officers, for trying to smuggle 65 baby grass snakes in her bra? She was going to start a reptile farm. Six lizards were also found crawling around in her blouse.

The customs officials stopped her because they said there was "something weird about her shirt. What an understatement.

It gives a whole new meaning to the commercial about "living bras". ******

Newt Gingrich is in trouble for suggesting that there is a difference in men and women.

He had the nerve to say, women shouldn't be used in certain aspects of warfare—such as being in the trenches. He said women were prone to infections after 30 days. That's a nice way of putting it.

Newt's critics are the same type of people who agreed that it is OK for women to ride the New York subways topless. The New York Supreme Court ruled that it is discriminatory to allow men but not women to take their shirts off in public. So, the New York transit authority decided not to fine women who ride topless on the subway.

That ruling prompted columnist John Leo, in U.S. News and World Report, to say, "In order to make this an equalprotection issue, it is necessary to argue that female breasts are essentially no different than male breasts. This is something like arguing that the Sahara is a rain forest."

Oh well-the whole controversy proved irrelevant anyway because a Department of Defense spokesman said they don't make people live in trenches for 30 days. Don't you veterans wish that fellow was around when ya'll were living in trenches for months? He probably just forgot WWI, WWII, Korea and

On another note—Newt did say one other thing that is worth repeating but didn't get as much press coverage. Gingrich said, "Power does not come from Washington. Power comes from God to the people, and from the people to their government as they see fit to loan it." I wish that would have made front

Continued From Page 1 Speaker of the Texas House of Representatives is Pete Laney, from over at Hale Center. Pete represents Floyd County, among others. He may be Speaker, but he is also "our" Representative now. So let him know how you feel about things. He's in position to be helpful.

Our new Congress is off to a fast start as well, even give the dilatory tactics being used by the new minority to slow things down. Both the House and Senate have passed and sent to the President a bill requiring the Congress to apply to themselves the same laws they foist upon the rest of us. And we appreciate the vote of our new Congressman, Mac Thornberry, in moving the legislation along. He said during the campaign he would, if elected, vote for the measure. He was elected, and he kept his promise. We will remember.

The new Republican leadership in Congress has promised to dust off the 10th Amendment to the Constitution and consider it along with proposed legislation. (They may have a hard time finding that particular, and terribly important, Amendment. It has been virtually ignored by both Congress and the federal courts for lo these many years. As far as we know, the 10th Amendment hasn't been repealed, just lost in the clutter of 40 years of liberal Congresses. Perhaps some staff member can check with the Library of Congress. They may be able to find the original document somewhere in the archives.) The Republicans in the House are evidently determined to fulfill their "contract with America" within the promised 100 days, and the Democratic leadership is equally determined to see that the deadline passes with as little success as possible. The idea of a balanced budget amendment sends chills through liberal ranks, and any tactic that promises to delay its enactment will probably be used.

At any rate we can look to the future with a certain amount of excitement. We can also look to the future with the knowledge that the people, when they finally get fed up with arrogant, imperial government, can and will do something about it. Onward and upward.

Now if it will only rain about four inches. Slowly.

In case you missed it, Mr. Gingrich, the new Speaker of the U.S. House of Representatives, is catching all sorts of flack. In fact, he can't seem to make anybody in the opposition camp happy. Now he's in trouble for suggesting that women might be better than men at certain military functions, like operating shipboard electronic equipment for launching missiles, while men might be better suited than women for trench warfare where stints of longer than 30 days' at a time are necessary. He even suggested men, in general, have stronger upper torsos than women. Not always, he stressed, but generally.

That upset the Democratic leadership in the House, and some who aren't in leadership position. Rep. Pat Schroeder, of Colorado, was especially offended. She seems to believe that any mention of a difference between men and women is a slur upon women. In her case she could be right, but generally speaking there is a difference.

Then one of Mr. Clinton's high level appointees over in the Pentagon weighed in. He noted that now the military tries to make sure soldiers won't have to stay in trenches, or fox holes, longer than 30 days at a time.

That is nice. It will solve many, many problems when armies of the future engage in mortal combat. We can see it now. A referee somewhere, probably from the United Nations, will blow a whistle. Everyone will take time out. Troops on both sides will lay down their arms. Those in fox holes and trenches will go to the rear, probably to some recreation center, and their places will be taken by ready replacements.

We were not aware those changes had taken place while Mr. Clinton was reinventing government. Now he is evidently reinventing the rules of warfare as well. We suspect that other armies around the world were not aware of it

GOEN & GOEN

"Serving You for Over 65 Years" FARM - AUTO - HOME - LIFE - COMMERCIAL 102 East California, Floydada 983-3524 Pam Bennett Kyle Smith Elaine LaBaume

Letter To The Editor

Recently I was talking to a lady in Atlanta, Georgia, that sells our product. She told me that last summer her husband had to drive across Atlanta to get a part for his lawn mower and by the time he got home, he had driven over 75

I told her I knew just how she felt because my daughter lives completely across town from her mother and I. It's really no big deal—she only lives four blocks away.

Then—a couple of weeks ago, myself and two other fellows were at work having coffee together. I asked one of the men (a fellow who was raised in Floyd County) who had died?

He said he had not noticed the lights on at the funeral home (you see-in Lockney when you see the funeral home lights on and the front door open, you know it's time to bake a cake or something because someone you know has died). When he said that, the other man sitting with us (who was raised in Dallas), looked at us like we were crazy.

After thinking about these two instances, I begin to realize that I have taken for granted living in Lockney,

You know, for years we have heard that variety is the spice of life. Well, where else could you live where we had a 50 mph wind with dirt blowing one day, 60 degrees and sunny the next day and snowing the next day. We should be the spiciest people in the world.

Now don't misunderstand me, I have culture in my life. I have been to San Francisco, LA, Dallas and Fort Worth, I have seen big limos pull up to 5 star restaurants and drop off men in tuxes and ladies in pretty gowns. But you know, I would not trade that for the sight of one farmer pulling up to the cafe in his pickup to eat a breakfast of chicken hen eggs and hog meat.

Now I have never been to a Broadway show, but my wife and I watched "Grumpy Old Men" on HBO last night.

All in all I would have to tell you that I may never make a regular diet of Chateaubriand, and I may never go to a Broadway show, but I will assure you that when I am sitting in my yard swing, and my neighbors walk by, we all have something in common-we live in Lockney and we are proud of it.

Thrasher also offered to furnish the rolling machinery needed to level the paving after it is spread. "I am doing this to get my street paved," said Thrasher. "I can offer the materials for about $10,000.00. I can sell it to someone else for the same price, but I would rather see it used here if possible."

According to City Manager Gary Brown, the paving would cost about $10,000.00 to $12,000.00 per block if olds were taken. "You need to remem ber that this will be without curb and guttering. The city will need to do a little grading and spreading in order to make the paved road run water off, but it is still a really good deal if we can get the materials for a little over $3,000.00 a block."

The streets mentioned for paving include three blocks, Ollie Street from 3rd to Garrison and Burrus to Ollie on Leonard Street. Some of the home owners on these blocks have offered to pay part of the expense in order to see their street paved. Contributions from homeowners will be accepted by the city, but no assessment of costs will be made on the homeowners for the proj-

The suggestion was made that the city contact the county and ask if the county would assist on Ollie Street (a joint city-county road) by lending a maintainer for grading and spreading.

Some council members were hesitant to accept the offer, fearing that residents of other unpaved streets would be requesting pavement. Brown said, "I would be willing to ask the council for noney to pave every unpaved block in town if the residents of those blocks can get us the materials for $3,000.00 per block. We wouldn't be considering doing these three blocks if A.T. hadn't made the offer to provide the paving at such a low cost.'

No council action was necessary in order to implement the project since the cost falls below the level at which the council would have to take bids and vote

Other matters handled by the council

... The final public hearing on the 1992 Texas Department of Commerce water grant project was held. Brown reported that the work has been inspected and approved by the state and final payment to the contractor can now be made. Following the hearing, council members vote to accept the project as complete and authorize payment to the contractor by passing two resolutions.

The first, #198, accepted the work and was approved on a unanimous motion by Cornelius with a second by Tipton. Resolution #199 authorized payment for the work and was made by Schacht and seconded by Lawson. All voted in favor of both motions.

.. Edd Henderson Jr. presented the audit report for the fiscal year 1993-94 which ended on September 30, 1994. The report was accepted as presented on a motion by Schacht with a second by Hill. All voted in favor.

... Minutes of the previous meeting were reviewed and approved as presented on a motion by Cornelius with a second by Burns.

.. Financial statements for the month of December were reviewed and payment of monthly bills due in January was authorized by the council.

... A statement of funds being held by the city in trust for the taxing entities was reviewed. According to City Secretary Sharon Quisenberry, the statement provides the 1994 annual accounting for the monies taken in and disbursed by the city as the caretaker of various properties owned by local taxing entities due to unpaid taxes and sheriff's sales. Each entity received a copy of the report stated Quisenberry. No action was necessary on the matter. ... A motion by Burns with a second by Hill, authorized the city to issue landfill coupons for the second time. Residential water customers will each receive five coupons good for $5.00 each at the Floydada Municipal Landfill. Coupons were sent out last year when the landfill reopened for

A motion by Tipton with a second by Cornelius authorized the city to seek bids on the annual seal coating project for Floydada streets. All voted in favor.

Brown discussed several subjects in his city manager's report. He told the council members that the City Hall expansion project is moving well and the city should be able to move into the new side by the end of February. This will leave the old side open for renovation which should be complete by April 1st. The project should be well within the $120,000.00 budget set by the council said Brown.

He also told the council that some news as to the recipients of 1994 TDOC grant funds should be available early in February. Applications are now being reviewed at the state level.

Installation of a sprinkler system in the outfield at the baseball park is now underway. The school is furnishing the materials and the city is doing the work

Brown told the council that various proposals for toll-free calling between cities in a rural area will be considered in the next few months. He indicated that he felt this would be a good thing if Floydada could link up with Lubbock or with Lockney and Plainview.

The program would mean an increase on each phone line in Floydada, estimated at about $3.50 to $7.00 for a single line residential phone. Business lines would pay more. The service would allow free calls to the cities linked

"It is an all or nothing proposition," said Brown. "Every phone customer pays the additional fee, even if they make no calls to the linked city. Some areas have been very favorable to the service and others have not. The newspaper editor at Crosbyton has been very

"OUR PLEASURE IS TO SERVE YOU"

Henderson and Maroney wed in Honey Grove

Heather Henderson and Jimmy Maroney were united in marriage during a double ring ceremony at the Dial Baptist Church in Honey Grove. The Rev. Mike Hamilton of Ashdown, Ark., officiated the exchange of vows.

The bride is the daughter of Roy and Janet Henderson of Honey Grove and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Henderson of Lockney and Mr. and Mrs. C.L. McWilliams of Silverton.

The groom, son of Jackie and Glenda Maroney of Honey Grove, is the grandson of Mrs. Lucille Parker and Mr. and Mrs. Haskell Maroney, also of Honey

The bride was given in marriage by her parents. She wore a white taffeta gown with a wedding ring collar of Schiffli lace and off-the-shoulder seethrough English net. Lady Diana sleeves were of taffeta. The fitted bodice was taffeta trimmed with Venetian lace. The full Southern skirt had rows of lace peaked in the front and up the back of the semi-cathedral train. The fingertip veil of illusion fell from a white western hat adorned with sequins and pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white silk roses and English ivy accented with burgundy and white lace. The groom wore a black hat, black western tuxedo with tails and black Wrangler jeans.

Jessica Felts of Honey Grove served as the maid of honor. Bridal attendants were Angela Henderson, sister of the bride of Honey Grove; Cindy Callaham, cousin of the bride of Dumas and Amy Harrison of Honey Grove.

The bride's attendants wore beige long sleeved silk blouses with a western tapestry vest and hunter green silk broomstick skirts.

The flower girl was Aubrun Caraway and the ring bearer was Blayne Pevey, both of Honey Grove.

The best man was Jason Hoffman of Nacogdoches. Groomsmen were Darren Pevey, brother of the groom of Honey Grove; Michael Kinkade of Bonham and Jeff McCarter of Hugo, Oklahoma.

Ushers were Chad Cook, cousin of the bride of Lockney, and David Gaither, cousin of the groom of Honey Grove. All of the groom's attendants wore black western tuxedos, white shirts and Wrangler jeans. Candlelighters were Stephanie Taylor, niece of the groom of Paris, Texas, and Colter Gilmore, cousin of the bride of Honey Grove, The flower girl and candlelighter wore burgundy and beige floral print prairie dresses with contrasting petticoats. The dresses and petticoats were trimmed with eyelet lace.

The ceremony was western semi-formal with the altar decorated with a horseshoe arch and horseshoe candelabra. The arch and candelabra were decorated with English ivy and burgundy bows accented with western saddles and

Texas love knots of rope with burgundy bows and baby's breath marked

The reception carried out the western theme. The bride's table was covered with a white lace tablecloth over burgundy. The three-tier wedding cake was designed in a basket weave pattern decorated with rope and tiny green and burgundy flowers. A white ceramic boot held an arrangement of burgundy roses and baby's breath. The toasting glasses were decorated with tiny western hats, rope and spurs.

The groom's table was covered with a hunter green tablecloth. The western centerpiece held a candle encircled by three gold horseshoes, decorated with tiny brown western hats and rope. The double horseshoe chocolate cake was garnished with clusters of chocolate dipped strawberries. Coffee was served from a wooden nail keg entwined with English ivy.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents.

The bride is a graduate of Honey Grove High School and is employed at Wal-Mart in Commerce.

The groom is a graduate of Honey Grove High School and a December 1994 graduate of East Texas State University. He is employed by Wayne Zablosky of Honey Grove.

Following a wedding trip to Sherman, the couple is making their home in Honey Grove.

Residents celebrate January birthdays

By Lorilla Bradley

We've started on a brand new year . . The month is January So let us really "rise and shine" And NEVER be contrary!

Mrs. Ruby Holcomb Is such a lovely lady You'd NEVER, EVER find in her A thing the least bit SHADY!

We honor Mrs. Calahan At this her special time . . . She always wears a lovely smile And is so nice and kind.

We welcome Mrs. Tilson On this her special day May time for her be happy In every sort of way.

Another one we honor Is our Mrs. Gage . . . He's added up a lot of years And filled them page by page!

To cheer these lovely people Let's do the Birthday Song . . . So join us as we sing it With voices good and strong.

FLOYDADA--Thursday, Jan. 19, was party time at the rest home with members of the City Park Church of Christ hosting. The Hesperian-Beacon photographer came for the picture taking followed by everyone being ushered to the dining room.

I would also like to let you know that we still have a good crowd for Bingo. We would like to thank Mary Alice for coming out every Wednesday to help me with Bingo. Anyone else that would like to come help is welcome.

We also had our residents' birthday party on Thursday. We would like to thank the ladies that come out and do these parties. The cakes they brought were delicious.

On Monday a few of our ladies laced valentines made out of cardboard. They look real nice. We put them up in their

We would also like to express our deepest sympathy to the Smitherman family from the staff at the home.

We would also like to thank all of the people that have come out to visit with us this week. This is all I have for you this week.

Until next time, here's a little something for you:

"Take Time To Work" Take time to work - it is the price of

Take time to think - it is the source of

Take time to play - it is the secret of perpetual youth.

Take time to read - it is the foundato happiness.

Take time to dream - it is hitching your wagon to a star.

Take time to love and be loved - it is a God-given privilege.

Take time to look around - the day is too short to be selfish.

Take time to laugh - it is the music of the soul.

Fund started

FLOYDADA — The Floydada Junior High Gifted and Talented Class has started a fund for the purpose of financing a Youth Center. This project for the future is to be a place where teens can "hang out" and provide alternative activities to teen drinking which many involved in the project feel is a problem in the Floyd County area.

Some parents and teens are aware of this problem, but most people are not, according to Teacher-Sponsor Teresa Hollums. "Teens do not function well in school and grades drop when they spend more and more time outside of school drinking rather than studying," said Hollums. "Most teen get-togethers involve drinking either before or after they occur. We hope that you, as adults, will want to help and will contribute to this

The fund was begun with a $50.00 donation of funds raised during a Non-Alcoholic Fun Day previously organized by the Floydada Junior High School G.T. Class. The students of FJHS would greatly appreciate any contributions made to this fund which is also sponsored by the City of Floydada. Contributions toward the future Youth Center may be made at the Floydada Branch of the First National Bank in Lockney.

JUAN MARTINEZ

FLOYDADA -- One of our Senior Spotlights is Juan Martinez, son of Juan and Esperanza Martinez. In school, he has played football, he enjoys Algebra and his favorite teacher is Mr. Lockwood.

One of his best memories of high school is of football his freshmen and senior year. Juan also feels that if he could change anything, he would have stayed in athletics his sophomore and Juan admires Jennifer Harbin, because she is smart, nice, pretty, and a good friend. He also admires D.G.. Hollums for his generosity, his intelligence, and because he is a cool person.

If he could take a trip anywhere, he would take his cousin, Erik and visit Cancun, Mexico.

After high school, Juan may attend St. Edward University and major in Engineering. In the future he would like to have a family and a job as an engineering mechanic. A famous phrase from Juan is, "Juan, two, three!"

Have a good week!

D.G. HOLLUMS

Our second senior in the spotlight this week is D.G. Hollums, son of Randy and Theresa Hollums. D.G. is very active in F.C.A., N.H.S., G/T, Athletics, and Track and Field. His favorite class was Biology II with Coach Holcombe. Among his favorite teachers are Coach Carr, Coach Merket, Mrs. Crabtree, Mr. Lockwood, and Mr. Odom. Some of his best memories of high school are of friends, teachers, track meets, and football games.

If D.G. could change one thing about the past four years he would have changed his pride and love for others. What will be missed most about Floydada High School is familiar faces and laughters. D.G.'s most embarrassing moment is when he broke a bar stool while eating a Subway sandwich at the Hinkle's

D.G. has great admiration for Christ and his parents.

If he could take a trip anywhere he would go to New zealand with his family and some close friends.

After graduation D.G. plans to go to Texas Tech and major in Pre-Physical Therapy. later, he hopes to have a family and a job working at an athletic fa-

D.G. would like everyone to remember his nickname was "Hooter."

Whirlwind Basketball Report

By Bill Gray

FLOYDADA--The Shallowater Mustangs lived up to their #8 state ranking by defeating the Whirlwinds 87-65 in District 2-3A action at Graves Gymnasium on January 17. The Mustangs used ball control and a balanced offense in handing Floydada its fourth consecutive district loss.

The Whirlwinds now stand 10-13 for the season. Shallowater, picked by many to return to Austin's State Tournament in March, improved to 18-3 for the year and remains undefeated in the first half of district play.

Cole Roberts (18 points) and Jay Lusk (16 points) led the Mustangs' balanced offense. Nine of the ten Shallowater players making the trip accounted for Mustang points. Floydada's Zach Abshier led all scorers on the floor with 32 points. Other Whirlwinds in double figures were the Cooper brothers, Pete and Vernon, who each had 12 points.

Floydada started with a deliberate, slow-down game plan which puzzled the visitors in the early stages. Following a time-out for adjustments, the Mustangs quickly moved to control the tempo and forged to a 22-12 first period lead. Four of the five Shallowater starters were 6'3" or taller. The Mustangs' height advantage and quickness enabled them to hold a commanding 47-28 lead at intermis-

According to Coach Hayden Merket, "It would be pretty hard for us to ever beat this bunch. They were obviously larger and had overall team quickness. We had to put Pete (Cooper) on a 6'3" guard . . . there were mismatches all over the court."

The coach added, "I was pleased with the way we played - really and truly." Floydada's slowdown tactics worked well for about the first four minutes, but Shallowater's adjustments put an end to the Whirlwinds' upset hopes.

The coach said, "Shallowater's zone press really hurt us. Initially, we did some things that rattled them. We got some good looks and some easy lay-ups going to the basket off our half-court defense. We thought it would work, but they started trapping the ball, which led to our turnovers. Their height advantage, coupled with their trapping in the zone press, kind of took us out of our game plan. In a matter of a few possessions, it went from a 4-4 or a 5-4 game to 11-4, and they were off and running."

The Whirlwinds played them nearly even in the second half, but could not narrow the 15-point gap. Merket ssid, "They had good bench strength."

In the fourth quarter a man came off the bench and his first shot went for three points. "We had difficulties trying to overcome their overall strength, size and quickness," said the Coach. "We were disappointed with the loss, but we knew they were the superior team. Our goal in the remaining six games is to give our best efforts and hope we can pick up some district victories."

LITTLEFIELD 73, FLOYDADA 47 Floydada closed out the first half of district play by falling 73-47 at Littlefield on January 20. The Wildcats improved their District 2-3A record to 3-2 and are now 11-14 on the year. Although the Whirlwinds played several close district contests, they finished the first half of district play without a victory. Floydada's season mark is now 10-

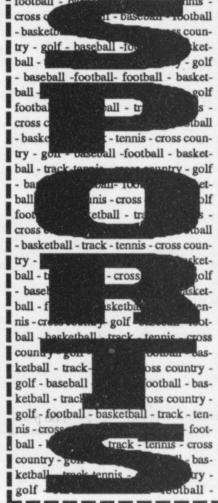

Zach Abshier, Floydada's scoring and rebounding leader, was whistled for three quick fouls in the first eight minute period and had to sit out all of the second quarter. Going into the game, Abshier was averaging almost 25 points and 9 rebounds per-game in district action. His absence in the second quarter was felt on both ends of the court. With Abshier on the bench in foul trouble, Littlefield was able to build a commanding 37-21 lead by halftime.

Abshier didn't hit his first bucket until the third quarter and ended the game with 15 points. The talented junior was the only Whirlwind in double figures. Pete and Vernon Cooper had 8 points apiece as the 'Winds shot a poor 38% from the floor. Other Whirlwinds putting points on the board were Peter Luna, 7, and Sammy Rodriquez, 5. Two new faces up from the junior varsity, Chad Hinkle and Michael Palicios each scored Joey Polk had the hot hand for the Wildcats in the first half with 15 points. With Abshier's return to play, Polk was shut out in the second half. Also hitting in double figures for the Wildcats were Anthony Sauceda, 13, Chris Thompson, 11, and Jermaine Davis, 11.

Coach Merket said, "It was tough to lose Abshier with foul trouble during the first half. They took advantage of Abshier's absence right before the half to jump out to a big lead." Zach drew his fourth foul early in the third quarter and was handicapped the remainder of the game.

The Whirlwinds return to action when they host Dimmitt on January 27 to open the second half of the district schedule.

FLOYDADA--Games played from January 17 through January 23.

VARSITY SHALLOWATER 71, FLOYDADA 49 January 17

Shallowater used a balanced scoring attack from nine different players to defeat the Floydada Lady Winds by a score of 71 to 49. Shallowater placed three players in double figures as they built up a 15-point lead by halftime that the Lady Winds could never overcome.

Jamie Crow and Lezlie Warren led Floydada in scoring with 11 points and 10 points, respectively. The Lady Winds broke out of their month long shooting slump by scoring 25 points in the fourth quarter but could not overcome the more experienced Fillies of Shallowater.

Floydada's record drops to 6-15 for the year and 0-4 in district play.

LITTLEFIELD 60, FLOYDADA 44 January 20

The Floydada Lady Winds played one of their best games all year but could not overcome the size and experience of the Littlefield Lady Cats as they were defeated by the score of 60 to 44.

The Lady Cats outscored Floydada by only seven points from the field but connected on 9 of 21 free throw attempts while Floydada shot only 4 free throws during the entire game. Littlefield used the outside shooting of Aimee Waldrop with 19 points and the inside game of Emily Hutchins with 15 points to effectively overcome the inspired performance of the much smaller Lady Winds.

Leading scorers for Floydada were Jamie Crow with 14 points, Dana McCandless with 11 points and Christi Hale with 9 points.

Coach Mike McCann commented on the team's outing by saying, "We just played the way we are capable of playing and gave Littlefield a much tougher game than they anticipated. Our shooting has started to come around and our kids are starting to understand the game much better. We just need to keep working on improving each game and not worry about anything else."

The loss drops the Lady Winds season record to 6-16 for the year and 0-5 in district play. The next game for the Lady Winds will be Friday, January 27, at home against Dimmitt.

JUNIOR VARSITY SHALLOWATER 51. FLOYDADA 41 January 17

The Lady Winds junior varsity umped out to a 4-point lead at halftime but could not maintain the momentum as the Fillies of Shallowater defeated them by a score of 51 to 41.

Leading scorer for the Lady Winds was Jodie Villarreal with 15 points. The loss drops their record to 7-9 for the year and 0-4 in district play.

LITTLEFIELD 46, FLOYDADA 31 January 20

The Floydada Lady Winds junior varsity was limited to single digit scoring in each of the first three quarters and was defeated by the Lady Cats from Littlefield by a score of 46 to 31.

Neisha Simpson was the leading scorer for Floydada with 12 points.

Coach Jennifer Hodnett commented on her team's showing during the previous week by saying, "The girls gave a tremendous effort in both games this past week against some very tough competition. We continue to improve each week but we just need to become more patient and more consistent in our performance."

The loss drops the season record of the junior varsity to 7-10 for the year and 0-5 in district play.

8TH GRADE FLOYDADA 43, MULESHOE 36 January 23

The Lady Breezers 8th grade scored 29 points in the first half while creating an 8-point lead and held off the Lady Mules in the second half to defeat Muleshoe by score of 43 to 36.

Leading scorers for the Lady Breezers were Victoria Cummings with 17 points, including 10 of 12 free throws, Amanda Green with 9 points and Carissa Coursey with 5 points.

The win improves Floydada's record to 8-6 for the year and 2-5 in district play. The next action for the eighth grade will be Monday, January 30, in Littlefield against the Lady Cats.

7TH GRADE

MULESHOE 30, FLOYDADA 28 The Lady Breezer seventh grade staked Muleshoe to a 14-point halftime lead then stormed back in the second half before finally being defeated by a score of 30 to 28.

Leading scorer for the Lady Breezers was Heather Carr with 16 points, including 6 of 8 free throws. Other players making major contributions were Mandy Emert with 8 rebounds and Nichole Hartline and Jody Bueno with 4 steals each.

The loss drops Floydada's record to 7-8 for the year and 4-3 in district play.

The next game for the seventh grade Lady Breezers will be Monday, January 30, in Littlefield against the Lady

7TH AND 8TH GRADE COMBINED SQUAD

January 21 A combined squad of the seventh and eighth grade white teams competed in a one day 4 team tournament in Matador. The combined squad won one of two games and finished in second place in the tournament.

Outstanding performances were turned in by Monica Morales, Reagan Pernell, Leslie Perez, Anna Campbell and Cindy Suarez.

Austin Notebook

By Senator Tom Haywood

I received a very important piece of proposed legislation from Representative Warren Chisum's office the other day. He had written the bill and wanted me to sponsor it in the Senate so that it might be adopted more quickly. I immediately asked my staff to follow up and see that it got done. The issue, you ask, that got such a response? Designating the Texas Longhorn as the official mammal of Texas.

Now I'm sure that you stopped to reread that last line a time or two. Official state mammal? How could that possibly be so pressing? So significant to a state Senator and his busy staff?

The answer is simple. It was something you asked for, and so I did it.

More specifically, it is a special request of Mr. Russell Graves' Wildlife Management class at Childress High School. Mr. Russell urged his students to learn more about the state, its government, and the ways that wildlife management might fit into that system. His students quickly discovered that, although Texas has a state flower, a state gem, and even a state tree, there was no acknowledgement of the abundant creatures that so represent our frontier republic. By popular vote (with whitetailed deer and armadillo close runnersup), the class chose the Texas Longhorn as their candidate for state mammal. Then they got involved in the legislative process by writing a letter to their state representative, Warren Chisum. He drafted a bill which will be considered by the House of Representatives. I will sponsor a similar bill in the state Senate. And there is an excellent chance that it will become law.

The ideas of a high school class ideas that hardly affect the lives of Texans — will become a state law.

To me, that is just so exciting. It is really what the democratic process is all about. It is really what my job, as a representative of the people, is all about. Taking your ideas, your desires, and making them a reality. But I cannot do that unless you share those ideas with me and with the state legislature.

There are countless ways you can get involved. On the most basic level, I 800-866-7330 (Wichita Falls). We keep difference for Texas.

very careful track of these expressions of your opinion and they do impact my actions on your behalf.

To get more deeply involved in an issue that you believe in, plan a trip to Austin to visit with me and my staff and let us hear firsthand where you stand. Better yet, attend a committee hearing where legislation that concerns you is being heard. The meetings are open to everyone, and by registering in advance with the committee clerk, you can even "testify before committee," or stand up and give them your opinion. To get more information on committee meetings, call 1-800-253-9693. All bills must be approved by committee before they are voted on, so your support and influence may be vital in that process. It may make the difference in whether a bill passes and becomes a law that you must live

On an even higher level, there are numerous boards, commissions and individual positions statewide that govern or influence different areas of legislation and government. Members are appointed by the Governor's office, and any citizen may submit his or her name for consideration. You may request a complete list of available positions from the Governor's Appointment office: Call 512-463-1828 and ask for a "list of upcoming vacancies." If a position interests you, send a letter and a description of your qualifications back to the Governor's Appointment Office at P.O. Box 12428, Austin, TX 78711. You will then be asked to fill out a standard application, which will be sent to you. The Governor will then choose a nominee from all qualified applicants.

If the prospect of becoming so involved interests you, please also send a letter to my office. I will be happy to endorse any qualified applicant from my district to any appointed position that interests them. But if the prospect of this much involvement is a little too much for you to think about right now, don't give up and do nothing. I need each of you to participate — a little or a lot so that I can really work for you. Remember the Childress High School class and their very successful efforts. It welcome your cards, letters and tele- doesn't take much and the impact can phone calls. I can be reached by writing be tremendous. Try it. Take the first step P.O. Senate Week in Review 12:00 noon on Tuesday, January 10, with both Houses meeting in the newly restored State Capitol. The Senate had met during the 73rd Legislative Session in a temporary chamber three blocks away due to the Capitol restoration. The first order of business was the swearing-in ceremony of the 31 newly elected senators by Chief Justice Tom Phillips of the Texas Supreme Court. New members of the Senate are David Cain of Dallas, Mario Gallegos of Houston, Michael Galloway of The Woodlands, Tom Haywood of Wichita Falls, and Drew Nixon of Carthage.

Austin State Senator Gonzalo Barrientos was elected president pro tempore of the Senate for the 74th reguar session. Visibly moved by the honor, Senator Barrientos recalled the words of his father upon his election to the Senate. "He told me, 'My son, I'm glad you were elected Senator...that's good. Just one thing-never think that you're better than anybody else.' And I will believe that to the end."

Also on Tuesday, Senator Carlos Truan of Corpus Christi was officially named Dean of the Texas Senate. Senator Truan is the first Hispanic to hold the high honor. Truan has served in the Texas Senate since 1977, and spent 8 years in the Texas House prior to his election to the Senate.

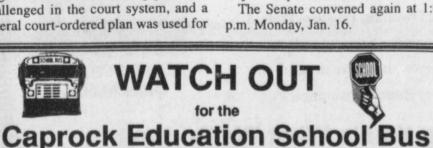

The Texas Senate convened Wednesday, January 11 at 11:00 am. Members drew lots to determine who would have 2-year and 4-year terms. Each decade after the federal census, Senate, House, and Congressional districts are redrawn to reflect population migration. The original Senate redistricting plan was challenged in the court system, and a federal court-ordered plan was used for

The Texas Legislature convened at the 1992 election. Since that time, districts established in a special session in January, 1992 were upheld in federal court and all 31 district elections were held again in 1994. Senators drawing 4year terms are: Armbrister, Bivins, Brown, Ellis, Gallegos, Galloway, Haywood, Leedom, Madla, Montford, Patterson, Ratliff, Sibley, Truan, Turner, and West. Members receiving 2-year terms are: Barrientos, Cain, Harris, Henderson, Lucio, Luna, Moncrief, Nelson, Nixon, Rosson, Shapiro, Sirns, Wentworth, Whitmire, and Zaffirini.

> Senator John Whitmire of Houston filed emergency legislation on Wednesday to address problems with the Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission's mandatory vehicle testing program. Complaints include location of the facilities and cost of compliance. The emergency legislation suspends the program for 90 days from the date of passage. This stop-gap measure provides immediate relief to car owners scheduled for January renewal. Thirty senators signed on to co-sponsor the bill. Whitmire supports a two-year suspension of the program. The legislation, Senate Bill 19, was referred to the Senate Natural Resources Committee on Wednesday. The bill was heard in committee at 4:00 p.m. Wednesday, and was passed favorably by a vote of 9-0. Senate Bill 19 is expected to be debated next

Other news on Wednesday included an announcement by Lieutenant Governor Bob Bullock and Senator David Sibley of Waco that several pieces of legislation have been filed to address the civil justice system. Six bills were filed, including an omnibus bill containing the major components of tort reform. The Senate convened again at 1:00

TEC offers volunteer positions for job training

The Amarillo Region of the Texas Employment Commission (the Amarillo Region stretches from Texline to Brownfield and Muleshoe to Childress) has been chosen as one of the two TEC pilot project areas to utilize Volunteers in its operations to serve the states labor force.

The Texas Employment Commission has a multitude of volunteer opportunities that should be able to accommodate most interest, schedules and skills.

valuable work experience to allow that individual expanded employment opportunities in the public and private sector. After volunteering with Texas Employment Commission, they can have a point of reference when a work history is requested by an employer.

A potential volunteer may have taken classes for word processing or secretarial at school and after applying for sev-

Some of our volunteers are gaining eral jobs discover employers still want experience to show the applicant is able to apply those skills. Most employers will take volunteer work in an specific area as an indicator that the applicant can do the job for which they are applying and have work maturity skills to be an involved, dependable and valuable employee.

> Volunteering at Texas Employment Commission, doing real data entry, gathering information through interviewing clients, building and maintaining files, answering questions and working with the public and with co-workers are some of the skills that employers can translate into real terms as a measure of a job applicant and judge how they will fit into their business needs.

Grain elevator workshop looks at storage

-- From Texas Agricultural Extension Service

Methods of protecting stored grain and safe handling of materials used in that protection will be addressed during the seventh annual Texas High Plains Grain Elevator Workshop in Amarillo January 31.

This educational program to update grain elevator operators and employees is sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and Tri-State Chapter of the Grain Elevator and Processing Society. It will be held from 8:30 a.m. until 4 p.m. at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center, 6500 Amarillo Blvd. West. The workshop has been accredited by the Texas Department of Agriculture for five continuing education units (CEUs) for certified commercial, noncommercial and private pesticide

The workshop will open with an overview by Dr. Carl Patrick, Extension Service entomologist at Amarillo. Dave Cooper and Bob Briggs of Industrial Fumigants will discuss fumigation practices and procedure. Stan Miller of Johnstone's Grain in Enid, Okla., will changing times, whether that means de- farmers in Uvalde and Medina counties veloping new products, conquering need water from the Edwards Aquifer overseas markets or lobbying to protect as much as the people in San Antonio private property rights, Agriculture do. Commissioner Rick Perry said while speaking to the Texas Agricultural Irrigation Association Convention in San Angelo.

"This is an exciting time for agriculture, but also a crucial one," Perry said. "Agribusiness is vital to a strong Texas economy as we head into the next century. I'm also convinced that if Texas agribusiness does not grasp the opportunities presented by the evergrowing global economy, other states will-and we'll be shut out. During my next four years as agriculture commissioner, I intend to work hard to help Texas get its share of the global market."

Perry said agribusiness has been guilty of being reactive instead of proactive. He said farmers and ranchers have often taken for granted that consumers understand that irrigation and pesticides are essential to providing abundant, safe, affordable food and fi-

"Consumers are not getting the message, and they are the ones who control the market through their buying choices. They are the ones who believe stories spread by environmental activists and lobby Congress for tougher laws and regulations that restrict agriculture. They

Texas agribusiness must respond to are the ones who don't understand that the battle over water rights is that 'farmers use too much water.' We know that water goes into raw products, which consumers buy as processed goods. But the message is not getting through to them. We've got to find a way to bridge the knowledge gap between producers and consumers.

Perry said farmers and ranchers must be willing to use the courts to fight for rights just as other groups use them to restrict private property rights. He said they must also lobby elected officials and talk directly to other parties involved in disputes to find a solution. He cited the recent plan for the California Sacramento Delta estuary which protects the estuary while providing a reliable source of water to farms and cities. This plan drew praise from state officials as well as representatives of business, agriculture and environmental groups. "This is the only way we'll come up with real solutions - the people who have to live with the regulations sitting down to figure out how everybody can be taken care of. No politicians, no lawyers, no Sierra Club presidents. No rhetoric or political agendas, just honest talk and workable solutions.

Legislation will likely be introduced both in the Texas Legislature and in the U.S. Congress to provide more protection for private property rights, he said. A bipartisan effort in the Texas Senate, led by Lt. Governor Bob Bullock and Senators Teel Bivins, Ken Armbrister and Bill Sims, will produce a private property bill. In the House, there may be several versions of a bill.

"While there's a lot of talk about defining 'takings' and when to compensate, probably the easiest way to achieve equity in environmental regulations is to require cost-benefit analysis. Let's ask what are the full and complete public and private costs of each new law and regulation'? What probable benefit will let's follow up and make sure that regulations are doing what they were supposed to do."

PCG continues boll weevil control plans and schedules producer director election

By Shawn Wade

The fifty man board of directors of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers (PCG) unanimously approved a proposal from the PCG Boll Weevil Steering Committee (BWSC) to proceed with plans for the implementation of an Enhanced Boll Weevil Diapause Control Program under the auspices of the Texas Boll Weevil Eradication Foundation.

The PCG effort is designed to reverse the recent pattern of boll weevil infestations on the High Plains and to effectively remove the weevil from cotton fields above the Caprock in advance of a full fledged eradication effort to eliminate the boll weevil beginning in the Spring of 1998.

The PCG BWSC gained final approval for the plan at PCG's January 18 board meeting. The proposal gained the approval of the Texas Boll Weevil Eradication Foundation Board of Directors at a January 13 meeting in Austin.

Approval of the plan by the PCG Board means the effort to get the Enhanced Diapause Program up and running by fall of 1995 can proceed imme-pare for eradication of the boll weevil starting in the Spring of 1998."

In order to implement the program, producers across the High Plains will participate in a formal referendum conducted by the Texas Boll Weevil Eradication Foundation. The referendum ballot will contain three separate items for producers to voter on.

The first question producers will decide is whether or not to establish the 30-county area, defined in the Boll Weevil Eradication enabling legislation as the High Plains Eradication increment, as an active boll weevil eradication zone. Secondly, producers will elect a member to the Texas Boll Weevil Eradication Board of Directors. And, third, producers will vote on a proposed assessment that will be collected through county Consolidated Farm Service Agency offices.

Ballots will be mailed directly to eligible voters who will then have a predetermined number of days in which to mark and return the ballot. More about the proposed Enhanced Diapause Control Program will be available from PCG and will be presented at informational meetings throughout the High Plains posed listing of the Arkansas River Shiner as an endangered species in the Canadian River. PCG will be presenting the resolution as well as a statement concerning the proposed listing at an upcoming press conference and public hearing in Amarillo on January 25.

PCG Directors were also reminded that it is now time to elect new members to the PCG Board for 1995-96. All producer directors in the 25-county PCG service area are up for reelection, except in Hale and Swisher Counties where business directors will be elected. Newly elected directors will be confirmed at the organization's Annual Meeting in April. The PCG Annual Meeting will be held in conjunction with the Texas Cotton Ginners' Trade Show at the Lubbock Memorial Civic Center April 6-7.
